written by C.R.Vincent

Introduction

C.R. Vincent died at Malvern in December 1943 at the age of 85 after nearly 50 years association with Cambridgeshire newspapers

Formerly engaged on clerical work with the Post Office Savings Bank Department in London, Vincent had been obliged by health reasons to give up his duties.

He came down to Cambridgeshire and established his home in Swavesey, becoming, in 1898, village correspondent. In 1922 he was appointed to take charge of village correspondence at the head office of the newspaper.

With over 70 villages in the county, his training in the Civil Service came in remarkably useful. It was his duty to keep a record of every paragraph sent in, and it was his proud boast that he could always turn up any item at will

The articles appeared in the Cambridge Express, Cambridge Independent Press, Cambridgeshire Weekly News and Hunts Post.

They cover a number of villages: Boxworth, Conington, Fen Drayton, Graveley, Knapwell, Longstanton, Lolworth, Over, Swavesey & Willingham as well as Swavesey.

Vincent carefully filed the stories into small folders, listing the contents on the front of each. These lists have been transcribed and are preserved with the original cuttings in the Cambridgeshire Collection at Lion Yard Library, Cambridge. They are a remarkable record of this area of Cambridgeshire over more than 40 years.

John Shepperson worked through each of the folders, carefully photographing all the stories relating to Swavesey. These have been transcribed to produce the current work. It is an inspiration for others to repeat the exercise for other villages.

SUMMONING OF JURORS. 4th Nov. 1899.

Letter written to the Cambridge Chronicle.

Sir - As it would be too much to expect the official who issues the summonses to Jurors in this county to explain upon what lines he works, so I beg to ask for enlightenment upon the point from yourself or your readers.

This official has of late taken a great fancy to the village of Swavesey, and although we appreciate the tribute (well deserved as it doubtless is) that he pays to our intelligent and fine sense of justice, it being, generally speaking, modest and retiring men we would much rather he did not show us quite as much attention, but distributed his bits of blue paper over a larger area. To show that we have been somewhat unduly favoured of late by his exceeding confidence in us, I may mention that on the exceeding confidence in us, I may mention that on the occasion of the recent Quarter Sessions eight of our number were summoned, and we were, in consequence deprived of the services of two bakers, two coal merchants, one butcher, one blacksmith, one market gardener, and one publican and farmer. For other Quarter Sessions this year and the Assizes a similar number of gentlemen have been requested to attend for service as Jurors. Then, again, why does this affectionate official, when one jury is wanted, summon more than four times the number needed. What a sad waste of stationery and energy.

We would not have it thought for the smallest fraction of a second that we wish to shirk our responsibilities as citizens. We merely do not desire to be selfish, and deprive our fellows in other parts of the county of honour which is justly their due.

So far I have escaped the clutches of the official summonses, but the groans of my friends, and fear for my future safety, make me sad and disturb my rest. So please give me an answer, Yours faithfully, ----

SWAVESEY VILLAGE GREEN. 3rd February 1900

Extract from a long letter written to the Cambridge Express. It starts with a paragraph concerning the village green at Borough Green and how the Parish Council deals with protecting it from vandals etc. It continues about Swavesey Village green as follows:-

Sir – Like Borough Green, Swavesey possesses a village green, but unlike Borough Green is not blessed with a Parish Council, which, down to the present time at any rate, has had public spirit enough to protect the green from the depredations of nomadic tribes. Our village green, which, if the truth must be confessed, is little better than a howling wilderness of neglected grass, relieved here and there by what may be called miniature kopjes, is opposite the National School, is locally known as the “Play Green”, and is much used by the school children. It is, unfortunately, also a favourite camping ground of all the wandering hawkers and showmen who frequent the district, and not only do they encamp upon the green, but ever and again they erect swings, coconut shies, etc., and recently even honoured us with a circus. The result is that the herbage and soil are extremely damaged by the vans, by refuse from the vans, and by the stakes and such like things used in connection with the swings, etc., and the green is rendered most unsightly and an unsuitable, if not actually unsafe, place for young children to play upon.

On Sundays, too, on our way to public worship our sense of propriety is shocked by the sight of these people engaged in other domestic occupations, for they take their pitch as close to the main road as possible. Many of these wanderers are by no means desirable neighbours; they have been known to import disease into a village, and their children, who necessarily come into contact with our children at play upon the green, are more than suspected of being the happy hunting grounds of creeping things innumerable. It is true that some two or three years ago our Parish Councillors recognised their responsibilities to a slight extent by having a small notice board placed on the green, warning owners of caravans off it, but the only effect the notice had was to attract a larger number of vans. The board has long since disappeared and yesterday (Sunday) there were no less than four vans, one cart and six horses upon the green.....

....In conclusion, perhaps I may be permitted to ask our Parish Fathers two further questions. (1.) Why cannot the green be rescued from its present discreditable and practically useless condition, and made, what it ought to be, the recreation ground of the village; and (2) to what purpose is the income which accrues from the green now supplied? – I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

AN OLD INHABITANT.

COUNTY COMMENTS. 3rd February 1900

This extract commented on the above letter, ending :-

The Swavesey Parish Council have not moved up to the present. Perhaps they will do so now that complaint has been publically made.

SWAVESEY WATER SUPPLY. 21st April 1900.

Here in Swavesey, at the present time we have grave reasons to complain of the neglect of the local authority in the matter of the water supply. This parish is fairly well provided with public pumps, which are fed by pipes running from one end of the village to the other. Some weeks ago one pump towards Boxworth End failed to produce water. Representations were made to the District Council, the august body responsible for the water supply and the pumps, but no steps could be taken, so we were told, until the members had met in solemn conclave. This entailed delay, but in due course, and doubtless after eloquent speeches for and against, it was decided to have the matter attended to. Since then other pumps have gone on strike, and there seems to be every probability of at least half of this long village being left waterless; yet no steps whatever of a practical kind have been taken by the dilatory Council. The chairman, who lives some three miles away, has been appealed to. He says he can do nothing, as our two resident representatives were commissioned to get the work done. They decline to be hurried, one gentleman going so far as to declare that it will take a lot of gunpowder to make him move. Perhaps sir, you will kindly supply the necessary fulminate

CRICKET CLUB. ? May 1900

A meeting of the Cricket Club was held in the schoolroom on Monday evening, which was attended by a fair number of members. The chair was taken by the Vicar, the Rev. A. C. Vidler. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: - President, Mr. C. M. Bevan; vice-president, Dr. J. W. Ellis; captain, Rev. A. C. Vidler; vice-captain, Mr. J. Parsons; secretary and treasurer, Mr. C. R. Vincent; committee, Messrs. G. Clarke, A. Haynes, J. Linford, and E. Warboys. Revised rules were considered, and it is anticipated that the coming season will be a successful one.

THE FEAST. 26th May 1900

The village feast begins on Sunday next. During the past week or two great preparations have been made. The painters, whitewashers, and paperhangers - professional and otherwise have been hard at work and especial attention has been paid to front doors. The favourite colour seems to be green in various shades. On Sunday the service at the Parish Church will be a festal character, and an appropriate anthem will be sung. On Tuesday there will be a jumble sale in the garden of Swavesey Manor, (if wet in the schoolroom), in aid of the Church and School funds. Three cricket matches will be played, weather, of course, permitting, viz; - on Monday against Lolworth, on Tuesday against Elsworth, and on Wednesday, against Boxworth. The Committee of the Cricket Club are striving hard to make the Club a success, this year, and they are anxious to obtain the support of those older inhabitants whose cricketing days are over. These gentlemen can materially help the Club by becoming honorary members.

THE WATER SUPPLY. 26th May 1900.

The pumps, respecting which a letter appeared in last week's Express, are again in working order, but as only two men were employed to find out where the pipes were blocked the work took upwards of a week to complete, and until the supply was restored the inhabitants of half of the village had either to use pond water for domestic purposes or carry water long distances. It is only fair to say that the Inspector of Nuisances paid several visits to the village, and did his utmost to induce the responsible parties to do their duty.

VESTRY MEETING. 26th May 1900.

The Easter vestry meeting was held in the parish church on the 19th inst, when Mr J. Wells was elected peoples warden. The Vicar nominated Mr W.H. Key as his warden.

THE FEAST. 2nd June 1900

The feast this year does not appear to have attracted quite as many visitors as usual, and owing to the feasts of other villages falling within the same period there were fewer stalls and amusements. The services at the parish church on Sunday were well attended.

JUMBLE SALE. 2nd June 1920

A jumble sale and sale of plain needlework organised by Mrs. C. W. Bevan, was held in the gardens of Swavesey Manor on Tuesday and resulted in about £30 being obtained by the Church and School Funds. This satisfactory result was due to months of patient labour on the part of devoted ladies. The sale was well patronised not only by inhabitants of Swavesey, but by visitors.

THE FALL OF PRETORIA. 9th June 1900.

On Tuesday, on receipt of the news that Pretoria had been captured, flags were displayed on all sides, and the bells of the Parish Church were rung. During the evening the boys collected bushes, etc., and lighted a bonfire on the Green, after which some of the inhabitants paraded the village, cheering and singing patriotic songs and firing guns. A heavy thunder storm drove many in the procession to their homes, but Mr Cole, with his accustomed hospitality, found shelter and refreshment for the faithful few who remained. The rejoicing continued during Wednesday, and culminated at night in a procession round the village, flaming touches and a bonfire. The inhabitants collected in Market Street about 7pm, and a procession was formed, headed by a group of flag bearers and two drummers. Mr Cole followed in an effectively decorated trap, and made a striking figure with an ancient tall hat decked out with ribbons. With him was Mr Sam King, attired as a dragoon, and Mr Percy Salmon in a Greek costume. His short white flounced petticoat caused much amusement and consternation. Mr H. Wilderspin's cart, filled to overflowing, followed, and conspicuous in it was Private W. Edwards, invalided home from South Africa. Then side by side marched a boy with a miniature rifle, and the town crier. The latter's "get up" attracted great attention. He acted as bandmaster. Then followed the bulk of the procession and more flags. Guns and revolvers were discharged at intervals by Messrs. J. Hawkes, F. Metcalfe, E. Warboys, and others. The Procession visited the Vicarage and had a hearty welcome from the Vicar, who fearing that Mr Cole's hat might get damaged, provided him with a huge Japanese umbrella. A stop was made at the residence of all principal inhabitants. The procession sang, cheered, and got most enthusiastic. Captious critics might complain of the want of tune, but no one could doubt the sincerity of the demonstration. On the return journey from Boxworth End, torches were lighted. The bonfire was started about 10pm. and blazed furiously until long after midnight. When it was well alight the Vicar called for "God Save the Queen", which was sung with great heartiness. The materials for the fire were generously contributed by various people, who are too numerous to name. The whole of the village turned out, and around the fire hardly one well known face was missing. There is no doubt that the demonstration was a great success. We have to record one pleasant incident. During Wednesday afternoon Mrs George Long attended the school and gave each of the 188 children present a sixpenny piece.

THE NATIONAL SCHOOL. 16th June 1920

The Government Inspector of Schools has furnished the following very satisfactory report: - Mixed School – “The tone of the school is excellent. The instruction is good. The children seem to take much interest in their work.” Infants’ School – “The Infants are very kindly managed and very intelligently taught.” Mr. H. Beaumont and Miss Pook wish their assistants are to be heartily congratulated on this pleasing result of their oft times irksome labours.

PARISH COUNCIL. 23rd June 1900

On Thursday, the 14th inst., the Clerk of the Parish Council was observed walking along the main street of the village with an expression of gloomy anxiety on his face and a brown paper parcel under his arm. He entered the National School. Shortly afterwards several gentlemen wearing black coats and with bowed shoulders and grave faces indicative of serious responsibility, appeared from all sides. They also entered the school. The village was then aware that the Parish Council was about to meet. Unfortunately, no report of the proceedings can be given, as notice is rarely, if ever, given to the public of the meetings, the Councillors, from a sense of modesty, deeming to conduct their business as far as possible in private. It is understood, however, that the chief subject under consideration was the proposed bye-laws regulating the village green.

ACCIDENT. 23rd June 1900

During the past few days, as Mr Herbert Wilderspin, accompanied by a friend was driving in his light spring cart over the rough granite pavement of Bridge Street, St Ives, the axle broke. Fortunately, Mr Wilderspin having complete control over his horse was able to pull up at once, and both he and his companion kept their seats. The released wheel, however, went bounding merrily on its way until brought up by a shop front, which, happily, it did not damage. The cart figured prominently in the recent Pretoria demonstration, of which Mr Wilderspin was the chief organiser.

MORE ACCIDENTS. 23rd June 1900.

On Tuesday last two accidents occurred in the village, but were happily attended by no very serious consequences. About mid-day, Mr J Hawkes and Mr B. Day were driving towards Fen Drayton, and when between the uninhabited "Plough" and Mr Johnson's farm house, the horse was startled, probably by a dog jumping over a gate. The cart, its occupants, and barrels of beer were precipitated into a brook. Mr Hawkes was thoroughly drenched while Mr Day's nether garments were seriously damaged, and the shaft of the cart was broken. About the same time Mr S.W. Crisp was endeavouring to catch a young mare in his field named Topleys. The struggle between man and beast was keen, and in the result, notwithstanding Mr Crisp's sturdy efforts, the animal won and the man was flung into the pond. We are glad to say that none of these gentlemen are much the worse for their unpleasant experience.

RADICAL CANDIDATE FOR WEST CAMBS. 30th June 1900

Mr Hugh Hoare, accompanied by a gentleman, said to be his agent, paid a flying visit to the village on Monday last, for the ostensible purpose of conferring with his principal supporters. He was unable to see Mr George Long, in consequence of the serious illness of that gentleman, but is understood to have had interviews with Mr Jesse Hephher, Mr. George Clarke, and Mr. John Wilderspin. Mr Hoare and his companion, who were mounted on bicycles, then left for Over and Willingham, but before they got clear of the village some children reminded the candidate that their parents had not yet received the three acres and a cow he had once so confidently promised them.

CRICKET CLUB. 30th June 1900

Mr Raymond Green, M.P. though absent fighting with the Yeomanry in South Africa, has not forgotten the Swavesey Cricket Club. Through Mr J.S. French, he has very kindly contributed one guinea towards the Club funds.

HAY HARVEST.

Hay making has at last been begun in earnest. The recent rains have brought on the grass well.

FOUL SMELLS. 7th July 1900.

The foul odours from the brook which runs near the National School and passes under the Town Bridge baffle description, and are a source of danger of public health. The children, with their usual perversity, have chosen the bridge, both under and over, as a playground, and during the evenings the parapet is the favourite lounge of farm lads. The sanitary authorities should see to the matter at once. A visit would not be in vain, especially on an evening following a hot day. The smell last Sunday evening was particularly offensive. The authorities must surely be aware that there are several cases of scarlet fever and measles in the village; and, such being the case; they should be keenly on the watch for all insanitary spots.

THUNDERSTORM. 7th July 1900

A heavy storm visited the village on Thursday evening. Rain came down in torrents, and thunder and lightning seemed so near as to startle nervous people. In part of the village the ground was quickly covered with hailstones.

CRICKET MATCH AND SUPPER. 29th Sept. 1900

On Thursday evening last the conclusion of a successful cricket season was marked by a match in the afternoon between two local elevens, and in the evening by a supper in the schoolroom, to which twenty-eight members and friends sat down. The elevens were captained by the vicar (the Rev A C Vidler) and Mr A Haynes; the result of the match was a victory for the vicar's side, mainly due to the fine bowling of W Edwards and the batting of W H Key and J T Daintry – both old village cricketers, who had not played for a considerable time. Barrett bowled well for the losing side. Thanks to the good taste and energy of Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke, the schoolroom was transformed, reflecting great credit on the caterer, and eliciting many laudatory remarks during the proceedings. After speeches and votes of thanks the remaining part of the evening was given up to harmony.

THE CHURCH GATES. 29th Sept. 1900

The dilapidated, but appropriate, wooden gates of the churchyard, have been replaced by brand new iron ones. We know not to whose artistic taste the village is indebted for the selection, but the impression is gaining ground in the parish that some factory manager is puzzling his head over the delivery of gates of ecclesiastical design, and wondering what the Railway Company is doing with those he ordered.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING. 13th Oct. 1900

A most enthusiastic meeting was held in the National Schoolroom on Saturday last in support of the candidature of Mr. Raymond Greene, and was attended by about 200 persons. Dr. J. W. Ellis took the chair and was supported by Mr. E W Lake (Mr. Greene's cousin), Mr. Hemming of London, Mr. T. W. Dunn, and Major Oliver Papworth. After a brief introductory speech by the Chairman, Mr. Hemming addressed the meeting. He dealt exhaustively with the South African question. He referred to the prosperity of the Country under Unionist rule, and to various other matters of Home politics. Mr. Hemming spoke for about 45 minutes. He turned to account every interruption, and though numerous they were most orderly. Mr. Lake followed. He spoke as being the candidate's relative and business partner, and as having known him from childhood. He urged the electors of Swavesey to vote for his gallant young cousin who had left home and comfort because he felt it was his duty to take his share in the fight for the defence of the British Empire.

Mr. Dunn, in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Hemming and Mr. Lake, delivered a speech truly eloquent in the highest sense of the word. With marvellous intuition Mr. Dunn struck a chord that vibrated in every heart, whether Liberal or Tory, and was listened to in breathless silence.

Unfortunately he had to curtail his speech in consequence of the lateness of the hour. He concluded, his voice breaking with emotion, with an impassioned appeal to the electors of West Cambs to vote for Mr. Greene, and the righteous cause he represents.

Mr Walter Thorp seconded, and the resolution was carried with acclamation. – After a vote of thanks to the Chairman, the meeting sang “God Save the Queen”, the solo part being taken by Mr. J. Gilby, junr., Mr. H. Beaumont accompanying on the piano. The Liberals were strongly represented.

THE PONDS. 20th Oct. 1900

At last the ponds, which have been for the past few years a standing disgrace to the village, are being cleared out, but no one seems anxious for the mud, and unless this is removed from the banks forthwith, the ponds will in a very short time be again in an insanitary condition.

CHANGES IN THE VILLAGE. 20th Oct. 1900

The removals this Michaelmas are unprecedentedly numerous. Amongst them are Mr. Cyril M. Bevan, who has left the village for good, the Swavesey Manor being taken by Mrs. Heelis; Mr. James Parsons has removed from Brooklands to his house at Boxworth End; Mr. S. W. Crisp, on Tuesday, vacated the “White Horse” Inn, and took up his abode at Brooklands; and Mr. Willson, of Hilton, is expected shortly in Market-street.

STREET LIGHTING. 20th Oct. 1900

The Parish Council, with a remarkable display of vigour, (no meeting had been held during the quarter ended the 29th September), met on Monday 8th October, and accepted the tender of Mr George Clarke for lighting the street lamps during the ensuing winter. On Sunday night the lamps were lighted for the first time, and gave general satisfaction. It is to be hoped that the Parish Council will in future appoint the lighting contractor at their statutory meeting, which should, if all rules and regulations were obeyed, be held during the month of July; for then there would be time to have all defects remedied before the lamps had to be lighted, and the contractor might possibly be able to buy his oil in a cheaper market.

HARVEST FESTIVALS. 20th Oct. 1900

On Tuesday, the 2nd of October, Harvest Thanksgiving Services were held in the Parish Church. There were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6 and 7.30 a.m., matins at 10.30 a.m., and festal evensong at 7 p.m., with a sermon by the Rev. H. Holden of Hackney. The anthem, “Praise the Lord, O

Jerusalem,” by the Rev. E. V. Hall, was well rendered by the choir. The decorations, with the exception of meaningless and unnecessary candles stuck on the window sills, were effective. The fruit, flowers, and vegetables were subsequently sent to Addenbrooke’s Hospital. – On Thursday, the 4th October, there were Harvest Thanksgiving Services at the Mission Church, the sermon at evensong being preached by the Rev. Evelyn Young, vicar of Fendrayton, and on the Sunday following there was a children’s service, at which their offerings of flowers and fruit were received. These were forwarded to St. Ives Infirmary.

THE POLLING DAY. 20th Oct. 1900

On the 11th instant everything went off quietly and, so far as we are aware, without any unpleasantness. Mr. Pell, the chairman of the West Cambs Conservative Association, and Mrs. Pell (Captain Raymond Greene’s sister) drove through the village at midday, and had a very cordial reception. They visited the local Conservative committee-room, and Mrs. Pell distributed in the road outside portraits of her brother, which were in great request. Mr. Hoare also paid a very brief visit to the village about 6 0 p.m. While the Liberal colours were far and few between, Mr. Greene’s pink and white were in evidence on all sides; men, women, and children, horses and dogs wore them; and from houses and trees flags of that colour floated in the breeze. Mr. Jilling’s house and garden were gay with appropriate flags and devices specially manufactured by this loyal old gentleman. At the close of the poll the Conservative workers were gratified to find that their efforts had not been in vain, as it was estimated that a considerable majority of the votes had been cast in favour of Mr. Greene. The Liberals, however, appeared to be confident of winning, and were greatly dejected when the result of the poll was brought the following day from Chesterton by that well-known cyclist, Mr. Ben Thorp, in record time, beating a telegram handed in at 11.30 a.m. by nearly an hour.

On Wednesday, 10th instant, on the eve of the poll, a very successful meeting was held at the National School under the presidency of Dr. J. W. Ellis in support of the candidature of Captain Raymond Greene. Notwithstanding the fact that a Liberal meeting was in progress in another building in the village about the same time the large Schoolroom was crowded and people from over and other neighbouring villages were present. Supporting the Chairman were Sir Walter Greene, Bart, M P, Prince F Dhuleep Singh, Mr. Fred Smith, of Cottenham and lately of Johannesburg, Mr. T. W. Dunn of Swavesey, and Major Oliver Papworth.

The Chairman briefly but effectively opened the meeting, and introduced Prince F. Dhuleep Singh, who said he was an old friend and neighbour of the Conservative candidate and his subaltern in the Suffolk Yeomanry. He dilated upon the many dangers and hardships so willingly borne by Captain Greene and his East Anglian comrades and strongly urged those present to support by their votes and interest their old member who had served them so well.

Sir Walter Greene made a most effective speech, punctuated here and there by humorous stories. He referred to the scandalous treatment he and Sir Robert Fitzgerald had received the previous evening at the hands and crowbars of the advocates of free speech at Cottenham, and expressed a hope that Swavesey eggs were not of such antiquity and acrid pungency as those presented to him at Cottenham. He dealt with the home and foreign policy of the Government, and severely criticised the multifarious programme of the Radical candidate.

Mr. Fred Smith gave a painfully graphic account of the treatment to which the Uitlanders of the Transvaal, of whom he was one, had been subjected, and fervently appealed to the electors not to weaken the hands of the Government in their arduous task of settling once and for all the South African question by returning a Radical to Parliament. His remarks were cheered to the echo, and made a deep impression.

Mr. Dunn, in proposing a vote of thanks to the speakers, referred in graceful language to the presence of a prince of our great Eastern Empire and of a citizen of Greater Britain. – Mr. William T. Thorp seconded the resolution which was carried unanimously. Sir Walter Greene proposed and Mr. Smith seconded in eulogistic terms, a vote of thanks to the Chairman, who briefly responded.

The proceedings were brought to a conclusion by Prince F. Dhuleep Singh leading off with “God Save the Queen,” which was heartily joined in by the audience. During the evening the Prince also sang “Soldiers of the Queen”.

LECTURE. 8th Dec. 1900

The Rev. J. Watkins, Vicar of Willingham, delivered an interesting and instructive lecture on the subject of “Alfred the Great” on Tuesday evening at the National School. The room was well filled. The lecturer was materially assisted by pictures from a magic lantern of scenes, buildings, maps, costumes, &c., reminiscent of Alfred’s time.

DEATH OF MR. J. W. DEAN. 8th Dec. 1900

We regret to have to record the death of Mr. James Waters Dean, which took place at his house in Swavesey on Monday, November 26th. Mr. Dean had for many months been in indifferent health, and had in consequence been compelled to relinquish his business of baker, but he was able to get out of doors, and so late as the previous Monday had been in the neighbouring town of St. Ives: indeed we may say that he did not take to his bed until the evening before his death. He succumbed to disease of the heart. His body was laid to rest in Swavesey Parish Churchyard on the afternoon of St. Andrew's day. On Sunday morning last the vicar made a sympathetic reference to the sad event in his sermon. Mr. Dean's two eldest sons are in South Africa and have seen active service during the war, the elder in the Cape Mounted Rifles, and the younger in one of the local Volunteer Regiments. Both have suffered from fever, and one has been wounded.

THE TEACHING OF HORTICULTURE. 8th Dec. 1900

A Parish Meeting was held in the schoolroom on Monday evening last to consider whether a class under the auspices of the Technical Education Committee of the County Council, should be established in Swavesey with a view to improve the villagers' knowledge of horticulture as applied to cottage gardening. The Vicar, Rev. A. C. Vidler, took the chair, and introduced Mr. Austin Keene, the Organising Secretary of the Technical Education Committee of the County Council. Mr. Keene explained the objects of the proposed class, and dilated upon the benefits which would accrue. Dr. J. W. Ellis, C.C., proposed that, if a sufficient number of members could be obtained to form a class, the offer of the Technical Education Committee should be accepted. Mr. T. W. Dunn in an admirable speech warmly seconded the proposal, which was carried without opposition. It is to be hoped that a sufficient number of inhabitants will come forward.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 15th Dec. 1900

Mr. Tom Dean (son of the late Mr. J. W. Dean), who served in the South African Light Horse during the recent fighting in Natal, arrived somewhat unexpectedly in Swavesey on Saturday last. He seems to have had many unpleasant experiences, and to have been in various tight corners, but even these do not appear to have extinguished his love of adventure, for he intends to return to South Africa after a short holiday. He strongly advises his friends, however, not to follow his example, at any rate not for some considerable time.

CHRISTMAS AT THE PARISH CHURCH. 29th Dec. 1900

The services at the Parish Church were, as usual, bright and well-attended. There was choral Evensong on Christmas Eve, and the carol "See amid the winter snow" was sung. On Christmas Day there were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6 and 7 30 a.m. Matins was at 10.30 a.m. followed by a choral celebration. Evensong was sung at 3 p.m., the anthem being, "O Zion that bringest good tidings," and the carols, "See amid the winter snow" and "Good Christian men rejoice."

CAROL SINGING IN THE STREETS. 29th Dec. 1900

An attempt was made this year by Mr. A. Welch to organize a band of carol singers, who would devote the proceeds of their collection to the benefit of Addenbrooke's Hospital. Unfortunately, the admirable project fell through. It is to be hoped that next year Mr. Welch will be more successful. Another party of carol singers perambulated the village late on Christmas Eve, but the object to which they applied their profits, if any, has not been made public, and their singing was hardly distinguished by the reverence due to the sacred words used.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT. 29th Dec. 1900

A tea and entertainment for the school children will be held in the Schoolroom on Tuesday next to commemorate the new year and the new century.

GEORGE AND DRAGON INN. 19th Jan 1901

Visitors to Swavesey will learn with regret that Mr. W. Salmon has left the "George and Dragon" Inn in Market Street. Although not a Swavesey man, during the comparatively short time – not quite three years – he was landlord, the "George and Dragon" was a well-conducted inn, and he won the respect of all by his unfailing civility and unremitting attention to business. Mr. Salmon has removed to the "Railway Tavern", Waterbeach.

CAPTAIN GREENE AT SWAVESEY. 19th Jan. 1901

Captain Raymond Greene, M.P., was given a splendid reception on Monday at Swavesey, where earnest Conservative workers have brought about a great change in the character of the constituency. The electors came in their hundred to attend the meeting, and cheered their Member to the echo. Captain Greene told the story of the somewhat dramatic manner in which he received the intelligence of his re-election whilst he was engaged scouting, and gave a rather depressing picture of the character of the countries we have made so many sacrifices to bring under the British flag. At the same time he was assured that there was a great future before rural South Africa when the war is over and the country has been opened up.

THE DEATH OF QUEEN VICTORIA. 26th Jan. 1901.

The news of the death of the Queen reached the village about 7.30pm, on Tuesday, and, although not unexpected, caused great consternation. The villagers, especially those advanced in years, were deeply affected, and the general feeling was that all, young and old, rich and poor, had lost a dear and lifelong friend. By direction of the Vicar the fine tenor bell of the parish church was at once tolled, and subsequently a muffled peal was rung. There are many signs of mourning in the village. On the church tower and at the residence of Dr. Ellis, C.C. the Union Jack flies at half mast. Some of the tradesmen have their shutters up, and at the Post Office, the Vicarage, and other private houses the blinds are drawn.

THE DEATH OF THE QUEEN. 2nd Feb. 1900

On Thursday, the 24th January, the Vicar summoned the villagers to meet at 7 p.m. in the Market-place. A goodly number attended, and from an extemporised platform the Vicar explained the circumstances under which he had called the meeting, namely, that there were many in the village who did not read the newspapers, and who, therefore, did not fully realise the importance of the great events which were taking place. He then read the Proclamation as to the accession of King Edward VII and the Declaration of His Majesty, and concluded with some appropriate verses. The proceedings, which were conducted in absolute silence, ended with the singing of the first verse of "God Save the King." On Sunday the Parish Church was in mourning, the south door, chancel screen, pulpit, sanctuary, and altar being draped in black. Appropriate lessons were read and hymns sung, and at the conclusion of the Morning Service the "Dead March" in Saul was played on the organ. After the Evening Service a verse of the National Anthem was sung, and Chopin's "Funeral March" was played. The morning and evening sermons had reference to the death of the Queen and the accession of the new Sovereign. On the day of the funeral there will be a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m., and at noon there will be a Special Funeral Service. After Evensong on Sunday last the Vicar made a collection for a wreath to place in the church at the Funeral Service.

THE STORM. 2nd Feb 1901

On Sunday last a furious storm raged and considerable damage was done in the village. The flagstaff on the church tower, from which the Union Jack was flying at half-mast, was snapped asunder; a chimney stack at the "White Horse" Inn was partially demolished, two persons returning from church having a narrow escape from the falling brickwork; a wheat case at the Priory was unroofed; and part of a chimney at Mr. A Williams' was blown down and fell through the roof. Slates and tiles were blown off in all parts of the village and the fence surrounding Mr. J Gilby's garden was levelled to the ground.

DEATH OF THE QUEEN. 9th Feb. 1900

Saturday last, the 2nd inst., was kept as a day of mourning in the village. The stillness during the earlier hours was almost painful, even the children forbearing for once from making a noise. No carts were to be seen, and hardly a pedestrian was visible. All places of business were shut up and only necessary farm work, &c., was done. Blinds were drawn in the private houses and cottages, and during the middle of the day several of the public-houses were closed. At the Parish Church the day opened with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a.m., and at noon the muffled bells summoned the parishioners to the Memorial Service. There was a large congregation, which included many Nonconformists. The south door, pulpit, choir screen, Lady Chapel, sanctuary, and altar were draped in black, as on the previous Sunday, whilst in front of the steps leading into the chancel was a small purple-covered platform, on which was placed a wreath, subscribed for by the congregation, composed of lilies and other white flowers. The second of the authorised forms of Memorial Service was used, the solo in the anthem, "And the King said," being sung by Mrs. J. Gilby, jun. The Vicar preached a most impressive sermon in which, among other things, he urged his hearers to realise that, of the many great days of the late Queen's life, this day on which her mortal remains were borne in solemn state through the capital of her Empire was the greatest. After the sermon, the De Profundis was sung, and this was followed by the "Dead March" in Saul, the congregation standing. Beethoven's solemn "Funeral March" was played at the end of the service, and a muffled peal was rung. On Sunday the church remained draped, and appropriate hymns were sung. The flag on the tower continued at half-mast until Monday evening.

PLANTING OF MEMORIAL TREES. 9th Feb. 1901

Mr T. W. Dunn, of the Old House, Swavesey, being desirous that there should be some memorial in the village, of the death and burial of the Queen, has very kindly presented four cedars of Lebanon, which were planted in the presence of a large assembly of parishioners on Saturday afternoon at the time the funeral was taking place at Windsor. Mr Dunn made a short introductory speech, in which he explained that he hoped the trees would not only serve as a memorial of a great historic event, but would tend to beautify the village. The trees were planted by the Vicar (Rev. A.C. Vidler), Miss Helen Vidler, Mr T. W. Carter, and Master Charles Cole, son of Mr W. C. Cole, respectively, one being placed at each end of the Swan Pond and the other two in Market Street. Dr. Ellis obtained the necessary permission from the County Council.

SKATING. 9th Feb. 1901

There has been some skating upon Mere Fen, but the immersions have been numerous. On Monday afternoon, one venturesome young gentleman, who hailed from Cambridge, and being troubled with wet feet, took off the boots to which his skates were attached, and rather than wet his spare pair of dry boots walked in his stockings, like a pilgrim in the olden days, from Mere Fen to the “White Horse” Inn, and thence to Mr. A Williams’ shop, where he invested in a dry pair of socks. The villagers smiled.

CYCLISTS AND FOOTPATHS. 11th Feb. 1901

TO THE EDITOR

Sirs: - According to a report in Saturday’s Cambridge Daily News, a man was fined at the Cambs. Divisional Petty Sessions for cycling on the footpath between Swavesey and Over. I am not interested in that case, nor have I any desire to ask magistrates and policemen what they would do if when driving or cycling their way was blocked by heavily-laden farm carts that will monopolise the centre of the road, but I may observe that in my wanderings through the country, I have, unless my eyes have greatly deceived me, seen both J.P.’s and “gentlemen in blue” who, with the view of avoiding freshly-laid granite, have defied the law. The object of this letter is to call the attention of the county surveyor to the condition of the so-called footpath between Swavesey Station and Over, and particularly to that portion between the railway gates and the entrance to Mare Fen. If the surveyor calls that strip of muck and holes a footpath some alteration will have to be made in the next edition of the dictionaries. One word more. Why is the surveyor destroying wherever he can every mark by which a footpath can be distinguished from the roadway? Is it to provide easy police cases for the constables? – Yours, &c.,

A TRAVELLER

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 16th Feb. 1901

A meeting of the Committee of the Swavesey Conservative Association was held at the “White Horse” Inn on Thursday the 7th inst., to receive a report from the Sub-Committee charged with the management of the recent tea and concert, at which Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P. was present. The accounts showed a small credit balance, and the Sub-Committee, which consisted of Dr. Ellis, Messrs. S.W. Crisp, J. Gilby, W.H. Key and Vincent, was congratulated upon the result of its labours. After the business was concluded, the Committee drank the health of his Majesty the King.

ACCIDENT. 16th Feb. 1901

On Tuesday morning, whilst Mr. P. Metcalfe, thatcher, was engaged in repairing the thatch on Mrs. E. Mitham's house in Market Street, the ladder on which he was standing slipped, and he was precipitated to the ground, a distance of upwards of twelve feet. Assistance was promptly forthcoming, and Mr. Metcalfe was taken into his house. On examination, it was found that his injuries (face, arm and general shaking) were, fortunately, not very serious, and he was able later in the day, notwithstanding a face ornamented with sticking-plaster and bandaged arm, to attend the annual dinner of the Shepherds' Club, of which he is a prominent member.

SHEPHERD'S CLUB. 16th Feb. 1901

The anniversary dinner of the "Wheatsheaf" Lodge of the Ancient order of Shepherds took place on Tuesday last at the "George and Dragon" Inn. Dr. Ellis. CC, was chairman, being supported by Mr. Herbert Williams as vice-chairman. After dinner, business matters were discussed, and we are pleased to learn that the Club is in a sound financial condition, there being a larger balance in hand now than at this time last year. The Treasurer, Mr. Philip Metcalfe to whose efforts the success of the Club is so largely due, was warmly congratulated by his brother Shepherds on his providential escape from very serious injury by falling from the roof of a house. An excellent dinner was provided by Mr. F. A. Chapman, the new landlord of the "George and Dragon".

SKATING ON MERE FEN. 23rd Feb. 1901

ACCIDENT TO BEN THORPE

During the recent frost there has been some skating on Mere Fen, but the ice was in an indifferent condition, and no organised racing was possible; still on several days the Great Eastern Railway conveyed a fair number of skating devotees from Cambridge and elsewhere. On Thursday, 14th inst., Mr. Ben Thorpe met with a serious accident during a spin with a Canadian gentleman. Whilst going at full speed he appears to have got upon some thin ice, where the previous day a hole had been made. The ice collapsed and Mr. Thorpe fell in, hitting his face violently against the edge of the firm ice. P.C. Kitchener helped him out, and found him bleeding profusely from six or seven bad cuts on his face, besides wounds on his arm and leg. The constable promptly brought his "First Aid" knowledge into play, and after temporarily bandaging such wounds as he could get at, assisted Mr. Thorpe home. In the meantime Dr. Ellis was fetched by Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, who happened to be passing in his trap. We are pleased to say that Mr. Thorpe is progressing favourably.

SUPPER TO CHURCH WORKERS. 23rd Feb. 1901

On Monday evening the Vicar of Swavesey, (Rev A.C. Vidler) gave, at the National School, his annual supper to the members of the choir, ringers, and other church officials and workers, at which about 30 persons were present. After Supper the Vicar spoke a few words of welcome and thanks to his guests, and referred in feeling terms to the death of the Queen, and the Accession of the King. The rest of the evening was devoted to singing, chess, draughts, dominoes, &c., a game of chess between Mr T. W. Dunn and Mr Perry, the stationmaster and energetic ringer, arousing great interest. Mr Perry won a well-fought game. Songs were sung by Rev A. C. Vidler, Mr S. Beaumont, C. Coote, J. Gilby, W. H. Key, A. Prime, C. Taylor, and Wm Thorpe. Dr. Ellis contributed, in his usual inimitable fashion, "Ten Little Niggers". A vote of thanks to the Vicar, proposed by Mr Dunn and seconded by Dr. Ellis, brought a very pleasant and successful evening to a close.

WATER SUPPLY. 23rd Feb. 1901.

Once again half of the village is without proper drinking water, air only being obtained from the pumps at Boxworth End and Middle Watch. Water has either to be carried long distances or recourse has to be had to the ponds. Last spring, for several weeks these same pumps were useless, and after some delay, holes were dug and the obstruction in the pipes removed. The supply of water is both ample and excellent, and it is most annoying that through defective piping a large portion of the village should be waterless so frequently. There is a strong feeling in the parish that the whole system is wrong, and should be overhauled by a competent engineer. It would be interesting to know the result of a bacteriological analysis of the pond water.

CRICKET CLUB. 2nd March 1901

At a well attended meeting of the members of the Swavesey Cricket Club held recently in the National Schoolroom, the Vicar in the chair, the following officers were elected for the coming season viz.; President, Mr. W. Raymond Greene, M.P.; vice-presidents, Dr. Ellis, and Messrs W.C. Cole, T.W. Dunn, and Thomas Payne; captain, Rev. A.C. Vidler; vice-captain, Mr. W. Edwards; secretary, Mr. C.R. Vincent; committee, Messrs. G. Clarke, J. Hawkes, J. Linford and R. Warboys. It was decided to have a concert in aid of the Club shortly after Easter, as additional funds are greatly needed.

WATER SUPPLY. 2nd March 1901

A correspondent writes: Attention was called last week to the fact that the inhabitants of Boxworth End and Middle Watch, through the failing nature of the parish water supply, were compelled to carry water some considerable distance or use stagnant pond water. So far nothing has been done by the Sanitary Authorities to remedy the evil, and it is feared this important matter will be shelved until the new District Council has been elected. In the meantime half of a large village is put to serious inconvenience, to say nothing of the danger there is of an epidemic of typhoid, &c., owing to the use of polluted water. People are asking whether the Medical Officer of Health and Sanitary Inspector have resigned their offices.

ELECTION OF PARISH COUNCILLORS. 9th March 1901

On Monday evening last, a parish meeting was held in the National Schoolroom, the Vicar being in the chair, for the purpose of electing the new Parish Council. Messrs. T. W. Carter, Jethro Garner, W.H. Key, Jethro Linford, George Metcalfe, G. Norman, T. Parker, J. Smith and J. Wells were elected. Messrs. W.T. Thorpe and Vincent were also nominated but withdrew. Mr. A. Day, a Rural District Councillor, asked permission to take the feeling of the parishioners present respecting the steps which should be adopted to remedy the defective water supply. There was a short discussion, in which Messrs. T.W. Carter, Jethro Linford, Geo. Metcalfe, and the Chairman took part.

SUDDEN DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 16th March 1901

We regret to have to announce the death of Mr. John Gilby, senior, which occurred with painful suddenness on Tuesday. Mr. Gilby had been working in his garden allotment, and shortly after noon on his return when he reached the Swan Pond he spoke to the son of Mr. J. S. Goad, who observed nothing wrong with him, but he had not taken many steps before he was noticed to reel and fall heavily to the ground. Mr. Topper, of the New Inn, immediately went to his aid, and with assistance Mr. Gilby was carried into his cottage. Beyond a muttered "Oh dear!" he never spoke. No inquest will be held as Dr. Grove was able to certify failure of the heart. Mr. Gilby was 69 years of age, and for 49 years had been working on the G.E.R. at Swavesey station as porter and signalman. He was universally respected by all who knew him. The funeral takes place on Saturday.

VESTRY MEETING. 13th April 1901

The usual Easter vestry meeting was held in the Parish Church, on Monday evening last, when Mr. James Wells was elected people's churchwarden. The Vicar nominated Mr. W H Key as his warden. Messrs. W Cain, Jethro Garner, G Metcalfe, P Metcalfe, W T Thorpe, and Dr. Ellis were selected as sidesmen.

CONCERT. 20th April 1901

An evening Concert in aid of the funds of the Cricket Club was given in the National Schoolroom on Tuesday last by the talented artistes, Messrs. E. Kiddle, A Naish, S. R. Sandys, H.S. Turner, and E.R. Tyrell of St. Ives.

(The programme included songs, recitations, sketches, a mandolin and banjo solo and ended with God Save the King – in full in newspaper)

The audience was numerous and thoroughly appreciative, and the well known and generous performers were in their best form.

(long report)

PARISH COUNCIL. 4th May 1901

At the Parish Council meeting held on Thursday last, Messrs. H.S. Aldred and P. Spring were appointed Overseers.

VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT. 4th May 1901

Under the management of the Misses Heelis, Miss Dunn, and the Vicar a most successful entertainment was given in the National School on Tuesday evening in aid of the funds of the Sunday Schools.

(Programme in full in the newspaper)

Where everything was excellent it is perhaps invidious to particularise, but it is only right that special mention should be made of Handel's Sonata and Gavotte played by Mr. And Mrs. De Zoete. It is not often that villages are favoured with such a musical treat, and the reception accorded to both pieces shows that the villagers can appreciate good music. Mr. Stone's songs were received with enthusiasm, and the "Dialogue" by Miss C. M. Heelis and Mr. Hardy was exceedingly well done. The Phonograph selections were admirable and pleased the audience greatly. "Our Toys" proved to be a clever and amusing musical trifle, full of puns and funny situations. It was well acted, well dressed, and well received. At the conclusion of the entertainment a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the performers and organisers.

THE FEAST. 25th May 1901.

The annual village feast began on Sunday, and was kept up until Wednesday. Large numbers of visitors attended from Cambridge, St Ives, and the neighbouring villages, and family reunions were the order of the day. Messrs. Thurston's flying ostriches and horses were very popular, and the other amusements, cocoanut shies, shooting galleries, &c., were well patronised.

WELCOME HOME FROM THE FRONT. 25th May. 1901.

Trooper A. Peppercorn, of the 44th Company Imperial Yeomanry, who landed at Southampton on Saturday, arrived at Swavesey Station on Monday by train due at 6.26p.m. He was met by between 200 and 300 people, who greeted him with hearty cheers and escorted him in triumph to his mother's home. The Vicar was on the platform to welcome him home in the name of the village. The cricket match between Swavesey and Lolworth was brought to an early conclusion in order to allow the teams to participate in the reception.

PLUCKY ACTION OF A POLICE CONSTABLE. 8th June 1901

Shortly before noon on Tuesday last, a cart containing granite for the roads left Swavesey station in charge of a crippled lad, who was riding on the load. When between the railway gates and the church the ridge chain of the harness broke and startled the horse, which bolted along the road past the swan pond towards the heart of the village. Police constable Kitchener was in a neighbouring cottage, and hearing the noise, rushed out into the road with his shirt sleeves rolled up. He seized hold of the reins, and endeavoured to turn the horse into a wall, but, being unsuccessful, he sturdily hung on to the animal, and was dragged a considerable distance. The horse then swerved suddenly to the right into the opening at the side of Mr. S. W. Crisp's shop, and forced the constable against the wall of the slaughter-house. Notwithstanding his dangerous and painful position P.C. Kitchener held on to the reins, and eventually the horse was got under control. But for this plucky action, a very serious accident would, in all probability, have happened. Those who witnessed the occurrence expected to find that the constable had been severely hurt, but, happily, he escaped merely with injury to his right arm, which, although painful and necessitating medical treatment, has not incapacitated him from duty. The lad was unharmed, though much frightened.

METHODIST MISSION. 8th June 1901

The Methodist Missioners paid one of their periodical visits to the village on Sunday last, and, headed by a banner and a band, paraded the streets previous to the afternoon and evening services, which were held on the School Green. As usual, the band attracted a considerable number of adults and children, with the result that the attendance at the Sunday schools and recognised places of worship suffered materially. In consequence of the attractiveness of the Methodist band, the opinion has been expressed that a village band playing suitable music on the Green on Sundays, at a time that would not clash with the Church and Chapel services, would be a boon and a blessing.

VILLAGE RIVALRY. 8th June 1901

A correspondent writes: - "In this month's issue of the Parish Magazine, which circulates in Lolworth, Swavesey, and surrounding villages, great credit is attributed to the Lolworth cricket team for the "severe defeat they succeeded in inflicting" on the Swavesey Cricket Club on the 20th May, and special attention is called to the fact that Lolworth scored 196 runs in a single innings. As the paragraph was calculated to create a false impression, which, in justice to the Swavesey Club should be corrected without delay, perhaps you would kindly publish a few particulars respecting the match. In the first place, Lolworth did not score 196 runs, but 193; secondly, four at least of the team were not residents of Lolworth, two even belonging to the parish of Swavesey. One of the four – Mr. Kent – who scored 110 runs, is far too good a bat to be played with any chance of equality against an average village eleven. With the exception of Mr. Ellis Long (36 runs), who was in with Mr. Kent, the Rev. R.M. Stapylton (7 runs), and two Lolworth men, who scored 10 and 16 respectively, after the Swavesey bowlers and fielders had been worn out, the Lolworth team managed to compile two, viz., one man hit a two, and five were unfortunate enough to be credited with duck's eggs. There were twelve extras.

SMOKING CONCERT. 15th June 1901

Trooper A Peppercorn of the Imperial Yeomanry, recently invalided from the front, arranged on Wednesday evening an informal smoking concert in the large room at the "George and Dragon" Inn. Owing to the rain, or some cause as yet unexplained, friends from outside the village, who had undertaken to provide the main part of the programme, did not put in an appearance, but the energetic and eloquent chairman, Mr. S. W. Crisp, assisted by the gallant trooper, soon obtained volunteers from the audience. Mr. J. Hawkes played an overture, and acted as accompanist throughout the evening in his usual able manner. Mr. Tom Nicholson's songs, though suggestive of the deluge and festive evenings in the ark, met with a hearty reception on account of the inimitable way in which they were sung. Trooper Ben Thorp, of the Bucks Yeomanry, and of sporting fame, appeared in a new character, as the warbler of love ditties. Messrs. C. Dodson, E. Hemington. E. Williams, Warren Trundle, Joe Stockbridge, and others, also contributed songs, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Before singing "God save the King" the Chairman briefly but gracefully referred to Trooper Peppercorn's services in South Africa, and amidst cheers announced that he had made up his mind to return to the front and "see the business out".

(long report)

CRICKET CLUB. 29th June 1901.

Mr John Gilby has been appointed vice-captain of the Swavesey Cricket Club, in place of Mr W. Edwards, who has removed to Cambridge.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION. 29th June 1901.

The following members of the technical education class held in the National School have been awarded first-class certificates (elementary woodwork) by the Midland Counties Union of Educational Institutions, viz., Wilfred L Hepher, Henry Beaumont, and Frank Day. This satisfactory result reflects great credit upon the able instructor, Mr Walter Thorp.

FENSTANTON v. SWAVESEY. 6th July 1901

This match was played at Fenstanton on Thursday of last week, and resulted in a win for Swavesey by five runs on the first innings.

SUCCESS OF A VILLAGER. 27th July 1901

Mr. H. Beaumont, who has for many years been the village schoolmaster, has received the gratifying intelligence that his son, Mr. Percy James Beaumont, has passed the Matriculation Examination for the London University, being placed in the First Division. Mr. P. J. Beaumont is nineteen years of age, and has just completed his first year's course at St. Mark's College, Chelsea, where he is one of the youngest, if not the youngest, of the one hundred and twenty students.

CRICKET CLUB. 27th July 1901

The result of the cricket match played last Saturday between Swavesey and the Old Abbey Club seems to have given satisfaction to the whole village, one gentleman alone excepted. Some of the team, on their return from Cambridge between 9 and 10 pm., celebrated the victory by cheering when they drove past the houses of two or three of the principal inhabitants, including that of the gentleman in question. In his case the festive cheering appears to have been mistaken for hooting, and next day the visitors found, to their great surprise, that he had laid a formal complaint charging them with insulting him. (Swavesey made 125 runs for 7 wickets against Old Abbey's 61 all out).

CRICKET: OLD ABBEY V. SWAVESEY. 10th August 1901

This match was played at Swavesey on Bank Holiday, and resulted in a win for the Old Abbey. The visitors were in strong force, while the Swavesey team, owing to the harvest, fruit gathering, and other causes, was weak. (Swavesey scored 52 runs against Old Abbey's 114)

CRICKET CLUB. 21st September 1901

The annual supper will be held next Thursday evening September 26th, in the National School. Mr. W. Raymond Greene, M.P., president of the Club, has announced his intention of being present. During the afternoon a match between teams captained by the Rev. A. C. Vidler (captain) and Mr. J. Gilby (vice-captain) will be played, weather permitting.

DEPARTURE OF MR T. W. DUNN 5th Oct. 1901

Mr. Dunn, who for the past four years has been living in the "Old House", Swavesey, has left the village for Milton, much to the regret of the villagers. In a quiet and unobtrusive way has made his presence felt; at public meetings his classic speeches were listened to with eager attention; noble ideas were suggested even in connection with the humblest of subjects; and his addresses in support of the candidature of Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P., last October, and previously, when advocating the cause of the War Funds, will linger for years to come in the memory of those who were privileged to hear them; they struck the purest note of patriotic duty. At the annual supper of the Swavesey Cricket Club last week, he took farewell of the village, and his valedictory words were received with hearty though sympathetic cheers, and unmistakable signs of regret. It will be remembered that, anxious that there should be some memorial to the death of the late Queen, Mr. Dunn had four cedars planted in open spaces on the day of the funeral at Windsor. These trees have, unfortunately, died, but it is understood that he will shortly have four others planted. He has already provided suitable iron railings for their protection.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 5th Oct. 1901

The Harvest Thanksgiving Services were held in the Parish Church on Wednesday last. There were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6 and 7.30 a.m., Matins at 10.30, and choral evensong and sermon by the Rev. Byrom Holland, M.A., vicar of Hemingford Grey, at 7 p.m. At evensong the congregation numbered between 300 and 400. The anthem "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," by the Rev. V. Hall, was well sung. The decorations were very effective, and particular mention may be made of the font which was undertaken by Miss Pook and the Chapel Screen by Miss Maud Key. The offertories – fruit, flowers, &c., - will be given to Addenbrooke's Hospital. On Sunday afternoon a children's flower service will be held in the Mission Church, and the offerings of the little ones will be sent to St. Ives Union Infirmary.

LIGHTING OF THE STREETS. 5th Oct. 1901

On Monday last, the Parish Council met and accepted the tender of Mr. George Clarke for lighting the street lamps during the ensuing winter. The lamps were lighted for the first time on Wednesday evening.

CRICKET CLUB ANNUAL SUPPER. 5th Oct. 1901

The annual supper of the Swavesey Cricket Club took place in the National School on Thursday September 26th. Between 40 and 50 members and friends were present, including Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P. (president of the Club), Mr. T. W. Dunn (vice-president), Rev. A. C. Vidler (vicar of Swavesey, captain), Rev. R. Miles Stapylton (rector of Lolworth), Messrs. C. Willson, W.H. Key, J. Wells, etc. An excellent supper was provided by Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke, of the "Sir Harry Smith", Swavesey, and the tables were prettily decorated with flowers presented by Mr. Walter Thorpe and others.

After the cloth had been removed, the CHAIRMAN, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, proposed the health of the King, and "God Save the King" was sung.

The HON SECRETARY then read a statement as to the proceedings and condition of the Club, from which it appeared that eight matches had been played, six having been lost and two won, and that the position of the Club in regard to its finances and membership was satisfactory, there being an increase in members and subscriptions, viz., 55 members (honorary and playing), against 45 in 1900 and 31 in 1899, and an income of £15, against £9 5s 9d in 1900 and £7 19s 1d in 1899. Letters or telegrams of regret at being unable to be present were read from Messrs. W. C. Cole and Thomas Payne (vice-presidents) and Jacob Frohock.

Mr. RAYMOND GREENE, M.P., in proposing "Success to the Swavesey Cricket Club" made an interesting speech on the subject of cricket and other games with a ball, all of which he maintained were good and healthy and had a great deal to do with the success of the English race. He had noticed, when in South Africa, wherever troops remained in one place for even a day or two, bats and balls appeared as if by magic, and cricket was the order of the day. Cricket, he held, called forth the best qualities in a man, not only physically, but such moral qualities as perseverance, self-control, good temper. A good cricket club improved a village, and every man was better for a game. Mr.

Green caused some amusement by stating that the game of cricket had not always been viewed with favour by those in authority. In the time of Edward IV cricket was declared to be illegal because it interfered with the practice of archery, and in 1477 a law was passed inflicting a penalty of three years' imprisonment or a fine on every person who promoted the game, and minor penalties for those who played. The law remained in force for upwards of 200 years, and not until 1748 was the game declared legal and manly, but even then restrictions were imposed in regard to betting on the game. Mr. Greene remarked that the increase in members and subscriptions was the best test that the Club was in a healthy condition, though he regretted not being able to congratulate the members on having won more matches. He concluded by giving the members good advice and strongly urged them to practise steadily their fielding and bowling.

The Rev. A. C. VIDLER, who responded, thanked the President on behalf of the Club for his good wishes and advice. He regretted that the Club had not a better match record this year, and attributed the weakness in fielding in a large measure to the rough condition of the ground.

Mr. DUNN proposed the health of the President, whom he thanked for being present. He observed that English boys were the only boys who played games, and he deplored the fact that in England, which used justly to be called "Merrie England", people now take their pleasures sadly, and he insisted on the importance of healthy games. Mr. Dunn regretted that he was leaving the village and that his speech must be regarded as his valedictory utterance. The toast was enthusiastically received with musical honours.

MR. GREENE briefly returned thanks.

During the evening songs were contributed by Messrs. S. Beaumont, S. W. Crisp, J. Gilby, William Thorpe, and others, and the Rev. A. C. Vidler and Mr. J Hawkes were the accompanists. A Club match was played during the afternoon between teams captained by Rev. A. C. Vidler and Mr. J. Gilby (vice-captain). The former gentleman's team won by seven runs (61 to 54), thanks to the excellent batting and bowling of Mr. William Thorpe.

ANCIENT BOOTS. 9th Oct. 1901.

Letter to the Editor.

Sir - In your issue of Saturday last there appeared a paragraph respecting an aged thatcher, who a few days previously had performed his 60th annual pilgrimage on foot from Whittlesey to Peterborough Fair, and for the last 47years had used the same pair of boots, which had been specially reserved for the momentous journey, and worn on no other occasion. In this neighbourhood we have two pairs of boots which are more ancient, have worked far harder, and are to this day in going order.

(1) An elderly gentleman who, though born in the village of Swavesey, resides in the next parish of Fen Drayton, where he follows the occupation of dealer, still wears every Sunday the same pair of Wellington boots which adorned his feet when he led his wife, a blushing bride, from the altar some 48 years ago. These boots he has worn on Sundays ever since. They were made, I understand, by Welham's, of St. Ives.

(2) A farmer in Swavesey has a pair of half -Wellingtons which have been at work for upwards of 60 years, having been the property of, and worn by, an aged relation down to the time of his death. These boots are a trifle too small for the farmer who inherited them, but one of his sons wears them for dirty work on wet days. The builder of this interesting relic has been forgotten,

ACCIDENT. 12th Oct. 1901.

On Thursday evening, 3rd October the milk cart of Mr Jacob Frohock, of Lolworth, whilst proceeding homewards from the railway station, came to grief near Mr Daniel Radford's premise in High Street. The back band of the harness broke, and the horse swerved round in the direction of Market Street. The animal then fell, and in its struggles to rise smashed a shaft, the harness, and a trace. Fred Blunt, the driver, was fortunately able to keep control over the animal until Messrs. J. S. Goad, and Twist and others came to the rescue. Mrs Mansfield, an elderly person, who was in the cart, very pluckily kept her seat until gallantly assisted to the ground by Mr Twist. Beyond a scratch or two the horse, luckily, was uninjured. Mr Goad kindly provided Mr Blunt with a cart and fresh harness. From the accounts given by onlookers a very serious accident was narrowly averted owing to Mr Blunt's keeping his head, and the prompt assistance.

SALE OF PROPERTY. 12th Oct. 1901.

On Monday, Mr Cyril Watts, under instructions from the will of the late Mr William Pauley, sold by auction at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, 21a 2r 23p of freehold land and a residence. There was a large attendance, not only of Swavesey people, but from the surrounding villages and St. Ives, and good prices were obtained.

Lot 1, a freehold and tithe free residence opposite the Swan Pond, was sold to Mr Newell of St. Ives for £240. Lot 2, an allotment of freehold pasture land in Middle Fen, containing 3a 2r 25p, was knocked down to Mr C. F. Clarke, St. Ives, for £220. Lot 3, 3a 0r 35p of freehold arable land in Cow Fen was secured by Mr Clarke for £32. Lot 4, 6a 3r 0p of freehold pasture in Cow Fen fell to William Crisp of Swavesey for £250, and Lot 5, 10a 1r 3p, of freehold arable land in Hale Field was bought by Messrs. C. & F. Allen of Over, for £305. The sale realised altogether £1,047. Messrs. John Watts & Sons, St. Ives were the solicitors.

RECREATION CLUB. 12th Oct. 1901

A Club for games of chess, draughts, cards, etc, was inaugurated on the 1st instant, and bids fair to be a great success. Upwards of twenty members have already joined. The Rev A.C. Vidler, Vicar of Swavesey has accepted the office of president, and Messrs. J. S. Goad, G. Kitchener, and W. Perry form the Committee of Management, with Mr T. Nicholson as honorary secretary and treasurer. In addition to games (playing for money is strictly prohibited), newspapers and periodicals are provided, and the subscription, 2d. a week, is so reasonable that the poorest can enjoy the privileges of the Club, which is held in the comfortably furnished Parish-room in the High Street. The Club will be closed during the summer months.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 12th Oct. 1901

There is a movement amongst the younger men of the village to form a Football Club this year. Such a club will doubtless find occupation for the idle time of some of the youths, and it is to be hoped that the proposal will not fall to the ground for want of support.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 12th Oct. 1901

The thanksgiving services for the late harvest were continued at the parish church on Sunday last. The evening service was, however, shorn of its special feature, as the anthem had to be omitted in consequence of the choirman who was to have sung the tenor solo not being present.

GIANT POTATOES. 26th Oct. 1901

If complaints are being made elsewhere as to the poor yield of potatoes this year, in Swavesey though the crop generally speaking might have been heavier, several persons have turned up large potatoes. Amongst others may be mentioned Mr. W. C. Cole and Mr. W. H. Key, both of whom can show "Up to Dates" of giant size, whilst Mr. C. Froment has dug a root of Sutton's "Ideals," and found fifteen potatoes, one of which weighed 2lb 13ozs, five averaged 1½ lb. each, and the rest were of a good size.

RECREATION CLUB. 23rd Nov. 1901.

This club is a great success, 33 members having already joined. A tournament of games is now taking place; Mr Tom Nicholson, the Hon. Secretary, at present leads for draughts, Mr Ellwood for cribbage, Messrs. Kitchener and Strapps for whist. The chess competition has not yet begun. Mr Prime Godfrey, the other evening, gave an entertainment with his gramophone. There was a large attendance on the occasion, and the orchestral pieces, songs, etc., ground out by the wonderful machine were greatly appreciated.

ENTERTAINMENT. 23rd Nov. 1901.

The boy's band of the Swanley and Farningham Orphanage paid a visit to the village last week, and gave two interesting entertainments in the National School. The Vicar was in the chair. The lads were hospitably fed and lodged by ten of the villagers, who were heartily thanked for their kindness.

ACCIDENT. 23rd Nov. 1901.

On Monday morning a light cart belonging to Mr T. W. Carter was being driven along High Street by a lad at a rapid pace, and opposite the National School it dashed into a crowd of children that were playing in the roadway. One child, a daughter of Mr John Dodson, was knocked down, and one wheel passed over her body. She was taken into the Schoolmaster's house, and after receiving medical attention, was removed home. The child miraculously escaped serious injury.

RECREATION CLUB. 21st Dec 1901

The result of the recent tournament of games at this club are as follows:

Chess – Mr. G. Kitchener

Draughts – Mr. Tom Nicholson

Cribbage – Mr. S. Ellwood

Whist – Messrs. Strapps and Kitchener

PRIZE MEAT. 28th Dec. 1901

As is well known, several of the butchers who stand every Saturday in Cambridge market hail from Swavesey. The display of meat in the village this Christmas has been particularly good, especially at the shop of Mr. S. W. Crisp, where, in addition to an excellent all-round show, there were a prize bullock and a prize sheep, both of unusual quality and the latter of exceptional weight. The bullock was bred and fed by E. Snow Fordnam, Esq., of Ashwell, and the sheep by J. Evisden, Esq. Both animals were bought at St. Ives market.

SHEPHERDS' CLUB. 22nd Feb. 1902

The annual dinner of the "Wheatsheaf" Lodge of the Ancient Order of Shepherds was held on Tuesday last at the "George and Dragon" Inn. The attendance was not quite so good as in previous years, but those who were present spent an enjoyable time, and thoroughly appreciated the excellent fare provided by the landlady, Mrs. Babarsky

PING PONG CLUB. 22nd Feb. 1902

The "prevailing epidemic" has reached Swavesey, and is raging with great virulence. Notwithstanding that many private houses have been supplied with full equipment for dealing with the insidious disease, it has been found necessary to provide further accommodation for the sufferers in the form of a Club, which has been established under the captaincy of Mr W. C. Cole, and meets twice a week at the Infant School. The members, however, desire it to be understood that its choice of the meeting-place was purely fortuitous, and is in no way suggestive of the game played by them. A tournament is in progress this week.

CRICKET CLUB 8th March 1902

At the annual meeting of the members of the Swavesey Cricket Club held recently, the Vicar in the chair, the following officers were elected for the ensuing season, viz, President, Mr. W. Raymond Greene, M.P.; Vice-Presidents, Mr. W. C. Cole, Rev. J. H. Jackman, Mr. W. H. Key, and Mr. Thomas Payne; Captain, Rev. A. C. Vidler; Vice-Captain, Mr. J. Gilbey; Committee, Messrs. H. G. Key, J. Linford, B. Prior, and W. T. Thorpe; Secretary, Mr. C. R. Vincent. It was decided to begin practice about the middle of April, the precise date being left to the Committee.

PUBLIC MEETING. 8th March 1902

On Friday last a public meeting was called at the National School to consider whether a Reading Room and Club should be established in the village, affiliated with which should be a Ping Pong Club to which ladies should be admitted. Mr. H. Beaumont was voted to the chair and Mr. Strapps moved a resolution in favour of the object for which the meeting was summoned. At the instigation, however, of Dr. Ellis and Mr. Walter Thorpe, the question of forming a Reading Room was dropped and it was decided to start merely a Ping Pong Club to meet at the school, provided the consent of the managers could be obtained.

BIRTHDAY OF GEORGE LONG. J.P. 8th March 1902

To commemorate Mr Long's birthday last Sunday, the bells of the Parish Church were rung between 5 and 6 p.m. On the following evening Mr Long entertained the ringers and some others at a supper at the "Sir Harry Smith" Inn. Mr Long being unfortunately unable to be present owing to indifferent health, the chair was taken by Mr W. Perry, the stationmaster, and leader of the ringers, who read a genial letter from the absent host, welcoming his guests. After supper a hearty vote of thanks and congratulations to Mr Long, proposed by Mr Perry and seconded by Mr S. Beaumont, was carried with enthusiasm, and his health was drunk with musical honours. Songs were sung by Messrs. S. Beaumont, J. Hodson, Alf Prime, G. Clarke, and Miss L. Clarke, and a most pleasant evening was spent. The supper was provided by Mrs George Clarke, and as usual gave entire satisfaction.

PING PONG CLUB. 15th March 1902

An enjoyable evening was spent at the National School on Monday last when a party of ladies and gentlemen from St. Ives played a team of the Swavesey Club. Although the homesters fought pluckily they were beaten by the visitors who had evidently had greater experience of the game. (St. Ives won by 583 points to 421).

The general arrangements were in the capable hands of Mrs. W. C. Cole who was most energetic. Refreshments, generously provided by some of the Committee, were supplied during the evening under the kindly superintendence of Mrs. H. Beaumont. There was a good attendance of spectators.

PING PONG CLUB. 15th March 1902

A tournament open to members only was held on Tuesday evening. Mrs J. Parsons won the ladies' prize, a cut glass scent bottle of ample dimensions, and Mr A. J. Willson the gentlemen's prize, a cigar case. The scores were as follows:- Mrs J. Parsons, 110 ; Mrs J. Welch, 107; Mr A. J. Willson, 106; Mr J. Parsons, 98; Mr R. Ellis, 97; Mr C. Cole, 76; Miss Garner, 71; Mr J. Hawkes, 70; Mr C. R. Vincent, 55; Miss P. Key, 54. Mrs W.C. Cole spoilt her chances of a higher score by the assiduous way in which she attended to the business of the evening.

ANOTHER PING PONG CLUB. 15th March 1902

Owing to the original Swavesey Ping Pong Club being unable to enrol more members, a second club has been established. The Club Room at the "White Horse" Inn has been secured and play began on Monday last. The following are the officers of the club: - President, Mr. W. Perry; Captain, Mr. W. F.

Gleaves; Vice-Captain, Mr. W. Barrett; Secretary and Treasurer. Mr. J. Strapps. The Committee consists of the President, Captain, and Secretary, with Messrs. T. Metcalf and Walter Thorpe. It is understood that the club will be known as the "Swavesey Village Ping Pong Club".

A BAD ROAD. 15th March 1902

The inhabitants of the village and other who use the road are wondering when the roadway which passes between the Swan Pond and the Swan Inn will be repaired. At present the County Council turns its back upon it though much of the traffic is diverted to it through the roadway being preferred by coachmen to that which the County Council has taken under its especial wing. Unless something is done speedily there is every prospect of a serious accident.

WIND MILL DAMAGED. 22nd March 1902

During the storm of Saturday morning last a serious mishap occurred to the wind mill in the Hale, now in the occupation of Mr Mustill, miller, of Over. Owing to some cause at present, it is understood, unexplained, the fan tail gear got jammed with the result that the head failed to turn with the wind, and the full force of the gale was received at the back of the sails instead of the front. The sails raced round at a terrific rate, and by the time people were getting up had begun to break up. Some of the wood work was carried a considerable distance into Mr Mitham's field, and iron rods, etc., were bent and broken. All the sails are damaged, two being practically wrecked. A large wheel near the base of the building was smashed to atoms by some heavy wood work falling upon it.

HOME FROM SOUTH AFRICA. 5th April 1902

Mr. Albert Metcalfe, youngest son of Mr. Joseph Metcalfe, thatcher, arrived home from the front on Easter Day. He has been in South Africa for upwards of two and a half years, and has served in the Cape Town Police and the Imperial Light Horse. It is understood that he proposes to return in a month or two.

VESTRY MEETING. 12th April 1902

The usual Easter Vestry was held in the parish church of St. Andrew on Thursday the 3rd instant, when Mr. J Wells was re-elected as the people's churchwarden. The Vicar again nominated Mr. W. H. Key as his warden. Messrs. W. Cain, senr., J Dodson, Jethro Garner, G. Metcalfe, P. Metcalfe, and W. T. Thorpe were chosen for sidesmen.

MEETING. 12th April 1902

A meeting of the members of the congregation of the parish church was called on Thursday night, 3rd of April, at the National School, to make the preliminary arrangements for a sale of work, &c, to be held in June next in aid of the church expenses. There was some conversation respecting the way in which the Coronation should be celebrated in the village, but no decision was arrived at. It is understood that a public meeting to consider the matter will be summoned later on.

PING PONG TOURNAMENT. 12th April 1902

On Wednesday evening a team of ping-pongists from Willingham, under the management of Mr. Hugh Frohock, paid a visit to the Swavesey Ping-Pong Club. After a series of well contested games Swavesey came off victors by 82 points. During the evening refreshments, kindly provided by some of the Committee, were served to those present. Owing to the death of Mr. George Long, Mr. W. C. Cole, the captain of the Swavesey Club, was unable to play.

DEATH OF MR GEORGE LONG. J.P. 12th April 1902.

A Loss to Swavesey. - We regret to have to announce the death of Mr George Long, JP, of The Priory, Swavesey, which took place on Sunday evening last. Mr Long met with an accident about two years ago, and he since been an invalid, with occasional attacks of illness, each of which has left him a little weaker. On Sunday 9th March, he caught chill and serious complications soon arose, and during last week his condition was so alarming that the worst was anticipated. On March 2nd he celebrated his 63rd birthday, and in honour of the event the bells of the parish church were rung. He greatly appreciated this tribute of respect, for he loved the bells, and to their music on Sunday evening he peacefully passed away, conscious to the end.

During the many years he lived in Swavesey Mr Long held numerous public offices. He was an energetic churchwarden. For three years from 1892 to 1895 he represented the Swavesey district on the County Council, and for some years sat for Fen Drayton on the District Council. Until his health broke down he was most regular in his attendance as a magistrate on Bench days at Chesterton.

Amongst other things, the village of Swavesey is indebted to him for the large clock in the tower of the Parish Church, which he gave as a memorial of his father and mother; and his generosity and hospitality in years gone by during the skating seasons and to the village Cricket Club are still gratefully remembered.

Always fond of birds and animals, over whom he possessed a wonderful influence, he took up falconry a few years ago and latterly when unable to follow the sport actively, he found occupation and amusement in training hawks. It may be of interest to mention that in "Country Life" on the 25th January last a picture appeared of Mr Long carrying a hawk on his left wrist and standing by the side of his large golden eagle, "Sally".

Although the greater part of Mr Long's life was spent in Swavesey, he resided for several years at Carlton Grange, near Newmarket, and at Hemingford Grey. He married the sister of Mr Alderman W. W. Warner, of St. Ives, who survives him, and for whom the greatest sympathy is felt.

The sad tidings reached the Vicar at the beginning of the evening service on Sunday, and in consequence the hymn "For ever with the Lord" was sung instead of a recessional. The sermon, the text of which was from 1 Corinthians xv.14, was particularly appropriate to the occasion.

The funeral will take place at Swavesey on Saturday.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. GEORGE LONG, J.P. 19th April 1902

It is many years since there was so large a concourse of people in the village of Swavesey as on Saturday last when the body of the late Mr. George Long, J.P., was laid to rest in the churchyard. Every train brought its quota from far and near, and the villagers turned out in great force to pay the last tribute of respect to one who had lived so many years amongst them, and had been so intimately connected with the affairs of the parish. A long procession of relatives and friends in carriages and on foot followed the flower-decked hearse through the main street of the village, and as it neared the church a peal was rung on the muted bells. At the Churchyard the body was met by the Rev. A. C. Vidler, Vicar, and the Rev. B. W. Wilder, Rector of Great Bradley, with the choir. As the mournful procession, preceded by the clergy and choir, slowly wended its way to the church the Vicar recited the opening sentences of the Burial Service, and when the sacred building was reached the hymn "Christ will gather in his own," was sung whilst the procession moved up the nave. After Psalm xc had been chanted the hymn "Peace, perfect peace" was sung. The lesson was read by the Rev. B. W. Wilder, and then to the strains of "Brief life is here our portion," the body was borne to the graveside. The committal prayers were said by the Vicar, after which the hymn "Rock of Ages" was sung. The concluding prayers were said by the Rev. B. W. Wilder.

At the morning service on Sunday the Vicar's sermon had special reference to the death of Mr. Long, of whom and of whose protracted illness he spoke in feeling terms. The hymns chosen were suitable to the occasion.

CHURCH ACCOUNTS. 26th April 1902

A meeting of the members of the congregation of the Parish Church was held in the National School on Thursday, the 17th inst. The Vicar was in the chair. The accounts showed an adverse balance of £24; of this amount only about £5 were proper to the ordinary church expenses account. A debt of £12 was incurred for certain exceptional but urgently necessary expenditure on the bell turret of the Mission-room at Boxworth End, and the remainder was due to amounts still owing for the new churchyard gates and the new stove in the side chapel of the Parish Church. Efforts are being made to pay off the debt, and in aid of this object a Sale of Work will be held on Tuesday, 10th June next.

CRICKET CLUB. 26th April 1902

Practice will begin on Tuesday next. Matches at home and away have already been arranged with Lolworth, Elsworth, Fenstanton, and Old Abbey, (Cambridge) Clubs, the first of these clubs playing matches during the Swavesey Feast on the 12th, 13th, and 14th of May. There seems every prospect of the Club being in vigorous condition this year, and great pains have been bestowed on the ground by the capable groundman Mr G. Clarke.

MANOR COURT. 3rd May 1902

Mr. Thomas F. Fowler, steward of the Manor of Swavesey Pembers, the Rectory in Swavesey and Hobbledods with Bennets, held his usual Court at the "White Horse" inn on Tuesday last.

VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT. 3rd May 1902

Under the management of the Misses Heelis and the Vicar a most successful entertainment in aid of the funds of the Sunday School was given in the National Schoolroom on Monday last before an audience which crowded the large room. The programme was excellent in every respect, and all the performers acquitted themselves with credit. It is, therefore, hardly fair to make special mention of any particular performer, but, without prejudice, we may say that the Gipsy Dance and chorus by members of the Swavesey branch of the Girls' Friendly Society brought down the house. From an artistic point of view the masterly violin playing of Miss Irene Williams was the success of the evening. Mr. Ruggles Brise's comic songs were received with hearty laughter, and the energetic and purposely discordant piano obligato in the dialogue resulted in a novel accompaniment to the song “May Day” which followed – a fractured string producing the tones of a mandolin. “The Little Sentinel” was capitally performed and effectively staged.

PING PONG CLUB. 3rd May 1902

The members of the Swavesey Ping-pong Club brought their season to a close on Tuesday last with a social gathering in the National School. Ping-pong, for this occasion only, occupied a secondary place in the programme. This included songs and violin and piano solos. During the evening the captain (Mr. W. C. Cole), assisted by the clerk (Mr. Amos), caused much amusement by holding a mock auction of the club property. There was a pleasing interlude in the proceedings when the president (Rev. A. C. Vidler) made a presentation to the indefatigable hon. secretary (Mrs. W. C. Cole) on behalf of the members. A hearty vote of thanks to the organisers of the entertainment, Mrs. Parsons and Miss R. Crisp, was carried.

PARISH COUNCIL. 10th May 1902

At the annual meeting of the Parish Council held on Thursday, the 1st instant, the Rev. A. C. Vidler was re-elected chairman, and Messrs. J. I. Daintree and J. Gilby were chosen overseers for the ensuing year. There was considerable discussion respecting the condition of the fire engine – “an ancient relic,” a correspondent says, “which is said to have been given to Noah by an aged relative, and to have been found useful when the floods receded from the face of the earth.”

PING PONG. 17th May 1902

The Club concerned in the match reported in last week’s Express was the Swavesey Village Ping-pong Club. Swavesey appears to be so devoted to this new game that it possesses two clubs – the Swavesey Ping-pong Club, and the Swavesey Village Ping-pong Club. The former has suspended operations until the autumn.

THE FEAST. 17th May 1902

The village feast has been held this week. There has not been as good an attendance of show people as usual, and visitors have not been up to the average, owing, it is thought, to the inclement weather.

CRICKET. 17th May 1902

On Monday Swavesey beat Lolworth by 42 runs. On Tuesday they lost to Elsworth by five runs, but on Wednesday they defeated Fenstanton by 34.

DEATH OF MR. ALFRED THORP. 24th May 1902

The village has lost another of its elders by the death of Mr. Alfred Thorp, who passed away early on the morning of Feast Wednesday, the 14th inst. Mr. Thorp's health had been slowly failing for some time, but he sturdily refused to admit the fact or consider himself an invalid, though it was only too patent to his friends. The daily walks in which he delighted became shorter and shorter, until at last they were given up, and his spare and once erect form showed palpable signs of decay. Born in Swavesey 73 years ago, he lived the whole of his life in the village. He was greatly respected in Swavesey and, indeed, wherever he went, and the well-known form and kindly presence of "Fred" Thorp will be sadly missed. He was a butcher by trade and for some 40 years stood in Cambridge market. He retired a few years ago. Mr. Thorp was a widower, and has left one child, the wife of Mr. George Farey of the "Wheatsheaf", Chesterton. The body was laid to rest in the churchyard of the parish church on Sunday afternoon, in a spot surrounded by the graves of so many of those who had been dear to him. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends from all parts, and it was pleasing and significant to notice the number of labouring men who sacrificed their Sunday afternoon's rest in order to pay their last tribute of respect to their old friend, who had always a kind word for them. The Vicar officiated at the funeral, and in his sermon at the evening service made sympathetic reference to the sad event. (long report)

THE EDUCATION BILL. 24th May 1902

A meeting was held on Wednesday to discuss this Bill, and was chiefly attended by Nonconformists. A condemnatory resolution was passed.

CRICKET SWAVESEY V. ELSWORTH. 31st May 1902

This match was played at Elsworth and resulted in a win for the homesters by 6 wickets.

THE CORONATION. 31st May 1902

A well-attended meeting was held in the National School on Monday evening to consider what steps should be taken to celebrate the Coronation of the King. It was decided that a tea should be provided by voluntary subscriptions for children less than 14 years of age and for elderly people of sixty years and over, and also that there should be athletic sports in the evening. After providing for this, should there be any balance in hand, it was arranged that trees should be planted on the village green as a permanent memorial of the historic event. An influential and representative Committee, with power to add to their number, was appointed to carry out the necessary arrangements and collect subscriptions. A cordial vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for presiding.

CRICKET SWAVESEY V. LOLWORTH. 7th June 1902

After an uninterrupted run of ill-success, a weak team of the Swavesey C.C. visited Lolworth on Monday and inflicted a defeat on the home eleven. The scores were – Swavesey 61, and Lolworth 58.

BOER WAR OVER. 7th June 1902.

On reception on Monday morning of the welcome news that the Boers had at last surrendered and that peace had been arranged, flags were promptly displayed outside many homes in the village, and the Union Jack was hoisted on the tower at the Parish Church. The Vicar at once got together the ringers, who rang a joyous peal, and he summoned the people to the Market Place whither the school children were taken. After a brief address, "God Save the King" was sung, and the simple ceremony ended with stirring cheers. During the afternoon, a bonfire was constructed on the School Green by some enthusiastic workers under the superintendence of Mr Herbert Wilderspin, and Mr J. Gilby. Before it was lighted by the Vicar, an impromptu procession paraded the streets and guns were fired off. When the fire was well alight, Mr W. C. Cole, using his cart as a platform, called upon the Vicar to address the large crowd which had gathered not only from Swavesey, but from the neighbouring villages. Mr Vidler made a short and appropriate speech, and was followed by the Rev J. H. Jackson, of Bethel Chapel. Mr Walter Thorp and Dr Ellis also spoke. Hearty cheers were given at the call of the Vicar for the King, Queen, our gallant soldiers who had fought so well, not forgetting those who had fallen, and the noble band of nurses.

THANKSGIVING DAY. 14th June 1902

At the Parish Church the authorised form of thanksgiving was used at the morning and evening services on Sunday last. After the former service the school-children were taken from their usual seats in the north aisle and were grouped in the nave, whilst the old chorale, "Now thank we all our God", and two verses of the National Anthem were sung. A large congregation attended the evening service and joined with great heartiness in the special Psalms, hymns, &c. The "Te Deum" was sung after the Blessing as a special act of thanksgiving, and the National Anthem closed a notable service which will be remembered for many a long day. The Vicar in his short and particularly telling sermons dwelt on the blessing of peace. One interesting feature of both services was the hymn, "We thank Thee, our God" written for the occasion by the Vicar. A thanksgiving service was held at Bethel Chapel on Sunday evening, when appropriate hymns and an anthem were sung. The Rev. J. H. Jackman preached the sermon, which dealt with the subject of peace.

The General Committee elected in connection with the Coronation festivities met again on Monday evening under the presidency of the Rev. A. C. Vidler, and appointed three sub-committees to carry out the necessary arrangements. It is understood that there will be a service in the Parish Church during the morning of the 26th inst., and another on the School Green at 2.30 p.m., at which the Vicar and the Rev. J. H. Jackman (of Bethel Chapel) will officiate. Then there will be a procession of school-children with flags, &c., meat tea for the children, meat tea for adults, sports in the evening, and a bonfire at night. A commemorative mug will be given to each child. About £30 has been collected by voluntary subscription. Mr. Ebenezer Parish has intimated that he will give an ounce of tobacco (or its equivalent to non-smokers) to every labourer in the village, and a quarter of a pound of tea to each labourer's cottage.

SALE OF WORK, ETC. 28th June 1902

A Sale of Work and Garden Fete was held in the beautiful grounds of the Vicarage, on Tuesday, the 19th inst., and was very successful, especially in the evening. There were four stalls, viz, Fancy Stall, a Toy Stall, a Jumble Stall and one for Refreshments. During the evening, a ping-pong tournament was contested, and dancing was indulged in to the strains of the St. Ives band. About £28 was taken.

CORONATION FESTIVITIES ARRANGEMENTS. 28th June 1902

Between £35 and £36 has been collected. Timetable:

11 a.m., authorised service in Parish Church; 2.30 p.m., procession of school children; 3 p.m. service on the Recreation Ground conducted by the Vicar and Rev. J. H. Jackman, of Bethel Chapel; 4 p.m. tea for children under 14 years of age, (with presentation of a Coronation mug); 5 p.m. tea for adults; 6 p.m. sports on Recreation Ground; 9 p.m. bonfire. Committee: Chairman, Rev. A. C. Vidler (Vicar); treasurer, Mr. T. W. Carter. Sub-committees: - Tea: Mr. T. W. Carter (chairman), Mr. H. S. Aldred, Mr. H. Beaumont, Mr. Norman, Mr.

Smith, J. Wells. Sports: Dr. Ellis (chairman), Mr. A Cooke, Mr. R. Ellis, Mr. W. F. Gleaves, Mr. J. Hawkes, Mr. Ben Thorp, Mr. H. Wilderspin. Bonfire: Mr. H. Wilderspin (chairman), Mr. W. C. Cole, Mr. Jethro Garner, Mr. E. Warboys. Children's Amusement: Three nominees of General Committee, viz., Mr. Vincent (chairman), Mr. Jethro Garner, Mr. Jethro Linford, and the teachers of the Day and Sunday Schools.

KING'S ILLNESS. 28th June 1902

The news of the serious illness of the King reached the village on Tuesday afternoon, and caused general consternation. The Coronation Committee held a specially convened meeting during the evening, and unanimously decided to postpone for the present all festivities arranged for the 26th inst. The Tea sub-Committee have fortunately been able to dispose of everything of a perishable nature in a way which will involve the Committee in no loss in consequence of the postponement. On Wednesday evening a special service of intercession for the King's recovery was held in the parish Church, and considering the very short notice given, was well attended, many Nonconformists being present. The Vicar delivered a short address, his text being taken from the first verse of the 20th Psalm, one of the Psalms in the Accession service. At the conclusion of the service, two verses of the National Anthem were sung, kneeling. Business proceeded in the village as usual on Thursday, all shops being open.

BEQUEST TO THE PARISH. 12th July 1902

It was announced at a specially convened meeting of the Parish Council held on Thursday, 3rd July, that the late Mr George Long, J.P., had bequeathed to the Parish of Swavesey a piece of land in the High-Street, to be used as the Parish Council may deem fit.

A BIG FISH. 12th July 1902

Mr H. G. Key, a keen fisherman, landed a tench, 3lbs in weight on Monday evening, from the river Ouse, near Overcote. This fishing tale is authentic, for the oviparous monster has been seen by many experts in the village.

CRICKET. 12th July 1902

A match, which was played at Fenstanton, between the local team and Swavesey, was won by Fenstanton, who scored 78 to their opponents' 44.

THE FIRE ENGINE. 19th July 1902

A correspondent writes: - "After having been in seclusion for some nine months, the venerable parish fire engine made its reappearance in public the other evening, when it was dragged to the village green and solemnly tested in the presence of two members of the Fire Engine Committee of the Parish Council and an admiring crowd. The trial was not a success, for only a tiny stream of water was propelled through the very lengthy nozzle. The Committee-men present, it is understood, thereupon decided to call in Mr. Kidd, the Willingham engineer, and have the ancient relic repaired. When this has been done, it is presumed the engine will be again locked up in its house, only to be brought out for trial when there is reason to believe that once more something has gone wrong with the works. The last time it was wanted for a fire – in September 1899 – it was taken in great state to the scene of the conflagration. After it had been nearly precipitated down a steep bank into a pond, with the chief engineer perched on the top, the pumps were manned. The crew worked hard, the lengthy nozzle was pointed towards the burning buildings by the heroic gentleman who, wearing a white hat, had acted as coachman, but nothing came except air. The fire burned on merrily, and the result was that valuable property was destroyed, much of which might have been saved had the engine been in working order. The engine was then repaired, and fortunately has not been wanted since. It is believed that the Parish Councillors have opinions as to the usefulness of, and necessity for, the engine, but humble people who have not the proud honour of being Parish Councillors are asking two questions. Firstly, if the engine is of use, why is it not kept in proper condition and tested at regular intervals; and, secondly, if it is not wanted, why is it not sold or presented to some museum of antiquities? At present it is an annual charge on the rates, for, in addition to cost of repairs &c., its custodian is a paid official. It is understood that the Parish Council has refused to pay the custodian's salary, due some time ago, presumably on the ground that he had allowed the engine to get out of repair, but how the Council knew this until the other evening it is difficult to see, as the engine had not been tested for so long. If, however, they were satisfied that the engine was out of order, and therefore useless for practical purposes, how can they reconcile it with their duty as Parish Councillors to have delayed for so long the necessary repairs? Then, again, what have the Fire Engine Committee been doing? If the custodian has failed to do his duty, what steps have they taken, for they are the persons responsible for the efficiency of the engine? Surely, they are the proper persons to order the engine out for trial and see by personal examination that it is in working order."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT. 19th July 1902

During the great heat of Monday afternoon, whilst thatching a haystack in Messrs. Hawkes and Son's yard, Mr. Joseph Metcalfe fell from the top and sustained serious injury. It is understood that the cause of the fall was sunstroke. Mr. Metcalfe was removed to his home where he lies in a precarious condition.

A CHAPTER OF INCIDENTS. 26th July 1902

Monday, the 14th inst., will be remembered in the village of Swavesey as a most unfortunate day. In addition to the accident which befell Mr. Joseph Metcalfe, which was reported last week, there were three other accidents. Mr. J. T. Daintree, turning hurriedly in Mr. Aldred's shop, fell and sprained an ankle – a specially unfortunate mishap, as Mr. Daintree is still feeling the effects of a bicycle accident he met with last year, when he fractured his other ankle. Mrs. Mitchell, who lives in Blackhorse-lane, fell downstairs and badly hurt her back, and her next door neighbour, Mrs. Wright, also fell from top to bottom of her stairs, but fortunately her injuries were slight. On Wednesday, the 16th inst, Mr. Jethro Linford, of the "Green Man" met with a nasty accident through a ladder, on which he was standing, slipping and then breaking. His ankle and leg were severely sprained and he was much shaken. He will be confined to the house for some time.

HOUSE WARMING. 26th July 1902

On Friday last Mr. James Anderson, late of the "Little Rose", celebrated his entry into the "Rising Sun" Inn (Messrs. How, Oliver Cromwell Brewery, St. Ives), by keeping open house. His friends and customers mustered in strong force and did full justice to the good fare provided. Before parting they bade farewell to their host with musical honours and cheered him lustily.

CORONATION FESTIVITIES. 26th July 1902

The General Committee charged with the arrangements for the Coronation festivities in Swavesey met on Wednesday night, and decided to carry out the programme, arranged for June 26th, on Saturday, August 9th. The only alteration found necessary has been to time each event half-an-hour earlier.

VICAR'S HOLIDAY. 2nd August 1902

The Vicar has gone away for his holiday, and for the fourth year in succession the parish will be in charge of the Rev J Edward Standen, who has kindly undertaken to represent the Vicar at the Coronation Festivities.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TREAT. 2nd August 1902

The children attending the Sunday Schools attached to the Parish Church had their annual treat on Thursday last. Assembling at the National School, the children went in procession to the Church, and then proceeded to the Vicarage grounds, where tea was provided, after which they were amused by running races, playing football, swinging, and other games. The scrambling for sweets and nuts was very popular. The parents and teachers were entertained by the Vicar and Mrs. Vidler, and during the evening other parishioners were welcomed. A very enjoyable time was spent.

DEATH OF MR JOHN WEBSTER. 2nd Aug. 1902

Death has removed another aged inhabitant of Swavesey. Mr. John Webster, a well-known hay, cattle, and pig dealer, passed away on Sunday last in the 83rd year of his age. He had long been more or less an invalid, but notwithstanding this and his great age, he was able to attend to his business until a short time before his death. His aged and almost sightless widow, we regret to say, was lying seriously ill when the end came. Mr Webster was landlord of the Railway Tavern, close to Long Stanton Station, for 42 years, after which for eight years he kept the "Rising Sun", Swavesey, retiring about eighteen months ago.

BAZAAR. 9th Aug. 1902

A fancy bazaar, sale of work, etc., were held on Bank Holiday in Mr Thomas Carter's grounds in aid of the Organ Fund of Bethel Chapel. Notwithstanding that the weather was unpropitious, about 600 people attended, and the result is understood to have been satisfactory. The Cottenham Salvation Army Brass Band proved a great attraction, and the half-hour concerts were much appreciated. The stalls were in charge of a number of energetic ladies. The Ping Pong tables were well patronised and so was the refreshment tent. The arrangements were in the hands of a capable committee, formed of the Rev J. H. Jackson, (chairman) Messrs. T. W. Carter, (treasurer) J. Williams, T. Prior, T. Parker, J. Goad, and J. Hepher, J. Day, and H.S. Aldred, but of course the ladies, whose names are too numerous to mention, were really the persons entitled to the credit for the success of the undertaking.

DEATH OF MR D. RADFORD. 9th Aug. 1902

Yet another death has to be reported. Mr Daniel Radford, miller and baker, died on Wednesday morning. He had been in a bad state of health for a considerable time, but the end came somewhat suddenly.

THE FIRE ENGINE. 9th Aug. 1902

This valuable asset of the parish has been sent home after repairs at Willingham, and has been carefully locked up in its home. People are asking whether it is to remain there unattended to and uninspected until something again goes wrong with its vitals.

CRICKET SWAVESEY V. OLD ABBEY 9th Aug. 1902

This match was played at Swavesey on Monday, August 4th, and resulted in a win for the Old Abbey by ten runs.

MEMORIAL TREES. 9th Aug. 1902.

On the afternoon of the day which the funeral of the late Queen Victoria took place at Windsor (2nd Feb.1901) four cedars trees, presented by Mr T. W. Dunn, who then resided at the Old House, Swavesey, were planted as a memorial to that great event, two in the main road near Swan Pond, and two in the old Market-place. These trees unfortunately died, and last autumn Mr Dunn provided four more, which from some cause sore unexplained also declined to flourish. Undeterred by the failures, Mr Dunn, who is now living at Milton, decided to make another attempt, and on Thursday 6th instant, he revisited the village and superintended the planting of fresh trees. The children attending the National School were present at the simple ceremony, and after some introductory remarks by the vicar, Rev A. C. Vidler, sang the "Song of Victory", and a hymn under the conductorship of the Master, Mr H. Beaumont. The Vicar then thanked the donor on behalf of the village for his kind gift, and eulogised him for the plucky way in which he declined to accept defeat, and he concluded by calling for three cheers for Mr Dunn. Mr Dunn in responding told the people of Swavesey that he did not despair of getting trees that would grow and declared it was his intention to visit the village for seven years, if necessary for the purpose of replanting. He then asked the Vicar to plant the first tree, a Cedar of Lebanon. The Vicar then took off his coat and energetically wielded a spade, causing much amusement to the experts present. The second Cedar of Lebanon was planted by Miss Helen Vidler, and the third and fourth, Cedrus Glauca, by Mr T. W. Carter and Master Charles Cole respectively.

CORONATION OF KING EDWARD VII. 16th Aug. 1902

The coronation of His Majesty was duly celebrated in Swavesey on Saturday last. The bells of the Parish Church rang festal peals at half past seven and half past nine. At eight there was a celebration of Holy Eucharist, and at ten the authorised service was held, after which the bells again rang. At half past seven there was a cycle parade from one end of the village to the other and at half past twelve cycle races in the Manor Field. The procession of children with flags at two was a most effective display and gave great satisfaction the inhabitants, who declared it was the best thing they had seen in the village. There were nearly two hundred children, most of whom carried Union Jacks or the Royal Standards. An open air service was held on the School Green, conducted by the Rev J. E. Standen in the unavoidable and much regretted absence of the respected vicar, and by the Rev J. H. Jackson. It was largely attended. Both Mr Standen and Mr Jackson in their short addresses dealt strongly on the religious aspects of the celebration, and the latter spoke with thankfulness of the religious and political unity which was shown in the parish. At the conclusion of the service the National Anthem, including a special verse, was heartily sung. At half past three the children regaled with a meat and cake tea, and were presented with mugs as a memorial of the Coronation. At half past four the adults had their meat tea sitting down some four hundred strong in the National Schoolrooms and Mr Thomas Carter's barn. During the evening sports were held on the School Green, and the children under twelve were entertained in Mr Jethro Garner's close. The balloons sent up from this field by Mr H. S. Aldred rose well, travelled far, and created great interest. Mrs Heelis gave away the prizes after the usual votes of thanks were passed. A bonfire on the School Green brought a most successful day to a conclusion. The village was gay with bunting, and after dark several of the houses were illuminated, Dr. Ellis's display being particularly effective. An unfortunate accident happened during the throwing of a cricket ball at the sports, the Rev J. H. Jackman, while endeavouring to keep the spectators out of harm's way being struck on the head by the ball. He received medical attention, and was moved to a neighbouring house. Later he was able to go home, and it is hoped that the effects of the blow will soon pass away.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 11th Oct. 1902

The Harvest Thanksgiving Services were held at the parish church on Wednesday, 1st instant, when the fine old building was effectively decorated by the usual band of energetic ladies. The choral evensong at 7 pm was attended by a large congregation, and the sermon was preached by the Rev R P Boxworth, Rector of Illington. For the Anthem, Mr Ferris Tozer's "Harvest Hymn" was sung. The offertories throughout the festival were for Addenbrooke's Hospital, and in appealing for generous contributions, the Vicar announced at evensong the disastrous fire which had broken out at the institution during the afternoon. On Tuesday, a thanksgiving service was held at the Mission Church, Boxworth End.

HORKEY. 11th Oct. 1902

Mrs George Long, of the Priory, Swavesey, entertained her workpeople at a Horkey on Saturday evening at the "Sir Harry Smith". Eighteen guests sat down to an excellent meal, under the presidency of Mr Girling. After supper, songs were sung, and a very pleasant evening was spent. Mrs Long's health was drunk with great heartiness.

WEDDING. 11th Oct. 1902

The marriage of Miss Jane E Clarke, of Swavesey, and Mr Harold Phipps, of London, was celebrated on Wednesday afternoon at the parish church, in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends. The bride's dress was of white silk, and she wore under her bridal veil a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a spray bouquet of roses. The happy couple, who were the recipients of numerous handsome and useful presents, left the village by the GER during the evening.

THE CORONATION. 18th Oct. 1902

At a meeting of the Coronation Committee, held at the National Schools, Swavesey, on Thursday evening, the 9th inst, the Rev A C Vidler in the chair, the Treasurer, Mr T W Carter, submitted a statement showing the amounts received and expended, from which it appeared that £36 19s 10d had been collected, and £35 3s 4d spent. On the proposal of Mr Aldred, seconded by Mr Herbert Wilderspin, it was decided unanimously that the balance of £1 16s 6d should be handed to the Parish Council to be applied towards the levelling and tidying of the Recreation Ground. The meeting concluded with a cordial vote of thanks to the ladies who had kindly assisted the Catering and Children's Amusement Committees.

SEQUEL TO AN ACCIDENT. 18th Oct. 1902

About the middle of July, Mr. Jethro Linford met with an accident, which has since prevented him from working. Some of his friends and sympathisers have therefore made an appeal on his behalf, which has been well responded to, and has been some compensation for his loss of harvest money.

PING PONG CLUB. 18th Oct. 1902

The Swavesey Ping Pong Club, which has been resting since April last, recommenced operations on Tuesday, and the members will meet twice a week, viz., on Tuesdays and Fridays, throughout the winter at the Infant School. Mr. W. C. Cole is again the captain, and Mrs. Cole the hon. secretary.

ACCIDENT. 18th Oct. 1902

On Tuesday morning, as Mr. William Thurbon, basket maker, and his wife were driving near the Swan Pond, the pony stumbled and fell. Mrs. Thurbon was thrown into the road and was severely shaken and bruised.

KILLED ON THE RAILWAY AT SWAVESEY. 1st Nov. 1902

As the permanent-way men were proceeding to their work early on Tuesday morning they found the dead body of an elderly man lying across the signal wires at the side of the down line, about half-a-mile on the Cambridge side of Swavesey station. The Station Master (Mr W Perry) was immediately summoned, and P-c Kitchener, stationed at Swavesey, on being informed at once went to the spot. The body was removed to one of the waiting-rooms at the station to await identification and the inquest. During the afternoon the body was identified as that of Wm Elborn, aged 69, who resided with his daughter, Mrs Sarah Ann Hiner, at High-street, Old Chesterton.

At the inquest, which was held the same evening at the "White Horse" Inn before the County Coroner (Colonel Lyon), Mrs Sarah Ann Hiner identified the body as that of her father and stated that he had been a labourer at Cambridge station until about 14 years ago, when he had to give up work owing to injuries received in an accident, and that he had since been kept by herself and other members of his family. She last saw him alive at six o'clock on Monday morning, when he left her house, a not unusual circumstance, as he was in the habit of spending the day with different relatives who found him his meals. She could not account for his wandering so far from home and, although she had made every possible inquiry, she could not ascertain how he had spent his time. The old man, she said, had entirely lost his memory and, if asked, could not even remember his name or where he lived. He had, however, never shown any suicidal tendencies. Her evidence was corroborated by Mrs Eliza Moule, another daughter of the deceased.

James Hines, a platelayer, of Swavesey, detailed how the body was found, and P-c Kitchener deposed as to his having been called to the scene and to the condition of the deceased, from whose nose and mouth blood had exuded. He searched the body and found 7d in coppers, a knife, a Kempton Park Badge, a card case, containing cards bearing the name of Dr Walker of Cambridge, and numerous ends of cigars and cigarettes. The deceased was unknown to him, and, as far as he could ascertain, to anyone in the neighbourhood.

Dr Ellis had examined the body and in his opinion, death was caused by a blow in front, received when the deceased was standing upright.

THE CORONER having summed up, the Jury, of which Mr C Jesse Hephew was foreman, returned the verdict that the deceased was killed whilst trespassing on the Great Eastern Railway, near Swavesey Station.

Superintendent Webb represented the police, and Mr W Perry, stationmaster, the Railway Company. It is thought that the deceased was struck by the goods train due out of Cambridge at 4 30 a.m., which passed through Swavesey at 5 6 a.m., travelling at a high rate of speed.

PING PONG CLUB. 8th Nov. 1902

A members' tournament was held in the Infants' School on Tuesday last. Mr. Parsons took the gentlemen's prize and Miss Crisp that for ladies. A consolation prize was awarded to Mr Lane, whose remarkable, though somewhat unsuccessful, play was the great feature of the evening.

RECREATION CLUB. 8th Nov. 1902

A meeting of the members of the Recreation Club was held on Tuesday evening, at the Parish room, the Rev A C Vidler, vicar, presiding. The undermentioned were elected officers for the ensuing season: - President, Rev A C Vidler; hon. secretary, Mr. Arthur Coote; committee men, Messrs. J S Goad, T Nicholson, and A Froment.

WATER SUPPLY. 22nd Nov. 1902

As a result of the memorial presented last week to the Swavesey Rural District Council, a special meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Friday 14th inst. when Messrs. T. W. Carter, George Metcalfe and James Smith were chosen to represent (with the Chairman, Rev A.C.Vidler) the Parish Council on the joint committee empowered by the District Council to deal with the failure in the water supply. The Committee met for the first time on Monday at Mr G. D. Day's office in St. Ives, and amongst other things decided as a temporary measure to supply water by cart to houses at Boxworth End and part of Middle Watch.

ACCIDENT. 22nd Nov. 1902

Yet another accident has to be recorded. On Saturday morning Mr J. R. Heelis, whilst riding towards his home, Swavesey Manor, lost control of his horse, which bolted, and when near the "White Horse" Inn, knocked down Gifford Metcalfe, the little son of Mr Fred Metcalfe, thatcher. The boy was picked up by the Vicar, who carried him home. P-c Kitchener was promptly on the scene and rendered first aid pending the arrival of the doctor. The injuries fortunately are not of a very serious character, being chiefly a bruised leg and shock to the system. The horse was not pulled up until in attempting to turn sharply into the gates of Swavesey Manor he had thrown his rider. Mr Heelis was not hurt.

FIRE ENGINE. 22nd Nov. 1902

In accordance with instructions from the Parish Council the fire engine, which has recently been overhauled by Mr Kidd, of Willingham, was tested on the Recreation Ground on Tuesday by Mr W. Thurbon, captain, and was found to be in excellent order. The following members of the Council were present and distinguished themselves by the energetic way in which they manned the pumps. viz, Rev. A. C. Vidler, Chairman, Messrs. T.W Carter, Jethro Garner, Jethro Linford, George Metcalfe and G. Norman. Mr J. Gilby was most active. The engine is now a credit to the parish.

RAILWAY GATE SMASHED. 29th Nov. 1902

On Monday just after the gates at the crossing by Swavesey Railway Station had been closed to allow the 6.26 p.m. down train to pass, the horse attached to a pig float belonging to Mr William Furniss, pig dealer, of Fen Drayton, which was standing in the Station-yard, took fright at, it is supposed, a sow running between its legs and dashed out of the yard, and turning along the high road to the left came violently into collision with the large railway gate, which was forced partly across the metals, notwithstanding the fact that it had been securely bolted. The animal seems to have tried to have jumped the gate as it got one of its legs between the upper perpendicular bars; the woodwork was smashed in the middle and the iron bent.

Strange to say neither the horse nor the cart was damaged, and the harness was broken only in one place.

PING PONG CLUB. 6th Dec. 1902

A tournament for members only was played at the National Schools on Tuesday evening. Mr J S Goad took the gentlemen's prize and Miss N Goad that for the ladies. Miss P Key was awarded the consolation prize.

RURAL DISTRICT COUNCIL. 13th Dec. 1902

The usual monthly meeting was held at the St Ives Workhouse, on Wednesday morning, Mr J Frohock presiding. The work of improving the supply of water in Swavesey was reported to be still going on, and meantime a necessary supply is being carted to the village daily. The long-talked-of notices were directed to be affixed to the bridges, so that the owners of very heavy traffic would be notified that they used the roads at their own risks. The monthly reports of the Surveyor and Inspector of Nuisances were purely formal in character

THE EDUCATION BILL. 13th Dec 1902

A meeting of members of the congregation of the Parish Church was held at the National Schools, on Thursday, 4th inst, to hear an address from the Vicar explaining the provisions of the Bill and the way in which the village school would be affected. After answering questions, the Vicar moved a resolution, which he proposed should be sent to the Bishop of Ely, approving generally of the Bill, but asking that certain alterations should be made, especially in regard to the maintenance clause and the Kenyon-Slaney amendment. Mr Key seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously. It was subsequently resolved that a copy of the resolution should be sent to Mr Raymond Greene, M.P., as well as to the Bishop, in view of the possibility of the Bill being again referred to the House of Commons.

MISADVENTURE OR SUICIDE? 21st Feb. 1903

Within the last few days, "Jenny" the well-known monkey, belonging to Mr. J. Anderson, of the "Rising Sun," Swavesey, has died, after an illness lasting a few short hours. She stole some poisonous berries from a plant, and, although it was thought that all had been taken from her she must have eaten some and died. Jenny, who is to be her own monument, as her remains are now in a taxidermist's hands, was a grass monkey of mischievous propensities, and was brought from the coast of New Guinea by Mr. Anderson's step-son, a sailor in the Royal Navy, and for two years was the pet of the crew of H M S Furious.

SWAVESEY CRICKET CLUB ANNUAL MEETING. 4th April 1903

A well attended meeting of the members of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held on Thursday, 26th ult, Rev A C Vidler presiding.

The Secretary and Treasurer, Mr C R Vincent, after giving his duly audited financial statement for 1902, which showed a balance in hand of £4 4s 1d, tendered his resignation, but ultimately consented to continue the office of Secretary only.

The Chairman, in a pleasant little speech, then asked Mr Vincent to accept a handsomely bound edition of Shakespeare's works, and a box of cigars for immediate use, accompanied by a letter signed by members of the Club thanking him for his efforts on behalf of the Club.

The Secretary duly acknowledged the kind and unexpected present. The officers for the ensuing season were then chosen as follows: - President, Mr. W Raymond Greene, M P; vice-presidents, Mr W C Cole, Rev J H Jackman,

Mr Thos Payne, Mr W W Warner, JP; captain, Rev A C Vidler; vice-captain, Mr G Burling; treasurer, Mr W H Key; secretary, Mr C R Vincent; committee, Messrs G Clarke, J Gilby, W F Gleaves, and H G Key.

READING ROOM AND CHESS CLUB. 4th April 1903

The above club concluded their meetings for the winter season on Tuesday. The report showed that 23 members had joined during the season. Cordial votes of thanks to the secretary, Mr A Coote, and also to the Editor of the Cambridge Express, for his kindness in sending a copy of the paper every week, were proposed and carried unanimously. The following members were present: - Rev A. C. Vidler (president), Messrs A. Coote (secretary), A. Froment, D. Manning, H. Leekings (committee) and J. Daisley.

CRICKET CLUB. 11th April 1903

Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P., has accepted for the third year the office of President of the Swavesey Cricket Club, and has forwarded a subscription of one guinea.

PARISH CHURCH. 18th April 1903

The services during Holy Week and Easter at the Parish Church have been well attended. The addresses at the Three Hours' Service on Good Friday, were given by the Rev. G.H. Frewer, Vicar of Fenstanton. In connection with the choral celebrations of Holy Communion on Easter Day, it may be mentioned that one of the communicants was an old lady 98 years of age. The Church was effectively decorated.

CRICKET CLUB. 18th April 1903

Mr R. Ellis Long of Swavesey and Lolworth, has kindly granted the Cricket Club the use of his meadow, behind the National Schools, for play this season. The field is in a far more convenient position than the old ground, being in the heart of the village, and Mr Long's kindness is greatly appreciated, not only by members of the club, but by the village generally. Mr Long has been unanimously elected one of the vice-presidents of the club.

CRICKET. 18th April 1903

A match was played at Swavesey on Easter Monday between Mr George Burling's eleven and Mr Charles Taylor's eleven. The former scored 57 and the latter 64, winning by seven runs. The chief scorers for the winners were Messrs. C. Taylor (20) L. Hephew, (15) and E. Warboys, (10), and for the losers, Messrs. S. Garner, (18) and L. C. Knott. (11).

FUNERAL OF INSPECTOR J. SPRING. 25th April 1903

We regret to announce the death of Inspector John Spring of the Great Eastern Railway Police, which occurred at his residence in March, after an illness of less than a week. The body was conveyed to Swavesey, where the funeral took place on Thursday week. Amongst the mourners were the widow and her only son, Mrs. Spring (mother), Mr. P. Spring (brother), Mr. and Mrs. W. Naylor, P.c. Wass of London, and Mrs. Wass, Mrs. Carpenter (sister-in-law), Mrs. T. Metcalfe and Miss J. Metcalfe. The service was taken by the Rev. G. H. Frewer, vicar of Fenstanton, in the absence of the Vicar of Swavesey through ill-health. The late Mr. Spring was 38 years of age and had been over thirteen years in the G.E.R. Police Force, having been stationed first in London and about three years ago transferred to March on promotion to an inspectorship.

THE FLOODS. 23rd May 1903

Much of the low-lying land around Swavesey is under water, and the continuance of the wet weather, with a possibility of a serious flood, is causing the farmers much inconvenience and anxiety.

EARLY BATHING. 23rd May 1903

Pessimists have been wont to complain that the youths of today are not as hardy as those of days gone by, but three Swavesey boys, six years of age, cannot at any rate be charged with being afraid of cold water or biting winds. Shortly before sunset the other evening these Spartan youngsters, at the instigation of two others who had attained the mature age of eight years, and who preferred to do their bathing by deputy, undressed and plunged into the flood water on Church Green. There the naked cherubs disported themselves for some time until a kindly-hearted lady, apprehensive of rheumatic fever, induced them to clothe their shivering bodies and go home. It is understood that a sort of massage applied vigorously by their respective mothers, who have an old-fashioned prejudice in favour of Saturday night tubbing at the family fireside, caused their youthful blood to circulate freely and prevented evil results.

CRICKET SWAVESEY v. OVER. 23rd May 1903

This match was played at Swavesey on Thursday, May 14th, and won by Over by three wickets.

THE FEAST. 30th May 1903

The village feast began on Sunday last, when the services at the parish church were well attended. At evensong the Rev Canon Foakes-Jackson preached. Three cricket matches have been played – viz, between junior elevens of Swavesey and Over on Monday, on Tuesday with Elsworth and on Wednesday with Fenstanton.

CRICKET RESULTS. 30th May 1903

SWAVESEY JUNIOR XI v. OVER JUNIOR XI

Played at Swavesey on Feast Monday, and resulted, after an exciting finish, in a win for the Over lads by one wicket.

SWAVESEY v. ELSWORTH

Played at Swavesey on Feast Tuesday, and won by Elsworth by four wickets.

SWAVESEY v. LOLWORTH

Played at Swavesey on Whitsun Monday. Lolworth won by 63 runs.

SWAVESEY v. FENSTANTON

Played at Swavesey on Feast Wednesday, 27th May, won by Fenstanton.

FLOODS AT SWAVESEY. 4th July 1903

PREVENTATIVE MEASURES NECESSARY.

Swavesey parish has suffered very severely from the recent flood, and, although abating, the water is going away very slowly. Out of the nearly 3,900 acres in the parish, something like 1,400 acres have been submerged, the bulk being grass land, some being fed and some kept for hay. In some instances the grass was cut before the water rose; in others it was ready for cutting; but, in both, the crop has been irretrievably lost. The crops on the flooded arable have been ruined. Cow Fen, Middle Fen, Mow Fen and Mere Fen, have been and, at the time of writing, are still, to a great extent, under water. The occupants of some of the cottages in Town Bridge row, alarmed by the rapid rise of the brook, which runs in front of their houses and the approach of the water from behind, hastily shifted into other quarters. Gardens have been flooded, and many a cottager has lost his potatoes, to say nothing of his vegetables - a serious matter for the labouring man earning small wages, but blessed with a large and hungry family. Although many farmers have suffered by the floods, the greatest sufferers are several smallholders, the whole of whose land has been submerged, and who have therefore lost all their crops, besides having nowhere for their stock. The question that is being discussed is whether these floods are not in a great measure preventable. It is alleged that the river bank has been allowed to get into a bad state, and is on an average two feet, and in some places four feet lower than it was thirty years ago. The drains are not, it is said, properly cleaned out, and in consequence do not hold or carry off the quantity of water that they should. There seems to be some doubt as to who is responsible for this unsatisfactory state of affairs. By some people the District Council is held to be charged with the care of the banks and drains, but beyond repairing the sluices, two or three years ago, this usually energetic body has done nothing, and as both of the local District Councillors are sufferers by the floods, it is feared that the Council is powerless to act.

It is admitted on all hands that the banks and drains are not as well looked after as they were years ago when attended to by the old surveyors before the District Council came into existence, and that if they are to be put into proper condition considerable expenses will undoubtedly be incurred. As an instance of neglect the doors at the end of Navigation Drain, which were tinkered up some three years ago, may be mentioned. In consequence of the mud they cannot be opened more the one-eighth of the proper distance. The ratepayers are naturally shy of any material increase in the rates which have now an upward tendency; still unless Swavesey parish is to be subject to periodical floods at shorter and shorter intervals as time goes on something will have to be done and done at once. The present state of affairs appears to be an admirable example of the truth of the old adage that a stitch in time would have saved nine.

SPARROWS. 4th July 1903.

Rightly or wrongly, sparrows are generally held by gardeners and others to be a pest. At any rate the fruit growers of Swavesey and Over regard them with no friendly eye. Some time ago Mr George Bavin of Over, saw in a periodical a description of a trap to catch these energetic but predatory birds, and having tried the proverbial pinch of salt without success, the other day consulted with Mr William Thurbon, basket-maker of Swavesey, as to the construction of an experimental trap in wicker-work. Mr Thurbon set to work to carry out Mr Bavin's ideas, and produced a trap which in a fortnight caught no less than 400 sparrows.

The Swavesey Cricket Club has been most unfortunate this season, having so far not won a match. The boys of the National School, therefore, feeling that strenuous steps should be taken to retrieve the character of the village, determined to enter the field themselves, and accordingly challenged the schoolboys of Over. The match came off on Saturday last, on the Recreation Ground at Swavesey and resulted in a most creditable victory for Swavesey, who batted first, and scored 77, to which the Over youngsters replied with 26 and 17, thus leaving the home team victors by an innings and 34 runs. The game was most interesting and was most keenly contested, the boys on both sides showing the greatest energy and earnestness. The two sides were evenly balanced in point of age and size, some of the players being so small that to an impartial spectator the bat ought to have held the boy, instead of the boy the bat. In order to encourage budding talent, the Swavesey Cricket Club lent bats, etc, and the vice-captain, Mr G Burling, superintended the home team. The return match is to be played at Over today (Saturday).

CRICKET. 18th July 1903

SWAVESEY v. FENSTANTON. Played at Fenstanton on the 8th instant, and won by Swavesey by 62 runs.

CONFERENCE AT SWAVESEY 1st Aug. 1903

DIOCESAN SUNDAY SCHOOL COUNCIL.

A devotional meeting and conference for Sunday School teachers in the Archdeaconry of Ely was held at Swavesey on Thursday last. The meeting was convened by the Rev A C Vidler (vicar of Swavesey and Secretary of the Council in the Archdeaconry), and was attended by the Venerable Archdeacon Emery and other clergy, and by a number of Sunday School Teachers, the following parishes being represented: - Swavesey, Willingham, Over, Hauxton, Cottenham, Longstowe, St. Mary-the-less (Cambridge), Conington, Melbourn, Rampton, Comberton, Haddenham, and Girton.

The devotional service was conducted by the Rev. C F Andrews, Fellow of Pembroke College, Cambridge, and at the conference, at which the Archdeacon presided, a paper on "The Aim of Sunday School Teaching" was read by the Rev W T Crookham (Vicar of Haddenham).

Tea was provided at the Vicarage between the service and the conference, and the proceedings concluded with choral Evensong in the church at 6 30 p.m. Mr. Ashton Dixon of Cambridge presided at the organ. In addition to those already named, the following clergy attended:- The Revs J Watkins (Rural Dean), J P Sharpe, A J C Allen, M S Kemmis, J Hamilton, and E Webb.

FLOODS AGAIN. 1st Aug. 1903

Some of the Fen land in the parish of Swavesey is again under water in consequence of the recent heavy rains. It is understood that great difficulty was experienced the other day in closing the Barrow Brigg sluice gates owing to the accumulation of mud, and notwithstanding the combined efforts of four or five men the gates could not be closed by some two or three inches. It is to be hoped that as soon as practicable, the drains, etc., will be thoroughly cleaned out. The floods this year have been most disastrous.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 1st Aug. 1903

The Rev. J.H. Jackman has resigned the pastorate of Bethel Baptist Chapel, where he has ministered with great success during the last two or three years. It is understood that he is not leaving Swavesey immediately, but when he does go he will be greatly missed.

BANK HOLIDAY. 8th Aug. 1903

In deference to a widely expressed wish on the part of the inhabitants, the cricket match between Old Abbey C. C. and Swavesey, which was arranged for Bank Holiday, was postponed in consequence of the mysterious epidemic in Cambridge. A club match, nominally "Married v Single" was played instead, and resulted in a win for the bachelors by nine wickets. It is, however, only fair to the Benedicts of the Swavesey Club to mention that, owing to business engagements, advancing years, stiff joints, shortness of wind, and palpitation of the heart, a full team of married men could not be put in the field and the side had to be filled up with recruits from the ranks of those who have not yet tasted of the joys and responsibilities of wedded life. One spectator, when watching the "Married" team in the field, remarked, as he pointed to a knickerbocker-clad youth of twelve years – a "Ranji" in embryo – that Swavesey men seemed to marry rather early; and the youth's friends anxiously inquired of him during the afternoon how he had left the missus. The dread of transmission of the Cambridge disease appeared to apply only to Old Abbey XI, for it was observed that crowds of people from the county town were entertained by their friends in Swavesey during the day. It is possible, of course, that all such visitors produced certificates of re-vaccination and freedom from taint before being allowed to enter the village, but, if they did so, the fact has not been made public. The old proverb seems to have been reversed. What was sauce for the goose on Bank Holiday was not sauce for the gander. (The "illness" was small-pox.)

THE SWAVESEY FLOODS. 8th Aug. 1903

SIR, - I should like to say a word or two about the paragraphs in last week's Express, respecting the floods in Swavesey parish, and I think I have a right to speak, and to speak with authority, as I myself have suffered heavily from them.

In my opinion all floods, except a "Captain", which is of rarest occurrence, might be avoided if the river banks, and the brooks and drains, were kept in proper order. At the present time the banks are from one to three feet lower than they ought to be, and the drains etc, which should be kept clear from mud and weeds are choked up, so that they will neither hold, nor carry off, the flood water properly.

As stated in the Express the most important sluice gates, which ought to open and shut automatically, could not be completely closed the other day, owing to the accumulation of mud to the depth of three feet (according to the workman's statement), the river was rising and the water could not be kept out; so that Middle Fen and Mow Fen are again partially flooded.

The Swavesey Rural District Council – probably so called because Swavesey receives such grudging attention at the hands of the Councillors – have the care of the banks, drains, brooks and sluice gates, but they do not seem to recognise their responsibilities. Let me give one instance of this. When the attempt was made the other day to close the Barrow Bridge sluice gates, their surveyor was conspicuous by his absence; he contented himself with sending his roadmen to attend to this most important work. These finding they were unable to manage the gates by themselves, sent to a neighbouring farmer for assistance, and with this additional help, it was only after considerable labour that they succeeded in pulling the gates to within two or three inches of each other. The river water was still coming in, and how much the gates were strained by the pulling, it would be difficult to say. Why, I ask, did not the surveyor superintend the work himself?

The neglect of the District Council is inflicting considerable injury on small farmers, who at the best of times have a hard struggle to make both ends meet. This year they have not only lost their hay crops, but the floods have left the grass in such a condition that stock cannot possibly feed on it. How we're going to pay our rent and taxes, and feed and clothe our families Heaven alone knows; it is all paying out and nothing coming in.

I trust, sir, that you will find room for this letter, as we think a little public notice may wake up our District Councillors to the necessity of the case.

Our grievance is a very real one. It is quite likely that the Council looks upon Swavesey as a troublesome parish. Our water question has bothered them, I know, and has entailed a good deal of work, but this is no reason why this other matter, of such far-reaching consequence, should be continually neglected. – Yours truly,

A RATEPAYER

DEATHS. 15th Aug. 1903

It is our sad duty to record no less than four deaths since the 30th July, on which day Mr David Stanton went to his rest, having attained the great age of 83years. For a considerable time he had been an invalid. He was buried at Willingham on August 4th. On the third of August Mr John Netherwood, a correspondent of this paper, lost his wife, aged 56. Her body was laid to rest in the parish churchyard. On August 6th Mr. John Nicholson, shoemaker, aged 59, died after a long illness. He was buried in Swavesey Cemetery on Saturday. The same day, (August 6th) Mrs Mary Ann Mitham passed peacefully away. She was 93 years of age, and until the last year or two her faculties were remarkably clear. Her funeral took place in the churchyard on Monday.

VITAL STATISTICS. 15th Aug. 1903

Fifteen deaths in the parish of Swavesey have been registered since the 6th of August 1902, the births during the same period being eleven. During the proceeding twelve months, viz, between the 6th August, 1901, and the 5th August 1902, the deaths were sixteen, and the births nineteen. Of the fifteen deaths in 1902, no less than fourteen were of persons 56years of age and upwards, and in every case except three were the result of prolonged illness or old age. No death was due to epidemic disease. Cancer caused four deaths and heart disease two. Two were the result of accidents, and one was a child aged two years and nine months. An analysis of the ages of the deceased persons may be of interest. One was 93, one 83, two 79, one 78, one 72, two 69, one 68, one 61, two 59, one 56, and one 2¾ years.

THE POPULATION OF SWAVESEY. 15th Aug. 1903

Swavesey's population is decreasing at the rate of about 150 at each census. The decrease is due to so many of the younger people migrating to the towns, the police and railway service attracting many young men. In 1901 the population of Swavesey returned as 899.

PRESENTATION TO THE REV J H JACKMAN. 15th Aug 1903

The Rev J H Jackman, who recently resigned the pastorate of Bethel Baptist Chapel, was on Wednesday, last week, the recipient of a testimonial, which took the form of a cheque, from his many friends and admirers in the village. The presentation was made on behalf of the subscribers by Mrs Goad and Mrs Parker, at Mr Jackman's residence. The contributors included not only members of the congregation at Bethel Chapel, but also members of the Church of England. During his short stay in Swavesey of one year and ten months, Mr Jackman has endeared himself to people of all conditions and all shades of religious thought, and it was felt that he should not be allowed to sever his official connection with the parish without some tangible expression of their good will.

THE HARVEST. 15th Aug. 1903

The harvest promises to be good, taken on the whole. There is a fair crop of wheat, but in places there are tokens of mildew as a result of the wet. Oats are very good, barley a fair crop, and peas and beans are good. Roots are about average. Much of the land is in a very foul state owing to the long continuance of rainy weather. There has been a fair supply of gooseberries; their quality has been good, and in consequence of the exceptionally high prices they have fetched, the growers have done well. Red currants were fair in quantity and quality. Black currants were very scarce, but the few there were were good, and, with the red currants, sold exceptionally well. The few raspberries were spoilt by the wet weather. Apples are very scarce and are of medium quality. There are no pears or greengages. With one exception plums are a failure. Early potatoes are fairly good, and there is every promise of a good yield of backward varieties. The hay crop has practically been a complete failure in the low-lying lands, owing to the floods and continued wet weather. A small quantity of good hay has been obtained from off the high lands. It is estimated that about 1,000 acres of hay has been lost or spoilt in consequence of the floods. The Fen land is still very squashy, and, so far, nothing has been done to the drains and banks beyond a few slight repairs to the latter.

AN EXPRESSION OF THANKS. 15th Aug. 1903

SIR – Will you allow me through the medium of your paper to thank those many friends who contributed to the generous testimonial presented to me this week. I value not only the gift itself, but also, and even more, the kindly feeling which prompted it; and as it is not possible to express my thanks orally, I am seeking your help to convey my keenest appreciation of this, as well as of the uniform kindness I have experienced during my brief ministry in Swavesey.

Thanking you in anticipation, - Yours sincerely,

JAS. H. JACKMAN,

Swavesey, Cambs.

BAD CONDITION OF HIGH STREET. 22nd Aug. 1903

A correspondent writes: - “Cannot the County Council do something to render the high road less dangerous where it passes through the main part of the village of Swavesey, viz. from Amen-Corner to the School Green? The road is narrow, and in some places the middle is considerably lower than the sides, and during wet weather it assumes the aspect of a running brook. In other places the road slopes dangerously from one side to the other, notably, near the "White Horse". Everywhere the usual 'crown' is conspicuous by its absence. Obstructions in the shape of flag-stones, etc., in front of houses, project into the roadway, which, as I say, is narrow. The traffic is considerable. We have a County Councillor resident in another part of the village, and rumour hints that he is a member of the Committee charged with the care of the County roads, but he seems unable, or unwilling, to effect an improvement. We must wait, I suppose, until a serious accident gives the coroner an opportunity of saying disagreeable things."

COMPLAINT. 29th Aug. 1903

A correspondent, in your issue of last week, wrote about the bad road in the High Street. I, however, think he should not have stopped short at the road, but ought to have said something and the piece of land in the middle of the High Street, left to the parish by Mr Long, for a Town Hall to be built on. The place is in a dreadful state; the buildings are all to pieces, the wall in front being simply made up of loose bricks; and, to make things worse they have put stacks of bad smelling hay there right in the middle of dwelling houses. We, in Swavesey, wonder when the hall is going to be built. If it is not soon commenced we should like the Parish Council to make the place look better and take away the effluvium.

Yours truly, "A Dweller in the Neighbourhood."

VISIT OF MR RAYMOND GREENE.M.P. 29th Aug. 1903

On Friday last, notices distributed throughout the village at the instance of the local Conservative Secretary, Mr H. Beaumont, and the mellifluous voice and clanging bell of the Crier announced that Mr Raymond Greene, M.P., was to drive through Swavesey that day shortly after noon, and would meet his friends in Market Street. With characteristic punctuality Mr Greene was seen in his four in hand alone Ramper-road at 12.30, and a small band of faithful adherents gave him a hearty reception at the corner of the high road. Having greeted these followers, Mr Greene drove on to Market-street, being accorded a hearty reception the whole way. In Market-street, where he alighted, a band of children bearing flags formed a guard of honour, and the ladies of Swavesey were enthusiastic in their welcome. There was, considering the fine day and the urgent claims of the harvest field, a good attendance of men. Mr A. J. Pell accompanied Mr Greene, and both gentlemen took snapshots of the guard of honour and of other groups. After a friendly chat with all and sundry, the popular and so far as Swavesey is concerned, life-long member for West Cambs, mounted to the box seat, waved his hat, handled the ribbons, and amidst a chorus of cheers and a obligato on the post horn, the party went off to Over, (luncheon), Willingham, and home. On the coach with Mr Greene and Mr Pell were Mr J. S. French, Mr Ivatt, of Rampton, and Mr Saunders, and Miss Ivatt, Miss Spalding and Miss Stanley.

FIRE ENGINE. 29th Aug. 1903

With fires to the right of us, and fires to the left of us, our thoughts turn lovingly to the parish fire engine. Last November it returned home after a period of retirement for repairs and decoration at the hands of Mr Kidd, of Willingham. It was then a thing of beauty, and the Parish Councillors, who manned the pumps when it was inspected and tested, almost wept with pride and joy. The engine house has since been partially rebuilt, and the last time the engine itself was seen by the public it was swathed in old sacks and tarpaulins. The house restored, the engine went into seclusion once more, and there it remains, but whether it is in working order no one knows. It is understood that the engine should be tested once a quarter. It has not been out for this purpose since 18th November last, three quarters ago. A short supply of water, and a desire to economise the little left in the ponds, which have been alleged in the past as an excuse for not having the engine out, cannot be urged now, nor can difficulty in obtaining pumpers be brought forward, for there have been many wet days when plenty of men have been hungering for a job.

FIRE ENGINE. 5th Sept. 1903

The Parish fire engine was tested last week in the presence of the Engine Committee of the Parish Council, and was, it is understood, found in a satisfactory condition. The practical ability of the engine has been questioned. It is alleged that unless a fire took place within a few yards of a pond, the hose would not be long enough to reach the flames, and that the suction pipe is so short as to necessitate the engine being placed almost in the water.

BALLOON. 3rd Oct. 1903

A large balloon, going in a northerly direction, passed over Swavesey between 7.30 and 8.00 am, on Sunday. It is believed to have been the balloon which left Paris on Saturday evening, and descended near Hull at midday on Sunday. It was sufficiently near the earth for the voices of the occupants of the car to be heard as they shouted to people in the village, though what was said could not be understood.

CONSERVATIVE PARTY. 3rd Oct. 1903

It is expected that an important step towards the reorganisation of the Conservative Party in Swavesey will be taken within the next few days. As there are signs of renewed activity on the part of the Radicals, it is hoped that all Conservatives will give the movement their hearty support.

CROSSES AT THE CEMETERY. 10th Oct. 1903

A correspondent writes: - "At a recent funeral at the Cemetery two floral crosses were borne on the coffin. After the service was over and the mourners had left, a member of the committee who manage the Cemetery informed the undertaker that as, according to the rules, no crosses were allowed within the Cemetery those which had been on the coffin ought not to have been brought inside, and could not be placed on the grave, and he requested him to remove them. This, however, the undertaker declined to do; and he had them buried in the grave. I make no comment, but merely ask whether mourners and visitors are likewise forbidden to wear crosses round their necks or on their watch chains when within the burial ground."

PARISH COUNCIL AND LAMPS. 10th Oct. 1903

The Parish Council met on Monday last, and accepted the tender of Mr George Clarke for the lighting of the public lamps in the village during the coming winter. There were two other tenders, viz., those of Mr Sanderson and Mr Frank Williams - A Parish Meeting has been called for Monday next.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 10th Oct. 1903

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held in the Parish Church on Wednesday. There was a large congregation at the choral evensong at 7 0 p.m., when Dr. Garrett's anthem, "The Lord is loving," was sung, and an excellent sermon was preached by the Rev J W Challenor, rector of Christ Church, Moss-side, Manchester. Mr Ashton Dixon, of Cambridge, presided at the organ. The decoration of the large and beautiful church was, as usual, very effective, and reflected great credit on the ladies who undertook the duty; but, while appreciating the motive which prompted the gift of fancy bread, its display in the position it occupied can hardly be regarded as appropriate. The harvest festival at the Mission Church, Boxworth-end, took place on Tuesday evening. All offertories throughout the festival and on Sunday morning next are to be given to Addenbrooke's Hospital, and the offerings of fruit, vegetables, &c, will be sent to the same institution. A children's flower service will be held at the Mission Church on Sunday afternoon, and the children's gifts of fruit and flowers will be presented to the St Ives Union Infirmary.

PARISH MEETING. 17th Oct. 1903

A parish meeting, under the presidency of the Vicar, was held on Monday evening in order to vote the money needed for lighting and repairing the public lamps in the village. Some discussion also took place respecting that hardy perennial, the recreation ground.

FLOODS AGAIN. 17th Oct. 1903

Once more much of the parish of Swavesey is under water. Mere Fen, Cow Fen, Middle Fen, Mow Fen are flooded, and at the time of writing the water is still rising. The stock has again had to be removed from the fens and low lying land and what promised to be likely to afford good pasture for some time to come is being ruined.

SWAVESEY DISTRICT CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. FORMATION OF A NEW ORGANISATION 17th Oct. 1903

For some time past it has been felt that the organisation of the Conservative and Unionist Party in the Swavesey Polling District was in great need of overhauling. A body called the Conservative Committee was in existence in Swavesey, but it had not been elected by popular vote; it rarely met, and of late years, at any rate, was never consulted respecting local political matters except when summoned by the Registration agent. With the view of putting things on a proper footing and having a managing body popularly elected and to serve for a stated period instead of indefinitely as the old Committee, a meeting called by the Conservative Agent, Mr J S French, was held on Thursday week, to which all Conservatives and Unionists in the District were invited. Mr. French was voted into the chair, and after some preliminary observations as to the necessity for reorganisation moved the first resolution "that it is desirable to establish a Conservative Association for the parishes of Swavesey and Fen Drayton". Mr J Gilby seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously. Mr C R Vincent moved that rules which he read to the meeting should be adopted, and Mr S W Crisp seconded. The rules were accepted without alteration. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: - President, Mr Raymond Greene, M P (subject to his acceptance of the office); chairman, Mr C R Vincent; treasurer, Mr W H Key; secretary, Mr H Beaumont; committee, Messrs W Cain, S W Crisp, C Froment, J Gilby, James Howard, Tom Johnson, George Metcalfe, Philip Metcalfe, J Netherwood, and Walter Thorpe.

Certain gentlemen were elected vice-presidents subject to their acceptance of office, and their names will be announced when their decisions are known. Before the meeting closed Mr French read a letter from Mr A J Pell, President of the West Cambs Conservative Association, wishing the Swavesey District Association every success.

CRICKET CLUB. 24th Oct. 1903

A meeting of the members of the Cricket Club was held on the 15th inst, when the accounts for the past season were submitted, and duly passed. The subscriptions amounted to £9 2s, which, with the balance brought from 1902, made a credit total of £18 6s 1d. The expenditure amounted to £12 9s 1d, leaving a balance of 17s in the hands of the Treasurer, Mr W H Key. Cordial votes of thanks were passed to Mr Ellis Long for free use of his meadow as a cricket ground, and to Mr Charles Garner for storing the Club property. In the annual report which was read by the Honorary Secretary it was stated that no less than 78 members – playing and honorary – had joined the Club, a large increase on previous years, and that although the Club had not a successful record as regards matches, a far greater interest had been taken in the game than had been the case for some time. It was announced that the annual supper would take place in January next, and that the President, Mr Raymond Greene, M P, had intimated his intention to be present.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 31st Oct. 1903

Mr Raymond Greene, M P, who writes from Macedonia, has accepted the office of president of the newly-established Swavesey District Conservative Association. The vice-presidents are Mr Bartley and Mr Thomas Payne.

WANTON OUTRAGE. 31st Oct. 1903

Since the land between the village of Swavesey and the river Ouse has been flooded, three beautiful swans which usually graced the river in the neighbourhood of St Ives have taken up their quarters on Mere Fen and adjacent inundated land. On Saturday last two young men, who are understood to be undergraduates of the University of Cambridge and followers of the Trinity College Beagles, came by railway to Swavesey for a day's shooting, and on their way back to the station, either disappointed with the weight of their "bag", or intoxicated with the Swavesey air, shot all three birds and carried them in triumph to Cambridge.

A SMASH. 14th Nov. 1903

On Friday, the 6th instant, the horse attached to Mr J. Wells' coal cart bolted when passing the Swan pond, and dashed in the direction of Hog Pasture. The cart came in collision with the fence of Mr Mortlock's yard and was turned completely over, carrying the horse with it. Help was speedily forthcoming, but it was with great difficulty that the animal was released. The horse and cart were slightly injured, and Mr Mortlock's fence was demolished. It was providential that no one was in the cart at the time of the occurrence.

FLOODS. 14th Nov. 1903

The water which recently covered the main road near the Swan Pond and also between the railway and Over Bridge has receded, but it is thought that there is every likelihood of much land being submerged for some time to come. The roadway by the "Stones" has been left by the water in a dangerous condition, and calls for the immediate attention of the Highways Authorities.

PING PONG CLUB. 14th Nov. 1903

The Swavesey Ping Pong Club, which closed its rooms during the summer months, has resumed operations. This season other games besides ping-pong are to be played, and it is hoped will attract new members.

NOTICE TO SPORTSMEN. 14th Nov. 1903.

There are at present no swans on Mere Fen. It is, therefore, useless for gentlemen who wish to shoot these birds to visit Swavesey.

LINK WITH THE PAST, 21st Nov. 1903

In the year 1845, Mr Thomas Mortlock, corn merchant, of Swavesey, died and was buried in a brick grave in a shed at the back of his business premises near the Swan Pond, and in accordance with his will, a gig in which he used to ride was placed above the grave. In course of years the property came by purchased into the possession of the present owner, Mr James Wells, coal merchants, and about the same time the massive stone slab which covered the grave and on which was cut the name, age, etc. of the deceased, was removed by a member of his family.

The gig had disappeared, probably having fallen to pieces, but some ancient harness remained. Brick flooring took the place of the slab, and, after serving as a pig sty, the shed now roofless, became a store place for coal. On Thursday week, whilst Mr Wells was filling up and weighing bags of coal, the brick flooring gave way under him, and disappeared into the grave, the arched top of which had collapsed, and Mr Wells narrowly escaped a nasty accident, fortunately sustaining only a slight graze on one leg. There are people living in Swavesey who remember Mr Mortlock, and were present at his funeral 58 years ago. Not only was he a successful business man, but his opinion was much valued, and his advice was sought after on all manner of subjects. He established a school in a building at the back of the "Cricketer" in the High St. then a private house, and the children of this attended the funeral and were given cake and wine after the ceremony. Mr Mortlock was accustomed to stimulate budding talent by opportune gifts of cakes, and a well known tradesman of Swavesey still remembers with satisfaction a welcome prize of a three pence bit for repeating the multiplication table without a mistake. He also tells with unholy glee of youthful raids on Tom Mortlock's storehouses. The schoolroom afterwards became a skittle alley, and has now vanished. Mr Mortlock was accustomed to attend the old Baptist Chapel, which in his day stood on the disused and sadly neglected grave yard at Boxworth End, invariably occupying a three corner seat near the pulpit. He lived at Church End, in the house subsequently tenanted by the late Mrs Alfred Thorp.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 12th Dec. 1903

Mr Raymond Greene, M P, will address a public meeting of his constituents in the National School on Monday evening, the 21st inst. The chair is to be taken at 7 30 pm. Mr Downham, of Fen Drayton, has been elected a vice-president of the Swavesey District Conservative Association.

DEATH OF MISS BERESFORD. 26th Dec. 1903

We regret to have to announce the death, after an illness of many months duration, of Miss Amelia Catherine Beresford, the niece and for many years the companion of Mr Thomas Payne, so well known and so highly respected in Swavesey and elsewhere. The funeral took place in Swavesey churchyard on the 10th inst, the Vicar officiating, and many friends attended. Mr Payne has received many expressions of sympathy, amongst them being a vote of condolence from the Executive Committee of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, of which he is a vice-president.

MEETING AT SWAVESEY. 26th Dec. 1903

Another well-attended meeting was held in the Schoolroom, Swavesey, on Monday evening. Mr Vincent, chairman of the local Association, presided and amongst those present, in addition to Mr Raymond Greene, M P, were the Rev A C Vidler, Messrs W H Key, J Gilby, H Beaumont, R Mitham, W C Cole, S W Crisp, G Metcalfe, W Thorpe, C Froment, P Spring, S J Wayman, W Wayman, and C Fowls (Over), A L Edwards, J S French, Conservative Agent, Dr Ellis, and others, including several ladies.

Mr Raymond Greene M P, who was well received, explained the provisions of the Education Act, and pointed out the misrepresentations of its opponents, and also gave his views upon the Fiscal problem.

Mr Edwards also delivered a capital address, alluding to the immigration of foreign aliens, quoting Sir W Harcourt's wishes with regard to the price of wheat, and referring to Lord Rosebery's opinion of protective countries 15 years ago.

Mr Key proposed, and Mr Walter Thorpe seconded, a vote of thanks to Mr Greene for his address, which was carried with acclamation.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Chairman, proposed by Mr Greene, seconded by Mr French.

During the speeches some senseless remarks and interruptions were made by an individual of Radical opinions, who is a well-known character in Swavesey.

A WELCOME HOME. 2nd April 1904

Mr James Smith Dean, eldest son of the late Mr James Waters Dean, baker, of Swavesey, arrived in the village on Monday evening, having landed from ss Ghoorka that morning from South Africa. Mr Dean was met at the Railway Station by his mother and other relatives and a crowd of friends, the youthful element turning out in strong force, and was escorted in triumph to his home. Flags were displayed from various houses; a most hearty reception was accorded him, and the church bells rang out merry peals and clashed salvoes of welcome. Mr Dean left for South Africa six years ago, and can show a notable record of good work done. After serving 207 days in the Cape Police, he enlisted in the Cape Mounted Riflemen, and with the famous regiment remained five years, taking his discharge in February last. He saw active service during the whole of the Boer War, and was employed not only in Cape Colony, but in Orange River Colony, the Transvaal and elsewhere, under the command at different times of Generals Gatacre, Rundle and Methuen, and finally was attached to Scobell's column, which did much good and hardly recognised work. At Wittebeyen, under Rundle, he participated in the gigantic capture of Prinsloo and his commando. With Scobell he shared in the surrender of the rebel Lotter and his following after terrible and sickening slaughter. At Wepener he formed one of the little garrison of Colonial troops who for seventeen days, under the command of the gallant Dalgetty, held the enemy at bay, and here he was wounded. Mr Dean has been awarded the Queen's war medal, with clasps for Wittebeyen, Transvaal, Wepener, and Cape Colony, and the King's medal, with two clasps. It is sad to have to record that during his absence Mr Dean has lost by death his father and younger brother.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 9th April 1904

The numerous services during Holy Week, Good Friday and Easter Day at the Parish Church were as usual well attended. The church was effectively decorated for Easter notwithstanding the difficulty of getting suitable flowers. The collections on Sunday were for the Vicar's Easter Offering and realized £10, a record sum it is understood for Swavesey.

VESTRY MEETING. 9th April 1904

At the usual Easter Vestry meeting, held in the Parish Church on Monday, Mr James Wells was re-elected people's churchwarden. The Vicar again nominated Mr W H Key as his warden.

A CORRECTION. 9th April 1904

Mr W Perry, the popular stationmaster and indefatigable chief of the Swavesey Bellringers, has pointed out to our correspondent that the statement in our last week's issue that the church bells "rang out merry peals" to welcome home Mr J S Dean, was technically incorrect as a "peal" must consist of not less than 720 changes, and that, although the bells were rung merrily, no "peal" was rung upon that auspicious occasion. Mr Perry admits in extenuation of our correspondent's blunder that other people who might be expected to know better often apply the word "peal" to the ordinary ringing of bells.

SCHOOLBOY CRICKET. 18th June 1904.

In June 1903, a cricket match was played at Swavesey between the Swavesey and Over schoolboys which resulted in a decisive victory for the home team by an innings and 34 runs, the Swavesey boys scoring 77 runs, against the Over youngsters 26 and 17. The return game at Over was also won by Swavesey. On Saturday last the boys again met at Swavesey and once more the home side was successful, hitting up 37 runs in the first innings, and 55 in the second, to which Over XI replied with 26 and 13 runs, thus leaving Swavesey victors by 53 runs. One striking feature of the match was the inclusion of a cripple in each XI. Both boys played pluckily, and displayed great activity notwithstanding that each was supported by a crutch. The fielding on the Swavesey side was smart, especially in the second innings. Where all worked hard and did well, it may be thought invidious to single out particular players for special commendation, but mention may perhaps be made of the smart wicket keeping of W. Goad, (the Swavesey captain) George Beaumont, T. Hoppett and Leonard Williams bowled well, and little Frank Beaumont brought off those capital catches besides batting very pluckily. T Hoppett, G. Beaumont and A. Prime also batted well. E. King and R. Papworth, who bowled for Over showed promise, but they were badly supported by the field.

GOOSEBERRIES AND GOSSIP. 18th June 1904

Gooseberry pulling has been and is still in full swing and fair prices have been realised. The fruit sent away by Mr. W. H. Key has been exceptionally fine and he has already disposed of nearly half a ton from his comparatively small garden. An epidemic of slanderous gossip has broken out with considerable violence and a prominent villager attributes the outbreak to the congregating of female fruit pickers in the gardens but what the connection is between gooseberries and gossip is not known beyond the fact that both words begin with the letter "g".

GARDEN PARTY. 25th June 1904

On Tuesday last a garden party, kindly organised by Mrs. Heelis, was held in the garden of Swavesey Manor with the object of raising funds to defray various expenses in connection with the parish church and the parish room. An excellent open air concert whiled away the afternoon. Stalls for the sale of useful and ornamental articles and refreshments were well patronised, the former stall being in charge of Mrs Heelis' house party and the Misses Vidler and Duncan, while Mrs Sidney Beaumont, Mrs Daisley, and the Misses Key, F Daisley, and C Thorp ably superintended the sale of refreshments. From 6 30 to 10 p.m. the lawn, fringed with lovely rose trees in full bloom, was devoted to dancing to the strains of the St Ives Town Band, and at night the garden was beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns. The entertainment was a marked success, over 800 people attending, and with a preliminary jumble sale held last month has realised upwards of £30.

AN INTERESTING VISITOR. 2nd July 1904

The village of Swavesey has been entertaining an angel unawares. This year's fifth Wrangler, Mr O H B Starte, B A, of Clare College Cambridge, has been staying with his brother, Mr H Starte, who is now carrying on the business in High-street recently relinquished by Mr Parker.

IS THE POPULATION INCREASING? 23rd July 1904

On Sunday no less than six babies were baptized at the Parish Church. It is hoped that this may be taken as an indication that the decrease in the population which has been shown for years past by the census returns – about 150 each decade – has been stayed for a time at any rate.

THE DROUGHT. 23rd July 1904

The continued dry and intensely hot weather is having a very serious effect on the crops and gardens. The ditches have become arid trenches and the ponds are fast drying up. Storm clouds have hovered over the village, but beyond depositing an occasional drop of rain – on St Swithin's day for instance - have passed on their way intact.

THE WANDERERS' RETURN. 30th July 1904

On Monday evening Mr George Gifford and his wife arrived in Swavesey from America wither 22 years ago they had migrated. Prior to leaving this country Mr Gifford worked for several years for Mr Key, baker, was much liked and made himself very popular. For some considerable time past he has been foreman of a large corn mill at Memphis, Tennessee, and he and Mrs Gifford have now come home on a visit to their relatives and friends, and before returning to the United States they propose to make a tour in England. Mrs Gifford is a native of Swavesey, being the daughter of Mrs Caroline Covell, who lives in High-street. One singular circumstance marked their return. Mr Key met them at the railway station, and drove them to Mrs Covell's house in the identical cart in which he had driven them to the station 22 years ago. His old friends, from whom he has received a warm welcome, notice but little change in Mr Gifford, beyond the fact that he is stouter, and has exchanged a pale face for a deeply bronzed complexion.

SCHOOL TREAT. 30th July 1904

The children attending the Sunday School attached to the Parish Church had their annual treat in the Vicarage grounds on Tuesday. The weather, though threatening, was fortunately fine, and the children, nearly a hundred in number, thoroughly enjoyed themselves and keenly appreciated the tea and subsequent amusements. The festivities began, as usual, with a short service in church. During the evening many parents and other parishioners attended, and it is pleasing to record that the old men were not forgotten, as each of them was given a packet of tobacco. Towards the end of the proceedings Mr W H Key, churchwarden, proposed, in his ever happy manner, a vote of thanks to Mrs Long, Mrs Heelis, Mrs Duncan and other friends who had generously contributed towards the expenses of the treat, and to the schoolmaster, mistress, and teachers and other kind helpers who had assisted in the management. The Vicar added his testimony, and the vote was carried with acclamation. Before leaving "God save the King" was sung, and hearty cheers which resounded over the village were given for the Vicar and Mrs Vidler, Mr. Key, and other workers.

THE WELCOME RAIN. 30th July 1904

Rain has come at last. On Sunday most welcome rain fell, and mid-day on Monday a heavy thunderstorm visited Swavesey, and for a short time the rain came down in torrents. Since then showers have fallen, for which the villagers are very thankful.

BATHING IN THE OUSE. 30th July 1904

The youths and boys of Swavesey have made good use of the river during the hot weather, and it is satisfactory to record that many of them are excellent swimmers. The condition of the grass on the river bank leaves much to be desired in the way of cleanliness. The nuisance might, however, be speedily put a stop to if the bathers held up the offenders (who are known) to public scorn.

A FIRE. 10th Sept. 1904.

Last week was an exciting one. On Tuesday afternoon a fire occurred in the heart of the village on the premises of Mr Samuel Hephher, one of the carriers between Swavesey, Cambridge, and St. Ives, when a small stack, accidentally set alight by one of his children, was destroyed, together with some outbuildings. The women of the parish greatly distinguished themselves by grappling promptly and effectively with the flames; the few men present apparently waiting until the famous fire engine came on the scene before they set to work. Owing to a misunderstanding there was considerable delay in the attendance of the engine. At one time the outbreak threatened to spread to other property, and undoubtedly the damage would have been more serious but for the brigade of energetic matrons who pumped all the wells in the neighbourhood dry. The inactivity of the men may perhaps be explained by the desire not to rob their womenfolk of credit.

A LOST CHILD. 10th Sept. 1904.

On Thursday evening the eight-year-old son of Mr David Prime wandered far afield, and, losing his way in the darkness, could not find his way home. His father and many kind friends and neighbours searched for him all night with lanterns, it being feared that he had fallen into one of the brooks and ditches by which the village is surrounded, but without result. About daybreak, however, the little fellow was seen coming home, He had been wandering about the fields in the darkness in the neighbourhood of Mr Mitcham's Friesland Farm, and when worn out with tears and fatigue, had taken refuge in an outbuilding, where he fell asleep.

DEATH. 10th Sept. 1904.

On Saturday last the earthly remains of Arthur Coote, a promising, popular and respected young inhabitant of Swavesey, were laid to rest in the churchyard. He had been seriously ill for upwards of a year, and his sufferings, borne with great fortitude and patience, had been intense.

THE GREAT EASTERN RAILWAY. 24th Sept. 1904

Owing it is presumed in a measure to the greater amount of fruit grown in and around Swavesey the work at the Railway Station has largely increased of late years. For instance, during the month of August last, the goods' traffic is understood to have been three times as large as during August 1903. Notwithstanding this, customers and passengers have been somewhat mystified by observing that instead of augmenting the already meagre staff, which is practically the same in point of numbers as it was upwards of twenty years ago, on more than one occasion recently an official has been withdrawn for temporary service elsewhere. The passenger service is not as good as it used to be and is capable of improvement, e.g., there is no train (Mondays excepted) from St Ives or to Cambridge between shortly after noon and 4 pm, and (Mondays and Saturdays excepted) the last up and down trains are due to arrive about 7 30 pm, thus rendering an evening in Cambridge or St Ives possible only to owners of traps. Even on Mondays and Saturdays the last train leaves Cambridge at such an hour as to make a visit to the theatre or other entertainment unprofitable, as a person must set out for the station about half-past nine.

CHANGES IN THE VILLAGE. 24th Sept. 1904

Several changes are taking place in Swavesey this Michaelmas. Mr W. C. Cole is giving up his Swavesey Farm, though he will still reside in the village. His successor is Mr Alfred Day. Mrs Heelis, who during her comparatively, short residence has done so much in aid of the church and the church institutions by organising entertainments, and in other ways, is leaving Swavesey Manor. Her brother, Mr Cox, will in future live in the Manor. The Old House, in Blackhorse Lane, is likewise changing tenants. There are several cases of removal amongst the cottagers, as is usual at this time of the year, but no cottager is leaving the village.

YOUTHFUL SWEARING. 24th Sept. 1904

A correspondent writes: - Cannot something be done to check the use of foul language in public places in Swavesey by quite little boys? Doubtless the children sin in ignorance, but that does not make the scandal less. It is pitiful to hear the vile words from the lips of little chaps just out of petticoats, and often uttered in the midst of a mixed crowd of other children.

ACCIDENT TO MRS GEORGE LONG. 8th Oct. 1904

On Friday evening as Mrs George Long was being driven by her coachman, the horse took fright and bolted near the "Red Lion" inn, Boxworth-end, and after running a short distance towards the Huntingdon Road the trap came into collision with a heap of stones, and was turned completely over, Mrs Long and the coachman being thrown on to the grass by the roadside. The mishap was witnessed from a distance by Mr Sidney Prime, who hastened to the spot, and after some difficulty released the horse, which strange to say, had not fallen. Having done this Mr Prime fetched further assistance. The horse escaped injury, none of the harness was broken, and the trap was only slightly damaged. Mrs Long and the coachman, especially the latter, were severely shaken and bruised, but fortunately sustained no broken bones. Mrs Long was able to walk to the Priory, but the coachman had to be driven home by Mr Walter Spolton.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 8th Oct. 1904

The harvest thanksgiving service was held at the Parish Church, on Wednesday, and the chief service at 7 pm. was well attended, notwithstanding the rainy weather. The Rev. T. Normandale, vicar of Over, preached, and Dr Garret's well-known anthem, "The Lord is loving unto every man" was sung. Mr Ashton Dixon, of Cambridge, presided at the organ. The decorations were effective, but owing to several ladies, who in previous years had been active workers, having left the village, the number of decorators were smaller than usual. The result, however, reflected great credit on those who remained. The thanksgiving service at the Mission Church, Boxworth-end, took place on Thursday, the Vicar being the preacher. On Sunday the festival will be continued at the Parish Church, and a children's flower service at the Mission Church is announced for the afternoon.

SWAVESEY CONSERVATIVE CLUB. 15th Oct 1904

The annual meeting of the Swavesey and District Conservative Association was held on Monday last. The report of the Executive Committee, which was read by the Secretary, congratulated the members on the Association not only being in existence, but being a strong going concern, notwithstanding the gloomy forebodings of a year ago. Reference was made to Mr Raymond Greene's meeting in December last, to the assistance rendered by the Committee to the successful candidate at the County Council Election in the Spring; to the satisfactory results of the recent Revision Court; and to other matters. The report was adopted unanimously. The accounts for the past year, which showed a satisfactory balance in the hands of the Treasurer, were also passed. Before the election of the officers was proceeded with, the CHAIRMAN announced that, as had been known for some time to several gentlemen present, he did not offer himself for re-election as he was strongly of the opinion that it was most desirable that a fresh chairman should be elected annually. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz: - President, Mr W Raymond Greene M.P.; vice-presidents, Messrs. G Downham, T. Payne, E. R. Odams, and Cox; chairman, Mr. Bartley; treasurer, Mr. W. H. Key; secretary, Mr. H. Beaumont; committee, Messrs. S. W. Crisp, C. Froment, J. Gilby, George Metcalfe, Philip Metcalfe, Netherwood, T. Nicholson, Walter Thorp, W. Thurbon, H. G. Key, J. Wells, and Vincent. Mr. Netherwood was elected vice-chairman. The election of some of these gentlemen was subject to their acceptance of office. Cordial votes of thanks for their services were passed to the Treasurer and Secretary, on the proposal of Mr. VINCENT, seconded by Mr. NETHERWOOD, and to the retiring Chairman, on the proposal of Mr. NICHOLSON, seconded by Mr. FROMENT. Mr. Alfred Evans, the landlord of the "White Horse" Inn was also thanked for kindly lending a room for meetings.

On 22nd October it was reported that Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P., president, has sent a subscription of one guinea to this Association.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION. 22nd Oct. 1904

The usual classes re-opened last week. For the woodwork and drawing class, which is again under the able supervision of Mr. Walter Thorp, there were many more applicants than could be admitted.

PING PONG CLUB. 22nd Oct. 1904

At a meeting of the members of the Swavesey Ping-Pong Club held on Tuesday evening, the Rev. A. C. Vidler in the chair, officers for the ensuing season were elected, Mrs. Cole being reappointed secretary and treasurer, while Mr. S. W. Crisp was chosen captain in place of Mr. W. C. Cole. The Club will meet once a week during the autumn and winter months. Its name is not sufficiently comprehensive, as in addition to Ping-Pong other games are played. One radical alteration has been made this year. The annual subscription now covers all expenses, the nightly charge of one penny having been abolished.

ROADWAY IN SEARCH OF AN OWNER. 22nd Oct. 1904

A correspondent writes: - When is the County council going to do something to that bit of road by the Swan Pond? Surveyors and assistant surveyors pay it visits and Aldermen and County Councillors come and look and talk. But nothing is done. The County Council condescends to attend to the footpath and causeway by the disputed road, but for some reason, which would do honour to Charles Dickens' Circumlocution Office and the great Barnacle family, it does not see its way to keep the road in repair. A few days ago a tailor had a spill from his tricycle at the dangerous spot, but I suppose nothing short of a mishap to the Surveyor or the Clerk of the Council will lead to the road being recognised and kept in repair.

UNFOUNDED RUMOURS. 5th Nov. 1904

The two late inhabitants of Swavesey who were reported last week to have died are alive and in good health.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH . 5th Nov. 1904

The thanksgiving for the harvest was held in this church on Wednesday, 26th October. After a tea provided in the schoolroom, to which over 80 sat down, a service was held, and an excellent sermon preached by the Rev. Knee, of Peterborough from Psalm cvii. v. 21. The building was tastefully decorated by Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Thurbon. The vegetables were subsequently sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

LECTURE. 18th Nov. 1904

Mr. John de Fraine delivered his popular oration, "Funny Folks," in the National School, Swavesey, on Monday evening. The Vicar, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, took the chair. The large schoolroom was well filled with an appreciative audience.

CONSERVATIVE SMOKER AT SWAVESEY. 18th Nov. 1904

One of the best entertainments held in Swavesey for a long time was the Smoking concert on Monday, arranged by the Swavesey District Conservative Association, at the "White Horse" Inn. Owing to space being limited, admission was by ticket, but the room was crowded, upwards of 120 persons being present, and the audience was thoroughly representative. As there were other meetings in the village the same evening the attendance was remarkably good. The Vice-Chairman of the Association (Mr. J. Netherwood) occupied the chair.

The programme included songs, comic songs and a banjo solo. An address was delivered by Mr. G. H. Griffin of Cambridge. Votes of thanks were given before the meeting broke up.

The arrangement of the room and the decoration of the platform reflected great credit on the landlord of the "White Horse," Mr. Evans, who in every way did his utmost to make the meeting a success. Mr. Walter Thorp, the indefatigable doorkeeper, is also entitled to a special word of commendation.

ROADWAY AT SWAN POND. 25th Nov. 1904

A correspondent writes: - "Complaints have been made for some time past respecting the condition of the roadway on one side of the Swan Pond, Swavesey. So far it has been no man's land and has been utterly neglected. But now we hear that the County Council has decided to take it under its fatherly protection, for which we are duly grateful, and to raise the road to the level of the main road on the other side of the pond, which will necessitate the erection of a retaining wall. This will involve considerable expense. It is very kind of the County Council to make the proposal, but it is far more than we expected or desired. We never asked that this little bit of roadway should be kept up as part of the main road. All we wanted was that it should be raised a little, say a foot, and kept in repair. We are not unreasonable, and we do not want to impose any such expense upon the County as would be involved in the scheme said to have been adopted by the Council."

SAND OR GRANITE. 25th Nov. 1904

SIR, - Winter is upon us, and as usual finds officials responsible for the care of the roads unprepared. This morning the main roads in this parish were dangerous from frost and snow. There was no sand at hand, so the roadmen scattered loose granite on the roads, a costly expedient, and one fraught with danger to horses. Our rates are heavy enough already. We cannot afford to have costly granite used as a substitute for less expensive and far more suitable sand. Yours truly,

A RATEPAYER.

Swavesey, November 22nd, 1904

OUTDOOR RELIEF. 3rd Dec. 1904

To the Editor of the "Hunts. Post."

Sir, - In March 1901, Mr. Elliott Odams proposed to the Guardians of the St. Ives Union that instead of the weekly outdoor relief being paid at fixed stations, the Relieving Officer should call at the house of each recipient. He failed, however, to get his brother Guardians to accept his proposition, and the matter, as far as I am aware, has not since been revived.

If Mr. Odams had been in Swavesey last Thursday between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. he would have witnessed a sight which would have given him a strong argument in favour of his proposal. Outdoor relief money is usually paid on Thursdays shortly after 11 o'clock. On Thursday last the Relieving Officer did not put in an appearance until just after 1 o'clock, and his aged, crippled and ailing clients had to stand shivering in the street, shelterless, awaiting his arrival. The day was bitterly cold, and the roads were covered with snow. Doubtless, the Relieving Officer had a good reason for being behind his time. Possibly, the delay was due to the roads not being suitable for bicycle riding. Be if he knew he could not reach the Swavesey pay station until one o'clock, I cannot help thinking that he might have saved unnecessary suffering if he had sent a telegram to the landlady of the station, and thus allowed of the old people going into shelter. In the absence of any message they were afraid to go away for fear of missing the official whom they designate "the paymaster."

I venture to trouble you with this letter, as the incident has been the subject of considerable comment in the village. One sympathetic able-bodied man remarked to me that the delay meant to several of the "old chaps" the loss of their dinner, for the butchers' shops are not open all day. - Yours faithfully,

X.Y.Z.

Swavesey, 29th November

CHURCH ARMY VAN. 3rd Dec. 1904

This van, in charge of Mr. Richardson, has been in the village since last Wednesday week, and has been stationed on the land surrounding the Mission room at Boxworth End. The services, conducted by Mr Richardson and his assistant, at which magic lantern slides have been used, have been held in the Mission room. On Sunday, the evening service at the Parish Church was at 6 o'clock, instead of at 6.30p.m., and the sermon was omitted, in order that a Mission service might be held at 7 o'clock in the south aisle, when scriptural pictures were shown on a screen, and Mr Richardson delivered appropriate addresses. The attendance might have been better if the Mission had been advertised throughout the Village.

THE WEATHER. 3rd Dec. 1904

Frost and snow have reigned supreme during the week, though at times there have been indications of a thaw. Owing to the dry season there has been no skating on Mere Fen. Some venturesome souls however, have attempted to skate on the "dock" and some of the neighbouring drains, but the ice was very rough.

SWAVESEY ROADWAY. 3rd Dec. 1904

SIR, - With regard to your correspondent's remarks appearing in this week's issue anent the roadway on the west side of the Swan Pond, it is to be hoped that the Council will see their way to adopt the happy medium between doing nothing at all and doing that which is altogether unnecessary and uncalled for. Apart from the question of expense involved in the Council's scheme, there is the reflection that the erection of a retaining wall would surely form anything but an additional attraction to what is undoubtedly the most picturesque portion of the village, - Yours, etc.,

R. E. BARTLEY.

133 Abbey Road, N.W.

LIBERAL MEETING AT SWAVESEY. 9th Dec. 1904

Condensed from a long report.

A meeting in support of the candidature of Mr. E. S. Montagu was held in the National School, Swavesey, on Tuesday evening. A tea, under the auspices of the Women's Liberal Association, at the Quakers' Meeting House, preceded, and prepared for the flow of eloquence. The chair was taken by Mr. E. O. FORDHAM, J.P., who spoke for forty-five minutes. Other speakers were Miss Bateson, Mrs. Rackham and Mr. Montagu.

The Chairman then called up the star of the evening, Mr. George Nicholls.

Mr. EBENEZER PARISH proposed a vote of thanks to the speakers, and the CHAIRMAN briefly responded.

A GOOD BOY. 16th Dec. 1904

A pleasing incident occurred at the National School on the 8th inst., when Dennis W. Williams was formally presented with a medal given by the Education Authority for not having been late or absent during twelve months. In making the presentation, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar of Swavesey, and chairman of the Managers, warmly commended the lad, and said that he had no doubt his regularity of attendance was due in a large measure to the importance attached to punctuality in his home.

PING PONG CLUB. 16th Dec. 1904

Two tournaments have been played this week. On Monday a team from the Cambridge Y.M.C.A. visited the village club, and on Tuesday the visitors were the Oakington Ping-Pong Club. Sad to relate the Swavesey ping-pongists were defeated each evening.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL.

COUNTY COUNCIL EXPENDITURE 23rd Dec. 1904

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held on Thursday, 15th inst., at which the following Councillors were present: - Messrs. W. H. Key, Jethro Linford, George Metcalfe, R. Norman, S. Prime, J. Wells, and Wimpres. The Rev. A. C. Vidler, chairman, presided.

It was decided to call the attention of the Rural District Council to the bad condition of the fobs etc., and to request that they may be repaired. The Fire Engine Committee was authorised to institute enquiries with the view of fixing a scale of charges for the use of the engine at fires.

Mr. GEORGE METCALFE moved: "That this Council views with alarm the ever increasing and reckless expenditure of public money and the interference with the liberties of the people by the County Council. It also wishes to thank the Rev. S. T. Adams, Councillor Wootten, Dr. Ellis, and all others who supported them in opposing a policy of reckless waste and oppression, and hopes that they and all others who have the welfare of the public at heart will continue to use their utmost influence against all unjust additional burdens being placed on the shoulders of the already over-burdened ratepayers."

Mr. R. NORMAN seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously, four Liberal and three Conservative Councillors voting.

It was also decided that a copy of the resolution should be forwarded to Mr. Adams.

The remainder of the business was not of public interest.

CHRISTMAS AT THE PARISH CHURCH. 30th Dec. 1904

The bells rang out merrily at 5 o'clock on Christmas morning, and the services throughout the day were well attended. After Matins there was a Choral Celebration of the Holy Communion, and at Evensong Goss's anthem, "Behold, I bring Good Tidings," was creditably sung by the choir. The decorations were as effective as was possible owing to the difficulty in obtaining evergreens in consequence of the heavy hoarfrost.

ENTERTAINMENT. 30th Dec. 1904

An entertainment in aid of the Home Missions of the Church of England (Children's Branch) was given in the National Schoolroom on Monday evening by a party of school-children from St. Mary-the-less, Cambridge, assisted by some Cambridge choristers, under the management of Miss Flint. The attendance was fairly good considering the fireside attractions of Boxing Night. About two guineas were realised.

RINGING. 30th Dec. 1904

A party of ringers from Hemingford rang the Swavesey bells for several hours on Boxing Day.

POTATOES. 30th Dec. 1904.

An interesting letter from Mr Walter Thorp, of Swavesey, on "New Varieties of Potatoes", appears in the Agricultural World of 17th December.

INDIGNATION AT SWAVESEY. 30th Dec. 1904

A young lady asks me to draw attention to the indignation at Swavesey owing to the fact that the levelling of the Cricket Ground is being done by men from the next village, notwithstanding that there are competent men idle in Swavesey. My correspondent appeared to know what she was writing about, so I made inquiries and find the facts are as stated. This is a great shame, and when I remember that the proceeds of a recent concert held in the village, and which was attended by Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P., were given to defray the cost of this work, I think the least the Cricket Club could have done was to have given the work to Swavesey people. But the people who contributed to the concert will know how to treat the Cricket Club in the future.

YEAR'S RECORD. 30th Dec. 1904.

So far as Swavesey is concerned the year of 1904 has not been one of startling incident, progress or decline. The health of the community has been good. Amongst the inhabitants is one lady who is within a few months of attaining her hundredth year. Several changes have to be recorded. The Manor House and Old House have new occupants; Mr Cole has given up farming in the village, his land having been taken by another Swavesey farmer: and one of the many public houses has been closed. No new houses or cottages have been built; the village green or recreation ground is still a wilderness; but the fire engine managed to put in a tardy appearance at the only fire. The population is not increasing, probably still decreasing; and unfortunately there are able-bodied men out of work just at present.

A DENIAL FROM SWAVESEY. 6th Jan 1905

SIR, - We, the undersigned, strongly protest against the paragraph which appeared in your paper last week, referring to the relaying of the Swavesey Cricket Club Ground.

In the first place, we, who constitute the committee, responsible for the management of the ground, made every enquiry as to whether we could secure from the village a competent and unemployed labourer; the regular club groundman, who is on the committee, knew of no one who could undertake the work and at the present time there are no labourers lying idle in Swavesey.

We may add, by the way, that everyone who has a genuine interest in the Club is quite satisfied with the endeavours of the ground committee, and with the work of the men we have employed.

We do not know from what source you obtained your information, and we fail to understand how you could have "found the facts as stated," since, on the contrary, the statements made by your 'young lady' correspondent are entirely wrong.

You go on to say "that a recent concert was held in the village, which was attended by Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P., the proceeds of which were devoted to the improvement of the ground."

In reference to this we need only say that Mr. Greene took the chair solely in his capacity as President of the Club, and for no other reason; and, moreover, that only part of the proceeds of this concert have been devoted to the improvement of the ground, the remainder being held over for the usual expenses which will be incurred during next season.

We agree with you in thinking that "those who contributed to the concert will know how to treat the Club in future;" in fact, we have every reason to expect an increase in its already large membership, and, in the face of so successful a season as that of last summer, we believe that the village will continue to support the Club in its usual hearty manner. – We remain, etc.,

"THE SCRIBE" IN THE VILLAGES. 6th Jan. 1905

A member of the Swavesey Cricket Club protests against the Club being blamed for not employing Swavesey workmen to level the Cricket Ground. Speaking generally, the members have had nothing to do with the matter.

Individual committee-men, elected at the general meeting at the beginning of last season, decline responsibility, and there are rumours of a special committee having been mysteriously appointed. When questions have been asked, two vice-presidents have been spoken of as being the officials who knew everything. What the ordinary members of the Club and other Swavesey people wish to know is this: - Who are really responsible for putting the work out of the village? Why and when did the captain of the Club retire? And who are now responsible for the management of the Club as the duly elected committee appear to have assigned or been relieved of, their duties and responsibilities?

In another column appears a letter on the subject from several gentlemen interested in the Club. Since seeing the letter I have made further enquiries, and find that there is a good deal of mystery surrounding the workings of the Club. Perhaps the following questions will be answered: "Why were not tenders for levelling work asked for publicly, and why were the Over men alone advised to attend before the mysterious committee?" "Is it a fact that one of the Special Committee – the landlord of one of the men – promised to recompense the Over men for the loss of time if they did not get the work?" "Is it not also the case that a Swavesey farmer, who has recently had experience in levelling and laying turf, declined to serve on the mysterious committee, and if so, what were his reasons for refusing?"

There was something akin to consternation in that quiet little village of Swavesey on Saturday, when the manifesto of the Cricket Club Ground Committee was seen in the "Cambridge Express." People assembled in groups of four and six and certain names were mentioned only in whispers. However, the paragraph has served one good purpose. It has set the people of Swavesey thinking, and probably, in future, the Cricket Club will be managed by a real live Committee, and not continue to be in the hands of a clique.

SWAVESEY CRICKET CLUB. 13th Jan. 1905

SIR, - I am given to understand that, failing another scapegoat, I am credited with having written the letters of the young lady and the member respecting the levelling of the Swavesey Cricket Club ground. Perhaps, therefore, you will allow me to say a few words on the subject on my own behalf. I can speak with a certain amount of knowledge of the Club, as I was secretary for four years, viz., 1900 – 1903, but I am not now a member.

Dissatisfaction undoubtedly exists owing to the levelling work being given to men belonging to another village, while Swavesey men were not allowed the chance of tendering. I observe that the Ground Committee, in their protest published last week, say they made “every inquiry as to whether they could secure from the village a competent and unemployed labourer” (are we to understand that the men engaged were out of employment?), and that the “groundman knew of no one who could undertake the work.” From these statements we may infer that the Committee made inquiry as to suitable unemployed labourers, but relied on the groundman as to men with work. People here, however, are bold enough to assert that they can name several competent and available men, one or two of whom were unemployed when the work was given out. The statement of the young lady would therefore appear to have been not so “entirely wrong” as the Ground Committee would have us believe. If tenders had been publicly invited there would have been no cause for complaint.

An impression has got abroad that the Ground Committee, which some people think was not appointed by the Club, has superseded the Committee elected for the year, and moreover that a new power is controlling the Club. A certain amount of substance was given to this impression by the mystery which seemed to surround the proceedings of the Ground Committee, and by the reported retirement of the captain and the alleged dissatisfaction of certain regular committeemen.

The statement in the protest that “everyone who has a genuine interest in the Club is quite satisfied with the endeavours of the Ground Committee” appears to be open to question, for I am informed that some members who have worked hard for the club are far from satisfied. Are we to understand that in the opinion of the Ground Committee these members have not a “genuine interest” in the Club? But possibly the Ground Committee think that everyone who fails to agree with them is incapable of a “genuine interest.” If this is the case I fear the confident prophecy in the concluding paragraph of the protest as to increased membership this year will hardly be fulfilled.

In the estimation of the Ground Committee doubtless I myself do not take a genuine interest in the Club, because for one reason, I am decidedly of the opinion that the levelling should and could have been given to Swavesey men if the remuneration asked for was reasonable. I can assure them that, although it may be difficult for them to comprehend the fact, I, and I believe all other critics, believe we have the true welfare of the Club at heart, although we feel sure that the ill-advised action of the Ground Committee is calculated to operate against the Club’s popularity and usefulness. I trust, however, that between now and the annual meeting next month all differences will be amicably and satisfactorily settled. But this happy ending will largely depend upon whether the members themselves face the situation boldly, attend the meeting in full force, and elect a really good working committee, with energetic officers endowed with plenty of tact. They must not be content with merely grumbling. I honestly wish the Club all prosperity, and I sincerely hope that next season will be even more successful than last, successful though that undoubtedly was. It is much to be regretted that in this unfortunate business one has to deal with the Ground Committee as a whole, but I can assure the gentleman, a member of the Committee, who so generously allows the Club the free use of his land that neither I nor anyone in the Club or village has any but feelings of gratitude for his kindness, and I believe that the general impression is that he has acted without full knowledge of all the circumstances. – Yours faithfully,

CYRIL R. VINCENT

PAROCHIAL TEA. 13th Jan. 1905

On Tuesday, 3rd instant, the annual parochial tea in aid of the Home Missions of the Church of England was held in the National School. After tea an interesting lecture on “A Parish connected with the Victoria Docks” was delivered by the Rev. J. E. Gilbert, for many years local organizing secretary of the Society. The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides manipulated by Miss. Vidler, and in the course of his remarks Mr. Gilbert observed that during the long time he had lectured, and he had addressed Swavesey audiences on several occasions, it was only the second time his assistant had been a lady. The Vicar, who was in the chair, thanked Mr. Gilbert for his lecture, and announced that his visit would be the last he would pay in the character of organizing secretary, as he had accepted a living in Bedfordshire.

CHURCH DEFENCE. 13th Jan. 1905

On Tuesday last the Rev. H. J. Clayton, delegate from the Central Office of the Church Committee for the Church Defence and Church Instruction, gave an illustrated lantern lecture in the National School. Upwards of 200 persons were present from Swavesey, Over, Fen Drayton and Lolworth, and Mr. Clayton’s lucid and outspoken address, which was about the Puritans in the Church, and covered, roughly speaking, the period 1550 to 1660, was listened to with the greatest attention, and doubtless many persons left the room with very different ideas of the origin, work and effect of the Reformation and the influence and real aims of the Puritans than they had when they entered. The pictures of historical buildings, scenes, and documents, and of monarchs, statesmen, and divines were excellent, and again Miss Vidler proved a capable assistant. The Rev. T. Normandale, vicar of Over, in proposing a vote of thanks to Mr. Clayton, remarked that a copy of the “Solemn League and Covenant” referred to in the lecture appears in the register of Over Parish Church in Latin and English, signed by the then principal inhabitants of the parish. Mr. William Thorp, of Swavesey, briefly seconded. The Vicar of Swavesey dismissed the meeting with the “Grace”, after the hymn “O God, our help in ages past” had been sung. Admission was by ticket, for which no charge was made, and there was no collection.

RELIEF OF DISTRESS 20th Jan. 1905

A special collection has been made at Bethel Baptist Chapel in aid of the fund for relieving the distress at West Ham. The sum of £4 7s. 1d. was realised.

DEATH. 20th Jan. 1905

On Sunday evening the wife of Mr. Sam Wright, of Middle Watch, died. Mrs. Wright, who was 36 years of age, was the daughter of Mr. John Eason, a well-known inhabitant of the village. She has left two little children, one only three weeks old. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Wright and the family, who are greatly respected.

ENTERTAINMENT. 20th Jan. 1905

On Monday evening Mr. Bullman and party from St. Ives gave an excellent entertainment at Bethel Chapel in connection with the Chapel Temperance Society. Mr. Usher occupied the chair. Notwithstanding the inclement weather the attendance was good. A collection was made to defray expenses.

PARISH COUNCIL. 20th Jan. 1905

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Tuesday evening, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, chairman, presiding. Mr. H. S. Aldred was re-elected Parish Council representative on the Board of Managers of the National School, and Messrs. J. S. Goad and James Parsons were reappointed feoffees of Galon’s charity. It is noticeable that none of these gentlemen are members of the Parish Council. Mr. Ebenezer Parish, one of the overseers of Swavesey, attended the meeting and made a statement respecting the County Rate Assessment, from which it appeared that the assessment, including house property of the parishes of Conington, works out at 8s.8d. per acre, Boxworth 10s.1d., Lolworth 11s.0¼d., Fen Drayton £1 10s. 2¾d., Over £1 13s., and Swavesey £1 8s. 4d. Some discussion took place, and it was suggested that a Committee of the Parish Council should be appointed to enquire into the matter of the assessment, but no decision was arrived at.

SKATING. 27th Jan. 1905

As Mere Fen, Twenty Acres, and other skating places are not under water, there has been but little skating in and around Swavesey, though keen votaries of the patten have disported themselves on rough ice on the Dock, Navigation Drain, and on a narrow strip of frozen water between the bank and the river. Schoolchildren have made full use of the frozen ponds, and many have had duckings. Domestic tragedies have in consequence been numerous.

COUNTY COUNCIL EXTRAVAGANCE. 27th Jan. 1905

At the last meeting of the Parish Council the chairman read a communication from the Rev. S. T. Adams, thanking the Councillors for their recent resolution relating to the ever “increasing and reckless expenditure of public money” by the County Council, and stating that in his opinion as much care should be taken in the spending of public money as a man would take in the spending of his own.

ILLNESS OF MR. THOMAS CARTER. 27th Jan. 1905

It is with regret that we learn that Mr. Thomas Carter is lying seriously ill at his residence in Swavesey. Having attained the great age of four score years, he retired from active business as a farmer some fifteen months ago, but until quite recently he appeared as active as ever, and his well known figure was a familiar object in the village.

WELCOME GIFTS. 3rd Feb 1905

Mr. Thomas Payne has recently made his usual annual gifts to his cottage tenants and to certain aged persons in the village. They have been much appreciated.

MANOR COURT. 3rd Feb. 1905

Mr. Thomas Fowler, steward of the Manors of Swavesey Pembers, the Rectory in Swavesey, and the Hobbledods with Bennets, held his Court at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday.

RETURN HOME. 3rd Feb. 1905

Mr. Harold Dodson, younger son of Mr. John Dodson, of Swavesey, who has been trying his luck in the wilds of Canada, returned home on the 1st instant. He gives a poor account of farming prospects in that part of Canada in which he has been.

INCREASING RATES. 3rd Feb. 1905

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Swavesey District Conservative Association on Tuesday last, Mr. George Metcalfe moved the following resolution: - "That this Committee views with alarm the ever increasing expenditure of public money by the Cambs. County Council, thanks those members of the Council who have resisted the present policy of extravagance, and urges them to continue their efforts to oppose the imposition of any additional burdens on the already heavily oppressed ratepayers." Mr. W. H. Key seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously. It was decided that a copy of the resolution should be sent to Councillor Rev. S. T. Adams and to Councillor J. A. Wootten.

AGE OF RESIDENTS. 17th Feb. 1905

I have received some interesting information from Mr. William Twist Thorp, of Swavesey, respecting the longevity of the dwellers in that happy and healthy village. It seems that a short time ago Mr. Thorp read in a London newspaper that in a village in the South of England, with a population of some 1,900, a boast was made of the fact that the twenty-six oldest inhabitants averaged eighty years. Being confident that his native village of Swavesey with less than half of the number of inhabitants (viz., 899 at the 1901 census) could beat this record, Mr. Thorp set to work with praiseworthy diligence to make enquiries, and these enquiries have disclosed the following remarkable figures. In Swavesey at the present moment there are thirteen males and twenty-four females seventy-five years of age and upwards, three of the latter being over ninety and one within a few weeks of a century., viz. :- One female is 99 years of age, one 94, one 91, two 86, one 85, one 83, two 82, three 80, two 79, three 78, five 77, one 76, and two 75. Of the males two are 83, three 82, three 80, two 79, one 78, one 77, and one 75 years. This gives a total of 1,951 years for the twenty-four females, or an average of 81.29 years; and for the males a total of 1,040 years with an average of 80 years. Mr. Thorp is of opinion that there are at least a score of villagers between 70 and 75 years of age. Can any other village in the county beat this record? I wonder if Mr. Thorp can say how many of these veteran ladies and gentlemen drink beer and (ladies of course excepted) smoke tobacco. This information might be interesting in view of the determined attack on the public-houses in Swavesey.

SHEPHERDS' CLUB. 17th Feb. 1905

The annual feast of the "Wheatsheaf" Lodge of the Ancient Order of Shepherds was held at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday last. During the proceedings much interest was evinced in an old newspaper cutting which was shown by Mr. W. H. Key, giving a report of the feast about twenty-five years ago.

DEATH. 17th Feb. 1905

Miss Nellie Beresford, lately a resident in Swavesey, died in London on the 14th instant. Her many friends have received the sad news with deep regret.

MATTERS FOR THE PARISH COUNCIL. 24th Feb. 1905

A little bird suggests that the agenda of the next meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council might with advantage include a reference to the unsatisfactory condition of the site of the proposed Village Hall in High Street, and a report that the question at issue between the Council and the Lord of the Manor respecting the recreation ground has been settled.

A mournful wail has reached me from Swavesey respecting the dangerous condition of the roadway by the Swan pond. Attention had more than once been called to this matter in the "Express", but beyond inspections numerous nothing appears to have been done, and now I am told that it is difficult, if not actually dangerous, to take carts into and out of the gateways opening on to the road. I dare say something will be done in a hurry when a cart laden with milk or coal has been upset and a horse and a man injured. But why wait till then? I see the Parish Council took the matter up at its meeting on Tuesday last.

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 24th Feb. 1905

After an illness of five days Mrs. Hannah Metcalfe passed away on Monday night at the age of 78 years. She was the widow of Mr. William Metcalfe, who died 55 years ago, and until last week had never been laid up by illness in her life. She had lived under the same roof since she was four years old. Mrs. Metcalfe will be much missed in Swavesey, for she was greatly respected and was one of those notable women to whom people in trouble or illness instinctively turn for help. At parochial teas she was indispensable. The funeral took place in the parish churchyard yesterday (Thursday).

PARISH COUNCIL. 24th Feb. 1905

The Parish Council met on Tuesday evening under the presidency of the Rev. A. C. Vidler. The Chairman reported that he had objected to pay the amount charged, £8 19s., at the recent manorial court in respect of the copyhold land left to the parish by the late Mr. George Long, J.P., as he was not satisfied with certain of the items. He had since been in communication with the steward of the manor, who had assured him that all the fees charged were legal. The Council decided that the steward should be informed that as the fine was levied on the annual rental, no deduction being made for rates and quit rent, the Council considered that the fine was excessive. It appears that certain of the amounts charged referred to matters before Mr. Long's will was proved and before the Parish Council was in possession of the land. Some discussion took place relative to the much needed repairs to the roadway near Swan Pond, and the Clerk was instructed to write to the Chairman of the Rural District Council on the subject.

PARISH MEETING. 24th Feb. 1905

Notices have been posted on the Church and Chapel doors calling a Parish Meeting at the National School on Tuesday next, the 28th instant, at 7.0 p.m. The meeting is mainly to consider the threatened increase in the assessment of the parish, and it is therefore important that every ratepayer should attend.

FLOODED LAND. 24th Feb. 1905

Water is standing on the fen lands in consequence of the drains and brooks not having been properly cleared out. It is alleged that the sluice gates are out of order.

CONSERVATIVE SMOKING CONCERT AT SWAVESEY. 3rd March 1905

An excellent and crowded smoking concert, arranged by the Swavesey District Conservative Association, was held at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Monday evening. Mr. W. C. Cole presided and made a most genial chairman. (Full list of programme in newspaper).

During the evening, Mr. J. S. French, Conservative agent, delivered a forcible address on political affairs.

Mr. Hills, as pianist, banjoist, and comic singer, was excellent. Mr. Emslie sang his songs well, while Mr. Maltby, it is needless to say, kept his audience in roars of laughter. Mr. Gilby's songs were well received, and Mr. William Thorp had an enthusiastic greeting each time he mounted the platform. The instrumental trio by Messrs. Emslie, Evans, and Hills was well done. Encores were the order of the evening.

EARLY CLOSING. 10th Mar. 1905

By agreement amongst the proprietors, the grocers' and drapers' shops in Swavesey are now closed at 6 p.m. on Thursdays.

BELL RINGING. 10th Mar. 1905

In accordance with the terms of the bequest of the late George Long, Esq., J.P., the bells of the Parish Church were rung on the 2nd instant during the afternoon, and again during the evening. Mr Long's birthday was on the 2nd of March, and on that day in 1902 the bells were rung in his honour. Five weeks later on 6th April, as he was passing away, the bells were again ringing.

SWAVESEY RATEPAYERS AND THE NEW ASSESSMENT. 31st March. 1905

A well-attended parish meeting was held in the National Schoolroom, Swavesey, on Tuesday evening, the Rev. A. C. Vidler presiding. After the annual accounts of the parochial charities had been passed, the Chairman called upon Mr. George Metcalfe (the proposer of the resolution passed by the Parish Council on the 9th instant, in consequence of which the Parish meeting was summoned) to introduce the subject of the new valuation of the parish. Following Mr. Metcalfe's remarks considerable, and at times heated, discussion took place, in which Dr. Ellis (County Councillor), Messrs. W. C. Cole and A Day (Guardians), Messrs. Beaumont, William Thorp, James Williams, and others joined, and Mr. Ebenezer Parish, the only overseer who was in attendance, had an uncomfortable quarter of an hour. Mr. GEORGE METCALFE ultimately proposed the following resolution: "That the ratepayers of Swavesey, assembled in parish meeting, have learned with dismay that the Assessment Committee of the St. Ives Union propose to increase the gross assessment of the parish by upwards of £1,100; that they consider before so large an increase be made the matter should be closely enquired into; and for this purpose to appoint Messrs. W. C. Cole, A Day, J. S. Goad, William Thorp, and H. Wilderspin as a committee to enquire, report, and watch the interests of the ratepayers."

Mr. A Day seconded the resolution, which was carried nem.con.

It was decided to send copies of the resolution to the Assessment Committee of the St. Ives Union and to the Parish Council.

After the resolution had been adopted Mr. E. PARISH entered an emphatic protest. He reminded the meeting that the overseers were the responsible persons and not the Committee just appointed. The valuation would, he said, have to be signed by the Overseers, and he declared that he would not sign the valuation of nine other men. He was not accustomed to tell lies, and he refused to sign a lie. He was not, Mr. Parish added, a man to shirk his duty, but he declined to work in this matter with any Committee. It was a source of regret to him that this trouble had occurred during his year of office. There were, he contended, only two courses open. Was he to go on with the valuation, or was the Union Assessment Committee to send down an expert, which would cost the parish £200?

Mr. A. Day retorted that the cost of a professional valuation would not amount to anything approaching £200, and that there was a third course open, namely, that of protesting against the valuation.

Mr. GEORGE CLARKE had a happy thought. In his opinion, if the Conservative Government were replaced by a Radical Administration, both assessments and rates would be reduced.

The meeting eventually declined to give the Overseer any advice as to what course he should adopt. The subject then dropped.

Mr. GEORGE METCALFE moved: "That this parish meeting of the ratepayers of Swavesey respectfully, but emphatically, protests against the ever increasing expenditure already very heavy, of the Cambridgeshire County Council."

The meeting, which was the best attended for many years, lasted over two and a half hours, and was practically unanimous in its opposition to the proposals of the Assessment Committee, and to the extravagant expenditure of the County Council.

The one or two ratepayers who did not vote for the resolutions did not vote against them.

CONFIRMATION. 31st March 1905

The Right Rev. W. T. Harrison, D. D., late Bishop of Glasgow, held a confirmation, on behalf of the Bishop of Ely, in Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday morning. Forty candidates were presented, viz., nine from Swavesey, 17 from Over, nine from Fen Drayton, two from Somersham, and three from Willingham. There was a good congregation, and the Bishop's beautiful and touching addresses were listened to with great attention. In addition to the Vicar of Swavesey, the Vicars of Over, Fen Drayton, and Somersham were present.

MEMORIAL TREES. 31st March 1905.

On the 2nd of February 1901, the day of the Funeral of the late Queen Victoria. Mr T.W.Dunn, then a resident of Swavesey, had four cedars trees planted in different parts of Swavesey as a memorial of the historic event. These trees died, and on the 6th November, 1902, Mr Dunn planted four fresh trees, two of which declined to flourish, and on the 5th of March, 1904. Mr Dunn undeterred by previous failures, replaced them. Again one of the trees in Market Street has succumbed, and Mr Dunn has arranged to plant a new tree

ROADS. 31st March 1905

A leading Conservative of Swavesey, when walking along the debateable road by the Swan Pond in that village last Saturday evening, nearly got lost by falling into the hole which is known locally as the County Council Pit. When, oh when, ask Swavesey people, is this little bit of road to be attended to? County Council officials have surveyed it; County Council Committees have talked about it; the Parish Council has written letters respecting it which the District Council has courteously acknowledged, and passed on to the County Council. Still nothing has been done. I cannot help thinking that there must be some neglect somewhere; or is it a case of red tape?

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF AGE. 21st April 1905

A SWAVESEY CENTENARIAN

On Sunday next Mrs. Ann Wolfenden, of Swavesey, whose maiden surname was Butler, will, if spared, attain the great age of one hundred years. She was born on St. George's Day, 1805, in the neighbouring village of Fen Drayton, where her baptism is duly recorded in the register of the Parish Church. The earlier years of her long life were spent at Fen Drayton; but her marriage to Mr. Wolfenden, a farmer, took place at Boxworth, and there she lived for many years. Subsequently she resided at Comberton, removing thence to Over, where she remained about twenty years, and five years ago she migrated to Swavesey to live with Mrs. Samuel Day. For half a century Mrs. Wolfenden has been a widow; she had three children, two sons and a daughter, all of whom are dead, and she has no grandchildren. Through the efforts of her friends she is in receipt of a pension from the Benevolent Farmers' Association. Two distinguishing qualities of Mrs. Wolfenden's are her cheerfulness and her wonderful thoughtfulness for the comfort and welfare of other people. Unlike most persons who have attained a great age, she has had her share of illness, having suffered from smallpox, jaundice, bronchitis, etc; but notwithstanding these illnesses and her heavy tale of years, she is still in fair health and is active, her appetite is good, her memory is excellent, but she is slightly deaf; she is able to wait upon herself, and takes her walks abroad whenever the weather permits. As often as possible she goes to church for the Holy Communion, and she hopes to be present at the midday service at Swavesey Church on Easter Day.

A CENTENARIAN COMMUNICANT. 28th April 1905

I hear that Mrs. Ann Wolfenden, of Swavesey, to whose approaching centenary reference was made in the columns of the "Express" last week, successfully passed her hundredth birthday on Sunday last, and quite a number of friends had the unique honour of a taste of this aged lady's hundredth birthday cake. Mr. Wolfenden attended Divine service at the Parish Church on Easter Day morning, and at the conclusion of the service partook of Holy Communion. She was wheeled to and from the Church in a bath chair, but took her place in an ordinary chair, and was an attentive follower of the service throughout. Needless to say she was the recipient of many and hearty congratulations and good wishes. She is, indeed, a marvellous old lady, possessing almost the whole of her faculties unimpaired, active and cheerful, and may well hope to realise some at any rate of the "many happy returns" so frequently wished her on Sunday last.

(handwritten note attached states incorrect in several particulars. She did not go to Matins, she sat in a seat and remained in church for only about a quarter of an hour.)

PARISH COUNCIL. 28th April 1905

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Wednesday, the 19th instant, when the following Councillors were present: - Messrs. W. H. Key (in the chair), Jethro Garner, Jethro Linford, G. Metcalfe, R. Norman, J Wells, and Winpress. The Rev. A. C. Vidler was re-elected chairman, and Mr. W. H. Key, vice-chairman. Messrs. John Gilby and William Twist Thorp were appointed overseers, and Mr. G. E. Foster treasurer. Mr. S. Wilderspin, senior, was again selected for the offices of pindar and crier.

PARISH CHURCH. 28th April 1905

The Holy Week, Good Friday and Easter services at the Parish Church have been well attended. On Good Friday a devout congregation was present at the "Three hours' service," at which the addresses on the Seven Last Words from the Cross were given by the Vicar. On Easter Day the mid-day celebration of Holy Communion was sung to music by Rev. E. V. Hall, and at Evensong the anthem was Samuel Webbe's "Christ being raised from the dead." The collections throughout the day were, in accordance with custom, given to the Vicar as an Easter offering. An alteration has recently been made in the musical arrangements of the Church, Miss Mary Hawkes having been appointed organist, and Mr. H. Beaumont choirmaster.

RATEPAYERS' COMMITTEE. 28th April 1905

The Committee appointed at the recent parish meeting to "enquire and report" respecting the reassessment of the parish now in progress, and to "watch the interests of the ratepayers" met for the first time on Monday evening. Mr. A Day was selected as chairman, and Mr. R. Mitham undertook to act as secretary of the committee.

SWAVESEY FIRST XI v. NEXT XVI. 28th April 1905

This match, the opening game of the season, was played at Swavesey on Easter Monday, and resulted in a win for the First XI by 51 runs on the first innings.

VESTRY MEETING. 5th May 1905

The Easter Vestry was held under the tower in the Parish Church on Thursday, 27th April, the Vicar presiding. The Vicar again nominated Mr. W. H. Key as his warden, and Mr. J. Wells was re-elected people's warden. Messrs. W. Cain, J. Dodson, Jethro Gardner, G. Metcalfe, P. Metcalfe, and W. T. Thorp were again appointed sidesmen. After the accounts connected with the church had been partly gone into it was decided to adjourn their further consideration to a meeting to be held on a later date. The Vicar announced that as the Bishop of Ely had declined to receive a parting gift from the diocese on the ground that he did not wish to add to the burdens of the clergy and people, it had been decided to present an address to his lordship signed by clergy and laymen representing the different parishes. Mr. Key has been appointed to sign on behalf of the parishioners of Swavesey.

RATEPAYERS' COMMITTEE. 5th May 1905

A meeting of the Ratepayers' Committee was held on Monday evening, but it was not possible to proceed with the question of the reassessment of the parish, as the late overseers had declined to hand over the documents relating thereto. After considerable discussion, the Secretary was instructed to write to Mr. E. Parish, one of the late overseers, requesting him to hand to the Committee at once all documents, correspondence, etc., relating to the parish now in his possession, and to state his authority for with-holding the same.

RATES. 12th May 1905

I hear that the Swavesey Ratepayers' Committee again met on Monday evening, and at last found themselves in possession of the valuation list, prepared by the late Overseers, which had been sent to the present Overseers by the clerk to the St. Ives Union, but it transpired that the late Overseers still declined to hand over to their successors the cheque-book and other parish documents, though they kindly expressed their willingness to lend the cheque-books if wanted for the purpose of drawing a cheque. The Committee began their examination of the valuation list, and in their opinion found many of the items unjust, irregular and incomplete. For instance, it was observed that in their anxiety to make alterations the late Overseers had in more than one case struck out the amount of the old valuation, and had not entered a new valuation, the result being that the property was not assessed in the revised list. In another case a member of the committee discovered that two fields occupied by him of about sixteen acres had been reassessed 33 per cent above the rental; and a small garden of 13 poles, subject to flooding, owned and occupied by a struggling widow – her only property – had been revalued at five times the amount of the old valuation. The Committee decided to revalue the whole parish.

CRICKET CLUB. 12th May 1905

The Swavesey Cricket Club has entered again this year for the Papworth Challenge Cup, and has been drawn to play the first round against Grantchester. This match will be decided at Swavesey before the 1st July, but the precise date has not yet been settled. The Cup Committee, at a meeting held at St. Ives on 1st May, decided that no village should be allowed to join with another for purposes of the competition, as has been the case in previous years. The newly-laid pitch was used for the first time for the match between Swavesey and Willingham on the 4th inst., and was found satisfactory.

SWAVESEY v. WILLINGHAM . 12th May 1905

This match was played at Swavesey on Thursday, 4th May and resulted in a victory for Swavesey by four wickets.

WEDDING AT SWAVESEY. 12th May 1905

MR. T. NEWNHAM – MISS MABEL KEY.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Key, third daughter of Mr. William Henry Key, who has been for many years churchwarden of Swavesey, to Mr. Thomas Newnham, of Twickenham, and formerly of Crawley, Sussex, took place at the Parish Church, Swavesey, on Monday afternoon, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar, officiating. In consequence doubtless of the great respect in which the bride's father and family are held in and around Swavesey the villagers and friends attended in unusually large numbers. The service was choral. John Keble's hymn "The Voice that breather o'er Eden" was sung at the entrance of the bride, who was accompanied by her father and attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Pattie Key (sister) and Miss Grace Newnham (sister of the bridegroom), Mr. H. G. Key acted as best man. The happy pair left the church to the stirring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bells rang merrily as the bridal party, which was restricted to immediate relatives, returned to Mr. Key's residence for the wedding breakfast, where they were joined by the Vicar. As the ceremony had to be held late in the day, there was by special request a celebration of the Holy Communion in the early morning, thus enabling the bridal pair to comply with the rubric in the Prayer Book.

The bride's gown was of white Japanese silk trimmed with lace, a simple but most becoming garment. Under her veil she wore a wreath of orange blossom, and instead of a bouquet she carried an ivory bound Prayer Book, the gift of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids were in pretty blue voile dresses with picture hats to match, and each wore a cross, the gift of the bridegroom. The newly wedded couple left Swavesey Station for London by the 6. 15 p.m. train, many persons turning out into the street to wish them good luck and the church bells again rang out bravely.

The presents were numerous, amongst them being a framed picture of the Holy Family given by the teachers and scholars belonging to the Sunday School of St. Michael's Church, Camden Town, where for the last three years the bride has been a devoted worker. It may be of interest to mention that for two or three years the bride was in charge of the Gamlingay Post Office, and that she has since been engaged in a similar capacity in London.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 19th May 1905

At the meeting of the Executive Committee on the 11th inst., Mr. W. C. Cole was unanimously elected chairman of the Swavesey District Conservative Association. A concert is being arranged for Feast Tuesday evening, 6th June, to take place in the National School.

FRUIT. 19th May 1905

Gooseberry pulling began in Swavesey on Monday last.

CRICKET. 19th May 1905

SWAVESEY 2ND XI v. OAKINGTON 2ND XI

This match was played at Swavesey on Thursday, 11th May, and resulted in a win for Oakington by 45 runs on the first innings. Play began an hour and a half after the time fixed, owing to the late arrival of the visitors, who were much stronger in every respect than the home team. As the season progresses it will be interesting to compare the Oakington club's first eleven with its second string.

AT SWAVESEY. 26th May 1905

The Vicar, who is the chairman of the Managers of Swavesey School, attended the school on Wednesday morning, and briefly addressed the children on the subject of Empire Day. He afterwards presented for the use of the scholars, two bats, four balls, and a skipping rope. Before dismissal the children sang “God Save the King.”

CRICKET. 26th May 1905

SWAVESEY 2ND XI v. NEEDINGWORTH

This match was played at Needingworth on Wednesday, 17th May, and resulted in a win for Needingworth by 28 runs on the first innings.

In the second innings Needingworth scored 49 and Swavesey 21 for one wicket. The Swavesey team cannot be congratulated on their fielding, as in the first innings no less than seven catches were missed or dropped.

ROUNABOUTS AND THE SWAVESEY COUNCILS. 26th May 1905

A steam roundabout was set up on Monday last in Market Street, where the Rural District Council holds sway. During the afternoon a representative of the Council requested the proprietress to “move on,” as the Council had not given her permission. It is understood that she declined to obey – at any rate the roundabout was hard at work on Monday and Tuesday evenings – and that subsequently she came into conflict with the Chairman of the Parish Council. It is also reported that but for her inability to come to terms with the person who hires the herbage on the Recreation Ground, the proprietress might have pitched her show there, and if that had been the case it would have been interesting to see what action the Parish Council would have taken, as it is understood the bye-laws regulating the Recreation Ground absolutely prohibit the pitching of shows, etc., there. Apart from this friction between the lady and the Council officials, the visit of the steam horses has resulted in some of the savings of the children for Swavesey Feast, which begins on June 4th, having been spent prematurely, and in the dwellers in Market Street having had their peace and quietness disturbed a fortnight earlier than usual.

STONE THROWING. 26th May 1905

An epidemic of stone throwing appears to have broken out amongst the children of the village of Swavesey. One shop window has been broken, and certain mothers are not well pleased with their offspring, as they have been given to understand that they will be expected to settle the glazier’s bill. The clock outside the National School has also been damaged lately, notwithstanding a County Council notice prominently displayed underneath calling attention to the pains and penalties attached to the reprehensible practice of throwing stones.

HISTON v. SWAVESEY. 26th May 1905

This match was played at Histon on Saturday, 20th May, and resulted in a victory for Histon by 23 runs.

CRICKET CLUB. 2nd June 1905

The match between Swavesey and Grantchester in the first round of the Papworth Cup has been fixed for 11 a.m. on Thursday, 29th June, at Swavesey. Three cricket matches have been arranged for feast week, viz., on Monday 5th June, against Lolworth, at 1.30 p.m.; on Tuesday, against Elsworth, at 11 a.m.; and on Wednesday the Second XI against Longstanton Second XI., at 1.30 p.m. Mr. E. S. Montagu has sent a donation of one guinea to the funds of the club.

CONCERT. 2nd June 1905

A concert, under the auspices of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, is to take place on feast Tuesday at 7.30 p.m. in the National School. The entertainment will not be political, and there will be no address or speeches.

NARROW ESCAPE. 2nd June 1905

The infant daughter of Mr. David Prime had a narrow escape from death on Sunday evening. She was in a perambulator near the gate of the cemetery in the charge of some children who wandered away in their play. The baby shook the perambulator, which ran into the large brook by the side of Topleys, and turned over with the infant immersed in mud and water. Fortunately, Mr. T. Lack, of Willingham, happened to see the mishap and without hesitation jumped into the brook, the mud and water reaching to his waist, and managed to extricate the child and carriage. But for the prompt action of Mr. Lack, the child must have been suffocated. She, however, appears none the worse for her mud bath.

VISIT OF MR. RAYMOND GREENE. M.P. 2nd June 1905

In response to the invitation of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, Mr. Raymond Greene, M.P., will visit the parish on Tuesday next, being feast Tuesday. He will be at the Schools at 2 o'clock for the cricket luncheon.

DIOCESAN CHORAL FESTIVAL AT SWAVESEY. 2nd June 1905

On Thursday afternoon, Ascension Day, a choral festival was held in Swavesey Church, the order of service being that set to music for Church Festivals, arranged and edited by the Committee of Music of The Ely Diocesan Council of Church Music. For months past the choirs of Conington, Fen Drayton, Girton, Oakington, Over, and Swavesey have been practising the music under their respective choirmasters, superintended by the Rev. T. Normandale, vicar of Over, and the result yesterday, speaking generally, was most satisfactory, and reflected great credit on the trainers of the choirs.

A fair congregation – it ought to have been much larger – assembled at 3.30 in the large and beautiful Church. The choirs, which numbered 150 voices, were divided into surpliced and non-surpliced, the former, which included Swavesey, and part of Over, sat in the chancel, and the latter in the front seats of the nave. Punctually to time Rev. T. Normandale ascended the conductor's platform, which was erected in place of the Litany faldstool. The surplice choirs entered in procession, headed by the Swavesey banner, bearing the cross of St. Andrew, to whom the Church is dedicated, the processional hymn being "Love Divine, all loves excelling," by Charles Wesley, to music by the late Sir John Stainer. The Vicar of Swavesey, Rev. A. C. Vidler, said the first part of Evensong, the first lesson being read by Rev. M. S. Kemmis, rector of Conington, and the second by the Rev. H. G. Hooton, vicar of Oakington. The three special psalms were well sung to single chants by Dr. Hayes, T. Aylward, and Walmisley respectively, the pointing being particularly good. The "Magnificat", "Nunc Dimitis" and an anthem were sung, the latter rendered with great zest and intelligence. The latter part of Evensong was sung by the Rev. Evelyn Young, vicar of Fen Drayton. The Rev. H. Sayers, rector of Bluntisham preached an excellent sermon. During the collection Dr. Julian's hymn, "Great God, to Thee our hearts we raise," added to and revised specially for the festival by the author, was sung to Sullivan's ever-welcome "Bishopgarth." After the "Te Deum" and the Blessing the surpliced choirs left the Church to the strains of James Montgomery's hymn, "Palms of Glory", the music to which was by the Archbishop of York. Mr. Joseph Hill, financial secretary to the County Council, presided most ably at the organ.

After the service the choirs had tea in the Vicarage grounds, and before separating Mr. NORMANDALE proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Vidler for their kindness, and to Mr. Hill for his welcome services. He specially commended the care which had been bestowed in the training of the individual choirs, and he spoke of the benefits accruing to choirs working and singing together.

Mr. VIDLER thanked Mr. Normandale for his kind remarks, and observed that the success of the festival was mainly due to Mr. Normandale's untiring efforts.

TELEGRAPH ARRANGEMENTS. 9th June 1905

Mr. Raymond Greene sent a telegram on Tuesday to a gentleman in Swavesey, which required an immediate answer. The message took exactly three hours and twenty minutes to get from London to the addressee's house. The Swavesey instrument being out of repair, the message was sent to Over, and it took one hour and eighteen minutes to convey the message from Over, under two miles. It required no less than two hours and three minutes to transmit the message from London to over.

A CORRECTION. 9th June 1905

In our report in last Friday's issue of the Diocesan Choral Festival at Swavesey on the previous day, it was stated that the Oakington choir was not surplice. This was incorrect, as the Oakington choir wear surplices.

SWAVESEY FEAST – SPOILED BY RAIN. 9th June 1905

VISIT OF MR. RAYMOND GREENE. EVENING CONCERT.

Swavesey Feast has come and gone, and has resulted in another failure. There was a goodly number of people in the village on Sunday evening, but the attendance at the Parish Church was not exceptionally large, and included many visitors from Over. A band in the interest of the Primitive Methodist Chapel perambulated the streets during the afternoon and evening, and doubtless kept many people from Church and Chapel. At the Parish Church in the evening the Psalms, Canticles, and anthem were those at the choral festival. The Vicar preached a most interesting sermon on Village Feasts.

After the morning, Monday was a thoroughly wet day, and the half-day match between Swavesey and Lolworth could not be played. Tuesday was still wetter. The Elsworth cricket XI., under its genial captain, Mr. Sam. Braybrooke, duly arrived, but play was impossible.

Mr. Raymond Greene's visit was also spoiled. When he arrived, accompanied by Mr. Cole, the rain was coming down in torrents, and the streets were clear of people. Mr. Greene attended the Cricket Club luncheon in the National School. Mr. Ellis Long, captain, presided, and supporting Mr. Greene were Mr. Cole, chairman of Swavesey District Conservative Association, Mr. R. E. Bartley, Rev. A. C. Vidler, Dr. Ellis, and Mr. Fred Carter, of Bury St. Edmunds. Amongst the general company were Mr. H. S. Aldred, Mr. H. Beaumont, of Swavesey, and Mr. S. Braybrooke, of Elsworth. After luncheon, which was excellently supplied by Mr. George Clarke of the Sir Harry Smith, Dr. ELLIS, at the request of Mr. Cole, proposed the health of Mr. Greene. Mr. ELLIS LONG supported. Mr. GREENE briefly replied, wishing the cricket clubs of Swavesey and Elsworth all success, and urging the importance of cricket clubs. After luncheon the rain rendered it impossible for Mr. Greene to visit the cricket ground, or the Feast, as had been arranged. He, however, met a few friends at the house of Mr. Cole before he left by motor-car for Cambridge Station at 4 o'clock.

In the evening an excellent concert in the National School was provided by the Swavesey Conservative Association. The rain, however, interfered with the attendance which was far from satisfactory.

Where all was excellent it is ungrateful to award special commendation. The efforts of Mrs. J. S. French and the Misses Charter were greatly appreciated, so were the songs of the genial Vicar of Over. The Vicar of Swavesey's reading about school boy excuses was very amusing. Of the Swavesey representatives Miss Hawkes and Messrs. William Thorp and Gilby honestly earned the hearty applause accorded them; Mr. Hill's songs and banjo brought down the house. But the bright particular star of the concert was Mr. Archie Naish with his sketches and songs. Before the ending of the concert Mr. BARTLY proposed a vote of thanks to the performer; Rev. T. NORMANDALE replied. Miss Hawkes, the youthful Miss Normandale, and Mr. Bowman acted as efficient accompanists. The platform was effectively decorated by Mr. Graves, gardener at Swavesey Manor, Miss L Beaumont, and Messrs. H. Beaumont, Gilby, and William Thorp.

SWAVESEY 2ND XI, v. A SCRATCH TEAM. 9th June 1905

This match was played at Swavesey in place of that arranged for feast Wednesday with Longstanton, and resulted in a win for the second eleven by eight runs.

SWAVESEY MARRIED v. SINGLE. 16th June 1905

This match was played at Swavesey on Thursday, 8th June, and resulted in a win for the married men by 25 runs on the first innings.

SWAVESEY SECOND XI v. LONGSTANTON. 16th June 1905

This match was played at Longstanton on Whit-Monday and resulted in a win for the home team by 32 runs on the first innings.

ELSWORTH v. SWAVESEY. 23rd June 1905

This match was played at Elsworth on Tuesday, June 20th, and resulted in a win for Swavesey by an innings and 67 runs.

DEATH OF MR. JETHRO GARNER. 23rd June 1905

We regret to have to announce the death of Mr. Jethro Garner, farmer, of Swavesey, which occurred during the early hours of Tuesday morning, the 20th inst, after a very short illness. Mr. Garner, who was attending to his duties as usual as late as Thursday last, succumbed to an attack of double pneumonia. He was the son and successor of the late Mr. Joseph Garner, who also attained a good old age, and he had lived all his life in Swavesey, and it is believed on the same farm. Though quiet and unobtrusive in his habits, he was a useful man in the parish, and at the time of his death held the office of Parish Councillor, School Manager, and Sidesman. He has left a widow and three daughters to mourn his loss. The funeral is to take place this (Friday) afternoon in the churchyard of St. Andrew, Swavesey. Had Mr. Garner survived until the following day he would have attained the age of 71 years.

A LARGE MUSHROOM. 23rd June 1905

Mr. W. H. Chamberlain, of the Rising Sun, on Tuesday last found in a field in Swavesey a mushroom which measured 16 inches in diameter and 39 inches in circumference.

FUNERAL. 30th June 1905

The funeral of the late Mr. Jethro Garner took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Friday last, in the presence of the widow, daughters, and brother of the deceased, and many other relatives. Representatives from the various public bodies on which Mr. Garner had served also attended to show their respect and sympathy. To the list of offices held by Mr. Garner at the time of his death, mentioned last week, the following may be added: - Feoffee of Galon's Charity, and member of the Committee of the Stock Club. At the time of the Coronation festivities the children of the village had reason to be grateful to Mr. Garner, for not only was he the moving spirit of the Committee charged with their amusement, but he lent the field in which they spent several happy hours on the memorable day, out of harm's way.

MR. ROBINSON MITHAM'S ILLNESS. 30th June 1905

It will be a satisfaction to the many friends of Mr. Robinson Mitham, who was lying seriously ill of pneumonia at the time his old friend and colleague, Mr. Jethro Garner, succumbed to the same disease, to learn that he is progressing favourably towards convalescence.

LOLWORTH v. SWAVESEY. 30th June 1905

This match was played at Lolworth on Monday, and resulted in a win for Swavesey by six wickets.

SUDDEN DEATH. 7th July 1905

The wife of Mr. T. Coulson, of Boxworth End, who had been an invalid for years past, died suddenly on Friday evening. The case was reported to the Coroner, but he decided that it was not necessary to hold an inquest. The funeral took place in the Parish Churchyard on Monday afternoon.

PAPWORTH CUP FIRST ROUND. 7th July 1905

SWAVESEY v. GRANTCHESTER.

The match between Swavesey and Granchester in the first round of the Papworth Cup Competition was brought off at Swavesey on Thursday, June 29th, and terminated in a tie on the first innings. Owing to the qualification as to residence required by the Cup regulations, neither Club could play its full strength. There was considerable excitement towards the end of the first innings, owing to shortness of time it was evident that the match would be decided on that innings. Even allowing for the wet condition of the ground, it must be admitted that 12 byes, 2 leg byes, and 6 wides (one went for 4) is not a creditable performance, and it is to be hoped, for the sake of the village team, that when the match is replayed the Swavesey wicket-keeper will be more successful. The game towards the finish was productive rather of amusement than strict cricket, as overthrows were the order of the day.

SWAVESEY v. ST. IVES. 7th July 1905

Played at St. Ives on Thursday, July 6th, and resulted in a win for the home team by 27 runs.

SWAVESEY 2nd XI v. NEEDINGWORTH. 14th July 1905

Return match played at Swavesey on Monday last, and resulted in a win for the visitors by twelve runs on the first innings. Owing to the late arrival of the visitors play did not begin until more than an hour after the time fixed, consequently the match had to be decided on the first innings. It is doubtful whether the policy adopted by the Swavesey Club this year of putting its 2nd XI. against the best teams of certain Clubs is a wise one, but doubtless it was adopted to give more members a chance of distinguishing themselves. In this match, at any rate, it was a mistake, as the visitors were far and away the stronger lot.

MISHAP TO MR. E. PARISH. 21st July 1905

We are sorry to say that Mr. Ebenezer Parish, chairman of the Swavesey Liberal Association, and Radical candidate for the Swavesey District at the last County Council Election, met with a nasty accident last week, which has necessitated his keeping in bed. Whilst superintending his haymakers, he fell from a cart and injured his leg. It is satisfactory to learn that he is progressing favourably.

STORM. 21st July 1905

A thunderstorm visited Swavesey on Sunday afternoon. Heavy rain fell, and, being much needed, was greeted with satisfaction by the gardeners, amateur and professional.

DEATH OF THE SWAVESEY CENTENARIAN. 21st July 1905

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Ann Wolfenden, of Swavesey, who celebrated her hundredth birthday on St. George's Day, and whose portrait appeared in these columns on the 5th May. A cold developed into an attack of bronchitis, and, lacking strength to fight the disease, after a few days' illness, she passed peacefully away at 1 p.m. yesterday (Thursday), conscious almost to the end, and as thoughtful as ever for the comfort and convenience of her friends. Mrs. Wolfenden attended service at Swavesey Parish Church as recently as Sunday, 2nd inst., and on her return home that day remarked to a friend that it would be the last time she would be able to go.

CENTENARIAN'S FUNERAL. 21st July 1905

The mortal remains of the late Mrs. Wolfenden, whose death at one hundred years of age we announced last week, were laid to rest in Swavesey churchyard in the cool of the evening on Saturday last, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar, officiating. On the coffin were wreaths and crosses sent by friends and relatives. Amongst those who followed were Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell (niece), of Oakington, Mrs. Ginn, Mr. G. Robinson, Mrs. Downs Robinson, and Mrs. Stacey of Over; and Mr. and Mrs. G. Day, Miss Pook, Miss Hawkes, Miss Key, and Miss L Day, of Swavesey. The passing bell was tolled on Friday at Over, where Mrs. Wolfenden resided for over twenty years before going to Swavesey, as well as at Swavesey. On Sunday morning the Vicar of Swavesey made a touching reference to Mrs. Wolfenden in his sermon, and specially mentioned her trustful and contented life, and also her Communion on Easter Day which this year fell upon her hundredth birthday. Special hymns were sung at the morning and evening services.

THE CROPS. 21st July 1905

The cutting of the winter barley began a week ago. The crops of all kinds of corn are extremely good, the best for many years past; an experienced farmer born half a century ago going so far as to say they are far the best he can remember. Peas and beans, especially the latter, will yield exceptionally well. Roots are splendid. As regards the hay crop, on the Fen lands the yield has been good, but on the higher land it has been lighter.

CRICKET. 21st July 1905

The return match between Swavesey and Histon is announced for tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, at Swavesey. Villagers are anxiously inquiring when the match with Grantchester for the Papworth Cup is to be replayed. It is understood that the Swavesey men are ready and willing.

SCHOOL TREAT. 28th July 1905

The children attending the Sunday School belonging to the Parish Church had their annual treat on Tuesday. Assembling at the National School, they marched to church, where a short service was held, after which they had tea, games, racing, etc., in the grounds of the Vicarage and an adjacent field. The Rev. Dr. Morgan, master of Jesus College Cambridge and Mrs. Morgan, and the Rev. J. Watkins, rural dean, and Mrs. Watkins were present for a short time. In the evening parents and friends attended in goodly numbers. After the prizes for running, etc., had been given away by Mrs. Vidler, the Vicar (Rev. A. C. Vidler) briefly thanked all the helpers for their kind assistance, and said that he was glad to welcome his parishioners and friends but wished more would come. Mr. W. H. Key, churchwarden, proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Vidler. Mr. J. Wells, churchwarden, seconded, and the vote was carried by acclamation. In responding Mr. Vidler specially mentioned the great help he had received from the churchwardens, and from Mr. H. Beaumont and Mr. J. Gilby.

A REASONABLE REQUEST. 28th July 1905

We have received the following from a correspondent resident in Swavesey: -
“As the ‘Express’ is read by so many people in this village, I write to ask those persons who night after night make so much noise by talking and disputing in the road at Middle Watch to have a little thought for their neighbours, many of whom go to bed early because they have to get up early, and it’s been hard to work after one’s night’s rest has been disturbed.”

SWAVESEY v. HISTON. 28th July 1905

This match was played at Swavesey on Saturday, and resulted in a draw. To Swavesey people the match was chiefly interesting in consequence of the reappearance on the cricket field of Sidney Prime and J. Marriott, two old favourites, neither of whom had previously played this season. They had a cordial reception, as also did Mr. William Thorp, who officiated as umpire for the first time this year. Dr. Ellis, of Swavesey, played for Histon, scoring two runs and displaying great activity in the field.

CHILD'S NARROW ESCAPE. 4th Aug. 1905

A Swavesey resident had an unpleasant experience last Friday. When passing by the back of his house he noticed a pony gazing into a pond, and thinking something was wrong he went to the pond himself. At the end of a plank projecting into the water, he observed bubbles rising, and further investigation showed him something white lying on the mud in several feet of water. He fetched a rake and managed to bring the white object to the surface, and was horrified to find that he had fished up the apparently lifeless body of his own little two year old girl. Calling for help he promptly carried the child into his house, and by dint of persevering, rubbing, extending of the arms, etc., had the satisfaction after a time to restore the little one to life. Next day the child was none the worse for its adventure, but she would undoubtedly have lost her life had her father not kept his head and known what to do.

WEDDING. 11th Aug. 1905

On Monday afternoon Miss Ellen Mary, the fourth daughter of Mr. William Thurbon, basket-maker and local agent for the "Cambridge Express", was married to Mr. George Fagan of London, in the Parish Church of St. Andrew Swavesey, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in a gown of cream voile. Her bridesmaids were the Misses Bertha Metcalfe, Gertrude Baker (cousin), Gladys Dodson (niece) and Ida Spearman, the two latter being children. The bridegroom was accompanied by Mr. Walter Thurbon as best man. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the residence of the bride's parents, and during the afternoon were photographed, and high festival was kept up until a late hour. The presents were numerous and useful.

DEATH OF MR. JABEZ GARNER. 11th Aug. 1905

We regret to announce the death at the age of 69 years of Mr. Jabez Garner, which took place at his residence in Swavesey on Wednesday after a long illness. Mr. Garner, who was noted for his droll sayings, and was known amongst his many friends and acquaintances as “Farmer”, had spent the whole of his life in Swavesey. He was a dealer by trade, and at one time was in a large way of business. The surviving Swavesey Shepherds’ Club owes much to his services and business ability, and for many years he was one of its trustees. The Trinity Beagles will miss him, as he looked keenly after their interests in the Swavesey district, and almost invariable accompanied them in their runs.

FUNERAL. 18th Aug. 1905

The funeral of the late Mr. Jabez Garner, whose death was announced last week, took place in the Churchyard on Sunday afternoon, the Vicar officiating.

SAD DEATH OF A CHILD. 18th Aug. 1905

Under very sad circumstances, William, the only surviving child of Mr. and Mrs. William Kester, of Church End, Swavesey, died early on Saturday morning last, at the age of three years and nine months, after a very short illness. He was buried in Swavesey Churchyard by the Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar on Tuesday afternoon, and the funeral was attended by many sorrowing relatives and sympathising friends, to whom the little fellow, with his manly-boyish ways and quaint sayings, had greatly endeared himself. The coffin was borne to the church and grave by six young ladies. The beautiful wreaths and crosses were too numerous for all to be placed upon the tiny coffin, so some were carried by the mourners. They were from the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Spolton (grandparents), Mr. and Mrs. William Spolton, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Spolton, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Daintree, Mrs. Allgood and Mrs. Clabyn (uncles and aunts), Miss L. Pook (Infant School mistress), and from the Ladies at the University Settlement, Blackfriar’s Road, London, S.E. Great sympathy has been evinced on all sides for the bereaved parents, as only rather more than two years ago their little daughter died, and now their son has been called away and they are left childless. Mr. and Mrs. Kester desire to return their sincerest thanks for the many kind enquiries and expressions of sympathy they have received.

GALLANT RESCUE. 18th Aug. 1905

Mr. C. H. Stevens, shoemaker, of Swavesey, late of St. Ives, on Monday evening gallantly rescued from drowning a lad named Bedford, belonging to Needingworth, who was bathing in the Ouse near Holywell. Whilst walking along the bank, Mr. Stevens noticed that the boy was in danger, and at once proceeded to undress with the view of assisting him, but seeing the lad sink, he jumped into the river partly clothed and after some difficulty managed to get him ashore.

DEATH OF MRS. VIDLER, OF SWAVESEY. 1st Sept 1905

We much regret to announce the death of Mrs. Vidler, the wife of the Vicar of Swavesey, who passed away during the early hours of Wednesday morning, at the Vicarage, after a long illness. The people of Swavesey were not prepared for the sad event, as for some days it was known Mrs. Vidler was slowly sinking, and on Sunday the Vicar was unable to leave her bedside, the morning and evening services in Swavesey Church being taken by the Rev. T. Normandale, vicar of the neighbouring parish of Over.

The funeral will take place in Swavesey Churchyard to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon.

FUNERAL OF MRS. VIDLER AT SWAVESEY. 8th Sept 1905

The funeral of the late Mrs. Vidler, wife of the Vicar of Swavesey, whose death, after a long illness at the age of 57, we deeply regretted to announce last week, took place at Swavesey on Saturday afternoon. The villagers attended in large numbers as a last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased lady and in sympathy with their bereaved Vicar, at least four hundred persons being present in the church and at the graveside, all of whom, with hardly an exception, were in mourning. Beautiful white flowers were on the altar, which was vested in red. Instead of the tolling of a single bell before the service the whole peal was rung muffled. The body, enclosed in a massive oak coffin, covered with wreaths and crosses, and resting on a bier draped in purple and decked with wreaths, was carried from the Vicarage on the shoulders of eight bearers.

The sad procession passed slowly by way of the Vicarage drive to the main road and thence to the churchyard gates, where the clergy and choir, before whom a small wooden cross was borne, were waiting. On the way to the church porch the Burial Sentences were said by the Rev. G. P. Irby (brother-in-law), S.P.G. Chaplain at Dinan, France. After a hymn and lesson, the body was borne down the church, preceded by the choir and followed by the mourners towards the graveside. The bells again were heard; this time half muffled; and then after a short silence they burst forth in full song.

The grave – a brick one – around which white flowers on a back ground of green leaves had been thoughtfully arranged by Mrs. G. Long, is near the handgate leading to the Vicarage garden.

Mr. Robinson Mitham, of Swavesey, was undertaker, and Mr. John Netherwood was responsible for the brickwork of the grave.

A SNAKE IN THE GRASS. 15th Sept 1905

This does not refer to a human being, but to a reptile of the oviparous kind. On Sunday afternoon, whilst strolling through a field near Whitton Quarter, in the occupation of Mr. Few, young Frank Williams came across a long snake in the act of swallowing a toad. He promptly dispatched the reptile and bore it home in triumph dangling across the stick with which he had killed it. The snake measured about a yard and a quarter in length.

HORSE IN TROUBLE, & MAN PERPLEXED. 15th Sept. 1905.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr George Tompkins took a horse and cart belonging to Mr Herbert Wilderspin, and containing cans, to the School Pond for water. Having filled up the cans, he urged the horse forward, but it refused to pull, and backed into a hole instead. There cart and horse stuck in the mud. Mr Tompkins, regardless of the water and yet more deadly mud, gallantly and with much difficulty released the horse from its harness and the cart, but still it could not move, being held prisoner by the mud. Some thirty willing helpers and advisers, men and lads, quickly came up. Another horse was fetched, likewise a strong rope. The latter was fastened round the neck of the stranded animal and then attached to the fresh horse, and after many a vigorous pull, in which the strength of the neck of the horse in difficulties was severely tested, a rescue was effected. The cart also was got out, and Mr Tompkins, a gallant old soldier, went home wet through and covered with black mud, but triumphant.

PARTRIDGES. 15th Sept. 1905.

Sportsman and other persons who carry guns have been busy since 1st September, but the birds are wild and difficult to get at. An extraordinary amount of interest is being taken in shooting matters this year, not only by the sportsmen and other persons who carry guns, but the villagers generally. Many anecdotes are in circulation, and more are expected daily.

CROP YIELDS. 15th Sept. 1905.

Mr Alfred Day, who farms Mill Farm and also Mr Cole's Swavesey land, reports that his wheat is not an average crop, though much better than last year. Of what he has already threshed, rivets have yielded about eleven combs to the acre, and small wheat seven combs an acre. The small wheat has not come up to his expectations, as the grain ripened too quickly, and did not fill out. His barley has been fair, and is yielding about ten combs an acre. Both winter and spring beans have been good. Tares hardly up to the average, but his roots are excellent. Mr Day considers that, taken as a whole, the harvest has been a little above average of recent years. The weather has been exceptionally favourable, the little rain doing good and no harm.

Mr Herbert Wilderspin, sanguine and happy as usual, is well satisfied with his harvest. His wheat, which has not turned out as well as he hoped at one time, will, he thinks, yield from eight to ten combs an acre, and that will, he believes, be about the average for the parish of Swavesey, though some farmers may get better results. His hope and prayer now is that the prices will be good.

DEATH OF MRS HEELIS. 15th Sept. 1905

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Heelis, which occurred in London on Wednesday, 20th instant. At the time the funeral was taking place in Manchester on Monday afternoon the bell of Swavesey Church was tolled. Mrs. Heelis resided for four years at Swavesey Manor, succeeding Mr. Cyril M. Bevan in September 1900, and she left for London last Michaelmas. During her comparatively short stay in the village she was most kind and energetic in providing, with the aid of her daughters, entertainments, assisting in parish work, and helping the sick and needy, and the news of her death was received with general expressions of regret.

WEDDING AT SWAVESEY. 29th Sept. 1905

ALDRED - HEPHER

A wedding which created considerable interest in the neighbourhood, both bride and bridegroom being so widely known, took place at Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, at noon on Wednesday, in the presence of a large and representative congregation. The bridegroom was Mr. Henry Spurgeon Aldred, grocer and draper, of London House, Swavesey, who notwithstanding the claims of an excellent business, has found time to be useful to the community in various ways, being, amongst other things, a Manager of Swavesey National School (Parish Council Representative), corresponding secretary of the Temperance Society, deputy-superintendent of Bethel Chapel Sunday School, joint secretary of the Swavesey Liberal Association, treasurer of the Cricket Club, and local correspondent of the "Cambridge Chronicle" and "Independent Press." Mr. Aldred is the youngest son of the late Mr. William Howard Aldred, of Denton, Norfolk. The bride was Miss Annie Hepher, only daughter of Mr. Jesse Hepher, tailor and registrar of births and deaths for the Swavesey district, and she has earned a great reputation by her untiring work in the cause of temperance, and as a Sunday School teacher, besides being for years past foremost in all that has taken place at Bethel Chapel.

The bride was attired in a charming but simple dress of light grey material, trimmed with white cloth, and her hat was of white beaver with white silk trimming and wings. She also wore a gold watch bracelet presented by Mrs. Ussher. Two bridesmaids attended her – Miss Aldred (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss Florence Parker, who wore gold brooches, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. Albert Hepher acted as best man.

After the wedding the guest were entertained by the bride's parents, and in the course of the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Aldred left for Bournemouth, where the honeymoon is being spent.

THE PUBLIC LAMPS. 6th Oct. 1905

A parish meeting, presided over by Mr. W. H. Key, was held at the National School on Thursday, 28th ult., at which the necessary expenditure for lighting the streetlamps during the winter was authorised. The Parish Council subsequently reappointed Mr. George Clarke lamplighter.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 6th Oct. 1905

The harvest thanksgiving services were held in the Parish Church on Tuesday. Holy Communion was celebrated at 7.30 a.m., and choral Evensong was at 6.30 p.m. The Rev. J. Watkins, rector of Willingham and Rural Dean, preached. The Church was effectively decorated.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 13th Oct. 1905

The harvest thanksgiving services were continued on Sunday last. At the morning service the Rev. Mr. Boden, of North Wingfield, Chesterfield, officiated and preached. During the afternoon a children's flower service was held, at which the children presented gifts of flowers and fruit to be sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. The evening service was taken by the Rev. C. A. Pollock of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, who also preached. Mr. Skeels, of St. Ives, the new organist, played at the services on Sunday for the first time.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH . 13th Oct. 1905

The usual harvest thanksgiving was held on Thursday in last week, when the Rev. W. Bampton Taylor delivered an appropriate and highly appreciated sermon to a large audience on the need of fruitfulness in Christian character and work. The rostrum was tastefully decorated by Mrs. Thurbon and Mrs.

Payne. Trays were given by a number of friends and a goodly company sat down to tea. The fruit and vegetables were sent as usual to Addenbrooke's Hospital, as was also the collection.

STUNG BY A WASP. 13th Oct. 1905

As Mr. Walter Hodson, grocer, of High Street, was handling some sugar on Friday last, he was stung on his lip by a wasp. His face quickly swelled up, and he was obliged to seek medical advice and take to his bed. He is, we are glad to say, doing well.

SWAVESEY DISTRICT CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 13th Oct. 1905

The general meeting of the members of the Swavesey District Conservative Association was held in Swavesey National School on Wednesday evening, Mr. W. C. Cole, chairman, presiding. After the annual report had been read by the SECRETARY, and the accounts passed, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: - President, Mr. W. Raymond Greene, M.P.; vice-presidents, Messrs. R. E. Bartley, R. H. Cox, G. Downham, Elliot R. Odams, and Thomas Payne; chairman, Mr. W. C. Cole; treasurer, Mr. W. H. Key; secretary, Mr. H. Beaumont; committee, Messrs. S. W. Crisp, C. Froment, J. Gilby, H. G. Key, G. Metcalfe, P. Metcalfe, J. Netherwood, Walter Thorp, W. Thurbon, C. R. Vincent, E. Warboys, J. Wells, and C. Willson.

Mr. Netherwood was re-appointed Vice-chairman.

A resolution was carried pledging the members of the Association to heartily support the candidature of Mr. Raymond Greene at the next General Election. It was also proposed to send a letter to Rev. A. C. Vidler assuring him of the sympathy of the members on the loss of his wife.

The meeting concluded with votes of thanks for their services to the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Treasurer and Secretary.

REMOVALS. 20th Oct. 1905

This Michaelmas season has been a busy time in several families in Swavesey, there having been no less than twelve cases of removal, in most instances from one house to another in the village. Two families have left the parish, and two have entered.

PRESENTATION. 20th Oct. 1905

At the close of the devotional meeting at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Wednesday, 11th instant, an interesting episode occurred. To mark their appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Aldred to the various organisations connected with the Chapel the members of the Temperance Society and the Sunday School presented them with a handsome crown Silicon china dinner service and a jam spoon, as a wedding gift. The presentation was made by Mr. T. W. Carter, senior deacon and superintendent of the Sunday School. Mr. Aldred suitably acknowledged the gift on behalf of his wife and himself.

CRICKET CLUB. 20th Oct. 1905

A meeting of the members of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School on Monday evening, Mr. Ellis Long, captain of the club, presiding. The treasurer presented the accounts for the past season showing a balance in hand of £3 4s. 3d. The accounts were approved unanimously. After some discussion it was decided that a social evening open to members and friend should be held next month, and a committee was appointed to make needful arrangements. On the proposal of the Treasurer a vote of thanks to Mr. Long for presiding, and also for his services as captain, and his kindly interest in the Club generally (including the free use of the cricket ground), was carried by acclamation. Mr. Long, in replying, thanked the members, and proposed a vote of thanks to the Treasurer, whom he congratulated on his recent marriage.

SWAVESEY FIRE ENGINE. 20th Oct. 1905

This monument of antiquity (it is nearly one hundred years old) and precious asset of the parish is believed to be still in existence, and to be reposing in its house by the pound, but it has not made its appearance in public since the fire in Black Horse Lane on the 30th August, 1904, when it so greatly distinguished itself. In days gone by the engine used to be taken out for trial and practice at regular intervals, but latterly it has been allowed to remain in retirement out of respect, it is presumed, for its great age. The last time there was a practice was, it is believed, in August 1903, and what will be the condition of the engine and hose at the next fire can, therefore, be a matter for conjecture only.

THE WATER SUPPLY. 20th Oct. 1905

The water supply at Boxworth End, Swavesey, is a perennial bugbear of the Rural District Council, and the cause of much disputatious argument amongst some of the people of Swavesey, besides having almost led to terrible tragedies. The supply ran short a little while ago. The newly-appointed and most energetic Inspector of Nuisances proposed as an experiment that the public pumps should be kept locked, except during certain hours in the evening and morning. The District Council agreed, and a lock and chain were affixed to each pump. The duty of locking and unlocking was entrusted to an elderly inhabitant, who speedily found himself the best abused man in the village. The aggrieved ratepayers seem not so much to have minded the locked pumps, if all the pumps fed from the public supply pipes had been treated alike. In addition to the public pumps, each of which is adorned with a painted notice forbidding the use of water drawn therefrom for any purpose than ordinary domestic needs, there are several pumps on private property fed from the same pipes, and it is contended that the shortage is caused by the excessive drawing of water from these private pumps for feeding stock and occasionally even steam engines driving threshing machines, and for other farm purposes, as well as for filling domestic tea-kettles. I can sympathise with the water-restricted matrons, and with the weary husbands who have had to get in the morning and evening supply, but at the same time I do not think that a written protest pasted on a pump is likely to mend matters. On the contrary, it is calculated to create unnecessary friction. However, I understand that there is now an ample supply of water, and that the pump handles have been released from duress vile. The question of the private pumps is doubtless a difficult one for the District Council. The pumps have been in use for years, and a privilege once granted cannot easily be taken away.

NELSON CENTENARY. 20th Oct. 1905

On Sunday last the Vicar in his sermons at the Parish Church at the morning and evening services made special reference to the life and work of the great Admiral, and particularly emphasised his devotion to duty. At both services the hymns were appropriate to the occasion, and at the end of Evensong the National Anthem was sung. One omission was observed. The Union Jack which usually flies proudly from the tower on great days was conspicuous by its absence.

THE PUMPS – A PROTEST. 20th Oct. 1905

We have received the following letter, to which we willingly give the publicity it deserves: - “The paragraph about the pumps at Swavesey in your paper last Friday in the ‘Round and About’ column amused me, but at the same time it was not fair. The writer objected to an aggrieved ratepayer posting a protest on one of the pumps, but I think, and so do others, that he was guilty of the same offence himself by writing what he did. I cannot myself see what difference there is between a notice stuck on a pump and a paragraph in a newspaper. Both said much about the same thing. I hope the Sanitary Inspector will lecture the newspaper writer in the same way as he did the unfortunate person who was supposed to have put up the notice. I liked the pump notice myself, for I believe it was written by a gentleman who knew what he was talking about, and who has been put to a lot of inconvenience by the want of water. I dare say the Inspector did not care for it, as he thought he was doing his best. However let us hope there will be no more need for locking up the five public pumps, and that the people with private pumps (seventeen I think) will be careful with the water.”

COUNTY RATE AT SWAVESEY. 3rd Nov. 1905

The coming rate is causing consternation in the village, as over £600 will be required from the parish of Swavesey for the next half year. In this amount the sum of £263 is included for the County Rate, and ratepayers must expect a rate of at least 3s in the œ, a large increase on 1s 10p for last year. The demand is the largest ever made on the parish, and more than double the amount required before the County Council came into existence. If the great increase is on account of the cost of education, (people believe they are paying something like £300 a year for that purpose in Swavesey, whereas under the old management they paid nothing), the question arises upon what object the money is spent, as certainly nothing approaching that amount is contributed out of the rates for Swavesey national School.

GALON’S CHARITY. 10th Nov. 1905

At a meeting of the Feoffees of this Charity held in the National School on Thursday, 2nd instant, Mr. George Metcalfe was elected a feoffee in the place of Mr. Jethro Garner, deceased. Galon’s Charity was originated by Thomas Galon, of Wilburton, in the year 1528 (the 20th year of the reign of King Henry VIII), when he left certain land for the benefit of the parish of Swavesey. His will provided for certain matters of a distinctly Church character, from which it may be inferred that he intended the Charity to be for the benefit of Church people and to be administered by Church people. Under the auspices of the Charity Commissioners, however, Nonconformists have been admitted to its management and its benefits are distributed to persons irrespective of their religious belief. Would Thomas Galon, of Wilburton, of pious memory, if restored to life in this 20th century, agree to this?

PING PONG CLUB. 10th Nov. 1905

A meeting of the members of the Swavesey Ping Pong Club was held at the National School on the 2nd instant, Mr. S. W. Crisp, captain, presiding. It was resolved to continue operations this season, and Mr. Crisp was re-elected captain, and the Rev. A. C. Vidler president. Mrs. W. C. Cole was again appointed secretary and treasurer, the post she has held since the Club came into existence, and in which she has shown conspicuous energy, and in fact the Club owes its prosperity to her work. The members will meet once a week at the School, and the first meeting was held on the 7th instant.

SWAVESEY RURAL DISTRICT COUNCIL. 17th Nov. 1905

The usual monthly meeting of this body was held on Wednesday morning at the St. Ives Workhouse, there being present: - Messrs. J. Frohock (chairman), G. A. Thoday, W. J. Hemington, and the Rev. M. S. Kemmis.

The Treasurer's balance was stated to be £436 3s. 9d.

The correspondence between the Local Government Board and this Council, as to the appointment of Mr. Reynolds as Inspector of Nuisances, was further adjourned to get the opinion of the St. Ives Rural District Council on the point, who have elected the same person to that office.

Several small cheques were signed and ordered to be paid.

The Surveyor's report consisted of the usual formal items of accounts and the like.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY. 17th Nov. 1905

The bells of the parish church rang merrily on the evening of the King's birthday.

COMPLAINTS FROM SWAVESEY. 17th Nov. 1905

Complaints reach me from Swavesey respecting a new roadway in the goods portion of Swavesey Station Yard. It appears that of late years traffic has greatly increased there, and to afford better accommodation for the loading and unloading of trucks the Great Eastern Railway Company recently pulled down a shed and made a new road by the side of the sidings by appropriating some garden land. The Company's intentions were doubtless truly excellent, but the result has fallen far short of perfection. Although there appears to be plenty of land available belonging to the Company, the road has not been made sufficiently wide to allow a cart to pass another when backed against a truck, and the condition of the roadway is said to be disgraceful. There are already ruts several inches deep, which get deeper every day. In short, it is an act of cruelty to take a heavily laden horse over the new road; and moreover, it is dangerous. It is to be hoped that the railway officials will do something without delay to put things right.

SUNDAY WORK AT SWAVESEY. 24th Nov. 1905

The following has reached me from Swavesey: "last Sunday some of us were surprised to find that certain persons had spent the whole of the morning getting up their wurtzels in the Charity Allotments, in the Hale, Swavesey. Had it been a case of emergency we should not have minded so much, but, as far as we know, there can have been no such great hurry as to justify Sunday work. Our object in writing is to ask you to call attention to the matter, so that Sunday labour in the allotments may not become a custom.” Perhaps the feoffees can give the parties in question a hint.

CRICKET CLUB. 24th Nov. 1905

The members of the Swavesey Cricket Club held a successful social evening at the National School on Thursday of last week, Mr. H. S. Aldred (treasurer) presiding. Between 40 and 50 members and friends were present. An excellent programme of songs and instrumental music was provided by the Misses Goad and Scard, and Messrs. Sidney Beaumont, J. Gilby, Hills and Scard. Mr. Aldred recited. The refreshment department was admirably looked after by Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. H. Beaumont, Mrs. S. Beaumont, Mrs. Levell and the Misses Beaumont, Goad, Maud Key, Pattie Key, and Scard, to whom and to the Chairman hearty votes of thanks were accorded.

WEDDING. 24th Nov. 1905

On Sunday last, 19th instant, at St. Stephen's Church, Walthamstow, Mr. Albert Hepher, second son of Mr. Jesse Hepher, Registrar of Births and Deaths, Swavesey, was married to Miss Jessie Twist, the only daughter of Mr. William Twist, of Clarendon Road, Walthamstow, a native of Swavesey, and an owner of property in the parish. The bride, who was attired in a navy blue costume, and a white beaver hat, was accompanied by one bridesmaid – Miss Maud Goad – also gowned in blue. Mr. Walter Hepher (brother) acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father, and subsequently the happy couple left for their home at Datchet. The wedding presents were numerous, and several congratulatory telegrams were also received.

A SWAVESEY SMOKER. 15th Dec. 1905

The first skirmishing shot of the election campaign was fired, so far as Swavesey is concerned, on Monday night at a very well-attended smoking concert organised by the Swavesey District Conservative Association, and held for the sake of greater accommodation in the National School. Mr. W. C. Cole, chairman of the Association, presided, and was supported on the platform by Mr. A. L. Edwards, of Ipswich, and Mr. J. S. French, Conservative Agent.

At the end of the first part of the programme the chairman introduced Mr. Edwards, who delivered a characteristic and forcible address. At the end of the concert the CHAIRMAN proposed a vote of confidence in Mr. Raymond Greene, which was carried by acclamation. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Edwards, Mr. French and the performers.

Mr. FRENCH proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman and Concert Committee for their services, and in the course of a short speech dealt with various political matters. One point he mentioned of interest to the ratepayers of Swavesey was that the increase in the rates was due not to the Education Act, but to the extravagant way in which the Act was administered by the Country Council. Why, he asked, should a sixpenny rate be sufficient for education in the Isle of Ely, while the Radical Cambs. County Council required an elevenpenny rate.

SHEPHERDS' CLUB. 15th Dec. 1905

At the last "club night" of the year of the "Wheatsheaf" Lodge, Ancient Order of Shepherds, held at the White Horse Inn, on Thursday in last week, all old officers were re-elected for the forthcoming six months.

PAST YEAR IN THE PARISH. 29th Dec. 1905.

Amongst the few matters which have ruffled the even tenor of the villagers way have been the new assessment of the Parish, and the great increase in the rates owing, it is alleged to County Council extravagance. The abnormal increase has been discussed at meetings, and resolutions of protest have been passed. The formation of a Ratepayers Protection Associations has been mooted, but no concerted action has been taken. The general health of the village has been good. Several well-known parishioners have been removed by death, amongst whom may be mentioned, Mr Jethro Garner, Mr Jabez Garner, Mrs Vidler, Mrs Hannah Metcalfe, Miss Colkett, at the age of 91, Mrs Wolfenden, the centenarian, and during the present month Mr Alderman Warner, J.P. of St. Ives, who owns property and farmed in the parish. The alterations and improvements in the village have been neither numerous nor of striking importance. The accommodation in the goods yard at the railway station has been increased, but is still capable of further improvement. The debateable roadway by the Swan Pond has been taken under the protection of the District Council and repaired, and the Licensing Authority has determined to close three beer houses.

LOST, STOLEN OR STRAYED. 29th Dec. 1905.

Late on Christmas Day, Mr Benjamin Carter, the Joachim of Swavesey, lost an ancient and greatly valued violin between High Street and his residence in Middle Watch. How the instrument disappeared is mysteries which, at the time of writing even the dulcet tones of the village crier have failed to fathom.

FIRE. 29th Dec. 1905

At 11a.m. on Thursday, 21st December, volumes of smoke were seen issuing from a large barn on the farm premises of Messrs. Stanton Brothers, Middle Watch. (Ryders Farm). The barn contained upwards of eighty tons of chaff, and was dangerously situated, being surrounded by farm building and other property. On an alarm being raised willing assistance was promptly rendered, and the parish fire engine, accompanied by Captain Thurbon was quickly brought up, but owing to the nature of the fire was not used, though it remained on the spot until Christmas Day in case it should be need. Great difficulty was experienced in getting to the smouldering chaff, and again and again the fire broke out afresh. Under the able general ship of Mr Alfred Day, district councillor, the sound chaff was put into bags and removed, the smouldering being thrown on one side and quenched with water, but this work was continued throughout Thursday night, flames twice breaking out in a dangerous manner, and it was not until Christmas Day, when the barn had been emptied that all fear of danger was over. The fact that many of the thick beams and studs of the barn were nearly burned through will show how narrowly a serious fire was averted.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 29th Dec. 1905

The Christmastide services at the Parish Church have been bright and hearty, and have been well attended. The sacred building was simply but effectively decorated. The Vicar entertained his solitary parishioners at the Vicarage on Christmas evening.

PING-PONG CLUB SOCIAL. 5th Jan. 1906

The members of the Ping-Pong Club entertained their friends at a highly successful social evening on Thursday, December 28th. The arrangements were admirably carried out by a Committee of ladies, under the supervision of the Secretary of the Club, Mrs. W. C. Cole, and the large room at the National School, where the entertainment was held, was prettily decorated, an arrangement of fairy lamps being particularly effective. The programme consisted of songs, piano playing, a recitation and a humorous sketch. Various games suitable to the season of the year were also indulged in, and later in the evening the younger and more active danced. Prior to dispersing a cordial vote of thanks to the Committee, proposed by Mr. Key, was adopted. Mr. S. W. Crisp, captain of the Club, briefly responded, and the evening was brought to a conclusion with the singing of "God Save the King."

CHOIR SUPPER. 12th Jan. 1906

On Thursday, 4th instant, Mrs. George long kindly entertained the Choirmen, Ringers, Churchwardens, and Sidesmen at supper at the National School. The Vicar presided. After supper there was music and a selection on the gramophone by Mr. Holloway of St. Ives. Before separating, a hearty vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Long.

MISSIONARY TEA. 12th Jan. 1906

This annual event in connection with the Parish Church came off on Tuesday last, and was a great success, the attendance being larger than usual and the financial result better. An interesting lecture on Missionary work in New Zealand by the Rev. J. F. Teakle followed the tea and was much appreciated.

TUESDAY'S STORM. 19th Jan. 1906

A horse and cart laden with sheep troughs, etc., at Warner's farm were blown completely over during the storm. The contents of the cart were much broken, and it was necessary to cut the harness in order to liberate the fallen horse. A Large tree on Mr. Cole's property at Boxworth End, which had weathered Saturday's storm, was suddenly blown down on Tuesday.

GATHERING OF THE SHEPHERDS. 2nd Feb. 1906

The annual meeting of the delegates from the "Shepherds'" Lodges in the district was held at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Tuesday, 30th January. The delegates dined together, an excellent spread being supplied by the worthy host, Mr. A. Slater.

CRICKET CLUB. 2nd Feb. 1906

The annual general meeting of members of the Cricket Club took place in the National School on Monday evening, Mr. H. S. Aldred presiding. Officers for the ensuing season were appointed, but their names cannot be announced at present, as it is not known whether all have accepted office. Much new blood has been introduced into the Committee. Mr. H. Beaumont, junior, is the new secretary.

PARISH COUNCIL. 2nd Feb. 1906

The Parish Council met on Tuesday last, Rev. A. C. Vidler, chairman, presiding, and filled the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Jethro Garner. The Chairman gave the casting vote for Mr. John Gilby, who was declared duly elected. The question of the village green was considered, and it was decided to call a Parish meeting in about a week's time.

CRICKET CLUB. 9th Feb. 1906

Messrs. W. H. Key, A. Hiner, and Sidney Prime were elected at the recent meeting of the Cricket Club to the offices of treasurer, captain and vice-captain, respectively, and have declined to serve.

GOOD ATTENDANCE. 9th Feb. 1906

The Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar and chairman of the Board of Managers, attended at the National School on Thursday afternoon, 8th instant, and presented medals given by the County Education Committee for good attendance to the following scholars: - Berry Dodson, Frank Hephher, Grace Hephher, Frank Prior, Arthur Beaumont, Alfred Hephher, Walter Metcalf, William Metcalf, and Clara Thorp, the last five belong to the Infant School. Denis Williams, already in possession of a medal, was given a bar. Messrs. W. H. Key, H. S. Aldred, and Robinson Mitham, managers, were present, and the parents of some of the children also attended.

CRICKET CLUB. 23rd Feb. 1906

A further meeting of the members of the cricket club was held at the National School on Monday evening, Mr. H. S. Aldred presiding, to elect officers for next season, several of those appointed at the first meeting having declined to serve. Mr. Edward Warboys was chosen as captain, Mr. S. J. Froment vice-captain, and Mr. W. P. Wimpres treasurer. All accepted office.

SWAVESEY RECREATION GROUND. 23rd Feb. 1906

A parish meeting was called by the Parish Council on Thursday of last week to consider a proposal from the solicitors of the lord of the manor with regard to the recreation ground of the parish. The proposal consisted of an offer on the part of the lord of the manor to hand over his holding in the recreation ground to the Parish Council for a consideration of £100.

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. A. C. Vidler (chairman of the Parish Council), who had formed the opinion that practically it would be advisable for the Parish Council to make a counter-proposal of £60 to the lord of the manor for the settlement of the dispute, and that he was prepared to make this proposal to the Parish Council at their next meeting.

An animated debate ensued and in the end a counter-proposal was made by Mr. EBENEZER PARISH that no compromise in the matter should be offered by the Parish Council and that the Charity Commissioners should be asked to carry the matter forward to a legal issue. The resolution having been proposed by Mr. Parish and seconded by Mr. George Brooks, the Chairman moved his own proposal as an amendment.

This was seconded by Mr. Beaumont, but being put to the meeting was lost. Mr. Parish's proposal was then put, and carried by a large majority.

It is understood that the matter was brought before the Parish Council at their meeting last night.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL. 23rd Feb. 1906

The Swavesey Parish Council met on Thursday 22nd February. After the minutes of the last meeting had been adopted, some conversation, in which Mr. Jethro Linford took the leading part, ensued respecting the charges made for the attendance of the fire engine at the recent fire in the village.

The Chairman then reported concerning the recreation ground, stating that the Charity Commissioners advised the Parish Council to compromise the dispute with the lord of the manor, and that the recent resolution at the parish meeting could be ignored.

Protests were made about the meeting being ignored and also objections were made to any compromise whatsoever. It was also suggested that it would be cheaper to buy a fresh piece of land for a recreation ground, but the Chairman pointed out that it would not be possible to get land in any suitable position for anything like the sum it was proposed to offer to the lord of the manor, and in this view was supported by other Councillors.

A proposal was made that the resolution passed at the parish meeting, i.e., to fight the matter out, in the law courts if necessary, be acted upon. This was seconded. An amendment was moved and seconded adopting the principle of the compromise recommended by the Charity Commissioners, i.e., to acquire for a consideration all the rights of the lord of the manor to the ground. The amendment was rejected by four votes to three.

STAG HUNT. 2nd Mar 1906.

The University Drag Hounds met at Mr Cole's farm, Boxworth End, by permission of Mr A. Day, on Monday last to 'hunt a stag'. Such an animal not having been seen in Swavesey in the memory of man, the villagers turned up in strong force, and the school children had an object lesson in natural history. The 'stag' however, proved to be a lady, and the absence of antlers gave rise to many theories. There was a fair-sized field, including Lord Windsor (master) and Mr Buxton (whip) and of course, the huntsman (Mr Leete). Amongst local people who followed were observed the Rev.A.Kirke Smith, Miss Kirke Smith, and Mrs E.H.Thornhill. (Boxworth) Mrs Ellis Long,(Lolworth), Mr Francis, Mr E.Frohock, Mr C.Townsend, (Longstanton), while Mr Philip Spring was the sole Swavesey representative. On being uncartered in a field opposite the Red Lion, the 'stag' went off at once at a good pace, heading towards Soldier's Drift, and crossing the Huntingdon Road it made its way towards Boxworth, but before reaching the village turned to the left in the direction of Lolworth. Thence it made for Oakington and Girton crossing where it crossed the railway and took refuge in water. Then on towards Cottenham, and turning back towards Histon came to grief in taking a fence and being badly hurt was at once killed.

PARISH MEETING 4 Mar. 1906

The annual Parish Meeting was held in the National School on Thursday evening, 26 April, the Rev A.C. Vidler presiding. The accounts of the Parish Council, Charites, and Overseers wer presented, and some discussion ensued. Mr Ebenezer Parish drew attention to the notices calling Parish Meetings, which have been in manuscript, and suggested that printed skeleton bills should in future be use. The Clerk, (Robinson Mitham) gave a pathetic account of the difficulty he usually experienced in posting notices on the doors of the Particular Baptist Chapel and the Primitive Methodist Chapel. The gates of both of these places of worship are invariably kept locked, except during and for a short period preceding, service time,and when cleaning operations are in progress, and to gain access he has to climb over railings, a feat attended with danger to body and his clothing. The Chairman was horrified at the possibility of the Clerk being caught in the act of scaling a fence by a zealous policeman.

DEATH OF MRS FLETCHER. 9 March 1906

To the great regret of he family and the many friends to whom she had endeared herself by her cheery kindly character, Mrs Jane Arthur Fletcher died on the 26th February at the residence of her son-in law, Mr John Gilby, Church End Swavesey. Mrs Fletcher, who had been a widow for half a century, was a native of Devonshire, but had lived nearly the whole of her long life in London. In 1897 she removed to Swavesey with her daughter and son-in-law. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon in Swavesey Churchyard, the vicar officiating, and many relatives and sympathising friends attended, Mr Robinson Mitham was the undertaker.

RATS. 9 March 1906.

Mr Ephraim Stocker set a rat trap the other night at Friezland Farm. Next morning on examining the trap he found he had caught eighteen rats, of all ages and various sizes.

REMARKABLE LONGEVITY. 9 Mar 1906

A fortnight ago I mentioned in this column that there were fifteen octogenarians in the parish of Over, and I expressed the opinion that this must constitute a record. Information has since reached me that the neighbouring village of Swavesey can "go one better", as there are nineteen octogenarians, viz., ten males and nine females. During the past twelve months on centenarian, two nonagenarians, and two octogenarians have died, or the record would have been still more remarkable. As the population at Swavesey at the 1901 census was only 39 more than that of Over, viz. 899, against 860, I think we must award the palm for longevity to Swavesey.

CO-INCIDENCES. 9 Mar. 1906

On Monday, February, two old ladies died in Swavesey within one hour of each other. Although not related to each other, the son-in-law of one lady was the nephew of the other, and the elder died in the house in which the younger had lived until recently. On the same day three children were born in the parish. I venture to think this is a striking instance of the truth of Tennyson's well known lines :-

"Every moment dies a man;
Every moment one is born."

FAREWELL TO PUBLIC HOUSES. 16th March 1906.

Last year the Licensing Authority decided to close three beer houses in Swavesey. At two of these houses no beer has been drawn for several weeks, and on Monday the property was put up for auction and was purchased by Swavesey tradesmen. The Bird in Hand and the Railway Inn, with cottage adjoining, were knocked down to Mr S.W.Crisp, while Mr W.H.Key secured a plot of land adjoining his property, Topleys Cottage.

SNOW. 16th March 1906.

Snow fell during the early hours of Tuesday morning to the depth of three or four inches. The County Council snow plough was promptly brought into use, and cleared the main roads. By Wednesday much of the snow had gone.

SWAVESEY RECREATION GROUND. 23 March 1906

At the risk of wearying some of my readers I return to the question of the Swavesey Recreation Ground. Two points have been brought to my notice, viz :- 1, Notwithstanding the importance of the subject at the parish meeting a snap resolution in favour of fighting the matter to a legal issue was carried, was not representative of the ratepayers. As it was not intended that the meeting should come to any decision pending a further meeting of the Parish Council, no steps were taken to secure the attendance of supporters of the proposal to compromise with the Lord of the Manor. The opponents of the proposal, however, quietly whipped up every man possible and forced the resolution through. Almost every ratepayer of consequence was absent. (2) At the next Parish Council meeting two councillors, believed to be in favour of the compromise, or at any rate opposed to "going to law" did not vote, one because he was absent, and the other for reason known to himself. It seems hardly right that the parish should be saddled with heavy expenditure before the real feeling of the whole, not merely a section - of the ratepayers has been ascertained. Important parochial questions should not be decided by resolutions rushed through without notice and at the behest of political party managers. Some of the stories in circulation in the village concerning the recreation ground at the time of the parish meeting were less remarkable for their truthfulness than for their resourcefulness of invention.

A CARPENTER'S TIMEKEEPER. 23 March 1906

"Necessity is the mother of invention" is an old saying and a true one. At least I thought so the other day when I saw a middle aged carpenter of my acquaintance at work in some farm buildings with a round American clock at his side. He told me his watch had gone wrong, so he carried his clock about with him instead. I forgot to notice whether the alarm was set to go off at "allowance" time, but doubtless so resourceful a "tradesman" would not neglect such an important aid to memory as this.

WORK FOR THE VILLAGE HAMPDEMS, 23 March 1906

There is a matter which the "Village Hampdens" of Swavesey might take in hand instead of quixotically tilting at a haystack in the shape of the Lord of the Manor. The property left to the parish of Swavesey, by the late Mr George Long, is in a disgraceful condition. Buildings, originally stood on that portion of the property fronting on the High Street, but were burned down some years ago. With the salvaged bricks a kind of wall has been erected, the bricks being put loosely together, and behind this wall is a wilderness in which horses, etc, are placed. There are also some tumbledown buildings. It together, the place is a scene of desolation and untidiness. Stranger passing along High Street occasionally wonder if the enclosure is the Parish Pound. Why do not the "Village Hampdens" insist on the Parish Council acting on the principle they adopt in regard to the Recreation Ground, viz, spend the surplus profits from the property on its improvements?. I wonder whether they have noticed that the ancient fence in Wallman's Lane is like the walls of Jericho after Joshua's trumpets sounded. - flat on the ground. While surveying this fence they might find, unless deprived by colds of their sense of smell, material for a resolution requesting the sanitary authority to abate a nuisance cause by a malodorous open drain.

SWAVESEY BATHING PLACE. 23 March 1906

A correspondent suggests another matter which the Swavesey Parish Councillors might take in hand for the benefit of the constituents. It seems the bathing place in the Ouse is not satisfactory. Where adults bathe there is a diving board provided by some of the bathers themselves, but it is susceptible of considerable improvement, and the weeds in the river not only interfere with swimming and diving, but constitute an element of danger. Something might also be done to improve the smaller boys bathing place. I have much pleasure, therefore in commending my correspondent's suggestion that the Parish Council should take over the care and control of the bathing place to the earnest attention of the Swavesey "Village Fathers". .

THE WEATHER. 30th March 1906.

The 21st of this month should, according to the calendar, be the first day of spring and of spring - beautiful, vernal spring, - poets and such like imaginative persons have written all kinds of nice things. It would be interesting to know what a poet would, or could, say of the weather we have been enjoying since spring came in this year. Snow, hail, and rain day after day, with fitful gleams of sunshine now and again just to keep us from losing heart altogether. The season seems to want re-arranging, or future editions of poems dealing with the delights of spring will have to be furnished with explanatory notes. Cottagers cannot get on with their gardening, and a longing and praying for fair and settled weather. I hope, however, their prayers are a little less selfish than the prayers a Swavesey Primitive Methodist used to offer up in meetings some years ago:-

“Good Lord preserve my kidney beans,
And keep them from the fly,
That I may have kidney beans to sell,
When others have to buy.”

VESTRY MEETING. 27 April 1906

Protest against Education Bill. - The Easter Vestry Meeting was held under the tower of the Parish Church of St Andrew on Thursday evening, 19 April, the Rev A.C. Vidler presiding. After prayers had been said, the Vicar gracefully thanked Mr W.H.Key for his invaluable services to the Church, the parish, and himself, for many years past, and again nominated him as warden, and on the proposal of Mr Key, seconded by Mr W.Cain, Mr J.Wells was re-elected people's warden. Messrs W.Cain, J.Dodson, George Metcalf, Philip Metcalf, William T.Thorp and Mr Walter Thorp, in place of the late Mr Jethro Garner, were chosen as sidesmen. The Vicar addressed the Vestry at some length on the subject of the Education Bill now before Parliament, dealing with the proposed alienation of trust property, the abolition of definite religious teaching and the position of the Church of England teachers who under the bill would be prohibited from giving religious instruction. Mr Key moved the following resolution. :- “That this Vestry considers the Education Bill now before Parliament as it stands at present, demands the uncompromising opposition of all Churchmen, because it violates principles of religious liberty, and proposes to give the sanction of law to alienation of trust property”. Mr Wells seconded. After some remarks by Mr George Metcalf, Mr Walter Thorp, and others the resolution was carried unanimously, and it was decided that copies should be sent to the Prime Minister, Mr Birrell,(president of the Board of Education), Mr A.J.Balfour, and the Bishop of Ely. The Church accounts were presented and passed.

A CORRECTION' 27 April 1906

The anthem sung on Easter Day at the Parish Church, and repeated on Low Sunday, was composed by the late Sir George Elvey, once organist at St George's Windsor, and not Sir John Goss as stated in our last issue

WEDDING. 27 April 1906

On Tuesday morning a pretty wedding took place at Swavesey Parish Church, When Edgar Cole, of Spike Hall, Weston Colville, fourth son of the late Mr Silas Cole, of Weston Colville, Was married to Ada Jane Metcalfe, elder daughter of Mr Alfred Metcalfe, of Market Street, Swavesey. The Ceremony was performed by the Rev. A.C.Vidler, vicar. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr Philip Metcalfe, in the regrsttable absence through illness of he father, was charmingly attired in a gown of cream alpaca. She wore a veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and a gold brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids the Misses Bertha Metcalfe (sister) Clara William, and Rhoda Easton, also wore gold brooches, presented by the bridegroom. Mr Preston Cole (brother) acted as best man. On their return from the Church the wedding party were entertained at Mr Philip Metcalfe's in Market Street. The presents were numerous and useful. The happy couple left Swavesey Station for the honeymoon at Royston by the 6.15 p.m. train amidst showers of rice and confetti thrown on them by a crowd of well-wishers. Mr Edgar Cole is gamekeeper to Mr Foster.

PARISH COUNCIL. 27 April 1906.

The annual meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Tuesday evening, the following members attending :- Rev.A.C. Vidler, (chairman) Messrs. W.H. Key, (vice chairman) Jethro Linford, George Metcalfe, Robert Norman, J.Wells, and W.P.Wimpres. The Rev. A.C.Vidler was unanimously re-elected chairman for the ensuing year, on the proposal of Mr Linford, seconded by Mr Wells. Mr Key was again chosen as vice-chairman. Messrs Herbert Wilderspin and J.Dodson were appointed overseers, and Mr Parker of Capital and Counties Bank treasurer, in place of the late Mr Foster. It was decided that Mr Robinson Mitham should repair the fence to the Council property in Wallman's Lane. Mr Norman reported respecting the interview with Mr Stanton in regard to the disputed charge for the attendance of the parish fire engine at the recent fire. The Council resolved that the clerk should write to Messrs Stanton pressing for immediate payment, and, failing a satisfactory reply, the Fire Engine Committee were instructed to give formal notice that if the claim was not settled within seven days legal proceeding would be at once taken to enforce payment. There was some discussion as to the formation of a village fire brigade.

WEDDING 22 June 1906

In the presence Of a large congregation Miss Maud Goad, eldest daughter Mr James Goad of Swavesey, was married on Tuesday afternoon at Bethel Baptist Chapel to Mr Walter James Hephher, third son of Mr Jesse Hephher, registrar of birth and deaths, Swavesey. The bride, Who was given away by her father, was attended by one bridesmaid, her sister Miss Nance Goad, who was tastefully attired in a gown of cream colienne with hat to match. She carried a bouquet, the gift of the bridegroom. The bridesmaid's dress was of cream alpaca, and her bouquet was also the bridegroom's gift. Mr Wilfred Hephher acted as best man. The Rev. H.T.N. Ussher, pastor, officiated, and delivered a short and appropriate address. As the happy pair left the chapel, Mr E. Papworth, of Oakington, played the "Wedding March". During the afternoon the wedding party were entertained at the residence of the bride's parents, and the newly married couple left Swavesey for London by the 6.15 p.m. train. The presents were both numerous and useful, and in the course of the day many congratulatory telegrams were received from well-wishers in all parts of the country. amongst the guests were Mr and Miss Bennett of Cambridge

SCHOLASTIC SUCCESS. 22 Jun 1906

In the List issued on Saturday last of those undergraduates who gained honours in the Classical Tripos Examination the name of Mr Percy J. Beaumont appears in the first division of the third class. Mr Beaumont is the eldest son of Mr Henry Beaumont, who has for many years been greatly respected master of Swavesey National School. Percy was educated at that school and subsequently entered St Mark's Training College for schoolmasters, Chelsea, London. Leaving there after a creditable career, he obtained an appointment at a school in Kent, but wishing to be nearer home soon removed to St Luke's Chesterton. The desire to prove himself capable of greater things was too strong for him to remain there, and three years ago he entered the University of Cambridge as a non-collegiate student. Mr Beaumont who had no classical training, took his degree on Tuesday.

AN EYESORE REMOVED. 22nd June 1906.

The old dilapidated barn for so long has been an eyesore to people passing through the village of Swavesey from the Huntingdon Road has at length disappeared, or at least two thirds of it have been taken down and the remainder is being turned into a cart shed. The barn was erected upwards of 150 years ago, when strength and solidity were the greatest consideration, and many of its massive timbers are still sound. On one of the large beams which support the roof the initials J.M. were discovered and as they were upside down must have been cut before the beam was put into position. It is believed that the barn was erected by the great-great-grandfather of Robinson Mitham, who carries on the long established business of carpenter and builder in Swavesey. In cleaning up the old place, which has recently change tenants, many strange odds and ends have been found amongst the rubbish, including numerous hats of all shapes and styles. A Parish Councillor, assisting in the work, dug a hold on the site of the barn partly to bury unconsidered trifles such as superannuated pots, etc., and partly to make a solid foundation for a roadway, and he was promptly accused by some people of digging for treasure - not a brass farthing was found - or of making a grave for himself or the occupier.

Farewell to the Baptist Pastor. 3rd August 1906.

The Rev H J N Ussher, who has been Pastor of the Bethel Baptist Chapel for the past two & half years as bade farewell to his flock. On Thursday in last week a tea was held in the chapel at which 170 persons were present. A public meeting followed under the chairmanship of Mr Yeadon, and St Ives, who was supported by Rev J.E. Barton, late of Middlesborough, H.G. Stambridge, Willingham, and J Hines, and Messrs Arthur Norman and Jabez Day, deacons. And illuminated address from the attendance at the Tuesday evening prayer meeting was presented by Mr Day, and Mr Ussher in reply on behalf of Mrs Ussher and himself was visibly affected. The evening service on Sunday was especially well attended, many people bringing presents from other villages, and Mr Ussher preached his farewell sermon, -an earnest and practical address - from the well-known text "Finally a brethern and farewell". Mr and Mrs Ussher will be missed. Many Swavesey people can tell of acts of kindness to those in sickness and distress. Not content with rendering and spiritual consolation, Mr Ussher, who is understood to have had medical training, saved many a doctor's bill by healing bodily ailments. Mrs Asher can also carry away the knowledge that she will be remembered in the village with grateful feeling. Her methods, due doubtless to her American origin, were not always appreciated, but of her kindness of heart there was no doubt.

BULL KILLED ON RAILWAY. 3rd Aug. 1906

Mr Alfred Day of Swavesey, has had the misfortune to have his large bull, an animal of value to its owner, but not beloved in the Parish. On Tuesday morning it was being removed from the Fen between the railway and the river where it had been some time, and with two cows was being driven over the line at Mow Fen crossing. The cows went over without difficult, but the bull preferred to explore the railway track, and, notwithstanding the efforts of Messrs. A. Aintree and Sam King and a youth named Savage, bolted in the direction of St Ives. For about a quarter of an hour the wild animal defied his guardians. Permanent-way men working in sight, but at a distance, ran up to help, but before they could do anything the up passenger train leaving St Ives at 8 a.m. came along. The bull regarding the train as an enemy, and charged the engine, with the result disastrous to itself, as was prophesied by George Stephenson. The carcass was carried 220 yards before the train was pulled up near the up signal, and the engine had to be detached in order to clear the mangled remains from the works. One cylinder was found to be broken and other damage done to the engine. A down goods train was passing at the time, and the engine driver, stoker and guard assisted the officials of the passenger train in the works of clearance, and seeing something was wrong, the Swavesey Stationmaster, (Mr W.Perry) two porters, and Mr C.W.Hines ran from the station to render what help they could. The passenger train was therefore only ten minutes late in reaching Swavesey. In March last the bull gored and killed a horse belonging to Mr Day.

Bank Holiday. 10th August 1906.

Visitors to Swavesey have been more numerous than ever this year and the trains on Saturday landed unusual numbers from London and elsewhere. On Monday however the village seemed deserted, the holidaymakers spending their time by or on the river, whilst many went to the Mammoth Show at Cambridge, some 60 tickets for Cambridge being issued at the station. The workers were busily engaged from early morn until late evening in the harvest field.

ANCIENT CHARITY ACCOUNTS. 10th Aug. 1906.

The oldest account book in existence of Galon's Charity, Swavesey, contains some quaint entries. The Charity consists mainly of land left by Thomas Galon, who flourished in the reign of King Henry VIII., and produces now about £79 a year. Fifty years or so ago it yielded about £128 a year. The book shows how the education of the people has advanced, for many of the ancient feoffees were unable to write, and had to affix their marks. On a fly sheet at the beginning of the book appear these entries:- "This book was brought January 1735. followed by "This book rebound December 21, 1783. Recd of James Wragg, Four shillings for Binding this Book. T.Gee."

The binding is of parchment, and as the book was in use for very many years after 1793, and the cover is sound today, it must be admitted that T.Gee did his work well. Another entry reads,

"April ye 13th 1737. Paid for John Walker ye sum of two pounds ten shillings a poor man in great want and being very much afflicted in his body. £2 10s."

A receipt fastened to a page and dated January 19 1819. is for Inoculation of ye Poor, No 238. £10. Paid Robt Ellis of Willingham. An old Directory I have been looking through gives some particulars which may be of interest to Swavesey readers. The population of the Parish in 1801 was 831. A century later, in 1901 it was 899; in 1831, 1115. and in 1841 1273. In 1851, the amount of assessed property was £2,940. At the present time the rateable value is £6,958, the assessment of the railway buildings and houses alone amounting to £3,114.

THE SCHOOL CLOCK. 17th August 1906.

An old proverb tell us "that when the cat's away the mice will play". and acting on that principle the clock outside Swavesey National School has been having a very happy time, “all on its own” since the harvest holidays begun. It snapped its fingers, figuratively speaking, at schoolmaster, managers, and Education Authority, and has been thoroughly “on the loose”, and, considering that it is about sixty years of age, has been setting a terribly bad example to the children on whom during school days it looks down so demurely. The clock has been striking one hour behind time - for instance, one o’clock has been announced by twelve strokes on the bell. The minute hand has proceeded on its way round the dial with commendable regularity. but the hour hand has gone in fits and starts at very irregular and sometimes very lengthy intervals. At 11.30 on Monday morning the hour hand stood halfway between six and seven. The clock is often called the Town Clock; and as it is in the middle of the village, while the clock on the Church tower is at the extreme end of the long village, accuracy is of importance to the villagers, and its erratic behaviour has doubtless caused inconvenience and annoyance. On the other hand, its wayward conduct has given occasion for a laugh, and has been a change from such well-worn topics of conversation as the weather, crops, and prospects of rain, and so has been a blessing in disguise. Over Church clock on Monday was six or seven minutes slow. No wonder, therefore, people have had difficulty in catching trains. .

APPEARANCES ARE DECEPTIVE. 30 Aug 1906

An unusual crowd of visiors went to Swavesey station one morning last week to bid farwell to a well-known inhabitant. Owing to circumstances into which it is needless to enter, ther was no time for the male portion of the crowd to put on their coats, nor for the representatives of the fair sex to don their head gear or their walking-out frocks. The send-off was hearty. The animated scene puzzled two gentlemen who were seated in the train, but at last a happy thought struck one of them. “This must be Histon” he said to his companion, “and these are the Factory girls!”

CRICKET. 30 Aug 1906.

I have recieved the following letter:- “Dear Sir - Being the Swavesey farmer referred to by you last week as having played and lost a game of cricket at Over, I write to say that I shall be gald if Mr Tom Hawkes, or Mr Bob Dines, or any other Over man will cometo Swavesey and have another game, I was not in my true form at Over, and more than that I do not think the umpire knew his business or he wouldf not have given me out simply for being hit by the ball - Yours truly, H. Wilderspin.

ALL SAINTS ARTHURIANS. ST IVES 30 Aug. 1906.

This match was played at St Ives on Saturday last, and resulted in a win for Swavesey by 48 runs. The home club was represented by a much stronger eleven than that defeated at Swavesey a month ago, but notwithstanding this Swavesey managed to score a creditable victory. Froment and Scard shared the bowling, and did well, the former taking his 50th wicket of the season during the game. The Swavesey fielding was excellent.

Scores Swavesey, 40 and 74 runs. St Ives, 31 and 35 runs.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL. 3rd Sept. 1906.

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Tuesday, at which there were present :- Rev A.C. Vidler (chairman) Messrs. W.H.Key, (vice chairman) J.Gilby, Jethro Linford, G.Metcalf, S.Prime, J.Wells, W.P.Wimpress, and Robinson Mitham, (clerk)

Street Lighting. The first business was the lighting of the street lamps during the winter months. Only one tender had been received, viz., from Mr George Clarke, whose price was £23. A long discussion ensued, several Councillors complaining that the amount had risen within a few years from £19 to £23, notwithstanding that there had been no increase in the number of lamps: but eventually it being a case of Hobson's choice. Mr Clarke's tender was accepted. It transpired that the cost of lighting for last year including payments to contractor's insurance of the lamps, repairs and storage, was £25 7s 6d.

Messrs. Stanton's fire, The fire on Messrs. Stanton & Sons premises last December again came under consideration. It will be remembered that although the parish fire engine was not used, it was retained on the scene of the fire for four days at the request of Messrs. Stanton, there being imminent risk.

A CURIOSITY. 7 Sept 1906

Mr Arthur Froment, of High Street, has this week dug out of his garden a medium - sized potato, in which was firmly clasped a horse's tusk tooth.

AMENITIES OF SPORTSMEN 7 Sept 1906

On the morning of the 1st two ardent Swavesey sportsmen carrying guns were walking on a highway in the parish. Another sportman came along in a trap and demanded to see the licence of one of the pedestrians, who promptly refused to comply, and asked the amateur Excise Officer why he wanted to see the document. The reply was ladylike - he merely wished to see the "certificate"

With such jealous watchdogs of the public purse about, the Board of Inland Revenue will be able to effect economies by reducing its staff.

CAR ENTIRELY DESTROYED, 14 Sept 1906.

On Monday afternoon, about one o'clock, a serious motor-car accident happened on the Huntingdon Road. Two tumbril carts, laden with barley, were being taken out of a field, tenanted by Mr John Scambler of Conington. Seeing a motor car approaching from Fenstanton, the man and boy in charge of the carts drew them up by the side of the road. The car passed the first cart safely, but swerved in towards the second. The front off wheel struck the iron near wheel of the cart, and smashed it, and broke both shafts. Then the car, its front off wheel also smashed, turned abruptly to the left in front of the horse, and, passing under the telegraph wires crossed the grass, dashed through the hedge, taking a portion with it. It continued its mad career for some eighteen yards into the field occupied by Mr Watts of Fen Drayton. Its occupants had all been thrown out, one gentleman being flung 50 feet, another 40 feet, whilst the third and the chauffeur, who were injured the most, were hurled shorter distances. Fortunately, both horses were kept under control and the cart wheel rolled harmlessly across the road into the opposite ditch. The cart was not upset. Dense clouds of black smoke immediately rose from the petrol in the tanks of the motor. The chauffeur staggered to his feet, but it was seen at once that he had sustained serious injury. One passenger was badly cut about the head and another's face bore traces of many scratches. Mr William Crisp and the Rev, E. Short of Swavesey who were in a light cart and had been passed by the motor just before the accident, drove up, and were asked to take the chauffeur to Cambridge, but, unfortunately, were unable to do so. A good Samaritan, in the person of Mr Philip Papworth of Oakington, soon came on the scene. and he at once drove the injured man to Addenbrooke's Hospital. where he was detained, Everything belonging to the car capable of being burned - (the coil with its polished wooden case and the uninjured front wheel alone excepted) - was soon destroyed, and about 23yards of hedge with the surrounding grass was also burned. During the afternoon and evening crowds of people visited the spot. The accident is ascribed to the car bumping over a sudden rise and fall in the road. (the report continues) .

THE GROOM'S CONSTITUTION. 14 Sept 1906

A gentleman residing in the county wanted a somewhat disagreeable job done the other day which he thought his gardener and groom might manage. when the subject was broached to the groom he demurred and assured his master that the work would not suit his constitution, "Won't it?" said the Master sympathetically, " No Sir" replied the man. "my constitution is very weak".

“Perhaps” went on the gentleman, “you think you’re going to get nothing for the job, but I intend to give you five shillings each and half a bottle of whisky between you. Will that help your constitution?. “That’ll go a long way towards it” said the groom. The work has been done to the satisfaction of all parties, and the groom’s constitution so far does not seem to have suffered.

GAP

STATISTICS. 28 Sept 1906

An ancient contributor of local items to the “Express” writes to me from Swavesey respecting a favourite thrush that he has had in a cage for eight years. A few days ago he noticed that there was something wrong with the bird. It seemed to have had a sort of stroke, as its head was twisted to one side, For a short time it rallied, but three days later it had another attack, and died in a few minutes. The bird was a beautiful songster, and had many friends. An aged lady living next door regarded it as a companion, and would often talk to it as a child. People in the street would stop and wonder where the beautiful and unseen bird could be, and even the mail cart driver as he drove by morning and night would listen to its tuneful note, and often ask after its welfare. On Sunday morning at 8 o’clock the old favourite was buried, and no longer are the dwellers in the High Street charmed with its sweet music. My correspondent is a statistician. Casting sorrows aside he has furnished me with the following particulars. In the day time the cage and its feathered prisoner was hung up in the open air, at night they were taken a distance of 13yards and placed under cover. During the eight years of its life he computes that the distance the bird has been carried from its day to its night abode and vice - versa to be 43miles. The cage - a home-made article weighted exactly 13 lbs. and the total weight carried during the eight years was over 33 tons.

ROUGH ON AUNTIE. 5 Oct 1906

I heard the other day a good story of a little girl four years of age. Her Aunt was suffering from toothache, and to relieve the pain had taken out her mouth two or three artificial teeth, and was holding them in her hand. The little niece, seeing her aunt looking miserable, enquired whether her head was aching, “No dear” was the reply, “ my teeth are aching”. After pondering for a moment or two the child asked, “Which teeth, Auntie; those in your head or those in your hand ?”

ENTERPRISE. 5th Oct. 1906

One of the Swavesey coal merchants has now his own railway trucks. Within the last few days a newly painted coal waggon was to be seen in the siding at the station bearing the inscription in large letters, "James Wells, No 1. Swavesey, G.E.R."

SCHOOL TREAT AND ENTERTAINMENT. 5th Oct 1906.

On Wednesday afternoon in the last week the children attending the Sunday School attached to the Parish Church had their annual treat, which had been postponed owing to an outbreak of measles. Assembling at the National School, at 2pm they marched around with cups and mugs to the Church, where a short service was held, after which they adjourned to the grounds of the Vicarage and played game, ran races, and had a bountiful tea. During the afternoon the parents of the children, Church workers, members of the Girls Friendly Society, and aged parishioners were also entertained. The veterans of both sexes ran, or rather walked, races, and created great amusement. Three old men competed in one contest, each carrying an apple in a spoon. An active veteran of eighty odd came first, but was disqualified as he dropped his apple, and first place was awarded to an old gentleman, who, having to use two sticks, had to hold his spoon in his mouth; the third competitor, a cheery old gentleman bent nearly double, was close behind. The other race was between three elderly ladies, also carrying apples in spoons. As all competitors were awarded prizes, everyone was satisfied. After dusk, Mr Walter Thorp essayed to send up two balloons, much to the delight of the youngsters. One Balloon sailed gallantly away, but the other unfortunately got alight and speedily came to grief. Before the proceedings terminated hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar and Miss Vidler and to the many willing workers were carried. "God Save the King" was then sung, the children cheered again and again, their hurrahs echoing all over the village, and the company dispersed.

BREAKDOWN 5th Oct. 1906

On Wednesday, 26th ultimo, the engine drawing the down Midland train due out of Cambridge at 8.55 a.m. broke down near Swavesey signal box. Another engine was speedily obtained, and the damaged engine had to be dragged, into a siding before the train could proceed. The up Midland train, due at Swavesey at 9.49 a.m. was delayed about half-an-hour in consequence of the mishap.

HARVET FESTIVAL 12 Oct 1906

The harvest festival at Bethel Chapel took place on Thursday evening. In the afternoon a tea was held at which a good number were present. The following ladies presided at the tables, Mesdames Carter, Aldred, Godfrey, Wimpress, Brand, and Miss Start. The Chapel was prettily decorated with corn, rushes, and various kinds of flowers. The Rev. Collins, pastor of Bluntisham was the preacher. The collection, which amounted to £3 17s 6d., went to augment the funds of Addenbrooke's Hospital,

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT THE PARISH CHURCH. 12 Oct 1906

Harvest thanksgiving services were held at the Parish Church on Wednesday, the 3rd inst. Holy Communion was celebrated at 7.30 am. and Evensong - the popular service was sung. The service, which was taken by the Vicar, was bright and hearty: and the choir, from whom it was noticed some old faces were absent, did right well. The anthem was Barnby's "O Lord, how manifold are Thy works". The Rev Walter R. Gardner, curate in charge of Holywell, preached an excellent sermon. Although not as extensive as in some years, the decorations were effective and in good taste, and reflected great credit on Miss Vidler, Mrs George Long, Mrs Bridgeman, Miss Pook, Miss Key, Miss Daisley, and Miss Ethel Garner, who form the devoted band of ladies who usually undertake the work, particularly as they were crippled this year by reason of a limited supply of flowers, fruit, etc. the result of the exceptionally dry and hot season. On Thursday evening there was a thanksgiving service at the Mission Church, when the Vicar preached. The festival services were continued on Sunday at the Parish Church, and at the Mission Church the children had their annual flower service during the afternoon. The offerings of fruit, vegetables, etc., at the Parish Church have, as usual, been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital, while the children's gifts of flowers, fruit and honey have gone to the St Ives Union Infirmary. All offertories during the festival and on Sunday morning, amounting in all to £5 0s 1d, have been for the benefit of Addenbrookes.

THE CHURCH CHOIR. 12 Oct 1906

The choir appears to be in a state of transition. Some old singers have left, and their places have been filled by young men. Under the fostering care, however, of the choirmaster - Mr H. Beaumont, - considerable improvement is already manifest. No ambitious anthems and services are attempted, but what is done is done well, special attention being bestowed on the response, monitoring, chanting, etc, matters of every-day detail too frequently deemed of little or no consequence. A word of praise is due to the organist Mr G.H. Skeeles, who has ably supported the choirmaster, and whose excellent accompanying and playing generally have done so much within the last year to instil life, vigour, and beauty into the services.

A COINCIDENCE. 12 Oct 1906.

A month ago attention was called to a potato which had been placed on the large weight of the Church clock at the conclusion of last year's harvest festival, and in this strange position has thrown out sprouts with leaves. When the Parish Clerk entered the Church on the morning of this year's festival he found that the potato had fallen to the ground. For twelve months it had reposed safely on the weight, and with it had every Saturday been wound up high into the belfry, only to descend slowly during the week. When the festival again came round its course was ended, and it voluntarily retired. It found a resting place in a fissure in the stone work of the tower, and was an object of interest during the festival.

CORRECTION. 12 Oct 1906.

Mr Walter Thorpe did not have a mishap with a fire balloon at the recent school treat. Only one balloon - not two, as erroneously reported - was used and that one Mr Thorp with the assistance of Mr John Gilby and Mr Ben Thorp, sent away in perfect condition.

A DISTRICT NURSE WANTED. 12 Oct 1906

The following has come to hand from Swavesey:- Reading the account of usefulness of the district nurse at Babraham in last week's 'Express' made one long for a properly trained nurse in the Swavesey district. She would find plenty of scope for her energies. There are many cases in which the superintendence of a trained nurse would be invaluable, but which for want of one have now to be left in the hands of untrained nurses. Some little time ago an effort was made to provide a district nurse, but the proposal was not received with enthusiasm, and so came to nothing. People about here taken generally are, apart from their avowed political principles, so very conservative - they might be described as obstructive "Tories" of the worst kind. - in matters of social and sanitary progress and reform. Because they have hitherto done without a trained nurse they see no reason for having one now. Perhaps, however, the subject can be brought forward again. The district nurses have proved an inestimable blessing in other places, and it is difficult to see why Swavesey should be an exception".

I commend the foregoing to the earnest attention of my readers in Swavesey and the neighbourhood, especially those who are in any position of authority or influence. If Swavesey people do not wish to be behind the times, if they have real sympathy for the sick and injured, they will lay their heads together and concert measures whereby a district nurse may be secured. To paraphrase a well-known advertisement, if they once get one, they will never be without one.

MR E. S. MONTAGU'S VISIT. 19 Oct 1906.

Mr E.S. Montagu's visited Swavesey on Wednesday evening, and addressed a meeting of his supporters in the National Schoolroom. Owing to great pressure on our space a fuller report is crowded out.

A NEW MAGISTRATE. 19 Oct. 1906.

Mr Ebenezer Parish has been appointed a J.P. for the county.

THE EDUCATION BILL. 19 Oct 1906.

A petition praying the House of Lords not to pass any Bill which would in any way take from the children the benefit of full religious instruction, which they now enjoy, has been signed by 85 parents and guardians of children attending Swavesey National School. The children of 66 separate families are at present on the books of the school and the 85 persons who signed the petition represented 45 households. Nonconformists as well as Church people signed the document, and amongst the signatories were several Liberals.

THE NEW MAGISTRATE. 26th Oct. 1906.

Mr Ebenezer Parish, the newly appointed J.P., was sworn in at the County Quarter Sessions last week, and took his seat on the Bench. Mr Parish's appointment anticipated the demand made at the recent conference in Cambridge of East Anglian Liberals for a larger representation of the Liberal Party on magisterial benches. The new magistrate is a native of Swavesey, and is the elder brother of Mr Zachariah Parish, butcher, well known in Cambridge Market. For a short period he was engaged in the pursuit of agriculture, but migrated to Manchester when still a lad, and spent the greater part of his life there. Returning to Swavesey, six years ago he built himself a house, and at once interested himself in local matters. At village meetings he has been prominent, and in 1904 he stood as Progressive, or Liberal candidate for the County Council, but was defeated by a large majority. Subsequently, as overseer, it fell to his lot to deal with the re-assessment of the parish. A large increase - upwards of £1,100, being demanded the ratepayers thought the matter should be gone into by a committee working in conjunction with the Overseer. Such a committee was appointed at an exceptionally well-attended Parish Meeting, but Mr Parish declined to avail himself of its assistance. His year of office, however, came to an end before the re-valuation was finally settled, and new Overseers were appointed, who went afresh into the re-assessment, working cordially with the Committee, and their re-valuation which was considerably less than Mr Parish's, was accepted by the St. Ives Union Assessment Committee. More recently he headed the opposition to the proposals of the Parish Council to settle a long- standing dispute with the Lord of the Manor, and acquire his rights in the Recreation Ground, proposals which, if adopted would have secured the land.

DICK WILDERSPIN'S ACCIDENT. 2nd Nov. 1906.

It is gratifying to be able to announce that Mr Dick Wilderspin, second son of Mr Herbert Wilderspin, farmer, etc. is progressing favourably after his very serious accident on the evening of Tuesday 23rd Oct., when Mr Herbert Armes, landlord of the New Crown Inn at the Hemingford and Fen Stanton crossroads, extricated him from under the horse with which his motor cycle had collided. He was taken at once into the Inn, and Dr. Mence's (locum tenens) summoned. It was found that he had sustained a concussion of the brain besides a bad cut across the forehead, and his condition was so serious that he could not be removed home until last Friday.

DEATH OF MRS SIDNEY BEAUMONT. 2nd Nov. 1906

After a long and very painful illness borne with great courage and patience, Mr Emily Beaumont, wife of Mr Sidney Beaumont, painter, of Swavesey, died on Wednesday afternoon. Great sympathy is felt for her bereaved husband. The funeral will take place at the Parish Church tomorrow, (Saturday) afternoon.

NUISANCES, 2nd Nov. 1906.

The energetic Inspector of Nuisances is again at work in Swavesey, and notices are being served on owners of property to remedy defects, etc. but private people are asking why they should be required to provide within 14 days ash bins with covers for detached houses standing in large gardens, when a public drain which was condemned some time ago is left severely alone

A SAD CASE. 9 Nov 1906

On Sunday morning, at six o'clock, the wife of Mr John Bridgeford, a well known and highly respected inhabitant of Swavesey, was seized with a stroke, and at 1pm, breathed her last. She had been ill in the spring of this year, from which she recovered sufficiently to be able to get about her domestic duties, though she never regained her health. There was, however, no indication of anything seriously amiss with her, and her sudden end came, therefore, as a terrible shock to her husband, three sons and two daughters. Mrs Bridgeford belonged to an old Swavesey family, being the daughter of the late Mr David Prime. She was sixty- six years of age, and, with the exception of twelve months in service in the neighbouring village of Over, had spent all her life in Swavesey. What makes the case a particularly sad one is the fact that this is the third death in Mr Bridgeford's house within about eighteen months. At Easter, 1905, his son-in-law Mr Muggeridge, who, broken down in health, had gone with his wife and two little boys to live with Mr Bridgeford, died , and on the 30th September last, the elder of the little boys passed away, after a very brief illness. Mr Bridgeford and his family have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole village, The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, in Swavesey Cemetery.

MRS E. PARISH'S ILLNESS. 9 NOV 1906.

We are sorry to learn that Mr Ebenezer Parish is in sad trouble, as his wife is lying seriously ill at "Ashlea" Swavesey. Mr Parish has sincere sympathy of his political opponents, as well as friends, and it is their earnest hope that his helpmate for many a long year, may be speedily relieved from pain and restored to health.

THE NATIONAL SOCIETY. 9 Nov 1906

The Church and Christian Education.

On Sunday last special sermons were preached at Swavesey Parish Church at the morning and evening services on behalf of the National Society. The Rev, Clement F. Rogers occupied the pulpit in the morning, and set before the congregation the aims and ideals of Christian education as understood by the Church. (a long report).

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY. 16 Nov 1906

Before being dismissed last Friday morning, the children attendeing the National School sang, "God Save the King", and then gave hearty cheers. During the evening the bells of the Parish Church were rung in honour of the day.

FIRE ENGINE. 16 Nov 1906

Taking advantage of so many men not being at work, owing to the wet day, the parish fire engine was tested on the Recreation Ground on Friday last. Beyond one very slight leakage in the hose pipe, everything was found satisfactory. Mr W.Thurbon, captain, was in charge. The Chairman of the Parish Council, (Rev A.C. Vidler) and Councillor George Metcalfe were present during part of the proceedings. The present hose is not sufficently long to meet all requirements, but the Parish Council will doubtless have this defect seen to.

TEMPERANCE MEETING 16 Nov 1906

In connection with the British Women's Temperance Association a successful and well-attended meeting was held in the National Schoolroom on Monday evening. The Rev. A.C. Vidler occupied the chair, and Mrs Crossfield of Cambridge, gave a powerful and inspiring address, dwelling on the duty and privilege of helping those around us. Miss Gaunt, the secretary of the local Branch of the Association would be glad to receive the names of any person who would like to join.

SWAVESEY DRAINAGE. 16 Nov 1906

A correspondent writes, - I was sorry to see from Friday's "Express" that only the Chairman put in an appearance at the last meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Council, therefore, no meeting was held. This was a pity, as we had been hoping that something might have been done to expedite the work in connection with the drain in Wallman's Lane, Swavesey, which has been condemned in June or July, and ordered to be attended to at once. So far nothing has been done since the open part of the drain was temporarily cleaned out preparatory, so we are told, to further action. While on the question of drainage the Council might with advantage devote attention to the public drains in the main street of the village. The stench from them at times is far from pleasant. With all respect to the Inspector of Nuisances, one cannot help thinking that he would do far more good in insisting upon the proper trapping of these public drains than calling upon individual landlords to supply ashbins with lids, and bring up the drainage of their property to the standard required - and properly required - in towns. Unless he sees that drains for which, it is believed, his Council are responsible are kept in proper order, he will, it is feared, find some difficulty in inducing individuals to comply with his requirements.

SOCIAL EVENING. 16 Nov 1906

A very successful and enjoyable social evening was held at the National School on Thursday evening, the 15th instant. Upwards of 150 persons, of all classes, attended. During the evening there was music, songs being contributed by Miss Vidler, Miss Irby, the Vicar, and Messrs J.Gilby, and William T. Thorp. Miss Irby played a violin solo. Mr Cole delivered a stump oration, and Mr Skeeles, the organist at the Parish Church, presided at the piano. The more active danced, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The proceeds, upwards of £4, were for the Choir Fund. A hearty vote of thanks was passed, on the proposal of Mr Cole, seconded by Mr Key, to the Vicar and organisers.

CRICKET CLUB. 16 Nov 1906

A meeting of the members of the Cricket Club was held at the National School on Friday evening, the 9th inst. Mr E.J. Warboys, captain, presiding. The annual accounts were passed, and showed that the Club is in a sound financial position. viz, balance from 1905. £3 6s. ; subscriptions, £8. Total £11 6. The expenditure during 1906 amounted to £6 1s 4d., leaving a balance in hand of £5 4s 8d. It was decided to have a social gathering of members and friends during December, and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. A resolution thanking Mr Ellis Long for the free use of the cricket ground was carried, amidst cheers, and votes of thanks to the Captain and Secretary, (Mr H. Beaumont, jun.) for their services were also passed. The meeting ended with the singing of "God Save the King" in honour of his Majesty's birthday.

FORTHCOMING TEA AND "SMOKER", 16 Nov 1906

The Committee of the Swavesey District Conservative Association are arranging a meat tea to be followed by a smoking concert, at the National School on Monday evening, December 3rd. Mr Raymond Greene has promised to be present. In order to avoid disappointment, early application should be made for tickets, which can be obtained from Messrs W.H. Key, Walter Thorp, and A.E. Saunders, Hon Secretary.

LIBERAL TEA AND SOCIAL. 16 Nov 1906.

A Liberal tea and social were held in Mr Parish's room on Monday evening. About 50 sat down to tea. Several speakers were expected for the meeting, which was held subsequently, but unfortunately they were unable to turn up. A varied programme of instrumental and vocal music was successfully carried out by Messrs. L. Parish, F. Parish, O. Williams and Miss Wimpres. Mr E Parish occupied the chair.

MISSIONARY SERVICES, 16 Nov 1906

The Missionary Services were held at Bethel Chapel on Sunday last. Sermons were preached morning and evening by the Rev. Robert Davies, of Cheshunt College to a good congregation. On Monday evening the services were continued. The Rev. Wall of Rome, addressed a fair gathering. The Rev. J. E. Barton presided. Mr Wall said that he was asked to go as a missionary to India, but declined, and urged that Italy was the sphere for him, as his father was of that country, and that he himself lived there for the first 16 years of his life. He gave an interesting and instructive account of the superstitions which were still held by natives of that country. It was not less necessary to send missionaries to Italy than to India or China. The collection was devoted to the funds of the Baptist Missionary Society.

A MARVELLOUS HEN 16 Nov 1906

A hen belonging to Mr Ebenezer Prime, of Wright's Farm, Swavesey, one day recently laid two eggs. They were perfect in shape and of ordinary size, and were joined together by a small piece of skin.

FOR YOUNG MEN ONLY. 16 Nov 1906

A few energetic young men of Swavesey have started a kind of Hare and Hound Club, and on Saturday last had their first run, being upwards of two hours. On the ancient principle of a healthy mind in a healthy body this new venture is to be heartily commended, and it is hoped that an informal association of a few young men will develop into a permanent and prosperous club. Mr Lawson Hepher is, we understand, chief organiser.

GAP

CONSERVATISM IN WEST CAMBS. 6th Dec 1906.

The Conservatives of Swavesey, assisted by Conservatives from the surrounding villages, gave an unmistakable demonstration on Monday evening, that, notwithstanding their defeat in January last, they are the reverse of being down-hearted at the present time. The occasion was a meat tea and smoking concert arranged by the local association. The large room of the National School was filled with some 200 persons, chiefly men, the only ladies admitted, being those who presided over the tea tables. Two disappointments awaited the gathering, First, the absence of Mr Greene, the President of the Association, and second, the announcement that he had decided to contest another constituency. In a letter to the Chairman, Mr Cole, he said, "Please convey to the Conservative Party in Swavesey, my deep regret that I shall not be able to be present on Monday, and express to them my high appreciation of their kindness and consideration towards me during the years that I had the honour of representing them in Parliament, I am yours faithfully, Raymond Greene". (a long report with many names)

Doctor Barnado's Homes 6th December 1906.

A lantern lecture in aid of the homes was given in the National School on Tuesday evening by the Rev J.R.C Forrest, Vicar of Swanborne, before a large audience. The Rev a C Vidler, vicar presided, and Mister Walter Thorpe assisted in manipulating the lantern. A collection was made at the close, but it is feared it was not as large as might have been.

A Precocious child 6th December 1906.

When speaking some days previously to the above lecture to the little children in the infants School the thick are mentioned that he wanted a horse and cart to convey the lantern to the school and asked whether any of the children had a Big enough to lend him. He expected no answer, but to his surprise one came. A Chad be a chain of five years of age promptly offered to supply the necessary horse and cart. It was his father's but in the eyes of the small boy that was a matter of detail not worthy of consideration.

Cricket Club Social. 14th Dec 1906.

A highly successful social evening attended by about 100 members and friends, - the ladies were largely in evidence - was held in the National School on Tuesday evening. Mr H.S. Aldred presided, and was supported by the Captain Mr E Warboys, Mr J Wells, Church warden, Mr J Robinson, Mr S.W. Crisp, Mr J.S. Goad, and for a time by the vicar the Rev A C Vidler, an old captain. A long programme of songs and instrumental music and recitations was gone through, with intervals for refreshments of the most tempting and succulent, though non-intoxicating description. Every member was well received. Indeed, at first so many items were encored that it was necessary later to prohibit repetitions entirely. The band, Messrs H Beaumont, Lawson Hephher, L.Parish and R. Parish with Miss Goad at the piano was most effective. The songs of Miss Scard, and Messrs A.T. Scard, J. Gilby, Lawson Hephher, H. Wells, and H. Beaumont were greatly appreciated, and the choruses were taking up with gusto. The piano solos of Miss Goad, Miss Scard, and the talented organist at the parish church Mr Skeeles were admirable. At the conclusion of the program that chairman called upon the captain to address the gathering. Mister Warboys express the gratitude of himself and the committee for the help rendered by the Chairman, the ladies, the vicar, and the performers towards making the entertainment a success. He thanked Mr Ellis Long for kindly lending the cricket ground, and feelingly referred to the cricketers who had died, especially mentioning the late Dr Lewis. The chairman responded as far as he was able, and called upon Miss Scard to reply for the ladies. She declined, and the chairman suggested the secretary was the proper man to represent them. Mister H Beaumont was either too shy or deemed himself not sufficiently a ladies man, to undertake the duty, so he somewhat chivalrously refused, and for want of a volunteer that Chairman had to reply himself. He did it admirably by thanking the ladies once again. The audience cheered, the ladies smiled, and all ended happily notwithstanding the secretary's defection.

St Andrews Day 21st December 1906

The festival of the patron Saint of the Parish Church was kept last week. On Thursday (the eve) there was choral evensong and the sermon was preached by the newly appointed Rural Dean Rev C.E. Crump, Rector of Cottenham. On Friday there were other services.

Parish Council Meeting, 21st December 1906.

A meeting of the parish council was held in the National School on Tuesday evening the Rev A C Vidler chairman presiding. Councillors J. Gilby, George Metcalfe, R Norman, and W.P. Wimpress were also present, with the clerk Mr Robinson Mitham.

It was decided to erect a brick wall with coping to separate the parish property in High Street from the main road, and to tidy the premises. Payments were authorised to the lamp lighter and to the committee charged with cleaning out of the parish ponds. Considerable discussion ensued respecting the dispute with Messrs Stanton's respecting payment for the attendance of the parish fire engine at the fire on their premises last December. It was decided to place a notice board at each of the parish ponds warning persons from depositing rubbish in the ponds.

Mister George Metcalfe proposed that a letter in the following terms be sent to County Councillor Rev S.T. Adams.

- Sir the members of this meeting wished to express their thanks to you for your unfailing energy in trying your utmost to reduce the expenditure of the proposed county school. The waste of public money by the county council is most deplorable, as many a ratepayer has to deny himself the necessities of life to pay for education in this county, and a great deal of which is of no real use whatsoever to the children in after life. We admire your courageous fight for the good of your supporters.

Mister R Norman seconded, the resolution was carried unanimously.

AN OLD CUSTOM ABANDONED. 4th Jan. 1907.

The dinner in connection with the recent Swavesey Tithe Audit was not held. It usually takes place at the White Horse Inn, where the collector, a gentleman from the South of England, sits on the appointed day at the “receipt of custom”. It appears that the collector is only prepared to pay a fixed sum for each person actually present at the dinner, notwithstanding that may have been given to provide for a larger number. The landlord after last year’s audit stated that he could not, except at loss to himself, which he naturally declined to incur, provide a dinner such as that required for the sum offered, and he asked that specified number of diners should be guaranteed and paid for whether present or not. To these conditions the collector would not agree, and so the dinner, a very ancient custom, has not been held. The Collector apparently forgets that Swavesey is not a town, and that the White Horse is merely a village inn. and not a restaurant or hotel. Tithe paying is not popular at the best of times, and it therefore seems hardly wise, where it has been the practice to sugar-coat the pill with a dinner to abandon an old custom for the sake of a few shillings. Another reason why it appears a mistake in the case of the Swavesey Rectorial Tithe is that the produce of the Tithe goes to gentlemen residing in a distance part of the country, and except possibly in rates none now goes back directly or indirectly for the benefit of the parish as would probably be the case if the owners were resident in or near the village.

DEATH OF MRS EDWARD THORP. 4th Jan. 1907.

We regret to announce the death from senile decay and heart failure of Mrs Edward Thorp, of Boxworth End, which occurred at mid-day on Thursday, 27th December. Mrs Thorp, who was within a month of attaining the great age of 84years, had been of failing health for some time. She was the widow of Mr Edward Thorp, butcher, who, prior to his death 24 years ago, had stood in Cambridge Market for upwards of half a century. She leaves two sons, Mr Walter and Mr William Twist Thorp, the latter of whom was, until his recent retirement a familiar figure in Cambridge Market. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Monday afternoon, the Vicar, and Rev. A.C.Vidler officiating.

DEATHS 4th Jan. 1907.

Two other aged inhabitants of Swavesey also passed away during Christmas week, namely Mr Benjamin Sutton, aged 79years. early on Christmas morning, and Mr William Prime aged 78years on Thursday 27th December. Sutton had the distinction of having been employed on two farms only during his long life. Many years ago he worked for the late Mr John Reynolds, at Oakington, and subsequently for the late Mr Joseph Garner, and his successor, the late Mr Jethro Garner at Swavesey. Mr Prime was a well known as a hay factor in and around Cambridge. Both funerals took place in the cemetery.

GOLDEN WEDDINGS. 4th Jan. 1907.

Mr and Mrs William Wright, senior, celebrated their golden wedding on Christmas Day, all their sons and daughters, except one of the latter who is aboard, being present, and on Sunday, Mr and Mrs Charles Savage, surrounded by their family, also commemorated a similar event.

Ping-Pong Club's Farewell. 11th Jan. 1907.

Condemned to death through no fault of theirs, but merely because the fascinating game has followed in the wake of other ephemeral amusements, the members of the Swavesey Ping Pong Club which was established five years ago, determined to go out of existence with éclat, and on Thursday evening in last week did it most successfully. With funds in hand the Committee, under the energetic leadership of the last Captain, Mr S.W. Crisp and of Mrs W.C. Cole, who had been the indefatigable Secretary during the whole of the Club's lifetime, arranged a social evening at the National School, and some fifty members and friends attended and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Songs, instrumental music, and recitations were contributed by Miss Vidler, Mrs Parsons, Mrs Welch, Miss Scard, Miss Queenie Cole, Miss L. Mitham, Miss Hawkes, Miss H. Garner, Miss Muriel Parsons, and Miss P. Welch. Mr A.T. Scard and Mr H.S. Aldred. The Vicar gave a reading from Washington Irving's "Bracebridge Hall". The versatile Mr Hills, besides singing and reciting, made his first appearance - a successful one too - in a drawing room sketch. Mr Lawson Hephner caused much amusement with his dancing doll, and the genial and ever welcome Mr E. Papworth (Oakington) delighted the audience with his lively and facetious songs, some of which were given in character. At intervals there were dances. During the proceedings, at the suggestion of the Vicar, Mr W.C. Cole the first captain, proposed a vote of thanks to Mr S.W. Crisp the last captain for his valuable services, and he referred in pathetic terms to the mournful occasion which had caused his hearers to meet together; he felt, he declared, inclined to weep, for they were assisting in burying the club which had afforded so many a pleasant hour. Mr Crisp's reply was conspicuous for its brevity and modesty. All credit was due, he said, to other persons, especially to the Hon. Secretary, to whom he proposed a vote of thanks. Mrs Cole responded in a few graceful sentences. A word of praise is due to Mr Scard, the well-known Swavesey Confectioner, who provided the excellent refreshments, and was responsible for the effective decoration of the room. A cake made by him, on which was displayed in sugar a realistic representation of a ping pong net with balls and bats, was an admirable specimen of the confectioner's art.

THE NEW POST OFFICE. 11 Jan 1907

It has long been recognised that Swavesey Post Office was too small for the ever-increasing demands of postal work, and for the Sub- Postmaster's growing stationary business, but it has hitherto been difficult to find more suitable premises in the main part of the village. The compulsory closing of the Sir Harry Smith public house a few yards away, however, threw that property on the market, and enabled Mr Thomas Metcalfe, the sub-postmaster, to purchase premises which would afford a commodious and convenient office. On Wednesday the new office was opened. There was no formal ceremony, even the schoolchildren were absent, and severe businesslike simplicity ruled the proceedings. The Postmaster- General and the Member of Parliament for the Division were not present; being unable it is presumed, to tear them away from the repose they so sorely need after their strenuous labours in and out of Parliament. As the new office, which is admirably arranged, was until lately a tap-room, its conversion to its present purpose must be regarded as being in a measure a triumph of the Temperance Cause. Where the publican reigned, the sub-postmaster is now supreme. Counters have replaced settles on which the votaries of John Barleycorn reclined. The clink of the telegraph instrument is heard instead of the jingle of glasses, In lieu of beer postage stamps are vended, and the insidious cigarette has made way for harmless picture postcard. The superfluous twopence of the horny handed sons of toil can now be invested in the savings bank, where once they purchased the fleeting joys of a pint of ale. From whatever point of view, utilitarian or moral, the opening of the new office may be regarded, so far as the village of Swavesey is concerned it was of historic interest, and for the benefit of future generations it may therefore be recorded that, after a keen contest, Mr H. Beaumont, junior transacted the first business at the counter, and Mr Bartley posted the first letter.

ROUND & ABOUT. - CHARITY COAL. 11 Jan 1907.

I learn that the letter published in this column last week respecting the charges made for the delivering the Swavesey charity coal will be brought before the Feoffees at their next meeting, which is to be held almost immediately. During the last few days I have received further information on the subject. The charges my correspondent complains of are no new imposition, but have been in force for very many years. The Feoffees give instructions for a free distribution of coal to the selected recipients at the railway station. It not being convenient for many of the recipients to fetch away their coal, it has been the practice for others persons to undertake the delivery on their behalf, and make a small charge for so doing. Until some twelve or fourteen years ago the delivery was effected by private persons, since then the contractors for the coal have done the work themselves. Each distribution should be announced by the town crier who requests recipients to go to the railway station on a specified day for their coal. Latterly, however each distribution dose not appear always to have been “ cried” . The charge of four pence levied on every new recipient is also of ancient origin. It is supposed to represent the price of a quart on beer for the men engaged in weighing out the coal, and it has been paid without murmur.

ROUND & ABOUT, - THE LIGHTS OF SWAVESEY. 18 Jan 1907

There is some talk, in Swavesey, respecting the lighting of High Street near the new Post Office. Opposite the old office there is a public lamp, which throw a certain amount of light on the posting box, but the new office being between two lamps is somewhat in the gloom. A suggestion has been madethat one of the two lamps in question should be moved to a position facing the present posting box, but this proposal is open to objection, as it would bring the lamps too close to one another. Perhaps, however the Parish Council could see their way, without entailing much expense on the ratepayers, to re-arrange all the lamps in the street, and erect anew lamp near the house known as the Cricketers. The street at this point is very dark especially when there are no lights in Mr Starte’s shop. The Latter proposal, if adopted, would materially improve the lighting of the High Street, which is the most important thoroughfare in the village, whereas the other proposal savours somewhat of a robbery of Peter to pay Paul.

ROUND & ABOUT. - MIDDLE FEN, SWAVESEY. 18 Jan 1907.

“A stitch in time saves nine” is a good old proverb, which contains, as proverbs mostly do, a great deal of truth. At any rate certain occupiers of land, near the river Ouse, in the parish of Swavesey, are just aat6 present willing to admit that if the principle set forth in the homely proverb I have quoted had been acted upon, their land would not so often be under water. Middle Fen, now flooded once more, should be protected by “Scratch Bank” but this bank and its fobs have been allowed to get out of repair, and are useless for protective purposes. Some two or three years ago an effort was made to raise a fund to effect the necessary repairs, but nothing was done as all the parties concerned could not be induced to agree to the scheme. Now another attempt to deal with the matter is being made which, it is sincerely to be hoped, will be successful.

ROUND & ABOUT.-A PRICELESS HERITAGE. 19 Jan 1907,

These banks are a priceless heritage from the past, and it is therefore more than a pity - far stronger language might be used without exaggeration - that works on which our fore-fathers expended so much money and so much labour, should through the neglect or the pusillanimity of their descendants, be suffered to fall into decay. While dealing with the question, present needs should not only be considered. It will be short-sighted policy merely to patch. The future must be thought of. A comprehensive scheme should be adopted whereby the bank and fob may be always kept in sound condition. On the principle that a stitch in time save nine, there should be periodical examinations, and, when necessary, defects should be attended to at once. A single stitch, be it remembered, is cheaper than nine, and, moreover, except perhaps in case of a "Captain" there would be no floods. To leave all thought of repair until the land is under water remains one of another proverb which sarcastically speaks of locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 18 Jan 1907.

Influenza has attacked the children of the village, and on Thursday in last week no less than forty three youngsters, about a third of the total number borne on the register, were absent from school. It has in consequence been decided to close the National School for a fortnight.

CHARITY COAL. 18 Jan 1907

We are authorised to state that the Feoffees of Galon's Charity, at their meeting on Monday evening, decided that in future the coal distributed by them should be delivered by the contractors at the house of every recipient free of charge.

HOUNDS MEET. 18 Jan 1907.

For the first time for many years the Cambridgeshire Hounds met in Swavesey on Friday last. The scene in Market Street about 11 o'clock was bright and animated and the villagers showed their appreciation of the unwonted spectacle by attending in large numbers. \the weather was delightful but frosty, and the Master, Mr Crossman, therefore delayed moving away for a short time in order to give the sun a chance of making an impression. No attempt was made to find a fox in Swavesey though two or three are known to be about, but the hounds were taken towards Fendrayton and thence to Fenstanton. Happening on nothing. they returned and made for Longstanton and Westwick. The villagers were much disappointed that there was no attempt to start a fox near Swavesey, and the opinion was freely expressed that if enquiry on behalf of the Hunt had been made prior to the meet as to the whereabouts of foxes something could have been done to furnish sport. Perhaps the Master may be able to see his way to arrange for another visit. as a photographer was busily engaged in taking snapshots of various phases of the meet some interesting pictures will no doubt be on sale before long.

MORE COAL. 18 Jan 1907.

Mr George Carter, son of the late Mr Fred Carter, of Swavesey, has very kindly given away, through Mr James Wells coal to certain widows, windowers, and other needy persons in the village, The timely gift has been greatly appreciated

OBITUARY. 18 Jan 1907

We regret to have to record the death of Miss Elizabeth Williams, sister of Mr John Williams, coal merchant and parish clerk of Swavesey, at his house in Market Street she passed away. Miss Williams, who was 73 years of age, had been feeble and failing health for some time. ashe was one of a family of 19 or 20, being the daughter of Mr Edward Williams, for about 40 years parish clerk of Swavesey. She was greatly respected, and was for many years houskeeper at Hallack & Bond's Cambridge. The funeral will take place tomorrow (Saturday) in Swavesey Churchyard.

ROUND & ABOUT - MIDDLE FEN SWAVESEY, 25 Jan 1907

With regard to the paragraphs in this column last week respecting Middle Fen, Swavesey, I hear that Mr Robinson Mitham, the Assistant overseer and clerk to the Parish Council, etc. who is usually well informed in such matters, says that the proper name of the defective bank is not Scratch, as it is invariably called nowadays, Cradge Bank. There is, he believes, a bank of the same name in connection with the Middle Level Drainage. Perhaps some of my readers may be able to furnish further information on the subject, and also give the meaning of this mysterious and probably obsolete word "Cradge".

ROUND & ABOUT, - CRUELTY AT SWAVESEY, 25 Jan 1907.

Sir – Can you induce the officials of the society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Animals to visit Swavesey, for unnecessary suffering is being inflicted on horses bt fresh granite being laid down in the High Street by the County Council on a hard frozen roadway ? On Saturday granite was spread over a section of the street from one side to side. The steam roller arrived on Tuesday and partly rolled in the stones. Yesterday and today the roller has not been at work, owing, it is presumed, to severe frost; but, notwithstanding this, the rest of the street was yesterday thickly covered with granite. A very considerable amount of heavy traffic passes along the street to and from the Railway Station, and, except for part of the way where there is an awkward side lane there is no alternative route. Was it necessary – it certainly was not humane – to put down stones yesterday?. As our member County Councillor , who is, I believe a member of the Roads Committee, has not interfered, it is supposed he is powerless to act. I therefore make this public appeal, and I believe I voice the sentiments of every kindly disposed person in the village, I may add that a little gravel is being thrown on the granite – Yours truly X.Y.Z.

RAILWAY OFFICIAL'S SUPPER. 1. Feb. 1907

Through the generosity of Mr E.H. Thornhill, (Boxworth) Rev R.M. Stapylton, (Lolworth), Mrs George Long, Rev. A.C, Vidler, Mr Bartley, Mr Cole, Mr Cox, anf Mr Watts- White, (Swavesey, the station, booking clerks, signalmen, porters, foreman platelayer and the carrier were entertained at supper on Friday Evening at the Railway Station. About a dozen sat down to an excellent meal provided by Mrs Perry, and after wards spent a very pleasant and harmonious time under the genial chairmanship of the station master.

CHURCH DEFENCE. 1 Feb. 1907

In the cause of Church Defence, a very interesting and able lecturc, well illustrated by lantern slides, entitled “ The Coming of St Augustine,” was delivered by the Rev. A.J.C. Allen, vicar of St Mary-the-Less, Cambridge, on Monday evening in the National School. The Vicar presided over an audience which was thoroughly appreciative, but might with advantage have been larger. Probably the short and doubtless unavoidably inadequate notice given had much to do with the small attendance.

SKATING. 1. Feb 1907

The ice on the one-time famous Mere Fen was in excellent condition the latter part of last week, the whole of its many acres being available. On Thursday, in spite of a request to the contrary announcement by the crier in Swavesey and Over, a few people, chiefly from other villages, could not resist the temptation to try their “pattens”. On Friday the field was thrown open, a small charge being made for admission, and a fair number of persons from the neighbourhood and St Ives were skating. On Saturday, there was a much larger attendance, but visitors from Cambridge were not as numerous as in some previous years. There were many spills, but only one serious accident, when Mrs James Norman, of Over, who was walking on the ice, was upset by a skater, and fell heavily, breaking her wrist. She proceeded by train to Cambridge for attention at Addenbrooke's Hospital, but was able to return home during the evening. Sunday morning saw a never-ending procession of motor-car, carriages, and cycles through the village, and notwithstanding that a thaw has set in the ice was well patronised. It is estimated that at least 300 cycles were stacked on Mere Fen, and many others were accommodated at public houses in the village. One cyclist, an undergraduate, had a nasty fall in Hihs Street about midday on the loose granite covering the road. He injured his leg and had to return to Cambridge by train. Admission to Mere Fen was free, but a gate had to be scaled, which, however, proved no insuperable obstacle even to the ladies. A grand opportunity was lost in not collecting for a charity, Addenbrooke's Hospital for instance, as most of those who enjoyed a good and gratuitous, though possibly damp day's skating would have been only too glad to have shown their satisfaction in the form of a small monetary contribution. A few people were on the ice on Monday. As the thaw continued the local races arranged for Tuesday had to be abandoned.

BROUGHT HOME. 1 Feb 1907.

On Monday afternoon the funeral of the late Mrs Sarah Mitchell took place in Swavesey Churchyard, the Rev. A.C. Vidler, vicar, officiating. Mr Mitchell who was 74 years of age, was the daughter of Mr William Papwoth, of Swavesey, and was married to Me Ebenezer Mitchell, farmer, who died some 30 years ago and was buried in Swavesey Churchyard. A few years later Mrs Mitchell removed to London, and there she died last week.

SWANS. 1 Feb 1907

One of four swans which have recently taken up their quarters on Mere Fen appears to be missing. Can it have fallen a victim of the gun of a "sportsman?" on the prowl, as was the case with some other swans three and a quarter years ago.

SKATING. 8th Feb 1907

Although not so good as a week previously, nor so extensive, the ice on Mere Fen was well patronised on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. On Saturday the ice in part did not prove strong enough to bear the weight of a lady – a stranger. A young Swavesey resident gallantly went to her rescue, and also got into the water, which fortunately was shallow. After considerable trouble he managed to help her back onto sound ice, but both she and her companion, in haste to reach, terra firma, forgot even a word of thanks for his assistance, or of regret for his immersion on her behalf. On Monday afternoon there were two mishaps, Miss Rhoda Eason fell and seriously hurt her arm, and an undergraduate received a severe blow on his forehead from a hockey stick.

BEN THORP REDIVIVUS. - 8 Feb. 1907

The redoubtable Ben Thorp journeyed to Littleport on Monday and took part in the big race. He was drawn against Dix, the winner, but unfortunately fell in his heat, whilst turning on some rough ice.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT. – 8 Feb 1907.

His many friend and customers in Swavesey and the surrounding villages will learn with sincere regret that Mr Charles Garner, the well-known harness maker, of Swavesey & Over, met with a serious accident on Monday afternoon. Whilst walking along the raised pebble causeway, commonly known as the “Stones” near the Swan Pond, he slipped on a piece of frozen snow and fell, breaking his ankle. He was promptly assisted to his residence a few yards distant, and Mr John Gilby officiently rendered first aid. During the evening Mr Garner was removed to Addenbrooke’s Hospital, where the bone was set and he was detained. He is doing as well as can be expected.

A MYSTERIOUS FIRE. 8 Feb 1907.

A fire, which though not of extensive dimensions, yet was of serious consequence to the sufferer, broke out shortly before midnight on Tuesday on the premises of Mr Edward Bull, market gardener, Boxworth End. Mr Bull’s house stands by itself, and is reached by a roadway on the north side of the Red Lion Inn. The family went to rest at the usual time, a son being the last to retire at 11pm. As far as can be ascertain all was then safe. Almost a quarter to twelve a daughter was aroused from sleep by loud sounds of crackling. Looking through her window she discovered that a hovel, situated some thirty yards away, in which a drill and other implements and tools were stored, was on fire. She immediately alarmed the rest of the family, but as the fames had got a strong hold very little could be done. The roof, composed of bushes, etc, was blazing furiously, and speedily fell in and everything was destroyed. A small stack near by was however, saved by water. Sergeant Chevill, who saw the light from Longstanton cycled to the spot immediately, and P.C. Hiner the Swavesey constable, patrolling near Fendrayton, also detected it, and made his way there as speedily as possible. Throughout Wednesday, the police were making diligent enquiries with a view to ascertain the cause of the fire. Mr Bull was, unfortunately, not insured, and the loss, roughly estimated at from £40 to £50, will be a heavy blow to him.

ROUND & ABOUT. 8th Feb. 1907.

(By the Scribe in the Villages.) Following the much-needed repairs recently executed to the roadway of High Street, Swavesey, it may interest some of my readers to know that along this short and comparatively narrow stretch of street some 10,000 tons of agricultural produce, fruit, and coal, besides other goods of all kinds, were conveyed to or from Swavesey Railway Station last year. When this amount is added to the non-railway traffic of the neighbourhood it will be seen that it is desirable the roadway should be kept in good condition. Many of the carts and wagons are very heavily laden. The station serves nine villages besides Swavesey, whose carts, etc., must proceed through High Street to reach the railway, viz., Boxworth, Conington, Elsworth, Fendrayton, Knapwell, and Lolworth regularly, and occasionally Bourn, Caxton, and Papworth Everard.

ENTERTAINMENT. 15 Feb 1907

The members of Histon Amateur Dramatic Society, in pursuance of their laudable ambition to help and amuse their neighbours, paid their first visit to Swavesey on Thursdays, the 7th inst, and gave an excellent entertainment in the National School. The Vicar of Swavesey, who presided, mentioned in the course of his brief introductory remarks that the visit was due to Mr A.E. Saunders, once of Histon but now a Swavesey resident, and that the proceeds were to be given in aid of funds to form a Men's Institute in Swavesey,
--- At the conclusion of the programme the Vicar heartily thanked the performers for their entertainment, and especially for their kindness in journeying so far in such wintry weather.

CRICKET CLUB. 15 Feb 1907

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held on Friday evening at the National School, Mr E.J. Warboys, presiding. The chief business was the selection of officers for the ensuing year, and the following appointments were made:- Captain, E.J. Warboys, vice-captain, S.J. Froment, treasurer, W.P. Wimpress, secretary, C. Taylor. assistant secretary, J.W. Williams, committee, F. Causer, W.Goad, E. Mitham, E.J Mitham, R. Mitham jun. H. Perry, and B.Prior. A president and fourteen vice-presidents were also elected, subject to their acceptance of office.

LAMP SMASHING. 15 Feb 1907

The peace and quiet of Sunday afternoon were disturbed by a stranger, apparently of the homeless tramp order, smashing the glass of the public lamp in High Street facing Market Street. He declared that he wished to be locked up, and immediately surrendered to P.C. Hines, who was able to comply with the request by conveying him to the County Police Station at Chesterton. It is understood that the man will appear before the Magistrates tomorrow (saturday).

RECENT FIRE, 15 Feb 1907.

An appeal is being made for funds to assist Mr Edward Bull to replace some of the implements and tools which were destroyed in the fire on his premises on the night of the 5th instant. Mr W.C. Cole, The Farm, Swavesey, will be glad to receive subscriptions. Mr Bull, unfortunately, allowed the insurance on his property to lapse a few months ago, and his loss, which he cannot meet out of his own resources, is estimated at between £40 and £50.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL.

The annual report of Addenbrooke's Hospital recently issued, shows that the donations from Swavesey to the County Organisation Fund, in aid of the Hospitals were the largest in the aggregate from any village in the county, viz, £16 5s. It will be remembered that the house-to-house collection for the fund was made by a Committee of ladies, under the leadership of Mr George Long. This satisfactory result will, doubtless, on the occasion of the next collection, inspire the villagers, not only to maintain their premier position, but to do still better. The Hospital renders excellent service to Swavesey people, and for that reason alone is well deserving of their hearty support.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL. 15 Feb 1907

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Tuesday evening, at which were present :- Rev A.C. Vilder, chairman, Messrs W.H. Key, vice chairman, J Gilby, G. Metcalfe, R.Norman, J.Wells, and Robinson Mitham, clerk. The Chairman read a letter from the Charity Commissioners which seemed to promise some settlement of the difficulty concerning the recreation ground.

The letter amounted to a recommendation that the Parish Council should make application to the Charity Commissioners for a new scheme for the control of the ground. Mr Gilby proposed, and Mr Norman seconded, that the application should be made, and the prescribed form was eventually signed by the Chairman and two other members of the Council at the meeting.

A letter was also read respecting the attendance of the parish engine at the fire on Messrs Stanton's premises in December, 1905. – a matter which has been under discussion on so many occasions – and certain instruction on so many occasions – and certain instructions were given to the Clerk, with the view of enforcing payment.

The reply of the Rev. S.T. Adams to the letter of thanks, etc. for his services in the cause of economy, which was sent him by the Council on the 18th December, was communicated to the meeting. One Councillor expressed the opinion that Mr Adams was one of the best men on the County Council, and that if a poll was taken of direct ratepayers throughout the county he would get a majority of ten to one.

OFFICIAL NOTICES. 1 March 1907

A complaint has reached me from Swavesey respecting the way in which the official notice concerning the impending Rural District Council Election has been posted on the Parish Church and the two Chapels. The notice, which is a considerable size and of buff colour, has been pasted on the outside stone wall of the church porch, notwithstanding, that there is a notice board inside the porch. No notice had ever hitherto been posted outside the porch. On the Primitive Methodist and Old Baptist Chapels it has been pasted on the wall near the doors, a stretch of virgin brickwork being selected, just as if it were an auctioneer's bill announcing the sale of property. My correspondent asks if it is legal to post public notices in such a position and in such a way as to disfigure buildings dedicated to sacred purposes. If this sort of thing is allowed our churches and chapels will soon present the appearance of advertisement hoarding.

A DISAPPOINTMENT, 1 March 1907.

The smoking concert announced by Swavesey District Conservative Association to take place at the White Horse on Monday last had to be postponed owing to the illness of Captain W.H. Heal who had kindly undertaken to provide entertainment.

OFF TO CANADA, 1 March 1907

Four young men, members of well-known Swavesey families, Messrs H. Beaumont, F. Day, Lawson Hephew, and H. Wells, are leaving England towards the end of the month to try their luck in Canada. Their friends are arranging a social evening in their honour at the National School on Tuesday, March 19th at which the Vicar has promised to preside.

BRITISH WOMEN'S TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION. 1 March 1907

The Annual public meeting, in connection with the British Women's Temperance Association, was held, on Monday last, in the Bethel Chapel, kindly lent for the occasion. The chair was taken by the Rev J.E. Barton, who gave a sympathetic earnest speech on "The Drink Traffic" as affecting child life" Mrs Reaney, of London, was the principal speaker. Her talented and refined address will long be remembered by those privileged to hear, founded upon the words of the Scripture, "Dost thou believe on the Son of God?" Commencing with an earnest appeal to believe on the Son of God, she showed that as christen workers, we should have greater influence if abstainers from intoxicating drink. Many incidents were given from her own personal experience, and moved the people by their pathos and power.

PARISH COUNCIL. 1 March 1907

The Parish Council met on Thursday 26th February, at the National School, under the presidency of Mr W.H. Key, vice- chairman. The business was brief. Persons eligible to act as parish constables during the ensuing year were nominated, and a further letter respecting the fire on Messrs. Stanton premises was read, but no action was taken thereon.

LATE MR GEORGE LONG. 1 March 1907

In accordance with the terms of the bequest of the late Mr George Long. J.P., the bells of the Parish Church were rung during the afternoon of Saturday, the 2nd instants, the anniversary of his birthday.

RAYMOND GREENE'S SUCCESS 1 March 1907.

The news that Mr Raymond Greene had been returned as County Councillor for North Hackney by the huge majority of the 3.211 was received by telegram about 8.30 on Sunday morning. Notices publishing the welcome intelligence and giving the general result of the London County Council elections were promptly posted in various places in the village, and gave great satisfaction to Mr Greene's many friends. Several congratulatory telegrams were despatched to Mr Greene, to which he replied on the following day.

CONSERVATIVE SMOKER 8th March 1907

The smoking concert arranged by the Swavesey District Conservative Association for the 25th ultimo, which had to be postponed on account of Captain Heal's illness, will be held at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday evening next, 12th March. Admission is by ticket only.

PARISH COUNCIL ELECTION. 8th March 1907.

A Parish Meeting for the election of the Parish Concillors was held in the National School on Monday evening, the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar presiding. The proceeding were most orderly, but those ratepayers who have strong opinions on the subject of the extravagant expenditure of public money, and who have not forgotten the difficulty in connection with the last reassessment of the parish, attended in such strong force as to secure the triumphal return of all their nominees. The voting resulted as follows: Messrs J.S. Goad 35; * W.H. Key; 37 votes: H. Wilderspin; 35: * J.Gilby and * G. Metcalfe.; 34votes: J.T.Daintree; William T. Thorp, and * J. Wells; 31: E.J. Warboys; 26: Unsuccessful candidates, Messrs R.Norman, 14: * W.P.Wimpress, 8; J. Smith and James Williams, 7: * S. Prime, 5. Dr Ellis and * Mr Jethro Linford were also nominated, but withdrew before the voting began. Those Gentlemen marked with a asterisk * were members of the old Council. The proceedings terminated with a cordial vote of thanks to the Vicar for presiding, proposed by Dr Ellis and seconded by Mr Ebenezer Parish, J.P.

INADEQUATE REPRESENTATION. 8th March 1907.

A correspondent writes as follows,

At Monday night's meeting in connection with the coming District Council election mention was made that the Swavesey Councillors were often hampered in their efforts to keep Swavesey up to date and in good repair by the opposition of the representatives of the three small parishes, of Lolworth, Boxworth, and Conington. For instance, Swavesey is sometimes greatly inconvenience by flood water from these parishes. Yet they are shy of contributing their share of the cost of keeping in repair the Swavesey brooks which carry away the water. The question arises - is Swavesey with its rateable value of £6,958, and a population of 899, fairly represented on the District Council by two Councillors, whiles the three small parishes named have one representative each?. Their combined rateable value is £3,639. and the combined population 494, yet they have three Councillors, who can outvote the Swavesey two whenever they like.

MUSICAL SERVICE. 8th March 1907.

At the evening service at the Parish Church on Tuesday next the choir will render a selection from "Christ and His Soldiers" by J.Farmer.

THE LATE FIRE. 15 March 1907.

The recent fire on Mr Edward Bull's premises, at Boxworth End, the origin of which has not been, and probably never will be ascertained, resulted in a heavy loss to him, as he had inadvertently allowed his insurance tp lapse a short time previously. A cart, two drills, and various other implements and tools were destroyed. A collection to assist him in providing new tools, etc, has been made by Mr W. C. Cole, and the sum of £4 11s. has been realised. On Monday evening, Mr Cole handed over this amount to Mr Bull, who desires to express his deep gratitude to his friends and sympathisers for their welcome help in his time of need.

A NONAGENARIAN DEAD. 15 March 1907.

Mrs Sarah Stocker, the oldest inhabitant, died on the 3rd instants. She was ninety years old age, and was the widow of the late Mr Cole Stocker, who died some years ago.

LATE MRS FREDERICK CARTER. 15 March 1907

We regret to announce the death, at the advanced age of 83 years, of Mrs Drusilla Cater, which occurred after a painful illness of many months duration at her residence in Over on Friday last, 8th instant. Mrs Carter was the wife of the late Mr Frederick Carter, who farmed in Swavesey for many years, occupying the farm subsequently acquired by the late Mr George Long. Mrs Carter was greatly respected and beloved both in Over and Swavesey. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon in Swavesey Churchyard, the Vicars of Swavesey and Over officiating. Some fifty to sixty relations and friends were present. The bearers were elderly men who had worked for the late Mr Carter. There were several beautiful wreaths. It may be of interest to record that the death of Mrs Carter removes the oldest member of Bethel Baptist Chapel (Swavesey) and that the Sunday School there was founded by her husband and Mrs Rebecca Wilderspin.

RURAL DISTRICT COUNCIL ELECTION. 15 March 1907

There is to be a contest in Swavesey for the Rural District Council.

Mr Herbert Wilderspin having decided at the last moment to try and oust one of the two retiring guardians and councillors. Messrs W.C. Cole and A. Day, who for fourteen years have represented the parish, and have given general satisfaction. Politics cannot enter into the contest as Mr Cole, a Conservative, has been nominated by two Liberals, Messrs James Parsons and James Smith, whilst two leading Conservatives, Messrs George Metcalfe and W.H. Key, have nominated Mr Day, a Liberal. Messrs Cole and Day are running together, they will hold a meeting at the National School, on Monday evening at 7 o'clock, and will then be prepared to answer any questions their friends and critics may think fit to ask them.

PRESENTATION OF MEDALS 22nd Mar 1907.

The medals and bars awarded by the County Education Committee for good attendance were presented to children attending Swavesey School on Thursday last, the 14th inst. The Vicar, who is chairman of the managers made the presentation and briefly addressed the children. Mr W.H.Key and Mr H.S.Aldred, (managers) were also present, and the latter spoke and attributed the good attendance of the recipients of the medals and bars to their parents solicitude as to their punctuality.

He specially warned the boys against smoking. The following were recipients:- Medals for good attendance during the years 1905 and 1900. Frank Beaumont, Ethel King, Willie Hephher, Cyril Hephher, George Hephher, Alice Norman, Rose Seekings, Joseph Ding, Wilfred Church, John Parish, Ethel Daintree, Ada Howlett, Florence Ding, Bertha Fromant and Sarah Linford. Medals for full attendance during 1906, Ethel Brooks. A Bar was given to each of the following for never being absent for two years, Berry Dodson, Willie Metcalfe, Walter Metcalfe, Arthur Froment, and Clara Thorp.

OFF TO CANADA. 22 March 1907

On Tuesday evening a notable gathering of all classes and all shades of opinion, assembled in the National School, Swavesey, for a social evening, arranged to bid God-speed to Messrs Harry Beaumont, Frank Day, Lawson Hephher, and Harry Wells. four promising young men, who on Wednesday next are leaving Swavesey for Canada. The crowded room afforded striking evidence of the great respect in which the young men and their parents are held by their fellow villagers. (long report follows))

ELECTION MEETING. 22 March 1907.

A crowded meeting in support of Messrs W.C. Cole, and A. Day, who have represented the parish on the district council for fourteen years without question, - but who are now opposed by Mr Herbert Wilderspin, - was held in the National School, on Monday evening. Mr H. S. Aldred presided, and made an excellent opening speech touched on various matters. He praised their administration of the Poor Law in Swavesey, and scored a strong point by declaring that they had been more careful of spending public money than their own. In conclusion, he said, during their fourteen years of devoted service, the two candidates Messrs Cole and Day had worked well together, and had the best interests of the parish at heart.

Mr Cole, whose rising was greeted with loud cheers, thanked the Chairman for his speech. He said that his colleague and he had tried to do their best for the parish during their fourteen years of office. Mr Day had a hearty reception.

He urged the importance to the parishioners of their two representatives working in agreement, as otherwise one might neutralise the other. The Poor Law should, he maintained, be administered by men and women with heart, and in sympathy with their less favoured brothers and sisters. Mr Day resumed his seat amidst loud applause. Questions having been invited, Mr W,S, Crisp complained that certain public drains were more or less blocked, and that Councillors had not done their duty in the matter. Mr Herbert Wilderspin, who had entered the room just previously, rose and expressed his surprise at seeing so many people present. He then complained of the condition of the brooks and fobs, and also referred to the drainage question. Mr Cole replied that as much as possible was done for the parish, and reiterated that Swavesey was handicapped by the opposition of other villages. Mr Wilderspin made further observations, and concluded; "If you don't do better in the future than you have done in the past you are no good".

With no more questions being asked, Mr James Smith proposed a vote of thanks to Messrs Cole and Day for their past services, and of confidence in them in the future. The Chairman put the resolution to the meeting, which was carried amidst loud cheers and the singing of "For they are jolly good fellows".

DISTRICT COUNCIL ELECTION 22 Mar 1907.

Keen interest is being taken by all sections in the parish, in the election for the District Council, and a heavy poll is anticipated on Monday next,

The hours of voting are between 12 noon and 8 p.m. and the polling station is at the National School. There is much talk as to the expense which the parish will incur in consequence of the election, viz. about half the whole cost of lighting the village, and many people express the opinion that as ratepayers as a whole appeared satisfied with the old representatives, there was no need for a contest. Some misconception exists as to how many candidates each elector can vote for. As two Councillors have to be elected, elector's can vote for two candidates, The electors cannot do better than record their votes in accordance with the instructions on the cards, issued on behalf of the old members, Messrs Cole and Day.

SWAVESEY RURAL DISTRICT COUNCIL. 29th Mar.1907.

The parishioners of Swavesey on Monday last showed, in the most unmistakeable manner that they were thoroughly satisfied with and had implicit confidence in their old Guardians and District Councillors, - Messrs. W.C.Cole and A Day. The greatest interest was taken in the election by all classes, men and women voting, who had never voted before. Messrs. Cole and Day's chief supporters, although they knew that their return was certain, were determined that their representatives should go back to their duties with the full knowledge that they had the whole parish behind them. All worked on Monday like horses; not a vote was lost for the want of looking after; traps and carts were busy all day, and the result was a poll which must beat all records. Almost every local elector able to get to the poll voted and electors came from London, Huntingdon, Cambridge, and the surrounding villages.

A large crowd was gathered round the National School when the poll was declared about 8.30 p.m. and the announcement of the figures was greeted with great enthusiasm. The result was;

A.Day 190. W.C.Cole 186. H. Wilderspin 23.

The two successful candidates mounted a cart outside the school, and returned their heartiest thanks to their supporters, and to the many willing worker on their behalf. Both had the warmest of receptions. - Monday last will be a day long remembered in the village, for far great interest was taken in this election than in any Parliamentary election of recent times. The parishioners felt that they had something at stake.

AN EXPECTED RESULT,

The striking success which the old candidates achieved was fully expected. By general consent it is recognised that they have served the parish well and faithfully in the past. That they have not been able to secure all the advantages which the parishioners consider themselves entitled to is due to no lack of effort on their part, but to the fact that their votes are swamped by the representatives of the adjoining parishes. I certainly agree with the views expressed last week that Swavesey has an excellent case for submission to the County Council for extra representation on the District Council,

SUDDEN DEATH. 29th March 1907

The village was shocked on Sunday by the news of the death, after an illness of an hour's duration of Mrs Mary Ann Spring. She went to the morning church service as usual, and shortly before the Litany, was taken ill and had to be assisted to the porch. Thence she was conveyed home in an invalid chair by Mr Walter Thorp. No immediate danger was apprehended. Immediately before death she told the Vicar, who had hastened to visit her, that she felt a little better. Dr Ellis was sent for, but, mean while death had taken place. The matter was reported to the County Coroner, who decided that an inquest must be held. Mrs Spring, who was 82 years of age, was the widow of the late Mr

John Spring of Swavesey. She was a native of Swavesey. Her only surviving child is Mr Philip S. Spring, so well known in the district as an insurance agent. The inquest was held at the White Horse Inn. Dr Ellis said that at 2.30 p.m. on Sunday he found the deceased sitting in a chair dead. In his opinion death was caused by a rupture of a blood vessel of the heart. The jury returned a verdict accordingly.

VESTRY MEETING. 29th March 1907.

The Easter Vestry meeting was held in the Parish Church on Monday evening, the Vicar presiding. Mr James Wells was re-elected people's warden and the Vicar's again nominated Mr W.H.Key as his warden.

PARISH MEETING. 29^h March 1907

The annual statutory Parish Meeting was held on Thursday, the 21st instant, at the National School. Rev A.C.Vidler presiding. The usual accounts were presented. – A meeting of the Council was held the same evening, at which were present, Rev A.C. Vidler, Chairman. Messrs W.H. Key, vice-chairman, J. Gilby, George Metcalfe, R.Norman, Jethro Linford, J. Wells, and W.P. Wimpres. The annual accounts were presented, and all outstanding bills were ordered to be paid.

SUCCESS. 29th March 1907

Mr A.T. Scard, baker and confectioner, of Swavesey has been successful in gaining a diploma carrying the fourth prize for tin bread in the recent competition organised by the Master Bakers's and Confectioner's Society.

POSTPONED. 5th April 1907

The Vicar gave notice on Sunday that the performance of "Christ and his Soldiers" announced for Tuesday evening would have to be postponed, owing to the illness of the organist, Mr Skeeles.

OFF TO CANADA 5th April 1907

The four young Canadian venturers, Messrs. Beaumont. F.Day, Lawson Hepher, and H.Well, had splendid send-off from Swavesey Railway Station, on Wednesday evening, March 27th. The platform was crowded and the empty trucks in the siding were filled with the younger people. It is estimated that about 200 persons were present. They sailed from Liverpool the following day on board the Dominion liner, SS Kensington.

OFF TO CANADA, 5th April 1907.

If the writer of the anonymous postcard placed on the front doorstep of our representative's residence on Sunday evening will communicate with him, furnishing name and address, he will be pleased to do what he can towards having photographs of the four young men, who have left the village for Canada, published in the columns of this journal, but would suggest that any future communication should be placed in the letter box, as it is dangerous to leave letters on a doorstep.

FRANK DAY'S FAREWELL. 5th April 1907

Mr Frank Day, eldest son of Mr Alfred Day, who left Swavesey for Canada on Wednesday evening, was presented with a handsome bible from the teachers and scholars of the Particular Baptist Chapel on Wednesday 20th instant. The proceedings commenced with tea, at which upwards of eighty persons were present.

AN IMPROVEMENT. 5th April 1907.

An excellent wall, enclosing the parish property fronting on High Street, has just been erected by the Parish Council. An eyesore has, in consequence disappeared.

DEATH OF MRS COLE. 12th April 1907.

We regret to announce the death after a long illness of Mrs Sarah Cole, widow of the late Mr William Cole, farmer, of Swavesey, which occurred on Good Friday afternoon, the eighty first anniversary of her birthday. Mr Cole had been gradually failing for some years. She was a native of Swavesey, and had spent the whole of her life there. For many years she had been a member of the Bethel Baptist Chapel, the founder of which was her grandfather, hence its local name Carter's Chapel. Mrs Cole left one son, Mr William Carter Cole of The Farm, Swavesey.

The funeral of the late Mrs Cole, whose death was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Thursday afternoon 4th April, the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar, officiating. The following were the mourners; Mr & Mrs W.C. Cole, (son & daughter-in-law) Mr Charles Cole, (grandson) Mr William Carter, (brother) Mr & Mrs T.W. Carter, (brother & daughter-in-law) Dr & Mrs J.W. Ellis, Mr A.E. King. Mrs Dean, and Miss Curtis. On Sunday evening a memorial service was held at the Bethel Baptist Chapel, where the deceased was a member.

WEDDING. 12th April 1907.

Miss Hannah Garner, second daughter of the late Mr Jethro Garner, of Swavesey, was married quietly on Wednesday afternoon 3rd instant, at St Luke's Church, Chesterton, to Mr Charles Willson of Hilton, only son of Mr Charles Willson of Swavesey, and lately of Hilton. The Rev R.M. Stapylton M.A. rector of Lolworth, officiated, assisted by the Rev. F. Hird, M.A. vicar of St Luke's. After the ceremony a small reception was held at the University Arms.

EASTER OFFERING. 19th April 1907.

The Vicar's Easter offering amounted to upwards of £12, nearly as much as last year, when the sun contributed was a record.

HOME FROM THE TRANSVAAL. 19th April 1907

Mr Horace S. Clarke, younger son of Mr George Clarke, arrived in Swavesey on Saturday evening after five years service in the South African Constabulary. At his particular request the time of his arrival in Swavesey was kept secret, so there was on opportunity for a public demonstration of welcome, much to the regret of his many old friends, who had been looking forward to giving him a hearty reception.

MR FRED WILLIAMS. 19th April 1907

We regret to announce the death of Mr Fred Williams, at the early age of 27 years, after a painful and distressing illness of five months duration. Mr Fred Williams, was the second son of Mr James Williams, wheelwright, of Swavesey. Since he was fourteen, Fred has been engaged in the drapery business, and latterly had been an assistant in the establishment of Messrs Reynolds & Co., Newport, Mon. Shortly before Christmas he returned home, and died at his father's home on Wednesday 10th instant. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon in Swavesey Cemetery, in the presence of a large concourse of friends and neighbours. The mourners included Mr & Mrs James Williams (parents) Mr & Mrs Sidney Williams, Misses P. & F. Williams, James Williams, junior, and other relations, teachers and scholars of the Bethel Chapel Sunday School. Also representatives of the Temperance Society and Band of Hope connected with the Bethel Chapel. Mr & Mrs Williams sincerely thank the many friends of their late son, for their expressions of sympathy, which are so numerous that they find it impossible to acknowledge all individually.

A MISHAP. 19th April. 1907

Mr William Crisp, butcher, met with a nasty mishap on Friday last. Whilst taking down a cloth outside his shop he slipped, and in falling badly lacerated his left hand by catching it on a meat hook.

OFF TO CANADA. 19th April 1907

The Steamship Kensington, on which Messrs Beaumont Day Hephher & Wells sailed for Canada, arrived safely at Halifax, Nova Scotia, on Sunday last.

CRICKET MATCH. 26th April 1907.

Swavesey V Over. – This match was played at Swavesey on Thursday April 18th, and resulted in a win for Over. Scores:- Over 70 runs, Swavesey 36 runs.

THE LATE REV T. NORMANDALE. 3rd May. 1907.

The news of the sudden death of Mr Norman dale was received with very great regret in Swavesey, and deep sympathy is felt for hia young daughter, left an orphan so many miles from home. On Sunday morning in his sermon the Vicar referred in feeling terms to the sad event.

PARISH COUNCIL. 3rd May 1907.

The first meeting of the newly elected Parish Council was held in the National School on Tuesday evening. Present :- Messrs W.H. Key (in the chair), J. T. Daintree, J. Gilby, J.S. Goad, George Metcalfe, E.J. Warboys, J. Wells. and Herbert Wilderspin. After all Councillors present had signed the declaration of office, the Rev A.C. Vidler was re-elected chairman and Mr W.H. Key vice- chairman. Messrs S.W. Crisp & Herbert Wilderspin, were appointed Overseers, and Mr Samuel Wilderspin, sen. pindar, the latter without salary. The Clerk was instyruacted to take out forthwith a County Court summons against Messrs Stanton Bros. in respect of the Council's claim against them for attendance of the parish engine at the fire on their premises in December, 1905.

LONGEVITY. 10th May. 1907.

The following extract from this month's Parish Magazine. will be of interest to many of our readers. There has been six burials in the Churchyard since the beginning of this present year, and that the average ages of these six should amount to rather more than 80 years, the accumulated total being 483 years.

In stating this, we may perhaps be allowed to recall the names and dates of burial, of those who have passed away:-

Jan 20th Elizabeth Williams, aged 73 years,

Jan 28th Sarah Mitchell, aged 74years.
Mar 7th Sarah Stocker, aged 90years,
Mar 13th Drusilla Carter, aged 83years,
Mar 28th Mary Ann Spring, aged 82years,
April 4th Sarah Cole, aged 81years.

MR A. WELLS. 10th May 1907.

Mr Anderson Wells, son of Mr James Wells, churchwarden, has entered as an undergraduate at Durham University, and it is his intention, eventually to take Hold Orders, Mr wells has for the last ten years been a licensed lay reader and mission helper.

THE FEAST, 10th May 1907.

Swavesey feast, the origin of which is lost in antiquity, begins of Sunday, when the services at the Parish Church will, as usual, be of a festal character. Three cricket matches will be played, viz, . on Monday against Lolworth, 2 pm. on Tuesday against Elsworth, 11.30. am. ; and Wednesday against Boxworth, 2 pm.

CONFIRMATION 10th May 1907. The Lord Bishop of Ely held a confirmation in the Parish Church of St Andrew, Swavesey, on Tuesday, at 11 a.m. in the presence of a considerable congregation. His lordship, attended by his chaplain, and preceded by the choir and clergy entered by the north door, and the procession moved slowly to the chancel singing a hymn. The Bishop delivered a practical address, and then proceeded with the sacred rite. About fifty candidates were presented from Swavesey, Willingham, Over, Longstanton St Michael, Oakington, Lolworth, St Clement's Cambridge Wisbech and Huntingdon.

FIRE ENGINE. 10th May 1907.

The parish fire engine was tested on the Recreation Ground on Thursday, and instant, and was found in good and serviceable condition notwithstanding that it is eighty years of age. It was thoroughly overhauled a year or two ago by Mr Kidd of Willingham. Captain Thurbon was in command. If additional lengths of hose were provided the usefulness of the venerable machine would be greatly increased.

SWAVESEY FEAST. 17th May 1907.

The feast, so keenly looked forward to by children and young people, and even by many of mature age, has once more come and gone. The village had, of course, been whitewashed and polished up as usual, spring cleaning had been finished, and the bakers had been busy cooking the accustomed multifarious tasty dishes. The bells of the parish church ringing early on Sunday morning heralded the festival, and the services throughout the day, had a special reference to the village feast. Evensong was attended by a large congregation; the choir acquitted themselves well especially in the anthem. The weather was fine and warm, and the ladies appeared in their brightest costumes. During the day caravans trooped into the village, and early on Monday, Market Street was the scene of active preparations. The lollipop and toy stalls soon found customers amongst the juveniles, many of whom were bankrupt before the feast had fairly begun. The roundabout, with its strident mechanical band, the shooting galleries, etc., did not begin business until later. A new feature was the stall for the sale of teetotal refreshments, under the auspices of the British Women's Temperance Association. and managed by Mrs Watts-White, Mrs Arthur Norman, Mrs Godfrey, Mrs Jesse Hephher, Mrs J. Payne, Miss Arliss, Miss Gaunt, and Miss Hayes. Religious services were held each evening in connection with the stall. Tuesday, the temperature was low and everything uncomfortable and damp. The attendance of visitors was under the average in consequence. On Wednesday morning the sun shone brightly, but the sky was soon clouded over. Some of the show people moved away. Cricket matches are a staple attraction of the Feast, and three were played. The committee decided to introduced a collecting box on the ground on behalf of Addenbrooke's Hospital, but owing to the unpleasant weather the attendance of spectators was small, and the amount collected, £1 0s 6d. was as large as was anticipated. On Tuesday afternoon, Swavesey schoolboys played Longstanton schoolboys at cricket, and the visitor won by a few runs. Apparently the laws of cricket, as understood by the M.C.C. apparently did not apply to the game, for many things were allowed which would have astonished an ordinary cricketer.

SWAVESEY V LOLWORTH. 17th May 1907.

This match was played at Swavesey on Feast Monday, 13th May, and result in a win for Swavesey by one run. An interesting match, with an exciting finish, keenly contested throughout. At the conclusion of Swavesey's second innings Lolworth wanted 31 runs to win. Sam Froment and Harrison opened the bowling for the home team, and Froment accounted for five wickets for seven runs. Harrison, however, was not up to the form shown by him in the first innings, and after two overs was replaced by Williams, who did well, taking five wickets for twelve runs. When the eighth man retired the scored stood at 29 and the game seemed a certainty for Lolworth, but the Swavesey men, determined to win if possible, fielding smartly, and the next two wickets fell without any addition to the total. In the first innings Froment collared six wickets for twenty runs. For the visitors Jonas Payne bowled splendidly, every wicket except one being credited to him in the second innings.

Scores:- Swavesey, 33 & 40 runs. Lolworth, 43 & 29 runs.

SWAVESEY V ELSWORTH.

This match was played at Swavesey on Feast Tuesday, 14th May. In consequence of the heavy rain which fell during the previous night, it was not possible to start play until about 3 o'clock. Once again Swavesey fielding showed a great improvement. W. Braybrooke for the visitors and Scard for the home team bowled excellently, the latter taking six wicket for twelve runs. Goodley, the new Elsworth Secretary, distinguished himself by his activity in the field. Sam Braybrooke, the popular Elsworth veteran, owing to an accident the previous week at Swavesey station, was, to the general regret, unable to play, but he officiated as umpire.

Scores:- Elsworth, 29 runs. Swavesey. 50 runs.

SWAVESEY V BOXWORTH.

This match was played at Swavesey on Feast Wednesday, May 15th and resulted in a win for Boxworth by two wickets, Scores:- Boxworth, 47 & 33 runs. Swavesey. 26 & 52 runs.

ACCIDENT. 24th May 1907

Mr J.S. Goad, who takes a keen interest in the prevention of floods, went for a tour of inspection on Tuesday morning. Near the new Dock he stood on a fence, and in getting down inadvertently stepped into a small hole, fell, and dislocated his right ankle. He proceeded at once to Wisbech, and had the injured limb attended to by Dr Mason.

SOUTH AFRICAN CURIOS. 24th May 1907.

Mr Alfred Thorp, whose arrival in Swavesey on a visit from Queenstown, Cape Colony, was announced last week, has an interesting collection of South African curiosities on view at his mother's house, Amongst other things there are several specimens of native work, and many photographs taken by Mr Thorp.

FLOODS. 24th May 1907

As a consequence of the recent heavy rains a good deal of land around Swavesey is under water.

MISHAP. 24th May 1907

Mr Harry Wells, one of the Swavesey carriers, met with an unfortunate mishap as he was leaving St Ives on Monday afternoon. He had fastened a donkey he was commissioned to take home alongside his horse, and when near the old toll gate, the nobler animal resenting the proximity of the donkey, or frightened by an unaccustomed companion, reared an fell, damaging itself severely. There were several passengers in the cart, but happily, no one sustained any injury.

SWAVESEY BANKS & DRAINS, 31st May 1907

From a Swavesey ratepayer, :- I shall be much obliged if you will allow me to call public attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the gates protecting our low-lying land from the River Ouse. In company with two other ratepayers, I paid a visit on Friday the 17th instant to Colville's drain, a most important drain. On arriving at the point where it enters the river, we found a District Councillor, the District Council Surveyor, and one of his men endeavouring to close the river doors. The Councillor had a rope round his body and was pulling for all he was worth, whilst the other two were looking on. The gates were eventually cleared and closed. During the operations a conversation took place. The surveyor was asked why he had not seen that the gates were in working order earlier. He replied that he had sent his man on the previous Saturday, 11th but he had been unable to close the gates, which were firmly fixed in mud and weeds. We expressed our surprise that with the river rising, a week had elapsed before any further attempt was made to close the gates. By the following day, the 18th the river had risen two feet, and if the gates had not been closed a serious flood would have ensued. As it was, the delay of nearly a week allowed much water to get into the fen.

The official's attention was then directed to the doors at the junction of Navigation drain and Colville's drain, which, patched some time back with Orange boxes, leaked seriously. Four years ago, I believe the District Council gave instructions that these doors should be repaired. Perhaps, now that public attention has been called to the matter, the Council will adopt measures to ensure their instructions are complied with, and will request their Surveyor to devote a little more of his time and energies to the drains and gates. We are aware that our two Councillors have difficulty in inducing their colleagues, who represent parishes not liable to flood, to do anything for the Swavesey banks and drains. Still, the question is of paramount importance to Swavesey, whose rateable value is about double the combined rateable value of the three other parishes in the district, situated on higher ground. J.S. Goad

EMPIRE DAY. 31st May 1907.

A Union Jack, or rather a spurious imitation of one, was hoisted outside the National School on Empire Day. Towards the end of morning school the children were addressed by the headmaster, Henry Beaumont, on the subject of the British Empire. He mentioned that an old scholar who had recently left for Canada had written to say that he had been employed in the erection of a hall in Toronto, in which the Empire Day celebrations were to take place. Mr Beaumont explained how the Union Jack represented different parts of the United Kingdom. After the address, "God Save the King" was sung, the children saluted the flag, and then cheered lustily. A half-holiday was granted in honour of the day. During the evening the church bells were rung. At two or three houses in the village flags were hung out, but the flagstaff on the church tower was naked, though it is usual to hoist a Union Jack there on special occasions.

ROYAL OAK DAY. 31st May 1907.

On Wednesday evening, 29th May, being Royal Oak Day, the bell of the Parish Church were rung in accordance with ancient custom.

A SMASH AND A SILENT BOY: 31st May. 1907

On Friday evening a cow belonging to Mr John Williams, of Market Street, whilst being driven with others along High Street, knocked down and wrecked the iron railings in front of a house. The Lad in charge proceeded on his way as if nothing had happened.

IN GRATITUDE, 31st May 1907

A Swavesey carrier and a Fenstanton baker, whilst passing along the road from St Ives to Fenstanton the other afternoon discovered two gentlemen of St Ives in difficulties. Their trap and pony were in the ditch, and they were unable to extricate them. The carrier and the baker promptly went to the rescue, pulled the trap on to the road, and bound up the fractured shaft. The St Ivesians expressed their gratitude by driving away in silence. So much overcome were they that they could not even say "Thank you".

SCHOOLBOY CRICKET. 31st May 1907

An eleven of Swavesey schoolboys walked to Lolworth on Tuesday afternoon, and played a game of cricket with the Lolworth youngsters. The visitors were victorious scoring 40 and 38 runs against the home team, 14 and 29. The Swavesey champions then walked home to tea. Imagination fails to conjure up the picture of a team of adult village cricketer walking so long a distance, playing a match, and tramping home without refreshment.

DISTRICT COUNCIL NEGLECT, 7th June 1907.

Mr J.S. Goad, who recently dislocated his ankle whilst voluntarily looking after the fobs and gates protecting the low lying land between the Ouse and the Village of Swavesey, is progressing as favourably as can be expected. It has been suggested that the District Council should compensate him, as he was engaged on work which many persons maintain should be attended to by the Council.

LOLWORTH V SWAVESEY. 7th June 1907.

This match was played at Lolworth on Monday 3rd June. and resulted in a victory for Lolworth, Scores :- Swavesey, 53 runs, Lolworth, 98 runs.

ELSWORTH V SWAVESEY.

This match was played at Elsworth on Tuesday, 28th May, and resulted in a win for the home XI. Scores:- Elsworth, 59 runs, Swavesey, 17 runs

JUVENILE CRICKET. 14th June 1907.

An eleven of Swavesey juveniles journeyed to Longstanton on Tuesday, and met and defeated a team of juveniles of that village in a friendly game of cricket. Swavesey scored 22 runs in the first innings and 28 in the second, while Longstanton made 24 runs in their first venture and 10 in their second. Thus Swavesey won by 16runs, thanks mainly to the effective bowling of L.Williams and B. Walker.

PARISH COUNCIL 21st June 1907.

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Tuesday evening, at the National School, the following councillors being present. Rev A.C. Vidler, chairman, Messrs W.H. Key Vice-chairman, J Gilby, J.S. Goad, G, Metcalfe, William T. Thorp, E.J. Warboys, J. Wells, and H. Wilderspin. The minutes of the last meeting were read and after amendments were signed. It transpired that the clerk had not taken out a County Court summons against Messrs Stanton in respect of the charge they declined to pay for the attendance of the Parish fire engine at the fire on their premises in December, 1905, although instructed to do so at the last two meetings of the Council. He was given strict orders to obtain a summons within a week. The chairman submitted the draft scheme for the recreation ground which he had received from the Charity Commissioners. A slight alteration was suggested. It was reported that the piece of waste Land in the High Street, bequeathed to the Parish by the late Mr George Long, J.P. had been cleared and there was a considerable quantity of bricks and brick rubbish for disposal. The Council decided that it should be sold by auction. The other business was not of public interest.

SWAVESEY V. St. IVES ARTHURIANS. 21st June 1907

This match was played at St Ives on Saturday, 15th June, and resulted in a decisive victory for the Arturians. The Swavesey X.I. was far from strong, whilst the Arthurians, anxious, doubtless to wipe out their defeats of last year, put men into the field who may be members of the Club, but who usually play for the St Ives Club.

Scores:- Swavesey, 65 runs, Arthurians, 102 runs for 6 wickets.

THAT CLOCK AGAIN. 19th July 1907

The famous clock on the National School known locally as the Town Clock, which had stopped a day or two previously at 1.55 was wound up and set going shortly before 11p.m. on Saturday. Putting the hands right involved much striking of the bell - it sounded 54 times, and not unnaturally caused great consternation. One visitor, unaccustomed to Swavesey eccentricities, thought that the fire alarm was being rung, whilst other people wondered if the planet Mars had anything to do with the midnight tocsin.

OVER V. SWAVESEY, 19th July 1907

This match was played at Over on Thursdays , July 11th and resulted in a win for Over by 12 runs on the first innings, Scores :- Over, 28 runs for 9 wickets, Swavesey 21 runs.

PARISH COUNCIL 19th July 1907.

The Parish Council were not successful in their action in Huntingdon County Court, on Wednesday, against Messrs Stanton to recover the amount of the charge. £3 17s made for the attendance of the fire engine at the fire on the defendant's premise in December, 1905. Mr Harrison of St Ives represented the Council, and Mr Berryman, of London, the defendants, No witnesses were called, though several were in attendance. There was considerable argument. Mr Berryman maintained that although the Council had not adopted the Lighting and Watching Act, certain payments for the maintenance of the engine, its appliances, and its house had been made out of the rates, so no charge could be levied for the use of the engine. Judge Wheeler K.C., said he was compelled to decide in favour of the defendants, although he was in sympathy with the Parish Council, but he refused an application by Mr Berryman for costs on the higher scale. This decision is of considerable importance to the ratepayers and residents of Swavesey. For very many years, whenever the engine has attended at a fire a claim has been made on the insurance office concerned, and in every case the amount charged has been paid without question, but now it would appear that no claim can legally be made, The ratepayers will now have to bear the cost of attendance at fires. Mr Harrison pointed out in Court, the result may be the Council decides not to maintain the engine. It will be interesting to know what view the insurance offices will take of this latter possibility.

WATER SUPPLY. 26th July. 1907.

An attempt has been made to meet the shortage of water at Boxworth End by a temporary expediency of locking up all the public pumps except during a short interval each day, it is being assumed that the deficiency is due to the socks being low. There are, however, descendents of Didymus who question the truth of the theory. With great temerity they maintain that the socks cannot be low after the heavy and continuous rainfall. and that the shortage is accounted for by the pipes being blocked, as they have been on several previous occasions. The users of the four public pumps are sore at their supply being restricted – other than for domestic purposes. It is even contended that the drawing of water from private pumps that contributes very largely to the frequent failure at Boxworth End.

WALLMAN'S LANE. 26th July 1907.

It is hoped it will be possible to announce next week that the stupendous work in connection with the offensive sewer – not many yards in length – in Wallman's Lane, which has been in hand for upwards of a year, has been completed. A filter was ordered some time ago, and the case, minus the filtering materials, was put in position at the end of last month. All that remains to be done is to fill the case with coke and gravel and to lower the pipes under entrances to gardens. To the uninitiated these seem simple matters which could be attended to without a superhuman expenditure of thought, time, or labour, but things that on the surface appear quite simple often are terribly difficult. In the meantime, the stagnant sewage in the open drain continues to emit offensive odour, and potentially dangerous to health.

EARLY HARVEST. 26th July 1907

Who says the harvest will be late this year?. An allotment holder in the Hale reaped his barley over a week ago! It is true birds had taken most of the corn, and the farmer probably deemed it advisable to secure the straw in case that should disappear as well.

SWAVESEY FIRE BRIGADE. 2nd August 1907

Dear Sir, - We notice in the articles appearing in your paper of the 19th instant, that the statement made with regard to the attendance of the Fire Brigade at the fire at our farm at Swavesey are somewhat erroneous. Our contention was, and is, that as ratepayers, and consequently as contributors to the maintenance of the extinguishing appliances belonging to the Parish Council, we were in the event of our being unfortunate enough to have a fire, entitled to the free use of the Council's appliances, etc. We notice it is stated that we asked for the account, but seeing the position we adopted in the matter, we think your readers will hardly credit this as being in accordance with the true facts of the case. We regret, as ratepayers, that our Council should have wasted money on legal proceedings, which resulted in a judgement being given against them, especially as we understand that they were advised that they could not legally recover the charges made upon us. We do not think we need trespass any further on your valuable space, but seeing that the facts as stated are somewhat misleading, we thought it advisable to explain our attitude in the matter – We remain, Yours respectfully, STANTON BROS. July 30th 1907.

SWAVESEY FIRE ENGINE. 3rd August 1907.

Dear Sirs, - If insurance offices have been in the habit of paying for the use of the Swavesey fire engine at fires, why do not the Council send their account which Mr Stanton objects to pay to his fire office?. If things were explained the office might pay rather than have the engine given up altogether, as I hear is likely to be the case. In most places, I believe, the insurance offices agree to a scale of charges for fire engines. Why not in Swavesey? –

Yours respectfully, COMMON SENSE.

(The correspondence on this subject continues for several weeks)

WALLMAN'S LANE, 2nd August 1907.

We were too hopeful last week in suggesting the possibility of the completion of the drain in Wallman's Lane within a few days. Nothing further has been done, the difficulty in obtaining the few pounds of coke and a shovel or two of gravel for the filter having apparently proved insuperable. Is the Swavesey Rural District Council callous to the health and convenience of the people, or powerless to enforce the carrying out of its orders within reasonable time?.

THE PUMPS. 2nd August 1907.

The locks were removed from the five (not four as stated last week) public pumps on Friday, the 26th ult. a weeks experience having shown that the shortage was not due to the socks being low. A water cart now perambulates Boxworth End periodically, but whether it is to take the place of the pumps permanently has not been officially announced by the District Council. Eighteen private pumps and wells draw their supply of water from the public pipes.

CRICKET. 2nd August 1907.

On Thursday 25th a team nominally of St Ives Arthurians, but more correctly be described as “ St Ives & District” visited Swavesey. The home eleven went in first, although rain was falling, but the game had to be abandoned when six wickets were down for eighteen runs. When it came to the St Ives Arthurians sending out a team – an eleven it was not, as only nine players turned up, two substitutes having to be supplied by the home club. The Arthurians is believed to be intended for youths and young men connected with St Ives Parish Church. It may be urged that owing to St Ives Flower Show being on the same day, it was not possible to induce genuine Arthurians to leave the town beloved of Cromwell, but the plea is largely discounted when it is remembered that the Arthurian eleven, which opposed Swavesey at St Ives on June 15th included more than one crack player of St Ives Town Club.

CHURCH CLOCK. 9th August 1907.

The two faces of the clock on the tower of the Parish Church have been regilded through the kindness of Mr George Long. The clock was presented some years ago by her late husband in memory of his parents.

SCHOOLBOY CRICKET, 9th August 1907.

The return match between the St. Ives and Swavesey schoolboys was played at St. Ives on Bank Holiday. The Home XI won by 20 runs. Scores; St. Ives. 1st innings 18, 2nd innings 42. Swavesey; 1st innings 24, 2nd innings, 16.

WALLMAN'S LANE 9th August 1907.

Nothing has been done towards finishing the drain.

A LARGE LETTUCE, 9th August 1907

Mr James Trundley, senior, has grown a lettuce which weighed slightly over three pounds. The weight was authenticated by a churchwarden.

A LARGE LETTUCE, 9th August 1907

Mr James Trundley, senior, has grown a lettuce which weighed slightly over three pounds. The weight was authenticated by a churchwarden.

AN UNPLEASANT INCIDENT. 16th August 1907.

Mr James Trundley, senior, the grower of gigantic lettuces, had an unpleasant experience last week. Whilst walking in front of a horse & cart in Buckingham Rd, a hawk of some size, without warning or apparent provocation, flew in his face and attacked him. Much astonished and alarmed Mr Trundley vigorously defended himself with his hat and succeeded in beating the bird to the ground. A lad who accompanied him ran to his assistance and promptly killed it. It is difficult to imagine a reason for the attack, as Mr Trundley's childlike and bland countenance is not suggestive of something these birds are supposed to prey on, but perhaps his twinkling eyes were the attraction.

WALLMAN'S LANE. 16th August 1907

Nothing has yet been done to the drain. As the works appear to be beyond the powers of the present contractor, who is noted for his promptitude in executing all orders, could not some intelligent labouring man with elementary knowledge of draining be given the job?.

A MISHAP, 16th August 1907

On Saturday a van laden with furniture had a narrow escape from a ducking in the Chapel Pond, Middle Watch. The horse was taken into the pond for water, and here the van got into difficulties and nearly capsized. All efforts to extricate it having failed, some of the furniture was removed, and with the kindly aid of District Councillor A. Day, who is prolific in expedients, the van was eventually got out without further mishap. Other carts have had narrow escapes at the same spot, but we understand that instructions have now been given for the pond to be rendered safe.

PARISH COUNCIL 23rd August 1907.

A meeting of unusual importance of the Swavesey Parish Council was held in the National School on Thursday, 15th instant. The Rev. A.C. Vidler, chairman presided, and there were present, Messrs W.H. Key, J. Gilby, J.S. Goad, George Metcalfe, Willim T. Thorp, E.J. Warboys, J. Wells, and Robinson Mitham, clerk. After the minutes of the last meeting had been read, and confirmed, the condition of the pump and well on parish property in High Street was considered. It was decided that both should be attended to but that nothing could with advantage be done at present. The clerk reported that the sum of £11 6s had been realised, after expenses (10s) had been deducted, by the sale of old bricks and brick rubbish on the parish land in High Street.

The Chairman then made a statement respecting the parish fire engine, dealing particularly with (a) the Stanton case and its consequences and (b) the question of the responsibility of the Council under the Employer's Liability Act. He finished by submitting certain practical proposals which he suggested should be dealt with in detail. After the Stanton case and the Employers Liability Act had been discussed by Councillors, the Chairman's proposals were dealt with and were agreed to without opposition. They were as follows:- (1) That insurance offices insuring property in Swavesey and neighbouring parishes should be asked if they would agree to pay for the use of the engine, appliances, captain, and workers according to a fixed scale of charges. (2) A scale of charges was drawn up and adopted. (3) That in view of the responsibility incurred by the Council under the Employer's Liability Act, the services of the captain should at once be dispensed with, and that he be paid six months salary in lieu of notice. (4) That the key of the engine house should be kept by the clerk. (5) That the engine and its house be insured. (6) That all charges for the attendance of the engine at fires be sent to the insurance office concerned. (7) That a statement of the facts of the Stanton case be sent to the London & Lancashire Fire Office. Mr J. Gilby was elected to the Fire Engine Committee which at present consisting of Messrs W.H.Key and G.Metcalf.

After briefly considering a letter from the County Council respecting Small Holdings, the Council adjourned.

DEATH. 23th August 1907

To the great sorrow of his many friends and relatives, Herbert Perry, second son of Mr William Perry, the respected Station Master at Swavesey, passed away shortly after noon on Friday last, at the early age of nineteen years. Bert Perry, as he was called, was born in Swavesey. He was educated at the National School, and was a choir boy at the Parish Church. He trained as a railway booking office clerk, under his father, and worked at Swavesey for four years. At the beginning of March last he was transferred to Dunmow. He returned home at Whitsuntide very unwell, and immediately took to his bed, where consumption developed with terrible rapidity. Always of a happy and unselfish disposition he bore his illness uncomplaining, and until almost the last was hopeful of recovery. He was an enthusiastic member of the Cricket Club, which showed its sympathy and respect by being officially represented at the funeral service, held on Tuesday, in the church. The burial took place in the church yard, the coffin being borne from the station to the church on the shoulders of six young men, all of whom were old friends and schoolmates. A long line of mourners followed, including his parents and family, railway officials, cricket club representatives and friends.

DENNANT – BRASHER. 23rd August 1907

On Monday, 19th instant, the marriage was solemnised at St Andrew's church of Mr Charles Henry Dennant of 81 Glisson Rd, Cambridge, son of the late Mr James Dennant, of Ipswich, and Miss Lucy Ann Brasher, elder daughter of Mr Edward Brasher of Mill Rd, Cambridge. As the bride and her father are both natives of Swavesey, considerable interest was taken in the wedding by the villagers. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a tasteful gown of cream alpaca trimmed with cream chiffon and lace, and wore a veil and wreath of orange blossoms. Two bridesmaids Miss Alice M. Brasher, (sister) and Miss Elsie Hawkes (cousin) attended her, their dresses being of biscuit crinoline with pale blue hats trimmed with pink roses. The bride and bridesmaids carried beautiful bouquets composed mainly of lilies of various kinds. After the ceremony there was luncheon at the house in Market Street, in which the bride was born. (the names of guests follows). The groom holds the responsible post of Clerk of Works, Great Eastern Railway, Cambridge, and is well known, having been the honorary secretary and treasurer of Cambs Football Association for several years.

“IS VISIONS ABOUT” 23rd August 1907

A correspondent writes:- Two workmen armed with pick axes and shovels appeared in Wallman's Lane, Swavesey, and proceeded to open the drains under gateways. Well may I exclaim with the poet.

“Do I sleep – do I dream?

Do I wonder and doubt?

Are things what they seem,

Or is visions about.”

AWKWARD! 23rd Aug 1907

A Swavesey correspondent writes:-

The popular hostess of an inn dedicated to a noble quadruped of sable hue had a narrow escape the other day. Whilst seated in state in her tap-room surrounded by admiring customers a strong smell of burning cloth was noticed. Search was made under tables and in cupboards, and the chimney stacki was inspected, but nothing could be found until at last smoke was seen issuing from the petticoats of the landlady herself. Her lower garments were smouldering, but how they got on fire cannot be ascertained. Spontaneous combustion seems out of the question, and no one would be so rude or so careless as to throw a not extinguished match at the lady, Customers rushed heroically to the rescue, the fire was put out, and the lady saved, but her clothing was sadly damaged The services of the parish fire engine were not required, so the Parish Councillors will not be troubled with another County Court action, nor will it be necessary for them to enquire the name of the fire office in which she and her petticoats were insured.

FORTHCOMING GARDEN FETE. 23rd August 1907

A representative meeting of members of the congregation of the Parish Church, under the presidency of the Vicar, was held in the Vicarage Room on Tuesday evening, to make final arrangements for a garden fete and sale of work which are to take place in the Vicarage Grounds on Tuesday next, 27th instant, between 3pm and 10pm. The St Ives Brass Band has been engaged for the whole time, and there will be dancing to its strains during the evening. The grounds will be illuminated, and there will be other attractions. Yet the charge for admission has been fixed at a modest sum of sixpence. It is hoped the weather will be fine, and that the attendance will be good, as the proceeds are to go for the repair of the organ, and for other expenses connected with the large and beautiful Church at Swavesey.

GREAT FALL IN PORK. 30th August 1907

A litter of pigs of about a month old, belonging to the landlady of the Bell, Swavesey, caused excitement to the general public and anxiety to her the other Sunday. The piggies strayed away from home but all except one were soon recovered, One little piggie, however, could not be found. Had it started early for St Ives market, or had it gone a courting?. No one could say? presently came an urgent message from a house on the opposite side of the road, Piggie was having a grand time in the garden, not altogether to the owner's satisfaction. It was driven towards home, but preferred the company of the taproom customers to that of its brothers and sisters. Driven from the taproom, it visited other apartments, and finally scrambled upstairs into the landlady's bedroom, where it entrenched itself under the bed. A wild scene ensued, in the course of which, as a spectator picturesquely put it, furniture under the bed was smashed. Piggie was determined not to be caught, and when driven to extremities, dashed at the window and jumped to the ground, falling unharmed to the first floor, a distance of several feet.

ANOTHER OLD FACE GONE. 30th August 1907

Shadrach Knock, a very familiar figure in and around Swavesey and St Ives until a year or two ago, died last week in St Ives Union, and was buried in Swavesey Churchyard on Wednesday, He had been in failing health for some time.

NOT ANOTHER FISMONGER. 30th August 1907.

It was rumoured last week that another fishmonger has started business in Swavesey, but we are able to say there is no truth in the tale. It seems that a well-known tradesman, whose only acquaintance in the fish trade has been for his own domestic use, had occasion to borrow a friend's donkey and cart. Accompanied by a lady, he drove through Middle Watch and Boxworth End, and his acquaintances instead of cheering him on his way, very rudely jeered. In retaliation he began to cry "Mackerel, fine mackerel" – just like the regular merchant, only a little better. It was truly surprising to see housewives, hungering for a change of food, rush to their front doors armed with plates and dishes, and their disappointment was painful to witness. It is pleasing to be able to record that the Swavesey housewives displayed great forbearance, for not one plate or dish was thrown.

GARDEN FETE. 30th August 1907.

Garden fetes, sales of work, and the like appears nowadays to be the approved method of raising money for ecclesiastical as well as charitable purposes. I refer to the garden fete and sale of work which came off on Tuesday in the charming grounds of Swavesey Vicarage. The crowd that attended was estimated at from 400 to 500. The function was to raise money for the repair of the organ and for other church expenses. Swavesey possesses a particularly large, ancient, beautiful Church, which is expensive to keep up. The organ too is large for a village church. The ordinary church funds are barely sufficient for the purpose of maintenance, even when there are no exceptional expenses. When it was found that rain water had seriously damaged the organ, fund raising was needed to put things right.

The fete opened at 3 o'clock, with the St Ives Town band playing a spirited march. Crowds tramped along the vicarage drive, which for a time presented the appearance of a sprinting track. The stalls were attacked furiously and soon showed signs of depletion. The jumble stall was at first the chief attraction. The new work stall did well, as their returns showed at the end of the day. Two features on this stall were the straw hats manufactured for the occasion and the excellent photographs of the Vicar. The flower stall with bran tubs attached were most successful. Then came the most important stall of all,- the refreshment stall. Here in a tent ladies dispensed tea and coffee, lemonade, and all kinds of tasty edibles. The side shows were very popular. At six o'clock an open air concert took place. In the evening, the grounds were effectively illuminated and presented a beautiful and fairy-like appearance.

At the end of the evening, the vicar, in declaring the fete a success in every respect, thanked the workers and contributors for all they had done. The gross receipts amounted to slightly over £38, and after deducting expenses not less than £32 will remain. (a condensed account of a very long report)

PARISH COUNCIL 30th August.

The Parish Council were not successful in their action in Huntingdon County Court, on Wednesday, against Messrs Stanton to recover the amount of the charge. £3 17s made for the attendance of the fire engine at fire on the defendant's premise in December, 1905. Mr Harrison of St Ives represented the Council, and Mr Berryman, of London, the defendants, No witnesses were called, though several were in attendance. There was considerable argument. Mr Berryman maintained that although the Council had not adopted the Lighting and Watching Act, certain payments for the maintenance of the engine, its appliances, and its house had been made out of the rates, so no charge could be levied for the use of the engine. Judge Wheeler K.C., said he was compelled to decide in favour of the defendants, although he was in sympathy with the Parish Council, but he refused an application by Mr Berryman for costs on the higher scale. This decision is of considerable importance to the ratepayers and residents of Swavesey. For very many years, whenever the engine has attended at a fire a claim has been made on the insurance office concerned, and in every case the amount charged has been paid without question, but now it would appear that no claim can legally be made, The ratepayers will now have to bear the cost of attendance at fires. Mr Harrison pointed out in Court, the result may be the Council decides not to maintain the engine. It will be interesting to know what view the insurance offices will take of this latter possibility.

WALLMAN'S LANE DRAIN 30th August 1907

A correspondent writes to say that the open sewer in Wallman's Lane, to which attention has been called in these columns, has been very offensive during the week, notwithstanding the filter recently put in by the District Council. The stench, he declares, is as bad as ever. He also mentions that the Sanitary Inspector last week visited the houses in High Street, the gardens belonging to which run down to the sewer, and intimated that he would require all drains on these premises to be trapped, W.C.'s at a distance from the houses to be brought into accordance with modern requirements, and ash pits take abolished. the writer asks whether it would not look better if the District Council, whose officer he understands the Inspector to be put its own offensive drains in order before worrying private owners respecting their drains, etc. He further suggests that it would be well if the Inspector visited Swavesey during the weekly clearing out by District Council workmen of the cesspools connected with the public drains in the main street. This work is done during the daytime and the effluvium which arises is abominable.

WATER SUPPLY 30th August 1907

There is now a good supply of water at the public pumps in Middle Watch and Boxworth End. The recent shortage was due, as on previous occasions, to the pipes being blocked.

GAP

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS 13th Sept, 1907

Swavesey nearly lost one of its most prominent inhabitants on Tuesday afternoon, when S.W. Crisp narrowly escaped drowning in the weedy water of the Ouse. He was boating with a party of ladies and gentlemen, and when opposite Carter's Jump, not far from Overcote, he attempted to change places with another gentleman. He lost his balance and fell backwards into the River which is between seven and eight feet deep at this place. With great present of mind, when he came to the surface, he grasped the side of the boat and tried to get over the side, but to this the other gentleman objected, as the boat would, without doubt, have been upset, and the whole party immersed. The boat was therefore punted to the bank where Mr Crisp found his feet and scrambled on to terra firma. He at once went home and changed. He returned on a bicycle, and when turning the sharp corner of the road by Overcote drawbridge, had a spill and seriously damaged his face,

ENTERPRISE, 13th Sept. 1907,

A Swavesey farmer, (Alfred Day) noted for his resourcefulness, and for the originality of his method, has been thrashing this week, and anxious to lose no time, he continued at work after darkness had fallen upon the land. Electric lights not yet having been installed in Swavesey, bicycle lamps were used to supply the needful illumination. Instead of sacks to catch the grain, a milk float, was backed against the drum. This also was a saving of labour, for when full it was _rotted away to the barn and its contents tipped out. Yet there are people so prejudiced as to say that Swavesey is behind the times!

SWAVESEY 13th Sept 1907.

The newly appointed Revising Barrister, Mr Romer Macklin held his annual court for the revision of voter's list in fifteen parishes at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Tuesday. The court was held in the large room of the Inn, which in the course of its long life has been put to many uses. Here at least times the nimble of all ages dance to the stirring strains of an accordion. The mystic rites appertaining to the Order of Shepherds are performed, and here auctioneers seductive in tongue, but callous in heart, hammer away the parishioner's property. Of late a billiard table has been installed in the room. The Barrister took his seat at a separate table. On one side was his clerk: at the other was a chair for the overseer whose parish was under revision. The agents representing the two political parties sat at the sides of the billiard table facing one another. The revision Court at Swavesey is like a family gathering, for the same old faces turn up year after year. The venerable Mr Whybrow, hale and hearty, in spite of his 85 years once again appeared for the little parish of Westwick and received warm congratulations from the Barrister, the agents, and his colleagues. He was, of course, sustained by his friend Mr Osbourne of Girton. There was little of public interest in the proceedings, but the net advantage appeared to rest with Mr French the popular and energetic Conservative Agent. The able and amiable Mr Guyatt, the Liberal Champion successfully objected to the vote of Mr John Frank Brown, on the Dry Drayton list. For the fifteenth year in succession Mr French objected to Mr Herbert Silk, of Over, and as usual the name was expunged. The proceeding ended shortly before 3 o'clock.

AN UNDESIRABLE VISITOR. 20th Sept 1907

A gentle man of Weary Willie class created somewhat of a stir in the village on Monday. He arrived the previous evening, and, honour one or two public houses with his presence, but his company was not appreciated, for he was requested to leave. Early on Monday morning he was found lying at full length outside the gate leading to a stack yard in Wallman's Lane. When disturbed he expressed his disapproval volubly and forcibly. The greater part of the day he spent in paying calls at shops, private houses, and cottages, but apparently did not meet with sympathetic welcome he thought he deserved. At several places his behaviour was to reproach, and he alarmed one or two old ladies, and little children were afraid to venture into the lanes. One father of a family, working at an outlying farm, had to go without his tea as his diminutive daughter declined to run the risk of meeting "the tramp" in a lonely lane. Later in the day the constable induced Weary Willie to leave the parish and he wandered to Over and there repeated his tactics, but the stalwart small boys of Over took him in hand and chivvied him back to Swavesey, and the Over constable started in pursuit. It is understood the unwelcome visitor left for St Ives by the last train, and Swavesey slept in peace.

ACCIDENT 20th September 1907

Samuel Cook, the eleven years old son of Mr William Cook, horse keeper for Mr Ellis Long, climbed a high tree on Monday to a pigeon's nest. He fell and broke his wrist. His father drove him to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where the fracture was set, and the boy was allowed to return home. He is progressing favourably.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 20th September 1907

During the holidays the interior of the National School has been whitewashed and repainted. A light green dado round the walls is very effective. The work has been done admirably by Mr Sidney Beaumont, painter and plumber, of Swavesey.

VERY SAD. 20th September 1907.

A Swavesey young man (Walter Hodson) who is employing his spare time in the harvest field met with a sad disappointment the other day. He rose early, and shouldering a well-filled basket of provender trudged gaily to Scotland, which in this instance is a tract of land in the Swavesey, boarding on the Huntingdon Road.

The dinner hour arrived, the young man's appetite whetted by harvest toil was keen, and like old Mother Hubbard, he went not to the cupboard but to his basket. only like her to be disappointed, The old lady found her cupboard bare. The young man discovered his basket in a similar condition. A friend's dog had raided the food. Potatoes, beans, meat, currant turnovers, and half a loaf of bread had disappeared. A pot carefully secured with a bung which contained biutter had been licked clean, the predatory quadruped having managed to withdraw the bung. All that was left of the fair and ample repast were two onions and a quart of cold tea! It will be observed that there is a difference between Mrs Hubbard's case and the young man's. She was disappointed because her poor dog had no bone: the young man was sad because the dog collared the bone and every thing else worth considering, and had left him without food.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 27th September 1907

The thanksgiving service for harvest will be held at the Parish Church, on Thursday next, 3rd October. The preacher at the festal evensong will be the Rev W.E. Palmer Bath of St Stephen's Regent's Park, London, who won Golden opinions in the parish whist acting a locum tenens during the Vicar's holiday in July.

CRICKET CLUB' 27th September 1907.

Two bats have this season been presented to Swavesey Cricket Club by the Hon E.S. Montagu, M. P. and Mr Bartley, respectively, to be given to the two members with the best batting averages. As however, the last match of the season was played in July, and the averages were published shortly afterwards, it is about time the bats were presented to the successful players. But why should batting alone be recognised? Why should not the hard worked bowlers be rewarded? Early in the season it was understood that a playing member of the club had volunteered to present a ball for the best bowler, but owing to a difference of opinion with the committee the offer was withdrawn. As the gentleman in question is the winner of one of the bats, and also tops the bowling, it would be a graceful act on his part to present a ball to the bowler with the next best analysis, whose record runs very close to his own.

CYCLING ACCIDENT. 27th September 1907

Mr T. Mackness came to grief on Sunday evening in a gallant, it ia satisfactory to add successful, endeavour to avoid injuring certain ladies in Over who obstructed his way, and like the deaf adder, ignored the frantic appeals of his cycle bell. He had been cycling in the neighbourhood, and was returning home through the village of Over. Mr Mackness is no scorcher: he rides with discretion proper to his years and weight. On approaching The Parish Church he met a crowd of people. They stretched a solid phalanx, from side to side of the roadway, and even blocked the nearly non-existent footpath. He rang his bell again and again. Possibly they heroically held the highway as a protest against cycle riding on the Sabbath. Mr Mackness for 20years and more served his country right nobly in the Royal Artillery, and has seen service in India, South Africa, and elsewhere.

PARISH MEETING. 27th September 1907.

A poorly attended Parish Meeting was held on Thursday evening in last week at the National School to authorise the expenditure necessary for lighting the street lamps during the coming winter.

PARISH COUNCIL. 27th September 1907.

The Parish Council met on Monday evening, the Rev. A.C. Vidler presiding. Tenders were received from Mr George Clarke and Mr F. Sanderson for lighting the public lamps. Mr Clarke's tender at £23 was accepted. Correspondence with insurance offices respecting the maintenance of the fire engine was read, also a communication from the Charity Commissioners stating that all legal formalities in connection with the recreation ground had been completed.

AN EXPLANATION. 4th October 1907.

Mr Bartley has called the attention of our Swavesey correspondent to the paragraph in last week's "Express" respecting the cricket club, which he considers contains a reflection on himself as, in his opinion it would lead our readers to infer he had not given the bat in accordance with his promise, Our Correspondent had no intention or desire to convey any such impression. Mr Bartley informs him that he handed his bat to the winner privately some three weeks ago. We are sorry that Mr Bartley should have been annoyed with the paragraph, but we can assure him that on reflection was cast on him.

RETURNED TO SOUTH AFRICA. 4th October 1907.

Mr Alfred Thorp, who has been in England since May, left Swavesey on Thursday 3rd instant, and on Saturday sailed from Southampton for South Africa in the Kinfauns Castle. Having had an enjoyable holiday and visited many of his old friends, he returns to his cycle business in Queenstown, Cape Colony.

STREET LAMPS 4th October 1907.

The public lamps were brought into use for the first time this season on Thursday, the 3rd inst. As evidence that they have been lighted none too soon, it may be mentioned that several persons returning from evening service at the Parish Church on the previous Sunday were obliged to strike matches in order to find their way home. The Contract for lighting, etc., is again in the capable hands of Mr George Clarke, whose only opponent Mr F. Sanderson, when lamplighter some yeas ago, won renown by leaving the lamps alight all one night. in order to warm the air. Influenza was rife at the time. Ratepayers who are doubtful whether the lamplighter earns his money may be interested to learn that Mr Clarke estimates the distance he has to walk whilst lighting, putting out, and filling up during the six months the lamps are in use aft about 1300 miles, and that the erection a few years ago of the lamp near the station added some twenty miles in the six months to the lamplighter's walk.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 11th October 1907.

The thanksgiving service for harvest was held at the Parish Church of St Andrew on Thursday the 3rd inst. Holy Communion was celebrated at 7.30 am and there was choral Evensong at 7.30 pm. when a excellent congregation including Nonconformists, attended. The service was notable for its great heartiness, the people joining in singing of the psalms and hymns with vigour. The glorious old church was effectively decorated by the usual devoted band of ladies – Miss Vidler, Mrs G. Long, Mrs Levell, Miss Beaumont, Miss Daisley, Miss Ethel Garner, Miss Pook , and Miss J Wells. On Sunday afternoon the children had their annual flower service at the Mission Church, Boxworth End. The offerings of fruit and Flowers by the young people have been sent to St Ives Union Infirmary, and the other contributions of fruit and vegetables to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

STOCK CLUB. 11th Oct. 1907

The annual gathering of the members of the Swavesey Stock Club took place at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday evening. It was the custom until six years ago to celebrate the event with a dinner. Then came a period of all work and no social function. This year a meat tea was substituted, at which twenty six members sat down, under the genial presidency of Mr Philip Metcalfe. The business meeting followed the tea. The annual accounts were settled, and disclosed the pleasing fact that, although about £7 less than last year, owing to a few small losses, the financial condition of the club was satisfactory.

The old Committee, with the exception of Mr J.S.Goad, who retired at his request, were re-elected. Mr Samuel Hephher being appointed to the vacancy, and Mr Philip Metcalfe was again chosen as clerk, an office he has held, and given general satisfaction for many years. A proposal by Mr W.H. Key that the old system of an annual dinner on the principle of 'attend or pay' should be reverted to, was carried as an amendment to a motion by Mr George Clarke that a tea with optional attendance should be the rule.

A MAN HUNT, 11th October 1907

This story as told by the Swavesey Lamplighter, of the search for a man of Weary Willie class at Boxworth End. A Tramp (who are not beloved in Swavesey), on Saturday evening, asked a youth for matches, he had none; however, another person supplied him with a few. For some time he loitered about and was then seen to enter Mr A. Day's well stocked rickyard opposite the Red Lion Inn. An alarm was given and the populace turned out in force to search for him. (the incident, a long story which finishes with a limerick)

A muscular tramp met at Swaysey
A reception so bad that you may see
Such folk should keep clear,
Or else go in fear.
Of a crowbar, thick sticks, and the P.C.

DEATH OF AN QCTOGENARIAN. 18th October 1907

An old inhabitant has passed away in the person of Mr Charles Savage, who died on the 12^{inst}, at the great age of 84 years. The funeral took place in the parish Churchyard on Tuesday.

TRAP ACCIDENT. 18th October 1907

A somewhat serious trap accident occurred about four o'clock on Friday afternoon near the New Inn on the Huntingdon Road. A youth in the employment of Messrs Lanrie & McConnal, Ltd, Fitzroy Street, Cambridge drove up to the New Inn with a pony and trap in order to give the animal, which had done a long journey, a rest. He put on the nose bag, but did not tie up the pony, and then entered the house, No sooner had he done so than the pony bolted towards Cambridge, and after a brief but exciting dash for liberty soon came ingloriously to grief in the ditch on the southern side of the road near the turning to Boxworth. The Trap was turned over, and the animal lay in a curious position. its head being towards the trap and its hind quarters in the opposite direction. Assistance was promptly forthcoming. Three of Mr Thornhill's workmen ran up, while Mr W.C. Cole's groom and Mr Jacob Frohock's stud groom, who were driving along the road independently immediately hurried to the scene. With difficulty, the trap was righted and the pony extricated. One shaft was cracked, The pony's side had been pierced by the shaft, and acting on the advice of the stud groom, the youth left the animal at the New Inn and proceeded to Cambridge in a passing vehicle.

BREAD

SON AND HEIR. 18th Oct. 1907.

Mr Tom Nicholson, whose marriage in August 1906 was the occasion of a remarkable popular demonstration, was on Wednesday presented with a fine strapping son and heir. Both mother and child are doing well. Mr Nicholson is being warmly congratulated on the happy event.

TEMPERANCE DEMONSTRATION. 18th Oct 1907.

Two contingents from Swavesey attended the great temperance demonstration in Cambridge on Tuesday. Miss Fanny Gaunt headed a deputation of thirteen members of the British Women's Temperance Association and Miss Beaumont and Miss J.Wells commanded a battalion of twenty seven youngsters belonging to the juvenile Branch of the Church of England Temperance Society. The Vicar accompanied the latter party.

REMOVALS. 18th Oct. 1907.

Several changes have taken place in the parish this Michaelmas. Mr T.W.Carter, who had resided at Trinity College Farm during the whole of his long life of upwards of 80 years, has removed to 'The Poplars' recently vacated by the Rev J.E. Barton; and Mr Robert Norman, of the firm of Norman Brothers, has gone into the Trinity College Farm house. Mr Pilgram, who last year bought the house in Middle Watch opposite Trinity College Farm, is about to take up his residence there. Two public houses have changed hands. Mr Frank Silk has replaced Mr Chillery at the New Inn on the Huntingdon Road, while Mr Alfred Eason has taken the "Bell Inn" where Mrs Mary Richman reigned for so many years. Her numerous friends and admirers may be interested to know that Mrs Richman has not left the village, but is now living near her old home at a house known as "The Elms".

BREAD, COAL, AND POLITICS. 18th October 1907

Those sanguine persons in Swavesey who so confidently anticipated a general fall in the cost of all commodities, - except, of course, those of their own raising - when the Radical Party took up the reins of government, have been greatly disappointed and distressed at the universal rise in the prices of nearly every necessary. Bread this week has gone up to sixpence a quartern loaf. "Penny loaves" cost three-halfpence and twists are reduced in size. Twenty-four shillings and 25s. a ton is charged for ordinary coal. The cost of other things has increased, and smokers are complaining that even matches are dearer. Radicals, of course, say that the present immaculate and infallible Government has nothing to do with this continued rise in prices, but they cannot, or at any rate do not, explain why they always held the late Conservative Administration responsible for what they considered the high prices of commodities during its term of office. If the Conservative Government were to blame between 1895 & 1905, surely the Radical Government is in fault in 1907, when the prices are much higher. Where is the Radical "big loaf" disconsolate housewives are anxiously inquiring, about which there was so much talk and so many wild promises in January 1906. Perhaps the Hon. E.S. Montagu, M.P. will go to Swavesey and explain.

SWAVESEY BAPTISTS. 18th October 1907.

“A splendid beginning of the new page of history of the cause” was the unanimous verdict passed by those who were present at the reopening services held yesterday Thursday at Betel Baptist Chapel. Some months ago it began to be pretty evident that the chapel was badly in need of restoration. The flooring in the middle showed signs of being none too strong, while the damp had caused a great crack – it has been described as a chasm – to appear in the wall at the end of the building. Two months ago it was decided to have the chapel thoroughly renewed, and the work was placed in the hands of local tradesmen. Mr R. Mitham was given the general contract. and did all the carpentering himself, and Mr Sidney Beaumont had the decorating and painting, while the bricklaying was undertaken by Mr Thompson Mortlock. It must be said that these gentlemen have carried out the work with the most praiseworthy dispatch, for when the renewing was begun it was discovered that the whole floor was in an unsafe condition. and it had to be almost entirely replaced, Yesterday the interior presented a very pleasing appearance, the wall having been cultured green, and the whole of the pews re-stained. In the afternoon the Rev. R.S. Latimer, of Brixton, preached to a congregation composed of members and friends, a number of whom had come from the neighbouring villages of Over and Willingham. The theme of Mr Latimer’s discourse was one of encouragement to the members of the Church. He urged them not to lose faith. Afterwards a tea was held in the Chapel to which nearly 100 sat down At the meeting held in the evening there was a crowded attendance. The Mayor of Huntingdon (Mr R. Carter) presided, He was supported on the platform by the Revs, B.G. Knight, late pastor of the Bethel Chapel, R.S, Latimer , J.E. Barton late of Middlesborough, and Mr T. Carter. Mr Thos Carter was called upon to give the financial statement. Before doing so he gave a most interesting review of the history of the Chapel. The accuse in Swavesey was commenced in 1840, when eight members met in a little cottage opposite the present building. Soon that became too small and a chapel capable of seating 100 was built on the site of the present one. That was enlarged, and eventually rebuilt, the present one, which is capable of seating from 400 to 500 being the result. We may mention that Mr Carter himself has been associated with the cause at Swavesey as one of the deacons for over 50 years, and both his father and grandfather was prominent Baptist in the village. The financial Statement showed that there had been a total outlay of £110 15s 6d. Received from friends not worshipping at the chapel, £33 1s; raised by the chapel congregation, £40 2s, : the Sunday School effort. £9 10s 9d: the collecting cards £11 13s: total £99 12s 9d, leaving a balance to be raised at the meeting of £11 3s 9d. At the conclusion of the meeting the amount of the collection was announced, and it came to within £1 13s 7d of the amount required, whereupon, Mr W. Cole and Mr T.W. Carter agreed to wipe off the debt between them. The Chairman congratulated the members on the evident vitality of the cause, and expressed the wish that the chapel, which is without a pastor, would speedily find a leader who would be the right man in the right place. .

GAP

ILLNESS OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 1st November 1907

Many of our readers will learn with regret that Mr George Day is lying very seriously ill at his residence in Wallman's Lane.

WEDDING. 1st November 1907

On Tuesday afternoon Mr James Marriott, only son of Mr Allen Marriott, of Swavesey, was married at the Particular Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, to Miss Jane King, daughter of the late Mr William King. Rev. E Short, pastor officiated. The bride, who was attired in a gown of pale lavender trimmed with cream lace, and was accompanied by two nieces as bridesmaids, was given away by Mr John Savage, (brother-in-law) . The Sidney Prime acted as best man. The happy couple were the recipients of many useful and ornamental presents.

A SUGGESTION, 1st November 1907

We have received the following :- Pleasant Sunday afternoons have been instituted Bethel Chapel for the edification of its adherents, and judging from the attendance on the first Sunday seen likely to be popular and to meet a want during the dreary winter days. But why should there not be occasional Sunday afternoon organ recitals at the Parish Church for the benefit of Church people?. We have a good organ and an excellent organist, and a recital, - say once a month – would give the congregation an opportunity of hearing good music. At Present the organist gets but little encouragement, as the congregation has a back-handed way of showing its appreciation of his voluntaries by hurriedly quitting the church at the close of the service, and leaving him to play to an audience consisting of the churchwardens busy with the counting of the collection and the official who superintends the lamps and the heating apparatus.

DEATH OF MR GEORGE DAY. 7th November 1907.

We regret to announce the death of Mr George Day, a well known Swavesey farmer, which occurred at his home Wallman's Farm early on Saturday morning last, after a short illness. About three weeks before his death Mr Day attended a sale at Fen Stanton, and there, it is believed caught a cold, which developed into double pneumonia, and as he was 78 years of age great fears of his recovery were entertained from the first. Mr Day, who was native of Swavesey, worked on the Wallman's Farm as a young man, and on the death of Mr E. Wallman nearly forty years ago bought the property. He was well known, not only in the neighbourhood of Swavesey, but also in Cambridge, where he stood on the market for many years. Although he never held public office he was a regular attendant at parochial meetings, where he was noted for his candid criticism of everything he deemed wrong or irregular. His success in life was due to his hard work, industrious habits, and strength of character. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at the Cemetery, by the Rev. H.T.N.Ussher, lately pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel officiating. The mourners were the widow, Mr & Mrs Alfred Day, Mr & Mrs Ezra Day, Mr Jabez Day, Miss Emma Day, (sons and daughters) Mr & Mrs Alfred Williams, Mr & Mrs James Williams, Miss Elizabeth Day, Misses P. and J. Williams, Mr James Wilderspin, Mr William Thoday, Miss Bowd. etc. There was a considerable number of people present at the graveside including Mr W.H.Key, churchwarden, William Carter, Thomas Prior, H.S. Aldred and J.Gilby

UNIONISM IN SWAVESEY 8th November 1907

A meeting of the Unionist cause was held in the Schoolroom, Swavesey last Thursday evening, under the auspices of Swavesey & District Conservative Association. Mr W.C. Cole, association chairman presided, supported on the platform by Capt E. Morrison-Bell, the prospective Unionist candidate, Col Raymond Greene, Major C.W. Stanley, President of the West Cambs Conservatives Ass. Mr Douglas Newton. Croxton Park. Mr J.S. French Conservative agent. The audience consisted of Swavesey members and supporters from the neighbouring villages. The Chairman, in introducing the prospective candidate, assured Captain Morrison Bell that he would always receive a hearty welcome at Swavesey. Certainly they had wandered in West Cambs, but they would soon return to their old faith. He hoped they would soon read "Captain E. Morrison-Bell, M.P. for West Cambs. In reply he thanked them very much for the kind reception they had given him. It was the first time he had the pleasure of addressing them. There had been a great many changes since there had been a public meeting in the school, and there was one change that many people in the division were already beginning to repent. They had some experience of the present Government and the result was a bitter disappointment. They had fulfilled promises by making more. Captain Morrison-Bell went on to deal with the fiscal question, and pointed out the advantages which it gave to the foreign manufacturer over the English producer. He was entirely in sympathy with the policy of extending small holdings, but insisted on the importance of making those small holding remunerative to the people who held them. Mr Chamberlain had proposed to put a duty on all dairy produce that was imported into this country, and that would give the small holders a much better chance of making a good living. If we were to compete successfully against our rivals we must have a very large production, and to have that a large market was required, and that would be provided by the Colonial Preference scheme. There were signs that the present boom in trade was coming to an end, and that meant the number of people out of work, and in distress, throughout the country would increase. During the depression the foreigner would dump his products in this country in increased quantities, owing to the free imports. That could be averted if the policy of Tariff Reform were adopted. What was wanted in this country was a change of Government. They wanted a Government that would not be afraid of hurting the susceptibilities of the foreigners by treating them as they treat us. They wanted a Government that would bind the nation together in the bonds of a great commercial union, so that they could work out their own destiny regardless of other nations. Colonel Raymond Greene, thanked the audience for the reception they had given him, and paid tribute to the enthusiasm of the Swavesey Conservatives. He confessed that he was sorry he did not represent them in the House of Commons. However, he was not going to say a single word about the present member, for he never indulged in any personalities of that kind. Mr Montagu and he were staunch friends and he hoped they would remain so. The meeting concluded with the singing of the Nation Anthem.

A SWAVESEY MAN IN CANADA. 1th November 1907

Dear Sir – I hope you will excuse the liberty I am taking in sending you a few lines for publication in your paper, which I have sent me every week from my home in Swavesey. I wish to say a word or two about Winnipeg, the future Chicago of the West. I have been here now nearly two years, and have already been successful enough to get a small business of my own, and am doing pretty well, although not in the city, but about a mile from it. The place where I am is steadily growing, and promises great prospects in a few years to come, as does Winnipeg itself and all the surrounding district, which is all being divided up into lots and being built on. Does not that show what Winnipeg is going to be in the future? Just fancy! Only twenty years ago Winnipeg was but a small town, and where there are bricks and mortar now, there was then, only open prairie. We have one skyscraper here, and they are putting up two new post offices, the finest in Canada. There are banks going up every year, does not that show what an enormous amount of money there is in circulation in this city, which of course will grow as the years go by? My belief is that anyone coming out here from England can get on and make money if they only persevere and work hard and are willing to put up with hardships and rough it, and take care of their money when they do get it. The Englishman is not particularly liked out here by the Canadian, who thinks he only comes out because he has had to leave the old country – they think he has disgraced himself, or that there is no living to be got in England, and he is therefore forced to come or starve, beg or steal. Others run away with the idea that you come out here to be dependent on them, which is their great mistake, for the Englishman's one aim is to better himself in this new land. If he only takes the many splendid opportunities that come to him when he has been out here a little while, he will soon be able to sing the praises of Winnipeg and the great West at large, - Yours faithfully, Percy Prior, Louise Bridge, Winnipeg, Canada. - October 14th 1907.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 15th Nov. 1907.

In compliance with the recommendation of the County Education Committee, the bell for afternoon school is now rung at 1.35 p.m. and the children are dismissed at 3.45 p.m. The new arrangements which were begun on Monday last, and will remain in force during the winter months, will obviate the lighting of the lamps, and thus effect a saving.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING. 15th November 1907

That the Conservative meeting on the 7th inst. was an unqualified success, and was the best political gathering in Swavesey for many years, and that the only fault to be found was that it ended too soon. That Captain Morrison-Bell made an excellent impression, and that his outspoken language on Tariff Reform gave general satisfaction. That Colonel Raymond Greene's reception was most enthusiastic, and that some people cast anxious glances towards the roof during the cheering. That his anecdote about a cup of tea, which might have been coffee, or coffee which might have been tea, will be told at tea tables for many a day.

On a recent morning an awkward mishap befell a party of seven or eight of Messrs Norman Brothers' workmen, who were being conveyed in a cart driven by Mr Joseph Payne to the scene of their daily labours at Hill Farm. When near Mr Aldred's shop in Middle Watch the wanty gave way and the cart tipped up, all its occupants being thrown into the road. The spectacle was truly amusing. Men lay sprawling on top of one another in the road. Intermixed with their tools and their day's provender. The cart stood upright on its hindboard, with the shafts pointing skywards and wheels spinning. The horse slipped its harness and lay beneath the cart. None of the men sustained any damage, but the horse's head was slightly cut and the dinners got hopelessly mixed up.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY. 15th November 1907

The bells of the Parish Church rang merrily on Saturday last in honour of the King's birthday. On Sunday evening the Vicar preached a striking sermon on loyalty, the duties of citizenship, and on religious education, a report of which we print in another column. The service, which was particularly bright and hearty, concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

CONSERVATIVE CLUB. 22nd November 1907

A most successful meeting was held on Tuesday, November 19th called by Dr Ellis to consider the desirability of forming a Conservative Club for the parish. About sixty people attended in the large room of the White Horse, amongst whom were noticed Messrs George Blunt, Alfred Cain, Steve Church, Sam Crisp, Charles Ellis, Charles Froment, John Hodson, Alfred Prime, J.B. Slater, Philip Spring, Ben Thorp, S.J. Wayman, (Over) Harry Wells, Horace Wells, Herbert Wilderspin, Sam Wilderspin, and John Williams. Mr H. Wilderspin proposed that Dr Ellis take the chair, which was seconded by Mr Alfred Cain, and the business commenced. Dr Ellis hoped that it was not thought that he had called this meeting in any egotistical way. On the contrary, he had felt that for sometime it was necessary for some one to make a move to form a good Conservative Social Club for the Conservatives of the village, wherein they could have social intercourse and also politics of the day brought before their notice by means of speakers from time to time, and by leaflets distributed in the room in which they were. Also they would have a billiard table, which would be for their use, and other games. The room had been obtained for their special use once a week – on Tuesdays – and would be open from six o'clock. Dr Ellis continued that he thought it might be said that this club would be in opposition to the present organisation in the Parish or in the Division. Their opponents might also speak against the Club existing in a "pub" but after all was not the "pub" the poor man's Club, and why should he not have the same advantages as the richer man in his Club?

Dr Ellis said he had seriously considered this before calling the meeting, and he hoped all present would also think seriously before they decided to form such a Club. Thereupon Mr H. Wilderspin proposed and Mr A Cain seconded, that such a Club should be formed, which was carried unanimously, and to meet as suggested once a week. Mr P Spring proposed and Mr Horace Wells seconded, that Dr Ellis act as chairman. The committee was then elected, viz: Messrs George Blunt, Alfred Cain, Chas Fromant, John Hodson, Philip Spring, Ben Thorp, Harry Wells, H. Wilderspin, and Sam Wilderspin, with power to add. Upwards of 50 members were then elected. The committee were empowered to form rules at their next meeting. It was resolved any person wishing to join must be proposed and seconded by two members and submitted to the committee. Songs and recitations were then given. Mr Fred Kester gave a splendid recitation of Battery "D" of the old ninth. Messrs Syd Carrier, Church, Crooke, and others sang popular songs. Mr Frank Williams acted as accompanist. A vote of thanks was proposed to Dr Ellis for the able way he had officiated as chairman A hearty cheer was given for Captain Morrison-Bell, and the Conservative Cause. The meeting broke up with the National Anthem.

DISABLED BOYS. 22nd November 1907

The bonfire season did not pass without mishap, though one casualty only was traceable to the malign influence of Guy Fawkes. One small boy did his best to blow his head off with gunpowder, but merely succeeded in damaging his eye. A game with a mysterious and apparently unspellable name, which consists mainly of one team of lads vaulting upon the backs of another team, arranged after the shape of a caterpillar, and repeating during the process of mystic formula, is just now very popular with Swavesey school boys. Whilst at this interesting, intellectual and health-giving pursuit, during play time, one small boy came to grief. A companion landed heavily on his arm instead of his back, and had to be conveyed home with a sprained wrist. Another youngster frolicking with a youth of more mature age came into conflict with the business end of a chisel. He is at home with a hole in his leg, and is undergoing a rest cure.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 22nd November 1907

In view of certain recent events it is desirable to remind our Swavesey readers that twelve months ago the Swavesey District Conservatives Ass, seriously considered the question of either converting the association into a club, or forming a club in connection with the Association. The proposal was to establish a club for Conservatives open every week-day with newspapers periodicals, and other appurtenances of a political club, and suitable premises in the middle of the village were offered. The project however had to be abandoned in consequence of the estimated cost of maintenance being in excess of the estimated income.

RADICAL MEETING. 22nd November 1907

A poorly attended Radical meeting, preceded by a tea party, was held in the Quaker Meeting House, on Monday evening. Mr E.O. Fordham appears to have been the chief speaker, and in course of his address, it is said that he made some remarkable statement respecting the increased price of coal and the abolition of the Coal Duty. Perhaps Mr Fordham will convene a public meeting in the National School, and repeat those statements for the benefit of coal consumers, other than the select Radical few who heard him on Monday night.

SCRATCH BANK. 29th November 1907

The work of repairing Scratch , or Cradge Bank, which protects Middle Fen, is progressing apace, under the able superintendence of Mr J.S. Goad. New fobs were put in during the summer by Mr Robinson Mitham. The cost is being met by the owners of land, who have agreed to a levy not to exceed one shilling and six pence per acre.

AGAIN SUCCESSFUL. 29th November 1907

Mr A.T. Scard, baker and confectioner, of High Street, has been awarded a fourth prize for tin bread in a competition open to all master bakers in the British Isles. This is the third distinction for excellence in bread-making gained by Mr Scard during the present year.

EXAMPLE TO OTHER VILLAGES. 29th November 1907

During the four years of its existence the Swavesey Conservative Association has been doing useful work, and is ready to take the field at any moment. Under its auspices most successful public meetings have been held and there have been smoking concerts, with crowded audiences, at which political addresses have been delivered. Political literature has been circulated. Careful attention has been paid to the register of voters, and the committee can claim without fear of contradiction that every Unionist entitled to vote is now on the Resister. If other villages could follow the admirable example set by Swavesey, there would be no doubt of the triumphant return of Captain Morrison-Bell at the next election.

BRITISH WOMEN'S TEMPERANCE 29th November 1907.

A very successful meeting in connection with the local branch of this Association was held in the National Schoolroom on Monday evening. The room was crowded, about 200 being present. The Rev. Vidler occupied the chjair. Miss Gipsy Smith, (accompanied by Miss Goad) sang tow solos with great effect. Mrs Savary, of London gave a pointed, apt, and stimulating address. Commencing in a racy manner, she at once gained the attention of the audience. She spoke with great power on the motto of the Association: "For God, and Home, and every Land". The Meeting was one of the most successful held in connection with the Local Branch.

CRICKET CLUB. 6th December 1907

The members of the Swavesey Cricket Club, and their friends, to the number of about 130, held a pleasant social evening at the National School on Tuesday under the genial chairmanship of Mr H.S. Aldred, who was supported by the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar, and Mr E.J. Warboys, captain. A lengthy programme was gone through, consisting of a long list of songs. duets, recitations, etc. During the evening the Captain presented the bat given by the Hon E.S. Motagu, M.P. for the best batting average throughout the season to E. Mitham, and a ball, given by the Club to A.T. Scard for the best bowling.

The bat given by Mr Bartley for the best record in a limited number of innings was presented to the winner, A.T. Scard privately some time ago. After the presentations the Vicar briefly addressed the gathering. He urged, especially on the younger members, the importance of unity and cheerful and willing obedience to the captain's orders, and promised hearty support to the Club, and he announced that he would present a ball next season to the best bowler. When everyone did his or her best to contribute to the success of the evening it would be invidious to select any performers for special commendation, but an exception must be made in favour of Miss Goad, who spared neither time nor trouble in training her band of somewhat youthful and inexperienced songsters, and who acted as accompanist throughout the evening. Plentiful refreshments were provided by Mr Scard, and it is needless to say gave the utmost satisfaction. During the evening the collection box in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital introduced on the cricket field at the Feast Matches, was opened and was found to contain the substantial sum of about 27 shillings The proceedings concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Chairman and performers, proposed by Mr Warboys and seconded by Mr Walter Thorp.

CONSERVATIVE CONCERT, 6th December 1907

In pursuance of their policy during the last four years the Committee of the Association, have arranged a Bohemian Concert to take place at the National School on Monday at 7 .30 pm. No charge will be made for admission, which will be by ticket only. Mr Collins, tenor, King's College Choir, and Mr H.S. Turner, St Ives, will sing, and they will be assisted by Messrs G.W.S. Hills. A.T. Scard, and other local artists. Smoking will be allowed, and those ladies who do not abject to tobacco are cordially invited to be present. A short political address will be delivered during the evening. The chair will be taken by Mr W.C. Cole.

BELL RINGING. 6th December 1907

On Monday evening 25th ult. a combined team of senior and junior Swavesey ringers rang a peal of 720 changes in Bob Minor on the bells of the Parish Church. No such peal has been successfully attempted for several by ringers of Swavesey, once renowned campanologist, The following were the ringers :- Messrs F. Hodson, treble, John Hodson, 2. Bert Hodson, 3. John Williams, 4. E.H. Hodson, 5. (conductor) and W.Perry, tenor.

CONSERVATIVE CONCERT. 13th December 1907

On Monday evening the Conservatives of Swavesey gave another proof that they are very much alive and by no means downhearted. The occasion was a concert called "Bohemian" apparently because of the presence of two great soothers of mankind, tobacco and ladies, and the absence of troublesome boys. It was not intended to be a great function, but merely, to use the apt phase of a local celebrity, a by-blow. The large room of the National School was packed with an enthusiastic and keenly appreciative audience. The chair was taken punctually at half-past seven by Mr W.C. Cole, the able and popular chairman of the Swavesey Association, under whose auspices the concert was arrange.

CRICKET AND CHARITY. 13th December 1907

Mr E.J. Warboys, captain of the Swavesey Cricket Club, has received the following letter from Mr R.J. Coles, the secretary- superintendent of Addenbrooke's Hospital:- Dear Sir, - I have very great pleasure in conveying to you and the members of the Swavesey Cricket Club, the committee's grateful thanks for the valued contribution o £1 11s 6d., which you have so kindly sent in aid of the funds, and for your kind interest in the Hospital. I enclose the official receipt and three recommendations". The above sum was collected on the cricket ground during the feast week matches and at the recent social evening.

STAG HUNT. 13th December 1907

The Cambridge University Drag Hounds met near the Red Lion on Tuesday.

It had been intended that the stag – a lady by the way – should be un-carted in the same field, belonging to Mr Cole, and tenanted by Mr A. Day, opposite the Red Lion, in which the meet took place, in February, 1906. but water being out on the further side of Swavesey the Master (Mr Norman W. Loder) decided to work in the direction of the high road. Much to the disappointment of the many spectators, some of whom had come a distance, who regardless of mud and water trudged, bravely over the heavy land, and risked a wetting by crossing over drains full of water, the stag was let loose in Soldier's Drift, at the end of Tippler's Drove, and gently persuaded in the direction of Lolworth. After frolicking with young horses in a field of Mr John Mitham's the stag made Childerley, and nearly reached Childerley Gate. Then, left-handing, it bore towards Madingley, and was taken at Madingley Mill, near Mr Hunt's Farm, after three quarters of an hour without a check, Swavesey people therefore saw none of the fun, and went home disappointed. James Norman "the Over Sportsman" who for twenty-seven years has looked after the interests of the Drag Hunt in his parish desires that it should be known that he was present at the meet and followed in a friend's carriage as far as Lolworth. We gladly make this interesting announcement

OBITUARY, 13th December 1907

Many of our readers will learn with sincere regret that Mrs Lucy Ding, wife of Mr Thomas Ding, died early on Sunday morning, at the age of 79, after an illness of only five days. Both she and her Husband are well known as devoted adherents of the Primitive Methodist Chapel, in Swavesey. The Funeral took place in the Churchyard on Wednesday afternoon, The Rev. A.C. Vidler, vicar officiating.

COLLAPSE OF A ROOF. 20th December 1907

The old Swavesey Brewery narrowly escaped being the scene of a serious disaster on Monday. The kitchen portion of the dwelling house which runs to the back at right angles to the main building has been under repair at the hands of Messrs Wayman Bros, of Over. One part had been practically pulled down and rebuilt, and the work had progressed so far that the rafters of the roof were in position. The remainder of the building, that furthest from the house, was to be attended to later, and it was this that came to grief. On Monday at about 5.30 p.m. after workmen had gone home, the occupier heard sounds of cracks or as he thought at the time of stones being thrown on the roof. Then he heard a loud crash, and the roof and parts of the walls down wholesale. the workmen had spent their dinner hour in the upper part of the building which collapsed, and had the accident happened when they were inside serious loss of life, or at any rate severe bodily injury, would have occurred, for about three tons of materials fell. Strangely enough the carpenter's tools buried beneath the debris were rescued the following morning uninjured, and the ceiling underneath was intact, a good old fashioned sumpter beam having supported the weight.

HALE ALLOTMENTS. 20th December 1907

At a recent meeting of the Feoffee's of the Galon's Charity, it was decided to have the Hale Allotments re-measured and new boundary stumps put down. Galon's Charity Coal. - The first distribution for the present winter of charity coal was made at the end of last week.

THE FLOODS, 20th December 1907

All low-lying land between the village of Swavesey and the Ouse is flooded and the view from Mill Pitts above Mere Fen is interesting to those who appreciate the sight of miles of water. Both of the Swavesey railway gate-houses are surrounded, and the only access to them is by the railroad, but so far no houses in the village have been flooded, Mere Fen, beloved of skaters, is ripe for a strong frost.

PARISH COUNCIL 20th December 1907

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Tuesday evening, at which were the rev. A.C. Vidler, (chairman), Messrs W.H. Key. (vice-chairman) J.T. Daintree, J. Gilby, J.S. Goad, G. Metcalfe, E.J. Warboys, and J. Wells, with Robinson Mitham,(clerk) Certain Bills were passed and ordered to be paid. The question of the fire engine was the chief matter of interest dealt with. After some discussion it was decided to appoint a caretaker for the engine, and a suitable parishioner was selected for the post, subject to his acceptance. It was also agreed that the Council should insure the caretaker in respect of risk under the Employer's Liability Act.

A RETROSPECT 20th December 1907

The past year, so far as Swavesey is concerned, cannot be said to have been one of startling incident. The Village has pursued the even tenor of its way undisturbed by cataclysmal charges, but in a modest way a certain amount of steady progress has been made. (following is a list of items mentioned in the long report,)

Post office was moved to more suitable premises.

High Street roadway was made-up with granite and steam-rolled.

Work to improve drain in Wallman's Lane took place'

Brickwall was built on the frontage of the parish property in High Street.

Derelict site in Taylor's lane converted into a garden by W.H. Key.
Recreation Ground acquired under a Parish Council Charity scheme.
Scratch Bank, a defence against floods has been repaired.
Hale Allotments re-measured and freshly marked out.
The faces of the church clock regilded by Mrs George Long.
Figures on School clock regilded, a weather vane erected on the bell turret.
Bethal Baptist chapel thoroughly renovated.
Fire on Mr Bull's premise at Boxworth End
Successful Garden Fete took place in the Vicarage grounds.
Four Swavesey young men emigrated to Canada.
Two prize cricket bats awarded to Swavesey cricketers.
Parish Council failed to recover costs of fire engine attending a fire.
New Conservative candidate Captain Morrison-Bell visited Swavesey
District Council Election took place.
Ten Swavesey inhabitant's deaths took place during the year.

COAL 3rd Jan. 1908

Mrs George Long, of the Priory, has once again made her welcomed distribution of coal during the past Christmas season, and has earned the gratitude of many needy householders.

SKATING. 3rd Jan. 1908.

The ice on Mere Fen was largely patronised on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday last. There were several immersions, but as there is no depth of water, no lives were endangered. Early on Monday a thaw set in and put an end to all thought of races.

SOIREE. 3rd January 1908

Under the auspices of the recently formed Conservative Club a soiree was held in the Club Room at the White Horse on Christmas Eve, when a programme of vocal music was carried out. During the evening the Chairman Dr Ellis made a statement as to the progress the club was making.

CHRISTMAS AT THE PARISH CHURCH, 3rd January 1908

The services during Christmastide at the Parish Church have been bright and hearty. At evensong, after the service carols were sung, a anthem "Let us go even now unto Bethlehem" was well rendered by the choir. Then the organist played "The War March of the Priests" sad to relate, to empty benches. The Vicar, who had been unwell, was taken worse during Sunday, and in consequence there was no evening service. Mr Vidler, we are glad to hear, is progressing favourably.

MRS LONG'S HOSPITALITY. 3rd January 1908

The members of the congregation of the Parish Church and other villagers to the number of upwards of two hundred, were right royally entertained by Mrs George Long, of the Priory, at the National School on Monday evening. The large room which was effectively decorated on a scheme some what new to Swavesey mainly by Messrs J Gilby and Percy Beaumont, was crowded with an assemblage representative of all sorts and conditions and ages (children accepted). It was a social gathering of parishioners in the truest sense of the word. Mrs Long received her guests, and was most assiduous in looking after their comfort, being assisted in the pleasing duty by Misses Vidler and other ladies of the congregation, too numerous to mention here. The famous Chorister Glee Singers of King's College Chapel supplied the programme of Music. with Mr Stanley Spring as humorist. They were all in excellent form, and every item was enthusiastically received. At intervals refreshments were handed round. Before the close of the evening Mr W.H. Key, the veteran churchwarden, gave expression to the sentiments of all present by thanking Mrs Long in a few trenchant sentences for her generous hospitality, and for having afforded Swavesey people a musical treat they would remember for many a long year. In the absence of the Vicar, through illness, Mr William Clarke acted as Master of Ceremonies, and did his work well.

SEASONABLE GIFTS 3rd Jan. 1908.

The venerable Mr Thomas Payne, although by reason of his great age unable to get many yards from his house, has once again remembered his humble friends and presented to each of his tenants and all needy widows and widowers a pound of loaf sugar and a pound of tea.

WEDDINGS 3rd Jan. 1908.

Pressure on our space last week prevented a reference to three weddings which took place at the Parish Church, during the Christmas Season.

THURBON - METCALFE.

Early on Boxing Day, Charles William, elder son of Mr William Thurbon, was married to Bertha Ann, daughter of the late Mr Alfred Metcalfe, of Market Street. The wedding was strictly private owing to the recent death of the bride's mother.

KETTLE - SMITH.

Later on the same day Lionel Kettle of Stamford, eldest son of Mr Louis Kettle of Cambridge, was joined together in matrimony to Alice A. Smith, eldest daughter of Mr James Smith, the well known market gardener of Swavesey. The Bride, who was given away by her father, was tastefully attired in a cream coloured gown, and wore a hat to match, and was accompanied by one bridesmaid, Miss Hetter Smith, sister. Mr Joseph Smith was best man. The Vicar officiated. The happy couple left Swavesey by the 4.30 p.m. train for Stamford, and during their progress to the station the church bells rang merrily. They were the recipients of numerous useful presents

FROMANT – DESBOROUGH.

On Monday, 30th December 1907 Harry Day Fromant, eldest son of Mr Arthur Fromant of High Street, Swavesey, was married to Ellen Desborough adopted daughter of Mr & Mrs H. Lawrence of Haslingfield. the Rev T.E. Beckett, vicar of Over officiating. The bride wore a pretty dress of light fawn silk, and orange blossoms. She was given away by her uncle Mr John Day, of Over. and was attended by two bridesmaids Miss Grace Froment, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Edith Day, cousin of the bride. bothe of whom were dressed in light grey skirts, cream blouses, and cream hats. Mr S.J. Fromant was groomsman, During the afternoon the church bells rang lustily, The wedding presents were numerous and useful.

MISSIONARY TEA. 10th January 1908

Tuesday, the 7th inst, was the day fixed for the annual missionary tea, an institution of more than thirty years standing. At the tables, which were fairly well filled, presided Mrs Long, Misses Vidler, Cole, Key, Hodson, and Mrs Wells, Beaumont, Scard, and Dean. After Justice had been done to the eatables provided and grace said, the more serious part of the evening commenced. Some Prayers and a hymn were thrown upon the sheet by a lantern, ably manipulated by Miss Ruth Vidler. The Vicar then introduced the lecturer, the Rev. E.C. Johnson M.A. and S.P.G. missionary, from Japan. In a short speech he referred to the time honoured custom of meeting annually for promoting missionary work and reminded his audience of the special effort that ought to be made in the year of the pan Anglican Congress. These brief remarks were followed by an interesting and instructive lecture on the Japanese people which completely vindicated the importance of the subject. With the aid of excellent lantern slides he gave a clear and concise description of various sides of Japanese life. The speaker ably explained from practical experience the many obstacles encountered in attempting to convert so intellectual a race. Out of a population of forty five millions only two hundred thousand are as yet Christians. Just before the close of the meeting, which terminated with a vote of thanks proposed by the Vicar to the lecturer, a telegram was read from the late incumbent of the parish, viz, Best Wishes to all old friends at Swavesey from all old friends at Bearsted". About four pounds was collected in aid of Foreign Missions.

DEATHS. 10th January 1908

Metcalfe. – December 19th 1907, at Market Street, Swavesey. Mary Ann, widow of Alfred Metcalfe, aged 54 years.

Wilderspin. – January 4th 1908, Eliza, wife of Samuel Wilderspin, senior, aged 70 years.

WEST CAMBS M.P. AT SWAVESEY, 10th January 1908.

The Hon. E.H. Montagu, M.P. visited Swavesey on Wednesday evening and addressed a meeting in the National School. The attendance was fairly good, but a casual glance around the room disclosed the fact that there were quite as many Conservatives present as supporters of Mr Montagu, even if the former did not predominate. Extraordinary precautions were taken to ensure order. Extra police were in attendance. At the door stood Mr Guyatt, the Liberal Agent for West Cambs, supported by local Radical workers. Each person was closely scrutinized before being allowed to enter the room. Certain young men and lads were refused admittance, and on protesting were told that it was not a public meeting, but that admission was by invitation. Boys were allowed inside only on their mother's becoming surety for their good behaviour. The Result was a deadly dull and lifeless meeting. Mr Montagu arrived late, having had to go to London with a deputation from the County which waited upon the Secretary of State for War, respecting the disbandment of the Cambridgeshire Militia Battalion. He enter the room accompanied by Mr James Westley, J.P. of Stretham, who took the chair, and Mr Ebenezer Parish, J.P. chairman of the Swavesey Liberal Association. People wondered why it was necessary to go to Stretham for a chairman when there was a fully competent chairman in the village. Mr Westley briefly opened the meeting and called upon Mr Montagu to render an account of his stewardship. Mr Montagu began by apologising for and explaining his late attendance, and expressed himself as being hopeful about the retention of the Cambs Militia. He frankly admitted that the result of the Mid-Devon election was "a very nasty smack" for the Government. It was no use trying to explain the defeat by saying that the electors had been led astray. To do so was to insult the electors, and, moreover both sides tried to be truthful. The defeat in Mid-Devon was an undoubted victory for Tariff Reform. He singled out the Small Holding Act for special notice but gave intending smallholders cold comfort. From the past Mr Montagu proceeded to the future and he told his hearers what was going to be done. He mentioned an Education Bill, Reform of the House of Lords, Shorter Parliaments, 5 years instead of 7 years, a Housing Bill, a Licensing Bill, and others. A beginning – but only a beginning – would be made with Old Age Pensions. Mr Montagu expressed his willingness to answer questions. His speech had been listened to attentively but in silence. After questions Mr E Parish proposed and Mr Lack seconded a vote of thanks to the Chairman and Mr Montagu. The singing of the National Anthem concluded the meeting, one of the most orderly, if not the tamest political gathering ever held in Swavesey.

THE ICE. 10th January 1908

Skating was resumed at the end of last week, on outlying flooded fields, but Mere Fen was not thrown open to the public until Monday. The ice was then in excellent condition. Races were announced for Wednesday, but the thaw on Tuesday prevented these being run. An interesting programme of three races, viz:- an amateur mile race, and an amateur boy's race, both open to resident within a radius of eight miles of Swavesey, and a race for men 35 years of age and over, resident in Boxworth, Fen Drayton, Lolworth, Longstanton, Over, Swavesey and Willingham. In the event of the ice being again in a fit state, due notice will be given of the racing. On Sunday there were several accidents. A visitor from Cambridge fell on the ice and badly gashed his throat necessitating medical treatment. About midday two intending skaters, one on a motor cycle and the other on an ordinary bicycle, were passing through the village at a rapid pace, locked together in brotherly fashion, and when near the Turn Bridge the motor skidded, with the result that the rider of the ordinary machine was hurled violently to the ground. Both he and his machine were somewhat seriously damaged.

A PARCEL FOR FATHER, 17th January 1908

An interesting conversation was overheard at the railway station the other day. A young lady entered the booking office, and thus addressed the official in charge, who by the way was a stranger to the village. "Have you a parcel for us?" "Who is us" queried the official, who was adding up a long column of figures, "My father" replied the lady fair, "Who is your father?" asked the perplexed official. The lady declined to say, but after a pause volunteered the information. "It come from father's brother" "Who is your father's brother?" gasped the now bewildered official. "You blithering fool" Don't you know his name is ----- ?” retorted the lady in indignation, mixed with scorn. On this information the parcel was unearthed, and the fair creature was told she would have to sign for it. After she had left, and the official had recovered his breath, he casually inspected the signature, and to his dismay discovered she had merely written her Christian name. (Selina)

TIDINGS OF VICTORY. 24th January 1908

The Conservatives of Swavesey were jubilant on Saturday when the astonishing news arrived that Captain Eustace Morrison-Bell’s brother had been returned to Parliament for the Asburton Division of Devonshire. His plucky and determined attack on this ancient stronghold of Liberalism has been watched with the keenest interest, but was regarded as a forlorn hope. His splendid and decisive victory, therefore, over the combined forces of Radicalism, Hooliganism, and Socialism gave great satisfaction.

LANTERN LECTURE. 24th January 1908

Mr G. Douglas Newton J.P. of Croxton Park, will give a lecture at half past seven o’clock on Monday Evening, in the National School, Swavesey, on Imperial Preference and Tariff Reform. The lecture will be illustrated by limelight views.

SWAVESEY MAN IN CANADA. 24th January 1908

Letter from Canada addressed to the Editor, - Dear Sir – The 21st birthday of Mr Frank Day, eldest son of Mr Alfred Day of Swavesey was celebrated here on January 4th 1908 at the house of Mrs John Burlingham, late of St Ives, Hunts, in whose employ Mr Day now is. Messrs Beaumont, Wells, and Lawson Hephher, of Swavesey were guests at the party There were also five of Mr Day’s Canadian friends. After a splendid repast, provided by the kind hostess, a very enjoyable evening was spent in music and singing; also during the evening congratulatory speeches were made and then good wishes of Swavesey were tendered by one of the Swavesey guests. Mr Burlingham said in the course of his remarks, that he was pleased to have in his employ one whom he could trust everything.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 31st January 1908

Captain Eustace Morrison-Bell, the prespective Conservative & Unionist candidate for West Cambs, has accepted the office of President of the Swavesey Association in succession to Colonel Raymond Greene.

TARIFF REFORM. 31st January 1908

A large audience crowded the spacious room of the National School to hear a lecture by Mr G.Douglas Newton J.P of Croxton Park, on Imperial Preference and Tariff Reform. At present there are no openly declared Suffragettes in the village, but the ladies are known to exercise there, as indeed they do in most other civilised places, a great influence over the men. The Liberals have a Women's Association, and sustained by tea and buns, presumably concert measures for the education and management of mere man in matters political. It was fitting, therefore, that ladies should be invited to hear Mr Newton, and they attended in large numbers. What he said in regard to the cost of food and on matters connected with the maintenance of a household appealed to them strongly, and they showed openly their appreciation of his remarks and his illustrations. (the report continued)

GOLD MEDAL AWARDED. 14th February 1908

Mr A.T. Scard, baker and confectioner, of High Street, has been awarded a gold medal by the Master Baker's and Confectioners' Society, London being the first for excellence and purity in the making tin bread. The prize was won in a competition open to the whole of the British Isles. Mr Scard had already gained three diplomas from the same Society.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 14th February 1908

The monthly meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held on Monday evening in Mr E. Parish's room, Middle Watch. Mr Parish, chairman of the Association, presided and various political matters were discussed.

PROMPTITUDE. 14th February 1908

At their last meeting, held a fortnight ago, the Swavesey Rural District Council ordered a new door for one of the fobs controlling the dock. The work was given to Mr Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, who made a new door and placed it in position on Monday last.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 21st February 1908

The committee of the Swavesey Conservative Association are arranging a meat tea, to be followed by a smoking concert and speeches, at the National School on Monday, 2nd March, Admission will be by ticket only, price one shilling, to be obtained on or before Thursday 27th February. Major C.W.

Stanley, D.L. J.P. president of West Cambs Conservatives, and Mr G.D. Newton. J.P. Croxton Park, are announced to be present. Mr R. Ellis Long, of Lolworth, who has a large interest in Swavesey & Fen Drayton, has recently been elected a Vice President of the Association.

CONSERVATIVE VAN. It has been intimated that the Conservative Van N. with Mr Cawdron in charge, will visit Swavesey this Friday evening, and will remain the night.

CRICKET CLUB. 21st February 1908

A meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School on Friday evening, Mr E.J. Warboys presiding, when the following officers were elected for the coming season: Captain, Mr E.J. Warboys, Vice-captain, Mr B. Prior, Treasurer, Mr A.T. Scard, Secretary, Mr C. Taylor, Assistant secretary, Mr J.W. Williams, Committee: Messrs, S.J. Froment, T. Goad, W. Goad, T. Harris, E. Mitham, R. Mitham, junior, and S. Trundley. A President and Vice President were also elected, subject to their acceptance of office.

OTTERS 28th February 1908

It is reported that there are otters in Middle Fen between Swavesey and Overcote.

THE GALE. 28th February 1908

During the gale on Saturday afternoon a considerable portion of the high brick wall surrounding Mr Cole's garden at Boxworth End was blown down. In a cottage at Church End a violent gust of wind carried a small kettle from the fire up the chimney, It has not been seen since.

CONSERVATIVE TEA. 28th February 1908

Our readers are reminded that a meet tea and smoking concert will be held in the National School on Monday evening, Mr J Gambling the well-known conjurer and ventriloquial entertainer has been engaged for the evening There is no truth in the rumour that no refreshments will be served. Refreshments will be supplied on exactly the same lines as at the Association's tea and smoking concert in December 1906. The charge for admission includes everything.

SOCIAL EVENING. 28th February 1908

A parochial social evening is announced to be held at the National School on Tuesday, 3rd March. The musical programme will be contributed by ladies from Cambridge and by local friends. Admission is by ticket, 6d each, to be obtained not later than noon on Tuesday. Entrance without ticket, 9d. Light refreshments will be provided.

HAPPY EVENT. 28th February 1908

It will interest many of our readers to learn that on Sunday last 23rd instant, a daughter was born to Mr & Mrs E.J. Warboys. Both mother and child are doing well.

QUESTIONS. 28th February 1908

Allotment holders are asking whether the plots in the Hale allotments will be re-measured and new boundary stumps put in after the land has been dug and planted. Parishioners are enquiring whether the fire engine caretaker has yet been appointed, and also when a notice will be posted on the engine shed signifying where the keys are to be kept. The latest official intimation was that they were to be held by the clerk of the Parish Council pending the settlement of the engine question. The Parish Council came to a decision in the matter on the 17th December last.

CONSERVATIVE VAN AT SWAVESEY. 28th February 1908

One of the twenty vans sent out some weeks ago on missionary work from the Conservative Headquarters in London, visited Swavesey on Friday last. That it was designed and built for use and not for ornament is evident for it has the appearance of a cross between a pantechnicon van and a huge packing case on wheels. and cannot be described as a thing of beauty by any stretch of the imagination. Three of the four sides are covered in posters, pictorial and otherwise. Rustic critics found insult with its wheels, which they declare are not large enough for heavy country roads, though doubtless suitable for the hard pavements of large towns, and they were pleased to be able to pick holes in what they supposed was the work of the very superior people in the Metropolis. (a long account of the visit followed)

WEDDING. 6th March 1908

The marriage of Miss Maud Key, second daughter of Mr William Henry Key, who has for many years been the greatly respected \church worker of Swavesey, to Mr Walter Frohock Gleaves, youngest son of Mr Edmund Gleaves, of Swavesey, and late of Willingham, took place at St Andrew's Swavesey. on Thursday week, in the presence of a large congregation. The Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar, officiated. The service was choral, the hymns "the Voice that breathed o'er Eden" and "Thine for ever, God of Love" were sung.

The bride, who was not accompanied by bridesmaids, was given away by her father, While the congregation were waiting the arrival of the bride Mr G.H. Skeeles, organist, played the following music :- The Happy couple were the recipients of numerous presents, including one greatly valued from the members of the Women's Guild.

SOCIAL EVENING. 6th March 1908

The large room of the National School was crowded on Tuesday night for a social evening in aid of the Parish Church Choir Fund. The Rev. A.C. Vidler vicar presided. The evening started with a programme of music, songs, pianoforte solo, etc. This was followed by dancing, which was greatly enjoyed by many of those present. At the end of the entertainment the Vicar thanked all the helpers for their assistance.

BRITISH WOMEN'S TEMPERANCE. 6th March 1908

A meeting in connection with the above Association was held on Thursday 27th February, in the National Schoolroom. Dr R.Watts White occupied the chair. Mrs Savary of London gave an able and powerful address pointing out the results of personal influence in regard to the Temperance question. Mr Williams accompanied the singing on the piano.

A MAN IN A FIT. 13th March 1908

About 9p.m. on Thursday the 5th inst., Mr Robinson Mitham, on crossing the road near his house, found a man apparently in a fit, lying unconscious at the Side of the Swan pond. Assistance was promptly summoned, the man was taken into Mr Hills' cottage, and Dr Ellis was called in. the man partially recovered, but remained in a dazed state and was unable to give any account of himself. He was unknown to Swavesey, and it was with difficulty elicited that his name was Sidders. After some time P.C. Hiner and Mr Overseer Herbert Wilderspin were satisfied that he belonged to Willingham, and as he was neither able to walk home nor be trusted alone it was decided to send him to Willingham in a cart. P.C. Hiner and Mr Robinson Mitham, Jun., accordingly drove him to Willingham and on the way met his brother and brother-in-law, who were in search of the wanderer. It appears that he had had three fits in the course of the day, and that he had disappeared from home during the evening, and a search was at once instituted.

CRICKET CLUB. 13th March 1908

A social eveing in connection with Swavesey Cricket Club will be held at the National School on Tuesday, 24th inst.

STRANGE, BUT QUITE TRUE. 13th March 1908

Mr Ephraim Stocker, when acting as ticket taker at the recent Conservative tea and smoking concert, was somewhat perplexed. A visitor from another village on "the other side of the telegraph wires" tendered to him a letter duly sealed, addressed, and bearing an un-cancelled postage stamp. Mr Stocker naturally stared, and politely suggested that he would rather have a ticket, whereupon the visitor woke up to the fact that he had posted his ticket instead of his letter!

PAN-ANGLICAN CONGRESS, 13th March 1908

A lecture, illustrated by lantern views, was given in the National School, in the presence of a good audience on Tuesday evening, by the Rev, W.R. Gardner, with the object of bringing the subject of the Pan-Anglican Congress, which is to be held in London in June next, before the Church people of Swavesey. Mr Gardner, who is now in spiritual charge of the neighbouring parish of Holywell-cum-Needlingworth, has had much experience of work in South Africa, and was therefore able to speak with personal knowledge of part, at least, of the foreign missionary efforts of the English Church. At the conclusion a collection was made towards the expenses of this and similar lectures. The Vicar of Swavesey is acting as secretary for matters connected with the Congress in the Rural Deanery of North Stowe, and is arranging for lectures and meetings in various parishes so as to bring the aims and objects of the congress before the people, and quicken their interests in so momentous a gathering.

PIG REMOVAL ORDERS. 13th March 1908

Small breeders of pigs are complaining of the expense and inconvenience to which they are put in order to obtain the necessary orders for the removal of pigs. They have to go to Cambridge for the orders and apart from the inconvenience and loss of time they do not unnaturally resent the expense of the railway journey. The return ticket to Cambridge costs 1s 11d. They are asking why the local police constable cannot supply the orders.

PARISH COUNCIL. 20th March 1908

A meeting of the Parish council was held in the National School on Thursday week at which were present Rev.A.C. Vidler, chairman, Messrs W,H, Key, vice-chairman, J.T. Daintree, J. Gilby, G. Metcalfe, William T. Thorp, E.J. Warboys, J.Wells, and Robinson Mitham, clerk. The chief business was the consideration of new rules for guidance of the caretaker of the fire engine. After some discussion and a few alterations the rules were adopted. Mr Stehen Challis, of Wallman's Lane, has been appointed caretaker, and the keys of the engine house have been placed in his custody, The Council gave orders for a notice board setting forth the name, etc of the caretaker, to be affixed to the engine house. Discussion ensued on a letter from the Insurance Office respecting the insurance of the caretaker and others.

SERVICE TO SONG. 20th March 1908

On Monday evening a service of song, entitled “Blind Betty’s Text” was given in the Primitive Methodist Chapel by the Longstanton Primitive Methodist Choir, Mr Raven of Longstanton, read the connecting narrative. A clooection was made in aid of the Primitive Methodist cause.

P.S.A. 20th March 1908

Pleasant Sunday Afternoon meetings have been held at Bethel Baptist Chapel throughout the winter. On Sunday last Mr Councillor Starr, of Cambridge, gave an excellent address on “Character” and Miss Few, of Willingham sang two solos. Mr Dawson, of the Pastor’s Colege, presided, and Miss Goad officiated at the harmonium. On Sunday next Mr Dinnage, of Cambridge, will deliver an address and Mr Fred Day, of Over, will be the soloist.

LIBERAL MEETING. 20th March 1908

The Friends’ Meeting House in Black Horse Lane was on Tuesday once again the scene of a political demonstration, when the fair members of the Swavesey Women’s Liberal Association, to the number of about fifty, held high revel. After a sumptuous tea men were admitted, and then the serious business of the evening began. Mre Tillyard of Cambridge, President of the Association, supported by Mrs Oliver, vice-president occupied the chair. In her address she referred with gratitude to the fact that women can now hold public office. She spoke of the great benefits conferred by the Employers’ Liability Act, and mad a brief allusion to the Education Bill, a question in which she was much interested. Mr Toulmin of King’s College, Cambridge, was announced as the chief speaker, but, unfortunately, owing to the inconvenient train service – the last train for Cambridge leaves Swavesey at 7.32 p.m. – he had to curtail his address. Mr Toulmin is a young man, but is a keen politician, and he dealt mainly with the Question of Free Trade and the inestimable blessings it bestowed on the people of this country. He proved to his own satisfaction, and, doubtless to his hearers, or some of them, that there is a cheaper loaf under a Liberal Government than under a Conservative. During the proceedings Miss Mckay of Cambridge, sang two songs, viz: “Jessie’s Dream” and “Goodbye”.

COTTENHAM HOOLIGANS 20th March 1908

Sir – Shortly after the Mid-Devon election the Hon. E.S. Montagu, M.P. in a speech in West Cambs, within a few miles of Cottenham, emphatically declared that in his opinion constituencies guilty of roadyism should be disfranchised. If it is right to disfranchise a constituency surely it would not be wrong to disfranchise part of one. I therefore suggest to Mr Montagu that he should introduce a measure into the House of Commons depriving the cowardly blackguards of Cottenham of their votes. The dastardly attack on Mr & Mrs G.D. Newton and their party was, as you pointed out last week only one of many instances of brutal intimidation of that benighted parish.
Yours faithfully. XYZ. 17th March 1908.

FIRE ENGINE 27th March 1908

It may be of interest to the residents of Swavesey to know that the following Parish Councillors now form the Fire Engine Committee, viz: J.Gilby ,(church End) George Metcalfe, (Centre of the village) and E.J. Warboys, (Boxworth End)

PECKHAM ELECTION. 27th March 1908

Great interest has been taken in the political struggle at Peckham by Swavesey Conservatives. Morning and night the newspapers reports have been eagerly read, and from the outset the general consensus of opinion has been in favour of the Conservative's chances. At seven o'clock on Wednesday morning immediately authentic tidings of Mr Gooch's splendid victory were received, the officers of the Swavesey Conservatives Association, a very vigorous and up-to-date organisation, posted placards giving the full result in different parts of the village, and flags were displayed by several residents. Mr W.H. Chamberlain, landlord of the Rising Sun, not content with posting the result and hoisting a Union Jack outside his hostelry, broke out into poetry. We do not venture to give his verses here for fear of infringing his copyright, but all who desire to see his truly original excursion into the realms of poetry can do so by inspecting the notice board at the side of his front door.

A RECORD. 27th March 1908.

From time to time, reports are published of the number of miles walked by postman in the course of a life spent in public service, but so far the distance travelled by a bricklayer in going to from his work has not been proclaimed to the world at large. Mr Charles Dodson, a native and life-long inhabitant of Swavesey, and well known in St Ives and the country round, estimates that during the thirty years he worked for the late Mr John Saint, builder and contractor, of St Ives, he walked 48,000 miles. He never once arrived late at his work, and being still in the employment of a St Ives builder, he is now walking on average eight miles a day. It is needless to tell those people who are acquainted with Mr Dodson what manner of man he is: but strangers may be interested to know that he is a big heavy man, weighting some 16 to 17 stone, who has seen well nigh seventy summers. In his younger days he had a great reputation locally as a skater.

OBITUARY. "27th March 1908

Two deaths in the village have to be recorded. On Tuesday, March 24th Mrs Mary Martin, wife of Mr James Martin, died at the age of 76. She had been in failing health for some time, but was only taken seriously ill on the previous Thursday. She was buried in the Swavesey Cemetery on Sunday. On Saturday, March 28th. Mrs Ann Dodson, wife of Mr Fred Dodson, passed away aged 55, after an illness lasting nearly 21 years. She was first stricken down during the Jubilee Day (1887) celebrations, and had been an invalid ever since. Her funeral took place in the Cemetery on Wednesday.

FIRE ENGINE. 27th March 1908

The parish fire engine, around which so fierce a conflict has recently raged, was tested on the Recreation Ground on Tuesday afternoon, under the superintendence of the Fire Engine Committee of the Parish Council, Messrs George Metcalf, J. Gilby, and E.J. Warboys. The occasion was memorable as being the first appearance of the new Captain, Mr S. Challis.

HALE ALLOTMENTS 27th March 1908

No Stumps yet! No plots re-measured!, In November last the Feoffees of Galon's Charity, their attention having been specially called to the matter by the "Cambridge Express". ordered that the plots, which it was alleged varied in size, should be re-measured and freshly marked out. Four or five weeks ago the Feoffees repeated their instructions, but nothing has yet been done, though nearly five months have elapsed since the Feoffees first issued their edict. The land is being dug up and planter. If the re measuring is postponed much longer there may be serious friction between the Feoffees and some of their tenants. The reason for the delay cannot surely be that there is no effective chain in Swavesey?

STINKS IN WALLMAN'S LANE, 27th March 1908

The open sewer in Wallman's lane belonging to the district Council is most offensive. A casual glance at the stagnant filth in the ditch shows the reason why.

A SPILL. 27th March 1908.

On Monday, Mr Cecil Dean, baker, of School (or Carter's) Lane, Swavesey, had an awkward spill. Whilst driving his mother, eldest sister and his dog along Taylor's Lane, the horse stumbled and fell. All the occupants of the cart, the dog alone excepted, were thrown out; beyond a shaking and a few bruises no one sustained injury. One shaft of the cart was broken, and the harness had to be cut to release the horse.

WAYFARERS PERPLEXED. 28th March 1908.

Persons wending their weary way from Swavesey Station towards Over Hill were puzzled the other day by dots of colour on Mill Pitts, a lofty promontory, or kind of local Rock of Gibraltar, overhanging Mere Fen. Closer inspection revealed the interesting fact that the nomadic tent-dwellers who have been encamped in the "Pitts" during the winter had had a washing day, and had hung out their clothes to dry on the furze bushes.

CRICKET CLUB SOCIAL. 28th March 1908.

The members of the Swavesy Cricket Club held a social evening in aid of the funds of the club at the National School on Tuesday evening. The attendance was not quite up to the average of such gatherings, the fact that more than one social function having recently taken place in the village keeping many people away. The genial Mr H.S. Aldred presided. An excellent programme of vocal music, (solos, duets, trios and quartet's, pianoforte solos and duets, recitations and a dialogue, was contributed to by the Misses A.Goad, A.Caine, L.& P Mitham, and L.Beaumont, and Messrs F. Williams, B.Hodson, E.H. Hodson, A.T. Scard, J.W.Williams, W.Hepher, J.W. Goad, R.Mitham.and H.S. Aldred. Mr Prime Godfrey gave two gramophone selection. During the evening a letter was read from the Hon. E.S. Montagu, M.P. enclosing a subscription of one guinea, and promising to give a bat for the best average during the coming season. It was also announced that Captain E.Morrison-Bell had sent a contribution to the funds. Through an unfortunate oversight no special expression of appreciation was offered to Miss Goad, who was mainly responsible for the success of the musical part of the evening. For some time previously, night after night, she had been steadily instructing her youthful and inexperienced band of songsters, and that they provided so admirable an entertainment was due to her untiring work.

A NARROW ESCAPE. 3rd April 1908.

When threshing operations were approaching completion on Monday afternoon on the late Mr George Day's farm, Mr James Trundley , the hero of the fight with a hawk, fell from the top of a straw stack.It is satisfactory to report that beyond a severe shaking Mr Trundley escaped injury.

A MISHAP. 3rd April 1908

A considerable portion of the brick facing of the stud and plaster cottages occupied by Messrs James Kester and James Coulson,of Boxworth End, fell about seven o'clock on Sunday evening. No one was injured.

ACCIDENT 3rd April 1908

On Thursday afternoon in last week Mr Samuel W. Crisp sustained a nasty fall whilst engaged in nailing up a creeper on the front of his house. He was at the top of a thirty- round ladder, which slipped and broke, and Mr Crisp fell to the ground, He was badly shaken and bruised, but fortunately escaped serious injury. A small ladder underneath was also also damaged.

PARISH COUNCIL 3rd April 1908

The annual meeting of Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday, April 2nd, and was attended by the Rev. A.C. Vidler, chairman, Messrs W.H. Key, vice chairman, J.Gilby, G. Metcalfe, William T. Thorp, E.J. Warboys, J.Wells, and Robinson Mitham, clerk. The Rev. Vidler and Mr Key were re-elected chairman & vice chairman, respectively, and Messrs John Williams and A.T. Scarcd were appointed overseers for the ensuing year. Some correspondence was read respecting the responsibility of the Council in regard to its officials under the Employer's Liability Act, and it was decided to store the street lamps in a building on the parish property in the High Street, instead of hiring a shed as in former years. Mr Mitham was instructed to have the building put into a proper state of repair.

AN ECHO OF THE PAST.

Some of our older Swavesey readers may be interested to read the following lines written long ago in the Rose & Crown public- house respecting the late Mr Charles Payne, who is still remembered as a well- known, but somewhat eccentric personage. Mr Payne was proud possessor of a dog more beloved by its master than appreciated by his friends, and on his death a local wit and poet wrote:-

“Here lies the property of Charles Payne,
What he thinks loss, other think gain,
It was a contagious disease that caused it to die,
May it save Charles Payne from telling many a lie”

EARLY BIRDS 10rd April 1908

In a nest in Mr Pilgram's garden in Middle Watch there are three young blackbirds ready to fly.

ANOTHER EARLY BIRD. 10rd April 1908.

A horsekeeper, employed by a Boxworth End farmer, made a mistake the other morning. Under the impression that he had overslept himself he sprang hastily from his bed, dressed in haste not waiting to fasten his boots, hurried to work, called his master, and fed and harnessed his horses. His wife loudly summoned him back home, and his master appeared and indignantly wanted to know what he meant by rousing him before three o'clock. The horsekeeper returned to his bed for further rest.

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 17th April 1908

Another very old inhabitant of Swavesey has passed away. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs Lucy Thoday, who had entered her 80th year, died after a long illness. She was the widow of Mr John Thoday, tailor of Swavesey, who pre-deceased, her some 50 years, the daughter of Mr James Williams, farmer and butcher, of Swavesey, and the sister of Messrs Herbert, Alfred and James Williams and of Mrs George Day, all now resident in Swavesey.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 17th April 1908.

The services, special and ordinary, during Holy Week and Easter at the Parish Church of St Andrew have been well attended. On Good Friday from 12noon to 3 p.m. the “Three Hours Service” was held, the Vicar giving the addresses on the Seven Last Words from the Cross. Easter Day was heralded by the bells ringing merrily between 5 and 6 am. The old church presented a bright appearance in its festal garb of flowers, etc., the devoted work of the usual band of ladies. The services were well and heartily rendered. Following sung Matins, there was a choral celebration of the Holy Communion. At Evensong the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis were sung. The anthem was “Christ being risen”, the bass and tenor solos being taken by Messrs J.Gilby and A.Prime, jun. respectively. The Vicar preached. The collections on Easter Day were assigned as an Easter offering for the Vicar.

THE WEATHER. 17th April 1908

Easter Day and Easter Monday, 1908, will be long rememberedby reason of the remarkable weather. Snow, hail, rain, and sunshine succeeded one another in startling rapidity. Early risers on Easter Monday found a coating of snowtwo or three inches thick everywhere, and during the morning there were several heavy snowstorms. A club cricket match arranged for the afternoon had to be postponed, but a few enthusiasts got in a little practice on the Recreation Ground, and Mr Bartley’s 1907 presentation bat was tested by its proud owner.

VESTRY MEETING. 17th April 1908

The Easter Vestry meeting was held under the tower of the Parish Church on Monday evening, the Vicar presiding. Mr James Wells was re-elected the people’s warden and the Vicar nominated Mr W.H. Key as his warden. The sidesmen were also re-appointed.

IF I HAD A DONKEY, ETC. 17th April 1908

There are several donkeys in Swavesey – the four-legged variety only is referred to – all of which are the pride of their owner’s hearts. The coat of one of these beloved beasts has been sadly in need of attention, so its fond mistress the other day determined to act as its hair dresser. Armed with her domestic scissors, she carefully and thoroughly clipped his shaggy coat, and then administered a shampoo with a pail of good strong soapsuds. The donkey looks extremely well. (Mrs Charles Crisp)

ONE GOOD SAMARITAN. 17th April 1908

The impression that there are on Good Samaritans left in Swavesey is erroneous. Last week a new arrival found one, but the kindly gifts took the form of a penny loaf of the Samaritan's own manufacture. (A.T. Scard)

INVITATION DANCE. 17th April 1908

It has often been urged that too little is done to provide healthful recreation and amusement for the younger people, and it must be admitted that there is a certain amount of truth in the charge. As the older generation has not seen fit to bestir itself, the juveniles, acting on the 20th century principle, determined to take the matter in their own hands. An energetic committee – self-named the “Swavesey Dance Committee” – sprang suddenly into existence about a fortnight ago, and Messrs H.G. Key, Tom Harris, E.H. Hodson and Frank Williams, assisted by, Misses Violet Dean and Elsie Hawkes, electrified Swavesey and the neighbourhood by issuing invitations to a dance at the National School on Easter Monday. For a fortnight these intrepid adventurers have gone about with deeply furrowed brows and other outward and visible signs of heavy responsibility. Their dance came on as announced, and was in all respects a huge success, and on Tuesday morning furrowed brows gave place to beaming smiles and sleepy eyes. About fifty young men and maidens with a sprinkling of the older disciples were present. Visitors came from as far away as Cottenham, and it is reported that even classic Cambridge and ancient Ely sent contingents. A most pleasant evening was spent, and dances of all kinds were danced with the greatest zest from 7.30 p.m. until the witching hour of midnight. Miss Mary Hawkes, Miss Cordell of Fendrayton, and Mr Noble Robinson very kindly presided in turns at the piano, and Mr Arthur E. Saunders as M.C., contributed very largely to the enjoyment of the evening. Refreshments were supplied by Mr Cecil Dean, Swavesey and during the evening the Vicar was present for a short time.

“PEEPING TOMMIES” 24th April 1908

During and after the dance at the School on Monday evening some annoyance was caused by mischievous and inquisitive youths, who prowled around the building and playfully opened windows, extinguished the lights in the ladies cloak-room, and played pranks on the clothing. One band of “Peeping Tommies” in their anxiety to see what was going on, removed two chairs and a stool from the Infants School to the play yard, where they were found next morning, and used them to stand upon so as to get a better view. This is not the first occasion on which there has been reason to complain of the conduct of anxious inquirers and troublesome lads outside the school whilst a meeting or gathering has been in progress inside

MRS THODAY'S FUNERAL 24th April 1908

The funeral of the late Mrs Lucy Thoday, whose death in her 80th year was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. E. Short, paster of Swavesey Particular Chapel, officiating. The morners were Mr W. Thoday, (son,) Mrs Stagner, (daughter,) Mr Herbert Williams, Mrs George Day, Mr & Mrs James Williams,(brothers & sister) Mrs Herbert Williams,(sister-in-law) Mr James William, Mr & Mrs Alfred Day, Mr Jabez Day, Miss Emma Day, & Miss P. Williams, (nephews & nieces) Mrs John Williams, Mrs J Mortlock, Mrs Thompson Mortlock, and Mrs Netherwood. At the Particular Baptist Chapel on Sunday evening, the Rev. E. Short preached an appropriate sermon.

PARISH MEETING. 24th April 1908

The annual Parish Meeting was held in the National Schoolroom on Thursday, 9th instant, the Rev A.C. Vidler presiding. The year's accounts of the Parish Council, the overseer's and Galon's charity, were submitted, but there was no other business of public interest. The attendance was poor.

LICENSING BILL. 24th April 1908.

The petition to Parliament against the Licensing Bill is being extensively signed in the village.

HALE ALLOTMENTS. 24th April 1908.

The plots have now been remeasured and marked out with new stumps.

SMALL HOLDINGS. 24th April 1908

A County Council enquiry under the Small Holding Act 1907 for the parishes of Boxworth, Conington, Fendrayton, Lolworth and Swavesey is announced to be held in Swavesey National School on Monday evening, 20th inst. by Councillors H.G. Few, W.H. Francis and V.J. Webber.

DEATH OF MRS W. PERRY. 24th April 1908.

On Thursday, 9th instant, the villagers were greatly shocked by the sad and unexpected news that Mrs Harriett Perry, wife of Mr William Perry, who has for twenty-six years been the highly respected stationmaster at Swavesey, had died. For several years she had been in indifferent health, and recently it was decided that a operation was necessary. She accordingly entered Huntingdon Hospital as a paying patient. and a week later on the 7th April, the operation was performed. She passed away two days after, between 10 and 11 a.m.

Mrs Perry was the daughter of the late Mr Harry Chapman, farmer of Alconbury Weston, Hunts, and was 49 years of age. The funeral took place at St Andrew's Swavesey, on Tuesday in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and sympathising friends from Swavesey, Over, elsewhere. The Vicar officiated and the service was fully choral, the hymns "Brief life is here our portion" and "Let saints on earth in concert sing" being sung. The mourners were:- The husband, two sons, and daughter, and twenty others members of the family. Before and after the burial a dump peal was rung on the Church bells, and after the mourners had returned to the station house the bells were uncovered and rung open. The numerous wreaths, some of which covered the coffin, and some were carried by mourners, were particularly beautiful. Mr Perry desires to tender his sincere thanks to his many friends and to the public generally for their very kind and greatly appreciated expressions of sympathy with him and his children in their irreparable loss.

POLICE CHANGES. 24th April 1908

Police-constable A. Hiner, who has been responsible for the good behaviour of Swavesey for the past four years, was on Wednesday transferred to Shelford. He is succeeded By P.c. Gray from Chippenham. The constable in the "Pirates of Penzance" declares in the famous song, "A policeman's lot is not a happy one" but P.c. Hiner's friends in Swavesey, when bidding him farewell, expressed the hope that his life and experiences at Shelford would be as happy and successful as they had been in Swavesey as if so he would not have much to complain of. As Shelford is not unknown as a stepping stone to higher things it is not impossible that congratulations may here long succeed the good wishes.

MR WINSTON CHURCHILL. 1st May 1908

The result of the polling at North- West Manchester was posted in several places in the village early on Saturday morning by the officials of the Swavesey Conservative Association, in accordance with their usual practice. A Few flags were also displayed. It is needless to say that news gave the greatest satisfaction – to Conservatives at any rate. Naturally, however, some Radicals ascribed Mr Winston Churchill's failure to retain the confidence of the electors of the cotton city to the baneful influence of beer.

WEDDING. 1st May 1908

At Christ Church Cambridge, on Wednesday 22nd April Mr William Metcalf Hodson, eldest son of Mr John Hodson of Swavesey, was married to Miss Minnie Smith, now residing at 5. Cam Terrace, Cambridge. The Rev, C. Hodson, curate, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr James Smith, of Peterborough, was attired in a cream dress with bridal fall and a wreath of orange blossom. Miss May Smith, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a cream dress with hat to match, trimmed with pink roses. Both bride and bridesmaid carried bouquets of lilies of the valley, the gifts of the bridegroom. Mr Walter E. Hodson, brother of the bridegroom, carried out the duties of best man. The presents were numerous and useful.

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT.

THE FLOODS. 1st May 1908.

As a result of last week's snowstorm and subsequent heavy rains much of the fen land about Swavesey is already under water. Mow Fen is entirely flooded, it having been impracticable, owing to the sudden and unexpected rise of water, to replace in time two fobs which had been removed for repairs. Mere Fen is also assuming the appearance of a lake, but there is not much water in Middle Fen, the recently repaired Scratch, or Cradge, Bank doing its duty well. Mr Thurbon's osier beds are deeply immersed, and work in them has had to be suspended. At the time of writing (Thursday morning) the water is still raising rapidly, rain is falling heavily, and old inhabitants fear a big flood. The outlook is serious.

WEDDING. 1st May 1908

On Wednesday afternoon, Edward Joseph, only son of Mr Joseph Linford of High Street, Swavesey, and late of Lolworth, was married at Swavesey Parish Church to Rose Hannah, second daughter of Mr John Hodson, of Swavesey, the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a dress of cream fancy delaine, with a hat to match, and was attended by two bridesmaids – Miss C. Hodson (sister) and Miss Linford, (bridegroom's sister) who were dressed in grey with cream-coloured hats. MR Bert Hodson, (bride's brother) acted as best man. After the ceremony and during the evening the bells were rung in honour of the event. The happy have been the recipients of numerous useful and ornamental.

A SUGGESTION. 1st May 1908

A correspondent asks us to call attention to the unsatisfactory system adopted in distributing the food at the "Old Folks Tea" recently held at Bethel Chapel. It is, however, hardly a matter that can with advantage be discussed in these columns, but perhaps those responsible for this excellent annual feast for the aged will consider whether their arrangements are susceptible of improvement.

THE FLOODS. 8th May 1908.

The floods in around Swavesey have been most serious, and unfortunately, but little improvement in the situation is to be reported. As announced in last weeks "Express" the water rose with great rapidity during Thursday night, and on Friday morning there was every prospect of a record flood. During Thursday night the Great Eastern Railway line was submerged to a depth of two or three inches. The local permanent way staff were augmented by men from Cambridge under an Inspector. Ballast brought up by truck load was thrown along side of the tracks, and everything possible was done to keep the line safe and open. During Friday night, however, a culvert near Fendrayton crossing partially gave way, and traffic had for a time to be run on one line, the Swavesey Stationmaster, Mr W.Perry, piloting the trains.

Early Saturday morning found the roadway by the Swan Pond completely blocked, and temporary bridges had to be placed over the openings on the "stones" for pedestrians. Water rushed across the High Road at the bottom of Over Hill. Wallman's Lane was partially flooded and the water approached to within a few inches of the cottages at Turn Bridge. Hog Pasture was clear of water at 7.30 p.m. on Thursday; by 1.30 p.m. there was two feet of water. The railway gate houses had to be vacated on Thursday night, and so had Friezland Farm. At 3 a.m. on Friday the water had not reached the farmhouse, but by 7am it was knee deep in the rooms. Mr Mitham and his men were busy all night removing corn and stock. The gardens in "Tebbits" and the back of the houses by the Swan Pond have been covered, and in many instances replanting will be necessary. Farmer and others were busily engaged on Friday morning rescuing stock. Several incidents may be recorded. On Thursday evening three venturesome spirits, Messrs W. Mustill, P. Godfrey and L.Parish, so out to inspect the overflow from the river. They reached the bank in safety, but returning a few minutes later their line of retreat was cut off and they had towade through water up to their knees. Our Swavesey correspondent informs us on the eve of going to press that the G.E.R. line between Swavesey and St Ives is 3 inches under water, having risen exceptionally rapidly since yesterday, and there is every prospect of a "captain flood".

P.S.A. 8th May 1908

O Sunday last the closing P.S.A. meeting of the season was held in Bethel Baptist Chapel, and was well attended. Mr Bignall of the Pastors' College, presided. Mr Clee delivered an address, and Mr A. Insley sung, "The Lost Chord" and "Sailor's Dream." Mr G. Linsey (cornet) and Mr W. Tuck, (euphonium) played, "When I survey the Wondrous Cross". Mr J.W. Williams presided at the harmonium. The meeting during the winter have been thoroughly appreciated, and much of their success has been due to the untiring efforts of Mr H. Starte.

BONNIE DUNDEE. 8th May 1908

Our Radical friends have managed to squeeze out a smile at last, but they seem to be content with small mercies. On Sunday morning their faces beamed with satisfaction, as, on w3ending their way to Chapel, they read the noptice giving the result of the Dundee election, kindly provided for their special benefit by the Swavesey Conservative Asscciation. The trifling fact that "Dear Winston" had succeeded in reducing the Radical majority of 5,411 at the last election by 2,197 votes did not appear to militate against their satisfaction.

DISSATISFIED RATPAYERS. 8th May. 1908

Complaints have reached the "Cambridge Express" from certain substantial ratepayers of Swavesey, respecting the – in their opinion – extravagant way in which a portion of the footpath in Middle Watch has been made up by the County Council. It is stated that somewhat pointed remarks are also being made on the subject by others than the complainants.

POLITICAL NOTES. 8th May 1908

When the "Morning Leader" arrived in the village last Friday morning with particulars of the Budget, certain ardent Radicals went wild with joy. They enquired of elderly persons their ages, and assured them that on the 1st January next they would be in receipt of old age pensions, the gift of the beneficent Radical Government. Should their proposal miscarry, there will it is to be feared, be much disappointment. Housewives are anxiously looking out for cheaper sugar. There are, however, sceptical people, who, casting their eyes towards a tall chimney near Cambridge, remark that the small consumer may look, but will not find.

THE FLOODS 8th May 1908.

Indignation at the neglect of the banks, which have contributed very largely to the disastrous floods in the parishes of Swavesey and Fendrayton, is steadily growing, and it is understood that a parish meeting at Swavesey will be called immediately to enable the ratepayers to give expression to their indignation, and to concert measures to remedy the evil. The main banks, which are under the control of Swavesey Rural District Council, have, in places, proved utterly useless. It is held that if the District Council has not the power to deal with a particular section of the bank the necessary authority should be obtained at once, and the people of Swavesey are determined that if they cannot induce the District Council to do its duty, they will appeal to a higher power. For years past the banks and drains have been neglected. Boxworth, Conington, and Lolworth are not affected by floods, but their surplus water flows into Swavesey low lands and at times, floods them, yet these parishes object to pay their quota towards the upkeep of the Swavesey and Fendrayton defensive works. At Over, the remaining parish in the District, is well protected, and representatives of Swavesey and Fendrayton therefore stand alone, and form a minority of those on the Council. The matter was thoroughly discussed during the contested District Council elections last year, and very strong opinions were expressed. The high road near Over Bridge was originally protected by a bank which has been lowered at different times until now it has vanished altogether. It is understood that steps are being taken with a view to the construction of the bank. The high road would then be free from danger of being flooded

OLD FOLKS TEA. 8th May 1908.

On Thursday, 30th ultimo, about sixty old folk, irrespective of sect, responded to the invitation sent out by the Deacons of Bethel Chapel. Trays were presided over by Mrs T. Prior, Mrs Rocliff, Mrs Godfrey, Miss Starte, Miss Wimpres, Miss Smith, and Miss Brand. After tea a meeting followed, presided over by Mr A. Norman. Addresses, solos, recitations, etc. were contributed by various friends, including Mrs Aldred, Mrs Rocliff, the Misses Starte, M. Godfrey, C. Goad, F. Causer, and Alice Norman. the chairman Messrs J. Day, H. Starte, W. Wright, and H.S. Aldred. Parcels of food, etc. were sent to those aged persons who were too feeble to be present.

WAR ON WASPS. 15th May 1908

Mr H.S. Aldred and Mr A.T. Scard are receiving subscription towards a fund to reward the destroyers of queen wasps. Through the agency of the fund about 120 queen wasps were bought last year, which meant 120 nest and many thousands of wasps less. All interested in fruit growing, whether on a large or small scale, should give the fund their hearty support.

A NOVEL CHIMNEY POT. 15th May 1908

A chimney at Boxworth End would not do its duty in the way of carrying away the smoke, and the householder and his family were sadly incommoded. The idea occurred to one of them that if the chimney were lengthened the evil might be remedied. But the question arose, how was this to be done? At last a happy thought came. A large milk can, such as those in which milk is sent by railway, but minus its bottom, lay handy, and the enterprising householder hoisted it on to the chimney top. It makes an excellent, if somewhat unusual chimney pot, the smoke nuisance has abated and passers by smile.

CHORAL FESTIVAL. 21st May. 1908

A choral festival will be held in St Andrew's Church, Swavesey at 7 p.m. on Thursday Next, May 28th (Ascension Day) in which the united choirs of Fendrayton, Oaklington, Over, Swavesey, and Willingham will take part. The preacher will be the Rev. C.H. Crossley, M.A. rector of Willingham

CRICKET CLUB. 21st May 1908

Notwithstanding the fact that the post on Saturday morning brought a letter from Cambridge Post Office Cricket Club, reminding the Swavesey Club of the match on Parker's Piece during the afternoon, the country eleven, on arriving on the ground, found no pitch had been secured. The match, therefore, could not be played. Not only were the Swavesey men greatly disappointed, but most of them were out of pocket through having "to take the day off". Failures like this are calculated to give a club a bad name. Had a telegram been sent during the morning, much of the inconvenience and unnecessary expense might have been avoided.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 22nd May 1908

Anniversary Services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Tuesday, the 19th instant, and both in the afternoon and in the evening were very well attended, many people coming from neighbouring villages. The Rev A. Palmer, of London, preached at both services. Between the religious functions there was a public tea, which attracted a crowded gathering.

PARISH MEETING AND THE FLOODS. 22nd May 1908

On the requisition off several ratepayers a Parish Meeting has been called for 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening next, the 26th instant, to consider the condition of the river banks,, etc, in the parishes of Swavesey and Fendrayton. It is most important that all ratepayers, whether they are directly interested or not in the recent floods, should be present at the meeting which is to be held in the National School.

EMPIRE DAY. 22nd May 1908

On Sunday the Union Jack sailed proudly above the Church tower, and after Evensong the National Anthem was sung. On Monday the school children celebrated the day. At 10 a.m. the headmaster, Mr H. Beaumont gave a lesson on the British Empire and the objects of Empire Day. An interval for play followed, after which the youngsters again assembled in school, outside which the Union Jack was flying, and the Vicar, who is chairman of the Managers, took command. Bunches of daisies picked during the interval, were presented to the Vicar and headmaster. The Vicar briefly addressed the youthful gathering, basing his remarks on the watchwords "Responsibility, Duty, Sympathy and Self sacrifice". The Children sang "O God our help in ages past", the song "The Flag of Britain" (a Union Jack, held by the chief boy, Robert Norman, being saluted at each verse) and lastly the National Anthem. Three cheers were given with great gusto for the King; sweets were distributed, cheers for the Vicar and teachers followed, and then the children ran off to enjoy themselves for the rest of the day, having been granted a half holiday. The infants had a celebration in their own school, the Vicar and Miss Pook, (mistress) superintendent. Flags were displayed on Sunday and Monday by several residents.

SALE OF WORK. 22nd May 1908

During the afternoon and evening of Thursday next a sale of work will be held in the Vicarage grounds in aid of Pan-Anglican thanksgiving offering. There will be a refreshment stall, and children will be dressed in costumes of British dependencies and of other nations and small groups will be arranged as tableaux illustrating incidents of Indian life. The charge for admission will be small viz, 2d. The thanksgiving offering is one which should have the heartiest support of every Churchman and Churchwoman.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd May 1908

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday week, and was attended by Rev, A.C. Vidler, (chairman) Councillors J.T Daintree, J. Gilby, G. Metcalfe, William Thorp, E.J. Warboys, and J. Well, and Mr Robinson Mitham, (clerk). The main business was consideration of an application to hire a portion of the parish property in the High Street. After considerable discussion the matter was left in the hand of the Chairman for further enquiry, etc.

THE FEAST. 22nd May 1908.

Swavesey feast began on Sunday, and from that day until after Wednesday the village will be held by invading hosts of show people and visitors. Spring cleaning, women's grand chance, of which they never fail to avail themselves, of retaliating on men for wrongs inflicted at other periods of the year, has been in full swing for the last few weeks, and tomorrow, the village will be spick and span. The Swavesey cricket club have arranged two matches, viz. :- Against Lolworth on Monday and Elsworth on Tuesday (all day). On Wednesday also cricket will be played, but the opposing XI has not been announced.

PROTECTION AGAINST THE FLOODS. 22nd May 1908

The ratepayers of Swavesey met in solemn conclave on Tuesday evening at the National School, the occasion being an important parish meeting, convened at the urgent request of several parishioners to consider the conditions of the river bank, and to concert measures to prevent flooding. The proceedings were marked by great unanimity. The Rev. A.C. Vidler, chairman of the Parish Council, presided, and between forty & fifty ratepayers were present. Messrs Baldwick and Scambler, of Fendrayton were also present. The Chairman read correspondence which has passed between himself and Mr G.D. Day (clerk of the Swavesey Rural District Council) respecting that portion of the river bank in the Parish of Fendrayton, the carrying away of which, during the recent flood, was responsible for such serious damage, and it appeared that although the Council did not admit liability, they would take over the section of the bank in question, provided it was properly repaired. After considerable discussion in which Messrs A. Day, Scambler, William Thorp, Ebenezer Parish J.P., Baldwick. and others took part it was resolved that the bank be repaired. A committee of four, two from Swavesey & two from Fendrayton were appointed to carry out the work. Mr A. Day and other Swavesey farmers promised to do their share of providing labour, carts, etc. to carry out the work. Mr Baldwick undertook that he and other Fendrayton farmers would assist in like manner. Mr Scambler, on whose land the defective bank is situated, agreed to point out where gault could be obtained. Mr Day called attention to the removal of a bank by the County Council, that protected the main road between Swavesey station and Over bridge, in order to make a footpath. He suggested that the Council should be written to by the Chairman, requesting that the path should be raised so as to form a bank.

VERY UNFORTUNATE 29th May 1908

Two men and a woman were observed drawing a caravan along the Huntingdon Road on Wednesday afternoon. They had had the misfortune to lose their horse by death at Huntingdon.

EARLY HAYMAKING. 29th May. 1908

Mr S.W. Crisp has cut the grass in a close near his house in Market Street. Haymaking is in full progress, and the hay will be stacked during the month of May. The crop is heavy and excellent.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL AT SWAVESEY. 29th May 1908

Under the auspices of Ely Diocesan Council of Church Music, special choral festival in which choirs from Over, Swavesey, Willingham, Conington and Fendrayton combined, was successfully held last evening, Ascension Day, in the large and beautiful Parish Church of Swavesey.

CRICKET MATCH. 29th May 1908

St Ives Arthurians V Swavesey. This match was played at St Ives on Saturday last, and resulted in a win for Swavesey by an innings and 49 runs.

Scores:- Swavesey, 87 runs. St Ives, 9 runs & 29 runs.

CARRIER'S CART UPSET. 29th May 1908

Exciting Scenes near Cambridge. – Several Persons Injured.

A serious accident happened on Saturday morning on the Huntingdon Road to Mr Samuel Hephher's carrier's cart on its journey from Swavesey to Cambridge. The cart, which is covered with a tilt, was, as usual, heavily laden with passengers, goods, boxes, etc. and an exceptionally large quantity of eggs. It was jogging steadily along the high road, and when passing Lolworth Spring, a small wood on the Huntingdon side of the King William IV. public house, two partridges flew from the side of the road in front of the mare, which shield to the left. On the front of the cart were seated Mrs S Hephher and Mr Hephher, driving, and Mr James Coulson. The shying of the horse threw Mrs Hephher, who was sitting on a box, to the ground, and the cart wheel went over her body. The cart tipped up and fell on its left side, carrying the mare with it. Mr Hephher slipped between the shafts and the animal's hind-quarters and was pinned there in a position of great danger. Mr Coulson fell beneath the cart. Mr Sidney Prime, a Swavesey Hay Dealer, was sitting behind Mrs Hepher, partly jumped and was partly thrown from the vehicle and landed shaken, but otherwise unhurt, some three yards away. The rest of the passengers were struggling in a confused heap inside the tilt, mixed up with parcels and eggs. Mr Prime rushed to the horse's head and displayed throughout the utmost coolness and resource. Mrs Hepher, despite her injuries, went to her husband's assistance, but in her excitement got amongst the horse's legs. She and Mr Prime succeeded in pulling Mr Hepher out of danger. Mr Hepher, though hurt, then held the horse and Mr Prime raised the cart sufficiently to extricate Mr Coulson. The other passengers, all women & children, were got out through the back of the cart their faces, hands and clothing were smothered with blood and broken eggs. Mrs Rowcliffe was in a fainting condition, and it was feared that her face was badly injured, but later it was found that the blood come from Mrs Howlett, whose lip had been seriously cut and her teeth knocked out. Two ladies proceeding from Cambridge in a small motor-car, seeing the smash, summoned assistance from the King William IV., and Mr Vinsen (the landlord) hurried up. The ladies rendered yeoman service. One of them took Mr Coulson, who has for some time been a crippled with an injured leg, and who was then unconscious) to Addenbrooke's Hospital, while the other remained behind and attended to the injured. Mr E.H. Thornhill J.P. Mr E. Parish, J.P. Mr Vinsen, Mr Harry Wells, the other Swavesey Carrier, Mr George Metcalfe, Mr Ashmore and Mr Saunders who was working close by, helped to release the hors and gave assistance generally. The cart was righted and the goods replaced as far as possible. Mr Prime drove those most injured to the King William IV., where the lady of the motor car and Mr Vinsen, and family cleansed and otherwise attended to their wounds. The tilt of the cart smashed and was left in a field, but the cart itself only sustained minor damage. Mr Wells took on most of the passengers, and Mr Prime drove Mr & Mrs Hepher and Mrs Poulter to Addenbrooke's Hospital. Mr Hepher was not allowed to leave until evening, but the others were kept shorter periods, and all remain out-patients. Mr Coulson badly hurt his hand by tearing it with a hook. It is satisfactory to report that all the injured are doing well. The identity of the ladies of the motor-car, in the excitement of the moment, was not ascertained are being made to find them in order that the thanks of Swavesey may be conveyed to them. It is held on all hands that had not Mr Sidney Prime acted with such coolness, promptitude, and excellent judgement, the accident would undoubtedly have had far more serious consequences. Mr Prime proved a Good Samaritan entirely, and devoted himself for the whole day to the service of Mr Hepher and his customers.

THE FEAST, 5th June. 1908

Swavesey Annual Feast – once no doubt a religious, but now mainly secular function has come & gone. With one exception no special incidents have to be recorded, though the shows and stalls, etc. were more numerous than they have been of late years, and visitors have been many. The trade has been far from brisk. On Sunday the services at the Parish Church were of a festal character, the Primitive Methodists, reinforced by friends from other villages sang vigorously in procession through the streets in the afternoon and evening - prior to a meeting on the Recreation Ground. After nightfall other friends held a largely attended open air service in Market Street. Early on Monday morning, Thurston's roundabout of motor cars, pursued by wild ostriches were erected, and other shows and stalls for the sale of toys, sweets etc. sprang up. The local British Women's Temperance Association for the second year had a tent for the sale of light refreshment, temperance drinks, tea, coffee, etc. and did good business. Cricket matches have been played. On Monday the home club suffered defeat at the hands of Lolworth, who won by 22 runs, but on Tuesday a more representative XI achieved a victory over Elsworth by ten wickets. On Tuesday the Over boys played Swavesey boys on the Recreation Ground and defeated them. There was an un-rehearsed spectacle in Market Street during the early hours of Wednesday morning, when Messrs Thurston's engine and wagons left the feast ground. Other vans had to be moved to make way, and slumberers were roused. In turning into High Street the corner of Mr Scard's premises narrowly escaped being carried away by the engine. A Van knocked down and damaged Mr Nightingale's stall. Middle-aged ladies, stockingless and scantily attired in short petticoats, were seen rushing wildly about the streets. There were, however no impertinent snap-shotters present.

CARRIER'S CART. 5th June 1908

It has been ascertained that the lady who so kindly and so ably attended to the injuries of the victims of the recent carrier's cart accident was Mrs Pond. of Catch Hall, Huntingdon Road, and that the lady who conveyed Mr Coulson to Addenbrooke's Hospital in the motor- car was a visitor from London.

THE RIVER BANK. 5th June 1908

A parish meeting under the presidency of Mr G.A. Thoday was held at Fendrayton on Friday evening in connection with the repair of the river bank. In conjunction with some Swavesey representatives final arrangements were made for the work. Operations began on Monday.

LATE FLOODS, 12th June 1908

The small bridge on the Great Eastern Railway near Fendrayton gate, which was “blown” during the recent floods, is being thoroughly repaired and partially re-built. The breach in the river bank in Fendrayton parish opposite Holywell has also been repaired, but there are still weak places in the bank which require attention.

Y. M.C.A. V Swavesey. 12th June 1908

This cricket match played at Parker’s Piece on Saturday, 6th June and resulted in a victory for the countrymen by 99 runs to 86. Scard batted well for the winners.

PARISH COUNCIL 19th June, 1908

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday 11th inst., the Rev Vidler (chairman). Messrs W.H. Key (vice-chairman) G. Metcalfe, m William Thorp, E.J. Warboys, J. Wells, and Robinson Mitham (clerk) being present. The Council unanimously agreed that a portion of the parish property in the High Street should be let to Mr William Hepher, butcher for a term of seven years. It is understood that Mr Hepher proposes to transfer his butcher’s shop to the premises, his present shop having been sold. Mr Hepher is to be responsible for all repairs, rates, etc. The other business was not of public interest.

LOST A PARROT 19th June 1908

On Saturday morning a parrot belonging to Mr John Gilby got loose, and down to the time of writing has defied all efforts to recapture it. The bird remained near the village during Saturday, but on Sunday it migrated to Over, and on Wednesday morning was nearly secured near Overcote Ferry. A reward will be paid for its safe return. The bird is an old favourite, having been for many years in the family of Mrs John Gilby.

LOLWORTH V SWAVESEY. 19th June 1908

This match was played at Lolworth on Monday, and resulted in a win for Swavesey by 6wickets and three runs.

CRICKET MATCH. 19th June 1908

Th Swavesey Cricket Club have been doing better this year. Eight matches have been played, five won, and three lost. One match, viz., that against Cambridge Post Office Club, was scratched. The bats presented by the Hon. E.S. Montagu. M.P. and Mr R.E. Bartley respectively are been keenly contested for. W. Goad, who is developing into a most reliable bat, heads the batting averages at present. S.J. Froment and A.T. Scard have been bowling well. The fielding of the team, although open to improvement, has been smarter this season.

THE MISSING PARROT. 26th June 1908

The parrot belonging to Mr John Gilby, whose escape was announced last week, has been recovered. Mr & Mrs Gilby had been away from home, and on their return on Saturday last were told at Cambridge Station by a gentlemen residing in Over that he had seen the bird on Over Bare Fen, On Sunday Mr & Mrs Gilby went in search of the wanderer, and very soon found her, and she flew round them again and again, but although she took food they threw to her would not come near enough to allow them to get hold of her. At last Mr & Mrs Gilby removed their hats, thinking she would know them better without their head gear. and the former lay down on the grass and called to her to come and kiss him. She did so, and he fed her with pieces of biscuit. She was then seized by Mrs Gilby. The bird, beyond being half starved, appeared none the worse for her nine days of freedom.

PUNCTUAL CHILDREN. 26th June 1908

Medals and bars awarded by the Sducation Committee of the County Council for punctual attendance were presnted to the undermentioned children at Swavesey National School yesterday(Thursday) morning. Jack Mustil, Richard Culpin, and Jane Brooks received medals, and John Parish and Ada Howlett a bar for two year's good attendance, and Clara Thorp and Arthur Beaumonta bar for four year's good attendance. The presentation was made by the Rev. A.C. Vidler, chairman of the Board of Managers, who addressed the children on the importance of punctually and the cultivation of good habits. Mr H.S. Aldred also spoke to the children and appealed to them to win the Shield. Mr Walter Thorp(technical instructor) was present. A half holiday was granted in honour of the occasion.

SWAVESEY FETE. 10th July 1908

Some curiosity is evinced in the surrounding villages as to whether the garden fete, which was held at Swavesey last year, is to become an annual affair. All who were present remember how successful the function was, and wishes for its repetition have been freely expressed,

MERE FEN, SWAVESEY. 10th July 1908.

Some of our readers have, doubtless, spent many a happy hour during the skating season, on Mere Fen, and they may be interested to know that this piece of land, consisting of some forty acres, will be offered for sale on Saturday the 18th inst., at the Lion Hotel, Cambridge. It forms part of the Manor Farm, Swavesey, which with other property Messrs. Bidwell and Sons will bring under the hammer.

SWAVESEY MANOR HOUSE, 10th July 1908.

This old and interesting building - its acts as a farm house, - is also included in the above mentioned sale. The catalogue specially calls attention to the very ancient and beautifully carved staircase, and also old oak doors and panelling and mantelpieces in various rooms. So valuable are these latter that, according to the conditions of the sale. the purchaser is required to pay £500 for them in addition to the sum paid for the property, but he can, if he wishes require the vendor to remove them in which case, of course, there will be no £500 to hand over. It is to be hoped that the new owner of Swavesey Manor house, whoever he may be will see his way to retain the oak work where it has been for so long a time.

SWAVESEY FETE 17th July 1908

The dwellers around Swavesey are doomed to disappointment, for our Swavesey correspondent inform us, in referring to the paragraph in this column last week, that there is no probability of a garden fete being held in the Vicarage grounds this year. The fetes have, he says, usually been an ornamental and an attractive adjunct to those more solid and more remunerative jumble sales and sales of work, and there was a sale of work at the beginning of last meeting. He adds that it is very gratifying to Swavesey people to know that their entertainments are so much appreciated by persons in surrounding villages, but he suggest that on the occasion of the next fete and sale their appreciation should take the more solid form of a keener interest in the business and money producing part of the proceedings. A crowd of dancers is an inspiring sight, but a crowd of purchasers at stalls is still more gratifying and consoling to the organisers, and more beneficial to the object for which the function that the Swavesey fetes and sales of work, etc., are got up with the object of raising money, and not merely for healthy amusement. The small charge the admission produces comparatively little – rarely sufficient to pay the band, to the strains of which the more energetic dance so gracefully.

MAKING THINGS LEVEL. 17th July 1908

A cart laden with grass for ensilage came to grief the other day near Market Street, through one of the wheel collapsing. One of the men with it suggested that the other wheel should be taken off, so that the cart could run level.

JUVENILE CRICKET. 17th July 1908

A team of small schoolboys from Over visited Swavesey on Saturday and played a team of equally diminutive Swavesey schoolboys. The visitors did not turn up in full strength, but made their numbers up to ten by taking in Swavesey volunteers. Seven doughty champions defended the honour of Swavesey, and by a dint of hard hitting managed knock up the respectable score of 91, which included 30 extras, viz., 14 byes and 16 wides. The Over small men failed miserably when they went in to bat, for they scored six only. archie Welch's bowling was too much for them. He collared seven wickets and was top scorer, 21 runs.

PARISH CHURCH. 17th July 1908

The Vicar being away on his holidays, the morning and evening services at the parish church on Sunday last was taken by the Rev. C.J.N. Child, M.A. headmaster of the Cambridge and County School.

WASPS. 17th July 1908

Mrssrs. H.S.Aldred and A.T. Scard, who are engineering the war on wasps, in Swavesey, have received this year 120 queens, some of which have in quite lively state, thus affording proof that they were 1908 queens.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 17th July 1908

The anniversary services in connection with Betel Sunday School wer held at the Chapel on Sunday last. The Rev. Ussher, of Oakham, who until July 1906, was pastor at the Chapel for two and a half years, preached at the morning and evening services. In the afternoon there was a flower service, which was well attended. Many bunches bore very appropriate texts. Three crates full of flowers were sent the following day to St Ives Infirmary. The collections throughout the day were in aid of the Sunday School fund and were good.

At the Flower service the soloists were:- Connie Goad and Alice Norman, and the reciters were Carrie Crisp, Grace Holmes, Nellie Prior, Dolly Prior, Ida Spearman, and Aggie Savage. Mr James Williams, junior, efficiently presided at the organ. The general arrangements were in the capable hands of Mr H.S. Aldred, Sunday School Superintendent.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 17th July 1908

The boys attending the National School have formed a cricket club, and have elected Charles Howlett captain and Charles Hephher secretary. Mr Henry Beaumont, school master, has consented to be treasurer. As the boys cannot from their own small subscription raise sufficient money to provide bats and other cricket necessities, they are asking help their friends and the general public. It is hope that all persons who appreciate the importance of healthy games for growing boys will assist. The smallest sums will be thankfully received, and the Treasurer will see that the funds are properly applied.

LIBERAL WOMEN'S OUTING. 17th July 1908

Members of the Swavesey Women's Liberal Association have had another treat at an extremely small cost. On Tuesday they spent an enjoyable day, the weather being fine, by the briny ocean at Yarmouth. Sea bathing attracted some, and doubles nigger minstrels others, but it is not known whether there was an open air demonstration with speeches by a cabinet Minister and Mr Montagu.

SCHOOL BOYS IN SMOKING CARRIAGES. 17th July 1908

Nearly two years ago attention was called in this column to the presence of boys, attending the County School, in smoking carriages attached to trains between Cambridge and St Ives, and it was then asked why these lads were allowed to monopolise such compartments, to the exclusion of men anxious to smoke. A correspondent tells us that on one afternoon last week he searched from end to end of the 4.06 p.m. train and could find only one smoking carriage free of schoolboys. (this report attracted several replies)

DEATH OF MR WIMPRESS 24th July 1908

We regret to announce the death of Mr William Pauley Wimpress, which occur at his residence at Church End, Swavesey, during the early hours of Wednesday morning, after an illness of only a few days duration. Mr Wimpress was born 72years ago in the neighbouring village of Fendrayton. For some thirty four years he was employed as a cooper at the London docks, attaining to the responsible position of foreman. Onh his retirement, with a well earned pension, six years ago, he came to reside in Swavesey, having purchased the house owned and occupied until her death, by Mr Pauley, widow of the late Mr William Pauley. Mr Wimpress was highly respected in the village. He took a keen interest in many local matters and was a member of the Parish Council, where his shrewd common sense was of great assistance. He was a very prominent member ot Bethel Baptist Chapel.

“LAUS DEO” . 24th July 1908

On Tuesday “ the windows of heaven were stopped, and the rain from heaven was restrained.” The sun shone brightly, and with thankful hearts men and women went about their daily labour in the hay fields and fruit gardens.

RIVER BANK. 24th July 1908

During the recent heavy and continuous rains many people’s thoughts were turned to the condition of the river bank, repaired to which were ordered, so it is generally understood, by the Rural District Council some time ago. These repairs have not yet been attended to. A report has also been current that certain large and important doors near the river, which are supposed to work automatically, would not close.

CRICKET. 24th July 1908

The match between Swavesey and the Cambridge Post Office C.C. was not played on the 16th inst. The Swavesey team were in attendance and waited with exemplary patience but the visitors did not put in an appearance, and in the absence of any communication from them it can only be assumed that the rain kept them away. When the country XI went to Cambridge in May last to play the men of letters, they found on arriving on Parker’s Piece, that no pitch had been secured. No game, therefore was possible. The country men were put to considerable expense all for nothing, through the neglect of the Post Office Club officials. The question naturally arises, whether the Post Office Club deliberately were absent on the 16th. It has leaked out that their cricketing impediments were to have been sent beforehand. They did not reach Swavesey.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 31st July 1908

The members of the National School Cricket Club desire to thank the ladies and gentlemen who so generously subscribed to funds to provide new bats, etc. Excellent tools have been purchased, and the boys are practising assiduously. To put the Club on a sound financial footing subscriptions are needed.

SCHOOL TREAT. 31st July 1908

The children attending the Sunday School attached to the Parish Church had their annual treat on Tuesday in the Vicarage grounds, The weather was all that could be desired and children had a very happy time.

A LONG WALK. 7th August 1908

Mr William White, a Leicester resident, desired to spend his Bank Holiday in Swavesey, but scorned the idea of travelling by railway. Being fond of long walks, he determined to do the journey on “Shank’s pony”. On Sunday last he left Leicester shortly before 5 a.m. and arrived in Swavesey at 8.30 p.m. in excellent condition, notwithstanding his long and solitary walk of 62 miles. He received a warm welcome from his friends, and the next day was walking about as “fresh as a daisy”.

CONSERVATISM MUCH ALIVE. 7th August 1908

On Friday last the main road through Swavesey presented the appearance of the road to Epsom on Derby Day, when at mid-day contingents from Over and Willingham passed through on the way to a garden party at Croxton Park, given by Mr Douglas Newton to members of the conservative committees in West Cambs. The Willingham crowd – they were a crowd too – were in a charabanc drawn by four excellent horses, Over came along in a heavily laden brake, their secretary having to be content with a dusty seat on the back step. Swavesey joined in with two brakes full of enthusiastic Unionist, the horses heads decked with pink and white ribbons. In addition to what may be called the officials conveyances there were numerous traps, buggies and the like, and a few bicycles. As the Willingham four-in-hand went by an onlooker was heard to say, “What! Do all those people come from Willingham ? I thought there were no Conservatives there”.

WEDDING. 7th August 1908

On Tuesday last Mr Jabez Day, farmer and butcher, Wallman’s Lane, Swavesey, youngest son of the late Mr George Day, was married at Betel Baptist Chapel, to Miss Florence Williams, youngest daughter of Mr James Williams, wheelwright, Swavesey, The Rev. H.T.N. Ussher, of Oakham, officiated. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by two bridesmaids, the Misses Bessie and Rachel, nieces of the bridegroom. Mr Sidney Williams, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The chapel was very nicely decorated for the occasion with flowers, plants, ferns, etc. The happy couple received numerous presents.

HOLIDAY INCIDENTS. 14th August 1908

Two young gentlemen from London, who had been spending a short holiday in the village, met with a disappointment the other day. Their birthday fell within the period of their visit and they determined to celebrate the auspicious events. One provided cigars of an exceptionally fine brand, and the other decided to invest in a bottle of port wine. The young gentlemen journeyed to St Ives one fine afternoon and purchased a bottle of wine. Meeting an acquaintance in the town they missed the train by which they proposed to travel home. Seeing the river a happy thought struck them – they would go boating. Rowing is thirsty work, but the suggestion from one of them repeated more than once, to open the bottle and invest in another for the ceremonial use was indignantly rejected by the other. A later train was duly caught. The bottle was handled as carefully as a first new born babe, so as not to disturb the crust. The dangers of the railway journey were passed in safety, but when passing Swavesey Churchyard a terrible disaster happened. The bottle was dropped and smashed and the precious dark life giving liquid mingled with the dust. The Vicar being but a few yards distant, audible comments were postponed until the privacy of a dwelling house was reached!.

A RUNAWAY. 14th August 1908

On Wednesday of last week Mr Jabez Day was driving his horse to the station when it took fright at a passing train and began to rear. Mr Day held on to the animal pluckily, but the bridle broke and it galloped off towards the village, on of the wheels narrowly missing the small stone bridge. The horse came to a standstill at the corner of Wallman's Lane, and was captured without any damage being done.

WEDDING. 4th September 1908

A wedding of some interest to Swavesey readers, took place on August 10th at the Baptist Chapel, Barnstable, Devon, when Mr Thomas Langleigh Hephher, of Bristol, son of Mr Jesse Hephher, registrar of birth & deaths, Swavesey, was married to Miss Winifred Gertrude Tucker, eldest daughter of Mr & Mrs E. Tucker, of Boutport Street, Barnstable. The church was effectively decorated for the occasion with palms and shrubs. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Willis Wilks. On the entrance of the bridal procession the organist Miss K.Prideaux, played the "Bridal March" from Lohengrin. The bride, who was given away by her father was charmingly dressed in a gown of cream eolienne, made in semi-Empire style, with a square cut yoke of chiffon, strapped with pleating of material and trimmed with silver embroidery and blonde lace. Two bridesmaids, Miss Nellie Tucker, sister of the bride, and Miss F. Lewis, of Brighton were in attendance. Mr L. K. Humphreys, of Bristol, acted as best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the Imperial Hotel, at which upwards of thirty guests were present. A large number of wedding gifts were received by the happy couple, and included a diamond ring from the bridegroom to the bride, and a gold signet ring from the bride to her husband.

MAN SENT TO PRISON. 4th September 1908

At St Ives Petty Sessions on Monday, James Kester, labourer, of Swavesey, was brought up on remand for assaulting John Family, on August 24th.

Mr Oliver Papworth, of Cambridge, defended. Complainant said that when standing near the Railway Hotel, about 12-30 he received a blow from behind on the forehead, which produced the black eye he then had. Witness was unconscious for some time. He did not see prisoner until after the first blow had been struck and did not speak to prisoner. Walter Clements corroborated, but said prisoner after striking the blow said he had a grudge against Family and if witness spoke would serve him the same. - The Bench reduced the charge to one of common assault and defendant pleaded guilty. A number of previous convictions having been handed in (two being this year) the Bench sent prisoner for two months hard labour, - Prisoner "Thank you sir".

GARDEN FETE. 25th September 1908

A garden fete postponed owing to rain from Tuesday, 15th instant, was held in the Vicarage Grounds on Thursday evening last week, and considering the uncertain state of the weather and the lateness of the season was well attended. The main attraction was dancing to the strains of St Ives Town Band, a cake guessing competition, and the refreshment tent under the superintendence of Mrs Wells and Mrs Dean. The grounds were prettily illuminated by Mr James of St Ives. The entertainment was brought to a conclusion about 10 p.m. when "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King" were heartily sung. The profits, about £2 have been given to the choir Fund,

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 25th September 1908

The annual harvest thanksgiving service will be held at the Parish Church on Wednesday next, 30th instant. Festal Evening will be at 7 o'clock, the preacher being the Rev W.R. Gardner, M.A., who for some time has been in charge of the parish of Holywell-cum-Needingworth.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 2nd October 1908

Thankgiving Services for harvest were held in the Parish Church on Wednesday, 30th ultimo. Holy Communion was celebrated early in the day, and there was choral Evensong at 7 p.m. when a good congregation attended. The sermon was preached by the Rev. W.R. Gardner, who has recently been in charge of Holywell. The fine old Church was effectively decorated by the usual devoted band of ladies :- Mrs Long, Mrs Levell, and the Misses H. Vidler, Irby. J.Wells, F. Daisley, Ethel Garner, L. Beaumont, G. Dodson, and Miss Pook. The services in connection with the harvest festival were continued on Sunday last.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 9th October 1908.

The harvest festival at this Chapel assumed the form this year of a "Hospital Effort", and it is satisfactory to report a successful one. At 5.30 p.m., there was a public tea. This was followed by service in the newly renovated Chapel, which had been most tastefully decorated for occasion by many willing workers, foremost amongst whom were Mrs W. Thurbon, and Mrs James Payne. The decoration of the rostrum was particularly effective. An admirable and appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. W.E. Lusty, of Stratford. The proceeds of the offertory, and also fruit, etc. have been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

MARRIAGE, 9th October 1908

An interesting wedding took place at Swavesey, when Miss Louisa Martha, elder daughter, of Jos. Stockbridge, harness maker, of Swavesey, was married to Mr Sidney Arthur Wagstaffe of Colmworth, Beds. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A.C. Vidler, vicar of the parish, the bride being given away by her father, while the best man was William Stockbridge, of Gransden, brother of the bride.

DEATH OF OLD INHABITANT. 9th October 1908

Allen Marriott, a road labourer, died on October 2nd aged 73 years and was buried in the Cemetery on Monday. The deceased was an old inhabitant of Swavesey, and was much respected.

PARISH MEETING. 9th October 1908

A parish meeting was held on Tuesday, under the presidency of the Vicar to authorise expenditure for the lighting of the village. Some conversation ensued during the meeting respecting the river banks, and it was explained that the matter was receiving attention.

PARISH COUNCIL. 9th October 1908

A Parish Council meeting was held on Tuesday, the Vicar presiding. There were also present Messrs James Wells, G Metcalf, William Thorp, J, Gilby. E. Warboys, J.T. Daintree, and Robinson Mitham, (clerk) The main business was the lighting of the village during the ensuing winter. Two tenders were received, - one from Mr F. Sanderson and the other from Mr Geo. Clarke. Mr Sanderson's tender was accepted, being £2 lower than Mr Clarke's.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 9th October 1908

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Conservative Association was held at the National School on Monday evening. Mr W.C. Cole presiding and was supported by Messrs R.E. Bartley, H, Beaumont, William Thorp, S.W. Crisp, G. Metcalf, Walter Thorp, etc. The secretary Mr A.E. Saunders read the annual report which contained a record of the useful spadework done by the Committee during the year. Registration matters had, the report stated received careful attention, and it was claimed that every Unionist in the parish entitled to vote was on the register. The annual accounts were passed, and gave unqualified satisfaction as they disclosed the pleasing fact that a useful balance remained in the hands of the Treasurer. The election of offices, etc, was then proceeded with,:- Chairman, W.C. Cole, vice- chairman, C.R. Vincent, treasurer, W.H. Key, secretary, A.L. Saunders, : Committee:- Messrs W.H. Chamberlain, S.W. Crisp, J. Gilby, A. Girling, G. Metcalfe, Philip Metcalfe, Robinson Mitham, J. Netherwood, E. Stocker, Walter Thorp, William Thorp, E.J. Warboys, and R. Williamson.

ACCIDENT. 16th October 1908

On Sunday evening Mrs John Williams, wife of Mt John Williams, coal merchant, of Market Street, Swavesey, met with an accident whilst driving with Mr & Mrs John Hodson between Overcote and Over. the party were in Mr Hodson's trap, and shortly after leaving the ferry the pony shied at a white cow. Mrs Williams, who was sitting behind, was thrown out and fell heavily to the ground. She somewhat seriously hurt her shoulder, and has been under medical treatment since, but the latest reports of her condition are satisfactory.

THE PUBLIC LAMPS 16th October 1908

A correspondent writes calling attention to the delay in lighting the street lamps this year. He admits that the Parish and Parish Council meetings were held unusually late, but still he thinks the streets ought and might have been lighted before this. Our correspondent asks why the Parish Council do not deal with the lighting of the streets at a meeting during June or July instead of driving the business off to the last possible moment. If settled earlier the contractor would, he maintains, have proper time in which to overhaul his lamps, etc., and obtain his oil possibly at a cheaper rate, and the Council could have the necessary repairs attended to before the lamps have to be put up. The writer also wants to know when the lamps were last painted, and whether their shaky condition is due in measure to false economy in the way of paint. Finally he suggests that as lamps, post etc, have been in use for many years and are wearing out, the Council should gradually replaced the old ones by new, a few at a time instead of throwing a heavy expenditure on one year.

LANTERN LECTURE, 16th October 1908

On Wednesday evening Mr Allen, of Wisbech, gave an interesting lecture illustrated by lantern pictures, at the Friend's Meeting House, Black Horse Lane, The lecture was entitled, "Her Benny" and dealt with slum life.

SWAVESEY MEN IN CANADA. 23rd October 1908

In the Spring of 1907 four young men left Swavesey to try their fortune in Canada. After spending twelve months in the province of Ontario three of them migrated into the far west of the Dominion, and set to work near Nelson i British Columbia. Two of them Harry Beaumont and Lawson Hephher, are employed on a large fruit – growing ranch owned by Earl Grey, the present Governor General of Canada. In June last some interesting extracts from their letters were published in the "Cambridge Express" setting forth their early experiences of ranch life. We are now able to print further extracts in which a visit from Earl Grey to his ranch is described. :- Earl Grey came here last Friday evening and stayed until noon on Sunday. He were up in the woods when he came round. He took of his coat and vest, slipped his braces over his shoulders, and took an axe and chopped down a tree. He shook hands with us and was very free and full of fun. He asked where we came from, and when he went in again he told Mr Ginot (the foreman) that we were two very nice boys. He had a look round our shack, and was pleased with out library. He has gone west and is going to spend next Sunday here again. Mr Ginot has asked him to raise our wages five dollars per month and we are in good hopes of getting it. – A week later Mr Beaumont writes:- "Earl Grey came round while Lawson and I were working together ; we were falling trees, so he colared hold of an axe and said he was going to fall one of his own trees himself. he did it all right, and his friend, who by the way is a brother of Mr Lowther, the present Speaker of the House of Commons, had a go too, and felled one. Lord Grey shook hands with us and asked us where we came from. He asked us also when we intended getting the girl out, and said that there were some waiting for us in England. I'm hanged if I know if the latter statement is correct or not.

but I told him, as the cabin in which we live is a small one we had not room for any more company there. As a proof that these two young men are prospering it may be mentioned that they have bought fifty acres of land adjoining Lord Grey's property, and are preparing to cultivate it.

ACCIDENT. 23rd October 1908

Little Gamaliel Fromant, of Market Street, Swavesey, on Sunday afternoon met with a serious accident. He was playing in Twenty Acres, a large field near Mere Fen, with two other small children, and was kicked in the face by a horse. He was unconscious when picked up by Mr F, Asplin, of Over, who conveyed him home on his trolley. P.c. Gray rendered first-aid, and Dr Watts White kindly examined the boy and found no bones broken. Under medical treatment the little lad is progressing favourably.

MIDDLE FEN. 23rd October 1908

It is understood that the drainage of Middle Fen is to receive further attention in the near future.

DRAINAGE OF HIGH STREET. 23rd October 1908

The Rural District Council is engaged in carrying the drain which runs beneath High Street some considerable distance along the side of the brook that flows, or should flow, under Turn Bridge. Nine inch glazed pipes are being used. How far this extension of the drain will prevent smells in High Street is a question that is being much debated in the village.

B.W.T A. 23rd October 1908

On Tuesday evening, at the invitation of Mrs R. Watts-White, the members of the Swavesey branch of the British Women's Temperance Assoc. were most hospitably entertained to tea at the Friend's Meeting House, Black Horse Lane, kindly lent for the occasion. A very pleasant evening was spent. Miss Arliss rendered solos, and Mrs Watts-White spoke words of help and encouragement. A business conference followed, and arrangements for work during the coming winter were discussed. The Swavesey delegates to the Chatteris Meeting of the B.W.T.A., Miss Arliss and Miss Gaunt, gave a satisfactory report on the proceedings. The room was prettily decorated.

MOTHER'S MEETING. 23rd October 1908

The Mother's Meeting, in connection with the Friends Meeting House, was opened for the ensuing winter yesterday, Thursday afternoon by Mrs R. Watts-

White and Miss Arliss, who entertained the mothers to a friendly cup of tea. Miss gaunt will as usual, superintend the meetings.

THE OLD ASH TREE. 30th Oct. 1908.

On Friday afternoon last the ash tree in Swavesey Churchyard, which collapsed early in August, and in falling damaged the north-west corner of the Church, was sold in convenient on the 'time limit' principle. Mr Henry Beaumont was to have been the salesman, but having a cold, resigned in favour of Mr Walter Thorp, and modestly acted as salesman's clerk. The attendance was poor. After vainly waiting for a quarter of an hour for stragglers, it was decided to proceed, and Mr Thorp, stationed in a field on the north side of the churchyard, began with what, no doubt, would have been an eloquent oration on the subject of wood in general and ash wood in particular. Mr Thorp is an authority on wood. His clerk however objected and sternly ordered him to get on with his work, as he was there to sell the tree and not make speeches. A friendly argument ensued, and after one or two ineffectual attempts to continue his speech. Mr Thorp capitulated, and proceeded to business. The senior Churchwarden displayed each lot to the best advantage and notwithstanding the scanty congregation - we mean of course gathering - all the wood was sold and realised a fair price.

CHURCHWARDEN DISABLED 30th Oct. 1908.

Mr James Wells, coal merchant and churchwarden, when delivering coke to the National School last week met with an accident which has prevented him from following his occupation. When emptying a bag of coke his right foot slipped and he fell and injured his knee. Mr Wells is progressing favourably.

COLLISION. 30th October 1908

On Saturday evening about seven o'clock a waggon belonging to Mr Long and containing furniture and other household effects came into collision in Middle Watch with the light cart of Mr Starte, grocer of Swavesey. The cart was upset, its contents spilled, and the driver, a lad, thrown into the road. Some slight damage was done to both vehicles, but the lad fortunately, escaped unhurt.

SCRATCH BANK. 30th October 1908

Enquiries have from time to time been made as to the delay in issuing a statement. showing the receipts and expenditure in connection with the repair of Scratch, or Cradge, Bank, the main protection of Middle fen, which was carried out during the year 1907. Mr J.S. Goad, who acted as collector and general manager of the undertaking, desires us to state that the delay is entirely due to his inability to induce one tradesman to render his account for work done, but that as soon as this account has been settled he will issue a statement of account. Perhaps the gentleman in question, in a truly laudable spirit of generous patriotism, desires to make no charge for his work. If so, there will be a useful sum of money in hand in which to form the nucleus of a fund for the new work which we understand is contemplated in connection with the drainage of Middle Fen.

WEDDING AT SWAVESEY. 30th Oct. 1908.

The marriage of George, the only son of Mr Charles Burling, the well known blacksmith, of Boxworth End, Swavesey, to Ellen, daughter of Mr Robert Metcalfe, late of Shillington, Bedfordshire, but now of Quebec. Canada, took place at the Parish Church, Swavesey, on Thursday afternoon, 22nd instant. the Rev A.C.Vidler, vicar, officiating. In addition to a goodly company of guests, the villagers showed their interest in the happy event by attending in considerable force. The bride, who was given away by Mr William Thorp, in the absence through illness of her brother-in-law, wore a pretty dress of cream crinoline, trimmed with ivory silk insertion, threaded with white satin ribbon, and a bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white heather, the gift of the bridegroom. One bridesmaid was in attendance, Miss Minnie Catterill, cousin of the bride. She was attired in a cream cashmere dress, trimmed with cream lace, a pink waist belt and a black picture hat. Mr E.H.Hodson, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. After the ceremony the guests were entertained at the residence of the groom's parents. The happy couple have received an unusually large number of wedding presents, including a splendid cake, made by the celebrated firm of Buzzard, Oxford Street, London, the gift of Mr and Mrs Bartley.

AN ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION. 6th November 1908

The mysterious mast, surmounted by a wire-work globe, resembling a bird cage or a rat trap, which has been erected against the parapet of Turn Bridge, has nothing to do with wireless telegraphy, as some people think. It is a ventilation shaft in connection with the new drain which the Sanitary Authority has laid alongside the brook.

PARISH CHURCH. 6th November 1908

On Sunday the Rev. J.F. Cooksey, lately Vicar of Upwood, Huntingdon, preached the sermon at Morning Prayer at the Parish Church, and assisted the Vicar in the service. Mr Cooksey is now living at the Manor House, in Market Street.

LIGHTING IN THE VILLAGE. 6th November 1908

Complaints have been general of the unsatisfactory light given this year by the street lamps, and several of them have been removed for repairs. The Parish Council will no doubt in future act on the suggestion made more than once in the "Express" and have the lamps thoroughly overhauled and tested during the summer months, so that when the time for lighting arrives all lamps will be fit for use.

BRITISH WOMEN'S TEMPERANCE ASSO. 6th November 1908

The first meeting of the winter session was held in the Bethel Baptist Chapel on Monday. Mr Rhodes of Histon presided, and gave an excellent opening speech. Miss Raynor of St Ives sang two solos. The speaker was Mrs Gibbons of Cambridge, who spoke on the work of the Association and how the members might increase its usefulness and numbers. She also referred to the progress of temperance in the country at present time. The attendance was good and the meeting very successful.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 6th November 1908

The Christian Endeavour Society in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel held a tea and meeting to inaugurate the work for the ensuing winter, in the Schoolroom attached to the Chapel, on wednesday, 28th October. At the meeting which followed the Rev A.C. Ashpool, pastor of Willingham Tabernacle, presided, and gave an address on "Loyalty to Christ". During the evening several solos' recitations, and readings were effectively rendered. There was a crowded attendance.

OLD AGE PENSIONS 6th November 1908

The Vicar has announced that he will be glad to supply certificates of Baptism or marriage for the purposes of Old Age Pensions for the charge of one shilling with the stamp.

CREDIT TO HIS BIRTHPLACE. 6th November 1908

After twenty three years of meritorious service on the Great Eastern Railway Mr Joseph Caine, son of Mr Alfred Caine, of Swavesey, has been promoted to the responsible post of chief ticket inspector for the whole of the Company's service. Mr Caine began as a porter, then in succession was signman, guard, ticket collector (at Bishop's Stortford), and for the last eleven years has been an inspector. Mr Caine is a native of Swavesey.

GUY FAWKES' DAY 7th November 1908

The youngsters of the village celebrated the Fifth of November by bonfires innumerable on the Recreation Ground and thoroughly enjoyed them selves. When all available supplies of bushes were exhausted sympathetic friends turned out for their benefit large quantities of waste paper children and getting rid of rubbish. At night a few fireworks were let off. No casualties have been reported. A ratepayer asks whether the Parish Council Bye-laws regulating the Recreation Ground are now in operation.

A NEW BANK. 7th November 1908

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 7th November 1908

A meeting and smoking concert, under the auspices of the Swavesey Conservative Association, and arranged by members of the Cambridge University New Carlton Club, will be held in Swavesey National School on Thursday net, the 19th inst. Messrs G.S. Shaw (president of the New Carlton Club) V.E. Cotton, and H.P. Burton, are announced as speaker, and Captain E. Morrison- Bell has promised to attend. Admission is free by ticket, to be obtained from Messrs W.H. Key, J. Gilby, W.H. Chamberlain, E Warboys, Walter Thorp, and of the Secretary Mr A.E. Saunders.

STREET LAMPS. 20th November 1908

An indignant lay has sent the following letter to the "Express". :- "I see there was a meeting of the Suffragettes at Willingham Last week, and although I don't hold with women going into Parliament, I think they ought to take a part in managing things to do with their parish, especially women who pay rates, and they are heavy enough. If we had a few more women on our Parish Council this village would be better managed, for instance, most of us understand lamps, for we have to do our own, and I know we could look after our street lights better than the men do. If we did not we should be a poor lot. Someone said the other day that our Parish Council are a lot of old women. That's a libel on us women. because no woman, old or young, would have let Swavesey lamps get so bad as they are.

NEW DRAINS. 20th November 1908

As considerable miss-apprehension exists in the minds of ratepayers and inhabitants of Swavesey respecting the drainage operations in progress in the village, the following information, obtained from a reliable source, may perhaps be of some service. The new covered drain from Turn Bridge along the north bank of the brook is the first section of a main drain which will eventually be carried by the side of the brook to a point near the Church. with this main drain other drains will be connected, viz. (a) That in Wallman's Lane, joining near Mr Burton's orchard: (b) a drain in Market Street: and (c) the drain through Church End which will effect a junction near the Church Bridge. The last-named drain has been partially re-laid from the White Horse, to near the Swan Pond, into which it empties itself as a temporary measure. The smells in High Street will be dealt with by inserting gully traps. It is not intended to carry out the work all at once, but to do a section each year, so as to avoid a heavy call on the ratepayers at one time. It is anticipated that the scheme will provide an effective system of drainage satisfactory alike to ratepayers, inhabitants, and the sanitary authority, and will be considerably cheaper than the scheme which was at one time under consideration of the District Council.

MARRIAGE. 20th November 1908

A wedding of considerable interest to Swavesey people took place at the Parish Church on Wednesday, 11th instant, when Miss Kate Hodson, daughter of Mr John Hodson, Thatcher, of Swavesey, was married to Mr Albert Brasher, only son of Mr Thomas Brasher, of Swavesey. The Rev. A.C. Vidler, vicar, officiated. The bride was accompanied by two bridesmaids, the misses Nellie Howlett and Ethel King, nieces of the bridegroom. Mr Walter George Hodson, brother of the bride, was best man. The wedding presents were very numerous, the bride being well known and very popular owing to her having been morning "Postman" in the village for several years.

HOSPITAL EFFORT. 20th November 1908

The Temperance Society in connection with Bethel Chapel, on Thursday evening, the 12th instant, held a social evening in the schoolroom attached to the Chapel, which was well filled. Mr E. Bullman, of St Ives presided, and a miscellaneous programme, arranged by Miss Goad, the able and energetic secretary, was well carried out. Refreshments were served at intervals, and a collection was made, the whole of which will be given to Addenbrooke's Hospital, and will be further augmented by a collection at a lecture on astronomy, to be given shortly by Mr W.J. Wayman, of Over.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 20th November 1908

Under the auspices of the Baptist Missionary Society, special services were held on Sunday and Monday last in Bethel Baptist Chapel. On Sunday the morning service was, in the enforced absence of the Rev. R. Smith, of Histon, taken by the Rev. R. Fletcher, who based his appeal on "Go ye into all the world," At the evening service the Rev. F. Chilton, of Shelford, preached an eloquent and impressive sermon, emphasizing the claims of the Society upon individual members. On Monday evening the Rev. Gordon S. Wilkins of Qrissa India. related his personal experiences and gave a most encouraging report of the Society's work. Several idols, charms, etc. were exhibited. Collections were made at each service in aid of the Society.

THE NEW CARLTON CLUB. 27th November 1908

A highly successful meeting and smoking concert, organised by the Swavesey Conservative Assoc. was held in the large room of the National School, Swavesey, on Thursday 19th inst. The officials of the Cambridge University New Carlton Club provided the speakers, and were entirely responsible for the concert. Captain Morrison-Bell was also present for a time, but had to leave early as he had another engagement at Trumpington. Although admission was by ticket, and was strictly limited to adults, upwards of 150 men attended. Notwithstanding the counter attraction of a conjurer at an entertainment organised by a club calling itself the Swavesey Conservative Club. As this entertainment, (which was held at the White Horse Inn, the club's headquarters,) was arranged some days after the bills announcing the Association's Smoking concert were issued, it must be admitted that the members of the association have a distinct grievance. It now rests with the Club's Chairman, Dr J.W. Ellis, who organised the entertainment, to supply a reasonable explanation. Mr W.C. Cole, chairman of the Association opened the meeting with an amusing speech, which was punctuated by rounds of applause. He thanked Captain Bell for coming, at considerable inconvenience, that evening. In his speech Captain Bell referred to a bye-election which had been disastrous for the Government. In speaking of the Licensing Bill, he remarked that there had been much talk of intemperance, but he defied anyone to find any temperance reform in the Bill. No one could predict what effect the Bill would have. The reduction of the number of public houses would not mean that there would be less drinking, but he thought it probable that the quality of what was drunk would suffer. The closing of public-houses would only add to the number of unemployed. The true remedy, he declared was Tariff Reform, the central plank of the Unionist party. Captain Bell brought his speech to a close by declaring that if the issues now before the country were properly understood, he had no doubt which party would win in a General Election. (speeches by other visitors followed.)

LADIES ON THE PARISH COUNCIL. 27th November 1908

A Swavesey correspondent, who declares himself a mere man, writes:- “I cordially agree with the “Indignant Lady” that women should take their share in the management of parish affairs. On some matters their advice given at first hand and in the Parish Council would be most valuable, but doubtless even now some of the Swavesey Councillors have the inestimable benefit of feminine instruction as to the way in which public business should be conducted. Your correspondent, however, appears to be ignorant of the fact that women are already eligible to sit on the Parish Council, and it is to be hoped that one or more of the ladies of Swavesey will offer themselves for election in March 1910. But it seems a pity that the parish should be without their assistance till then. Is there no man Councillors chivalrous enough to resign his seat at once in favour of a lady, and if so, what lady will come forward as the champion of her sex and of effective lamps and clean dusters.

ASTRONOMY. 27th November 1908

A lecture on Astronomy was given in Bethel Chapel Schoolroom on Tuesday, 24th instant, by Mr William Wayman , of Over. The lecturer handled his subject in an interesting manner, and pleasingly illustrated the subject by some well executed diagrams. At the close questions were asked which elicited replies which were much appreciated. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr Wayman. A collection was made in aid of Addenbrooke’s Hospital, and on being added to the amount contributed at recent social evening, resulted in £1 9s 3d being raised for that deserving institution.

PRESENTATION. 27th November 1908

The members of the Primitive Methodists Society in Swavesey, Over, Longstanton, and St Ives, presented Mr Thomas Ding with a handsome Bible on Monday evening, in recognition of his devoted services to the Primitive Methodist cause in Swavesey during a long course of time. Mr Ding, who has recently removed to Longstanton, was steward for many years.

LATE RURAL DEAN. 27th November 1908

The bell of the Parish Church of St Andrew was tolled on Wednesday afternoon during the time the funeral of the late Rural Dean of North Stowe, Rev. C.E. Crump, was taking place at Cottenham.

OBITUARY. 27th November 1908.

We regret to record the death of Mrs William Crisp, wife of Mr William Crisp, butcher, of Swavesey and Cambridge Market, which occurred early on Saturday morning after a long illness. she was buried in Swavesey Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, Rev E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel., officiating. Mrs Crisp was the daughter of the late Mr Daniel Radford, miller and farmer. of Swavesey. We have also to record the death, at the age of 77 years, of Mrs Esther Robey, of Church End, who passed away on Sunday. Mrs Robey was a native of the neighbouring parish of Fendrayton, being the widow of Mr William Robey, at one time manager of the gasworks at Oakington. He died 22 years ago. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Tuesday.

POSTAL TROUBLE. 27th November 1908

People living at Boxworth End and Middle Watch have been seriously inconvenienced this week through the wall posting box near London House, having been closed owing to the lock being out of repair. Not only have they been obliged to go a long distance to the sub post office in High Street to post their letters, but they have lost the advantage of fifteen minutes later posting, The sub-office closing at 7.40 p.m. and the wall box at 7.55 p.m. It is thought that a secure and locked temporary receptacle could have been provided; say at or near London House, the proprietor of which has for twelve years held a license to sell stamps. It is possible that the inconvenience complained of will lead to an agitation for an additional posting box at Boxworth End, .

RURAL DEAN 4th December 1908

In accordance with general expectation the Rev, A.C. Vidler, the esteemed Vicar of Swavesey, has been appointed Rural Dean of the North Stowe, in succession to the late Rev. C. E. Crump; and our readers generally will joinwith us in cordially congratulating the re. gentleman upon the honour thus conferred upon him. Mr Vidler was educated at Jesus College, Cambridge, where he was a scholar and prizeman, taking his degree in mathematical honours in 1875. Mr Vidler was ordained in the diocese of London, where he worked for 18 years. He was for some year's headmaster of St John-at-Hackney Grammer School, which appointment he held in conjunction with the curacies of St James' Clapton, and the Parish Church of St John-at-Hackney. Dr Walsham How, Bishop of Bedford and afterwards of Wakefield, was the Visitor of the above school in Mr Vidler's time, and Dr Thomas, the present Bishop of Adelaide, and Mr Howard W. Liversidge, a late President of the unoin Society at Oxford, were among the number of his pupils there. Mr Vidler was appointed to the Vicarage of Swavesey in 1895, which living is in the presentation of his college, and he now holds the offices of Archidiaconal Secretary for the Diocesan Sunday School Council, is the clerical representative of the Deanery for the Diocesan Conference, and is the Deanery representative on the Governing Body of the Diocesan association for Voluntary Schools. Mr Vidler was elected Chairman of the Parish Council of Swavesey in 1896, which position he continued to hold since.

FREE TRADE MEETING. 11th December 1908

Messrs A.S. Doran and George Oldfield, of the Free Trade Union, addressed a moderately attended meeting in the National School on Friday evening, 4th instant. In the absence, through indisposition, of Mr Ebenezer Parish J.P. who was announced to preside, the chair was taken by his son, Mr Leonard Parish. Both of the speakers quoted statistics of all kinds in support of their case, and compared the wages of workmen in "Free Trade" Great Britain. These statements had to go unchallenged as an all round cosmopolitan statistician is rarely to be found in a village audience. One allegation, at least, of Mr Doran's might have been questioned. The advocates of Tariff Reform, he declared, go about the country offering protection to every trade in turn. At the close of Mr Doran's long speech he observed with sorrow that he ought to be speaking of great reforms such as the Licensing Question, the Land Question, and the like, instead of which he had to defend Free Trade, a question that was settled many years ago. If any benefit accrued from Tariff Reform the money would go into the pockets of the big landlords and the big manufacturers, but he did not say why the smaller landlord and the smaller manufacturers would not get a share. That would have been of greater interest to Swavesey people. One or two questions were put to the speakers before the meeting ended. An ardent Radical asked why it was proposed to tax the manufactured article and not the raw materials. Mr Doran evidently mistaking the political colour of the enquirer replied that the question was one to be put to a Tariff Reform Speaker. (Radical applause) A Conservative (there was a good sprinkling of Tariff Reformers present) asked several questions, and was beginning to get the better of the argument – it referred to foreign-made doors and window frames, which, according to Mr Doran, are not manufactured articles, - when an unmannerly interruption from a Radical on the back benches led to a mild altercation, and Mr Doran escaped. One thing was noticeable; the Conservative was called to order while the Radical with his personalities got off "Scott free". At the close of the meeting Free Trade literature was on sale, but how much was bought we do not know.

ENTERTAINMENT 11th December 1908

Professor Cristo & Son, the men of mystery and conjurers, visited Swavesey on Saturday last and gave two entertainments at the National School. At the afternoon performance, which was for the children, Master Cristo, who is said to be the youngest magician, amused a good crowd of youngsters with conjuring and a Punch & Judy show. In the evening, the entertainment was given by Professor Cristo assisted by the youthful magician and the rest of the company.

REMARKABLE EGG. 11th December 1908

Mr A.T. Scard, baker and confectioner, High Street, on recently breaking an egg found another inside. The smaller egg, which was perfect in every respect, measured an inch and a half in circumference.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE. 18th December 1908

The annual general meeting of the Sunday School Teacher's Assoc. was held at the National Schoolroom, Swavesey, on Monday last. Amongst those present were:- The Rural Dean, Rev A.C. Vidler, who is ex-officio president of the Association, the Revs. T.E. Beckett, Over, W.C. Cooke, Histon, J.F. Cooksey, Swavesey, H.B. Woolley, Longstanton All Saints, together with Sunday School Teachers from their parishes and representatives from Willingham. An excellent tea was provided, and was very acceptable to many of the visitors after their cold and wet journey. After tea a model lesson was given by Mr E.H. Fedarb, of the Sunday School Institute, London, the lesson being illustrated by a class of children belonging to the Swavesey Sunday School who had made the highest attendances during the year. The annual business meeting of the Association followed, the Rural Dean presiding. The chairman made a touching reference to the death of the late Rural Dean, the Rev. C.E. Crump, Rector of Cottenham, who had been president of the Association. The annual Report was read by the Rev. H.G. Hooton, the Clerical Secretary, and was adopted. Mr W.J. Wayman, Over presented the annual financial statement, which showed a satisfactory balance in hand. The Rev. Beckett proposed, and Mrs Levell seconded, the re-election of Mr Hooton and Mr Wayman. After the usual votes of thanks, the meeting concluded with a discussion on Mr Fedarb's model lesson, in which Rev. W.C. Cooke and Mr Hooton and Mr Wayman took part.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 18th December 1908

The members and friends of the Temperance Society at the Bethel Baptist Chapel had a very pleasant gathering on Thursday in last week in the schoolroom attached to the Chapel, under the chairmanship of Mr J. Toseland, of Fenstanton. Miss Goad, the honorary secretary, who presided at the harmonium, once more evidenced her kindly interest in the Society by arranging an excellent programme, consisting of past songs, solos, and choruses. Recitations were ably rendered by Miss M.Day, Miss H.Causer, and Mrs S. Wright, and an interesting reading was given by Mr J.Day. The chairman delivered a stirring address.

TEMPERANCE MEETING. 18th December 1908

A most successful public meeting in furtherance of the work of the British Women's Temperance Assoc. was held in the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Monday evening. That stalwart Temperance advocate, Mrs R. Watts White presided, and a truly excellent and soul- stirring address was given by Mrs Heath, of Cambridge, in which she maintained that the secret of successful temperance work was prayer and enthusiasm. During the proceedings solos were admirably song by Miss Arliss, Considering the wet night, the attendance was exceptionally good.

LANTERN LECTURE, 18th December 1908

At the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Tuesday evening, Mr J.T. Allen, the well known evangelistic lecturer of Wisbech, delivered a most interesting lecture illustrated by photographic and other lantern pictures, entitled, "The Torn Bible". The lecture was a simple and touching story of a soldier wounded in the East Indies, and invalided home. He finds his mother dead, and his father whom he meets casually by the roadside does not recognise him. The torn Bible was given him by his mother apparently, on his enlistment. He falls amongst bad companions and the Bible which he had promised his mother to read and value is thrust aside. Later he finds it when searching for songs such as a soldier is supposed to admire, and in his exasperation at being inconveniently reminded of his broken promises he tears the sacred volume. Later still in battle a bullet strikes him, but the mutilated Bible carried in his breast receives the lead and his life is spared. The simple story is an old one, but none the worse for that. It was well told by Mr Allen, excellently illustrated, and well received by an audience that crowded the little building. Hymns were heartily sung at intervals, and a satisfactory collection in aid of the Chapel funds made at the close.

ADVENT SERVICE. 18th December 1908

Special services are being held at the Parish Church on Wednesday evenings during Advent, at which sermons are being preached by the Rev, J.F. Cooksey, late vicar of Upwood, Huntingdon.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 18th December 1908

The annual supper of the George & Dragon Mutual Benefit Club was held at the Little Rose on Thursday evening in last week. An excellent meal was provided by Mr & Mrs George Clarke, the popular host and hostess, and upwards of thirty members sat down. After supper, an enjoyable social evening was spent, songs contributed by Messrs H.Sanderson, Peter Ding, (the famous Swavesey basso) George Clarke and George Trundle, who delighted his audience with old-time favourites. Mr George Papworth gave selections on his gramophone. On the following evening the share-out took place. the sum of 19s 11d (not including the cost of the supper) being handed to each member.

CHRISTMAS FARE. 18th December 1908

The butchers of Swavesey have had a fine display of prize meat this week, Viz., Mr Z. Parish, a hogget (fed by Mr Hamer Towgood), which took first prize; Mr W. Hephher, two pigs, first and third prizes respectively; and Mr Walter Spolton, a bullock, (fed by Mr Hamer Towgood), second prize, and a sheep, (fed by Mr Thomas Bowyer,) first prize. All the prizes were awarded at Messrs Dilleys St Ives, Christmas Fat Stock Show.

PARISH CHURCH 18th December 1908

The list of special services at the Parish Church, and the Mission Church, during Christmastide were reported in the "Express".

CHRISTMAS GIFTS. 25th December 1908

The usual Christmas gifts to the poorer widows and widowers have this week been distributed by the Vicar. We understand that certain necessitous parishoners have recieved Christmas presents of money from Captain J.D. Daintree, R.N.

ACCIDENT. 25th December 1908

On Wednesday last Prime Godfrey, carting contractor, slipped when stepping from a cart to a railway truck. He fell against the side of the cart and hurt his back. Although progressing satisfactory, he is still unable to work.

CHRISTMAS AT THE PARISH CHURCH. 1st January 1909

Shortly after 5am. on Christmas Day the joyous ringing of the church bells heralded the festival of Christ's birth. At 6 am, and 7.45am, the Holy Communion was celebrated. Martins was song at 10.30, and a choral celebration of Holy Eucharist followed. Festal Evensong with a sermon by the Vicar was at 3pm. At this services carols were sung. All the services were bright and hearty and were well attended, and the choir acquitted themselves right well. The splendid old church, the glory of Swavesey, looked exceptionally beautiful in its festal garb, the devoted work of Misses Helen & Ruth Vidler, Pook, L. Beaumont, F.Daisley, G. Dodson, Ethel Garner, J. Wells and Mrs Levell, the prevailing colours being red and white with a background of holly and other evergreens. On Sunday, the festival services were continued, the sermons at Matins and Evensong being preached by the Rev, J.F. Cooksey.

No startling incidents and no epoch-making changes have to be recorded in connection with the past year. The population of Swavesey for many years has been decreasing, but since 1st January last it is satisfactory to note that the births have outnumbered the deaths. The health of the village has been satisfactory, and its good behaviour may be taken for granted, as there is at present no resident police constable. The Parish Council has held several meetings, but no great questions have been under discussion. The Public lighting of the streets having failed to give satisfaction, a special meeting was held on 26th November. Certain suggestions then made have been carried out and an improvement in the lighting has resulted. The parish fire engine still remains one of the chief glories of the village. Its efficiency must, however, be taken largely on trust, as it has not emerged from its house since 31st March, when engine and appliances were last tested. The condition of the Recreation Ground is far from what it ought to be. Whether the herbage rents are available for the much-needed improvements we know not, but the Council may be reminded that they hold a sum of nearly £2 which was handed to them by the Coronation Festivities Committee, to be spent on the ground.

NEW YEAR'S GIFT. 8th Jan. 1909.

The County Council Road Authorities have erected a bank at the western side of the high road from Swavesey to Over, near Mere Fen. The bank takes the place of one removed some years ago, and will, it is hoped, prevent the high road from being flooded.

PARISH CHURCH 8th January 1909

The Venerable Archdeacon of Ely, Dr. Cunningham, preached at evening service at the Parish Church on Sunday. There was a good congregation.

BIRTHS & DEATHS. 8th January 1909

From enquiries we have made in the six parishes comprised in the Swavesey R.D.C. area. viz., Boxworth, Conington, Fendrayton, Lolworth, Over, and Swavesey. whose combined population at the last census in 1901 amounted to 2,468, we have elicited the interesting information, that there were about twelve births and eight deaths during each quarter, of the past year, and, as far as we can ascertain: no deaths resulted from synoptic diseases, and there were no inquests. Hardly any young people died, and no infants. There were more births and deaths in Over than in any of the other five parishes.

NEW YEAR'S GIFT. 8th Jan. 1909.

Notwithstanding his great age and feeble state of health, Mr Thomas Payne has not forgotten his old friends and dependants. Through Mr Alfred Williams, he has once more again made his usual New Year's gifts of tea and sugar to his poorer tenants and certain needy widows and widowers.

OLD AGE PENSIONS. 8th Jan. 1909.

Thirty-eight persons received their first pension payment to which they are entitled under the Old Age Pension Act, on Friday last a Swavesey post Office. On the same evening a happy gathering took place at the National School - the building being place free of charge to the Committee who arranged the function. All the old age pensioners of Swavesey and also those over 70 in receipt of parochial assistance, had been invited to a meat tea and social evening, the total number present at tea - including the committee - being upward of sixty. Parcels of good things were sent to the aged invalids who could not attend. Tea was served about 4.30 and after the Vicar (Rev A.C.Vidler MA.) had said grace, the real pleasure of the gathering commenced and continued without a hitch till 8.0'clock, when the party of aged friends separated; trays and tea was presided over by Mr Alfred Day, Miss E Day, Mrs E.Parish, Mrs W.Twist, and Mrs Wimpres. Tea over, a social evening ensued, Mr H.S.Aldred presiding, owing to the Vicar having another engagement, the reverend gentleman spoke early. In a kindly and genial speech the Vicar expressed his pleasure at being present but whether it was entirely a non-political gathering he could not say, for it is said, "Every little baby born alive was either a little Liberal or else a Conservative. In olden times, to qualify for a pension the person had to attend a place of worship. Although no stipulation or condition like that existed now, he ventured to hope that each one would make a point of attending some place of worship if possible. The gift they had received from the nation was for work or labour they had given the nation. The gift was practically £100, as at 70 years of age an annuity of 5s per week was purchasable for the sum of £100.

ACCIDENT 8th January 1909

Immediately after the children left school on Wednesday afternoon a little boy, named Roland Sanderson, of Boxworth End, was knocked down by a trap. He probably ran into it. The wheel passed over both legs and his face was cut. The Chils was immediately picked up by the driver, Mr Bert Hodson, and taken into Mr W.Thurbon's house close by where he was carefully attended to by Mrs Thurbon and Miss Pook, the infant's schoolmistress. Fortunately no bones were found to be broken, but the little fellow is badly bruised and his eye and nose are damaged, Subsequently, Mr Bert Hodson – who was most attentive and to whom no blame is attached – took the child home.

NO POLICEMAN. 8th January 1909

One correspondent argues the necessity for the early appointment of a resident policeman in Swavesey, While in no way suggesting that the constables who are doing occasional duty in the village have been remiss he is of the opinion that the fact of there being no resident policeman has had a good deal to do with certain regrettable incidents which have recently occurred.

CONSERVATIVE LADIES. 8th January 1909

A NARROW ESCAPE, 8th January 1909

Early on Saturday morning Mrs Godfrey senior, discovered that her bedroon was full of smoke, and at the time detected a strong smell of burning. On going downstairs she found that a cupboard at the side of the fireplace in the kitchen was alight. She called in the assistance of he horsekeeper. and between them the fire was extinguished, bur not before considerable damage had been done to the cupboard and its contents. As the fire had, undoubtedly , been smouldering all night and the house is an old one, Mrs Godfrey and her family may be congratulated on a providential escape.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 8th January 1909

On Thursday evening in last week the members of the Christian Endeavour Society, in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel, held a pleasant evening, under the management of Mrs.T.W. Carter and Mr Arthur Norman. Excellent light refreshments were provided.

MISSIONARY TEA. 8th January 1909

On Tuesday last the annual missionary tea and lecture were held at the National Schools. The tables were provided by the Misses Vidler, Mrs Long, Mr W.H. Key, Mrs Wells, Mrs Levelle, Mrs Cooksey, Mrs Beaumont, Mrs Dean, and Mrs Scard, the subscribers being, Mrs Bartley, Mrs Cole, Mrs Ellis, Mrs Willson, Miss Pook, Mrs Gilby, Mrs P. Hephher, Mrs H. Williams, and Mrs Challis. Others kindly assisted by presiding, including Miss Cole, Miss Wells and Mrs J. Linford; and Mr Walter Thorp, with others, was very helpful in arranging the room. An Excellent Lecture was given by the Rev. H. Mathews, from Tientsin, China, dealing specially with the work of the Church in North China, and the troubles connected with the Boxer Rising. A collection of rather more than £3 was the result, and there were about 120 present.

GAP

CHURCH DEFENCE. 22nd January 1909

An instructive lecture on “ Church Property: what it is and where it came from” was given in the National School on Monday evening by the Rev A.J.C. Allen, vicar of St Mary-the-Less, Cambridge. The lecturer explained the sources from which the Church and clergy are supported, and gave instances from the time of St Augustine to the present day of the way the Church has been endowed by Royal personages and other individuals. He also explained the origins of tithes, Queen Anne’s Bounty and so forth. His references to the Church in Wales were especially valuable in view of the troubles threatened in that quarter. The Lecture was illustrated by lantern slides, ably manipulated by Miss Vidler, amongst the pictures being copies of most interesting documents, some of them being of great antiquity. On the proposal of the Vicar, seconded by Dr Ellis, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr Allen for his lecture. The Attendance was fairly good, but considering the importance of the subject to Church people, and the great ignorance that exists on matters affecting Church property and endowments, it might, with advantage have been larger.

DYING TRAMP SLEEPS OUT AT SWAVESEY. 29th Jan. 1909

An old tramp, name unknown, died in extremely sad circumstances at Swavesey, on Friday morning. On Thursday night he was allowed by the landlord of the Red Lion, Swavesey, Mr David Garner, who knew him by sight, to rest himself by the fireside, for a little while, and left the house about nine o’clock. He was an old man of about seventy years of age, and getting feeble. Early on Friday morning he was found by the roadside near a telegraph pole, between Norman’s cottage and Lolworth Road. The exposure to cold had hastened his death. George Ward, telegraph foreman of Cambridge, stated that soon after seven o'clock he saw deceased lying near a roadside telegraph pole, with his head towards the ditch. He did not appear dead. He went to Mr Taylor's cottage near by, to get some tea for him. One of the deceased's shoes was off, and there was no sock on that foot, merely a piece of rag twisted round his toes. (Long report of the inquest.) Our Swavesey representative informs us that prior to calling upon Mr Garner, the deceased man, who came from Over, called at the railway station, and was allowed to sit in front of the fire in the lamp room. Subsequently he called at the Little Rose public house, where he was given tea and bread & butter by the landlord, Mr George Clarke.

HOME MISSION. 29th January 1909

A sermon in aid of the Additional Curates Society will be preached in Swavesey Parish Church on Sunday morning 31st January, by the rev. J.W. Eisdell, M.A., vicar of Barking, Essex. A collection will be made on behalf of this admirable Society.

ENTERTAINMENT. 29th January 1909

An entertainment is to be given in the National School on Thursday evening, 4th February, at seven o'clock consisting of (1) A performance by children, entitled, "A Fancy Dress Ball", (2) songs and recitations; (3) a dramatic representation. The proceeds of the entertainment are in aid of the Church Sunday School.

CHOIR SUPPER. 29th January 1909

The Vicar entertained the choir, organist, ringers, churchwardens, and sidesmen at supper at the National School on Thursday evening in last week. About 40 sat down to an excellent repast, consisting of beef, mutton, and ham, followed by plum pudding and mince pies, all hot. After supper the Vicar spoke a few words of welcome to his guests, and thanked them for the assistance they had rendered him in his work in the Church and parish. The rest of the evening was very pleasantly spent in singing songs, etc.

THE FLOODS

The floods, which have surrounded this village in all directions during the past week, have been very serious although they have not been quite as high as in the years 1875, 1895, and 1897. Great inconvenience has been caused to farmers and others; and several householders have had to turn out of their houses at very short notice. The people especially inconvenienced in this respect are those living in the cottages near the Town Bridge. every one of whom has had to turn out, and the occupants of the gate houses upon the railway have also had to find quarters in the village. We suppose that these floods are to a certain extent unavoidable, but we cannot help thinking that if the proper authorities would pay due attention to the banks much damage and inconvenience might be avoided.

POST OFFICE. 29th Jan. 1909.

The hours during which public business is transacted at Swavesey Post Office have been altered from 7a.m. to 8p.m. to 8a.m. to 3p.m. The new arrangements came into force on Wednesday

MISHAP TO MAIL CART. 29th Jan. 1909

On Monday evening, shortly after eight o'clock, the mail cart which runs between Over, Swavesey and Cambridge Post Office came to grief in Ramper Road. About three-quarters of a mile from the turning from Swavesey village the horse stumbled and fell on some loose granite, with which the road is thinly covered. The horse was jammed by the shafts, and lay in such a position that the driver could not extricate it. The road is a lonely one, and no help being forthcoming the driver shouldered his bags, and returned on foot to Swavesey in search of assistance. Mr Charles Crisp and Mr Arthur Prior, with one or two others promptly ran to the scene of the accident, and after considerable trouble managed to get the horse up. The animal, though somewhat damaged was able to complete the journey.

“SCISSORS SHARPENER”. 5th February 1909

The old tramp known as “Scissors Sharpener”, whose sad death, on the Huntingdon Road, was recorded last week, was buried in Swavesey Churchyard, the Rev, T.E. Beckett, vicar of Over, officiating, in the absence of the Vicar of Swavesey.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST CHAPEL. 5th February 1909

A great Christian Endeavour Rally of St Ives, Over, and Bethel Chapel, Swavesey, Societies was held in the Primitive Methodist Chapel, Swavesey, on Monday evening, 1st instant. Mr C. Richardson of Over, presided over a crowded gathering, the room being packed. The proceeds of the gathering, which were satisfactory, were devoted to the Swavesey Primitive Methodist Chapel Trust Fund.

A RECORD ENTERTAINMENT. 12th February 1909

An entertainment, successful in every respect, was given at the National Schools on Thursday evening, 4th February in aid of the Church Sunday Schools. An interesting programme, excellently carried out, was provided. A record crowd attended, and the takings amounting to upwards of £9, were also a record. Part 1. consisted of a musical entertainment by children, called a "Fancy Dress Ball". The youngsters did remarkably well. Their fancy dresses were effective, they sang their songs tunefully and with spirit, and the spoken parts were delivered clearly and with intelligence. The performance, which was heartily applauded, reflected great credit on the trainers of the children, Miss Helen and Ruth Vidler, G. Dodson and J. Wells. Part 2. consisted of songs, recitations, etc. preformed by Mr G.H. Skeeles, organist, Messrs J. Gilby, H.S. Turner, E. Williams, A. Prime, E. Mitham, and Misses P. Mitham, L. Mitham. L. Beaumont. The evening's entertainment was brought to a close with a dramatic sketch entitled, "Don't let the lady go," a clever and amusing trifle well performed by the Misses Kirke Smith, (Boxworth) & Lieut Hatton Gardner, (Conington). The troubles caused by the irritability and untidiness of a bachelor gentleman and the obtuseness of his elderly and devoted housekeeper tickled the fancy of the audience. The housekeeper's acting and make-up were so realistic that people may be excused for having mistaken the actress for her mother.

PASTOR FOR BETHEL CHAPEL. 12th February 1909

Over two and a half years ago the Rev. H.T.N. Ussher left the Bethel Chapel and since then the congregation has been without an appointed Pastor. We are now able to announce that the vacancy has been filled by the Rev W.H. Stevens, of Grove Church, Stratford, London. He will enter upon his duties on the first Sunday in March.

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 12th February 1909

An old and highly respected inhabitant of Swavesey, Mr Stephen Hayes, passed away on Wednesday, the 3rd instant., after several years illness. Mr Hayes, who was 86 years of age, was the only son of the late Stephen Hayes, at one time deacon of the Bethel Baptist Chapel. For 50 years he was a member of Bethel Chapel, and teacher in the Sunday School. The funeral, which took place in the cemetery on Sunday afternoon was attended by a large number of people. Bethel Sunday School teachers and scholars headed the cortege from the deceased's residence to the graveside. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr James Williams of Swavesey.

LIBERAL MEETING. 12th February 1909

The Hon. E.S. Montagu, M.P. addressed an extremely quiet and orderly meeting of the electors of Swavesey, their wives, sisters, and children, in the School on Monday Evening. There was a fair attendance, but the room was far from full, though many Conservatives were present. Mr Ebenezer Parish, J.P. presided. Mr Montagu, who spoke for about an hour, eulogised the Government, and at the end of his address offered to answer questions. Mr Wilfred Hephner and Dr Ellis asked a few, to which the Member replied. Mr J.E. Baker, of Cambridge University, followed with a speech. On the proposal of Mr W. Mustill, seconded by William Parish, a vote of thanks was accorded to Mr Montagu and Mr Baker.

CHURCHWORKES ENTERTAINED. 12th February 1909

The Vicar and the Misses Vidler hospitably entertained the lady church workers on Tuesday at the Vicarage, a very enjoyable evening was spent.

SUPPER TO RAILWAY & POST OFFICE STAFF. 17th February 1909

On Thursday evening of last week a pleasing scene was witnessed in the Infants School, when twenty two members of the above staffs were seated at supper. The committee who arranged the function commenced soliciting funds with the view of sending invitations to local railway staff only, but the kind generosity of the local public gave the Committee the additional pleasure of extending the invitations to the Post Office staff. Mr A.F. Scard, confectioner catered in a most satisfactory style, his efforts being much appreciated by the guests, and gave much pleasure to the Committee. The menu was as follows:- Roast beef, ham & tongue, pork pie, tomatoes, salad, cucumber, beetroot, blancmange, jellies, jam tarts, trifle, gorgonzola, cheddar, celery. After supper a social evening was held in the main room of the school, Mr Fred Asplin, of Over, kindly presiding, and notwithstanding counter attractions elsewhere in the village about a hundred of the public were present. At the close thanks were accorded to the generous donors, the Committee, and those who had so kindly given their services during the evening.

PROTECTION FROM FLOODING. 19th February 1909

A solid concrete wall, about four feet deep, to protect the high road from Swavesey to Over from flood water from Mere Fen, has been erected by Messrs Wayman Brothers, builders, of Over, for the County Council. It extends from Over bridge alongside Mere Fen, and joins the existing bank. The Council's roadmen are also raising the footpath from the bridge to Swavesey,

CRICKET CLUB. 19th February 1909

The annual meeting of the cricket Club was held on Tuesday evening, at the School, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing season:- Captain Mr A.T. Scard, Vice captain Mr W. Goad, secretary Mr C. Taylor, assistant secretary Mr E.J. Mitham, treasurer Mr A.J. Wilson, committee, Messrs S.J. Fromant, T. Harris, T. Goad, L. William, R. Mitham, F. Causer, and F. Beaumont.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING 19th February 1909

A most successful smoking concert and meeting was held under the auspices of the above Association, at the White Horse, on Thursday, 11th February, in the large room being crowded with an appreciative and enthusiastic audience. Mr W.C. Cole presided and was supported by Captain W.H. Heal, Mr F. C. Winfield and other prominent supporters. Mr Cole expressed his gratification at seeing such a crowded gathering, and extended a hearty welcome to Captain Heal and other friends from Cambridge. Mr F.G. Winfield in an excellent speech, touched on amongst other topics, Old Age Pensions, pointing out that those who most needed it did not receive the benefit of the Act. Although Conservatives agreed with the principles of Old Age Pension, they objected to the deserving poor being debarred from its benefits, while those who had large sums of money participated. The speaker next dealt with Tariff Reform in relation to agriculture, and pointed out that while we were importling manufactured goods into this country our own workmen were unemployed. The speaker also dealt with the late Licensing Bill, and the House of Lords, and concluded an admirable address by urged all present to do their best to return Captain Morrison-Bell at the head of the poll.

TEMPERANCE POLICY. 19th February 1909

A meeting of the clergy of the Rural Deanery of North Stowe was held at Swavesey on Wednesday 17th to consider the "Forward Movement". The meeting was summoned by the Rural Dean (Rev A.C. Vidler). The object of the "Forward Movement" is to elicit a wider co-operation amongst Church people in the principles and aims of the Church of England Temperance Society, by a special effort to be made in the autumn of this year. A very valuable discussion resulted in the adoption of a motion favouring the movement.

PARISH CHURCH. 26th February 1909

Courses of sermons have been arranged for during Lent as follows:- At the Church on Sunday evenings, at 6.30 pm, by the Vicar. At the Mission Church on Wednesday evenings at 7pm. by the Rev Cooksey, and at the cChurch on Thursday evenings a 7pm by the Rev A.C. Crosfield, M.A. Vicar of Hartford, Hunts.

SCHOOL CLOSED, 26th February 1909

Owing to numerous cases of illness amongst the children, the National School was closed on Monday for a time, by order of Dr Bushell Anningson, medical officer of health.

B.W.T.A. 26th February 1909

A meeting, under the auspices of the British Women's Temperance Assoc. was held on Monday evening, at the Bethel Baptist Chapel. After a few introductory remarks by the Chairman, Rev A.C. Ashpool, pastor of the Tabernacle, Willingham, Mrs Sims Woodhead, of Cambridge, delivered an earnest and inspiring address. Miss Raynor, of St Ives, sang two solos, in her usual beautiful style Dr Watts White proposed a vote of thanks to Mrs Woodhead. The attendance was good and the collection was satisfactory.

DEATH OF A CHILD. 26th February 1909

Much sympathy is felt for Mr Walter Spolton, butcxher and his wife, in the sad loss they have sustained, by the death on Sunday, 14th instants after an illness of for days, of the youngest daughter Constance Maud, at the age of four months. The funeral took place on Thursday 18th instants, in Swavesey Churchyard. Upon the tiny coffin were wreaths from parents grandparents and aunts.

WHIST DRIVE 26th February 1909

A whist drive was held in the National School on Tuesday evening, at which 76 players were present. Results:- Ladies first prize – silver mounted jam jars and spoons, second prize – silver mounted breakfast cruet, Gentlemen:- silver sovereign purse, second prize – silver match box. Consolation prize:- a bottle of scent and cigars.

OLD FRIEND GONE. 26th February 1909

We regret to announce the death on Tuesday evening of an old and most respected Swavesey man, Mr Thorp Mansfield, from bronchitis. Mr Mansfield, who attained the great age of 83 years of St Valentine's Day, was out on Friday, and had been able to work until that time. He was employed as a platelayer on the Gt. Eastern Railway for 54 years, retiring on the 10th January 1902, at the age of 76 with a pension for long and faithful service.

This pension was withdrawn on 1st January this year, when he became an Old Age Pensioner. As a young man he was in the choir of the Parish Church, and was a ringer, and even of late years he has occasionally tolled the big bell. He leaves a widow - an invalid and several children, Mr Mansfield enjoyed marvellous health during his long life and is believed not to have had a bottle of medicine until a few days ago.

Funeral, 6th March 1909 - The funeral of the late Mr Thorp Mansfield took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Sunday afternoon, the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar, officiated. Mr John Mansfield, (son) and other family mourners were present. A few sympathisers were gathered at the graveside, but several old friends were prevented by the inclement weather from being present.

DEATH. 26th February 1909

Mr William Hepher, a well known character in Swavesey, passed away on Thursday, 18th instant, after having been laid up about about a fortnight, but he had been in failing health for some time. Mr Hepher was the son of Mr Richard Hepher, who died many years ago. and was 72 years of age. He was well known in St Ives and Cambridge Market, and all around Swavesey as a dealer and market gardener. He belonged to a very ancient Swavesey family, had lived in the village the whole of his life, never married, died in the house in which he was born, and was the first Swavesey Old Age Pensioner to die. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Monday afternoon, the Vicar officiating, The mourners were Mr Frederick Hepher (brother) Mr & Mrs Samuel Hepher, Mr Robert Hepher, Mr James Hepher, Mr Arthur Hepher, (nephews) Mrs J Payne, Mrs Albert Daintree, Miss F Hepher, (nieces) Mr W.J. Hepher, (grandnephew) and Mr Ebenezer Prime. Mr Robinson Mitham was the undertaker.

BAND OF HOPE. 26th February 1909

On Thursday 18th, the members of Bethel Band of Hope gave an entertainment in the Schoolroom attached to the Chapel, which was crowded with an appreciative audience. The young people acquitted themselves well. Miss A Goad presided at the harmonium, and thanks were accorded her for her kind and practical interest in the good work.

LATE GEORGE LONG. 5th March 1909

In accordance with the terms of the bequest of the late Mr George Long, J.P., the bell of the Parish Church were rung during the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, 2nd instant, the anniversary of his birthday,

A GRIEVANCE. 5th March 1909

Country Butchers standing in Cambridge Market are complaining bitterly of the depredation of certain presumably hungry persons who have on several Saturdays lately surreptitiously relieved them of meat, not only small pieces, but substantial joints such as legs of mutton. Amongst the butchers victimised are Robert Williamson, (beef & leg of mutton) and Walter Spolton, (beef and pork) of Swavesey. Mr Spolton has also lost two butcher's baskets, one of which had his initials "W.S. – B." painted on its side.

SNOW STORM. 5th March 1909

Snow fell heavily during Tuesday night, and early on Wednesday morning, the ground was covered to a depth of from six to eight inches. The drifts were considerably deeper. The road authorities, both County and District, set to work to clear the roads with highly commendable promptitude. Snow ploughs were brought into use early in the morning, and extra men were employed. Mr Johnson, the surveyor of Swavesey District Council, was most energetic in personally superintending the clearance of the road under his charge.

DEATH OF OLD INHABITANT. 5th March 1909

We regret to record the death at the age of 68 of Mr Benjamin Parish of Boxworth End, which occurred yesterday Thursday morning at seven o'clock. Mr Parish worked for many years for Mr Thornhill, of Boxworth. This severe weather is working sad havoc amongst the elderly people of the village, and there are several cases of severe illness in more than one of which a fatal termination is feared.

HEARTS OF OAK. 5th March 1909

A public meeting of members and others interested in the formation of a medical association was held in the White Horse Club Room on Monday evening, and was largely attended. Mr A.E. Saunders presided, supported by Mr G.H. Barnsdale, of Cambridge, chairman of the London Executive Committee, Mr J.R. Ingram and H.G. Parker (St Ives). The officers for the year were elected as follow:- President, Mr A.E. Saunders, Vice President, Mr Twist, Hon Secretary and Treasurer, F. Williams. The meeting adjourned until Saturday evening to settle the question of the appointment of a doctor for a medical agency.

PARISH COUNCIL. 12th March 1909

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Friday evening, at which were present Messrs J.D. Daintree, J. Gilby, E.J. Warboys, H. Wilderspin, and Robinson Mitham, clerk. The only business was the selection of a parish constable for the ensuing year.

Bethel Baptist Chapel 12th March 1909.

The Rev W.H. Stevens, lately of Grove Church, Stratford, London, the newly appointed Pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, entered upon his duties in Swavesey on Sunday last, and officiated throughout the day. The services were marked by no special features.

NATIONAL SCHOOL 12th March 1909

The National School which had been closed for a fortnight in consequence of illness amongst the children, was re-opened on Monday last.

HEARTS OF OAK. 12th March 1909

The adjourned meeting of the recently formed Hearts of Oak Medical Assoc. for Swavesey was held at the White Horse on Saturday evening, Mr A.E. Saunders, president, in the chair. Dr J.W. Ellis was appointed medical officer.

WOMEN'S LIBERAL ASSOC. 12th March 1909

A public meeting, under the auspices of the Women's Liberal Assoc. (Swavesey Branch.), preceded by tea, was held in the Friend's Meeting House, Black Horse Lane, on Monday evening. Mrs Tillyard presided, and Miss Verrall, of Cambridge delivered an address. Mr G. Toulmin (hon secretary) of the University Liberal Assoc., who was announced as a speaker, was not present. The attendance was small.

ACCIDENT. 12th March 1909

About 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon, a cyclist proceeding to Peterborough from Cambridge, met with a nasty accident near the New Inn, on the Huntingdon Road, being thrown from his machine, through a workman's basket he was carrying slipping between the wheels. He was seen by Mr William Thorp, of Swavesey, lying in the road in a dazed state and apparently suffering from injury to his hip. Mr Thorp assisted him to the New Inn and there had him supplied with brandy. Sergeant Chevill, accompanied by P.C. Howe, passed the Inn shortly afterwards, and Mr Thorp placed the injured man in their hands. The man recovered a little, though unfit to proceed on his journey, so the Sergeant had him conveyed to his lodgings, in New Chesterton, in one of Messrs Lacon & Co.'s carts, which happened to be returning to Cambridge.

OBITUARY. 12th March 1909

Between Thursday, the 4th inst., and Sunday. 7th inclusive, four deaths occurred in Swavesey, two of the deceased being Old Age Pensioners. Mr Benjamin Parish, who was at work on the previous Saturday, passed away on Thursday, at the age of 64 years, while Mrs Aaron Metcalfe, aged 83 and Mrs Daniel Wilderspin, aged 81, died on Saturday, both having been laid up for a week only. On Sunday morning Mr William Wright, junior, of Market Street, died. He was at work for the District Council on Friday last.

Mr Parish was buried in the Churchyard on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. A.C. Vidler, officiating. The under mentioned mourners followed:- Mrs W. Edwards, daughter, Mr James Parish, Mr & Mrs Fred Parish, Mr David Parish, Mr James Parish, brothers & daughter-in-law. and nephews and nieces of the deceased. Mr F. Ellwood represented Mr E.H. Thornhill, J.P. of Boxworth. Upon the coffin were family wreaths and from the servants at Boxworth Manor.

FUNERAL. 12th March 1909

The funeral of Mrs Sarah Wilderspin, widow of the late Daniel Wilderspin, who died in 1875, took place in the cemetery on Wednesday afternoon. Her remains were followed to the grave by Mrs Porter, Miss Emma Wilderspin, Mr & Mrs T. Cracknell (daughters & son-in-law), Mr & Mrs Herbert Wilderspin, Mr & Mrs S. Wilderspin, Mr Joseph Wilderspin, (sons & daughters-in-law.) Mrs Arthur Allen, Over. (granddaughter). Mrs Wilderspin left four sons, three daughters, thirty seven grandchildren, and three great grandchildren. She was for upwards of 50 years a member of the Bethel Baptist Chapel, and at the time of her death she was the second oldest member of the community. For upwards of sixty years she had lived in Swavesey, and had resided on the same estate for the whole of that time, with the exception of a short interval of seven years.

FUNERAL. 12th March 1909

The remains of Mrs Esther Metcalfe were interred in the Churchyard on Wednesday afternoon in the presence of the following mourners, Mr James Metcalfe, Mr & Mrs Edmund Metcalfe, Mr & Mrs Samuel J. Metcalfe, (sons & daughters-in-law) Mr & Mrs W. Day, (brother), Mr John Hodson, Mrs John Mortlock, Mr William Thorp, Miss Annie Garner, Mrs P. Hephher, Mrs Bowd, and Miss F. Daisley. The Vicar officiated. Mrs Metcalfe was the widow of the late Mr Aaron Metcalfe, a well known thatcher, of Swavesey, who died upwards of twenty years ago. Mr Robinson Mitham was the undertaker.

SUCCESS. 19th March 1909

Miss L. Beaumont, only daughter of Mr Henry Beaumont, schoolmaster of Swavesey National School, and Miss L.Mitham, eldest daughter of Mr Robinson Mitham, have passed the final examination for certificated teachers, under the Board of Education. Miss Beaumont is a teacher at Swavesey School, and Miss Mitham holds a similar post at Somersham, Hunts.

SAD DEATH, 19th March 1909

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 30 years, of Mrs Kate Brasher, wife of Mr Albert Brasher, which occurred about midday on Sunday. On Wednesday, the 3rd instant, Mrs Brasher's week old baby died in convulsions. Prior to her marriage last year, Mrs Brasher, who was the third daughter of Mr John Hodson, thatcher, Swavesey, had for some years been employed by the Post Office on part of their morning delivery of letters in the village, and had made herself very popular. Her death, especially in the sad circumstances, has called forth universal expressions of regret and sympathy. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) in Swavesey Churchyard. The family desire to thank their many friends for their kind enquires and sympathy.

FRIENDS MEETING HOUSE. 19th March 1909

On Monday evening the annual public meeting in connection with the Friends Adult School was held in the Friends Meeting House, and in spite of the inclement weather a very good company was present. Mr J.T. Allen, of Wisbech, presided. A stirring and inspiring addresses were given by Mr Murkin (Cambridge) and Mr Toseland (Fenstanton) During the evening Mr Burgess(St Ives) sang solos, and Miss Goad, ably presided at the organ. A most encouraging report was submitted by Miss F. Gaunt, secretary of the School. The meeting was preceded by a public tea, at which a good number sat down.

CONFLAGRATION. 19th March 1909

Last Friday evening the dwellers in Church End and the late shop goers were all agog. The large street lamp at the end of Taylor's Lane was alight. That fact alone some irreverent ratepayer might be inclined to suggest bordered on the unusual, but the lamp was alight in another way. Not only did the flame come from the wick, but from the oil reservoir as well, Flames and smoke belched forth as from a furnace. A bystander proposed that the Parish fire engine should be sent for, as he thought that machine might not only be useful, but might be the better for a little exercise after twelve months rest. The suggestion, however, was not entertained, as it was considered to border on profanity. So the lamp-lighter was summoned, and he, after much difficulty, extinguished the fire, but not before the lamp and its fitting was seriously damaged. It is understood that the question of public lighting this year is likely to be brought up at the annual Parish Meeting, which will be held shortly.

NEWS FROM AUSTRALIA 19th March 1909

A letter has been received from Mr Ezra J Williams, now resident in Sydney, New South Wales, eldest son of Mr John Williams of Swavesey. Mr Williams gives a glowing account of life in his newly adopted country. It is the finest country, he declares that anyone can emigrate to. It is full of sport. Cricket is played everywhere. He has been playing in one of the best second-grade clubs. As regards financial consideration, he speaks in glowing terms. There is lots of money to be made in Australia, and he adds “if any Swavesey boys come this way they can rest assured that they will get a dinner if they want one, and they cannot make a mistake in coming here if they will work”. The climate, he says, is lovely. Wages are good – nothing less than 7s a day in the cities for a working man, and anyone can live at the rate of 15s a week. Some things, such as beer, cigarettes, clothing, are dear, but other necessities, such as meat, are very cheap.

FUNERAL, 26th March 1909

Amidst many sighs of sorrow, and in the presence of a large assemblage of sympathising friends, the funeral of Mrs Kate Brasher, wife of Mr Albert Brasher took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Thursday afternoon 18th inst. The Blinds of nearly every house were drawn, and the shutters of shops put up on route from Turn Bridge Row to the Church. In the absence of the Vicar, the Rev. T. E. Beckett, vicar of Over, officiated. The under mentioned mourners followed:- Mr Albert Brasher, (husband) Miss C.E. Hodson, (sister), Mr John Hodson, (father) Mr & Mrs W.H. Hodson, (brother) Mr & Mrs W. Howlett, Mr & Mrs S. King, Messrs Walter, Bert, and E.H. Hodson, (brothers) Mrs G Walker, Mr Charles & Miss F. Metcallfe, (Elsworth), Messrs Charles & George Burling, Mr Butterworth, (Needingworth) and the Misses E. King & C. Crisp. Upon the coffin were beautiful wreaths from the bereaved husband, brothers, and sisters.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 26th March 1909

Recognition services, in connection with the settlement of the Rev. W. H. Stevens, the newly- appointed pastor, will be held in Bethel Baptist Chapel, on Thursday next, 1st April.

DEATH OF AGED INHABITANT. 26th March 1909

Having been bedridden, and for nine years unable to stand on her feet, Mrs Sarah Edwards, died on Monday last, at the residence of her widowed daughter, Mrs Wright, in Gibraltar Lane. Mrs Edwards who was in her 90th year, was the widow of Mr James Edwards, a native of Swavesey, but for a considerable time in his later days resident in Over.

MANY DEATHS. 26th March 1909

Between the 14th February and the 22nd instant, inclusive, no less than ten deaths have occurred in Swavesey, a most usual record. Of the ten deceased, four were between 80 and 90 years of age, one 72, one 64, one 59, one 30, and two infants.

PARISH COUNCIL 26th March 1909.

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Tuesday, the following being present;- Rev A.C. Vidler (chairman) Messrs. W.H.Key, (vice chairman) J.Gilby, J.S.Goad, G.Metcalf, William T.Thorpe, E.J.Warboys, J.Wells, H.Wilderspin, and Robinson Mitham, (clerk). The annual accounts were considered and passed. It was decided that tenders should be invited for the herbage on the Recreation Ground. Mr W.T.Thorpe drew attention to the unsatisfactory way in which the street lamps had been attended to this winter. Some discussion ensued and it was resolved that the Clerk should see the lamplighter in the matter. Mr Gilby called attention to the dilapidated stile on the footpath to Fendrayton, and the necessary repairs were ordered to be carried out at once. Mr Wells complained of the faulty condition of the Causeway near the Swan Pond, and it was agreed that the attention of the Assistant Road Surveyor should be directed to the matter. Finally, the Council gave directions that the well on the Parish property in the High Street should be domed over with brickwork, a lid being let into the top.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST CHAPEL. 26th March 1909.

The Long Stanton Wesleyan Choir rendered a Service of Song entitled "Old Glory", in the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Monday evening. Mrs Watts White presided and Mr Tibbett of Dry Drayton gave the connective readings. Mr Chapman of Long Stanton was accompanist. There was a good attendance, and the collection for the lighting, etc. of the Chapel realized 14s 9d.

NEW PASTOR, 9th April 1909

The recognition service of the Rev. W.H. Stevens, the new pastor of the Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, on Thursday afternoon was attended by a large congregation drawn from the village and neighbourhood. The service was conducted by the Rev Chas Joseph, of Cambridge, who preached a striking and helpful sermon. He specially appealed for unity and co-operation amongst members of the chapel. A public tea, at which 100 persons were present followed the service, and later in the evening a public meeting was held, Mr R. Cater, Mayor of Huntingdon, presided. At the conclusion of the meeting he urged his hearers to support their new pastor by giving him their sympathy and co-operation and thus making his ministry amongst them such that he might in days to come, look back upon the period of his life and work in Swavesey, as the happiest time in his life.

TECHNICAL CLASS. 9th April 1909

The Evening woodwork class at the National School, under the County Education Authority, brought a successful season to a close last week. The class had been held during the winter months for the last 15 years under the same instructor, Mr Walter Thorp.

DROVE LETTING, 9th April 1909

By order of the Swavesey Rural District Council the annual Drove-way herbage letting was held on Tuesday evening at the White Horse Inn, in the presence of a good company. The prices realised were about the same as late years. Mr C.W. Underwood of Willingham, was the auctioneer.

INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT. 9th April 1909

Many of our readers will be interested to learn that Mr Ben Thorp, the well known cyclist and skater, is to be married on Wednesday next to Miss Hannah Richardson, at Caldbeck Church, near Wigton, Cumberland. The grave of the famous huntsman, John Peel, is in Caldbeck churchyard.

MISHAP TO AGED LADY. 9th April 1909

Mrs Jonas Thorp, who for many years has been the highly respected landlady of the Swan Inn, a hostelry patronised by fishermen and skaters on Mere Fen, had the misfortune to fall from a stool on Tuesday afternoon and somewhat seriously injured her right arm. Two ex-police constables, Messrs J. Gilby and C.W. Gray, rendered first aid, and subsequently Dr Ellis was called in. Mrs Thorp is going on well as can be expected.

A SWAVESEY OCTOGENARIAN. 9th April 1909

We regret to announce the death, early on Good Friday morning, of Mr Thomas Watson Carter, at his residence, "The Poplars" Swavesey. He was the second son of the late Mr Joseph Carter, and was born 84 years ago at Trinity College Farm, Swavesey, then and for years previously in the occupation of his father, whom he succeeded. At Trinity College Farm he remained until two or three years ago: indeed, he continued to live in the farmhouse after he had given up the land, until at Michaelmas, 1907, he removed to "The Poplars" only a hundred yards or so distant. Mr Carter was well known and highly respected as a farmer and as a supporter of the Baptist cause. Bethel Baptist Chapel, with the foundation of which his uncle was deeply concerned, owes a heavy debt of gratitude to him for his never failing generosity, care, and interest. For 58 years he was a deacon; for half a century he held the offices of Sunday School Superintendent and Treasurer of the Chapel. In public parochial matters he was a Guardian of the Poor, Parish Surveyor, Trustee of Galon's Charity, School Manager, etc. Mr Carter married somewhat late in life Miss Harriet Curtiss, of Swavesey, who survives him.

DEATH OF MR JOHN MITHAM. 2nd April. 1909

It is with great regret that we announce the death of Mr John Mitham, Clare College Farm, Lolworth, which occurred on Tuesday afternoon, after a few days illness. Mr Mitham, who was 45 years of age, belonged to a very old Swavesey family, being the younger son of the late Mr John Mitham, of Swavesey. He was at St. Ives Market on Monday, 22nd ultimo, and is believed to have caught a cold when riding home. On the following day he was obliged to take to his bed, and despite every attention succumbed a week later to bronchi pneumonia. Mr Mitham has left a widow, eldest daughter of Mr James Wells, Swavesey and three young sons and a daughter. He had been at Clare Farm some eighteen years, and had the well deserved reputation of being an excellent farmer. Greatly respected by all with whom he came in contact, his loss will be keenly felt, especially in Lolworth and Swavesey. In parish business matters he rendered most useful and unselfish service, having at one time and another held most parochial offices. For some years he has been rector's churchwarden. The funeral will take place tomorrow, Saturday afternoon in Swavesey churchyard.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 16th April 1909.

The annual meat tea of the Swavesey Conservative Association will be held at the National School on Monday next at 7 p.m. Captain E.W.Morrison-Bell and Mr C.W.Stanley will be present, and the tea will be followed by speeches and an entertainment.

ACCIDENT. 16th April 1909.

On Tuesday, 6th instant, Mr Charles Crisp, hay dealer, narrowly escaped a very serious, and possible fatal accident. When cutting hay at Over his assistant dropped the cutting heavy knife from the top of the stack onto Mr Crisp, who was on the ground below. Fortunately only the end of the blade near the handle struck the side of Mr Crisp's head, but it inflicted a nasty cut, and Mr Crisp lost a good deal of blood.

PARISH CHURCH. 16th April 1909.

The numerous services at the Parish Church on Good Friday and Easter Day were well attended. At the three celebrations of Holy Communion, 114 persons were communicants, viz. 60 at a.m. 21 at 7.30. and 33 at the midday choral service. The fine old church was simply, but effectively decorated, and the choir sang well. The music was as follows Matins, Te Deum. (Mauder), Communion Service, (Marbecke), Evensong, Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis, (C. Simper) and the anthem by Simper, "Christ being raised from the dead" (bass solo). Mr J.Gilby tenor solo, Mr A.Prime). The organist Mr G.H.Skeeles played "Prehide" (H Smart) "Lied" (Wolstenholme), "Song of Faith" (Churchill Sibley), and "Deus Tibi" (Mozart).

PARISH COUNCIL. 16th April 1909

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Thursday, 8th instant, at which were present Rev. A.C. Vidler(chairman) Messrs W.H. Key(vice-chairman), J.T. Daintree, J. Gilby, J.S. Goad, G. Metcalfe, William T. Thorp, E.J. Warboys, J.Wells, H. Wilderspin and Robinson Mitham, clerk. Mr Thorp referred to the death of Mr John Mitham, who was so closely connected to the parish. He proposed that the chairman should send a letter of condolences to Mrs John Mitham, The question of the disposal of two old pumps belonging to the parish was considered It was decided that Mr W, Hephher should have the use of the pump on the High Street property on condition he repaired it at his own expense, while an offer for the Dock Pump was accepted. Mr John Williams tender for the herbage on the recreation ground was also accepted. Other matters dealt with were the final settlement with the lamplighter, the repair of a gate on Church Green, and a stile on Hale footpath, the proposed County Rate Basis, and the disposal of the balance of £1 16s 6d allocated to the Council by Coronation Festivities Committee, in October 1902, for levelling the recreation ground. Mr Wilderspin proposed that a low brick wall, with openings each end, should be erected in front of the Chapel Pond.

A SUGGESTION. 16th April 1909

A correspondent hopes that now the attention has been called in the Parish Council to the unsatisfactory condition of the Chapel pond, the matter will not be lost sight of. He suggests that a strong iron rail would be quite as effective as the brick wall proposed by Mr Wilderspin, and would cost less.

A HINT. 23rd April 1909

If the Parish Councillors wish to avoid the possibility of trouble they should see that the gate by the bridge on Church Green, now off its hinges, is repaired and replaced immediately. It is stated that one villager was throwndown the other evening, bu fortunately not injured, by a cord which until a day or so ago blocked the entrance to the bridge. A stick nailed at the height of about 4feet above the ground has since been substituted, but stout and elderly persons, and there are more than one in the village, experience difficulty in stooping under obstruction, which whether cord or stick, is a danger to persons using the path across the green in the dark. Orders were given for the gate to be repaired without delay at the Parish Council meeting on the 8th instant.

MOTHERS UNION. 23rd April 1909.

A meeting of ladies was held at the vicarage on Tuesday evening with a view of establishing a branch of the Mother's Union in Swavesey. The Vicar presided. After Mrs Drake, of Leverington Rectory, Wisbech, had explained the objects of the Union and the useful work it was doing, it was unanimously decided to form a branch in the village. Mrs Cooksey has undertaken to act as enrolling member.

ACCIDENT. 23rd April 1909

On Monday afternoon Mr Jabez Parish, coal merchant, Swavesey, met with a slight accident whilst unloading coal from a railway truck into a cart at Swavesey Station. Mr Parish was standing on the door of the truck when the horse moved and knocked the prop away, with the result that the door dropped, and he fell heavily to the ground and injured his right arm.

S.P.C.K. 23rd April 1909

A meeting was held in the Parish Room on Wednesday in furthrance of the objects of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge. The Rev A. Shillito, organising secretary for the Southern District, delivered an interesting and instructive address.

PARISH COUNCIL. 23rd April 1909

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday, the 15th instant, at which were present the Rev. A.C. Vidler (chairman) Messrs W.H. Key, J Gilby, J.S. Goad, George Metcalfe, William T. Thorp, E.J. Warboys, J. Wells and Robinson Mitham. clerk. The Rev A.C. Vidler and Mr W.H. Key were re elected chairman & Vice Chairman. Messrs S.W. Crisp & Arthur Norman were appointed overseers, and Mr S. Wilderspin, sen, pindar. Authority was given to the Lighting Committee to have the street lamps overhauled and repaired, and on the motion of the Chairman, a vote of condolence with Mrs T.W. Carter on the death of her husband was carried.

MARRIAGE OF MR BEN THORP. 23rd April 1909

A wedding of considerable interest to Swavesey people was celebrated at 2pm on Wednesday, 14th inst., in Caldbeck parish church, Cumberland, when Mr Ben Thorp. of Swavesey, so well known in cycling, skating and Yeomanry circles, was married to Miss Hannah Richardson, of Woodhall, Heskethnewmarket, Cumberland. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr John Richardson, and was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Agnes Thorp, sister of the bridegroom. Mr Joe Richardson acted as best man.

As the bridal party left the church the bridegroom and best man scattered coppers amongst the children in accordance with the old Cumberland custom.

LATE JAMES DODSON. 23rd April 1909

The funeral of the late Mr James Alfred Dodson, whose death at the early age of 29 years was recorded last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on the afternoon of Wednesday, 14th instant, in the presence of many sympathising friends. At the gates of the Churchyard the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar, met the body and the mourners: Miss Sophia Dodson (aunt) and others. As the sad procession moved up the nave the choir, sang the hymn "Peace perfect peace. The Easter hymn, " The strife is o'er the battle done" being sung after the lesson. Upon the coffin were wreaths and other floral tributes from the Misses S & A Dodson, (aunts) and others. Muffled peals were rang on the church bells under the arrangement of Mr John Williams, Mr David Prime acting as conductor. Mr Robinson Mitham was the undertaker.

PARISH MEETING. 23rd April 1909

The annual parish meeting was held at the National School on Thursday, 15th instant, the Rev A.C. Vidler, presiding. Amongst those present were Messrs H.S. Aldred, H. Beaumont, G. Clarke, J.S. Goad, W.H. Key, Jethro Linford, G. Metcalfe, A. Norman, E. Parish, A.T. Scard, James Smith, J. Strapps, Walter Thorp, William Thorp, E.J. Warboys, A.J. Willson, J. Wells, and R.

Mitham, (clerk.) After the Overseer's, Parish Council, and Galon's Charity accounts had been read, Mr G. Clarke raised an animated discussion respecting last season's street lighting contract, in which others took part. More than one speaker thought the village did not need street lamps, and one gentleman, who stated that he usually stayed in doors during the dark winter evenings, offered to propose a resolution abolishing the lamps if anyone would second him. No one did, and the subject dropped. Mr William Thorp called attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the public drains under the control of Swavesey Rural District Council. He complained that the outlet into the river were blocked, and that the drains were full of mud, yet, a new drain had been laid in the middle of the village, which therefore had no proper outlet. A beginning was, he said, being made at the wrong end, and rate payers' money was being wasted in consequence. Mr Metcalfe and other gentlemen strongly supported Mr Thorp. In the result Mr Thorp moved a resolution that the chairman should write to the District Council requesting that the drains which mainly affect the village should be cleared out at the earliest practical moment, a beginning being made at the end nearest the river.

B.W.T.A. 30th April 1909

The closing meeting of the winter season of the Swavesey branch of the British Women's Temperance Assoc. was held at the Friends Meeting House on Monday evening, Mr H.S. Aldred presided and Miss Gautrey of Chatteris, gave an admirable address. There was a fair attendance.

CHURCH GREEN GATE. 30th April 1909

The gate on the Church Green, to which attention was called in our last issue, was repaired and replaced during the afternoon of Thursday of last week

PARISH CHURCH 30th April 1909

The vestry meeting of the parish church was held in the National School of last week, when the annual accounts for church expenses, etc., were submitted. The Vicar presided, and there was a fair attendance. The accounts showed a deficit of about £4, but it is pleasing to record that this was practically wiped out during the evening by subscriptions in the room.

FRIENDS MEETING HOUSE. 30th April 1909

The members of the mothers' meeting and the children of the Band of Hope in connection with the friends Meeting House had their annual gathering to bring the season to a close on the 19th instant. After business had been transacted, the company sat down to tea. A public meeting followed, at which Mr J.B.

Near, of Wisbech, took the chair, and Mrs Crosfield, of Cambridge, delivered an interesting address. The children gave recitations and dialogues, and hymns were sung, [Mis May Norman, of Swavesey, presiding at the harmonium. The past season's work has been most successful, and great credit is due to Miss Gaunt, who has charge of the Friends' Mission.

DEFECTIVE STILE. 30th April 1909

A correspondent writes:- The gate on Church Green has been attended to, but when is the stile on the footpath to Fen Drayton going to be put right. If not seen to at once it will, like the walls of Jericho, fall to the ground. What with its shaky condition, and the ragged stake in the middle which projects some inches above the top bar, and the well-worn steps, it is most difficult for persons, like myself, who are not so young, or as light as they used to be, to get over. If the stile came to the ground beneath the weight of a ponderous wayfarer an awkward accident might result, and who would be liable for the damages?.

HOMECOMING. 30th April 1909

There was considerable excitement at Swavesey Station on Monday evening, when shortly after 9 o'clock Mr Ben Thorp & his bride alighted from the Midland train. A good crowd of friends, including a few ladies, had gathered to welcome the happy couple, and amidst cheers they were escorted to one of Mr Thorp's motor cars, to which ropes had been attached, and dragged home. The helpers included: Messrs S.Carter, G., E., and A. Conquest, E.J. Mitham, J.Gilby, Walter Ding, A.J. Willson, R. Williamson, P.V. Maltby, S. Perry, Arthur Garner, Fred Hephher, and W. Twist. On their arrival home Mr & Mrs Thorp were met by members of the family, and having said "Good Night" to their enthusiastic and perspiring friends, disappeared from view amidst a final storm of cheers.

DEATH OF AGED PREACHER, 30th April 1909

We regret to record the death, at the age of 73, of Mr John Mortlock, which occurred at Church End, Swavesey, on Thursday 22nd inst. Mr Mortloc, who had been in failing health for the past four years, was the son of the late Mr John Mortlock, of Swavesey. He was a master bricklayer, having worked in Swavesey for sixteen years prior to which he followed his trade in Lincolnshire for seventeen years. He was a member of the Particular Baptist connection, and was well-known as a local preacher. For several years he used to preach on one Sunday a month at Catworth and Billingboro', and also at Stretham. He was in receipt of an old age pension. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon in Swavesey cemetery. Mr C.S. Cannon, of Over, officiating. The following mourners attended. The widow, Mrs Kate Massey,(daughter) Messrs E. G. B. J, W. & J.H. Mortlock, (sons) T. Mortlock, (brother) Mrs J. Taylor, (sister) Mr C. Taylor (nephew) Mesdames G. B. J. W. & J.H. Mortlock (daughters-in-law) Mr A. Massey (son-in-law) and others. Mr Thompson Mortlock, the youngest son and successor in business was unable to attend because of illness. Robinson Mitham, carried out the funeral arrangements.

DEARER TOBACCO. 7th May 1909.

The increased price of tobacco consequent on the Budget, says a correspondent, has not been received with satisfaction by the working men smokers in the village, and some have been heard to declare that they will give up smoking. Half-ounce packets of shag hitherto sold for three halfpence are now 2 pence each, and an ounce costs three and one half pence. Smokers want to know why a tax was not imposed on bicycles. Spirit drinkers say they will drink beer in future, but what will they do, asks our correspondent, if the price of beer is increased.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 7th May 1909

The anniversary services were held on Tuesday. The afternoon service was conducted by the Rev. A. J. Palmer of Grove Congregational Church, Stratford, Essex, assisted by the Rev A.C. Ashpool, (Willingham Tabernacle) and Rev W.H. Stevens, (pastor). Mr Palmer preached a striking and helpful sermon, on the unspeakable gifts, amongst these were, he said, light, sight, sound, mind, and health. He referred feelingly to the loss the community had sustained by the death of the late Mr J.W. Carter, whom he spoke of as an upright man, and praised for his steadfastness to his principles as a Nonconformist. Mr Palmer preached again in the evening. Between the services a public tea was held, at which 95 persons sat down. The Tables were presided over by Miss Brand, Miss H Smith, Miss Hayes, Mrs W.C. Cole, Mrs Wimpres, Mrs Godfrey, Mrs Stevens and Mrs C.Prior.

OUT-RELIEF 14th May 1909

The decision of the St Ives Board of Guardians, to grant increased relief to persons 70years of age and upwards in order to put them on practically the same footing as old age pensioners has given greatest satisfaction to all concerned.

RURAL DISTRICT COUNCIL, 14th May 1909

At a recent annual meeting of Swavesey Rural District Council Mr Fred Kirby, an Over Representative, was appointed vice-chairman in place of Mr John Kieby of Boxworth. Mr Jacob Frohock, of Lolworth, was re-elected chairman.

CRICKET. 14th May 1909

Swavesey Cricket Club played the first match of the season on Saturday last, when the eleven visited St Ives and defeated the Grammar School first innings 25, second innings 41 for five wickets. S.J. Froment, who was top scorer for Swavesey with 16 runs, bowled most effectively, taking eight wickets for 10 runs in the first innings and two wickets for 13 runs in the second.

WATER SUPPLY. 14th May 1909

The Rural District Council has appointed a committee, consisting of Swavesey District Councillors, Messrs W.C. Cole & A. Day, and the chairman and vice-chairman of the Parish Council to consider and report as to the Swavesey water supply. The matter will be discussed at the meeting of the District Council on Wednesday next. The question is of great moment to the ratepayers of Swavesey, as a scheme may be adopted involving heavy expenditure out of the rates. It has been suggested that if it is necessary to obtain water from a fresh source a supply should be laid on from the water works at Bourn and that the villages of Boxworth, Fendrayton, and Lolworth should be included in the scheme.

MARRIAGE OF MR FRANK DAY. 14th May 1909.

Many of our readers will be interested to learn that Mr Frank Day, eldest son of Mr Alfred Day, farmer, Guardian and District Councillor of Swavesey, was married on 25th March last in Canada, whither he went with three other Swavesey young men on March 27th 1907. The following account of the wedding is taken from "The Acton (Ontario) Free Press".

A very pretty wedding took place on Thursday, 20th March, at the home of the bride's parents, Lot 3. concession. 1. Erring, near Crewson's Corner, when Ella Leola, eldest daughter of Mr R.H.Wansbrough, was joined in wedlock to Mr Frank Day, eldest son of Mr Alfred Day, Mill Farm, Swavesey. Cambs., England. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D.H. Taylor, (pastor of the church attended by the bride, under an arch of evergreens tastefully decorated. Lohengrin's Wedding March was played by Mrs J. Edward Pearen, Erm.

MOTOR SMASH. 18th May 1909

The two cyclists, Frederick Robinson and Dick Wilderspin, who were admitted to Addenbrooke's Hospital on Sunday night suffering from the effects of a collision with a motor-car are making a favourable progress toward recovery. Further inquiries into the cause of the accident only accentuate the diversity of the evidence given by the motorists and the cyclists. One of the main points at issue is whether the care swerved before any of the cyclist were struck, and upon that point the marks upon the road, which was examined shortly after the accident, will have a important bearing. Another point is whether the half-dozen cyclists were riding in single file, and there the evidence obtainable is absolutely conflicting.

The Motorist's Story.

James Fletcher, driver of the car, who had been driving for the Cambridge Automobile & Engineering Company for eight or nine months, tell his story very simply. He says, On Sunday evening I was driving along the Huntingdon Road towards Cambridge, and just before reaching the Five Bells, I saw four lights in the distance coming down the hill. I sounded my horn, but the lights still came on. They were spread out across the road. I took out the 'clutch' to slow down, and when passing them the outside cyclist smashed into the front of the car. His cycle became entangled with the steering gear, and made the car swerve across the road. I am certain the car did not swerve before the car struck the first cyclist.

The Cyclist's Version.

In contrast the statement of George Norman of Over, says as follows: We were proceeding in single file from Cambridge, and when at the bottom of the Five Bell's hill, about 10.15 pm. met a motor-car, followed by a taxi-cab, both being in the middle of the road. We were riding on our right side close to the grass. When about twelve yards away, the motor-car turned suddenly on to L.Thorpe who was leading, and threw him over. I was able to escape by falling off my machine. The others turned more onto the grass but the car followed, and knocked them over one after the other. Robinson and Wilderspin were badly hurt. Four out of the six cycles were damaged, three being smashed. The car, a Coventry Humber, is damaged to the extent of between £40 and £50.

ANCIENT SHEPHERDS. 21st May 1900.

The Royal Wheat sheaf Lodge of Shepherds, now held at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey possesses some ancient members. The Lodge was established at the Wheat sheaf Inn, Boxworth End, on the 5th February, 1850, on which day Mr Joseph Gilling was enrolled. Mr Thomas Prior joined about the same time, and Mr Herbert Williams three years later. All three gentlemen have remained members to this day. The headquarters of the Lodge have changed several times in the course of 50 years of its existence. On the Wheat sheaf becoming a private house, the Lodge migrated to the Cricketers in High Street, and when that hostelry closed its doors to a thirsty public, to the George & Dragon, in Market Street. Four years ago the licence of the George & Dragon was surrendered, and the Lodge was transferred to the White Horse. Years ago there were at least 20 licensed houses in Swavesey. Now there are 10, one of which has been referred for compensation.

CRICKET CLUB. 21st May 1909

Captain E.W. Morrison Bell, the prospective Unionist candidate for West Cambs, has forwarded his usual subscription to the Swavesey Cricket Club.

THE FEAST. 21st May 1909

Sunday next will see the beginning of the annual feast. On that day the services at the church will be of a festal character, and special music will be sung. A special attraction is announced for Tuesday evening in the shape of a theatrical performance in the National School by members of the Huntingdon Dramatic Society, under the general management of Mr W.H. Clayton. The amusing farce, "A Silent Woman" and a screaming comedy, "My Wife's Second Floor" are to be given. The proceeds will be given to the fund for altering the vestry of the church. Two half-day cricket matches have been arranged against Lolworth and Over.

EMPIRE DAY. 21st May 1909.

As the National School will be closed next week in consequence of the feast, Empire Day was celebrated by the children yesterday, (Thursday) . At 11 o'clock the Vicar, who is chairman of the school managers, accompanied by Miss Vidler and Mt H.S. Aldred, addressed the youngsters on the subject of the British Empire. Self- sacrifice and a stern determination to do their duty were, he said, the dominant motives of the Statesmen, soldiers and sailors who had built up the Empire, and of British people generally. Led by the schoolmaster, Mr H. Beaumont, the children then sang the " Empire song" saluting the Union Jack at the end of each verse. “ God Save the King” followed, after which the Vicar announced a half-holiday.

QBITUARY. 21st May 1909

Mrs Mary Ann Dodson, widow of the late Mr Philip Dodson, of Swavesey died on Saturday, aged 66 years, at the residence of her brother-in-law, of Gt Eastern- street, Cambridge. Mrs Dodson, who was the daughter of the Mr James Radford, butcher, of Oakington and Cambridge market. The funeral took place in Swavesey churchyard on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar officiating.

ANCIENT SHEPHERDS. 21st May 1909

The Royal Wheatsheaf Lodge of Shepherds, now held at the White Horse Inn Swavesey, possesses some ancient members. The Lodge was established at the Wheatsheaf Inn, Boxworth End, on the 5th February, 1850 on which day Mr Joseph Gillings was enrolled, Mr Thomas Prior joining about the same time, and Mr Herbert Williams three years later. All remain members to this day.

In the 59 years of its existence the headquarters of the Lodge has changed several times. On the Wheatsheaf becoming a private house, the Lodge migrated to the Cricketers in the High Street, and when that hostelry closed its doors to a thirsty public, to the George & Dragon in Market Street. Four years ago the licence of the George & Dragon was surrendered; the Lodge was transferred to the White Horse. Years ago there were at least 20 licensed houses in Swavesey, now there are 10, one of which has been referred for compensation.

RURAL DEANERY OF NORTH STOWE. 21st May 1909

A meeting of the Conference of clergy and laity in this Rural Deanery was held at Swavesey on Thursday of last week under the presidency of the Rural Dean, the Rev A.C. Vidler, vicar of Swavesey. There were 12 clergy and 20 of the laity present.

CRICKET. 21st May 1909

A cricket match between Swavesey & Longstanton was played at Swavesey on Thursday of last Week, when the home team won by 21 runs on the first innings.

RURAL DISTRICT COUNCIL. 28th May 1909.

In our report last week on the analysis of the Swavesey water the word “satisfactory” should have been “Unsatisfactory”.

THE PARISH CHURCH, 28th May 1909.

The Vicar, choir, churchwardens, sidemen, ringers, church workers, etc. of the number of about seventy, were photographed in several groups on Ascension Day by Messrs. Stearns, of Cambridge.

EMPIRE DAY. 28th May 1909.

Early on Monday morning the bells of the parish church rang in honour of Empire Day. The school children, as recorded in our last issue, had the celebration on the 20th inst. in consequence of the School being closed this week on account of the village feast.

A DEFECTIVE PUMP. 28th May 1909

A resident in Middle Watch complains that while the public pump known locally as "Curtis" has recently had its wooden casing repaired and has been repainted, a far more important detail has been neglected, for nothing has been done to the bucket, which has been out of order for two or three months. It is, he says necessary to pour water down every morning in order to get the pump to act. He also mentions that the drain which should take away the waste water has been blocked for about six months.

FEAST. 28th May 1909

The village feast, that ancient annual festival has come ahd gone. Saturday afternoon and evening saw the arrival of many visitors, and early on Sunday morning the church bells rang merrily. The Services at the Parish Church were of a festal character. Open air services were held during the evening on the Recreation Ground by the Primitive Methodists and in Market Street amongst the feast people, led by the Rev W.H. Stevens of the Bethel Baptist Chapel. The attendance of show people and stall holders in Market St. was about average. Monday was a beautiful day, and the visitors were numerous, but the heavy rain on Tuesday & Wednesday, welcome though it was to farmers and gardeners, militated against a crowded gathering of visitors.

ENTERTAINMENT. 28th May 1909

A very successful entertainment was given in the National School on Feast Tuesday evening by members of the Huntingdon Amateur Dramatic Society under the capable management of Mr W.H. Clayton. Considering the state of the weather and the counter- attraction of the feast, the attendance was good. The programme, (an itemised list follows) All the performers acquitted themselves most creditably, and in view of the level of excellence, it would be invidious to select any individual for special commendation. The gross proceeds amounted to upwards £5 and after expenses are paid the balance will be devoted to the fund that is being raised to screen off the western end of the north aisle so as to form a vestry for the choir.

CRICKET 4th June 1909

Playing for Swavesey against the local club at Lonstanton on Whit-Monday. S.J. Froment took 14 wickets for 16 runs.

THE SCHOOL. 4th June 1909

The Diocesan Inspector, who recently visited the National School, has given a very satisfactory report of both the upper and infants divisions of the school.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 4th June 1909

The anniversary services in connection with the Particular Baptist Chapel were held on Wednesday afternoon and evening, and were well attended. There was a public tea in the chapel at 5 o'clock, at which a goodly number sat down.

DEFECTIVE STILES. 4th June 1909

A correspondent desires to know when the stile in Ramper-road leading from Cow Fen, will be repaired. It has been lying flat on the ground for some time past. The stile on the footpath to Fen Drayton is stated to be in a worse condition than ever. The Parish Council gave instructions for its immediate repair on the 8th April.

WHIT- SUNDAY 4th June 1909

The service at the parish church of St Andrews were well attended on Sunday last. The anthem, "If ye love Me, keep My Commandments" was sung, the treble solo being rendered by Masters Stanley Perry and Charles Hephher.

DOG KILLED. 4th June 1909

A pet dog, belonging to a visitor, was run over and killed instantly on Friday evening last in the High Street by a cart belonging to Messrs Norman Bros. filled with workmen returning home. The High Street is narrow at this point, and owing to the presence of buggy, a mail cart and a child's tricycle, with numerous children and adults, the dog, which apparently considered it had a sole right to the middle of the road, was not seen by the driver.

THE MYSTERIOUS AIRSHIP. 4th June 1909.

Mr Walter Lack, of Willingham and Swavesey, states that when in Taylor's Lane Swavesey, between 2.30 and 3.0'clock on Monday morning, he saw looking over Castle Close, a large object in the sky which had every appearance of being an airship. The object had "strong light at its head and another at the tail"; It appeared to be passing towards Huntingdon along the line of the high road from Cambridge. A Police Constable however, who was patrolling in the neighbourhood at the same time, saw nothing of the apparition.

OLD SIGNS. 4th June 1909.

An elderly inhabitant of Swavesey remembers seeing the following sign boards on houses in the village many years ago. (1) On the house in High Street, now tenanted by Mr Jesse Hephher, registrar of births and deaths, "James Hephher, Tailor, Barber, Bleeder & Tooth Drawer." Mr James Hephher, who also a tailor.

(2) On a cottage near Swan Pond now occupied by a chimney sweep, was a board, removed half a century ago with the inscription,

"J.Wicks lives here,

He sweeps chimneys far and near.

All they who choose on him to call,

He's willing to oblige them all."

MAN'S BAD CHARACTER, 4th June 1909

J. K., 28, labourer of Swavesey was summoned to appear at Shirehall on Saturday on a charge of assaulting George Unwin, of Swavesey. on May 24th, P.C. Howe proved service of summons. George Unwin, labourer, of Over stated that he was in the White Horse, Swavesey, and defendant took him unawares and hit him with his fist. Defendant hit him again and again. Witness had given no provocation. Harold Leggett, labourer, of Over, corroborated. Supt Webb, Deputy Chief Constable, stated that defendant was the most brutal man he knew, and that was saying a lot. Since his discharge from the army he had been up ten times, eight for assault. He assaulted people without the slightest provocation. He knocked a man down at St Ives, making him unconscious. A charge of doing grievous bodily harm was reduced to common assault, and he got two months. He was fined £2 for putting an old woman upside down in a water-butt at Swavesey, and served two months for an unprovoked assault on two women at Swavesey. A sentence of two month imprisonment was passed.

NEWS FROM GREATER BRITIAN, 11th June 1909

The pleasing intelligence has reached the village that MR Ezra John Williams, eldest son of Mr John Williams, coal merchant, and parish clerk, of Swavesey, was presented with a son and heir on 28th April. Mr E.J. Williams is in business in Sydney, New South Wales.

OLD SIGNS. 11th June 1909

In reference to the paragraph in our last week's issue respecting old signs. There is a probability of a chimney sweep's sign board, or rather a modern reproduction of it, being set up on a cottage near the Swan Pond. The house in High Street in which the tailor and toothdrawer's board appeared was built and owned by Mr James Hepher, the grandfather of the present tenant.

LOCAL YEOMANRY SUCCESSES. 11th June 1909

At the sports of the Northamptonshire Yeomanry, held at the camp in Milton Park, near Peterborough, on Whitsun Monday, Trooper Ben Thorp, of Swavesey, won the first prize in the hurdle race on Motor Car, and third prize in the 12-stone flat race on the same horse, running Corpl C.W. Townsend, of Longstanton, very close. Fen Drayton also scored a success at camp. Sergeant T. S. Johnson's section was awarded the squadron prize of £4 for the best drilled section.

WATER SUPPLY. 11th June 1909

An important meeting of ratepayers and residents of Swavesey was held at the National School on Tuesday night to consider the question of the village water supply. The Rev. A.C. Vidler, vicar and chairman of the parish council presided, and amongst the large audience, were Messrs, G.D. Day, Clerk to Swavesey R.D.C., Fred Kirby, vice-chairman, W.C. Cole & A. Day, district councillors. The proceeding at times threatened to be of a breezy nature, and it was evident that the bulk of those present were opposed to any interference with the existing source of supply. The Chairman explained how matters stood, and said that in his opinion the present system having been condemned, there were two alternatives open to the parish, viz., 1. to obtain a supply of water from East Hunts Waterworks, at Bourn, or 2. to pump water from the River Ouse, filter it, and store it in a reservoir. Mr William Thorp, seconded by Mr George Metcalfe, maintained that the present supply was ample, and the water good, and objected to the way the samples were taken to analysis. Mr G.D. Day then gave the history of the steps that had been taken to deal with the matter. He maintained that everything possible had been done to find a satisfactory source of supply locally. In his opinion it would not be advisable to get water from the river, and he strongly urged the parish to accept with good grace the proposal to lay on water from the East Hunts Waterworks. Mr Fred Kirby assured the meeting that the District Council were just as unwilling as people of Swavesey to carry out the work, but the question had to be faced. He believed the probable cost of the suggested scheme had been much exaggerated, and he prophesied that when the new system was in working order everyone would be pleased. Mr Thomas Prior said that some had come to the meeting to oppose, but found they could not do that, and therefore they had better go home and put on mourning. Mr W.C. Cole remarked that the meeting was going farther ahead than the District Council had gone, for as yet only the preliminaries of the question had been considered, and the cost had not been gone into.

HUNTINGDON ROAD SMASH. 18th June, 1909.

The police court sequel to the recent Sunday evening smash on the Huntingdon Road, (reported on 18th May), ended most unsatisfactorily, so unsatisfactorily, indeed, that the matter can hardly be allowed to rest where it is. If the story of the cyclists was true, the magistrates' dismissal of the case does them grievous wrong; it, on the other hand, the balance of truth was with the motorists, the injury to the defendant is no less severe. It is no vindication of one's position to have a charge against one dismissed on the ground that the evidence is so contradictory that the magistrates are unable to decide which party is telling the truth. The case is rendered all the more serious by the allegations of drunkenness that were made. It was suggested by the defence that at any rate two of the party of cyclists were the worse for liquor, a suggestion that was vigorously denied by all the witnesses for the prosecution. The most important evidence on this point was given by the house surgeon at Addenbrooke's Hospital, who swore that both the injured cyclists who were taken to hospital after the accident, were drunk. This seems to us the crux of the case. How far is it possible, even for a medical man, to say that a person who is seriously injured is the worse for drink? As the matter will probably be carried farther by one party or the other, we cannot say at present.

A DEFECTIVE PUMP. 18th June 1909

In our issue of May 28th a resident in Middle Watch called attention to the defective condition of the public pump, known locally as Curtis. He said that while the wooden casing had been repaired and re-painted, nothing had been done to the bucket, nor to the drain which is intended to carry away the waste water, both of which had been out of order for some time. Mt J. Strapps, of Middle Watch, now informs us that the drain has been cleared this week, not by the District Council, the authority in charge of the pump, but by an enterprising resident. Nothing has, he says, been done to the bucket, and water, usually obtained from a pond or rain water butt, has to be poured down every morning in order to get the pump to act. Can the District Council and Dr Anningson wonder, asks Mr Strapps, that the Swavesey public Water supply is contaminated.

SAD DEATH 18th June 1909

Whilst making final preparations for her marriage some four months ago, Miss Susan Sutton, youngest daughter of Mr David Sutton, of Boxworth End, Swavesey, was taken ill and, we regret to say, died on Thursday, 10th inst. She was only twenty-six years of age, and she was universally beloved and respected as shown by the large attendance of sympathising friends at her funeral in Swavesey cemetery on Monday afternoon. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel Swavesey, officiated. Mr & Mrs David Sutton, parents, Mr & Mrs Robert Sutton, and Mr David Sutton Junr, brothers and sister-in law, the Misses Kate and Alice Sutton, sisters, were listed as mourners, along with thirteen others. The funeral arrangement were efficiently carried out by Mr Walter Thorp. Swavesey

RECOLLECTIONS OF A WITCH. 18th June 1909.

Mrs Taylor, whose grave is in Swavesey Churchyard, had the reputation of being a witch, and although she died upwards of 80 years ago, tales are still told about her, but there is no one living in the village, noted though it is for the longevity of its inhabitants, who remembers seeing her. The stone which marks her grave bears the inscription; "Sacred to the memory of Elizabeth, the wife of Will Taylor, who departed this life December 6th 1824, aged 81 years.

Farewell, vain world, I know enough of thee,
And now am careless what thou say' of me,
Thy smiles I count not nor thy frowns I fear,
May cares are past; my head lies quiet here,
What faults you saw in me take care and shun,
Look but at home enough there's to be done.

These lines are said to have been found under her pillow, after her death. Mrs Taylor lived in a cottage, since burnt down, at Amen Corner. and that part of the village is still associated with her memory. Mr John Hodson, High Street, Swavesey, remembers an old man telling him many years ago that one day he met Mrs Taylor in Middle Fen riding on a hurdle. The old man said to her, "I will tell the people when I get back in the village". Mrs Taylor replied, "You can if you think of it". The old man forgot to tell anyone of the witch's strange steed until after her death.

DESCENT OF A BALLOON. 25th June 1909.

Since it was reported that Mr Walter Lack had seen an apparition in the sky, at Swavesey, which he took to be an airship, people in neighbourhood have been on the lookout for a similar aerial monster. On Monday afternoon, about six o'clock, the inhabitants of Boxworth and district thought they had "struck ile", for they saw something strange sailing in the air from the direction of the St. Neots road. Instead of an airship, however, it proved to be a balloon, and it descended in a close in Knapwell, coming in contact with a small willow tree in the process. Fortunately no damage was done as Mr Percy Childerley, of Knapwell was able to seize the ropes and pull the balloon safely to the ground. It contained one passenger, a gentleman, who immediately inquired where he was. Knapwell men promptly rush up to render assistance. The balloon was packed and conveyed by horse and cart, kindly lent by Mr Maurice Hawkes, to the Old North Road Station, for transmission to London. People had collected like magic from all around, and the cart and its load were followed by a motley crowd, coatless and some hatless. The Boxworth police constable hurried to the scene on his bicycle, and was much relieved to find that nobody and nothing had been injured. Many of the crowd were confident that they had caught an airship; one poor old lady declared that she was sure it was because she had heard a noise. The aeronautics' name did not transpire but "C.S. Rolls" was marked on the canvas. (The Hon C.S. Rolls is a well-known balloonist.)

HAYMAKING. 25th June 1909

Notwithstanding the backward season, haymaking has commenced.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE 25th June 1909

The Swavesey R.D.C. dose not trouble to keep the footpaths under its charge free from weeds, and so the path by the side of the National School premise was very untidy, the schoolmaster. Mr H. Beaumont, has had the weeds, etc., cleared away at his expense. The work was done by a Swavesey Parish Councillor.

WANTED, AN AIRSHIP. 25th June 1909

A correspondent wants to know if the local authority, responsible for the footbridge, at the Overcote corner of Middle Fen, near Sandholes, which has been conspicuous by its absence for some considerable time, propose providing a balloon or an airship in order to enable persons to reach the river bank without danger of a ducking. As the vanished bridge is on the recognised route from Swavesey to Overcote Ferry, which is much used, especially during the summer months, the writer hopes that something will be done without delay to meet the convenience of the public.

COMPLAINTS. 25th June 1909

Complaints continue to be made respecting the alleged neglect of the local authorities in not promptly attending to minor repairs and defects to the public pump in Middle Watch, to which attention has been called more than once in these columns, is stated to be in a worse condition than ever. Until the last few days it was only necessary to put down water,(obtained from a pond or rain water butt) once a day in order to induce the bucket to act. Now water has to be poured down every time the pump is used. This disregard of the health and convenience of the users of the pump seems inexplicable in view of the indignation aroused, in the parish by the District Council's large water supply scheme which many ratepayers maintain would not be forced on the parish if the Council had promptly attended to small defects as they arose.

An open sewer in Wallman's Lane is quoted as another instance of apparent neglect. Two years ago a small portion of the drain was cover in, a ventilation pipe erected, and a filter placed at the outlet into the open ditch. It is stated that the filter dose not act and that the drain is worse than useless because it is blocked. It is stated that in course of time this drain will be connected with the new drain which is being laid in small sections alongside the Turn Bridge brook, but at the present rate of progress years may elapes before the nuisance is abated. The Parish Council also comes in for criticism. On April 8th the Council gave instructions for the immediate repair of the stile on the much used footpath to Fen Drayton. Nothing has been done to it and people are asking the cause of the delay, seeing there are several carpenters in the village capable of doing the job.

INCIDENTS. 2nd July 1909

There has been two exciting incidents in the village this week. One morning Mr A.Day's milk cart endeavoured to storm Mr Goad's premises at Boxworth End. While the driver was engaged in securing a milk can, the horse made for the small garden gateway and jammed the cart in the gate and hedge, and in order to extricate it the animal had to be taken out and led through the garden and out another gate. Subsequently cows raided Mr Goad's garden, gaining entrance through the hole in the hedge made by the milk cart. On Tuesday evening a youth, not unconnected with the cycle business, when riding a heavy tricycle, dashed into the school pond, and had to be rescued with a cart rope.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 2nd July 1909

Services in connection with the Bethel Sunday School anniversary were held on Sunday last. At the morning service the Rev. W.H. Stevens, (pastor) preached an appropriate sermon, taking as his subject life as a garden, and the seeds to be sown, such as punctuality, study of the Bible, thoughtfulness for others, etc. In the afternoon there was a children's flower service, which children and parents attended in force. As scholars entered the building they passed in front of the rostrum and presented their offerings of flowers, which were sent on Monday morning to St Ives Infirmary. During the service recitations were rendered by children named. (a list follows) The collections throughout the day, in aid of the Sunday School funds amounted to £3 7s. a record for these anniversary services.

MORE PRIVATE ENTERPRISE. 2nd July, 1909

This week it may be recorded that private enterprise has put in working order the public pump in Middle Watch, to which attention has been directed so many times. For ten long months Curtis's pump has been out of order. The District Council and the Sanitary Officer have been unable to do anything, and one day last week a plumber examined the pump, but it got worse instead of better. The inconvenience to the public has been great, and the danger to their moral and physical welfare acute. Ladies have uttered ejaculations that were not exactly prayers or blessings, while men have used language that would be described by some modern writers as "tropical". On Sunday morning a pathetic incident occurred. A man carrying two pails, one full and the other empty, went to draw water. Remarking to an onlooker that he had to take one pail of water (probably from a pond) in order to get two, he poured the pond water down the pump, and by dint of hard work he filled one pail. Exhausted by the effort he paused to rest and re-light his pipe, and then he tried the pump again, but alas the water had "gone". On Monday afternoon certain dwellers in Middle Watch determined to attempt to do for themselves, what the public officials could not do. Not one of the band was a plumber, still, they essayed the task manfully, and defied the possible thunders of an outraged authority. Pulling the pump to pieces, they discovered a rent in the pipe through which a coin could be passed, and to this they applied a plaster of red lead. At first the pump worked satisfactory, but soon the plaster gave way. Were they discouraged? No. Failure was only an incentive to further effort. They called in a passer-by who had some knowledge of the art of soldering, and with his assistance the hole was mended, and then the pump worked well. What is more, it continues to do so. Next morning a user of the pump wrote the following words in white chalk on the wooden case:

“Praise God from Whom all blessings flow”.

Parishioner need not be surprised to hear that the repair of the stile on the much-frequented footpath to Fen Drayton, which the Parish Council gave orders three months ago, has been taken in hand by amateur carpenters tired of waiting the convenience of a contractor.

PARISH CHURCH. 9th July 1909

The Archdeacon of Ely, Dr W. Cunningham, will conduct the services on Sunday next, the 11th inst. in the absence of the Vicar, who is away on his holidays.

A CUNNING DONKEY. 9th July 1909

A pet donkey belonging to a well-known inhabitant in Middle Watch went on a spree the other day. Finding the kitchen door open, and the room unoccupied, he entered, and cast his eye around for food or mischief, and he found both, in the shape of the bread pan. This he upset, stole and ate the bread, and hearing footsteps, departed by the front door just as his master entered by the back.

WORKPEOPLE ENTERTAINED, 9th July 1909

The workpeople, male & female, to the number of about twenty, who for nearly three months have been employed in Swavesey by Messrs. Stanton Bros., the well-known fire salvage firm of Whitechapel, in drying and sorting a larger quantity of jute salvaged from a great fire in London, caused by a mischievous youth, were hospitably entertained by the firm on Saturday evening on the completion of the work. After a sumptuous meal of ham and tongue, cake, fruit, etc, games were indulged in, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Mr Levi Stanton, was assiduous in looking after the comfort of his guests.

THE PUBLIC LAMPS. 9th July 1909.

At the end of last winter there was much talk about the unsatisfactory condition of the street lamps. The Parish Council, who have their custody, discussed the matter many times, and, it is believed, agreed to have them overhauled during the summer months. They also decided to make arrangements for the lighting next winter at a meeting to be held about this time, instead of driving things to the last moment, as had been the practice of late years. Have the Council done anything yet?, and if not, when do they intend to do something? Perhaps they are waiting for summer weather, but if they do not take action until that happy time, we may get no lamps at all this winter.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 16th July 1909

The ladies house-to-house collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, which has recently been made under the superintendence of Mrs Long, of the Priory, Swavesey, has resulted in sum of £10 being raised, Mrs Long has forwarded this amount to Mr A.E. Hoare, of Milton Hall, the president of the Ladies' Association, who in acknowledging it receipt has expressed her appreciation and gratitude.

ARCHDEACON'S VISIT. 16^h July 1909

Arriving in the village on Saturday night, and remaining until Monday morning, the Archdeacon of Ely, Dr W. Cunningham, was sole officiate at all services at the parish church, on Sunday last. in the absence of the vicar, who is on his holiday. Good congregations attended the morning and evening services, notwithstanding the stormy weather, and greatly appreciated the Archdeacon's simple and helpful sermons. He also took the usual afternoon service at the Mission Church, Boxworth End.

MISAPPROPRIATION IN THE HALE. 16th July 1909

From time to time the tenants of Galon's Charity Allotments in the Hale have had reason to complain of petty pilfering. This year again, there are complaints. The other Saturday evening a holder went to gather peas, of which only two days previously he had assured himself that he had a supply sufficient for his family's Sunday dinner fit to pull. To his dismay and annoyance he found that some enterprising person had been before him and appropriated every full pod.

WATER SUPPLY. 16th July 1909

The monthly meeting was held on Wednesday morning when there were present: Alderman J. Frohock, (chairman), Messrs W.C. Cole, F. Kirby, and W.I. Hemington. The council decided to advertise for candidates for the post of surveyor to the Council. The question of the water supply to Swavesey was discussed, and the terms proposed, and it was decided to hold a special meeting of the whole council and the Swavesey Water Committee on July 26th to consider the terms and alternatives. The inspector reported that he had affixed bills to the pump at Swavesey, and he had visited on them since and found they had been torn off. The Council decided to take no action. The Inspector further reported that whilst affixing the bills to pumps at Swavesey, a certain gentleman came up and abused him about the drain. The Clerk said if this took place on the highway, the Inspector could prosecute this gentleman under the county bye-laws.

OBITUARY. 16th July 1909

We regret to announce the death of another Swavesey old age pensioner. Mr Edward Bull, market gardener, who stood for many years in Cambridge market, and was well-known in the University town. Mr Bull aged 74 years, died early on Saturday last, after an illness of three weeks' duration. He was a native of Fen Drayton, and he lived and carried on business there until about twelve years ago, when he removed to Boxworth End, Swavesey. He was a widower, having been twice married, and he leaves three sons and five daughters. The funeral took place in Fen Drayton churchyard on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev J.F. Cooksey officiating. - Close family mourners named. The funeral arrangements were satisfactorily carried out by Mr James Williams, Swavesey.

OLD LANDMARK GONE. 16th July 1909.

The lonely two-storied brick house on the road from Swavesey to Fen Drayton, known as The Plough. is in the course of demolition. Built in the early part of the last century for a wayside public house, it became a private dwelling about twenty years ago, but of late it has been tenantless. Between the ceiling of the downstairs rooms and the floor of the rooms above, a few copper coins, chiefly of George III's time, five or six clay pipes, two ancient thimbles, a reel of what was once white cotton, and the skeleton of a rat have been found.

LOCAL SUCCESS. 30th July 1909

Mr W.J. Hepher, butcher, High Street, Swavesey, was highly commended by the judges for his butcher's turnout in the tradesmen's Class at the Cambridge County Show, on the 22nd instant.

GAP

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 30th July 1909

The annual treat to the children attending the Sunday School in connection with the Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel was held on Wednesday, 21st instant. After a service the th chapel conducted by the Rev. E. Short, pastor, who addressed the children, recitations were delivered by the scholars. A move was then made to Mr A.Day's lawn for tea. An adults tea followed in the chapel, after which the children played games in Mr Day's field, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Before leaving each child was given cakes and fruit.

THE HALE. 30th July 1909

Petty thefts from Galon's Charity Allotments in the Hale continue. One day last week a raid was made on a holder's carrot bed. Carrots were not drawn here and there, but parts of three or four rows were cleared. Whoever the depredator may be, he or she, will probably meet with a warm reception when caught. Mr William Twist, who has a newly planted orchard adjoining the allotments, has reason to complain of damage done to his young fruit trees by some mischievous or malicious person. Between each row of plum and apple trees are gooseberry bushes. Recently Mr Twist discovered that every third or fourth bush had been more or less broken, evidently by someone wantonly slashing at them with a stick. Some of the branches of the top trees were also damaged in the same way.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE. 30th July 1909.

Tuesday last was the first anniversary of the new era in newspaper distribution in the Swavesey District. Prior to the 27th June 1908, daily and other newspapers, except local journals, were received in Swavesey and the surrounding villages through the railway or by post. If sent by rail they had to be fetched from the station, and by post they were received by midday delivery, and comparatively few people indulged in the luxury of a daily paper. On July 27th, Mr W.F.Gleaves, of High Street, Swavesey, became agent for the "Daily Mail", and so successful was the venture that two months later he extended his agency so as to supply all newspapers. Daily papers are delivered immediately after the arrival of the 6.25 a.m. trains in Boxworth, Conington, Elsworth, and Fendrayton, Over, and Swavesey, and in the two last named villages certain London dailies arriving by the 7.8.a.m. train, are in the reader's hands by 7 and 8 o'clock. Under the old arrangements postage or railway charges had to be paid in addition to the cost of the paper. Now even in Elsworth six miles distant, papers are delivered for face value only, appreciably earlier and at smaller cost than if sent by post.

HIGHWAY SURVEYOR, July 1909.

Applications are invited for the appointment of a Highway Surveyor for the above District, comprising the following six Parishes viz;- Boxworth. Conington. Fendrayton. Lolworth. Over. and Swavesey. Salary £52 per annum, to include all travelling expenses. Particulars as to length of roads, etc. can be inspected at my Office.

Applications, accompanied by testimonials as to character and competency, to be delivered to the undersigned,, Not later than MONDAY August 9th.

Geo Dennis Day, Clerk to the Council. St. Ives, Hunts.

CENTURION. 6th August. 1909.

S.J.Froment who has been bowling with great success this year, had the satisfaction of taking his hundredth wicket during a match at Swavesey on Saturday afternoon. He has this season bowled in fifteen matches, and taken 107 wickets at a cost of 357 runs, an average of 3.33 runs per wicket. In Saturday's match he captured eight wickets for 26 runs. As a slight recognition of his success, and as an encouragement to further efforts, he has been presented with a cricket ball by a friend who does not wish his name to be disclosed.

EARLY CLOSING. 6th August. 1909

Correspondent asks whether some better arrangement cannot be made in regard to the early closing of the village shops on Thursdays. He says that the agreement arrived at a few years ago is not in some instances strictly adhered to, and that dilatory customers are served after the recognised closing time. He further suggests that especially during the summer months, it would be a great boon to the younger assistants, and in no way detrimental to the shopkeepers, if an earlier hour than four o'clock, were adopted. In Willingham business on Wednesday is suspended at one o'clock, and the public do not complain of inconvenience, and Cambridge on Thursday business cease at the same hour.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 6th August 1909.

The annual treat to the children attending the Sunday School attached to the Bethel Baptist Chapel, was held on Thursday 29th ultimo. The children assembled in the schoolroom attached to the chapel and while the final preparations for tea were being made sang songs. About 60 or 70 youngsters sat down to tea and thoroughly enjoyed the good things that were provided. An adjournment was made to Mrs Jabez Day's meadow for games, and whilst these were in progress, the adults had tea in the school, a good muster attending. During the evening games of cricket were played, under the superintendence of Mr Benjamin Prior. Races were run and tugs of war were pulled with mighty vigour. Swings were well patronised, and Mr Joseph Payne, who had charge of them, was kept busily employed. Skipping contests evoked keen rivalry, the champion skipper recording nearly 300 skips before she came to grief. The general management of the treat was in the capable hands of Mr H.S.Aldred, and Sunday school superintendent, and Mr and Mrs Starte, Miss Goad, Miss May Norman, and Miss C. Smith worked hard to make the youngsters happy. The weather was favourably. So much did some of the older visitors enjoy the evening's entertainment that they were oblivious of the passage of time, and half past ten arrived before they realised the painful fact that it was necessary for them to go home.

THE HALE STILE. 13th August 1909

The broken down apology for a stile on the footpath from Swavesey and Fen Drayton has at last been replaced by a solid and workmanlike stile, upon which even a nervous person may trust himself.

SCHOOL CLOCK ON STRIKE. 13th August 1909

As a protest possibly against the unusually late breaking up for the harvest holidays, the clock outside the National School has gone on strike. When the hands indicate eleven o'clock for instance, the clock strikes seven. The villagers have to take their time by sight and not sound.

BATHING IN A VILLAGE POND, 13th August 1909.

A tiny Swavesey child, a little over one year of age, and barely able to toddle, has taken to the water like a duckling or a mermaid. He or she (we forget which) is wont to stagger from its mother's cottage door and sit down contentedly, fully clothed, in the duckweed and muddy water of the Swan pond close at hand, and occasionally do a bit of wading. The other day the mother gave the child a thorough ducking in the pond in the regular seaside fashion, but on this occasion its costume was simplicity itself, being merely an attenuated loin garment somewhat resembling bathing drawers. The babe enjoyed the fun immensely.

A CANADIAN DISASTER. 13th August 1909

Mr Henry Beaumont, schoolmaster of Swavesey National School, has received a letter from his son Harry, who went to Canada in the spring of 1907, conveying the news of a serious disaster that had befallen him in British Columbia. In the company of another Swavesey young man, Mr Lawson Hepher, he had acquired a piece of land near Nelson, B.C. and each had built a wooden house upon his holding. On Thursday, 22nd July, whilst Mr Beaumont was lighting a smoking fire in a tin to drive out mosquitoes from his cabin, a spark set some brushwood alight, and the cabin was speedily ablaze. Mr Hepher ran up to his friend's assistance, and the small quantity of water at hand was thrown on the flames, but to no avail. Within two minutes the whole cabin was involved. Seeing that it was impossible to save the building, Mr Beaumont made a dash to rescue a box containing his papers and money, but that was all he could reach. Everything else that he possessed – his clothes, carpentering tools, (he had a valuable set) his violin, camera, furniture, and his much-prized books – all have been destroyed.

SCHOOL TREAT. 13th August 1909

The children attending the Sunday School connected with the parish church had their annual treat on Wednesday. Assembling at the National School, they marched to the church, accompanied by Mr H. Beaumont, (headmaster), and Miss Pook (infants' mistress) and other teachers. A short service was held, and the vicar addressed the children. Tea followed in the vicarage garden, and thus fortified the youngsters amused themselves with games. At five o'clock a goodly gathering of parents and other adults sat down to tea presided over by the ladies. At 6.30 boys and girls ran races, sweets were scrambled for, and notwithstanding the tropical weather football was played. After dusk the gardens were prettily illuminated. At the end of the evening prizes gained by children for racing, etc, were given away by Miss Vidler.

SWAVESEY RURAL COUNCIL, 13th August 1909

The monthly meeting was held on Wednesday morning, when there were present Mr J. Frohock, in the chair, Messrs F. Kirby, W.I. Hemington, A. Day, W. C. Cole, H. Baldwick, and the clerk, Mr G.D. Day.

A long discussion on the Swavesey water question took place, during which it was stated that if Swavesey people could bring forward an alternative scheme, the Council did not wish to press Bourn water on them. They had had an interview with the Bourn Waterworks Directors, and also held a special meeting at Swavesey. In reply to a question from the Chairman, the Clerk said the council could not get rid of their responsibility, and if they did nothing, then the Local Government Board would appoint officials and do the work themselves. If Swavesey people could get water cheaper and better than by having it from Bourn, then there was no doubt the Local Government Board would accept it. The Chairman thought it best to refer it to the Local Government Board and have done with it. They had had meetings and spent a lot of time over this matter, without any successful issue. After further discussion, it was proposed and carried, "That the Clerk write to Swavesey Parish Council stating that this Council are of opinion that there is no alternative method of obtaining a satisfactory water supply for Swavesey except by arrangement with East Hunts Water Co, and that the Clerk inform the Parish Council thereof, and ask them to submit any alternative scheme that may occur to them for consideration at the next meeting of the Council, and failing any satisfactory alternative, the Council will proceed to arrange terms with the East Hunts Water Co."

THE POST OF SURVEYOR. There were 19 applications for the post of surveyor to the Council, caused by Mr Thomas Johnson's resignation, including applicants from Scarborough, Norfolk, Penrhyn, Bristol, Slough, Redcar, Middlesborough, Cambridge, Farnham, Chesterton and four local applicants. The Council thought that the applications from outsiders should be put to one side, because it was felt they were only to be used as stepping stones for higher appointments, and that only local applicants should be considered. Mr Baldwick proposed Mr Johnson, of Fendrayton, and Mr Kirby proposed Mr Carter of Over, and on a show of hands Mr Johnson obtained the post by the casting vote of the Chairman. There was nothing to report by the Inspector of Nuisances.

Question of Liability. The surveyor asked about replacing a plank over the brook on Swavesey Bank. He thought the award made them liable. The Council directed that if the clerk thought this was so, the Surveyor should do the work at once.

BLOCKED DRAIN 20th August 1909

A public drain in Taylor's Lane near its junction with Black Horse Lane, has been blocked for some time, and whenever there is heavy rain the roadway is flooded.

CAMP MEETING. 20th August 1909

The Primitive Methodists of Swavesey, assisted by friends from the neighbourhood, held a camp meeting in the village on Sunday afternoon and evening. Collecting at the Swan Pond in the afternoon, the members, after a little speaking, proceeded through the streets to the Recreation Ground, singing hymns as they went. Around there more hymns were sung and an address delivered. In the evening the meeting place was in Market Street, and again the members march to the Recreation Ground, for a second service.

Addresses were given by various members. Collections were made in aid of Swavesey Primitive Methodist Chapel funds.

ON TRIAL FROM CANADA. 20th August 1909

Some time ago Mr Alfred Caine, of High Street, Swavesey, received from his sons, Messrs Surrey and Harry Caine, who have been some years in Canada, and handful of kernels of rivet wheat grown in the Peace River country, 500 miles northwest of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. During last spring Mr Caine carefully sowed the corn in his allotment in the hale, dibbering in each grain separately, and he has since bestowed the greatest care on his diminutive wheat field. The heads are very large and certainly promise a heavy yield. Harvest operations will soon begin. The Messrs Caine sent with the wheat a few seeds of two kinds of shrub, picked by them when visiting the famous Golden Gate Park at San Francisco. The seeds have produced plants with leaves somewhat resembling those of a geranium, but so far there have been no signs of any blooms.

NOT FROM GERMANY. 20th August 1909

About noon on Friday last a mysterious object was observed in the sky hovering over Church End, Swavesey. People passing along the street, stopped, stared and wondered: housewives rushed from their kitchens recklessly leaving pots and pans to boil over, and their dinners at the mercy of the predatory cat, and men in the fields dropped their tools and gazed. The much-talked of airship had come at last, they declared. No: it was too small; it must be an aeroplane, with Mr Latham or M. Bleriot aboard. At length, when the excitement was at its highest pitch, and necks could hardly bear the strain any longer, a keen-eyed gazer detected a line connecting the floating object with the earth. The airship turned out to be a kite resembling an aeroplane, sent up by some London visitors who were sitting quietly in Mr Twist's stack yard oblivious of the excitement they had cause.

GIANT CABBAGE. 27th August 1909

Mr George Clarke, of the Little Rose, is showing a spring cabbage grown by him, which weighs 22lbs 10oz.

GOOD CITIZEN. 27th August 1909

Mr Walter Sanderson, of Boxworth End, and late of Cottenham, has been presented by his wife with their 19th child. Both mother and baby are doing well.

SEASIDE EXCURSIONS. 27th August 1909

Forty one passengers were booked from Swavesey Station on Tuesday morning for the cheap excursion to Yarmouth. Twenty seven passengers were booked to Hunstanton on Wednesday.

BUTCHER' DILEMMA. 27th August 1909

The matrons of Swavesey are not the only people who lose their way. Two Swavesey Butchers, returning home late one night, recently completely lost their bearings in Dry Drayton, and had to call up a slumbering inhabitant to put them in the right road.

WATER BABY. 27th August 1909

Mrs Bishop, the mother of the famous Swavesey water baby,. has been visited by an Inspector of the Society for the prevention of cruelty to children, who has been inquiring as to the alleged cruelty to the child in allowing it to go into the Swan Pond of its own accord; in fact, it cannot be kept out. He has also, we are informed been asking questions, some of which Mrs Bishop declined to answer, as to the father's earnings and the sum he hands over to his wife each week for household expenses.

FISHING EXTRAORDINARY. 27th August 1909

The other day two export fishermen of Swavesey went fishing in Navigation Drain near the double doors by the river, but they forgot to take their tackle with them. They were, however, determined to fish, and this is how they managed it. For a line they used their bootlaces, and for a float a cork fastened to the line with an indiarubber ring from a ginger-beer bottle, A pig ring was the hook and a black snail the bait. They tied the line to a staple in a beam which crosses the drain, waited patiently, and were rewarded with one roach.

CLEANING A CLOCK. 27th August 1909

As there are more ways of killing a cat than hanging, so there are other ways of cleaning a clock than handing it over to the tender mercies of a professional clock man. Last week the clock in a Swavesey taproom stopped, and would not be coaxed to go. and in these days a clock which keeps correct time is a necessity in such a place, in an irregularity about the witching hour of 10pm. has been known to lead to trouble, So the landlady set to work to put things right. With the domestic bellows she blew with might and main right into the works. The dust and dirt flew out, and eventually the clock consented to go.

THE BOY LAUGHED 27th August 1909

Early this week a farmer, accompanied by a friend, were cutting wheat with a reaper. Both were keen gunners. A small boy was near by and dogs were prowling around. All of a sudden an agonised squeal was heard, the reaper stopped stunt. The sportsmen seized their guns and the dogs were called up.

The standing wheat was thoroughly searched by men and dogs for the hare it was confidently believed the reaper had knocked over, but no hare could be found. A prolonged investigation, however, discovered a rat with its tail cut off, and the small boy, who had been “in the know” all the time and had enjoyed the fun, was rude enough to laugh at the discomfort of his elders.

AN ALARMING SITUATION 27th August 1909

Fatigued by an evening spent picking fruit a Swavesey young lady sat down to supper, but hardly had she emptied herself to the good things before her, that she felt a bite or sting. She thought a wasp had stung her, and searched for the intrusive insect. But it was something more terrifying. A mouse ran from her clothing, and a mouse it is well known, has terrors for the feminine mind which nothing else, whether man, wild beast, reptile or insect possesses. Even the boldest suffragette who has defied the law and the prison wardress, or who has spanked the face of a gentleman clad in official blue, or who has but with little trepidation spent long hours of darkness under a Town Hall platform or on the roof of a public building, is understood to quail before a mouse. so the Swavesey young lady's fright can well be imagined.

PERSONAL. 3rd September 1909

An elderley Swavesey lady, who has gone to London for a holiday, sent her feather bed on in advance, She cannot rest on a new fangled spring mattress.

BELATED AND MISCHIEVOUS CUSTOMERS. 3rd September 1909

A party of men returning towards Cambridge on Thursday night endeavoured to gain admission to the New Inn, a lonely wayside hostelry on the Huntingdon-road at the corner of the turning to Swavesey. As it was midnight, the landlord not unnaturally declined to leave his bed, and the festive party retaliated by pulling up some of the hollyhocks which adorn the front of the house.

MOTHERS' UNION. 3rd September 1909

A gathering of members of the recently-formed Swavesey branch of the Mothers' Union was held on Thursday, 26th ultimo. After a short service in the parish church, at which the vicar officiated, an adjourned was made to the Manor, Market Street, the residence of the Rev. J.F. and Mrs Cooksey, where in course of a meeting the newly- elected members were formally enrolled, Mrs Cooksey subsequently kindly entertained her visitors to tea, and the rest of the evening was spent in the garden in social intercourse

HEAVY HARVEST 3rd Sept. 1909

The corn harvest in Swavesey is exceptionally good this year. Mr Herbert Wilderspin has this week cut a five acre field of Rivet Wheat, and the crop was so heavy that no reaper or binder would act. As a last resource a Bentall grass mower was used and did the work effectively. The field is so full of shocks that it is necessary to back a cart in at the gateway. Several experts have been to see the crop, and have formed various estimates of the yield, some placing it as high as about 17 combs to the acre. Mr Wilderspin is prepared to give actual results when the corn has been thrashed out. The Bentall cutter referred to above was brought out in 1891, and Mr Wilderspin, beginning with that season, has cut at least 250 acres of grass with it every year since. The machine is still in good going order, and Mr Wilderspin considers it to be the best on the market.

SUPERANNUATED 3rd September 1909

On Wednesday evening in last week, as the sun was fast sinking below the western horizon, a sad procession was seen wending its way towards Swavesey from the river, surrounded by a company of young men was a four wheeled trolley, and on the trolley was an ancient boat which Mr Henry Beaumont, the far famed Swavesey angler, has for many years used on his fishing expeditions. The old craft has been patched again and again, but is beyond repair. It was accordingly taken to the village, and found an Ararat amongst the beehives in Mr Beaumont's garden. its future is not known whether, for instance, it will become a novel kind of beehive, or set on end to form a garden seat in shape resembling an old fashioned porter's chaur, or whether, broken up, it will add heat and cheerfulness during the winter nights to the room, on the wall of which trophies of its owner's rod and line are displayed. But it is to be hoped that the withdrawal of the boat does not portend the early retirement of Mr Beaumont from the ranks of the followers of Izaak Walton.

A PROTEST 3rd September 1909

We have received the following: Dear Sir, I really must protest against the rubbish you are printing as Swavesey news in your paper. On Friday last I was quite disgusted when I opened the paper and found a lot of stupid tales about belated butchers, and good citizens, clock cleaning and a rat's tail; a large cabbage and a young lady frightened by a mouse; and last of all a picture of a nearly naked baby. I shudder when I think of the poor little child's feelings twenty years hence should it be then shown the picture. There was no real for the simple reason, I suppose, that there was none to report, Oh, I exclaimed, for the good old days when my native village rarely figured in the Cambridge papers, and then only when sensible things were reported, such as Band of Hope meetings, bazaars, when for a good object and so on. Your local scribbler, I really cannot call him anything else, actually writes about public officials, but there is one consolation they do not appear to pay much attention to him, though as a ratepayer, I think it would be better if they did, for he sometimes tells them about things that if seen to directly might save expense and a lot of trouble. A serious thing came to my ears the other day. A farm foreman saw one of his men turning hay with a shovel and in reproving him he told him he "ought to be put in the papers" Now sir, I call that dreadful; it is downright intimidation. I know your paper is selling remarkably well in Swavesey, and people say they take it because there is usually something in that interests them. It is your success that makes me sorry that you are misusing your opportunities for elevating the public mind in this village. Speaking for myself, and I have no doubt for other sober minded persons, I do deeply deplore this pandering to the depraved tastes of the frivolous. I fear it is a sign of the degeneracy of the times,

Yours truly, Disgusted. Swavesey, 30th August, 1909

THE PROTEST OF "DISGUSTED" 10th September 1909

A regular reader writes: I perused with interest, not unmixed with amusement the letter signed "Disgusted" in last Friday's "Weekly News & Express". "Disgusted" seems to be quite out of date. He forgets we are living in the twentieth century and not in the sixteenth, and that there is a much larger world around him than what exists in his own limited brain. Those who want to read Band of Hope meetings, etc, have ample chance of doing so by taking a temperance magazine, of which there are plenty. The general public of today don't want such things crammed down their throats. After their long week's toll they want to read something interesting and amusing and I maintain that such reading helps to brighten their lives and causes them to forget some of their troubles; dispels the weariness and relieves the monotony of their lives. We in Willingham have long appreciated your Swavesey correspondent's contributions. In one thing "Disgusted" is quite right; we certainly do take your paper because there is generally something in that interests us personally.

A GOOD YIELD 10th Sept. 1909

Mr John Gilby of Church End has dug five bushels of potatoes - Scotch Dates from Over, - from one peck of seed.

Potatoes. - The venerable Mr Thomas Prior of Stanton View, Boxworth End, is proud of his potatoes this year. He has been digging "Epicures" with excellent results, as many as 24 sound and good sized potatoes turning up at a root.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 10th Sept. 1909

Some improvements in regard to the lighting and ventilation of the National School are to be carried out during the harvest holidays, and the school piano, a venerable instrument, which has seen many years of service, and has, to quote the Vicar's word "run down its health and become thin and wheezy in tone since the loss of its leg last year" has been sent to Mr G.H. Skeeles of St. Ives, "to undergo a course of steel and general treatment".

ANECDOTES. 10th Sept. 1909

A boy in charge of sheep was accompanied by a dog that no one could to "work". The youngster declared that he could make the animal do his duty, and this is how he did it. He carried the dog under his arm, and following the sheep barked vigorously - the boy we mean, not the dog.

One night recently a Church End resident had a mouse hunt during the silly hours. He had as a bedfellow a little boy, who took some bread and butter upstairs with him. When the older man was comfortably settled between the sheets, a mouse, evidently attracted by the food, ran over his arm. He knocked the marauding rodent to the floor, went downstairs for a trap, and for hours was engaged in mouse hunting. He caught five before he returned to bed. His sleep was then peaceful, his dreams angelic, but his hours of rest were few.

PARISH COUNCIL 10th September 1909

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening, at which the following Councillors were present. The Rev A.C. Vidler, (chairman), Messrs J.T. Daintree, J. Gilby, J.S. Goad, G. Metcalfe, W.T. Thorp. E.J. Warboys, H. Wilderspin, and R. Mitham, (clerk). After the minutes of the last meeting had been passed various matters arising there from were discussed. Mr W.T. Thorp called attention to the condition of the stile in Longstanton Road, at the end of the footpath from Cow Fen. and instructions were given for the stile to be at once replaced. Mr Chairman brought up the question of lighting the streets of the village during the coming winter, and the clerk was directed to issue notices calling for tenders for the work of attending to the lamps, and supply of oil, etc, Tenders are to be forwarded not later than Monday, 20th instant, on which day the Council will meet and appoint a lamplighter. The Chairmen then read a letter he had received from the District Council, enclosing a copy of a resolution passed at their last meeting to the effect that if the Parish Council had no alternative scheme to propose, the District Council would proceed with their negotiations with East Hunts Water Company in regard to a supply of water to the village of Swavesey. An animated, and at times acrimonious, discussion ensued. – Mr H. Wilderspin maintained that the present supply of water was satisfactory in quality and quantity, and strongly objected to the East Hunts Company being employed, and suggested that if water had to be brought in from outside it should be obtained from the New River Company. Mr Thorp was doubtful whether the East Hunts Company would be able to maintain an ample supply. Mr Daintree though there was grave objection to the proposal that the parish should own and lay the pipes from Conington Bridge to the village. Mr Goad suggested that the Parish Council should have fresh borings made. Eventually, on the proposal of Mr Metcalfe, seconded by Mr Thorp, it was agreed that. “the chairman should inform the sanitary authority that the Parish Council are quite satisfied with the present water supply, and protest against the proposed new water supply being forced on the parish”.

A NOTABLE HEN. 17th September 1909.

Mr William Twist, Church End, possesses a White Orpington hen which is not only an exceptionally good layer, but always produces a double-yoked egg.

TREES IN CHIMNEY POTS. 17th September 1909

On the top of Mr Charles Garner’s house, Church End, are five chimney pots, three being effective and two dummies. Out of each of the latter a tree is growing.

SPORT 17th September 1909

A Swavesey reader writes: I see from last week’s paper that Mr M.H. Ivatt of Cottenham, secured ten brace of partridges with 21 shots. I congratulate him heartily. But another tale can be told of a Swavesey sportsman who recently fired 10 or 12 shots at a hare and only succeeded in wounding it. His dog killed it.

STREET LAMPS. 17th September 1909

A correspondent suggest that the Swavesey Parish Council would be wise at their meeting on Monday night next to take into consideration the shakey condition of some of the standards of the street lamps. He says for instance, that the lamp at Cow Fen end of Market Stree was lighted for only a part of last winter owing to the fact that the wooden post would not bear the weight of a ladder against it, and that the post is now held up by a hedge stake. He also asks when th lamps, post, etc last received a coat of paint.

OBITUARY. 17th September 1909

A well-known character in Swavesey, and for miles around, has passed away. Mr Fred Sanderson, who died in Addenbrooke's hospital about midnight on Sunday last. The deceased, who was 49years of age, was a native of Cottenham, but had lived in Swavesey for some years. He had been in bad health for nearly a year, was an out-patient at the hospital for some months, and was admitted as an in-patient three weeks before his death. The funeral took place yesterday(Thursday) afternoon in Swavesey churchyard.

WEIGHTS & MEASURES. 17th September 1909

On Monday, a correspondent writes: The county inspector is testing the weights and measures of Swavesey & Lolworth today. Such examination, are I suppose necessary and useful, but could not the convenience of people affected be considered? Butchers, of whom there are several in Swavesey, have to go to St Ives market on Mondays and farmers are working early and late getting in the harvest. today is wet, I admit, but that this would be the case could hardly have been known when the day was decided upon. Again the notice given was very short, the bills announcing the inspection were only distributed on Friday last.

THUNDERSTORM 24th September 1909

A heavy thunderstorm passed over Swavesey on Thursday morning about 5 o'clock. The rain fell in torrents, the lighting being very vivid, and the thunder heavy and continuous.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL, 24th September 1909

The harvest festive was held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Wednesday. The afternoon service was conducted by the Rev. E. Short, pastor, and a sermon preached by Mr Booth of Bradford. At 5 o'clock there was a public tea, which was well attended. During the evening a second service was held which attracted a good congregation and Mr Booth preached again.

HEAR THE OTHER SIDE. 24th September 1909

The story respecting a Swavesey sportsman who was alleged fired ten or twelve shots at a hare, and then failed to do more than wound it is hardly accurate. Instead of one “gun” there were four in the party, three of whom fired at the hare, which unexpectedly got up when the sportsmen were leaving the field, and were therefore unprepared. Three fired more or less simultaneously, but there were certainly not as many as ten to twelve shots. One of the sportsmen had not used a gun for ten years.

CYCLE ACCIDENT. 24th September 1909

On Thursday, 16th instant, a young lady cycling from Over to Swavesey, at 9.30am came to grief near the Swan Pond. Instead of following the main road, she took the narrow road between the pond and the raised causeway. One foot slipped from the pedal, and losing control of the machine, she ran into the causeway, with the result that she was thrown to the ground, narrowly escaping a fall into the pond. Mrs W. Twist ran to her assistance, and Mr W. King also rendered help. The young lady, who was in a state of collapse, was conveyed into Mr Twist’s house, where she soon recovered and proceeded on her journey on foot. In addition to shock she sustained sundry bruises.

PARISH COUNCIL. 24th September 1909

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants School on Monday evening at which were present : Rev. A.C. Vidler, chairman, Messrs W.H. Key, vice chairman, G. Metcalfe, E.J. Warboys, J. Wells, H. Wilderspin, and Robinson Mitham, clerk. Various questions arising out of the minutes were discussed, the payment of certain bills was authorised. Three tenders for lighting, etc of the street lamps during the ensuing winter had been received. It was decided to accept the tender , £21 10s, of Mr Alfred Eason. The Chairman called attention to the shaky condition of the lamp post at Cow Fen End of Market Street, reported in the “Weekly News”. On the proposal of Mr Warboys, seconded by Mr Wilderspin, it was ordered that the post should be repaired immediately, but the question of re-painting was postponed until next spring. Mr Metcalfe said that expenses were increasing by leaps and bounds, and they would have to be curtailed. In his opinion, the first economy would be found in the abolition of the street lights. The Council decided that the lamps should be lighted for the first time on Friday, 1st , and the contractor should commence to extinguish the lamps a 10 o’clock each night.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 24th September 1909

Harvest thanksgiving services were held at the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Sunday and Monday last week. On Sunday afternoon members of the Over society gave solos and recitations. Mr G|. Green, of St Ives, presided. and Rev L. Kemish, the circuit minister, delivered an interesting address. The collections for the day amounted to 5s 11d and were devoted to the chapel fund. On Monday evening a tea was kindly provided by Mr Chapman and others Longstanton friends. Subsequently there was a Christian Endeavour Rally and thanksgiving service, friends from Oakington, St Ives, and Over societies rendering valuable assistance. Mr Richardson of Over presided. Afterwards the St Ives contingent rendered musical items, Mrs Kemish, gave a reading and Miss Smith and Miss Jude sang. Finally the Over society sang, Miss Whybrow recited, and short addresses were given by Mr J. Chapman and Mr J. Norris. The attendance was good. and the collections realised £1 15s 10d.

A MISCELLANEOUS TEAM. 24th Sept. 1909

At the end of last week a Swavesey tradesman stacked his wheat in a yard in the High Street. On Monday he proceeded to thresh it. At this time of the year a man has to take, in the way of labour, what he can get, and often finds in such circumstances a strange, not to say motley, crowd of workers, few of whom can with accuracy be called agricultural labourers. The tradesman's team on Monday was composed of representatives of many trades and occupations. A gardener stacked the straw, whilst on the wheat stack were a harness maker, a blacksmith. a basket maker, a carting contractor, and a leather-washer cutter. A signalman performed the duties of band cutter, a District Council roadman was the feeder, and a butcher carried the chaff away. a brewer was a sort of general superintendent.

THE WATER SUPPLY. 24th Sept. 1909.

A special parish meeting was held in the Infants School on Thursday evening of last week to elect two representatives to serve on the committee which is dealing with the question of the Swavesey water supply. The committee has hitherto consisted of the chairman and vice chairman of the Swavesey Rural District Council, the two Swavesey representatives on the Council, Messrs. W.C. Cole and A. Day, and the chairman of Swavesey Parish Council, Rev. A.C. Vidler, and Mr W.H. Key. In view of the strong opposition to the scheme suggested by the committee, it was felt that it was desirable the parishioners should have the opportunity, if they saw fit, to elect other representatives than Mr Vidler and Mr Key, who had been nominated by the District Council.

The meeting was poorly attended, and was marked by an entire absence of the excitement and acrimony which had been conspicuous at the previous Parish Council, and parish meetings. Mr Vidler, who presided, explained why the meeting had been called, and then explained the circumstances which had led to the appointment of the committee. The water had, he said, been condemned, and the District Council were compelled to find a fresh source of supply. No practical suggestion had been made as to a method of obtaining a supply of pure water in the parish, the meeting that had been held having been of protest only. He went into the financial aspect of the matter, and gave various illustrations. He announced that he and Mr Key had decided to resign their membership of the committee, as they had not been appointed by the parish, and so that the parishioners could elect two other representatives.

A long discussion followed, in which Messrs H. Wilderspin, W. Twist, W. Parish, G. Metcalfe, R. Mitham, G. Clarke, H. Beaumont, S.W. Crisp, Jethro Linford, W.H. Key, and others took part. The absence of the District Councillors was commented upon. Eventually it was proposed that George Metcalfe and William Thorp should be the representatives, Mr Metcalfe declined to act as he was quite satisfied with the present water supply, was bitterly opposed to the new scheme, and declined to serve on any committee charged with the duty of carrying it out. Mr William Thorp was absent. Mr Twist then proposed, second by Mr Beaumont, that the Chairman and Mr Key should continue to represent the parish. Mr Metcalfe proposed an amendment, seconded by Mr W. Parish, "that no one should be appointed to represent the parish at present." Mr Jethro Linford observed that he understood that if no one was appointed the two old representatives would remain in office. The Chairman concurred. On being put to the vote the amendment was lost, and the resolution was carried.

PARISH COUNCIL. 24th Sept. 1909.

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants School on Monday evening, at which were present; Rev. A.C.Vidler, chairman, Messrs. W.H.Key, vice-chairman, G.Mecalf, E.J.Warboys, J.Wells, H.Wilderspin and Robinson Mitham, clerk.

After various questions arising out of the minutes of the last meeting had been discussed, the payment of certain bills was authorised. The Chairman then announced that three tenders for lighting, etc. of the street lamps during the ensuing winter had been received. It was decided to accept the tender, £21 10s. of Mr Alfred Eason. The Chairman stated that attention had been called in a local newspaper, ("Weekly News and Express") to the shaky condition of the lamp post at Cow Fen end of Market Street, and a question had been asked as to when the posts were last painted. On the proposal of Mr Warboys, seconded by Mr Wilderspin, it was ordered that the post should be repaired immediately, but the question was postponed until next spring. Mr Metcalfe said that expenses were increasing by leaps and bounds, and that they should be curtailed. In his opinion the first economy would be found in the abolition of the street lamps. The Council decided that the lamps should be lighted for the first time this season on Friday, 1st and that the contractor should commence to extinguish the lamps at 10 o'clock each night. The Parish Meeting to authorise the expenditure on the lamps will be held on Thursday 30th instant.

LARGE MUSHROOM 1st October 1909

A mushroom measuring 33 inches in circumference has been gathered in Swavesey this week.

HARVEST FESTIVAL 1st October 1909

The harvest thanksgiving services at the Parish Church will be held on Thursday next, 7th inst. The preacher at Evensong will be the Rev Canon Nairne, Rector of Baldock, Herts.

NOVEL ROLLER 1st October 1909

A baker and a butcher on Tuesday were filling in a trench they had dug in order to clear a blocked drain, when they found the labour of ramming too arduous. It made their arms ache, they said. So they extemporised a roller. one sat in a wheelbarrow while the other trundled it backwards and forwards over the loose soil.

A PLUCKLY RESCUE. 1st October 1909

On Wednesday in last week, as the up Midland train due at Swavesey at 9.49 am., was approaching the station, an elderly lady was seen running across the line. A young porter, W. Carter, shouted to her to go back, but she seemed to lose her head, and ran in front of the engine. Carter pluckily rushed to her rescue, and just succeeded in dragging her on to the platform. A passenger who witnessed the occurrence described it as a very narrow escape, due entirely to the prompt action of the porter.

STREET LAMPS. 1st October 1909

The window frame, spouting, etc, of a row of cottages in High Street have just been repainted, Fixed against the wall of the cottage is the iron bracket of a public street lamp which is sadly in need of a coat of paint, and did not match with the spic-and-span window frames and spouting. His aesthetic sense being offended, Mr Sidney Beaumont, the painter, very kindly painted the bracket. it will be remembered that the Parish Council at their last meeting decided to postpone the question of repainting the street lamp-posts, etc, until next spring.

DEATH OF AGED INHABITANT. 1st October 1909

Another very aged inhabitant of Swavesey has passed away. on Friday morning last, after many years of great suffering, Mrs Rebecca Milton, wife of Mr Joseph Milton, died in her 80th year. There is much sympathy for Mr Milton, who has been unremitting in his care of his invalid wife during her prolonged illness. the funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev E Short, pastor, of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiating. Mr Milton belongs to an old Lolworth family, but he has lived in Swavesey parish for some years.

A SPILL. 1st October 1909

Still more excitement at the Swan Pond, the scene of the famous Swavesey water baby's exploits. At 11.30 a.m. on Saturday last Mr W. Twist, of Church End, accompanied by Mr Isaac Parish, was driving slowly by the pond when the rope wanty slipped and the cart tipped up. Both men scrambled out uninjured, Mr Twist retaining hold of the reins and both ran to the horse's head. Mr Twist attempted to seize the animal, but it punched him violently on the left arm and side, and he fell heavily to the ground. The cart toppled over on to its side. Mr Twist speedily regained his feet, Nr Parish held the horse, and Messrs Jabez Parish and F. Williams, who were near by, righted the cart. No damage was done to the horse, harness, or the vehicle, but Mr Twist was so badly bruised and shaken as to necessitate medical treatment. he is going on well.

WEST CAMBS REVISION. 1st October 1909

The Revising Barrister (Mr A. R. Macklin) held a Revision Court at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Tuesday morning, when the lists for the parishes of Conington, Boxworth, Lolworth, Childerley, Dry Drayton, Madingley, Girton, Longstanton All Saints, Longstanton St Michaels, Oakington, Westwick, Over, Fen Drayton, Willingham, and Swavesey, were revised. Mr J. Guyatt and Mr A. C. Watson represented the Liberals, and Mr A. F. Edwards the Conservatives.

FOOTBALL, 9th October 1909

A football club, to be known as the Swavesey United Football Club, has been established in the Village, and the under mentioned officers have been appointed: President, Hon E.S. Montugu, M.P. Vice-presidents: Rev. A.C. Vidler, Rev. J.F. Cooksey, Dr Ellis, Mr R.E. Bartley, Mr J.B. Ellis, Mr R.E. Long, and Mr A.E. Saunders. Captain: Mr W. Hephher, vice-captain Mr T, Harris, secretary, Mr E.J. Mitham, treasurer, Mr C. Ellis, Committee, Messrs F. Beaumont, S.J. Froment, W. Goad, and A.J. Wilson. Messrs Norman Bros have kindly allowed the club the use of Manor Field, close to the railway station. and Mr Montagu and Capt Morrison-Bell have shown their interest by forwarding a subscription. The club's colours are navy & sky blue. The first match was played at Bluntisham, on Saturday last, when Swavesey was defeated by four goals to nil. Other matches have been arranged with clubs at Elsworth, Haddenham, Long Stanton, Oakington, St. Ives, Somersham, and Bluntisham, (return)

PERSONAL 9th October 1909

Mr & Mrs Arthur King, who will shortly take up residence in Swavesey, are leaving Felstead, where they have held the post of schoolmaster and mistress for sixteen years. Mr King (who is the eldest son of Mr Wm King of Over) has been very popular in Felstead. He is a member of the parish council, and secretary of the Cricket Club. Mrs King has taken an active part in church work. She belongs to several parochial associations, and her departure, like her husband is deeply regretted. Mr King has a bright and prosperous future before him in his new venture at Swavesey Brewery.

PUNCTUALITY REWARDED. 9th October 1909

At the close of morning school on Friday last, medals and bars awarded by the County education Committee were presented by the Vicar the Rev A.C. Vidler, who addressed the children on the importance of punctuality, and attributed the regularity of those to whom medals or bars were given to the care of their parents. Mr H.S. Aldred, a manager, urged the children not to be content with anything short of excellence, and concluded with the lines "Good, better, best, Never let it rest, Till your good is better, And your better best." Medals: One year's good attendance: Reginald Seekings. Maud Stubbings, Maria Thorp. Joseph Ding. Two years bar: Richard Culpin. Three years bar: John Parish. Five years bar: Arthur Beaumont. Clara Thorp.

INTERESTING MARRIAGE. 9th October 1909

A wedding of considerable interest to the people of Swavesey and the neighbourhood took place on St Matthews's Day at the parish church of St Margaret, Durham, when Mr Anderson Wells, second son of Mr & Mrs James Wells of Swavesey, was married very quietly, owing to recent family bereavement, to Miss Mary Hawkes, eldest daughter of the late Mr Alfred Hawkes of Swavesey. The Rev Canon Roberson, Rector of St Margaret's officiated. The bride was charmingly attired in a violet gown, made in Empire style, with a large hat to match, and was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Wells and Miss Jessie Wells, sisters of the bridegroom. Presents were sent by a large number of friends and relations to the couple.

FRIENDS MEETING HOUSE 9th October 1909

Two interesting lantern lectures were given in the Friends Meeting House on Monday evening by Mr J. T. Allen, of Wisbech. The first at 6 o'clock was for children, some fifty of whom attended, and the second, an hour later entitled "Scenes on the Railway" was intended for adults. Mr Briggs, of Wisbech, manipulated the lantern.

CHURCH CLOCK IN TROUBLE. 9th October 1909

The smaller of the two weights of the clock in the tower of the parish church fell with a crash at 1.5pm on Sunday, in consequence of the steel wire cable breaking close to its junction with the rod carrying the weight. Fortunately the bending of the rod was the only damage done, but had the heavier weight fallen there would probably have been another tale to tell. There was no one in the church at the time of the occurrence, but Mr J. Bridgeford, who was in the yard of the Manor on the opposite side of the high road, heard the crash. At 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon the clock was again set going to the satisfaction of the dwellers in Church End and of persons hurrying to catch trains. The repairs were carried out by Mr E. Trench Smith, clockmaker, Huntingdon.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 9th October 1909

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Conservative Association was held in the National School on Wednesday evening, with Mr W.C. Cole, chairman, presiding. The Secretary, Mr A.E. Saunders, presented the annual report, which set forth the work done by the Committee during the past twelve months, and concluded with an appeal to members to work together, in view of the possibility of an early election. The years accounts, which showed a balance in the Treasurer's hands were passed. The officers and committee were re-elected with the addition of Messrs J.T.Daintree, C. Dean and W.Spolton. The meeting was brought to a conclusion with a vote of thanks to officers for their services in the past.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION 15th Oct. 1909.

Mr John Gilby, Church End, has been appointed joint secretary with Mr A.E.Saunders, of the Swavesey Conservative Association.

PUBLIC HOUSE CLOSED. 15th Oct. 1909.

The "Green Man" an ancient beer-house, which was referred for compensation a few months ago, drew its last pint of beer on Monday. The property was recently sold by Messrs. Greene, King & Co to Mr W. Daisley, late of Cambridge, but now resident in Swavesey.

AN INTRUDER, 15th October 1909.

On Wednesday evening in last week, whilst the cleaners were tidying the parish church after the harvest festival decorators had finished their labours, a sheep entered by the vestry door, walked through the chancel, and perambulated around the aisles, inspecting the decoration on its way. When it reached the tower the startled cleaners took it in hand and turned it out.

OUTDOOR RELIEF INCREASED. 15th October 1909

Thursday, Oct 7th, was a red letter day for some of the aged poor of Swavesey. on that day increased payments were made to persons 70 years of age and upwards who were in receipt of outdoor relief, so as to put them more or less on a footing with old age pensioners. The old people were loud in their expression of gratitude to the guardians of the St Ives Union.

HARVEST FESTIVAL 15th October 1909

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the parish church, on Thursday, 7th inst. Notwithstanding a general shortage of outdoor grown flowers, owing to the recent inclement weather, the lady workers were more than usually successful in their efforts to decorate the large and beautiful old church with flowers, autumn foliage and corn, whilst at the bases of the pillars at the western end of the nave were heaps of fruit, vegetables, and pots of honey. The festival opened with a celebration of Holy Communion at 7.30 am. and festal evensong was sung at 7 p.m. The services were taken by the vicar, Rev. A.C. Vidler, the Rev J.F. Cooksey and the Rev, Canon Nairne, Rector of Baldock Herts, preached an excellent sermon. The choir acquitted themselves right well, though somewhat handicapped through illness of the bass soloist. On Sunday afternoon there was a festal service at St Peter's Mission Church, Boxworth End, at which the children presented flowers and fruit, which was sent to St Ives Infirmary. The little church was crowded. The fruit and vegetables offered at the parish church have been forwarded to Adenbrooke's Hospital.

PRIMROSE LEAGUE, 15th October 1909

The newly formed Swavesey branch of the Croxton Habitation of the Primrose League held its inaugural gathering on Monday evening when the three local sub-wardens Mrs Bartley, Mrs Cole, and Mrs A.E. Saunders entertained the members to a sumptuous tea at the Swavesey National School. About 80 ladies sat down, and the tables were presided of by Miss Kirke Smith, Warden, Swavesey branch, Mrs Cooksey, Miss Ruth Vidler, Miss Helen Vidler, and Miss Bartley, in addition to the three hostesses. It was primarily a ladies function, but their male relations, and friends were invited to join in the festivities after tea. (long report)

AN INQUIRY 22nd October 1909

"A Weary Ploughman" wants to know when the stile in Longstanton Road at the end of the footpath from Cow Fen will be repaired, He says he was told the Parish Council gave orders for it to be attended to some time ago.

A NOVELTY 22nd October 1909

Amongst the things contributed to the harvest festival at Bethel Chapel last week was miniature wheat stack, properly thatched, the worth of Messrs J. Norman and W. Stocker, of School Lane. It attracted considerable attention.

LATE JOHN MITHAM. 22nd October 1909

A massive old-style Iona cross, in silver grey Cornish granite, 6ft 3in. in height, and weighing about 4 cwts has this week been erected over the grave of the late Mr John Mitham, in Swavesey churchyard. The base bears the following inscription: In loving memory of John Mitham, Born December 13th 1863. Entered into rest. March 30th, 1909. Rest eternal grant unto him, O Lord.

A CYCLIST AND AN UMBRELLA. 22nd Oct. 1909

A correspondent, under date of October 18th, writes; About a fortnight or three weeks ago a cyclist, who stated that he belonged to Willingham, was overtaken by a heavy shower of rain when on his way to Fen Stanton. He called at a cottage in School Lane, Swavesey, and asked for the loan of an umbrella as he was, he said, suffering from rheumatic and did not want to get wet. The occupant of the cottage was moved to pity, and, although the cyclist was unknown to her, very kindly lent her son's umbrella on a promise being given that it should be returned on the homeward journey. Nothing has, however, been since seen or heard of cyclist or umbrella, and yet,

The rain it raineth every day
Upon the just and unjust fellah
But mostly on the just because
The unjust's got the just's umbrella.

B. W.T.A. 22nd October 1909

On Monday evening the members of the Swavesey branch of the British Women's Temperance Association entertained their President, Mrs Watts White, to tea at the Friends Meeting House. After tea a committee meeting was held, at which arrangements were made for the winter's work. Subsequently the Secretary, Miss Gaunt, on behalf of the members, thanked Mrs White, who has recently left Swavesey for St Ives, from her past most highly valued services, and for her kind offer to continue to hold the office of president, an offer which has been gratefully accepted. Mrs White replied and said she was only too glad to do anything she could for a cause she had so much at heart. Miss May Godfrey sang a solo very sweetly, accompanied by Miss A Goad on the organ. Light refreshments having been handed round, the meeting was brought to a close with the singing of the Doxology.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 22nd October 1909

The harvest festival was held at the Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday, 14th instant. At 5.45 about 80 members of the congregation and their friends sat down to an excellent tea in the schoolroom attached to the chapel, the trays for which were provided by Mrs Stevens Mrs A. Norman, Mrs James Williams, Mrs Godfrey, Mrs Aldred, Mrs J. Hephher, Mr W.Carter, Miss Brand, Miss Starte, Miss Wimpres, Mrs W. Daisley, and Mrs Goad. At 6.30 p.m.

adjournment was made to the chapel, which had been most effectively decorated with flowers, wheat, hops, fruit and vegetables, contributed by members of the congregation and the Sunday School Children. A huge marrow, weighing 27lbs, grown and presented by Mr F. Dodson, was a noticeable feature. The service was particularly bright and hearty; Mr Stevens preached an earnest sermon. At the close of the service a collection was taken and the amount realised, rather more than £3, has been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd October 1909

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held in the National School on Thursday evening, the 14th inst. and was attended by the Rev A.C. Vidler, (chairman), Councillors, W.H. Key, (vice- chairman), J.T. Daintree, G. Metcalfe, E.J. Warboys, J. Wells, H. Wilderspin, and Robinson Mitham, (clerk) The Council met under somewhat depressing and disappointing circumstances. During last winter, complaints were numerous respecting the public lamps in the village streets. At their April meeting, the Council authorised the Lighting committee to have the lamps and fittings overhauled during the summer, when they were not in use, and put in proper order. Certain repairs were carried out, but unfortunately, when the new lighting contractor started operations on the 1st October, it was found that several of the burners would not act, that five of the oil reservoirs leaked badly, that some of the wooden posts were so shaky as to be unsafe, and that some of the lamp glasses were cracked. The clerk informed the meeting that he had received complaints from ratepayers that lamps near their residences had not been lighted. The contractor was present at the meeting, and after hearing his report, the Council decided that the posts should be repaired at once, that the cracked glasses should be replaced, that 12 new burners should be obtained, that a new oil container in place of that destroyed by fire last year should be purchased, and that five leaking reservoirs should be mended, also a lock should be placed on the door of the shed in which the lamps are stored when not in use. Mr Medcalfe proposed and Mr Key seconded, that tenders be invited for 12 burners, 12 glasses, and 1 oil container. The Lighting Committee to accept the tender they deemed most suitable, and to carry out the work with the least possible delay. The Chairman called attention to the condition of the river bank, near Fen Drayton Sluice, and said that if it was not repaired at once, a considerable area of Swavesey land was in danger of being flooded. It was agreed that he should write to the Clerk of the District Council on the matter. Orders were given for the repair of the stile at the end of School Green. The Clerk was instructed to write to the tenant of the parish property in High Street respecting the well of which he has the use.

WHIST DRIVE. 29th October 1909

An invitation whist drive will be held in the National School on Thursday evening next in aid of the funds of the Swavesey United Football Club.

HOUSES WANTED. 29th October 1909

Some inconvenience is being experienced owing to there being insufficient house accommodation in Swavesey. More than one person recently has been compelled to find a home elsewhere.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION. 29th October 1909

Dr Robinson, the Medical Officer of the County Education Committee, attended at the National School on Wednesday and examined the girls and boys of seven years of age and the boys of twelve and thirteen.

ACCIDENT. 29th October 1909

About midday on Wednesday, Dr Heardon, of St Ives, was driving from Fen Drayton to Swavesey, when his horse stepped on loose granite and fell injuring itself somewhat severely. It was taken to Swavesey and attended to by Mr Culpin, blacksmith and farrier, but its condition was such that it was deemed desirable to leave it in the village.

MESSAGE TO CANADA. 29th October 1909

Our Swavesey correspondent desires to thank his unknown friend in Canada for kindly sending him from Strathcona, Alberta, a copy of a lively and extremely up-to-date local journal. He agrees with his friend that many of the items in the Colonial paper would be an “eye opener” to, and would not “suit the party who objected to the Swavesey correspondent’s writings to the Cambridge paper”. It is highly gratifying to our correspondent to know that his contributions are of interest to Swavesey people thousands of miles away from home.

FLOODS 5th November 1909

A considerable amount of water is out on the low lying land near the river, and all stock has had to be removed.

MONTAGU’S MEETING. 5th November 1909

Swavesey Unionists attended Mr Montagu’s meeting at the National School on Monday evening in large numbers. (a full report of the meeting appears in another column.)

TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. 5th November 1909

BETHEL CHAPEL. 12th November 1909

The congregation of the Bethel Baptist Chapel were greatly disappointed on Sunday morning last. The Rev W. Bampton Taylor was to have preached on behalf of the Baptist Missionary Society, but was unable to attend in consequence of illness. The Rev W.H. Stevens, pastor, therefore occupied the pulpit. The attendance at both services was excellent. The collections throughout the day were devoted to the Missionary Fund.

WHIST DRIVE. 12th November 1909

In aid of the funds of the Swavesey United Football Club a most successful whist drive was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week, eighty ladies and gentlemen being present.

C.E.T.S. 12th November 1909

A sermon was preached at the parish church at evensong on Sunday in furtherance of the objects of the Church of England Temperance Society by the Rev Dr Ayles, Rector of Barrow, Bury St Edmunds. On Tuesday evening a meeting was held in the Parish Room. The proceeding opened with a hymn and a prayer, after which the Vicar, who presided, briefly addressed the meeting. Dr Ayles then gave an instructive address, in which he urged the great importance of the Forward Movement by society, and maintained that abstention from alcoholic drinks was for the benefit of the community physically and morally. He concluded with a strong appeal to his hearers to do all they could to combat the evils of drunkenness in the county.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR. 12th November 1909

The winter session of the Swavesey Society was inaugurated on Thursday evening, 4th inst., by a tea, followed by a concert in the schoolroom attached to the Bethel Baptist Chapel. There was a crowded attendance, many persons being unable to gain admittance to the room. (copy of the concert programme is attached to the report).

MISSIONARY MEETING. 12th November 1909

On Tuesday evening a meeting was held at Bethel Chapel in connection with the Baptist Missionary Society. The Rev W. H. Stevens presided, and briefly introduced the Rev W. L. Forfeitt, a missionary on furlough. Mr Forfeitt gave a thrilling resume of his 20 years work in the Congo. When he and a friend arrived in the country, they were the first white missionaries to visit that district. They began by teaching the natives how to work, and in six years succeeded in building a house and a church. Today the church there consists of nearly 100 native members. The speaker referred in trenchant terms to the rubber question, and declared that one word from King Leopold would stop all the cruelties of which so much has of late been heard. At the conclusion of his address a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speaker. The attendance was good, far better than at similar meetings in recent years, and interest in missionary work, which had been flagging, has considerably revived.

A NARROW ESCAPE. 19th November 1909

The daughter of a well-known inhabitant of Swavesey, whilst cycling along the High Street on Thursday afternoon in last week, had a narrow escape from a serious accident. A heavy sheep trough fell from a cart laden with miscellaneous farming appliances, and knocked her off her machine. Beyond a few bruises and a bent handle-bar, fortunately, no damage was done.

ACCIDENT AT THE RAILWAY STATION. 19th November 1909

On Tuesday afternoon, Mr Charles Webster, of Over, goods porter, fell from the top of a truck laden with trusses of hay and fractured two ribs. He was covering the hay with a sheet, when one of the trusses slipped, causing him to fall heavily on to the hard ground in the station yard. The acting signalman, Mr Carter, who witnessed the accident from the signal box, and Mr W. Perry, the stationmaster's son promptly, rendered assistance, and Mr Webster was conveyed to his home in Mr Bloom's Cart, which fortunately was in the station.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 19th November 1909

On Sunday afternoon last, special sermons were preached at the Swavesey Primitive Methodist Chapel on behalf of the Home and Foreign, Mission of the Connexion, by the Rev L.Kemish, circuit minister, and in the evening by Mr F. Reeson, of St Ives. On Wednesday evening a public missionary meeting was held in the chapel under the chairmanship of Mr Alfred Watts, of Over. The Rev L. Kemish submitted the annual report, and gave an address on missionary work. The Rev. W.H. Stevens, of Bethel Baptist Chapel, also spoke of his missionary experiences in the East End of London. Collections were taken at the services and at the meeting for Mission Fund.

TEMPERANCE SOCIAL 19th November 1909

The first meeting of the season of Bethel Temperance Society, was held on Thursday, 11th inst., and took the form of a social evening in the schoolroom attached to the Bethel Chapel. The Rev. W. H. Stevens, (pastor), presided, and the following programme arranged and conducted by Miss Goad. During the evening, impromptu speeches were delivered, the subject each orator dealt with being drawn at random from a hat. Mr Steven speaking on "The Swavesey Water Scheme", Mr W. Papworth on "Mr Asquith", Mr W. Daisley on "The Hon. E.S. Montagu, M.P.," etc. Excellent light refreshments were served. The room was crowded, and a collection made on behalf of Addenbrooke's Hospital realised £1. 6s.

CONSERVTIVE MEETING. 26th November 1909

CRICKET CLUB. 26th November 1909

A meeting of members of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School last Saturday evening. The accounts for the year were submitted, and showed a balance in hand of £1. 2s. 5d. The past season has been a successful one, 11 matches having been played, 7 won, 3 lost, and 1 drawn. It is hoped that before the opening of next season considerable improvements will be carried out on the ground.

B. W. T. A. 26th November 1909

A public meeting on behalf of the British Women's Temperance Association was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Monday evening. and was fairly attended considering that there were other meetings, in the village at the same time. The Rev W. H. Stevens, (pastor) presided, and introduced Mr T.P. Starke, District Agent of the United Kingdom Temperance Alliance, who delivered a most interesting and instructive address. He dealt with the scientific aspect of the temperance question, as well as referring to other sides. He maintained, for instance, that it was a mistake to suppose that alcohol was an aid to digestion, and adduced evidence to show that it acted in a contrary direction. In thanking mr Starke for his address, the Chairman said he had only heard one other temperance lecture to equal it and he expressed the hope that Mr Starke would come again soon, during the evening there was special singing by the choir which had recently formed in connection with the Swavesey branch of the Association.

LADY'S DEATH. 26th November 1909

Late on Wednesday evening the village of Swavesey was shocked to hear that an aged inhabitant had been found dead in bed. Mrs Ann Wilderspin, aged 78 years, widow of Mr John Wilderspin, who died two years ago, has lived alone in a cottage in Askew Row. During Tuesday afternoon she went into the next door cottage, tenanted by Mr S. Wright, and had a conversation with Mrs Wright. She was then in her usual health. Nothing having been seen or heard of her during Wednesday, Mrs Wright entered the cottage about 9.p.m. She noticed that the fire in the living room had not been alight during the day, so went upstairs and discovered the old lady lying in her night clothes , comfortably tucked up in bed, and apparently asleep. On approaching the bed she found that to her dismay that Mrs Wilderspin was dead, and there was every appearance of her having passed peacefully away in her sleep without a struggle. P.C. Plowman was once called in and Dr Ellis, who was summoned and quickly on the spot, expressed the opinion that death had occurred at least 12 hours previously, rigor mortis being strongly pronounced. Mrs Wilderspin has been known to suffered from cardiac weakness for some years, she was greatly respected, and was well known as Nurse Wilderspin, have assisted at the birth of many people in the district.

A SMASH. 26th Nov. 1909.

About eight o'clock on Tuesday morning two horses attached to an empty tumbrel cart belonging to Mr Robinson Mitham bolted from Cow Fen end of Market Street, and in turning the sharp corner by the White Horse came into collision with a cart laden with gravel proceeding towards Boxworth End. The wheel of one cart got firmly wedged in the wheel of the other, and though plenty of willing helpers were quickly on the spot, about an hour elapsed before the two vehicles could be separated. Even then it was necessary to take the wheel off the tumbrel. The horses were not damaged.

B.W.T.A. 26th Nov. 1909.

A public meeting on behalf of the British Women's Temperance Association was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Monday evening, and was very fairly attended considering that there were other meetings, etc. in the village at the same time. The Rev. W.H. Stevens, pastor of the chapel presided, and introduced Mr T.P. Starke, District Agent of the United Kingdom Temperance Alliance, who delivered a most interesting and instructive address. He spoke for about an hour and a quarter, and dealt with the scientific aspect of the temperance question, as well as referring to other sides. He maintained, for instance, that it was a mistake to suppose that alcohol was an aid to digestion, and he adduced evidence to show that it acted in a contrary direction. In thanking Mr Starke for his address, the Chairman said he had only heard one other temperance lecture to equal it, and he expressed the hope that Mr Starke would come again soon. During the evening there was a special singing by the choir which had recently formed in connection with the Swavesey branch of the Association.

An ordinary meeting of the Swavesey Branch of the Croxton Habitation of the Primrose League was held in the National School on Tuesday evening. Mrs W. C. Cole presided and was supported by Miss Kirke Smith, (warden) Mrs A. King, and Mrs Cooksey. Miss Smith gave an interesting address, basing her remarks on the primrose and its significance. There was a good attendance .

FUNERAL 3rd December 1909

The funeral of Mrs Ann Wilderspin , whose sudden death was announced last week, took place on Saturday afternoon in the Cemetery. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, who officiated, delivered an appreciative address on the life of the deceased, and urged his hearers to follow the example set by the unselfish life of the deceased. (A list of the mourners present follows.) The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr Walter Thorp.

TARIFF REFORM MEETING. 3rd December 1909.

Capt E. Morrison-Bell, the Conservative & Unionist candidate for West Cambs, addressed a meeting at Swavesey last Thursday night. The weather was, of course, very unpleasant and the schoolroom did not contain a very big audience. The made by the candidate and Mr E.B. Broadway, of the Tariff Reform League were received with enthusiasm. The opposition was small. The candidate answered several questions put to him. A resolution in favour was carried with only one dissident.

FOOTBALL. 10th December 1909

The Swavesey footballers visited St Ives on the 2nd inst., and succeeded in defeating the St Ives Dragons by three goals to nil, owing to the heavy rain the time had to be curtailed, and only one hour's play was possible. Swavesey scored about five minutes after the kick-off, and increased their lead by two more goal before time was called.

ACCIDENT. 10th December 1909

Early on Monday morning Mr Sidney Beaumont, whilst assisting Mr Prime Godfrey, Carting contractor, to release a horse which was dragging a heavily laden cart, and had fallen on the ice in School-lane, slipped and seriously injured his knee. It has been necessary to call in the doctor, who ordered Mr Beaumont to bed, where he remains.

THE GALE. 10th December 1909

The heavy rain on Thursday in last week was followed by a severe gale. During the night and on Friday morning the wind blew with great violence, but no very serious damage was done. a cart shed and straw stack at Boxworth End, and a tree or two at the Manor were blown down. Baskets were carried on to the line, at the railway station, and about 9 a.m. one of the large doors of the goods shed was smashed. During the night the driver of a train informed the signalman that basket were scattered over the line at Longstanton. On Friday morning a lad had a large bundle of newspapers blown from under his arm, and the people of high street appeared to be amused at his frantic endeavours to chase and recover the papers.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 17th December 1909

A special service , with hymns and carols, the latter sung by children, will be held in Bethel Chapel at 10 30 a.m. On Christmas Day. The Rev W.H. Stevens will give an address.

LANTERN LECTURE 17th December 1909

On Monday evening Mr T.J. Allen, the well-known lecturer, of Wisbech, gave two lantern lectures in Bethel Chapel. The first, for children, was entitled a "Bit of Blue". The second lecture, for adults, was at a quarter- past seven. It was called "Her Benny." and was the story of a waif. Hymns thrown on a sheet were song with heartiness by a considerable assemblage. After the second lecture, a vote of thanks to the lecturer, moved by Mr Stevens, was carried unanimously. Mr Allen's services being gratuitous, the collection was devoted to the chapel funds.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 17th December 1909

A well-attended meeting under the presidency of the Vicar was held in the National School on Tuesday evening, with the view of establishing a Voluntary Aid Detachment for Swavesey and neighbourhood in connection with the Territorial Association. Mr A. E. Hoare, of Milton Hall, County Director of the Red Cross Society, gave a lucid explanation of the proposal, and at the end of the meeting about 30 women and 20 men intimated that they wished to attend the classes for instruction in first aid and nursing, which are to be held this winter under the auspices of the St John's Ambulance Association. Mr Hoare expressed his gratitude to Dr Ellis, who has kindly volunteered to act as instructor.

A RIDDLE 17th December 1909

A correspondent writes:- A peripatetic vendor of muffins one afternoon this week asked a burly native at Boxworth End the distance to Longstanton, and was told "about two miles" On reaching the corner of Ramper, or Longstanton Road, about a couple of hundred yard's walk, he discovered that the sign post recorded the distance as three miles, and he not unnaturally gave voluble expression of his opinion of native veracity. Now, sir, we Swavesey people have always been under the impression that the distance between the two villages is two miles, and the sign post, unless my memory is greatly at fault, declared the same fact until it was re-painted not long ago. Why was the distance altered? The mistake, if it be one, led to sad results. The weary and disgusted purveyor of the tasty but indigestible edible said he did not mind two miles, but he'd be sugared if he tramped three; and so our Longstanton neighbours had no muffins for tea.

BAND OF HOPE. 17th December 1909

On Thursday, 9th instant, an entertainment was given in the schoolroom attached to the Bethel Baptist Chapel by the children of the Band of Hope. The room was crowded, many persons being unable to gain admittance. The following children took part:- Grace Holmes. Marshall Strapp. Elsie Savage. Gladys Holmes. Florrie Daintree. Alice Norman. Ruth Coulson. Alber Holmes. Lily Kester. Nellie Prior. Amy Dunthorne. Lily Goad. Henry Holmes. Sarah Savage. Carrie Crisp. Tom Daintree. Ethel Daintree. The Rev, W.H. Stevens (pastor) presided. A collection was made in aid of the Band of Hope.

THE WEATHER. 24th December 1909

A few ardent skaters ventured on the ice near Hog Pasture, and on Twenty Acres. on Tuesday afternoon, but during the night and early on Wednesday morning the rain fell heavily.

LATE T. W. CARTER. 24th December 1909

A handsome tombstone has been erected over the grave of the late Mr T.W. Carter in Swavesey Cemetery. It is a massive square column of white marble, carved at the top and surmounted by a draped urn, and it bears the following inscription, “ In loving memory of Thomas Watso Carter, the beloved husband of Harriet Carter, born June 6 1824, died April 9 1909. having filled the office of decon, superintendent and treasurer of Bethel Baptist Chapel for over 50years.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 24th December 1909

On Monday evening the members of the George & Dragon Share-Out Club. met at the Little rose for the annual distribution of funds. The “share-out” amounted to £1 2s 8d. per member. This includes the cost of the supper, and £6 8s has been paid for sickness during the year of 51 weeks. On the following evening the annual supper was held at the Little Rose. An excellent meal was provided in their well-known style by the host & hostess Mr & Mrs George Clarke, and was done full justice to by all present. The rest of the evening was spent in conviviality, and numerous songs were song.

LONGEVITY. 31st Dec. 1909 3rd

A correspondent writes - A short time ago an account appeared in the “Weekly News and Express” of a large number of persons then living in the parish of Over who were 70 years of age and upwards, and several London newspapers kindly copied the information. Some of your readers may be interested to know how many persons over 70 years of age passed to their rest during the years 1908 and 1909 respectively. During the former year 11 persons over 71 died, one of whom was 92, two 89, one 87, one 86, and another 81 years. The average age of the 11 persons was 81 years. During 1909, nine persons over 70 have died, one of whom was 89, and one 82, the average for the nine being 77 years. It may also be of interest to mention that the average number of deaths in the parish during the last 14 years has been 17 per annum.

TABLE TALK.

Once upon a time in old Verona lovesick, Juliet, reproved amorous Romeo for swearing by the moon, the inconstant moon.

A Swavesey cottager recently called the luminary of the night another name. Tired with his day's labour - his daylight hours are mainly spent assisting a farmer with the cultivation of his land - he retired to rest. The sky was then overcast, but no sooner had the horny-handed son of toil closed his weary eyes in sleep than the inconsistent moon emerged from her nebulous hiding place, and flooded the homely bedchamber with light. The cottager awoke, rubbed his eyes and thinking that day had come, though the night seemed to have been unusually short, rose from his bed, donned his clothes and went down stairs, As he entered the living room the cuckoo clock hanging on the wall announced the witching hour of midnight, and - well the moon was apostrophized in terms Shakespearean in their vigour. Did the cottager return to bed? Not he. Why should he, he socialize, give himself the trouble of again undressing, only to dress once more, No, he lighted his fire, boiled his kettle, brewed himself a cup of the beverage that cheers, but does not intoxicate, and thus fortified he sat down in his armchair and patiently waited for dawn. At 4 a.m. he proceeded to dig his garden. Two nights later he had a kind of revenge on the moon for he worked all night in his garden by its brilliant rays. The neighbours thought burglars were about.

NOT A THERMOMETER.

The chances of success of a youthful aspirant to the teaching profession were being discussed the other day, when a friend of the family happened to speak of the young lady as a pupil teacher. Her small brother promptly corrected the speaker, "She's not a pupil teacher" said he, "she's only a thermometer". The family friend gazed in wonder at the human recorder of temperature, and was much disappointed afterwards to discover that the small boy meant a monitor.

A VOICE FROM THE GRAVE.

The following incident is said to have occurred some years ago in a village on the borders of Cambs. and Hunts :- A man, who had been spending the evening in a public house, on his way home had to pass through a churchyard. His steps were uncertain, and by the side of the path was an open grave into which, in the darkness, he fell. Unable to get out the man made himself as comfortable as possible for the night. About 4 o'clock the following morning a horse keeper on his way to work passed along the church path, and anxious to know the time threw the light of the lantern he was carrying towards the clock on the church tower. Addressing himself he remarked aloud, "I wonder if its four yet" "Yes" came a voice from the grave, "the clock's just struck four". The horse keeper bolted, but is alive to this day to tell the tale.

WELCOME GIFT. 14th Jan. 1910

Captain J. D. Daintree, R.N., has sent his usual gift of money for distribution amongst his poorer tenants, and certain other needy persons.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 14th Jan. 1910

Captain Morrison-Bell paid a visit to the new room of the Swavesey District Conservative Association at the Top Leys' Cottage on Monday evening. A largely attended committee meeting was being held at the time, and Captain Bell was given an enthusiastic reception.

RUNAWAY PONY. 14th Jan. 1910

A pony belonging to Mr. Benjamin Prior, Boxworth End, caused a great commotion about noon on Saturday last. One of Mr. Prior's sons was about to take the animal out of a spring cart when a small child aged about six slipped the halter off. The pony bolted. Young Prior caught at its head, but could not hold it. Off went the pony and cart along the main road, down Fen Drayton road, then off to the left through Scotland Drove. On reaching the High Road, where a County Council roadman tried to stop the runaway, the pony turned towards Cambridge, and at the New Inn dashed round the corner homewards. It reached Mr. Prior's yard safely, but in negotiating the gate caught the post, and off came both wheels and axle trees. At an inner gateway still further damage was done to the cart, but the pony was not injured in any way, nor was the harness. Numerous attempts to stop the pony were made by men and women all along the long route.

A NONOGENARIAN. 21st Jan. 1910

Mrs. Mary Ding, of Church End, celebrated her 90th birthday on Saturday last. For the last few weeks she has been bedridden, but her faculties are as clear as ever.

PREMATURE REJOICING. 21st Jan. 1910

Swavesey village was in a state of excitement on Saturday night over the Cambridge election. The first report was that Mr. Buckmaster was in with a majority of 234, and energetic Liberals traversed the long village bearing the glad tidings. After an interval another party, consisting of Unionists, followed, proclaiming with shouts and cheers that Mr. Paget was the victor.

The village did not settle down until about 1 a.m. on Sunday. The Liberal supporter who first received the false report retired to bed and slept the sleep of the just, and did not discover the mistake until next morning.

SCHOOL CLOSED. 28th Jan. 1910

In consequence of the large amount of illness amongst the children, the National School have been closed this week.

SKATING. 28th Jan. 1910

Mere Fen, close to Swavesey Railway Station, was opened to the public for a small charge for skating on Thursday morning. A few local skaters enjoyed themselves there the previous day. There are also good stretches of very fair ice in Middle Fen, Swavesey, and other places near the river.

FINGERS CRUSHED. 28th Jan. 1910

Charles Ding, aged 16 years, elder son of Mr. Peter Ding, Askew-row, Swavesey, whilst attending a threshing machine at Messrs. Norman Bros., Hill Farm, on Wednesday morning, had three fingers crushed. He at once received medical attention, and is doing as well as can be expected.

SLIPPERY ROADS. 28th Jan. 1910

Owing to the sharp frost last Saturday morning the roads through Swavesey were slippery and dangerous. In High-street a cart belonging to Mr. Thomas Prior, heavily laden with sacks of corn, on their way to the railway station, came to grief. The horse fell, and it was some time before it could be got up. Gravel was spread later on.

A NOISY DEMONSTRATION. 28th Jan. 1910

A large party of youths, women, girls, and boys from Willingham and Over, with a small contingent from Cottenham, visited Swavesey between 10 and 11 on Saturday night, and greatly disturbed people. They carried flags and a loaf of bread on a fork. They shouted, knocked, and rang at the doors of Conservatives, but in two instances visited wrong houses. They tried to pull down flags. At Boxworth End they took a farmyard gate from its hinges and threw it into a garden. The arrival of the aged farmer on the scene prevented further damage.

A RUNAWAY SPILLS MILK. 28th Jan. 1910

About 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, whilst Mr. Edward Warboys was delivering milk from a cart in High-street his horse bolted and collided with a cart belonging to Mrs. John Mitham, of Lolworth. The wheels of the two carts were locked, and both horses raced along the village. At the corner of Market-street the milk cart struck Mr. Scard's house, doing some slight damage to the wall. The runaways were stopped. No one was injured, but both shafts of Mr. Warboys' cart were broken off, a wheel spoke fractured, the axle bent, and all the milk spilled.

DEATH OF MRS. J. HEPHER. 28th Jan. 1910

We regret to announce the death, on Friday afternoon, 21st inst., of Mrs. Harriet Hepher, wife of Mr. Jesse Hepher, tailor, and registrar of births and deaths for the Swavesey district. Mrs. Hepher, who was 70 years of age, had been in bad health for some considerable time. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon in Swavesey Cemetery, in the presence of a large number of sympathising friends and neighbours. The Rev. W. H. Stevens, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. Jesse Hepher (widower), Messrs. Albert Hepher, Walter Hepher, Thomas Hepher, and Wilfred Hepher (sons), Mrs. Tickner (sister), Mr. H. A. Aldred (son-in-law), Mrs. Walter Hepher (daughter-in-law), and Mr. W. Twist. Mr. Robinson Mitham, of Swavesey, was the undertaker.

SWAVESEY SCHOOL REOPENED. 4th Feb. 1910

On Monday last the National School, which had been closed on account of illness amongst the children, was re-opened.

SKATING. 4th Feb. 1910

The ice on Mere Fen attracted a large crowd of skaters on Thursday in last week, but next day a thaw set in. On Sunday and Monday there was again skating, but on the latter day the ice was covered with water, and there were several immersions.

A WHITE THRUSH. 4th Feb. 1910

On Monday last Mr. Herbert Wilderspin shot a thrush with two white wings and a partly white tail.

AN OCTOGENARIAN'S BIRTHDAY. 11th Feb. 1910

The oldest male inhabitant of Swavesey, the venerable Mr. Thomas Payne, was 88 years of age on Saturday, January 29th, and he celebrated the event by gifts of tea and sugar to his poorer tenants and certain needy widows and widowers. The presents were made through Mr. Alfred Williams, of High-street. A tenant and near neighbour of Mr. Payne's, Mrs. Mary Ding, attained the age of 90 years a fortnight previously. She is the oldest woman in the parish.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 11th Feb. 1910

On Thursday, 3rd inst., the annual meeting in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel was held in the vestry. Tea was provided at 6 o'clock, at which about 60 members and friends sat down. The trays were presided over by Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. Wimpres, Mrs. Godfrey, Miss Williams, Miss Starte, and Miss Hayes. A business meeting followed. Rev. W. H. Stevens (pastor) occupied the chair, and the treasurer, Mr. Arthur Norman, presented the annual statement, which was regarded as highly satisfactory, though it showed a decreased balance in hand. Mr. H. Starte also gave a cheering financial report of the Sunday School fund, of which he is treasurer. Brief speeches were made by Messrs. J. Day (deacon), and B. Prior, and H. S. Aldred (superintendent of the Sunday School), and sympathetic reference was made to the enforced absence, through illness, of the Secretary, Mr. James Williams. Thanks were also accorded to the voluntary workers, whose untiring labours are greatly appreciated by all concerned.

FUNERAL. 11th Feb. 1910

Mrs. Caroline Mitham, a native of, and for many years a resident in, Swavesey, died at her residence in Manchester on Saturday, 29th January, aged 73 years, after a week's illness. She was the daughter of the late Mr. Edward Thorp, farmer, of Swavesey, and widow of Mr. James Webster Mitham, who prior to his migrating to Manchester 28 years ago was landlord of the New Inn at the corner of the Cambridge and Swavesey roads. The body, enclosed in a handsome panelled oak coffin, with heavy brass furniture, and accompanied by some of the chief mourners, was conveyed by railway from Manchester on Thursday, 3rd inst., for interment in the grave in Swavesey churchyard in which the late Mr. Mitham was laid to rest 11 years ago. The funeral took place immediately after the arrival at Swavesey station, the Rev. A C. Vidler, vicar, officiating. The mourners included the only son and two daughters of the deceased, two grandchildren, Mrs. A. Richman and Mrs. Barrett (sisters), and Mr. Edward Thorp (brother). There were numerous beautiful wreaths and other floral tributes. Mr. George Mitham, of Middle Watch, Swavesey, was responsible for the funeral arrangements.

A DEFECTIVE CAUSEWAY. 18th Feb. 1910

A correspondent asks what public body is responsible for keeping the raised causeway by the Swan Pond in repair. Stones are falling out in all directions, and several people in the darkness have tripped over them and narrowly escaped serious falls. He understands that the attention of the Clerk of the Rural District Council has been called to the matter, but as nothing has been done he presumes some other authority is responsible. The causeway is of vital consequence in the event of a high flood, as it is the only path by which pedestrians can reach the parish church and the railway station.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 18th Feb. 1910

At a meeting of the committee of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, held at Top Leys' Cottage on Thursday evening in last week, a resolution was carried unanimously recording the hearty appreciation of the committee of Capt. E. W. Morrison-Bells' gallant, though unsuccessful, attempt to win back West Cambs. to the Conservative and Unionist cause.

TRIUMPHANT LIBERALS. 18th Feb. 1910

A united meeting of members and friends of the Swavesey Men's and Women's Liberal Associations was held on Monday evening in the Friends' Meeting House. About 110 persons sat down to tea at 6 o'clock, the following ladies presiding at the tables: Mrs. E. Parish, Mrs. Z. Parish, Mrs. Day, Mrs. W. Marriott (Secretary of the Women's Liberal Association), Mrs. Twist, Mrs. Wimpress, Mrs. Godfrey, Miss Haynes, and Miss S. Parish. Mr. E. Parish presided at the public meeting which followed. The Chairman, referring to the recent election, said that it was a clean fight and a handsome victory. Mr. A. L. Parish (Hon. Sec. of the Swavesey Liberal Association) read a telegram from the Member. Mr. Montagu expressed regret at his absence, and thanked his Swavesey friends for their kind co-operation and support. After several addresses, thanks were accorded to the Chairman and speakers, as well as the ladies who had arranged the tea, and the meeting terminated with the singing of the Doxology and the National Anthem.

SWAVESEY RURAL COUNCIL. 25th Feb. 1910

The monthly meeting was held on Wednesday morning at the St. Ives Union Workhouse. There were no members present at the Finance Committee on Monday to consider the estimate for the half-year ending Michaelmas, 1910, and the estimate was produced at the meeting and adopted. A letter from Mr. Charles Ellis, asking the Council to instruct him to let the Swavesey herbage, was dealt with. It was agreed to apply for the necessary loan for the Swavesey water supply and to get a report from the engineer.

PARISH CHURCH. 25th Feb. 1910

The Rev. H. G. Hooton, Vicar of Oakington, preached at the special Lenten service at the parish church on Wednesday evening.

TREE FELLING. 25th Feb. 1910

Some amusement was caused in School-lane on Wednesday afternoon by a party of amateur tree fellers, who were lopping the large top branches of an old poplar tree. The amateurs, however, succeeded in their task, much to the disappointment of their critics, knocked down no chimneys and smashed no tiles, nor were any necks broken.

THE LAND OF THE RISING SUN. 25th Feb. 1910

Under the auspices of the Swavesey Branch of the British Women's Temperance Association, a costume lecture will be given in Swavesey National School on Monday evening next by Miss Lucy Broad, her subject being "Life and work in Japan, the land of the Rising Sun." The Vicar of Swavesey will preside.

SERVICE OF SONG. 25th Feb. 1910

On Monday evening the members of St. Ives Christian Endeavour Society gave a service of song in the Primitive Methodist Chapel. There was a large attendance. Mr. Jude, of St. Ives, presided, and Miss Jude officiated at the harmonium. Solos were sung by Miss Jude, and Miss Smith, and the latter gave a recitation, as also did Mr. Hines, jun. A collection was made in aid of the chapel funds.

FOOTPATH UNDER WATER. 25th Feb. 1910

A correspondent writes: - I was glad to see that attention was called last week in your valuable paper to the decaying state of the important raised causeway at Church-end. May I direct the notice of the road authorities to the condition of the footpath by the side of the highway in Middle Watch and Boxworth End. In several places it is impassable in wet weather, such as we have been well favoured with of late, owing to defective drains.

FOOTBALL. 25th Feb. 1910

On Saturday afternoon, the Swavesey footballers were at home to a team from Bluntisham and district. A keenly-fought, level game was played, and the visitors won by two goals to nil. The homesters played up well, and the result was hardly a fair indication of the game. The first goal was kicked by S. Mitham, of Swavesey, who acted as substitute, and the second goal was gained just as the referee's call of time was sounded.

THE UNEMPLOYED. 25th Feb. 1910

Four stalwart men marching in couples in close order, and preceded by a collector armed with a cigar box in the lid of which was a slit for the coins of the benevolent, paraded the village of Swavesey on Saturday last. In stentorian tones they sang songs mainly as to what would happen to England if they did not get work, but it is to be feared neither the music nor the appeals of the collector to passers-by and at house doors had a satisfactory result. Affixed to the lid of the cigar box was a printed label, with the words "City of Sheffield Unemployed."

BETHEL CHAPEL. 11th March 1910

Messrs. Ebenezer Prime and J. H. Starte have been appointed deacons of Bethel Baptist Chapel.

CRICKET CLUB. 11th March 1910

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club held recently at the National School, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Captain, Mr. W. Goad; vice-captain, Mr. T. Harris; treasurer, Mr. A. J. Willson; secretary, Mr. E. J. Mitham; assistant secretary, Mr. Wilfred Hephner; committee, Messrs. T. Goad, F. Beaumont, C. Ellis, S. J. Froment, A. T. Scard, R. Mitham and S. E. Mitham. Mr. Ellis Long has kindly allowed the club once again to use his field in School-lane as the cricket ground.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 11th March 1910

On Tuesday evening a service of song, entitled "After the War," was given by the members of the Oakington Christian Endeavour Society. The connecting readings were rendered by Mr. J. Tibbitt of Dry Drayton, and Mr. Edward Papworth of Oakington was accompanist. Mr. J. Jillings of Longstanton, presided. The service was greatly appreciated by a crowded congregation, and a good collection was taken on behalf of the Chapel Sunday School.

MISS LUCY BROAD ON JAPAN. 11th March 1910

The large room of Swavesey National School was crowded with an appreciative audience on Monday week to hear that well-known lecturer and traveller, Miss Lucy Broad lecture on "Life and Work in Japan." The meeting was under the auspices of the Swavesey branch of the B.W.T.A. and was organised by Dr. And Mrs. Watts White, late of Swavesey, but now resident in St. Ives. The Vicar of Swavesey presided, and after the singing of a hymn, a short reading from the Holy Scriptures, and three prayers, he briefly introduced Miss Broad and warmly welcomed her to Swavesey. Miss Broad was attired in a flowered blue Kimona, the Japanese national dress, and was accompanied by two small Swavesey children, a boy wearing a Rickshaw man's Kimona, with his license embroidered on the back of the garment, and a girl in the dress, also a Kimona, of a small Jap lassie, with a doll representing a baby strapped in a bundle on her back.

The lecturer began by stating that there were two sides to every question, a bright and a dark, and she was afraid that some travellers had painted a too rosy picture of Japan. She spoke of Japanese drinking habits (her work in Japan had been in connection with the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Association). She also spoke of the system under which girls entered houses of ill-fame and condemned the system of forced marriages. On the bright side she spoke of the beautiful country, great productfulness, and the cleanliness of the people. She gave several amusing incidents in her travels, and concluded with an earnest appeal for increased membership of the B.W.T.A. with which the World's Women's Christian Temperance Association was working in concert.

Dr. Watts White proposed a hearty vote of thanks, which was carried with acclamation, to the Chairman and Miss Broad, assuring the latter that he esteemed her visit as a joint favour. After singing another hymn, the Vicar said a prayer, and the crowded gathering dispersed.

PARISH COUNCIL ELECTIONS. 18th March 1910

The Vicar (Rev. A. C. Vidler) presided, and with one exception an entirely new set of councillors was returned to office. Fifteen candidates were nominated for nine places. The successful candidates were as follows:- Messrs J. S. Goad, A. Norman, A. Day, R. Norman, Jethro Linford, W. Burton, W. Daisley, W. Twist and J. W. Parish. Mr. Goad was the only member of the old Council who was re-elected.

PENTECOSTAL LEAGUE. 18th March 1910

A meeting in connection with the Pentecostal League was held in the Friends' Meeting House on Monday evening. Miss Phillips, of London, conducted the proceedings.

FOOTBALL. 18th March 1910

The Swavesey Football Club were at home to a team from St. Ives comprised of players from the Town and other clubs. The home team had most of the play throughout, but were weak in front of goal, or St. Ives would have sustained a heavier defeat. Swavesey obtained the first goal. Upon resuming after the interval St. Ives equalised, but after some hard play Swavesey scored again. As nothing further resulted the homesters won an uninteresting game by 2 goals to 1.

A RUNAWAY. 18th March 1910

Between 12 and 1 p.m. on Thursday in last week Mr. Starte's four-wheel covered van was left for a moment outside the railway station gates. Without warning the horse bolted towards the village. The lad in charge followed on foot as fast as his legs could carry him, and before the runaway reached the Swan pond Mr. John Gilby, a pensioned London detective, rushed into the road and seized the horse's head. No damage was done.

A LETTER FROM CANADA. 18th March 1910

As so many Swavesey people have friends and relatives in Canada, the following extracts from a letter Mrs. W. C. Cole, of The Farm, Swavesey, has received from her brother, Mr. Herbert King, may be of interest. Mr. King writes from Lloydminster, Alberta. "Every country in the world has made England the dumping ground of all rubbish that is grown and manufactured. Not a colony of the British Empire is shown any preference whatever. Canada in a few years will cast off the yoke of the British and be an independent country. The Canadian Government is giving the United States every preference to induce the Yankees to seek homesteads, and there is an enormous influx of Americans every year. Not only that there are wealthy companies buying up the mining properties, forests, coal, oil, &c. In fact the United States Government is buying the whole output of gold, which is many millions a year, and not one ounce does the Canadian buy? Why is that? Simply because she cannot get rid of the surplus stock of farm produce and manufactured articles on account of Free Trade in England. That is what Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has been agitating for years, but the House of Commons will not see it. From a tariff tax what an enormous revenue the Government would reap, and your other taxes would be greatly reduced. Just fancy what warships they could build to protect their merchant vessels! The Canadian Government are only buying sufficient silver for coinage. No gold coins are issued from the Mint – it is all paper issue."

THE NEW COUNCIL. 18th March 1910

Referring to the election of parish councillors on Monday, a correspondent writes: - "We have now got a thoroughly 'Progressive' Parish Council in Swavesey, formed entirely of Nonconformists, whereas the late Council, which was supposed to be a 'Moderate' one, was composed of 5 Churchmen and four Nonconformists. But the result of last Monday's parish meeting must not be taken as a true index of the feeling of the whole of the parish. The Progressives were organised up to the hilt. The Moderates 'let things slide,' and trusted to luck. Had a poll been demanded there is every reason to believe that some of the happy nine would have to retire into obscurity for the next three year; but no poll was called for, as the unsuccessful party did not wish to put their parish to expense. It is interesting to note that one of the successful candidates was proposed by the Chairman of the Conservative Association, and was seconded by a member of the Conservative Committee, who also nominated another successful candidate. On the other hand, no Progressive proposed or seconded a Moderate candidate. Of the new councillors, six are owners, one a large tenant farmer, and only one a working man in the common acceptance of the term."

BETHEL SUNDAY SCHOOL. 18th March 1910

The parents' tea and reunion of former scholars in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School was held on Thursday evening in last week, when about eighty persons sat down to an excellent repast. The tables were charmingly decorated with flowers, kindly arranged by Mrs. T. W. Carter, of The Poplars, and the trays were presided over by Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. W. Coulson, Miss Wilderspin, Miss Prior, Miss Williams, and Miss Smith. After tea there was a public meeting under the presidency of the Pastor, the Rev. W. H. Stevens, whose address was followed by words of a cheering character from other speakers. Mr. H. S. Aldred (superintendent) also briefly addressed the gathering. During the meeting feeling reference was made to Mr. James Williams, who has been for very many years a deacon and active worker in the chapel, in his trying affliction, and a vote of sympathy with him was passed, the entire audience rising. The meeting closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again."

PAROCHIAL TEA. 25th March 1910

The annual parochial tea was held in the National School on Wednesday evening and was well attended. After tea the Rev. Norman W. Shelton, Vicar of St. Andrew's, Old Chesterton, gave an interesting lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, on home missionary work. The lantern was ably manipulated by Miss Vidler. A collection was made on behalf of the Additional Curates' Society (Church of England Home Missions). On the call of the Vicar, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the lecturer.

A CURIOUS FIND. 25th March 1910

A tennis ball was found in the paunch of a bullock slaughtered by a Swavesey butcher last week. It was quite black.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 25th March 1910

Preceded by a tea, which was well attended, the Friends' Adult School annual meeting was held on Monday evening. Mr. J. T. Allen, Wisbech, presided, and Mr. Muskins, Cambridge, gave an address on the work of adult schools. Mr. H. Burgess, St. Ives, and Mr. Toseland, Fenstanton, also spoke and sang solos, and Mr. J. Hines, Over, said a few words. Mrs. Rogers played the accompaniments.

PARISH COUNCIL. 25th March 1910

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday, 17th inst., at which there were present: The Rev. A. C. Vidler (chairman), Messrs. J. T. Daintree, J. Gilby, J. S. Goad, W. H. Key, W. T. Thorpe, e. J. Warboys, J. Wells, and Robinson Mitham (clerk). Certain accounts were submitted and payment authorised, and a precept was issued to the overseers to meet current expenses. Mr. H. Beaumont was appointed a trustee of Galon's Charity. There was no other business.

DISTRICT COUNCIL ELECTION. 25th March 1910

Mr. W. C. Cole, who has been for many years one of the guardians and district councillors for the parish of Swavesey, recently decided not to offer himself for re-election, and he nominated the Rev. J. F. Cooksey to serve in his stead. Subsequently Mr. Ebenezer Parish was also nominated, and thus Mr. A. Day, the other old guardian, who sought re-election, there were three candidates in the field. Mr. Cooksey on Tuesday withdrew from the contest, as he did not wish to put the parish to the trouble and expense of a poll.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST CHAPEL. 25th March 1910

A musical service was given by the Swavesey Methodist Choir on Sunday afternoon, under the presidency of Mr. G. Green, of St. Ives. Several solos and choruses were sung. The Chairman delivered a helpful, though brief, address, in which he congratulated the Choir on their singing. Mr. F. Reeson, of St. Ives, was also to have spoken, but owing to the length of the programme he was compelled to confine his remarks to a few words of encouragement. A satisfactory collection was taken on behalf of the chapel funds. At the evening service there was a large attendance, and special hymns were sung.

(Programme of music in report)

AN ALLOTMENT INCIDENT. 1st April 1910

Wayfarers in the Hale on Tuesday found amusement in watching a tall and massive man leading a small donkey which was dragging a harrow in one of the allotments. The donkey's master stood by and saw that his old favourite was not overworked.

LANTERN LECTURE. 1st April 1910

On Monday evening, Mr. Allen, of Wisbech, gave a lantern lecture at the Friends' Meeting House, dealing with various subjects, religious and secular. There was an excellent attendance, and the hymns with which the lecture was interspersed, were sung with heartiness. Mr. Briggs, also of Wisbech, successfully manipulated the lantern.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 1st April 1910

Mr. Douglas Newton, of Croxton Park, the prospective Conservative and Unionist candidate for West Cambs., has promised to be present at the annual supper and smoking concert of the Swavesey District Conservative Association to be held in the National School on Monday, 11th April. He will be accompanied by Major C. W. Stanley, President of the West Cambs. Conservative Association.

DROVE LETTING. 1st April 1910

By direction of the Rural District Council the herbage of the roadsides and droves in the parish of Swavesey was let by auction at the White Horse Inn. Mr. C. W. Underwood, of Willingham, was once again the auctioneer, he and his predecessors having performed the duty for many years. The sum of £27 2s 6d was realised, being £5 15s more than last year. The bidding was very brisk.

PARISH COUNCIL. 1st April 1910

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Tuesday evening, Messrs. W. H. Key (in the chair), J. T. Daintree, J. Gilby, J. S. Goad, W. T. Thorp, E. J. Warboys, and Robinson Mitham (clerk) being present. Payment of the remainder of the year's accounts was authorised, and it was decided to invite tenders for the herbage of the Recreation Ground for the ensuing 12 months, the yearly tenancy expiring yesterday, 31st March.

VESTRY MEETING. 1st April 1910

At the Easter Vestry meeting held under the church tower on Monday, Mr. James Wells was re-elected people's warden. The Vicar has again nominated Mr. W. H. Key to act as his warden. Last year's sidesmen were re-appointed with the addition of Mr. J. Gilby. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided in the absence of the Vicar through illness. The church accounts will be presented to a meeting of the congregation at 7 o'clock on Monday 18th April.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 1st April 1920

On Wednesday, 23rd ulto., a service of song, entitled "Jessica's Prayer," was given in the Primitive Methodist Chapel by the Longstanton Wesleyan choir. Mr. J. Jellings, of Longstanton, presided, and Miss Chapman, of Over, gave the readings in excellent style. The Chairman thanked Miss Chapman and the choir for their services, which, he assured them, had been much appreciated by the crowded audience. Mr. T. Rogers, in seconding, added his testimony. A collection on behalf of the chapel funds realised 8s. 2d.

A CATASTROPHE. 1st April 1910

On Easter Monday morning a tall and burly resident was conveying manure to his allotment in a handcart, when in Taylor's-lane one of the wheels collapsed. A young lady very kindly assisted in lifting the laden vehicle to the side of the road, where it remained for some hours. Later in the day, the manure was tipped on to the roadside and the cart was ignominiously trundled home by its owner on one wheel. The cart is a striking example of inventive genius, the body being an old washing trough, while the wheels once belonged to a perambulator.

FOOTBALLERS. 1st April 1910

Swavesey footballers journeyed to Somersham on Easter Monday, and fought a hard game which resulted in a draw of one goal each. Visitors observed, with some truth, that there is room for improvement in the conduct of the Somersham spectators. With this match the Swavesey club concluded its list of fixtures. Considering that the club was only established in the autumn, and that many of the players were then practically ignorant of football, it must be admitted that the season has been a successful one.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 1st April 1910

On Good Friday afternoon there was a public tea in the Schoolroom attached to Bethel Chapel, at which about 120 persons sat down. After tea an adjournment was made to the chapel for a service of song entitled "Silver Lilies," which was capitally performed by the united choirs of the chapel and the Swavesey Christian Endeavour Society, assisted by a few friends. The solos were well rendered by the Misses May and Alice Norman, Miss Alice Wilderspin, and Mr. J. W. Williams, and a duet was sung by the Misses M. Norman and Starte. The narrative was read by the Rev. W. H. Stevens (pastor), Mr. J. W. Williams conducted, and Miss Curtis presided at the organ. The chapel was full, many people being present who were not at the tea, and a liberal collection was made for the chapel expenses fund.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 1st April 1910

Good congregations attended the parish church on Good Friday. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, late Vicar of Upwood, Hunts., officiated at all the numerous services in the much-regretted absence of the Vicar through illness. The usual three hours' service had to be abandoned, and a short service from 12 noon to 1 p.m. held instead.

PARISH MEETING. 8th April 1910

The annual parish meeting was held at the National School on Thursday 31st ult., Mr. W. H. Key presiding. The attendance was very poor. The annual accounts of the parish and of Galon's Charity were submitted, and there was a short discussion, in which Mr. E. Parish and Mr. W. Daisley took part.

NARROW ESCAPE. 8th April 1910

Mr. Dick Wilderspin, cycle dealer, of Swavesey, and a friend have had a narrow escape from a very serious incident. Whilst proceeding along the Huntingdon-road in a small motor-car, to the back of which a bicycle was fastened, they turned to go down the road to Hemingford near the Ramping Lion. A taxi-cab, which was following at a fast rate behind, dashed into the back of the car, but fortunately only the cycle was damaged.

PARISH CHURCH. 8th April 1910

Festival services were continued at the parish church on Sunday last (Low Sunday). The Rev. E. Young, incumbent of Fen Drayton, was celebrant at the early service of Holy Communion, and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated at the other services. It is satisfactory to record that the Vicar, who has been ill, is progressing satisfactorily.

HEARTS OF OAK. 8th April 1910

The annual meeting of the Swavesey District branch of the Hearts of Oak Medical Agency was held at the White Horse Inn on Saturday evening, Mr. W. Twist presiding. The year's accounts, which showed a substantial balance in hand, were passed, and the following officers were elected:- Chairman, Mr. W. F. Gleaves; vice-chairman, Mr. W. Twist; committee, Messrs. J. Stockbridge, A. Girling, A. E. Daintree, B. Hodson, J. B. Parish, and F. Peppercorn; secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. Williams. The Agency was only established last year, and has now a considerable and increasing number of members.

“FIRST AID” EXAMINATION. 8th April 1910

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN INHABITANT. 8th April 1910

It is with regret that we have to announce the death of Mr. James Williams, wheelwright, of Middle Watch, Swavesey, who passed away at two o’clock on Wednesday afternoon, after a long and very painful illness. He was 72 years of age on Wednesday 30th ult., and was the youngest son of the late Mr. James Williams, a well-known butcher of Swavesey and Cambridge Market. For very many years Mr. Williams was the secretary and a deacon of Bethel Baptist Chapel, and the last business he transacted, only a week or so ago, was in connection with that chapel. Mr. Williams was universally respected, and much sympathy is felt for his widow and family in their bereavement.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 15th April 1910

A robin has nested in an old tea kettle in the garden of a cottage at Turn Bridge.

THE VICAR. 15th April 1910

The Rev. A. C. Vidler, having recovered from his illness, is taking a holiday. It is hoped that the well-earned rest will prove permanently beneficial.

RATS. 15th April 1910

Mr. Thomas Prior’s farm at Boxworth End was the scene of a great war on rats on Monday last. Out of a small wheat stack no less than 85 rats, all runners, were caught, and ten nests of young ones, averaging ten in a nest, were destroyed.

A CYCLIST'S TROUBLES. 15th April 1910

A young man cycled last week from Swavesey to a place near Windsor. When approaching his destination, the country being unknown to him, he had to climb the sign-posts in order to see which way he had to go. The night was very dark. A friend followed a few days later, and though his destination was only a few miles short of Windsor, he accomplished the journey in considerably less time, and he had to climb no sign-posts.

A TRUE STORY. 15th April 1910

A Swavesey tradesman the other evening, calling at a house in the village on business, left his bicycle outside. When he came out he saw two cyclists riding away, and thought one of them had appropriated his machine. He followed on foot as fast as he could run, and caught the cyclists somewhere near the middle of the village, only to discover that neither of them had his machine. On his return he found his cycle where he had left it. His friends are wondering how he made the mistake.

AN UPSET. 15th April 1910

Two boys on the 7th inst., with a pony and cart, were shovelling up mud that had been thrown out of a drain in a field near the Mission Church, when the pony slipped into the ditch and dragged the cart with it. The cart, which was overturned, pinned down the pony, but fortunately its head was out of the water. Willing helpers were at hand, and the cart with much difficulty was pulled out after the harness had been cut. The pony was rescued by means of a rope; it was uninjured.

FOOTBALL. 15th April 1910

Over visited Swavesey on Thursday evening, 7th April, and defeated the home club by 3 goals to 1. Scorers: Over – Papworth, Asplin and Adams; Swavesey – Harris.

PARISH COUNCIL. 15th April 1910

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday April 7th, at which were present: Messrs. W. T. Thorp (in the chair), J. T. Daintree, J. Gilby, J. S. Goad, E. J. Warboys, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The Council decided to accept the tender of Mr. John Williams – the only one sent in – for the herbage of the Recreation Ground for the year ending 31st March, 1911. Mr. Thorp proposed, and Mr. Goad seconded, the following resolution, which was carried unanimously: “That the Clerk be instructed to convey to the Chairman, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, the Councillors' very high appreciation of his services during their term of office, and especially in regard to the considerate and impartial way in which he had always conducted the meetings." The first meeting of the new Council elected last month will be held on Monday.

THE LATE MR. JAMES WILLIAMS. 15th April 1910

Amidst many manifestations of sorrow and respect, the funeral of the late Mr. James Williams, whose death on the 6th inst. at the age of 71 years, after a long and painful illness, we announced last week, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Monday afternoon. Preceded by the children attending Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School, who were accompanied by Mr. H. S. Aldred (superintendent), Mr. J. H. Starte (secretary), and Mr. Joseph Payne, and by the deacons and the pastor of the chapel, the body, enclosed in an unpolished oak coffin, was borne through the village streets. The mourners followed. A large number of sympathising friends were in the cemetery. The Rev. W. H. Stevens, pastor, who officiated, delivered a brief address at the graveside, in which he spoke of the modest and retiring character of their departed friend, and of his invaluable services to the Baptist community in Swavesey as a Sunday School teacher, deacon, and secretary for over 40 years. Three hymns were sung. The chief mourners were: Mrs. James Williams (widow), Mr. Sydney Williams and Mr. J. W. Williams (sons), Miss P. Williams (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Day (daughter and son-in-law), Mrs. George Day (sister), Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Williams (brothers and sisters-in-law).

SWAVESEY CONSERVATISM. 15th April 1910

Association Annual Supper.

A most successful function was the annual supper and smoking concert held in connection with the Swavesey District Conservative Association on Monday evening in the Schools, Swavesey. The prospective candidate for the division (Mr. G. Douglas Newton) and Mrs. Newton were among those present.

MANOR COURT. 22nd April 1910

A Manor Court of the three Swavesey Manors was held at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday. Mr. W. L. Raynes, of Cambridge, the Steward, presided over the proceedings.

A RESPECTFUL SUGGESTION. 22nd April 1910

A correspondent writes: - "I was present at the Primrose League entertainment in Swavesey School on Saturday night, and although I enjoyed myself, I should have been better pleased if I could have seen the performers on the platform. Others besides myself were in the same predicament. Our view was blocked by the hats of some of the ladies sitting in front of us. May I respectfully suggest that our lady friends should on such occasions exercise a little self-denial and leave their big hats at home?"

ACCIDENT. 22nd April 1910

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Charles Crisp, hay dealer, met with an accident. He had been cutting up a stack of hay in Cow Fen-road, and had loaded his cart with trusses and bound them with ropes. Whilst standing on a ladder placed against the load and covering the hay with a cloth the horse moved on, and Mr. Crisp fell heavily to the ground. He was taken home in Mr. John Hodson's trap and Dr. Ellis called in. His ankle was found to be injured and he was badly shaken.

OBITUARY. 22nd April 1910

Many of our readers will learn with regret that Mrs Maria Eason, wife of Mr John Eason, died early on Sunday morning last at the age of 68 years. Three Sundays previously she had attended the evening service at the Particular Baptist Chapel, of which society she had been a prominent member for many years, and after her return home she was stricken down with sudden illness. She leaves a widower, two sons and three daughters to mourn her loss. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon, the first part of the service being held in the Particular Baptist Chapel, and the interment in Swavesey Cemetery.

PRIMROSE LEAGUE. 22nd April 1910

Twice last week the large room of Swavesey National School was the scene of a striking Conservative and Unionist demonstration. As reported in our last issue, the Conservative Association of the polling district held its annual supper on Monday, 11th inst. That was the men's function. Saturday evening the ladies turned up in overwhelming numbers for a meeting and entertainment under the auspices of the Swavesey, Over, Boxworth and Fen Drayton Ward of the Croxton Habitation of the Primrose League. Although many men were present, they were in the minority. Inside the room the audience was packed like herrings in a barrel, every bench was crowded, and every inch of standing room occupied. In the classroom were men unable to gain admission. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Newton were present, the latter as the Ruling Councillor of the Habitation, and both received an enthusiastic reception. The programme began with songs and a play, followed by an address from Mr. Newton. Mrs. Newton made a charming little speech at the end of Part 1. She spoke of the success of the Croxton Habitation, which was only started in June last. Throughout the division, she said, the Habitation had done well, but nowhere better than in the Swavesey Ward. The fact that there were now 3,300 members in the Habitation showed that the ladies could work as keenly as the men. She proposed a vote of thanks to Miss Kirke Smith (the warden) and to the sub-wardens, and congratulated them on the success of that night's gathering. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey proposed a vote of confidence in the prospective Conservative and Unionist candidate for West Cambs – Mr. Newton – and on being put to the meeting by the Chairman it was carried unanimously amidst loud applause. The proceeds of the entertainment amounted to £8 8s 9d. and the expenses to £3 6s 9d. The balance of £5 2s has been handed over to the Croxton Habitation.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd April 1910

The first meeting of the newly-elected Parish Council was held on Monday evening, and was attended by Messrs. W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, W. Twist and Robinson Mitham (Clerk). In the absence of the old chairman, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, Mr. A. Day was voted to the chair temporarily. The Councillors having signed their declarations, the minutes of the last meeting were read, but a question arising as to the payment by the Council of a premium for insurance under the Workmen's Compensation Act, the signing of the minutes was adjourned. The new committee was appointed. Mr. Ebenezer Parish was elected chairman; Mr. Twist was appointed vice-chairman, and Mr. Day vacated the chair in his favour. Messrs. Daisley and Burton were appointed overseers; Mr. J. M. Parker, manager of the Capital and Counties Bank, St. Ives, was re-appointed treasurer, and Mr. S. Wilderspin, sen., Pindar. It was decided that the Fire Engine and Street Lighting Committee should be composed of the whole of the Council, but Mr. Goad declined to serve on the former committee, and his name was therefore omitted. Messrs. A. Norman and Twist were authorised to sign cheques on behalf of the Council with the chairman. The Council adjourned until 7 p.m. on Monday, 2nd May. It is stated that in consequence of the Council postponing the question of paying the Compensation Insurance Premium, the policy has lapsed. For the sake of the ratepayers it is to be hoped that no accident will happen to any person for whom the Council is liable pending a settlement of the matter.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. J. EASON. 29th April 1910

For the first time in its history of many years the body of a deceased member of the society was taken into Swavesey Strict Baptist Chapel on Thursday, 21st inst. The occasion was the funeral of the late Mrs. Maria Eason, whose death, after a brief illness, at the age of 68 years, was recorded last week, and a departure from the ordinary procedure was decided upon in order to allow the bereaved husband, Mr. John Eason, to be present during part of the burial service. Mr. Eason was too unwell to attend at the graveside. The Rev. E. Short, pastor, officiated there and at the grave in the cemetery, and spoke in high terms of the deceased, and asked for the sympathy of those present for the widower in his sorrow and ill-health. The hymn "Jesu Lover of my soul," was sung in the chapel, and "Rock of Ages" at the service in the cemetery. The chief mourners at the cemetery were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eason (son and daughter-in-law), Mrs. William Wright (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eason (son and daughter-in-law), and Mrs. C. Foy and Mrs. M. Geary (daughters). The coffin was of polished elm, with black furniture. Mr. George Mitham, of Swavesey, carried out the funeral arrangements.

ENTERTAINMENT. 29th April 1910

Under the management of Miss Vidler, an entertainment was given in the National School on Tuesday evening, in aid of the Church Sunday School and Choir Fund. The entertainment was a great success and encores were general. Upwards of £5 was realised. Mr. W. H. Key, churchwarden, who presided, apologised for the Vicar's absence, and stated that Mr. Vidler's health was restored, and that he would be at home before the end of the week – a statement that was received with great satisfaction. He proposed a vote of thanks to the singers and other helpers. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, seconding, referred to the lamented death that afternoon of their old friend, Mr. George Metcalfe, who for so long had been a sidesman and church worker. He added that he was asked to say that the entertainment would have been postponed had it been practicable to do so.

THE FEAST. 6th May 1910

The annual village feast opens on Sunday, and will continue until Wednesday next. As usual three cricket matches will be played – on Monday, the village club against Lolworth; on Tuesday, against Histon; and on Wednesday, against Fenstanton.

DEATH OF AN AGED INHABITANT. 6th May 1910

Mrs. Ann Plumb, wife of Mr. Charles Plumb, of Boxworth End, died on Friday, 29th ult., having attained the advanced age of 78 years. She had been in ill-health for some considerable time. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Wednesday afternoon. It is interesting to mention that Mr. and Mrs. Plumb recently celebrated the 52nd anniversary of their wedding day.

OFF TO CANADA. 6th May 1910

Another stalwart young man has gone to Canada. Mr. Jack Wilderspin left Swavesey station on Wednesday by the 6.12 p.m. train, on his way to Liverpool, and he sailed yesterday for Quebec in the S.S. Tunisian. A large party of relatives and comrades gave him a hearty send off from the village. He will join another Swavesey venturer, Mr. Frank Day, who has a farm at Rockwood. Within the last few years at least a dozen young men from Swavesey have emigrated to Canada.

A HARE HUNT. 6th May 1910

Market-street was all agog last Friday afternoon, when a hare, wandering from the safe solitude of Cow Fen, was put up by a dog near the pond. Round and round the pond, up and down the street, went the hare, followed closely by the dog. All sorts and conditions of people joined in the chase. Housewives rushed from their cottages armed with domestic implements of various kinds. One lady, of sporting instincts, hurled a broom, but ladylike, missed her target. At length the dog caught and killed, and the excitement subsided.

PARISH COUNCIL. 6th May 1910

A meeting of the Parish Council, adjourned from April 18th, was held in the National School on Monday evening, and was presided over by Mr. Ebenezer Parish, the newly-elected chairman. Councillors W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Robinson Mitham) were present. A discussion took place as to the Council's insurance under the Compensation Act, and Mr. Day proposed that the insurance should be discontinued for the present. The proposition was not seconded. Mr. Daisley, after recommending that the Clerk should communicate with other insurance offices, moved that the policy in force hitherto should be continued. Mr. Burton seconded, and the resolution was carried. The Recreation Ground, a burning question with a section of the Council, was then discussed. Mr. Daisley proposed that the chairman should ask the Charity Commissioners whether the money received from the letting of the herbage should be applied to purposes of recreation. Mr. Jethro Linford seconded. An amendment that the Council shall be at liberty to expend the income from the ground in the parish for the best interests of the ratepayers was moved by Mr. Day and seconded by Mr. Goad. On being put to the vote the amendment was lost, and Mr. Daisley's proposition carried. Messrs. A. Norman, R. Norman and Twist were appointed to inspect the lamps and fittings, and to report. The Council agreed to meet again on Monday next, 9th inst.

FUNERAL AT SWAVESEY. 6th May 1910

The funeral of the late Mr. George Metcalfe, of Swavesey, whose death at the age of 58 years was announced last week, took place at the parish church on Saturday afternoon, amidst innumerable manifestations of sorrow and sympathy. All shops were closed as the funeral cortege passed along the streets to the churchyard, and the blinds of private houses were drawn. A large congregation of sympathising friends assembled in the church. The body and mourners were met at the churchyard gates by the choir and officiating clergy, the Vicar and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The greater part of the service was taken in the church, and was choral. The Vicar officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. William T. Thorp (brother-in-law and sister), and Miss C. Metcalfe (sister). The coffin was of polished elm, with heavy brass furniture. Mr. Walter Thorp, of Swavesey, was the undertaker. Sympathetic references were made to the late Mr. Metcalfe at the parish church on Sunday, at the morning service by the Vicar, and the evening by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey.

(Long report)

THE FEAST. 13th May 1910

Swavesey Feast, which opened on Sunday last, attracted a fair number of visitors. Market-street was well filled with stalls of various kinds. Thurston's flying horses and a smaller roundabout were well patronised on Tuesday evening, but business was somewhat slow on Monday owing to the wet night. Early on Wednesday morning Thurston's moved away, followed by nearly all the rest of the show people, leaving only four or five stalls, an unusually small number for the last day of the Feast. Three cricket matches were played during the afternoon, all of which were won by the village club.

PARISH COUNCIL. 13th May 1910

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday night, at which there were present: Messrs. E. Parish (chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, W. Twist and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). - After the minutes of the meetings held on 18th April and 2nd May had been read and confirmed, the Chairman stated that he had written to the Charity Commissioners as directed at the last meeting respecting the uses to which the rental from the herbage of the Recreation Ground could be applied, but that he had not received a reply. Mr. Day asked that the letter should be read, but the Chairman replied that he had left the copy of the letter at home. After some discussion Mr. Day moved that the letter should be laid before the Council at its next meeting. – Mr. A. Norman seconded, and the motion was carried. The Special Committee appointed to inquire into the condition of the street lamps presented a report. A long discussion ensued, and after hearing a statement by the contractor, Mr. Twist proposed that seven glasses be charged to the contractor at 11½d. per glass (viz., 6s 8d in all). Mr. Day seconded, and the proposal was adopted. Mr. Norman proposed and Mr. Day seconded that a cheque be drawn in favour of the contractor for £3 3s 4d, the balance due on his contract of £21 10s., for lighting the lamps during the past winter, but the Clerk explained that there was not quite sufficient money in the bank to meet the cheque. A lengthy discussion followed, and eventually it was agreed that a precept of £10 for general expenses should be served on the overseers. The Clerk was also instructed to collect at once all rents owing to the Council.

CRICKET CLUB. 20th May 1910

The Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., and Mr. G. Douglas Newton have each sent a subscription of a guinea to the funds of the Cricket Club.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 20th May 1910

A hedge sparrow's nest containing five eggs was found last week in an old salmon tin in the middle of a hedge in Mr. W. Twist's orchard in Hog Pasture.

THE DAY OF MOURNING. 20th May 1910

Holy Communion will be celebrated on Friday morning at the parish church at eight o'clock. The memorial service will be held at half-past two o'clock in the afternoon.

THE KING'S DEATH. 20th May 1910

The flag on the church tower has been flying at half-mast since the announcement of the death of King Edward. On Sunday morning next a memorial service for the children attending Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School will be held from 9.15 to 10.15 a.m.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 20th May 1910

Special services in connection with the Sunday School anniversary will be held at the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Sunday 29th May. On the following day there will be a public tea at 5.30 p.m., followed by a service of song in the chapel entitled "River Singers."

DEATH OF MR. J. EASON. 20th May 1910

We regret to record the death of Mr. John Eason, which occurred on Saturday morning last at the residence of his younger son, Mr. Alfred Eason, in Middle Watch, after a very painful illness of about a year's duration, borne with exemplary patience and resignation. Mr. Eason, who was 70 years of age, was highly respected by all who knew him. His wife died after a very brief illness on the 17th of last month. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

LIVED IN SIX REIGNS. 20th May 1910

Mrs. Mary Ding, of Church End, Swavesey, widow of the late Mr. Samuel Ding, died on Saturday last at the great age of 90 years. She had the rare distinction of having lived in the reigns of no less than six British Sovereigns. She was born on the 15th January, 1820, when George III was King, but he died a fortnight later on Sunday 29th January, 1820. George IV., William IV., Victoria and Edward VII. in turn succeeded to the Throne, and though sinking slowly she lived for eight days of the reign of George V.

A MISCALCULATION. 20th May 1910

A correspondent writes: "Tell it not in Gath! A pleasure party of two young men went boating on the River Ouse on Whitsun Monday. For a time all went well, but at length the boat ran aground on a mud bank and refused to budge. The two young men, thinking the water was shallow, jumped into the stream to push their craft off, but to their dismay found themselves in mud and water considerably deeper than they anticipated or desired, and they had to return to their mothers wet and muddy. One dripping youth was at home only for the day, and had no change of raiment, and whether he followed the example of a friend of mine in similar circumstances and used a 'Daily Telegraph' as a kilt whilst his nether garments were being dried, I do not know. The other youth was more fortunate, as he had a change of clothing handy. Cannot something be done to clear out our river? It gets worse year after year."

FIRST AID. 20th May 1910

At the National school on Friday evening last the certificates awarded to those who were successful in passing the examination following the classes held under the auspices of the British Red Cross Society during the winter for instruction in "First Aid" were presented by Mrs. A. E. Hoare, of Milton Park. Dr. J. W. Ellis presided in the absence of the Vicar, who sent a letter apologising for his inability to attend, congratulating the medical instructors on the success of their efforts, and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Hoare for the interest they have taken in the classes. After the presentation Mr. A. E. Hoare (county organiser of the British Red Cross Society) spoke of the formation of Voluntary Aid Detachments, and announced that further lectures on First Aid would be given in September at Over. Votes of thanks were accorded to Mr and Mrs Hoare and to the Chairman and Dr. R. Ellis for their services as instructors.

NORTH STOWE RURAL DEANERY.

CONFERENCE AT SWAVESEY. 20th May 1910

The annual conference of clergy, churchwardens, and the representative laity of the Rural Deanery of North Stowe was held at Swavesey on Thursday, May 12th. The Rural Dean (the Rev. A. C. Vidler, Vicar of Swavesey) presided, and the clergy and laity representing thirteen parishes of the Deanery were present.

A vote of condolence with the family of the late Mr. George Metcalfe, of Swavesey, a member of the conference for many years, was moved by Mr. W. Webster, churchwarden, of Over, and seconded by Mr. W. H. Key, churchwarden, of Swavesey, and carried unanimously.

After the Conference the members present were entertained at tea by the Rural Dean.

(Long report)

THE NATIONAL SCHOOL. 27th May 1910

In consequence of the prevalence of measles, the National School was closed on Tuesday by order of Dr. Bushell Anningson, Medical Officer of Health. The children assembled as usual for morning school, and before being sent home were briefly addressed by their teachers on the subject of Empire Day, and then sang the Empire Song.

THE COMET. 27th May 1910

Village star-gazers, with the aid of the churchwarden's opera glass, have been craning their necks to catch a glimpse of Haley's Comet. On Sunday and Monday nights it was seen in the western sky, but to the disappointment of the gazers its tail was not visible. On the night of Wednesday, 18th inst., when the earth passed through the tail, an elderly person, strongly imbued with the idea that the earth, or the people on it, would be destroyed, after retiring to rest instructed her husband to go downstairs and fetch a light, as she could not and would not die in the dark.

FUNERAL OF MR. J. EASON. 27th May 1910

On Wednesday afternoon, 18th inst., the mortal remains of the late Mr. John Eason, whose death was recorded last week, were laid to rest in Swavesey Cemetery, by the side of his wife, whose funeral took place just four weeks previously. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiated. During the service the hymn "When shall Thy ransomed people come?" was sung. The chief mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eason (son and daughter-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eason (son and daughter-in-law), Mrs. W. Wright and Mrs. M. Geary (daughters), and Mrs. William Eason and Mrs. Crouch (sisters-in-law). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. George Mitham, of Swavesey.

A COMPLAINT. 27th May 1910

A ratepayer writes: - "I was glad to see in last week's paper that attention was drawn to the bad condition of the River Ouse in this district. With your permission, I should like to give my experience of the approaches to the river from Swavesey. The other morning I had occasion to go to Overcote Ferry, and had the greatest difficulty in getting there. Thinking it better to run no needless risks, I determined to go to the bottom of Middle Fen, and on to the great bank, but my way was blocked by some 30 feet of sludge. I then tried the recognised footpath, but again at the stile my progress was stopped by water and mud. Not to be beaten, I went through gaps in the hedges, and almost reached the river bank. Once more I was checked – the footbridge had disappeared. I then worked back along the weather ditch nearly to River Drove where I found means of crossing, and I reached Overcote an hour behind time. On my return journey I made for River Drove, and for a time things were better, but ere long the drove was impassable, and I had to retrace my steps. Eventually I found a way across the fields. Considering the number of people, residents, visitors, and fishermen who want to go to the river, I think something ought to be done, and done at once, to remedy this unsatisfactory state of things. Cannot our new District Councillor interest himself in the matter? New brooms, they say, sweep clean."

BOY'S SUDDEN DEATH.

INQUEST AT SWAVESEY. 3rd June 1910

The circumstances of the sudden death of a Swavesey boy, named Herbert Bertie Sanderson, aged 9, were inquired into by the County Coroner (Mr. A. J. Lyon) on Tuesday evening.

Walter Sanderson, the father, gave evidence of identification, and went on to say that at 4.30 on Saturday afternoon the boy was with him in Mr. A. Day's field, leading a horse attached to a tumbril cart. The boy fell down, but the horse did not touch him. Witness went to him and asked him what was the matter, and he replied that he was all right. He got up by himself, but looked white and ill, and he went home in the cart. He died at 5.30. Dr. Ellis was sent for. Witness added that his son had occasionally complained of pains in the chest. The boy was employed by Mr. Day. The school was closed on that day owing to measles and on Saturday afternoons they had holidays.

Dr. Ellis, of Swavesey, stated that he had not attended the boy. He made a post mortem examination and found a rupture of a small vessel of the heart, which had caused death.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical testimony.

OUR TERRITORIALS. 3rd June 1910

Several of the Northamptonshire Imperial Yeomanry, who have been encamped in Boughton Park, near Kettering, for their annual training, landed at Swavesey Station last Friday afternoon, and made a brave and martial show when riding through the village. They looked well, and a credit to the Territorial Force.

GONE TO THE FAR EAST. 3rd June 1910

On many occasions reference has been made in these columns to Swavesey young men in Australia and Canada. Now we have to record the departure of a Swaveseyite for the Far East. Mr. Edward Smith, son of Mr. James Smith, market gardener, Boxworth End, recently sailed for Singapore, Straits Settlements, where he has obtained a good berth.

SWAVESEY BOY'S SUDDEN DEATH. 3rd June 1910

The funeral of Baden Sanderson took place in Cottenham Cemetery on Wednesday, the Rev. C. T. Allen officiating. There were three wreaths, viz., from the children attending the Bethel Baptist Chapel, Sunday School, Swavesey, two little playmates, and from Mrs. Benton. Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson have received very many expressions of grief and sympathy, which have greatly sustained them in their trouble.

OLD BAPTIST CHAPEL. 3rd June 1910

The anniversary services were held at the Strict Baptist Chapel on Tuesday. There were services in the afternoon and evening, at both of which Mr. Fred Kirby, of Staplehurst, was the special preacher. The attendance was good, and collections were made in aid of the chapel funds. Between the services there was a public tea.

HOME AGAIN. 3rd June 1910

A native of Swavesey who 43 years ago left the village, when a boy, for America, has returned to this country for a holiday. Boyish recollections were so strong that on Sunday evening, accompanied by his wife, he re-visited the village, arriving by the 5.41 p.m. train, in order to see the old church once again, and he was present at the evening service. He says he notices but little alteration in the neighbourhood of the Swan pond. Much to his joy he found several old friends.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 3rd June 1910

On Sunday last anniversary services were held at the Primitive Methodist Chapel, the Rev. Luther Kemish preaching in the morning, and again in the evening. During the afternoon, there was a service for the children, over which Mr. F. Reeson (St. Ives) presided. On Monday afternoon there were public teas for children and adults respectively. A service of song, entitled "River Singers", followed. Mr. G. Jude (St. Ives) was chairman, the readings were given by Miss Chapman, of Over, and the solos were sung by Mr. and Mrs. J. Kester and Mr. Dunthorne. All the meetings were exceptionally well attended, and the anniversary was a financial success, upwards of £2 being realised after payment of expenses, from the proceeds of teas, collections, and donations.

SAD DEATH. 3rd June 1910

After a very brief illness Mr. Harry Prior, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prior, of High-street, Swavesey, died on Sunday, 22nd ulto., at Braceborough, Lincolnshire, at the early age of 27 years. He was married only as recently as Easter Monday last, and died when on a week-end visit to his wife's relatives. He was employed at the Chatteris Engineering Works. The funeral took place at Wilsthorpe, Lincs., on Wednesday, 25th ulto., the Rev. H. H. McNiece, of Chatteris, officiating.

CHORAL FESTIVAL. 4th June 1910

On the evening of Wednesday, 25th ult., a Choral Festival, under the auspices of the Ely Diocesan Council of church Music was held in the Parish Church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, choirs from Willingham, Over and Swavesey attending.

The congregation was not as large as usual on these occasions.

(Long report)

EARLY STRAWBERRIES. 10th June 1910

A few ripe strawberries grown in the open have this week been gathered in a cottage garden in High-street. The plants have been protected from frost and birds by netting.

PRACTICAL SYMPATHY. 10th June 1910

The jury at the inquest on the little boy Sanderson, who died suddenly on the 28th ult., gave a practical expression to their sympathy with the bereaved parents by handing their fees to them. The Coroner, Mr. A. J. Lyon, also contributed five shillings. Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson thoroughly appreciated the kindness.

A MISHAP. 10th June 1910

On Friday evening, the 3rd inst., the horse attached to Mr. J. H. Starte's four-wheeled covered van fell when passing Mr. James Smith's house at Boxworth End, and somewhat badly cut its knees. Assistance was close at hand, Mrs. W. C. Cole, Mrs. J. Smith, and Mr. Walter Sanderson in particular rendered valuable aid. The wounds bled considerably, and bandages, towels, and lard were requisitioned with satisfactory results.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 10th June 1910

On Thursday, 2nd inst., successful anniversary services were held in Bethel Baptist Chapel, at both of which the special preachers was the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, a former pastor, now settled at Oakham. Tea followed the afternoon service, when about 120 sat down. Trays were presided over by Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. J. Day, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. W. Daisley, Miss Starte, and Miss Brand. At the evening service there was a large congregation. The result of the proceedings was a net gain to the chapel funds of £11 14s., being an advance on last year.

AGRICULTURAL NOTE. 17th June 1910

Clover cutting began this week at Mr. J. B. Ellis' High Field Farm.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 17th June 1910

The epidemic of measles having abated, Swavesey National School was re-opened on Monday morning after having been closed for three weeks by direction of the Medical Officer of Health.

RESCUE OF A CALF. 17th June 1910

On Saturday afternoon there was some amusement in Middle Watch. Mr Leonard Parish was driving a cow and calf past Bethel Chapel, when the calf ran into the pond close by, and refused to come out, so Mr. Parish had to wade into the water up to his waist in order to rescue the animal.

A QUEER NESTING PLACE. 17th June 1910

In a garden in High-street, Swavesey, adjoining the one in which the early strawberries referred to in these columns last week were grown, a robin has built her nest in a queer place. The nest, which now contains six eggs, is on top of an old post about 3ft. in height, which holds up a slatted fence some feet higher, and is under a small piece of zinc placed in a sloping position many years ago, with the object of stopping cats from climbing the fence. The contrivance is ineffectual as dogs as well as cats continually jump upon the zinc and then get over the fence, yet in spite of these frequent disturbances the mother bird sits unconcernedly hatching her eggs.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY. 17th June 1910

On Sunday last anniversary services were held in connection with Bethel Chapel Sunday School at 10.30 a.m., 2.30 and 6.30 p.m., the Rev. A. C. Ashpool of Willingham Baptist Tabernacle, being the special preacher. The special hymns for the occasion were very creditably sung by the scholars at all the services. An interesting feature of the anniversary was a flower service in the afternoon. Flowers were given in abundance, notwithstanding the earliness of the season, many of the scholars affixing to their bunches written texts of scripture as their message to the inmates of St. Ives Infirmary, where the flowers were afterwards sent. During the flower service recitations were given. After a brief address by Mr. Ashpool, framed certificates gained at the recent scripture examination were presented, the recipients being: First class, Helen Smith and Berry Dodson; second class, Louie Causer, Ellen Prior and Frank Prior. The evening service was well attended. Mr. Ashpool was assisted throughout the day by Mr. H. Easter, of Over. Collections were made at each service in aid of the Sunday School Fund.

AN INTRUSIVE REPTILE. 24th June 1910

About noon on Wednesday Mrs. Alfred Prime was startled to see a snake about a yard in length entering the open door of her house in Taylor's-lane. Mr. Joseph Froment, who was passing by, promptly killed the snake, which was of the harmless kind.

WEEDS IN THE RIVER. 24th June 1910

A public meeting is being arranged to take place next week, on Monday, at 8 p.m., if possible, to consider the question of cutting the weeds in the River Ouse from the Swavesey bathing place to Cole's Jumps. All interested are invited to attend.

NOVEL USE FOR A ROLLER. 24th June 1910

Losing their cricket ball in the grass of School Green, and unable to find it by ordinary methods, some Swavesey schoolboys borrowed a garden roller and rolled that part of the green where the ball was believed to be hidden. After a time the roller jumped an obstacle, and the ball was found.

AN ERRATIC TRICYCLE. 24th June 1910

A young man riding a borrowed tricycle, with the peculiarities of which he was not familiar, at the Railway Station the other day, ran off the platform and fell on to the permanent way. Both rider and machine escaped with little injury, a few spokes in the former being broken, while the rider's shins were bruised and abraded.

HORSE-BREAKING INCIDENT. 24th June 1910

A Swavesey butcher on Monday evening was breaking in a horse, and when turning from Over Hill to the New-road, the animal objected, and, although harnessed to a cart, jumped the hedge into Mr. Asplin's field. The cart, however, failed to negotiate the hedge, and remained in the ditch. No damage was done.

BROUGHT HOME. 24th June 1910

William Hepher, third son of the late Mr. William Hepher, at one time a well-known Swavesey butcher, died last week in St. Ives Infirmary, after a long and painful illness, at the age of 50. He had not lived in Swavesey for 28 years. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Saturday afternoon, the Vicar officiating.

DEATH OF NURSE EDWARDS. 24th June 1910

After an illness of some eighteen months Mrs. Mary Edwards, widow of the late Mr. William Edwards, passed away on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 at the great age of 77 years. She suffered from cancer, and during the last twelve months of her life endured with great fortitude and resignation great pain. She was much respected, and for many years was in much request as a nurse, and assisted at the birth of innumerable babies in Swavesey and neighbouring villages. Her husband died nine years ago. She left two sons and five daughters to mourn her loss. The funeral was on Wednesday afternoon at Swavesey Cemetery. The Rev. E. Short, Pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiated. The chief mourners were: Messrs. John and William Edwards (sons), Mr. and Mrs. I Hills (son-in-law and daughter), Mrs. T. Melbourne, Mrs. O. Pink and Mrs. A. J. Bond (daughters), Mr. S. Unwin (brother), Mrs. Carrier (sister) and Mrs. G. Unwin (sister-in-law). Mr. George Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker.

SAD DEATH. 24th June 1910

The village of Swavesey was greatly shocked on Thursday, 16th inst., to learn that Mrs. Jemima Smith, a well-known and highly respected inhabitant, had during the day passed away suddenly in Addenbrooke's Hospital. She had been suffering from heart trouble for the last three years, and recently becoming worse, she was admitted into Addenbrooke's on the 8th inst. The immediate cause of death was heart failure. Mrs. Smith, who was 46 years of age, was the daughter of the late Mr. James Prior of Swavesey, and widow of Mr. Samuel Andrew Smith, of Haslingfield who died in January, 1890, in which year she returned to Swavesey to assist her mother, who survives her, but is in her 80th year, and to take charge of the motherless children of her sister, the late Mrs. Arthur Froment, a duty she fulfilled with love, care and thoroughness. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Monday afternoon, and in addition to numerous mourners was attended by many friends. The Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. J. Prior (brother), Mrs. J. Day (sister), Mr. and Mrs. W. Prior, Mr. and Mrs. S. Prior (brothers and sisters-in-law), and Mr. A. Froment and Mr. J. Day (brothers-in-law).

COLLAPSE OF A BRIDGE. 1st^{July} 1910

A portion of the culvert running under the School-lane near the Primitive Methodist Chapel collapsed on Wednesday afternoon.

RAIN. 1st July 1910

Heavy showers of rain during the week have somewhat seriously interfered with hay work and fruit picking.

MISCHIEF. 1st July 1910

Some mischievous person or persons between Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning loosened the planks in a dam in the brook near the Vicarage, which is being cleaned out by the District Council. The result was that the water was released, and a length of brook flooded and about a day's work wasted.

CRICKET CLUB. 1st July 1910

The Swavesey Cricket Eleven journeyed to Parker's Piece last Saturday afternoon with the intention of playing, and, if fortune favoured them, defeating the Albert Institute. After waiting in the rain for some time it was found that play was impossible, so the visitors left, many of them catching the 4.6 train to Swavesey.

WEEDS IN THE RIVER: PROPOSED SWIMMING CLUB. 1st July 1910

A public meeting was held at the National School on Tuesday evening to consider the question of cutting the weeds in the river Ouse, from the Swavesey bathing place to Cole's Jump, and whether it would be possible to form a swimming club. There was a good attendance of men, chiefly young ones, interested in swimming. Mr. H. S. Aldred was voted to the chair, and after a few remarks called upon Mr. Reuben Parish, the convener of the meeting, to make a statement. Mr. Parish, who modestly protested against being regarded as the convener of the meeting, spoke of the urgent need for cutting the weeds if bathing was to be pleasant, or even safe. At present swimming was practically impossible. He suggested that the river from the bathing place to Cole's Jump should be cleared, and added that he and Mr. E.J. Mitham, with the St. Ives weed cutter, had made an inspection and had ascertained that the latter would do the work for £2. Mr. A. T. Scard raised the question of establishing a swimming club for the village. After some discussion Mr. A. J. Willson proposed, and Mr. E. J. Mitham seconded a resolution that a committee be appointed with the view of raising subscriptions to defray the cost of cutting the weeds, and to consider the question of forming a club. The proposition was carried unanimously and a committee was set up. It was understood that subscriptions to the weed cutting fund would probably entitle donors to membership of the swimming club. During the meeting it was announced that the Vicar of Swavesey and Mr. E. H. Thornhill, of Boxworth, had promised their support, and the hope was expressed that anglers would contribute, as the cutting of the weeds would be to their benefit.

FOAL DROWNED. 8th July 1910

An excellent foal belonging to Mr. Alfred Day, which he was intending to send to the Cottenham Foal Show, was last Saturday evening found drowned in an open well at Mr. Day's farm at Boxworth End.

ENERGY. 8th July 1910

No horse being at hand and time being of consequence, a train having to be caught, two men the other day harnessed themselves to a cart laden with fruit, and dragged it from an orchard in the Hale to the railway station.

POTATOES. 8th July 1910

Although the season is not a particularly good one for early potatoes, Mr. W. Prior on Saturday dug in his allotment in the Hale his first root of "Epicures." Two potatoes weighed half a pound each, and there were 10 or 12 others of a fair size.

LARGE MUSHROOM AND A LUCKY POTATO. 8th July 1910

Mr. S. Wilderspin, of High-street, at the end of last week found a mushroom 12 inches in diameter. On Saturday he dug his first root of potatoes. There were nine decent-sized tubers and many small ones, and also a well-worn shilling, dated 1816.

VICAR'S HOLIDAY. 8th July 1910

The Vicar has this week gone away for his annual holiday. During his absence the charge of the parish will be undertaken by the Rev. W. E. Palmer-Bath, of St. Stephen's. Regent's Park, London, N.W., who won golden opinions when acting as locum tenens in July, 1907, not July, 1906, as stated in the Parish Magazine.

A SURPRISE. 8th July 1910

The wife of the landlord of the Red Lion Inn, Boxworth End, recently had a surprise. Whilst engaged in household work at the back of the house she thought she heard the entrance of a crowd of customers into the taproom. On hurrying thither she found the room full of sheep which had found their way in through the open front door.

DISTRICT COUNCIL WORKMEN ENTERTAINED. 8th July 1910

The men employed by the District Council in clearing out the large brook near the Vicarage were entertained to tea by the Vicar of Swavesey on Thursday, 30th ulto. His hospitality was greatly appreciated. Five men are engaged on the job and their ages amount in the aggregate to 301 years. The oldest is 68 years, two are 66, another 64, and the youngest 37.

WATER SUPPLY. 8th July 1910

Notice has been given that the Swavesey Rural District Council, having applied to the Local Government Board for sanction to borrow £1,680 for works of water supply for the parish of Swavesey (including the execution of works in the parish of Fen Drayton), and that Mr. W. O. E. Meade-King, M.Inst.C.E., has been appointed to hold an inquiry on behalf of the Local Government Board at Swavesey School on Tuesday next, 12th inst., at 11 a.m. Evidence of persons interested will be received at the inquiry.

SCHOOL TREAT. 8th July 1910

The Parish Church Sunday School treat, held on Thursday, 30th ult., was shorn of some of its attractions by the unsettled weather. The service in church had to be abandoned, and instead of tea on the Vicarage lawns beneath the umbrageous branches of lofty trees, the meal was eaten in the schoolroom. Here the children were entertained to an excellent repast, and with them sat down their parents and guardians, and also the Church workers and widows and widowers of the parish. The tables were presided over, and the comfort of the guests looked after by Mrs. Long, the Misses Vidler, Mrs. Beaumont, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Herbert Williams, and Mrs. John Williams. The weather improving, an adjournment was made to the Vicarage grounds where the children played games, and the adults walked about and looked on until 8.30 p.m., when the children were regaled with cake, etc. The usual juvenile sports will be held in August, by which time it is hoped the weather will be better.

CRICKET. 15th July 1910

S.J. Froment, the Swavesey cricketer, playing for Hemingford Park v. St. Neots Town C. C., at St. Neots, on Wednesday, made 30 runs in the first innings and three runs in the second, and took five wickets for 21 runs.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 15th July 1910

The annual house-to-house collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital in connection with the County Organisation Fund has recently been made in Swavesey and Fen Drayton by a band of ladies, under the superintendence of Mrs. Long, of the Priory, and the sum of £11 3s., an increase on last year's collection, has been realised. Mrs. Long has forwarded this sum to Mrs. A. E. Hoare, of Milton Hall, the President; £1 4s. 4d. was contributed from Fen Drayton.

FLOWERS IN THE CEMETERY. 15th July 1910

Mr. Ebenezer Prime, of Boxworth End, Swavesey, writes as follows: - "Dear sir, - On the 8th of this month I visited the grave of my recently-deceased wife in Swavesey (Nonconformist) Cemetery. Her father was with me. Our object was to bring home a metal cross which had contained lovely white carnations, given and arranged by kind and sympathising friends. To my dismay and grievous sorrow, I found that the cross had been removed from the grave – by rude hands, I thought, but to my surprise a gentleman standing near by informed me that he had himself taken it away. He said he had power to do so by virtue of his office. Crosses, he told me, were not allowed. This was the first I heard of any such prohibition. If there is a rule forbidding crosses, why is it not published on a notice board for instance? We have tender hearts where our beloved dead are concerned, and it is not unreasonable to expect those in authority to treat sorrowing relations and friends with consideration. In my case, I think before the cross was ignominiously removed that I might have been told I was doing wrong. My experience may be a warning to other people, and may prevent other mourners' feelings being hurt as mine were.

SWAVESEY WATER SUPPLY.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD INQUIRY.

"SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST". 15th July 1910

Considerable interest has been aroused in Swavesey by the question as to whether the present water supply is unfit for drinking purposes or not. The supply is obtained locally, and has been condemned by the Local Government Board. Application has, therefore been made by the Rural District Council to the Board for sanction to borrow £1,680 for works of water supply for the parish, including the execution of works in the parish of Fen Drayton, the idea being to obtain the water for the district from the East Hunts. Water Co. A Local Government Board inquiry into the subject-matter of the application was held in the County Council Schools, Swavesey, on Tuesday by Mr. W. O. E. Meade-King, M.J.C.E., the inspector appointed, when application was opposed by the Parish Council on the ground that the present supply was fit for consumption.

On the evening prior to the inquiry, Monday, a well-attended parish meeting was held in the National Schools to consider what steps should be taken in regard to the inquiry. Mr. Ebenezer Parish presided. The Chairman explained the situation. Swavesey water had been condemned, he said, by the medical officer of health, although the parishioners were well satisfied with it. He believed that the charge the East Hunts. Water Company proposed to make for supplying the water was higher than that charged in other places in the county. He objected to the proposal that the pipes from Conington Bridge to Swavesey should be owned and paid for by the parish.

A long discussion ensued and the opinion was freely expressed that the present supply was both good in quality and ample in quantity, that the samples on which the water was condemned were not taken at the proper times or from proper places, and that every effort should be made to postpone the question for a time. Mr. Walter Thorp suggested the use of a filter. Eventually a resolution urging a postponement of the matter, and calling attention to the samples on which the condemnation was based was carried unanimously. The meeting lasted nearly two and a half hours.

TUESDAY'S INQUIRY

The report covers questions and answers whereby the suitability of the present water supply was questioned. It was suggested that the water was harmful to young people, that boiling water would not necessarily destroy the danger, that people could be acclimatised to anything, even drinking pure sewage.

Mr. Knights, representing the East Hunts Water Company gave evidence to the amount of water the Company could raise. The engineer produced the plans and specifications. The total cost was £1,538 10s 10d.

Mr. Parish then read the resolution passed at the parish meeting held the previous meeting, which asked that the matter, if possible, be postponed, and that a number of samples be obtained as soon as possible to ascertain if water could be procured which could be passed as satisfactory. Mr. Parish went on to say that the district was a poor one, and it was thought that the cost was exceedingly high. With reference to the samples taken from the parish well, the feeling was strong that that was not a fair place, because it had been disused for a number of years. They asked for a postponement of 12 months in order to see if they could not obtain a satisfactory water supply at less cost.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL

AN ANIMATED MEETING. 22nd July 1910

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening, and was attended by Messrs. E. Parish (chairman), Messrs. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, and Robinson Mitham (clerk).

THE HERBAGE RENT QUESTION.

Arising out of the minutes, the Chairman read a copy of a letter he had written to the Charity Commissioners by direction of the Council, asking whether the income derived from the herbage of the Recreation Ground might, or should be, spent on the ground. He also read the following reply from the Commissioners, dated 18th May:-

“Sir, - Adverting to your letter of the 7th instant, I am to say that the income derived from letting the herbage is properly applicable in and towards the cost of fencing, draining or improving the Recreation Ground, or in the purchase of additional land for the purpose of extending the Recreation Ground, or improving Field Garden Allotments.”

Discussion ensued in which it was proposed to hold the money already received for the herbage fund in a separate account. The resolution was carried, but there was a complaint that those opposed had been prevented from voting against. The meeting became quite animated for a time until the matter was dropped.

(Long report)

HAY WORK AT NIGHT. 22nd July 1910

At half-past ten last Friday night villagers in their “beauty” sleep were disturbed by a heavily laden cart passing from end to end of the village. It was a load of hay – the last – being taken to the stack at Church End from a field in “Scotland,” near the Huntingdon-road.

BEST DRESS BURNED. 22nd July 1910

The other day the landlady of the Black Horse publichouse hung her best dress in front of the taproom fire to air. She then went about her household duties. On her return she found the gown in flames. A customer just entering extinguished the fire, but the garment was ruined. A claim on an Insurance Company has met with a favourable result, and while lamenting the loss of a beautiful dress the landlady has had her feelings soothed by the receipt of some monetary compensation.

VETERAN VICTORIOUS. 22nd July 1910

In a hayfield in Middle Fen on Monday evening two young men, the senior of whom has not yet attained his majority, challenged two older men – one nearly 60 and the other approaching the end of his fifth decade – to run a hundred yards, offering to give them a start of a chain. The challenge was promptly accepted. After going a few yards the older veteran retired, short of wind, but the other man ran on, and despite the frantic efforts of the boastful youths, passed the winning post – a pitchfork stuck in the ground – first. The victor was the father of the younger challenger.

A WONDERFUL CAT. 29th July 1910

A tabby cat belonging to the landlady of the Bell Inn sits on the hearthrug, shells peas, and eats them. Unfortunately she cannot be induced to shell the peas for the use of the family.

CRICKET. 29th July 1910

S. J. Froment, playing at Hilton on Tuesday for the village club against Fenstanton, took ten wickets for fifteen runs (eight bowled and two caught). Including this match, Mr. Froment has this season captured eighty-nine wickets at the cost of 478 runs, an average of 5.37 runs per wicket.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 29th July 1910

A collecting box in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital which has been placed in the tap-room of the Rising Sun Inn since the beginning of the year, was taken this week to the Hospital, and on being opened was found to contain £1 1s. 3d. this sum has been gratefully received by the Secretary-Superintendent.

RETIREMENT OF OLD RAILWAY SERVANT. 29th July 1910

Mr. Charles Webster, who had been goods porter at Swavesey Station for thirty-two years, has retired on a well-earned pension. He was last on duty on Saturday, 16th inst. During last winter he met with an accident by falling off a truck laden with hay and fractured his ribs. Notwithstanding his age, he made a wonderful recovery, and resumed work in a short time. His many friends wish him many years in which to enjoy his pension.

A PRACTICAL PROPOSAL. 29th July 1910

A suggestion has been made, and is meeting with approval, that allotment holders and cottage gardeners in Swavesey can substantially assist Addenbrooke's Hospital by each contributing a supply of potatoes – a quantity small individually, but considerable in the aggregate. Mr. Graves, of High-street, has kindly consented to receive the gifts, and he will deliver them at the Hospital free of charge if taken to him not later than Wednesday next.

SWIMMING CLUB. 29th July 1910

A meeting was called at the National School on Monday evening to elect officers for the newly-formed Swimming Club, but, owing to inadequate notice, was very poorly attended. The meeting was therefore adjourned to 7.30 p.m. on Thursday 4th August, when, in addition to appointing officers, it is hoped to arrange some races. As an outcome of the recent public meeting, the weeds in the river near the bathing place have been cut, the diving board repaired, and new steps provided. The organisers trust that there will be a large attendance of young men on the 4th August.

STREET LAMPS IN JEOPARDY. 29th July 1910

A ratepayer informs us that the other day he discovered the door of the shed on the parish property in High-street in which the street lamps are stored during the summer, was wide open and that the glass chimneys were standing on the floor, notwithstanding that there was plenty of room on the shelves provided for them. He says they were in danger of being smashed by mischievous small boys throwing stones, or by marauding cats and dogs. As the Street Lighting Committee is now formed of the whole of the Parish Council, he presumes it is a case of too many cooks spoiling the broth.

HOW AIRMEN FALL. 29th July 1910

Two brothers, visitors from London, on Monday evening gave an unintentional demonstration of one of the ways in which airmen and their aeroplanes can come to grief. For some weeks, whilst preparing for their summer holiday, they had been thinking out and constructing a large kite on the principle of an aeroplane, and on Monday evening accompanied by another brother and friends, they sent it up on its maiden trip in the fen near the river. It rose splendidly, and its ingenious inventors congratulated themselves on the achievement of a real success. Suddenly a current of air caught the machine; it shivered and swayed, then turned sideways, and came down with a crash. It lay on the ground an utter wreck, every stay smashed. On Sunday night these young men amused themselves and others by sending up a large kite with a lighted Chinese lantern attached. It sailed proudly, with its luminant tail, far above the church tower.

PARISH COUNCIL. 29th July 1910

An ex-Parish Councillor writes: Many ratepayers of Swavesey, as well as myself, would much like to know whether the Parish Council intend to act upon the resolution to open a separate banking account for the Recreation Ground, for which three Councillors voted at the Council meeting last week, seeing that the name of four Councillors who, through a misunderstanding, did not record their votes against the proposal, are entered on the minutes as objecting. According to the bye-laws of the Council, the matter cannot be reopened for six months. – Another correspondent calls attention to what he describes as the strange ruling of the Chairman that the copy of the letter respecting the herbage rent of the Recreation Ground, written by the Chairman by direction of the Council to the Charity Commissioners, was the private property of the Chairman, and he asks whether it was proper that Mr. Day, who at the previous meeting had moved for the production of the copy of the letter, should not have been allowed to see it. The writer expresses the opinion that the letter should be placed with other Parish Council records attached to the reply of the Charity Commissioners.

BANK HOLIDAY. 5th Aug. 1910

There were many visitors to Swavesey this last week-end.

A CURIOUS LETTUCE. 5th Aug. 1910

At Boxworth End a lettuce has grown through the hole in the top of a bicycle bell.

ACCIDENT. 5th Aug. 1910

Mrs. Jackson, of Taylor's-lane has broken some of her ribs by falling from a chair. She is going on well.

CRICKET. 5th Aug. 1910

S. J. Froment has now succeeded in capturing 111 wickets this season at a cost of 598 runs, an average of 5.38 runs per wicket.

THE VICAR. 12th Aug. 1910

The Vicar of Swavesey returned from his holiday last week, and officiated in all the services at the parish church on Sunday.

A FAMILY GATHERING. 12th Aug. 1910

During the holiday a family gathering took place at the house of Mr. Alfred Prime in Taylor's-lane. Forty-one persons were present, all of whom were related and represented two generations only.

DEATH. 12th Aug. 1910

At the great age of 78 years Mrs. Elizabeth Covell, widow of the late Mr. Henry Covell, of Swavesey, passed away on Friday last at her cottage in Wallman's-lane. The funeral took place in Swavesey churchyard on Monday afternoon, the Vicar officiating.

SYMPATHY. 12th Aug. 1910

We have received a letter from Mr. F. Parish, of 10, Langley Court, Covent-garden, London, sympathising with "my old friend, Mr. E. Prime, with regard to the removal of the cross from his wife's grave." Mr. Parish, who is a native of Swavesey, considers the occurrence extraordinary, and adds that if crosses are forbidden in the cemetery, the least the authorities can do is to make the fact plain to all and sundry, and so avoid such experiences as that of Mr. Prime's.

A SPILL. 12th Aug. 1910

Mr. Arthur Norman and his little boy were returning from Over last Friday evening in a light cart, and when approaching Swavesey Railway Station one of the linch-pins came out, and the cart dropped on its axle, the wheel spinning away into the ditch. Neither occupant was thrown out. Messrs. Wayman Bros., returning from work in a cart, rendered assistance, and the light cart was dragged to the roadside.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 12th Aug. 1910

About 3cwt. of excellent potatoes have been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital from various allotment holders and cottagers of Swavesey, nearly all labouring men, each contributing a small quantity. The Secretary-Superintendent, in writing to Mr. H. G. Graves, who collected the potatoes, conveys the grateful thanks of the committee for the most acceptable and welcome gift, and adds that presents of fruit and vegetables not only materially assist the funds of the institution, but afford a pleasant change in the daily dietary of the patients.

WHO HAD THE MEAT? 12th Aug. 1910

A poor old widow woman at Boxworth End lost her weekly little bit of meat in a mysterious way last Friday. Some little distance from her cottage she met the butcher's lad, and told him to put the meat in an empty milk pan outside her back door, and cover it up with an inverted plate he would find there. So covered, it seemed impossible for any four-legged marauder to get at it. On her return she found no meat and the accompanying ticket had also disappeared: yet the butcher's boy says he placed the meat and ticket where and how directed, and there is no reason to doubt his statement. It is alleged that other articles of food, such as pieces of bacon, had previously been missed from the same receptacle.

A COMPLETE CURE. 12th Aug. 1910

A Swavesey farmer had a strange experience the other night. About 2.30 a.m. he was awakened by the noise of an evidently frightened hen in the yard below him. Thinking thieves of the two or four-legged variety were about, he promptly jumped out of bed. The noise got louder. He opened the window wide and looked out, but could see nothing. The hen demonstrated still more vigorously. Clothed only in his night-shirt and with slippers on wrong feet, he rushed down stairs into the yard. The first thing he saw was a white hen running from a coop. He examined the coop and detected a mysterious object in the corner which moved out. The farmer went in pursuit and to his surprise caught a hedgehog. The hen had been placed under the coop to cure it of a persistent disposition to sit; the fright given by the hedgehog effected a complete cure.

SWIMMING CLUB. 12th Aug. 1910

On Thursday evening, 4th inst., a meeting was held in the National schoolroom of those interested in the formation of a swimming club for Swavesey and district. Mr. H. S. Aldred presided. Rules were adopted and officers appointed. Mr. E. H. Thornhill, of Boxworth Manor, was elected President, and office he has accepted; Mr. Reuben Parish, secretary and treasurer; while Messrs. H. S. Aldred, R. Parish, C. Ellis, E. J. Mitham, R. Mitham, A. J. Willson and T. Harris form the committee. The club starts with 29 members and a good balance in hand after payment of expenses already incurred for cutting the weeds at the bathing place, repairing the diving board, etc. During the meeting it was suggested that volunteers should be asked for to assist, teach, and encourage young beginners, and it was decided to hold some races, the arrangements being left in the hands of the secretary. Notices posted in the village subsequently announced that the races would be brought off on Tuesday evening, but they fell through owing to lack of entries. It is hoped, however, that they will be arranged shortly, and that the young men and lads of the village will show a keener interest in swimming, a thorough knowledge of which should be acquired by everyone.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE GIFFORD. 12th Aug. 1910

Many people in Swavesey and district will remember Mr. George Gifford, who upwards of 30 years ago was for some years associated with Mr. W. H. Key, the well-known Swavesey baker, and will learn with sincere regret of his death under somewhat distressing circumstances at an hotel in Chicago.

CRICKET. 19th Aug. 1910

Last Saturday afternoon a cricket match was played at Swavesey between the second elevens of the Swavesey and Over clubs. The visitors were victorious.

GOOD TEMPLARS' EXCURSION. 19th Aug. 1910

Fifty-four persons left Swavesey Station for a day at Yarmouth by the Good Templars' excursion yesterday morning. They hailed from Swavesey, Over, and other villages. For a recent excursion, also to Yarmouth, no fewer than 78 persons were booked from Swavesey.

GOOD CHILDREN. 19th Aug. 1910

On Friday last, on the occasion of the breaking up for the harvest holidays, medals and bars, awarded by the County Education Committee for regular attendance, were presented to the undermentioned children attending Swavesey National School: Medals for one year's perfect attendance, Lawrence Poulter, Stanley Poulter, Ethel Culpin, and Mabel Taylor; bars for six years' full attendance, Arthur Beaumont and Clara Thorp; for three years, Ada Howlett; for two years, Richard Culpin and May Thorp.

A RUNAWAY. 19th Aug. 1910

At the conclusion of the sale of Miss Perry's household effects in Middle Watch, conducted by Mr. Cyril Watts, on Tuesday afternoon, a horse, belonging to Mr. Chas. Brown, of Elsworth, ran away, dragging a cart laden with furniture after it. The horse had been standing in the sale yard, and on its hempen halter being removed, got restive, reared, and bolted through several lots. Mrs. T. W. Carter's gateway was damaged, and several persons had very narrow escapes of being knocked down, but, fortunately, no one was injured. Mr. Joseph Stockbridge succeeded in stopping the runaway by turning it into the opening between Burnham Cottage and Mr. James Parsons' house in Boxworth End.

SCHOOL TREAT. 19th Aug. 1910

The annual treat to the children attending the Parish Church Sunday School was held on the 30th June, but owing to the inclement weather, the latter part of the entertainment had to be postponed. Thursday, 11th instant, fortunately a beautifully fine day, was chosen for the finish of the treat. The children assembled in the Vicarage grounds at 5 p.m., and played games on the lawns until half-past six, when an adjournment was made to the adjoining field. Here races of various kinds for boys and girls were run, and the youngsters enjoyed themselves in other ways. The Vicar, his daughters, Mr. W. H. Key, Mr. Beaumont, and, last but not least, Mr. John Gilby, did their utmost to make everything go with a swing, and their efforts were attended with complete success, though some miniature balloons persistently refused to go heavenwards. Apples, kindly provided by Mr. Key, were scrambled for during the evening, and on leaving for home every child was made happy with a bag of sweets. Many parents and other parishioners and friends were present during the evening.

BETHEL SUNDAY SCHOOL. 19th Aug. 1910

The children attending Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday school were given their annual treat on Thursday 11th instant, in a meadow kindly lent by Mr. Jabez Day, one of the deacons. Fortunately the weather was ideal. Tea was provided for the scholars at 4.30 p.m. when about sixty youngsters did ample justice to the good things set before them. After the meal games were played. A tea followed at 5.30 p.m. for adults, 56 of whom were present. The excellent arrangements made for the amusement of children and adults during the evening were most thoroughly appreciated, and everything went off with zest. There were games of cricket, racing, swings, tugs-of-war, threadneedle race, needlework competition, egg and spoon race, and a skipping contest, which was keenly fought by the girls. At the close of the evening the scholars assembled outside the chapel schoolroom and sang two or three favourite hymns. Cheers were given for the many kind friends, to whom they were indebted for their entertainment. Packets of sweets were distributed, and then everyone went home. Much of the success of the evening was due to the untiring work of Mr. H. S. Aldred, the Sunday School Superintendent, who is always indefatigable where the interests of children are concerned.

PERSONAL. 26th Aug. 1910

On the 27th August, 1857, "Squire" John Dodson, a large Swavesey landowner, died. On the same day Mr. William Carter Cole, happily still alive, was born.

ILLNESS OF MR. A. WILLIAMS. 26th Aug. 1910

Many of our readers will learn with regret that Mr. Alfred Williams, of High-street, Swavesey, is very seriously ill. He attended the Old Baptist Chapel as usual last Sunday morning, but early in the evening was stricken down with paralysis.

TRAIN IN HALVES. 26th Aug. 1910

As the excursion train from Hunstanton pulled up in Swavesey Station shortly after ten o'clock on Wednesday night, the coupling of one of the centre coaches broke with a loud report. The coach was expeditiously shunted into a siding, and the train having been joined up the passengers transferred, proceeded on its homeward journey after a short delay.

“THE LADY WITH THE LAMP.” 26th Aug. 1910

The Vicar’s interesting sermon at the parish church on Sunday evening dealt entirely with the life and work of the late Miss Florence Nightingale, and of the lessons which may be learned from the example set by her. Two of Miss Nightingale’s favourite hymns were sung during the service.

OLD COTTAGE DEMOLISHED. 26th Aug. 1910

The ancient stud and plaster thatched cottage on the raised causeway at Church End, on the north side of the Swan Inn, is being pulled down. It is understood that an eight-roomed house will be erected in its place.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 26th Aug. 1910

The annual meeting of the members of the Swavesey United Football Club was held at the National School on Thursday evening, 18th instant, Mr. E. J. Mitham in the chair. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and confirmed, officers were elected for the ensuing season, viz.: President, Hon. E. S. Montagu, M. P.; vice-presidents, Mr. G. Douglas Newton, Rev. A. C. Vidler, Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Messrs. R. E. Bartley, J.B. Ellis (St. Ives), R. E. Long, A. Norman, R. Norman and Dr. Ellis. The above were appointed subject to their acceptance of the office. Captain, Mr. Harris, vice-captain, Mr. E. Clark; treasurer, Mr. C. Ellis; secretary, Mr. E. J. Mitham; committee, Messrs. P. Banyard, F. Beaumont, R. Mitham, jun., E. Prior and A. J. Willson.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 2nd Sept. 1910

Mr. G. D. Newton has sent a subscription of half a guinea to the funds of the Swavesey Football Club.

PERSONAL. 2nd Sept. 1910

According to the inscription on the Dodson vault in Swavesey Churchyard, Squire John Dodson died on the 11th August, 1857, aged 79 years, and not on the 27th of the same month, as stated last week. The memory of the ancient inhabitant played him false on this occasion.

NOT SO SERIOUS AS REPORTED. 2nd Sept. 1910

Mr. A. T. Scard, of Swavesey, when playing at Huntingdon on Wednesday week for the St. Ives Town Cricket Club against Huntingdon Town, had the misfortune when bowling to have his thumb dislocated by a hard hit. Dr. R. Ellis, who was also playing, promptly attended to the injury, and Mr. Scard is going on well. An erroneous statement appeared in some local papers last week that the thumb was broken.

ACCIDENT. 2nd Sept. 1910

On Saturday morning last a serious accident happened to Christopher Day, youngest son on Mr. Alfred Day, farmer, which might have been attended by far more serious consequences. The lad was driving a horse drag in a field near Tippler's Drove, when the horse bolted and threw him from his seat. He fell against the teeth of the machine, and was dragged a short distance, when, providentially, the machine jolted and the teeth jumped, releasing him. The horse proceeded on its wild career, a wheel came off, and the shafts were smashed when the animal dashed through a gap in a hedge. It ran homewards, and was not stopped until it reached the gate of the farmyard. Young Day, when picked up, was in considerable pain. He was at once taken home, and Dr. Hearndon, of St. Ives, sent for. It is understood that in addition to shock and bruises, the lad's leg is injured.

DEATH OF MR. ALFRED WILLIAMS. 2nd Sept. 1910

We regret to record the death of Mr. Alfred Williams, the well-known Swavesey grocer and draper, which occurred about 10 p.m. on Friday last, 26th ult. As announced last week, Mr. Williams attended his usual place of worship on the previous Sunday morning, but early on the evening of the same day was stricken down with paralysis. He was 73 years of age on the 14th ult. For the past two years he had been in failing health, but was able to attend to his business until the last few days of his life. Mr. Williams had been in business in Swavesey for half a century, first as a tailor, and subsequently as a grocer and draper. Twenty-eight years ago he took over the premises of Mr. Thomas Payne, and here he passed away. He was much respected and liked by friends and customers. A widow, three sons, and one daughter are left to mourn his loss. – The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, in Swavesey Cemetery, and was attended by a large number of sympathising friends and neighbours. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Strict Baptist Chapel, who officiated, in the course of an appreciative address spoke of the kindly character of their dead friend. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Williams (widow), Mr. G. D. Williams (son), Mrs. R. Sutton (daughter), Mr. H. H. Williams (son), Mr. R. Sutton (son-in-law); Mr. Herbert Williams (brother), Mrs. G. Day (sister), and Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. H. Williams, and Mrs. J. Parish, of Kettering (sisters-in-law). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, and the coffin was of unpolished oak.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 9th Sept. 1910

The Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., has sent a subscription of one sovereign to the Swavesey Football Club.

NEARLY A TRAGEDY. 9th Sept. 1910

A villager finding that birds were damaging the apples on a certain favourite tree tied the domestic cat to the bottom of the trunk. The line was so long that the freedom of pussy should be restricted as little as possible – too long, in fact, for she got up the tree and nearly hanged herself. She was, it is satisfactory to record, found, and cut down just in time to save her life. The apples now have to take their chance.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENTS. 9th Sept. 1910

“Pro Bono Publico,” writing from Swavesey, says: The Post Office authorities are to be heartily congratulated on their bold and comprehensive scheme for the improvement of the day mail service in this district, which came into effect on the 1st of this month. In any large change it is almost always inevitable that inconvenience may be caused to a few individuals, and this is the case in Swavesey. The earlier collection for the night mail despatch from the wall box in Middle Watch is possibly not appreciated by persons at that end of the village, but the inconvenience is surely more than compensated by the new collection from the box at 1.30 p.m. for the midday mail. By sending the midday mail to St. Ives by the 1.59 p.m. train instead of to Cambridge by the 12.21 train involves considerably later delivery in Cambridge and this is likely to lead to some inconvenience.

FIRE AT SWAVESEY. 16th Sept. 1910

On Wednesday afternoon, at about a quarter past two o'clock, Mr. E. J. Warboys, farmer and milk dealer, of Swavesey, and Mr. J. W. Wright, a visitor, were shooting on Mr. T Prior's land in Tippler's Drove, when they saw smoke rising from the direction of the Huntingdon-road. They at once proceeded to investigate. Their bicycles were close by, and on them they rode off towards Off Hand Farm, a lonely collection of buildings, etc., with no homestead, tenanted by Mr. Alfred Day.

On arriving they found smoke pouring out of the roof and sides of a building used as a stable, and on opening the door discovered a heap of straw and dry manure alight under the manger. They tried to trample out the fire, but their efforts were unsuccessful. They then fetched armfuls of damp straw, which they further wetted in pools of water, and put them on the fire. They searched for buckets, but found nothing but a small trough, which they half filled with water from a large trough and threw on the burning heap, and in time they got the fire under. Mr. Wright then cycled off for Mr. Day, and soon returned with Mr. Day's son and a pail. More water was thrown on, and soon all danger was past.

An oak post supporting the manger was partly burned through, but beyond this no damage was done to the buildings. Had it not been that the fire was detected in its earliest stage, and for the promptitude and energy of Mr. Warboys and Mr. Wright, there is no doubt the buildings, with their contents, and a stack of straw from 30 acres would have been speedily burned to the ground. The buildings consisted of a stable, cart sheds, and barns, and formed three sides of a quadrangle, the stack occupying the fourth side. The origin of the fire is at present a matter of conjecture, but the police are making inquiries. A somewhat significant incident, which may or may not have some connection with the fire, occurred as Mr. Warboys and young Mr. Day were returning home. In a field a short distance away they came across two mushroom-pickers, believed to belong to Cambridge. When ordered off the land, the men were inclined to be obstructive and insolent, until Mr. Warboys made it plain that if necessary he would call the police.

COURT AT SWAVESEY. 16th Sept. 1910

DANGER FROM MUSHROOMERS. 23rd Sept. 1910

It is understood that the fire at Off Hand Farm, reported in our last issue, is held after inquiry not to have been due to incendiarism, but was in all probability caused by careless mushroomers, who had taken refuge in the stable from the rain. A heavy leaden pump was removed from the farm a few weeks ago.

SWIMMING CLUB. 23rd Sept. 1910

A correspondent asks whether the swimming club which was established in Swavesey early in August has already come to an untimely end. Swimming competitions were promised, he says, and even announced, but postponed at the last moment. He hopes Swavesey young men and lads are not afraid of cold water.

THE VILLAGE PHILOLOGIST. 23rd Sept. 1910

A Swavesey man, speaking the other day of the ignorance of certain people, told his audience of another man who had said, in reference to the bill of a forthcoming auction sale the date of which had not been fixed, that the word “preliminary” meant immediately. The superior man remarked that he had informed the ignoramus that he was mistaken and that the correct meaning of the word was “at any time.” He could, he added, show him the definition in a dictionary. A third party, who unknown had overheard the conversation, ventured to observe that both definitions were wrong, but he was promptly contradicted. A request for the production of the dictionary elicited the unwilling reply that the village philologist did not possess one.

PARISH MEETING. 23rd Sept. 1910

Under the presidency of Mr. Ebenezer Parish, Chairman of the Parish Council, a parish meeting was held at the National School on Wednesday evening. In connection with the minutes of the previous meeting in July, which was called specially to consider the desirability of opposing the scheme for a new system of water supply for the parish, the Chairman, who is also one of the Swavesey representatives on the Rural District Council, announced that the opposition to the scheme at the Local Government Board inquiry had been of no avail, and that the Board had granted the District Council the necessary powers for raising a loan to carry out the scheme. He added that he believed that notices inviting tenders for the work would be issued shortly. The only other business before the meeting on Wednesday was the question of authorising the necessary expenditure for lighting the street lamps during the coming winter, and on the proposal of Mr. A. Day, seconded by Mr. Jethro Linford, the Parish Council were granted the needed authority.

PARISH COUNCIL MEETING. 23rd Sept. 1910

After the parish meeting a meeting of the Parish Council was held, at which were present Mr. E. Parish (chairman), Councillors W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). There were also several ratepayers in the room. After the minutes of the last meeting had been confirmed, the Clerk read an interesting and amusing correspondence between the Council and the Postmaster of Cambridge respecting the recent alterations in the postal service of the district, and the Councillors generally expressed their approval of the new and improved service. Mr. Daisley asked whether a separate banking account had been opened for the income derived from the Recreation Ground. The Clerk replied that it had not, and received instructions to attend to the matter forthwith. The lamplighting question was then gone into, and the rest of a long and wearisome meeting enlivened now and again by scintillations of wit on the part of one or two Councillors, was spent discussing the terms of what the Chairman called the “specification” to be given to each would-be tenderer for the lighting contract. There was much difference of opinion as to the time at which the contractor should begin to light his lamps each evening, but it was eventually agreed that half the lamps should be alight at “lighting-up” time. Mr. A. Norman thought in regard to the proposal that the lighting and extinguishing should commence at Boxworth End one week and at Church End the next week, that it was desirable the lamps should not be put out near the station until after the arrival of the 10.14 p.m. train on Mondays and Saturdays. Mr. Day, on the other hand, thought that people entering the village from the other end ought also to be considered. He admitted that the station was nearer “the city”, but he reminded the Council that the “nobs” lived at Boxworth End. (Laughter) An animated discussion followed as to the meaning of the terms “lamp” and “cage” in the specification drawn up by the Clerk, and there was much difference of opinion, but at length that point was settled. Mr. Daisley insisted that the “specification should require the contractor to keep his lamp glasses clean, and Mr. Day pleaded that they should be sufficiently bright so that the Clerk should not have to write his letters in the dark – a subtle piece of wit which was much appreciated. At length the public notice inviting tenders and the specification were approved, and the Councillors proceeded to decide when they should meet again.

DEATH OF THE OLDEST INHABITANT. 23rd Sept. 1910

By the death on Saturday last at the great age of 90 years of Mrs. Mary Thorp, the oldest inhabitant of Swavesey has passed away. Mrs. Thorp was the widow of the late Mr. William Thorp, corn dealer and grocer, of Swavesey. He died 33 years ago. She was a native of the parish, and eldest sister of Mr. David Sutton, in whose house at Boxworth End she died after a long illness. On Tuesday afternoon she was laid to rest in the parish churchyard beside her husband and her only child, a daughter. The Vicar officiated. The following were the chief mourners: Mr. and Mrs. David Sutton (brother and sister-in-law), and Mrs. Ben Sutton (sister-in-law). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Walter Thorp, of Swavesey.

CART SMASHED AT SWAVESEY STATION DRIVER'S NARROW ESCAPE. 30th Sept. 1910

A man employed by Allen Brothers, Fenstanton, carting drain pipes, had a narrow escape about 8.30 on Saturday morning at Swavesey Station. He appears, without knowledge of the railway officials, to have taken his horse and cart to the far side of the goods siding. He then found that his pipes were in another place, and returned between two lots of stationary trucks. At this moment an engine shunted some other trucks, which struck the stationary trucks, and the man was thrown out of the cart. Fortunately, the horse was already clear, and only the axle of the cart was broken. The man had a severe shaking, and hurt his hip. It is stated he was deaf; hence the mishap.

A COMPLAINT. 30th Sept. 1910

“A Swavesey Ratepayer” writes: “I think the people of Swavesey, especially those of us who have horses and cars on the roads, have reason to complain of the carelessness displayed by the men in charge of the traction engine and the three huge trucks which have recently been employed to convey granite from Swavesey Station for use on the County Council roads. On several occasions the main road through the village has been strewn with granite shaken from the trucks, and I have heard of at least one horse which has been injured thought stepping on a loose granite. Then again, the engine and its heavy train shakes our houses in an alarming way, and on occasion their speed through the centre of the village has appeared to have been greater than was consistent with safety. When they have come through late in the evening – once to my knowledge between 9.30 and 10 0p.m. – our babies and other early bed-goers have been roused from sleep and our domestic peace has been affected. People have been asking where is the advantage of steam over horse traction for such work.

A MISHAP. 30th Sept. 1910

Saturday last was a day of disaster to some of those working in connection with the new drainage. Early in the morning a man carting pipes from the railway station narrowly escaped death, or at least serious injury by being caught by trucks which were being shunted. At mid-day a horse and cart belonging to Mr. Prime Godfrey, laden with wood which had been used in the drainage operations, came to grief on Church Green. When approaching the gate the horse stumbled and fell, and in its endeavours to rise tumbled over into a ditch. The services of several men were needed to extricate it.

WEDDING. 30th Sept. 1910

A wedding of interest to Swavesey people was solemnised at the Church of St. Peter, Parkstone, Dorset, on Saturday last, when Miss Agnes Thorpe, youngest daughter of the late Mr. John Thorp, of Swavesey, was married to Mr. Charles Gould, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Gould, of “Cimella,” Pottery-road, Parkstone. The bride, who was given away by Mr. W. Gould, was charmingly attired in a dress of Saxe blue cashmere, trimmed with yoke and cream ticked net and lace insertions and silk to match. Her crinoline-brimmed hat of the same colour was lined with cream lace and trimmed with lace and silk to match the dress. She was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss R. Thorpe (sister) and Miss Gould (sister of the bridegroom), one of whom wore a dress of vieu rose and the other amethyst cashmere with insertion to match. Their hats were respectively of black crinoline, trimmed with vieu roses, tulle velvet, &c., and amethyst straw with silk trimming and flowers to match. The bride carried a spray bouquet of orchids, lilies, carnations, &c., and the bridesmaids wore sprays of pink and white sweet peas and carnations, the gifts of the bridegroom.

GARDEN FETE. 30th Sept. 1910

In aid of the Parish Church Expenses and Choir Funds a garden fete was held in the grounds of Swavesey Vicarage on Thursday 22nd inst. Fortunately the weather was fine, and the fete, financially and otherwise, was a great success. The gross proceeds amounted to upward of £22, and after payment of all expenses a substantial sum will remain. The jumble stall, in the capable hands of Mrs. Gilby, Mrs. Cooksey and the Misses Vidler, did excellent business. Miss Cole, Miss Bartley and Miss Wilkinson's flower and lollipop stall was cleared out. The refreshment tent, superintended by Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Wells, assisted by other ladies, was well patronised. Miss Grace Dodson looked after the bran tubs, while Mrs. W. Kester, Miss F. Daisley and Miss E. Garner annexed coppers innumerable by means of cake-guessing competitions. Mr. William Thorp had charge of the quoit ground, his patrons being mainly clerical, and Mr. Walter Thorp was kept busily engaged at a shooting gallery. Potato races proved a great attraction to visitors of both sexes and all ages. An open-air concert, under the management of Mr. G. H. Skeeles, the organist at the parish church, was a great attraction. As darkness descended the grounds were effectively illuminated with Chinese lanterns by Mr. James of St. Ives. During the evening there was dancing on the lawn. The success of the fete was largely due to the preliminary work of the ladies, and of Messrs. J. Gilby and William Thorpe. The weather, too, being exceptionally favourable, tempted many visitors to be present. Mr. Robinson Mitham, as usual, rendered yeomen service by erecting stalls, &c.

PARISH COUNCIL. 30th Sept. 1910

On Monday evening the Parish Council met at the National School to make final arrangements for lighting the street lamps during the winter. There were present: Messrs. E. Parish (chairman), W. Twist (vice-chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, A Day, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, J. W. Parish, and the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). After the minutes had been read, Mr. Daisley raised several questions thereon. The Chairman then proceeded to open the tenders for lighting the lamps. There were two tenders, both from the same applicant, Mr. George Clarke, viz.: No. 1, for £25, based strictly on the Council's specification, and No. 2 for £23 10s., on the basis that the contractor would be allowed to extinguish the lamps before the stated time (10 p.m.) when the moon was shining. Eventually on the proposal of Mr. Daisley, seconded by Mr. Twist, tender No. 1 for £25 was accepted nem. con. A suggestion from Mr. Linford that the lamps should not be lighted on the night of the full moon and on the seven nights previously was adopted in lieu of the old plan of six nights before and one after full moon. – Mr Twist reported as to the condition of the lamps and fittings. He had found 20 sound glasses or chimneys and 17 broken; 20 of the outer glass cases were in a fair condition, 18 were in a bad state, some practically beyond repair. He had not had time to inspect all the posts, but some of these he had seen needed attention. Mr. Twist remarked that he had intended to continue his tour of inspection on the previous (Sunday) afternoon, but that he had gone to Over Feast and Church instead. – Mr. Day's sense of propriety was shocked, and he suggested that Mr. Twist should be fined for even contemplating work on a Sunday. – in the result the Lighting Sub-Committee was given full powers to have all the necessary repairs, &c., attended to and worn-out articles replaced, and it was decided that as many lamps as were fit should be lighted on Sunday next, 2nd ult. – Mr. Day gave notice that at the next meeting he would propose that gravel be placed in front of each of the village ponds.

STRAWBERRIES. 7th Oct. 1910

Mr. W. Burton, fruit-grower, of Swavesey, has within the last few days gathered strawberries in his gardens in the Hale.

GALE. 7th Oct. 1910

The front wall of an old cottage on the raised Causeway at Church End, which was in the process of demolition, was blown down during the gale early last Monday morning.

ROUGH ON RATS. 7th Oct. 1910

During threshing operations on Mr. James Wells' premises at Church End last week Mr. W. Thurbon's fox terrier killed about 50 rats in an hour and a half. Later in the day the animal disposed of another score from the same stack.

HEARTS OF OAK. 7th Oct. 1910

The half-yearly meeting of the Swavesey and District Hearts of Oak Medical Agency was held at the White Horse Inn on Thursday, 29th ult., Mr. W. F. Gleaves presiding. The accounts for the past six months were submitted by the secretary, and were found satisfactory.

ACCIDENT. 7th Oct. 1910

Mr. S. Voss, gardener at Swavesey Manor, when gathering apples on Wednesday afternoon, had the misfortune to fall from a considerable height. Mr. Thurbon and two assistants, who were in an orchard close by, heard the noise of breaking branches, and ran at once to the spot. Mr. Voss, an elderly man, was lying on the ground, and they conveyed him into the Manor House, of which he is temporarily in charge. Medical aid was subsequently called in. Fortunately no bones were broken, but Mr. Voss is suffering from shock, etc., and is confined to his bed.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 7th Oct. 1910

The harvest festival was held at Swavesey Primitive Methodist Chapel on Sunday last, the Rev. H. Lancaster, the circuit minister, preaching at both services. On Monday evening there was a public tea in the chapel followed by a concert given by the St. Ives Primitive Methodist Choir. Mr. C. Richardson of Over, presided, and Mr. Lancaster gave an address. The chapel was full. After the concert the contributions of fruit and vegetables were sold, and realised, with the collections at the Sunday services and at the concert, the sum of £2 4s. 9d., a substantial addition to the chapel funds.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 7th Oct. 1910

The parish church of St. Andrew was bright with flowers, corn, and greenery on Wednesday, on the occasion of the harvest festival. Fruit and vegetables, the finest products of the village gardens and allotments, were placed around the bases of the pillars at the western end of the church. The festival opened with a celebration of the Holy Communion at an early hour, but the popular service was Evensong at 7 p.m., when a good congregation attended. The choir sang with vigour, and were well supported by the people. The Vicar said the service. The festival services will be continued on Sunday next at the parish church, and in the afternoon there will be a children's flower service at the Mission Church, Boxworth End. The children's offerings will be sent to St. Ives Infirmary, but the contributions of fruit, vegetables, etc., at the parish church will go to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

(Long report)

A CATASTROPHE. 14th Oct. 1910

Between seven and eight on Tuesday morning a horse being brought out of Mr. Z. Parish's yard in High-street came in collision with the iron fence in front of Mr. G. W. S. Hills' house just opposite. The animal's halter got entangled in the iron work, and half of the railings, the gate and some of the brickwork were pulled down, and the rest of the fence loosened.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 14th Oct. 1910

The annual meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association took place at the National School on Thursday, 6th inst., Mr. W. C. Cole presiding. The secretary read the annual report which detailed the work of the association during the past twelve months, and the treasurer submitted the year's accounts, which showed a substantial balance in hand. Mr. Cole was elected president in the room of Capt. E. W. Morrison-Bell. The other officers and committee remain practically the same as last year.

COMPLAINTS. 14th Oct. 1910

A correspondent writes under date of the 12th inst. There was much comment last evening amongst the audience at Mr. Douglas Newton's meeting in the school respecting the street lamps. It was a pitch dark, wet and stormy night, yet not one lamp was alight. I presume this was owing to the regulation that the lamps should not be lighted on the seven nights before full moon, but surely no rule is without exception, and last night ought to have been regarded as an exception.

When Mr. Montagu visits the village it is to be hoped the parish council will see that the streets are not in utter darkness. – Another correspondent calls attention to the hedge on the Huntingdon-road at the corner of Swavesey-road. It is, he says, so high that vehicles proceeding from Swavesey cannot see motor cars passing along the high road, and is therefore a serious source of danger.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 14th Oct. 1910

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were continued at the parish church on Sunday last. The Vicar preached both in the morning and evening. In the afternoon there was a children's flower service at the mission church, Boxworth End, and the youngsters' offerings of flowers, fruit &c., have been sent to St. Ives Infirmary. The fruit and vegetables at the parish church have, as usual, been forwarded to Addenbrooke's Hospital, to which institution the offertories on Wednesday, Oct. 5th, and on Sunday morning, amounting to upwards of £6, have been allotted.

STRAWBERRIES. 14th Oct.

Mrs. W. Prior, of High-street, on Saturday last gathered large ripe strawberries in her husband's allotment in the Hale.

STOCK CLUB. 14th Oct. 1910

The annual tea of the Swavesey Stock Club was held at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday, Oct. 5th. The landlord provided a substantial meal, to which full justice was done. A social evening followed, and Mr. Prime Godfrey's gramophone contributed not a little to the general enjoyment.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING. 14th Oct. 1910

Notwithstanding the heavy rain and exceptionally dark and unpleasant night, the large room of Swavesey National School was well filled on Tuesday evening with an interested audience, which included many Liberals, on the occasion of a public meeting in support of Mr. Douglas Newton, the prospective Conservative and Unionist candidate for West. Cambs.

STREET LAMPS. 21st Oct. 1910

When the street lamps were first brought into use this season only 18 out of the 38 lamps could be lighted, the remaining 20 being out of repair. This week the contractor, Mr. George Clarke, has been able to put up and light 19 more.

A CURIOUS FIND. 21st Oct. 1910

In the decayed trunk of an old apple tree recently blown down in a close at the back of Mr. Walter Thorp's house at Boxworth End, a bird's nest with one egg was found. Surrounding the nest were tunnels containing the thimble-shaped cells of the leaf-cutting bee. The bird's entrance to the nest was a small hole in the trunk about four feet from the ground, while the bee entered by a much smaller hole somewhat lower down.

THE NEW SCHOOLMASTER. 21st Oct. 1910

At a meeting of School Managers, held on Monday last, five selected candidates for the head mastership of Swavesey National School were interviewed and we understand that Mr. Charles Wood, senior assistant master at Ripley School, Derbyshire, was unanimously chosen by the managers for recommendation to the County Education Committee. The vacancy in the headmastership is caused by the retirement of Mr. Henry Beaumont, which takes place at Christmas, after a continued service of 42 years.

A FIRE. 21st Oct. 1910

When Mr. Sidney Carrier, a plate-layer, was proceeding to his work about six o'clock on Saturday morning he observed smoke arising from behind the stables at the back of the Vicarage. Thinking something was amiss, and hearing the sound of falling glass, he at once went to the spot and found a wood and corrugated iron building, used as a potting house, and containing two stoves for heating greenhouses, on fire. He immediately called Mr. James Bridgeford, who was near by, to his assistance, and roused the inmates of the Vicarage. The fire was quickly extinguished with pails of water, but not before the wooden framework, bench, shelves, cupboard and also tools belonging to the Vicar and his gardener, Mr. Charles Froment, had been destroyed. It is believed the fire was caused by the overheating of one of the stoves which Mr. Froment had lighted the previous night, and which had not been in use for four or five years. When Mr. Froment left the building between 8 and 9 p.m. on Friday all appeared to be safe.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 21st Oct. 1910

On Thursday evening, 13th inst., a harvest thanksgiving service was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel. In the afternoon there was a public tea in the chapel schoolroom, at which upwards of 60 sat down. The "trays" were given and presided over by Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. Arthur Norman, Mrs. Wimpres, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Miss Starte, and Miss Brand. Service followed in the spacious chapel, when the Rev. J. Parr, of Fenstanton, was the preacher. The chapel was tastefully decorated by Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Arthur Norman, Mrs. W. Daisley and Mrs. W. Thurbon. The collection, which amounted to £4, was in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, to which institution the contributions of fruit, vegetables, etc., have also been sent.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 21st Oct. 1910

It is with regret that we record the death of another aged inhabitant of Swavesey. On Wednesday evening, the 13th inst., Mrs. Rebecca Prior, widow of the late Mr. James Prior, passed away at the great age of eighty years. Mrs. Prior, who was greatly respected in the village, had been in feeble health for some time, but was not taken seriously ill until the 29th July last, her 80th birthday. She was a great reader, but notwithstanding her many years never wore glasses. The funeral took place in Swavesey churchyard on Saturday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. J. Prior (son), Mrs. J. Day (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. W. Prior, Mr. and Mrs. S. Prior (sons and daughters-in-law) and Mr. A. Froment (son-in-law). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham of Swavesey. In his sermon on Sunday morning the Vicar made a sympathetic reference to the death of his aged parishioner. It may be of interest to mention that within the last twelve months there have been nine deaths in the Prior family.

FOOTBALL: SWAVESEY v. FENSTANTON. 28th Oct. 1910

An uninteresting game ended in a no score draw.

YOUNG HELPERS' LEAGUE. 28th Oct. 1910

An interesting lecture on the work of Dr. Barnardo's Homes was given before a crowded audience at the National School on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Sharland, of Bedford. The lecture was admirably illustrated by lantern views showing the various buildings of the Homes, the inmates at work, etc. The Vicar of Swavesey presided. The lecture marked the inauguration of the Swavesey branch of the Young Helpers' League, and in course of the evening Mrs. Sharland congratulated the local secretary, Miss Bartley, on her success in enlisting such a large number of members. A collection was made on behalf of the Homes.

TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. 28th Oct. 1910

The annual meeting of the Temperance Society connected with Bethel Baptist Chapel was held on Thursday, 20th inst., under the presidency of the Rev. W. H. Stevens. The year's accounts were duly passed, the Temperance Society showing a balance in hand of 7s. 11½d., and the Band of Hope of £1 1s. 7½d. The following officers were elected: President, Rev. W. H. Stevens; treasurer, Mr. Alfred Day, jun.; secretary, Miss Miriam Norman. A "public social" is being arranged by the Society, to be held on Thursday next, 3rd November, in Bethel Schoolroom. Admission will be by ticket (one penny each), and a collection will be made during the evening on behalf of Addenbrooke's Hospital, to which institution the total proceeds of the entertainment, without any deduction for expenses, will be sent. Last year the Society forwarded, as the result of a similar effort, £1 6s. 6d.

SAD NEWS FROM AFRICA. 28th Oct. 1910

Last Saturday morning the Vicar of Swavesey received a cablegram from the Rector of Queenstown, Cape Colony, announcing the death of Mr. Alfred Thorp, and asking that the sad news might be broken to Mr. Thorp's aged mother. No particulars were given, and as no previous intimation of illness had reached his relations, the news came as a great shock. Mr. Thorp, who was 32 years of age, and unmarried, was the youngest son of the late Mr. Ben Thorp, once well known as a cycle rider and skater. He left England for South Africa about nine years ago, and for three years worked for Messrs. Tiffin and Sons, general merchants, Queenstown, taking charge of their cycle and gun department. On the death of a member of the firm, Mr. Thorp acquired the cycle and gun business, and was very successful. In the spring of 1907 he came home on a visit of some months, and was contemplating a similar holiday next year. He was deservedly popular wherever he went. He was a Freemason. Great sympathy is felt for his sorrowing family, especially for his widowed mother, which is intensified by the fact that an older brother met his death in tragic circumstances by drowning some years ago.

DEATH OF MR. THOMAS PAYNE. 28th Oct. 1910

It is with regret we record the death of Mr. Thomas Payne, who passed peacefully and painlessly away on Monday afternoon, at the great age of 88 years, at his residence in Swavesey. Though in feeble health for some time, and practically confined to his room for the last two years, he had only been seriously ill for ten days. Mr. Payne was a native of Huntingdon. After serving his apprenticeship as a grocer with the firm of Messrs. Nix and Wasdell, St. Ives, and working in London, he opened upwards of sixty years ago a grocery and drapery business in High-street, Swavesey, occupying premises at the corner of Wallman's-lane on the site of the late Post Office. After some years of successful trading he bought some old cottages at the opposite corner of the lane, and erected a house and more commodious shop, and here he built up a good business from which he retired 34 years ago. The business is still in existence, the present proprietor being Mr. H. H. Williams. When in his prime, Mr. Payne took a keen interest in all parochial matters, was a Guardian of the Poor for several years, and held other offices. He married as a young man Miss Beresford, of Huntingdon, and was left a widower about a quarter of a century ago.

WEDDING AT SWAVESEY. 28th Oct. 1910

A marriage of great interest in Swavesey was solemnised in the parish church of St. Andrew on Tuesday morning, when Mr. Herbert Hugh Berryman, son of the late Mr. W. F. Berryman, of Wiveliscombe, Somerset, led to the altar Miss Clara Jane Williams, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, of Swavesey. The Vicar, Rev. A. C. Vidler, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a dress of primrose Japanese silk, tastefully trimmed with embroidered silk net and trimming, and she wore a tulle veil edged with pearl silk braid and orange blossoms. Accompanying her were three bridesmaids, Miss Agnes A. Williams (sister), Miss Madge Berryman (sister of the bridegroom), and Miss Elsie Day (cousin of the bride). The two former wore dresses of vieux rose, trimmed with Pon's net, and black picture hats, and the latter a gown of cream nun's veiling, prettily trimmed with hat to match. Mr. Frank Williams, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Berryman left Swavesey for Cambridge, en route for Plymouth. Her travelling dress was a tailor-made costume of grey tweed, with hat to match.

NEW SCHOOLMASTER. 4th Nov. 1910

The appointment of Mr. Charles Wood, of Ripley, Derbyshire, to the headmastership of Swavesey National School has been confirmed by the County Education Committee.

A COLLISION. 4th Nov. 1910

A man selling bloaters, and a butcher's boy, the latter on a bicycle, came into collision last Thursday morning in High-street. Man, boy and cycle fell sprawling on the road, the bloaters went flying, and the fishmonger's trousers were torn.

A DANGEROUS SPOT. 4th Nov. 1910

A correspondent calls attention to a hole of some size near the public lamp in the middle of Market-street. It is, he says, dangerous, and he fears the parish lamplighter may have an awkward fall one of these dark nights. The writer wants to know why the hole could not have been filled up with some of the surplus soil from the new drain which has recently been removed from the street.

FUNERAL OF MR. THOMAS PAYNE. 4th Oct. 1910

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas Payne, whose death at the great age of 88 years was announced last week, took place in the parish churchyard on Thursday afternoon, October 26th, and in addition to the mourners was attended by many friends. The Vicar of Swavesey (the Rev. A. C. Vidler) officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. W. H. Clayton, of Huntingdon (nephew), Mrs. Stevens (niece) and Mr. J. F. Clayton (nephew). The coffin was of polished oak, with brass furniture. Mr. Robinson Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker.

DEATH OF A RETIRED SCHOOLMISTRESS. 4th Oct. 1910

After a painful illness of many years, borne with exemplary resignation, Miss Elizabeth Jane Martin passed away at the residence of her father, early on the morning of October 24th, at the age of 59 years. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. William Martin, once of Bromsgrove, Worcestershire, but latterly residing in Swavesey. For twenty-eight years she was a certificated schoolmistress, and served in schools in different parts of the country. Ten years ago she had to give up work owing to acute rheumatism from which she suffered without intermission to the end of her life. She was buried last Friday afternoon in Swavesey churchyard, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. W. Martin (father), Mr. B. Martin, of Bromsgrove, and Mr. W. Martin, of Lincoln (brothers), Mrs. C. Smith and Miss C. Martin (sisters), Mr. C. Smith (brother-in-law), Mr. C. Martin (nephew) and Miss C. Smith (niece). Mr. Robinson Mitham was the undertaker.

WEIGHING A GOOSE. 11th Nov. 1910

A man, the other day, took a goose to be weighed, and weighed it was with all due pomp and circumstance. The weigher declared the result to be 10 lbs. all but two "taters," two cartridges and a shut-knife.

HELPING THE HOSPITAL. 11th Nov. 1910

On being opened at Addenbrooke's Hospital on Wednesday, the collecting box at the Rising Sun Inn, High-street, Swavesey, was found to contain £1 2s. 9d. This sum has been raised since the 21st July last, on which date a previous box realised £1 1s. 3d.

B.W.T.A. 11th Nov. 1910

A public meeting in connection with the Swavesey Branch of the British Women's Temperance Society was held in the Bethel Chapel on Monday evening, under the genial presidency of Dr. R. Watts White, of St. Ives. Miss Gautrey, of Chatteris, was the special speaker.

PARISH CHURCH. 11th Nov. 1910

The preacher at evensong at the parish church on Sunday next will be the Rev. Anderson W. Wells, curate of Blaydon-on-Tyne. Mr. Wells, who was ordained deacon in September last by the Bishop of Durham, is a native of Swavesey, being a son of Mr. James Wells, one of the churchwardens.

A BEQUEST. 11th Nov. 1910

We are informed that the late Mr. Thomas Payne has bequeathed a field of about four acres situated near the Mow Fen Railway Crossing, for the benefit of Swavesey Parish Church, and for the continuance of his new year's gifts to needy widows and widowers in the village.

TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. 11th Nov. 1910

On the evening of Thursday, 3rd instant, a social evening, open to the public, was held, under the auspices of Bethel Temperance Society, in the schoolroom attached to Bethel Chapel. The Rev. W. H. Stevens, pastor, presided. An interesting and varied programme of solos, choruses, recitations, impromptu speeches, etc., was arranged by the secretary, Miss Marion Norman, and was successfully carried out by the members of the society, assisted by friends. Notwithstanding the wet night, the attendance was good, about 100 persons being present. Light refreshments were served during the evening. The proceeds of the entertainment, which amounted to £1 5s. 3d., have been sent by the treasurer, Mr. Alfred Day, jun., to Addenbrooke's Hospital. Before the gathering separated hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the organisers and performers.

AN IMPROVEMENT. 18th Nov. 1910

The overhanging branches of the trees on the western side of the high road between the church and the railway station have been lopped by direction of the vicar, and a great improvement effected thereby.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 18th Nov. 1910

The Swavesey Men's and Women's Liberal Associations jointly held their annual tea on Monday evening at the Friends' Meeting House, under the presidency of Mr. Ebenezer Parish. After tea there was a meeting, at which Mr. Parish, Mr. J. Evison (Fen Drayton), the Rev. W. H. Stevens (pastor of Swavesey Bethel Chapel) and Mr. C. W. Hines (Over) spoke. Mr. Hines' address was interrupted by the news of a fire having broken out on the chairman's premises, and the meeting was brought to an abrupt conclusion.

THE LATE MR. ALFRED THORP. 18th Nov. 1910

From newspapers and letters received by the last Cape Mail which have been kindly placed at our disposal, we are able to furnish some particulars of the death and funeral of the late Mr. Alfred Thorp, at Queenstown, Cape Colony. The cause of death appears to have been blood poisoning, the result of an apparently slight injury to his leg. "The Queenstown Daily Representative" of the 21st October states: - "Mr. Alfred Thorp, cycle dealer, after a few weeks' illness, passed away at the Frontier Hospital at 8.15 this morning at the age of 31. Mr. Thorp, who was unmarried, was one of Queenstown's most popular young men. He was a keen sportsman, and first became known to the Queenstown public as a fine cyclist, carrying off many prizes at our local sports meetings. He was an enthusiastic member of the Queenstown Amateur Athletic Union. Golf also claimed him as an ardent adherent. As a Mason, Mr. Thorp was perhaps best known. He belonged to the St. Andrew's Lodge, of which he was a Past Master. He was P.Z. of the Royal Arch of Queenstown, and held the highest offices Queenstown could bestow on him. He also belonged to the Society of Oddfellows. In the same journal's issue of Monday, 24th October, a report of the funeral on the previous day appears. "The funeral was of a most impressive character. Representatives of St. Andrew's Lodge, Star in the East Lodge and the Independent Order of Oddfellows, all in regalia, took position in front of the procession. The service at the graveside was performed by the Rev. E. F. Amyas Hext, the rector." At the conclusion of the regular service the Masonic burial service was read, and the hymn "Abide with me" sung, and this was followed by a short service by the Oddfellows.

(Long report)

FIRE AT SWAVESEY.

THATCHED STOREHOUSE IN FLAMES.

ROASTED APPLES AND POTATOES. 18th Nov. 1910

The annual tea and meeting at the Friends' Meeting House of the Swavesey Men's and Women's Liberal Association on Monday night was brought to an abrupt conclusion long before the appointed time by the alarming intelligence that a fire had broken out in the village. At first the chairman, Mr. Ebenezer Parish, thought a hoax was being perpetrated, and begged the audience to keep their seats, but another messenger broke into the room with the news that the fire was on Mr. Parish's own premises in Middle Watch. The audience hurried away and soon found that the news was only too true.

About 8.15 p.m. Mr. Edward Clark, wheelwright, Middle Watch, observed smoke issuing from an old two-storeyed thatched stud and plaster building, with brick gable ends, used by Mr. Parish mainly as a store house. He hurried to the scene and was joined immediately by Mr. P. Walker, an assistant at Mr. Aldred's grocery and drapery establishment, just opposite, who had also noticed that something was wrong. On the southern side of the burning building was Mr. Parish's residence, "Ashlea," a new building, and glasshouses, used by his son, Mr. Reuben Parish, F.R.H.S. On the northern and eastern sides were other barns and buildings belonging to another farm.

Here was material for a very serious conflagration, but, fortunately, the night was still.

A lower room was full of smoke and flames. Mr. Clark set to work to remove milk cans and other contents, while Mr. Walker hastened to raise an alarm. Ashlea was tenantless, everyone having gone to the meeting. Police-constable Plowman, patrolling the village, was met by Mr. Walker some two or three hundred yards away, and he hastened up. He found the interior of the eastern half of the building on fire from floor to ridge pole, and the flames just struggling through the thatch. Villagers ran up from all sides and willing helpers were innumerable. Neighbours brought buckets, and water was thrown on, but with little or no effect. Fortunately, a pond full of water was close handy. Cattle, stock and poultry were removed to places of safety.

At 8.45 the parish fire engine, under the command of Mr. Stephen Challis, captain, arrived and with great promptitude got into action. Notwithstanding its great age – it is nearly 100 years old – it threw water with telling effect, but as fast as flames were subdued in one place they broke out in another. The thatch was smouldering from the inside. Seeing that water was of little avail, more drastic measures had to be resorted to. Fire hooks hauled down the thatch, and men, regardless of danger, climbed up ladders, and scaled the roof, and with forks and hands tore off the heated reed and straw. Everyone worked with a will. As midnight approached, the fire was well in hand, and at 1 a.m. was completely got under. The engine and ten men, however, remained in attendance all night in case of a fresh outbreak.

The origin of the fire cannot at present be explained. It started undoubtedly in the interior, but it is stated that there had been no fire alight in the building for some months, and that no one had had any occasion to use light there during Monday evening. In the upper rooms were stored between 20 and 30 bushels of apples, also potatoes, onions, etc., two bicycles and various other things. The apples, some more or less roasted, were found very acceptable about midnight by the weary and thirsty workers. A glasshouse adjoining was slightly damaged by fire and water. In addition to P.C. Plowman, Sergt. Day (Longstanton) and P.C. Richardson (Boxworth) were on duty. There was one slight accident. Mr. Ernest Prior, when pumping the engine, had the misfortune to smash a finger. The premises were insured with the Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

INSURE in the Northern Assurance Company, established 1836. Accumulated Funds £6,782,000. Head Office: 1, Moorgate-street, E.C. Local Agent: H. WILLIAMSON BROWN, Insurance Agent, 15, Lyndewode-road, Cambridge.

CRICKET CLUB. 2nd Dec. 1910

A meeting of the members of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School on Thursday in last week, Mr. T. Harris, captain, presiding. The annual accounts, which showed a small balance in hand, were submitted and passed.

FLAG ON CHURCH TOWER. 2nd Dec. 1910

The new St. George's flag, recently presented by some of the members of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, was hoisted for the first time on Wednesday, St. Andrew's Day, on the tower of the parish church. The flagstaff has been repainted and refixed at the expense of the same body of subscribers.

CONCERT. 2nd Dec. 1910

A very successful smoking concert was held by the Conservative Club, Swavesey, in the large club room of the White Horse Inn, on Tuesday evening. There was a good company, and Dr. Ellis was in the chair. In the course of a very pleasant evening a number of songs were given by members of the club, all of which were highly appreciated. Dr. Ellis gave an address on current political questions, and his arguments were listened to with deep attention. A gramophone was kindly lent by Mr. Slater, and the selections upon it were a most enjoyable feature of the evening. A vote of thanks was accorded to Dr. Ellis for his address, and the proceedings terminated with the singing of "God Save the King" and cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Newton.

FALL OF A CEILING. 9th Dec. 1910

After the crowded audience had left the National School at the conclusion of Mr. Douglas Newton's meeting on Monday night, a portion of the ceiling fell. There were several persons in the room at the time, but fortunately none was injured. Had the mishap occurred during the meeting, the consequences might have been serious, as the room was packed.

INCIDENTS OF THE FLOODS. 9th Dec. 1910

All the low-lying land around Swavesey is under water. On Saturday last the occupants of Freesland Farm had to move into the village, and on Sunday and Monday the tenants of cottages at Turn Bridge had to find other quarters. At the Swan Pond the roadway is completely submerged, and foot passengers have to use the raised causeway, the gate openings in which are spanned by temporary bridges. Water is across the high road from the Station to Over, near Mere Fen. On Tuesday a motor-car belonging to Mr. C. Kidd got stranded in this water, and had to be dragged out by Mr. Mailer's horses, which happened to be in the Station yard. The railway line between Swavesey and St. Ives has been carefully watched by gangs of men armed with flags. – On Wednesday morning, Mr. J. Barnett, dealer, of Fenstanton, when crossing the water by the Swan Pond with a horse and cart, came to grief. One wheel sank deeply into the recently filled-in trench of the new drain, and remained embedded for some time, until Mr. Godfrey, with a horse and cart, and a number of men came to the rescue. Previously a cow had sunk in the soft soil near the same place, and was with great difficulty dragged out.

BRIDGE BROKEN. 16th Dec. 1910

Owing probably to heavy traffic the crown of Turn Bridge at the southern end of High-street fell in on Wednesday.

FLOODS. 16th Dec. 1910

The heavy rains have caused the flood waters, which were subsiding, to rise again, and disturbed householders who were hoping to be able to return to their own residences to have to remain in their temporary quarters.

FOOTBALL. 23rd Dec. 1910

Owing to the late arrival of visitors play in the football match between Swavesey United and Girton on Saturday had to be abandoned in consequence of failing light during the second half. The score then stood: Girton 1, Swavesey nil. The match will be replayed.

THE FLOODS. 23rd Dec. 1910

Writing on Thursday morning our Swavesey correspondent reports that the floods are subsiding very slowly, and that hundreds of acres are likely to remain under water for some time. The high road by the Swan pond is clear, but the other side is blocked. It has not been possible to repair the Turn Bridge in High-street, the crown of which fell in, and the place has had to be watched night and day.

SHARE-OUT CLUBS. 23rd Dec. 1910

The annual dinner of the White Horse Share-out Club took place on Thursday last week. Dr. Ellis presided over a large attendance of members. An excellent spread was provided by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. A. Slater, and was much appreciated. After the tables had been cleared the rest of the evening was spent in social enjoyment. Songs were contributed by Miss Wilkinson, Messrs. H. Sanderson and L. Williams, and Mr. Slater gave numerous gramophone selections. The meeting for sharing out was held on Wednesday, each member's share amounting to £1 5s. 5d. – The George and Dragon Share-out Club at the Little Rose Inn distributed its funds on Wednesday night, and each member received 24s 6d. The annual dinner was held last night (Thursday).

A NEGLECTED CAUSEWAY. 23rd Dec. 1910

A correspondent writes asking when the authorities are going to leave off talking and set to work to repair the raised causeway by the Swan Pond. Twice recently, he says, the flood waters have been lapping this causeway, and stones already loosened are fast falling out. That the causeway is of paramount importance the recent floods have shown for without it no pedestrian could have gone to church or to the railway station. Not long ago the cost of repairs would have been trifling, but now he fears a heavy bill will be incurred. The writer also calls attention to the absence of lights at the temporary bridges. Until the last year or so a watchman was on duty at night, and lanterns were hung on each bridge, the County Council being responsible for the cost. This year there have been no lights and no watchman, and there have been several narrow escapes from falling into the water.

CRICKET CLUB. 30th Dec. 1910

Mr. A. T. Scard has received the bat presented by the Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., for the best batting average during last season. His average was 16, Mr. S. J. Froment running him close with an average of 15.85.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 30th Dec. 1910

The members of the George and Dragon Share-out Club held their annual supper at the Little Rose on Thursday evening, 22nd instant. There was a good attendance, and full justice was done to the excellent and ample repast provided by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke. After the tables had been cleared the rest of the evening was spent in social enjoyment. Songs innumerable were sung, and at "closing time" everyone went home thoroughly satisfied. The first meeting of the 1911 club will be held on Friday, January 6th.

CHRISTMAS TREE. 30th Dec. 1910

On Tuesday afternoon the children attending the Parish Church Sunday School were given a tea in the National School. About 70 youngsters sat down, their wants being attended to by the Vicar, his daughters, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Levell, the Misses Beaumont, A. Caine, F. Daisley, Dodson, L. and P.

Mitham, Messrs. H. Beaumont, J. Gilby, and G.H. Skeeles. After tea games were played, and then came the great event of the evening, the Christmas tree, splendidly decorated, brilliantly lighted, and heavily laden with gifts, one of which was handed to every child by Mr. Gilby, attired in the traditional flowing robes and snowy hair of Father Christmas. He also presented an orange and a bag of sweets to each child. The school was effectively decorated with flags and evergreens.

MR. BEAUMONT'S RETIREMENT. 30th Dec. 1910

After an unbroken service of 42 years as headmaster of Swavesey National School Mr. Henry Beaumont has retired on a well-earned pension, and on Thursday afternoon, 22nd instant, bade farewell to the scholars. The Vicar, who was present, spoke to the children in feeling and eulogistic terms of Mr. Beaumont's long and honourable career, his high character, and of the good example had had in so many ways set the village. On behalf of the present scholars, he asked Mr. Beaumont's acceptance of a brass inkstand and a bi-lateral letter balance as a remembrance. Mr. Beaumont suitably acknowledged the gift, and presented each child with a card and an orange. Amidst cheers and singing the school then broke up for the Christmas holiday, and will re-assemble under the new headmaster, Mr. Charles Wood, on Tuesday, 3rd January.

CHRISTMAS DAY. 30th Dec. 1910

Early on Christmas morning the new flag floated bravely from the church tower, the bells rang merrily, and the sacred building was bright with its festal decorations of flowers, holly and evergreens. Holy Communion was celebrated at 6, 7.30 and 11.15 a.m., the last service being rendered to Merbecke's music. Matins was at 10.30 a.m. and Evensong at 6.30 p.m. This service was particularly bright and hearty. The collection was in aid of the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society.

SEASONAL GIFTS. 6th Jan. 1911

Captain J. D. Daintree, R. N., kindly presented £5 for distribution during the Christmas season amongst widows and needy persons on his Swavesey estate.

NEW SCHOOLMASTER. 6th Jan. 1911

On Tuesday morning the National School was reopened after the Christmas holidays, and the new headmaster, Mr. Charles Wood, was introduced by the Vicar. All the managers were present, as also was Mr. H. Beaumont, the late headmaster. The Vicar addressed the children, after which they gave three cheers for the new master. Prayers followed, and the hymn, "Once in Royal David's City," was sung, and then the youngsters settled down to work.

WHIST DRIVE. 6th Jan. 1911

A whist drive in aid of the Swavesey Football Club was held in the National School on Thursday evening in last week. Sixty-eight players attended. Prizes were awarded as follows: - Ladies: First prize (china clock), Miss G. Dodson; second (butter dish), Miss E. Dodson; booby prize, Miss L. Beaumont. Gentlemen: First prize (letter rack), Mr. J. Burtenshaw; second (honey jar), Mr. R. Williamson; booby, Mr. F. Johnson.

RECENT MAIL CART ACCIDENT. 6th Jan. 1911

A correspondent writes: Your short notice of the accident which occurred at 3 o'clock on a recent Sunday morning to the Cambridge to St. Ives mail cart near the New Inn, on the Huntingdon-road, does not do justice to one man who is entitled to considerable credit. The horse dropped down about a quarter of a mile on the Fenstanton side of the inn, and when the driver found he was in need of assistance, he proceeded to call up the innkeeper, Mr. Poulter, who went at once to see the horse. Feeling assured that the animal was dying, he advised the driver to go to Fenstanton for another horse. The mail cart could not, however, be left on the high road, so Mr. Poulter and the driver pushed it back to the New Inn, where it was locked up in the coach-house. Mounted on a bicycle lent by Mr. Poulter, the driver rode to Fenstanton and borrowed a horse of Mr. Walter Burgess, who returned with the driver to the New Inn. The mails were then taken on to St. Ives.

A SWAVESEY CHARITY FOUNDED. 13th Jan. 1911

Probate of the will, dated November 1906, of Mr. Thomas Payne, of Beresford Villa, Swavesey, boot dealer, etc., and for some years a member of the Board of Guardians, who died on October 24th, has been granted to Mr. William Henry Clayton, of Huntingdon, saddler, and Mr. William Henry Key, of Swavesey, retired baker, the executors, who have sworn the value of the estate at £4,441 15s. 11d.

He gives to his housekeeper, Caroline Covell, £10 and 5s. per week for life if in his service; £10 to his servant Eliza Seekings; £1 per week to his sister, Martha Payne, and a legacy of £10. During the life of his sister the trustees are to continue to give on the anniversary of his birthday, the 29th January, half a pound of tea and one pound of sugar to each of the poor widows of Swavesey, the cost of which is not to exceed £3 per annum; and on the death of his sister a field at Swavesey, now in the occupation of Herbert Williams, he leaves in trust for the endowment of Payne's Charity to continue the above-mentioned gift, the annual cost not to exceed £5, any surplus from which is to be used for Church purposes. A brass tablet is to be placed on the wall of the church near to the seats he used to occupy, in memory of his wife and himself. On the death of his sister he leaves £100 to his niece, Harriett Beresford, £100 to his nephew George Beresford, £100 to his nephew Frank Beresford, and £100 to daughters of nephew Henry James Beresford. A house in Ermine-street, Huntingdon, he leaves on trust for Mary Robinson. The residue is left to Wm. Henry Clayton and Thomas Clayton or their issue.

PAROCHIAL TEA. 13th Jan. 1911

The annual parochial tea was held at the National School on Thursday, 5th inst., and was well attended. During the evening an interesting lecture on mission work in Japan, illustrated by lantern views, was given. The Vicar presided.

THE FIRE ENGINE. 13th Jan. 1911

A correspondent who subscribes himself "Poor Old Joe," writes as follows: At the recent fire in the village on the premises of the Chairman of the Parish Council, one of the men working on the engine had the misfortune to have a finger crushed, and in consequence he had to call in a doctor and stay away from work for a fortnight. As compensation he has received the sum of 15s., the amount of the doctor's bill, but nothing whatsoever for loss of pay during incapacity. Is this justice or fair play; is the treatment this young man has received likely to encourage other men to help to put out fires in the village? Are the parish councillors who have charge of the engine prepared to work it themselves at future fires? If not, would it not be wise if they took steps to have the young man adequately compensated?

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE PARISH CHURCH. 13th Jan. 1911

For some long time past the old vestry on the northern side of the chancel of the parish church has been found to be inadequate and inconvenient, but no improvement could be effected owing to want of funds. Now through the generosity of Mrs. Long, of the Priory, a new and commodious choir vestry has been formed at the western end of the north aisle. Solid oak screens which harmonise well with the other screens in the church have been erected in the archways leading respectively to the aisle and the belfry. The top panels of the screens are filled in with oak V jointed braced boarding with oak tracery at top of each panel, and the bottom panels with V jointed upright boarding. The screens are surmounted by a moulded cornice. The entrance, from the aisle, is fitted with three-inch folding doors, filled in with V jointed braced boarding with oak tracery under the top moulding. The belfry screen has an oak seat on each side, viz., in the vestry and in the belfry. The walls have been lined with upright match boarding stained and fitted with brass surplice hooks. The work, which has been done entirely in Swavesey, and reflects great credit on all concerned, has been carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, carpenter and builder, of Swavesey, assisted by his son, Mr. E. J. Mitham, and Mr. Downs Robinson, jun. On Sunday last before evensong the new vestry was dedicated in the presence of a large congregation by the Archdeacon of Ely, who subsequently preached. Other improvements have recently been effected in connection with the church through the kindness and liberality of Mrs. Long. The dangerous open iron ladder leading to the tower has been cased in with wood, and a new building erected in the north-western side of the churchyard to accommodate the bier and other funeral accessories removed from the space now occupied by the new vestry.

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES DODSON. 13th Jan. 1911

Many of our readers will learn with regret of the death at the age of 72 years of Mr. Charles Dodson, which occurred on Friday last after a few days' illness. Mr. Dodson, who belonged to an old Swavesey family, was well known not only in the immediate neighbourhood of his native village, but for many miles round. By trade he was a bricklayer, having been apprenticed to the late Mr. James Dean, of Swavesey. For 35 years of his long life he was employed by Mr. John Saint of St. Ives. Amongst other work in the district he was employed in building the railway stations at St. Ives and Six-Mile-Bottom. As a workman he was a stickler for punctuality and thoroughness. He was noted for always arriving at his work well before time, and whenever practicable, no matter how bad the weather or how long the distance, walked to the scene of his labour. Though a big, heavy man he swung along the roads or across the fields at a surprisingly rapid pace. Never happy unless employed, he stuck to his work until the week before Christmas, when he was induced to retire and take his well-earned old age pension, the last payment of which he received on the day of his death. He was a keen skater, and some 40 years ago was champion from Mepal Bridge to Huntingdon Bridge for a period of thirteen years. Once he raced "Turkey" Smart on Mere Fen, but came in second. Mr. Dodson leaves a widow, three sons and four daughters to mourn their loss. The funeral took place in Swavesey churchyard on Monday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were: Mrs. C Dodson (widow), Mr. G. Dodson (son), Mrs. W. Brown (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. John Dodson and Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Dodson (sons and daughters-in-law) and Mr.

and Mrs. P. Ding, Mr. and Mrs. D. Prime and Mr. and Mrs. S. Gray (sons-in-law and daughters). The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

GIFTS OF COAL. 20th Jan. 1911

During the past Christmas and New Year season, Mrs. Long, of the Priory, has presented coal to 114 persons in Swavesey. The welcome gifts have been greatly appreciated.

CURIOUS FIND. 20th Jan. 1911

Two pedestrians walking along the river bank last Saturday morning saw floating in the water an object that appeared to be an open book. It being near the edge, they fished it out, and found an octavo-sized Bible open at I. Chronicles xii. The covers had gone, and the leaves were frozen together, so it was impossible to ascertain to whom the book had belonged.

A STRANGER'S TROUBLES. 20th Jan. 1911

One moonless night recently a stranger calling at the back entrance of a cottage adjoining Turn Bridge, walked in the darkness into the large drain which runs alongside the yard. Fortunately, the water was not deep, the floods having subsided, and only the stranger's lower extremities got wet, but in attempting to climb the bank he clutched at a rotten branch of an overhanging tree. The branch gave way and the unlucky man fell back full length into the drain. If there was not much water there was plenty of mud. The noise aroused the cottagers, who ran out with lights, and the stranger was rescued, his clothing saturated with water and covered with mud.

THE FIRE ENGINE. 20th Jan. 1911

We have received the following letter:- "I read with great interest 'Poor Old Joe's' letter last week about our parish fire-engine and the recent fire on the premises of the Chairman of the Parish Council. I am a bit of a rambler, and mix up with all sorts and conditions of men, and I can assure you, sir, that our Parish Council would open their eyes if they heard half what is said about their ways of managing parish affairs. It is a common question to hear asked, 'When are we going to be paid for our work at the fire?' Until lately I thought things had been squared up, but I am told now that the insurance company decline to pay the workers, and neither the Parish Council nor their Chairman appear to be doing anything. Men are declaring that until they know they will be paid, the engine may be brought out at future fires, but they will not work it. Even the men who remained on the scene of the fire all night have received no money, nor any allowance for refreshment. – Pro Bono Publico. Swavesey, 16th January, 1911”

HEDGE CUTTING EXTRAORDINARY. 27th Jan. 1911

Although the floods have to a great extent subsided, there is still water on the Fen lands. Last week, in Cow Fen, a man was seen precariously balancing himself on the top of a hedge that he was cutting. He explained that as he did not wish to wade through water, this was the only way in which he could do his work.

THE RECENT FIRE. 27th Jan. 1911

We have received the following letter: - “In reference to the payment of the men who so willingly helped to extinguish the recent fire on the premises of the Chairman of the Parish Council, why ‘Pro Bono Publico’ (whose letter appeared in yours of last week) should blame the Parish Council for the failure of the insurance companies concerned to meet the extinguishing expenses at an earlier date, I fail to see. I find upon inquiry that the whole of the extinguishing claim has been paid by the said companies, and the men will doubtless be remunerated as soon as possible. The Council have evidently acted upon lines similar to those taken by the Council existing at the time of the last previous fire. I believe that the insurance company on that occasion met the extinguishing expenses earlier. I am thankful to say I am not a Parish Councillor, and I welcome fair criticism of their doings, but at the same time I am one who likes to see, and who signs himself, - Fair Play.”

DEATH. 3rd Feb. 1911

Mr. George Robinson, of Church End, Swavesey, died in Addenbrooke’s Hospital on Monday, January 23rd, and was buried in Swavesey churchyard on Friday last. For many years he was a fly proprietor in Brighton.

THE QUEEN’S MARYS. 3rd Feb. 1911

Miss Mary Warboys of Boxworth End, Swavesey, is anxious to participate in the proposed gift to Queen Mary from the Marys of the country, but she does not know where to send her tiny contribution. She says she is too young and too small to talk to the Marys of Swavesey about the present. Perhaps some other Mary will help little Miss Warboys and undertake what she by reason of her tender age cannot do.

PAYNE’S CHARITY. 3rd Feb. 1911

The late Mr. Thomas Payne, of Swavesey, who died in October last, had been in the habit once during the winter for many years of presenting tea and sugar to poor widows and widowers in the parish, and in his will he directed that these gifts, with the addition of one hundredweight of coal to each recipient, should be continued. He left land for the purpose of providing the necessary income. The distribution, he directed, should be made on the anniversary of his birthday, January 29th. The first distribution under the bequest which is to be known as Payne's Charity, was on Saturday last, as the 29th January fell on a Sunday this year.

THE RECENT FIRE. 3rd Feb. 1911

A Ratepayer writes: The letter signed "Fair Play" in last week's issue really needs no reply, for your ingenuous correspondent answers himself. He begins by saying he fails to see why "Pro Bono Publico" should blame the Parish Council for the delay in paying the men who worked at the recent fire and throws the responsibility on the insurance companies, and he ends by admitting that at the time of writing the insurance companies concerned had paid over the money needed to met expenses, and that on the occasion of a previous fire a more expeditious settlement was effected, thus implying a certain amount of delay in this instance. He omits any reference to one important point, namely, the failure to compensate the young man who was injured for loss of wages during the time he was unable to work. Let me remind "Fair Play" that the fire took place on Monday, 14th November, and that the 79 workers – why such a huge crowd? – did not receive remuneration until last Friday, nearly eleven weeks later. Had a fire occurred during the latter part of this interval it is more than probable some difficulty would have been experienced in getting workers. It surely behoves the Parish Council if they have the interest of the parish at heart to make some arrangement whereby workers at future fires are paid more speedily, and that any who sustain injury to their bodies should not also suffer in their pockets.

PARISH COUNCIL. 3rd Feb. 1911

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Friday last, Messrs. E. Parish (chairman), W. Twist, W. Burton, W. Daisley, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish and Robinson Mitham (clerk) being present. The chief business was to authorise the payment of men engaged in the recent fire on Mr. E. Parish's premises. The sum of £11 had been obtained for the purpose from the insurance offices concerned, the Liverpool, London and Globe, and the Royal Exchange, and the Council agreed to payment as follows: 12 men at 4s. each, 11 youths at 2s.

each, 56 men at 2s. 6d. each, and 10s, for the engine. The detailed arrangements appeared to have been made before the Council meeting by a small sub-committee. During the proceedings the question was raised of compensation to the young man whose finger was crushed by the fire engine. He had been unable to work for a fortnight, and had only been paid the amount of his doctor's bill- 15s. Mr. Daisley expressed the opinion that the man ought to be satisfied, as he had been well treated and had received a nice little present, viz., the 15s. Nothing, however, was done in the matter. Mr. Daisley subsequently made an explanatory statement concerning the re-assessment of the parish, which did not give satisfaction to all the Councillors, one of whom complained that his new assessment amounted to about double his rent. A reply was read from the County Council to the effect that no payment for killing sparrows could legally be made out of the rates.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS. 10th Feb. 1911

A motor caution post surmounted by a triangle has been erected this week in the yard of the National School at the corner of Carter's-lane.

DEATH. 10th Feb. 1911

After having been an invalid for many years Miss Emma Crouch, daughter of Mr. William Crouch, Boxworth End, died on Thursday, 2nd inst. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. W. H. Stevens, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiating.

A DANGEROUS CORNER. 10th Feb. 1911

A correspondent writes: The high hedge at the corner of Swavesey and Huntingdon roads, opposite the New Inn, has not yet been cut down to the proper height. With so many motor cars and motor cycles about it is a source of serious danger. Attention was called to the hedge in the "Weekly News" some time ago.

SKATING. 10th Feb. 1911

There was some skating on Mere Fen on Thursday in last week. In the centre the ice was fairly good and safe, but at the sides it was weak. As, however, the water, except where weather ditches intersected the fen, was shallow, there was no danger, but many persons got their feet and legs wet. One prominent Swavesey man came to grief in a ditch, and had to go home thoroughly soaked. Three visitors, it is believed from Cambridge, afforded some amusement. Declining the services of the men with chairs, they sat down on the bank after carefully spreading out their handkerchiefs to protect their clothing. They put on their skates and then asked the chairmen the safest way on to the ice. "This way gentlemen," was the prompt reply, and the leading visitor went boldly forward, and the thin ice giving way he dropped into about two feet of water. He endeavoured to return to the bank, but was urged to go forward with the assurance that the ice behind him covered a deep ditch. The chairmen and their friends laughed heartily and the visitors beat a hasty retreat.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN THORP. 10th Feb. 1911

We regret to announce the death on Friday last of Mrs. Lydia Layton Thorp, widow of the late Mr John Thorp, farmer, of Swavesey. Mrs. Thorp, who was the daughter of the late Mr. Edward Tebbit, of Conington and Papworth St. Agnes, had been a widow for 27 years. She was 69 years of age. For some time she had been in indifferent health. Her life of late years had been saddened by the loss of two of her sons. The oldest died in tragic circumstances some years ago, and the youngest, Alfred, died after a brief illness in the autumn in Cape Colony. The surviving son, Mr. Ben Thorp, was once well known as a racing cyclist and skater. The funeral was in Swavesey churchyard on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. A. C. Vidler (vicar) taking the service. The chief mourners were: Mr. Ben Thorp (son), Miss Alice Thorp (eldest daughter), Misses Ellena and Rebecca Thorp and Mrs. C. Gould (daughters), Mrs. Ben Thorp (daughter-in-law), Mr. C. Gould (son-in-law), and Miss Clara Thorp (niece).

DEATH OF MR. W. CAIN, JUN. 10th Feb. 1911

In his sermon last Sunday morning the Vicar spoke touching words respecting one who had been a regular member of the congregation, the keynote of whose life had been faithful service, and who had done much useful work in connection with the church so far as his health would permit. He referred to William Cain, who had passed away two days previously. For nine or ten years Mr. Cain had been gardener at the vicarage, only relinquishing his work when his strength failed him. He was 40 years of age, and the younger son of Mr. William Cain, sen., a pensioned member of the Cambridgeshire Constabulary. The funeral took place at the parish church on Wednesday afternoon. The chief mourners were: Mr. W. Cain (father), Miss E. Cain (sister), Mr. and Mrs. H. Cain (brother and sister-in-law), and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bass (brother-in-law and sister). Mrs. Cain (mother) being an invalid, was unable to be present. The Vicar officiated. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

A RECORD. 17th Feb. 1911

Mr. Joseph Jillings, of Church End, has been a member of the Wheatsheaf Lodge of Shepherds for sixty-one years, having been enrolled in the year 1850. He is the oldest member of the Lodge, and is still hale and hearty, notwithstanding his 87 years.

LIBERAL TEA. 17th Feb. 1911

To celebrate the victory of the Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., at the General Election, the Swavesey Men's and Women's Associations joined forces on Monday night and had a tea at the Friends' Meeting House. About 130 persons were present. After tea a meeting was held under the presidency of Mr. Ingle, F. Thoday, of Willingham, and amongst the speakers were the Rev. A. C. Ashpool (Willingham Tabernacle), Messrs. Evison and Baldwick, (Fen Drayton), C. W. Hines (Over) and Allen (Fenstanton).

BETHEL SUNDAY SCHOOL. 17th Feb. 1911

On Thursday, 9th inst., the annual parents' tea and re-union of former scholars was held, upwards of 60 persons responding to the invitations sent out by the Superintendent, officers and teachers. Tea was served at six o'clock, the tables being prettily decorated for the occasion with flowers, kindly provided by Mrs. T. W. Carter. Trays were presided over by Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Arthur Norman, Miss B. Prior, and Miss P. Williams. After the tables had been cleared, the annual gathering was held, being presided over by the Rev. W. H. Stevens (pastor).

PARISH MEETING. 17th Feb. 1911

On Thursday, 9th inst., a well-attended parish meeting was held in the Infants' School under the presidency of Mr. E. Parish, Chairman of the Parish Council. The parish accounts for the half-year ended September last were submitted and discussed. – Mr. Daisley subsequently explained why he had called the attention of the auditor to certain unpaid rates which had resulted in the late overseers being surcharged 12s., an amount which was afterwards allowed to be written off, on appeal to the Local Government Board. Some discussion followed respecting certain unoccupied property, and Mr. A. Day attempted to raise the question of the new valuation of the parish, but the Chairman ruled him out of order as the subject was not mentioned in the notice calling the meeting. Other ratepayers supported Mr. Day, but the Chairman adhered to his decision. Finally it was agreed to hold a parish meeting on Thursday next, 23rd inst., to consider the questions of the new valuation and of the unoccupied land.

PARISH COUNCIL. 17th Feb. 1911

After the parish meeting a meeting of the Parish Council was held at which were present: Mr. E. Parish (chairman), Messrs. W. Twist, W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, J. S. Goad, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, and Robinson Mitham (clerk). The minutes of the last meeting having been confirmed, Mr Day brought up the question of the condition of the short piece of road between the raised causeway and the Swan pond, and the state of disrepair of the causeway, and he proposed that the Clerk be instructed to write to the County Council in the matter, and to five members of the County Council whom he named, making certain suggestions. He mentioned that the road at the place in question was not of the width required by the award, and he thought that his proposals, if carried out, would be of great advantage in time of flood. The resolution was carried unanimously. – Mr. Daisley proposed that the herbage of the Recreation Ground, hitherto let by tender for twelve months, should in future be let by public auction in the same way as the Drovers, etc., are let, viz., for about nine months, ending 31st December, instead of for the whole year. This was adopted. – Mr. Day called attention to the new valuation of the parish, and gave notice that at the next meeting of the Council he would propose a resolution that the valuation be objected to. – At the conclusion of the Council business a sort of informal parish meeting was held, the ratepayers present joining in an animated and at times heated discussion on the new valuation during which the Overseers, Messrs Daisley and Burton, were severely criticised. It was suggested that the Overseers had received no instructions to reassess the parish, and again and again it was asked why Swavesey was being re-assessed while other parishes were not. It transpired that the new assessment is about £1,400 more than the present assessment; this is held by many ratepayers to be excessive.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 24th Feb. 1911

During the winter months fortnightly meetings of the Swavesey District Conservative Association are being held at the Infants' School. The room is open from 7 to 10 p.m. on alternate Tuesdays and games are provided. At eight o'clock there is a break for serious business. A member introduces some subject of political interest, and a debate follows. Increasing interest is being taken in the meetings, and the attendances throughout has been most encouraging to the organisers. The next meeting will be on Tuesday next, when the subject for discussion will be "House Rule," introduced by Mr. E. J. Warboys. Every member of the Association has the privilege of introducing a friend to the discussions, but not to the games.

WELL-MERITED TESTIMONIAL. 24th Feb. 1911

Upon the retirement last Christmas of Mr. Henry Beaumont from the headmastership of Swavesey National School, a post he had held with credit to himself and to the advantage of the parish for no less than 42 years, it was felt that the occasion could not be allowed to pass without some tangible expression of the appreciation of his many friends, neighbours and old scholars, and it was decided to invite subscriptions with a view of presenting him, and also Mrs. Beaumont, who for many years was associated with her husband in work at the school, with a testimonial. Miss L. Pook, infants' mistress, undertook the arduous duties of organiser and collector, and a very gratifying result has attended her efforts. Numerous persons contributed, and with the money subscribed a writing table and a silver salver have been obtained and handed to Mr. and Mrs. Beaumont, with an illuminated and framed address, bearing the names of the contributors – who numbered 162. There has been no public presentation, but the gifts have been on view this week at Mr. Beaumont's residence.

MARRIAGE OF MR. H. G. KEY. 24th Feb. 1911

A wedding of great interest to Swavesey people took place on Tuesday at Swavesey parish church, when Mr. Henry George Key, only son of Mr. W. H. Key, churchwarden, was married, in the presence of a considerable congregation, to Miss Agnes Annie Williams, second daughter of Mr. John Williams, parish clerk of Swavesey, and coal merchant. The Rev. A. C. Vidler, Vicar, officiated. The bride was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss L. A. Gooch, and was given away by her father. Mr. W. F. Gleaves acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Key departed by the 4.35 p.m. train for Little Addington, Northants, where the honeymoon is being spent. During the afternoon the guests were entertained at the residence of the bride's parents in Market-street. The happy couple have received numerous wedding presents. Mr. Ben Thorp's motor-car was used to convey the bridal party to and from the church. An interesting incident may be mentioned. One of the ringers was Mr. Bert Hodson, who was himself married early in the day at Over.

ENTERTAINMENT. 24th Feb. 1911

On Tuesday evening the large room of the National School was packed with an appreciative and enthusiastic audience for an entertainment in aid of the Parish Church Choir and Sunday School Funds. The occasion was memorable as being the first appearance of the energetic new schoolmaster, Mr. Charles Wood, at a public function in Swavesey, and the success of the evening showed that the parish has not only gained an excellent instructor of the rising generation, but an admirable organiser of other village affairs.

(Long report)

THE LATE MR GEORGE LONG. 10th March 1911

In accordance with the terms of a bequest of the late Mr. George Long, J.P., the bells of the parish church were rung during the afternoon and evening of Thursday 2nd inst., the anniversary of his birthday.

DEATH OF MRS JETHRO GARNER. 10th March 1911

We regret to record the death, after a long illness, of Mrs Rosetta Garner, widow of the late Mr Jethro Garner, farmer, of Swavesey, which occurred at her residence in Swavesey on Tuesday, 7th inst. Mrs Garner, who was 74 years of age, was the daughter of the late Mr Phillips, of Haddenham, and was left a widow in June, 1905. She leaves three daughters for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral will take place tomorrow (Saturday) in Swavesey churchyard.

BOYS AT DRILL. 10th March 1911

After school hours on Thursday last week about eighteen boys amused themselves and the village by drilling and marching along the streets in military array. Two of the lads, Frank Hepher and Harry Prime, acted as drill sergeants, and if their instructions were not up to Aldershot standard, their intentions were excellent. A correspondent suggests that advantage should be taken of this outbreak of military ardour to form a company of Boy Scouts in the village. He thinks it would help to keep the boys out of mischief, and be otherwise to the advantage of the parish.

PARISH COUNCIL. 10th March 1911

A meeting of the Parish Council was called on Friday last to select a parish constable for the ensuing year, but owing to an informality no business was transacted.

SWAVESEY RE-ASSESSMENT.

LIVELY PARISH MEETING. 10th March 1911

The village of Swavesey is at the present time much perturbed over a re-valuation of the parish by the overseers. As far as can be gathered the following is the position of affairs: The Overseers, Messrs W. Daisley and W. Burton, have prepared a new valuation list in accordance, as they assert, with instructions from the Assessment Committee. The general body of ratepayers, on the other hand maintain that no re-valuation of the parish, except in a few instances, is necessary; that the parish as a whole is already assessed to its full value; that the Overseers have not received the alleged instructions from the Assessment Committee; and that their new valuation is excessive. It is further contended that neither of the Overseers possesses sufficient knowledge to be able to re-value the parish without the assistance of a committee. If the meetings of the 9th and 23rd February are any indication of the sentiments of the parish the Overseers have the whole body of ratepayers arranged against them.

(Long report)

After much discussion – Mr Cole thought it was time to close the discussion. As no one, he said in the parish, except the two Overseers seemed satisfied with the new valuation, and as the parish had been re-assessed not long ago, he moved a resolution that the valuation be objected to except as regards a few cases where property needed revaluation.

Mr. H. Wilderspin seconded, and the resolution was carried practically unanimously, no ratepayer holding up his hand against it.

It was further agreed that the resolution be presented to the Assessment Committee by Messrs S. W. Crisp, A. Norman and H. Wilderspin as a deputation from the parish meeting. A vote of thanks to the Chairman, proposed by Mr Scard, and seconded by Mr Cooksey, brought one of the most lively and unanimous parish meetings held in Swavesey to an end.

THE WEATHER. 17th March 1911

During the week snow has fallen on several occasions in Swavesey.

JACKDAWS. 17th March 1911

Two jackdaws entered a cottage in Market-street the other day, and startled the occupiers. Hearing a noise in the kitchen they went to see what was the matter, and to their surprise found the two birds sitting, facing each other, on separate clothes' lines stretched across the room.

NEW WATER SUPPLY. 17th March 1911

At a special meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Council, held on the 8th inst. at St. Ives Union, two tenders in connection with the new water supply for the parish of Swavesey were accepted, viz., No. 1 contract, the Stanton Iron Company, whose tender was £887 19s. 1d., and No. 2 contract, Messrs. Hopper, £519 8s. 4d. The work will be proceeded with immediately, and should be completed within three months. Tenders were received from 25 firms.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 17th March 1911

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association held on Tuesday evening a paper was read by the secretary on the Veto Bill. A discussion followed. A vote of sympathy with the vice-chairman (Mr William Thorp), who is suffering from the effects of an accident, was carried unanimously. On the 28th instant the subject for discussion will be "The increased expenditure on the Army and Navy."

THE LATE MRS. GARNER. 17th March 1911

The funeral of the late Mrs Jethro Garner, whose death at the age of 74 years, was announced last week, took place very quietly in Swavesey Churchyard last Saturday afternoon. The immediate mourners were: Miss F. M. Garner, Miss E. Garner (daughters), and Mr. and Mrs. C. Willson, of Hilton, Hunts. (son-in-law and daughter). The Vicar officiated. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, and Messrs Bryant and Bryant, St. Ives.

ACCIDENT. 17th March 1911

A kindly and neighbourly act on the part of Mr William T. Thorp, resulted in an unfortunate accident befalling him on Wednesday, 8th inst. He noticed that a load of hay belonging to his tenant, Mr Charles Crisp, of Whitehall, was not securely tied, so he proceeded to pull the ropes tighter. When dragging with his full weight, a rope broke, and Mr Thorp fell to the ground with his leg twisted beneath him. At first it was thought that his ankle was merely sprained, but as he continued in great pain he proceeded by motor car, the following evening, accompanied by his brother, Mr Walter Thorp, to Wisbech, to consult Mr Mason, who declared that the ankle was dislocated. Mr Mason reduced the dislocation, and Mr Thorp returned home. He is doing as well as can be expected though still in considerable pain.

PARISH COUNCIL. 17th March 1911

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Infants' School on the 9th instant, at which were present: Mr. E. Parish (chairman), Councillors W. Twist (vice-chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). There was a good attendance of ratepayers, who displayed a lively interest in the proceedings. After the minutes had been read, Mr Day asked that the Clerk should read a copy of the letter he had sent to the County Council and to certain of its members relative to the roadway near the Swan pond, in accordance with a resolution passed at the previous meeting. On the letter being read Mr. Day pointed out that it was not in agreement with the draft letter submitted by him and adopted by the Council in that it made no reference to the existing road not being the width required by the Award, nor to the suggested raising of the roadway running between the pond and the Causeway. On the proposal of Mr. Goad, seconded by Mr. Day, the Clerk was instructed to write again to the Council and the Councillors named, strictly in accordance with the draft letter. The following ratepayers were selected for submission to the magistrates as suitable to hold the office of Parish Constable: Messrs. C. Burling, Prime Godfrey, J. S. Goad, and Jethro Linford. Mr. Day then, in accordance with notice given at the previous meeting, raised a discussion on the proposed new valuation of the parish. He said he was in some difficulty as the list had undergone alteration since the recent parish meeting, and he asked what difference had been made in the total valuation. The Clerk replied that the new valuation list now showed an increase on the present assessment of £1,050, instead of about £1,226. A long discussion ensued on various points, in which all the Councillors joined. The Overseers, Messrs. Burton and Daisley offered explanations. After sitting for about two hours a resolution was proposed by Mr. Day, and seconded by Mr. Linford, that the revaluation of the parish should be postponed until after the deputation appointed by the recent parish meeting had interviewed the Assessment Committee, which was carried without opposition.

SWAVESEY WATER SUPPLY.

LIST OF ACCEPTED TENDERS. 17th March 1911

The following tenders have been accepted by the East Hunts. Water Company and the Swavesey Rural District Council respectively for the supply and laying of water mains in connection with the water supply of Swavesey.

The supply and delivery of about 42 tons of 4-inch cast iron pipes and irregulars: the Swavesey Coal and Iron Co., £5 14s. per ton.

The receiving, carting, laying, and jointing of about 1,700 yards of 4-inch cast iron pipes, fixing meters, and fittings: F. Hopper, Bedford, £122 16s. 8d.

The supply and delivery of about 153 tons of cast iron pipes and irregulars of 4 and 3-inch diameters: the Stanton Ironworks Co., £5 14s.2d. and £5 16s. 8d. per ton.

The receiving, carting, laying and jointing of about 7,805 yards of 4-inch and 3-inch cast iron pipe and fittings: F. Hopper, Bedford, £519 8s. 4d.

The first and second were the East Hunts. Water Company's tenders, and the other tenders were to the Swavesey Rural District Council.

A VETO QUESTION. 24th March 1911

A Swavesey ratepayer is anxious to know whether any parochial officials have the power to veto a resolution passed at a parish meeting, and, if so, whether the right of veto should be exercised in public at the meeting, or privately without notice to the proposer of the resolution.

FOUND AFTER MANY DAYS. 24th March 1911

Eight weeks ago Mr. Sydney Wright lost his watch when cutting a quick near Scotland Drove. Seven weeks later Mr. George E. Hephher, sheltering from a snowstorm under a hedge, saw a watch hanging from a twig low down on the other side. The watch was Mr. Wright's. It is going well, notwithstanding its exposure to wind and weather for so many weeks.

VOTING AT PARISH MEETINGS. 24th March 1911

A correspondent writes: An impression appears to exist in Swavesey that any ratepayer can vote at a parish meeting, even if he is under 21 years of age, or if his name is not on the register of voters. I do not think I am mistaken in saying that only those men and women whose names are on the register can legally vote at a parish meeting. Parish meetings are governed by the Local Government Act, 1894. By Section 44 of that Act a "Parochial elector" is defined to be any person on the Local Government Register, or on the Parliamentary Register of electors. A parish meeting should consist only of "parochial electors," that is, of persons on the Parliamentary or parochial register of voters. If my interpretation of the Act is correct it is to be feared that unqualified persons have been allowed to vote at Swavesey parish meetings. The point is an important one, and should, I submit, be dealt with by the chairman at the annual parish meeting to be held shortly. In order that there may be no question as to who is entitled to vote, it is essential that a copy of the current register should be in the possession of the chairman or the clerk. It would be interesting to know if either of these officials holds a copy of the present register. The lists of voters exhibited every summer on the church and chapel doors are useless, for they are subject to alteration by the Revising Barrister, and are moreover not the register of electors.

CRICKET CLUB. 24th March 1911

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club, held recently officers were elected for the ensuing season: President, Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P.; vice-presidents, Rev. A. C. Vidler, Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Messrs. R. E. Bartley, J. B. Ellis (St. Ives), R. E. Long, C. Wilkinson, and Dr. J. W. Ellis; captain, Mr.

T. Harris; vice-captain, Mr. S. J. Froment; hon. secretary, Mr. E. J. Mitham; assistant secretary, Mr. F. Beaumont; treasurer, Mr. A. J. Willson; committee, Messrs. T. Goad, R. Mitham, S. F. Mitham, A. T. Scard, and C. Wood. The club has joined the Milton and District Cricket League. The secretary has received a letter from Mr. Ezra Williams, of Sydney, New South Wales, a native of Swavesey, and at one time a prominent member of the cricket club, enclosing a donation of £1, and promising to present a "Victor Trumper" bat to the batsman and a ball of Australian make to the bowler with the best average for the whole of the coming season; also a cap, likewise of Australian manufacture, to every bowler who accomplishes the "hat trick." Mr. Williams expresses the hope that these gifts will be an incentive to members to work hard. He adds that if Swavesey comes up to his hopes and expectations this season, he will consider whether he will present a silver cup next year for competition in the district.

STATIONMASTER'S WEDDING. 24th March 1911

Mr. William Perry, who for 27 years has been stationmaster at Swavesey, was married quietly at St. Matthew's Church, Harlesden, near London, last Sunday morning, to Miss Louisa (Nina) Dalley, daughter of Mr. John Dalley, of Harlesden. The bride is well known in Swavesey, having lived for some years as nurse to the family of Mrs. Cox, Swavesey Manor. For the last four and a half years she has resided in Philadelphia, U.S.A. She returned home to be married, reaching Liverpool by the Campania on Wednesday, 22nd February, where she was met by her future husband. The Vicar of St. Matthew's officiated at the marriage ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. James Dalley, was tastefully attired in a dress of white crepe de chine, beautifully trimmed with hand embroidery. She wore a veil and wreath of orange blossom, and carried an ivory prayer book, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss M.A. Dalley (sister of the bride) and Miss Constance Perry (daughter of the bridegroom), who were dressed in pale blue, with hats to match. Mr. Thomas Hope (Harlesden) acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Perry have received a large number of valuable and useful presents, including several cheques. Many of the gifts came from America, where the bride had made numerous friends. The handsome wedding cake was made and presented by Mr. A. T. Scard, confectioner, High-street, Swavesey.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 31st March 1911

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, held on Tuesday evening, Mr W. C. Cole (president) initiated a debate on the increased expenditure on the Army and Navy. There was an excellent attendance.

DEATH OF MISS CURTIS. 31st March 1911

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 64 years, of Miss Emma Curtis, youngest daughter of the late Mr John Curtis, farmer and dealer, of Swavesey, which occurred at the residence of her elder sister, Mrs T. W. Carter, shortly after six o'clock on Wednesday evening. Miss Curtis was a prominent member and active worker at Bethel Baptist Chapel, and played the organ there until laid up about six weeks ago.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 31st March 1911

It is understood that the Rev. W. H. Stevens may possibly sever his connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel in the near future. He has been at Swavesey since the 7th March, 1901, his recognition service at which the sermon was preached by the Rev. Charles Joseph, then of St. Andrew's-street Baptist Chapel, Cambridge, being held on the 1st of the following month. Prior to going to Swavesey he had been for 13½ years pastor of Stratford Grove Baptist Church, London, E.

HEARTS OF OAK. 31st March 1911

The annual meeting of the Swavesey and District Hearts of Oak Medical Agency was held at the White Horse Inn on Thursday evening, 23rd inst., Mr. W. F. Gleaves (chairman) presiding. After a statement by the Secretary, Mr F. Williams, as to the past year's work, the election of officers and committee for the coming year was proceeded with. A meat tea preceded and a social evening followed the business meeting. Dr. R. Ellis spoke on behalf of his father, the medical attendant of the Agency. Votes of thanks to the entertainers, proposed by the Chairman, and seconded by Mr Wilkinson, and to the host and hostess, for the excellent repast they had provided, proposed by Mr Twist, brought a pleasant evening to a close.

THE SWAN WITH TWO NECKS. 31st March 1911

On Saturday last the licence of the ancient inn on the "stones," the Swan with two necks, was transferred from Mrs Jonas Thorp to Mr John Smith, a member of an old Boxworth family. Mrs Thorp's record is a notable one. With her husband, the late Mr Jonas Thorp, a well-known butcher of Swavesey and Cambridge market, she took possession on the 4th November 1873, and for 37 years held the licence without a single complaint. The previous tenant was Mr Jesse Warrington, who was licensee for about 21 years. Mrs Thorp was left a widow in June, 1895. The Swan is probably the oldest public-house, and indeed one of the oldest houses in the parish. It is well-known to fishermen and skaters, being the nearest inn to the river, Mere Fen and the railway station. For many years in days gone by it was the headquarters of the parish church bellringers – days when Swavesey was noted for its ringers – and many a lively night has been spent within its walls on the occasions of the yearly suppers. At feast times the spacious upper room was utilised for dancing. Upwards of a hundred years ago a Mr Samuel Thorp, an ancestor of Mr Jonas Thorp, was landlord, and amongst the few subsequent tenants may be mentioned, Mr Berry Dodson, and a Mr Newbolt, a somewhat original character, whose quaint sayings (“Newbolt’s Reckoning,” for example) are still remembered by old inhabitants. Mrs Thorp has retired from business owing to advancing years, and she takes with her the best wishes of her many old friends and customers.

FIRE ENGINE, 7th April 1911

That grand old parish relic, the fire engine, was taken out for practice last Saturday evening, and was found to be in good going order. The engine is nearly 100 years old.

A REMARKABLE EGG. 7th April 1911

When breaking a rather small hen’s egg on Sunday morning Mrs Walter Thorp found a smaller perfectly formed egg inside. There was no yolk in the outer shell but only white.

STRANGE NEST. 7th April 1911

While searching for eggs in a loft on Monday one of Mr Warboys’ men noticed a rat run out of an old kettle which appeared to be stuffed with rubbish. On examination he found that the rat had made a nest in the kettle with bits of binder string and straw.

THE CENSUS. 7th April 1911

The numbering of the people was duly carried out in the parishes comprised in the Swavesey Rural District Council area by Messrs. Robinson Mitham and A. J. Willson (Swavesey), E.J. Mitham (Conington and Fen Drayton), H.S. Aldred (Boxworth and Lolworth), D. Piggott and W. Kirby (Over).

A DANCE. 7th April 1911

Since Christmas a dancing class has been held on Thursday evenings in the National School. Mr. W. J. Wayman, of Over, has acted as instructor, and the management has been in the hands of Messrs. L. Williams, B. Wilderspin and F. Wilderspin, who formed a committee, with Mr. James Prior as secretary. On the 30th ulto the class wound up with a "long night." Upwards of 60 members of the class and their friends, who came not only from Swavesey, but from the neighbouring villages and St. Ives, were present, and dancing was kept up with great zest until after midnight. The room was effectively decorated by Mr. J. Prior, and excellent refreshments were provided by Mr. A. T. Scard, confectioner, Swavesey. Mr. Wayman officiated as M.C., assisted by the committee. It is understood that another dance is being arranged to take place during Easter week.

BRITISH RED CROSS SOCIETY. 7th April 1911

In connection with the First Aid classes held last spring, a course of home nursing lectures for women has just been delivered in Swavesey National School by Dr. Robert Ellis. The course was successfully arranged by Mrs. Long, Swavesey, and Mrs. R. Ellis Long, Lolworth, vice-president of the Swavesey district of the British Red Cross Society. The lectures were well attended by 42 members, including those from Boxworth, Fen Drayton, and Lolworth, of whom 29 presented themselves for examination on March 8th by Dr. Grove, St. Ives, physician of Huntingdon County Hospital. Twenty-four were successful. It is to be hoped that all those who are awarded certificates will join the Voluntary Aid Detachment, shortly to be formed, full information as to which will be given at a lecture to take place in Swavesey School on 8th May, when certificates will be presented to the successful candidates in the recent examination.

THE LATE MISS CURTIS. 7th April 1911

The funeral of the late Miss Emma Curtis, whose death at the age of 64 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Nonconformist Cemetery on Monday afternoon. After a brief service at the residence of Mrs. T. W. Carter, conducted by the Rev. W. H. Stevens, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, the funeral cortege proceeded to the cemetery. The service at the grave was taken by the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, of Oakham, assisted by the Rev. A. C. Ashpool of Willingham Tabernacle. The chief mourners were: Mrs. T. W. Carter (sister), Mr. J. S. Goad (cousin), Mrs. Goad, and Mrs. Diver (cousin). The coffin was of polished oak, with brass furniture. There were no flowers by special request. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

CORONATION GIFT. 14th April 1911

Mr George Clarke, High-street, and Mr Wood, National School, have been appointed local collectors for the Coronation gift to the King from the Georges of Swavesey.

THE LATE MR. H. CAWCUTT. 14th April 1911

Swavesey has lost a well-known personality by the death on Saturday last of Mr Henry Cawcutt. He had been in failing health for some time, and had of late not been much seen in the village. On the 1st inst. he was stricken down with apoplexy, and never regained consciousness. Mr. Cawcutt, who was 77 years of age, was a native of the neighbouring village of Boxworth, in which parish he had a farm for many years. For the last 32 years he lived in Swavesey. The funeral took place on Wednesday, in Swavesey churchyard.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 14th April 1911

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, held on Tuesday evening, the Rev. J.F. Cooksey presiding, Mr Walter Thorp read an interesting paper on "Female Suffrage." An animated discussion followed, in which Mr. Ephraim Stocker, who championed the cause of the ladies, somewhat severely criticised Mr Thorp. A vote of sympathy with Mr. Henry Beaumont, one of the vice-presidents, who is seriously ill, was carried unanimously. There was a good attendance of members.

DEATH. 14th April 1911

After a long illness, borne with great patience and resignation, Mrs Agnes Elizabeth Dunthorne passed away on the 1st inst., at the age of 34 years. She was the wife of Mr J. H. Dunthorne, of High-street, Swavesey, and eldest daughter of Mr Robert Walker of Wendling Norfolk. She leaves three young children, a boy and two girls. Mrs. Dunthorne had resided in Swavesey for only two years, but during that short time has made many friends and won general respect. As far as her health would allow she took a keen interest in work connected with the Primitive Methodist Chapel. The funeral took place on Thursday, 6th inst., the first part of the service being held in the Methodist Chapel, where the Rev. H. Lancaster of St. Ives, officiated, and delivered a short address. The burial was in the Cemetery. The following mourners attended: Mr. J. H. Dunthorne (widower), Miss Amy E. Dunthorne (elder daughter), Mr. Allen Walker, Mr. Alma Walker, Mr. Alfred Walker (brothers), Miss Ada Walker, Miss Alice Walker (sisters) and Mrs. Allen Walker (sister-in-law). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

SWAVESEY PARISH MEETING. 14th April 1911

The annual parish meeting was held in the National School, Swavesey, on Monday evening, Mr E. Parish presiding over a considerable attendance of ratepayers. The proceedings lasted upwards of three hours, and although not quite as heated as at the recent parish meeting it was at times not wanting in animation and plain speaking.

A great amount was said concerning the rates and how the Overseers dealt with it. (Long report in newspaper) Finally, peace having been restored the Overseers' accounts were passed.

In connection with the Parish Council accounts there was some discussion as to payments for work at the fire in the village during the autumn, and as to the liability of the parish for men employed at fires. The remuneration of the Fire Engine Captain was also referred to. The Recreation Ground and Charity Accounts were adopted without discussion.

The Chairman then asked the meeting to decide whether there should be any rejoicings in the village at the Coronation, and if so whether the cost should be borne by the rates or by public subscription. Mr. Warboys proposed that the event should be duly celebrated, and that the cost should be met by a public subscription. Mr. A Day seconded. Mr. H. Wilderspin thought it might be well to let the "new blood" on the Parish Council see what they could do in the matter. The resolution was carried unanimously. The Chairman announced that he would call a meeting on Thursday next to make preliminary arrangements and appoint a committee. The meeting would be open to all parishioners.

From the beginning of the meeting the lamps had not been shining with their wonted brilliancy. At this point one lamp went out while the other was slowly getting dimmer and dimmer. One gentleman taking notes had a friend on either side who obligingly struck matches and once set alight to his paper. At length the Assistant Overseer found another lamp, and business was proceeded with, but still in a dim religious light.

WATER SUPPLY. 21st April 1911

The work of laying the pipes for the new water supply for the village began on Tuesday. Mr. Hopper, of Bedford, is the contractor.

GONE TO AUSTRALIA. 21st April 1911

Mr. Leonard Williams, third son of Mr. John Williams, coal merchant, Swavesey, sailed from Liverpool on Thursday, 13th instant, by the steamship Paketra, for Sydney, New South Wales, where he will join his brother, Mr. Ezra Williams, in business.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 21st April 1911

Preceded by a public tea in the Schoolroom, at which about 70 persons were present, a service of song, entitled "He careth for you," was rendered in the Bethel Chapel on Good Friday by the choir, assisted by members of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel. The connective readings were given by the Rev. W. H. Stevens, and Mrs. H. S. Aldred presided at the organ. The chapel was well filled with an appreciative audience.

DANCE. 21st April 1911

On Easter Monday evening, a dance under the management of Messrs James Prior, B. Wilderspin and F. Wilderspin was given in the National School, and was attended by about 80 persons, including visitors from Earith, Girton, Lolworth, Willingham, Over and Fenstanton. Mr. W. J. Wayman, of Over, acted as M.C. Refreshments were provided by Mr A. T. Scard, and the decoration of the room was carried out by Mr J. Prior. Dancing was kept up until well after midnight.

FUNERAL OF MR. CAWCUTT. 21st April 1911

The funeral of the late Mr. Henry Cawcutt, whose death at the age of 77 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey churchyard on Wednesday, 12th inst. The Vicar officiated. The coffin was of polished elm, with heavy brass furniture. Mr. Walter Thorp, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

EASTER VESTRY. 21st April 1911

On Easter Monday evening the Easter Vestry meeting was held under the tower in the parish church. The Rev. A. C. Vidler (Vicar), who presided, once again nominated Mr. W. H. Key as Vicar's warden for the ensuing year. There was a contest for the people's wardenship. Mr. Walter Thorp being proposed by Mr. C. Froment and seconded by Mr John Hodson, in opposition to Mr. James Wells, who has been warden for some years past. Mr. Wells was proposed by Mr. C. Wood, and seconded by Mr. Netherwood. On a show of hands being taken Mr Thorp received seven votes and Mr. Wells six votes. Messrs. W. Cain, J. Dodson, J. Gilby, William T. Thorp, H. G. Key, and John Hodson were elected sidesmen, the last two being new appointments. Mr. Wells was also proposed as a sidesman by the Vicar, but declined to serve. The Vestry consented to an application being made for a faculty to erect a tablet in the church in memory of the late Mr. Thomas Payne and his wife. Mr. Payne, who died last year, by his will founded a charity to be known as "Payne's Charity," and directed that a tablet recording the fact should be placed in the church. Before the meeting concluded a vote of thanks to Mr Wells for his past services was carried.

PARISH CHURCH. 21st April 1911

The numerous services at the parish church on Good Friday were well attended. Early on Easter morning the bells rang merrily. There were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6, 7.30, and 11.15 a.m., the communicants numbering 142, of whom 68 were at the six o'clock service. The mid-day service was choral. Matins was at 10.30 a.m., and a festal service for children at the Mission church at 3 p.m. At Evensong at the parish church there was a large congregation. The Rev. A. Peskett, rector of Longstanton, St. Michael, said the service, while the Vicar of Swavesey read the lessons and preached.

DROVE LETTING. 21st April 1911

By direction of the Rural District Council the annual letting of the droves, etc., was held at the White Horse Inn on Thursday, 13th instant, Mr. C. W. Underwood, of Willingham, being the auctioneer. The droves were put up in 22 separate lots, and realised £27 5s., being an advance of 2s. 6d. on last year's total. A new feature in this annual event was the letting of the herbage of the Recreation Ground until the 25th December next, by order of the Parish Council. Although the room was crowded, there was evidently no keen desire to bid for this lot. The Chairman of the Parish Council had to come to the rescue with a bid of £4, the sum at which the herbage was let last year by private tender, and the hammer fell.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY. 28th April 1911

On Sunday last St. George's flag was flown from the church tower in honour of St. George's Day.

A MAN ON FIRE. 28th April 1911

When cycling to work along Bucking Way early on Monday morning a young man discovered that his clothing was on fire. So badly were his coat and trousers burned that he had to return home for fresh garments. It is supposed that the accident was caused through smouldering tobacco falling from his pipe and lodging in his coat.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 28th April 1911

At the fortnightly meeting of the Conservative Association on Tuesday evening, Mr. C. Wood introduced the subject of arbitration. An interesting discussion followed. The attendance was particularly good, and so great an interest is being taken in the meetings that a proposal to discontinue them until the autumn was negated by a large majority. The subject for discussion on the 9th prox. is "Socialism."

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE. 28th April 1911

On Monday some colts driven through the village by a young man riding a bicycle startled a girl wheeling a perambulator containing a baby. In her endeavours to get out of the way of the scampering animals the perambulator was upset and the infant thrown out, but fortunately not injured. A correspondent, in calling attention to the modern practice of cycling when driving stock, expresses the opinion that it is one that should be discouraged.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 28th April 1911

The Band of Hope in conjunction with the Mothers' Meeting held at the Friends' Meeting House, under the superintendence of Miss F. Gaunt, brought a successful season to a close on Monday evening with a tea, at which about sixty mothers and children were present. An entertainment consisting of songs, dialogues, recitations etc., given by the Band of Hope, followed. Mrs. Watts White occupied the chair, Miss Arliss presided at the organ, and Miss Moulton, St. Ives, gave a short address. The room was crowded for the entertainment.

PRESENTATION. 28th April 1911

At the conclusion of the Parish Council meeting on Monday evening, Mr. J. S. Goad was presented with the sum of ten shillings and sixpence, the proceeds of a penny subscription throughout the village to compensate him for expenses incurred in connection with an incident in which he was concerned at a recent parish meeting.

PRIMROSE LEAGUE. 28th April 1911

An entertainment was held in the Schools, Swavesey, in connection with the Primrose League, on Saturday, April 22nd. It was a representative gathering of the villages which comprise the Boxworth Ward. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Newton were present, and an excellent speech was made by Mr. Ouseley Rowley. Mrs. Newton also made a short and effective speech at the close of the entertainment. The rest of the programme consisted of songs by Mrs. Hodgson, Mr. Mott, and Mr. Levison, a charming dance by Miss Stanley and Miss Hodgson; also a dramatic performance "The Cantab." Between the speech and acting was an interval for refreshments, which were most ably presided over by Mrs. Cole. The proceeds, which amounted to over £8 will, after deducting expenses, be devoted to helping the Primrose League in the villages in the Boxworth Ward.

THE CORONATION. 28th April 1911

A largely-attended meeting of parishioners was held in the National School on Thursday evening, 20th inst., to decide in what way the Coronation should be celebrated in Swavesey. Mr. Ebenezer Parish, Chairman of the Parish Council, who called the meeting, proposed that the Vicar should preside, and the proposition was carried unanimously. The Vicar then took the chair. After a feeling reference to the character and death of King Edward, he proceeded to speak of the approaching Coronation, and for the guidance of the meeting read extracts from the records of the Coronation festivities in Swavesey in 1902. Mr. Alfred Day proposed, and Mr. E. Parish seconded, a resolution that this year's celebration should follow the lines of the previous celebration. Mr. Warboys suggested a permanent memorial, such as a drinking fountain, or an iron fence to the Recreation Ground. Dr. Ellis supported the resolution, which was carried. On the proposal of Dr. Ellis, seconded by Mr. Goad, the village was divided into six sections, and two collectors were appointed to each section. Mr. Walter Thorp again brought up the question of providing a drinking fountain, which he thought would be of great use to children attending school just opposite. It was agreed that the collectors, with the Chairman and the following gentlemen, should form the General Committee: Mr. C. Wood, Mr. E. Parish, Mr. W. C. Cole, Mr. R. E. Bartley, and Mr. A. Norman.

PARISH COUNCIL. 28th April 1911

The annual meeting of Swavesey Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Monday evening, and was attended by the following councillors: Messrs. W. Burton, W. Daisley, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, W. Twist, and the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. There were several ratepayers present, who took a keen interest in the proceedings.

CONSERVATISM AT SWAVESEY.

VIGOROUS SPEECHES.

CAN A SOCIALIST BE A CHRISTIAN? 5th May 1911

Over 200 – a record number – attended the annual tea and meeting of the Swavesey and District Conservative Associations, held in the schoolroom on Monday evening.

Several speeches were delivered, interspersed with some capital songs by Messrs. Morris, Moule, Papworth and Turner. Encores were numerous. Letters of apology regretting their absence were received from Mr. Wm. Thorpe (vice-chairman), Mr. J. B. Ellis and Mr. R. Cole.

Mr. Spark proposed "The Unionist Cause", giving a speech about it.
(Long report)

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO FARMER.

THUMB TORN OFF. 5th May 1911

Mr. Alfred Day, a greatly respected farmer of Swavesey, met with a serious accident yesterday (Thursday) morning. About 11 o'clock he, with two of his sons and a man, were breaking in a young horse in a farm cart on the main road through the village, and when near the chapel pond, in Middle Watch, the animal got restive and bolted. All hung on as long as possible, but at length all but Mr. Day let go. Mr. Day had the rein round his hand, and the sudden jerk pulled his thumb off. He fell between the horse and the cart wheel, and his face was badly cut, injured and his nose broken and covered with blood. Mr. Day struggled to his feet, and picked up his thumb, which he tried to fit on his hand. There were several men close handy, and he was taken to Dr. Ellis' house close by, but unfortunately the doctor was absent on his rounds. Mr. Day was helped home, and Dr. Ellis soon arrived, and Dr. Griffiths, of Cambridge summoned by telegraph, was quickly in attendance. Mr. Day is well known in the district, having been for some years past a member of the St. Ives Board of Guardians and the Swavesey Rural District Council. The news of his accident was received with universal regret, as Mr. Day has so often helped his fellow parishioners, especially the poorer ones, when in trouble or stricken with illness.

GOOD NEWS. 12th May 1911

We are pleased to be able to state that Mr. Alfred Day, who met with a serious accident last week, is progressing satisfactorily.

AN UNUSUAL VISITOR. 12th May 1911

The street door being open, a fat pig entered Swavesey Post-office on Monday evening, much to the astonishment of the Sub-postmaster and his wife. The animal was ejected before any mischief was done.

A CURIOUS NESTING PLACE. 12th May 1911

A mavis has built her nest on the upturned handle of an old door on the north side of the chancel of Swavesey Church, and has laid four eggs therein. The nest is about four feet from the ground, and is firmly fixed between the handle and the stonework. The door, which leads directly from the churchyard into the chancel, has not been used for many years.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 12th May 1911

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, on Tuesday evening, the Chairman, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, gave an interesting address on Socialism. A discussion followed, in which Messrs. E. J. Mitham, C. Wood, Walter Thorp, E. J. Warboys, J. Gilbey, the Hon. Sec., and others took part. Notwithstanding the lateness of the season, the attendance was good.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM CARTER. 12th May 1911

We regret to announce the death of Mr. William Carter, which occurred on Wednesday afternoon, at his residence in Swavesey. He was the elder son of the late Mr. Joseph Carter, of Trinity College Farm, Swavesey, and brother of the late Mr. Thomas W. Carter, who succeeded his father at the farm and died on Good Friday, 1909. Mr. W. Carter was born in March 1823, and was, it is understood, the oldest inhabitant of the parish. He never married. He was well known in his day as a farmer, was a fine horseman, and was the earliest proprietor of threshing machines, using a portable engine, in the district. For many years he held the offices of Overseer and Surveyor. The funeral will take place in Swavesey Churchyard on Saturday afternoon, at quarter-past three o'clock.

A SUGGESTION. 12th May 1911

A correspondent writes: "A chairman has not yet been found for the Swavesey Parish Council. This is a serious matter, especially in view of the Coronation now so close at hand. A suggestion has been made that the vacant post should be advertised in the local papers. To my mind the suggestion is a good one, and might with advantage be adopted. At the last Council meeting the idea of appointing a lady chairman was mooted but met with no support. Why not try a lady? Women, as we poor, weak men know, but don't like to admit except in our courting days, exercise a soothing influence over men. Thomas Otway, the poet, upwards of two hundred years ago, wrote:

'O woman! Lovely woman! Nature made thee

To temper man; we had been brutes without you.'

What was true then is true today. Our truculent and unruly councillors want soothing – and managing. Who could bring the discordant elements into harmony, curb the petulant tempers, and restrain the naughty language of the councillors better than a woman? Therefore let us have a lady chairman.”

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 12th May 1911

A well-attended meeting in furtherance of the objects of the British Red Cross Society was held in Swavesey National School on Monday evening. The Vicar of Swavesey, (the Rev. A. C. Vidler, R.D.) presided. The audience included representatives from surrounding villages. – The Chairman briefly introduced Col. Magill (Organising Secretary), who gave a most interesting and lucid address on the British Red Cross Society and the Voluntary Aid Movement. He explained clearly the parts men and women respectively would take who joined the Voluntary Aid detachments to be formed in the Swavesey District. He was warmly applauded on resuming his seat. Mr. Hoare, who followed, dealt mainly with questions which affected the district and answered questions. He also spoke of the need of financial support, and he paid a well-merited tribute of appreciation of the work of Mrs. Ellis Long, the District Vice-President. Certificates were presented by Mr. Hoare to the ladies who have been successful in the recent examinations in Nursing and First Aid respectively.

SWAVESEY NATIONAL SCHOOL. 12th May 1911

The children of the National School kept Empire Day in loyal fashion. The Vicar, who was accompanied by Miss H. Vidler and Messrs. W. H. Key and H. S. Aldred (managers), attended at 11 o'clock, and gave a short address on the reasons for observing the day, concluding with some good advice. Some of the oldest children then presented “A Geographical Pageant of the British Empire,” a platform having been erected at the southern end of the large room. The song “The Flag of England,” in the chorus of which the whole of the school joined, closed the pageant. Mr. Aldred and Mr. Key briefly congratulated the children on their excellent performance, and thanked Mr. Wood and his assistants for their successful work of preparation. Mr. Walter spoke on behalf of the parents, a few of whom were present. After singing the National Anthem and giving three lusty cheers for the King the children were granted a half-holiday and dismissed. A word of praise must be given to the dresses, most of which were extemporised.
(Long report)

DEATH OF MR. HENRY BEAUMONT.

FUNERAL AT SWAVESEY. 19th May 1911

We very much regret to announce the death of Mr. Henry Beaumont, who passed away at his residence in Swavesey early last Saturday morning. He had been in bad health for some months, and latterly it was apparent that he was suffering from serious illness. On Friday last an operation performed by Dr. Griffiths, of Cambridge, revealed the sad truth that the end was close at hand. Mr. Beaumont was universally beloved and respected, and a proof of the affectionate regard in which the school children held him was shown on Friday last, when in obedience to a warning given them by their Headmaster they were seen walking on tip-toe and speaking with bated breath as they passed over the straw laid down in front of his house.

He was 63 years of age, and a native of Swavesey, being the eldest son on the late Mr. John Beaumont. He received his early instruction at Swavesey National School, becoming in time a pupil teacher there under Mr. Pirt. Deciding to adopt the teaching profession, he proceeded to St. Mark's Training College, Chelsea, London, and after his course of training was appointed Headmaster of the National School at Frankley, near Birkenhead. Here he had been but little more than a year when he received an urgent invitation from Canon Sharp, then Vicar of Swavesey, to undertake the Headmastership of Swavesey National School. He began his life's work in Swavesey on November 2nd 1868, and retired with a pension at Christmas last, having served as headmaster for rather more than 42 years.

In addition to the mastership, Mr. Beaumont held other public offices. In 1878 he was appointed tax collector, in succession to the late Mr. John Metcalf, and he held the office at the time of his death. He was organist at the parish church from 1868 until seven or eight years ago, when he became choirmaster, resigning that post about a year ago, but remaining in the choir. He was a feoffee of Galon's Charity.

In politics he was a consistent Conservative. He was one of the founders of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, its first honorary secretary, and, since he gave up that office, a vice-president. He was a loyal and devoted son of the Church of England, a most regular attendant at his parish church, especially at the early services. His recreations were his garden, his bees, and fishing. On the River Ouse he was one of the most enthusiastic and successful anglers; fond of talking of his experiences, but never boasting of his successes. Hanging on the walls of his house are several big fishes he had caught.

Mr. Beaumont married the elder daughter of the late Mr. John Mitham, of Swavesey, who survives him. He also leaves one daughter and five sons, the second of whom is hastening home from the far west of Canada. The greatest sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

The funeral on Wednesday afternoon was a striking demonstration. All blinds were drawn in the houses, and shops were closed or had their shutters up. A flag drooped at half-mast in the schoolyard. The church was crowded with a congregation estimated at upwards of 500, representing all classes. Churchmen and Nonconformists alike attended to pay their last tribute of respect. Preceding the hearse, which was covered with lovely flowers, walked Messrs. W. H. Key and H. S. Aldred, representing the school managers, three schoolmasters, viz., Messrs. W. R. Billing (Elsworth), Handley (Great Gransden), and Hicks (Fenstanton), and members of the committee of the Swavesey Conservative Association, led by Mr. W. C. Cole (president), the Rev. J. F. Cooksey (chairman), Mr. C. R. Vincent (hon. Sec.), and Mr. Thomas Johnson (chairman of the Fen Drayton branch). The pathway leading from the churchyard gates was lined by the older schoolchildren, who followed the mourners as they passed into the church. The Vicar of Swavesey (the Rev. A. C. Vidler, R.D.) officiated, assisted by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The service was fully choral, the clergy and choir meeting the body at the entrance to the churchyard.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. H. Beaumont (widow), Mr. Percy J. Beaumont (eldest son), Miss Louie Beaumont (only daughter), Messrs. George, Frank, and Arthur Beaumont (sons), and Messrs. John and Sidney Beaumont (brothers).

GOLDEN WEDDING. 19th May 1911

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caine, High-street, Swavesey, celebrated their golden wedding on Wednesday, having been married on the 17th May, 1861. They received many congratulations, including a cable message from two sons in Canada.

A MISHAP. 19th May 1911

A Swavesey butcher on his way to Cambridge market early last Saturday morning met with an unfortunate mishap. When proceeding along Middle Watch the hind board of his cart fell down, and out tumbled a large number of eggs and a quantity of butter. The butter was not damaged, but most of the eggs were smashed.

THE LATE MR. W. CARTER. 19th May 1911

The funeral of the late Mr. William Carter, whose death on the 10th inst., at the age of 88 years, was announced last week, took place in Swavesey churchyard on Saturday afternoon. The Vicar officiated. Mr. Robinson Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker.

WANTON MISCHIEF. 19th May 1911

A correspondent writes: We were much interested to read in the last issue of the "Weekly News" the paragraph respecting the bird's nest curiously built on the handle of a rarely used door leading into the chancel of Swavesey church, and some of us went without delay on Friday to see it, but to our intense disgust we found that some mischievous person had torn down the nest and smashed the eggs. The perpetrator of this wanton outrage is not proud of his work of destruction for careful enquiry has so far failed to discover his identity. When found out he may have an uncomfortable five minutes.

SWAVESEY RURAL COUNCIL.

THE SWAVESEY WATER WORKS. 19th May 1911

The monthly meeting was held on Wednesday. Present: Mr. J. Frohock (chairman), the Rev. M. S. Kemmis, Messrs. Mailer, Parish, Baldwick, Day, Hemington, Dr. Anningson (Medical Officer), and Mr. G. D. Day (Clerk). The Rev. M. S. Kemmis, Messrs. A. Day and E. Parish were appointed as the Swavesey Water Committee to consider the question of fees, etc. The Clerk said they would have to keep a separate water account, and they would consider whether they would supply the water at a low rate in order to induce people to take the water or whether they would charge as higher rate to cover the cost of the water and other charges. Any deficiency in the account would have to be met from a special expenses rate. – Mr. Reynolds pointed out that a drain at Swavesey required cleaning out and asked if the Council would have it cleaned out by the Council's man. – The Chairman said that three cottages sent their sewage into a drain that ran across the road into an open ditch. They should dispose of their sewage on their own property. – Mr. Kirby said it was going into a ditch close to the Mission Room and was very offensive. – The Council agreed to do the work this time. – Dr. Ellis complained of a drain, and the Inspector made a recommendation which was agreed to.

The letting of the herbage on the Swavesey bye-ways showed a nett account of £25.

OFF TO CANADA. 26th May 1911

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 26th May 1911

Mrs. Cooksey, Swavesey Manor, has been appointed representative for the parish of Swavesey on the committee of the Swavesey District Red Cross Society (Cambridgeshire Branch). Any information as to the Society or the Voluntary Aid Movement can be obtained from her.

HOME FROM CANADA. 26th May 1911

Mr. Harry Beaumont, second son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, arrived in Swavesey on Saturday morning. He started for home immediately on receiving news of his father's serious illness, but unfortunately did not reach home in time even to attend the funeral.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 26th May 1911

At the closing fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association on Tuesday evening, the Chairman (Rev. J. F. Cooksey) gave an interesting and instructive address on the Coronation of the King. The proceedings concluded with votes of thanks to various persons who have contributed to the undoubted success of the meetings. They will resume in October next.

IS IT A HOAX? 26th May 1911

A correspondent writes: "A pint beer bottle, with a screw stopper, which is alleged was recently picked up in Swavesey Fens, has been on view during the last few days. Inside the bottle was a small piece of paper, on which the following message is written in pencil: 'This bottle was put in the flood in 1885. Anybody finding this bottle, please return to Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, Swavesey, Cambs. Signed by us (here follow names of two well-known Swavesey men, both happily alive, but not now resident in the village), Old Swavesey Pals'. 'The best-laid schemes o' mice and men gang aft agley,' wrote Robert Burns, and so has this pretty little hoax. The joker overlooked two facts, viz., that twenty-six years ago no bottled beer, of local brewers at any rate, was sold in the village inns, and that the firm of brewers whose name the bottle bears did not possess a house in Swavesey until some years after 1885. The india-rubber band round the stopper, also, is quite clean, and shows no sign of having been in water or mud. When our friend the joker next tries his hand at a hoax, let me advise him to put on his considering cap, and, above all, to use a term of the theatrical profession, 'make his flats fit.'"

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 26th May 1911

Anniversary services were held at Bethel Chapel on the 18th inst. At the afternoon service, the Rev. R. Foster Jeffrey, of Zion Chapel, Cambridge, officiated, and preached. There was a good attendance. Mr. Jeffrey officiated and preached again at the evening service, being assisted by Rev. Easter (Over), who read a portion of Scripture and Rev. E. P. Groom (Caxton), who offered prayer. The sermon was based on the text, "Thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift." At the end of the service Rev. Stevens thanked Mr. Jeffrey on behalf of the congregation for being present and giving such helpful addresses. Mrs. H. S. Aldred presided at the organ at the afternoon service, and Mr. J. H. Starte at the evening service. Between the services a public tea was held in the chapel at which upwards of 100 persons sat down. The tables were presided over by Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. A. Norman, Miss Starte, Mrs. Jabez Day, Mrs. Wimpress, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. J. Williams, Mrs. W. Daisley, and Mrs. J. Smith. The collections and proceeds of the tea, which were in aid of the chapel funds, amounted to £9.

THE FEAST. 2nd June 1911

The annual feast, which opened on Sunday, has been celebrated in the usual way. On Sunday morning between 7 and 8 o'clock the church bells were rung, and excellent congregations attended the morning and evening services. Cricket matches were the main attraction on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the home club scoring victories against Lolworth and Needingworth, but being defeated by Haddenham on Tuesday in a Milton and District League fixture. Notwithstanding that from the holiday maker's point of view, the weather was perfect, the feast cannot be recorded as having been a success. On the contrary the attendance of visitors from neighbouring villages was unusually small, and there has been an absence of incidents of interest. One gentleman in his shirt sleeves drove a family party round the feast in a small donkey cart, and caused a little amusement as every few yards the donkey declined to budge, and had to be pushed, lifted or otherwise helped on its way by the kindly feast folk. On Monday evening a little child fell from its father's arms when riding on a roundabout in full career. In its fall the little one seems to have struck the revolving platform and then rolled on to the ground. On being picked up a small scratch on its leg was found to be the only injury.

HAY HARVEST. 9th June 1911

Farmers have begun to cut clover in Swavesey parish, and Mr. S. W. Crisp, of Brooklands, started hay work on Monday.

ACCIDENT. 9th June 1911

Roland Sanderson, aged five years, who lives with his parents at Boxworth End, fell from a tree on Monday and broke his arm.

PLANTS IN WILLOW TREES. 9th June 1911

In a pollard willow on the bank of the large drain which skirts Mere Fen are growing a gooseberry and a raspberry plant. Out of another willow lying across the drain asparagus is growing.

GIRLS AT PLAY. 9th June 1911

On Friday last the youngest daughter of Mr. J. S. Goad, when floating pieces of wood as boats in a pond 12ft. deep, fell headfirst into the water. She was fished out by a lad who works for Mr. Goad, and was none the worse for her ducking. Another small girl cycling along the main street was so much occupied in "making pace" that she ran into the hind-board of a solitary coal cart. The youngster escaped scatheless, but the rim of the front wheel of the cycle was damaged.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 9th June 1911

On Sunday last the anniversary services in connection with the Sunday School were held at the Primitive Methodist Chapel. The sermon in the morning was preached by the Rev. H. Lancaster. In the afternoon recitations and special hymns were rendered by the choir and children, and solos were sung by Mr. Dunthorne and Mrs. Kester. The chair was taken by Mr. Reeson, St. Ives. At the evening service Mr. Lancaster again preached. Interesting dialogues were given by four young friends from Over, Mrs. Runham recited, Mr. Kester sang a solo, and Mr. Rogers and Mrs. Runham a duet. On Monday afternoon the circuit quarterly meeting was held. A public tea and meeting followed in which Mr. Chapman presided and several speakers spoke. Special hymns were sung during the meeting by the choir and children. The collections throughout the anniversary amounted to £3 7s. 9d.

CURIOUS NESTING PLACES. 16th June 1911

In the garden at the back of Mr. Netherwood's house in High-street a robin has built her nest in an old tin kettle hanging on a wall about 5ft. from the ground. In an adjoining outbuilding occupied by Mr. Jesse Hephher a robin's nest was recently discovered in the mouth of a sack full of rags. In this nest five young birds were successfully reared out of six hatched.

THE CORONATION. 16th June 1911

The prizes for the children's sports on Coronation Day were on view in the National School on Wednesday evening. The grant from the general Coronation Festivities Fund has been more than doubled by a generous donation from Mrs. Long, The Priory. A children's service will be held in Bethel Baptist Chapel Schoolroom at 9.30 a.m. on Coronation Day, the "Order of Worship" being that issued by the Sunday School Union for use in Sunday schools.

A SPILL. 16th June 1911

George E. Hepher, a youth who works for Mr. Warboys, had a spill in High-street, Fen Drayton, when on his way to milk on Wednesday morning. He was cycling in advance of Mr. Warboys, who was driving a cart and in the main street Mr. Warboys' retriever ran into the cycle and threw young Hepher off. The dog's paw was entangled in the wheel, two spokes of which were broken. The rider's hand, elbow, and knee were injured, and the dog had a claw torn off. Mrs. Warboys, who gained a certificate at the recent ambulance classes held in connection with the British Red Cross Society, rendered first aid.

A NARROW ESCAPE. 16th June 1911

About 9.30 p.m. last Friday a slight fire, detected in time to prevent serious consequences, occurred on the premises of Mr. E. J. Warboys, Boxworth End. Mrs. Warboys had been boiling milk in her wash-house, a detached brick and tile building, with loft overhead, and had left a candle alight. Mr. Walter Thorp, who was inside the house, noticed an unusual light in the building, and it was found that a roller towel blown by the wind into the candle flame, was well alight, and that the woodwork was catching fire. Mr. Warboys promptly pulled down the towel, burning his face slightly in doing so, while Mrs. Warboys dashed a pail of water on to the smouldering wood. Had the fire not been detected when it was, a serious conflagration might have resulted as the wash-house is closely surrounded by wooden farm buildings.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL

COLLECTION IN SWAVESEY DISTRICT. 23rd June 1911

The annual house-to-house collection on behalf of Addenbrooke's Hospital, which has recently been made in connection with the county organisation fund in the villages of Willingham, Over, Longstanton, Conington, Fen Drayton and Swavesey, has resulted in £35 being raised for the deserving and beneficent institution. This amount has been forwarded by Mrs. Long, of the Priory, Swavesey, the president of the villages named, to the honorary secretary of the fund (Mrs. Hicks), who has gratefully acknowledged the receipt of the contribution. The under-mentioned sums were collected in the different villages: - Willingham £10 15s., Swavesey £10 11s. 7d., Longstanton £6 13s. 11d, Over £5, Conington £1 3s. 6d, Fen Drayton 16s.

DEATH OF OLDEST INHABITANT. 23rd June 1911

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Thomas Garner, which occurred on Monday night at his residence in Middle Watch. Mr. Garner, who was 88 years of age, had the distinction for the short period of between five and six weeks of being the oldest inhabitant of Swavesey. He was a farmer and commission corn merchant, and was the eldest son of the late Mr. John Holmes Garner, farmer, of Middle Watch. Although he had been in feeble health for some time, the end came somewhat suddenly. Mr. Garner, who was unmarried, is survived by a brother and two sisters.

A MEMENTO OF THE CORONATION. 23rd June 1911

Last Friday afternoon portraits of King George V. and Queen Mary, presented by the County Education Committee, were unveiled at the National School. In addition to the children and the teaching staff, the Vicar, and Messrs. W. H. Key, J. Wells, R. Mitham, and H. S. Aldred, managers, were present. The Vicar and Mr. Aldred addressed the children. The portrait of the King was unveiled by the two senior boys, Arthur Beaumont and H. Prime, and that of the Queen by the two senior girls, C. Crisp and A. Norman. In the Infants' Department a smaller portrait of the King or Queen was given to each child. These portraits were the kindly gift of a donor who wishes to remain unknown. The school has been closed this week for the Coronation holiday.

CORONATION. 30th June 1911

From 7 until 8 on the morning of Coronation Day the bells of the parish church were rung. At 8 o'clock there was a celebration of the Holy Communion. At 2 p.m. the children assembled at the National School and each having been given a Union Jack, marched to church for the special service at 2.30 p.m. There was a good congregation, which included many Nonconformists. The lengthy service included evensong, with special psalms, collects, responses, etc., taken from the form of service sanctioned by the Bishop of Ely. On leaving church the children, carrying their flags, marched to the Cricket Ground, kindly lent by Mr. Ellis Long, and there they were presented with Coronation mugs and had a meat and cake tea. A substantial meat tea for adults was provided in the School and in Mr. Robert Norman's large barn. During the evening adult sports were held on the Recreation Ground, and so lengthy was the programme that the last event did not come off until after 10 o'clock. Soon after their tea the children's sports were started on the Cricket Ground, and racing, skipping, tugs-of-war, etc., were on the go until after dark, when it was decided to postpone the egg and spoon races until the following evening. A display of fireworks followed, and then the prizes were given away by the Vicar in front of the School. Numerous flags were displayed in the village, and the St. George's ensign was flown from the church tower. Between 1 and 2 p.m. anvil salutes were fired in Market-street. At 9.30 a.m. a well-attended special service for children was held in the Schoolroom attached to Bethel Baptist Chapel. Mr. H. S. Aldred presided, and was assisted by the Rev. W. H. Stevens, Messrs. B. Prior, J. H. Starte, J. Prior, J. Payne, and C. Wood.

ACCIDENT. 30th June 1911

On Wednesday at about 12.30 p.m. a young man named John Loades, who was engaged with other men in excavating the trench for the new water pipes, was struck in the back by the pickaxe of the man working behind him. His mates rendered immediate aid, and Mrs. W. C. Cole, opposite whose house the accident happened, also helped and supplied brandy. Mr. Loades was conveyed to his home in High-street in Mr. Cole's buggy, and Dr. Ellis summoned.

PASTOR'S FAREWELL. 30th June 1911

On Sunday evening last, the Rev. W. H. Stevens (pastor) preached his farewell sermon at Bethel Baptist Chapel where he had been pastor for rather more than two years. At the close of an earnest and practical sermon, Mr. Stevens tendered the thanks of Mrs. Stevens and himself to their friends in the Sunday school for the kind present of a silver teapot which had been obtained from a collection made by the young people. He stated that he had also been asked to accept an illuminated address from some 45 friends, and that it would be ready in ten days, and it was hoped that the Revs. A. C. Ashpool (Willingham) and W. Easter (Over) would be amongst the speakers at the presentation. The service closed by the singing of "God be with you till we meet again." There was a large congregation.

SERIOUS SMASH. 30th June 1911

When delivering milk shortly before half-past eight o'clock on Tuesday morning Mr. E. J. Warboys met with a serious accident. A few yards short of the Turn Bridge the belly-band broke, and the horse bolted dragging the cart with shafts in the air after it. Opposite Mr. Starte's shop the milk cans, Mr. Warboys and his little daughter fell out. Mr. Warboys struggled to his feet and tried to seize the horse's head, but could only get hold of the reins. The frightened animal kicked violently, and turned round, narrowly escaping collision with Mr. Z. Parish's butcher's cart and pony standing in the road. The pony, fortunately, was tied to the gate post. The horse ran off homewards still dragging the cart, and Mr. Warboys hung on to the reins, but in passing a telegraph post he fell, and was kicked on the head, the cart wheel passing over an arm. He was dragged as far as the bridge before he let go. The horse ran on as far as the Recreation Ground, where it fell, and lay helpless, giving time for Messrs. W. J. Hephher and Isaac Parish to run up and secure it before further damage was done. Several persons rushed to Mr. Warboy's assistance, and it was found that he was bleeding profusely, his head and nose being badly hurt, probably by a kick. He was taken to Mr. Z. Parish's house, by Mr. Parish and his eldest son, and George E. Hephher cycled to the station and called Dr. Robert Ellis out of a train on the point of starting. Having received medical attention, Mr. Warboys was conveyed home in Mr. Graves' trap, and put to bed, and though badly cut and bruised is reported to be doing well. The little girl, who was picked up by G. E. Hephher, escaped injury, the cart was not much damaged, but the harness had to be cut to release the horse.

LADIES PLAY CRICKET. 30th June 1911

On Friday evening after the children's races, postponed from the previous night, had been run, an impromptu cricket match was arranged between teams of ladies and gentlemen, most of the latter not being in the first blush of youth. While preliminaries were being settled the rain came on, but so determined were the ladies to show what they could do that the men were compelled to turn out and field. Under the captaincy of Mrs. Wood, the fair batsmen knocked up a respectable score, and then soaked to the skin the men were allowed to go home, and it was decided to play the game afresh on Tuesday evening, under more stringent conditions, so far as the men were concerned. A notice, posted outside the school summoned the villagers to an important cricket match between the Ladies of Swavesey and "The Crocks, a team of males, nearly all aged, blind or infirm." The villagers obeyed the summons in large numbers, the crowd being the largest on record. As the ladies would naturally claim the right to bat first, whether they won the toss or not, the ceremony of spinning the coin was omitted, and led by their captain, Mr. C. Wood, the twelve crocks took the field. Each man wore a high hat, one hat resembling a stove pipe measured 14 inches in height, and its brim was wide. Another hat had been borrowed from Mr Jillings' scarecrows. The men were further handicapped by having to bat (sticks being used), bowl, and field left-handed. Miss S. Williams and Miss B Prior batted first, and Messrs Wood and

J. S. Goad bowled, but space does not allow of a detailed description of the interesting and exciting game. Suffice it to say that the crowd cheered and laughed, and had an evening's entertainment. The crocks won by three runs, thanks to Mr. Wood, for it must be admitted that the Crocks, pure and simple would have cut a poor figure but for his bowling, batting and fielding.

RETURNED TO CANADA. 7th July 1911

Mr. Harry Beaumont, second son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, for many years headmaster of Swavesey National School, left Swavesey by the 6.12 p.m. train on Wednesday on his return to British Columbia, Western Canada. He sails to-day (Friday) from Liverpool by S.S. Lake Manitoba, of the Canadian Pacific Line. Mr. Beaumont hurried home on receipt of the news of his father's serious illness, and reached Swavesey on Saturday, 20th May, three days after his father's funeral.

CORONATION COMMITTEE. 7th July 1911

The winding-up meeting of the committee which organised the festivities in Swavesey in connection with the coronation was held in the National School on Tuesday night, the Vicar presiding. Only a few members attended. It was announced that the receipts, which included a balance of £1 16s. 6d. from the Coronation of King Edward, amounted to £39 2s. 8d., and the expenditure to £35 13s. 10½d., leaving a balance in the treasurer's hands of £3 8s. 9½d. There was some discussion as to the disposal of the balance, the rival claims of levelling the Recreation Ground and the erection of a drinking fountain being urged, but no decision was arrived at.

CRICKET. 14th July 1911

Mr. S. J. Froment, vice-captain of the Swavesey Cricket Club, has down to Saturday last taken 110 wickets this season at an expenditure of 453 runs, an average of 4.1 runs per wicket. Last year he captured 116 wickets for 622 runs, and in 1909 118 wickets for 420 runs.

WATER SUPPLY. 14th July 1911

The work of laying the main pipes for the new water supply is rapidly approaching completion, and notices have this week been served on householders as to connecting with the mains. The impression that was abroad that the present public pumps would be replaced by stand pipes would appear to be erroneous.

PARISH CHURCH. 21st July 1911

The services on Sunday next at the parish church will, in the absence of the Vicar on his holiday, be taken by Dr. Cunningham, Archdeacon of Ely.

NEWS OF A TRAVELLER. 21st July 1911

The steamship Lake Manitoba, on which Mr. Harry Beaumont returned to Canada, arrived at Quebec last Monday. Mr. Beaumont would then have a week's railway journey to his quarters in British Columbia.

FOOD FOR PIGS. 21st July 1911

One day last week William Hephher, a youth employed by Mr. Thomas Prior, farmer, when engaged stacking hay in the farm yard, hung up his coat and waistcoat on a wurtzel cutter standing near by. When he went to put on his garments, the waistcoat was missing. Two half-grown pigs had dragged it down and had torn it to pieces. Young Hephher missed his watch and chain which he had left in a pocket. For about ten minutes search was made in all directions, and at length a piece of chain was seen hanging from the mouth of one of the pigs, and on opening the mouth the watch was found inside. The watch was still going, but the case was marked with impressions of the animal's teeth.

SCHOOL TREATS. 21st July 1911

The children attending the Parish Church Sunday School had their annual treat on Thursday afternoon and evening in last week. Assembling at the National School, the youngsters marched to church, where a service was held, and an address given by the Vicar, in which he referred to the loss the children and the parish had sustained by the greatly lamented death of the late schoolmaster, Mr. H. Beaumont. So touching were his remarks that many children and several adults wept. An adjournment was then made to the Vicarage garden for tea and games, the latter being carried out with great zest, under the energetic and resourceful supervision of the present schoolmaster, Mr. C. Wood. At five o'clock parents and other adult members of the congregation sat down to tea. Assisting Mr. Wood were the Vicar and churchwardens, Messrs. W. H. Key and Walter Thorp, the latter armed with a large bell, which he used with vigour when starting races. Not content with amusing the young ones, Mr. Wood organised races, games and tugs of war amongst the grown-up people. Married women pulled single women, large teams of the frailer sex contested their strength against much smaller teams of men and so on. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and everyone left declaring that it had been the most lively treat for many years. Sweets, presented by Mr. Key and Mr. J. Wells, who notwithstanding his defeat at last Easter's Vestry, continued his gift of lollipops, were scrambled for. – On the same day Bethel Baptist Sunday School treat took place. After tea the usual games, racing etc. were held.

HUMAN REMAINS FOUND. 21st July 1911

When excavating in connection with the new water supply in the main road between the churchyard wall and the fence of the Manor House, several skulls and other human bones were dug up. By direction of the Vicar they were re-buried in the churchyard. Prior to the making of the present road the churchyard, protected by a wooden fence, extended to within a few yards of the Manor fence, and a footpath to Over ran between. The old road to Over meandered from Hog Pasture across the fen to the western side of Mill Pits. The roadway from this point to Over is still in existence. Mr. J. Jillings, Swavesey's oldest inhabitant, a hale and hearty veteran not far short of 90, well remembers the old footpath. A sister and two brothers who died young were buried in that part of the churchyard over which the present main road runs. The main road was made some 70 years ago, about the time of the enclosure. Mr. Jillings has a clear recollection of those days. For some years he worked at the Manor Farm, then tenanted by Mr. Francis, for whom his father was foreman.

THE SCHOOL. 28th July 1911

The National School will be closed after today (Friday) for the harvest holiday.

THE DROUGHT. 28th July 1911

On Sunday evening and again on Wednesday morning a little rain fell in Swavesey, but barely enough to lay the dust.

WATER SUPPLY. 28th July 1911

The work of laying the main pipes for the new water supply was completed on Monday. It has been noted with some surprise that no pipes have been laid in Gibraltar-lane or Ramper-road (village end), in both of which are cottages.

CRICKET. 28th July 1911

A weak eleven of the Swavesey Cricket Club visited Needingworth on Tuesday, and thanks to F. Johnson and C. Wood, who hit up 76 runs between them out of a total of 95, succeeded in defeating the home eleven.

ACCIDENT. 28th July 1911

Last Friday evening little John Culpin, a younger son of Mr. Charles Culpin, blacksmith, fell from a coal van near the railway station and sustained injuries necessitating the calling in of Dr. R. Ellis, of St. Ives. The boy appears to have clambered on to the seat of the van, when a passing motor car caused the horse to swerve, and the boy fell off. He was picked up in a semi-conscious state and was taken home, and Dr. R. Ellis sent for. No bones were broken, but the boy was badly bruised and shaken, and his face was cut. He is progressing favourably.

TELEPHONE SERVICE. 28th July 1911

A Swavesey ratepayer writes: - I read with great interest a report in your last issue of a parish meeting at Willingham. It was gratifying to learn that the leading men of a village in this district are agitating in favour of a public telephone service, and I sincerely hope that their efforts will be crowned with success in the near future. We business men in Swavesey also stand in need of a telephone service, and it is a question our Parish Council might with advantage take up. Since they lost their chairman they seem to have gone to sleep, but when they wake up I would suggest that they should combine with their brother councillors at Willingham and with the Parish Councils of Over, Longstanton, and Fen Drayton in approaching the Postmaster-General with a request for adequate telephonic facilities for the whole district.

TESTIMONIAL TO RETIRING PASTOR. 28th July 1911

A public meeting was held at the Friends' Meeting House on Thursday, 20th instant, for the purpose of presenting to the Rev. W. H. Stevens, late pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, a beautifully-designed illuminated address, enclosed in a massive gilt frame. The chair was taken by Mr. J. T. Allen, of Wisbech. Letters were read from the Revs. E. Groom, of Caxton, and Easter, of Over, expressing regret at their unavoidable absence, and conveying their sympathy and good wishes for Mr. Stevens' future welfare. The Chairman spoke in very high terms of Mr. Stevens' worth, and described him as a true and good man, a statement which elicited hearty approval from the large and appreciative audience, which included several friends from Over. Mr. Toseland, of Fenstanton, also spoke. The address was presented to Mr. Stevens by Mr. Benjamin Prior, a member of Bethel Chapel and a Sunday School worker. Mr. Stevens, in a very touching and suitable manner, replied, thanking his friends for the hearty and practical way in which they had shown their sympathy towards him. He hoped he would soon have the pleasure of seeing his friends again in Swavesey and also in Yarmouth, in which town he is shortly to take up his new duties as pastor of the Baptist Church. To Messrs. James and Arthur Prior is mainly due the credit of organising the testimonial.

MISHAP. 11th Aug. 1911

On Wednesday morning Mrs. Bert Hodson had the misfortune to dislocate her jaw. She was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where she was promptly attended to, and she returned home but little the worse for the painful mishap.

LEVEL CROSSING ACCIDENT.

HORSE KILLED AND CART SMASHED.

FARMER'S NARROW ESCAPE. 11th Aug. 1911

On Monday afternoon a horse was killed, a cart smashed, and a man riding in the latter narrowly escaped death or serious injury at Mow Fen Crossing, near Swavesey Station, on the Great Eastern Railway. The horse and cart belonged to Mr. Alfred Day, farmer, of Swavesey, and were in charge of Mr. Samuel King and a youth named Thomas Howlett. On reaching the line from Swavesey, Howlett got out to open the gates. Mr. King drove through, and as his horse was crossing the down line an empty down train dashed into it. The engine whistled, but too late for the horse to be pulled back.

The horse was killed instantaneously, and was carried nearly 100 yards. The cart was thrown some yards and smashed against the gate-keeper's pig sty. Mr. King was thrown out and landed on a lavender tree. He fortunately escaped with injuries to his knee and arm, but is confined to his house, and in the hands of the doctor. His coat, with pieces of harness, were found subsequently some distance beyond the spot where the horse was thrown. The collision caused the wire of the up distant signal to snap in the signal box at the station.

It may be mentioned that a valuable bull belonging to Mr. Day was killed near the same crossing on July 30th, 1906. The animal broke loose when crossing the line, and after careering wildly about the line for a quarter of an hour, despite the efforts of the man in charge of it, and of the permanent way officials, ended by charging the engine of an up passenger train. The bull was carried upwards of 200 yards, and considerable difficulty was experienced in clearing the mangled remains from the engine, a cylinder of which was broken. Mr. King was concerned in this incident.

ACCIDENT. 11th Aug. 1911

Early on Tuesday morning, when sharpening reaping machine knives with an emery wheel, a knife broke and flew cutting Mr. Harry D. Froment's arm somewhat severely. Dr. Ellis was called in and put stitches in the wounds.

AID FOR ADDENBROOKE'S. 11th Aug. 1911

A collection of vegetables to be sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital is being made in Swavesey and district this week. The collector, Mrs. Graves, High-street, will be glad to receive vegetables of any kind, and they can be sent to her as late as Monday morning. A collection of potatoes for the hospital last year was most successful.

A HOT WEATHER STORY. 11th Aug. 1911

A correspondent writes: The following little fable may be suitable this torrid weather. I overheard it during a spell of heat a few years ago. A labourer remarked, "I say, master, don't the world go round?" "Yes, so they say," replied the master. "I thought so," continued the man, "but it seems to have got off its axle and stopped in India."

THE RECENT RAILWAY SMASH. 18th Aug. 1911

Mr. Samuel King, who was injured when a horse was killed and a cart smashed recently at Mow Fen crossing on the Great Eastern Railway, has been able to return to work this week.

LADIES AT CRICKET. 18th Aug. 1911

A cricket match – Ladies v. Gentlemen – which was played the other day did not attract the large attendance or evoke the enthusiasm of a similar game played shortly after the Coronation. The teams were different and the conditions were somewhat altered. The 15 ladies scored 83, and the 11 men 94. The top scorers were Miss Wilkinson (18) and Mr. George Beaumont (38).

HORSE IN DANGER. 18th Aug. 1911

Early on Monday morning a black horse belonging to Mr. Prime Godfrey was found sunk in the mud in Navigation Drain, only its head appearing. Several men with ropes and horses endeavoured in vain to extricate the animal, which was at last got out with ropes and pulleys. More than one rope was broken.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 18th Aug. 1911

A camp meeting in connection with Swavesey Primitive Methodist Chapel will be held on the Recreation Ground at 2.30 p.m. on Sunday next. If a brass band will be in attendance, as is expected will be the case, a start will be made at the Swan Pond at 2 o'clock. A second meeting will be held in the evening.

ALL NIGHT WORK. 25th Aug. 1911

During the recent tropical weather a Swavesey farmer was engaged all one night cutting clover.

BATHING PLACE. 25th Aug. 1911

The Swavesey Swimming Club have placed a new ladder by the diving board at the bathing place in the river. The old ladder is believed to have been broken by boating parties who are in the habit of using the diving board as a landing stage. Early this season the club cut the weeds in the neighbourhood of the bathing place, and it is intended next year to replace the present short diving board with a longer one.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 25th Aug. 1911

At a meeting of the Swavesey United Football Club the following officers were elected for the coming season:- Captain, Mr. T. Harris, vice-captain, Mr. C. Wood; secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham; committee, Messrs. F. Beaumont, F. Johnson, R. Mitham, E. Prior, B. Scotney, and A. J. Willson. A donation of £1 has been received from the Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., who has accepted the office of president of the club.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 25th Aug. 1911

The Swavesey and District Voluntary Aid Detachment has held its first meeting at the Manor House, Swavesey, on the kind invitation of Mrs. Cooksey. Both Swavesey and Over were represented, the Over detachment being under the direction of Mrs. Beckett, and that of Swavesey under the superintendence of Mrs. Cooksey. Twenty-two members attended. Miss Whitworth acted as lady superintendent. Eight boys were placed in various parts of the orchard, each having in his possession a card descriptive of the injury he was supposed to have sustained. Some of the members rendered first aid, whilst others conveyed the patients to the hospital. Here all was in readiness, and an excellent staff of nurses attended to wounded arms, broken bones, and cases of collapse, etc. The demonstration lasted two hours, and undoubtedly contributed to the experience and efficiency of the detachment. The stretcher bearers were kindly assisted by friends who were spending their holiday in Swavesey.

NAVIGATION DRAIN. 25th Aug. 1911

A "Swavesey Resident" writes:- If it were not for the fact that for the last year or two I have lived in Swavesey, and therefore have learned that a long and wide trench, filled with mud and weeds, with crumbling and fast disappearing walls of earth, which runs from the Hog Pasture Railway Gate House to the river, is sometimes called Navigation Drain, I should have thought that your local correspondent was “poking fun” at us when he reported in last week’s paper that a horse was nearly drowned in Navigation Drain. All the large drains so necessary for carrying off flood water in this parish are in a terribly neglected state. The District Council do a bit of tinkering at them now and again, in or near the village, but they never attempt to clear the ends near the river. At Church Bridge, where the new and much-wanted sewer empties itself when the water is low enough to allow of this being done, the drain is kept clear, but except in times of flood only a little of the water can get away, owing to mud nearer the river. As regards Navigation Drain, I would suggest that the District Council should find it a new name. It used, in years gone by, so I am told, to be navigable, and barges laden with coal, etc., were able to come along, and unload, but now not even a child’s toy boat could navigate its mud.

STUNG BY A WASP. 1st Sept. 1911

Last Friday night, when eating bread and jam at supper, Mr. Bert Hodson, of Market-street, was stung by a wasp in his mouth and throat. His condition became so serious that it was necessary to call in Dr. Ellis.

THE DRAINS. 1st Sept. 1911

A “Swavesey resident” writes: In my letter which you were good enough to publish last week there is a slight printer’s error. I did not describe the new sewer which empties itself into the usually stagnant drain by Church Bridge as much wanted, but as much vaunted. Kindly allow me to make this correction, as the general opinion of the villages is that the sewer as constructed is not wanted, and in that opinion I concur. Until its outlet, which is now close to the high road, is moved it can only be a nuisance and a possible source of danger to the public health. Now that I am on the subject of smells, may I suggest that the weekly method of clearing the gully traps – are they traps? – in the streets is capable of improvement. The Council official clears the solid stuff away with a scoop, but leaves the stinking liquid behind. Would it not be better to take the evil-smelling liquid away as well and flush each gully with clean water? Now that the new water supply has been laid on there should be no difficulty in doing this. The smells from the street drains have lately been awful. The sanitary authorities insist on all drains on private premises being trapped, but, unless I am greatly mistaken, only a few of their own are trapped.

LARGE POTATO. 8th Sept. 1911

Mr. C. W. Thurbon, of Market-street, on Wednesday dug a potato (Table Talk) in his allotment in the Hale which weighed 1lb. 10½ozs.

TOO BAD. 8th Sept. 1911

A notice displayed outside a house in Swavesey a few days ago contained the astounding intelligence, "Damsels 2d. a pound." Subsequently the word damsons was substituted for damsels.

DEATH OF AN AGED INHABITANT. 8th Sept. 1911

After a few days' illness Mr. David Sutton passed away on Monday at his residence at Boxworth End. He was 73 years of age. Mr. Sutton, who was greatly respected by all with whom he came in contact, leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters.

THE NATIONAL SCHOOL. 15th Sept. 1911

On Monday last the National School re-opened after the harvest holidays. During the time the school was closed important improvements have been effected, particularly in the infants' department. In the larger infants' room the gallery has been removed, the floor has been partly relaid, and a new cloak room erected. The walls throughout the school have been recoloured, and the drainage and other sanitary arrangements remodelled. Water has been laid on and proper washing accommodation supplied in all departments. The work has been carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

THE DROUGHT. 15th Sept. 1911

The want of water is being seriously felt in Swavesey. All the ponds are practically dry, and private pumps are running short. Several farmers have had the new water supply laid on to their yards and fields, and have derived great benefit thereby. The public pumps of the old water supply, hitherto only allowed to be drawn upon for domestic purposes, have been used for farm purposes, and have doubtless enabled many farmers to obtain water for stock which otherwise would have to have been fetched from the river.

NAVIGATION DRAIN. 15th Sept. 1911

Another cow had a narrow escape last Friday from an untimely end in the mud in Navigation Drain. The animal, which belonged to Mr. C. Wilkinson, was found deeply sunk in the mud near where the drain joins Covell's Brook, not much more than its head being visible. Assistance was summoned but ordinary means were of no avail. At length Mr. C. Culpin, the resourceful Swavesey blacksmith, appeared on the scene with ropes and pulleys, and after much labour and trouble the cow was hauled out, greatly exhausted. During the operations Mr. J. B. Senter, who was helping, fell head over heels into Covell's Brook, and was gallantly rescued by Mr. J. Daisley.

FUNERAL. 15th Sept. 1911

On Friday, 8th inst., the funeral of the late Mr. David Sutton, whose death at the age of 73 years was announced in our last issue, took place in Swavesey Nonconformist Cemetery in the presence of a considerable assembly of friends and villagers. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel, officiated, and hymns were sung at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Sutton (widow), Messrs. Robert and David Sutton (sons), Mrs. Pontefract, Misses Kate and Alice Sutton (daughters), Mrs. Jabez Parish and Miss Kate Neal (nieces) and Mrs. R. Sutton and Mrs. D. Sutton (daughters-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm. Mr. Walter Thorp, Swavesey, carried out the funeral arrangements.

GARDEN FETE. 15th Sept 1911

As apart from the Coronation festivities, no public entertainment had been held in Swavesey during the summer, the Vicar decided to organise an evening fete in the Vicarage grounds, and so provide a little recreation for the people, tired and weary after their arduous labours in the harvest fields and fruit gardens. The Vicar's decision was unexpected, and he had little time, barely a week, in which to make arrangements, but notwithstanding these drawbacks he succeeded in giving his visitors a very enjoyable evening on Thursday, 7th inst. The St. Ives Town Band was in attendance and discoursed sweet music. After dark the grounds were prettily illuminated by Mr. James, of St. Ives. On the lawn dancing was indulged in, under the superintendence of Mr. W. Wayman, of Over, who acted as M.C. Among the side-shows were a well-patronised shooting gallery, where Mr. Walter Thorp was kept busily engaged; tug of war, in charge of Messrs. R. Mitham, jun., and T. Harris (a team of six ladies pulled over four men); cake guessing, in the hands of the Misses P. Mitham and V. Dean; and guessing the name of the doll, presided over by Misses Beaumont and E. Dodson. The name chosen for the doll was "Lucy," and was too simple for anyone to think of. Aunt Sally, looked after by Messrs. S. F. Mitham and G. H. Skeeles, did good business. Messrs. J. Gilby, P. J. Beaumont, and J. Hodson acted as gate-keepers and general stewards. It is satisfactory to note that the receipts exceeded the expenses, notwithstanding the fact that the latter were heavy. Refreshments were supplied by Mr. A. T. Scard, High-st., Swavesey.

LONELY COTTAGE RANSACKED.

FOOD AND CLOTHES STOLEN.

PRISONERS SENT FOR TRIAL. 15th Sept. 1911

There was a sequel to the raid on a lonely cottage near Swavesey at the County Police Court on Saturday morning, when Alfred George Grimes and Fred Chilvers, tramps, of no fixed abode, were charged with breaking and entering the dwelling house of Hubert Taylor, at Swavesey, on Wednesday, and stealing one cloth jacket, one pair of cloth trousers, three pounds of cooked meat, one loaf of bread, a bottle of pickled onions, and a quantity of tea, sugar and cocoa, value 23s. 7d., the property of Hubert Taylor.

The magistrates who heard the case were Dr. Liveing (presiding), Canon Pemberton, Mr. J. H. S. MacArthur, and Mr. J. O. Vintner.

Winifred Taylor, wife of Hubert Taylor, labourer, living at Swavesey, said she lived in one of two cottages standing alone at the side of the Huntingdon-road. On Wednesday morning she left her house at 7.30 in the morning. All the doors and windows were securely fastened. From what she was told she returned home at about 10 o'clock the same morning. She found the kitchen window was broken near the catch, and was wide open. The back door had been unbolted. Witness went upstairs to the back bedroom, and found that two drawers had been pulled quite out and that one had been drawn out and shut up again. The contents of the drawers had been disarranged. A tin clothes box had also been opened. Witness went downstairs again and went to the pantry, where she found a loaf of bread and about 3lbs of cooked beef were missing. Then she missed a bottle of pickled onions (produced) and some tea and cocoa from a shelf in the kitchen. Some sugar was missing from the kitchen table. On going upstairs once more witness found that a jacket and a pair of trousers (produced) belonging to her husband were missing. Witness valued all the articles at £1 3s. 7d.

Hubert Taylor, labourer, Swavesey, said that between 10 and 11 o'clock on Wednesday, in consequence of what he was told, he cycled along the Huntingdon-road and overtook prisoners near the Five Bells. They went into a plantation at the corner of the road leading to Girton, and stayed there about 15 or 20 minutes. They came out at the other corner of the plantation and walked on to Cambridge, witness following them. At the bottom of Girton College hill witness met Supt. Webb and P.C. Allen, and the prisoners were taken into custody. Grimes was wearing witness's suit of clothes.

Supt. Webb said Mr. Taylor had acted exceedingly well in this case.

Frederick Peppercorn, labourer, Lolworth, said that on Wednesday morning he was trimming a hedge near Taylor's house, when he saw prisoners and another man come along the road from the direction of Huntingdon. Grimes fetched some water from the pump behind Taylor's cottage, and all three drank some. When witness next looked round he only saw the third man on the road. Later on he saw one of the prisoners under an apple tree in the next door cottage, and shortly afterwards he saw both prisoners come from Taylor's cottage. Chilvers was carrying a tin in his hand, and Grimes had got something under the corner of his coat. The prisoners went on towards Cambridge, and the third man, who was lying on the grass, remained behind. Witness then went out on the road and prisoners walked on faster. Witness looked round Taylor's house, and saw that the kitchen window was open, and that one pane was broken. He afterwards gave a description of prisoners to Taylor.

P. C. Richardson, stationed at Boxworth, said that on Wednesday he accompanied Taylor to the corner of the Girton-road, and found a bottle of pickles in the plantation. Between Taylor's house and the plantation he found an old pair of trousers, which were very ragged.

This piece of evidence amused prisoners, who made no attempt to conceal their smiles.

Supt. Webb said that at 11.38 on Wednesday he received a message of a house having been broken into at Swavesey. He cycled up there, and met the two prisoners at the bottom of the Girton College hill, the witness Taylor following them. He apprehended them. In reply to the charge Grimes said, "I am guilty of taking the jacket and trousers. That's all I had." Chilvers said, "I am guilty of taking the bread and meat, but not the clothes." Witness afterwards examined the house of Mr. Taylor and found it as described by Mrs. Taylor.

The prisoners were committed for trial at the next Quarter Sessions.

HOW TO CARRY PIGS. 22nd Sept. 1911

A correspondent writes: Coming along Bucking Way the other day, I met a farmer riding a bicycle. He had a sack over his shoulder which seemed to contain something heavy and alive. On inquiry I found that the sack contained two live pigs, one of which hung in front and the other behind.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING. 22nd Sept. 1911

Bethel Baptist Church's Hospital effort was held on Wednesday last. A public tea was provided at 5.45 in the schoolroom. The tea-makers were Mrs. A Norman, Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. Godfrey, and Miss Starte. At 6.45 a service was held in the chapel, when the Rev. R. Smith, of Histon, preached, basing his discourse upon the words, "God giveth the increase." The chapel was most tastefully decorated with corn, fruit, flowers and vegetables. The workers, whose handiwork was much admired, were Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. Thurbon, Mrs. Plowman, Mrs. Godfrey, Miss Starte, Miss Smith and others.

The offertory, which amounted to £1 11s. 6d., and the fruit, vegetables, &c., were sent as usual to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

HORSE IN DANGER. 22nd Sept. 1911

Swavesey men are becoming experts in the art of rescuing horses and other animals from muddy deaths. For some weeks past animals have had to be dragged with difficulty from the drains filled with mud instead of water. On Wednesday afternoon the scene changed and a rescue which caused some stir was effected from the school pond, in the heart of the village. The man in charge of a horse and empty cart belonging to Mr. Prime Godfrey went to the pond to water the horse. The pond is nearly empty, there being only a little water on the side farthest from the road. The horse got into the mud, and in its struggles became embedded deeper and deeper in the thick mire, and the cart seemed in such a position as to hold it down. Fortunately plenty of assistance was at hand, and Mr. Robert Norman, Mr. T. Mackness and others set to work with a will. After the horse had been loosed from its harness by Mr. Norman, and the cart was dragged away, ropes were attached to the horse, and eight or nine men hauled for all they were worth. The animal was much exhausted when got out.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 29th Sept. 1911

On Tuesday afternoon and evening harvest thanksgiving services were held in the Particular Baptist Chapel, the sermons being preached by the Rev. H. T. Stonelake, of Nottingham. Between the services there was a public tea.

MEETINGS. 29th Sept. 1911

A parish meeting will be held at the National School on Monday evening, the chief business being the authorisation of the necessary expenditure for lighting the street lamps during the winter months. – The Parish Council will meet in the same building later in the evening, and it is presumed will make a further effort to find a chairman. The Council has not met since the 24th April.

DEATH OF MRS. CHARLES WILLSON. 29th Sept. 1911

We much regret to announce the death of Mrs. Ann Augusta Willson, wife of Mr. Charles Willson, which occurred at her residence in Market-street, Swavesey, on Sunday evening. Mrs. Willson, who was 63 years of age, having been born on the 8th March, 1848, had been in failing health for some time. She went to reside in Swavesey from Huntingdonshire with her husband and younger daughter some years ago, and though of a naturally retiring disposition, her kindliness of heart and equable temperament soon won her friends, and endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. She was a daughter of the late Mr. Stephen Whiteman, of Coppingford, Hunts. In addition to her husband she leaves a son, Mr. Charles Willson, jun., of Hilton Hunts., and two daughters. The funeral took place very quietly in Swavesey churchyard on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiating. The following chief mourners attended: Mr. Willson (widower), Miss Willson (daughter), Mr. C. Willson, jun. (son), Mrs. Rayner and Mrs. Brawn (sisters), Mr. J. Ringrow (son-in-law), and Mrs. C. Willson (daughter-in-law). By special request there were no flowers. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

HEARTS OF OAK. 6th Oct. 1911

The half-yearly meeting of the Swavesey District Hearts of Oak Medical Agency was held at the White Horse Inn on Monday evening, Mr. W. F. Gleaves presiding.

SUFFOCATED IN MUD. 6th Oct. 1911

On Monday morning a horse was discovered deeply sunk in the mud of a drain in Top Leys. After the expenditure of much time and labour, willingly rendered, the animal was dragged out, but was then dead.

THE GALE. 6th Oct. 1911

During the gale on Saturday morning a poplar tree near Mr. A. Day's farm in Middle Watch was blown down and fell across the high road. Several persons were close by, including a County Council roadman, but no one was injured.

STOCK CLUB. 6th Oct. 1911

The members of the Swavesey Stock Club met on Tuesday evening at their headquarters, the White Horse Inn, on the occasion of their annual meat tea. An excellent meal was provided by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Slater. A social evening followed under the genial chairmanship of Mr. S. W. Crisp. Songs were sung by Messrs. A. T. Scard, W. J. Hephher, and Bert Hodson, and Mrs. Slater gave gramophone selections. A friend from Cambridge presided at the piano. The club's annual business meeting was held on the previous evening.

PARISH MEETING. 6th Oct. 1911

An exceptionally well-attended parish meeting was held in the Infants' School on Monday evening, under the presidency of Mr. Jethro Linford (vice-chairman of the Parish Council). – On the proposal of Mr. W. H. Key, seconded by Mr. R. Norman, the Parish Council were authorised to incur an expenditure not exceeding £30 for the purpose of lighting the public lamps in the village during the winter months. Mr. A. Day inquired as to the disposal of the balance left unspent of the Coronation Festivities Fund. Mr. Key, treasurer of the fund, replied. – the question of the postal arrangements in the village, and especially the inconvenience caused by the alteration in the mid-day dispatch of letters, so far as Cambridge is concerned, was then discussed. It was stated that business people labour under considerable disadvantages in consequence of the alteration which has deprived them for all practical purposes of the benefit of a second delivery in Cambridge. Prior to the new arrangement correspondence was sent to Cambridge by the 12.21 p.m. train, and was delivered there early in the afternoon during business hours. Since the alteration the day mail has been forwarded to St. Ives by the 1.59 p.m. train, and correspondence for Cambridge has fallen into the last delivery, about 8 p.m., too late for business purposes. A privilege enjoyed for years has been taken away, and great inconvenience has been caused. Another point urged was the establishment of a third delivery later in the afternoon, as the present day mail, which arrives in Swavesey by the train leaving Cambridge at 10.16 a.m. can, with few exceptions, only include correspondence posted the previous day. It was also stated that until recently correspondence for Over posted after the departure of the mail cart at night was sent on to Over by the mail cart on the following morning, and was included in the first delivery. This privilege had been withdrawn. On the motion of Mr. W. Twist, seconded by Mr. A. Day (District Councillor and Guardian), it was unanimously resolved that a letter be sent to the Postmaster-General, calling his attention to the inconvenience as regards correspondence for Cambridge resulting from the alteration in the day mail despatch, and asking for a third delivery and for the restoration of the early morning connection with Over. The meeting then terminated.

PARISH COUNCIL. 6th Oct. 1911

A meeting of the Parish council was held on Monday evening in the Infants' School and was attended by Messrs. Jethro Linford (vice-chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, W. Twist, and Robinson Mitham (clerk). After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read, some questions respecting them were raised by Mr. Daisley and Mr. Day. The latter pointed out that no notice had been given to the proposal to raise the Clerk's salary from 50s. to three guineas which had been carried at the last meeting in April. He thought that such action was irregular and contrary to standing orders, and should therefore be brought up again. Mr.

Daisley was of the same opinion. After much further discussion Mr. Twist proposed that the question of raising the Clerk's salary should be placed on the agenda of the next meeting, and Mr. Daisley seconding, the resolution was carried and the minutes signed. The consideration of the tenders for lighting the street lamps was the next business, and the Council determined to deal with this matter in private. The resolution excluding the public was moved by Mr. Daisley, and was seconded by Mr. Twist.

A FIND OF WASPS. 13th Oct. 1911

In the wooden frame of a workshop window in Wallman's-lane seventeen queen wasps were found last week. All were destroyed.

NOVEL WAY OF GATHERING APPLES. 13th Oct. 1911

Some amusement was caused the other day by an unusual method of gathering apples in a Swavesey garden. At the top of a tree was a lad sawing off branches laden with fruit, which were passed down to two ladies standing on the ground.

GREAT FALL OF MEAT. 13th Oct. 1911

Whilst a butcher's cart, the shafts of which were resting on a trestle, was being loaded with meat on Friday last in High-street, the cart tipped up, and all the joints of meat fell into the road. A prowling dog annexed one piece of meat, and ran away with it.

OFF TO GREATER BRITAIN. 13th Oct. 1911

Another Swavesey young man has left his native village to try his fortune beyond the seas. Last Saturday evening Fred Wilderspin, youngest son of Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, farmer, departed from Swavesey station for London, receiving a hearty send-off from his friends. He is to sail to-morrow (Saturday) from the Albert Docks, London, to Queensland, in S.S. Perthshire. Brought up a farmer, it is his intention to learn Australian methods and then go in for sugar and banana growing. Young Mr. Wilderspin will be much missed in Swavesey, where he was very popular, especially with the younger people. He was one of the founders of the dancing classes, and their success last year was largely due to his efforts.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 13th Oct. 1911

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held in the parish church on Thursday, 5th inst. Holy Communion was celebrated at 7.30 a.m., Matins was said at 10.30 a.m., and choral evensong at 7 p.m. A large congregation was present at the last service. The Rev. R. M. Linton, Rector of Girton, preached an excellent and appropriate sermon. The church was nicely decorated with flowers, fruit, vegetables, etc., but it was noticed that they were not as plentiful as usual. On Sunday the services were continued, and a numerous congregation attended in the evening, when the Rev. J. F. Cooksey preached. The collections on the festival and on Sunday morning were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, and it is understood, amounted to within a few pence of the sum collected last year. The fruit, vegetables and flowers were also sent to the hospital. On Sunday afternoon there was a children's flower service at the Mission Church, Boxworth End. The youngsters' contributions have, in accordance with the usual practice, been sent to St. Ives Infirmary.

REVISION COURT AT SWAVESEY.

BARRISTER AND OVERSEERS.

PRAISE AND BLAME. 13th Oct. 1911

The Revising Barrister (Mr. A. Romer Macklin) sat at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Friday to revise the voters' lists for the West Cambs. parishes of Boxworth, Conington, Lolworth, Longstanton St. Michael, Westwick, Oakington, Childerley, Madingley, Longstanton All Saints', Dry Drayton, Girton, Fen Drayton, Over, Willingham, and Swavesey. There was little of public interest throughout the sitting, which lasted about 3½ hours.

Mr. James Guyatt appeared in the Liberal interests, and Mr. W. de L. Devereux watched those of the Conservatives.

OVERSEERS' ERRORS.

When the lists for Swavesey had been gone through, the Barrister said the Assistant Overseer had not done his work satisfactorily, and he would be compelled to deduct £2 from his expenses.

COMPLIMENTS.

Mr. Devereux said the week in which the voters' lists were revised was one he looked forward to with pleasure. He hoped they would have another pleasant time next year.

Replying, Mr. Macklin said he did not know that he had ever conducted Revision Courts which he had enjoyed so much as those in West Cambs. The little difficulties which had occasionally arisen had been easily disposed of and there had been no waste of time. The work of the Overseers in this Division was more unequal than in any other Division he knew. The bulk of the work of the Overseers was very well done, but at Royston, Cambridge, and there that day there had been some very bad work by Overseers. He felt it right in one instance to take off a small amount from the total which he would otherwise have allowed had the work been fairly well done. To those Overseers who done their work creditably he expressed his thanks.

LANTERN LECTURE. 20th Oct. 1911

Under the auspices of the Cambridge Church Defence League, a lecture on the Church in Wales was given in the schoolroom on Tuesday evening by the Rev A. J. C. Allen, vicar of St. Mary-the-Less, Cambridge. The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides. The Vicar of Swavesey presided.

A COMPLAINT. 20th Oct. 1911

A motor cyclist complains of the bad condition of the road through the village of Swavesey, due, he says, to the numerous openings that have been made across the road for the purpose of connecting houses with the new water supply pipes. The surface of the road is so uneven that there is great danger of motor cycles being damaged, and their riders hurt.

INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT. 20th Oct. 1911

At the meeting of the Standing Joint Committee, held in Cambridge on Saturday last, it was announced that P.C. Plowman, who has been stationed at Swavesey for the last two years, has been recommended to the Home Secretary, for one of the four King's Coronation Medals allotted to the Cambridgeshire Constabulary. Mr. Plowman can show thirty years' continuous service in the force, and prior to his transfer to Swavesey was stationed for 16½ years at Histon.

LIBERAL MEETING. 20th Oct. 1911

The Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., visited Swavesey on Thursday evening in last week, and briefly addressed a public meeting in the schoolroom. Mr. George Clarke presided, in the absences through illness of Mr. E. Parish, President of the Swavesey Liberal Association. Mr. Montagu unfortunately had to leave early as he had an engagement in Norwich. At the beginning of his speech he referred to the dissatisfaction which he understood existed as to certain postal arrangements in the village, and he promised to represent the matter to the Postmaster-General. He proceeded to speak very briefly on the questions of Home Rule and the payment of members of Parliament. A few questions having been asked and answered, Mr. Montagu left for Cambridge. Mr. Cornforth then addressed the meeting at some length on the Insurance Bill.

A GRIEVANCE. 20th Oct. 1911

Mr. Thomas Prior, when returning from chapel about eight o'clock last Sunday evening, met with an accident. He is 80 years of age, and though hale and hearty in most respects, has to use a stick when walking. In his right hand on Sunday night he held his stick, and in his left was a furled umbrella. The night was very dark, and in negotiating the turning to his house he came into collision with a fence. The back of his hand was badly lacerated, and the wound bled profusely. Mr. Prior attributes the mishap to the fact that a public lamp close by was not alight. The lamp-post was knocked down by a cart a month or so ago, and was not re-erected until last week. On Sunday night the lamp had not been replaced. Mr. Prior thinks the Parish Council are deserving of censure for not paying greater attention to the lighting of the streets. A lamp-post without a lamp is in his opinion, worse than useless; it is a source of danger.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 27th Oct. 1911

The Swavesey United Football Club, having lodged a protest as to a recent match with Over, the committee of the Histon and District League have ordered that the game shall be replayed next month.

OFF TO AUSTRALIA. 27th Oct. 1911

Mr. Archibald Prior, youngest son of Mr. Benjamin Prior, of Boxworth End, left Swavesey on Tuesday. He is sailing for Australia in a few days' time. Mr. Prior is the second Swavesey young man who has gone to Australia within the last two or three weeks.

EVENING CLASSES. 27th Oct. 1911

The proposal to hold continuation classes under the superintendence of Mr. C. Wood, the Headmaster of Swavesey School, has been warmly taken up, and a number of lads and young men have notified their intention to attend. The first class will be held on Tuesday next, 31st inst.

PUNCTUALITY REWARDED. 27th Oct. 1911

Medals and bars awarded by the County Education authority for perfect attendance during the past year were presented on Tuesday to the following children attending Swavesey National School: Medals to Ada Ansted, Grace Ansted and Joseph Culpin; Third year bar to May Thorp; Second year bar to Stanley Poulter and Mabel Taylor.

PARISH CHURCH. 3rd Nov. 1911

The festival of All Saints' was duly observed at the parish church on Wednesday. Evensong at 7 p.m. was fully choral and was well attended. The Rev. Evelyn Young, Fen Drayton, preached.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 3rd Nov. 1911

The Swavesey United F. C. having to move from Manor Close (near the Railway Station), their playing ground, since the club was formed, have been fortunate enough to find fresh quarters without loss of time. Dr. Ellis has kindly lent a field in Middle Watch at the back of his house, and the match with Longstanton in the Histon and District League will be played there tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon.

ACCIDENT. 3rd Nov. 1911

On Saturday evening, about seven o'clock, Mr. George Wells, and his son, Mr. Wm. Wells, when driving in a pony and cart from Church End to their home at Boxworth End met with an accident near the Mission Church by coming into collision, it is presumed, with Mr. F. Williams' carrier's cart, which was on its return journey from Cambridge. How the accident happened is not very clear, but it resulted in both shafts of the pony cart being broken off, and both Mr. Wells, who is 84 years of age, and his son being thrown in the road. Mr. Walter Thorpe, who lives close by, hearing the noise of the smash and cries for help, hastened to the scene. The night was very dark, and the mishap occurred half-way between two street lamps. Mr. Thorp found the men lying on the road, Mr. Wells, sen., being unable to rise owing to the pony standing on one hand. They were taken home in Mr. Williams' cart.

MISSIONARY LECTURE. 10th Nov. 1911

On Thursday evening, the 2nd inst., an excellent and much appreciated lecture, illustrated with admirable lantern slides, was given in the National School by the Rev. A. S. Matthew, of the Universities' Mission to Central Africa, explanatory of the work of the Mission. The Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar, presided, and the attendance was good.

DEATH OF MRS. J. WELLS. 10th Nov. 1911

We regret to announce the death on Tuesday evening, after a prolonged illness, borne with great resignation, of Mrs. Elizabeth Wells, wife of Mr. James Wells, coal merchant and late churchwarden of Swavesey. Mrs. Wells, who was 74 years of age, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Garrett, of Leamington, Warwickshire, and was married 49 years ago on Christmas Eve. She leaves a widower and three sons and three daughters, for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral will take place this (Friday) afternoon in Swavesey churchyard.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 10th Nov. 1911

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Polling District Conservative Association was held at the National School on Monday evening, and the attendance was considerably larger than in previous years. The annual report of the year's accounts were submitted and showed that the Association is in a satisfactory condition. Officers and committee were elected for service during the next 12 months, and arrangements were made for taking over rooms at Ryder's Farm, kindly placed at the disposal of the Association by Mr. J. B. Ellis, of St. Ives, vice-president. The rooms will be open every Wednesday throughout the winter months, and on alternate Wednesdays a discussion will be held on some matter of political interest. A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Ellis.

SAD DEATH. 10th Nov. 1911

Quite a gloom has been cast over the village by the death of little Miss Hilda Parsons, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Parsons, of Boxworth End. The little girl – she was only eight years old – was a universal favourite. Her ride to and from the railway station every day on her bicycle was a sort of triumphal progress. Old and young looked out for her, and for all she had a cheery word, and they for her. On Tuesday, 31st ult., she went to school, Slepe Hall, St. Ives, as usual, but was taken ill whilst there. She was, however, able to get home, but unfortunately, the rain fell heavily before she could reach shelter. Acute inflammation set in, and despite the devoted nursing of her parents and the attention of Dr. Ellis and his son (Dr. R. Ellis), she passed peacefully away in her sleep on Friday night. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon in Swavesey Cemetery in the presence of a large assemblage of friends from Swavesey, Over and elsewhere. The Rev. Short officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. James Parsons (parents), Miss Muriel Parsons (sister), Mrs. Anderson Wells (aunt) and Mr. T. Parsons (uncle). The coffin was of unpolished oak with brass furniture. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, carried out the funeral arrangements.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 17th Nov. 1911

A meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in Mr. E. Parish's room on Monday evening.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 17th Nov. 1911

The new rooms at Ryder's Farm, kindly lent to the Swavesey District Conservative Association by Mr. J. B. Ellis, were opened on Wednesday evening. There was no formal ceremony, but in the course of the evening the chairman (Rev. J. F. Cooksey) made a few remarks and called upon the secretary to read letters commending and congratulating the Association which had been received from Mr. G. D. Newton, Mr. C. W. Stanley, Mr. Devereux (Conservative agent), Mr. H. H. Tebbutt, and Mr. A. E. Saunders (late hon. Secretary of the Association). The secretary also mentioned the names of several members and friends, ladies as well as men, to whom he and the Association were deeply indebted for work in connection with the preparation and furnishing of the rooms, and he singled out Mr. E. J. Mitham as worthy of special thanks. Mr. W. H. Key complained that one important name had been omitted, namely, that of the secretary himself, and he assured the members that they were very much indebted to Mr. Vincent. (Applause). The first fortnightly "discussion" will be held on Wednesday next, when the subject to be talked about will be the Insurance Bill. The attendance on Wednesday night was excellent, and about a dozen new members were elected.

THE LATE MRS. JAMES WELLS. 17th Nov. 1911

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Wells, wife of Mr. James Wells, whose death at the age of 74 years was announced last week, took place in the churchyard of St. Andrew, Swavesey, on Friday, 10th inst., and was numerously attended. The Rev. A. C. Vidler (vicar) officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. Wells (widower), Mrs. J. Mitham, the Rev. W. Wells, Miss Wells, Mr. Horace F. Wells, and Miss J. Wells (sons and daughters), Mrs. A. Wells and Mrs. H. F. Wells (daughters-in-law). The coffin was plain unpolished oak, with brass cross and breastplate on the lid.

NEW PASTOR AT BETHEL. 24th Nov. 1911

It has been officially announced that the Rev. H. J. Watts, of Carpenter-road Baptist Church, Stratford, London E., has accepted the call to Bethel Baptist Church, Swavesey. He hopes to commence his pastorate on Sunday, 24th December.

THE CHURCH IN WALES. 24th Nov. 1911

A meeting will be held in Swavesey school room on Monday, November 27th, 1911, at eight o'clock, when an address will be given by the Rev. Canon Williams, B.D., rector of Jeffreyston, South Wales, on the proposed Disestablishment of the Church in Wales. The chair will be taken by the Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar of Swavesey, supported by the Archdeacon of Ely and others.

IN DAYS OF OLD. 24th Nov. 1911

Mr. Thomas Prior, a Swavesey octogenarian, has favoured our correspondent with two doggerel rhymes he used to hear some 70 years ago. They were the days when beer “messes” were in vogue – i.e., bread or harvest cakes soaked in beer. A Mrs. Ann Parish used to give the toast: -

O ale, thou art my darling,
I thee doth love, both night and marning,
Although you’ve cause a many a friend to be my foe,
I give you a tip and down you shall go.

- A Mr. Robert Crisp was responsible for the following:-
If you have a friend keep him so;
Don’t let him your secrets know;
For if that friend become your foe,
All the world your secrets know.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 24th Nov. 1911

The members of the Swavesey (Polling) District Conservative Association held their first fortnightly discussion for this winter on Wednesday evening at their new and comfortable headquarters at Ryder’s Farm. The subject chosen, the National Insurance Bill now before Parliament, was ably and, as far as time would permit, exhaustively introduced by Mr. W. J. Wing, of Cambridge. There was a large attendance of members. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided.

THE PUBLIC DRAINS. 24th Nov. 1911

The methods adopted this autumn by the Swavesey Rural District Council in clearing out the large and vitally important drains in the parish of Swavesey are being much criticised. Notwithstanding a resolution, which, it is understood, was passed by the Council, that the work of clearance should be begun at the river end of a main drain, where practically nothing has been done for years, a start was made in the region of Cow Fen. When the more or less blocked river end was attacked, the heavy rains fell, the water rose, and work had to be stopped. It is alleged that the parishes of Swavesey and Fen Drayton, into which flood water from the surrounding district pours, do not receive fair treatment at the hands of the majority of the Council.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 24th Nov. 1911

The annual tea of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held on Monday evening in the Friends' Meeting House, Black Horse-lane, and was attended by about 120 persons. After the tables had been cleared there was a meeting, at which Mr. E. Parish, chairman of the Association, presided. Rev. A. C. Ashpool (Willingham Tabernacle), Mr. Parkin (late of Willingham), Mr. Brown (Cambridge), Mr. Evison (Fen Drayton), and others spoke, and a letter apologising for his absence was read from the Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P. The proceedings concluded with the usual votes of thanks.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 24th Nov. 1911

The Sunday school-room attached to Bethel Baptist Church has for some time been in urgent need of repairs, and these have been carried out as a recognition and appreciation of services rendered by Miss Starte to the Sunday school and chapel. Miss Starte, who is now on her way to India, declined to receive a testimonial on her leaving the village, and it is believed suggested that the money subscribed should be applied to the restoration of the schoolroom. The work has been satisfactorily carried out at a cost of about £30 by Mr. Robinson Mitham, and the building, it is satisfactory to record, has been re-opened free of debt. The re-opening was celebrated on Thursday last week by a public tea, at which about 90 sat down. The tables were presided over by Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. J. Day, Mrs. J. S. Goad, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. Wimpres and Miss Hayes. A public meeting followed under the presidency of Mr. Arthur Norman, deacon and treasurer, who vacated the chair later in the evening in favour of the Rev. G. Houghton, of Crayford. The Treasurer presented his financial report, which was deemed highly satisfactory, and he warmly eulogised Miss Starte and her work. A long programme followed.

(Long report)

PARISH COUNCIL. 1st Dec. 1911

A meeting of the Parish Council was held last evening (Thursday) in the National School.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 1st Dec. 1911

The Christian Endeavour Society will re-open on Monday evening for the winter session in the schoolroom attached to Bethel Chapel. There will be a tea for members at 5.45 p.m., during which a tea table talk will take place, and at 7 o'clock a meeting open to the public will be held. It is hoped that the Rev. H. Watts, who will shortly take up the pastorate at Swavesey, will be present.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 1st Dec. 1911

An entertainment, consisting of songs, choruses, recitations, etc., was given in the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Monday evening. Mr. A. Watts, of Over, who presided, and the Rev. L. Lancaster, the circuit minister, delivered addresses during the evening, the former making reference to a debt of £55 on the chapel which the connexion was anxious to liquidate.

BAPTIST MISSIONS. 1st Dec. 1911

On Sunday last special sermons were preached in Bethel Chapel on behalf of the Baptist Missionary Society, in the morning by the Rev. R. Spurgeon, of India, and in the evening by the Rev. A. C. Ashpool of Willingham. In the afternoon Mr. Ashpool addressed the young people of the congregation on the subject of missions. On Monday evening a public meeting was held in the chapel, at which an address was delivered by the Rev. W. B. Frame, who has laboured for many years on the Congo. He made special mention of the great progress made by missions in that district.

INSURANCE BILL. 1st Dec. 1911

A correspondent writes under date of Wednesday: - A Swavesey housewife to-day, in my presence, asked whether she would have to contribute towards the insurance of her washerwoman, whom she employed for one day at a time. She was told that she would have to do so, and was shown Mr. Lloyd George's reply to a similar question asked by a member of a deputation which had interviewed him on Tuesday. She then emphatically declared that in future she would do her own washing and not employ a woman!

PRIMROSE LEAGUE. 1st Dec. 1911

The members of the Swavesey branch of the Primrose League mustered in strong force at the National School on Thursday evening in last week. At six o'clock there was an excellent tea for associates only, and about 100 attended. The tables were presided over by Mrs. Long, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Gilby, Mrs. Scard, Mrs. Warboys, Miss Coote, the Misses Garner, and Miss S. Mitham. For the meeting and entertainment non-members were admitted, and the attendance, it is estimated, rose to nearly 200. The Rev. A. C. Vidler presided, and was supported by Lieutenant Boughey, R. N., the recently appointed Provincial Secretary of the Primrose League, and by Mr. W. C. Cole, President of the Swavesey Conservative Association. After songs had been sung, the Chairman called upon Lieut. Boughey to address the meeting. The gallant sailor spoke first of the aims and objects of the League, and urged the necessity for further work and increased energy. He briefly referred to many matters of interest, notably the Insurance Bill, Home Rule, the Navy and Army, the Disestablishment and Disendowment of the Church in Wales. An allusion to the fact that ladies have as yet no votes for Parliament provoked an indignant male elector to exclaim, "They ought not to have one." His interruption was received with great laughter. A mention of Mr. Bonar Law evoked loud applause. The speaker resumed his seat amidst loud applause, but to the great regret of all present, who regarded his speech as far too short. The musical entertainment was then resumed. After the votes of thanks the singing of the National Anthem brought a most pleasant and successful evening to a close.

(Long report)

DISESTABLISHMENT. 1st Dec. 1911

On Monday evening the large room of Swavesey National School was the scene of a memorable demonstration against the proposed Disestablishment and Disendowment of the Church in Wales. The audience was large, representative and enthusiastic, and consisted of as many men as women. The Vicar of Swavesey (the Rev. A. C. Vidler, R.D.) presided, and with him on the platform were the Rev. Canon Williams, Rector of Jeffreyston and Canon Residentiary of St. David's, and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. Working men and working women were largely represented.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 8th Dec. 1911

The Rev. H. Watts, who has recently accepted the call to the pastorate of the chapel, preached at the morning and evening services last Sunday at Bethel Baptist Chapel.

ILLNESS OF A PUBLIC OFFICIAL. 8th Dec. 1911

Many of our readers will regret to learn that Mr. Jesse Hepher, Registrar of Births and Deaths for the Swavesey Sub-District, is lying seriously ill at his residence in High-street. He had not been well for some days, and on Tuesday morning was stricken with sudden illness, at once losing consciousness.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR. 8th Dec. 1911

The open meeting of the winter session of the Bethel Baptist Christian Endeavour Society was held in Bethel Schoolroom on Monday evening. The proceedings commenced with a tea and tea-table talk for members, the "talk" being opened by the Rev. H. Watts, and being a new feature, was much enjoyed. A crowded public meeting followed, at which addresses were delivered by the Rev. H. Watts, who presided, and Messrs Norris, Conquest, Skinner, sen., and Skinner, jun. (of the Over Society), Gent, Surgeoner (St. Ives). Solos were rendered by Mrs. Green (St. Ives), Miss Alice Norman and Mr. E. Dodson (Swavesey), and Miss H. Causer gave a recitation. At the conclusion the Chairman thanked all those who had contributed towards the success of the meeting, which had been a very happy gathering.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 8th Dec, 1911

The usual fortnightly discussion was held on Wednesday evening at the Rooms of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, when the Rev. A. C. Vidler introduced the subject of the Disestablishment and Disendowment of the Church in Wales. Although handicapped by following the Revs. A. J. C. Allen and Canon Williams, both of whom had quite recently addressed public meetings in the village on the subject, Mr. Vidler succeeded in finding fresh points of interest and thoroughly capturing his audience. His replies to questions raised in the subsequent discussion were terse, and in every respect excellent. The speaker was greatly assisted by a capital map drawn specially for the occasion by Mr. C. Wood. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Vidler, on the proposal of the Chairman (Rev. J. F. Cooksey), seconded by Mr. W. H. Key. The attendance was good, notwithstanding a counter-attraction in the neighbourhood.

A FORTHCOMING MEETING. 8th Dec. 1911

Next Monday, at 7 p.m., a meeting of the Parish Council is to be held, which is likely to be interesting. The meeting is called for the special purpose of electing a chairman (the Council has been without that necessary official since last Spring, when Mr. E. Parish declined to continue in office), and of discussing the neglect of the main public drains by the District Council. It is understood that Mr. J. Linford, who was elected vice-chairman at the annual meeting of the Council, maintains that he became chairman by automatic process, as no other gentleman was appointed to the office, and that therefore the Council cannot eject him or appoint another chairman. Some people suggest that the proceedings of the Council have been illegal in the absence of a properly-elected chairman, and the Clerk at last week's meeting laid it down that Mr. Key, who, although not a councillor, was co-opted to the chair, but declined to act, is compelled to serve unless relieved by the Local Government Board. The situation is complicated, and the parishioners are awaiting the result of next Monday's meeting with interest.

PARISH COUNCIL. 8th Dec. 1911

An interesting and important meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week. Mr. Jethro Linford (vice-chairman) presided, the other councillors present being Messrs. W. Burton, W. Daisley, A. Day, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). After the minutes of the last meeting had been signed, it was resolved that a precept for £25 for the lighting rate be issued, and a special committee, consisting of the Vice-Chairman, the two overseers (both members of the Council) and Mr. A. Norman, was appointed to inquire into the present and future liabilities of the Council. A letter from the Lord of the Manor respecting the enfranchisement of certain copyhold land owned by the Council was then considered, and it was decided that the Council was not prepared to proceed with the matter at present. The question of raising the Clerk's salary from £2 10s. was the next item on the agenda. At the annual meeting an increase to £3 3s. was voted, but at the next meeting Mr. Day objected that no reference to the proposed alteration in pay had appeared in the agenda, so the question had to be brought forward again. Mr. Twist now proposed that the salary be raised to £3, the Vice-Chairman seconded, and some discussion ensued, during which the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham) announced that he would think over the matter and let the Council know whether he would accept their proposal. He maintained that the clerks of neighbouring councils were paid at a higher rate. The proposal was, however, carried, four voting in favour, and four abstaining from voting. The Clerk then offered to resign his office, and so as not to put the Council to inconvenience, undertook to perform the duties for three months at his present rate of pay.

THE GALE. 15th Dec. 1911

During the gale on Sunday a large and old weeping willow tree in the grounds in front of Ryder's Farm, the new headquarters of the Swavesey District Conservative Association, was blown down.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 15th Dec. 1911

The monthly meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in Mr. E. Parish's room on Monday evening, when Mr. J. Kellock, who is working under the auspices of the West Cambs. Liberal Association, went fully into the provisions of the National Insurance Bill. A good many questions were asked, which Mr. Kellock answered.

DEATHS. 15th Dec. 1911

Last Friday was a day of sorrow in Swavesey. Within twelve hours no fewer than three well-known Swavesey men passed to their rest, viz., Mr. Jesse Hepher, Registrar of Births and Deaths, at 12.45 a.m.; Mr. John Williams, parish clerk and sexton, at 4.30 a.m.; and Mr. William Wright about 11 a.m. Mr. Williams and Mr. Wright died in Addenbrooke's Hospital.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN WILLIAMS. 15th Dec. 1911

After a long and distressing illness, borne with great patience, Mr. J. Williams, coal merchant and parish clerk and sexton of Swavesey for many years, died at half-past four last Friday morning, at Addenbrooke's Hospital, of which institution he had been an in-patient for nearly four months. Mr. Williams was universally respected, and the news of his death, though not unexpected was received with general regret. He was sixty-six years of age, and leaves a widow, five sons (two of whom are in Australia) and two daughters, for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon in Swavesey Churchyard.

A VACANT OFFICE. 15th Dec. 1911

There is a general consensus of opinion in the neighbourhood that the new Registrar of Birth and Deaths for the Swavesey district should be resident in the district, and that the post should not be given to anyone living outside the county, as was the case two or three years ago, when a gentleman who resides in Huntingdon was appointed assistant overseer of Lolworth. It is felt that if the new registrar lives at a distance a hardship would be inflicted on persons having business with him who reside in outlying parts, as, for instance, the occupants of cottages in that portion of the parish of Boxworth which borders on the St. Neots-road. The registrarship has been held by Swavesey men for many years past, and Swavesey, being about the centre of the district, appears to be the most convenient place in which the new official should live. Mrs. H. S. Aldred, of Swavesey, daughter and deputy of the late Registrar, is acting as interim Registrar.

MR. WM. WRIGHT. 15th Dec. 1911

To the regret of his many friends, Mr. William Wright, of Askew-row, Swavesey, died last Friday, after an illness of thirteen weeks. An operation being deemed necessary, he was removed to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where, after a stay of a month, he passed peacefully away. Mr. Wright, who was 74 years of age, was the son of the late Mr. James Wright, of Swavesey, and in that village spent the whole of his long life. He leaves a widow, three sons and three daughters. The funeral was on Wednesday afternoon in Swavesey Nonconformist Cemetery, the service being taken by the Rev. H. Lancaster, assisted by Mr. G Green, of St. Ives. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Wright (widow), Messrs. Samuel, William and Alfred Wright (sons), Mrs. Honeybone, Mrs. Ablett and Miss Wright (daughters), Mr. W. Ablett (son-in-law), Mrs. S. Wright (daughter-in-law), Messrs. W. Ablett and Horace Wright (grandsons), Mrs. Kidman (sister) and Mrs. James Wright (sister-in-law). There were no flowers, by special request. The late Mr. Wright was a prominent member of the Primitive Methodist community in Swavesey.

DEATH OF MR. J. HEPHER. 15th Dec.

We regret to record the death, from an abscess in the region of the brain, of Mr. Jesse Hepher, which occurred at his residence in High-street, Swavesey, early last Friday morning, after an illness of three days. Mr. Hepher was the son of the late Mr. William Hepher, of Swavesey, and had lived in the village all his life, with the exception of about ten years spent at Upwood and Attleborough, Norfolk. He carried out a successful tailoring business and had customers in Cambridge, to and from which town, notwithstanding his advanced age, he frequently cycled laden with parcels. He was also Registrar of Births and Deaths for the Swavesey District, succeeding Mr. J. Rogers 14 years ago. Mr. Hepher, who was 71 years of age, and a widower, leaves six sons (one of whom is in the Far West of Canada, and has lost both father and mother during his 4½ years' absence) and a daughter to mourn their loss. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, the greater part of the service being held in the house. The Rev. J. Easter, pastor of Over Baptist Chapel, officiated. At the Cemetery many old friends and sympathising villagers assembled to pay their last tribute of respect. The chief mourners were: Mrs. H. S. Aldred (only daughter), Messrs. Frank Hepher, Albert Hepher (Datchet), Walter Hepher (Ealing), Thomas Hepher (Bristol), Wilfred Hepher (Gerrards Cross) (sons), Mr. Fred Hepher, of London (brother), and Mr. H. S. Aldred (son-in-law).

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 22nd Dec. 1911

Instead of a political discussion at the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association on Wednesday evening a lantern lecture on the British Navy was given by Mr. W. de L. Devereux. The subject was treated from an historical and strictly non-party point of view.

OBITUARY. 22nd Dec. 1911

Another aged inhabitant has passed away, the fourth within a week. On Thursday night, 14th, Miss Anna Garner died, aged 77 years. She was the sister of the late Mr. Jabez Garner and Mr. Thomas Garner, both of whom lived to a good old age. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon in Swavesey churchyard.

YOUTHFUL ARTISTS. 22nd Dec. 1911

Two scholars attending Swavesey National School, Arthur Beaumont, and Joseph Ding, have just distinguished themselves by executing some very creditable "brush work." Each without assistance has made a calendar decorated with a water-colour painting, young Ding's picture being a seascape, and Beaumont's a full-length portrait of a Dutch boy. The pictures were greatly enlarged from newspaper cuttings, and the colouring is entirely the youngsters' own idea. The calendar blocks are quite accurate, leap year notwithstanding.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 22nd Dec. 1911

The members of the White Horse Slate Club held their annual dinner at the White Horse Inn on Thursday, 14th inst., when an excellent and bounteous spread, provided for 40 persons, was thoroughly enjoyed. Dr. Ellis presided, and the vice-chair was taken by Mr. C. Wilkinson. After the tables had been cleared there was a social evening. A meeting for the share-out was held on Wednesday, 20th inst.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE PARISH CLERK. 22nd Dec. 1911

Amidst general manifestations of sympathy and respect the remains of the late Mr. John Williams, for 27 years Parish Clerk of Swavesey, whose death was announced last week, were laid to rest on Thursday afternoon, 14th December, under the shadow of the tower in which hung the bells he loved so well. A large congregation attended. As was appropriate, the bells he had helped to ring for half a century were fully muffled, and the full peal took the place of the usual knell of a single bell. The service was choral. The choir and clergy met the body and mourners at the churchyard gate, and as the sad procession passed slowly towards the porch the Vicar, Rev. A. C. Vidler, R.D., said the opening sentences of the Burial Service. On entering the church the hymn "Brief life is here our portion" was sung, and the 90th Psalm was chanted. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey read the lesson, and then followed Toplady's hymn, "Rock of Ages". As the body was borne down the church to the grave the bells again were heard, this time half open. The Vicar said the prayers of committal, and after one last look the mourners passed silently homewards, the bells ringing unmuffled. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Williams (widow), Messrs. Frank, Denis and Edward Williams (sons), Mrs. H. H. Berryman and Mrs. H. G. Key (daughters), Messrs. Jonas, Edward and David Williams (brothers), and Mrs.

J. Turner, Mrs. R. Prime and Mrs. C. Brett (sisters). It is interesting to record that the office of parish clerk and sexton at Swavesey had been held by a member of the late Mr. Williams' family for the last 97 years, viz., by Mr. William Hephher (his grandfather) for 54 years, by Mr. Edward Williams (his father) for 16 years, and by the deceased for 27 years.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 29th Dec. 1911

The Rev. H. Watts, the newly-appointed pastor at Bethel Baptist Chapel, commenced his duties on Sunday last, and preached at the morning and evening services.

CHRISTMAS SINGING. 29th Dec. 1911

Starting at about 11 p.m. on Christmas Eve, the Middle Watch choir, under the leadership of Mr. William Prior, perambulated the village from end to end and sang.

CHRISTMAS AT THE PARISH CHURCH. 29th Dec. 1911

The parish church was effectively decorated with flowers and evergreens for the Christmas festival. On Christmas Day Holy Communion was celebrated at 6, 7.30 and 11.15 a.m., the last service being sung to music by Hall. Matins was at 10.30 a.m., and Evensong, with sermon by the Vicar, at 3 p.m. All the services were well-attended.

SHARE-OUT CLUBS. 29th Dec. 1911

The members of the George and Dragon Mutual Benefit Club held their annual supper at their headquarters, the Little Rose, on Thursday, 21st inst., and full justice was done to the excellent and substantial meal provided in their well-known style by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke. There was a full attendance of members, and after supper the rest of the evening was spent in singing songs etc. The share-out amounted to 17s. 10d. per member clear, £15 6s. 8d. having been distributed in sick benefit during the year, and a levy of 6d. per member was made for the secretary's honorarium. The club's year consisted of 50 weeks. On the 20th inst. the share-out meeting of the White Horse slate club took place, and each member received the sum of 18s. The annual dinner of this club was held on Thursday, 14th inst.

HOME FROM AMERICA. 29th Dec. 1911

Mrs. George Gifford arrived in Swavesey from Memphis, U.S.A., on Saturday last, on a visit to her mother, Mrs. John Covell. Mrs. Gifford, who had the misfortune to lose her husband, a well-known Swavesey man, a year or so ago, went to the States many years back, and eight years have elapsed since she last re-visited the village. On the same evening Mr. Martin Surrey Caine, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caine, of High-street, was welcomed home after an absence in Canada of nearly 14 years; he left Swavesey on the 17th March 1898. About ten years ago he was joined by his younger brother, Mr. Harry L. Caine, and it is most pleasing to relate that the brothers, working together, have fared prosperously during their sojourn in the Far west. Mr. Martin S. Caine landed in Liverpool from the s.s. Teutonic last Thursday, and spent Friday and Saturday in London. Just before the end of his long journey across Canada the train in which he was travelling collided with another train, but fortunately, neither he nor any other passenger sustained injury beyond being shaken and bruised, but the locomotives of both trains were badly damaged. Mr. Caine proposes to remain in England about four months.

WASPS. 5th Jan. 1912

On Friday last, in Swavesey station yard, a number of live queen wasps were found in some heaps of granite. They were promptly destroyed.

PUBLICHOUSE CLOSED. 5th Jan. 1912

The Black Horse Inn closed its doors as a publichouse for the last time on Friday night, having been closed under the Compensation Act. No less than eight licensed houses have been shut up within the last few years.

THE PASSING OF THE OLD YEAR. 5th Jan. 1912

The old year was tolled out and the New Year rung in by the bells of the parish church. At the evening service on Sunday the Vicar preached an appropriate sermon, making special reference to the loss the church and parish had sustained by the deaths during the year of Mr. H. Beaumont and Mr. John Williams, who had for many years held the offices of schoolmaster and organist and clerk and sexton respectively.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 5th Jan. 1912

Mr. G. Douglas Newton was present at the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey Polling District Conservative and Unionist Association on Wednesday evening, and delivered an address on current politics. There was a very large attendance of members, who gave Mr. Newton an enthusiastic reception. The subject for discussion at the next meeting on the 17th instant is Home Rule, when the chief speaker will be a representative of the Irish Unionist Association.

IMPROVED POSTAL SERVICE. 5th Jan. 1912

It is understood that the representations from a Swavesey parish meeting in the autumn, backed up by the Member of Parliament for West Cambs., asking for an improved postal service, has been successful, and that in the near future letters, etc., from Swavesey which now fall into last delivery in Cambridge, will be included in the delivery which begins at 4.45 p.m., and also that a third delivery of letters in Swavesey in the evening will be established. The village of Over will participate in the improved service.

PERSONAL. 12th Jan. 1912

On Monday Mrs. Long, of the Priory, left Swavesey for Egypt, where she proposes to stay for a few weeks.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 12th Jan. 1912

On Wednesday evening Mr. Percy Prior gave an excellent gramophone entertainment at the rooms of the Swavesey District Conservative Association.

A LOCAL WILL. 12th Jan. 1912

Mr. John Williams, of Swavesey, whose death occurred on December 8th last, has left estate valued at £397 10s. His widow, Mrs. Jane Williams, of Swavesey, is the sole executrix.

LECTURE ON CANADA. 12th Jan. 1912

On Monday evening Mr. F. O. Chapman, an agent of the Canadian Government, gave his interesting and instructive lecture on Canada, illustrated by limelight views, in the National School. Considering the very wet night, the attendance was good.

NEW REGISTRAR OF BIRTHS, ETC. 12th Jan. 1912

Mr. H. S. Aldred, of London House, Swavesey, was at Wednesday's meeting of the St. Ives Board of Guardians selected out of five candidates for appointment as Registrar of Births and Deaths in the Swavesey district, rendered vacant by the death of the late Mr. Jesse Hepher.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 12th Jan. 1912

The monthly meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in Mr. Parish's Room on Monday evening. Mr. J. Kellock, the chief speaker, after answering questions respecting the Insurance Act, delivered an address on Home Rule. There was a fair attendance of members, although the weather was bad.

CHOIR SUPPER. 12th Jan. 1912

The adult members of the choir and ringers of the parish church, with the churchwardens and sidesmen, were entertained at supper at the National School on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Long, of the Priory. After supper, the Vicar, who presided, proposed the toast of the health of Mrs. Long, coupled with a vote of thanks for her hospitality. The toast was drunk with great heartiness. A social evening followed, during which songs were sung by members of the choir, and Mr. Skeeles, the organist, gave gramophone selections.

FIRST AID. 12th Jan. 1912

During the autumn a course of lectures on First Aid was given in Swavesey National School, and at its close an examination was held, at which most of the candidates were successful. Certificates have been awarded to the following: The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Messrs. Cyril and Christopher Day, Misses Frances Parish, Marguerite Parish and Rachel Day. Most of the successful candidates already belong to the Swavesey Voluntary Aid Detachment, and it is hoped that further recruits will speedily join. Full information can be obtained from Mrs. Cooksey, Swavesey Manor.

HOME MISSIONS. 12th Jan. 1912

The annual missionary tea, a Christmas fixture of many years' standing, was held in the schoolroom on Thursday evening, 4th inst. After tea an excellent lecture on the work of the Additional Curates' Society in South Wales was given by the Rev. T. G. Spurgin, A.C.S., District Organising Secretary. The lecture, which was illustrated with limelight views, covered the whole of the period during which the society has been at work. Many of the slides showed villages and towns as they were when the society began its work and as those villages and towns are at the present time.

ANNUS MIRABILIS. 12th Jan 1912

The year 1911 was notable in more than one respect so far as Swavesey was concerned. The census taken in April showed an increase in the population of about four – small, it is true, but still an increase, and gratifying seeing that in 1901 and in 1891 each census disclosed a drop in the population of the parish of about 150. During the year the new water supply was peacefully laid on in spite of indignation meetings held previously, and threats of angry opposition.

The water appears to give satisfaction to its users, but the cost of it does not. Farmers found the new supply of invaluable service for their stock when ponds were empty in the prolonged summer drought. As in other places, festivities in celebration of the Coronation were held in June. Bethel Baptist Chapel was for a lengthy period pastorless, the Rev. W. H. Stevens leaving in June for a wider sphere of work and usefulness in Yarmouth, while his successor, Rev. H. J. Watts, did not take up duty until December. From April until late in the year the Parish Council also was without a leader, the arduous duties of chairman being cheerfully and ably performed during the interregnum by the vice-chairman, Mr. Jethro Linford, until at length Mr. A. Day was appointed chairman.

(Long report)

SNOWSTORM. 19th Jan. 1912

During Tuesday and Wednesday nights snow fell heavily in Swavesey, and on Thursday morning the roads were covered to the depth of five or six inches.

A PUBLIC DANGER. 19th Jan. 1912

A correspondent calls attention to the dangerous condition of a stopcock box of the new water supply opposite the Rev. E. Short's house at Boxworth End. He says that the box projects considerably above the level of the footpath, and being insecurely fixed wobbles in such a way as to be likely to throw a person down in the dark.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 19th Jan. 1912

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association on Wednesday night Mr. Robert Fitzgerald Kilpatrick, of the Irish Unionist Associations, gave an interesting and able address on the Home Rule question. Notwithstanding the cold and stormy night there was a large attendance of members.

IMPROVED POSTAL SERVICE. 19th Jan. 1912

A second day mail delivery at Swavesey and Over has been authorised, and will commence on Monday, the 22nd inst. Letters, etc., will be delivered through both villages, the delivery commencing at Swavesey at 6.45 p.m., and Over about 7.10 p.m. Correspondence for Cambridge (town) posted in time for the existing midday despatch (viz., 1.30 p.m. at Over and 1.35 p.m. at Swavesey) should, on and after Monday, connect with the delivery in Cambridge at 4.45, instead of falling into the last delivery, as at present.

AN EARLY NEST AND A MUSHROOM. 26th Jan. 1912

On Monday, 15th inst., when cutting hay in a field near Swavesey Church, Mr. Jethro Linford discovered a robin's nest containing four newly-laid eggs. A few days earlier a mushroom measuring three inches in diameter was gathered in an open field near the station.

PARISH CHURCH. 26th Jan. 1912

Last Sunday evening the Rev. F. C. P. Clarke, organising secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel for the dioceses of Ely and St. Albans, and lately of Burmah, preached at the parish church. He dealt mainly with Buddhism. At the afternoon service he gave an interesting address to the children.

THE FLOODS. 26th Jan. 1912

Most of the low land around Swavesey is flooded, and the water is still steadily rising. There appears to be every prospect of a big flood. People living in cottages liable to be flooded are inquiring for fresh quarters to move into in case of need, but are experiencing great difficulty in finding them, owing to the absence of empty houses.

CONCERT. 26th Jan. 1912

The Magpies' Concert Party of Cambridge made their first bow to a Swavesey audience on Monday evening, when they provided the whole of the programme of an evening concert organised by the hon. secretary of the Swavesey District Conservative Association. The concert was a great success, though there is no doubt that the National schoolroom would have been more crowded if the weather had not conspired to keep people, especially those living at a distance, at home. From the beginning to the end every item of the interesting and varied programme was loudly applauded, serious songs receiving their quota equally with the humorous, quartettes and ditties. The general consensus of opinion in the village is that the concert was the best ever given in Swavesey, and the general wish is that the Magpies should pay another visit as soon as possible. The concert was under the patronage of Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglas Newton and Major Stanley, but, unfortunately, owing to the prior claims of a Primrose League function at Cottenham, none of them was able to be present.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th Jan. 1912

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Tuesday evening. Mr. A. Day (chairman) presided, and the following Councillors were present: Messrs. W. Daisley, J. S. Goad, W. Burton, J. Linford, W. Twist, R. Norman and J. W. Parish, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). - After the minutes had been signed a discussion ensued as to the deputation appointed at the last meeting to wait upon the Rural District Council as to the condition of the large public drains. - Mr. Burton then called attention to the Recreation Ground, and proposed that the money in hand, about £20, from rents and herbage letting, be forthwith spent in levelling the ground, and that if any money remained trees should be planted. - Mr. Twist seconded. - A long discussion followed, in which several suggestions were made for erecting seats, cleaning out of ditches, and draining. - Mr. Goad strongly recommended the provision of a cricket pitch with movable protecting fence. - Mr. Twist advocated levelling first, and then considering the other questions. - Mr. R. Norman proposed as an amendment that the work be confined to levelling and draining. - The Chairman seconded, but on being put to the vote three voted for the amendment and four for Mr. Burton's resolution, which was carried. - A small committee was appointed to supervise the work. - A letter from the Postmaster of Cambridge was read, asking whether the Council had any objection to the village sub-post office being closed at 2 p.m. on Saturdays. - The question was keenly debated, and in the end Mr. Daisley moved that the Postmaster be informed that the inconvenience to the public would be too great for the Council to agree to the closing of the office as suggested. - Mr. R. Norman seconded. Mr. Goad proposed an amendment that suggested early closing be approved provided that the 6.45 p.m. delivery be not interfered with. - Mr. Linford seconded. The Council then voted with the following result: For the amendment 3, for the resolution 2. - The Chairman proposed and Mr. Twist seconded, a resolution that the Clerk be instructed to write to the Postmaster-General, thanking him for granting the improved postal service, which came into force last Monday, and that Mr. Vincent be also thanked for his efforts in bringing about this much-desired improvement. The resolution was carried unanimously.

RECREATION GROUND. 2nd Feb. 1912

In consequence of the frost, the work of levelling the Recreation Ground, which should have been begun on Tuesday, has had to be postponed.

SKATING. 2nd Feb. 1912

There has been a good deal of skating around Swavesey during the week, and the ice has been in splendid condition. It has, however, been found impracticable to use Mere Fen owing to the water falling.

ACCIDENT. 2nd Feb. 1912

On Monday evening, whilst sliding on the ice on Church Green, John Parish, the small son of Mr. Z. Parish, butcher, of High-street, fell and struck his head severely. He was conveyed home in a semi-conscious state, and Dr. Ellis, who was summoned, found that he had sustained concussion of the brain. The boy is doing well.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 2nd Feb. 1912

Mr. J. Harvey Brain, the well-known speaker and Conservative agent for North Hunts., gave an eloquent address at the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative Association on Wednesday night. He took as his subject "A review of the present political situation." There was a large attendance of members.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 2nd Feb. 1912

The Swavesey District Voluntary Aid Detachment met at the National School last Saturday evening, and received instruction from Sergt. Caseley, of Cambridge. The first part of his time was chiefly devoted to showing the use of bandages, and the latter to teaching the men stretcher drill. He will attend again on Saturday 10th inst.

DANCE. 2nd Feb. 1912

On Thursday evening, 27th ulto., a dance, organised by a committee consisting of Messrs. James Prior, W. J. Hephher, and P. Walker, was held in the National School. The room was prettily decorated, and a pleasant evening was spent, dancing being kept up until a late hour. Mr. W. J. Wayman, of Over, acted as M.C., and the Misses Wayman and Miss Bavin presided in turns at the piano. Refreshments were provided by Mr. A. T. Scard.

THE NEW REGISTRAR OF BIRTHS &C. 2nd Feb. 1912

The Registrar has sanctioned the appointment of Mr. H. S. Aldred, London House, Swavesey, as Registrar of Births and Deaths in the Swavesey district in place of the late Mr. Jesse Hephher.

RECOGNITION SERVICES. 2nd Feb. 1912

The recognition services in connection with the installation of the Rev. Herbert J. Watts, the newly-appointed pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, on Monday last were the occasion of a notable gathering of ministers of the connexion and other leading men. At the afternoon service the chapel was fairly well filled. The Rev. A. T. Greenwood, secretary of the London Baptist Association, officiated, assisted by the new pastor. Mr. Greenwood also preached an able and forcible sermon. A public tea followed, at which 150 persons sat down. Owing to the number of gentlemen who were anxious to speed the new pastor on his way in his work being so great, it was found necessary to have speeches during tea time, and, therefore, the Revs. J. Easter (Over), W. E. Lusty (Chatteris), H. T. N. Ussher (Oakham), and Mr. A. S. Sims (deacon of Carpenter's-road Chapel, Stratford), who were briefly introduced by the senior deacon, Mr. Arthur Norman, briefly delivered short addresses. – At the evening meeting Mr. J. Chivers, J.P., presided over a large audience.

(Long report)

SKATING. 9th Feb. 1912

Notwithstanding the snow and the thaw, the ice on Mere Fen on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday was in very good condition, but the number of visitors has not been up to the average of previous years. On Sunday there was a large audience.

LANTERN LECTURE. 9th Feb. 1912

Last Friday evening an interesting and instructive lecture, entitled "How India was lost and won," was given in the National School by Mr. C. Wood, the schoolmaster, to members of the evening continuation classes and their friends. The lecture was illustrated by excellent lantern slides, obtained from Benson's Advertisement Department, London. At the close the Vicar warmly thanked Mr. Wood.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 16th Feb. 1912

The monthly meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held on Monday evening at Mr. E. Parish's Rooms, Middle Watch.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 16th Feb. 1912

The members of the Voluntary Aid Detachment, Swavesey district, held their second practice in the National School last Saturday evening, under the superintendence of Sergt. Caseley, of Cambridge. The ladies attended in force, but there is still an unfortunate shortage of men.

RECREATION GROUND. 16th Feb. 1912

The work of levelling the recreation ground, recently authorised by the Parish Council, was commenced on Monday morning, under the superintendence of Mr. George Clarke. The system adopted by the committee has, however, met with considerable criticism.

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 16th Feb. 1912

The first yearly distribution of tea and sugar under the bequest of the late Mr. Thomas Payne has been made on the anniversary of his birth. Thirty-seven needy widows and widowers participated. The trustees of the charity are the Vicar and Churchwardens of Swavesey for the time being.

BAD CONDITION OF CHURCH GREEN. 16th Feb. 1912

A Swavesey ratepayer complains that nothing has yet been done to repair the public footpath across Church Green, which for some time past has been in a disgraceful condition. He says that at the last meeting of the Parish Council the Clerk was instructed to interview the District Council Surveyor on the subject.

RARE BIRD FOUND. 16th Feb. 1912

A bird, said to be a little auk, was picked up in a ditch in Ramper-road during the recent flood. It was alive, and was taken care of by Mr. W. Crouch, who did all in his power to keep it alive. After two days he sent it to Cambridge, to ascertain what manner of bird it was, but it died before it got out of Swavesey parish. It has since been stuffed, and is in the possession of Mr. Warboys, Boxworth End, Swavesey.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 16th Feb. 1912

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey Polling District Conservative and Unionist Association on Wednesday evening, Mr. W. S. Spark gave an address on the Insurance Act. There was a large attendance of members. Every member of the association can introduce a friend to these meetings, and visitors so introduced are welcomed, no matter what their political opinions may be.

WHIST DRIVE. 16th Feb. 1912

A successful whist drive was held on Thursday evening, 8th inst., at the Rooms of the Swavesey Conservative Association, Ryder's Farm. Prizes were won as follows: Ladies, 1 Miss Mustill, 2 Mrs. J. Hawkes, booby prize, Miss May Wilkinson; Gentlemen, 1 Mr. A. T. Scard, 2 Mr. Walter Thorp, booby prize Mr. H. G. Key. The prizes, which were given away at the close of the evening by Mrs. W. C. Cole, were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Cole, Mr. C. Willson, Mr. H. G. Graves and Mr. Warboys.

CYCLIST KNOCKED DOWN BY HORSEMAN. 16th Feb. 1912

When cycling home from Cambridge last Saturday afternoon Mr. E. J. Warboys, a Swavesey farmer, was knocked down by a passing horseman about half-a-mile on the Huntingdon side of Girton College.

ASH WEDNESDAY. 23rd Feb. 1912

The special preacher at the evening service at the Parish Church on Ash Wednesday was the Rev. T. G. Spurgin, District Organising Secretary of the Additional Curates' society.

EARLY CLOSING OF POST OFFICE. 23rd Feb. 1912

On and after tomorrow (Saturday) Swavesey post office will be closed on Saturdays at 2 p.m., thus affording the sub-postmaster a much-needed and well-earned rest. The third delivery of letters at 6.45 p.m. and the night mail despatch at 7.40 p.m. will be made as on other week days. The nearest telegraph office is at Over.

LANTERN LECTURE. 23rd Feb. 1912

Last Friday evening Mr. C. Wood, schoolmaster, gave a most interesting lantern lecture in the National School to members of the Evening Continuation Classes and a considerable number of villagers, on the Coronation of King George V. His lecture was greatly appreciated. The slides were lent by Messrs. J. and J. Colman, of Norwich.

INSURANCE ACT. 23rd Feb. 1912

Under the auspices of the National Deposit Friendly Society, Mr. Harold Phillips, Divisional Secretary, gave an interesting address on Tuesday evening in the Infants' School on the National Insurance Act and how it affects Friendly Societies. The Rev. A. C. Vidler, vicar of Swavesey, presided. About fifty men attended, but no ladies, although they were specially invited. Many questions were asked and answered, and after the meeting Mr. Phillips, and Mr. E. J. Mitham, the local secretary, were engaged for some time replying to enquiries put privately.

ENTERTAINMENT. 23rd Feb. 1912

The large room of the National School was crowded with an enthusiastic audience of some 200 persons on Thursday evening, 15th inst., for an entertainment organised in aid of the Parish Church Sunday School and Choir Funds. The first part of the entertainment was of songs and duologues. The second part consisted of a fairy tale performance entitled, Beauty and the Beast.

(Long report)

THE CAUSEWAY. 1st March 1912

The raised causeway by the Swan pond, which has been falling to pieces for some time, has been repaired this week by the Rural District Council.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 1st March 1912

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, held at Ryder's Farm on Wednesday evening, Mr. W. de L. Devereux gave an instructive address on the Navy. He treated the subject from an entirely non-party point of view. There was a large attendance of members. During the evening the Chairman (Rev. J. F. Cooksey) read a letter from Major C. W. Stanley, President of the West Cambs. Conservative and Unionist Association, congratulating the Swavesey Association on its work and on the splendid attendances at the fortnightly meetings.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 8th March 1912

A whist match between the Swavesey and Willingham Conservative Associations was played on Wednesday evening in the rooms of the former association, Ryder's Farm. Sixteen played on each side. The result was: Swavesey 1,737 points, Willingham 1,598 points. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

THE STORM. 8th March 1912

During Monday afternoon and night storms of considerable violence visited Swavesey. Early on Tuesday morning about a dozen yards of the high brick wall on the north side of Mr. W. C. Cole's garden, Boxworth End, was blown down, and about the same time some farm buildings, belonging to Mr. Ebenezer Prime, on the opposite side of the road, were razed to the ground.

THE PUBLIC PUMPS. 8th March 1912

A correspondent writes: May I ask under whose control are the pumps belonging to the old water supply? One pump in Middle Watch has been out of order, and has been repaired by a ratepayer. Who is to pay the bill? The pumps are very useful, and it seems a pity to let them fall to pieces. It was understood the Parish Council were going to move in the matter, but they appear to have done nothing.

BELL-RINGING. 8th March 1912

In accordance with the terms of the bequest of the late Mr. George Long, of the Priory, Swavesey, the bells of the parish church were rung on Saturday, 2nd inst., the anniversary of his birthday. In the afternoon 720 changes were rung by the following team: Messrs. E. Prior (treble), Bert Hodson (2nd), D. Prime (3rd), Rivers (4th), H. D. Froment (5th) and W. Perry (tenor). During the evening the bells were rung again. Mr. Rivers acted as conductor.

CRICKET CLUB. 8th March 1912

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School on Thursday, 29th ult., Mr. T. Harris presiding. The following officers were elected for the coming season: Captain, Mr. C. Wood; vice-captain, Mr. T. Harris; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham; assistant secretary, Mr. E. J. Beaumont; committee, Messrs. C. Ding, W. F. Gleaves, R. Mitham, jun., S. F. Mitham and A. T. Scard. – A hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Ellis Long for once again allowing the club the free use of a field last year was adopted with acclamation.

PARISH COUNCIL. 8th March 1912

A meeting of the Parish Council was held last Friday evening, but as no notice thereof was allowed to reach the public we are unable to furnish any report of the proceedings which, it is understood, lasted for three hours or longer.

PRIMROSE LEAGUE. 8th March 1912

Under the auspices of the local branch of the Primrose League, a public meeting was held in the National School-room on Monday evening. Mrs. W. C. Cole, sub-warden, presided, and addresses on the National Insurance Act were given by Mrs. Smith, of Cambridge, and Mr. A. R. Fisher, of Peterhouse College, Cambridge. The attendance was excellent considering the stormy evening. Mr. Fisher spoke forcibly on the Post Office contributors, making special references to consumptives and persons ineligible for friendly society benefit. – Mrs. Smith, in her lengthy speech, dealt with the Act as applying to women generally, explaining in particular the maternity benefits. – On the proposal of Mrs. Cooksey, a vote of thanks to the speakers and to Mrs. Cole for presiding, was adopted unanimously. – Mrs. Long (dame) and Miss Kirke

Smith (warden) were unable to be present, the former owing to a previous engagement, and the latter to the stormy night.

DEATH FROM CANCER. 8th March 1912

Shortly after five o'clock last Saturday evening John Prime, third son of Mr. Alfred Prime, Taylor's-lane, passed away at the early age of 17 years, after a distressing and painful illness, borne with heroic patience. Six weeks ago he was admitted into Addenbrooke's Hospital suffering from cancer on his forehead. An operation was attempted, but it was found that nothing could be done, and at the end of a week he returned home. He rapidly got worse. His sufferings were intense, but he never uttered a murmur. Universal sympathy is felt for his bereaved family, especially as his mother, who has long been an invalid, is lying seriously ill. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Wednesday afternoon, in the presence of many sympathising friends. The Rev. A. C. Vidler (Vicar) officiated. Among the mourners the following attended: Mr. A. Prime (father), Messrs. A. Prime, J. Prime, H. Prime and B. Prime (brothers), the Misses E. Prime, May Prime, F. Prime, M. Prime and Ethel Prime (sisters).

CLERICAL CHANGES.

FROM SWAVESEY TO TEWIN. 8th March 1912

In a letter, dated the 3rd instant, which has been circulated throughout the parish of Swavesey, the Vicar (the Rev. A. C. Vidler) announces that having accepted a living in Hertfordshire on the presentation of Jesus College, Cambridge, he will be leaving Swavesey shortly after Easter. He speaks of seventeen very happy years he has spent in the parish, in which he will leave behind so much that will always be dear to him.

The news has been received with great universal regret, by many with feelings close to consternation, for Mr. Vidler has always identified himself most closely with the life of the village, its joys and its sorrows. A devoted parish priest, he has ever been ready in times of grief and distress with help and sympathy. He has taken a keen and, until recently, active interest in cricket and other games. Chairman of the Parish Council from 1896 to 1910, of the school managers, and of Galon's Charity, he has done yeoman service.

Mr. Vidler was educated at Jesus College, Cambridge, where he was a scholar, taking his degree in mathematical honours in 1875. He was ordained in the diocese of London, where he worked for eighteen years. He was Headmaster of St John at Hackney Grammar School for some years, which appointment he held in conjunction with the curacies of St. James, Clapton, and the parish church of St. John at Hackney. Mr. Vidler was appointed to the Vicarage of Swavesey in 1895, which living is in the presentation of his college, and in 1908 he was selected by the Bishop of Ely to succeed the late Rev. C. R. Crump as Rural Dean of North Stowe. He has held many diocesan offices. It is understood that the living to which Mr. Vidler has been appointed is that of Tewin, a village about four miles from Hertford.

SCHOOL CLOSED. 15th March 1912

In consequence of illness amongst the children, the National School has been closed for a fortnight, by direction of Dr. Anningson, Medical Officer of Health.

A REPREHENSIBLE ACT. 15th March 1912

Stout iron nails, with large flat heads, standing point upwards, were found on the main roadway of the village between Bethel Chapel and the school last Friday morning. It is suggested that they were intended to damage cycle and motor tyres.

B.W.T.A. 15th March 1912

A public meeting, under the auspices of the Swavesey Branch of the National British Women's Temperance Association, was held in Bethel Baptist Chapel on Monday evening. Rev. H. G. Watts, pastor, occupied the chair, and Mrs. Lynch, of Cambridge, gave an address. Solos were sung by Mrs. Wheeler, of St. Ives, and Mrs. H. S. Aldred presided at the organ. Before the meeting Mrs. R. Watts White (president of the branch) entertained the members to tea in the chapel schoolroom.

RECREATION GROUND. 15th March 1912

Four horse chestnut trees were planted along the main road side of the Recreation Ground on Monday afternoon by the committee of the Parish Council recently appointed to superintend the levelling of the ground. The trees, which are protected by iron guards, are immediately opposite the school, and it is suggested that in selecting chestnut trees the committee desired to furnish amusement for the school boys of future generations in their leisure time. A parishioner suggests that apple, or, if they could be induced to grow, orange trees might give still greater pleasure to the youngsters.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 15th March 1912

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association at Ryder's Farm on Wednesday evening, Mr. C. H. Wilkinson, of Cambridge, gave a striking address on Tariff Reform. So interested was the crowded audience in the subject that the meeting did not close until ten o'clock. A cordial vote of thanks to the speaker, proposed by Mr. S. W. Crisp, seconded by Mr. Warboys, was carried unanimously.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd March 1912

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Thursday evening, 14th inst., and was attended by Councillors A. Day (chairman), Jethro Linford (vice-chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, J. S. Goad, A. Norman, J.W. Parish, W. Twist and Mr. Robinson Mitham (Clerk). – There were several parishioners present. – After the minutes of the last meeting had been confirmed, Mr. Burton presented the accounts of expenditure incurred in levelling the Recreation Ground and planting trees thereon, from which it appeared that the total cost of the work and trees with their guards was £19 17s 4d., leaving a balance of one penny in the Recreation Ground special banking account. Mr. Goad and the Chairman expressed the opinion that it would have been better to have spent more on the levelling. – The election of a Parish Council representative to serve on the board of feoffees of Galon's Charity was then proceeded with. Eventually after much discussion and voting Mr. S. Wright was elected.

The Chairman reported that he had received a letter from the Swavesey representative of the "Weekly News" asking that arrangements might be made whereby local representatives of the Press might be given notice of meetings of the Council. A resolution was carried that the Clerk should send such notices. The Clerk announced that he would not undertake any extra work as his pay was inadequate, and he emphatically declined to send the necessary notices.

AN INVOLUNTARY BATH. 29th March 1912

On Saturday afternoon a man took a horse and empty farm cart into the school pond. As the animal was going in too far the man scrambled on to its back, and when reaching for the reins the horse jumped on, and threw him head over heels into the water.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 29th March 1912

At the fortnightly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association at Ryder's Farm, on Wednesday evening, Mr. E. Percival Smith, of the New Carlton Club, gave an able address on the new suffrage proposals, the Constitutional question, and the coal strike.

PARISH MEETING. 29th March 1912

The annual parish meeting was held in the Infants' School on Monday evening, under the presidency of Mr. Alfred Day (Chairman of the Parish Council). There was a fair attendance of ratepayers. – After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read, and confirmed, the year's accounts of Galon's Charity, the Parish Council and the Overseers were submitted and discussed at considerable length. During the discussion which followed the reading of the accounts, several ratepayers called attention to long-standing arrears, and there were strong expressions of dissatisfaction as to the system under which certain ratepayers, who were not the least able to pay, invariably paid their rates after they were in arrears. A proposal that a resolution on the subject should be passed was met by a suggestion from the Chairman that the object in view might be attained if the strongly-expressed opinion of the meeting were reported in the local Press. – The suggestion was adopted. The Chairman dealt with a criticism of the Recreation Ground accounts in a very happy way. "We can't say," said he, "that the men did not work hard, for they actually broke a fork." – An item of 2s. for a broken fork appeared in the accounts. – The Rev. J. F. Cooksey called attention to the bad condition of certain footpaths, specially mentioning the path across Church Green. – The Chairman explained that the Rural District Council had control of the paths, and that gravel had already been ordered for their repair.
(Long report)

PARISH COUNCIL. 29th March 1912

The Parish Council met on Thursday, 21st inst., in the Infants' School. The minutes of the previous meeting having been signed, the Chairman raised the question of the Clerk's refusal to send notice of intended meetings to local Press representatives. After some discussion he withdrew his objection.

DOG KILLED. 5th April 1912

On Tuesday a dog belonging to Mr. Alfred Spolton, the keeper of Mow Fen Railway Gate, was killed by a passing train on the G.E. R.

STRANGE NURSING MOTHER. 5th April 1912

A resident of Middle Watch recently found a nest of four or five tiny wild rabbits. He took them home and his cat is rearing them.

MISHAPS. 5th April 1912

Whilst chopping wood on Saturday at the Hill Farm a lad named Tom Froment severely cut his knee. He was taken home and a doctor summoned. He is doing well. – On the same day a man engaged in repairing the banks near the river fell off a plank into a large brook taking his wheelbarrow with him. He was covered with mud, and had to return home to change his clothing.

DROVE LETTING. 5th April 1912

By direction of the Rural District Council the annual letting of the droves, etc., in Swavesey parish was held at the White Horse Inn, Mr. C. W. Underwood, of Willingham, being the auctioneer. There was a good attendance, and at times the bidding was brisk. The droves were put up in separate lots, and realised £24 5s., £2 less than last year. By order of the Parish Council the herbage of the Recreation Ground for the year ending 31st March next year was also put up, and was knocked down to Mr. Alfred Day for £3, the sum realised last year.

PARISH CONSTABLE. 12th April 1912

Mr. Charles Burling has been re-appointed parish constable.

VESTRY MEETING. 12th April 1912

At the Easter Vestry meeting, held in the parish church on Monday evening, Messrs. W. H. Key and Walter Thorp were re-elected churchwardens for the ensuing year.

OBITUARY. 12th April 1912

We regret to announce that Mrs. Richardson, mother of Mrs. R. E. Bartley, Burnham Cottage, Swavesey, died on Thursday afternoon, 4th inst., at Bognor. Mrs. Richardson had been a frequent visitor to Swavesey.

CORRECTION. 12th April 1912

Through a printer's error the amounts realised by the letting of the herbage of the droveways and recreation ground were not correctly stated last week. The droveways realised £24 5s., being £3 less than last year, and the recreation ground £4, the same sum as in 1911.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE. 12th April 1912

A Swavesey housewife the other day sent to a village shop for some "Bright eye," and told the messenger to ask for variegated colours. Thinking that perhaps he might not understand the long word, she explained that she wanted all colours. On his return the lady opened the parcel, and instead of a skein of crewel work silk she found a small box labelled "Rub Well." When questioned as to what he had asked for, the messenger replied "Something for the missus's eye – all colours." Like the navvy in the well-known story who observed with sorrow "There ain't no word for it," the lady then realised that our beautiful English language has its limitations.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 12th April 1912

A public tea was held in the Bethel Baptist Chapel schoolroom on Good Friday afternoon, at which about 90 persons were present. The tables were presided over by Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. W. Day, Mrs. M. Payne, Mrs. W. Savage, Mrs. Godfrey, Miss Day, Miss Hayes, Miss C. Parish, Miss Wimpres, and Miss H. Smith. At 6.45 p.m. a service of song, entitled "The Cabin Boy's Bible," was successfully given in the chapel by an augmented choir of 38 voices, in the presence of a large and appreciative congregation. The connective readings were given by Mrs. J. H. Watts, Mr. J. Williams presided at the organ, and the solos were rendered by Miss M. Norman, Hill Farm. Rev. J. H. Watts, pastor, conducted. A collection was taken on behalf of the chapel funds.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 12th April 1912

The services during Holy Week and on Good Friday were well attended. The three hours' service was not held this year, but addresses on the seven last words from the Cross were given by the Vicar on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and at the three services on Good Friday. On Easter Day the church was nicely decorated. Good congregations were present, and the services were bright and hearty. The Vicar preached at Evensong.

THE ECLIPSE. 19th April 1912

Keen interest was taken in the village in the solar eclipse on Wednesday. For three hours groups of interested spectators were to be seen in the streets, gardens, fields, and other open spaces, gazing skywards through pieces of smoked glass and cards pricked with pinholes. The school children were taken by their teachers to the Recreation Ground and there given an object lesson of unusual interest.

PARISH CHURCH. 19th April 1912

At a meeting of the congregation of the parish church, held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week, the church accounts for the year ending Easter were submitted and approved.

SWAVESEY CONSERVATIVES.
ASSOCIATION'S ANNUAL TEA.

MR. NEWTON ON HOME RULE. 19th April 1912

A most successful and enjoyable function was held in the Schoolroom, Swavesey, on Monday evening, in the annual meat tea and smoking concert of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Newton attended. After the tea, Mr. Newton, responding to a toast, dealt with Home Rule, Disestablishment, and other phases of current politics. There were several other speakers, and the musical part of the proceedings was most ably provided by the Magpies (Cambridge). There was a very large attendance.

(Long report)

EARLIER CLOSING. 26th April 1912

Under the provisions of the Shops Act which comes into force on May 1st, the grocers' and drapers' shops in Swavesey will in future be closed at 1 p.m. on Thursdays.

WALLMAN'S-LANE. 26th April 1912

A six-inch pipe drain is being put in this week in place of the open sewer in Wallman's-lane. The work is being done by Mr. Edmund Furniss, of Fen Drayton, under the supervision of Mr. F. G. Reynold, Sanitary Inspector of the Swavesey Rural District Council.

THE BROOKS. 26th April 1912

The work of clearing out the mud from Sandholes Drain was commenced on Monday last. Some dissatisfaction was caused by more Over men being employed on the job than Swavesey men, but it is understood that an explanation of what on the face of it appears undue preference is forthcoming.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 26th April 1912

The last of the fortnightly meetings organised by the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association during the winter season was held at Ryder's Farm on Wednesday evening. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Chairman of the Association, presided, and Mr. C. W. Stanley, Unionist Leader in West Cambs., gave an earnest and instructive address on general politics. He also warmly congratulated the officers and members of the Association on their successful gatherings, and referred in terms of gratitude to Mrs. Long and Mrs.

J. B. Ellis, who had made the meetings possible by placing Ryder's Farmhouse at the disposal of the Committee.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 26th April 1912

The closing tea of the members of the Friends' Band of Hope and Mothers' Meeting respectively was held in the Friends' Meeting House, Black Horse-lane, on Monday evening. There was a good attendance. The tables were presided over by Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Plowman, Mrs. G. Hawkes, and the ladies from Wisbech, who were assiduous in their care for their guests. During the meal Mrs. Near, of Wisbech, gave an interesting tea table talk. A public entertainment and meeting followed under the presidency of Dr. Watts White, of St. Ives, who took the place of Mrs. Watts White, regrettably absent. The entertainment, which consisted of action songs, recitations, drill, dialogues, etc., was given by the youthful members of the Band of Hope, who gave great satisfaction. During the proceedings Mrs. Near delivered a prayer, Mrs. Cope, of Wisbech, gave an address, and Dr. White also spoke. The general management was in the capable hands of Miss F. Gaunt, who is the mainstay of all work at the Friends' Meeting House. Mrs. Runham acted as accompanist.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th April 1912

The annual meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Thursday 18th April and was attended by Messrs. A. Day (chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, J. S. Goad, Jethro Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, J. W. Parish, W. Twist, and R. Mitham (clerk). The attendance of the public was larger than usual. The first business was to elect a chairman for the ensuing year, during which Mr. Linford presided temporarily. Mr. Twist proposed, and Mr. A. Norman seconded, a resolution that Mr. A. Day be again chairman. The resolution was carried unanimously, and Mr. Day took the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were then read, and after some discussion signed, and the following appointments were made: - Overseers, Messrs. Leonard A. Parish and H. H. Williams; pinder, Mr. S. Wilderspin, sen.; vice-chairman of Council, Mr. Jethro Linford. The Fire Engine and Street Lighting Committees were reappointed. The next item on the agenda was the question whether the Parish Council should take over the old and condemned water supply and the public pumps from the District Council. Mr. A. Norman asked if the District Council were prepared to hand over the control of the old supply. The Chairman replied in the affirmative, and read the following letter from the Clerk of the District Council, Mr. G. D. Day: "The Council at their meeting to-day decided to hand over to your Council the control, repair and user of the public pumps in your parish, provided that you should see that there was clearly painted on each pump and kept legibly painted the following words or words to the like effect: 'This water is not to be used for drinking purposes, under penalty.' If it is found that the water from the public pumps is used for drinking purposes, it will be the duty of the District Council to take proceedings, and it might, of course, become necessary for the wells to be permanently closed." The reading of the letter caused some surprise and consternation, for there are many premises in the village not yet connected with the new public water supply, and many householders who depend on the old pumps for drinking purposes.

CRICKET CLUB. 3rd May 1912

Mr. James Parsons has handed a donation of £1 to the secretary of the Cricket Club.

ENTERTAINMENT. 3rd May 1912

On Thursday evening in last week a highly-successful dramatic entertainment, in which all performers belonged to Swavesey, was given at the National School in aid of the Cricket Club. The large room was crowded with a thoroughly appreciative audience, and the net financial result was £6. The entertainment was organised by Mr. C. Wood, captain of the club, who acted as coach and stage manager, and he is to be congratulated on the result of his work. The programme was a musical farce, "Seaside Lodgings". At the conclusion of the evening Dr. R. Ellis moved a vote of thanks to all the performers, and wished the Cricket Club all success in the coming season. The Vicar seconded, and the resolution having been carried by acclamation, Mr. Wood briefly replied.

WAR ON WASPS. 17th May 1912

It is suggested that efforts should be made to deal with the wasp pest this year by offering a reward for every queen killed. It is understood that Mr. H. S. Aldred will act as receiver of wasps, if other persons interested will assist by raising the necessary funds.

THE FEAST. 17th May 1912

The annual feast opens on Sunday. Owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever in the village, the District and Parish Councils are warning visitors as to the risks they run in attending, so it is to be feared that many regular attendants will be absent this year.

CRICKET CLUB. 17th May 1912

The Swavesey Cricket Club scored their second victory in the Milton and District League last Saturday by defeating Histon Institute. Tomorrow they play a League fixture at home against Willingham. Three matches have been arranged for the feast week, viz.: against Lolworth on Monday (half-day), against Hilton on Tuesday (whole day), and against Fenstanton on Wednesday (half-day).

PARISH COUNCIL AND THE FEVER EPIDEMIC. 17th May 1912

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Monday evening to consider whether any, and if so what, steps could be taken to postpone the village Feast, in view of the outbreak of scarlet fever in the parish, and to prevent the spread of the disease to other places. There were present: Messrs. A Day (chairman), Jethro Linford (vice-chairman), W. Burton, A. Norman, R. Norman, W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The minutes of the previous meeting having been confirmed, the Chairman announced that he had received a letter from the Vicar of Swavesey, writing on behalf of the school managers, urging a postponement of the Feast, or, if that were not practicable, the issue of warning notices to the inhabitants of the parish and to visitors; and adding that he had written to a like effect to the Clerk of the Swavesey Rural District Council. – The Chairman said that he fully realised the seriousness of the situation and that it was the duty of the Council to do all in its power to prevent the spread of the disease by visitors to the Feast and the show-people carrying infection away with them. They must think of their neighbours. He was afraid that not sufficient care had been taken at the beginning of the outbreak. One great thing would be to postpone the Feast, which, in accordance with ancient custom, was due to open next Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Norman said that he was in full sympathy with the Vicar's letter. It was their duty, and the duty of everyone to take all possible precautions. But what could be done? Time was short.

Mr. Twist remarked on the shortness of time; a month ago effective measures could have been adopted.

Mr. Burton suggested that Messrs. Thurston, who were advertised as intending to be at the Feast, should be written to, and asked to postpone their visit. There had been, he remarked, several cases of fever in Market-street, where the Feast was held.

The Clerk thought that Messrs. Thurston might be asked to sprinkle the platforms of their roundabouts with disinfectants, and also disinfect the money received by them. Mr. Burton remarked, "The money wants disinfecting before Messrs. Thurston take it to be of any use."

The Chairman then submitted two suggestions: (1) A letter to the Local Government Board asking whether steps could be taken to postpone the Feast; (2) whether the Council could prevent the entry of caravans into the village during Feast Sunday. The arrival of caravans at all hours caused much commotion, and interfered with church and chapel services.

Mr. A. Norman proposed that an advertisement should be inserted in the local papers calling attention to the epidemic, and that warning notices should be posted in the village. (Printed notices have been issued by the District Council warning visitors and urging parents not to allow their children to attend the Feast.)

After a long discussion, a resolution, moved by Mr. A. Norman, seconded by Mr. Linford, was carried unanimously, that letters be written to the Local Government Board and to the District Council on the lines suggested by the Chairman, and that advertisements be inserted in the "Weekly News" and "Independent Press." – Mr. Burton proposed, and Mr. Twist seconded, a further resolution that Messrs. Thurston should be asked to postpone their visit. This was carried, nem. con. – After some routine business, the Council separated, having sat for about two hours. – It is understood the question of the epidemic will be discussed at today's meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Council. Much comment has been made on the fact that when it was desired to remove cases to the isolation hospital at Oakington, no beds were available, and that when, after an appreciable interval, a bed was vacant, a convalescent patient was removed in preference to a more urgent case. It is also contended that much might have been done to check the spread of the illness, if isolation hospital accommodation had been available.

HOME FROM AUSTRALIA. 24th May 1912

Mr. James Dean, eldest son of Mrs. Dean, of Carter's-lane, arrived in Swavesey from Australia last Saturday evening, and received a hearty welcome from his friends.

A MISHAP. 24th May 1912

On Monday about noon a large truck, heavily laden with granite and drawn by a small traction engine, came to grief when passing the Swan Pond. The wheels of the truck sank up to the hubs when the new water supply pipes had been laid. Three jacks had to be requisitioned, and the timber borrowed from Mr. R. Mitham before the truck could be hoisted out, and the hole filled in. The incident attracted a small crowd.

CRICKET CLUB. 24th May 1912

The bat and ball which Ezra Williams, a native of Swavesey, now in business in Sydney, New South Wales, promised to present to the batsman and the bowler who had the best averages last season, have arrived in the village, having been brought from Australia by Mr. James Dean. The bat has been handed to Mr. T. Harris, and the ball to Mr. S. J. Froment. Both bat and ball were of English make, and therefore travelled some 26,000 miles before reaching the recipients. Mr. Williams has also sent a donation of £1 to the club.

OBITUARY. 24th May 1912

We regret to record the death of Clarence Prior, youngest son of the late Mr. Garner Prior, of this district, who passed away at the early age of seventeen years, on April 25th, at Gateshead. Great sympathy is felt for his mother at the loss of her brilliant son.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 24th May 1912

The members of the Swavesey Voluntary Aid Detachment spent a very interesting and instructive time in "Field training" on Saturday under the able directorship of Staff-Sergt.-Instructor Caseley, Cambridge University Officers' Training Corps. A portion of the cricket field of the Swavesey Cricket Club had been placed at the service of the Commandant of the Detachment (Mrs. R. Ellis Long), who was supported by the Quartermaster (Mrs. Cooksey) and Section Leader (Rev. E. Young). Field trench kitchens, incinerator, and sanitary services were prepared, the Detachment doing the work in an exceedingly brilliant manner. In the case of the field trench kitchen section, who worked under their section commander, Mr. Young, a fire was made to test the efficacy of their work, which gave satisfactory results. The various points and uses of the incinerator and sanitary services were fully explained to the Detachment by Staff-Sergt.-Instructor Casely, after which the buildings were levelled to the ground, the earth and sods replaced, the Detachment being well pleased with the result of their work and the knowledge they had gained in practical field training. – The annual inspection of the Detachment will take place to-day (Friday) at 5.30 p.m., in the garden of Swavesey Manor, kindly lent by the Rev. J. F. and Mrs. Cooksey, the inspecting officer being Major Begbie, R.A.M.C., of the Eastern Command, Colchester. On Saturday, 1st June, the Detachment will undergo training in conversion of wagons and improvisation of stretchers for use in the field with ambulance units.

THE FEAST. 24th May 1912

The warnings issued by the District and Parish Councils to intending visitors and the show people had the effect of keeping both visitors and show people away from the village, and the feast can hardly be said to have taken place at all. Instead of crowds of visitors and animated streets on Sunday the village was quieter than on an ordinary Sunday. On Monday three stalls and a cocoanut shy were erected. An enterprising tradesman from Cambridge also put in an appearance, but after a few hours he packed up and disappeared. With the exception of a religious meeting in Market-street on Sunday night, cricket matches, at which the attendance of the public was small, were the only gatherings of interest. On Monday a team, composed mainly of juveniles, was handsomely defeated by Lolworth. On Tuesday Hilton, who arrived four men short – they deemed discretion is the better part of valour, so it is reported, in view of the prevalence of scarlet fever – put up a good game. The places of the absent four were taken by Swavesey men. The home eleven, who played well, scored a well-merited victory. Fenstanton should have played on Wednesday, but scratched on account of the epidemic, and a Married v. Single match was played instead. Last evening a team of married ladies arranged to play an eleven composed of their husbands, weather permitting. While undoubtedly the District and Parish Councils acted wisely in warning people from attending the feast, it is much to be regretted that sensational scaremongers did not ascertain the true state of affairs before alarming the neighbourhood with lying reports.

SCHOOLS RE-OPENED. 31st May 1912

Having been closed on account of illness amongst the children, the National Schools were re-opened on Tuesday morning.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 31st May 1912

A blue cap's nest, containing eleven eggs, has been found by Mr. W. J. Hepher on the top of the barrel of a pump on the Parish Council property in High-street. The pump, which is cased with wood, is in daily use.

INSPECTION. 31st May 1912

Last Friday afternoon, in the garden of Swavesey Manor, the Swavesey Voluntary Aid Detachment had to stand the ordeal of inspection, the first since the formation of the detachment. The Inspecting Officer was Major Begbie, R.A.M.C., Eastern Command, Colchester, and his inspection was most searching and thorough. He was not content with seeing things done; he wanted to know reasons for the doing. There was a good muster of both men's and women's sections. The work included stretcher drill, bandaging and cooking, the loading of a wagon (a table was used), a hospital containing three beds was rigged up in the coachhouse. After the inspection the detachment, drawn up in line, was addressed by Major Begbie. He expressed satisfaction with the way in which the work had been done. He had inspected many similar detachments, and he could say that the Swavesey detachment had acquitted themselves quite as well as any he had seen. He was specially pleased to find a men's section, as it was only in few places that he had met with one. The officers of the detachment present were: Mrs. R. Ellis Long (commandant), Mrs. T. E. Beckett (Lady Superintendent), the Revs. J. F. Cooksey and E. Young (section leaders) and Dr. Robert Ellis (medical officer).

"HUSBANDS VERSUS WIVES." 31st May 1912

The title of this paragraph does not mean that the husbands of Swavesey have been at variance with their better halves. On the contrary, there is nothing but domestic bliss in the village, and this paragraph is merely the record of two famous cricket matches. Originally it was intended that a team of married ladies should play an eleven of their own husbands, but this could not be arranged, and the elevens were composed of married men and married women. The first match was played on Thursday, the 23rd inst., and was won by the better halves. The men played left-handed, batted with cudgels and wore top hats, which caused some of them much inconvenience. Mr. Warboys' hat was as wide as his bowling. There were many spectators, who laughed heartily at the numerous amusing incidents, the funniest being when Mr. Cole, tall and bulky, and Mr. Warboys, neither tall nor bulky, came into collision when both were trying to catch a ball. The bowling of Mrs. Wood was too good for the men, Mr. Goad alone excepted. On Whitsun Monday the return game was played, which was won by the men. The men came determined to win, and had massive sticks specially prepared by Mr. Walter Thorp, the handles of which had been bound, and one had even been varnished. The ladies not unnaturally protested, and some of the most pronounced cudgels were disallowed.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 7th June 1912

Anniversary services were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday, special sermons being preached in the afternoon and evening by Mr. Calcott of Coventry. The services were well attended, especially that in the evening, many friends from the neighbouring villages and St. Ives being present.

Between the services there was a public tea, at which the tables were presided over by Mrs. A. Day, Mrs. J. Linford, Mrs. W. Linford, Mrs. E. Parish, Mrs. W. Parish, Mrs. Z. Parish, and Mrs. A. Williams.

FETE AND SALE OF WORK. 7th June 1912

The Vicar will be leaving the parish shortly for Tewin, Herts., to which living he has been appointed by the Master and Fellows of Jesus College, Cambridge, but before he goes he is making an effort to pay off the deficit on the church expenses account. With the concurrence and assistance of the Churchwardens and church workers, he has decided to hold a garden fete and sale of work in the Vicarage grounds on Thursday, 18th July, and a meeting to make preliminary arrangements was held in the National School on Monday evening last.

EARLY BIRDS. 14th June 1912

Last Saturday Mr. E. J. Warboys discovered a covey of young partridges, English birds, on his land in Swavesey.

CRICKET CLUB. 14th June 1912

Mr. G. Douglas Newton, prospective Unionist candidate for West. Cambs. has sent a donation of ten shillings to the Swavesey Cricket Club.

ACCIDENT. 14th June 1912

On Monday a horse drawing a cart ran away in Swavesey Railway Station Yard, and a young man named Lambert, of Fen Drayton, in stopping the runaway, received injury. On his way back to Fen Drayton he was examined by Dr. Ellis, who was able to assure him that he was not seriously hurt.

POSTAL INFORMATION. 14th June 1912

Another facility has been afforded by the Post Office Authorities. Letters, etc., addressed to the persons in Swavesey which have been posted during the morning at Lolworth, Boxworth, Elsworth, Conington, Fen Drayton, Papworth Everard, and Papworth St. Agnes can now be obtained on application after 2 p.m. at Swavesey Post Office.

CRICKET. 14th June 1912

S.J. Froment, an old and most useful member of the Swavesey Cricket Club has been doing yeoman service for the Spaldwick, Hunts., Club, of which he is captain this year. Playing against Leighton a week ago he collared six wickets in an innings. Froment during this season has taken 39 wickets for 160 runs, an average of 4.1 per wicket.

A PROTEST. 14th June 1912

We have received a communication from Mr. W. Thorp, of Swavesey, complaining that the recent ladies and gentlemen's cricket match was not fought out with that keen spirit of rivalry which is supposed to actuate the players of our national game. Husbands, he declares, occasionally managed to misjudge a ball when driven from the bat of their better half, and mulled the easiest of catches. He also criticises the objections that were raised to some of the sticks used as bats by the Benedicts, and hopes that if another game of the kind is played it will be fought on stricter lines. – We regret we are unable to give the whole of Mr. Thorp's letter, but it is too personal for publication in full.

THE TEMPEST. 14th June 1912

On Sunday evening, about 7 o'clock, a storm of rain and hail fell in Swavesey, the heaviest downpour, so say old inhabitants, for many a long year. Roads were flooded in places, and the Swan pond, which had been emptied by Mr. R. Mitham to enable him to build a retaining wall in connection with the widening of the County Council of the high road, was speedily filled up and mud washed into the trench dug for the foundation. The evening service at the parish church was interfered with. The vicar's voice was inaudible even to those near him, and even the organ could hardly be heard. Between 10 and 11 p.m. there was another tremendous downfall of rain and hail. As a result of the recent heavy rains Mere Fen is partially flooded.

SPINSTERS VERSUS BACHELORS. 14th June 1912

An interesting ladies' and gentlemen's cricket match was played on Thursday evening, the 6th inst., resulting in a win for the gentlemen by 8 runs on the first innings. The teams on this occasion were composed of single ladies and gentlemen. The latter were restricted to the use of their left hands only, and were attired in top hats of various sizes, which caused them some little discomfort, and the spectators some amusement. Owing to the bad light it was not possible to complete two innings, and this spoiled an interesting finish. One gentleman who ventured too close in had his hat gracefully removed by a lady with a hard drive.

CARRIER'S BUSINESS. 21st June 1912

Edward Williams, Market-street, Swavesey, begs to inform the public of Swavesey, Fen Drayton, and district that he has taken over the Carrier's Business recently carried on by his brother, Frank Williams. He will still put up at the Marquis of Granby, Cambridge, and the Crown Yard, St. Ives.

THE KENSITITES. 21st June 1912

Two Wycliff Preachers held a meeting outside the shop of Mr. Williamson, butcher, Church End, on Tuesday evening, but attracted little attention.

EARLIER BIRDS. 21st June 1912

Mr. W. Twist discovered a covey of partridges in Swavesey a fortnight earlier than Mr. Warboys whose find was reported last week.

WEDDING. 21st June 1912

Mr. Charles William Savage, eldest son of Mr. John Savage, of Swavesey, was married in London last Sunday to Miss Maggie Carter, granddaughter of Mr. Benjamin Carter, of Middle Watch.

RINGING. 21st June 1912

A party of bell ringers from Fen Ditton, making a tour of the churches in the neighbourhood possessing bells, visited Swavesey on Thursday evening in last week and rang 720 changes in excellent style.

PARISH COUNCIL. 21st June 1912

A meeting of the Parish Council should have been held last Friday evening, but as the necessary five members to form a quorum did not attend, had to be abandoned, much to the disgust of the four councillors, Messrs. A. Day (chairman), W. Burton, A. Norman, and W. Twist, who did put in an appearance. Mr. Norman, who lives at the extreme end of the parish, had a useless journey of three miles. The agenda contained items of some local interest. A proposal to alter the day of opening Swavesey Feast, the provision of stiles on the bank of the Navigation Drain, and the clearing of mud from the Swan Pond were the chief matters for the consideration of the village parliament. The feast question is of no immediate urgency, seeing that the next feast will not be held until six weeks after next Easter Day, but an early decision was desirable concerning the stiles, as they are much needed during summer time, and it would be a saving of money, time and trouble if the pond was cleaned out during the early stages of the work now in progress there in connection with the widening of the high road by the County Council.

BOYS' CRICKET. 21st June 1912

Stimulated by having watched cricket matches between the husbands and wives and the bachelors and spinsters of Swavesey, the boys of Boxworth End challenged the boys of Church End, or vice versa, to a game of cricket. The match was brought off on the Recreation Ground on Thursday in last week and resulted in a win for the Church Enders by an innings and 15 runs.

VIOLENT STORM. 21st June 1912

Between 11 and 12 on last Sunday morning a storm of exceptional violence broke over Swavesey. Preceded by a tremendous downpour of rain and hail and a few comparatively feeble flashes of lightning and claps of thunder, there came a terrific flash, followed immediately by an ear-splitting crash of thunder which seemed to shake houses and make their contents rattle. In a close opposite "The Farm," the residence of Mr. W. C. Cole at Boxworth End, a poplar tree 80 or 90 feet in height was struck. The tree was the sole survivor of a long row of poplars, and now its days are numbered. About ten feet of the top of the trunk was smashed off, and fell into a plane tree in Mr. Ebenezer Prime's garden underneath. The electric current then appeared to have missed the trunk and branches for rather more than half the length of the tree, but from about thirty feet from the ground wrought serious havoc. From that point to the earth on the southern side not only was the back torn off, but some inches deep of the solid wood. Branches were torn off and thrown some distance, and the torn fragments of the trunk were scattered on all sides, even as far distant as 53 yards. The top rail of a fence at the tree bottom was smashed; a substantial batten supporting another fence running at right angles, and securely nailed to fence and poplar was torn away and thrown some five or six yards. The wife and daughter of Mr. James Smith, market gardener, who were in their house, about fifty yards distant, appeared also to be slightly struck, and though not injured, Mrs. Smith was rendered very unwell. Mr. Joseph Owen, looking after stock in Mr. Warboys' field in the same district, was knocked to the ground, but not hurt. In Market-street, in the centre of the village, a small willow tree three yards from Mr. W. Carrier's house was struck, its head was split, and its branches torn off. Miss Carrier, who was coming out of the back door, had a narrow escape.

IMPROVED HIGH ROAD. 28th June 1912

The work of spraying the high road through the village with tar has begun, and sections at Boxworth End and Church End have already been completed.

HIS SUNDAY DINNER. 28th June 1912

Amongst the dinners baked last Sunday by a Swavesey baker was a joint of meat and a Yorkshire pudding which had been conveyed by bicycle from Fen Drayton by a cottager who had not adequate baking accommodation at home. When cooked the dinner was safely taken back to Fen Drayton, also by cycle.

THE VICAR'S FAREWELL. 28th June 1912

On Sunday last the Rev. A. C. Vidler took the Sunday services at the parish church for the last time as vicar. He made short references to his approaching departure in his morning and evening services. Mr. Vidler will be instituted and inducted into his new living at Tewin, Herts., next month. His successor at Swavesey, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, is expected to go into residence in August.

HEARTS OF OAK. 28th June 1912

On Thursday evening in last week, Mr. G. H. Barnsdale, the well-known official of the Hearts of Oak Friendly Society, attended a largely-attended meeting at the National School to explain the Insurance Act in its relation to friendly societies, and to the Hearts of Oak in particular. Mr. C. Wood presided, and was supported on the platform by Mr. Barnsdale, Mr. C. G. Kidd, of Willingham, and Mr. C. Wilkinson, of Swavesey. The audience quite filled the large room. Ladies were specially invited to be present, but only three young ladies attended. Mr. Barnsdale gave a lucid and most interesting address. He would, he said, treat his subject entirely from a non-political point of view, and he proceeded to give an explanation of the Act. He made more than one reference to the difficulty with the doctors, which he hoped would be adjusted before long. He strongly urged everyone to belong to an approved society, pointing out the various benefits to be obtained through the Hearts of Oak, and he expressed the hope that as time went on his society would be able by careful and economical management of its funds either to reduce the contributions of members or give them increased benefits. He warned his hearers against joining "mushroom" societies, which were in reality insurance offices. The benefits accruing to women members were explained. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Barnsdale invited questions. Mr. Vidler inquired about domestic servants, and further questions were asked by others. Some of the questions bore a political bias, whilst others were evidently in the interest of a rival society. At the conclusion of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Barnsdale, proposed by Mr. Wilkinson, and seconded by Mr. C. G. Kid, was carried amidst applause. Mr. Barnsdale, in replying, moved a vote of thanks to the chairman.

THE LATE VICAR OF SWAVESEY.

PRESENTATION FROM CONGREGATION. 5th July 1912

Last Friday evening the members of the congregation attending Swavesey Parish Church, and other friends, presented the Rev. A. C. Vidler with an appreciation of their sense of his worth and work on his leaving the parish after having held the living for the past 17 years. Mr. Vidler has been appointed Rector of Tewin, Hertfordshire, by the Master and Fellows of Jesus College, Cambridge. There was a large attendance of subscribers in the National School. Mr. W. H. Key, the senior churchwarden, who presided and made the presentation, was supported by Mr. Walter Thorp (churchwarden), Mrs. Long, the Rev. J. F. and Mrs. Cooksey.

Mr. Key remarked that they had assembled that evening to perform a very pleasant duty, and yet one with which sadness was intermingled. They were about to lose their vicar, who had been with them for 17 years – a long time to look forward to, but to him (the speaker) a very short time to look back upon. During the 17 years great improvements had been effected in their beautiful old church, and anyone who had left Swavesey 17 years ago, and had returned that day must notice a great difference. These improvements were mainly due to the vicar's initiative. He was an excellent organiser of the various ways of raising funds, such as garden fetes, sales of work, etc., and though naturally anxious as to the financial success of such functions, their Vicar had always aimed at making his entertainments a real pleasure to his people.

The improvements to the church had not been confined to the inside of the building, and he instanced the new vane on the tower and the iron churchyard gates.

Not only had they reason for gratitude to their vicar for work in connection with the church; the parish generally had benefited by his efforts in secular matters. He was appointed Vicar just after the Parish Council came into existence, and he (the speaker) had proposed that the Vicar should be chairman, but the majority of the Council objected to having a parson as chairman. Soon afterwards the Council changed its mind, and until two years ago Mr. Vidler had been unanimously re-elected chairman year after year.

Mr. Key read the illuminated address:-

To the Reverend A. C. Vidler, M.A., Vicar of Swavesey, and Rural Dean of North Stowe.

Reverend sir, - We beg to tender you our grateful thanks for the conscientious way in which you have discharged the duties of your office during the 17 years you have held the living of Swavesey. We are truly sorry that your connection with the parish will soon terminate. As a slight token of our esteem we ask your acceptance of this address and of the accompanying present of plate; and we trust that God's blessing may rest on your work and home at Tewin. – We are, reverend sir, yours faithfully, Here follow the names of the subscribers.

Mr. Key then handed to Mr. Vidler the address, which was enclosed in an oak frame, and a massive silver candelabrum, expressing the hope of all subscribers that Mr. Vidler would live long, and enjoy good health and be happy in his new parish.

Mr. Walter Thorp added a few words, cordially endorsing all that had been said by his colleague.

Mr. Vidler, who spoke with emotion, thanked Mr. Key for what he had said about him, and expressed his warm appreciation of and gratitude for the address and accompanying gift.

(Long report)

THE LATE VICAR. 12th July 1912

The Rev. A. C. Vidler, lately Vicar of Swavesey and Rural Dean of North Stowe, was yesterday (Thursday) instituted to the Rectory of Tewin, Herts., by the Bishop of St. Albans. The churchwardens of Swavesey, Messrs. W. H. Key and Walter Thorp, were present at the interesting ceremony. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, of Swavesey Manor, late Vicar of Upwood, Hunts., is in charge of the parish of Swavesey pending the arrival of the newly-appointed Vicar, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 12th July 1912

Under the presidency of Mrs. Long, The Priory, Swavesey, the yearly house-to-house collection in connection with the Cambridge Division (Swavesey District), Addenbrooke's Hospital County Organisation Fund, has recently been made, and Mrs. Long has been able to forward the sum of £27 9s. 10d. to Mrs. Hicks, Hon. Sec. and Treasurer of the Fund. Of this total, £4 15s. was collected in Over by Mrs. Beckett, £7 in Longstanton by Mr. Townsend, £1 5s. 6d in Conington by Miss Scambler, £3 13s. 6d. in Fen Drayton by Miss Downham, and £10 16s. 10d. in Swavesey by Mrs. Long. No collection was made this year in Willingham in consequence of an epidemic of fever and diphtheria.

A CRICKETING QUESTION. 12th July 1912

The question "What is a professional?" is agitating the cricketing mind in Swavesey just now, writes a correspondent. In a recent match in the Milton and District league an opposing club played a man whom Swavesey protested against, alleging that he had been employed for payment on a ground in Cambridge, and that therefore he was ineligible to play in the Milton League under the rule which declares "that no professionals will be eligible." The protest came before the League Committee last Monday, and the Swavesey Club lost the day and was mulcted in costs. It is stated that the fact that the player in question had been employed for money as alleged was not disputed, so not unnaturally Swavesey cricketers are asking what there is to prevent Hayward or Hobbs from playing in the League if qualified by birth or residence. A strong feeling exists in the village that such a question should not have been decided by a committee consisting solely of First Division representatives, but should at least have been submitted to a committee of both divisions. Several clubs were not represented at last Monday's meeting, but representatives were present from clubs which would have suffered had Swavesey won the protest and been awarded the two points allowed under the rule. While there is no desire on the part of the Swaveseyites to cast any reflection on the bona fides of the gentlemen who attended the meeting, they cannot overlook the fact that even Milton League Committeemen are human.

IMPRESSIONS OF A SCARLET FEVER VICTIM 12th July 1912

To those who have not had the misfortune to fall a victim to that now fashionable epidemic, scarlet fever, it may be of interest to read a few impressions which remain stamped on the memory of one victim: - My first is a bit of a sore throat, nothing more than that which often precedes a slight cold. A doctor was called in, and after the usual process of opening the mouth, etc., the verdict, "A scarlet fever throat," was passed, and I felt like a suffragette in the dock hearing the sentence of "Six weeks." I passed into an atmosphere of disinfectants, and my spirits fell below zero. Then followed a few days in bed and a diet of "slops," which I was not very keen on, especially as I was really feeling perfectly fit. I awaited the rash, which gradually appeared, and wanted well looking for. Then began the interesting stage called "peeling," and then I was allowed to get up and view the world from the upper windows. My next impressions were the kind jeers and sympathy of the family from below, and remarks from friends visiting the back door, "Oh! You look just the same," and "I can't understand you scarlet fever patients looking so well." Then you suddenly feel guilty in not appearing thin and haggard, and at least ten years older, and are sorry to have caused such keen disappointment. The view from your prison suddenly strikes you as "truly rural." A glimpse of a village pond, a background of farm buildings, cattle and horses grazing in the fields beyond, and other delightful glimpses of country life. It may sound alluring to townsfolk, but in two days one is heartily sick of it. The last three weeks is spent in quiet seclusion in the garden, with a certain amount of coolness existing between the victim and the members of the family. At last comes the order for release, and the whole house (including the recent invalid) reeks with the aroma of disinfectants. You are told you are free from infection, and can once more mix with the world. Your last impression is a sense of freedom never felt before as you open your garden gate and walk once again down the familiar village street and rake up a few old friends, who, by the way, are not extra pleased to see you, and hold rather aloof at first, as if they think you might still possess at least one of those deadly germs of scarlet fever.

THE SCHOOLS. 19th July 1912

The National Schools broke up on Friday last for the summer holidays, some weeks earlier than usual owing to the poor attendance due to illness in the village.

CRICKET. 19th July 1912

The Milton and District League match between Swavesey and Haddenham, which should have been played at Swavesey last Saturday afternoon, was scratched at the request of the visiting club.

EXCITING CHASE. 19th July 1912

Shortly before one o'clock on Wednesday a horse got on the Great Eastern Railway line at Fenstanton crossing and raced towards Swavesey, with a man in pursuit. Following the man was a passenger train. The horse was secured at Swavesey station.

DEATH. 19th July 1912

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 50 years, of Mrs. Annie Prime, wife of Mr. Alfred Prime, which occurred shortly before midnight on Wednesday. For nearly three years Mrs. Prime had suffered from cancer, and at times had endured intense pain. Upwards of two years ago she underwent an operation at Addenbrooke's Hospital. Her end was peaceful, as she passed calmly away in her sleep. She leaves a husband and ten children, for whom much sympathy is felt. Her third son, a promising youth, also succumbed to cancer after a short illness on 6th March last.

FAILURE OF WATER SUPPLY. 19th July 1912

From Friday evening until mid-day on Monday the new water supply failed owing to a serious leakage at a hydrant in Carter's-lane, near the Priory. Serious inconvenience was caused, and people were compelled to use water from the old supply, which had been condemned as contaminated. On Tuesday a further leakage was observed at the last hydrant at Boxworth End. Ratepayers are not unnaturally complaining of the inconvenience and of the expense the parish is put to by large quantities of water being allowed to run away. It is also thought that the work of repairing the pipes should in the special circumstances have been continued on Sunday.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 26th July 1912

On Saturday afternoon the members of the Swavesey Voluntary Aid Detachment, under the command of Mrs. Cooksey, Quartermaster, went by brake to Croxton Park for a field day, in conjunction with other detachments.

LADIES AT CRICKET. 26th July 1912

Owing to the heavy rain last Friday, the projected cricket match between teams of Spinsters and Bachelors did not take place, and was postponed until Monday evening. Unfortunately, that evening also was wet, and the game has now been postponed indefinitely.

INSURANCE ACT. 26th July 1912

Almost the sole topic of conversation in the village during the week has been the Insurance Act. Employers and employed are in doubt as to the sums to be contributed by them respectively, and it is to be feared there are numerous instances in which either the master or the worker, or both, have not contributed the proper amounts. More than one correspondent has suggested that an expert Government official might be usefully employed in instructing both parties.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 26th July 1912

On Sunday last anniversary services in connection with the Sunday School were held in Bethel Chapel. The Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor, preached at the morning and evening services, and in his addresses dealt with various aspects of Sunday School work. In the afternoon there was a special service, at which the Rev. F. J. Parr, of Fenstanton, gave an address based on the words "Lost and found," in which he laid stress on the rewards of diligence. Selected hymns were sung by the children at all services, and in the evening two solos were rendered by Miss Alice Norman. At this service framed certificates gained at the recent Sunday School Scripture Examination were presented to Louisa Causer, Fanny Causer, Nellie Prior and Frank Prior. The collections throughout the day were in aid of the Sunday School Fund and showed a slight increase on the amount contributed last year.

GARDEN FETE. 26th July 1912

A garden fete, including a sale of work and a jumble sale, was held in the grounds of the Vicarage on Thursday, 18th inst., and in spite of the cold and threatening weather, and other drawbacks, was a great success financially. The primary motive for the fete was to raise money to wipe off a deficit of nearly £20 on the general expenses account of the parish church, caused mainly by necessary repairs to the fabric during the year ended Easter last. With gate money, the new work and jumble stalls, the well-patronised refreshment tent, and the takings of the side shows, the sum of £27, after payment of all expenses, was realised, and the churchwardens can now meet the new Vicar not only free from debt, but with a balance in hand of over £7. During the evening there was dancing on the lawn to the strains of the St. Ives Town Band, the cost of which was most generously borne by Mrs. Long. Before the company separated, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, the late vicar, now rector of Tewin, Herts., warmly thanked all who had assisted in making the fete such an undoubted success.

FUNERAL. 26th July 1912

In the presence of an unusually large assemblage of friends and neighbours from Swavesey and Lolworth, the funeral of the late Mrs. Alfred Prime, whose death on the 17th instant was announced last week, took place in Swavesey churchyard on Sunday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated and among the mourners the following attended: Mr. Alfred Prime (husband), Messrs. A., J., H., and B. Prime (sons), the Misses E., May, F., Minnie, and Ethel Prime (daughters), Mrs. A. Prime (daughter-in-law) and Mr. G. Blunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hepher, Mrs. S. Kester and Mr and Mrs. D. Prime (brothers and sisters-in-law). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

LONG SERVICE REWARDED. 2nd Aug. 1912

P.C. Plowman, stationed at Swavesey, was presented with the King's Coronation medal at the Shire Hall last Saturday.

A BICYCLE SPILL. 2nd Aug. 1912

On Monday morning Mr. Robinson Mitham was cycling along Mow Fen Drove when a two-tined fork which he was carrying on his handlebar caught in the hedge and Mr. Mitham was thrown violently to the ground injuring his face and hands. He proceeded to Mow Fen Railway Gatehouse, where Mrs. Spolton washed his wounds and otherwise rendered first aid.

LADIES' CRICKET MATCH. 2nd Aug. 1912

The return match between the single ladies and gentlemen was played on Tuesday evening, under the same conditions as the previous match. The weather was cold and fewer spectators were present. The ladies' innings closed for 110. The gentlemen openers proceeded to attack the ladies' bowling, but they met with little success, their batting being no better than their fielding and they were all dismissed for 42. The gentlemen were requested to follow on, and scored 46 for six wickets in their second venture, time alone saving them from an innings' defeat.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE STATION. 9th Aug. 1912

The work raising and otherwise improving the platforms at the railway station was begun on Tuesday.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 9th Aug. 1912

The Rev. John Selwyn Sharp, the newly-appointed vicar, took all the services at the parish church on Sunday last.

A SPILL. 9th Aug. 1912

On Tuesday evening when cycling near the station, Mr. George Seekings had a collision with a cow. Several cows were being driven towards Over, when one animal suddenly shied round. Mr. Seekings was thrown heavily to the ground, injuring his arm. The front wheel of the cycle was buckled and the brake broken.

ANGLING NOTE. 9th Aug. 1912

Two London anglers, Messrs. Clark and Baines, who have been staying with Mr. W. Twist, at Church End, have had a most successful week's fishing in the Ouse at Swavesey, catching 1¼cwt. of good fish. The largest were given to villagers with families of hungry children, and the smaller were returned to the river.

CRICKET. 9th Aug. 1912

Whilst playing for Elsworth on Saturday in a Milton and District League fixture, S. J. Froment took his 100th wicket this season. Most of Mr. Froment's matches this year have been for Spaldwick, Hunts., of which club he is captain, and which has succeeded in winning the Coote Cup for clubs in Hunts. villages not exceeding 400 inhabitants.

WEDDING. 16th Aug. 1912

On Tuesday, 13th instant, Mr. Harry Williams, grocer and draper, High-street, youngest son of the late Mr. Alfred Williams, was married very quietly at St. Ives by licence to Miss Elsie Parish, second daughter of Mr. David Parish, of Boxworth End, Swavesey. A family gathering was held afterwards at the residence of the bride's parents.

A FALL IN BREAD. 16th Aug. 1912

On Saturday afternoon Mr. William Gifford, baker, Fenstanton, was driving sharply along Boxworth End in a cart laden with loaves, bags of flour, fruit, etc. When passing Mr. Burling's blacksmith's forge the belly band broke and the cart tipped up, hurling Mr. Gifford, bread, flour, etc., into the road. The horse was a restive animal and a kicker, but fortunately Mr. Gifford was able to retain hold of the reins, and regaining his feet, with the assistance of Mr. H. G. Key, a Swavesey baker, was able to seize the horse before it bolted or any further damage was done. Mr. Gifford was not injured.

A SUFFRAGIST MEETING. 16th Aug. 1912

Last Friday evening an open-air meeting was held on the high road opposite Mill Farm, Middle Watch, in the interests of the cause of Women's Suffrage. The gathering should have been in a field nearby, but in consequence of the cold and damp evening and the long grass, it was deemed wiser to use the King's highway. The platform was a chair placed against a gate opposite the farmhouse, and the audience stood on either side of the road. Between 60 and 70 persons were present, young ladies being largely in evidence. Miss Hutchinson, of Newnham, presided, and briefly apologised for the absence of Mrs. Bowes, who was announced to speak, but was indisposed. She introduced Mrs. Rackham, who in a lengthy address put forward the claims and aims of the non-militant and non-party section of the votes for women movement. Her speech was eloquent, lucid and moderate in tone, but it evoked no enthusiasm and no openly-expressed opposition. There were no interruptions, and at the close, though urgently asked for, no questions. She appealed for new members to her society, and a few joined, whilst others gave their names as "friends of women suffrage." Leaflets and other literature were distributed during and after the meeting.

ACCIDENT TO A SWAVESEY MAN.

THROWN FROM A CART. 23rd Aug. 1912

On Wednesday evening in last week a serious accident befell a Swavesey man named James Coulson, who now lies in Addenbrooke's Hospital suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries.

No one except the two men immediately concerned witnessed the accident, but the facts, as elicited from Mr. Walter Spolton, appears to be as follows: Mr. Spolton, a butcher, of Swavesey and Histon, left his shop in Swavesey on Wednesday afternoon, in his cart, which is of the usual butcher's type, with a lid. He was accompanied by Coulson to look after the horse – a young animal – whilst he was calling at houses for orders. They proceeded via the Cambridge and Huntingdon road to Dry Drayton, and about 3 o'clock they passed an empty motor-car, which was standing unattended on the wrong side of the road near the second field on the road from the Five Bells Inn to Dry Drayton. The animal took no notice of the car. Mr. Spolton proceeded to do his business in Dry Drayton, Coton, and Madingley, and returned along the Dry Drayton to Five Bells road about 6 p.m. The empty car was still on the road-side, but this time the horse had to face the front of the car. Coulson was driving and the pace was smart.

All went well until level with the car, and then came disaster. The horse stopped stunt, and both men were thrown out. Mr. Spolton fell near the horse's head. Coulson came to the ground near the wheel on the opposite side of the cart.

THE HARVEST. 23rd Aug. 1912

The continuing thunderstorms and heavy rains are interfering very seriously with the harvest, and the outlook is far from promising.

TWELVE AT BIRTH. 23rd Aug. 1912

A retriever bitch belonging to the Vicar of Swavesey had twelve pups on Friday last, all being born alive, and fine, strong animals.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 30th Aug. 1912

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Football Club was held last Friday evening at the National School, under the chairmanship of the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp. Officers for the season were elected, viz.: President, the Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P.; vice-presidents, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Dr. J. W. Ellis, Messrs. R. E. Bartley, H. Capper, and J. B. Ellis (St. Ives); captain, Mr. T. Harris; vice-captain, Mr. G. S. Winters; hon. Secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham; committee, Messrs. W. Carter, Fred Johnson, R. Mitham, jun., E. Prior, V. Rimmer, A. T. Scard, and C. Wood. It was decided to play on the Recreation Ground, and to enter again for the Histon and District Football League. The Chairman brought up the question of forming a lads' football club, and a discussion ensued, but no decision was arrived at.

A GIANT MARROW. 30th Aug. 1912

A vegetable marrow grown in the small plot of garden in front of Mr. William Ding's cottage at Church End has just been cut. It measures 29½ ins. in length and its girth is 20½ ins. at the smaller end and 24½ ins. at the thick end.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 30th Aug. 1912

On Sunday afternoon a special service for the people was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel, at which Mr. Ingle F. Thoday, of Willingham, presided, and solos, duets, and quartettes were rendered by members of Willingham Tabernacle choir. Mr. Thoday gave a brief address. In the evening there was an evangelistic service, the sermon being preached by the Rev. H. J. Watts. Mrs. Watts sang two solos. Fair congregations attended both services.

TRACTION ENGINE NUISANCE. 30th Aug. 1912

A householder writes: Cannot some restriction be placed on the pace at which traction engines, especially those drawing heavily laden trucks, pass through this village? Not only are our houses shaken, but they are damaged. In one house a piece of a ceiling recently renewed and a cupboard have been brought down; in another house part of the ceiling has fallen, and in several others ornaments and crockery have been shaken down. It is no doubt to the contractors' benefit to get his work done as quickly as possible, but surely we poor ratepayers who have to find the money to pay their bills are worthy of some consideration.

SCHOOL RE-OPENED. 6th Sept. 1912

The National School re-opened after the harvest holiday last Monday. So anxious were the authorities to secure a full attendance, that the attendance officer was on duty in the village as early as 9 a.m.

FLOODS. 6th Sept. 1912

During the week the floods at Swavesey have been slowly but steadily going, but there is still a great deal of land under water. All roads are clear. A large amount of corn has sprouted and several stacks have had to be pulled to pieces.

COLLAPSE OF BRIDGE. 6th Sept. 1912

A portion of the bridge or tunnel under the high road, through which the superfluous water of the Swan Pond passes to Church Brook, collapsed on Monday morning. The roadway being flooded, Mr. S. Hopher, one of the local carriers, who drove past, unfortunately was unaware of the hole, and his horse fell into it, injuring its leg.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE ITEMS. 6th Sept. 1912

A William pear tree in Mr. W. H. Key's garden at Top Leys Cottage has this year borne three crops. The first has been gathered; the second is still hanging on the tree; and the blossom of the third has recently fallen. Runner beans in the same garden are upwards of 14 feet in height, and are still growing through the branches of an apple tree. A ladder has to be used to gather the beans.

TRACTION ENGINE NUISANCE. 6th Sept. 1912

A ratepayer writes: I was very pleased to see in last Friday's "Weekly News" that someone had at last called attention to the nuisance caused by traction engines passing through Swavesey. The foundations of our houses, owing to the nature of the soil, are not built to stand the tremendous shaking these heavy engines dragging huge trucks of granite, etc., give them. I do not suppose the pace they travel is beyond the speed limit laid down by law, but it is too great for the safety and comfort of people inhabiting our houses, especially those in the more thickly-populated part of the village.

AIDING ADDENBROOKE'S. 6th Sept. 1912

A special appeal is being made this week to the residents of Swavesey for gifts of fruit, vegetables, potatoes, honey, poultry, eggs, butter, etc., for the use of Addenbrooke's Hospital. The Secretary-Superintendent states that such gifts are at all times most acceptable, and not only afford a welcome change in the daily dietary, but materially assist the hospital funds. Mr. Coles adds that the stock of potatoes, onions, carrots, etc., received last autumn has just come to an end. Mr. Graves, of the "Rising Sun" Inn, who as in previous years is collecting the gifts, will, if desired, fetch them from the givers' houses. The smallest contributions will be most thankfully received not later than Monday morning.

STATISTICS FROM SWAVESEY. 6th Sept. 1912

In connection with the serious floods at Swavesey, the following information, kindly supplied by Mr. E. H. Thornhill, of Boxworth, respecting the rainfall in that village, which borders on the flooded district will be of interest to many of our readers. (statistics in report). Heavy rainfall was shown on the 21st (1.27 inches) and 26th of August. (2.45 inches). Rain fell on 25 out of 31 days in that month.

Mr. Thornhill adds some interesting details which will enable the non-scientific reader to understand the method of measuring rain. .01 inch of rain is equal to a ton of water per acres (about); 1.00 inch equals 100 tons per acre; 1 gallon of water equals 10 lbs; .18 inch of rain equals 45 paraffin tubs of 40 gallons each to an acre. Thus the rainfall per acre during the year 1912, speaking approximately, has amounted to upwards of 12,000 tubs of 40 gallons each.

DEVASTATION AT SWAVESEY. 6th Sept. 1912

The scene at Friesland Farm last Friday was a remarkable one. In all some 28 acres of corn, most of it in shocks, have been flooded, and on Thursday and Friday the work of rescuing the sheaves was in progress. An extemporised raft made of a door nailed across two railway sleepers was used, and the rescuer, armed with a pitchfork and a punt pole, collected a few sheaves and then pushed them across the watery waste towards a dry road running through the farm. Here the sheaves were put into carts and taken to higher land, where they were set up to dry. Unfortunately as soon as the drying process begins the corn shales. Much of this submerged corn is already sprouting. Shocks of wheat on dry ground which have not been in flood water are green with sprouting, and the sheaves are so firmly matted together that three and sometimes four strong men have been needed to pull them apart. When the flood rose rapidly on Monday and Tuesday every shock was washed by the rush of water afloat, and drifted with the wind and current against hedges and clumps of trees, where they piled up. Then the wind changed, and the huge and lengthy heaps were swept across the flood and stranded on the opposite sides in shallow water tightly packed like sardines in a box, presenting a scene resembling seaweed washed up on a beach after a gale. The produce of at least fifteen acres of wheat was thus collected in one place. The one-storey cottage in the midst of the farm had every room under water. When inspected on Friday the front rooms – a sitting room and a bedroom – were free from water, but the fire grate in the former room bore indications of having had at least a foot of water in it. The larger furniture – a bedstead, for instance – were raised on bricks and small articles were stacked on top. The kitchen was still covered with nine or ten inches of water. Mr. E. Stocker, the occupant, had to find quarters in the village when the water attacked his home. This was the tenth time in seventeen years he has been evicted by flood. As regards the rest of the farm, much of the land is submerged, grass, uncut beans, barley, oats, etc., all in water. To realise fully the heartbreaking state of affairs the scene should be visited. Even elderly Swavesey people accustomed to floods declare that never have they witnessed such a scene.

A LARGE MUSHROOM. 13th Sept. 1912

On Thursday in last week Mr. C. Plumb, of Boxworth End, gathered a mushroom which measured 41½ inches in circumference and 13 inches in diameter.

FARMERS' DILEMMA. 13th Sept. 1912

Married women and girls are being employed as drivers of harvest carts in consequence of the school having been re-opened after the summer holidays, and the boys who usually act as drivers being compelled to attend.

A CAREFUL MAN. 13th Sept. 1912

During the visit of a Swavesey resident to a friend in another part of the village last Sunday evening, it came on to rain. He had no umbrella and no overcoat, but was supplied with both by his host. Still he was not satisfied. He feared his Sunday trousers might get wet, so he manufactured a pair of leggings out of a newspaper, and thus protected reached his home dry and comfortable.

A HINT FOR THE COUNTY COUNCIL. 13th Sept. 1912

A correspondent writes: "I read in my daily paper last Saturday that 'a section of a street at Rocky Ford, in Colorado, U.S.A., has been successfully paved with beet sugar syrup, which is stated to produce a dust-proof surface.' May I suggest that the Cambridgeshire County Council should give the plan a trial in High-street, Swavesey, where householders and shopkeepers suffer great annoyance from the clouds of dust. If found successful the use of beet syrup would encourage the growing of beetroot and thus help our farmers and, through them, their men."

AID FOR ADDENBROOKE'S. 13th Sept. 1912

Last week's collection of vegetables, fruit, etc., in Swavesey for use at Addenbrooke's Hospital was unfortunately far from being as successful as similar collections in previous years. The disappointing result is due to the wet season and to many of the gardens and allotments having been flooded. Some villagers have lost the bulk of their garden produce, whilst most have cause to complain of a very poor crop and an undue proportion of bad potatoes owing to the prolonged wet weather; and not having sufficient for their own families through the winter they regretfully feel they cannot justly contribute towards even so beneficent an institution as Addenbrooke's Hospital.

THE RAINFALL. 13th Sept. 1912

In the notice of the rainfall in the Swavesey district published last week there were, Mr. E. H. Thornhill, who kindly supplied the information, points out, two mistakes, for neither of which was he responsible. One inch of rain is 101 tons per acre, not 100 tons as stated, and 45 paraffin tubs of 40 gallons each of rain to the acre is the result of eight tons, that is .08 inch of rain, not .18 as printed. One gallon of water weighs 10lbs.; one ton equals 2,240lbs.; so one ton equals 224 gallons. A tub of 40 gallons divided into this goes $5 \frac{3}{5}$ times, that is, $5 \frac{3}{5}$ tubs to every hundredth of an inch, or .01 inch. Eight hundreds, or .08 inches thus produce nearly 45 tubs, or, to be exact, $4 \frac{4}{5}$, or eight gallons short of 45 tubs; .05 inches of rain equals 28 tubs exactly.

THE VICAR OF SWAVESEY

INSTITUTION AND INDUCTION. 27th Sept. 1912

On Monday afternoon the Rev. John Selwyn Sharp, who has recently been presented to the living of Swavesey by the Master and Fellows of Jesus College, Cambridge, the patrons, was publicly instituted and inducted in the parish church of St. Andrew, in the presence of a large and representative congregation, which included many leading local Nonconformists.

Great interest was taken in the ceremony, and several business establishments in the village were closed during the service. The flag of St. George of England floated proudly from the church tower.

(Long report)

ADVERT. 4th Oct. 1912

G. H. Skeeles, Pianoforte and Organ Tuner, East-street, St. Ives, Hunts., begs to announce that he has an entirely new Stock of Pianofortes, Music, Gramophones, and all the latest Records, &c. Also good Second-hand Pianoforte, £10; American Organ, 5 stops, £4 10s. All tuning orders receive prompt and personal attention.

PARISH CHURCH. 4th Oct. 1912

The newly-instituted vicar, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, "read himself in" on Sunday last. So as not unduly to weary the people, he read half of the Thirty-Nine Articles at the morning service, and the remainder at night. At the evening service Mr. Sharp spoke in terms of severe disapprobation of the practice of disfiguring the walls and pillars of the church and the porch by writing or cutting names in the stone work.

LAST MONTH'S RAINFALL. 4th Oct. 1912

Mr. E. H. Thornhill, of Boxworth, has kindly supplied a record of the rainfall in this district during the month of September. In all 1.91 inches of rain fell. The total rainfall for the nine months ending September was 24.61 inches, and the number of wet days 134. Translated into homely language, roughly speaking, 1,064 forty-gallon casks of rain per acre fell during September, and 13,776 forty-gallon casks per acre during the nine months.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 4th Oct. 1912

Harvest thanksgiving services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday, 26th ulto., when the Rev. A. R. Savage, of Woodford, preached able sermons in the afternoon and evening. At 6 p.m. there was a public tea in the chapel schoolroom, at which about 80 persons were present. The trays were presided over by Mrs. Watts, Mrs. Jabez Day, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. W. Savage, Miss Starte, and Miss Hayes. The chapel was most tastefully decorated with fruit, flowers, vegetables, etc., all of which, as usual, have been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital, an institution which invariably meets with warm support at Bethel. At the close of the evening service the Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor, voiced the congregation's appreciation of the kind visit of Mr. Savage and of the efforts of all who had helped to make the festival so bright and successful.

PARISH MEETING. 4th Oct. 1912

On Thursday evening in last week a parish meeting was held in the National School, and although it was called to vote the money needed for lighting the street lamps during the winter, only three ratepayers attended, viz., the chairman (Mr. A. Day), the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham), and the schoolmaster (Mr. C. Wood). The "Weekly News" representative formed the audience. The minutes of the annual parish meeting in the spring having been read, Mr. Wood proposed the usual resolution authorising the Parish Council to incur expenditure on the street lighting not exceeding £30. The Chairman seconded, and the three ratepayers voting "Aye," the resolution was carried unanimously. The Chairman, in closing the meeting, remarked that it was satisfactory to note that no complaints had been received as to the street lighting last winter.

PARISH COUNCIL. 4th Oct. 1912

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Friday last in the National School, at which were present: Messrs. A. Day (chairman), J. Linford (vice-chairman), W. Twist, R. Norman, W. Burton, J. W. Parish, and the clerk (R. Mitham). The minutes of the last meeting having been read, a lengthy discussion ensued respecting a proposal to alter the date of commencement of the village feast, or rather to prevent the show folk from entering the village and occupying Market-street during Feast Sunday. After a discussion proposing to leave the decision to the new Council, the Chairman moved a resolution in favour of altering the opening day of the feast from Sunday to Monday. Mr. J. W. Parish seconded, and on being put to the vote, three Councillors voted for, and two against with one not voting. The Chairman then brought forward the question of erecting stiles along the footpath by Navigation Drain, and after an interesting discussion Mr. Twist moved a resolution that a two-stage stile should be put up at each of the five fences. The Chairman seconded and the resolution was carried nem. con. It was also agreed that a stile on the footpath from Swavesey to Fen Drayton should be repaired. Some conversation followed as to the bank by the Fen Drayton footpath, the neglected condition of which it was said was responsible for much Swavesey land being flooded during the recent inundation. The Chairman promised to bring the matter before the District Council. Repairs to the fire engine house were ordered and the Street Lighting Committee were empowered to see what arrangements could be made for storing spare water pipes belonging to the District Council on the parish property in High-street. The main business of the meeting, however, was to appoint a lamplighter for the ensuing winter. Only one tender was received, viz., from Mr. George Clarke.

PLUMS. 11th Oct. 1912

On Wednesday Mr. H. H. Williams gathered a second crop of usable plums from two Victoria plum trees in his garden in Wallman's-lane.

NIGHT SCHOOL. 11th Oct. 1912

The evening continuation classes which were so successful last winter were re-opened at the National School on Tuesday evening, under the superintendence of Mr. C. Wood, schoolmaster. They will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays.

CURE FOR A COLD. 11th Oct. 1912

A Swavesey tradesman, calling at a farmhouse in the district the other day complained that he had a horrid cold, and was told by the farmer how he avoided a cold. As the method was unusual, we give it here for the benefit of any of our readers who may care to try the plan. The farmer said he wore a stocking or sock on one foot and nothing but his boot on the other. One foot, he remarked, was warm and the other cold, and the tradesman felt both and found the statement was correct. The farmer assured him that if he got a cold it went away immediately through the cold foot!

MOTOR COMES TO GRIEF. 11th Oct. 1912

In the process of raising the high road near the Swan Pond a thick layer of gaulty soil, taken from the trenches in which the new water supply pipes were laid, is being spread on the top of the original hard granite surface. About half-past nine on Saturday evening a motor-car, containing a lady and gentleman and the chauffeur, came to grief at the spot. After running some dozen yards on the soft surface, the wheels of the motor sank through the gault down to the hard road, and there remained immovable. Plenty of assistance was promptly forthcoming, and after half an hour's work the car, by digging and use of planks, was backed out uninjured, and was able to proceed on its way by the narrow road on the other side of the pond.

STOCK CLUB. 11th Oct. 1912

The members of the Stock Club had their annual social gathering on Tuesday evening, when 24 members sat down at an excellent meat tea at their headquarters, the White Horse Inn. A social evening followed and an enjoyable time was spent in listening to gramophone selections and songs by Messrs. S. W. Crisp, W. J. Hepher, A. T. Scard, and Bert Hodson. The last named fairly "brought down the house" by his inimitable rendering of "All over the shop." Much merriment was caused by an amusing incident. During the playing of a valse on the gramophone, the opening of a door disclosed a portly gentleman and an elderly lady dancing in an adjoining room. They were in no way disconcerted by the shrieks of laughter from the tea room.

LITTLE CHILD BURNED. 11th Oct. 1912

On Saturday a sad burning accident befell the five-year-old daughter of Mr. Charles Poulter, of the New Inn, a lonely wayside house at the junction of the Swavesey road with the main Cambridge to Huntingdon road. The child was suffering from measles, and though fully dressed, was confined in an upstairs room, in which there was a fire. Her mother had gone to Addenbrooke's Hospital with another child, but Mr. Poulter was at home. He had been with the child, and had hardly time to get downstairs when he heard her screaming loudly. He rushed back, and to his horror found the child's clothing ablaze. He picked her up, and carrying her in his arms, ran downstairs, where he was met in the passage by Mr. J. T. Daintree, of Swavesey, who was entering by the front door. Mr. Daintree grasped the situation at once. Calling to Mr. Poulter to put the child on the floor, he pulled off his coat and with it and a sack lying close by extinguished the fire. On removing the clothing the poor little child's arms, face and neck were found to be badly burned. Such remedies as were at hand were quickly applied, and medical assistance summoned. It was most fortunate that Mr. Daintree appeared on the scene at the moment he did, and acted with such commendable promptitude and judgement, for had he not been there, the little one would no doubt have been injured far more seriously, if not fatally.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 11th Oct. 1912

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the parish church on Thursday, 3rd instant. At 7.30 a.m. Holy Communion was celebrated, and at 7 p.m. there was Choral Evensong, with a sermon by the Rev. C. Sharp, late vicar of Addlestone, Surrey. At this service a large congregation was present, larger than for years past. The decorations were effective, though there appeared to be far fewer flowers than in past years, and the screens were not as much adorned as usual. The font, however, was quite excellent. Contrary to expectations, the contributions of fruit and vegetables were in excess of those in recent years, a noteworthy fact seeing that so many gardens and allotments have recently been flooded. The festival services were continued on Sunday, the Rev. C. Sharp preaching in the morning, and the Vicar in the evening. A children's flower service was held on Sunday afternoon at the Mission Church, Boxworth End, the contributions of fruit and flowers being sent to St. Ives Union Infirmary.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 18th Oct. 1912

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, held on Tuesday evening, it was decided to open the Association's rooms at Ryder's Farm on Thursdays during the winter from 7 to 10 p.m., and to hold a discussion meeting on the second Thursday in every month. The annual accounts were submitted and approved, and all last year's officers were re-elected, but a few alterations were made in the composition of the committee.

THE SWAN POND ROAD. 18th Oct. 1912

On Wednesday morning a light spring cart belonging to a Fen Drayton farmer, heavily laden with cake, got stuck in the gault which has been laid on the high road by Swan pond, and had to be unloaded. Some amusement was caused after the cart had been extricated and reloaded. The horse was fresh and awkward, and disinclined to work. At length it was induced to move, and proceeded as far as the Swan Inn by the road on the opposite side of the pond.

Here it stopped short and refused to budge. The driver, who is slightly lame, got down, and Mr. Smith, of the Swan, went to the rescue. Grasping the hempen halter and after a slight tussle, he led the horse forward; then it reared and then went forward again at a rattling pace. Mr. Smith hung on, and running alongside, soon had the horse under control, but meantime the loose cake went flying off the cart right and left. People were not unnaturally asking when the County Council propose to finish raising the high road. At present it is dangerous, and for certain classes of vehicle unusable. The stopping of motor cars, heavily laden carts, etc., through sinking into the gault which has been laid on the top of the original hard granite surface, is of frequent occurrence, and the roadway on the opposite side of the pond which wary drivers use, not being constructed for heavy traffic, is getting into a very bad condition. Should there be a high flood, and such a thing is quite possible, Swavesey and villages to the south would be entirely cut off from the railway station for vehicular traffic.

CONSERVATIVE CLUB. 25th Oct. 1912

The annual meeting was held in the Club Room at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday evening last. There were about 50 members present. The Club Room will be open every Tuesday evening, from 7.30 till 10 o'clock, until April.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 25th Oct. 1912

The collections at the parish church on Sunday last were in aid of a fund for providing a new stove. The heating apparatus has not given satisfaction, and was, moreover, costly to maintain, and complaints were general of the chilliness of the large building. A stove was placed some time ago at the eastern end of the south aisle, which, while warming that part of the church, was not sufficient for the whole building. It was therefore decided to place another stove towards the western end of the north aisle. On the previous Sunday the Vicar announced that between £12 and £13 was in hand, but that the cost of a stove and fixing it was estimated to amount to upwards of £18, and he appealed to the congregation to contribute the balance. It is satisfactory to record that this result was achieved last Sunday, for the collections totalled £5 7s 11d.

DEATH. 1st Nov. 1912

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Ellen Mortlock, which occurred at her house at Church End, about 3 a.m. yesterday (Thursday). Mrs. Mortlock, who was 76 years of age, was the widow of the late Mr. John Mortlock, a well-known local preacher.

QUESTION OF THE HOUR. 1st Nov. 1912

Water is rising around Swavesey. Is the village to be visited by another flood this year, and if so, what will happen at the Swan Pond? The County Council is said to be satisfied with the state of the road there, but the villagers allege that in the event of a flood it will be impossible for carts, carriages, etc., to pass over the stretch of road which has been raised by means of a thick layer of gaulty soil on the top of the original hard granite surface, and that therefore the village will be cut off from the railway station for vehicular traffic.

EARLY CLOSING. 1st Nov. 1912

A correspondent writes: "The tradesmen of Swavesey, who are compelled by law to close their shops at 1 p.m. on Thursdays, are inquiring why traders from other places are allowed to hawk goods in the village during the time they are prohibited from doing business. For example, on Thursday afternoon in last week men with a large van, belonging, it is said, to a Cambridge tradesman, who presumably has to close his shop on Thursdays, went from end to end of the village selling oil, soap, candles and tin ware and other commodities, all of which Swavesey tradesmen supply. The question has been asked whether the men employed are shop assistants under the Act, and if so, why the inspectors, who, it is understood, have been appointed to see that the law is obeyed, have failed to do their duty. Whether such hawking is illegal or not may be open to question, but there can be no doubt that it is obviously unjust to our local tradesmen to compel them to close, and at the same time allow rivals from outside a free run. – [As we have frequently pointed out, it is in the power of the County Council to settle this question by fixing an early-closing day for the whole county, instead of leaving each parish to choose its own day. Hawking in the streets in any shape or form, by any trader, either from Cambridge or any other town, would then be illegal on the early-closing afternoon. The County Council have circularised every Parish Council in the County, we understand, asking for an expression of opinion, so that Swavesey will have an opportunity of stating their wishes in the matter. – Editor.]

PRIMROSE LEAGUE. 1st Nov. 1912

In spite of a heavy and continuous downpour of rain the large room at Swavesey School was crowded on Wednesday evening, on the occasion of a gathering of members of the local ward of the Primrose League, which includes the parishes of Boxworth, Childerley, Fen Drayton, Over and Swavesey. At least 250 were present, all of the five parishes being well represented. Miss Smith, of Boxworth, the Warden, presided, and she was ably assisted by the Swavesey sub-wardens, Mrs. W. Cole and Miss Beaumont, and by a bevy of young ladies chiefly drawn from Over and Swavesey. Mr. Orlebar gave a forcible address, dealing in tabloid form with numerous matters of present political interest. At the close of the address Mr. and Mrs. Newton entered the room and were accorded a hearty reception. (Long report – programme in newspaper)

A MOTOR TRAP. 8th Nov. 1912

Another motor-car came to grief at the end of last week in attempting to negotiate the new road by the Swan Pond. The car contained two ladies and a gentleman, who had to alight and assist the chauffeur to push the vehicle on to the solid road.

A POSTAL ITEM. 8th Nov. 1912

A notice in the window of the Swavesey Post Office states that the nearest place at which postage stamps can be obtained when the office is closed on Saturday afternoons is the Post Office at Over. This is not correct, for stamps can be purchased at London House, Swavesey, from Mr. H. S. Aldred, who has held a licence from the Postmaster-General to sell stamps for the past sixteen years.

PARISH CHURCH. 8th Nov. 1912

Beginning on Sunday last, a children's service is to be held at the parish church every Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, instead of once a month as hitherto, and there will be an evening service on Thursday evenings at the Mission Church, Boxworth End, in place of the old Sunday afternoon service. Many villagers may have noticed that the tone of the bells has improved within the last week or two. This is due to the clappers, which after many years of constant use had become worn, having been turned. The work has been done locally by Mr. C. Culpin and Mr. E. J. Mitham.

FUNERAL. 8th Nov. 1912

On Monday afternoon the funeral of the late Mrs. John Mortlock, whose death was announced last week, at the age of 76, took place in Swavesey Cemetery. The Rev. J. Easter, of Over, officiated. The mourners included: Messrs. E., G.B., J.W., J.H., and T Mortlock (sons), Mr. H. Thompson (brother), W., J.H., and T. Mortlock (daughters-in-law) and Mr. E. Golding (brother-in-law). The hymn "Rock of Ages" was sung at the graveside, the singing being led by the Rev. H. J. Watts, of Bethel Chapel, Swavesey.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 8th Nov. 1912

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in Mr. E. Parish's room, Middle Watch, on Tuesday evening. Mr. E. Parish presided. Officers and committee were appointed for the ensuing year, viz., president, the Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P.; chairman, Mr. E. Parish; vice-chairman, Mr. Capper; hon. Secretary, Mr. A. L. Parish. Last year's committee was re-elected. A discussion followed on various political matters, including the Insurance Act, Home Rule, and Small Holdings. – On the same afternoon the Swavesey Women's Liberal Association had their annual meeting, under the chairmanship of Mrs. T. W. Carter, also in Mr. Parish's room, and appointed officers and committee, the former being: Mrs. T. W. Carter (chairman), Miss Rachel Day (treasurer), and Mrs. J. Marriott (hon. secretary).

BAND OF HOPE. 8th Nov. 1912

On Thursday evening in last week the opening meeting for the winter season of Bethel Chapel Band of Hope was held under the presidency of the Rev. J. H. Watts, pastor. There was an encouraging attendance, and an excellent programme of recitations, dialogues, solos and choruses was well carried out, though the time for preparation had been very short. Miss A. Wilderspin presided at the organ.

(Programme in newspaper)

ACCIDENTS. 8th Nov. 1912

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Benjamin Prior was thrown out of her trap, and sustained injuries to her head. It appears that when driving out of her yard on her way to meet the 4.34 down train, the reins caught in one of the shafts, causing the horse to swerve and bring the near wheel into sharp contact with the gatepost. Fortunately, the trap was not upset, but Mrs. Prior fell on to the path. The back of her head was badly cut, and she was generally shaken. – On the same afternoon a little boy between three and four years of age was run over at Boxworth End by a light cart containing two men, which was entering the village at a slow pace. Some children were playing in the road, all of whom, except for the little boy, ran out of the way, but not until the cart was close to them. The small urchin, however, instead of getting out of danger, sat down, and the wheel of the cart ran over him. He was not seriously hurt, but is being attended by a doctor.

SEA GULLS. 15th Nov. 1912

There are many sea gulls just now on the flooded land between the village of Swavesey and the River Ouse.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT. 15th Nov. 1912

On Thursday, 7th inst., Mr. Joseph Jillings, Swavesey's oldest parishioner, celebrated his 88th birthday. He lives in a cottage by himself, attends to his own domestic matters, keeps his garden in excellent order, and though not as nimble as he used to be, is still an active man and is in fairly good health.

FLOOD PREVENTION. 15th Nov. 1912

Many occupiers of low-lying land in Swavesey and Over will be glad to learn that an important step has been decided on by the Swavesey Rural District Council, which will, it is confidently believed, do much to lessen the damage and inconvenience caused by floods, and will also prevent the county high road from being inundated at the foot of Over hill, by Swan Pond, and at Turn Bridge in High-street. At their last meeting the Council approved of doors being erected at Over Bridge, with the view of stopping the Bedford water, in its passage towards the sea, from flowing on to the eastern side of the high road, that is into Cow Fen, etc. The six cottages at Turn Bridge, the occupants of which have to flit on the occasion of a high flood, will, it is thought, in future be in no danger of inundation.

COTTAGES CONDEMNED. 15th Nov. 1912

No fewer than five cottages, viz., four at Church End and one in Ramper-road, have been condemned as insanitary. Including these cottages, there is now not adequate housing accommodation in the village for poorer people, and the action of the sanitary authorities has therefore raised a very serious question. It is suggested that the cottages in question are in no worse condition than they were six months ago, and it is thought that such drastic measures should not have been adopted during the inclement winter season, nor until other houses were available for the families to be evicted. A correspondent asks whether in the probable event of any of the disturbed people being unable to find houses, the sanitary authorities propose to offer them the hospitality of the Workhouse, and if so, he would like to know what the already overburdened ratepayers have to say.

A NARROW ESCAPE. 15th Nov. 1912

Trinity College Farm, in the middle of the village, narrowly escaped a serious conflagration on Monday morning. Before daybreak the fire of Messrs. Parish Brothers' engine was set alight to drive the threshing machine. The engine had been covered with a cloth since work ceased on Saturday. All was well when the man went home to breakfast, but soon a boy employed on the farm discovered that the cloth was on fire, and he rushed towards the farmhouse close by, calling loudly to Mr. Robert Norman, the farmer, "The engine's on fire." Mr. Norman hurried out, and being joined by other men, the flames, which rose well above the engine, were soon extinguished. The cloth was destroyed, and the "lagging" of the engine was damaged. As the engine was within four feet of a wheat stack, and there were several other stacks of corn, straw, and hay in close proximity, and a strong wind was blowing, it will be realised that if the fire had not been detected quickly a very serious disaster would have resulted.

LIBERAL TEA AND MEETING. 15th Nov. 1912

On Monday evening the annual meat tea of the Swavesey Liberal Association and of the Women's Liberal Association was held in the Friends' Meeting House, under the presidency of Mr. E. Parish, Chairman of the Men's Association. The following ladies acted as tray-holders: Mrs. W. Twist, Mrs. Capper, Mrs. W. Day, Mrs. E. Parish, Mrs. T. Godfrey, Mrs. Aldred, Miss Rachel Day, Miss Emma Day, and Miss Maggie Parish. Upwards of a hundred sat down and the excellent meal was thoroughly appreciated. After the table had been cleared, a meeting followed. Mr. E. Parish presided, and was supported by Mr. Brown, of Cambridge, Mr. J. Evison, of Fen Drayton, and Mr. Capper, of Swavesey. The Chairman, in his opening remarks touched on various political questions, and then introduced Mr. Brown, who gave an able address on several matters of interest including the Insurance Act, the Welsh Church Bill, Home Rule, etc. He made special reference to the Licensing Bill of 1908, which was rejected by the House of Lords. Mr. Evison proposed, and Mr. Capper seconded, a vote of thanks to Mr. Brown and the lady tray-holders, and after a few valedictory words from the Chairman, the proceedings were brought to an end with the singing of the National Anthem.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 22nd Nov. 1912

The opening meeting of the winter session of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association was held at Ryder's Farm on the 14th inst., when Mr. E. Percival Smith, of the New Carlton Club, gave an interesting and instructive address on general politics. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, chairman of the Association, presided.

SHOPS' ACT. 22nd Nov. 1912

Convened by the Chairman of the Parish Council, Mr. Alfred Day, a meeting of Swavesey tradesmen was held on Thursday evening in last week to consider a communication from the Cambs. County Council concerning the Shops' Act.

Mr. Day presided, and asked the tradesmen for their recommendations in the matter, which he had no doubt the Parish Council would support. The different classes of traders deliberated separately, with the following result: - The grocers, drapers, boot and shoe sellers, and general stores, on the motion of Mr. H. S. Aldred, seconded by Mr. H. Starte, unanimously recommended that the County Council be asked for a compulsory closing order from 1 p.m. on Thursdays; the butchers, on the motion of Mr. Z. Parish, seconded by Mr. W. J. Hephher, and the bakers and confectioners, on the motion of Mr. A. T. Scard, seconded by Mr. C. Dean respectively, asked for exemption from the provisions of the Act. The meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the chairman, proposed by Mr. Scard, seconded by Mr. H. G. Key.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd Nov. 1912

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Thursday, 14th instant, at the National School, at which were present: Messrs. A. Day (chairman), Jethro Linford (vice-chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, J. S. Goad, A. Norman, R. Norman, and W. Twist, with the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). After the minutes of the last meeting had been confirmed, the Council decided to reply to the letter from the Clerk of the County Council as to the application of the Shops' Act to the village in accordance with the recommendations of the local tradesmen who had met earlier in the evening. A considerable portion of the remainder of the meeting, which lasted for upwards of two hours, was occupied with an acrimonious and regrettable discussion respecting parish accounts, the Chairman and a majority of the Council being at variance with the Clerk. The Street Lighting Committee reported that the missing lamp in Market-street had been re-erected and was in use, and that the new lamps authorised for Gibraltar-lane and Top Leys-corner had been considered. The Chairman hoped the latter would be fixed without delay. The Lighting Committee also reported as to the suitability of the buildings on the parish property in High-street for storage purposes. Mr. R. Norman said the buildings, though in a dilapidated condition, could be rendered suitable for storing reserve water pipes, etc., but he thought it was desirable that the whole Council should inspect the property before anything was decided on. The Council eventually decided to make the proposed inspection. As regards the public pumps, Mr. Goad reported that something had been done at the pump at Boxworth End – the bucket had been taken out. It was agreed that the stand-pipe in connection with the new water supply which would be used in the event of a fire should be kept in the fire engine house and be in charge of the Captain of the engine, Mr. S. Challis.

GALON'S CHARITY. 29th Nov. 1912

At a meeting of the Feoffeees of Galon's Charity held at the National School on the 21st inst., the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, was appointed chairman in succession to the Rev. A. C. Vidler.

CORRECTION. 29th Nov. 1912

In the notice in last Friday's issue of a recent meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council, it was stated that in a discussion concerning parish accounts the Chairman and a majority of the Council were at serious variance with the Clerk. The sentence should have read as follows: "The Chairman and a minority of the Council, etc."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR. 29th Nov. 1912

The opening meeting of the winter session of the Christian Endeavour Society in connection with Bethel Chapel was held in the Chapel Schoolroom on Monday evening. Proceedings commenced with tea at 6 p.m., after which there was an entertainment, the programme of which was provided by members of the Swavesey and Over Societies. Songs, recitations, duets, quartets, etc., were well rendered, and there were some excellent speeches. The Rev. H. J. Watts presided, and there was a good attendance. Miss Izzard ably accompanied on the organ. The proceedings concluded with a supper.

NEW DRAIN. 6th Dec. 1912

By direction of the District Council the old drain at the northern end of Wallman's-lane has been re-laid with new pipes, and it is hoped that there will be no further cause for complaint of stoppage and disagreeable odours. The work has been done by Mr. Edmund Furniss, of Fen Drayton, under the superintendence of Mr. F. G. Reynolds, the sanitary inspector.

PARISH COUNCIL. 6th Dec. 1912

An adjourned meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National School on Thursday, 28th ult., under the presidency of Mr. A. Day, chairman. The councillors having inspected the parish property in High-street, decided that the buildings thereon should be repaired, and that the plot of garden ground should be offered for hire. The remainder of the meeting, which lasted about three hours, was spent in discussing parish accounts, etc., and was of no public interest.

LIBERAL MEETING. 6th Dec. 1912

On Monday evening a meeting under the auspices of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in the National School. Mr. E. Parish, chairman of the Association, presided, and was supported by Lady Dorothy Howard, Mr. Kellock and Mr. Capper. The audience was not as large as usual, and included a considerable contingent of ladies, doubtless attracted by Lady Dorothy Howard, and many lads. Lady Dorothy spoke eloquently and answered most of the questions that were asked, and Mr. Kellock dealt with various questions of political interest.

HORSE NEARLY DROWNED. 6th Dec. 1912

Last Thursday afternoon two horses were grazing in the driveway near the Cemetery, when one of them slipped into Top Leys' Brook, and narrowly escaped drowning. Fortunately the animal was discovered in time by a lady and gentleman, the former of whom hastened to summon aid, whilst the latter, assisted by a man, succeeded in keeping the animal's head above water. Eventually the horse was dragged out with ropes, but not without disaster to four of the eight men who were pulling for all they were worth. A rope broke, and the unhappy quartet who were hanging on to it, fell with a crash on to the roadway. One of them, the senior churchwarden, was much bruised and shaken.

CONSERVATIVE SMOKING CONCERT. 6th Dec. 1912

A well-attended Conservative smoking concert was held at the White Horse Club Room on Tuesday evening, when Dr. Ellis presided. The Chairman, in opening the proceedings, congratulated the club on its increasing membership, and remarked that with a good residential candidate like Mr. Newton, who, with his wife, was now doing some excellent work in the division, there was no reason why they should not win back the seat for the Unionist Party. (Applause.) The musical part of the programme was well sustained. During the interval an interesting and instructive address was given by Mr. Sam Long, who for about sixty minutes dealt with the Insurance Act, Home Rule, and Tariff Reform, coupled with Colonial Preference. The speaker dwelt on these questions from a working man's point of view, and on resuming his seat was warmly applauded. After votes of thanks were given, Dr. Ellis called for three cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Newton, and "God save the King" wound up a happy evening.

A WARNING. 13th Dec. 1912

A correspondent writes: "Whilst congratulating our district councillors on the excellent job they have made of the footpath by the side of the brook from Market-street to Church-green, I should like to call their attention, and also the attention of the public, to the dangerous condition of one of the foot-bridges leading from Market-street to the path. The decayed railing is a delusion and a snare, and the planks are rotten and spring dangerously through a support having broken away by reason of old age. The brook just now is full of water, and I tremble when I think of what might happen if a plank gave way under the weight of a massive person – there are some in Swavesey. The bridge is used every winter night by the parish lamplighter, and we value this active official too highly to wish him to endanger his life in the public service, or even to get a ducking."

SHARE-OUT CLUBS. 20th Dec. 1912

The yearly suppers of both of the village share-out clubs were held last (Thursday) night. The White Horse Club shared its funds on Wednesday evening, and the George and Dragon Club will pay out next Monday at the Little Rose publichouse.

FOOTBALL. 20th Dec. 1912

At the instigation of the Vicar, the lads attending the Bible Class held at the Vicarage on Sunday afternoons have formed a football club, and will practice on the Recreation Ground. Frank Hepher has been elected captain and Fred Prior secretary. The Vicar is treasurer.

GALON'S CHARITY. 20th Dec. 1912

At a meeting of the Feoffees of Galon's Charity, held on Monday evening, Mr. W. H. Key in the chair, it was decided that the first distribution of coal for the present winter should be made before Christmas. A few vacant plots in the Hale Allotments were granted to new applicants.

SWAN POND-ROAD. 20th Dec. 1912

A considerable quantity of large lumps of slag has been deposited by the Swan Pond for use on the stretch of road which has been widened and for some time in process of being raised by the County Council, but which is still practically impassable for heavy traffic to and from the railway station. The villagers hope that something will be done without delay to render the main road practicable, as the roadway on the other side of the pond is on a considerably lower level, and not being constructed for heavy vehicles, is in a deplorable state; moreover, in the possible event of a flood no motor car, cart or other wheel conveyance could reach the station, a contingency no one can regard with complacency.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 20th Dec. 1912

On Thursday evening in last week a rousing address on the Home Rule question was given by Mr. John Dunlop, an Irish farmer, at the monthly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, held at Ryder's Farm, the headquarters of the Association. Mr. Dunlop, who spoke for upwards of an hour, held his audience spellbound by his earnestness, in which he stated his case. He assured his hearers that the threatened active resistance of Ulstermen to the disruption of the union, and to a Parliament in Dublin was a deadly reality and not bluff. As a Wesleyan he appealed to English Nonconformists to support their brethren in Ireland, and not hand them over to the domination of the Church of Rome. Unconsciously in his vivid description of the condition of the country and people he furnished a striking reply to a speech recently delivered by Lady Dorothy Howard at a Liberal meeting in Swavesey. At the close of the address Mr. Walter Thorp spoke, and a few questions were answered, after which a hearty vote of thanks was carried amidst loud applause. There was a large attendance of members. (Long report)

THE NEW YEAR. 3rd Jan. 1913

In accordance with old custom the New Year was rung in by merry peals on the bells of the parish church.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 3rd Jan. 1913

Undisturbed by the National Insurance Act, the George and Dragon Mutual Benefit Club, which has been in existence for some years, commences operations afresh this (Friday) evening at the Little Rose.

FLOODED PATHS. 3rd Jan. 1913

On Boxing Day the footpath of the main road in Middle Watch was flooded for several yards, probably though a defective drain, and pedestrians in Gibraltar-lane had to walk through water from a like cause.

ADDITIONAL STREET LAMPS. 3rd Jan. 1913

Authorised by the Parish Council some time ago, two new street lamps have been erected at Top Leys corner and in Gibraltar-lane respectively. They were lighted for the first time on Boxing Night.

SWAN POND-ROAD. 3rd Jan. 1913

For at least six months work has been in progress to widen and raise the high road by the Swan Pond – a stretch of about 80 yards. Gault too soft for footpaths was first thickly laid on the hard granite surface. Then a lot of gravel, and on Monday and Tuesday a gang of men packed on the top lumps of iron slag. On Wednesday a steam roller appeared, but quickly got stuck, and time after time had to be dug out and hauled away by another engine. On Thursday morning the roller departed and the County Council roadmen set to work to dig out the gault. The question now being asked is how many more months must pass before the road - the main thoroughfare to the station – can be used, and how much more money is to be wasted on these experiments in road making.

FUNERAL. 3rd Jan. 1913

On Monday afternoon the funeral of the late Mr. Owen Walker, whose somewhat unexpected death on Christmas Eve, at the age of 69 years, was announced last week, took place in Swavesey churchyard, the vicar officiating. Among the mourners were Mrs. Walker (widow), Mrs. J. Froment (only daughter), Messrs. George, Charles, Ernest, John, Fred and James Walker (sons), Mrs. W. Adams (sister), Mrs. C. Walker, Mrs. G. Walker (daughters-in-law) and Mr. J. Froment (son-in-law). Mr. Robinson Mitham carried out the funeral arrangements. It is interesting to record that of the late Mr. Walker's six sons, all of whom were at the funeral, two are platelayers, one a railway engine driver, one a constable in the Metropolitan Police Force, and two motor engineers.

GOSPEL MISSIONS. 10th Jan. 1913

A united gospel mission, conducted by Mr. William Olney, of the Metropolitan Tabernacle and honorary president of Haddon Hall Mission, London, has been held in Swavesey during the week. The mission began with a public meeting in Bethel Chapel schoolroom on Saturday evening to welcome Mr. Olney and Miss Elsie Mitchell of London, who has acted as soloist, and services and meetings for adults, young people and children respectively, have been held every day since at Bethel Chapel, the Primitive Methodist Chapel and the Friends' Meeting House.

FOREIGN MISSIONS. 10th Jan. 1913

The annual missionary tea in connection with the parish church was held at the school on Monday, January 6th, at 6 p.m. Nine tables were provided, and were presided over by the following ladies: Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Capper, Miss Wells, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Scard, Mrs. Gleaves, and Mrs. Beaumont. A large number partook of an excellent tea, there being fully a hundred persons present. After the tea a lecture was given by the Rev. C. E. Hewitt, from Ontario, Canada. The lecture was most interesting, and was obviously much appreciated. The amount collected for the S. P. G. was as follows: By payments for tea £2 2s. 9d., by subscriptions £1 0s. 6d., collection after lecture 19s. 2d.; total £4 2s 5d. Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Gleaves were responsible for the organising of the tea, the arrangements for which were admirably carried out. The Rev. C. E. Hewitt preached at the evening service on Sunday last on mission work.

SWAN POND-ROAD. 10th Jan. 1913

The work of raising the main road by the Swan Pond is progressing very slowly. Last Friday a light steam roller, a heavy one having been found unsuitable, was brought into use. Within a few minutes of its getting to work it was in difficulties, having slipped on the large lumps of slag which rose and fell owing to the gault underneath, and became embedded at an angle of about 45 degrees in soft ground on the pond side of the road. A large traction engine which happened to be at the station was brought up and the roller dragged out. Soon afterwards the roller got stuck in another place, and the traction engine had to be sent for again. It is reported that similar mishaps occurred on the following day. During the week the roller has been steadily at work, and the soft gault which was used as the bottom layer for raising the road is being moved to the top. The roller gracefully rises and falls as it passes over the spongy surface, like a small boat at Yarmouth. More slag is being laid on the top of the gault and it is understood that the County road authorities do not despair of making a good road in course of time, but village critics, with an experience of Swavesey gault, think otherwise.

CHURCH WORKERS ENTERTAINED. 17th Jan. 1913

On Thursday evening, 9th inst., Mrs. Long kindly entertained at her residence, The Priory, the lady workers connected with the parish church. About 40 guests were present.

SWAN POND-ROAD. 17th Jan. 1913

The county road authorities are doggedly continuing their apparently herculean task of raising the main road by Swan Pond, and rendering it useable for wheeled traffic. More gault has been taken out, and drains of ordinary field draining tiles laid. The steam roller departed early on Wednesday, and it is reported that further operations will be suspended for the present. The work has been in hand upwards of six months.

SNOWSTORM INCIDENT. 17th Jan. 1913

When the snowstorm was at its height last Saturday the Swavesey newsagent left his bicycle, laden with daily papers, outside the New Inn, on the Huntingdon-road, whilst he went into the house to deliver a paper. A boy was left in charge to look after the bicycle. On the newsagent's return he discovered that his machine had been blown down, and that the papers had been sent flying in all directions, some being carried about two hundred yards.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 17th Jan. 1913

At the monthly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, held at Ryder's Farm on Thursday, 9th inst., Mr. W. de L. Devereux, Unionist agent for West Cambs., gave an earnest, lucid and eloquent address on Tariff Reform, paying special attention to the question of food taxes. An announcement during the evening gave satisfaction to the members, namely, that Mr. John Dunlop, an Irish Nonconformist farmer, whose address on Home Rule at the December meeting of the Association made a great impression, would speak at a public meeting in the schoolroom on Tuesday, 28th January, at which Mr. G. D. Newton is also to speak.

MOTHERS' UNION. 24th Jan. 1913

Mrs. Cooksey most hospitably entertained the members of the Mothers' Union at Swavesey Manor on Thursday, 16th inst., to a sumptuous tea. After tea, games, competitions, and other amusements were indulged in, and before leaving the guests had supper. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

CHOIR AND RINGERS SUPPER. 24th Jan. 1913

On the generous invitation of Mrs. Long, of the Priory, the men of the choir, the ringers, and other officials connected with the parish church had their annual supper at the National School on Thursday, 16th inst. After an excellent repast, to which full justice was done, the guests settled down to spend a pleasant evening, under the presidency of the vicar, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp. Songs were sung, and Mr. Skeeles, the organist, gave gramophone selections and some capital change ringing on handbells was done by Messrs. David Prime, Bert Hodson, and R. Mitham, jun.

PRIMROSE LEAGUE. 24th Jan. 1913

Another success has been scored by the Primrose League in Swavesey. On Monday evening the large room of the National School was crowded for a meat tea and entertainment, organised by Mr. Cole, assisted by the other local sub-wardens of the League. Mr. W. C. Cole presided. The programme contained duologues, songs, and violin solos. Mrs. Smith, in her address, which was limited to half an hour, touched discursively and effectively on many matters of political interest, including food taxes, Tariff Reform, the Insurance Act, Home Rule, Old Age Pensions, Welsh Disestablishment, etc. The address should have been delivered by Mrs. Devereux, but to the great regret of the audience she was unable to be present in consequence of family bereavement.

PARISH CHURCH. 31st Jan. 1913

A beautiful sanctuary carpet has been presented to the parish church.

WEDDING. 31st Jan. 1913

Mr. James William Williams, youngest son of the late Mr. James Williams, wheelwright, was married quietly at the parish church to Miss Harriet Causer on Monday morning.

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 31st Jan. 1913

Thirty-seven widows and widowers have this week received gifts of tea, sugar, and coal from the Trustees of Payne's Charity. The balance of last year's income of the charity, which has to be devoted to the Parish Church Repairs Fund, is, unfortunately, very small. The trustees of the charity are the Vicar and churchwardens for the time being.

PARISH COUNCIL. 31st Jan. 1913

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Thursday, 23rd inst. The main business was a discussion on the system of keeping the Council accounts, and the proposed abolition of the petty cash account, to which some of the Council objected. It was decided that the petty cash account should be discontinued.

WHIST DRIVE. 31st Jan. 1913

A most successful whist drive was held on Thursday, 23rd instant, at the headquarters of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, Ryder's Farm. Prizes were awarded to: - Ladies, Mrs. H. G. Key (1st prize), Mrs. E. J. Warboys (2nd), Mrs. W. F. Gleaves (booby); gentlemen, Mr. S. F. Mitham (1st), Mr. A. G. Rivers (2nd), Mr. F. Doggett (booby).

SWAN POND-ROAD. 31st Jan. 1913

The main road by the Swan Pond, which has been closed for some time, was re-opened last Friday morning. It is understood that in course of time granite will be laid on top of the slag, but all that has been done now has been to spread a layer of gravel in places. The soft gault continues to come to the top through slag and gravel. A gentleman on Friday drove over the new road, and finding the gault still squeezing through, expressed his surprise that any community of business men should have made such a "dog's hind leg sort of a road," and spent so large a sum of money on such ineffective work.

DEATH. 31st Jan. 1913

We regret to record the death, at the age of sixty-nine years, of Mr. William Carrier, which occurred on Sunday morning. Mr. Carrier, who was a native of Swavesey, had been ill for about a fortnight, but he had been in failing health for some time. For upwards of thirty years he was employed as a platelayer on the Great Eastern Railway, and retired with a pension about two years ago. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel, officiating. The mourners included Mr. William Carrier (son), Mrs. Fryatt (daughter), Mr. Josiah Carrier (son), Miss Lucy Carrier (daughter), Mr. George Carrier (son), Mr. Sidney Carrier (son), and Mrs. J. Carrier and Mrs. F. Carrier (daughters-in-law). The deceased left a widow, an invalid, and five sons and five daughters.

PARISH CHURCH. 7th^{Feb}. 1913

Special services are being held at the parish church on the first six Wednesday evenings in Lent. The preacher on Ash Wednesday was the Rev. H. E. Wynn, Chaplain of Jesus College, Cambridge, who will also preach on the 12th, 19th, and 26th inst. The Rev. Evelyn Young, of Fen Drayton, will occupy the pulpit on March 5th and 12th.

RESTORATION OF THE CHURCH TOWER. 7th Feb. 1913

An expert examination of the tower of the parish church has shown that extensive repairs are urgently needed. A fund has been opened and some subscriptions have been received or promised, but a considerable sum will be required. Collecting boxes have also been issued. The church, which was restored in 1867, is a fine old building in the Early English and perpendicular styles, and the chancel arch is a good example of the 13th century work.

FOOTBALL. 14th Feb. 1913

On Saturday last the recently-established Swavesey Boys' Church Bible Class Football Club played a team of Over boys on the Manor Field Ground. A well-fought game ended in a draw of two goals each.

A COMPLAINT. 14th Feb. 1913

"A Frequent User" wishes to call the attention of the Swavesey Rural District Council to the condition of Gibraltar-lane. The road throughout needs attention, he says, especially at the Fen Drayton-road end, where it is frequently covered with water, and pedestrians cannot reach the cottages in the lane dry shod. As a cyclist, our correspondent adds, he has more than once narrowly escaped an awkward spill, and he mentions that last year a baker's cart was upset at the flooded spot, and loaves of bread and bags of flour were thrown into the water. Defective drainage is alleged to be the cause of the mischief.

PARISH COUNCIL. 14th Feb. 1913

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the National Schoolroom on the 6th inst., and was attended by the following councillors: Messrs. A. Day (chairman), W. Burton, W. Daisley, J. S. Goad, A. Norman, J. W. Parish, and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The minutes of the previous meeting having been confirmed tenders for the hire of a piece of garden land belonging to the Council in High-street, together with an outbuilding, were considered. Two tenders were submitted, viz., from W. J. Hepher for 12s. per annum, and from Mr. Alfred Day, jun., for 15s. per annum. The latter tender, which was for a period of three years, was accepted. Repairs to a fence in a garden hired by Mr. George Clarke, forming part of the same property, were ordered to be executed. Mr. Burton then raised the question of improving the Recreation Ground. The Clerk observed that the Council had no money available for the purpose, but some of the councillors thought he was mistaken, as a year's rent of the herbage of the ground ought to be in hand. After some discussion it was decided to make inquiry into the matter, and if there was any money available, to spend it on making a cricket pitch. It was decided to submit the names of Messrs. C. Burling, Edward Clark, Prime Godfrey, and S. Wright to the magistrates as those of suitable persons to hold the office of parish constable for the ensuing year. Accounts for supplying and fixing the new street lamps were presented, but no cheques could be drawn until a precent already issued had been paid in. The Council will meet again shortly.

FUNERAL. 14th Feb. 1913

On Tuesday afternoon the funeral of the late Mr. James William Wilderspin took place in Swavesey Cemetery. Mr. Wilderspin, who was 79 years of age, died on the 7th inst. at 3, Edward-street, Grantham, where he had been living for some time. He was a native of Swavesey, being a son of the late Mr. William Wilderspin. For very many years he had been employed by the Great Northern Railway Company, and for a considerable period was station-master of Sedgebrook. He leaves three sons and one daughter to mourn their loss. The body was brought from Grantham on Monday. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. G. B. Bowles, Baptist minister, of Grantham and the chief mourners at the graveside were: Mr. Jesse Wilderspin (son) and Mrs. J. Wilderspin, Mr. Charles Wilderspin (son), Mr. Frederick Wilderspin (grandson), Mr. Samuel Wilderspin (brother), Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Devereux (sisters) and Mr. Devereux (brother-in-law). Among those present at the cemetery were Messrs. W. H. Key (representing the Wheatsheaf Lodge of the Shepherds, to which the deceased had belonged for upwards of sixty years, almost from its commencement), J. Gilby and W. Parish. All of the bearers were members of the Wheatsheaf Lodge. The coffin was of polished elm, with massive brass furniture.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 21st Feb. 1913

At the monthly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, held at Ryder's Farm on Thursday, 13th inst., Mr. W. J. Wing gave an interesting and forcible address on "Social Reform versus Socialism." The Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided, and there was a good attendance of members and a few visitors.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 21st Feb. 1913

The members and seat-holders of Bethel Baptist Chapel held their annual tea, followed by a business meeting, on Thursday, 13th inst. The attendance was larger than usual. The Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor, presided at the meeting, at which reports were submitted respecting the various branches of work in connection with the chapel. A most enjoyable and in all respects satisfactory gathering was brought to a close with a vote of thanks to the ladies who had presided at tea tables, and with prayer and the Benediction.

PUBLIC NOTICES. 28th Feb. 1913

A public notice board has been erected by the Parish Council on the parish property in High-street.

SCOOL CLOSED. 28th Feb. 1913

In consequence of whooping cough the National School was closed last Friday afternoon for a fortnight.

CRICKET CLUB. 28th Feb. 1913

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School on Thursday evening, 20th instant, and was unusually well attended. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar of Swavesey, presided. Officers were elected for the ensuing season. It was decided to enter for the Milton and District Cricket League. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. R. Ellis Long for his kindness in lending the cricket field.

AN ANNIVERSARY. 7th March 1913

Sunday last, March 2nd, being the anniversary of the birth of the late Mr. George Long, the bells of the parish church were rung during the afternoon and before the evening service, in accordance with the terms of a bequest left by him.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 7th March 1913

A tea and meeting in furtherance of a fund which is being raised for renovating Bethel Baptist Chapel should have been held on Monday evening, but had to be postponed in consequence of the great fire. The provisions provided for the tea were distributed amongst persons affected by the fire, and the chapel was kept warm and lighted in case it should be needed for any homeless families. It was, however, not used, as the sufferers found shelter with their friends. The Rev. Douglas Brown, son of the well-known Rev. Archibald Brown, who was to have preached, rendered valuable assistance at the fire being accompanied by the Rev. H. J. Watts, the Swavesey pastor.

A TELEPHONE SERVICE. 7th March 1913

A correspondent writes: The public announcement in the advertisement columns of last Friday's "Weekly News" from the secretary of the General Post Office as to the erection of telegraph posts between Over and Willingham, has set some of us in Swavesey wondering whether the telephone system is to be extended to Swavesey in the near future, or whether Over is to be placed in telephonic communication with the rest of the world and Swavesey left in the cold. A public call office in this village is badly needed, and would undoubtedly be found of the greatest service, even by those old-fashioned and unenterprising people who now are inclined to question its practical utility, and are perturbed with fears of the expense a telephone might entail.

PARISH COUNCIL. 7th March 1913

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the school on Wednesday evening, and was attended by all of the Councillors. Mr. A. Day presided. On the proposal of Mr. W. Daisley, seconded by Mr. Burton, a recommendation from the Recreation Ground Committee that the ground should be drained before the proposed cricket pitch is made was approved. – The salary of the parish constable was fixed at £1 19s. 6d., less 5s., the rental of Constable's Rood. – The Chairman then moved a vote of sympathy with the sufferers in the great fire at Church End, and of thanks to all who had helped at the fire, or who were contributing so liberally to the relief funds, or assisting in other ways in alleviating distress. He made special mention of the valuable services rendered by the St. Ives and Huntingdon Fire Brigades, and of the "Cambridge Daily News" for, unsolicited, opening a relief fund. – A long discussion followed respecting the parish fire engine, and various suggestions were made with the view of increasing its usefulness and of utilising the fire hydrants of the new water supply. – It was eventually decided to have a trial practice of the engine and standpipes next Monday evening. – A letter from the Clerk of the County Council was read concerning the proposal to make Cambridge a County Borough, and after an interesting discussion it was decided that the Council should support the action of the County Council in opposing the Bill now before Parliament, and the Clerk was instructed to communicate the resolution to the Prime Minister and other leading officials.- Two extra street lamps having been brought into use since the beginning of the winter, the lighting contractor, Mr. George Clarke, was allowed £1 for attending to them.

FIRE FIGHTING APPLIANCES. 14th March 1913

The trial of the parish fire-engine and of a hydrant connected with the new public water supply which had been decided on at last week's meeting of the Parish Council, was carried out on Monday.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 14th March 1913

The usual monthly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, which should have been held last (Thursday) evening, was postponed, as in consequence of the fire many members would be unable to attend. It is hoped that Dr. Hay, of Sutton, who had been announced as the speaker, will address the April meeting.

OBITUARY. 14th March 1913

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 66 years, of Mrs. Eliza Seaby, which occurred at her residence at Boxworth End, Swavesey, on Sunday last. Mrs. Seaby was the widow of the late Mr. David Seaby, who had farmed in Swavesey, Elsworth, and elsewhere in the district. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel, officiating.

STUCK IN A POND. 14th March 1913

About 10.30 a.m. on Tuesday a large oil wagon was driven into the school pond to water the horses. In turning to come out the driver appears to have missed the regular way, with the result that the wagon wheels sank deeply into mud and gault and remained embedded for some hours. Eventually six horses, supplied by Mr. Robert Norman, with one detached from a passing miller's cart, succeeded, after much difficulty, in extracting the tank wagon.

RUSH IN THE POST OFFICE. 14th March 1913

The work at Swavesey Post Office has been extremely heavy in consequence of the fire. On the postal side the pressure nearly approximated to that at Christmas. The business at the counter has been great, and the number of telegrams dealt with far beyond all precedent. On Friday and Saturday in last week the office was inundated with local weekly newspapers, sent by the villagers to friends and relatives at a distance.

THE GALE. 21st March 1913

During the gale which raged early on Sunday morning, two trees were blown down, one at the Manor, and the other a poplar which was struck by lightning last year at Boxworth End.

THE FOXHOUNDS. 21st March 1913

After a long run – one of the best, it is said, of the season – the Cambridgeshire Hounds on Friday last killed their fox in a barn at Ryder's Farm, in the middle of the village. There was much excitement in the village as the Hounds' visits to the village are few and far between. The head was given to Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, a neighbouring farmer, and a small schoolboy received the brush.

FIRE RELIEF FUND. 21st March 1913

The sum of £19 17s. 2d., has been raised in aid of the Fire Relief Fund by means of collecting boxes.

SWAN POND ROAD. 21st March 1913

A correspondent writes: - If the District Council do not do something at once to repair the roadway by the Swan Pond, there is every possibility of a serious accident happening. On Friday a traction engine, with truck laden with granite got stuck and had to be partly unloaded, and on Saturday night a cyclist had a nasty spill and injured his hand. The condition of the County Council main road on the other side of the pond is still so unsatisfactory that a large proportion of the traffic – traction engines, for instance – passes over the District Council road as the smaller of two evils. As appeals to the County Council appear to be useless, perhaps the District Councillors, all local men, will come to the rescue.

THE FIRE ENGINE. 21st March 1913

The Swavesey parish fire engine has been much before the public eye of late, and a few particulars as to its origin may be of interest. It was second-hand when bought and brought to Swavesey on 19th September, 1827 from the famous firm of Messrs. Merryweather. In the London “Evening News” monthly, Mr. J. C. Merryweather gave some interesting details. The following extract is taken from the records of his firm: -

THE TOWNSHIP OF SWAVESEY.

1827, Sep. 19

Per order of Mr. Thos. Mortlock and Mr. James Garner. A powerful second-hand (patent) fire engine (British) with copper branch pipe, brass – pipe, 3 new lengths of leather pipe, with brass screws, copper stainer and two box wrenches. Inscription “Swavesey Subscription Engine, 1827,” in yellow letters shadowed, and drawing do., to the Catherine Wheel Bishops-gate-street (per Smith’s waggon)

(per agreement)

£105 0 0

“You will observe,” writes Mr. Merryweather, that the engine was second-hand when supplied. The word ‘British’ in parenthesis shows that it was originally built by the firm for the British Fire Office. It is extremely probable therefore, that the ancient warrior’s experiences in pumping water date back some twenty or thirty years prior to 1827. In the circumstances the ‘centenarian’ engine could hardly be expected to accomplish wonderful fire extinguishing feats. As a matter of fact it deserves every credit for being still in existence in 1913.”

DISTRICT COUNCIL ELECTION. 28th March 1913

Messrs. A. Day and E. Parish, the retiring Guardians and District Councillors, have been re-elected without opposition.

THE FIRE. 28th March 1913

A number of visitors on cycles and in conveyances of various kinds inspected the scene of the late fire on Easter Monday. On Wednesday the treasurer of the Fire Relief Fund, received a donation of £25 from the members of the Trinity Beagles.

VESTRY MEETING. 28th March 1913

At the Easter Vestry meeting, held under the tower in the parish church on Monday afternoon, Mr. Walter Thorp was unanimously re-elected parish warden. The vicar, who presided, nominated Mr. W.H. Key as his warden. Mr. Key has served as warden for the last 17 years.

FOOTBALL. 28th March 1913

On Easter Monday afternoon, a good and hard-fought game was played between the Swavesey club and the West Cambs. Rovers, the home team winning by one goal to nil.

BOY'S NARROW ESCAPE. 28th March 1913

George Voss, aged 14 years, had a narrow escape from drowning whilst playing with other lads on Sunday afternoon at the sluice gates where Covell's Brook and Navigation Drain join the river Ouse. He and others were on a horse boat which is used for conveying barge horses across the river when in flood, when he pitched head first into the water. As he rose to the surface his head was covered with mud. The water was deep and he could not swim, but a "spread" was handy, and with that he was hauled out.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 28th March 1913

On Good Friday evening a service of song, entitled "Marjory", was given in Bethel Baptist Chapel, in the presence of a large and appreciative audience, by members of the congregation and friends. The various numbers were well rendered. At the close a satisfactory collection was taken in aid of the Chapel Renovation Fund. Earlier in the evening a well-attended public tea was held, the tables being presided over by Mrs. T. W. Carter, Miss Nellie Day, Mrs. Godfrey, Miss P. Williams, Miss E. Parish, and Miss E. Starte.

GOOD FRIDAY AND EASTER DAY. 28th March 1913

The services on Good Friday at the parish church were well attended. On Easter Day the church was effectively, though simply, decorated with spring flowers. There were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6 a.m., 7.30 a.m., and at 11.15 a.m. (choral). Matins was at 10.30 a.m., and a children's service at 3 p.m. The congregation at Evensong was unusually numerous, and the service was bright and hearty. The collections throughout the day were an Easter offering to the vicar.

SWAVESEY FIRE RELIEF FUND.

MEETING OF THE ENLARGED COMMITTEE. 28th March 1913

The first meeting of the enlarged committee of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund was held at the Vicarage, Swavesey, on Wednesday afternoon, March 26th. The report of the Special Sub-Committee charged with the duty of inquiring into the claims of the various sufferers, was submitted and their recommendations approved, certain special cases being reserved for the consideration of the full committee. Five cases were dealt with, the claimants being interviewed and awards made. The question of the disposal of the surplus was then discussed, and a resolution passed sanctioning the application of this money to the erection of cottages for old age pensioners rendered homeless by the fire, of whom there were ten. It was realised that no new cottages could be built by private enterprise or public authority at a rental such as these old folk could pay. A sub-committee was appointed to prepare a scheme.

CRICKET CLUB. 11th April 1913

Mr. Charles Wood, who was so successful as a bowler last year, has resigned the captaincy of the Swavesey Cricket Club.

DEATH OF MR. WALTER HODSON. 11th April 1913

We regret to record the death, at the age of 37 years, of Mr. Walter George Hodson, which occurred at his residence in Swavesey at 8.15 p.m. on Monday. Mr. Hodson, who was the second son of Mr. John Hodson, thatcher, of Swavesey, had been ill for about four months. He was married 18 months ago, and leaves a widow, for whom much sympathy is felt, but no children.

A CHIMNEY POT MADE OF WOOD. 11th April 1913

One day last week a chimney pot made of wood on a cottage in Askew-row was discovered to be on fire. On the alarm being given women rushed out of neighbouring houses calling loudly for help. Mr. W. J. Hepher ran up, and seeing what was amiss promptly summoned the Captain of the Fire Brigade (Mr. S. Challis), who was working nearby. The pot was then flaring brightly. Messrs. Challis and Hepher mounted the roof, and at the risk of burning their hands removed the pot, and all danger was over.

FUNERAL OF MR. FRED CARTER. 11th April 1913

The funeral of the late Mr. Frederick Carter, whose death on March 30th, at the age of 80 years, at his residence, 36 Fornham-road, Bury St. Edmunds's, was announced last week, took place in Swavesey churchyard on Thursday, 3rd inst., the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar of Swavesey) officiating. The body and chief mourners arrived from Bury by the 1. 59 p.m. train, and on being joined by other mourners and friends proceeded at once to the parish church close by, where the first part of the service was said. The interment took place in the grave in which the deceased's wife was buried in July 1892. Among the mourners were the following Mr. F. A. Carter (son), Miss Mildred Carter (daughter), Mr. C. B. Carter (son), Miss Nelly Carter, Miss Chrissie Carter (daughters), Miss C. Andrews (sister-in-law) and Mrs. F. A. Carter (daughter-in-law).

PRETTY VISITORS. 18th April 1913

Goldfinches are nesting in the village of Swavesey.

PARISH COUNCIL. 18th April 1913

The last meeting of the old Parish Council, whose term of three years of office has expired this week, was held on Thursday, the 10th inst., under the presidency of Mr. Alfred Day, chairman. Most of the councillors were present. The business consisted mainly of the authorisation of the payment of bills and a discussion respecting the fire-engine and its appliances.

THE RELIEF FUND. 18th April 1913

Some misunderstanding has been caused, we understand, by some remarks on the housing question in our editorial columns last week. It was definitely decided, we are informed, at the last meeting of the Relief Committee, that any surplus from the fund should be devoted to building cottages for those old age pensioners who were displaced by the fire, these being the most, and indeed the only, necessitous cases.

ACCIDENT TO A LITTLE CHILD. 18th April 1913

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Charles Taylor's little girl, aged about six years, had a narrow escape from death or very serious injury whilst playing on the high road opposite the school. She had been running after, or hanging on, a truck drawn by a traction engine when she suddenly darted across the road into the legs of a horse drawing Mr. Horace Wells' coal cart, which was passing slowly in the opposite direction. The child was knocked down and her leg badly bruised by the cart wheel, but no bones were broken. She was at once taken to her home close by, and the doctor sent for. No blame is attached to Mr. Wells for, owing to the truck, he could not see the child and he pulled up immediately.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 18th April 1913

The closing monthly meeting of the season was held by the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association at Ryder's Farm on the 10th inst., when Dr. Hay, of Sutton, gave an interesting address on "Some absurdities of our fiscal system." After votes of thanks had been accorded the Chairman called special attention to the annual tea of the Association, which is to be held on Monday next, 21st instant. Admission for the tea is by ticket only, the charge for which, after to-day (Friday) will be raised from 1s. to 1s. 6d.

CRICKET CLUB. 18th April 1913

A general meeting of Swavesey Cricket Club was held in the National School on Tuesday evening. Dr. Robert Ellis took the chair, and was supported by Mr. E. J. Mitham, secretary. A letter from Mr. Charles Wood resigning the captaincy was read, and a lengthy discussion followed. Eventually it was unanimously agreed to ask Mr. Wood to reconsider his decision. Mr. Wood, who at this point entered the room, said he would withdraw his resignation, an announcement which evoked loud and prolonged applause. On the proposal of Mr. Fred Johnson, seconded by Mr. Wood, it was unanimously agreed that the club should return to its old ground in Carter's-lane in the event of Mr. Ellis Long being kind enough to allow the club the use of his field, and Mr. Wood was deputed to communicate with Mr. Ellis Long and Mrs. Long, of the Priory in the matter. After the fixture list for the season had been approved, the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Chairman.

FUNERAL OF MR. WALTER HODSON. 18th April 1913

The funeral of the late Mr. Walter George Hodson, whose death at the age of 37 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey churchyard on Thursday afternoon, 10th inst. In the unavoidable absence of the Vicar from Swavesey, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. W. G. Hodson (widow), Mr. John Hodson (father), Messrs. William, Bert, and Harry Hodson (brothers), Mrs. Butterworth and Mrs. E. J. Linford, jun. (sisters), and Mrs. W. Hodson and Mrs. B. Hodson (sisters-in-law).

BETHEL CHAPEL. 25th April 1913

On Sunday evening a public baptismal service was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel. Five persons were immersed, the Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor, officiating.

DEATH. 25th April 1913

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Sarah Ann Metcalfe, which occurred early on Monday morning, 21st April, after a painful and distressing illness of nearly four months duration. Mrs. Metcalfe was greatly respected. She was 78 years of age, a native of Swavesey, and widow of the late Mr. Joseph Metcalfe, thatcher, who predeceased her by nearly eleven years.

B.W.T.A. 25th April 1913

On Monday evening the annual business meeting of the Swavesey branch of the British Women's Temperance Association was held at the Friends' Meeting House, after the Band of Hope entertainment. Miss Gaunt presided, and the following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: - President, Mrs. H. J. Watts; secretary, Miss Gaunt; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. Daisley; assistant secretary, Miss E. Parish. Other business was transacted and refreshments having been served, the meeting closed.

PARISH COUNCIL. 25th April 1913

The first meeting of the newly-elected Parish Council was held at the National School on Thursday evening, 17th inst., and was attended by the following councillors: Messrs. W. Burton, E. Clark, C. W. H. Cole, R. Ellis, J. S. Goad, A. T. Scard, and W. Twist. Pending the election of a chairman, Mr. Robinson Mitham (Clerk) presided. The minutes of the previous meeting having been confirmed, the appointment of officers was proceeded with. Mr. A. Day was chosen as Chairman, and Dr. R. Ellis was elected vice-chairman. Messrs. W. C. Cole and James Parsons were elected as Overseers. Mr. S. Wilderspin was re-appointed pindar. The following committees were also appointed: - Fire Engine: Messrs. Clark, Cole, and Scard; Street Lighting: Messrs. Burton, R. Norman and Twist; Messrs. Scard and Twist were authorised to sign cheques on behalf of the Council.

(Long report)

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 25th April 1913

On Monday evening the members of the Mothers' Meeting and the children of the Band of Hope attached to the Friends' Meeting House, to the number of about forty, sat down to an excellent tea to celebrate the close of a successful winter session. At 6.45 p.m. the room was crowded for a public entertainment given by the children of the Band of Hope. Mrs. H. J. Watts presided in the absence, through illness, of Mrs. Watts White. The children did their part well, and gave great satisfaction. The following contributed to the programme: Stanley Godfrey, Gladys Rogers, Harry Brooks, Mercy Gray, Miss Gaunt, Reggie Trundley, Grace Brooks, Ronnie Prior, Reggie Seekings, and Nellie Prior. An address by Mrs. Watts brought the proceedings to a close.

SWAVESEY CONSERVATIVES.

ANNUAL TEA AND MEETING.

MR. NEWTON ON COUNTY BURDENS. 25th April 1913

The annual tea and meeting of the Swavesey and District Conservative and Unionist Association, which was held in the National Schoolroom at Swavesey on Monday evening, must rank as one of the most successful ever held by the Association. The schoolroom was crowded, the attendance including a good many representatives from neighbouring villages. After the tea a number of toasts were honoured. The speeches were brief and to the point, and were pleasantly interspersed with quartettes, duets and songs by the Magpies Concert Party, who were in brilliant form.

Mr. Douglas Newton, in responding to the toast of "The Unionist Cause," made sympathetic allusion to the recent disastrous fire in the village and to the sudden death of Sir Chas. Rose, M.P. for East Cambs. Mr. Newton afterwards referred, amongst other matters, to the great increase in the county rate, which, he declared, was in no small measure due to the burdens placed upon the County Councils by Parliament.

(Long report)

DANGEROUS RUINS. 2nd May 1913

A correspondent is anxious to know when the ruins of the four condemned cottages destroyed in the big fire will be cleared away from the public footpath. He says that a person might meet with serious accident on a dark night by falling over the remains of the stud and plaster walls.

SWAN POND-ROAD. 2nd May 1913

A Swavesey farmer calls attention to the bad condition of the main road by the Swan Pond, which he maintains is dangerous to horses owing to large lumps of slag projecting here and there three and four inches above the surface of the road. These projections, he says, are liable to throw a horse down.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 2nd May 1913

A robin has built her nest and laid eggs in a basket half-full of corks hanging under the eaves of a shed in the Rising Sun Inn yard. The basket is about five feet from the ground, is close to a stable and beer store, and the yard is in constant use. The mother bird has been missing for some days, and it is feared that the domestic black cat is responsible for its disappearance.

NARROW ESCAPE. 2nd May 1913

On Sunday evening the maid at the Rising Sun Inn in closing a staircase window on the first floor with a lighted candle in her hand set the curtains alight. They blazed up at once. The maid stood amazed, but the landlord's little daughter, who was going to bed in a room close by, shrieked loudly, and her father rushed upstairs, and pulling the curtains down, extinguished the flames. Only slight damage was done, but if the landlord had not been at hand the consequences would have been serious, as in addition to the little girl, a smaller boy was in bed asleep, and all upstairs rooms would have been cut off.

FUNERAL. 2nd May 1913

On Saturday afternoon the funeral of the late Mrs. Joseph Metcalfe, whose death was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. Thomas Metcalfe, Mr. Joseph Metcalfe, and Mr. John Metcalfe (sons), Mrs. Woodall (daughter) and Mrs. T. Metcalfe and Mrs. John Metcalfe (daughters-in-law. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. In his sermon on Sunday morning the Vicar made a sympathetic reference to the late Mrs. Metcalfe, specially mentioning her regular attendance at the daily services in the parish church.

POLICE-CONSTABLE PLOWMAN'S RETIREMENT. 2nd May 1913

After over 32 years' good service, P.C. Henry Plowman has retired with a well-earned pension from the Cambridgeshire Constabulary. He performed his last duty at Swavesey on Wednesday, and yesterday moved to Histon, where he proposed to enjoy his otium cum dignitate in a house he has had specially built. Mr. Plowman joined the force on the 22nd January 1881, when Capt. Calvert was Chief Constable. He remained at headquarters until the 13th April that year, when he was sent to Horseheath, under the late Supts. Long and Dyson respectively. He stayed there until the 9th April, 1885, on which date he was transferred to Balsham in the same Division. On the 16th June, 1891, he moved to Burwell in the Newmarket Division, serving there for two years, under his old Superintendent, Mr. Long. From there he went to Histon on 4th April 1893, where he served for 16½ years. On the 11th October, 1909, he was transferred to Swavesey. Mr. Plowman's services have met with recognition. In July, 1911, he was recommended for the Kings' Medal, and a year later received it, the presentation being made by Col. Hurrell. It is understood that Mr. Plowman was the only constable in the Cambs. Constabulary to whom the medal was awarded. During the time he has been stationed at Swavesey he has given general satisfaction by the way in which he has performed his not always pleasant duties, and Swavesey people of all classes are sorry to lose him.

DEATH. 9th May 1913

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Lucy Carrier, widow of the late Mr. William Carrier, which occurred shortly before midnight on Monday. Mrs. Carrier, who was 69 years of age, had been ill for about two years. Her husband died on the 26th January last.

PARISH CHURCH. 9th May 1913

The congregations at the parish church on Sunday May 4th (Feast Sunday) were good, those at 7.30 a.m. and 6.30 p.m. being especially large. The offertories throughout the day were given to the church tower repair fund, and amounted to £2 6s. 2d. The preacher at evensong was the Rev. Canon Foakes-Jackson, D.D., Dean of Jesus College, Cambridge.

THE FEAST. 9th May 1913

Owing in great measure to the bad weather the feast, which opened on Sunday last, has been a tame affair. The village was quieter than usual on Feast Sunday as few caravans entered until late in the evening, and most not until Monday morning. On Monday afternoon a cricket match was played between Lolworth and the Swavesey Club and was handsomely won by the latter. A whole day match had been arranged for Tuesday with an eleven captained by Mr. W. L. Ingle, of Hilton. Play should have begun at 11.30 a.m., but a start was not made until 12.30, owing to the late arrival of the visitors, and even then they were four or five men short. The visitors batted first, and when an adjournment was made for luncheon they had knocked up 31 runs for the loss of three wickets. Very little play was possible after lunch, for the rain came down in torrents, and the match had to be abandoned early in the afternoon. The scores then stood at 55 for 3 wickets. On Wednesday Swavesey scored a second victory by defeating Earith. On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons a sale of work, in aid of Bethel Chapel Renovation Fund, was held in a barn kindly lent by Mr. Alfred Day.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 16th May 1913

A linnet has nested in the case of a pump in regular use on the parish property in High-street, and has laid seven eggs.

THE FIRE. 16th May 1913

At a special meeting of the Parish Council, held at the National School on Wednesday evening, men who had rendered assistance at the great fire on 3rd March were paid for their services.

OBITUARY. 16th May 1913

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Prior, wife of Mr. Charles Prior, which occurred shortly before midnight on Monday. Mrs. Prior, who was 57 years of age, had been a great sufferer for some time, although able to get about until shortly before her death. She was a native of Tillbrook, Bedfordshire, but had lived most of her life in Swavesey. A regular attendant at Bethel Baptist Chapel, she was much respected by all with whom she came into contact, and much sympathy is felt for her bereaved husband and children. She leaves five sons and three daughters.

THE LATE MRS. CARRIER. 16th May 1913

The funeral of the late Mrs. Lucy Carrier, whose death at the age of 69 years was recorded last week, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Friday. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. W. Carrier, Mrs. J. Marriott, Mr. J. Carrier, Mrs. Fryatt, Mr. G. Carrier, Miss Lucy Carrier, Mr. Fred Carrier, Mrs. J. Smith and Mr. S. Carrier (sons and daughters).

THE RECENT FIRE. 23rd May 1913

The rebuilding of some of the houses destroyed in the great fire on March 3rd is proceeding apace.

SCHOOL CLOSED. 23rd May 1913

In consequence of an outbreak of whooping cough amongst the children, Swavesey National School was closed on Monday for a month.

A TELEPHONE AT LAST. 23rd May 1913

A public telephone was opened at the Post Office on Monday. The first user indulged in a trunk call and conversed with a customer in London. It is understood that the charge for three minutes' chat with Over is one penny, twopence for other villages on the Swavesey side of Cambridge and threepence for Cambridge.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 23rd May 1913

Under the superintendence of Mrs. R. Ellis Long, the Commandant, the members of the local Voluntary Aid Detachment (Cambs. No. 12) had a lengthy practice on Saturday afternoon in the grounds of Swavesey Manor, kindly lent by the Rev. J. F. and Mrs. Cooksey. There was a good attendance, and the weather was favourable.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 23rd May 1913

A correspondent writes to say that the bird's nest in the pump on the parish property in High-street, to which attention was called last week, is not a linnet's, but a black cap's. On Sunday, he adds, there were nine eggs, but by Wednesday only eight remained, and the mother appeared to have forsaken her nest. Another correspondent, however, maintains that the eggs are a wren's.

FUNERAL. 23rd May 1913

On Sunday afternoon, in the presence of many sympathising friends, the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Prior, wife of Mr. Charles Prior, took place in Swavesey Cemetery. The Rev. H. J. Watts (pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel) officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. C. Prior (widower), Messrs. W. G. Prior, O. C. Prior, A. Prior, H. Prior, and F. Prior (sons), Mrs. E. Collins, Miss S. A. Prior, Mrs. R. Golding (daughters), Mrs. Ashdown and Mrs. Anderson (sisters) and Mr. W. Osborne (brother).

EMPIRE DAY. 30th May 1913

As the National School were closed on account of whooping cough, Empire Day was not kept as usual in Swavesey.

MODERN ENGLISH. 30th May 1913

A correspondent writes: - On passing the open door of a publichouse in this village, I heard a customer give the following order: "I want half a gauge and a packet of nails." On inquiry I ascertained that half a pint of beer and a penny packet of cigarettes were needed.

A RESCUE. 30th May 1913

A calf belonging to Mr. Robert Norman was rescued from Church Brook on Thursday in last week by Messrs. S. F. Mitham, Tom Smith and C. Wood.

There is reason to believe that the animal had been in the water for upwards of four hours, and when hauled out with scaffold ropes was quite exhausted. It is stated that it again got in the brook subsequently and died.

A CAUTION. 30th May 1913

A ratepayer writes: - Without suggesting any impropriety on the part of persons who are building on the sites of cottages destroyed in the big fire, I would urge the Rural District Council and the parish authorities to satisfy themselves that no public footpath or roadway is being encroached upon, either inadvertently or under a misapprehension. It would be most unfortunate, for instance, if the narrow raised causeway by the Swan Pond were made even a few inches narrower.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 30th May 1913

On Thursday 22nd inst., anniversary services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel. An exceptionally good congregation was present at the afternoon service, when the Rev. M. E. Aubrey, of St. Andrew's-street Baptist Chapel, Cambridge, preached an impressive sermon on the Building of the Temple, an appropriate subject, as the question of extensive repairs and renovation of their chapel is causing the Swavesey Baptist community grave anxiety at the present time. A well-attended public tea followed, and at 6.45 p.m. there was a public meeting in the chapel, at which Mr. John Chivers presided, and Mr. A. C. Mansfield and the Rev. M. E. Aubrey gave addresses. The Rev. J. Easter, of Over, offered prayer. The attendance was very good, especially in view of the counter-attraction at Willingham, where Gipsy Smith was holding special meetings at the same time. The collections at both services and the proceeds of the tea realised £11 14s. 6½d., which has been devoted to the Church Fund. The sum of £223 13s. 6d. has down to the present been contributed to the Chapel Renovation Fund, but at least double this amount will be required. The building is in urgent need of vital structural repairs.

THE LATE MISS MILDRED CARTER. 30th May 1913

The funeral of Miss Mildred A Carter, eldest daughter of the late Mr. Frederick Carter, of Bury St. Edmund's, and formerly of The Poplars, Swavesey, took place in Swavesey churchyard on Friday afternoon. The vicar, the Rev. Selwyn Sharp, officiated. It is barely two months since Mr. Frederick Carter was laid to rest, and thus a special sadness is attached to Miss Carter's death. Owing to the distance many were unable to be present, but amongst those who attended were Miss Nellie Carter (sister), Miss Chrissie Carter (sister), Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter (brother and sister-in-law), and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carter (brother and sister-in-law). Miss Carter died at Bury St. Edmund's on the 19th inst., after a short illness.

GOOD NEWS. 6th June 1913

The grocers of Swavesey have received an intimation from the Superintendent of the Police that all articles purchased at the different shops in the village by the police have been certified as pure and unadulterated.

APPOINTMENT. 6th June 1913

It is understood that Mr. Robinson Mitham, well known as a builder, carpenter, and farmer, has been appointed collector of taxes for the parish of Swavesey in the place of Mr. Charles Wood, resigned. Mr. Mitham, who is a native of Swavesey, already holds several public offices in the parish, amongst others those of rate collector, assistant overseer, Clerk to the Parish Council, Clerk of Galon's Charity, and Clerk of the Vestry. He is also a lay representative of Swavesey on the Ruridecanal Conference, and has for many years been a prominent member of the parish church choir.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 6th June 1913

The men members of the Voluntary Aid Detachment (Swavesey District) had an excellent practice – the second of a series of six – on Monday evening, on the cricket field, kindly lent by Mrs. G. Long. The attendance was very good, and included men from Boxworth, Conington, Elsworth, Fen Drayton, Lolworth, Longstanton, Swavesey, and Willingham. The work was under the superintendence of Sergt. Caseley, C.U.O.T.C. and consisted mainly of stretcher drill.

SWAVESEY FIRE RELIEF FUND. 6th June 1913

A meeting of the full committee of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund was held at Swavesey Vicarage last Friday afternoon. Sir H. G. Fordham presided, and there were present: The Mayor of Cambridge, the Mayor of St. Ives, the Archdeacon of Ely, Col. Linton, Ald. A. S. Campkin, Mr. E. Parish, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar of Swavesey), Messrs. H. Capper (hon. secretary), A. Day, Dr. R. Ellis, W. H. Key, A. Norman, Walter Thorp and C. R. Vincent.

The report of the sub-committee charged with the preparation of a scheme for the erection of small houses for old age pensioners – those rendered homeless by the fire to have first choice – was submitted and approved. An excellent site in the fire area has been secured, partly by a generous gift of land by Miss Frere and partly by purchase of an adjoining plot for £20. A plan of the proposed four cottages, drawn by Mr. Clough Williams-Ellis, architect, was accepted. A vote of thanks to Miss Frere for her gift was adopted unanimously, and the sub-committee was empowered to carry out the scheme. It was decided that the property should be vested in the official trustee of charity lands, and that a board of seven managing trustees be appointed, of whom the vicar of Swavesey, for the time being, should be one. It was also agreed that the Parish Council should have the power to elect one of the trustees to serve during its period of office.

The treasurer announced that the total amount contributed to the fund was £1,244 14s. 6d., viz., £870 12s. 9d. received by the treasurer of the Swavesey Fund, and £374 1s. 9d. by the "Cambridge Daily News" Fund. Of this £673 19s. 7d. has been spent in relief and compensation, leaving a balance of £570 14s. 11d.

A DANGEROUS CORNER. 13th June 1913

The hedge at the corner of the Huntingdon and Swavesey roads, opposite the New Inn, is so high as to be a source of danger to vehicular traffic.

THE SCHOOLS. 13th June 1913

Having been closed for four weeks on account of the prevalence of whooping cough amongst the children, the National Schools will be re-opened on Monday next, notwithstanding that there are still many cases in the village.

MISHAP TO A TRADESMAN. 13th June 1913

A somewhat fragile boat, containing a Swavesey tradesman and a lad, showed signs of sinking last Thursday near the sluice doors. In order to save the lad the tradesman gallantly jumped out, and, missing the bank, got a ducking.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 13th June 1913

On Thursday evening in last week the men's section of the Voluntary Aid Detachment (Swavesey district) had a useful practice in stretcher drill under Sergeant Caseley, C.U.O.T.C., in the Manor Field, kindly lent by Mr. James Norman.

DOGS WITHOUT LICENCES. 13th June 1913

At the Cambridge Police Court on Saturday, David Mailer, farmer, of Boxworth, was fined 7s. 6d. each in respect of two dogs which he had kept without licences, on June 1st. – For a similar offence, in respect of one dog, Jane Williams, of Swavesey, was fined 7s. 6d.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 20th June 1913

The Swavesey Voluntary Aid Detachment was well represented by men and women members at the great church parade in Cambridge last Sunday.

OFFENSIVE SMELLS. 20th June 1913

In several places in the village the effluvia from drains has recently been most offensive, especially from the open drains close to the school, and at the outfall of the new sewer at Church Bridge. The drain in High-street has also been objectionable. All these drains are under the control of the Rural District Council.

THE SCHOOLS. 20th June 1913

On Monday morning the National Schools were re-opened, after being closed for a month on account of whooping cough. Forty children were absent, and many of those in attendance were suffering from coughs and were from homes in which other children were down with the complaint. During the morning Dr. Robinson, the Medical Officer of the County Education Committee, was communicated with by telephone, and he gave instructions for the school to be again closed, this time for a fortnight.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 20th June 1913

Anniversary services in connection with Bethel Sunday School were held on Sunday last. The Rev. W. E. Lusty, of Chatteris, preached at the morning and evening services, and also gave an address at the children's flower service in the afternoon. All services were well attended. In the afternoon prizes and certificates gained in the Sunday School Union Scripture examination were presented. Constance Prior received a first-class certificate and three handsomely-bound volumes, Louise Causer, Ellen Maud Prior, and Frank Prior second-class certificates. Satisfactory collections were made throughout the day on behalf of the Sunday School funds. A nice lot of flowers contributed by the children were sent, as usual, to the St. Ives Union Infirmary.

GRUESOME DISCOVERY. 20th June 1913

Whilst Messrs. Kerridge and Shaw's workmen were digging a deep trench on the northern side of Bethel Baptist Chapel on Wednesday, a coffin containing the remains of a child was found enclosed in a kind of brick grave near the vestry door. There is some doubt as to the identity of the remains, as the breastplate on the coffin cannot be deciphered. The present chapel, which is now undergoing extensive repairs, was erected in 1868, and no burials have taken place since that date, but old members of the chapel remember one or more burials some years previously. Mr. Thomas Prior, an octogenarian, who was for many years a deacon, recollects that the child of a Mr. Edward Adams, a farmer and cattle dealer, was interred under the south window at the old chapel between the building and the garden of the manse, and another old member recalls a grave in a different place. It is said that after the workmen had left on Wednesday evening, the remains were interfered with by mischievous persons.

NORTH STOWE RURAL DEANERY.

CHOIR FESTIVAL AT SWAVESEY. 20th June 1913

The choirs of the parish churches in the Rural Deanery of North Stowe held a festival in the church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, on Thursday, June 12th. The choirs attending were from Histon, Oakington, Over, Swavesey, and Willingham, and, including a large contingent of lady singers, numbered about 140.

(Long report)

CRICKET CLUB. 27th June 1913

Last Saturday the Swavesey Cricket XI won their first match this season in the Milton and District League, defeating Cottenham. Though winning all but one of their friendly games, they had been unfortunate in losing the two League matches they had played.

MEAN THEFTS. 4th July 1913

It is reported that several cases of thefts of fruit and vegetables from Swavesey gardens have occurred lately.

THE SCHOOL. 4th July 1913

After a further closure owing to illness amongst the children, the National Schools were re-opened on Monday. About 70 per cent. of the scholars attended.

THE LATE FIRE. 4th July 1913

Houses and other buildings are steadily rising on the scene of the great fire at Church End, and are entirely changing the appearance of that end of the village.

VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT. 4th July 1913

The Swavesey District Voluntary Aid Detachment had a practice in stretcher drill, under Sergt. Caseley, R.A.M.C., in the Manor Field on Monday evening.

Some useful work was done, but unfortunately the attendance was not as good as it ought to have been.

THE ROADS. 4th July 1913

During the week sections of the high road through the village have been tarred. It is noticed, however, that the new road, by the Swan pond, has, so far, escaped, but possibly the county road authorities intend to fill in depressions and level projections before applying a coat of tar. It is a year ago since an attempt was made to raise the road, and the work is far from finished.

FIRE ENGINE. 11th July 1913

On Saturday last the venerable parish fire engine – it is understood to be over 100 years of age – was tested on the Recreation Ground.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 11th July 1913

During the time extensive repairs are being effected at Bethel Baptist Chapel the Sunday services are being held in Mr. Robt. Norman's large barn at Trinity College Farm.

ARCHAEOLOGISTS VISIT THE VILLAGE. 11th July 1913

In three motor omnibuses and in motor cars a party of some 80 members of the British Archaeological Association visited Swavesey on Wednesday afternoon, and inspected the parish church. The Rev. C. H. Evelyn White, rector of Rampton, read a descriptive paper. With the party was the Rev. Dr. Cunningham, Archdeacon of Ely.

CLOCK SLOW. 11th July 1913

Considerable inconvenience has been caused lately through the clock on the tower of the parish church being several minutes slow. Trains have been missed or only caught by intending passengers sprinting the last two or three hundred yards. The clock previously kept excellent time, and its present irregularity is attributed to its not having recovered from having been cleaned.

CHURCH TOWER. 11th July 1913

The restoration of the tower of the parish church was begun yesterday (Thursday). The work is being carried out by the Society for the Preservation of Ancient Buildings, under the superintendence of Mr. E. E. Bowden, L.R.I.B.A., who in conjunction with Mr. Weir, has been responsible for the effective restoration of other churches in the neighbourhood, notably at Lolworth, Longstanton All Saints', Longstanton St. Michael, and Conington.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 11th July 1913

On Saturday, 5th inst., Mrs. Long, of the Priory, Swavesey, forwarded to Mrs. Hick's honorary secretary of Addenbrooke's Hospital County Organisation Fund, the sum of £33 13s. 5d., the result of house-to-house collections in the villages of Willingham, Over, Fen Drayton, Longstanton, Conington and Swavesey.

WANDERINGS OF A BAT. 11th July 1913

The captain of the Swavesey Cricket Club having damaged his bat – a favourite tool – whilst knocking up his vigorous score of 74 at Willingham on June 28th, sent it to Cambridge to be repaired. Misfortune did not end here, for the youth who took it back to Swavesey last Friday left it in the train. Within a few minutes he reported the fact at the railway station, and inquiries were made, but no trace of the bat could be found until Wednesday, when it was duly delivered to the captain, having been discovered at March.

THE SCHOOLS. 18th July 1913

Acting on the advice of Mr. Austin Keen, County Education Secretary, the managers have decided to close the National Schools for the summer holiday after today (Friday).

GARDEN FETE AT SWAVESEY.

RECORD ATTENDANCE. 25th July 1913

The garden fete, organised by the Vicar and a committee of members of the congregation of the parish church, was held in the grounds of Swavesey Vicarage on Thursday of last week. The fete was in aid of the Church Tower Restoration Fund, and in spite of dull, threatening weather and slight rain during the late evening, was an undoubted success. The attendance was larger than at any previous garden fete in Swavesey, the gate money amounting to £9 16s. 3d., the charge for admission being 6d. for adults and children 3d. Villagers were present in full strength, and there were many visitors from Willingham, Over, Fen Drayton, Longstanton, Conington, Boxworth, Elsworth, Fenstanton, and St. Ives.

The main attraction was a pastoral play, entitled "Maid Marian and Robin Hood," of which two performances were given at 3.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. The play was under the management of Mr. Charles Wood, who had spared neither time nor trouble in instructing his troupe of village players, and he can most heartily be congratulated on having achieved an unqualified success. (Cast listed in report)

Some 60 or 70 people were present at the afternoon performance, and £1 14s. was taken at the entrance. At the evening performance, when a smaller charge was made, the audience must have numbered at least 100. The play realised altogether £5 7s.

In addition to the play, there were other attractions, all of which brought grist to the mill. Mrs. Cooksey had charge of a new work stall; Mrs. J. Gilby of a rummage stall; Miss Twist and Miss F. Daisley sold sweets; Miss M. Sharp superintended a fish pond, and Miss Dodson a bran tub, while Miss Wilkinson and Miss Green did good business with flowers and buttonholes. Mr. Walter Thorp's shooting gallery was very popular, and Mr. James Dean's Aunt Sally attracted many visitors. The competitions were well patronised. Bean guessing was won by Mrs. A. Spolton. Guessing the doll's name (in charge of the Misses Ellis and Parsons) was taken by Miss Scard. The doll's name was Marian. There were about a dozen entrants for the cake-making competition, the ingredients not to cost more than sixpence. Guessing the weight of a cake resulted in seven entrants hitting on the correct weight. On being drawn for, Mrs. Long was declared the fortunate owner. The tea and refreshment department did a tremendous business and took £1 8s.

During the evening the St. Ives Town Band was in attendance, and there was dancing to its strains before and after the performance of the play. The cost of the band was very kindly borne by Mrs. Long. The gross takings amounted to £27 12s. 10d., and as the expenses were only 10s. 11d., the goodly sum of £27 1s. 11d. had been placed to the credit of the Tower Restoration Fund.

(Long report)

EARLY PLUMS. 25th July 1913

Mr. W. Burton commenced gathering plums (Rivers') in his "Hobbledods" orchard on Monday.

A BOWLER'S CENTURY. 25th July 1913

Mr. S. J. Froment, when playing for Fen Drayton and Conington on the 16th inst. against Fenstanton and District, captured seven wickets for 17 runs, bringing his record for this season to 101 wickets for 376 runs. Further wickets have since fallen before him, and his record now stands at 112 wickets for 438 runs, an average of 3.9 runs per wicket.

CAMP MEETING. 25th July 1913

On Sunday afternoon and evening camp meetings, organised by the local Primitive Methodist community, were held on the Recreation Ground and in Market-street. The Cottenham Salvation Army Band attended the services and paraded the village, playing hymn tunes and lively marches. Collections were made in aid of the band, which is said to be in need of new instruments, and upwards of £3 was raised.

CRICKET. 25th July 1913

Swavesey had the good fortune to win their game with Trumpington in the Milton and District Cricket League, Division I., last Saturday, and by so doing have eight points to their credit and two more games to play, viz., return matches with Histon Institute I, and Trumpington.

RESTORATION OF THE CHURCH TOWER. 25th July 1913

Within six months the sum of £198 9s. 3d. has been contributed to the fund for the restoration of the tower of the parish church, but more money will probably be needed, as there are other parts of the church which require attention and the work could be done more economically while the workmen at present engaged on the tower are on the spot. One hundred and eighty-two subscribers have contributed and in addition 50 collecting boxes have been returned.

NARROW ESCAPE AT RAILWAY STATION. 25th July 1913

An intending passenger, whilst crossing the railway line at Swavesey Station from the down to the up side, very narrowly escaped being knocked over by the engine of the 10.30 a.m. coal train. It appears the man was deaf, but says he saw the train. The driver whistled vigorously, and a porter on the up side, seeing his danger, shouted to him to go back, but the man held on his way. The porter rushed to drag him out of danger, but did not reach him in time. Fortunately the engine missed him by inches.

DEATH OF A LITTLE CHILD. 25th July 1913

Mr. and Mrs. Henry George Key, of High-street, have sustained a severe bereavement by the death of their only child, John Henry, at the age of 15 months. The child had been ailing for some time and passed away on Friday last. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon in Swavesey churchyard, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar) officiating, and was attended by the following mourners: Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Key (parents), Mr. W. H. Key and Mrs. John Williams (grandparents), Mrs. W. F. Gleaves, Mrs. J. Hawkes, and Mrs. F. Williams (aunts), Miss Clara Thorp and Miss G. Ansted.

SUCCESS. 1st Aug. 1913

Mr. W. H. Hepher, butcher, High-street, Swavesey, gained the third prize for a light tradesman's turn-out at the Jubilee Show of the Cambs. and Isle of Ely Agricultural Society, held in Cambridge on July 24th. At the recent Cottenham Show he was highly commended for the same turn-out.

GONE TO AUSTRALIA. 1st Aug. 1913

Mr. James Dean, eldest son of the late Mr. James W. Dean, and Mrs. Dean, of Carters'-lane, Swavesey, and his wife, left Swavesey on Monday morning for London, en route for Australia. He sails to-day (Friday). Mr. Dean, who has been in Australia for some years, returned home on a visit 14 months ago, and has married during his stay in this country.

POST OFFICE ENTERPRISE. 1st Aug. 1913

A correspondent writes: I really think the following instance of Post Office enterprise is worthy of being placed on record. A public telephone call office was opened at the Swavesey Post Office about the middle of May, and a conspicuous sign-board was erected outside the office. On July 24th the following painted notice on form T No. 175 was delivered to householders by postmen: "A Telephone Call Office is now available to the public at the Swavesey Post Office."

A ROW IN A HEN ROOST. 1st Aug. 1913

Whilst patrolling Middle Watch the other night the constable heard a terrible cackling and fluttering of poultry at the back of Mr. J. Strapp's premises. Thinking something was wrong, a fox on the prowl, for instance, he called up Mr. Strapps, and with him proceeded to a portable poultry house in a field at the back. On creeping into the house Mr. Strapps found feathers in all directions, and that the disturbance had been caused by a hedgehog, which he discovered in a corner plentifully decorated with feathers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TREATS. 1st Aug. 1913

The children attending Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School were given their yearly treat on Thursday of last week. The youngsters assembled at 4. 30 p.m., and were regaled with an ample tea in Trinity College Farm Meadow, after which they played cricket and other games, and greatly enjoyed the swings which had been put up by Mr. Robert Norman, who kindly lent the field. At 5.30 p.m. there was a public tea for adults in the large barn adjoining. At six o'clock sports were held. All events were keenly contested, and prizes were awarded. There were two novelties, so far as this treat is concerned. A slow bicycle race for men, for which seven entered, but only one finished. The prize was unique. It was described as the “latest in bicycles” – a penny toy. The other novelty was a ladies’ bicycle potato race. The three entrants had to pick up with wooden ladles potatoes at placed intervals. The prize was a miniature sewing machine, also a penny toy. Before dispersing the children were further regaled with bread and butter and cake. Tea was on draught during the evening. Cheers for all who had helped, given with great gusto, brought a very happy evening to a close.

On the same day the Particular Baptist Chapel Sunday School children had their treat. The scholars and adult members of the congregation had tea in the chapel. The company then adjourned to a field kindly lent by Mr. Alfred Day, for cricket, swings and other games, and at dusk, after further refreshments in the chapel, children and parents went home well satisfied with their evening’s enjoyment.

A DUCKING. 8th Aug. 1913

While two young men were cutting weeds in the deep moat at the Priory on Wednesday, the boat sank, and they had to swim to the bank.

PROLIFIC SOWS. 8th Aug. 1913

On Sunday a sow belonging to Mr. Samuel Hepher had a litter of 22 pigs, all born alive. Mr. John Smith of the Swan Inn, has also a prolific sow. Recently she presented him with 19 pigs, and in five successive litters she had 83 pigs, all alive.

A GALLANT RESCUE. 8th Aug. 1913

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Frank Beaumont, fourth son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, had a narrow escape from drowning whilst bathing in the River Ouse, near Overcote Ferry. He was accompanied by a friend, Mr. George Dean, to whom he owes his life. The two young men left the usual bathing place for a swim along the river, and when near Cole’s Jump Mr. Beaumont, feeling tired, suggested that they should make for the bank. There was a good deal of water in the river, and the weeds were thick and troublesome, especially near the bank. Mr. Beaumont, thinking he was in his depth, sank into the slimy weeds. Mr. Dean kept on towards land, and succeeded with difficulty in reaching the bank, when he looked round and saw his friend sinking again, and this time not rising to the surface. He at once plunged in again and struggled back to the rescue and managed to reach Mr. Beaumont. He seized him by the hair, and with much difficulty succeeded in getting him to the bank – a distance of six or eight yards – while other bathers who had then ran up rendered assistance. Mr. Beaumont, whose body was thickly covered with green slime, was totally unconscious, and did not recover for some ten minutes.

SCHOOL TREAT. 15th Aug. 1913

The children attending the Parish Church Sunday School had their annual treat in the Vicarage Grounds on Thursday 7th inst. Parents and other adult parishioners were invited to attend during the evening.

PARISH CHURCH. 15th Aug. 1913

The Vicar is taking his holiday, and will be away from the parish for three weeks. During his absence the Sunday services will be taken by his brother, the Rev. G. F. Sharp, of Witley, Surrey. All week-day services will be suspended.

CRICKET CLUB. 15th Aug. 1913

The Milton League cricket match between Swavesey and Histon Institute was not brought off on Saturday last, the Institute having scratched. Swavesey, however take two points, and raise their total to ten – level with Willingham, who have played all their games. Swavesey has to meet Trumpington again, and if successful will retain the cup. If, however, Trumpington should win, the situation will be one of great interest, for in that case Willingham, Trumpington and Swavesey will each have ten to their credit.

PARISH COUNCIL. 15th Aug. 1913

On Monday evening the Swavesey Parish Council met at the National School, and during a comparatively brief sitting discussed fire engine appliances, formed a volunteer fire brigade, and ordered the clearing of mud from the Swan and School Ponds. It was decided to purchase four 100 feet lengths of 2½ inch canvas hosepipe (B quality) from Messrs. Merryweather and Son at a cost (with certain other appliances supplied by the same firm) of about £24. The recommendations of the Fire Engine Committee relative to the formation of a brigade were adopted, and Messrs. S. Challis and A. T. Scard were appointed captain and deputy-captain, respectively. – The Clerk reported that the Rural District Council had granted permission for the Captain of the Fire Brigade to connect with the new water supply hydrants in case of need. – Instructions were given the Clerk to write to the District Council calling attention to the fact that the drain leading from the new dock had not been cleared out when the adjoining drains had recently been attended to.

THE FIRE. 15th Aug. 1913

One of the houses destroyed in the fire on March 3rd last – that in which the conflagration began – has been re-built, and the old tenant moved into it on Saturday last. A two-storey warehouse and cycle shop, erected on the site of two old cottages, also burned down, was open last month. Six houses are approaching completion. One of the six houses was known for many years as the “Bottle House.” And the owner of the property, Mr. R. Mitham, has determined to retain the old name. Until comparatively recently the words “Bottle House” formed of the bottoms of glass bottles appeared in one of the walls. A diamond, made of nine bottle bottoms has been worked in the S.W. gable end of the new house. The centre bottle bears the words “King’s Ale”, in raised letters, and in it Mr. Mitham has deposited a written statement that the bottle contained ale brewed by King Edward VII, when he visited Messrs. Bass’ Brewery at Burton-on-Trent in 1902, and that the bottle was presented by Mr. John Smith, of the Swan Inn, Swavesey. An additional sum of £2 10s. has been sent by the Insurance Companies concerned in the fire for distribution amongst seven men who rendered service in saving property, etc.

DANGEROUS BATHING PLACE. 22nd Aug. 1913

A correspondent writes: A fortnight ago the narrow escape from drowning of a young man when bathing in the Ouse at Swavesey was reported in your columns. The river is choked with weeds, the diving board is blocked, and bathing is most dangerous even for strong and expert swimmers. Many of our lads and young men bathe regularly in the river, but they run grave risks; yet public opinion in the district, notwithstanding the recent warning, makes no protest, and nothing is done, or even talked about, towards mending matters. Are we to wait for a Coroner’s inquest, and the caustic remarks of Coroner and jury? If no public authority can, or will, come to the rescue, cannot a subscription be raised to pay for cutting the weeds?

A NEEDED IMPROVEMENT. 22nd Aug. 1913

As a memorial to the death of Queen Victoria, Mr. T. W. Dunn, of Milton, then resident in Swavesey, presented four cedar trees to the parish. These trees were planted on the afternoon of the day of the funeral, one at each end of the Swan and Market-street ponds. For some time past the ground within the protecting iron fences has been over-grown with weeds, and was otherwise untidy. At the meeting of the Parish Council, held last week, it was informally decided to clear the weeds away, and the following gentlemen undertook to do the work free of cost: Mr. W. Twist, the tree at the northern end of the Swan Pond, and Mr. Robinson Mitham that at the southern, whilst Mr. A. T. Scard and Mr. P. J. Beaumont respectively volunteered to attend to those in Market-street. The work has been done.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 22nd Aug. 1913

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Football Club was held at the National School on Thursday, 14th inst. Mr. T. Harris presided. Last year's accounts, which showed a balance in hand of £1 0s. 5d. having been passed, the election of officers and committee for the coming season was proceeded with. The Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., was re-elected president, and the following officers were elected: Vice-presidents, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Dr. J. W. Ellis, Dr. R. Ellis, Messrs. R. E. Bartley, H. Capper, J. B. Ellis (St. Ives) and James Norman. The above appointments were made subject to the acceptance of office. Captain, Mr. T. Harris; vice-captain, Mr. S. J. Froment; secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham; committee, Messrs. F. Causer, Fred Johnson, B. G. Mann, S. F. Mitham, C. Prior, A. T. Scard, Walter Thurbon, and C. Wood. After discussion it was decided not to enter the Histon and District Junior Football League, as several of last year's playing members had left the district, and the meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to Mr. James Norman for his kindness in allowing the club the use of the Manor Field last winter.

DEATH OF MRS. GARNER. 22nd Aug. 1913

Several families in Swavesey and the neighbourhood are placed in mourning by the death of Mrs. Charlotte Garner, of Carter's-lane, Swavesey, which occurred at her residence shortly after noon on Monday. Mrs. Garner, who was much beloved and respected by all who knew her, attained the great age of 86 years on the 24th May last. She was ill for about five months, but had been in failing health for a year previously. Until she was over 70 years of age she had had no serious illness. Mrs. Garner was the daughter of the late Mr. Anderson Wells, farmer, of Swavesey, who died in his 91st year. She married the late Mr. Samuel Garner, harness maker, Swavesey, but was left a widow 54 years ago with two young children, a son and a daughter, both still alive. After her husband's death she carried on the business, being assisted first of all by her brother-in-law, the late Mr. James Garner, of Fulbourn, and afterwards by her son Charles. In addition to her son and daughter Mrs. Garner left eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon in Swavesey Churchyard.

STACK FIRE. 22nd Aug. 1913

Between eight and nine o'clock on Sunday morning the village was alarmed by the news that a haystack in Gibraltar-lane, belonging to Mr. Sidney Prime, farmer and hay factor, was on fire. At eight o'clock, when Mr. Prime passed the stack, he noticed no signs of anything being amiss. He entered the cottage of Mr. Walter Coulson, close by, and after an hour a neighbour, Mrs. Causer, ran in with the intelligence that the adjoining field was full of smoke. Messrs. Prime and Coulson hastened to the field and there found that the outside of one end of the stack was on fire. With sticks they endeavoured to beat out the fire, but as fast as they extinguished it in one place it broke out in another, until at last the thatch got alight. Women from neighbouring cottages were quickly on the scene, and with pails of water kept the fire in subjection. Messrs. Prime and Coulson were soon joined by other men, who rendered valuable assistance, but it was evident that the job was beyond their power. Mr. Prime cycled for Mr. S. Challis, the fire engine captain, who proceeded at once to the spot with the engine, reaching the field shortly before nine o'clock. Fortunately there was a pond in the field and the fire was soon out.

CRICKET. 29th Aug. 1913

MILTON AND DISTRICT LEAGUE.

SWAVESEY WIN THE CUP FOR THE SECOND YEAR.

Played at Trumpington on Saturday, and attracted considerable interest, as if the visitors won, or the game ended in a draw, the Milton and District League would remain in the custody of the Swavesey Club, last year's winners. If, on the other hand, Trumpington was victorious, Willingham, Trumpington and Swavesey would each have ten points to their credit and further games would be necessary. The Trumpington team scored 48 runs. Wood and Froment bowled throughout and both bowled well, the former's attack being most deadly. He took six wickets for 12 runs, and Froment three wickets for 30 runs. The Swavesey innings ended for 94, leaving Swavesey 46 runs ahead, and winners for the second year of the Milton League Cup, as time did not admit of two more innings being played.

DEATH OF MR. O. DAINTREE. 29th Aug. 1913

Some of our older readers will learn with regret that Mr. Osborn Daintree died at Surbiton Surrey, on the 14th inst. He was 78 years of age. Years ago he was a large farmer and landowner in Swavesey, Lolworth and neighbouring parishes, and for a long period lived in Swavesey, first at the Old House, Dodson's-lane, and afterwards at the Manor House in Market-street, subsequently moving to Lolworth. He left the district many years ago. His first wife was the granddaughter of Mr. John Dodson of Swavesey, a famous farmer and property-owner in the county.

KITTEN V. BICYCLE. 29th Aug. 1913

Between 9 and 10 p.m. on Thursday in last week a kitten, which had wandered some distance from its home, from Middle Watch to Boxworth End, dashed into the spokes of the front wheel of a passing bicycle. The rider, a young man, and his machine turned a somersault, and the wheel had to be taken off before the little animal could be released, so firmly was it fixed. The kitten seems to have got the best of the encounter, for, although apparently badly injured on the night of the accident, next morning it was reported to be doing well and able to take sustenance. The cyclist injured his hip, cut his arm, and generally got shaken up, and his machine is badly damaged.

FUNERAL OF MRS. S. GARNER. 29th Aug. 1913

The funeral of Mrs. Charlotte Garner, widow of the late Mr. Samuel Garner, whose death on the 18th inst. at the age of 86 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on the afternoon of Thursday in last week in the presence of a considerable assemblage of sympathising friends and neighbours. The Vicar being absent on his yearly holiday, the service was taken by the Rev. G. F. Sharp, who is in charge of the parish. Among the mourners were Mr. Charles Garner (only son), Mrs. A. Gall (only daughter), Mrs. C. Garner (daughter-in-law), Mr. A. Gall (son-in-law) and Mr. C. Gall, Miss Garner, Miss C. E. Garner, Mr. Sam Garner, Miss Rosa Gall, Miss M. Garner, Mr. Arthur Garner (grandchildren). The coffin was of polished elm. – Mr. Robinson Mitham (Swavesey) carried out the funeral arrangements.

SWAVESEY HOUSING. 29th Aug. 1913

SHORTAGE OF COTTAGES IN THE DISTRICT.

WHY YOUNG COUPLES DO NOT MARRY.

Some months ago Swavesey suffered considerably from the effects of a disastrous fire which broke out in the village. Over a score of cottages and various buildings went down before the ravage of fire and ultimately the blaze burnt itself out. Many families were temporarily rendered homeless, and the village was faced with a housing problem in an acute form. Several weeks have elapsed since the Parish Council and the Rural District Council considered the Swavesey housing difficulty but only a very few cottages have been erected. Building operations have been in progress for a considerable time, but the general type of house which has been risen on the sites of the old thatched cottages is not the class of building which is available to the agricultural labourer.

Cottages to be paid for from the balance of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund – are to be erected for old age pensioners, and this work seems to have been unduly delayed. Dr. Robert Ellis told a “Chronicle” representative that the pensioners’ cottages should have been put up before Michaelmas, but the Sub-Committee which is dealing with the question has never been called together. The Trinity College authorities and the Great Eastern Railway Company had been asked whether they would erect cottages, but so far nothing has been done by them except the inspection of their sites in the village.

“But where are the people housed?” asked our representative. “Practically no new cottages have been erected.”

“Many of them are in lodgings, two or three went to the Workhouse, and others have died,” was the reply. “The splitting of houses into tenements has largely solved the difficulty.”

“Is there any overcrowding?”

“No, I do not think so,” said Dr. Ellis. “Old cottages have been re-inhabited. But the question of cottages will have to be seriously considered in the future. More gardens are being planted in this district and shortage of labour is the difficulty which faces gardeners. In Swavesey the shortage of labour is not so pronounced, but it is pointed out that much land has gone out of cultivation.”

“Do you consider that it is possible to build cottages locally and let them at an economic rent?”

“It is not possible to do it by private enterprise,” said Dr. Ellis. “The only way it can be done is for a builder and contractor to undertake the work. Such men can do it cheaper than any one else. But in Swavesey we have only one contractor, and the houses which he is building at present are not cottages. He says that he will build cottages in the future.”

Swavesey does not contain much dilapidated property, but undoubtedly some of the thatch and stud cottages would have been demolished but for the fear on the part of the sanitary authority that an acute shortage of housing accommodation would have been felt in consequence of the demolition.

“I believe that cottages in Swavesey would be taken at once,” said Dr. J. W. Ellis. “There are young fellows who would be married if they had houses to live in.”

TREE ON FIRE. 5th Sept. 1913

On Tuesday evening, whilst smoking out bees, which had deposited about 1cwt. of honey in an old and hollow wych tree on Mr. James Shepperson’s property at Boxworth End, the tree was set alight and was destroyed. Mr. Shepperson managed to secure about ½cwt. of the honey.

THE SCHOOLS. 5th Sept. 1913

The National Schools re-opened on Monday morning after the summer holidays which were taken earlier this year than usual owing to illness amongst the children. The attendance has been good this week. It is satisfactory to record that whooping cough appears to have entirely disappeared from the village.

STREET LIGHTING. 5th Sept. 1913

A correspondent writes: - May I suggest to the Parish Council that the street lamps should be lighted during September instead of beginning in October. The nights just now are very dark, and older villagers and strangers, of whom there are many in Swavesey at present, have much difficulty in finding their way. One stranger, I am told, had recently a narrow escape from falling into the brook that crosses High-street through being unable to see the wall of the Turn Bridge.

EVENING PAPER FOR SWAVESEY. 12th Sept. 1913

Beginning to-morrow (Saturday), the "Cambridge Daily News" will be obtainable every night in Swavesey from Mr. Thurbon, newsagent. The papers, which will contain all the football results, etc., will arrive by the 7.30 train.

FIRE RELIEF FUND. 12th Sept. 1913

The Charity Commissioners have given notice that it is their intention, in conformity with the provisions of the Charitable Trusts Act, 1860, to make an Order extending "The Charitable Trusts Acts, 1853 to 1894," to the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund. This Order, when issued, will enable the building of the proposed cottages for old age pensioners to be proceeded with.

WELL-EARNED REWARD. 12th Sept. 1913

For eight years' perfect attendance at Swavesey National School, Miss Clara Thorp, eldest daughter of Mr. Walter Thorp, has been awarded a silver watch by the County Education Committee. But for an enforced absence on account of illness on the day previous to the closing of the school owing to an epidemic amongst the children, she would have shown a record of nine years' perfect attendance.

DEFECTIVE DRAINAGE. 12th Sept. 1913

A correspondent writes: The Sanitary Inspector has of late been busily engaged in Swavesey inspecting private premises and serving notices requiring owners to remedy defects on their property, supply up-to-date sanitary appliances, and connect with the new water supply. Our main ground for complaint is that the Inspector pays so much attention to private property, and, so far as we are aware, altogether overlooks the drains for which the Swavesey Rural District Council, whose officer we presume him to be, are responsible. A grating connected with the old, defective, and altogether out-of-date sewer in High-street frequently emits a most offensive odour. It is said that the drain is not trapped at this point, and although attention has been called to the defect again and again nothing has been done. If it is necessary that drain pipes across a garden should be sealed, is it not equally necessary that public drain pipes should be also secured from leakage? Some of us have reason to think that the High-street sewer pipes are of old pattern and defective, and that the water of the old village supply, the pipes of which are in close proximity to the sewer, was in consequence contaminated. Again, there is often a vile stench at Church Bridge caused by the outfall of a new sewer into the more or less stagnant brook being only a few yards from the high road. It was understood when the sewer was laid three or four years ago, under the superintendence of the Sanitary Inspector, that its outfall in its present position was merely a temporary expedient, and that the pipes would without undue delay be continued in the direction of the new dock. Lastly, we would inquire whether it is a fact that a quantity of undesirable, obnoxious, and evil smelling sewage finds its way into the brook – a large open drain – in the neighbourhood of Turn Bridge at the southern end of High-street? Would it not be encouragement to private owners of property to bring their sanitary appliances up to a high present-day standard if the district sanitary authority led the way by attending to obvious defects in the drainage under its control?

AN IMPROVEMENT. 19th Sept. 1913

During the week the high road between Swan Pond and Church Bridge, which is liable to inundation in a high flood, has been raised some three or four inches. About 100 tons of slag has been rolled in.

EVENING PAPER. 19th Sept. 1913

As announced in our last issue, the special edition of the “Cambridge Daily News” has been on sale every evening in Swavesey since last Saturday. On Saturday our agent, Mr. W. Thurbon, was soon sold out.

OBITUARY. 19th Sept. 1913

On Wednesday, 10th instant, Miss Annie Wright, of Gibraltar-lane, died in Addenbrooke's Hospital, where she had been an inpatient for five weeks. She was 37 years of age, and had been an invalid for about 30 years. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiating.

SWAVESEY FIRE RELIEF FUND. 26th Sept. 1913

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Committee was held at Swavesey Vicarage on Friday, 19th instant, Mr. W. H. Francis, Mayor of Cambridge, presiding in the unavoidable absence of Sir H. G. Fordham, Chairman of the County Council.

The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, treasurer of the fund, made a statement as to the position of affairs so far as the scheme for erecting cottages for old age pensioners was concerned, from which it appeared that the matter is engaging the attention of the Charity Commissioners, who have already drafted an order extending the Charitable Trusts Acts, 1853 to 1894, to the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund. After other formalities preparatory to the establishment of the scheme, the erection of the houses will be proceeded with without delay. Under the circumstances the appointment of trustees was postponed until the next meeting of the committee.

GOOD ATTENDANCE. 26th Sept. 1913

Bars for perfect attendance have been awarded to the following children attending the National School: - For second year, Ada Ansted and Grace Ansted; for first year, Ronald Prior; for eighth year, Clara Thorp. The presentations were made by the Vicar.

WELL-KNOWN TRADESMAN INJURED. 26th Sept. 1913

Whilst lifting a large piece of beef from a hook last Friday morning Mr. Zachariah Parish, butcher, was struck on one of his eyes by the rebounding hook. Acting on medical advice, he went to London on Wednesday to consult a specialist, who ordered him to Moorfields Hospital for an immediate operation.

EVENING CLASSES. 26th Sept. 1913

Commencing on Tuesday, 7th October, evening classes will be held at the National School on Tuesdays and Fridays during the winter months for instruction in rural arithmetic, rural elementary science, English and drawing, and also, if possible, for needlework.

DEATH OF MR. J. RULE. 26th Sept. 1913

We regret to announce the death at the age of 67 years of Mr. Joseph Rule, which occurred at his residence in Middle Watch, Swavesey, on Monday night. Mr. Rule was a native of Swavesey, being the son of the late Mr. John Rule. For many years he was in business as a butcher at Swavesey and Cambridge market, removing to London about 20 years ago. On his retirement from business he returned to his native village on the 22nd September, 1912, and died exactly one year later. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon in Swavesey Cemetery. The late Mr. Rule's sister, Mrs. Sarah Daintree, died last Friday.

OBITUARY. 26th Sept. 1913

After a long illness Mrs. Sarah Daintree, aged 76, widow of the late Mr. Thos. Daintree, died on Friday evening, 19th inst., at her residence at Boxworth End. She was the daughter of the late Mr. John Rule, of Swavesey, and sister of Mr. Joseph Rule, once well-known in the district as a butcher, who survived her by only three days. She leaves two sons and one daughter. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon in Swavesey Cemetery, the Rev. E. Short officiating. The following mourners attended: Mr. J. T. Daintree, Mr. A. E. Daintree (sons), Mrs. A. E. Welch (daughter), Masters W. Welch and Tom Daintree, Misses P. Welch and Ethel Daintree (grand-children), Mrs. A. E. Daintree (daughter-in-law) and Mr. A. E. Welch (son-in-law). Mr. Walter Thorp was the undertaker.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th Sept. 1913

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on the 18th inst., Dr. R. Ellis (vice-chairman) presiding. – Arising out of the minutes it was decided to vary the order for fire hose given at the previous meeting from four 100ft. lengths to three 100ft. and two 50ft. lengths, and it was agreed that the names of the members of the Volunteer Fire Brigade should be posted on the parish notice board in High-street. – The Clerk reported that he had ascertained that the District Council Surveyor had had instructions to inspect and report upon the condition of the Navigation Drain, and after some discussion the Clerk was instructed to write to the District Council on the matter. – There was only one tender for lighting the street lamps during the coming winter, viz., from Mr. George Clarke, for £27 10s. – The tender was accepted, and three new lamps to replace those worn out at Boxworth End were ordered. – A discussion followed respecting the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund, and the Clerk was instructed to write to the Charity Commissioners asking how many trustees the Council were entitled to appoint in connection with the scheme for erecting old age pensioners' cottages out of the unexpended balance of the fund, and also to ascertain what powers the Council will have in regard to the charity.

BARNARDO'S HOMES. 3rd Oct. 1913

A lantern lecture descriptive of Barnardo's Homes was given in Swavesey National School on Tuesday evening by Miss J. Hills. The Vicar presided. There was an excellent attendance.

MUSHROOMERS OUTWITTED. 3rd Oct. 1913

A Swavesey farmer, seeing Cambridge mushroom pickers at work on his land, watched them taking mushrooms to a spinney close by. Unseen by them, he went to the spinney and captured their mushrooms and baskets.

MR. Z. PARISH. 3rd Oct. 1913

We are glad to say that Mr. Z. Parish, the well-known Swavesey and Cambridge Market butcher, who, as reported last week, had sustained a serious injury to his eye, and had to undergo an operation at Moorfields Eye Hospital, London, is progressing favourably in that institution.

SIGN POSTS. 3rd Oct. 1913

The sign post on the Cambridge to Huntingdon main road directing the stranger to Boxworth and villages beyond has recently been re-painted. It now announces that Boxworth is one mile distant, which is there or thereabouts correct, and that the distance to Elsworth is 1¼ miles, which is hardly accurate, seeing that the distance is nearer four miles. Who, ask the wise ones, is the county geographer?

PARISH COUNCIL. 3rd Oct. 1913

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Wednesday evening. After some discussion respecting the parish fire-engine, during which it transpired that the five lengths of new hose authorised by the Council at previous meetings had been ordered from the makers and was daily expected, the main business was the payment of about forty men who rendered assistance at Mr. Sidney Prime's recent stack fire, the money being provided by the London, Liverpool, and Globe Insurance Office, of which Mr. H. S. Aldred is the Swavesey agent.

PARISH MEETING. 3rd Oct. 1913

A parish meeting, under the chairmanship of Mr. A. Day, Chairman of the Parish Council, was held on Thursday in last week at the National School, to authorise the street lighting rate for the ensuing winter. The rate was agreed to after a protest by two Parish Councillors as to the amount of the tender – the only one put in – accepted at the Parish Council meeting the week previously, at which they were present. A long discussion followed on the housing question, and dissatisfaction was expressed that the Rural District Council, the Great Eastern Railway Company, and Trinity College, Cambridge, had taken no steps to provide cottages, though requested to do so by a previous parish meeting. It was decided that the Railway Company and Trinity College should be again written to. The meeting was poorly attended, only about fifteen persons being present, not all of whom were ratepayers.

THE LATE MR. J. RULE. 3rd Oct. 1913

The funeral of the late Mr. Joseph Rule, whose death was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on September 25th. The Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiated. Among the mourners attending were: Mrs. Rule (widow), Mr. Frank Rule and Mr. T. Rule (sons), and the Misses R., H., and N. Rule, Mrs. Dyson, Mrs. Dodson, Mrs. Nicholls, and Mrs. Goss (daughters).

STOCK CLUB. 10th Oct. 1913

The members of the Stock Club held their annual tea at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday evening. After the tables were cleared business was transacted, and then the company settled down to an evening's enjoyment. Songs were sung by Messrs. J. B. Senter, W. J. Hephher, A. Bonkis, and others. Mr. George Wallman was an excellent accompanist.

CHORAL SOCIETY. 10th Oct. 1913

At a meeting held in the National School on Wednesday evening, under the chairmanship of Mr. C. Wood, a Choral Society for the parish was established, and the following officers elected: Conductor, Mr. Wood, secretary, Mr. C. Parish, treasurer, Mr. A. Day, jun. About 20 members are already enrolled, and others who wish to join should communicate with the hon. secretary. The first practice will be held on Thursday, 16th inst.

ACCIDENT. 10th Oct. 1913

Shortly after 12.30 noon on Tuesday Mr. T. Brasher, a Rural District Council roadman, whilst inspecting the brook at Turn Bridge fell head first on the brick bottom. No one saw him fall, but Mr. W. Thurbon, who was walking towards the bridge, heard groans. Seeing a man lying in the water, he called up Mr. J. Kester, a County Council roadman, working near, and, with other assistance, Mr. Brasher, who is 76 years of age, was lifted out of the brook, a matter of some difficulty, as he was heavy, his clothes being saturated with water, and the sides of the brook steep and deep. He ran a narrow escape of being drowned, for, although the water was not deep, he was lying face downwards and was unable to move. Mr. Brasher has injured his back, and has a deep cut on his forehead, and his face is bruised.

DISSATISFIED WORKERS. 10th Oct. 1913

There is considerable dissatisfaction amongst the men who rendered assistance at the stack fire on Sunday, 17th August, concerning the distribution of the money granted by the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire Insurance Company for their recompense. The distribution was made at a full meeting of the Parish Council on the 1st instant, the recipients being called into the room one at a time. It is alleged that the Council have retained about half of the sum awarded, it is presumed, for the use of the fire engine, and the men contend that the whole of the money was intended for distribution amongst them, or if the Council were to retain a portion for the engine, that the sum held back is excessive. Most of the men have been paid 1s. each, the remainder receiving 1s 6d. or 2s. apiece. The list of recipients was, it is understood, proposed by the Fire Engine Committee, and it is alleged that it included names of men who did nothing, or practically nothing, at the fire.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 10th Oct. 1913

On Thursday, 2nd inst., harvest thanksgiving services were held at the parish church. At 7.30 a.m. there was a celebration of the Holy Communion, matins was at 10.30 a.m., and choral evensong at 7 p.m. The church was beautifully decorated and the chancel screen, the font and pulpit being specially worthy of commendation. A large congregation was present at evensong, when the late vicar, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, preached an excellent and appropriate sermon. The festival services were continued on Sunday, and on that afternoon the annual children's flower service was held at the Mission Church, the children's contributions of fruit, flowers, etc., being sent as usual to St. Ives Infirmary. The collections throughout Thursday and on Sunday morning were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, and resulted in £7 18s. 9d. being raised for that excellent institution. The offerings of fruit, vegetables, etc., at the parish church have also been forwarded to the Hospital.

BAPTIST CHAPEL, SWAVESEY. 10th Oct. 1913

REOPENING YESTERDAY.

INTERESTING RECORD DISCOVERED.

Yesterday (Thursday) was a notable day in the annals of the Baptist community in Swavesey, the occasion being the re-opening of Bethel Chapel after an extensive and costly restoration. The building, erected in 1868, has of late years shown signs of serious decay. A few years ago somewhat extensive repairs were carried out, the flooring, for instance, having become badly affected with dry rot. But these efforts were unavailing, and at the beginning of this year the chapel was found to be in a dangerous condition as regards both walls and floor. Dry rot had again attacked the woodwork. The Pastor, deacons and members realised that something must be done at once, and without delay a strong committee was formed under the chairmanship of the Rev. H. J. Watts (pastor).

The well-known architects, Messrs. Spalding and Myers, of London, were called in, and after careful inspection of the building, reported that very extensive structural repairs were imperative, and that the woodwork was so badly affected that the whole of it would have to be removed and replaced by new. The work would cost a great deal of money, and the committee were faced with the serious problem as to how this money was to be raised. Nothing daunted, the energetic pastor and his committee set strenuously to work. A sale of work was organised, and £46 was realised. Appeals were made for subscriptions, and were well responded to, Mr. John Chivers, always a friend to Bethel, heading the list with a magnificent donation of £150. Mr. Chivers has also helped on the work in various other ways, and the Baptist Church in Swavesey is under a deep debt of gratitude to him, and also to Mr. A. C. Mansfield, an ex-Moderator, who has been most helpful in giving valuable advice and generous financial support. As far as is known at present the cost has been about £900. Before the opening service yesterday £500 of this amount had been raised.

The following is a brief description of the work done. Absolutely new foundations of concrete and asphalt have been put in throughout under floor and walls. The floor has been re-laid with wood blocks, and the floor boards creosoted underneath on cement screed on the top of asphalt. The rostrum has been restored and partly renewed, and a new platform, rails and baptistery in white glazed bricks erected. New mouldings have been put in round the windows, which have been filled in with coloured leaded lights. The walls have been tinted buff colour, with biscuit panels bordered green and white. A new screen with coloured lights has been erected under the gallery. Well-designed seats have replaced the old ones. Fresh heating apparatus, including a new boiler and boiler-house and a platform for the organ, are amongst other improvements. Boyle's ventilators have been placed in the roof and walls, and round the chapel is a dado of Keen's cement, painted with Morse's elastic brown enamel. The main front of the chapel has also been greatly improved and strengthened by a new circular red brick arch for the entrance, and also new doors. The palisading has been renovated, the stonework cleaned, and the iron railing repainted. The base of the school at the back of the chapel has been re-concreted and new floored.

During the time the chapel has been closed services have been held in a large barn at Trinity College Farm, kindly lent by Mr. Robert Norman.

Interesting records of the past have been found in a bottle placed underneath the original corner stone. Written on parchment was the following statement:- The foundation stone of this chapel, erected for the worship of the Triune Jehovah, was laid by George Livett, Esq., of Cambridge, on the 9th day of April in the year of our Lord, 1868.

The promoters of this undertaking, some of whom are descended from the fathers and founders of the Baptist Cause in this village, indulge the hope that when they are no more, their descendants, and many others, will be so wrought upon by that glorious gospel which shall be preached within its walls, as to become the Saviours' willing and obedient servants in the present life, and be prepared for the crown of glory in that which is to come. Committee, etc., W. Cole (chairman), J. W. Carter (treasurer), F. Carter, sen., F. Carter, jun., B. Carter, J. Carter, sen., J. Carter, jun., S. Hayes, sen., B. Silk, J. Dring, J. Curtis, sen., J. Curtis, jun., W. Pauley, W. Ransom, J. Williams, jun., T. Prior, Thomas Watson Carter, Stephen Hayes, sen., Benjamin Silk, deacons; Mark Wm. Flanders, pastor; Robert Hutchinson of Huntingdon, architect; John Mitham, John Mortlock, builders.

Of the above, we believe, Mr. T. Prior, now over 80 years of age, is the sole survivor.

The bottle also contained a poster notifying the laying of the corner stone, etc., and a copy of the "Cambridge Independent Press" of the 4th April, 1868.

The opening service on Thursday afternoon was attended by a large congregation, including many friends from Cambridge and the surrounding district. Before entering upon his sermon the preacher said he would like to join in the general expression of congratulation on the splendid renovation of the sanctuary in which they were. All admired the way in which the work had been carried out. The preacher's remarks centred on the words, "Have faith in God."

A collection was taken at the end of the service on behalf of the renovation fund.

At 5.30 p.m. there was a public tea, which was well attended. Trays were given and in most cases were presided over by Mrs. J. H. Watts, Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. Jabez Day, Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. Jas. Williams, Mrs. B. Prior, Mrs. T. Godfrey, Mrs. J. S. Goad, Mrs. W. Day, Mrs. W. Savage, Mrs. M. Payne, Mrs. Jas. Smith, Miss Hayes, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Miss E. Starte, Miss N. Day, Miss L. Causer, Miss Nellie Prior, and Miss Eley.

At 6.45 a public meeting was held in the chapel, under the presidency of Mr. Herbert Marnham, treasurer of the Baptist Union. The Revs. J. R. Wood, and M. E. Aubrey delivered addresses and Miss Florence Atkin sang solos, which were greatly appreciated. The Rev. H. J. Watts submitted a financial statement as to the present condition of the renovation fund, and the meeting, at which there was a crowded attendance, closed with votes of thanks.

The sum of £10 has been promised on behalf of Bethel Sunday School. This is in addition to several individual promises from officers and teachers to the sustentation fund.

THE HOUSING QUESTION. 17th Oct. 1913

The authorities of Trinity College, Cambridge, have given instructions for two six-roomed cottages to be erected in a field adjoining the Mission Church, Boxworth End. The work will be carried out by Messrs. S. J. And W. J. Wayman, builders, etc., of Over, and will be commenced immediately. Trinity College, who are the owners of land in the parish, are already enlarging and improving a cottage on an outlying farm, besides having recently built a new farmhouse at the Hill Farm.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 17th Oct. 1913

The annual inspection of the local Voluntary Aid Detachment (Cambs. 12) was held in the grounds of Swavesey Manor on Saturday afternoon, by kind permission of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The detachment was under the command of Mrs. R. Ellis Long (Commandant), assisted by Mrs. Cooksey (Quartermaster), and the inspecting officer, Major Davoren, R.A.M.C., who was accompanied by the Rev. C. F. Townley (County Director), expressed his satisfaction with all that he saw. Two squads of men in charge of the Rev. E. Young kindly rendered assistance to the nurses. There were few interested spectators from Swavesey and neighbouring villages, but the attendance would no doubt have been larger if the weather had been more propitious.

NIGHT SCHOOL. 17th Oct 1913

The evening continuation classes at the National School would appear likely to be a failure this winter. Only ten lads have so far joined, and on Tuesday evening only seven of them attended. The needlework class has failed to attract a single pupil. Unless more join and attend regularly the classes in various subjects will have to be abandoned, a state of affairs hardly creditable to the village, the parents and the young people. Surely, writes a correspondent, our lads and lasses cannot have learned so much at day schools that they cannot with advantage to themselves learn a little more after leaving school. It may not be generally known, he adds, that those evening classes are free to all those who have left school recently, and that even those who have to pay a small fee have their money returned if they make 90 percent. of attendances. It is difficult to believe that every girl in Swavesey is an expert needlewoman, and therefore would derive no benefit from further instruction in a needlework class.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 17th Oct. 1913

The evening meeting which brought to a close the re-opening services at Bethel Chapel on Thursday in last week was a memorable gathering. The chapel was filled to its utmost capacity. The treasurer of the Baptist Union, Mr. Herbert Marnham, presided, and was supported by the Revs. J. R. Wood, M. E. Aubrey, A. C. Ashpool, J. Easter, Mr. A. C. Mansfield (ex-Moderator), Mr. J. Chivers (treasurer of the Cambs Association), Messrs. A. Norman, J. Day, and J. H. Starte (deacons) and the Rev. H. J. Watts (pastor). After the Chairman's address, Mr. Easter read portions of Scripture, and Mr. Aubrey and Mr. Wood spoke at some length. During the evening Mrs. Florence Atkin, whose beautiful voice was greatly appreciated, sang solos, Miss Starte, of Cambridge, accompanying on the organ. The collections throughout the opening day amounted to £35 15s. 2d., bringing the total contributed to the Renovation Fund up to £525 10s. 2d. On Sunday harvest thanksgiving services were held, the special preacher in the morning and evening being the Rev. J. Parr, of Fenstanton, who also gave an address to the children in the afternoon, and Miss Aughton, of Fenstanton, sang some solos.

SMALL HOLDINGS. 24th Oct. 1913

As a result of a meeting in a cottage in Wallman's-lane recently a public meeting to consider what steps should be taken to expedite the provision of small holdings in the parish of Swavesey was held last (Thursday) night in the National School.

WANTON MISCHIEF. 24th Oct. 1913

One hundred and twenty-two trusses of hay were left in a field in Bucking Way last Friday afternoon by the hay-pressers ready for carting. On Monday morning it was discovered that the string bands on a number of them had been cut by some mischievous person.

AN AIRSHIP. 24th Oct. 1913

On Wednesday afternoon an airship gracefully floated over Swavesey, and after hovering about for some time sailed away in a north-easterly direction. There was much excitement, the village streets being thronged with interested watchers. It is believed the airship was an advertisement for a well-known brand of beef tea.

PRACTICAL SYMPATHY. 24th Oct. 1913

At the close of the children's service in connection with Bethel Sunday School last Sunday afternoon a collection was taken on behalf of the sufferers through the terrible mine explosion at Senghenydd, South Wales, and the result - £1 - has been sent to the Lord Mayor of London's Relief Fund by the Sunday School Superintendent, Mr. H. S. Aldred.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT. 24th Oct. 1913

About 6.30 p.m. on Thursday in last week Mrs. Ann Netherwood, aged 68 years, when crossing High-street from Taylor's-lane towards the White Horse Gates, was knocked down by Mr. B. Kirby, of Over, who was riding a motor cycle in the direction of the railway station. Mrs. Netherwood was unconscious when picked up, and it was evident that she was very badly hurt. She was placed on a chair by the roadside and attended by neighbours. Dr. Ellis was sent for, and by his instructions she was removed to her home. It is stated that in addition to a broken rib she was bruised on one side from head to heel, her forehead and arm were cut, and she is suffering from severe shock. We hear that Mrs. Netherwood is going on as well as can be expected. Neither Mr. Kirby nor his machine was injured.

PRIMROSE LEAGUE. 24th Oct. 1913

A successful entertainment organised by Miss Kirke Smith (warden), assisted by the local sub-wardens, was held in the National School on Saturday evening. The large room was filled with an appreciative audience. The first part of the programme consisted of songs, a recitation, and a duologue. Mr. J. R. M. Vesey, Provincial Secretary of the Primrose League, spoke at some length on various political topics of the day, and Mr. W. de L. Devereux, Unionist Agent for West Cambs., in response to a special invitation, made a short, but effective, speech.

ONE LAMP LESS. 31st Oct. 1913

A steam plough drawn by a traction engine collided with an iron lamp-post opposite Mr. Walter Thorp's house at Boxworth End on Wednesday morning. The post snapped in half.

NIGHT SCHOOL. 31st Oct. 1913

The attendance at the Evening Continuation Classes at the National School is improving. Only five girls, however, attend the sewing class which needs at least three more pupils to become effective. It is feared that mothers and mistresses do not realise how important it is for their girls, the mothers, wives, and mistresses of the future, to be competent needlewomen.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 31st Oct. 1913

The people's monthly Sunday afternoon services were resumed last Sunday, when, notwithstanding bad weather, a good congregation attended. In the evening a baptismal service was conducted by the Rev. H. J. Watts (pastor).

SMALL HOLDINGS. 31st Oct. 1913

The Infants' School was crowded with an interested audience on the 23rd inst. to hear Mr. W. H. Press, of the Agricultural Organisation Society, give an address on small holdings. Mr. H. Capper, who presided, briefly introduced the speaker, who had not proceeded far with his address when an alarm of fire in the village unfortunately brought the meeting to an abrupt ending. Mr. Press hopes to be able to continue his address shortly.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 31st Oct. 1913

The annual meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association was held on Tuesday evening at the Association's rooms, Ryder's Farm, the chair being taken by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, who was supported by Mr. W. C. Cole, Mr. R. E. Bartley, Mr. W. H. Key, etc.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL. 31st Oct. 1913

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held in the Infants' Schoolroom on Monday evening. There were present: Mr. Alfred Day (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, Edward Clark, C. W. H. Cole, A. Norman, R. Norman, A. T. Scard, W. Twist (councillors) and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). – Arising out of the minutes it was announced that a public pump at Boxworth End had been repaired. – The first item on the agenda was fully discussed, viz., certain of the parish ponds, and it was resolved that 15 yards of gravel should be obtained for the approaches to the school and chapel ponds. – Mr. Clark called attention to the pond in Market-street. At the fire on the previous Thursday, Mr. Clark, who is a member of the Fire Engine Committee, had found a scarcity of water and a superabundance of mud, and a hole, he said, had to be dug in order to enable the engine to work. Mr. Scard disagreed. Mr. Burton declared that the pond wanted cleaning out or filling up. Four councillors voted in favour of the pond being cleared out and none against, so it was decided to appoint a committee to see the work of clearing out the mud be carried out.

Now came the really serious part of the meeting, concerning the stack fire on a Sunday morning in August. Complaints had been made to the Insurance Office concerned as to the way in which money granted by the office for payment of the workers at the fire had been expended. An argument ensued as to what had been said at the previous meeting, at which certain names had been struck off the list of helpers. During the discussion it transpired that the insurance office had paid £5 5s. for payment of workers, of which £2 15s. 2d. had been paid into the Parish Council Bank account. Certain people thought that the money was also to be applied to the maintenance of the engine. The Chairman suggested that the Fire Brigade Committee should ascertain the names of all the men, and women, who had helped at the fire and report to the next meeting.

STRAW STACKS ON FIRE. 31st Oct. 1913

EXCITEMENT AT SWAVESEY.

The burning on Thursday of last week of two straw stacks in a close on the northern side of Market-street once again threw the village of Swavesey into a state of alarm and excitement

About 7.30 a bright light was observed which was at first thought to proceed from rubbish being burned. P. C. Smith, who was patrolling near the White Horse Inn, soon saw that something serious was amiss, and, accompanied by another man, ran along Market-street. On arriving on the spot – a close between Mrs. E. Mitham's ancient thatched house in Market-street and Mr. Robinson Mitham's farm and builder's yard – it was discovered that a hovel thatched with willows and straw was blazing furiously, and that a straw stack close by was also alight. The alarm soon spread, and it was reported that the fire was in Mr. Robinson Mitham's yard, which is in the centre of the area devastated in the great fire on March 3rd last, people hurried up from all quarters.

A crowded meeting was being addressed in the Infants' School by Mr. W. H. Press, of the Agricultural Organisation Society, who was speaking on small holdings, when a man entered and announced that there was a fire in the village. At first the audience suspected a practical joke, but one or two men left the room and quickly returned with the intelligence that the news was only too true. The audience immediately rushed out of the school, tumbling over one another in their anxiety to reach the fire. The blaze, however, was not on Mr. R. Mitham's premises, the stacks belonging to Mrs. J. Williams. The fire engine was quickly brought up and placed against the pond in Market-street, but its usefulness was neutralised by the shortness, and in a measure by the leaky condition of the hose. Soon a second stack, also of straw, was in flames. Two other stacks were close by. The nearest, a bean stack, was promptly covered with a cloth, and on this water was poured. Fortunately the little wind there was carried flames and sparks away from these stacks and from the thatched houses in Market-street, and the fire was confined to the two stacks and the hovel.

At midnight all danger was over, but the remains of the stacks were still burning brightly. One incident about eight o'clock caused some amusement. Two prominent villagers were observed crouching over the hose, one on one side, and one on the other. People wondered what they were doing. It appeared that they were stopping punctures with their fingers. Eventually one of these – an inventive genius – constructed a poultice of gault and grass which they wrapped round the hose with pieces of rag. Later in the evening the Captain of the Fire brigade created a mild sensation by appearing for the first time since he took office in full uniform, with helmet, belt and lighted lamp.

During the progress of the fire there were many inquiries for the new engine hose (some 500 feet in length) and the standpipe for use in connection with the new water supply main, which, it was reported, had been ordered by the Parish Council. It transpired that these appliances had been obtained, but had been returned to the makers as they were either too large or too small for connection with the engine.

During the evening visitors crowded in from neighbouring villages. Sergt. Day and P.C.'s Smith (Swavesey), Bell (Over) and Breed (Willingham) were on duty.

The burned stacks which contained wheat, barley and tare straw, were insured with the Norwich Union Fire Office.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 7th Nov. 1913

The rooms of the Swavesey and District Conservative and Unionist Association at Ryder's Farm were opened on Tuesday evening for the winter season. They will be open every Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m., and on the third Tuesday in every month an address on some subject of political interest will be given.

OBITUARY. 7th Nov. 1913

We regret to announce the death on the 27th October of Miss Emily Coote (Netherwood), of High-street, at the age of 28 years. Although she had been afflicted for a long time, the end came suddenly. She was ill for only three days. The funeral took place last Friday in Swavesey churchyard, the vicar officiating. The mourners included Miss Coote (sister), Mr. John Netherwood (stepfather), and Mr. and Mrs. C. Coote (brother and sister-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm, with brass fittings. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

FUNERAL OF A LITTLE CHILD. 7th Nov. 1913

Phyllis Froment, seven years of age, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Froment, of Turn Bridge Cottages, died on the 28th ultimo, and was buried in Swavesey churchyard on Saturday last, the service being taken by the vicar. The little coffin was followed to the grave by Mrs. A. Clark (mother), Mr. and Mrs. C. Froment (grandparents), Master Leonard Clark (half-brother), Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Froment, Mr. and Mrs. W. Moody, Mrs. C. Taylor, and Miss L. Moody.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 7th Nov. 1913

A special service of thanksgiving for the completion of the restoration of the church tower will be held on Sunday next at 6.30 p.m. The following extract from this month's issue of the North Stowe Deanery Magazine will show what has recently been done and what is still needed to preserve the large and beautiful church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, from decay: "The work on the tower is now practically finished, but the men will be busy on the church for some time yet. It has been found that there are other matters of importance that need immediate attention; (1) The lead on the roof not only of the tower but of the rest of the church is in a bad state; the rain finds its way in in many places and if this is not seen to more serious harm must result; (2) the guttering round the church is defective, a large amount of the rainwater that comes down from the roof is allowed to drain into the foundations. (3) The pointing of the clerestory both on the north side and on the south side, but especially on the north side, is in such a state that the weather is penetrating the walls. The appeal originally was for £200; so generous has been the response that we have nearly £205. To complete the very necessary work as outlined above we shall require £230. Some £25 therefore has to be found. It is hoped that this comparatively small sum will be forthcoming. We repeat that no work that is not necessary is being undertaken.”

CRICKET DINNER. 7th Nov. 1913

The Swavesey Cricket Club held their annual dinner on Wednesday, October 29th, in the schools, when about 30 sat down to a splendid repast. The chair was taken by the vicar, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, at 7 p.m. promptly. After supper was over each one sat down to enjoy himself at the smoking concert, provided by members of the club and their friends. The Milton District Cricket League Cup, which had been gracing the top table was now brought into play and was filled and handed round the assembled company.

RESTORATION OF THE CHURCH TOWER. 14th Nov. 1913

The evening service at the parish church on Sunday last was intended as a thanksgiving for the completion of the work of restoring the ancient tower. An unusually large congregation attended, and the service was bright and hearty. The service was preached by Dr. Cunningham, Archdeacon of Ely. (Long report)

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES. 14th Nov. 1913

The County Inspector of Weights and Measures, Mr. J. F. Bellamy, has spent four days at the White Horse Inn for the purpose of verifying and stamping weights, measures and weighing instruments for the parishes of Swavesey, Lolworth, and Fen Drayton. Owing to a longer period than usual having elapsed since his last visit, Mr. Bellamy and his assistants appear to have had a busy time. More inaccuracies were not unnaturally discovered, and instead of a three day's visit, Mr. Bellamy was hard put to to finish in four. The same thing happens elsewhere in the county.

DEATH OF MRS. J. W. ELLIS. 21st Nov. 1913

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. J. W. Ellis, wife of Dr. Ellis, of Swavesey, which occurred on Sunday, after an illness lasting for seven months. Mrs. Ellis passed away in her sleep about 7.30 on Sunday morning. Mrs. Ellis was a native of Cambridgeshire, being the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Newton, of Whittlesea. She leaves three sons and a daughter, of which the eldest son, Mr. Bernard Ellis, is a tutor in a college at Toronto, and the second, Dr. Robert Ellis, is in practice with his father. Mrs. Ellis was 52 years of age.

The funeral took place at Swavesey yesterday (Thursday) afternoon. Mrs. Ellis had expressed her wishes as regarded the arrangements, and they were carried out according to her instructions. A service was held in the Parish Church, and the interment afterwards took place in the churchyard. The Vicar, (the Rev. Selwyn Sharp) and the Rev. A. C. Vidler (Rector of Lewin), the former Vicar, officiated.

The chief mourners included: Dr. J. W. Ellis (widower), Miss M. V. Ellis (daughter), Dr. Robert Ellis (son), Mrs. Broxholme (sister-in-law), Mr. John Blunt (cousin), Mrs. Carter (aunt) and Mrs. W. C. Cole (cousin).

There was a large attendance at the church and the graveside. The coffin was of polished oak with brass fittings. A large wreath bearing the words "In ever loving memory, from her husband and children" was placed on the coffin and buried with it. There were many floral tributes.

Mr. Robinson Mitham conducted the funeral arrangements.

SWAVESEY RELIEF FUND. 21st Nov. 1913

CHARITY COMMISSIONERS' SCHEME.

STRONG LOCAL CRITICISMS.

The Scheme drawn up by the Charity Commissioners for the administration of the Fire Relief Fund has been received, and can be seen between the hours of 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the house of Mr. Robinson Mitham, Clerk to the Swavesey Parish Council.

PROVISIONS OF THE SCHEME.

Trustees. – These are to number seven. (1) Four representatives to be appointed by the Swavesey Parish Council for a term of four years. (N.B. – Council elected for three years only.) (2) Those co-optative for a term of five years to be appointed by a resolution of the Trustees to be passed at a special meeting. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp to be one of the co-optative trustees so long as he remains Vicar of Swavesey and attends the prescribed number of meetings.

Cottages. – The Trustees shall expend the whole or a sufficient portion of the money in hand towards defraying the cost of the purchase (in trust for the charity) of a suitable site in the parish of Swavesey, and the erection of cottages thereon suitable for the occupation of poor persons, the cottages to be let at a nominal or fit rent to old age pensioners resident in the parish of Swavesey, or others possessed of a properly secured income, but not in receipt of poor law relief other than medical relief, preference being given to those persons rendered homeless by the fire on 3rd March, 1913

Application of Income. – All expenses of management, e.g., repairs, insurance and other expenses incidental to administration and management of the charity to be defrayed out of income. Subject to these payments, the yearly income is to be applied to, or for the benefit of, old age pensioners not occupiers of the cottages, or, subject to an order or orders of the Charity Commissioners, the surplus income can be accumulated for providing additional cottages to be held in conformity with the provisions of the scheme, or for that purpose shall be paid to the Official Trustee of Charitable Lands.

LOCAL OPINION.

The scheme, which differs considerably from that suggested by the Relief Committee, is being severely criticised. The main objections raised to the scheme are:

(1) The method of appointing the Trustees. The Relief Fund Committee, Mr. Sharp excepted, are ignored. The Parish Council have practically full control, four trustees being appointed by the Council direct, and three by the Council's representatives.

(2) The scheme takes all control of the building of the cottages from the sub-committee specially appointed by the full Relief Fund Committee to carry out the building schemes, who have been working for months, have suitable plans already approved by the full Committee, and are, and have long been, prepared to start building at once.

(3) There is no guarantee that the land presented by Miss Frere will be used in accordance with her known wishes when she gave the land to the Committee. Another smaller plot of land adjoining Miss Frere's, bought on behalf of the Committee at an almost nominal price, might also be thrown on the hands of the Committee.

DEFECTIVE STILES. 28th Nov. 1913

A complaint has reached us from Holywell, Hunts., as to the condition of some of the stiles on the field part between Holywell Ferry and Swavesey. It is alleged that they need immediate repairs, and probably more than one will be found to be beyond mending. We recommend the matter to the attention of the Swavesey Parish Councillors, some of whom are doubtless alive to the importance of retaining all rights-of-way for the benefit of the public.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 28th Nov. 1913

The annual meat tea and social evening in connection with the Women's and Men's Liberal Associations were held in the Friends' Meeting House on Monday. The catering arrangements were in every way satisfactory, trays being presided over by the following ladies: Mrs. H. Capper, Mrs. W. Twist, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. S. Wright, Miss E. Day, Miss Hayes, Miss Bridgeford and Mrs. J. Marriott (secretary of the Women's Liberal Association). After tea a public meeting was held, presided over by Mr. Ebenezer Parish. Mr. J. Brown, of Cambridge, was expected to address the meeting, but he wrote that owing to illness in the family he was unable to be present. On the motion of Mr. H. Capper, seconded by Mr. C. W. Hines, supported by Mr. Jabez Day, it was agreed to send a letter of sympathy to Mr. Brown. Mr. Tom Wann delivered a humorous and stirring speech, and Mr. J. Kellock followed with an incisive address on the land policy. At the close hearty thanks were accorded to the speakers, also to the ladies for their arrangements for the tea.

PARISH COUNCIL. 28th Nov. 1913

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. A. Day (chairman), Dr. R. Ellis (vice-chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, E. Clark, J. S. Goad, A. Norman, R. Norman, A. T. Scard, W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The agenda stated that the following matters were to be discussed: Messrs. Prime and Williams' fires, rules of the new Fire Brigade, proposed scheme for old age pensioners, the resignation of the Clerk, and any other business. The audience was large, at least forty parishioners, mainly working men, attending, attracted, no doubt, by the first item on the agenda, the question of the payment of workers at two recent stack fires.

Various matters were reported arising out of the minutes. A bill for a portion of the gravel needed in connection with the village ponds was passed, and the Committee was instructed to obtain more gravel and finish the work. It was reported that the pond in Market-street had been cleared out satisfactorily, and the bills in connection therewith were approved.

There was discussion about the public pump at Boxworth End, which had been stated as being repaired was not in going order. It was agreed to see what the plumber could do to remedy matters.

The rules were decided for the new Fire Brigade.

There was discussion on street lamps. More powerful burners were proposed, but the lamp-lighting contractor had said that he would need more money because of the use of extra oil. The matter was dropped after further discussion.

The signing of the cheques was the next business, during which the public was asked to leave the room. The majority obeyed, very unwillingly, it must be admitted, but four or five remained, and the three Press representatives did not move. Eventually the Chairman declared the meeting closed. The Pressmen thereupon left the room, but notwithstanding the Chairman's closing of the meeting, the Councillors after a short interval continued their deliberations in camera, but whether they sat as a Council or as a Committee is not known. We understand, however, that the questions of the payment of workers at Mr. Prime's fire and the resignation of the Clerk were dealt with.

WHIST DRIVE. 5th Dec. 1913

A successful invitation whist drive was held on Monday evening at the headquarters of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, Ryder's Farm. The players numbered 68. Prizes were won as follows: Ladies: 1 Miss M. Johnson 239 (prize presented by Mrs. Cole), 2 Miss E. Prime 232 (prize by Mr. W. H. Key), booby Miss V. Dean 173 (prize by Mr. R. Williamson); Gentlemen: 1 Mr. R. Williamson 234 (prize by Mr. W. C. Cole), 2. Mr. R. Gleaves and Mr. John Mitham, who both scored 223, and on spinning a coin the former was successful, and took the prize (given by Mr. Walter Thorp), booby Mr. E. J. Warboys 190 (prize by Mr. William Thorp).

SAD DEATH OF A LITTLE CHILD. 5th Dec. 1913

Mr. and Mrs. S. Church, of Carter's-lane, have sustained a sad bereavement by the death, after a painful illness of nine days, of their youngest child, George Francis, aged 2 years and 9 months. The little fellow was taken suddenly ill during the night. Doctors Grove and Bayne were called in, and after a day or two advised his removal to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where he was taken on Monday, 24th ult. During the week an operation was performed, but in spite of every care, the little boy passed away about four o'clock last Saturday morning. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon in Swavesey Churchyard, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar) officiating. The tiny coffin was borne to the church and grave by six girls, the Misses F. Daisley, E. Prime, Grace and Elsie Dodson, G. Froment and Kitty Culpin. The chief mourners were the bereaved parents, Misses Eva and Doris Church (sisters), Wilfred, Stanley and John Church (brothers), Mrs. C. W. Gray, Mrs. Walter Coulson and Mrs. Girling.

DEATH. 12th Dec. 1913

Mrs. Wimpres died at her residence in Church End early last Saturday morning.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 12th Dec. 1913

A meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in Mr. Parish's room on Monday evening.

LECTURE. 12th Dec. 1913

On Thursday week a lecture entitled "Oliver Cromwell" was given in Bethel Chapel by Mr. Horace Brown (of Cambridge). The Rev. H. J. Watts (pastor) briefly introduced that lecturer, and a collection was taken at the close in aid of the renovation fund.

MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY. 12th Dec. 1913

About 6.30 p.m. on Wednesday in last week Mrs. Jackson, who resides in an old house in Middle Watch, heard sounds of someone moving downstairs. She was on the upper floor with a friend. On going downstairs Mrs. Jackson says she saw a man who on being disturbed disappeared through a window. Both she and her friend were very much alarmed. Very shortly afterwards Mr. Jackson arrived, and it was discovered that a purse containing about £2 which had been lying on the kitchen table, was missing. Information was given at once to the police, and Sergt. Day (Longstanton) and P.C. Smith promptly instituted inquiries. On Saturday morning, the purse, containing about 2s. was found by Mrs. Jackson outside the back door, under some straw. There were thatchers at work on the house, and they were present when the purse was found.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS. 12th Dec. 1913

A series of accidents has happened to Swavesey people within the last ten days. A man fell from a truck of granite which was being drawn along High-street by a traction engine, and barely escaped being run over. He got off with cuts, bruises and a shaking. The Sub-Postmaster, returning in the dark from a Choral Society practice, had a nasty tumble through his crutch sinking into the soft earth of a freshly filled-up trench connected with the new water supply. He has been confined to bed and in the doctor's hands. Mrs. S. Hephher, the wife of the Swavesey carrier, has sprained her ankle, and the Secretary of the Conservative Association is suffering from a similar mishap. The three-year-old son of Mr. H. G. Graves, Messrs. Bailey and Tebbutt's Swavesey agent, pitched head first from top to the bottom of the stairs in the early hours of one morning. He damaged his nose and a leg. A postman's wife tumbled downstairs, and a few hours later her little child followed suit. Both were badly shaken. The parish clerk and sexton, cycling along with a basket of eggs, was run into by another cyclist. The eggs were smashed, and the official bruised, cut and shaken. Lastly, on Saturday, whilst playing in the Over-Willingham Histon Football League match, Mr. S. J. Froment had his shoulder injured. He has been under medical care and unable to work.

GALON'S CHARITY. 19th Dec. 1913

At a recent meeting of the Feoffees it was decided to make the first distribution of coal for the present winter forthwith.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 19th Dec. 1913

The second monthly meeting of the season of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association was held on Tuesday evening at Ryder's Farm. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided over a good assembly of members and friends, who listened with keen interest to a striking address by Mr. W. de L. Devereux, West Cambs. Unionist agent, on the Home Rule, Minimum Wage, and Land questions.

THE LATE MRS. WIMPRESS. 19th Dec. 1913

The funeral of the late Mrs Elizabeth Wimpress, whose death on the 6th instant at her residence in Swavesey at the age of 76 years, was announced in our last issue, took place at St. Ives Cemetery on the afternoon of Saturday, 13th inst. The Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, officiated both in the Cemetery Chapel, where the first part of the burial service was held, and at the graveside. Among the mourners were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wimpress (eldest son and daughter-in-law), the Misses Elizabeth, Alice and Bessie Wimpress (daughters), Mrs. Frank Wimpress and Mrs. Clark (sister). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey. Mrs. Wimpress was the second daughter of the late Mr. John Ryder, of St. Ives, and widow of the late Mr. William Wimpress who was for many years connected with the London Docks Company. She leaves three sons and three daughters to mourn their loss.

SALE OF WORK. 19th Dec. 1913

On Monday afternoon a successful sale of work was held in Bethel Baptist schoolroom, in aid of the Chapel Renovation Fund. In consequence of other meetings in the neighbourhood, the attendance was somewhat smaller than it might have been, but at the same time the sale and subsequent entertainment were a gratifying success, especially in view of the numerous efforts that have been made recently by the members and friends of Bethel Chapel to meet the heavy cost of restoring the chapel buildings. To the general regret, Mr. T. W. Carter, one of the oldest and most valued supporters, was unable to be present, owing to indisposition. At 7.30 p.m. a magnificent sacred entertainment was given in the chapel by the St. Ives Wesleyan Choir, under the able conductorship of Mr. Charles York. Every item was thoroughly appreciated.

BOYS' FOOTBALL. 26th Dec. 1913

A team of Swavesey schoolboys played a team of Over boys on the Manor Field on Saturday afternoon, and were defeated. The teams were not equally matched, the visitors being older and heavier.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 26th Dec. 1913

The members of the George and Dragon share-out Club held their yearly meeting for division of funds on Monday evening at the Little Rose, when each member received the sum of 12s. 4d. The sick pay during the year amounted to £1 12s. Owing to the illness of Mrs. George Clarke, the hostess, there has been no supper this year.

UNSUITABLE CAROLLERS. 26th Dec. 1913

On Monday night two men and two women belonging to the gipsy fraternity visited the back doors of houses in High-street, and sang – or perhaps it would be more accurate to say made an attempt to sing – “While shepherds watched” and another mysterious piece. Many persons do not regard these gipsies as desirable visitors in broad daylight, and they have strong objections to their presence in their back premises in the dark.

1914. 2nd Jan. 1914

The New Year was welcomed by merry peals on the bells of the parish church.

GALON'S CHARITY. 2nd Jan. 1914

Inquiries are being made in the village as to the delay in distributing the first issue of coal provided out of the funds of Galon's Charity. The feoffees authorised the distribution two or three weeks ago.

SMALL HOLDINGS. 2nd Jan. 1914

Mr. E. O. Fordham, a Small Holdings Commissioner, paid a visit to Swavesey last week. It is understood that there is under consideration a proposal to acquire land for small holdings in Whitton Quarter and Tippler's Drove.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS. 2nd Jan. 1914

Mrs. G. Long, of the Priory, has made her usual Christmas gifts of coal, etc., which have been greatly appreciated. Mr. J. B. Ellis and the Rev. and Mrs. Cooksey have also seen that their own tenants, the widows, and other needy persons have been well provided for at Christmas.

DRAINS. 2nd Jan. 1914

Under the superintendence of Mr. E. E. Bowden, the architect in charge of the restoration work in progress at the parish church, the drains at the National School, which were in a bad state, have been thoroughly overhauled and relaid, where necessary. Mr. Bowden's services were very kindly rendered gratuitously.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS. 2nd Jan. 1914

Fifteen deaths occurred during the year 1913 in the parish of Swavesey, against 10 in 1912. Of the deaths in 1913, one was at the age of 86, three between 70 and 80, four between 60 and 70, and three were little children. The births during 1913 show a decrease as compared with the previous year. In 1913 there were 12 and in 1912 thirteen.

A RECORD. 2nd Jan. 1914

For the first time in the memory of living man the butchers' shops were open in Swavesey all day last Saturday. Friday is the regular marketing day in consequence of the butchers having to go to Cambridge on Saturday, but last week the shops were closed on Friday, being Boxing Day, and open on Saturday in consequence of there being no market in Cambridge.

CHRISTMAS AT THE POST OFFICE. 2nd Jan. 1914

The work at the Post Office this Christmas has been a record in every department. Bicycle posts have had to be assisted by carts, and other deliveries have had to be duplicated. Yet notwithstanding the extreme pressure, no delivery has been delayed. His many friends will learn with pleasure that the Sub-Postmaster, Mr. T. Metcalfe, is progressing very satisfactorily after his recent accident.

THE RECENT FIRE. 2nd Jan. 1914

The Parish Council having got into trouble over the stack fire in August through their desire to save the rates at the expense of the workers, appear to be pursuing a similar policy. The cheque from the insurance office concerned for payment of helpers at the fire in Market-street early in October was handed to the Parish council three weeks ago, yet no steps have been taken to disburse the money.

NEW FIRE APPLIANCES. 2nd Jan. 1914

It is stated that the new fire hose, hydrant, etc., have been received from the manufacturers, and that they are satisfactory. Inquiries are now being made as to when the members of the new fire brigade, who were enrolled last summer, will be instructed in their duties, and also when the rules for the guidance of the brigade, which were ordered to be laid on the table at the last Parish Council meeting on November 25th, will be issued. It is felt that an absolutely untrained brigade will be of little practical use in case of fire.

BASTING THE TURKEY. 2nd Jan. 1914

Discussing turkeys and such like Christmas delicacies with some friends the other night, the churchwarden became reminiscent. "Have you ever heard", said he, "how the maid at the Old House basted a turkey on Christmas Day many years ago? I forget who was living in the house at the time, but the turkey sticks in my memory. Before going to church the mistress had put the turkey in the oven, and had told the maid to take it out in half an hour's time and baste it well. On her return she inquired how the bird was doing and whether the girl had basted it. The girl replied that she had done it thoroughly, and so in very truth she had. The turkey was cut to pieces, for the maid had basted it with a stout cudgel – the only kind of basting she knew anything about."

DEATH OF MR. LORENZO WILLIAMS. 9th Jan. 1914

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Lorenzo Williams, which took place at Torquay early yesterday (Thursday) morning after a long illness. He was the second son of the late Mr. Alfred Williams, grocer and draper, of Swavesey.

MISSIONARY TEA. 9th Jan. 1914

The annual tea and lantern lecture in aid of the Home Missions of the Church of England were held in the National School on Tuesday evening. The tea was well attended, and an interesting lecture on Church work in the Potteries was given by the Rev. T. C. Spurgin, organising secretary of the Additional Curates' Society.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 9th Jan. 1914

After a long illness Mrs. Charlotte Jackson died at her house in Taylor's-lane on Sunday afternoon, aged 81 years. She was the widow of the late Mr. Benjamin Jackson, a native of, and, except for the last few years of his life, a resident in Lolworth. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Wednesday afternoon, the Vicar officiating.

WORKMEN ENTERTAINED. 9th Jan. 1914

Last Friday evening Mr. Alfred Day entertained his workmen at Mill Farm in honour of his daughter's marriage with Mr. Reuben Parish, which had taken place three days previously. After a sumptuous hot supper and plum pudding the health and happiness of the bride and bridegroom was drunk, and the rest of a very pleasant evening was spent in social enjoyment.

THE PARISH CHURCH. 9th Jan. 1914

The vicar and churchwardens are about to issue an appeal for funds to carry out the very urgent repairs to the south aisle of the parish church to which reference was recently made in these columns. The architect reports that the work is so urgent that it must be proceeded with as soon as the weather permits. The estimated cost of the work, which includes repairs to roof, walls and foundations, is £300. It is announced that Mrs. Long, of the Priory, who is Lay Rector, has promised to spend the sum of £50 on repairs to the chancel.

GOLDEN WEDDING. 9th Jan. 1914

Mr. and Mrs. Berry Dodson celebrated their golden wedding on Christmas Day. They were married at Swavesey parish church on Christmas Day, 1863, by the late Canon Sharpe, then vicar of the parish, and the old couple will remember one incident in connection with the ceremony. Owing to the church clerk, "Clerk" Hephher, having forgotten to inform the vicar, the wedding party were kept waiting in church for upwards of an hour while the reverend gentleman was being found. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dodson belong to old Swavesey families, Mr. Dodson being the son of the late Mr. Robert Dodson, whilst his wife was the daughter of the late Mr. William Johnson. Her father was 86 and her mother 90 years of age when they died. Mr. Dodson's father passed away when upwards of 80, but his mother died at the comparatively early age of 66. The old couple have a family of three sons and three daughters now alive.

HAS THE PARISH COUNCIL RETIRED? 9th Jan. 1914

About four weeks ago the local agents of the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Office and two other offices forwarded cheques to the Parish Council for payment of workers at a stack fire in Market-street early in October. In last Friday's "Weekly News" attention was called to the fact that this money had not been disbursed. Another week has passed, and still no worker has been paid, and no explanation of the delay has been offered. The small sum each man should receive would have been found useful during the Christmas season, but apparently it has not been convenient for the Council to meet, and the working men, some of whom spent the night watching the smouldering straw, have to wait for their money. The councillors' inaction seems inexplicable occurring as it does immediately after the trouble caused by their attempt to retain for other purposes more than half of the money granted by the Liverpool London and Globe Fire Office for the remuneration of helpers at a stack fire in August.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. 16th Jan. 1914

The ordinary monthly meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in Mr. E. Parish's Room, Middle Watch, on Monday evening.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 16th Jan. 1914

A successful entertainment, presided over by Mr. J. Day, of Fen Drayton, was given in the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Monday evening in aid of the fund for repairing the Schoolroom.

A CORRECTION. 16th Jan. 1914

We are asked to state that a service, consisting of prayers, singing and Bible reading, was held at the Particular Baptist Chapel at 11 a.m. on Christmas Day, and was well attended. A similar service has been held every Christmas Day for about 100 years.

WHIST TOURNAMENT. 16th Jan. 1914

A whist match, 20 a-side, between Lolworth Institute and a Swavesey team was played in the club-room at the White Horse Inn on Wednesday evening. Scores: Swavesey 1,588, Lolworth, 1,542. During the interval coffee and other light refreshments were provided, but no intoxicating drink was supplied in the club-room.

AN INQUIRY. 16th Jan. 1914

We have received the following letter from Mr. Alfred Day, Chairman of the Swavesey Parish Council, in reference to a paragraph which appeared with other Swavesey news in our last issue: "Dear Sir, - Will you let me know how and when the Swavesey Parish Council attempted to retain more than half of the money granted by the Liverpool, London and Globe Fire Office?" We would remind Mr. Day that when the sum of £5 5s. granted by the Insurance Office for payment of the workers at the fire in August last was first dealt with by his Council £2 9s. 10d. only was disbursed, the balance £2 15s. 2d. being paid into the Council's banking account. This balance was subsequently distributed amongst the workers, less we believe 10s. 6d. retained, with the consent of the Insurance Office, for use of the fire engine, but only after attention had been called to the matter in the local Press and the Insurance Office had communicated with the Council.

THE LATE MR. L. WILLIAMS. 16th Jan. 1914

Enclosed in a polished oak coffin, with brass fittings, the body of the late Mr. Lorenzo Williams, whose death at Torquay on the 8th inst. was announced last week, arrived at Swavesey Station on Saturday, and the funeral took place on Monday afternoon in Swavesey Cemetery. The cortege left the house of Mr. H. H. Williams, the deceased's brother, at 2.30. The service at the graveside was performed by the Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel. The chief mourners were: Mr. G. D. Williams (brother), Mrs. R. Sutton (sister), Mr. H. H. Williams (brother), Mrs. G. D. Williams and Mrs. H. H. Williams (sisters-in-law).

NARROW ESCAPE. 23rd Jan. 1914

The 12-year-old daughter of Mr. George Brooks had a narrow escape on Tuesday in High-street. She had just left Mr. Albert Parish's coal yard, wheeling a hundred-weight of coal in a small handcart, when a trap, driven by a man said to belong to Over, hit the front of the handcart, which was twisted round and had its handles broken off. The child was much frightened, but otherwise unhurt. As the driver took no notice of the incident, it is presumed he was not aware that he had hit the small cart.

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 30th Jan. 1914

Yesterday (Thursday) being the anniversary of the birth of the late Mr. Thomas Payne, 23 widows and 7 widowers received coal, tea and sugar under the terms of his will.

OBITUARY. 30th Jan. 1914

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Benjamin Francis Carter, aged 74 years, which occurred on Tuesday afternoon after a very short illness. He was at work as usual on Thursday in last week, and succumbed to an acute attack of bronchitis. Mr. Carter had for some years occupied one of the three cottages destroyed by fire on Friday, the 9th inst., and it is believed made a trouble of losing his old home.

CHURCH RESTORATION. 30th Jan. 1914

The Vicar and churchwardens are issuing an appeal for funds to meet the cost of restoring the south aisle of the parish church, the roof, walls, and foundations of which are in such a serious condition that it is imperative that the work should be taken in hand at once. The cost of the proposed work is estimated at £300, towards which upwards of £50 has already been received or promised. The subscription list is headed by a generous donation of £20 from Mr. and Mrs. William Thorp. The church is a fine old building, dedicated to St. Andrew, in the Early English and Perpendicular styles. The tower, which contains six bells, has recently been restored, at a cost of about £200, raised by subscriptions, and somewhat extensive structural repairs to the chancel are in progress, the cost of which is being borne by Mrs. Long, of the Priory, Swavesey.

FUNERAL. 6th Feb. 1914

The funeral of the late Mr. Benjamin Francis Carter, whose death after a short illness at the age of 74 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Saturday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were: Mrs. B. Carter (widow), Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Carter (son and daughter-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. Hinde (London), Mr. and Mrs. H. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. A. Whybrow, Mr. and Mrs. Brown (sons-in-law and daughters), and Mr. Henry Carter (son). There were several old friends in the church, where the greater part of the service was said, and at the graveside.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 6th Feb. 1914

Mr. Joseph Jillings died in St. Ives Infirmary on Friday last, aged 89 years. He was one of those unfortunate persons who were burned out in the great Swavesey fire on the 3rd of March last, and, being in a very feeble state of health and having no relatives to look after him, was removed to the infirmary, where he received every attention, and was very comfortable. He was a native of Swavesey, and the oldest parishioner. For many years he was a gentleman's servant, returning to his native village about 20 years ago. For 64 years he had belonged to the Ancient Order of Shepherds, being one of the original members of the Wheatsheaf Lodge, Swavesey, which is still in existence, and remained a member until his death through the generosity of the late Vicar, the Rev. A. C. Vidler, who held himself responsible for the contributions so that the old man's great desire that he should not be buried by the parish should be complied with. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp officiating. The mourners were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Payne and Mrs. Preston (nephew and nieces by marriage) and Miss Payne. Messrs. W. H. Key and Jethro Linford represented the Wheatsheaf Lodge and there were also a few friends present. Upon the coffin was a wreath from the Rev. A. C. Vidler.

LIBERAL MEETING. 13th Feb. 1914

The monthly meeting of the Swavesey Liberal Association was held in the National School on Monday evening, and was thrown open to the public. Mr. Ebenezer Parish presided, and Mr. Kellock gave an address on current politics, at the close of which numerous questions were asked and answered. There was a good attendance, many Conservatives being amongst the audience. The meeting was quiet and orderly.

BELL RINGING. 13th Feb. 1914

On Monday 720 changes Bob Minor were rung on the bells of the parish church by Messrs. John Hodson (treble), C. Cook (2nd), D. Prime (3rd), B. Hodson (4th), L. D. Froment (5th), and R. Mitham, jun. (tenor). Mr. Cook, although only a lad, is a most promising ringer. He is a member of the newly-formed society of ringers at All Saints', Longstanton. Mr. John Hodson is a Swavesey veteran, who has rung for 53 years, if not longer.

OBITUARY. 13th Feb. 1914

Another old parishioner has passed away in the person of Mr. Berry Dodson, who died on Saturday last at the age of 70 years, after a very brief illness. He was the son of Mr. Robert Dodson, of Swavesey, and had lived, greatly respected, in the village all his long life. For some years he had suffered from bronchial trouble. He leaves a widow, three sons, and three daughters. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon in the churchyard, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiating, and was attended by the following chief mourners: Mrs. Dodson (widow), Mr. John Dodson and Mr. William Dodson (sons), Mrs. Joseph Rogers and Mrs. Joseph Armitt (daughters), Mr. Joseph Armitt (son-in-law) and Mrs. John Dodson, Mrs. Elizabeth Dodson (daughters-in-law). There were also several old friends and neighbours at the graveside. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 20th Feb. 1914

At the monthly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association at Ryder's Farm on Tuesday evening, Mr. W. J. Wing, of Cambridge, gave an earnest address on the present aspect of the Home Rule question, and on other matters of current political interest. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, chairman of the Association, presided.

A LOSS TO THE VILLAGE. 20th Feb. 1914

It is now publicly known that Mr. J. H. Starte will be leaving Swavesey in the course of a few weeks. For several years he has carried on a grocery and drapery business in Swavesey and neighbourhood, and as a business man he has won the high esteem of all who know him, being always most energetic and obliging. As a business man he will be greatly missed from the district. Perhaps Mr. Starte will be missed most by the members and friends of Bethel Baptist Chapel, where he has held office as deacon and secretary and treasurer of the Sunday School for several years. As a deacon he has rendered valuable service to the church, his character and judgement enabling him to serve the church with distinguished acceptance. During the recent renovation of the chapel he was unsparing in his efforts to help the cause he so greatly had at heart. As an officer of the Sunday School, his services are beyond estimate. Those who know his work in this department best can testify to his special adaptability for work among young people. As deputy organist at the chapel, he was always ready to serve, and on many occasions has filled emergencies in this direction, for which the church owes to him a debt of gratitude. He will also be greatly missed because of his regularity at the services, his willingness to serve in any department, and for his financial help. We understand that his successor, Mr. Canham, of Cambridge, is a Nonconformist, and has been actively engaged in Christian work at Girton. It is therefore anticipated that the loss sustained through the departure of Mr. Starte will be met by his successor, and we wish for Mr. Canham the same support that has been accorded to Mr. Starte.

ENTERTAINMENT. 20th Feb. 1914

The children attending Swavesey National School gave an entertainment in the schoolroom on Wednesday evening, and scored an immense success. They were assisted by a few ex-pupils and the Headmaster (Mr. C. Wood) and his wife. The talent was therefore entirely local, and the result surprised even those who had predicted great things. The large room was packed. The audience was enthusiastic, and the youthful performers threw themselves heart and soul into their work, and evidently enjoyed themselves as much as their parents, uncles, aunts, brothers, sisters, etc., in the audience. The programme consisted of sketches, recitations and songs. The pianoforte accompaniments throughout the evening were ably played by Mrs. James Parsons. The success of the entertainment was due to the careful training of the children by Mr. C. Wood, who was assisted by Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Lovell, and Miss R. H. Johnson, the assistant teachers. The costumes, etc., were made by Miss Pook, Mrs. Wood, sen., and Miss Capper. The general management was in the hands of Mr. Wood, and he is deserving of the highest praise. During the interval the children who were engaged in the entertainment, to the number of about 70, were provided with refreshments kindly and thoughtfully given by Mrs. Wood, sen.

(Full programme in newspaper)

CHURCH RESTORATION. 27th Feb. 1914

The recently issued appeal of the vicar and churchwardens for £300 to repair the south aisle of the parish church is being liberally responded to, the sum of £176 having already been received or promised. This portion of the ancient building is in a bad, if not in an actually dangerous, state. Much of the roof will have to be replaced, the walls are bulging, and the foundations are non-existent. It is feared that the original estimate of £300 will not be sufficient to carry out the absolutely necessary work.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT. 27th Feb. 1914

The total receipts of the children's entertainment on Wednesday and Thursday in last week amounted to £12 8s. 11d., and the expenses to £1 18s. 11d., leaving a balance of £10 10s., which has been paid to the Parish Church South Aisle Repair Fund. The attendance on Wednesday evening was 330 and on Thursday 270. A few of the programmes were decorated with floral and other designs in water colours by the children, and fetched good prices. The entertainment was an undoubted triumph for the youngsters and their teachers.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 27th Feb. 1914

The monthly evangelistic services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel last Sunday afternoon and evening. At the afternoon service, Mr. Baynes, President of the Cambridge Sunday School Union, gave an earnest address, and Miss Gautrey and Miss E. Lack, of Cottenham, sang a duet, and the latter a solo. In the evening the Rev. H. J. Watts, pastor, preached, and the Misses Gautrey and Lack again rendered a duet, and Miss Gautrey a solo. The attendance was very good at both services, the evening congregation including many visitors from neighbouring villages.

SWAVESEY FIRE. 3rd March 1913

(from the D. Williams Collection)

Press cuttings state: 30 Houses destroyed in the two hours: Many people homeless. Distressing scenes in the village.

Some 30 houses were totally destroyed and about 90 people rendered homeless by a fire which broke out at Swavesey just before 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon. In addition a number of outbuildings were wholly or partially destroyed, and other houses damaged. The rapidity with which the fire spread facilitated as it was by the high wind and the thatched houses, was truly amazing, the whole of the houses being destroyed in about 2 hours.

The ravages of a great fire are always appalling and terrible, but they are never so painful as when, as at Swavesey, it is the poorer working classes who are the chief sufferers, their humble houses burnt to the ground and their furniture and household goods, uninsured and beyond their power to replace, either totally destroyed or hopelessly damaged.

The portion of the village of Swavesey, known as Church End, near the railway station, has been almost wiped out by the fire, which is supposed to have originated in the roof of Mr. George Hephher's house in Taylor's Lane, through a spark from a chimney being blown on to the thatch. When first observed the thatch was well alight, and although several members of the family rushed upstairs and commenced to remove the goods upon which they set most value, the flames were through the roof and the whole house ablaze almost before they could decide what to take first, and, as a result, they were among the worst sufferers from the fire. It was only a matter of moments before the wind had ignited the roof of the adjoining houses, the old Railway Tavern, occupied by Mr. Alfred Prime, and fanned by the wind the two houses burst into a tremendous sheet of flame. Burning pieces of thatch were flying through the air at once, and as Mr. R. Williamson's large barn, stables, and other outbuildings on the opposite side of the lane were almost directly in the path of the wind, and were of wood and thatch, they were the next to catch. This linked up the fire with the junction of High Street and Church End, and it was apparent at once that unless the wind dropped or the rain, promised by a cloudy sky, fell, the doom of Church End, studded as it was with old thatched houses of stud and plaster and wood, was sealed beyond redemption. A fine, long-haired cat, belonging to Mr. Williamson, was badly burned, and it was afterwards killed to put it out of pain.

Two old cottages in the corner next to Mr. Williamson's buildings, and tenanted by Messrs. Samuel Daisley and Fred Dodson, were the next to fall victims, and here again the flames got hold with marvellous rapidity. Mr. Dodson was in bed at the time of the outbreak, and had to be aroused in order to escape the flames. By this time efforts were being made to clear the furniture and effects from the houses in the path of the flames, but so rapid was the progress of the fire that it was impossible completely to clear any of the houses, even those comparatively speaking at a distance, before they were licked up and devoured by the flames. Eye-witnesses at this period describe the scene as wonderful and awe-inspiring to an extraordinary degree, the flames appearing to spread from house to house almost as quickly as one could walk down the street.

Spreading down the left side of the street, at first by outbuildings and the back of the houses, the flames soon leaped right across the road, and ignited the thatched house and farm buildings tenanted by Mr. John Dodson, and although most of the livestock were got out with great promptitude and some of the furniture removed from the house, the whole buildings were ablaze long before the work could be completed, and a number of fowls had to be left to perish.

The flames were now literally leaping down the street on both side towards the railway station, and the spectacle was at once a grand and a terrible one. The intense heat from the burning buildings on both sides, with the dense clouds of black choking smoke, and the patches of burning thatch and fragments of wood which filled the air, made the road practically impassable, but scores of willing helpers faced the danger and discomfort bravely, and did their best to assist their stricken neighbours. P.C. H. Plowman was one of the first at the scene, and he was soon joined by Sergt. Day, of Longstanton, and other officers from the surrounding villages, while Dept. Chief Constable Webb came from Cambridge in response to a telegram, and superintended the valuable efforts being made by the police to rescue property in danger, and to regulate the crowd.

Although the conflagration was not, of course, seen so readily from the surrounding country as would have been the case with a night outbreak, the smoke was visible for a considerable distance, and crowds of people came from St. Ives and the neighbouring villages. After considerable delay the Swavesey Fire Brigade turned out and commenced to play on the burning houses with their manual engine. There appeared to be some difficulty at first with regard to working from the public water supply, but eventually the brigade worked from the Swan Pond. St. Ives Brigade, with another manual, arrived later in the afternoon, and Huntingdon, with a steamer, in the evening.

Among the prominent local residents who assisted were the Vicar (the Rev. J. S. Sharp), Dr. Ellis (County Councillor), Mr. E. Parish (J.P. and Guardian), the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Mr. W. C. Cole, Messrs. A. Day (Chairman of the Parish Council), J. Linford, A. R. Norman, J. S. Goad, Twist and Burton (Parish Councillors). Mr. Cooksey, who was conspicuous amongst the helpers by his great height, set a brilliant example. He rescued furniture and poultry, in one instance carrying a large sofa some distance on his back, and carried a great deal of water.

On the east side of the street the fire next attacked Mr. W. Burton's buildings, which being mainly of wood, were consumed very rapidly. Two substantial brick houses, occupied by P.C. Plowman and Mr. Robinson Mitham, carpenter and builder, escaped. Mr. Mitham's workshop caught alight, but was speedily extinguished. Two old thatched cottages, tenanted by Miss Rebecca Thorpe and Mr. H. Wells, caught fire simultaneously, and were hopelessly ablaze in a few minutes. The next house to be devoured was an old thatched house purchased last autumn by the Misses Frere on account of its picturesque appearance. Its very age and picturesqueness was its undoing, and it burnt like tinder. A substantial brick house, occupied by Mrs. Wimpres, although immediately adjoining the blazing cottage, escaped, its walls being scarcely warm. Two thatched cottages, tenanted by Mr. W. Ding and Mr. J. Martin, were totally destroyed, but Mr. George Green's brick house escaped, though not the outbuildings. On the west side Mr. Williamson's butcher's shop, at the corner, got ablaze but was extinguished to a great extent for the time being, only to fall victim later in the afternoon. Mr. Rowcliffe's house was destroyed, with old cottages tenanted by Miss Rebecca Thorp and Jillings. Mr. A. J. Willson's brick and slate house escaped destruction, but kept smouldering, and was very seriously damaged later in the day. The house of Mr. Ben Thorp, the well-known cyclist and skater, stood next in the path of the flames, with workshops and cycle and motor stores at the back. All the buildings were alight before the rescuers had had time to remove very much, but the more valuable part of Mr. Thorp's stock-in-trade was saved with, it is hoped, the greater part of the valuable cups and other trophies he has won in various sporting events. Mr. Thorp himself was away in London. A row of four brick houses, occupied by Mr. Chas. Garner, Mr. John Gilbey, Mr. W. Kester and Mr. R. Williamson were now directly in the path of the flames, but although they were sadly damaged by heat and water they escaped destruction.

A less painful spectacle was the burning of the next group of houses. These were four old cottages which had been condemned, and were standing empty, and needless to say they offered practically no resistance to the flames, and were eventually wiped out. The next six cottages, all thatched and rather ancient, were occupied by Mrs. Rebecca Eason, Mr. Jas. Wells, Mr. Jas. Taylor, Mrs. H. Ding, Mr. J. Kester, jun., and Miss Marriott. With the terrific blaze created by their moribund and untenanted neighbours, they had no chance, and were soon destroyed before their terrified occupants could do more than remove the goods most prized. The Swan and Two Necks public house was saved, with the adjoining brick house occupied by Mrs. Godfrey, but two thatch and plaster cottages tenanted by Mrs. Howlett and Mr. W. Cain were wiped out. A tremendous blaze raged at this point, near the Swan Pond, and the backs of houses in particular were devoured with marvellous speed. Mr. Twist's house was saved, although it adjoins the burning cottages, but two rooms were damaged by fire. Some of his outbuildings were burnt, and at the time the house appeared to be in considerable danger, but the Swan Pond is right in front, so that it was an easy matter to drench it with water. Some poultry in the yard and outbuildings were removed to a safe place before the fire reached this point.

This marked the extent of the fire, not because it was not as menacing as ever, for indeed the blaze was most furious at this period, with practically the whole street burning at once. The fire was checked simply because there was a wide gap between the burning houses and the next dwelling. The wind was so strong that the safety of the Manor was feared for, and the Swavesey engine was taken to play on the stacks and outbuildings there, as showers of sparks from burning fragments were being blown in that direction. In the meantime the St. Ives engine was being used to guard against the further spread of the fire. There was absolutely no hope of extinguishing any of the burning houses. Where a well-appointed steam-engine would have been practically powerless, it was obvious that the manual could do nothing beyond watch for the outbreaks continually occurring on houses which had hitherto escaped.

At 5 o'clock there was very little brilliant flame, the whole of the houses having been destroyed in about 2 hours. The scene presented a remarkably desolate and impressive appearance. For a long distance the street was enveloped in a cloud of dense pungent smoke, and on each side the places which had been occupied by houses whose tenants were enjoying their mid-day meal not three hours previously were simply wastes of smouldering ashes and blackened brickwork. As twilight began to fall a row of chimney stacks, where some half-dozen cottages had been destroyed, towered over the ruins, a line of sombre sentinels in a setting of glowing masses and showering sparks. The older people who had been rendered homeless appeared to be absolutely dazed and stupefied by the calamity which had befallen them. One poor old fellow, and old age pensioner, who had lost his little all, without having anything insured, was walking to and fro with a picture in each hand, unwilling to trust these trifles saved from amongst a house of furniture, to the kindly neighbour who offered them shelter. Here and there the flames were extending from a smouldering building, along a garden fence, or creeping up the side of a shed, but the owners, already rendered homeless, and staring with haggard faces at the smoking piles which represented the ashes of their houses and of their hopes, were literally incapable of the effort required to extinguish these miniature conflagrations, which were eventually trampled out by bystanders.

Earlier, when the light of the blazing flames from the houses had shown hundreds of people rushing with furniture and household goods from the houses already alight or in the path of the flames, the scene had been a brilliant, although a terrible one, but when the flames died down and darkness fell the spectacular glory faded from the minds of the onlookers and the scene of ruin and destruction accentuated the misery depicted on the faces of those who stood around the smoking piles.

The extraordinary manner in which the few articles which had been saved were dumped down bore testimony to the state of mind of their owners. Passing down the darkened street, one stumbled here and there over a little heap of chairs and pictures, or a bundle of household linen, blackened by smoke and soaked with water. In several instances goods were saved from burning houses to the outbuildings of adjacent premises, only to be barely saved again when these buildings were in their turn destroyed.

It would have been well if the heavy shower of rain which fell about 7 o'clock had come a few hours earlier, but although there were slight showers at neighbouring villages and in Cambridge during the afternoon scarcely a drop fell on Swavesey until 7 o'clock. Then there was a drenching storm and the wind which had raged all day and had been mainly responsible for the calamity dropped to a calm. This aided the brigades and other helpers a great deal, but there was one element of danger until far into the night. Furniture was removed from the houses on the north side of Market St., as it was feared they would get alight.

At midnight a heap of coal and coke in the yard of Mr. Jas. Wells, coal merchant, whose house had previously been destroyed, was seen to be well alight, and was only extinguished with great difficulty, and fruit trees in Mr. W. H. Key's garden, close to the cottages first attacked, were destroyed. Mr. Robinson Mitham's house and workshop had a narrow escape. P.C. Plowman saw that the roof between the workshop and office was well alight, and he obtained a ladder and extinguished the flames with buckets of water. Mr. Mitham is Clerk to the Parish Council and other bodies and Assistance Overseer, and a number of valuable documents and parish records were in danger.

[The following observation on the latter incident was added by John Shepperson from family recollections in April 2010: Living in "The Chequers" public house at the time was the well-known builder, farmer and Parish Clerk, Robinson Mitham. When the fire started Robinson was on his way to the station to visit the bank at St. Ives. By the time he arrived news of the fire had reached St. Ives. As he walked down to the bank news was spreading like wildfire. He carried out his business at the bank as quickly as he could, and then hurried back to the station. On the way back to Swavesey he could see the smoke billowing into the sky in the distance over Church End from his carriage window. As he got near to Swavesey, he could see that a large barn, a familiar landmark to him, had gone. It had been burnt down. On arriving home he learnt that his builder's workshop had narrowly escaped. A sparrow had built its nest in the corner of the gutter, and this had caught fire, but before it could take hold of the woodwork it had been spotted and been put out.]

As already stated, the fire had progressed from house to house during the afternoon with such wonderful rapidity that it was impossible to make a gap by pulling down buildings or to save any of the houses except the newer brick ones by playing on them with water, but one smart piece of work led to the saving of Messrs. Hudson's house, the Little Rose. The tenants assisted by Messrs. Wadsworth's vanman, David Sneesby, and others, pulled down the woodwork which connected some blazing cottages with the Little Rose, and saved the house.

The Swavesey Fire Brigade was commanded by Mr. S. Challis, the St. Ives Brigade arrived about 4 o'clock, Lieut. James bringing about 8 men, and Capt. F. Giddings following by train. The Huntingdon Brigade, with their steam engine, got away from Huntingdon within 10 minutes of receiving the call and arrived about 7 o'clock, 12 men being commanded by Capt. Barber and Lieut. Burbridge.

To correct erroneous statements it may be mentioned that Mrs. A. J. Willson, whose house was subsequently partially burned and contents seriously damaged, was the first person to see the outbreak. She told Mrs. G. Hephher, who was washing for her. The outbreak was at Mrs. Hephher's house. Mr. George Clarke, the parish lamplighter, fishmonger, publican etc. was first on the scene.

Extract from another cutting:

Earlier this week Mr. George Hephher, at whose cottage the fire broke out, whilst searching amongst the ruins found money he had given up for lost. Needless to say it was black. Under the ruins of the buildings in a coal yard at the back of Mr. James Wells' house, which was destroyed, is the grave of Mr. Thomas Mortlock, a corn merchant, who died in 1845, and was, in accordance with his own instructions, buried in a brick grave in a shed on the premises which had been occupied by him during life. In the autumn of 1903 the brick work having collapsed, the grave was filled in. Sunday last was a day that will never be forgotten by Swavesey people. A careful estimate puts the number of bicyclists who visited the scene of the disaster from 3,000 to 4,000 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. There were many motor cars, and innumerable traps and carts. Men tramped in from other villages. The police estimated that by mid-day at least 5,000 people had attended. Between 1 and 2 p.m. there was a lull, but the afternoon brought further crowds, including brake loads from St. Ives. The Bishop of Ely and Mrs. Chase showed their sympathy with the parish by being present at the evening service at the parish church. The Bishop preached. The congregation was large, and the service hearty. Well-known hymns were chosen and were joined with great fervour. The Bishop's sermon was most appropriate to the occasion. His text was Philippians IV. 6.

FIRE BRIGADE RESIGNS. 6th March 1914

The whole of the Swavesey Volunteer Fire Brigade has decided to resign. It is understood that the men are dissatisfied with the rate of payment for attendance at fires decided on at last week's Parish Council meeting.

AEROPLANE AND SIDE-CAR! 6th March 1914

About noon last Saturday an aeroplane passed over Swavesey in a northerly direction. It was very high in the air, but one villager was heard to remark that he saw that it had a side-car attached. It was, no doubt, one of the naval aeroplanes, with passenger, which visited Cambridge.

DEATH. 6th March 1914

We regret to announce the death after a long and painful illness of Mrs. Spolton, wife of Mr. Alfred Spolton, which occurred at mow Fen Gatehouse on Wednesday. Mrs. Spolton was greatly respected by all who knew her, and much sympathy is felt for her bereaved husband and family.

A MEMORABLE ANNIVERSARY. 6th March 1914

Twelve months have elapsed since the great fire which devastated Church End, Swavesey. The fire broke out about 2 p.m. on Monday, 3rd March, and within two hours about 30 cottages were destroyed. During the year seven houses have been rebuilt, and a warehouse has been erected on the site of two old cottages.

THE LATE MR. LONG. 6th March 1914

Monday last, March 2nd, being the anniversary of the birthday of the late Mr. George Long, of the Priory, the bells of the parish church were rung during the afternoon and evening in accordance with the terms of his will. Mr. Long was a lover of bells, and on Sunday, 2nd March, 1902, when he celebrated his 63rd birthday, the bells were rung in his honour for an hour before the evening service. A month later, on Sunday, 6th April, Mr. Long died, and as he passed away the bells were again ringing.

PARISH COUNCIL. 6th March 1914

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Infants' School on Thursday, 27th ulto., and was attended by Mr. Alfred Day (chairman), Councillors W. Burton, E. Clark, C. W. H. Cole, Dr. R. Ellis, J. S. Goad, A. Norman, R. Norman, W. Twist, and the clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). – The minutes of the last meeting having been confirmed, the Clerk read a letter from the Charity Commissioners, from which it appeared that the appointment at the previous Council meeting of Messrs. Day, Goad, A. Norman, and Twist to serve as elected trustees of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Charity was premature, as at the time of their appointment the scheme regulating the charity had not been scaled. The four gentlemen were, therefore, re-appointed, the scheme having been scaled on the 24th ulto. The names of the following ratepayers were selected for submission to the justices as those of suitable persons to serve as parish constables: Messrs. C. Burling, who has held the office for some years, E. Clark, W. F. Gleaves, and B. Hodson. It was also agreed that the constable's remuneration should remain as at present. Rules for the Volunteer Fire Brigade then came up for discussion. Mr. Clark, a member of the Fire Brigade Committee, submitted six rules, remarking that he believed that his colleague, Mr. Scard, who was unfortunately unable to be present, had some more. Mr. Clark moved that his rules, which appeared to have been based on those in force at St. Ives, should be discussed with a view to their adoption by the Council subject to the approval of insurance offices being obtained to the proposed scale of payment of workers. Mr. Goad seconded. The suggested scale of pay was: For firemen, 1s. for the first hour and 9d. an hour afterwards, for ordinary pumpers and helpers, 9d. for the first hour and 6d. an hour after. Mr. Clark left the remuneration of the Captain and Deputy-Captain to be fixed by the Council. Mr. A. Norman proposed as an amendment that the rules be laid on the table until they had been completed. Mr. Twist seconded. The Chairman, however, pointed out that the rules had been laid on the table at the previous meeting, and he protested against the time of the Council being wasted by three repeated delays. The captain, he said, was not present, and he ought to be consulted. He suggested that the present arrangements should remain in force. At the time of an outbreak of fire the members of the Brigade might be in different parts of the county, and therefore could not be promptly on the spot. The captain must be allowed to use his discretion, which the rules did not allow. He thought the first men, whether firemen or not, to reach the engine should have double pay. That would be some encouragement. The captain ought to be given a free hand in regard to the employment of helpers. Mr. Clark here rose to speak, but was promptly called to order by the Chairman, who observed that he had already spoken five times. On reconsideration, however, he said that Mr. Clark might speak once more. Mr. Clark availed himself of this permission to move the suspension of the standing order regulating the number of times a councillor can speak on a subject. Mr. R. Norman thought it would be desirable to know what other villages, such as Cottenham and Willingham, do in the matter of their fire engines. It was eventually agreed to fix the scale of payment at the time of the occurrence of each fire while using the old rules. After further discussion, Mr. Clark resigned from the Fire Engine Committee. A long discussion ensued respecting the remuneration of workers at the fire in Middle Watch on January 9th. The Fire Engine Committee declined to make any recommendation, but Mr. Clark proposed the following scale: Firemen, 1s. first hour, 9d. an hour afterwards; pumpers, 9d. first hour, 6d. an hour subsequently. The proposal failed to find a seconder, and the Chairman objected to pumpers being paid less than men who only walked about. Eventually Mr. Burton moved that 9d. an hour be paid to every worker. Mr. Twist seconded, and the wearied Council unanimously adopted the proposition. The Fire Relief Fund and gipsy encampments in the parish then occupied the attention of the Council.

FLOODS. 20th March 1914

A good deal of the land around Swavesey is under water, and the farmers are becoming anxious.

SEWER IN DANGER. 20th March 1914

The new sewer laid two or three years ago along the bank of the large drain which crosses High-street at Turn Bridge appears to be in danger of collapsing. For some yards the earth has fallen away from the pipes. On Tuesday two small boys amusing themselves by jumping the drain which was full of flood water had a ducking.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 20th March 1914

At the monthly meeting of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, held at Ryder's Farm on Tuesday evening, Mr. A. E. Saunders, hon. secretary of the West Cambs. Unionist Association, gave an excellent address on the land question, etc. In the subsequent discussion Mr. W. C. Cole, Mr. Walter Thorp and others took part.

OBITUARY. 20th March 1914

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 76 years, of Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, widow of the late Mr. Thomas Payne. Although she had been ill for some years and her condition was causing anxiety to her relatives and friends, it was not thought that her end would come as suddenly as it did. On Sunday morning Mr. E. J. Warboys called at her cottage in Middle Watch with milk. He found the house shut up and the blinds drawn down. He knocked, but could obtain no answer, and fearing that something might be amiss he proceeded at once to Mr. George Crane, Mrs. Payne's brother-in law, who lives in Wallman's-lane. Mr. Crane hastened to the house, affected an entrance though a window, and found Mrs. Payne lying dead in bed. Mrs. Payne was highly respected, and her many acts of kindness throughout her long life had endeared her to all those with whom she came in contact.

A LARGE EGG. 27th March 1914

A duck belonging to Mr. C. Eason, of Swavesey, has laid an egg weighing 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.

A DEFECTIVE DRAIN. 27th March 1914

A correspondent writes: "I am glad attention was called in last Friday's "Weekly News" to the condition of the new sewer near Turn Bridge, but two serious defects were not mentioned. One pipe near the bridge is badly cracked, and another opposite the eastern end of Turn Bridge Cottages is broken, and for some time has allowed offensive sewage to flow into the brook. May we hope that now attention has been called to the matter, the District Council will take action.

A GOOD RECORD. 27th March 1914

Mr. William Henry Key entered the 70th year of his life on Tuesday last. A native of Earith, Hunts., he migrated to Swavesey in November, 1876, where he opened a business as a baker. After a successful career he retired four years ago. During the whole of his life in Swavesey he has been closely and prominently identified with the public affairs of the village. He has been a churchwarden since Easter, 1898, and was the first Chairman of the Parish Council, and subsequently Vice-Chairman until 1910. Among other offices he has held for many years, the following may be mentioned: Feoffee of Galon's Charity, school manager, Treasurer of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association since its foundation in October, 1903, an active member of the Ancient Order of Shepherds, and the only member of the Wheatsheaf Lodge (the Local lodge) who has been Provincial Chief Shepherd. Recently he has been appointed a life trustee of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Charity.

CHURCH REPAIRS FUND. 3rd April 1914

Subscriptions to the fund for the repair of the south aisle continue to come in, and it is announced in this month's issue of the North Stowe Rural Deanery Magazine that £211 3s. 11d. has been received or promised. It is estimated that £350 will be needed for this absolutely necessary work. A complete list of subscribers will be found on the notice board inside the church.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 3rd April 1914

The monthly special service was well attended on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. J. Watts (pastor) presiding. The committee had been fortunate in securing Miss Florence Atkin as soloist. The special speaker was Mr. R. H. Dinnage, of Cambridge, who based his address on the five recorded visions of St. Paul. At the special evangelistic service in the evening, conducted by the pastor, Miss Atkin gave two solos. At the close of the service the pastor announced that he had received a pressing and unanimous invitation to the pastorate of a Yorkshire church, and asked the prayers of the church and congregation for guidance. His decision would be given to the members of the church on Sunday evening next.

PRESENTATION. 3rd April 1914

At a public meeting, following a farewell tea, in the Bethel Schoolroom on Monday evening, presentations were made to Mr. H. Starte, who is leaving the village. Mr. Starte has for the past ten years been actively associated with Bethel Chapel. Amongst the offices he filled were those of deacon and deputy organist, and teacher, secretary, and treasurer of the Sunday School. He was also a worker in connection with the Christian Endeavour Society. About forty friends sat down to tea, which was served by Mrs. J. Day, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. Godfrey, and Mrs. W. Savage. The Rev. H. J. Watts (pastor) presided at the meeting, and was supported by Mr. Starte, Mr. Ebenezer Prime (deacon), and Mr. J. Day (deacon and church secretary). The Sunday School was represented by Mr. H. S. Aldred (superintendent), Mr. B. Prior (deputy superintendent). Mr. A. Norman (deacon and church treasurer) was unable to be present. During the evening the pastor in fitting terms presented a handsomely-bound teacher's Bible to Mr. Starte from members of the church and congregation. The workers in the Sunday School, through the Superintendent (Mr. H. S. Aldred) asked Mr. Starte to accept as a small token of appreciation, and as a memento of Bethel Sunday School, a copy of Bates'

Cyclopaedia of Illustrations of Religious Truths. Eulogistic speeches were made by Messrs. E. Prime, J. Day, and B. Prior. In reply, Mr. Starte acknowledged the great kindness he had always received, and gave an address based on his personal experience in London and elsewhere. The meeting closed with the hymn, "God be with you till we meet again."

BETHEL CHAPEL. 10th April 1914

The Rev. J. H. Watts, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, announced on Sunday evening that he had accepted a call to a church in Yorkshire. His pastorate at Swavesey will terminate on the last Sunday in June.

AN OFFENSIVE DRAIN. 10th April 1914

"A Distressed Householder" writes: - Notwithstanding the fact that the attention of the Inspector of Nuisances was called by letter, on 9th March, to the foul stench emitted from an untrapped opening of the public sewer in High-street, near the Rising Sun, and that the nuisance was referred to, not for the first time, in the "Weekly News", no steps have yet been taken to abate the nuisance. On Monday evening the stench was most objectionable. If the defect had been on private property there is no doubt the Inspector would have found means to have had the matter seen to immediately.

DEATH OF MRS. RICHMAN. 10th April 1914

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 84 years, of Mrs. Mary Richman, widow of the late Mr. Alfred Richman. She had been ailing for some time, and passed away between two and three o'clock on Monday morning at her residence in Histon. Both she and her husband were natives of Swavesey, where they lived for the whole of their married life. Mrs. Richman removed to Histon a year or two ago. She was the daughter of the late Mr. Edward Thorp, and she leaves four sons, one of whom is in Canada.

DROVE LETTING. 10th April 1914

The yearly letting by auction of the herbage on the roadsides, droves and by-ways in the parish, took place on Monday evening in the large room at the White Horse Inn, by direction of the Swavesey Rural District Council. The herbage of the Recreation Ground was put up at the same time, by order of the Parish Council. As already stated in these columns, many parishioners object to the herbage being let, as animals are often sent out in charge of small children, and not being under proper control, are a nuisance and a danger to the public, and it has also been alleged that conditions of hiring have not been complied with. It was expected, therefore, that the proceedings on Monday night would be lively. A large crowd attended, and were not disappointed. The auctioneer, Mr. Clarence Underwood, of Willingham, was supported by Mr. Alfred Day (district councillor and Chairman of the Parish Council), Mr. E. Parish (district councillor), Mr. Robinson Mitham (Clerk of the Parish Council, etc.), and most of the parish councillors. The auctioneer read the conditions of the letting, and it was noticed that the roadsides in the village, which it had been agreed at last week's parish meeting should not be let, were excluded. At the close of the reading, Mr. A. Girling, on behalf of Mr. Ellis Long, objected to the roadsides on the Fen Drayton-road, between the Priory and the Plough, being let, as he claimed his frontages which he intended to feed himself. The objection was, however, ignored and the letting proceeded. There was very little competition, except between Mr. Alfred Day and Mr. Daisley, and every lot, with one exception, was knocked down to one or other of these gentlemen, the lion's share going to Mr. Day. Prices realised were very low, and the sum netted by the District council was only £8 17s. 6d., instead of more than double that amount as in previous years. The Recreation Ground fell to Mr. Day for £2.

PARISH COUNCIL. 1st May 1914

At the annual meeting of the Parish Council held on Tuesday, 28th ulto., Dr. Robert Ellis and Mr. Arthur Norman were elected chairman and vice-chairman respectively for the ensuing year. Messrs. James Parsons and Alfred Day were appointed Overseers.

INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT. 1st May 1914

The hand-hearse, which has for some years been in request at village funerals, and originally belonged to Mr. H. S. Aldred and the late Mr. James Williams, and latterly to Mr. Edward Clark, has been secured by Mr. Robinson Mitham, the Swavesey undertaker.

SALE OF WORK. 1st May 1914

In aid of the Parish Church (South Aisle) Repair Fund a sale of work was held in the grounds of the Vicarage on Wednesday afternoon, and realised £10 9s. 3d., all stalls being practically cleared out before closing time. More than one would-be purchaser returned home with money unspent. The stalls were in charge of the following ladies: Fancy work, Mrs. Capper and Miss Agnes Wells; plain needlework, Mrs. Gilby; blouses, Mrs. E. J. Linford, jun., and Miss Martin; sweets, Mrs. Sharp and Miss Clara Thorp. Mrs. J. Dean superintended the tea and refreshment department, assisted by Miss G. Froment, and Miss E. Prime.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 1st May 1914

The winter season of the Friends' Meeting House Mothers' Meeting and Band of Hope was brought to a close on Monday evening by a successful tea followed by an entertainment given by the Band of Hope children. The general arrangements were in the capable hands of Miss F. Gaunt, to whose untiring efforts the success of the evening, and also of the season's work, was mainly due. The children's table at tea was superintended by Mrs. H. S. Aldred and Miss Izzard, and the adult's table by Mrs. Godfrey sen. At the entertainment Mrs. Watts White, of St. Ives, presided, and the room was crowded. The proceedings opened with a hymn and prayer, after which Mrs. Watts White gave an address. The programme was contributed by children, and consisted of recitations, songs, a dialogue, hymns, and a Chinese umbrella piece by eight girls, who had been drilled by Mrs. Aldred. Miss Izzard played the accompaniments on the organ.

NARROW ESCAPE OF A BABY. 1st May 1914

The little child of Mr. A. G. Prime, jun., had a narrow escape from death by drowning on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Prime was wheeling the babe in a perambulator near Moor Fen Gatehouse, and stopped to tie the bootlace of her small son, who was walking beside her. The roadway sloped from the railway gates, so Mrs. Prime turned the perambulator crossways to prevent it running away. Whilst engaged with the bootlace a goods train passed by, and whether it shook the perambulator is not clear, but something started the carriage, and the mother was horrified to see it and her baby precipitated into a deep ditch close by. The strap broke and the child fell beneath the carriage. Mrs. Prime, without a moment's hesitation, jumped into the water and mud of the ditch to the rescue of her child. The mishap had been seen from the gatehouse on the opposite side of the railway line, and Messrs. C. Keep and W. Spolton, and others hurried out. Mother and child were speedily lifted on to dry ground, and the perambulator was afterwards hauled out with hoes. The child was provided with dry clothing by Mrs. W. Kester before being taken home.

CHORAL SOCIETY'S CONCERT. 1st May 1914

The first concert of the Swavesey Choral Society, given at the National School on Thursday evening in last week, was a most successful function, except as regards attendance, which was not as good as it ought to have been. Speaking in a non-political sense, Swavesey people are a very conservative race. They fight shy of anything new, especially when the novelty is brought out by local effort, and as little was known of the Choral Society, which only came into existence at the beginning of the winter, they took scant interest in the concert. Next morning they were sorry, and a much larger attendance may be predicted at the society's next public performance. No encores were allowed, and the lengthy programme was carried out without a single alteration, addition, or omission, and with no vexatious delays. A punctual start was made at 7.30 p.m., and the concert concluded at 9.30. (Full programme in newspaper)

THE NIGHTINGALE. 8th May 1914

On Wednesday night a nightingale was heard in the village.

THE YEOMANRY. 8th May 1914

The local detachment of the Northamptonshire Yeomanry was drilled on the Recreation Ground on Wednesday evening, and attracted a large concourse of spectators. Sergt. C. Townsend (of Longstanton) was in command.

PARISH CHURCH. 8th May 1914

The work of repairing the south aisle of the parish church, which is in urgent need of attention, has been begun, and is being carried out by Mr. E. E. Bowden, of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings.

BELL RINGING. 8th May 1914

The recently formed junior team of ringers made their first public appearance last Sunday, when they rang before the morning and evening services. The following lads form the team: 1st bell Bertram Prime, 2nd Cyril Hephew, 3rd H. Prime, 4th Walter Ding, 5th Edward Williams, tenor Charles Howlett.

FALL OF A BIG TREE. 15th May 1914

At 10.45 a.m. on Saturday a large elm tree close to Church Bridge fell with a crash, smashing the top off a lower tree in its fall and blocking the footpath in the high-road. Fortunately no one was passing at the time. The tree snapped clean off about 15 feet from the ground. There was a strong wind blowing.

THE BLESSING OF SIGHT. 15th May 1914

There was no special service of thanksgiving for the blessing of sight at the parish church on Sunday last, but the Vicar in his morning and evening sermons made reference to the duty of thankfulness for the blessing. He urged his hearers liberally to support the appeal that was being made on behalf of the sightless, and said he would be pleased to receive and forward to the proper quarter any donations.

OBITUARY. 22nd May 1914

Mrs. Sarah Parish, widow of the late Mr. Abraham Parish, died on Saturday last and was buried in Swavesey cemetery on Wednesday afternoon. She was 77 years of age.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 22nd May 1914

The Diocesan Inspector, the Rev. A. D. Pierrott, examined the children in religious knowledge on the 14th instant, and has since furnished a most satisfactory report. As regards written work he reports that "the work of the upper division was excellent throughout, and that the work of the lower division was most creditable." Referring to the viva voce examination, the Inspector says – "Infants – Thoroughly good work is done in this department. Upper standards – In all these classes I found very careful work, and some really excellent standards are achieved. The children are intelligent, and the answering of the questions is very accurate and thorough. I am glad to find that church history is taken. The singing is accurate and pleasing. I congratulate the school on its high efficiency."

THE FROST. 29th May 1914

Considerable damage was done by the frost during Tuesday night in the village gardens and allotments, especially to potatoes.

ONE TOO MANY. 29th May 1914

Mrs. Thompson Mortlock, of Clifton Cottage, on examining a chicken hatched on Wednesday morning discovered that it had two feet on one leg.

LARGE BROCCOLI. 29th May 1914

Mr. James Trundley, sen., has grown a spring broccoli (Ledsham) in the Hale Allotments, which weighed 14½lbs. The broccoli was cut on Friday before the feast, as the grower feared that if left until the following day it might disappear.

ACCIDENT. 29th May 1914

Early on Wednesday evening Mr. W. Unwin, of Over, a young man, cycling down Over hill towards Swavesey Station, ran into Mr. D. Askew, farmer of Cottenham, who was examining a horse with Mr. Arthur Norman near the bridge. Mr. Askew was knocked down, but only slightly injured. The cyclist's head was hurt, necessitating medical treatment, and his machine was damaged.

THE FEAST. 29th May 1914

This year's feast, which began on Sunday last, has been very quiet and tame. As usual a steam roundabout, shooting galleries, stalls, etc., took possession of Market-street, and there were numerous visitors, but not as many as in some previous years. On Sunday the services at the parish church were well attended, the congregation at evensong being particularly good. Later in the evening the St. Ives Town Band gave a sacred concert in Market-street. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the village club played cricket matches with Lolworth, Mr. Philip Papworth's XI, and Willingham respectively, but was defeated in each game. The weather was fine but cold.

BLOCK ON THE RAILWAY. 29th May 1914

A few minutes after 4 a.m. on Wednesday the brake van of a fast down goods train was derailed through the breaking of an axle just after passing Fen Drayton crossing. The driver, noticing that something was wrong, looked towards the back of the train, and saw dust flying. He pulled up at once, but fortunately not too quickly or the van would have been overthrown, and the guard in all probability injured. As it was, he was only severely shaken. The guard immediately called out the permanent way men at the gate houses, and the stationmasters at St. Ives and Swavesey were informed. A breakdown gang was sent for, and soon attended with a crane and other appliances. The traffic was worked on the up-line until 11 a.m., the trains being piloted by the Stationmaster of St. Ives. The permanent way was slightly damaged, a few sleepers being torn up.

NOT RATS. 6th June 1914

Mr. A. E. Daintree, who has recently moved into one of the newly-built Trinity College cottages at Boxworth end, had a strange experience the other night. He was awakened by mysterious sound under his bed. He roused his wife, who suggested rats, but this idea he scouted as the house was new. Striking a match he discovered that the disturbance was caused by a young rabbit, which he promptly ejected, and, returning to bed, finished his night's rest.

A NUISANCE TO ABATE. 6th June 1914

"Father of a family" writes – I read with great interest the letter of a Histon correspondent in last Friday's "Weekly News" complaining of the practice of squirting at Histon Feast, and suggesting that the Parish Council should take action. At Swavesey Feast the other week these squirts were a serious nuisance, but I do not think our Parish Council could effectively take measures to abate it, as I believe they have no control over the feast or the feasters. May I suggest that it is a matter in which the police can and should properly interfere?

CHAPTER OF INCIDENTS. 6th June 1914

A lad in backing a cart containing cans of milk on Tuesday evening on Swavesey railway platform, went too far, and the cart and pony fell over on to the metals. Both shafts were broken, but the pony was not hurt, and only about a quart of milk was spilled. On the following day an axle cap and linch-pin fell from another farmer's milk cart near the station. The driver all unconscious reached home, about a mile distant, without the wheel coming off, and it was only when the cap and pin were taken to him that he discovered how narrowly he had escaped a spill. Earlier the same day, through the breaking of a wanty, a coal merchant's cart tipped up near the Swan Pond, and the bags of coal were scattered over the road.

THE EMPRESS OF IRELAND. 6th June 1914

News of the disaster to the Canadian liner Empress of Ireland reached Swavesey by a private telephone message about midday on Friday last, but no details were given. At 2.30 p.m., however, Mr. W. F. Gleaves, newsagent, posted up at his shop a telegram from the London "Daily Chronicle" announcing that the vessel, with 1,200 souls on board, had been sunk in a collision with an iceberg, and that it was feared all had perished. Shortly before 7 p.m., a further telegram was posted to the effect that the liner had collided with another ship in a dense fog, and had sunk in ten minutes, and adding the numbers as then known in London of the lost and saved. The news caused general consternation, and groups of people read and re-read the appalling messages during the afternoon and evening. Many persons in Swavesey were personally interested as it was feared that a one time resident might be on board, and Mr. Sam Dodson, at present home on a visit to his parents, sailed in the Empress of Ireland in January last, and expected to return by her on the 12th inst. — In his sermon on Sunday at the parish church the Vicar made a sympathetic reference to the disaster.

SCHOOLBOY CRICKET. 13th June 1914

Swavesey national schoolboys visited Oakington on Saturday afternoon, and inflicted a severe defeat on the schoolboys of that village.

AGRICULTURAL LABOURERS' UNION. 13th June 1914

A meeting in the interest of the Agricultural Labourers' Union was held on the Recreation Ground at 11.15 a.m. on Sunday, and was addressed by members of the Cambridge I.L.P. The chair was taken by a gentleman who stated that he was an architect and quantity surveyor. There was a fair attendance, about 50 persons being present, but an appreciable portion of the crowd was not in sympathy with the objects of the meeting. Many questions were asked, some of which appeared to annoy the speakers. Ten men expressed their willingness to join the union.

PROPERTY SALES. 13th June 1914

Two sales of property of considerable interest to Swavesey people have been held. Last Friday evening a residence, with a large garden and orchard, and six lots of valuable pasture and arable land, belonging to the estate of the late Mr. Thomas Daintree, was offered at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, by Messrs. Dilley, Son and Read. Mr. J. Shepperson, of Boxworth End, secured a close of pasture land in Bucking Way, and the remaining lots were bought by Mr. S. W. Crisp. On Monday afternoon the Docksey-Daintree freehold estate in Swavesey, Longstanton, Holywell-cum-Needlingworth and Hemingford Grey, were offered by Messrs. Looker and Theakston, at the Institute, St. Ives, and attracted a large attendance, and most lots found purchasers. The greater part of the property was in Swavesey parish, and of this the Cambridgeshire County Council secured Thorp's Farm (96a. 1r. 35p.) for £1,800, a field of pasture land in Tippler's-road (18a. 1r. 21p.) for £410, part of the Mill Field (19a. 1r. 19p.) for £920, and the other part of Mill Field (12a. 0r. 18p.) for £675. The Mill Farm, containing 78a. 0r. 3p., with house garden, etc., was knocked down to Mr. Alfred Day for £1,400, and Friesland Farm (107a. 1r. 15p.) was bought by Mr. Robinson Mitham for £3,000. Mr. Day and Mr. Mitham are the tenants of the respective properties. With hardly an exception the other lots sold fell to Swavesey people.

THE CHURCH IN WALES. 19th June 1914

A special service of intercession on behalf of the Church in Wales was held at the parish church last Friday evening. There was a good congregation.

MILK AND WATER. 19th June 1914

Whilst attempting to snatch a branch of a tree overhanging Covell's drain in Mow Fen, a milkman, the other day, overbalanced and fell head first into the water, which is about four feet deep. Beyond a thorough sousing he was none the worse for his involuntary bath.

CRICKET. 19th June 1914

On Saturday afternoon the Swavesey 2nd XI played Coton in a Milton League match and were defeated by 25 runs on the first innings. The Swavesey club play the Sons of Temperance C.C. on Parker's Piece to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon in the first round of the Cambs. Junior Cup. Play will commence at 2 o'clock.

HELPING ADDENBROOKE'S. 19th June 1914

Mrs. Long, the President of the Swavesey Division, Addenbrooke's Hospital Council Organisation Fund, has the gratification of being able to report a very satisfactory result of the recent house-to-house collection in the villages in her district. The total amount collected this year is £35 11s. 1d., of which Swavesey collected £9 10s. 6d. The collection in Swavesey was made by Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. Gilby, Mrs. R. Mitham, Miss M. Cole, Miss Gaunt, and Miss A. Wells, to whom Mrs. Long wishes to tender her best thanks for their valuable and much appreciated assistance.

THE STORM. 26th June 1914

During the heavy storm which broke over the village last Friday a table lamp was struck by lightning in the kitchen of the Swan Inn and the glass chimney smashed.

MOTOR SIGN POSTS. 26th June 1914

A correspondent writes: - Some months ago, at the request of the School Managers, the Swavesey Parish Council decided to ask the County Council to erect motor caution sign posts on each side of the school. May I inquire when the posts will be put up?

VICTORY. 26th June 1914

The Swavesey C.C. eleven were successful in their match last Saturday with the Sons of Temperance in the first round of the Cambs. Junior Cup.

CHURCH OUTING. 26th June 1914

The members of the choir of the Parish Church, the bell-ringers and other church officials, accompanied by the Vicar and Mr. W. H. Key, churchwarden, had a day's outing at Hunstanton on Wednesday. The party, which numbered between 40 and 50, had a most enjoyable time. The whole of the expense was borne by Mrs. Long, of the Priory.

OLD BAPTIST CHAPEL. 26th June 1914

Anniversary services in connection with the Old Baptist Chapel were held on Tuesday, the special preacher being the Rev. J. Calcott, of Coventry. Between the services there was a public tea. The attendance was excellent, showing an increase on that in recent years, and the collections in aid of the chapel funds are satisfactory.

TELEGRAPH ARRANGEMENTS. 26th June 1914

Public notice has been given that the Postmaster-General intends to place a telegraphic line over the public road between Swavesey Post Office and the railway station. It is understood that this new line will replace the old and worn-out line which passes at the back of the village, and that when the work is complete Swavesey will be in direct telegraphic communication with Cambridge, instead of with St. Ives, as at present.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 26th June 1914

The Sunday School anniversary was duly celebrated at Bethel Chapel on Sunday last. Sermons were preached by the Rev. Hurnett, of Hareton, with whom the pastor, the Rev. H. J. Watts, exchanged pulpits for the day. In the afternoon there was a special service for the children, during which a lighthouse, each stone of which bore a Biblical inscription, was erected by the scholars showing how the Christian life was built up. There was a large congregation, and the service was much enjoyed. The collections throughout the day were in aid of the Sunday School Funds, and were good.

ALARMING INCIDENTS. 3rd July 1914

Dwellers in Market-street on Monday morning were alarmed by loud cries of distress. Mrs. Bert Hodson, with her baby in her arms, was playing with a young steer in the street, when the animal turned on her and knocked her and her baby down. She shrieked, and her cries brought help at once, and mother and child were rescued before either was injured.

BREAD AND BAKERS IN POND. 3rd July 1914

Mr. H. G. Key's baker's cart, its driver and its contents, came to grief in the Swan Pond on Tuesday. Mr. Key's assistant, Mr. Cyril Hephher, had driven the horse into the pond for water, when the animal backed the cart into a deep hole, where it stuck, the water rising above the loaves and bags of flour. Men employed in building the old age pensioners' cottages close by went to the rescue. Mr. C. Hephher jumped out of the cart into the pond, and Mr. Key, who had come up, waded into the water with Mr. Jonas Dodson and attached scaffold ropes to horse and cart. After a hard struggle both were got out, but bread and flour were soaked and useless.

ACCIDENT IN HAY FIELD. 3rd July 1914

Mr. James Prior, of Stanton View, Boxworth End, fell from the top of a load of hay in a field in Bucking Way on Tuesday afternoon. He was engaged in binding the load when a hook on the cart broke, and he was precipitated to the ground, falling on his back. The sound of the man's body striking the hard earth was heard by Messrs. C. Parish and J. Shepperson, who were working in another field about 200 yards away. One of them thought that a load of hay had been upset. There was plenty of willing help, and Mr. Prior's pony and cart were sent for, and he was conveyed home. It is understood that while not bones have been broken, Mr. Prior is suffering from severe shock, bruises, etc.

PASTOR'S FAREWELL. 3rd July 1914

The Rev. H. J. Watts closed his pastorate of the Bethel Baptist Church, Swavesey, on June 28th. At the close of the evening service the Communion service was held. Immediately afterwards, in recognition of Mr. Watts' faithful and zealous labours, and the fact that by his persistent efforts over £500 had been secured and paid into the Chapel Renovation Fund, Miss M. Carter read a letter from Mrs. T. W. Carter (who through illness was prevented from being present). There was presented to the retiring pastor and his wife, a handsome electro-plated tea service, from some members of the church and congregation, and friends outside the church. Mr. Watts suitably and gratefully responded, and he leaves for his new sphere of service at Conisborough (between Doncaster and Sheffield) with the best wishes of many of his former flock, who esteem him highly for his deeply spiritual ministry.

SCHOOLBOY CRICKET. 3rd July 1914

The return match between the boys of Swavesey and Lolworth schools was played on the ground of the Swavesey Cricket Club last Friday evening. Swavesey were again victorious, though this time by the narrow margin of only one run. The Lolworth team are to be commended for their pluck. They tramped about four miles to play. How many adult cricketers would be keen enough on the game to do this?

SCHOOL CLOSED. 10th July 1914

The lath and plaster ceiling of the large room of the National School having been reported to be unsafe, is being replaced by a ceiling of wood. The schools will be closed for a fortnight.

CRICKET CLUB. 10th July 1914

The Swavesey Cricket Club won a victory and sustained a defeat last Saturday. At home the second eleven met Longstanton in a Milton and District League (Division II) match, and were beaten. The first eleven, on Corpus Christi College Ground, Cambridge, played Ainsworth C.C. in the second round of the Cambs. Junior Cup, and were successful.

SUCCESS. 17th July 1914

As a result of a recent examination for free scholarships, organised by the "Daily Sketch", certificates for general proficiency have been awarded to Florrie Daintree and Arthur Ashmore, pupils at Swavesey National School.

POST OFFICE IMPROVEMENT. 17th July 1914

The new telephone line from Swavesey Post Office to Over-road has been expeditiously and satisfactorily completed within a week, but the transfer of Swavesey from the St. Ives to the Cambridge circuit will not take place until Wednesday next.

SMALL HOLDINGS. 17th July 1914

Under the superintendence of Mr. H. G. Few, representing the County Council, the various plots of the land recently acquired by the County Council for small holdings in Mill Field and Bucking Way, were balloted for at the National School last Friday night.

TURN BRIDGE SEWER. 17th July 1914

Attention has been called in these columns to the condition of the new sewer pipes which run along the bank of the large drain from Turn Bridge. After prolonged consideration the pipes, which were in danger of falling into the brook, have been rendered secure by the bank having been heavily concreted.

CRICKET. 17th July 1914

The Swavesey Second Eleven career of disaster continues. Last Saturday they played Over on the Manor Field and were again defeated. The Over team was captained by Mr. Ridley Richardson, who an hour after the match was accidentally drowned whilst bathing at Overcote. The Swavesey club was represented at the funeral yesterday afternoon and also sent a wreath.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS. 24th July 1914

Caution signals, bearing the word "School", have been erected this week by the County Council. One has been placed opposite the old Brewery house in Middle Watch, and the other at the northern side of Turn Bridge in High-street. Exception has been taken to the position of the latter post. It is said that the caution does not stand out sufficiently boldly, owing to the light yellow of the brick wall of a house forming a bad background.

CALLED TO ARMS. 7th Aug. 1914

Reservists and Territorials in Swavesey and neighbouring villages promptly obeyed the call to arms. On Wednesday they left Swavesey Station by nearly every train, and had an enthusiastic send-off.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT. 7th Aug. 1914

In descending the stairs from his bedroom about 2 a.m. on Tuesday Mr. John Senter fell and fractured two ribs. He is being attended by Dr. Gill, Dr. King's locum tenens at Willingham. On Tuesday evening Mr. Senter, who is an Army Service Corps pensioner, and the brother-in-law of Mr. Slater, the landlord of the White Horse Inn, whom he assists, received instructions to report himself for duty in the Commissariat at Harwich, but unfortunately his condition is so serious that he cannot obey the summons.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 14th Aug. 1914

Swavesey National School was inspected on Wednesday, with a view to its conversion into a hospital.

THE RELIEF FUND. 14th Aug. 1914

The unexpended balance of the Coronation Festivities' Fund has been sent to the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund.

INTERCESSIONARY SERVICES. 14th Aug. 1914

Special prayers, psalms and lessons authorised by the Archbishops and Bishops with appropriate hymns, were used at all services at the parish church last Sunday, and the Epistle and Gospel were also specially selected. The offertories throughout the day were in aid of the Prince of Wales National Relief Fund, and amounted to £8 9s. 10d. This sum was duly forwarded to the Prince on Monday. Intercessionary services are for the present being held at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays, at the parish church, and on Thursdays at the Mission Church.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 21st Aug. 1914

The lady members of the local Voluntary Aid Detachment have been busy this week cutting out and making garments and collecting subscriptions.

CAPT. MORRISON-BELL. 21st Aug. 1914

The congratulations of the Swavesey Unionist Association on his recent marriage having been conveyed to Capt. E. W. Morrison-Bell, he has replied thanking the members for their kind wishes. He has also, at the request of the Hon. Sec., presented the Association with a portrait of himself. Capt. Morrison-Bell is serving with a Yeomanry regiment.

NATIONAL RESERVE. 28th Aug. 1914

About a dozen Swavesey men have been enrolled in the National Reserve by Mr. E. H. Thornhill, of Boxworth, who is acting as commandant of a district of which Swavesey forms part.

ON ACTIVE SERVICE. 28th Aug. 1914

The following men belonging to Swavesey are on active service: Messrs. H. Carter, W. Crisp, B. G. Mann, C. Savage, J. Savage, A. Whybrow (Reservists), A. Coulson (Royal Marines), J. W. Goad (Army Service Corps), Dr. R. Ellis (Medical Corps), C. Day, J. Taylor, F. Wilderspin, H. Wilderspin, jun., (Northants. Yeomanry).

A WORD FROM CANADA. 28th Aug. 1914

The following extract from a letter, dated August 5th, from a young Swavesey man farming successfully in the province of Ontario, Canada, to his relatives at home may be of interest: "I hear to-day that England and Germany have declared war, following Russia, France, Austria and Serbia. It looks as if it might be an awful war. The Government (Canadian) is mobilising troops in this country, and thousands have volunteered. I was wondering to-night if C-- (the writer's brother in Swavesey) would have to go. I hope not, for mother's sake, but I would not like to see him shirk his duty. It is a war, the results of which will doubtless materially affect old England one way or the other. This country is very excited over it just now, for in the event of England being beaten, which God forbid, we should be at the mercy of any Power that was strong enough to keep something back, for this is such an enormous country with such a few people compared to your tight little island with its teeming millions. However, we will fight to the limit if it comes to that sooner than lose the Union Jack.” (N.B. – the brother joined his Yeomanry regiment for active service on the day the letter was written.)

BRITISH RED CROSS SOCIETY. SWAVESEY DISTRICT. 28th Aug. 1914
In the Swavesey district, which includes Swavesey, Willingham, Over, Conington, Fen Drayton, Lolworth, Longstanton and Boxworth, promises have been received to equip 86 beds should they be required. Mrs. Ellis Long states that the appeal for extra funds is being liberally responded to, and further offers of both money and work will be gratefully acknowledged.

DEATH OF MRS. HAWKES. 4th Sept. 1914

Mrs. Sarah Ann Hawkes, widow of the late Mr. Alfred Hawkes, brewer and corn-merchant, died on Thursday morning after a long illness, shortly before noon. She was 71 years of age.

EARLIER CLOSING. 4th Sept. 1914

In compliance with the recommendation of the magistrates, all public houses in the village of Swavesey are now closed at 9 p.m. The alteration took place on Sunday last.

OBITUARY. 4th Sept. 1914

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Eliza Parish, widow of the late Mr. Jabez Parish, which occurred about 10.30 p.m. on Sunday, after a long illness. She was 79 years of age. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

PROPERTY SOLD. 4th Sept. 1914

By direction of the trustee of the will of the late Mrs. Charlotte Jackson, Mr. C. W. Underwood offered the following property for sale at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Monday. A freehold stud, plaster, and thatched messuage, yard, kitchen garden, etc., bought by Mr. Walter Lack, jun., for £60, and a freehold enclosure of arable land in Lairstall Drove, containing about 3 roods 30 poles, was knocked down to the Rev. J. F. Cooksey for £42 10s.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR. 4th Sept. 1914

The following names were inadvertently omitted from the list published last week of men belonging to Swavesey who are on active service:- Pte. George Brooks (1st East Lancs.), Lance-Corpl. C. Garner (Suffolks), Gunner G. Garner (18th Battalion, R.F.A.), Pte. W. Neal (Special Reserve), Pte. Archie Welch (Yorkshire Regiment, Alexandra Princess of Wales's Own). The names of Messrs. Fred Causer and Wilfrid Hepher, who have since enlisted, the latter with the Royal Engineers, should also be added to the roll of honour.

ONE WAY TO HELP. 11th Sept. 1914

Mr. W. F. Gleaves, the local newsagent, is selling copies of a poem, entitled, "The Day," written by a Bath railway porter, for the benefit of the National Relief Fund. He will send the whole of the money he receives to the Fund, making no deductions whatever. As the money is being collected by means of boxes, the sum paid per copy is in excess of the nominal charge, ½d.

THE LATE MRS. J. PARISH. 11th Sept. 1914

The remains of the late Mrs. Jabez Parish, sen., whose death was recorded in our last issue, were laid to rest in Swavesey cemetery on the 3rd inst. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel officiated. The following mourners attended: Mrs. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, Mr. G. Parish, Mr. and Mrs. James Parish, (sons and daughters-in-law), Mr. A. Parish, and the Misses D. and A. parish (grandchildren).

"FOR KING AND COUNTRY". 11th Sept. 1914

On Thursday week a well-attended meeting in support of Lord Kitchener's appeal for recruits was held in the Schoolroom. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided. A resolution pledging support was proposed by Mr. E. Parish, seconded by Mr. W. C. Cole, and carried unanimously. Addresses were also given by Mr. H. J. Jones, late Johannesburg Mounted Rifles, and the Rev. Charles Stewart, Senior Chaplain on the Ecclesiastical Establishment in India, who is now locum tenens in the absence of the Vicar. The rev. gentleman also spoke at another public meeting on Tuesday evening last, when the roll of honour was still further increased.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR. 11th Sept. 1914

The following names should be added to the list of Swavesey men who are with the colours: W. Trundley (A.S.C.), Warren Wright (11th Howards). The under-mentioned have enlisted and have left the village: *Arthur Prior, George Seekings, and Arthur White (1st Cambs.), *E. W. Gray (Grenadier Guards), and George Goad. (*From National Reserve). Mr. E. E. Bowden, the architect who has been in charge of the restoration work at the parish church, has enlisted in the Middlesex Regiment. Ten other young men have also given in their names. There are still about 35 men of military age left in Swavesey.

THE LATE MRS. A. HAWKES. 11th Sept. 1914

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Ann Hawkes, widow of the late Mr. Alfred Hawkes, brewer, whose death was announced last week took place at Swavesey churchyard on Monday afternoon. The Rev. E. Young officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. G. Hawkes (son), Mrs. A. W. Wells and Mrs. J. Parsons (daughters), Miss E. Hawkes and Miss M. Parsons (grandchildren), Mrs. J. Hawkes (daughter-in-law), and Rev. A. Wells (son-in-law).

SWAVESEY NATIVE'S DEATH. 18th Sept. 1914

The death is reported from Blackpool of Mrs. Rhoda Wells, a native of this village. Mrs. Wells had resided at Blackpool for quite 40 years, and passed away there on Sunday morning, at the age of 89.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR. 18th Sept. 1914

Fred Tompkins has enlisted in Lord Kitchener's Second Army. He is the son of Mr. George Tompkins, an old soldier, who in spite of his three score years and ten or more, has enrolled in the National Reserve. Information has reached the village that Harry Beaumont, second son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, for upwards of 40 years the Swavesey Schoolmaster, who went to British Columbia between five and six years ago, has enlisted for service with the Canadian contingent.

PARISH COUNCIL. 18th Sept. 1914

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Monday evening. There were present: Messrs. A. Norman (vice-chairman), who presided, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, R. Norman, A. T. Scard, W. Twist, and the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). Two letters from the Postmaster of Cambridge concerning a proposal to close Swavesey Post Office for telegraph business at noon on Bank Holidays were considered, and the Clerk was instructed to reply that the Council had no objection to offer provided the office was closed for all business after noon. A letter from the County Council elicited the satisfactory information that in the opinion of the Parish Councillors there was no case of distress in the village, and apparently not likely to be yet awhile. The council agreed to take no action in regard to the County Rate basis. When the question of the street lighting during the winter came on, it was pointed out that insufficient notice calling for tenders had been given, and it was decided that fresh notices should be issued, and that the tenders should be dealt with at a special meeting to be held on Monday next. The vacancy on the Council caused by the resignation of Mr. Edward Clark was filled by the co-option of Mr. Jabez Day. On the suggestion of Mr. Twist it was agreed that the public lamp by the main churchyard gate should be lighted when evening services were held, pending the general lighting of all lamps, the oil, etc., to be provided by the church authorities. – A correspondent points out that a parish meeting to authorise the expenditure in connection with the lighting of the public lamps has neither been held nor even summoned. As seven clear days' notice is needed for such a meeting, the money cannot possibly be voted before next Monday's Parish Council meeting, and if the money should not be granted the councillors may find themselves in an awkward predicament.

ACCIDENT. 25th Sept. 1914

On Saturday Mr. George Clarke, in descending from a farm cart, caught his foot in a hook and fell heavily to the ground and severely bruised the base of his spine. He was also much shaken. He is progressing favourably under the care of Dr. Grove.

PARISH COUNCIL. 25th Sept. 1914

The Parish Council meeting called for last Monday to consider tenders for lighting the village street lamps during the winter was not held. A correspondent pointed out in last Friday's "Weekly News" that a parish meeting to authorise the necessary expenditure had neither been held nor even summoned, and that therefore the councillors might place themselves in an awkward predicament if they accepted a tender and appointed a lamplighter before being empowered to raise the money needed. The councillors evidently deemed discretion the better part of valour and decided to meet on Monday next, on which evening a parish meeting is to be held. The Council's recent record has not been a happy one: On 7th September quorum not present; on 14th lighting question postponed as insufficient notice had been given calling for tenders for lighting; on 21st no meeting for reasons given above.

PARISH MEETING. 2nd Oct. 1914

At a parish meeting on Monday evening the expenditure in connection with lighting the street lamps during the winter months was authorised.

OLD AGE PENSIONERS' COTTAGES. 2nd Oct. 1914

A meeting of the trustees of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Charity was held yesterday (Thursday) afternoon, when the following old age pensioners who were burnt out in the great fire in March, 1913, were selected as occupants of the new cottages now nearly ready for occupation: Mrs. Howlett, Miss Marriott, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Ding. Each cottager will be allowed a small plot of garden ground, and the rent is to be 1s. 6d. a week (including rates). Tenancy is terminable at one month's notice. Mr. Capper will act as honorary clerk for the present.

PARISH COUNCIL. 2nd Oct. 1914

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening, the following Councillors being present: Mr. Arthur Norman (acting Chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, Robert Norman, A. T. Scard and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). Arising out of the minutes, the Clerk inquired whether Mr. Jabez Day, who had been elected to a vacancy on the Council at the previous meeting had accepted office. There was no reply. Only one applicant, Mr. George Clarke, tendered for lighting the street lamps, and his tender of £27 was accepted. The lamps are to be first lighted on Tuesday next. It was decided that Mr. Stephen Challis should be given authority in writing to act as captain of the fire engine. He is to be invested with full and sole authority to act in the event of a fire, including the employment of helpers and dealing with the insurance offices concerned. — Our Swavesey correspondent wishes to say, in justice to one parish councillor, that no one connected in any way with the Council inspired, or gave him any information concerning the latter part of the paragraph in last Friday's "Weekly News" relating to abortive meetings of the Council. The information was already in our correspondent's possession. He received written official notice of the first two meetings and verbal notice of the third. No notice, however, of last Monday's meeting reached him. By a resolution passed by the Council some time ago it was decided that the Clerk should send notice of every Council meeting to the local representative of the "Weekly News" and "Independent Press". The resolution was the outcome of complaints in the Press that no public notice was given of Council meetings.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 9th Oct. 1914

The members of the British Red Cross Society, Swavesey District, desire to heartily thank all kind friends who have so willingly and ably expended time and labour in making garments for use in connection with the 1st Eastern Hospital at Cambridge. A good number of garments have already been sent to the Hospital.

NATIONAL RELIEF AND TOBACCO. 9th Oct. 1914

Copies of "The Day," a patriotic poem written by a railway porter at Bath, and issued by the "Daily Express" for the benefit of the National Relief Fund have been on sale in and around Swavesey. The charge for a copy was nominally one half-penny, but most purchasers gave more, and placed their money in collecting boxes. These boxes have been opened by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, of Swavesey Manor, who has certified that they contained £1 6s. 1½d., viz., Mr. W. F. Gleaves (2 boxes) 6s. 11d., Mr. R. Gleaves (2 boxes), 11s. 5½d., Mrs. H. Mustill (Over), 6s. 7d., and Mr. H. G. Graves 1s. 2d. Mr. W. F. Gleaves, who organised the effort provided the poem free of charge, and therefore the whole of the takings has been sent to the "Daily Express". The "Weekly Dispatch" Fund for providing soldiers at the front with tobacco is doing well in Swavesey. Down to Wednesday £5 11s. had been contributed, sufficient to supply 122 men with ¼lb. of tobacco each.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 9th Oct. 1914

Frederick Kester has enlisted in the Army Service Corps, Alfred Aaron Linford in Kitchener's Army, and Frank Beaumont, a clerk in the Comptrollers and Accountant General Office, G.P.O., in a London Territorial Regiment. Fred Tompkins, son of an old soldier, who enlisted two or three weeks ago, but was sent home as below standard height, has re-enlisted, the height limit having been lowered. Charles Wood, headmaster of Swavesey National School, has joined the Sportsman's Battalion. Cawthorne Capper, son of Mr. Henry Capper, of "The Elms," enlisted in the 3rd Victoria (British Columbia) Rifles immediately after the war broke out, and is with the First Canadian Contingent. Lawson Hephher, son of the late Mr. Jesse Hephher, who has been in British Columbia for some years, has joined the Second Canadian Contingent. His mate, Henry Beaumont, elder brother of Frank Beaumont, mentioned above, is serving in the first contingent.

"MISSING." 16th Oct. 1914

David Oakman and Earnest Oakman, of the 2nd Battalion, Suffolk Regiment, have been officially reported as "missing". They are brothers of Mr. Edward Oakman, of the New Inn.

RYDER'S FARM. 16th Oct. 1914

The rooms of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association at Ryder's Farm will be re-opened for the season on Thursday next, 22nd inst. No political meetings will be held.

PENSIONERS' COTTAGES. 16th Oct. 1914

Mrs. W. Eason has this week been selected as an occupant of one of the old age pensioners' cottages, in place of Miss Marriott, who was unable to accept the offer of the trustees.

FOR KING AND COUNTRY. 16th Oct. 1914

Fred Stockbridge, son of Mr. Joseph Stockbridge, harness maker, Swavesey, is on active service. He holds the rank of sergt.-saddler in the Lincolnshire Battery, 1st North Midland Brigade, R.F.A. Edward Oakman, of the New Inn, reported himself on Wednesday in Cambridge for duty in the National Reserve.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 16th Oct. 1914

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the parish church on Thursday, 8th inst. At the full choral Evensong the sermon was preached by the Rev. W. C. Granville Sharp, Vicar of Uttoxeter, Staffordshire. The church was effectively decorated, and the evening congregation was a good one. The services were continued on Sunday. All gifts of fruit, vegetables, etc., with the collections, have been sent, as usual, to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

BELGIAN REFUGEES. 23rd Oct. 1914

Arrangements are being made by the Vicar to house and maintain some of the Belgian refugees in the village.

OBITUARY. 23rd Oct. 1914

The funeral of Mrs. Mansfield, widow of the late Mr. Thorp Mansfield, of Swavesey, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Mansfield, who had attained a great age, passed away at the house of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Ginn, in Over, where she had been living since her husband's death a few years ago.

ACCIDENT. 23rd Oct. 1914

Mr. J. T. Daintree, driving Mr. H. G. Graves' van laden with beer, etc., from Cambridge on Tuesday evening, met with an accident on the Huntingdon-road near the Five Bells. Being cold, he ran alongside the horse, and in attempting to get into the van again he slipped and fell, the wheel injuring his ankle and cutting his thigh.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 30th Oct. 1914

On Saturday, Nov. 7th, at 6.30 p.m., Dr. Baynes, of St. Ives, will commence a course of First Aid Lectures to men and women in the schools, when it is hoped a good attendance will be made from Swavesey and the neighbouring villages.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 6th Nov. 1914

Two fresh names have been added to the Roll of Honour, viz., Samuel Furniss Mitham, youngest son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, who has enlisted in the Royal Engineers, and left Swavesey for Chatham on Wednesday morning; and Charles Taylor, who has joined the Cambs. Battalion of the Suffolk Regt.

SWAVESEY MEN IN HOSPITAL. 6th Nov. 1914

Private Arthur Whybrow, a Reservist, who rejoined his old regiment, the Royal Fusiliers, on mobilisation, has been wounded, and has been sent back to this country. He is in Salisbury Infirmary, and is said to be going on well. Private Charles Savage, eldest son of Mr. John Savage, is in hospital in France, and progressing favourably. His is serving with the Bedfordshire Regiment.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 6th Nov. 1914

A social evening in aid of the Belgian Relief Fund, organised by the Christian Endeavour Society, and friends, was held in Bethel Schoolroom on the 29th ulto. Mr. J. Breens, of Longstanton, presided, and the solos, recitations and speeches were excellent. During the interval light refreshments were provided. The proceeds amounted to £2, which has been sent to London. On the previous Sunday the services at Bethel Chapel were conducted by the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, a late pastor, who has just returned from the United States of America. During the afternoon a special service was held, during which a framed certificate, sent by the B.M. Society, was unveiled. Addresses were given by Mr. Ussher and Mr. H. J. Starte (of Cambridge), and Miss E. Aughton (of Fenstanton) rendered two solos most effectively.

PARISH COUNCIL. 6th Nov. 1914

A hurriedly summoned meeting of the Parish council was held at the National School on Monday evening, Mr. Arthur Norman (acting Chairman) presiding, to consider the question of Belgian Refugees. The Chairman commented somewhat severely upon a paragraph in last Friday's "Weekly News", which he said unjustly threw the blame for delay in dealing with a certain alleged communication respecting the refugees upon the Council. The Clerk, however, accepted full responsibility for any delay, and thus exonerated the councillors from blame. After considerable discussion it was decided to call a public meeting on Tuesday evening, and to adjourn the Council until after the meeting. – At the adjourned meeting of the Council on Tuesday evening, Mr. A. Norman again presided, and Councillors R. Norman, C. Cole, W. Burton and Twist were present, with the Clerk. Contrary to expectation, only two matters were dealt with. It was agreed that the Postmaster of Cambridge should be informed that the Council had no objection to offer to the closing of the Swavesey sub post office after 12 noon on Bank Holidays. On the motion of Mr. Burton, it was unanimously resolved that the Clerk should forward all communications, which it was necessary or desirable to bring before the Council, to the Chairman immediately after receipt.

WOUNDED. 13th Nov. 1914

Pte. Archie Welch of the Yorkshire Regiment, an interesting letter from whom, written after a week in the trenches was published last week, has been wounded. He writes home, "I have been wounded in the hand, not serious. Think I am for England, not sure. Left-hand writing. Don't worry." The brief letter was dated November 7th, and was delivered in Swavesey on November 9th.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 13th Nov. 1914

Further additions have been made to the Roll of Honour. Jonas Dodson, and James William Prior having enlisted on Monday in the Cambridgeshire Battalion of the Suffolk Regiment. News has also reached the village that Jack Wilderspin and George Holmes, (two Swavesey young men who emigrated a few years ago) are in England with the 1st Canadian Contingent, and that Lawson Hephher has enlisted in the 2nd Canadian Contingent.

NEEDLEWORK COMPETITION. 20th Nov. 1914

Three girls attending Swavesey National School entered for the Watkin Dolls' Outfits prize competition, open to all England, held in October, and one of them, Ethel Savage, aged 11 years, has been awarded a third class prize of 5s. Every set of doll's garments sent in for competition is forwarded to a children's hospital.

TRAIN OFF LINE. 20th Nov. 1914

An up goods train shunting in Swavesey Station about midnight on Tuesday was partially derailed. In passing over some points the tender and one truck left the metals. A breakdown gang was summoned from Cambridge, and the line was cleared by daybreak. The permanent way was practically uninjured.

THE LATE LORD ROBERTS. 20th Nov. 1914

The official announcement of the death of Lord Roberts was displayed at the Post Office early on Sunday morning, and was received with universal expressions of deep regret. At the Parish Church a special hymn was sung at the morning service, and in the evening the Vicar, in his sermon, referred to the dead soldier's life and example. The Dead March in "Saul" was played at the close of the service, the congregation standing.

FOR KING AND COUNTRY. 20th Nov. 1914

Twenty-six men residents in Swavesey at the outbreak of the war are now serving in the Army, viz., 10 called up on mobilisation (3 Reservists, 1 Special Reserve and 6 Territorials) and 16 by subsequent enlistment (11 Regulars, 4 Territorials and 1 National Reserve). Ten out of the 26 are married men, all with one exception with children, viz., 2 Reservists, 2 Territorials, 5 enlisted in the Regular Army and 1 National Reserve. Two of the newly-enlisted saw service in the South African War. Three Swavesey men have been wounded.

RETURN OF A WOUNDED SOLDIER. 20th Nov. 1914

Private Archie Welch, of the Yorkshire Regiment, who was wounded in his right hand at the battle of Ypres, arrived at his home in Swavesey on Monday night. He had spent a fortnight in hospital at Le Havre and a few days in the military hospital at Manchester.

TRAINING FOR RED CROSS NURSES. 27th Nov. 1914

In reply to an application to the Guardians made by Mrs. Ellis Long, Swavesey, District Vice-President, permission was kindly granted to the Red Cross nurses to attend the infirmary at St. Ives and receive a short course of training. Twelve members of Cambs. 12, V.A.D., and four of Cambs. 26, V.A.D., have greatly benefitted from the experience gained, and all much appreciate the service rendered by the Guardians to the British Red Cross Society.

ASSISTING THE WOUNDED. 27th Nov. 1914

On November 18th seven members of Cambs. 12, V.A.D., received orders to be present at Cambridge Station, and in readiness to give assistance to the wounded if required. Those present were: Commandant Long, Assistant Quartermaster Cole, Lady Superintendent Beckett, Nurses Kirke Smith, Tibbitts, Mitham, and Naylor. The general waiting room was turned into a small temporary ward, into which were taken four stretcher cases. Mrs. Scard kindly gave cigarettes, which the nurses distributed amongst the wounded.

PARISH CHURCH. 27th Nov. 1914

A thanksgiving service in connection with the re-opening of the side chapel of the parish church will be held on Thursday next, 3rd December, at 7.15 p.m. The preacher will be the Rev. Canon Foakes-Jackson, D.D., Dean of Jesus College, Cambridge. The service will be fully choral, and there will be a short organ recital, with solos by Messrs. Gilby and Scard, at the conclusion. The offertory will be in aid of the Princess Mary's Fund for providing Christmas gifts for our soldiers and sailors.

DETERMINED TO SERVE HIS COUNTRY. 27th Nov. 1914

After an absence of seven and a half years in British Columbia, Mr. William Lawson Hepher, youngest son of the late Mr. Jesse Hepher, registrar of births and deaths, Swavesey, arrived in Swavesey on Monday afternoon and received a hearty welcome from his old friends. He volunteered for service with the second Canadian Contingent, but unfortunately was rejected owing to a slight physical defect, which is being remedied. He hopes to be able to enlist in this country very shortly.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 4th Dec. 1914

A special monthly service was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel last Sunday afternoon. Mr. H. Herrett, of Cottenham, gave an admirable address on "What is your life?" and Mr. A. Adams contributed two solos. The attendance was good.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 4th Dec. 1914

Frank Hepher, younger son of Mr. S. Hepher, the Swavesey carrier, and George Edwin Hepher, enlisted in the Northants Yeomanry on Monday. Four other young men are serving in the same regiment, two of whom, Cyril Day and Herbert Wilderspin, junior, are at the front.

HELP FOR BELGIAN REFUGEES. 4th Dec. 1914

A whist drive was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week in aid of the Belgian Refugees Fund, and was well supported, 91 players attending. The prizes, which were generously given by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bartley and Miss Bartley, were won as follows:- Ladies, Miss D. Gray, Miss Wright, Mrs. J. Culpin; gentlemen, Mr. F. Mustill, Mr. D. Williams, Mr. Osler. The sum of £4 8s. has been handed over to the Fund.

SPECIAL CONSTABLES. 11th Dec. 1914

No special constables have yet been appointed in Swavesey, although all the neighbouring parishes have them.

HELP FOR WAR VICTIMS. 11th Dec. 1914

The profit realised from the recent whist drive in Swavesey National School (£4 8s.) has been allocated as follows: £1 to the Swavesey Working Party for making clothes for refugees, and £3 8s. to Comité officiel de Secours aux Victimes Belges de la Guerre, 129, Piccadilly, London.

NEWS OF MISSING SOLDIERS. 11th Dec. 1914

News has at last reached Swavesey of Privates David and Ernest Oakman, of the 2nd Battalion of the Suffolk Regiment, who have been missing since August. Their mother, who resides with her son, Mr. Edward Oakman, at the New Inn on the Huntingdon-road, has received the following postcard from Company Sergt.-Major W. A. Read, of the 2nd Suffolks, a prisoner of war. Writing from Gefangen-Lager, Deaberitz, Germany, on the 25th November, he says: "I am re-addressing your p.c.'s to another camp, but from information that I have gathered, both your sons were severely wounded on the 26th August at Le Cateau, and little hopes are entertained as to their recovery. It is with deep regret that I pen these lines, but I thought you would like to know.

PARISH CHURCH. 11th Dec. 1914

Since last spring the side chapel of the parish church has been undergoing extensive repairs, under the superintendence of Mr. E. E. Bowden, L.R.I.B.A., of the Society for the Preservation of Ancient Buildings. The work, which has cost about £400, has now been completed, and on Thursday evening, the 3rd inst., a thanksgiving service was held and was attended by a fairly good congregation. The service was fully choral. The first part of the service was taken by the Vicar, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp.

PATRIOTIC OLD BOYS. 18th Dec. 1914

As far as can be ascertained, 42 old boys of Swavesey National School are serving in the Navy or Army at the present time. A correspondent suggests that their names should be recorded on a Roll of Honour to be displayed inside the School.

MUSICAL SUCCESS. 18th Dec. 1914

Miss Helena Smith, youngest daughter of Mr. James Smith, Willow House, Swavesey, at an examination in connection with Trinity College, London, held recently in St. Ives, was successful in obtaining the distinction of a "Senior Pass," and has been awarded a certificate, the fifth gained at Trinity College. Miss Smith is a pupil of Miss Holloway, A.T.C.L., St. Ives.

MISPLACED CABBAGES. 18th Dec. 1914

A Swavesey allotment-holder instructed his young man the other day to plant a dozen score of cabbages and lettuces on the right-hand side of his plot of ground. Visiting his allotment a few days later, the holder could find neither cabbages nor lettuces, but noticed that the left-hand neighbour's was well supplied. The young man had mistaken his left hand for his right.

KILLED IN ACTION. 18th Dec. 1914

Mr. George Brooks, Taylor's-lane, Swavesey, received an official intimation on Wednesday night that information had been received from France that his eldest son, Pte. George Brooks, East Lancashire Regiment, had been killed in action, place not stated, on the 14th November. Pte. Brooks would have been 25 years of age if he had lived until the 28th November. He was a Reservist, called to the colours on mobilisation, and was employed by the Great Eastern Railway Company.

GERMAN RAID. 25th Dec. 1914

Much anxiety was felt in the village for the safety of several Swavesey families who have migrated to the Hartlepoons. As far as is known at present, no one in any way connected with Swavesey suffered in person or property. A shell fell at the back of one Swaveseyite's house.

BRITISH RED CROSS SOCIETY. 1st Jan. 1915

Forty candidates presented themselves for examination in first aid, held by Dr. Young, of Harson, on Monday December 14th. Of these 38 were successful, 6 gaining proficiency badges, 16 advanced certificates and 16 first certificates. Home Nursing Classes will be held on a given date later on.

SCHOOL TREAT. 1st Jan. 1915

The children attending the Parish Church Sunday School were on Tuesday given their yearly treat, which had been postponed from the summer. The school had been effectively decorated with evergreens, etc., by Messrs. W. H. Key, J. Gilby and Arthur Beaumont, and the well-laden tea tables looked bright with crackers, etc. After tea the crackers were pulled all at one time, and made a noise somewhat resembling the crackle of musketry. Games followed and Miss Jean Capper amused the children with her gramophone. Bags of sweets were fished for, and as the "fish" were "hungry", every child succeeded in making a capture. Before the youngsters went home the Vicar presented prizes, consisting of nice books, for good attendance.

PARISH CHURCH. 1st Jan. 1915

The usual band of devoted ladies decorated the Parish Church very tastefully for the Christmas festival. On Christmas Day there were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6, 7.30 and 11.15 a.m., the last service being sung to music by Hall. Morning prayer was at 10.30 a.m., and Evensong at 3 p.m. the Vicar preached. The collections at the mid-day and afternoon services were on behalf of the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 1st Jan. 1915

The members of the George and Dragon Mutual Benefit Club held their yearly division of funds at the Little Rose on Wednesday, 23rd ultimo. Each of the 38 members received the sum of 10s. 4d. About five guineas was paid out in sick benefit during the year. The annual dinner was not held owing to the war.

WAR FUND. 1st Jan. 1915

Towards the district war fund of the British Red Cross Society the following have subscribed in Swavesey - £21 6s. 3d.: (Long list of names in newspaper). Many have given help by making garments, and many gifts have been received.

WATER RISING AT SWAVESEY. 1st Jan. 1915

Much of the land round Swavesey is flooded, and on Wednesday the water was still rising fast. During the severe storm on Monday night a tree was blown down at Mill Farm, and men were employed all night on the railway line in connection with the signals. The water rose with great rapidity on Wednesday and Thursday, and there is every prospect of an extensive flood. At Friesland Farm Mr. and Mrs. E. Stocker had to remove into the village.

SWAVESEY MAN'S EXPERIENCES. 1st Jan. 1915

A STRAIGHT TALK TO STAY-AT-HOMES.

Writing this letter to his brother, Mr. S. W. Crisp, of Swavesey, on the 17th December, Bombardier Arthur Crisp, R. F. A., who is with his Battery at the front, says: -

"I am pleased to hear Swavesey has supplied so many recruits, and I should like to have the pleasure of meeting some of them out here, but there is not much chance of that, as it is such a long front. I cannot understand any man who has once been at the front not wanting to return. Of course it is a bit rough this weather, but I don't think there are many who would care to be sent home before the finish.

"There is no chance of the Germans reaching Calais now, as the Allies have the beggars well in hand, and I think if they make any attempt to invade England they will rue it when they come across our little boys in blue and our airmen, but at the same time, old chap, all able-bodied men ought to get a little practice in at shooting, etc., so as to be prepared, for if the dirty Germans got a landing in England I pity the poor women and children, for the way the brutes have behaved in these countries is a disgrace to civilisation, and the dirty tricks they have done out here is what makes our lads so determined to put up with any hardships that come along so long as they can get a rub at the bounders in return.

“I believe you would enjoy yourself if you could be present at one of our impromptu smokers. We had a beauty the other night. I got a parcel of plum pudding and cake from mother, and a parcel of smokes from my wife, so my chums and I have a real good time. I really believe if you had been a bit younger, you would have been out here. I can assure you I have had some good times out here, the only things that worry me are leaving my wife, and the wet weather. I don't mind the cold so much now as when I first returned from India. The boys are busy playing football behind the guns now, as we are slack for a while, but expect we will be sending a few leaden pills over to the Germans again shortly. They are sending a few over here, but not near us.”

NEWS FROM THE FRONT. 8th Jan. 1915

Private Walter Neal, of the Bedfordshire Regiment, is sick and in a base hospital in France. He has sent the Christmas card he received from the King and Queen to Swavesey for safe custody.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 8th Jan. 1915

Albert Arthur Girling and George Dean have enlisted, the first-named in the Royal Flying Corps (Military Wing) and the latter in the Household Cavalry. This brings the number of men resident in Swavesey who have enlisted since the outbreak of the war to 20.

BELGIAN REFUGEES. 8th Jan. 1915

Two families of Flemish refugees arrived in Swavesey on Wednesday afternoon. One family has been housed by the local committee in a cottage in the village, lent by Mr. H. Wilderspin, and the other in a house on the Huntingdon-road, lent by Mr. Arthur Norman. The visitors were kindly conveyed from the railway station by Mr. Ben Thorp in his motor car.

SEASONABLE GIFTS. 8th Jan. 1915

Mrs. Long, of the Priory, made her customary gifts of coal at Christmas time, and her kindly thought was much appreciated by the recipients. Captain J. D. Daintree, R.N., notwithstanding that he has practically disposed of the whole of his Swavesey property, and that he has been busily engaged as a supply officer at Newhaven since the outbreak of the war, sent money to Mr. Robinson Mitham as usual for distribution amongst his old cottager tenants and aged widows and widowers in the parish. These welcome gifts were presented at the New Year.

BOMBARDMENT OF THE HARTLEPOOLS. 8th Jan. 1915

News has reached Swavesey that Mr. Charles Metcalfe, a native of Swavesey, son of the late Mr. William Metcalfe, thatcher, who has been employed at the West Hartlepool Gas Works for upwards of 20 years, was unfortunately somewhat seriously injured in the German bombardment of the Hartlepoons on the 16th December. A shell which killed seven men struck him, tearing the clothes off his back and wounding him in the thigh of one leg and the knee of the other. Mr. William Prior, of High-street, has received from his brother, one of the Swavesey colony in West Hartlepool, a small fragment of a German shell, a wicked-looking jagged missile, which he picked up after the bombardment.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 8th Jan. 1915

Collections on behalf of the Red Cross Society were made on Sunday last at the Sunday School service at Bethel Baptist Chapel, and at the morning and evening services at the Particular Baptist Chapel. At the former the collection amounted to 10s., and at the latter place of worship, where there was a special prayer meeting in connection with the war to rather more than £2 10s. On Monday evening, a united meeting, under the auspices of the Mothers' Meeting, the programme being supplied by members of the British Women's Temperance Society, was held at the Friends' Meeting House. Miss Moulton, St. Ives, presided. A collection for the Red Cross Society realised 10s.

INTERCESSION DAY. 8th Jan. 1915

On Sunday last Intercession Day was duly observed in Swavesey. The Form of Humble Prayer, issued under the authority of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, was used at the Parish Church. A good congregation, which included two Belgian refugees, attended the evening service, when the Vicar read the address included in the form of prayer from the pulpit instead of a sermon, adding a few words of earnest appeal at the close. The intercession followed. The collections at the early morning and evening services were in aid of the Red Cross Society, and realised £5 17s. 9d., a cheque for which amount has been sent to Lord Rothschild, chairman of the Red Cross Council.

RECRUITING. 15th Jan. 1915

The number of men who have enlisted from Swavesey since the war began stands at nineteen, and not at twenty, as stated last week. Another Swavesey young man who offered himself in Cambridge for a Household Cavalry regiment, and fulfilled all local requirements, has been informed that the unit he desired to join needs no more men. A correspondent in sending this information to the "Weekly News," asks whether some system of recruiting less calculated to "choke off" likely men could not be adopted. Men have to bear the expense of going to Cambridge, sometimes more than once, and loss of wages, pass various tests, obtain references, all for nothing.

A NOTABLE RECORD. 15th Jan. 1915

Owing to her great age and failing health, Mrs. Sarah Middleton left her cottage in Askew-row, in which she had lived for sixty-three years, and has gone to Hemingford Grey Hunts., to reside with relatives. She was the daughter of the late Robert and Jane Thain, of Hemingford Grey, in which parish she was born on the 28th December, 1829, and was baptised in Hemingford Grey Church on the 24th January, 1830. Her husband, Mr. Samuel Middleton died about thirteen years ago at the age of seventy-seven, and was buried in Swavesey Churchyard. For thirty years he was employed as a platelayer on the Great Eastern Railway, and when he was sixty-six years old was awarded a pension for "long and faithful service."

MISSIONARY TEA. 15th Jan. 1915

For the forty-second consecutive year the annual parochial missionary tea was held in the Schoolroom on Thursday, 7th inst., and contrary to expectation, was much better attended for the past few years. After tea an interesting lecture on mission work in Japan, illustrated by excellent lantern pictures, was given by the Rev. C. Graham Gardner, from Tokyo, Japan. The lantern was admirably worked by Mr. Walter Ding. The tea, with collection taken after the lecture, subscriptions, and missionary boxes, resulted in the sum of £5 13s. 8d., being raised on behalf of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. The lantern was kindly lent by the Rev. H. B. Woolley, of Longstanton All Saints'. During the evening a telegram was received from the Rev. A. C. Vidler, late Vicar of Swavesey, wishing every success to the time-honoured event.

RETURNED HOME. 22nd Jan. 1915

Private Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, who was seriously wounded in France, and had been lying in Salisbury Infirmary, returned home in Swavesey this week.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 22nd Jan. 1915

Mr. A. Rhodes, of Histon, Moderator of the Cambs. Baptist Association, officiated at all services at Bethel Chapel on Sunday last. The congregations were good, especially that in the evening.

OBITUARY. 22nd Jan. 1915

The funeral of the late Mr. George Well, who died after a long illness at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Ebenezer Prime, Boxworth End, on the 12th inst., aged 85 years, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Friday last. Mr. J. Easter, of Over Baptist Chapel, officiated. The chief mourners were Mr. William Wells (son) and Mr. E. Prime (son-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm, with black furniture. Mr. J. W. Williams, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 29th Jan. 1915

Mr. Geo. Dean has enlisted in the Royal Army Medical Corps, and is now at Aldershot. Mr. Millice Charles Culpin, a Swavesey blacksmith, late Royal Dragoons, has been called up for service with the 2nd Company Cambs. National Reserves (Local Guards).

A MISHAP. 29th Jan. 1915

In attempting to pass between Mr. E. Williams' carrier's cart and a baker's cart which were proceeding in opposite directions in the narrow part of High-street last Wednesday evening, Mr. Scambler's milk cart, hastening to the station, came into collision with the former vehicle. Coming up from behind the milk cart wheel struck Mr. Williams' wheel, and then caught the off step, causing the covered cart to tip up. Mr. Williams and a passenger were jostled together, but beyond a bent step there was no damage done.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 29th Jan. 1915

The annual tea for parents of present scholars and reunion of old scholars of Bethel Sunday School was held on Thursday in last week. Tea, at which about 50 sat down, began at 6 p.m. After the tables had been cleared there was a social gathering, at which Mr. H. S. Aldred, Sunday School Superintendent, presided. There was special singing and addresses were given. Special mention was made during the evening to the Roll of Honour on the walls of the schoolroom, which showed the names of 20 former scholars who were serving their country.

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 5th Feb. 1915

On Friday, 29th January, the anniversary of the birth of the late Mr. Thomas Payne, the Trustees of Payne's Charity made their annual distribution of tea, sugar and coal to 27 needy widows and widowers in Swavesey.

A MISHAP. 12th Feb. 1915

A large two-horse van belonging to a St. Ives firm of grocers, in drawing off the road near Witton Quarter to allow a motor lorry to pass, got stuck in the ditch and had to be left for a time, the horses being removed. Later in the evening, the van was unloaded, and extricated with considerable difficulty and extra horses, a swing bar being broken in the effort.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 12th Feb. 1915

The annual tea and meeting of members and seat-holders of Bethel Baptist Chapel was held in the schoolroom attached to the chapel on Thursday, 3rd inst. Upwards of 70 attended. At the business meeting which followed, Mr. Arthur Norman, senior deacon and treasurer, who presided, submitted the year's accounts of the chapel, and also the accounts of the chapel Renovation Fund. From the latter it appeared that the cost of the recent extensive renovation had been £1,200, and that by persistent effort and rigid economy the debt had been reduced to about £470. The statement gave general satisfaction. Mr. James Prior, deacon and Sunday School secretary, presented the accounts of the Sunday School, which showed a satisfactory balance in hand. Before the meeting closed short addresses were given by Messrs. J. Day and B. Prior (deacons) and H. S. Aldred (Sunday School Superintendent). Mrs. W. Savage also spoke on behalf of the Christian Endeavour members. On Sunday last the pulpit at Bethel Chapel was occupied by Mr. E. W. Bullman, St. Ives, and at the evening service a hymn for the men at the front ("Lord God of Hosts, Whose mighty hand"), written by John Oxenham, was sung.

PARISH COUNCIL. 12th Feb. 1915

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School last Friday evening, and was attended by Mr. Arthur Norman (vice-chairman), who presided, Councillors W. Burton, J. S. Goad, Robert Norman, A. T. Scard, W. Twist, and the clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham).

ROLL OF HONOUR. 19th Feb. 1915

Alfred Large on Monday enlisted in the Northants Yeomanry, in which regiment seven Swavesey young men are now serving, two of whom have been at the front for some time.

ACCIDENT. 19th Feb. 1915

An unfortunate accident befell Mr. Robinson Mitham on Tuesday morning. In driving out of his builder's yard into the main street his horse stumbled and fell, throwing Mr. Mitham out of the cart. His face and nose were somewhat seriously cut, his leg was bruised, and he was shaken generally, and had to seek medical attention. The horse was not injured.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 19th Feb. 1915

We regret to record the death at the great age of 85 years of Mrs. Sarah Middleton, widow of the late Mr. Samuel Middleton, an old and much respected servant of the Great Eastern Railway Company, which occurred at the residence of her nephew, Mr. R. Thaine, at Hemingford Grey, Hunts., on the 12th instant. Mrs. Middleton was a native of Hemingford Grey, but had lived for the whole of her long married life and until Christmas in Swavesey, where her husband died and was buried. The funeral took place on Tuesday in Hemingford Grey Cemetery.

CHILDREN ILL. 26th Feb. 1915

Acting on the advice of the County Medical Officer, the National School was closed last Friday for a fortnight in consequence of illness amongst the children.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 26th Feb. 1915

Berry Dodson has joined the Royal Navy as a stoker.

INSTRUCTION IN GARDENING. 26th Feb. 1915

At a special meeting, held at the National School last Friday evening, the Vicar presiding, the Managers appointed Mr. Walter Thorp instructor in gardening during the absence of Mr. C. Wood, the headmaster, who is serving with his Majesty's Forces.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 26th Feb. 1915

An entertainment, consisting of solos, readings, recitations, and hymns, was given by members of the Mothers' Meeting at the Friends' Meeting House, Black Horse-lane, on Tuesday evening. Miss Gaunt presided and gave an address.

PROMOTION. 26th Feb. 1915

Mr. James Bowd, who retired a few years ago with a well-earned pension after serving his full time with the Bedfordshire Regiment, in which he was a quartermaster-sergeant, shortly after the outbreak of the war re-enlisted with his old regiment, and was reinstated as quartermaster-sergeant on the following day. He has recently been promoted to a lieutenancy in the Lancashire Fusiliers. His only son, aged 17, has joined a cyclists' battalion.

THE LATE MR. JAMES MITHAM. 26th Feb. 1915

Information reached Swavesey early in the week that Mr. James Mitham, the youngest and last surviving member of the family of the late Mr. Robinson Mitham, died at Stetchworth on Sunday, aged 77 years. Mr. James Mitham was born at the Chequers inn, Swavesey, of which his father became proprietor in 1828. On Mr. R. Mitham's death his eldest son, the late Mr. John Mitham, succeeded, and was followed by his widow, who, in turn, was succeeded by her elder son, Mr. Robinson Mitham, the Swavesey builder, carpenter and farmer, who surrendered the licence under the Compensation Act not long ago. Mr. James Mitham, who was a carpenter by trade, left Swavesey in 1888 for Stetchworth, where he was employed on the Earl of Ellesmere's estate, until his retirement a few years ago. The funeral will take place at Stetchworth this (Friday) afternoon.

PERSONAL. 5th March 1915

Lieutenant James Bowd, whose promotion was announced last week, has been appointed quartermaster of the 5th (Reserve) Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers.

THE LATE MR. G. LONG. 5th March 1915

Tuesday, 2nd inst., being the anniversary of the birth of the late Mr. George Long, who died on the 6th April, 1902, the bells of the parish church were rung in accordance with the provisions of his will.

NO MEETING. 5th March 1915

The Parish Councillors were summoned to a meeting at the National School last Friday evening, and Councillors W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. T. Scard, and W. Twist duly attended, with the Deputy Clerk, Mr. E. J. Mitham. As, however, the legal quorum of five were not present, no business could be proceeded with. The business included the selection of suitable persons to serve as parish constables during the ensuing year. Another meeting of the Council has been called for to-night (Friday).

BAND OF HOPE. 12th March 1915

The winter session of Bethel Chapel Band of Hope was brought to a close on Tuesday evening with a successful entertainment in the chapel. Excellent limelight views illustrative of the work of the Union and the temperance question were shown by Mr. David Moore, Agent of the Cambs. Band of Hope Union. Solos were rendered by Miss Alice Norman and Mr. Moore, and Mrs. Moore recited. There was a good attendance.

PARISH COUNCIL. 12th March 1915

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Infants' School last Friday evening. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (acting chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. T. Scard, W. Twist and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The Acting Chairman expressed his regret that owing to an insufficient number of councillors attending the meeting called for the previous Friday could not be held. His own absence, he explained, was due to a misunderstanding, and in graceful terms he tendered his apology for having put the councillors and others who did attend to inconvenience. The main business was to elect four parishioners whose names should be submitted to the Justices in Petty Sessions as qualified to serve as parish constables during the ensuing year. The following were unanimously chosen Mr. Charles James Shepperson, Mr. Charles Burling, Mr. Bert Hodson, and Mr. Sidney Prime. Mr. Burling has acted as parish constable for many years past. It was also decided that the salary should be £1 19s. 6d., less the rental of Constable's Rood, as previously. The Clerk reported that beyond a formal acknowledgement of the receipt of his letter, no reply had been received from the Local Government Board to the inquiry whether the Council had power to allow Messrs. Thurston to erect an electric railway, etc., on the recreation ground at next Swavesey Feast. Some conversation followed, during which the opinion was expressed that Messrs. Thurston should not be allowed to sublet to other showmen. The meeting then terminated.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 12th March 1915

The Cambs. 12 V.A.D. received orders to mobilise and form a temporary hospital in Swavesey on March 4th. At 5 p.m. on Saturday March 6th, eleven Belgian patients arrived in ambulances from the Borough Red Cross Hospital, accompanied by Miss Gaskell (Commandant), Miss Warnker, and Mr. Mirrlees. Four English patients arrived from the 1st Eastern General Hospital on Wednesday afternoon. An excellent house has been secured, through the kindness of Capt. Daintree, and the patients are now comfortably settled. To all those who have helped to furnish, and sent gifts to the hospital, the Commandant, Mrs. Ellis Long, sends most grateful thanks. The Commandant's permission having been first obtained, visitors will be admitted after Monday next. (A long list of gifts are printed in the paper).

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 19th March 1915

The rooms of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, which have been open once a week since October last for social purposes only, will be closed after Tuesday next, 23rd inst.

OBITUARY. 19th March 1915

The funeral of the late Miss Maria Stocker, of Ramper-road, Swavesey, daughter of the late Mr. Cole Stocker, who died at Hemingford, Hunts., on the 9th inst., took place in Swavesey Churchyard last Friday afternoon. She was 64 years of age.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 19th March 1915

Mr. Joseph Milton died at his daughter's house at Boxworth End early on Wednesday morning, having attained the great age of 85 years on the 1st of this month. He was a native of Lolworth, but he had lived for many years in the parish of Swavesey.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 19th March 1915

Mr. William Lawson Hepher, youngest son of the late Mr. Jesse Hepher, registrar of births and deaths of the Swavesey Sub-District, has joined the 12th Battalion of the Canadian Contingent. He left Swavesey some years ago for the far west of Canada, and when the Dominion First Contingent was being formed, offered himself for enlistment, but was rejected owing to a slight physical defect, which needed surgical attention. Determined to serve his country, he returned to England and underwent the necessary treatment with success. He again presented himself, was accepted, and joined the 12th Battalion stationed at Tidworth. Of the six sons of the late Mr. Hepher, three are now serving with the King's Forces, all enlisting since the outbreak of the war, viz., Sapper Wilfrid Hepher, Royal Engineers; Private Frank Hepher, London Rifle Brigade; and Private W. L. Hepher, 12th Canadian.

AN EARLY BIRD. 26th March 1915

A blackbird's nest has been found in the Vicarage garden, containing three eggs.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 26th March 1915

Mr. Peter Ding, jun., son of the late Mr. Joseph Ding, has enlisted in the Essex Yeomanry.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT. 26th March 1915

Trooper Herbert Wilderspin, jun., of B Squadron, Northants Yeomanry, son of Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, farmer, Swavesey, writing to his parents from "somewhere in France or Belgium," under date of 14th March, says: "Many thanks for parcel and letter of the 9th. They came as a treat to me, as they were at the billet when I returned from the trenches. We have had nine days of it, and we held the first line of trenches. I expect we have been in the sharpest battle the world has ever seen. Some of the lads who were at Mons told me that was nothing to this, so I leave you to guess what it was like. The artillery fire was something terrible; it was just as if the air was nothing but a mass of shells. They were to and from in every direction. I hope never to see anything like it again. We are resting to-day, and I don't know when we go in again."

DEATH OF MR. J. B. ELLIS. 2nd April 1915

WELL-KNOWN AGRICULTURALIST.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. J. B. Ellis, which occurred at St. Ives on Friday last. The late Mr. Ellis was very well known in Cambridgeshire, especially in the Swavesey district, where he had farmed for some years, having taken over High Field and Ryder's Farms, on the death of his brother-in-law, the late Mr. W. W. Warner. He took no part in parochial work in Swavesey, but was ever ready with bounteous help in cases of need. In politics he was a generous supporter of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association. Not only did he assist financially, but, with the co-operation of Mrs. Long, provided the Association's admirable headquarters at Ryder's Farm.

Mr. Ellis was very highly esteemed in agricultural circles, and his advice upon agricultural matters was often sought by the leading agricultural papers in the country.

There was a large gathering of agriculturalists from all over the counties of Hunts., Cambs., and Norfolk at the funeral, which took place at Holywell Church.

EARLY NESTING. 2nd April 1915

A thrush's nest containing three eggs was found in the Bell Inn paddock last week.

PARISH CONSTABLE. 2nd April 1915

Mr. Charles James Shepperson, of Boxworth End, has been sworn in parish constable in place of Mr. C. Burling, who has held the office for many years and who has retired owing to the age limit.

A NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY. 2nd April 1915

Mr. William Henry Key, who has been a churchwarden for many years, and has held, or is holding, numerous public offices in the parish, celebrated his 70th birthday on March 24th.

OBITUARY. 2nd April 1915

We regret to announce the death of Mr. R. H. Cox, late of Swavesey Manor, which occurred at Hingham, Norfolk, on the 23rd March. Mr. Cox, who was 79 years of age, had been an invalid for about three years. The funeral took place at North Walsham on Friday.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 2nd April 1915

The services on Sunday last were conducted by Mr. W. Sykes, of St. Ives, who also addressed the young people in the schoolroom in the afternoon. The evening service was appropriately closed with the well-known hymn "For the men at the front," by John Oxenham.

ACCIDENT. 2nd April 1915

On Saturday a rather serious accident befell Jack Symonds. He was scaring birds on Mr. Alfred Day's farm, when his gun exploded, causing injury to his face, especially his eyes. Dr. Jas. M. King has the case in hand, and the patient is progressing favourably.

CHILDREN'S EFFORT. 2nd April 1915

In response to Lord Kinnaird's appeal to children to contribute their pennies towards the erection of ten Y.M.C.A. huts for the use of soldiers, the children and teachers of Swavesey National School have raised the sum of 16s. The huts are to be known as "Children's Huts."

SCRIPTURE EXAMINATION. 2nd April 1915

The scripture examination arranged by the Cambridgeshire Sunday School Union was held recently. Five candidates entered in connection with the Bethel Sunday School, but only the following sat: Thomas Daintree, Ronnie Prior, and the primary working department special examination, Miss Constance Prior.

LETTER'S LONG JOURNEY. 2nd April 1915

There arrived in Swavesey last week a letter posted at Adelaide, Australia, on January 27th, 1915. It reached Nelson, B.C., March 2nd; Boswell, March 6th; and Swavesey, March 25th. It was addressed to a former resident of Swavesey who left for Canada some years ago, and has now joined the Canadian Contingent. The envelope bore several postmarks and re-directions; in fact there was only just room for the last.

SOLDIER'S BEREAVEMENT. 2nd April 1915

The funeral of the infant son of Sapper Lionel Kettle, R.E., took place on Friday afternoon at the parish churchyard. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar) officiated. The cortege started from the residence of Mrs. Kettle's parents (Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Smith, Boxworth End). To the regret of all, the father (Sapper Kettle, R.E.) was unable to attend the funeral, being on active service at the front. Mr. James Williams, of Swavesey, was the undertaker.

ACCIDENT. 2nd April 1915

Mr. J. B. Senter, brother-in-law of the landlord, Mr. Slater, met with a nasty accident at the White Horse Inn on Thursday morning in last week. Whilst carrying a case full of bottles of beer across a staging at the top of the steps leading to the cellar, he stepped off the plank and fell to the bottom, carrying the case with him. In addition to being severely shaken and bruised, Mr. Senter's collar bone and shoulder are somewhat severely injured. He was taken as soon as possible to Addenbrooke's Hospital by Mr. Slater and Mr. W. F. Gleaves, in the latter's trap, and after receiving attention was allowed to return home. He remains an out-patient.

SWAVESEY AND LOLWORTH BOYS ALL WELL. 2nd April 1915

A Swavesey Territorial writing under date March 19th says: - "You doubtless have seen some news of the Cambridgeshires in your paper. Our boys were fairly in it last Sunday. We have had, I am sorry to say, several casualties, but it was really a great marvel how any of them got back at all, for it was awful all Sunday night. They started about 5 on Sunday evening, and the artillery on both sides were at it as hard as they could go. Shells were bursting within 50 yards of where our stores were. Some went over our heads, but the boys who were in the trenches had it far worse than that. The rifle fire, Maxim gun fire, artillery fire, and the snipers and shrapnel were something awful. Some of the Regular soldiers say it was far worse than Mons. The Swavesey and Lolworth boys are all well, thank God.

SWAVESEY MAN'S ROUGH RIDE. 2nd April 1915

Writing under date of 20th March to his mother at Swavesey, Pte. Arthur Coulson, of the Cambridgeshire Regiment, says:-

“We had a rough ride the other night. It was like being in hell itself. The Germans shelled us out, and we had to get our things and make our way to the trenches. They were blowing up the road as we were going along the road. We had to lie down flat in mud and water for a long time. I expected every minute was the last, but I got through. We lost a few men, but I don't know how many. White and Prior (two other Swavesey men) are all right. We lost trenches and then took them back again after a hard struggle. It was up to our necks in water in the trenches. Remember me to all friends, and tell them I am all right and hoping to get back safely. The village where we were has not a house standing. The place is all tables and beds and everything is broken up. Think about me when times go well with you.

PARISH COUNCIL 2nd April 1915

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Monday evening. The meeting was called specially to deal with an application from Messrs. Thurston for permission to erect an electric railway, etc., on the Recreation Ground at the forthcoming village feast. The question was debated at a previous meeting, and the doubt was expressed whether the Council had power under the by-laws regulating the Recreation Ground to accede to Messrs. Thurston's request. The Clerk had therefore sought the advice of the Local Government Board, and their reply that the Board had no jurisdiction in the matter and could not advise the Council was read on Monday night. It was decided that Messrs. Thurston be granted permission to use the Recreation Ground on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Feast Week on payment of £2 and on giving an undertaking to make good any damage. Messrs. Twist and Burton undertook to see that the conditions under which the ground was let were adhered to. – Mr. Burton called attention to the broken condition of the gate of the Parish Pound, and the Chairman replied that the matter should be inquired into and a report submitted to the next meeting of the Council. – A ratepayer points out that as far as he can ascertain the question whether Messrs. Thurston will be allowed to use the herbage of the Recreation Ground for their horses has not been considered by the Council. He thinks it is an important point which ought to have been definitely settled one way or the other.

STATIONMASTER'S RETIREMENT. 2nd April 1915

Mr. William Perry, who has been stationmaster at Swavesey for 33 years, retired from the Great Eastern Railway Company's service on Wednesday, having exceeded the age limit by some months. He had been in the Company's service for 50 years. He was born at Downham, Norfolk, in 1849, being the fifth son of the late Mr. William Perry, who was for many years stationmaster at Dersingham, and who lost his life on the line at Denver, to which station he had been transferred. Mr. Perry began his railway career as a gate-lad, and rose through the grades of porter and signaller to relief stationmaster. Forty years ago he was appointed stationmaster at Stretham, where he remained about five years. He was moved to Hilgay, and after three years was transferred to Swavesey in March 1882. At Swavesey he succeeded a Mr. William Perry, who, strange to say, was not a relative. During his service at Swavesey Mr. Perry has seen many changes, and an enormous increase in the traffic. When first appointed 14 or 15 trains of all descriptions passed through Swavesey in the 24 hours, and only two or three at night. Now trains innumerable run through night and day. The fruit traffic has greatly increased. Thirty years ago gooseberries were the only fruit despatched from the station. Now the traffic has increased tenfold, and all kinds of fruit and many flowers are dealt with. Mr. Perry has been a keen gardener, and for 20 years was an enthusiastic ringer at the parish church. He was a sidesman for several years, and last Easter was elected churchwarden after an exciting contest. Two of his brothers were also stationmasters on the Great Eastern Railway, and both have retired on well-earned pensions. His second son died a few years ago in the same Company's service, and his youngest son is a G.E.R. booking clerk. Mr. and Mrs. Perry left on Wednesday for their new home at Soham. Both were much respected in Swavesey and will be greatly missed.

SOLDIERS' WIVES. 9th April 1915

There are 14 wives of soldiers on service living in Swavesey at the present time.

PARISH CHURCH. 9th April 1915

The services at the parish church on Good Friday and Easter Day were well-attended. At the evensong service on Maundy Thursday and throughout Good Friday the Rev. G. W. F. Howard, of Stansted Mount Fitchett, Essex, officiated and preached.

FRIENDS MEET. 9th April 1915

Private Henry Beaumont, 7th Canadian Regiment, who enlisted in British Columbia and is now at the front, writing to his home in Swavesey, mentions that he has met another Swavesey man, Driver J.W. Goad, of the Army Service Corps. They are in the same Division.

OFF TO THE DARDENELLES. 9th April 1915

Lieut. Robert Ellis left England on March 21st for the Dardanelles. Writing to his father under date March 30th, he says: "We are now not ashore, and don't expect to be for the next day or two. I can't, of course, tell you where I am, but it is somewhere in the Mediterranean." We had rather a rough voyage in parts, but I am very fit and have been all the time."

VESTRY MEETING. 9th April 1915

At the Easter Vestry meeting held in the parish church on Monday evening Mr. William Twist Thorp, proposed by Mr. J. Gilby and seconded by Mr. C. Dean, was unanimously elected parish churchwarden. The Vicar, who presided, in re-nominating Mr. W. H. Key as vicar's warden, spoke of the excellent way in which Mr. Key and Mr. Perry had carried out their duties during the past year, and he gave expression to the regret of the parish at losing the service of Mr. Perry in consequence of his leaving the village on retiring from the Great Eastern Railway Company's service.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 9th April 1915

On Good Friday a public tea was held as usual at Bethel Chapel, and was attended by about 100 persons. Later in the evening there was a sacred concert given by the St. Ives Wesleyan choir, assisted by friends, under the efficient conductorship of Mr. Charles York. The chapel was crowded with a most appreciative audience. During the singing of the national anthems of the Allies, which concluded the programme, the audience remained standing, and the Belgian visitors were observed to be much gratified. The proceeds of the tea and concert, which are very satisfactory, have been handed over to the Chapel Renovation Fund. Mr. E. W. Bullman presided. On Sunday, Mr. Bullman officiated and preached at all the services at Bethel Chapel.

SAD DROWNING TRAGEDY. 16th April 1915

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN POND AT SWAVESEY.

A sad tragedy was discovered in Swavesey on Wednesday evening, when after a search of some hours the lifeless body of Miss M. W. was found in a pond opposite her house.

Miss W., who was 48 years of age, lived alone in a cottage in Boxworth-End. She was last seen and heard by her neighbours about 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. Early on Wednesday afternoon the neighbours became fidgety owing to her non-appearance, and as her cottage was locked up, they communicated with her relatives, who live in the neighbourhood, and Mr. Benjamin Prior, accompanied by Mr. George Burling, effected an entrance into the house, but could find no trace of Miss W. Her bed had either not been slept in, or had been re-made.

A search was organised, in which many neighbours joined, and about 5.30 p.m. Mrs. James Coulson saw the body in the pond. She called up Mr. J. S. Goad, who, with her assistance, recovered the body, which was fully dressed, but life was extinct.

The inquest will be held this (Friday) evening at Swavesey.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 16th April 1915

Mr. Thomas Howlett, son of Mr. William Howlett, Turn Bridge, has enlisted in the 5th Battalion, Cheshire Regt.

WIVES OF MEN ON SERVICE. 16th April 1915

There are 16, and not 14, as stated last week, wives of soldiers and sailors on service living in Swavesey at the present time.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT. 16th April 1915

Trooper Herbert Wilderspin, Northants Yeomanry, is in hospital in France suffering from fever and frostbitten feet. According to the latest accounts he is progressing favourably.

PARISH CHURCH. 16th April 1915

A thinly-attended meeting of members of the congregation of the parish church was held on Tuesday evening in the National School, under the presidency of the Vicar. The churchwardens' accounts for the past year were submitted, and showed a satisfactory balance of £6 18s. 2d. in hand. The Mission Church accounts also disclosed a small balance on the right side. Last year's sidesmen were reappointed with the exception that Mr. Harry Day Froment takes the place of Mr. William Twist Thorp, who is now people's churchwarden.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 16th April 1915

The Commandant begs to acknowledge gifts (to the hospital) up to April 7th, and also thanks all who have given their services at the Hospital. (List of gifts).

WEDDING AT SWAVESEY. 23rd April 1915

FARR – GARNER.

A wedding of considerable local interest took place on Wednesday afternoon at the parish church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, the happy couple being Mr. Robert Lionel Farr, youngest son of the late Sergt.-Major Walter Farr, 1st Essex Regiment, and Miss Charlotte Elizabeth Garner, second daughter of Mr. Charles Garner, harness maker, Swavesey. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her elder brother, Mr. S. M. Garner, was charmingly attired in cream San Toy, trimmed with silk and lace and orange blossom. She wore a wreath and a veil, the latter having been worn by her mother at her marriage. She carried a bouquet, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel May Garner, dressed in grey, trimmed with fancy silk. Her white hat had a wreath of pink roses. She wore a spray of white flowers and carried an ivory-bound prayer book, both being the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. L. C. Saunders, cousin of the bridegroom, who appeared in khaki, acted as best man. During the afternoon a numerosly-attended reception was held at Poplar House, the residence of the bride's parents, and later Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Farr left by the Great Eastern Railway for Sawbridgeworth, their future home. The bride's travelling dress was of Saxe blue, with white hat trimmed with roses.

THE NEW STATIONMASTER. 23rd April 1915

Mr. Beales, the newly-appointed stationmaster at Swavesey, commenced duty on Wednesday.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT. 23rd April 1915

Information has reached Swavesey from the Canadian Red Cross Society that Private Jack Wilderspin, 4th Canadian Battalion, is suffering from burns, and is in No. 8 Stationary Hospital, Boulogne. The authorised visitor reports that "he is up and going on well." Private Wilderspin left Swavesey for Canada a few years ago.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 23rd April. 1915

A tea, followed by an entertainment, to bring the winter sessions of the Friends' Meeting House Band of Hope and Mothers' Meeting to a close was held at the Meeting House on Monday evening. About 60 sat down to tea, the tables at which were presided over by Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. Godfrey and Mrs. Near (Wisbech). The room was well filled for the subsequent entertainment, at which Mr. J. Near, of Wisbech, took the chair. The children contributed solos, recitations, action songs, etc., and sang hymns. Miss May Mustill played the accompaniments for the action songs, and Mrs. Aldred for the remainder of the programme. Miss Gaunt was responsible for the general management, and, as usual, carried out her onerous duties with conspicuous success.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 23rd April 1915

The Commandant begs to acknowledge with thanks gifts to the Hospital received up to April 21st. (List of gifts and names). An entertainment was held in the hospital on Tuesday, 13th. An amusing sketch, entitled "The At-Home Day," was given by Miss Mitham and the Misses Dodson. Some of the patients and other friends also helped in the programme. The Commandant wishes to thank all who gave their services.

LETTING OF HERBAGE. 23rd April 1915

The yearly letting of the herbage of the by-ways and roadsides in the parish of Swavesey was conducted by Mr. C. W. Underwood, auctioneer, of Willingham, at the White Horse Inn on Monday evening, by order of the Rural District Council. The herbage of the Recreation Ground was let at the same time by direction of the Parish Council. The total amounts realised showed a marked improvement on last year, viz., £25 19s. 6d., against £8 15s. for the by-ways and roadsides, and £4 5s. against £2 for the Recreation Ground. In 1913 the by-ways etc., produced £25 5s., and the Recreation Ground £5 5s. The great reduction in 1914 was in a measure due to an objection to the roadsides in and near the village being fed owing to the inconvenience caused by straying stock, and in consequence the roadsides were not put up for tender. This year all the by-ways and roadsides were offered and were let.

PARISH COUNCIL. 23rd April 1915

The annual meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School last Friday evening, and was attended by the following Councillors: Messrs. Arthur Norman (acting chairman), W. Burton, J. S. Goad, Robt. Norman, A. T. Scard, and W. Twist, with the clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The minutes of the last meeting having been read, the Clerk announced that Mr. H. Thurston, jun., had signed the necessary agreement in regard to his being allowed the use of the Recreation Ground at the approaching village feast, and some conversation ensued respecting the instructions to be given to the auctioneer when letting the herbage of the ground. Mr. Goad proposed, and Mr. Burton seconded, the election of Mr. A. Norman as chairman for the ensuing year. Mr. A. Norman suggested the re-election of last year's chairman, Dr. Robert Ellis, who is serving abroad with his Majesty's Forces, but the suggestion was not accepted, and Mr. Norman's appointment was carried unanimously. Mr. Goad was elected vice-chair. The appointment of Overseers was next proceeded with and Messrs. C. J. Shepperson, James Smith, and Bert Hodson were nominated. Messrs. Shepperson and Hodson were selected. Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, sen., was re-appointed pindar.

SWAVESEY TRAGEDY. 23rd April 1915

CRIPPLE WOMAN FOUND DROWNED IN VILLAGE POND.

OPEN VERDICT RETURNED.

The drowning tragedy at Swavesey was investigated by the County Coroner (Mr. A. J. Lyon) on Friday evening. The inquest was held at Mr. Thorp's house, Swavesey, and an open verdict was returned.

(Full report in newspaper.)

FOOD EXCELLENT AND PLENTIFUL. 30th April 1915

Writing under date 14th April from "somewhere in Belgium" to his father, Mr. J. Stockbridge, of Swavesey, Sergt.-Saddler F. Stockbridge, 1st Lincolnshire Battery, 1/1 North Midland Brigade, says: - "The weather is a bit warmer now, but we are up to our knees in mud, but we are making the best of things as far as possible. We have been in action now just over a week, and we have had two or three scraps with the Germans, but we have been lucky so far, as we have not had any casualties. The heavy guns fire right over us, so you may guess it is like to deafen one. Our food is excellent and plenty of it, but I miss a glass of the old English beer. Still, I feel the better for it. We have the airships constantly flying over us. The Germans dropped several bombs on Monday about a mile away, killing four men and injuring others. There are German and English graves on the sides of the roads and in fields, all done round with barbed wire. There is a village about ten minutes' walk from us that has been shelled time after time with "Jack Johnsons." Most of the houses are blown down, and one shell went through the church roof. Several fell in the street, making holes big enough to bury a horse and cart. I don't think I shall ever forget what I have seen here. No one who has not seen can have any idea what it is like."

CAPTAIN NEWTON'S GRAVE. 30th April 1915

Pte. A. Coulson, "B" Company, 1st Cambridgeshire Regiment, a Swavesey young man, writing home from the trenches says: - "On Easter Sunday the Germans put up a big card, on which was written a happy greeting to the British, and "if you don't fire we won't." One of the officers put one up out of our trench to greet the Germans, and there was not much firing all day. The Germans put an English flag out of their trenches. I received your 'fags' all right. They came just at the right time, as I had not one left. I saw one of my letters in the 'Weekly News'; one of my mates showed me the paper. As I am writing now the shells are going over my head from both ways - from the enemy's side and from ours. There are 30 or 40 dead Germans and French lying about. It looks a sight to see dead men lying in the fields. The other day I saw the grave of Mr. Douglas Newton's brother, who was killed out here."

MORE MEN WANTED. 30th April 1915

A recruiting party, consisting of two officers and about 40 non-commissioned officers and men, including a bugle band, of the 3rd/1st Cambridgeshire Regt., will pass through Swavesey to-morrow (Saturday) at about noon. It is understood that the party will enter the village by the Ramper-road.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 30th April 1915

A special monthly meeting was held at Bethel Chapel on Sunday afternoon, and was conducted by E. H. Dallimore, of Battersea Park, London, who gave an address on "The Bible in the light of to-day". Solos and quartettes were rendered by the Misses M. Gautrey and E. Lack, of Cottenham and Messrs. Goodliffe and R. Robinson, of Willingham. The attendance was good. During Sunday the Superintendent received subscriptions in aid of the National Tent Building Scheme for our Sailors and Soldiers. His appeal was well responded to.

PARISH MEETING. 30th April 1915

The annual parish meeting was held in the Infants' School last Friday evening, and was quite a happy gathering. Mr. Arthur Norman, the newly-elected chairman of the Parish Council, presided, and was supported by the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. The Parish Council was represented by Mr. W. Burton and Mr. W. Twist, and the sole representative of the general body of ratepayers was Mr. Albert G. Parish. After the minutes of two previous meetings had been read and signed, the Clerk read out the Overseers', Parish Council and Charity accounts. An interesting conversation ensued on various subjects more or less connected with the accounts, and then the Chairman declared the annual assembly of the parish closed.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 7th May 1915

Mr. Stanley Westwood Perry, youngest son of Mr. William Perry, the late stationmaster at Swavesey, has enlisted in the Essex Yeomanry. Trooper Perry was a booking office clerk at Godmanchester Station, G. E. R. The Swavesey Roll of Honour, which was originally displayed outside the National School, but vanished some time ago, has been re-written and brought up-to-date, and on Saturday was affixed to a board specially erected by Mr. E. Parish, J.P., on the Parish Council property in High-street. The roll is comprehensive, for it includes not only the names of the twenty-three men who have joined the Army or Navy since the outbreak of war, and who were resident in Swavesey at the time of their enlistment, but also those of Swavesey men who were serving with the colours before the war, Reservists and Territorials called up on mobilisation, and other Swavesey men who had left the parish and are serving their country. Seventy-three names altogether appear on the Roll, including six members of the Canadian contingents.

VISIT OF 1ST CAMBS. RECRUITING PARTY. 7th May 1915

Under the command of Lieuts. Smith and Stockdale, a recruiting party, consisting of about 40 non-commissioned officers and men, including a bugle band, of the 3rd/1st Cambridgeshire Regiment visited Swavesey on Saturday morning, and their visit cannot be recorded as having been a success, though it created considerable excitement amongst the women and children. The party arrived by train from Histon about 11.30 a.m., and marched from the station, headed by the band, through Church End and along High-street. A halt was called immediately the Recreation Ground was passed, and the men lay down on the grass at the roadside. Two residents here distributed oranges and apples, which appeared to be appreciated by the men. About 12.30 the party returned along High-street, and when Market-street was reached dismissed for dinner, which was provided at the White Horse Inn. At 1.30 the detachment marched off to Over. No recruits were obtained in Swavesey. Eligible men of military age were conspicuous by their absence. It is, however, only fair to say that the hour chosen for the visit was one when many of the men are employed in field work, and others on a Saturday are engaged in Cambridge and elsewhere. The party was expected to arrive by road from Longstanton, but an alteration in the route was made at the last moment. The Swavesey local guide, Mr. S. W. Crisp, was waiting on the Longstanton-road, and therefore did not join the detachment until after dinner.

PARISH COUNCIL. 14th May 1915

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Monday evening. There were present: Messrs. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), who presided, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, R. Norman and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). Mr. Arthur Norman, the Chairman, was unable to attend, owing to his having met with an accident, which we are glad to say was not very serious. There was some delay in beginning business, as only four councillors were present, five being required to make a quorum; but at length one of the missing councillors was found, and on his appearance, the Clerk proceeded to read the minutes of the previous meeting. One or two matters arising out of the minutes were discussed briefly. It was stated that the repairs to the Parish pound ordered by the Council were in hand, and it was agreed that the question of Mr. W. J. Hephew's tenancy of property in High-street, should be postponed to the next meeting. The Council then proceeded to consider the increasing expenditure of the County Council. During the discussion it was announced that the county rate for the present half-year so far as Swavesey was concerned was £370, and the poor rate £96. For the previous six months the county rate was £312, making a total contribution from the parish to the County Council of £682 for the year ending 30th September next. The Rural District Council requirements for the current half-year had also increased. It was eventually decided that the Clerk should write to Dr. J. W. Ellis, the local County Councillor, on behalf of the Parish Council, calling attention to the serious burden on ratepayers caused by the ever-increasing expenditure of the County Council and urging him to do his utmost to have the expenditure reduced. There was then discussion of the need for a further Councillor to be elected, as there is one vacancy, and Dr. R. Ellis is with the army in the Mediterranean. The vacancy should be filled without further delay, especially as during the summer months some members may not always find it convenient to attend regularly.

SWAVESEY MAN MISSING. 21st May 1915

Mrs. Beaumont has received an intimation from the Canadian Record Office that her second son, Pte. Henry Beaumont, 7th Canadian Battalion, has been reported missing. It is understood that he was engaged in the big fight in which the Canadian Regiments so greatly distinguished themselves.

THE FEAST. 21st May 1915

That hardy annual, the village feast, has been kept as usual, but cannot be said to have been a lively function or to have attracted many visitors. At the parish church on Sunday the services were well attended, especially that in the evening, when the choir acquitted themselves with distinction, and the congregation did their part with energy. Usually several cricket matches are played, and are a special feature in the daytime. This year there was none. The Cricket Club has ceased to exist. Although not as numerous as in most years, there were a fair number of stalls, cocoanut shies, a diminutive kind of joy-wheel, and other similar attractions. Mr. Manning's roundabout was also present. Mr. Henry Thurston's show, which was confidently expected, as he had obtained permission from the Parish Council for a consideration of £2, to stand upon the Recreation Ground, did not put in an appearance, much to the disappointment of youthful feasters. In view of the letter from "A Countryman," in last Friday's "Weekly News," calling attention to the possible risk of German bomb-droppers being attracted by the light from portable gas flares and the noise of loud sounding organs, it is satisfactory to report that the show people did their best to shroud their lights, and Mr. Manning in addition reduced the number of lamps on his roundabout from eight to four. His organ also was considerably toned down, the louder portion being put out of commission, and the whole enclosed in a glass case. At Mrs. Aaron Harris' cocoanut shy a novel method of covering a flare lamp on a pole was adopted. She hung an open umbrella over the lamp.

SWAVESEY MAN'S EXPERIENCES. 21st May 1915

Writing to his mother in Swavesey from Northern France, under date May 12th, Pte. Frank Beaumont, 7th London Regiment (T.F.), son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, says:

"We have just come back from the firing line, after a week spent there, and that explains why I have not written you a decent letter before. Yesterday week we marched to a deserted village just behind the line, where half the Battalion was billeted in houses still habitable (those with a roof on), while the remainder manned the firing trench. I was in the former half, and on Thursday we relieved the others and took up position in the firing trench. At first we thought we were in for 48 hours, but when our turn to be relieved came we had to remain in the trenches in view of a move projected on the morrow, and of which I will give you some description. On Sunday an attempt was to be made to push back the Germans on each side of the line we held. Our part in this engagement was not pretentious, but at the same time a very necessary one. It was our duty to hold our portion of the trenches in the face of any attack while the advance was attempted on our right and left.

"As in all cases the attack was preceded by an artillery bombardment of the enemy. This commenced about 4 a.m., and continued until about 7 a.m. I don't know how many guns we used, but the noise was simply terrific. I can only describe it to you by asking you to imagine a very heavy thunderstorm, with peals of thunder going on without cessation for hours. I don't know how far this attack was a success, and it is probable that you will know more about it than I do from the papers. We have heard that the French made a considerable advance on our right, but that although the English on the left captured trenches, their attack was not attended with all the success hoped for. As I said before, we did not take a very active part in the attack, but simply fired on the enemy trenches opposite as we received orders. We were finally removed from the trenches on Monday night, and after staying a night in the deserted village, came on here, a village about three miles from the firing line, and where we are awaiting further orders. Our stay in the firing line this time was the longest we have had up to the present. The weather was fine, and it was very hot, but what tried me, and most chaps, I believe, was the lack of sleep. While in the trenches the only sleep one can get is for an hour or two at different periods of the day, and in consequence of the move made we had less than usual this time. I have now had two good nights' rest, and feel quite fit, but while in the trenches one is apt to get a bit depressed at times, simply through lack of rest.

"We have just heard of the sinking of the Lusitania, and also hear rumours that the Americans have made a most emphatic protest to the German Government. I am looking forward to seeing the papers. The Germans seem to stop at nothing to accomplish their ends, and also seem quite reckless as to what opposition they incur. The sinking of the Lusitania seems to me one of the most unscrupulous and inhuman acts ever perpetrated by a country at war.

SWAVESEY MAN WOUNDED. 28th May 1915

Mr. Henry Capper, of Swavesey, has received an official intimation that his son, Private Cawthorne Capper, 14th Battalion (Royal Montreal), Canadian Contingent, has been wounded and is lying in hospital at Boulogne.

WHITSUNTIDE. 28th May 1915

Very few visitors favoured Swavesey with their presence during Whitsuntide, and, contrary to custom, there were no cricket matches.

PIG IN A TUNNEL. 28th May 1915

On Whitsun Tuesday a pig belonging to Mr. Z. Parish, butcher, whilst being driven along Carter's-lane jumped into the public drain which runs under the road, and disappeared into the tunnel. Here in spite of strenuous efforts to get it out it remained for some hours. The drain is covered in for about one hundred yards from the north side of Carter's-lane to beyond the old brewery in Middle Watch. All other means failing, an opening was at length dug in the tunnel in the brewery yard, and a dog introduced. The pig then emerged into the light of day.

WAKE UP, SWAVESEY. 28th May 1915

A correspondent writes: I see from the "Weekly News" that Boy Scouts at Elsworth are collecting eggs every week for wounded soldiers. This has set me wondering why we have heard nothing of Boy Scouts or egg collections in Swavesey, where the population is nearly double that of Elsworth. Lads and youths enjoy themselves most evenings on School Green playing football. Could they not be quite as pleasantly and far more profitably employed learning their duty as citizens of this great Empire now in the throes of this terrible war? We want "some village Hampden", a village Kitchener, to organise us and our resources. Surely there is someone in the parish with sufficient patriotism and a personality strong enough to take the lead. If there is no man fit and willing to take the job, may I suggest that the women of Swavesey should see what they can do. Here is a chance for a Swavesey Joan of Arc.

SWAVESEY MAN'S DIARY. 28th May 1915

The following are extracts from the diary of Pte. Frank Beaumont, 7th London Regiment, now in Northern France, which he has sent to his brother. (Pte. Beaumont is a son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, for upwards of 40 years schoolmaster in Swavesey. An elder brother, in the 7th Canadian Regiment, has recently been reported missing.):

"Wednesday, May 12th. – The place where we are now stationed is inhabited by civilians. Last night we were out from 6.30 to 2.30 a.m. as a working party. We were unfortunate enough to get several casualties, including two officers. This trench warfare is most disheartening, but from various signs I believe things are beginning to move. Sunday's business, in my opinion, was a start of a general offensive all along the line, which will be persisted in until something happens. I am feeling in the best of health and spirits."

In a letter to his mother at Swavesey, dated May 21st, Pte. Beaumont continues his chronicle:

"I am very glad to say that during the last week the British have scored considerable success in their campaign against the Germans, as no doubt you have seen in the papers. A big attack was organised commencing last Sunday (16th), and our battalion took a fairly prominent part in it. We were called out on Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, and marched to a position where we remained in reserve until 9 o'clock. We were then marched up to the firing line, and occupied a German trench which had been taken just before. We remained in this trench until Wednesday night, when we were relieved by some Canadian troops. While we were in the trenches the Germans made a great effort to dislodge us by artillery bombardment, but without success. Our casualties as a result of this were rather heavy. I am thankful to say that I and – both came out all right. It was a very trying experience, and we were all glad to be relieved on Wednesday night. In the position we held all we could do was to hold tight to the trench while our artillery replied to the enemy's bombardment. As you can imagine, this is more trying to one's nerves than active fighting, when one has less time to think. Still, after two nights' good rest I am feeling quite fit again and ready for more work. Lots of Germans surrendered in this engagement, and I saw about 150 of them. I thought they seemed pretty fed up and glad to chuck in the sponge. I might mention that our battalion has been praised for good work in this battle."

"A LOVELY CHARGE." 28th May 1915

Writing on May 22nd from the 1st Southern General Hospital, Edgbaston, Birmingham, Corporal Alfred C. Dodson, 2nd Bedfordshire Regt., says:

"I am well with the exception of my leg; it has swollen as big as my head from my knee to ankle. I got a very nasty wound – they cannot get it clean yet – otherwise I am feeling well. I suppose I shall be in bed for about a month at least. I was wounded last Sunday at 3.30 a.m. in a lovely charge. They ran away like hell; that is all they are good for. They are on you as hard as they can till you get to their first line of trenches, then they throw their hands up ,but we caught them last Sunday."

RUMOUR CONTRADICTED. 4th June 1915

In view of a rumour recently in circulation in Swavesey it is satisfactory to announce that in a letter received on Tuesday morning, which was written five days previously, Bombardier Arthur Crisp, Royal Field Artillery, stated that he was fit and well.

FOR OUR SAILORS AND SOLDIERS. 4th June 1915

In response to the Earl of Meath's appeal to British boys and girls to make our brave soldiers and sailors happy, the sum of 11s. 6d. has been contributed from Swavesey National School, and has been sent to the Overseas Club, Aldwych, London, which organised the Penny Fund. The appeal was made in connection with Empire Day, but the collection could not be made at that time owing to the school being closed for Feast Week. The money is used for providing parcels of tobacco and other comforts that the sailors and soldiers need so badly and appreciate greatly.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 4th June 1915

The Belgian patients were transferred to King Albert's Hospital, London, on May 22nd. Some are still in hospital and others have returned to their depot at Calais.

ACCIDENT. 4th June 1915

Mr. Jack Lodes, of Swavesey, met with a serious accident at Waterbeach on the 27th ult., whilst driving a traction engine belonging to Mr. Prime Godfrey, haulage contractor, Swavesey, and employed on Government work. It appears that he drew up on the green, and his companion alighted. In order to move to the side of the road, he started his engine, and by some means his right hand got caught in the machinery. He was able to stop the engine near Wellington House, Mr. A. E. Saunders' residence, outside which Mrs. Saunders was standing. He was helped to alight, and Mrs. Saunders had taken him into her home, where he fainted. Some brandy soon brought him round. Mrs. Saunders, who is a member of the local Voluntary Aid Detachment, Cambs. 44, rendered efficient first aid. Mr. Lodes was bleeding profusely. Dr. Robson, of Waterbeach, was sent for, and attended at once. He did what he could for the injured man, and ordered his removal to Addenbrooke's Hospital. The question was then debated as to the best means of getting him there, when Mr. A. Tuck, of De Freville-avenue, Cambridge drove up, accompanied by a lady in a two-seater motor car. He at once offered his services, and leaving the lady behind, conveyed Mr. Lodes to the Hospital, where he was admitted. His hand is badly crushed, and it has been found necessary to amputate three fingers. He is going on as well as can be expected.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 11th June 1915

On the King's birthday the National Anthem was sung by the children in the National Schools.

OBITUARY. 11th June 1915

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Jemima Rule, widow of Mr. John Rule, blacksmith, Swavesey on Sunday, 30th May, aged 80 years. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Thursday in last week, the Rev. E. Short, of the Particular Baptist Chapel, officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. John Rule, Mrs. T. Prior, Mr. Walter Rule, Mrs. G. Netherwood, Mr. Arthur Rule, Mrs. J. Rule, Mr. James Prior, and Mrs. A. Rule. Mr. George Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 11th June 1915

Anniversary services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday, 3rd inst., and attracted large numbers of people from Swavesey and the neighbourhood. The special preacher at both services was the Rev. Dr. F. B. Meyer, Christ Church, London. At 3.15 p.m. there was an excellent attendance. Tea, at which about 200 sat down, followed at 5.30 p.m. The chapel was crowded to its utmost capacity for the evening service, when Dr. Meyer took for his subject "The Prodigal Son." The total proceeds of the anniversary amounted to the satisfactory sum of £17 0s. 2½d.

CHURCH FINANCE. 18th June 1915

The collections at all services at the parish church on Sunday last were on behalf of the Ely Diocesan Finance Board. They amounted to £5 5s. The sum that Swavesey is asked to contribute to the Finance Board this year is £5 15s.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 18th June 1915

On Thursday June 10th, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frohock entertained the patients, Commandant, quartermaster and sister to tea at Longstanton.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 25th June 1915

Mr. Christopher Day, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, enlisted in the Royal Army Medical Corps on Saturday last. Information has reached Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Prior, Boxworth End, that their youngest son, Mr. Oswald A. Prior, joined the New Zealand Contingent about a month ago.

ITEM FROM THE FRONT. 25th June 1915

Driver-Wheeler, J. W. Goad, Army Service Corps, writing to his home in Swavesey this week, says he recently met somewhere at the Front Private Jack Wilderspin (4th Canadians), and Private Lawson Hephher (12th Canadians). Both are Swavesey young men. They were well and flourishing.

EVERY LITTLE HELPS. 25th June 1915

Patriotic badges and scent sachets were sold in the village by the school children last week, with the view of benefiting wounded soldiers. The sales realised a clear profit of 12s., 10s. of which have been sent to the Lowestoft Home of Rest for Needy Soldiers, and the balance spent in cigarettes for soldiers in the local Red Cross Hospital.

PARISH CHURCH. 25th June 1915

At Evensong at the Parish Church on Sunday last part of the special service of Intercession on behalf of the nation and Empire in this time of war, issued under the authority of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, was substituted for the prayers which usually follow the Third Collect. The sermon was preached by Rev. Charles Sharp, formerly vicar of Addlestone, Surrey. His address was most interesting and helpful, bringing sympathy and hope to those in distress, full of anecdote and touching incident, and was listened to with close attention by the large congregation, which included wounded soldiers from the local hospital. After the Blessing the National Anthem was sung.

SWAVESEY MAN ON TRENCH WARFARE. 2nd July 1915

Writing to his mother in Swavesey from Northern France on June 23rd, Private Frank Beaumont, 7th Battalion London Regiment, says: -

We were relieved (from duty in the trenches) on Monday night, and are now in reserve about 1½ miles from the firing line. We had this time our longest spell in the trenches, having been there since the previous Saturday week, and we were glad to come out for a bit. The trenches we occupied this time were earth trenches, and not sandbag barricades we were in before. In the case of earth trenches it is necessary to have communication trenches leading some distance back to enable troops to enter comparatively safely; otherwise they would be exposed to the enemy's fire for some distance before getting in the trenches. Sandbag barricades being raised above the ground afford some cover. The district round these trenches is an absolute network of communication and reserve trenches, numbered off or named like so many streets. It is quite easy to lose oneself in them, in fact easier than going right. It's a rotten job getting in and out of the trenches by this way. The communication trenches wind in and out – they are less vulnerable to artillery constituted in this way – and it seems as if we would never get to our destination.

Except for one day, we had a pretty quiet time in the trenches this time, although both sides were a bit more active than during our previous spell. One day attacks were made on the enemy on our left and right, with the result that we were bombarded a bit. We had previously bombarded the Germans opposite us in order to divert their attention from the attacks which were to be delivered, so I suppose their bombardment of us was in the nature of reply. The main trenches were, I understood, about 300 to 400 yards away, but each side was attempting to gain ground by building advanced trenches which were only about 100 yards distant. We spent some time during the nights improving our advanced trench, which was not properly finished. I am feeling quite fit, except that my feet are a bit tender, the result of not being able to take off my boots and socks for a long period.

WELCOME RAIN. 2nd July 1915

The long spell of dry weather was broken on Sunday morning, when rain fell heavily for some time, and there were further downfalls during Sunday night and Monday, and welcome showers since.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 2nd July 1915

Mrs. Long, the president of the Swavesey Division of Addenbrooke's Hospital County Organisation Fund, has received a gratifying return of the recent house-to-house collections in the villages in her district, and has sent Mrs. Hicks, the hon. Secretary and treasurer of the fund, £36 5s. 9d., against £35, 11s. 1d. last year.

RUMOUR FOUND GROUNDLESS. 2nd July 1915

A letter dated 21st June, from somewhere in France, has been received in Swavesey from Private Walter Neal, 1st Bedfordshire Regt., concerning whom disquieting rumours have been in circulation for some time past. He says he is quite well, and asks that some tea and sugar may be sent him.

A SHORT VISIT HOME. 2nd July 1915

Corpl. Watson Trundley, 2nd Royal Scots Fusiliers, son of Mr. George Trundley, of Swavesey, revisited his parents after an absence of nine years on Tuesday. He was a reservist and was in Natal when the war broke out. He rejoined the depot of his regiment in Scotland immediately, and was speedily sent to his battalion at the Front. He has been in much stiff fighting, and has had experience of German gas, but down to the present has come through without a scratch or a day's illness. He returns to the Front to-day.

SCHOOL TREAT. 9th July 1915

The children attending the Parish Church Sunday School had their annual treat on Thursday in last week in the vicarage grounds.

STORMS. 9th July 1915

A series of heavy thunderstorms has visited Swavesey. On Sunday evening during church time rain and hail fell in torrents, and the thunder and lightning were terrific. There have been storms since, that during Tuesday night being very heavy. No serious damage has been reported.

NEWS OF SOLDIERS. 9th July 1915

Pte. Arthur Prior, 1/1st Cambridgeshire Regiment, arrived in Swavesey on Friday night on a few days' leave from the front. He was in excellent health. He returned on Tuesday. Pte. Charles Savage, Bedfordshire Regiment, is in Netley Hospital suffering from appendicitis. He had been at the front since the early days of the war. Pte. Jack Wilderspin, 4th Battalion Central Ontario Regiment, Canadian Contingent, now on service in France, has been promoted lance-corporal. Trooper Herbert Wilderspin, jun., Northants. Yeomanry, who had been for some time in hospital in France suffering from frost-bite and fever, and last month was removed to the 1st Southern General Hospital at Birmingham, is now at Droitwich undergoing a course of treatment for rheumatism. He was visited by his father, Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, of Swavesey, on Sunday, and was then confined to his bed, but hopeful of an early recovery.

SWAVESEY MAN COMMENDED. 9th July 1915

Private Arthur James Coulson, also of the Cambridgeshire Regiment, has also earned the commendation of his commanding officers for good work, it is understood, at Ypres. He has received the following card from Major-General J. D'O. Snow, commanding the 27th Division: "Your Commanding Officer and Brigade Commander have informed me that you have distinguished yourself by your conduct in the field. I have read their report with much pleasure." Pte. Coulson has sent the card and an accompanying letter of commendation from Major G. L. Archer, Commanding 1/1st Cambs., to his father in Swavesey for safe custody. He says he has qualified as a bomb-thrower.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 9th July 1915

The Sunday School anniversary services were held at Bethel Chapel on the 27th ulto., the special preacher being the Rev. J. W. Upton, of Burwell. During the afternoon there was a flower service, during which recitations were given by the scholars, and Mr. Upton delivered an address. Framed certificates, awarded by the C.S.S.U., were presented to Miss C. M. Prior, Thomas Daintree and Rodney Prior. The collections amounted to £3 3s. 6d. The flowers, in excellent condition, were sent to St. Ives Infirmary. On the Thursday following the yearly Sunday School treat was held in a field at Trinity College Farm, kindly lent by Mr. Robert Norman, and additional interest was given to the occasion by the presence of 22 invalid soldiers from the local Red Cross hospital, who attended by special invitation. During the afternoon a cricket match – Wounded Soldiers v. Ladies – was played. The men, who batted left-handed with broomsticks, while their fair opponents used their right hands and the orthodox willow, managed to win by five runs. An excellent tea was provided in Bethel Chapel Schoolroom for the soldier guests, children and other visitors. In the evening there were sports with events for children and soldiers, including a pillow fight, tug-of-war, etc. There was also a hat-trimming competition. Each soldier was presented with a souvenir of the occasion before leaving.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 9th July 1915

Married just a year ago in Natal, Watson Trundley, a Reservist of the Royal Scots Fusiliers, had five weeks later to leave his young wife to rejoin his regiment. A few hours at the depot at Ayr, N.B., and then he and others were hurried to France. Weeks and months of strenuous fighting and hardship followed, and then the welcome order came that Corpl. Watson Trundley could go home for a few days' leave. Early on Tuesday in last week he arrived in Swavesey, and had the warmest of welcomes from parents, relatives and friends, none of whom had seen him for nine years. His face burned deep brown by sun and weather, his clothes stained and well-nigh threadbare, told their tale, but the gallant Corporal was in the best of health and spirits. Of his own experiences he spoke little. Pressed, he admitted that his lot had been in the thick of it, and that the battalion's loss in officers had been heavy; there were not many left, he said. Food at the front was good and plentiful, except at times when it was impossible to get it to the trenches. On Friday morning he strapped his pack on his back, shouldered his rifle and went away.

SIGNALMEN'S BABIES. 16th July 1915

The two signalmen who at present share the work in the Swavesey signal-box between them have each been presented with a son this week, one happy event taking place on Sunday and the other on Monday.

SHORT VISIT HOME. 16th July 1915

Lance-Corpl. Martin Surrey Caine, 49th Battalion, Canadian Contingent, now in training in England, arrived in Swavesey on a short visit to his parents on Saturday evening. He went to Canada 17 years ago and last visited this country about four years since. He enlisted at Edmonton, Alberta, in January. Nearly 7,000 men, the majority of whom were British born, have joined the Army at Edmonton since the war began, out of a population of about 60,000.

OBITUARY. 16th July 1915

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Walter Ding, second son of the late Mr. Joseph Ding, on Saturday morning, aged 30 years. Mr. Ding had for some years acted as organ blower at the parish church, and in his sermon on Sunday evening the Vicar referred to the sad event in sympathetic terms, and specially mentioned the willing and useful service Mr. Ding had rendered in many ways in connection with the church. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. Fred Ding (brother), Mrs. Dean and Mrs E. Smith (sisters), Mr. and Mrs. P. Ding, Mrs. J. Noble, Mrs. Netherwood, Mrs. Papworth, Mrs. Daisley, Mrs. W. Ding (uncles and aunts), Mr. C. Dean and Mr. E. Smith (brothers-in-law). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

DEATH OF MRS. JONAS THORP. 16th July 1915

Many of our readers, especially those getting on in years, will learn with regret that Mrs. Elizabeth Thorp, widow of the late Mr. Jonas Thorp, passed away early on Monday morning, at the ripe age of 79 years. She had been in failing health for some time. Mrs. Thorp was well known and greatly respected as the landlady of the Swan With Two Necks, on the raised causeway known locally as "The Stones," the Swavesey hostelry nearest the railway station, the River Ouse, and Mere Fen. With her husband, who died in June, 1896, a well-known butcher of Swavesey and Cambridge Market, she took possession of the inn on the 4th November, 1873, and for thirty-seven years, until Lady Day, 1911, held the licence without a single complaint. She retired from the business owing to advancing years. The Swan, probably the oldest publichouse, and one of the oldest houses in the village, was in days gone by much frequented by fishermen and skaters. Mrs. Thorp leaves three daughters.

A CLERICAL BARMAN. 23rd July 1915

Writing from a base camp in France, Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., youngest son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, says:- "I went on Sunday to the service in the Y.M.C.A. rooms. We had quite a nice little service, which I really enjoyed. Such nice hymns, 'Fight the good fight,' 'Jesu, the very thought of Thee,' 'Holy Father, in Thy mercy,' and 'There is a green hill far away.' I thought about you all at Swavesey Church. The curate spoke so nicely. He works at the refreshment bar during the week, and takes the services on Sunday."

TRAIN ALTERATIONS. 23rd July 1915

The fact that since the 12th inst. the times of departure of several trains from Swavesey station does not appear to be realised by many intending passengers. This has been specially noticeable in connection with the down train, which prior to the 12th inst., left at 2.14 p.m., but which now is due to leave 19 minutes earlier, viz., at 1.55 p.m. On Tuesday, for instance, four or five persons missed the train, under the impression that it still started at 2.14 p.m. Since the alterations have been made the trains generally have been running well to time.

DEATH OF MR. NETHERWOOD. 23rd July 1915

We regret to announce the death on Sunday night of Mr. John Netherwood, after a very painful and distressing illness of six months' duration, borne with great patience and fortitude. Mr. Netherwood was the third son of the late Mr. John Netherwood, of Swavesey, and was 60 years of age. He was a bricklayer, a trade followed by his father and grandfather, and was well known in the district. In politics he was a keen Conservative, and until the last year or two, took an active share in party politics in Swavesey.

CART VERSUS MOTOR LORRY. 23rd July 1915

A collision, fortunately not attended by serious consequences, happened on Wednesday afternoon on the Swavesey and Fen Drayton road, between a spring cart, belonging to Mr. Carter, of Fenstanton, and Messrs. Laurie and McConnal's motor lorry. Mr. Carter had alighted and was talking to Mr. C. J. Shepperson inside a field, while a lady held the horse by the roadside. As the lorry approached she attempted to draw the horse more off the road, but it is said the animal was of a different opinion and backed towards the lorry, the driver of which in order to avoid a collision steered on to the grass and landed in a ditch. The vehicles, however, came into contact, and the cart axle was broken, but no other damage was done.

THE LATE MRS. THORP. 23rd July 1915

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jonas Thorp, whose death at the age of 79 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Friday afternoon. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiated. The mourners included: Mrs. G. V. Pearce, Miss A. Thorp and Miss C. Thorp (daughters), Master Roger Pearce (grandson), Mr. Ben Thorp (nephew) and Mrs. George Farey and Miss Ellen Thorp (nieces). After the committal Master Roger Thorp dropped a bunch of lilies on the coffin, from his sisters Peggy and Kitty and himself. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

CHILDREN'S HELP. 30th July 1915

The children attending Swavesey National School contributed to the French Relief Fund on French Flag Day.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 30th July 1915

The services on Sunday at Bethel Baptist Chapel were conducted by Mr. Sykes, of St. Ives. In the afternoon a service of intercession was held by the Sunday School for our men at the front, a printed form of service being used. Short addresses on the war were given by the superintendent, Mr. H. S. Aldred, and by Messrs. B. Prior and James Prior (deacons) and G. E. Canham and J. Payne.

SPORTING NEWS. 30th July 1915

It may interest some of our readers to know that the fourth race at the Second Extra Racing Meeting at Newmarket on Tuesday was the Swavesey Selling Plate of 103 sovereigns for three-year-olds and upwards, the winner to be sold for £100. Mr. J. Ivall's b.g. Oversight won by three-quarters of a length. There was no bid for the winner. It is said that this was the first occasion on which a horse race has been named after Swavesey.

EMPTY HOUSES. 30th July 1915

There are 15 unoccupied cottages in the parish of Swavesey at the present time, and in addition the Old House and two cottages are only in temporary occupation, the former as a Red Cross Hospital, and the two cottages by Belgian refugees. After the great fire in March, 1913, there was much talk of a dearth of houses, and additional accommodation was demanded. None of the houses now unoccupied were rendered vacant owing to men serving in the Navy or Army; on the contrary, two houses have been taken recently by the wives of men not previously resident in Swavesey, who are in the Army. Three new houses are in course of erection.

FUNERAL OF MR. NETHERWOOD. 30th July 1915

The funeral of the late Mr. John Netherwood, whose death on the 18th inst., at the age of 60 years, was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard last Friday afternoon. The Vicar officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. George Netherwood, Cambridge (brother), Mrs. Richards, Fenstanton (sister), Miss E. Coote (step-sister). Mr. Charles Coote, Over (step-brother), and Mrs. George Netherwood (sister-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm, with black and gilt furniture. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

GARDEN FETE. 30th July 1915

Rain in torrents hour after hour on Thursday, 22nd inst., placed the organisers of the garden fete announced for that day in aid of the French Relief Fund and the local Red Cross Hospital in somewhat of a quandary. The fete was to take place in the Vicarage Grounds, under spreading trees and grassy banks. Two alternatives presented themselves, to postpone the function until the weather was kinder, or adjourn to the schools, more than half-a-mile distant. To the former there were obvious objections. The band had been engaged and the bread and butter had been cut. So it was decided to go to the schools, and provisions, contents of stalls, etc., were hurriedly conveyed thither. Everyone worked with a will, the visitors were good-tempered and made the best of things, and the result was a successful gathering. The managers of the refreshment department, in particular, did wonders and splendid business, and were most materially assisted by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gleaves, near neighbours of the school, who when boiling water for tea was called for, produced gallons. The children's pageant, arranged by Miss J. Capper, was given, though robbed of the picturesque setting it would have had in the Vicarage grounds. The children were dressed to represent the peoples of the Allied nations. The children sang national and patriotic songs. Many of the competitions were partially brought off, though some were postponed. The St. Ives Brass Band played lustily, and in the evening supplied the music for dancing. Soldiers from the local Red Cross Hospital were most active in their efforts to make things go with a swing. They took charge of competitions, sold flags and medallions, and rendered help wherever help was needed. Wounded soldiers from the Willingham Red Cross Hospital were present on Thursday, and received a hearty welcome.

ENLISTED. 6th Aug. 1915

Mr. Samuel John Froment, well known as a Swavesey cricketer and footballer, joined the Army Service Corps on Tuesday. He has recently been employed at Melton Asylum, Suffolk.

PARISH CHURCH. 6th Aug. 1915

The Vicar left Swavesey for his annual holiday on Monday, and will be absent for the rest of August. The Sunday services at the parish church will be taken by the Rev. F. Harcourt Hillersdon, Rector of St. Mary-le-Strand, London, who will also take the weekly intercession service on Thursdays at 8 p.m. Mr.

Hilliersdon is a Justice of the Peace for London, a member of the Westminster City Council, and was Mayor of Westminster in 1909-1910.

HOW TO FEED A COW. 6th Aug. 1915

Mr. W. Mustill, miller, last week adopted a somewhat novel method of feeding a cow. The cow and a horse shared a field near Taylor's-lane and fed from the same manger, but one day the horse would not allow the cow to have its share of fodder, and ate it all himself. Mr. Mustill thereupon put a nosebag full of food on the cow, which fed contentedly, and soon emptied the bag. The horse retired in the sulks to a far corner of the field.

SUNDAY BOATING. 6th Aug. 1915

Four lads dressed in their Sunday clothes went for a walk by the river last Sunday afternoon, and seeing an empty boat moored alongside the bank, they must needs take French leave and go for a row. When well under weigh the owner of the boat appeared on the bank, and his observations so much frightened the lads that three of them promptly jumped out of the boat into the water, one having some difficulty in reaching dry land. One youth, it is reported, did not get home until after his parents had gone to bed. He had done his best to dry his clothes by hanging them on a fence, but was not entirely successful, for his mother when putting them away next day found them still damp and covered with slimy weeds. She had not heard of her son's adventure.

IMPROVED FRUIT TRAIN ARRANGEMENTS. 6th Aug. 1915

Before the fruit season commenced this year the growers were anxious as to the ability of the railway companies to deliver their fruit at the various markets, on account of military exigencies. There have, it is understood, been a few complaints of late delivery, but as a whole this year's working has given general satisfaction. On Tuesday the Great Eastern Railway Company, to further expedite the working of the fruit traffic to the North, commenced running an additional fruit train from the district. The first train leaves St. Ives about 5 p.m. with produce from the Sutton branch and St. Ives. A second train starts from Cambridge at 3.25 p.m., and picks up fruit at Histon, Oakington, Longstanton, and Swavesey, leaving the last-named station at 5.15 p.m., and running direct to March. Hitherto the traffic from the two districts has been joined together at St. Ives, and a certain amount of delay has resulted. In order to reap the full benefit of the improved service growers would be well advised to deliver their fruit at the stations in good time.

THE RECENT GARDEN FETE. 6th Aug. 1915

The total amount received at the recent garden fete in aid of the French Relief Fund and local Red Cross Hospital was £50 7s. 9d. The services of the band were secured mainly through the generosity of Mrs. Jaques and Mr. William Thorp.

WAR ITEMS. 13th Aug. 1915

Sapper S.F. Mitham, R.E., whilst engaged in erecting buildings at a base camp in France, has been struck in the eye by a splinter of metal, and has been in hospital. He is progressing favourably. Mr. Horace A. Corbett, well known in Swavesey and neighbourhood, has joined the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve (Anti-Aircraft Corps).

ROLL OF HONOUR. 13th Aug. 1915

Some misapprehension appears to exist as to the Swavesey Roll of Honour, and the number of men from the parish serving in the King's Forces. The Roll includes (a) the names of 23 men who have joined the Navy or Army since the outbreak of war, and who were resident in the parish when they enlisted; (b) ten residents who were called up on mobilisation, viz., four Reservists and six Territorials; (c) three men with homes in Swavesey who were serving when war was declared; and (d) 42 non-residents (natives, non-natives with homes in Swavesey, and a late resident). The different groups are shown separately in the official Roll of Honour in High-street. Of the 42 non-residents one has been killed in action in France, and seven are serving with the Overseas' Contingent (six Canadian and one New Zealand). No resident has enlisted since the 15th February. The second sheet of the official Roll of Honour has been blown down and badly damaged during the recent storms. It will be replaced shortly.

NATIONAL REGISTRATION. 20th Aug. 1915

The work of taking the National Register has been duly carried out this week in Swavesey by the enumerators, Messrs. A. Day. Jun., and S. Burling, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Day.

WAR ITEMS. 20th Aug. 1915

Trooper Herbert Wilderspin, jun., Northants. Yeomanry, spent last week-end with his parents in Swavesey. He joined his regiment on the 5th August, 1914, on mobilisation, and went with it to France. He suffered from frostbite, fever and rheumatism, and after some time in hospital in France was removed to the First Southern General Hospital at Birmingham, proceeding thence to Droitwich for special treatment for rheumatism. He returned to Droitwich on Monday.

LARGE PLUMS. 27th Aug. 1915

Mr. W. H. Key, of Top Leys Cottage, has been gathering Victoria plums this week which have averaged six plums to the lb.

RYDER'S FARM. 27th Aug. 1915

The Swavesey Conservative and Unionist Association has this week given up possession of Ryder's Farmhouse, which has been its headquarters since 1911, having been generously lent to the Association rent free by Mrs. Long and the late Mr. J. B. Ellis. The Association will remain in existence, but, of course, during the war has suspended its activities.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 27th Aug. 1915

Lance-Corpl. Cyril Day, Northants. Yeomanry, son of Mr. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, Swavesey, arrived in Swavesey by the first train on Monday morning on a short leave of absence from the Western front. Lance-Corpl. Day joined his regiment on mobilisation on 5th August, 1914, and has been at the front for many months.

ACCIDENT. 3rd Sept. 1915

Arthur Prior, a schoolboy, eldest son of Pte. A. Prior, 1/1st Cambs., now "Somewhere in France," met with an accident whilst working at Manor Farm, Boxworth, on Tuesday. He was leading a mare drawing a cart containing a stacking ladder. With the mare was a foal. On entering the farmyard the mare lost sight of the foal, and suddenly bolted, knocking down the boy. The cart-wheel passed over the boy's ankle and severely bruised his leg. He was promptly taken to his home at Boxworth End, Swavesey, by Mr. E. H. Thornhill in his motor-cycle side-car. Efficient first-aid was rendered at Swavesey by Mrs. H. S. Aldred and Miss Day, two V.A.D. nurses attached to the Swavesey Red Cross Hospital. Fortunately no bones were broken. It is reported that Pte. A. Prior is lying ill in France.

WEDDING. 10th Sept. 1915

WALKER – WILDERSPIN.

A wedding of considerable local interest took place at the parish church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, on Thursday, 2nd instant, when Mr. Percy Walker, third son of Mr. George Walker, of Houghton Hill, Huntingdon, was married to Miss Emma Wilderspin, of Swavesey. The Rev. F. Harcourt Hillersdon, rector of St. Mary-le-Strand, London, officiated, in the unavoidable absence of the vicar of Swavesey.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly dressed in ivory silk eolienne. She wore a veil, that worn by her mother, and a wreath of orange blossom, and carried an ivory-bound prayer book, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Alice Wilderspin, and her cousin, Miss Ethel McCann, of London, who wore white embroidery dresses, with hats to match. Mr. Frank Walker, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The wedding was a very quiet one, owing to the war, the illness of one of the bride's brothers, contracted whilst on service at the front in France, and the very recent death of a cousin of the bride in the Dardanelles.

The happy couple left Swavesey by the 7.39 p.m. train for Soham, where they will reside. The bride's travelling dress was of gabardine cloth, with a vieux rose hat.

(List of presents in report.)

PROMOTION. 17th Sept. 1915

Second Class Air Mechanic Albert A. Girling, who joined the Royal Flying Corps early last January, and has been in France for the past seven months, has been promoted to First Class Air Mechanic.

SCHOOL RE-OPENED. 17th Sept. 1915

Swavesey National School resumed work on Monday last, after the harvest holidays. The Headmaster, Sergt. C. Wood, is serving with the 23rd Royal Fusiliers (1st Sportsmen's Battalion).

SWAVESEY AIR MECHANIC'S LETTER. 17th Sept. 1915

Writing to his parents in Swavesey, Air Mechanic A. A. Girling, Royal Flying Corps, somewhere in France, says: "I have just received a letter from G. Dean (another Swavesey young man in the R.A.M.C.), enclosing some newspaper cuttings from Swavesey, etc. Tell dad I often think of what a time we would have together shooting in the fields here. They seem to be getting on very well with the harvest out here. They use the same kind of machines as you. Things are still about the same out here. We are living close to a village now, so we are able to buy several different things. You can put what you like in your next parcel. The last one was very nice. I have had several flights in an aeroplane; most of them have been for engine tests, and I have been up two or three times on patrol after Germans, with a machine gun; it is quite exciting.

But you need not worry, as I am quite all right, and am likely to be, as far as I can see."

In a later letter the writer says: "The machine I am on had a duel in the air with a German. It was simply covered with bullet holes. The pilot had one through his stocking, but he did not seem to care a jot."

EVERY LITTLE HELPS. 24th Sept. 1915

Gleaners in the Swavesey cornfields have been unusually numerous this year, and all have done exceptionally well.

DR. ELLIS'S SON PROMOTED. 24th Sept. 1915

The "London Gazette" of the 20th September contains the following announcement:- Royal Army Medical Corps, East Anglian Field Ambulance, Lieut. R. Ellis, M.B., to be Captain (April 1st)." Capt. Ellis is the son of Dr. J.W. Ellis, of this place.

WEDDING. 27th Sept. 1915

The marriage of Pte. Samuel John Froment, A.S.C., son of Mr. Arthur John Froment, High-street, Swavesey, and Miss Mabel Warren, daughter of Mr. Hue Warren, Newbridge, Monmouthshire, took place at Woodbridge, Suffolk, on the 15th inst. The bride, who was given away by Mr. W. Cattermole, wore white silk, with hat to match, and was accompanied by two bridesmaids. Mr. H. Eastwood acted as best man. The honeymoon, brief on account of the bridegroom's military duties, was spent at Newbridge. The happy couple have received numerous useful wedding presents. Pte. Froment was well known in the Swavesey district as a cricketer and footballer, and prior to his joining the Army was engaged at Melton Asylum, Suffolk, mainly in connection with games.

WOUNDED. 1st Oct. 1915

News has reached Swavesey that Private Frank Beaumont, 7th London Regt., has been wounded. Private Beaumont, who is a clerk in the Civil Service, enlisted soon after the outbreak of war, and has been with his regiment on the Western front for some months.

REGISTRATION EXPENSES. 1st Oct. 1915

Mr. Romer Macklin, the officer appointed to certify the expenses incurred this year by overseers in the preparation of the lists of Parliamentary, county, and parochial electors of the parishes usually dealt with at the Revising Barrister's

Court at Swavesey, attended at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Tuesday, for the purpose of certifying overseers' expenses.

SWAVESEY MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE. 1st Oct. 1915

Writing to a friend in Over from "Somewhere in France," Trooper Frank Hepher, Northants. Yeomanry, youngest son of Mr. Samuel Hepher, Swavesey, says:-

"I must tell you I had a very lucky escape from being hit by shell this week. A party of us went to a certain place not far from the firing line. We rode up on our horses as far as we dared, and then walked the rest. Four of us were left behind to look after the horses, and I happened to be one of the four. We put the horses under some trees to shelter from a German aeroplane, which was flying over, but I think the aviator must have seen us, for about half an hour afterwards, when we had watered the horses and got nicely seated down, a 'J. Johnson' came over, falling in the next field. We did not take much notice of this, but after about a quarter of an hour another came over and dropped in the same field as we were in, and only about thirty yards away from us. How we managed to escape being hit, God only knows; it seemed as if we were so close to the shell that the pieces went clean over our heads. The horses nearly went mad and we thought we had better make a move, for shells were coming over wholesale. We got on our horses as quick as we could. You can guess what a job we had with four horses each, and they nearly mad. We managed to get on somehow. The shells were still dropping around, and we galloped out of it as hard as we could. It was a case of every man for himself, and I can tell you we were not long before we were out of it. However we and all the horses got away safe, I don't know. I expect, as usual, it was our luck, but I think it was the tightest fix I have yet been in. You can guess what it is like to have four horses to get away at a time like that. I was riding my own, and got the other three on one side, and we didn't let the grass grow under our feet."

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 8th Oct. 1915

Private J. W. Goad, Army Service Corps, arrived in Swavesey by the first train on Tuesday morning from the Western front. Although unexpected, he had a warm reception. He is in excellent health.

ACCIDENT. 8th Oct. 1915

About 3 p.m. on Wednesday, whilst coupling trucks laden with sacks of oats at Church Farm, Boxworth, Mr. Stephen Seekings, of Wallman's-lane, Swavesey, was severely crushed. The traction engine was gently backing one truck, when the draw bar was accidently dropped, and Mr. Seekings was caught between the two trucks. He was taken on one of the trucks to his home in Swavesey, where first aid was promptly rendered by P.C. Jaggard, who was on duty with the Inspector of Weights and Measures, and P.C. Smith. The unfortunate man's collar bone and ribs have been broken. He is being treated at home.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 8th Oct. 1915

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the parish church on Thursday, 30th ult. The chief service was in the evening, when the Rev. S. T. Adams, Vicar of Holy Sepulchre Church, Cambridge, preached. The church was effectively decorated and there was a fairly good supply of fruit and vegetables, which, as usual, were sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. The festival services were continued on Sunday. The collections on Thursday and Sunday morning were in aid of Addenbrooke's, and amounted to about £7. On Sunday afternoon there was a children's flower service at the Mission Church, Boxworth End, the children's contributions of flowers, fruit, etc., being sent, in accordance with custom, to the St. Ives Infirmary.

MICHAELMAS FLITTING. 15th Oct. 1915

There has been an unusually large number of removals in Swavesey this Michaelmas, mainly from one house to another in the village. There are still about a dozen empty houses in the village.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING. 15th Oct. 1915

On Thursday week a successful harvest thanksgiving service was held in Bethel Chapel, which presented a very pleasing appearance, the contributions of fruit, flowers, vegetables, honey, eggs, etc., being most liberal. These kind gifts were most thankfully received, and afterwards sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. Tea was served in the schoolroom at 5.30, when a large number of friends – including, by special invitation, 18 wounded soldiers from our Red Cross Hospital – sat down, the company overflowing into the chapel. Trays were presided over by Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. J. Day, Mrs. B. Prior, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. Canham, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. W. Savage, and Miss Nellie Prior. The evening service was held at 6.30, when the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, of Fleet, a former pastor, was the special preacher. There was a good congregation, and the offertory for the Church Renovation Fund was most encouraging.

WONDERFUL ESCAPE. 15th Oct. 1915

Private Frank Beaumont, son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, Swavesey, who was wounded in the big fight near Loos at the end of last month and is now a patient at the 3rd Southern General Hospital, Oxford, had a marvellous escape from death or being held as a prisoner. After he had been shot and had lost his rifle, he made his way towards the rear in search of a dressing station. By mistake he entered a trench occupied by Germans who were firing on our men from the rear. They took Pte. Beaumont prisoner, and after searching him were humane enough to bind up his wounded arm. He was then put on one side to await eventualities. Before long a shell fell into the trench, and killed two or three Germans, and a part of Beaumont's own regiment appeared on the scene with bombs. The remaining Germans bolted, and Pte. Beaumont was able to get back to the dressing station without further mishap.

PARISH COUNCIL. 15th Oct. 1915

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Tuesday evening. Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman) presided, and the other councillors present were: Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. S. Goad, R. Norman, A. T. Scard and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). After the minutes of the previous meeting, held on May 10th, had been passed, the question of lighting the street lamps in the village during the coming winter was considered. – The Chairman stated that he had been approached by the police, who suggested that the lamps should not be lighted, and after a short discussion it was unanimously agreed that the lamps should not be used this season. – Mr. George Clarke, last year's lighting contractor, called the attention of the Council to certain lamp glasses which had been broken and for which he maintained he was not responsible. – The Chairman thanked Mr. Clarke for bringing the matter forward, and assured him that the Council did not hold him responsible. – Attention was also called to the unsatisfactory condition of the shed on the parish property in High-street, in which the lamps, etc., were stored, but the Chairman held that the subject could not be gone into at that meeting. – Mr. W.J. Hepher's lease of a shop, buildings, etc., on the High-street parish property having expired, it was unanimously resolved to grant him a fresh lease for seven years at a somewhat higher rental subject to certain conditions, which Mr. Hepher accepted. – Mr. Goad complained that pipes, etc., connected with the new public water supply were still cumbering the parish pond and were a danger to any animals which might be pounded therein. As the District Council said it was the Parish Council's responsibility, Messrs. R. Norman, Scard and Twist volunteered to remove them to the Council's property in High-street. – It was unanimously decided that the Clerk should apply to Messrs. Thurston for the sum they agreed to pay for the exclusive use of the Recreation Ground during Swavesey Feast in May. – Mr. Alfred Day, jun. was elected to replace Mr. Edward Clark who had retired from the Council.

RASPBERRIES. 22nd Oct. 1915

Good-sized raspberries are to be found on more than one of the new small holdings in Mill Field and Witton Meadow.

PARISH CHURCH. 22nd Oct. 1915

In consequence of danger from an air-raid the evening service at the Parish Church on Sunday next will be held at 5.30 p.m. instead of at 6.30 p.m., the usual hour.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 22nd Oct. 1915

Bombardier Henry Carter, R.F.A., arrived in Swavesey on Thursday in last week on short leave of absence from the Western front, and received a hearty welcome from his friends. He was a Reservist, called up on mobilisation in August, 1914, and proceeded immediately to France, where he has been ever since. He was in the retreat from Mons, and has had many a thrilling experience, but so far has escaped without a scratch or a day's illness.

LOCAL PAPER APPRECIATED. 22nd Oct. 1915

Writing last week to a relative in Swavesey from the Western front, Trooper Peter Ding, Essex Yeomanry, son of the late Mr. Joseph Ding, Swavesey, says: "I should tell you what I should like if it's no trouble to you, and that is the Cambridgeshire paper just to see how you are getting on about there." He added that his regiment had been up in a hot quarter of the fighting line, but he was pleased to say they had returned with a very slight casualty list.

THE WATER SUPPLY. 22nd Oct. 1915

On Sunday morning, when the village housewives were preparing dinner and engaged in other domestic duties necessitating the use of clean and pure water, their arrangements and their tempers were sadly upset by the water from the new public supply pipes suddenly becoming thick with sand or some other matter, and reddish in colour. As time went on the water became clearer. The same thing happened on a Sunday morning two or three weeks previously. It is thought that if it is necessary to flush the pipes some kind of public notice should be given, or at any rate a more convenient time, so far as the users are concerned, chosen.

LIGHTS OUT. 22nd Oct. 1915

A correspondent writes: The present lighting restrictions are somewhat anomalous. Our street lamps are not to be lighted this winter by request of the police, and our railway station is in total darkness. These precautions are being taken as a safeguard against Teutonic air-raiders carrying bombs, but they are to a great extent neutralised by lights from houses, shops and other buildings. Some house-holders who carefully pull down their blinds seem to overlook the fact that white blinds are worse than useless for obscuring the light from lamps, especially when the lamp is placed near the window. Cannot our county authorities complete their work and issue such instructions as will result in our villages really being in darkness?

MOTOR ACCIDENTS. 22nd Oct. 1915

Within the last few days three motor accidents have happened on the Huntingdon-road in the neighbourhood of Swavesey. On Wednesday evening in last week two motor cars pulled up near the road leading to Lolworth owing to something having gone wrong with one of them. A taxicab from Peterborough shortly afterwards came up behind, and safely passed one car, but in attempting to avoid a collision with the other, which apparently he had not seen, he made a sharp swerve which brought the taxi on to the grass, and a broken wheel resulted. – On Saturday evening a motor cyclist, proceeding towards Cambridge, when, near Soldiers' Drove, ran over a dog, and was overthrown, cutting his face and eye. – On Sunday afternoon a motor car, said to have been driven by a lady, collided with the bridge over the main drain or brook which runs under the Huntingdon-road at Soldiers' Drove, and narrowly escaped a serious smash. The car swerved round into the Drove, and ran over a cutting into the brook used for draining water. As far as is known a bent axle was the only damage.

SWAVESEY MAN KILLED. 22nd Oct. 1915

Another Swavesey man has made the great sacrifice. In the casualty lists published on Friday last the name of Corpl. Watson Trundley, 1st Royal Scots Fusiliers, appeared amongst the killed on the Western Front. Corpl. Trundley, who was 29 years of age, was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Trundley, of Askew-row, Swavesey. He was a Reservist, having taken his discharge when his battalion was in South Africa, and when the war broke out he was employed on railway work in Natal. About a month previously he had married. He immediately obeyed the summons to rejoin the colours and leaving his young bride behind he hastened to the depot of his regiment in Scotland, and had soon found himself in the thick of the fighting in France and Flanders. On the 29th June he re-visited Swavesey after an absence of nine years; a few days later he returned to the front. During his brief visit Watson Trundley was bright, soldierly and cheerful. He admitted that his regiment had had a rough time and had sustained heavy losses, but of his own experiences and adventures he would say never a word. At Victoria Station, however, when his friends were bidding him farewell, a comrade rushed up, shook his head and rifle, and shouted, "This is the boy that does the deeds."

"OUR DAY". 29th Oct. 1915

A collection made on "Our Day" at the National School in aid of the Red Cross Society resulted in 7s. being sent to the headquarters of the society in London.

PARISH CHURCH. 29th Oct. 1915

A sermon on behalf of the Church of England Temperance Society was preached last Sunday morning at the Parish Church by the vicar. The collection for the society realised £1. In order to comply with the new lighting order issued by the Secretary of State the evening service was held at 3 p.m. instead of at 5.30 p.m., as announced in these columns last week. Notwithstanding the somewhat inconvenient time there was a good congregation. On Sunday next evensong will be at 3 p.m.

PROPOSED EARLIER CLOSING. 29th Oct. 1915

It is understood that the proprietors of the four grocery and drapery establishments in Swavesey have been for a time considering the question of closing their shops for a time at 6 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays. We are informed that three were in favour of the earlier closing, but that one could not see his way to fall into line. No alteration will therefore be made at present. In view of the very stringent lighting restrictions now in force, it would appear unfortunate that the proposal could not have been adopted.

TRAFALGAR DAY. 29th Oct. 1915

On the 23rd inst., the 110th anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar was duly kept in Swavesey National School. A Union Jack was hoisted outside the building, and the rooms were decorated with flags taken by the children. Lessons all day had special reference to the great event. In the morning, Mrs. Wood, who was in charge of the large room, dealt with the life of Nelson and the battle of Trafalgar, and showed the children a copy of "The Times" newspaper, published in 1805, containing dispatches concerning the battle. In the afternoon the special feature was the singing of the "Death of Nelson," "Rule Britannia," and "God save the King."

PARISH COUNCIL. 29th Oct. 1915

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. Day, jun., and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). Mr. A. Day, jun., signed the statutory declaration on taking office as councillor in place of Mr. Edward Clark. Mr. Twist called attention to the dilapidated condition of the gate to the parish property in High-street, and it was decided that the necessary repairs should be carried out by Mr. S. Challis, under the supervision of Councillors Twist and Burton. Two tenders for the hire of land and buildings, the property of the parish, in High-street, were opened. Mr. A. Day offered 21s., and Mr. W. J. Hephher 26s. a year. The latter's tender was unanimously accepted, the tenancy to commence on 11th inst., and to be for three years. The Clerk reported that he had written to Mr. Thurston, the roundabout proprietor, of Stansted, in accordance with the resolution passed at the Council last meeting, asking him for payment of the sum of £2 for the exclusive use of the recreation ground at Swavesey Feast in May. No reply had, he said, been received from Mr. Thurston. After some discussion it was unanimously resolved that the Clerk should again apply to Mr. Thurston for payment.

DEATH OF A SEPTUAGENARIAN. 29th Oct. 1915

After an illness of three years' duration, borne with great patience and resignation, Mr. William Day passed away on Saturday last at his residence in Carter's-lane, Swavesey. Mr. Day, who was 75 years of age, was a native of Swavesey, being a son of the late Mr. Samuel Day. In early life he was in business in Swavesey as dealer and farmer. In 1875 he migrated to London, and for many years held the responsible position of foreman in the business of Mr. William Perkins, carman and contractor, Camden Town. Six years ago he returned to Swavesey, and lived in retirement. He leaves a widow, one son and two daughters, for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon in Swavesey Cemetery. The Rev. J. Easter, of Over officiated, both at the house, where the first part of the burial service was taken, and at the graveside. The chief mourners were:- Mrs. William Day (widow), Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Day (son and daughter-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. A. Brown (daughter and son-in-law), Miss N. Day (daughter), Miss A. Day (granddaughter) and Mr. H. W. Day (grandson). Pte. E. W. Brown, 2nd Canadian Contingent, and Sergt. A. Brown, Seaforth Highlanders (grandsons) were unable to be present, the former being in Flanders and the latter lying wounded in hospital at Bramley, Surrey. Sergt. Brown was wounded in the great advance on Loos and the Hohenzollern Redoubt on September 25th. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Walter Thorp, Swavesey.

RENT AUDIT. 5th Nov. 1915

Mr. S. W. Crisp, Brooklands, held his rent audit supper on Tuesday evening.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 5th Nov. 1915

Mr. Sidney W. Wright, Askew-row, Swavesey, enlisted in the Bedfordshire Regiment on Tuesday. He is a married man with five children. Prior to this no Swavesey resident had enlisted since 15th February last.

A WELCOME VISITOR. 5th Nov. 1915

Lieutenant James Bowd, Quartermaster, 2/5th Lancashire Fusiliers, spent a few hours in Swavesey, his native village, on Tuesday. After seven months on active service in France he was home on a few days' leave.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 5th Nov. 1915

Lce.-Corpl. Jack Wilderspin, 4th Canadian Battalion, arrived in Swavesey on Wednesday on short leave from France. At midnight on Sunday he was in a listening post within one hundred yards of the German trenches.

FOR BELGIAN SOLDIERS. 12th Nov. 1915

A collection has been made in Swavesey by the Misses G. and E. Bartley on behalf of the Belgian Soldiers Fund to provide comforts of food and clothing for the gallant Belgian Army. Upwards of seventy persons subscribed, and the sum of £3 14s. 6d. has been sent to the head office of the fund, 19 James-street, London, W.

A SPORTSMAN'S DILEMMA. 12th Nov. 1915

A Swavesey sportsman, accompanied by a little boy, went shooting the other day. They had a kite with them with which to frighten the birds, but unfortunately there was wind and the kite would not fly. After many attempts the sportsman remarked to the boy, "We want the bellows," and the little fellow ran off home, and soon returned with the kitchen bellows!

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 12th Nov. 1915

Private Walter Neal, 1st Bedfordshire Regiment, arrived in Swavesey on short leave from France on Sunday evening. He joined the 3rd Battalion on mobilisation in August, 1914, and was transferred to the 1st Battalion at the front on the 11th November last. He was in the great attack on Hill 60 in April, but escaped personal injury, though a piece of shrapnel went through his cap. He is in excellent health, and, in fact, looks better and stronger than he did in August 1914. He returns to the front to-morrow. (Saturday).

A SWAVESEY MAN'S EXPERIENCE. 12th Nov. 1915

In a letter received lately, Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, of Swavesey, says:-

“We went out on the Saturday to – , a little village about 20 miles from the firing line, to get ready for some troops. We could hear the guns during the advance quite plainly. We had to billet in an old brick factory; I and another fellow slept on the top of some boilers. On the Monday the officer came and stopped all work on account of this advance, I think. In the afternoon we had to go to a small village about a mile away and strip the camp there. The next day ten of us and an officer had to go to another village to strip another camp, about eight miles from – .

“We got this done, and then waited for the transport to come up and pick us up. We waited until dark, and no transport came, so then the officer had to find somewhere for us to sleep. He went to a farmer, and he gave us permission to sleep on some hay in a barn. We had no rations, and had to go to a cafe to buy our meals. We waited the next day, and still no lorries came. Two were sent for us from Boulogne, but they lost the name of the place and couldn't find us, so they had to return to Boulogne.

“About 7 o'clock Lieut. – came out and he found us. He ordered us to march back to – that night. It was pouring with rain, and we had no great coats, but our bedding and things were there. We got back about 9 o'clock drenched to the skin. Next day two more lorries were sent; one of them got lost, but the other found us about 4 o'clock. We loaded up our bedding and started for Boulogne; got about two miles out, coming down a hill, the driver lost control of his machine, ran into a ditch and shot us all out. Luckily no one was seriously hurt. I certainly hurt one of my hands. Well, then we had to march back to – for the night.

“We managed to get back to Boulogne all right on Friday, and I reported sick at once, and came in here (a hospital). (Sapper Mitham had previously hurt his hands and blood poisoning intervened. He has now returned to duty.) We had a big day here this morning. General Joffre has been decorating six French and two English soldiers with I think the Legion of Honour medal – right on the promenade just opposite this hospital. We had a splendid view of it all.”

‘TURKS BETTER THAN GERMANS.’ 12th Nov. 1915

Writing from Gallipoli under date October 15th, a Swavesey young man says: “Just a few lines to let you know that there are still some Swavesey lads out here doing our bit. There are two of us, and both of us have been to France now. Now we are doing our little bit out here. We think the Turks are a lot better fighters than the Germans. Their tactics are clean, and that goes a long way. We have had no gas out here yet, and are living in hopes of getting none. The weather is getting more cold now; we can’t expect it to be hot always; we had enough of it a few weeks ago. I hope all the local lads have joined the Army, as I am afraid we shall need all their help. Things are very quiet out here at present; I suppose it is only a lull before the storm again. One gets quite used to shells for dinner out here. For my own part I think it is worse than France.”

NARROW ESCAPE. 19th Nov. 1915

A sheet and clothing which were being aired in front of the fire in the tap-room at the Bell Inn on Thursday afternoon in last week were found to be well alight by Mrs. Jethro Linford, the wife of the licensee. She promptly seized the burning articles and threw them to the fireplace. The only loss or damage was the destruction of these things and the blistering of some paint.

OBEYING THE CALL. 19th Nov. 1915

Three members of the staff at Swavesey railway station presented themselves for enlistment in Cambridge on Monday. Two of them, Messrs. F. Hayward (signalman) and Samuel Trundley (porter) were accepted, but after enlistment were returned to their railway duties to wait until called up. The third, Mr. T. Harris, booking office clerk, was unfortunately unsuccessful owing to physical unfitness.

ACCIDENT. 19th Nov. 1915

About 4.30 last Saturday afternoon, Mr. John Smith, of Trinity College Cottages, lately of Lolworth, was knocked down by a motor cyclist near Lolworth plantation on the Huntingdon-road. He stepped out of the way of a motor cycle and a trap in ignorance of the fact that another motor cycle was close behind him. This machine knocked him down, and his left leg, shoulder and hand were injured. The cyclist, a Huntingdon man, was overthrown, but escaped with a shaking. His machine was slightly damaged.

OBITUARY. 19th Nov. 1915

The funeral of the late Mr. Walter Coulson, only surviving son of the late Mr. James Coulson, blacksmith, of Swavesey, who died on Friday last at the age of 62 years, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar) officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. A. Nixon and Mrs. C. Hephher (sisters), Mr. C. Hephher (brother-in-law), Messrs. J.W., C.G., and A.C. Hephher (nephews), and Mr. George Thorp (uncle). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

ENLISTED. 26th Nov. 1915

Police Constable Jethro Linford, Cambs. Constabulary, eldest son of Mr. Jethro Linford, Swavesey, enlisted on Monday in the Military Police, and proceeded at once to Aldershot. He joined the police force about three years ago, and for the last 2½ years has been stationed at Eltisley.

SUNDAY NEWSPAPERS. 26th Nov. 1915

An alteration has been made in the delivery of Sunday newspapers, of which a considerable number is sold in Swavesey and district. The papers which used to arrive by the last train on Saturday night and by mail-cart on Sunday morning, are now conveyed direct from London by motor on Sunday morning, thus ensuring a later edition.

EVENING PAPERS. 3rd Dec. 1915

Starting on Monday, the "Cambridge Daily News" will be obtainable in Swavesey every evening. This will contain all the latest war news.

OBEYING THE CALL. 3rd Dec. 1915

Five more of the staff at Swavesey railway station have offered themselves for enlistment and have been accepted, but have returned to their railway duties until called up, viz., Messrs. S. Carter (signalman), F. Warrington (goods porter), S. Carrier, H. Wright, and L. Webster (platelayers).

CHRISTMAS COMFORTS. 3rd Dec. 1915

The children of Swavesey National School have contributed and collected the sum of 14s. in aid of the fund which is being raised by the Overseas Club, Aldwych, London, to provide comforts for our soldiers and sailors fighting in various parts of the world. A similar appeal from the club in connection with Empire Day was well responded to by Swavesey children.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 3rd Dec. 1915

First-Class Air Mechanic Albert A. Girling, Royal Flying Corps, only son of Mr. A. Girling, Carter's-lane, Swavesey, arrived in Swavesey on Saturday on short leave from the Western Front. He was in excellent health and spirits, and received a very warm welcome from his relatives and numerous friends. Enlisting in the Flying Corps on January 5th last, he proceeded to France on the 19th of the same month, and has remained there ever since.

A NOTABLE FAMILY. 3rd Dec. 1915

Mr. George Beaumont, third son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, of Swavesey, enlisted in the 14th London Regiment (London Scottish) on the 24th ultimo. He is a clerk in the Civil Service, and since the war has been employed in the War Trade Department, latterly holding the post of Secretary to the Admiralty Sub-Committee. On the 23rd ultimo, he was entertained at a farewell dinner at Simpson's in the Strand by his colleagues, who showed their appreciation of his services and patriotism by presenting him with a gold watch and a silver cigarette case. Sir Adam Block, K.C.M.G., presided and made the presentation. Two of Mr. G. Beaumont's brothers have been serving in the Army, Pte. Henry Beaumont, 7th Canadian Regiment, who has been missing since April last, and Pte. Frank Beaumont, 7th London Regiment, who was wounded on September 25th in the great attack of the famous 47th Division.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 10th Dec. 1915

Gunner A. Coulson, R.M.A., and Pte. F. Kester, A.S.C., have been in Swavesey this week on short leave from the Western front. Both were in good health.

WEDDING. 10th Dec. 1915

The marriage of Miss Mabel Clarke, youngest daughter of Mr. George Clarke, of Swavesey, and Mr. George Lister, eldest son of Mr. Fred Lister, Hertford-street, Cambridge, was solemnised at Swavesey Parish Church on Saturday, 4th inst. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar of Swavesey) officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in white silk, with veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and spray of white carnations, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by two little bridesmaids, Miss Muriel Phipps (her niece), and Miss Margery Lister (sister of the bridegroom). They were prettily dressed in blue silk, with black beaver hats, trimmed with pink satin ribbon streamers, and wore black velvet slippers and cream socks. Mr. Rick Lister (brother of the bridegroom) acted as best man. The happy couple received numerous presents.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 10th Dec. 1915

On Wednesday, December 1st, a draughts match was played between the patients and Lolworth village, the result being a win for the visitors by 21 points to 15 points. The Commandant is pleased to welcome as recruits Miss Capper, Miss E. M. Prior, Miss Peggy Ellis, Miss Wilson, Miss H. Smith (all of Swavesey), Miss Easter (Over), and Miss Brierley, of London 2 V.A.D.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR FIGHTING MEN. 17th Dec. 1915

As a result of a collection made in the village by Miss Joyce Capper, Miss S. Linford, Miss Alice Norman and Miss Walpole, Christmas presents have this week been sent to about 25 Swavesey men serving at the front. It is hoped the parcels will reach the men safely, and that the contents will be enjoyed and accepted as a small token of the keen and sympathetic interest taken by Swavesey relatives and friends in their men folk fighting and suffering hardships in the trenches.

DEATH OF A SEPTUAGENARIAN. 17th Dec. 1915

We have to record the death of Mr. Thomas Coulson, which took place at Friezland Farm on Saturday last, at the age of 74 years. He had been twice married, but had survived both his wives. The funeral took place in Swavesey churchyard on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiating. The chief mourners were Messrs. James Coulson, George Coulson, London, John Coulson, London, and Walter Coulson (sons), Mrs. Radford, Oakington, Mrs. E. Bull, Mrs. R. Bedford, Mrs. Carrier, Wyton (daughters), Messrs. R. Bedford, W. Carrier and A. Radford (sons-in-law), Mrs. James Coulson and Mrs. W. Coulson (daughters-in-law). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 17th Dec. 1915

On Wednesday, December 9th, a whist drive of ten tables, arranged by Nurse Kirby and Orderly N. Robinson, was held in the Hospital, in which staff, patients, and friends took part. The first prizes were won by Nurse Mitham and Sergt. Stocks, "mystery" by Miss Wilderspin, and the "booby" by Nurse Wright and Rifleman Dadds. A bagatelle tournament has been played during the week, the prize-winner being Pte. Evans.

THE EVENING PAPER. 24th Dec. 1915

"The Cambridge Daily News" is on sale in Swavesey every evening after the arrival of the train from Cambridge due at 6.44 p.m. A misconception appears to exist in the village that the "Cambridge Daily News" is not an EVENING paper, and contains later news than can possibly appear in any paper printed and published in London arriving in Swavesey by the same train, notwithstanding that the London paper may be stamped "6.30 edition". It is obvious that a paper printed in London and conveyed to Swavesey in a train leaving Cambridge at 6.20 p.m., must have been printed very early in the afternoon. The "Cambridge Daily News" contains all the news by telegraph and telephone up to the minute of going to press.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 24th Dec. 1915

Private Fred Causer, 7th Suffolks, after a rough time at the Western Front, arrived in Swavesey on short leave last week. He was in the best of health, and received a warm welcome from his friends.

PROMOTION. 24th Dec. 1915

First Class Air Mechanic Albert A. Girling, Royal Flying Corps, has been promoted to the rank of Corporal. He enlisted early last January, and in three weeks was sent to France, being recently advanced from 2nd to 1st class mechanic.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 31st Dec. 1915

Trooper John Taylor, Northants. Yeomanry, has been in Swavesey during Christmastide on short leave from the Western Front. He was in excellent health. Corpl. Cyril Day, Northants. Yeomanry, son of Mr. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, is at home on a month's furlough. He has served his full period of service, but has rejoined his regiment for a further term. He has been in France since November 1914.

THE GALE. 31st Dec. 1915

Some damage was done in Swavesey during the severe gale on Monday. Hats and caps innumerable were whisked away, and many were not recovered until the following day. A large barn in the yard at Ryder's Farm in the occupation of Mr. J. S. Goad, was blown down. In it were some calves, but they escaped injury. Several trees and large branches, including a tree in the Vicarage grounds, near Church Bridge, were also blown down. A fence in Market-street on Mrs. Mitham's property was laid low.

MARRIAGE. 31st Dec. 1915

A wedding of considerable local interest took place at the Parish Church on Monday, when Mr. John Kett Newson, youngest son of Mr. George Newson, was married to Miss Edith C. Linford, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Linford, of Swavesey. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in white voile, with veil and wreath of orange blossom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Sarah Linford, who wore pale blue silk, with black hat trimmed with pale blue feather and cream. Mr. S. Trundley acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents.

PARISH CHURCH. 31st Dec. 1915

Swavesey Parish Church was beautifully decorated for the Christmas festival. The congregations at all services on Christmas Day and on Sunday were good, the attendance at the celebration of the Holy Communion at 6 a.m. on the former day being especially large, and the number of communicants generally was larger than usual. The services were very hearty and the singing excellent. The anthem was splendidly rendered by the choir, both on Christmas afternoon and on the following evening. The preacher on Christmas afternoon was the Rev. W. F. Buttle, organising secretary of the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society, in aid of which society the collections at the 10.30 a.m. and 3 p.m. services on Christmas Day, amounting to £2 2s. 3d., were devoted. The collections throughout Sunday at the Parish Church and at the Mission Church at 6.30 p.m. were for the Sunday School Fund, and realised £2 1s. 2d.

ACCIDENT. 7th Jan. 1916

At Christmas Mr. W. Symonds, whilst milking a cow, was kicked on the arm, and is unable to work, his muscles having been severely sprained and bruised. No bones were broken.

THE GALE. 7th Jan. 1916

Several more trees in the parish were blown down in the gale which raged on New Year's Day, and the remnants of the large barn at Ryder's Farm, nearly demolished on Boxing Day, were laid low.

SUNDAY SCHOOL. 7th Jan. 1916

Prizes for perfect attendance at the Parish Church Sunday School were presented on Sunday morning to Grace Froment, Ethel Culpin, Joe Froment, and Carrie Froment. A large number of other children received 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes.

PRESENTS ACKNOWLEDGED. 7th Jan. 1916

Most of the Swavesey soldiers and sailors on active service abroad to whom a Christmas present was sent, provided by a collection made in the village, have written expressing their gratitude for, and their appreciation of, the kindly thought of their friends.

PILFERING. 7th Jan. 1916

Complaints are made that there is an epidemic of pilfering in the village of cycle accessories and poultry. One villager is stated to have disposed of his stock of poultry on account of the mysterious disappearance of several birds. It is suggested that foxes have no use for bicycle pumps.

COMFORTS FOR CAMBS. SOLDIERS. 7th Jan. 1916

Thirty pairs of socks, mittens, and mufflers, knitted in the village by ladies and school children, for the use of the men in the Cambridgeshire Regt., have been forwarded to the Ladies' Recruiting Committee, County Hall, Cambridge. A warm letter of thanks has been received from Miss Philpott, the secretary.

ARMLETS. 7th Jan. 1916

Very few men in Swavesey are wearing khaki armlets, the reason being, it is alleged, that as the armlets have to be personally applied for in Cambridge, the men are not disposed to "lose time" and pay a railway fare of 1s. 11d. Complaint is also made that some of those enlisted under the Derby scheme have not yet received the 2s. 9d. due to them on attestation.

SOLDIERS THANK CHILDREN. 7th Jan. 1916

Swavesey school children made a collection to provide cigarettes and tobacco for soldiers at the front at Christmas, and sent the money to the fund organised by the Overseas Club. Two cards thanking the children have been received from a corporal and private in the 7th Border Regiment. The corporal wishes the young donors a happy New Year and adds four crosses – presumably to denote kisses.

MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES. 7th Jan. 1916

Bombardier Henry Carter, Ammunition Column, R.F.A., was mentioned in Sir John French's despatch published on New Year's Day, for gallant and distinguished service in the field. Bombardier Carter is the first Swavesey man who has gained this distinction in the present war. He was a reservist, and was called up in August, 1914, on mobilisation. He went to France at once, was in the retreat from Mons, and has seen much rough service since.

DIRTY WATER. 7th Jan. 1916

The dirty condition of the water from the new public water supply pipes is causing grave complaints from and inconvenience to the villagers. Time after time lately the water has not been fit to use. It cannot be drunk unboiled, and when boiled it spoils pots and kettles. The would-be users say they have sufficient dirt on the roads and do not want it in their water. It is suggested that as the local authorities appear to take no interest in the matter an appeal to the Local Government Board might lead to some improvement.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 7th Jan. 1916

The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher has accepted the pastorate of Bethel Baptist Chapel for a term of three years, and commenced his duties on Sunday last. The late pastor left Swavesey 18 months ago, and the chapel has had no regular minister in the meantime. Mr. Ussher and his wife are well known in Swavesey, having been at Bethel some ten years ago. On Sunday Mr. Ussher received a very warm welcome, and the congregations at all services were excellent. Mr. Ussher has recently been doing good work in connection with the Y.M.C.A. Tents at Fleet.

PAROCHIAL TEA. 7th Jan. 1916

The missionary tea, a yearly function in connection with the Parish Church, was held in the National School on Tuesday evening. During the evening a lecture on home missionary work was given by the Rev. E. J. Green, Rector of Horseheath. The proceeds, amounting to about £3 were in aid of the Additional Curates' Society (Home Missions of the Church of England).

INTERCESSION DAY. 7th Jan. 1916

At the Parish Church intercession services were held on Friday at 8, 10.30 a.m., and 3 p.m., and at 6.30 p.m. at the Mission Church, and on Saturday at 10.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m. at the Parish Church. On Sunday the services were 7.30 a.m. (Holy Communion), 10.30. a.m. (Matins and Holy Communion) and 3 p.m. (Evensong). Evensong was also said at the Mission Church at 6.30 p.m. The special form of Intercessory Prayer issued under the authority by the Archbishops was used at all services. The collections throughout were in aid of the British Red Cross Society and St. John of Jerusalem Ambulance Society, and amounted to £4 6s. 2d.

VICAR APPOINTED CHAPLAIN. 14th Jan. 1916

The Vicar of Swavesey, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, has been appointed a temporary chaplain to the Forces. With the sanction of the Bishop of Ely the parish will, during Mr. Sharp's absence, be in charge of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, of Swavesey Manor, lately vicar of Upwood, Hunts.

A PERFECT CURE. 14th Jan. 1916

A Derby recruit from a neighbouring village who had been to Over on Sunday last to get his armlet, on passing through Swavesey on his return journey stated that he had been suffering from a sore throat, but that immediately he put on his armlet his sore throat was cured.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 14th Jan. 1916

Private Arthur James Coulson, 1st Cambridgeshire Regiment, arrived in Swavesey on the 6th instant on short leave from the Western Front. He was in excellent health and full of interesting anecdotes, which were much appreciated by his friends who have enlisted under the Derby scheme. He had a very cordial reception.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST CHAPEL. 14th Jan. 1916

A concert was held in the Primitive Methodist Church on the 6th instant, when solos, duets, readings and recitations were give by members and friends and were much appreciated by a crowded audience. Refreshments were served during the interval. Mrs. A. T. Yaxley presided. The concert realised the sum of £1 2s. towards clearing off the debt on the chapel.

ARMLETS. 14th Jan. 1916

Last Friday a paragraph appeared in the "Weekly News" calling attention to the few men who were wearing armlets in Swavesey. On Saturday morning a notice was posted in the window of Swavesey Post Office intimating that those persons who had been attested by Mr. E. Parish, J.P., in Swavesey, and had not been paid their 2s. 9d., could receive their money on application, between certain hours, to the recruiting officer, Mr. B. Sutton, at Over. The money was duly paid on application and armlets issued. Armlets have also been issued to men who were attested and paid in Cambridge.

GIPSY RECRUITS. 21st Jan. 1916

Two gipsies, well known in the district, have joined the Army within the last fortnight. Wounded soldiers at the Swavesey Red Cross Hospital gave one of them some preliminary drilling, much to the amusement of the villagers.

VICAR'S FAREWELL. 21st Jan. 1916

In his sermons on Sunday last the vicar, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, referred to his approaching absence from the parish whilst serving as a chaplain to the Forces. Mrs. Sharp left Swavesey on Thursday (yesterday) afternoon.

WAR ITEMS. 21st Jan. 1916

Sapper W. Lawson Hepher, 3rd Field Company, Canadian Engineers, son of the late Mr. Jesse Hepher, Registrar of Births and Deaths, Swavesey district, has been staying in the village on short leave from the Western Front. He was in excellent health. He returned on Tuesday. His brother, Wilfred Hepher, 74th Field Company, Royal Engineers, has recently been promoted to the rank of sergeant. He enlisted early in the war, and has been at the Western Front for a long time.

SOLDIER'S WEDDING. 21st Jan. 1916

The parish church of Hilton, Hunts., was crowded on the 29th ulto. for the marriage of Trooper Herbert Wilderspin, Northants. Yeomanry, third son of Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, senior, of Swavesey, and Miss Lavinia Britton, daughter of Mr. Britton, of Park Farm, Hilton. The Rev. R. Granville Monckton, rector of Papworth Everard officiated, and the service was choral. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in white silk, draped with ninon. She wore a bridal wreath and veil and carried a shower bouquet. Attending her was her sister, Miss J. Britton, dressed in pink silk, with black satin hat. Corporal G. Tyler, Hunts. Cyclist Battalion, acted as best man, and both he and the bridegroom were in khaki. After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was held at Park Farm, at which about 40 guests were present. During the afternoon the happy couple left, via St. Ives, for their brief honeymoon, which they spent in London. The bridegroom went with his regiment to the Western Front in November 1914, but in March last was stricken down with frost-bite and fever. After a long spell in hospitals in France and in this country, he returned to his unit in England, having made a good recovery.

PROMOTION. 28th Jan. 1916

Lance-Corporal Cyril Day, Northants Yeomanry, who had been at home on a month's furlough, found on his return to France last week that he had been promoted to the rank of corporal during his absence. Corporal Day's term of service expired in December, but he at once re-engaged determined to see the war through.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 28th Jan. 1916

Trooper Frank Hepher, Northants Yeomanry, youngest son of Mr. S. Hepher, the well-known Swavesey and Cambridge carrier, arrived in Swavesey on short leave from the Western Front on Friday last. He was in splendid health, and had very considerably increased in bulk since he went to France last spring.

ENLISTMENTS. 28th Jan. 1916

The following Swavesey men enlisted under the Derby scheme have passed the final medical tests, and have joined up, viz., Mr. Edward Williams (Suffolk Yeomanry) on Friday last, and Messrs. James William Hepher and James Prime on Monday. Another young man who presented himself on Friday failed to reach the necessary physical standard.

SWAVESEY COLONIALS. 28th Jan. 1916

Two more Swavesey men have joined the Overseas fighting forces. Mr. John Smith, son of Mr. James Smith, Boxworth End, who has been living in Canada, is serving with the Canadian contingent, and is now stationed at Shorncliffe. Mr. James Smith Dean, eldest son of the late Mr. James W. Dean, has written to his mother that he joined the Australian force on the 7th December. Mr. Dean is a veteran, having served through the South African War in the Cape Mounted Police, and was awarded both medals. He went to Australia a few years ago.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 28th Jan. 1916

The united annual meeting of the Swavesey B.W.T.A. and Mothers' Meeting was held at the Friends' Meeting House last week. Mrs. Watts White, who should have presided, was unable to be present owing to illness in her family, and the chair was taken by Miss Martin. Addresses were given by Miss Annie Martin and Mr. Jabez Day, and solos or readings were contributed by Miss Gaunt, Mr. and Mrs. Canham, Mrs. Aldred and Mrs. J. Day. Before closing a collection was taken on behalf of the Swavesey Red Cross Hospital, and realised 12s.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 28th Jan 1916

The annual gathering of the members and seat holders of Bethel Baptist Chapel was held on Thursday in last week. The proceedings began with tea, at which upwards of 50 sat down. The trays were presided over by Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. J. Day, Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. Canham and Mrs. Godfrey. The yearly business meeting followed. The treasurer (Mr. A. Norman) presented the Church accounts, which showed a substantial balance in hand, which is to be devoted to the Chapel Renovation Fund. The Treasurer, in a short speech, extended a hearty welcome to their old friend, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, who had consented to accept the long vacant pastorship. The Sunday School accounts were submitted by Mr. James Prior, the treasurer, and these also showed a balance on the right side. Addresses were given by the Sunday School Superintendent (Mr. H. S. Aldred), Mr. J. Day (secretary), Mr. B. Prior, Mr. G. E. Canham, and Mrs. George Spearman. The very successful gathering was most happily presided over by the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher.

RIVERSIDE NOTES. 28th Jan. 1916

A correspondent writes: - Two riverside incidents which have come to my knowledge within the last few days may amuse or interest some of your readers. A well-known Swavesey man found himself recently at Holywell, and wishing to get home, induced one of the fair sex to ferry him across the river in a boat. The river was in flood and running strongly, and when in mid-stream the lady lost control of her craft, which floated rapidly and helplessly along. The passenger became nervous and excited, and rumour says – no doubt falsely – that he gave himself up as lost. The lady, however, continued the struggle and at length effected a landing near Ducker's Hole, some distance from the ferry. The passenger hurried on to Swavesey, and the lady returning to the Ferry landing place, eventually reached her home in a boat sent to the rescue. – A tree was blown down near Overcote Ferry during the recent gales, and the landlord of the inn proceeded the other day to cut it up. He had sawn off the top branches and one piece of the trunk, and had begun on another cut when he was called away. Shortly afterwards he returned to continue his work, but, to his amazement could find neither the tree nor his saw. He summoned his wife, and her sharper eyes or keener wit solved the mystery. The trunk was standing upright and the saw was still in the cut at the top. The tree, relieved of its top, had sprung back.

JOINED UP. 4th Feb. 1916

Mr. Fred Ding, son of the late Mr. Joseph Ding, left Swavesey for Cambridge and Bury St. Edmund's on Thursday in last week to take his place in the country's fighting forces.

WELCOME GIFTS. 4th Feb. 1916

The churchwardens, as trustees of Payne's Charity, made the yearly distribution of tea, sugar and coal to needy widows and widowers on Saturday last, the anniversary of the birth of the late Mr. Thos. Payne.

AFTER MANY YEARS. 4th Feb. 1916

At the end of last week Mr. Albert Parish removed his coal business from the corner of Black Horse-lane and High-street to his newly-erected quarters at Church End. For nearly 200 years the old premises had been used as a coal yard.

LAST MONDAY NIGHT. 4th Feb. 1916

Extraordinary precautions were taken at Swavesey railway station last Monday night by the stationmaster, Mr. Beales. Swavesey people were stranded in Cambridge and St. Ives. A party of four met casually at Cambridge Station between 8.30 and 9 p.m., and after fruitless negotiations with taxi-cab drivers, who demanded prohibitive charges, were fortunate enough to find the driver of a fly – an ex-Swavesey man – who took them home. Several Swavesey ladies visiting St. Ives reached Swavesey Station about 3 a.m. on Tuesday. A correspondent suggests that several windows in the village might with advantage be provided with darker blinds.

WOMEN AS FARM WORKERS. 11th Feb. 1916

A thorough canvass of the women of the village is being taken to ascertain who, and how many, will undertake work on the land, “till the boys come home.”

PERSONAL. 11th Feb. 1916

Mrs. Charles Wood, wife of the Swavesey Schoolmaster, now a sergeant in the 23rd Royal Fusiliers (1st Sportsmen’s Battalion), and doing his bit on the Western front, presented her husband with a daughter on Wednesday morning. Both mother and child are doing well.

DEATH OF MRS. TOMPKINS. 11th Feb. 1916

The funeral of the late Mrs. Tompkins, wife of Mr. George Tompkins, Middle Watch, Swavesey, who died on the 3rd inst., aged 58 years, after an illness of eight months’ duration, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Monday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The chief mourners were Mr. Tompkins (widower), Miss Harriet Tompkins (daughter), Pte. E. F. Tompkins, Suffolk Regiment (son), Mrs. J. Dodson (sister), Mr. J. Dodson, St. Ives (brother-in-law), and Miss E. Dodson (niece). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey was the undertaker.

DEATH OF AN OLD PARISHIONER. 11th Feb. 1916

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Thomas Brasher, who passed away on Saturday last at the age of 78 years. Mr. Brasher was a native of Swavesey. For many years he had been employed as roadman by the Swavesey Rural District Council, retiring about fourteen months ago owing to failing health. Previously he had worked for the old parish surveyors, and therefore his knowledge of the roads, drains, and jobs of the parish was extensive. He was confined to his bed for only a week. Mr. Brasher leaves one son and three daughters. His wife died twenty-seven years ago. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 11th Feb. 1916

The annual parents' tea and reunion of former scholars of Bethel Sunday School was held at the chapel on Thursday in last week. About forty sat down to an excellent tea at which the tables were presided over by Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. B. Prior, and Mrs. G. Canham. A meeting was held later in the evening, at which the Rev. H.T.N. Ussher took the chair. Speeches, solos and a duet were delivered during the evening. On Sunday the monthly open meeting was held in the chapel. Mr. H. S. Aldred presided, and, considering the weather, the attendance was good. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, gave an interesting address on work in the Y.M.C.A. tents, and Miss M. Gautrey and other friends from Cottenham rendered various musical items.

SPECIAL CONSTABLES. 11th Feb. 1916

A correspondent writes:- In these days of storm and stress and of sudden emergency, one cannot help thinking that every method of precaution should be carefully worked out and put into practice before the sudden emergencies arise. Special constables have, we understand, been appointed throughout the county, and judging from newspaper reports, are doing useful work in some parts, especially in connection with the Lighting Orders. May I ask if any special constables have been sworn in for Swavesey, and if so, whether they are being employed to see that the lighting regulations are being carried out? One policeman, no matter how energetic, cannot possibly keep an effective eye on the whole of an extensive district, besides which he has other duties to perform, but he might be greatly assisted by special constables. What use are special constables unless they act? Many a lighted window infringing the rules is due to thoughtlessness or inadvertence, and not to wilful disregard of the Order, and a timely word of warning from a "special" would be taken in good part by the offending house-holder, and be willingly and promptly obeyed. Bicycle lamps (there is more than one too bright in the district) and back windows in particular require careful watching, and shop doors through which a strong light is projected on to the roadway and on buildings opposite, should not be overlooked.

WAR ITEMS. 11th Feb. 1916

A meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Local Tribunal was held at St. Ives on Monday, at which several applications for relief from military service were dealt with. Intimation of the following promotions has reached the village: Corpl. C. W. Gray, 1st Garrison Battalion, Essex Regiment, to sergeant; Shoeing Smith John Savage, R.F.A., to corporal; and Grenadier Arthur J. Coulson, 1/1st Cambridgeshire Regiment, to lance-corporal. All of these men are at the front. Our Swavesey representative has received letters from Sergt. Gray and Pte. Dean, R.A.M.C., both expressing appreciation of the "Weekly News," which is sent to them regularly. Sergt. Gray, after referring to two items which had appeared in the "Weekly News," adds: "Of course we all have something to tell, but not just now, as you will understand that we have to be censored where we are, 'somewhere near the Dardanelles.'" He says he is well. Private Dean, writing from a base hospital in France, complains that his brother, Mr. James Smith Dean, whose enlistment was announced in our issue of the 28th ult., was wrongly described as having served through the South African War in the Cape Mounted Police, instead of the Cape Mounted Rifles. We gladly make the correction. (There follows a long extract from the "Cambridge News" of 2nd April, 1904 outlining Mr. James Smith Dean's service in South Africa.)

JOINED UP. 18th Feb. 1916

Mr. Arthur J. K. Inglett, son of the late Mr. J. K. Inglett, of Fen Drayton, who has lately been living in Swavesey, "joined up" on Friday last. He is with the 3rd Suffolks.

SNOWSTORM. 18th Feb. 1916

Snow fell heavily during Monday night, and on Tuesday morning the ground was covered to the depth of three or four inches. A rapid thaw succeeded, and by nightfall hardly a vestige of snow remained.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 18th Feb. 1916

The hospital will remain closed for a few weeks longer. Due notice will be given to the staff and orderlies before it is re-opened.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 18th Feb. 1916

Bombardier Henry Carter, R.F.A., who was “mentioned” in Lord French’s despatch published on January 1st, has been in Swavesey on short leave from the Western Front. He was in excellent health. He returned on Monday. Private Arthur F. Welch, Yorkshire Regiment, is at home on furlough. He was wounded early in the war and returned to duty, but was invalided home from the Dardanelles, and has been some time in hospital.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 18th Feb. 1916

A concert was given in the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Thursday, 10th instant, by the St. Ives Primitive Methodist choir. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, Bethel Baptist Chapel, presided, and was supported by Mr. James Kester, junior, the society steward. There was a crowded attendance, and the concert, with a collection, realised just over £2, which has been devoted to the reduction of the chapel debt. Refreshments were served during the interval. Mrs. G. Green, St. Ives, officiated at the harmonium.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 18th Feb. 1916

The Rev. J. F. Cooksey has been elected a manager of Swavesey National School, vice Mr. Robinson Mitham, resigned. Mr. Cooksey will act as chairman and correspondent during the absence of the Vicar on active service. Mr. George Hicks, late of Fenstanton School, has been appointed headmaster of Swavesey School for the period of the war, in the place of Mr. Charles Wood, now at the front with the 23rd Fusiliers. Mr. Hicks is well known in the district, having been in charge of the British (now Council) School at Over many years ago, removing thence to Fenstanton. He retired two or three years since with a well-earned pension, having exceeded his full period of service by two years. Mr. Hicks was a member of the Huntingdonshire Education Committee.

FUNERAL. 18th Feb. 1916

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas Brasher, whose death at the age of 78 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey churchyard on Thursday, 10th instant. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The chief mourners were : Mr. A. Brasher (son), Mrs. W. Howlett, Mrs. C. Walker and Mrs. S. King (daughters), and Mr. W. Howlett, Mr. C. Walker, and Mr. S. King (sons-in-law). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

THE GALE. 18th Feb. 1916

During Tuesday night and on Wednesday a furious gale raged around Swavesey, and considerable damage was done to trees, etc. Three poplar trees on Mr. Robinson Mitham's land in Mow Fen came down during the night, and six more fell on Wednesday. Trees in Mr. Alfred Day's field in Mow Fen also were blown over. Mr. Mitham and Mr. Day lost many trees in previous storms this winter. The greater part of a large tree on Mr. Cole's land, in the occupation of Mr. A. Day, opposite the old Red Lion at Boxworth End, came down during Wednesday, and trees in other parts of the parish suffered. A chimney pot fell from the top of Mr. T. Nicholson's house in Taylor's-lane, and landing in the back yard, did no damage except to itself, and some slates were displaced elsewhere in the village. On Wednesday there were fears of a flood, as all the drains were full, but on Thursday morning it was reported that the water was running away nicely.

EIGHTY-FIVE. 25th Feb. 1916

The venerable Mr. Thomas Prior, who for many years was a deacon at Bethel Baptist Chapel, celebrated his 85th birthday on Wednesday.

MISSING. 25th Feb. 1916

The Parish Magazine (otherwise the North Stowe Rural Deanery Magazine) for February, which is usually distributed at the beginning of each month, has not yet made its appearance in Swavesey, and people are asking whether it has been discontinued or whether the editor has gone on strike.

MUD. 25th Feb. 1916

"A Bespattered Parishioner" writes: On Friday last, in accordance with the practice which has been in vogue for a long time, the roadman scraped up mud in High-street, which he left in heaps till next day to dry. These heaps were, as usual, so placed on the eastern side that persons coming out of houses in the dark, or passing along on their way to the Post Office and shops, walked into them with grim results disastrous to their boots and clothing. Vehicles and horses splashed through them, and the fronts of houses and railings were freely bespattered with liquid mud. Heaps of mud across the entrance to Market-street, on the line of passage from one corner of High-street to the other, are not unknown, and have been the cause of many a hasty word. An elderly roadman complained some time ago that people were so inconsiderate as to interfere with the symmetry of his carefully rounded heaps which he had left for removal next day by kicking them about. So in justice to him, as well as to the public, I venture to ask whether the County Road Authorities would kindly arrange to have the mud heaps when left all night to dry so placed that neither the roadman nor pedestrians are inconvenienced.

RECOGNITION OF PASTOR. 25th Feb. 1916

On Thursday in last week recognition services in connection with the settlement of the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher as pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel were held. At the afternoon service, which was well attended, the congregation, including visitors from other villages, the Rev. M. E. Aubrey, of St. Andrew's-street Chapel, Cambridge, was the special preacher. Tea was provided in the chapel at 5.30 p.m., and was well patronised. The trays were presided over by Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. B. Prior, Mrs. J. S. Goad, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. G. E. Canham, and Miss E. M. Prior. A public meeting followed. The collections throughout the day, with subscriptions and a donation of £2 17s. from the pastor's late church at Oakhurst, amounted to £18 13s. 0½d.

SPECIAL CONSTABLES. 25th Feb. 1916

A correspondent writes:- You were good enough a fortnight ago to publish a communication from me asking whether special constables had been sworn in for the parish of Swavesey, and pointing out how they could render useful service at the present time. We have as yet heard of no steps being taken in the matter. We know, and deeply regret the fact, that Mr. E. Parish, J.P., who is, we understand, our head special constable, has lately been unwell, and this may account for some delay, but we also know that Teutonic air-raiders are not likely to withhold their bombs because of the illness of even so important an official as a head special constable. On the contrary, their past record leads us to think that they would have much pleasure in demolishing his house, especially if they knew it contained a sick man. A rumour has been about for some time that one gentleman has been selected to act as a "special" who resides on the confines of the parish, within a few yards of the parish of Lolworth, and about 2½ to three miles distant from the village of Swavesey, and people not unnaturally are asking of what use he would be in case of sudden emergency. How, for instance, would he be called in the middle of the night? Of course, if the village were smashed up one man with all his limbs complete might come in handy, even if he did arrive after all the damage was done. The resident policeman has to look after the parishes of Swavesey, with an area of 3,982 acres, and Fen Drayton, with 1,492 acres – a total of 5,474 acres – and in addition, we understand, his patrol work occasionally takes him into other parishes. How can one man, however keen and energetic, possibly keep an effective eye on such a large area in times like these? When urgently needed at Swavesey station he might be at Conington, some four miles distant. Intelligent and active special constables, fired with zeal, tempered with discretion, and animated with a sense of fair and level treatment of all, whether rich or poor, would therefore be of the utmost use in our present emergency. We have not heard of our parish constable, a young and active man, having been called in to assist the policeman in his duties under the Lighting Orders. Could not a job be found for him?

POSTAL ALTERATION. 3rd March 1916

On and after Monday next, 6th March, the 6.55 p.m. delivery of letters in Swavesey will be discontinued.

BABIES. 3rd March 1916

During the last three months nine babies have been born in Swavesey, viz., five boys and four girls.

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 3rd March 1916

The Swavesey Rural District Local Tribunal met again on Monday last at the office of the Clerk of the Rural District Council in St. Ives. The proceedings were held in private. It is understood that the Tribunal under the Military Service Act will hold a sitting on Monday next.

SNOW AND WATER. 3rd March 1916

Snow fell at intervals more or less heavily from Tuesday in last week until Monday. On the morning of the 24th ulto. the ground was covered with from six to eight inches of snow, and on Monday morning, after a heavy fall on the previous night, the snow plough was brought into use on the County Council roads. It is said that the recent downfall was the heaviest for 29 years. By Wednesday hardly a vestige of snow remained, but the flood water was rising rapidly. Hundreds of acres of land are inundated in the district, the brooks and drains are full to overflowing, and in places water is running over the banks.

WEDDING. 3rd March 1916

Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel was the scene of a wedding of some local interest on Saturday last, when Mr. Albert Percy Payne, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Payne, of Boxworth End, was married to Miss Sarah Ann Bridgford, also of Swavesey. The Rev. E. Short (pastor) officiated and one hymn was sung. The bride, who was given away by her father, was tastefully attired in navy blue with a cinnamon hat trimmed with old gold silk. She was attended by two bridesmaids, the Misses C. and E. Prior, who wore shantung silk, with black tagel hats trimmed with khaki silk. Mr. Sidney Prime acted as best man. The happy couple were the recipients of numerous useful presents.

VILLAGE GIFT APPRECIATED. 3rd March 1916

Writing to his parents in Swavesey from “somewhere in France” on 22nd February, Staff-Sergt. Fred Stockbridge, North Midland Brigade, R.F.A. (T.F.), says:- I received a parcel about a fortnight ago from friends in Swavesey. It had been following us about hence I did not get it as soon as I ought. Will you please thank the ladies and gentlemen responsible for it, and tell them I liked it very much? Although nearly a stranger to Swavesey, I still was remembered by the friends there. I had to share it with my other sergeants, so you will guess how much it was appreciated, and we all passed the opinion – A 1. It just came when we were a bit short.” The parcel was one of those sent at Christmas by friends in Swavesey to Swavesey men at the front. Subscriptions were collected by the Misses Capper, who also packed and despatched the parcels.

FRIENDS’ MEETING HOUSE. 3rd March 1916

An entertainment provided by members of the Friends’ Meeting House Mother’s Meeting was given on Tuesday evening and was well patronised. Miss Martin presided, and the duties of accompanist were shared between Miss A. Martin and Miss Gaunt. A collection was taken in aid of the funds of the Mothers’ Meeting. (Full report of programme in newspaper)

ACCIDENT AT SWAVESEY STATION. 10th March 1916

PONY AND TRAP ON THE LINE.

About 9.30 on Tuesday morning a trap accident, which might have been attended with more serious results, happened at Swavesey Station.

Mr. William Allen had driven some friends from Fen Drayton to catch the 9.47 a.m. train, in a buggy belonging to Mr. George Butler, of Fen Drayton. He tied the pony to the fence of the garden surrounding the stationmaster’s house and went into the waiting room with his friends. By some means the pony broke loose and ran along the up platform towards Longstanton. The wheel of the buggy caught both outside posts supporting the arcade, slightly damaging the first and breaking the end one off. Fortunately the arcade roof did not fall.

The buggy here lost its wheels, but the pony went on, dragging the body of the vehicle the whole length of the platform and along the line for about 200 yards towards Longstanton, until it caught its hind feet in what may be termed the V of the points connecting the siding with the main line, and fell and lay helpless. The platelayers, who were fortunately at work close by, hurried up, and with the assistance of the station staff, extricated the pony, which was somewhat seriously injured.

Luckily there were no trains about at the time.

HOME AGAIN. 10th March 1916

Private A. White, 1st Cambs., who was struck down with rheumatism in France shortly before Christmas, and has since been in hospital, is now convalescent, and arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday evening on ten days' furlough.

DEATH OF AN AGED INHABITANT. 10th March 1916

We regret to record the death, at the age of 84 years, of Mr. Charles Plumb, which occurred at his residence in Boxworth End, on the 3rd inst.

POSTAL NOTE. 10th March 1916

It may be of service to some of our readers to know that in consequence of restricted postal arrangements due to the war letters, etc., included in the day mail despatched from Swavesey Post Office on weekdays at 1.45 p.m., are not now delivered in Cambridge until the following morning. Day mail correspondence from Boxworth, Conington, Fen Drayton, Elsworth, etc., also falls into the 1.45 despatch.

ON SERVICE. 10th March 1916

Mr. William Harden, who enlisted under the Derby scheme, joined up with his Group on the 2nd inst., and is now serving with the Suffolk Regiment. Two other young Swavesey bachelors, brothers, having attested at the last moment, left the village the next day to take up munition work in a town some 20 or 30 miles distant. One of them had already, it is stated, received notice by post to join up with his class this week.

MUSICAL EVENING. 10th March 1916

Under the auspices of the Swavesey branch of the B.W.T.A., a musical evening was held in the Bethel Chapel. Previous to this there was a meeting of the members of the Association, under the presidency of Mrs. Ussher, at which the "Little White Ribboners" took part. Tea was served in the schoolroom at 4.30 when upwards of 60 friends sat down. The musical evening was well attended, and a well-arranged programme was ably carried out by the White Ribbon choir. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher presided, and gave an interesting and practical address.

PARISH COUNCIL. 10th March 1916

The Swavesey Parish Council met on the 2nd instant in the Infants' School, under the presidency of Mr. Arthur Norman, chairman, and decided to submit to the Justices in Petty Sessions, the names of the following parishioners as those of fit persons to serve the office of parish constable during the ensuing year, viz., Messrs. Charles James Shepperson (the present parish constable), Charles Burling, Bert Hodson, and Sidney Prime. The constable's remuneration was fixed at £1 19s. 6d., less 5s., the estimated annual value of a small piece of land known as "Constable's Rood." The council will meet again very shortly.

WEDDING. 10th March 1916

At Swavesey Parish Church on Monday last Driver Artherius Vigilous Augustine Clowes, 3/L.M.B., A.S.C., son of Mr. Arthur F. Clowes, lay reader of St. James' Church, Hampstead-road, London, was married to Miss Grace Laura Adeline Holmes, eldest daughter of Mr. Harry Holmes, of Swavesey. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was dressed in cream serge trimmed with silk insertion and ribbon. She wore a veil and wreath of orange blossom, and carried a bouquet, the gift of the bridegroom. Accompanying her were three bridesmaids, Miss E. Prior and Misses Gladys and Jennie Holmes – the last two were sisters of the bride and children. The elder bridesmaid was in khaki silk, and the children in pink cashmere trimmed with cream insertion and silk. They wore head-dresses of pink sweet peas and carnations. Mr. Albert Holmes, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The presents, which included a wedding cake, given by Mrs. Praill, of Parkhill-road, London, the bride's late mistress, were numerous and useful.

MORE BABIES. 17th March 1916

Two more babies have been born in Swavesey, a boy and a girl, bringing the total number of recent births up to 11, viz., 6 boys and 5 girls.

JOINED UP. 17th March 1916

Mr. Arthur Parish, third son of Mr. Zachariah Parish, butcher, joined the Royal Engineers on the 9th inst. The name of "Parish" is borne by more than one family in Swavesey, and Sapper Arthur Parish has the distinction of being the first of the name to join the country's forces.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE. 17th March 1916

Mr. Bert Hodson's thatched house in Market-street had a narrow escape last week. Clothing left to air near the fire in a room got alight, and was burning brightly when noticed by a person on the opposite side of the street. The family were in an adjoining room. Fortunately, except to the clothing, little damage was done.

A RUNAWAY. 17th March 1916

A horse drawing a pig float in which were Mr. Walter Spolton, butcher, a boy, and some sheep, took fright at the Turn Bridge on Monday afternoon, and bolted along High-street and Church End for half a mile. When in sight of the railway gates Mr. Spolton managed to turn the animal into the churchyard wall, and so regained control. No damage was done.

THE LATE MR. PLUMB. 17th March 1916

The funeral of Mr. Charles Plumb, whose death at the age of 84 years, was reported last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on the 8th inst. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Howlett, Mrs. Stevens, Miss Parish and Mrs. Hay (nieces), Mr. G. Crane (brother-in-law), Mr. E. Parish, and Miss Ely. Mrs. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. Mr. Plumb was left a widower nearly six years ago, and his only child, a son, died some years previously. He was a native of Brinkley, but had lived in Swavesey or Lolworth for upwards of 60 years. For a considerable period he was foreman to the late Mr. S. A. Daintree, at Lolworth. The latter years of his life were spent in retirement in Swavesey.

STORM. 21st March 1916

The blizzard has been the most severe that has visited the district for very many years, and the damage done is considerable. On the Huntingdon main road many of the poles of the main telegraph line have been blown over, but have been kept from going right down by the wires. Except to St. Ives and Willingham, Swavesey has been cut off by telegraph and telephone from the outer world. On the Great Eastern Railway telegraph posts at the station had to be secured with ropes. All signalling had to be done by hand, and the line was carefully watched and patrolled during the storm and throughout Tuesday night. The train service on Tuesday evening was completely disorganised. The 4.8 p.m. train out of Cambridge arrived at Swavesey only a quarter of an hour after time, but the Midland down express, which should have followed about half an hour later, did not arrive until 8.30, and then stopped at every station. The up "milk" train, due out of Swavesey at 6. 17 p.m., did not arrive until 4 a.m. on Wednesday, but the milk was sent on shortly before 10 p.m. by another train which was running out of course.

All over the parish trees have suffered greatly. Numerous fruit trees are down or damaged in the gardens and orchards, trees in the Cemetery have fallen, a large old tree on Mr. Benjamin Prior's property at Boxworth End has been uprooted and has fallen over the wall of the disused burial ground adjacent. At Trinity College Farm, particularly near the house, many trees are down. The front of the old Manor house is completely blocked with fallen trees, and between the Manor and the station several large trees have gone over. At Church Bridge a tall tree has snapped off some distance up the trunk.

WATER RISING. 24th March 1916

The flood water around Swavesey which had somewhat abated, has, in consequence of the continuous rain, risen very considerably within the last few days.

INTERCESSION SERVICE. 24th March 1916

An address was given by the Rev. R. P. Moline, rector of Cottenham, at the weekly service of intercession at the parish church on Thursday afternoon in last week.

JOINED UP. 24th March 1916

Mr. Henry George Key, baker, High-street, joined the 7th Battalion of the Sherwood Foresters ("Robin Hoods"), T.F., on the 15th instant. He was in Group No. 42.

WORD OF WARNING. 24th March 1916

Certain youths in Swavesey would be well advised if they destroyed the powerful catapults with which they have been amusing themselves and annoying their neighbours lately. Their elders do not appreciate having to run the risk of being struck by fair-sized stones propelled by these weapons, nor do they want their windows broken.

A COMPLAINT. 24th March 1916

The pebble footpath on the western side of High-street is reported to be in a dangerous state. A large number of the stones have got loose and are lying about the road, and the edges of the path have in many places broken away. For some days this week the drain grating near the Post Office has been blocked, with the result that pedestrians run the risk of stepping in the darkness into a pool of dirty water ankle deep. The County Council roadmen have been engaged during the week in laying and rolling fresh granite, or its equivalent, in Middle Watch, and in otherwise tidying up that less frequented part of the village, and it is thought that they might find time to bestow a little attention on the main street, which has, possibly owing to shortness of labour and a desire to economise, been somewhat neglected of late.

SWAVESEY MAN WOUNDED. 24th March 1916

News has reached Swavesey that Private Fred Causer, 76th Suffolks, son of Mrs. Causer of Gibraltar-lane, has been seriously wounded in the back. He is under treatment at a hospital in France.

FROM THE FRONT. 31st March 1916

Corporal Albert G. Coulson, Royal Marine Artillery, arrived in Swavesey last Friday morning on seven days' leave from the Western front. He was in good health.

CONFIRMATION. 31st March 1916

Acting on behalf of the Bishop of Ely, the Right Rev. Bishop Harrison (late of Glasgow) held a confirmation in Swavesey Parish Church last Saturday afternoon. There were 37 candidates. The service was fully choral, and a good congregation attended.

SOLDIERS WANT TO KNOW. 31st March 1916

From letters which have been received it is clear that Swavesey men who are doing their bit out on the various fronts are most keenly interested in news from home. Especially are they anxious to know whether the companions they left behind them who are of military age are doing their duty in the defence of their homes and country, or whether they are shielding themselves behind various pretexts. The man at the front does not appreciate such terms as "starred", "indispensable," or "certified occupation." He says: "So-and-so ought to be out here," and he usually says it in rather strong language.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 31st March 1916

The Roll on which were inscribed the names of men belonging to Swavesey who are serving in the country's Forces during the present war, has at last found a fitting receptacle in which to be shown. The Roll has had a somewhat chequered career. It was first displayed in the early days of the war on a board outside the National School, but after the original compiler, Sergt. C. Wood, 23rd Royal Fusiliers, enlisted, the board having been blown down several times, was mislaid. An effort was made after a while to revive it, and a fresh copy was posted on a temporary board erected on parish property in High-street. This lasted for a time, but wind and rain proved too much, and bit by bit the Roll disappeared, and in a recent storm the board itself vanished from view. Lately the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association has come to the rescue and have had a suitable case with a glass front made by Mr. E. J. Mitham, and have lent it for the Roll. With permission the case has been placed on the wall of the National School under the clock, an excellent position facing the main road.

PROLIFIC HEN. 7th April 1916

Mr. George Crouch, of Boxworth End, has a hen which has laid 184 eggs in about six months.

JOINED UP. 7th April 1916

Mr. Harold Charles Howlett, son of Mr. William Howlett, joined the 3/5th Battalion, Suffolk Regt., T.F., on the 29th ult.

PROMOTION. 7th April 1916

Mr. Thomas Harris, who has been booking office clerk at Swavesey railway station for the past nine years, has been promoted to chief goods clerk at Hunstanton Station. He left Swavesey for his new post on Monday.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 7th April 1916

Sergeant C. Wood, 23rd Royal Fusiliers arrived in Swavesey on Thursday in last week on short leave from the front. He was well and hearty. Sergt. Wood, who in times of peace is headmaster of Swavesey National School, gave the children an interesting address on his war experiences and showed them several souvenirs.

DROVE LETTING. 7th April 1916

By direction of the Rural District Council, the annual letting of the herbage of the Swavesey droveways took place at the White Horse Inn on the 30th ulto. The total amount realised was £3 17s. 6d. less than last year, viz., £22, against £25 17s. 6d. in 1915. The herbage of the recreation ground was let at the same time on behalf of the Parish Council for £3 10s. In 1915 £4 5s. was realised. Mr. C. W. Underwood, of Willingham, was the auctioneer.

FLOODS AROUND SWAVESEY. 7th April 1916

RAILWAY LINE UNDER WATER.

As a result of the blizzard and the previous heavy and persistent rains, the floods in the Swavesey district have been the worst for some 15 years. Hundreds of acres have been inundated and agricultural work has been greatly interfered with. The occupants of Turn Bridge Cottages, near High-street, and of the Railway Gatehouses have had to turn out of their dwellings. In Mow Fen Gatehouse water reached up the staircase and the oven was flooded.

The railway line between the station and the viaduct over the Ouse was covered with water to the depth of six or eight inches above the top of the rails, and all the traffic between Swavesey and St. Ives had to be suspended after the 6.44 p.m. down train on Friday until Sunday afternoon, when the 4.23 p.m. up train was allowed to pass through. The line was not free from water until Tuesday. By excellent management not much inconvenience was caused, as the passenger service between Cambridge and Swavesey, with a few slight alterations, was kept going.

The high road has been flooded near Church Bridge and between the station and Over Bridge, but not sufficient to stop vehicular traffic.

JOINED UP. 14th April 1916

The following Swavesey men have joined up since last Friday: Mr. Alfred Prime, jun., the first Swavesey married man to go up with his group, on Saturday, and Messrs. Charles Samuel Hephher, Robinson Mitham, jun., George Norman and Charles W. Parish (all Suffolk Yeomanry), on Monday. The last four are unmarried men.

SCHOOL STAFF CHANGES. 14th April 1916

The Elementary Education Sub-Committee of the Cambs. Education Committee have resolved that Mr. G. Hicks be engaged as temporary headmaster at Swavesey Church School in place of Mr. C. Wood, who is on military service; and that if and when Mrs. Wood, uncertificated assistant returns to duty, the uncertificated assistant, Miss E. Robinson, be transferred to another school.

ACCIDENT. 14th April 1916

Whilst helping to put her son's donkey into its cart, Mrs. W. Crouch, Boxworth End, met with an accident the other day. She was holding the animal's head, and the reins were not on, when the donkey was startled by a motor van, and broke away, knocking down Mrs. Crouch. The cart wheel ran over her body injuring her ribs and side. The donkey did not run many yards before it was pluckily stopped by Mrs. J. J. Marriott. Mrs. Crouch had to go to Addenbrooke's Hospital on Wednesday.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 14th March 1916

Corpl. George Yorke Goad, of the Suffolks, son of Mr. J. S. Goad, has been home on short leave from the front. Except that he was trouble with shortness of breath due to having been slightly gassed, he was in good health. He is an acting sergeant.

WAR ITEMS. 14th March 1916

Pte. Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, in a letter to his wife, states that he was in the recent famous charge of the Fusiliers, and that he “got through it all right.” Pte. Whybrow was a Reservist, and went to France at the beginning of the war. During the autumn of 1914 he was severely wounded in the abdomen, and was invalided for many months. He returned to France last February. – Corpl. G. Warren B. Wright, of the Hussars, has been promoted to the rank of farrier-sergeant. Writing to Mr. W. Crouch, jun., of Swavesey, he says: “I am in the pink of condition at present. I see by the ‘Weekly’ that there has been plenty of rain about at home. By jingo, we have had some very rough weather here, thunderstorms, rain, wind and snow, but to-day (30th March) it is simply lovely. Well, old chap, I should say it is making a lot of difference to you at your work since all the fellows are having to join up, but I hope and trust that it will finish this year, for I am sure I don’t want another winter out here.” Sergt. Wright has been at the front since the war started. – Corpl. Cyril Day, Northants. Yeomanry, son of Mr. Alfred Day, who has been in France for upwards of a year, has been promoted sergeant.

DUG-OUTS. 21st April 1916

Two enterprising youths have constructed “dug-outs” in the gardens attached to the houses of their respective parents at Boxworth End.

WHY EXEMPT? 21st April 1916

An able-bodied man, apparently of military age, went from house to house in Swavesey on Tuesday, hawking buttons and similar trifles. People not unnaturally asked the question, “Where is the recruiting officer?”

SHEAVES OF HAY. 21st April 1916

A correspondent writes: A publication called “The Dawn of Day” forms part of the North Stowe Rural Deanery Magazine. In the April issue an instalment of an illustrated article on “Women’s Work” appears, and one picture is entitled “Loading the hay cart.” I noticed that the hay is shown as tied in sheaves!

A FIGHTING MAN ON TRIBUNALS. 21st April 1916

Writing from somewhere in France on the 12th instant to our Swavesey representative, a Swavesey man, who has been at the front many months, says: In reading last week's "Cambridgeshire Weekly News" my eye caught the reports of the Local and Appeal Tribunals, as that is a part of the paper we boys out here keep our eyes on and criticise. Well, I think there are some men in Swavesey that everybody might be proud of. The excuses they urged are enough to make one weep. I dare not say in this letter what we think and say about them, but I can tell you we use real soldiers' language.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 21st April 1916

Our Swavesey representative writes: The paragraph headed "School Staff Changes" in last Friday's "Weekly News", which presumably was an extract from the minutes of the Elementary Education Sub-Committee presented at a recent meeting of the Cambs. Education Committee, is considerably out of date, and, moreover, is not strictly accurate. The "Weekly News" of 18th February contained the announcement that Mr. George Hicks had been appointed headmaster of Swavesey National School for the period of the war, in place of Mr. C. Wood, absent on active service. Mr. Hicks commenced his duties on February 14th. As Swavesey National School is a non-provided school, the appointment of the headmaster did not rest with the Education Committee, but with the managers, by whom Mr. Hicks was appointed. Mrs. Wood for family reasons resigned her post as an uncertificated assistant on the 22nd February, and therefore Miss E. Robinson remains at Swavesey undisturbed.

NARROW ESCAPE. 21st April 1916

The house occupied by Mr. Peters near the National School had a narrow escape from fire on Monday night. During the day it appears that there had been some trouble with smouldering soot in the kitchen chimney, but by evening it was thought that all was right. On going upstairs to bed about 10 o'clock Mr. Peters detected a smell of burning, and on feeling the wall of the chimney found it hot. Further indication convinced Mr. Peters, who is a bricklayer, that something was amiss, and he called up his neighbours, Messrs. W. F. and R. Gleaves, and then fetched his employer, Mr. Robinson Mitham. Part of the ceiling of the staircase and adjoining first floor room was pulled down, and the alarming fact was disclosed that the woodwork was alight. The fire was soon extinguished, but if it had not been detected before Mr. Peters retired to rest, he and his family would in all probability have been cut off in the upper rooms, as the staircase must have got alight.

WHAT SOLDIERS SAY. 21st April 1916

Letters have been received this week from two Swavesey men who have been doing their bit “Somewhere in France” for some time, and both express appreciation of the “Weekly News.” One of them says: “I was delighted to see what was in the ‘Weekly News’ about slackers; it was to the point. We boys out here in the trenches, between life and death, as it were, are trying to bring victory as soon as we possibly can. Then to think of those slackers at home! – well, I can assure you it makes one feel a bit dull at times. We boys are as happy and cheerful as we can be, trying to do our little bit in the great struggle, and we are not going to get down-hearted, although we have had to put some of our pals under the sod. I would not be at home as the times are now, not if I was getting £3 a week. No doubt I surprised some of the Swavesey people when I went, seeing that I always stuck at home, but I saw a red light, and I went after it.” The other Swavesey man writes: “The lads out here from Swavesey and district who are in the same company as myself have been very interested in ‘What the soldiers want to know’ and in ‘Prayers for the Slackers’ in the ‘Weekly News’ As soon as the mail arrives with the papers, there is a rush, and the next thing one hears is, ‘Hulloa, Swavesey again,’ but when the fellows read about the praying for the stay-at-homes and the pious hopes that they would not have to come, it was more than they could stand – in fact, I felt the same, and if cursing would have fetched them, there would not have been one left behind. But to come to the point. Have they no sense of honour? Will nothing move them? What is it that is keeping them back? Are they afraid to leave their paltry businesses behind? What have some of us left – home, wife, and children – to fight for a lot of cowards. In scores of places just behind the firing lines are rough-made crosses with just ‘Here lies an unknown British soldier.’ Who knows but he left a widow and children to mourn his loss? The average ‘Tommy’ expects the cold shoulder after the war, and to be placed on a level with, if not a step below, the man who stays at home. So he thinks that every man who is able should help to bear the brunt of the war. Then we can all be on the level at the end.”

PARISH CHURCH. 28th April 1916

The sermon at the evening service at the Parish Church on Easter Day was preached by the Rev. C. B. Simpson, a late Government Inspector of Prisons, on behalf of the Church Army Naval and Military (Devotional and Recreation)

Huts, which are doing such useful work in various parts of the world. The collection was devoted to the Hut Fund.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 28th April 1916

The members of the Mothers' Meeting and of the Band of Hope held at the Friends' Meeting House brought their winter season to a close with a joint tea, followed by an entertainment on Monday evening in last week. The room was crowded and a long and interesting programme contributed by the children and some of the mothers was much appreciated.

ORGANISING AGRICULTURE. 28th April 1916

A meeting was convened by the Swavesey District Agricultural Organisation Committee and held at the National School, Swavesey, on Thursday evening, 20th inst. Mr. F. Kirby, Over, presided, and was supported by Mr. Jacob Frohock (Lolworth), Mr. R. Mailer (Boxworth), Ingle Hemington (Over), A. Day (Swavesey), and Mr. C. W. Elliot (Boxworth), secretary. An address was given by Mr. Christie, a representative of the Board of Agriculture. Messrs. J. S. Goad and Albert Payne were added to the committee.

VESTRY MEETING. 28th April 1916

The annual Vestry meeting was held under the tower in the Parish Church on Easter Monday evening. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided, in the absence of the Vicar, who is serving in France as a chaplain to the Forces. A letter was read from the Vicar thanking last year's churchwardens, Messrs. W. H. Key and William T. Thorp, for their services and nominating the former as vicar's warden for the ensuing year. On the motion of Mr. J. Gilbey, seconded by Mr. Cecil Dean, Mr. Thorp was unanimously re-elected people's warden, and last year's sidesmen were re-appointed, on the proposal of Mr. Key, seconded by Mr. George Clarke.

"THE MESSIAH." 28th April 1916

On Good Friday a most successful effort was made in aid of the Renovation Fund of Bethel Baptist Church. A public tea was provided at 5 o'clock, when upwards of a hundred friends sat down. The following ladies presided at the tables: Mrs. A. Norman, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. Canham, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. W. Savage, Mrs. Spearman, Miss C. Goad, and Miss E. Parish. At 6.15 the United Free Church Choir gave in the presence of a large and appreciative congregation selections from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah." At the close the Pastor (the Rev. Howard T. N. Ussher) voiced the sincere appreciation of the entire audience.

PARISH COUNCIL. 28th April 1916

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on Tuesday evening, 25th inst., and was attended by all councillors now in this country. The first business was the passing of last year's accounts, and then the election of officers for the ensuing year was proceeded with, viz., chairman, Mr. Arthur Norman (re-elected); vice-chairman, Mr. J. S. Goad (re-elected); pindar, Mr. S. Wilderspin sen. (re-elected); overseers, Messrs. R. Williamson, and A. J. Willson. Mr. Goad called attention to the fact that the recently sworn in parish constable was liable for military service, and said that the new Chief Constable had intimated that no such men would be accepted as constables. The Chairman expressed his opinion that the Council could do nothing in the matter. A councillor remarked that the parish constable had been granted conditional exemption on account of his private business. The matter then dropped. Mr. Scard inquired whether Mr. Thurston, the roundabouts proprietor, had paid the money he agreed to pay for the sole use of the Recreation Ground at last Swavesey Feast, or had answered the letters sent to him by the Council. The Clerk replied that nothing had been heard or received from Mr. Thurston. It was unanimously agreed that the Clerk should inform Mr. Thurston that if the money was not paid within 14 days the Council would take action. Mr. Scard reported that the reserve public water supply pipes had been removed from the Pound to the Council's property in High-street, and said that there were three or four pipes which he believed belonged to the parish in a private yard, the occupier of which would, he understood, be glad if they could be removed. The Clerk was instructed to make enquiries, and report to the next meeting.

Mr. Scard also called attention to the new trees on the Recreation Ground, and he and Mr. Burton were appointed to have the ground round them dug and the guards put in order. The memorial cedar trees at the Swan Pond and in Market-street were also mentioned, but nothing was done in regard to them, as they had previously been looked after voluntarily. Lastly Mr. Scard brought up the dangerous condition of the pebble footpath on one side of High-street, and he proposed that the County Council should be written to on the subject and this was agreed. The Captain of the fire engine was instructed to obtain a rear lamp for use on the engine at a cost not exceeding 3s. 6d., and a gallon of oil for the leather hose pipes. The Council's notice board on the High-street had, besides the official notice displayed recently only ancient documents varying from 1914 to August 1915. Mr. Challis was to be instructed to clear the board, replacing the recent notice and carrying out any repairs needed.

During the meeting the fact that the annual parish meeting had not yet been held was mentioned incidentally, but no decision was arrived at. By Act of Parliament "the annual assembly of the parish meeting shall be held on the 25th March in each year, or within seven days before or after that day."

WEDDINGS. 28th April 1916

STUBBINGS – CULPIN

On the afternoon of Easter Eve, the marriage of Private Reginald Stubbings, Cambridgeshire Regiment, second son of Mrs. Herbert Stubbings of Sawston, and Miss Florence May Culpin, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millice Charles Culpin, of Swavesey, took place at the Parish Church, Swavesey. The Rev. J. Cooksey officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly dressed in cream silk poplin, with veil and wreath of orange blossom. She carried an ivory prayer book, the gift of the bridegroom. Attending her were two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Gladys Culpin, and Miss Doreen Stubbings, the bridegroom's sister. The former wore blue silk poplin, with black hat and blue feather, and the latter was in brown velvet, with black hat trimmed with a brown feather. Sergt. Percy Stubbings, Cambridgeshire Regt., acted as best man. The bride's father is serving with the Supernumerary Company of the Cambridgeshires.

WRIGHT – COOTE

The Parish Church, Swavesey, was on Easter Monday afternoon the scene of a wedding of considerable local interest, as was shown by the large attendance of friends and villagers. The happy couple were Miss Elizabeth Coote, of High-street, Swavesey, and Mr. Henry Wright, a platelayer, employed by the Great Eastern Railway Company at Swavesey. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Charles Coote. She was attired in fine mauve serge, trimmed with silk of the same colour and cream lace, with hat to match trimmed with flowered silk. She carried a mauve set of prayer books. In attendance upon her were three children, the Misses Ivy Coote (her niece), Louie Green (her cousin), and Queenie Spolton. Their pretty frocks were of white embroidery, and their white hats were trimmed with silk, and each wore a gold brooch, the gift of the bride, and carried bouquets, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. Fred Prior was best man. The bells were rung after the ceremony. Subsequently a reception was held at the bride's residence. (List of presents in newspaper)

INTERESTING MARRIAGE. 5th May 1916

News has reached Swavesey that Mr. Fred Wilderspin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilderspin, was married in March at Innisfail, North Queensland, to an Australian young lady. Mr. F. Wilderspin has been in Australia some years.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 5th May 1916

Private Arthur Prior, 1/1st Cambridgeshire Regt., arrived in Swavesey on Sunday evening on short leave from the front. He went through the Boer War with the Devonshire Yeomanry, and joined the 1st Cambs. shortly after the outbreak of the present war. He has been at the front since February, 1915.

FROM A KITCHENER'S KITTEN. 5th May 1916

A Swavesey man doing his bit at the Western front writes to our Swavesey representative:- "I suppose the Derby scheme is clearing the men out of Swavesey. For my part, I think it is better to be one of Kitchener's kittens, as they call us, than one of Derby's lambs, as Kitchener's kittens are scratching very hard at present, and there is nothing for meek and gentle lambs to do out here."

PERSONAL. 5th May 1916

Many Swavesey people will be interested to learn that Mr. Willie Clarke, who was a pupil for several years at Swavesey Vicarage, is now a lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps, and has been doing good work at the front. He recently engaged and brought down a German aeroplane at the height of 7,000 feet, returning to his own lines in safety, though his machine was so badly damaged that it has had to be rebuilt. – Miss Vidler, elder daughter of the Rev. A. C. Vidler, late Vicar of Swavesey, and now Rector of Tewin, Herts., has been for some time working as a nurse in a military hospital in Malta.

THE MEMORIAL CEDARS. 5th May 1915

A correspondent writes: It was disappointing to read in the report in last Friday's "Weekly News" of the Swavesey Parish Council annual meeting that the councillors do not accept any responsibility in regard to the care of the four beautiful cedars which were given by Mr. Dunn, of Milton, then a Swavesey resident, as a memorial of Queen Victoria, and were planted on the day of her funeral. Two of the trees died mysteriously, and were replaced by Mr. Dunn, but all have since thriven. Mr. Dunn also provided massive iron guards at considerable expense. The spaces within the guards need occasional attention, and now and again at lengthening intervals as the years go by something has been done by voluntary effort, but this is a far from satisfactory way of doing things. Surely if the Council can look after the horse chestnuts on the Recreation Ground, they can with propriety undertake the care of the cedars. One of the cedars in Market-street was partly blown over in a blizzard at the end of March, and is in need of immediate attention. To neglect the trees, one cannot help thinking, shows want of respect to the memory of the great Queen, and ingratitude to Mr. Dunn. If the Council can do nothing, I suggest that the matter should be brought forward at the overdue annual parish meeting.

JOINED UP. 12th May 1916

Mr. James Harold Parish, son of Mr. David Parish, Boxworth end, joined the Royal West Kent Regiment last week.

THE VICAR AT THE FRONT. 12th May 1916

The Vicar of Swavesey, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, who has been serving as a chaplain to the Forces in France since last January is now working at a large hospital almost all under canvas, but expects to "go up the line" very soon. On Easter Day he and another chaplain held about 20 services, the first at 5 a.m. and the last at 8.30 p.m.

KILLED IN ACTION. 12th May 1916

Mrs. Bishop, of Askew-row, has received information that her husband, Pte. T. Bishop, Bedfordshire Regt., has been killed in action. He went to the front about five months ago. He leaves five little boys under ten years of age, the eldest of whom is the famous Swavesey Water Baby, whose exploits in the Swan Pond caused a sensation a few years ago.

A MUCH-TRAVELLED PARCEL. 12th May 1916

Amongst the Christmas parcels, the proceeds of a village collection, which were sent to every Swavesey man known to be at the front, was one addressed to Pte. A. F. Welch, Yorkshire Regiment, at the Dardenelles. Pte. Welch was stricken down with fever about that time, and was sent home, and after spending some weeks in hospitals, he returned to duty at a town in England, where the parcel was delivered to him about a week ago. He was very pleased to get it.

THE LADIES HELP. 12th May 1916

Women labour is being used to some extent by Swavesey farmers, and the lady-folk are doing various jobs on the land. One young lady has earned the gratitude of her brother by useful work with a horse hoe. On a small holding the other day the wife of a farm labourer and small holder was seen following the drill. Her husband had recently undergone an operation, and was unable to attend to his land, so Mr. Alfred Day, his employer, very kindly sent one of his men with a drill and horses to help on with the work, and the wife, who comes from an old agricultural family, did her bit, and did it very well – so the male critics who were looking on said.

DEATH OF MRS. LUCY SAVAGE. 12th May 1916

After a long and painful illness, borne with great patience, Mrs. Lucy Savage, widow of the late Mr. Charles Savage, of Swavesey, passed away on the 4th inst., at the age of 83 years. She was a native of Swavesey, and had lived in the village all her life. Her husband died many years ago. She leaves two sons. The funeral took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Monday afternoon, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiating. The chief mourners were Mr. and Mrs. J. Savage and Mr. and Mrs. W. Savage (sons and daughters-in-law). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

DEATH OF MR. EDMUND GLEAVES. 12th May 1916

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 85 years, of Mr. Edmund Gleaves, on Thursday, 4th inst. Mr. Gleaves, who had been in failing health for about six months, had lived in Swavesey for some years. He belonged to an old Willingham family. He was the youngest son of the late Mr. Joseph Gleaves, farmer, of Willingham, in which village he resided for many years and held various public offices. Mr. Gleaves has left a widow, four sons and one daughter. The funeral took place in Willingham Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, of Swavesey, officiating. The mourners included Mrs. Gleaves (widow), Mr. Edmund Gleaves (son), Miss Gleaves (daughter), Messrs. Sidney, Ralph and Walter F. Gleaves (sons) and Mrs. W. F. Gleaves (daughter-in-law). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham of Swavesey.

JOINED UP. 19th May 1916

Walter Metcalfe (Group1) joined the Royal West Kent Regt. last Saturday.

EX-SWAVESEY MAN'S DEATH FROM WOUNDS. 19th May 1916

Pte. Albert E. Golding, Royal Fusiliers, son of Mr. Golding, late signalman at Swavesey Station, died last Friday from wounds received in action. Pte. Golding was wounded in both legs.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 19th May 1916

Under the superintendence of Mr. G. Hicks, the acting headmaster, the boys of Swavesey National School are making good progress with their plots in the school garden, notwithstanding the late start this year.

THE LATE MR. W. C. COLE. 26th May 1916 IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL AT SWAVESEY.

Amidst manifestations of sympathy and respect, the funeral of the late Mr. William Carter Cole, whose death on the 17th instant at the age of 58 years, was announced last week, took place at Swavesey on Monday afternoon.

The funeral cortege left "The Farm", the deceased's residence, at 2.45 p.m., and had to traverse the entire length of the village, about 1½ miles. Blinds were drawn and shops were closed. The body, enclosed in a polished oak coffin, with brass furniture, and covered with beautiful flowers, was met at the entrance of the parish churchyard by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. On each side of the pathway were ranged officers and members of the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association, of which body Mr. Cole was president until the time of his death.

The first part of the service was said in the church. So large was the number of persons attending that many were unable to get near the grave, which is in the south-western corner of the churchyard, adjoining the graves of Mr. Cole's parents.

The mourners were: Mrs. Cole (widow), Mr. C. W. H. Cole (only son), Miss Cole and Miss M. Cole (daughters), Mr. H. Cole of Whittlesea (cousin), Miss King, of Cambridge (sister-in-law), Mr. A. E. King, Cambridge (brother-in-law), Dr. Ellis (cousin) and Mr. G. King (nephew).

JOINED UP. 26th May 1916

Mr. Frank Norman, elder son of Mr. Arthur Norman, farmer, has recently joined the Army Service Corps.

FROM THE FRONT. 26th May 1916

Sergt. Surrey Caine, Canadian Infantry, arrived at his home in Swavesey on short leave from the front. He is in the pink of condition.

CHILDREN'S CONTRIBUTIONS. 26th May 1916

Swavesey school children have contributed 10s. to the Overseas' Club Fund for providing comforts for sailors and soldiers of the British Empire.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL. 26th May 1916

The Commandant, Mrs. Ellis Long, has received notice to re-open the Hospital on Wednesday, 24th. She will be much obliged if the Staff and Orderlies will take note and commence their duties from that date.

SCHOOLBOYS ON FARM WORK. 26th May 1916

Five or six boys from Swavesey National School just over 12 years of age, have been released from further school attendance in the interest of agriculture. They are exceptionally fitted for farm work, and the farmers much appreciate the kindness of the Education Committee in allowing the boys to leave school.

BAPTIST CHAPEL ANNIVERSARY. 26th May 1916

Successful anniversary services were held at the Bethel Baptist Chapel on Tuesday, when the Rev. F. C. Spurr, of Regent's Park Chapel, London, preached in the afternoon and evening to good audiences. A public tea was held in the spacious chapel at 5.30 at which there was a good assembly. The trays were provided and presided over by the following ladies: Mrs. Ussher, Mrs. T. W. Carter, Mrs. Arthur Norman, Mrs. J. Day, Mrs. B. Prior, Mrs. H. S. Aldred, Mrs. W. Savage, Mrs. Spearman, Mrs. Goad, Mrs. J. Williams, Mrs. Canham, Mrs. Godfrey and Mrs. J. Rule.

EMPIRE DAY. 26th May 1916

May the 24th, Empire Day, was duly observed at Swavesey National School. A Union Jack was hoisted in the playground, and towards the end of morning school the headmaster addressed the children on the reasons for keeping the Day, pointing out how much the Empire is beholden to the Colonies for help from which even Swavesey children would benefit. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey added a few words. Patriotic songs were then sung, after which the children assembled in the school yard and solemnly saluted the Empire's flag. Then they sang the National Anthem. A half-holiday was granted in honour of the day. The flag and pole were kindly lent by Mr. R. Mitham, and were rigged up early in the day, mainly by Stoker Berry Dodson, H.M.S. Antrim, an old scholar, at home on a few days' leave. As the last chorus of "When the boys come home again" was being sung in the school, a lusty voice singing the same chorus was heard from outside. Stoker Dodson was doing his bit. During the afternoon the schoolboys were taken by the headmaster, Mr. G. Hicks, for a walk to the river, where they bathed and had a picnic. They had a very happy time. – A Union Jack was also displayed over the Roll of Honour for the parish of Swavesey – an Empire document, seeing that it records the names of men who joined the Empire's forces in Canada, Australia and New Zealand, as well as of those who enlisted in Great Britain.

PARISH MEETING. 26th May 1916

The annual Parish Meeting was held at the National School on Monday evening, Mr. Arthur Norman, Chairman of the Parish Council, presiding. The Overseers', Parish Council, and Galon's Charity accounts were read. The Clerk mentioned that the rates would be lower during the ensuing year, that the Parish council expenditure was the smallest since the Council had been in existence, and that, acting on instructions, no rates were levied on the Old House, which had been lent by Captain J. D. Daintree, R.N., for a Red Cross Hospital. The Commandant, however, paid rates on the garden, and the sub-tenant of a close of pasture land, which went with the house, also paid rates. It was agreed that the balance of about £18 in the bank from the balances of the street lighting and recreation ground should be invested to earn interest. Mr. R. Mitham called attention to the case outside the school, which had been very kindly provided by the Swavesey District Conservative and Unionist Association for the Roll of Honour for the parish of Swavesey. He had been told, he said, that it was the best for many miles around, and he moved a vote of thanks to the Association. The Chairman seconded the resolution, which was carried.

SUMMER TIME. 26th May 1916

Swavesey people have adopted the Summer Time Act, 1916, though some have exercised their right as Britons and have grumbled. Many declared "it was all nonsense," but it was noticed that last Sunday's dinners were fetched away from the bakehouses by the new time. One youth who was carrying the Sunday joint home about one o'clock was asked if he felt as hungry then as he did at 1 p.m. on the previous Sunday. He replied that he noticed no difference. An old lady vehemently asserted that she would not, and could not, get up any earlier. The Government might lock her up if they liked, but she simply would not obey their orders. She was easier in her mind when she was assured that the Government would not be likely to prosecute her for high treason, and that so far as the authorities were concerned she could, if convenient to herself, get up at midnight and go to bed at noonday. On Sunday a gang of permanent way men, who came from the neighbourhood of Cambridge, and were working on the G.E. Railway at Swavesey, related an amusing experience. One or two of them had put their watches on overnight, but had forgotten that they had done so, and got up next morning an hour before the "advanced" time. They had to walk about four miles to catch the train to take them to their work. The parish church clock was altered at 9 p.m. on Saturday. It is reported that it immediately uttered a protest by striking twice. Hardly anyone notices the difference beyond the fact that the days seem longer.

JOINED UP. 2nd June 1916

Mr. Fred Clarke, elder son of Mr. George Clarke, joined the Army Service Corps on the 25th May. Mr. Walter Spolton, butcher, also joined up on the same day.

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 2nd June 1916

It is stated that all Swavesey applicants who appeared before the Swavesey District Tribunal at St. Ives on Monday succeeded in obtaining relief from immediate military service, the majority being granted conditional exemption.

WOUNDED. 9th June 1916

Pte. Thomas Howlett, 5th Cheshire Regt., T.F., has been wounded in the leg.

CHAPEL ANNIVERSARY. 9th June 1916

The Particular Baptists of Swavesey held their anniversary services and tea at the Old Chapel on Tuesday. Mr. Colcutt, of Coventry, was the special preacher.

LORD KITCHENER. 9th June 1916

The news of the sinking of H.M.S. Hampshire reached the village early on Tuesday evening, and caused general consternation.

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 9th June 1916

At the Swavesey District Local Tribunal, held at St. Ives on Monday, Mr. Prime Godfrey, haulage contractor, was granted conditional exemption; Mr. Joseph B. Parish, fruit grower, four months; and Mr. C. Eason, carrier, two months.

MUSICAL SUCCESS. 9th June 1916

Miss Marjorie G. Scard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Scard, High-street, a pupil of Mr. G. H. Skeeles, of St. Ives, organist of Swavesey Parish Church, has gained a pass certificate in pianoforte playing (preparatory division) in the recent examination held by Trinity College of Music, London.

JOINED UP. 9th June 1916

The following Swavesey residents have joined up during the last few days: Messrs. W. Coulson (County Council roadman) and James Kester, who are with the 3rd Suffolks, and Albert G. Parish. Twenty-two men have left Swavesey for the Army since January 1st last.

NEWLY-BORN FOAL IN POND. 9th June 1916

When Mr. Bert Hodson visited a mare the other morning which had been left in a field, he discovered that it had foaled during the night, and that the foal was lying in a pond, but alive. By prompt, careful and persistent attention, Mr. Hodson brought the little animal round, and it is doing well.

OBITUARY. 9th June 1916

Mr. Edmund Williams, son of the late Mr. Edward Williams, of Swavesey, died early on Sunday morning at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Williams, Market-street, Swavesey. Mr. Williams, who was 68 years of age, had been in failing health for some time, but the end came rather suddenly. He had lived in Cambridge for many years, but had spent the last few months of his life in his native village. The funeral took place in Cambridge on Wednesday.

PROMOTION. 9th June 1916

Corpl. Albert A. Girling, only son of Mr. A. Girling, farm bailiff, Swavesey, of the Royal Flying Corps, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. Although only 21 years of age, his rise in the Army has been rapid. He joined the R.F.C. on January 5th, 1915, as a second class air mechanic, and went to France on the 19th of the same month. In August he was promoted to first class air mechanic, and in December to corporal. At the time of his joining up he was an apprentice at Messrs. Saint's Motor Works, Cambridge.

THE FEAST. 9th June 1916

This year's village feast, which opened last Sunday, has been a very insignificant affair, and is said to have been eclipsed in smallness only once previously in the memory of living man, viz., four years ago, when there was an epidemic of fever. Market-street, usually well-filled with stalls, roundabouts and other attractions, had three or four sweet stalls, a shooting gallery and a cocoanut shy at one end. There was no roundabout, and consequently no "music". Visitors were few in number, and there were no cricket matches.

SWAVESEY MAN WOUNDED. 9th June 1916

Mrs. Taylor, Church End, Swavesey, has received news, dated 4th inst., that her husband, Pte. Charles Taylor, Suffolk Regt., has been wounded.

THE THIRD YPRES BATTLE. 16th June 1916
SWAVESEY CANADIAN'S THRILLING EXPERIENCES.
"ANZAC A PICNIC IN COMPARISON."

In a letter to his mother, written on 6th June, a Cambridgeshire man serving as a sergeant in the Canadian Infantry, gives an interesting, though necessarily incomplete, account of his experiences in the terrible third battle of Ypres. After about eight months at the front he had been spending a few days' leave with his family in this country, and had rejoined his regiment on the 2nd June just in time to take his share in the fight. He says:-

"I will first of all tell you that I am one of the fortunate ones who have come through the severe ordeal which our regiment has just experienced, safe and sound as when I was with you last week.

"I arrived back in Flanders at the camp where I found my regiment about 10 a.m. on the 2nd. By noon news began to come into camp from the front line, where other regiments of our brigade were engaged, and a few minutes later we got the 'Stand to' order. Just a little later we were on the move going to their relief, and as we went away our band marched a short distance with us playing our regimental tunes, and then moving to the roadside, played us 'Bonnie Dundee,' our march, as we filed past. By easy stages we proceeded through heavy shell fire towards the front, where we were under cover of darkness to take up a position. You have read in the papers of the daylight charge, and the great fight, and the terrible times of the next two days and nights. You saw the accounts of the regiment – ours – who did the good work. I could not describe it to you even if the Censor would permit me to do so.

"The experiences of the hours we were up there – . we came out, tired and worn, last night, those of us that remained – were terrible beyond all power of description. The landing of the Anzacs on the beach at Suvla Bay was a picnic in comparison. Every form of frightfulness possessed by the Huns was poured over on to our position, and such a concentration of artillery fire on our small front has not been witnessed in the whole war. In spite of all this, though they succeeded earlier in taking our front line, we held firmly to the lines immediately behind, and inflicted severe losses on the enemy. Many of the finest and bravest of the boys in our fine regiment are lost, but they were simply murdered by the terrible shell fire and not in actual fighting. Had it been the latter the results would have been very different. As it is, we have won honour and glory for ourselves, and all kinds of praise from all other regiments who have heard of us, and now that it is over I would not have missed it for anything, terrible though it was. The boys are resting quietly to-day after the severe nerve strain, and to-morrow we move away for a good rest and reorganisation.

"I feel awfully lucky to-day, though a bit shaky, in common with the rest of the boys, and if anything am more that ever a confirmed fatalist.

"It was grand to see and be with the boys in action, and I shall never forget the thrills and horrors of it all. I found myself in the hottest places most of the time, and otherwise tried to prove myself worthy to wear the badges of the regiment of which I am proud to be a member."

THE SCHOOL. 16th June 1916

Work was resumed at the National School on Tuesday morning after the usual village feast holiday.

WOUNDED. 16th June 1916

Pte. George Beaumont, London Scottish, has been wounded, but it is believed that his injuries are not serious. He is a son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, for very many years the highly-respected schoolmaster at Swavesey. An elder brother, Pte. Henry Beaumont, Canadian Infantry, has been missing since the great battle of Ypres on April 24th 1915, and has recently been recorded as having been killed on that date. A younger brother, Pte. Frank Beaumont, 7th London Regiment, was wounded at the Battle of Loos on September 25th last.

THE CLOSING OF SHOPS. 16th June 1916

A correspondent writes: On Whitsun Monday the Swavesey shopkeepers, to the surprise of some of their customers, closed their establishments for the whole of the day, notwithstanding that the Bank Holiday had been postponed. As far as I am aware no one suffered serious inconvenience by the closing, and I therefore venture to suggest that the shopkeepers should consider whether it would not be advisable to curtail the hours during which their shops are open on other days. Why should not the plan adopted with success by so many businesses in Cambridge and other towns be tried, of closing for an hour in the middle of the day for dinner? And why is it necessary to keep open until 8 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays? If business ceased at 5 or 6 p.m. the tradesmen and their staffs would be able to do useful work in their gardens, allotments, and small holdings, or they might render valuable help in the fruit gardens and fields, especially during haytime and harvest. Customers would quickly adapt themselves to the curtailed hours of opening, and some of them would greatly appreciate help in the gardens and farm work. The post offices in some villages have for some time been closed during certain hours of the day, and I am not aware that any serious inconvenience has been caused to the public.

ADVERT. 23rd June 1916

Soldier's Companion, containing Lemonade, Tea, Coffee, Milk, Sugar in concentrated form; package 1s. 3d. – H. S. Aldred, Swavesey, Cambs.

CLOSING OF SHOPS. 23rd June 1916

The suggestion in last Friday's "Weekly News" that Swavesey shopkeepers should consider whether it would not be advisable to curtail the hours during which their shops are open on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays, has been acted upon to a certain extent by one tradesman. Last Saturday morning the following notice appeared in his window: "This shop closed from 1 to 2 p.m. and from 4 to 5 p.m."

THE RIGHT SPIRIT. 23rd June 1916

A Swavesey soldier who has been at the front for many weary months when last at home said to his mother, "You would not like to see me knocking about the village in civilian clothes, would you?" "No, my boy, I certainly should not," promptly replied the proud mother, in the true spirit of self-sacrificing patriotism. And the son added, "I should be ashamed to walk about; I am glad to be fit and able to do my bit."

THE VICAR. 23rd June 1916

The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, who has been serving in France as a chaplain to the Forces since the end of January, having obtained a few days' leave, paid a flying visit to the village on Sunday afternoon. He took the greater part of the evening service at the parish church, and preached an admirable sermon. The news that he was expected had leaked out, and a large congregation attended, including several persons from neighbouring villages. At the end of his sermon, in which he made a telling reference to the late Lord Kitchener, Mr. Sharp said he wished to shake hands with everyone present after the service, as some time would probably elapse before he was in Swavesey again. Mr. Sharp was in the best of health. One verse – the first – of the National Anthem was sung before the Blessing, in accordance with the practice that has obtained during the war, but it is difficult to understand why the other two verses, which are specially appropriate in these days of stress, were omitted.

THE WASP PEST. 23rd June 1916

It is stated that there is every prospect that wasps will be unusually numerous this summer – when it comes – and some people have been complaining that steps have not been taken to destroy the queen wasps. A few years ago Mr. Aldred, assisted by Mr. A. J. Willson, used to collect subscriptions from fruit growers in the parish and from other persons interested, and children were encouraged to catch the queens, for which they were paid a small sum for each carcase. By this means the wasp pest was kept in check, but the plan had to be dropped from want of financial support. This season it was specially desirable that wasps should be reduced to a minimum. Not only will fruit growers suffer, but grocers cannot afford to have their restricted supplies of sugar depleted; butchers will lose meat, a serious matter now prices are so high; confectioners will have their dainties attacked; and housewives will be groaning over depredations on household stores. Something might be done to minimise the evil by a systematic destruction of nests, but next year it is to be hoped that the old system will be reverted to, and that the organiser and collector, whoever he may be, will receive substantial and ample financial support.

ANNIVERSARY. 23rd June 1916

On Sunday last successful anniversary services in connection with Bethel Baptist Sunday School were conducted by the pastor (the Rev. Howard T. N. Ussher). The attendances throughout the day were most encouraging. In the afternoon there was a flower service with an address by the Pastor. The floral offerings, with scripture texts attached, made a pleasing sight, and were afterwards sent to St. Ives Infirmary. During the afternoon recitations were most creditably given by Ida Spearman, Ethel Daisy Savage and Nelly Prior. At the evening service a framed first-class certificate, gained in connection with the Cambridgeshire Sunday School Union Scripture Examination, was presented by the Pastor to Ronald Prior. Throughout the day's services, the scholars, augmented by the choir, rendered special hymns, Mr. Jas. Williams presiding at the organ. The collections for the day amounted to £3 4s. It is interesting to note from the Roll of Honour exhibited in the vestibule of the chapel that 32 former scholars of this Sunday School have joined H. M. Forces.

WEDDING. 23rd June 1916

Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, was tastefully decorated with flowers on Thursday, 15th inst., the occasion being the marriage of Miss Ellen Thorp Day, daughter of the late Mr. William Day, of Swavesey, and Mr. Arthur James Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Norman, also of Swavesey. The wedding was a quiet one, on account of a recent death in the bride's family and of relatives being on service at the front. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Ernest Day, wore a grey costume, with hat to match. She was accompanied by two bridesmaids, Miss H. Norman (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss Ruby Nellie Brown (niece of the bride), the former in saxe-blue and the latter in white silk. Mr. Sidney Prime was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride.

FUNERAL. 30th June 1916

The funeral of the late Mr. Alfred Newman, whose death at the age of 86 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Monday afternoon. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher officiated.

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 30th June 1916

The Swavesey Rural District Tribunal sat at St. Ives on Monday afternoon at the office of Mr. G. D. Day, solicitor and Clerk to the Rural District Council. Six appeals from Swavesey were dealt with, and temporary exemption was granted in each case, viz., Messrs. Cecil Dean, Wallis Parish, A. T. Scard, H. H. Williams and R. Williamson were allowed six months, and Mr. Percy Parish three months. All are married men.

ANOTHER SWAVESEY CANADIAN ENLISTS. 30th June 1916

Mr. Harry Lawrence Caine, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caine, High-street, Swavesey, has recently enlisted in the 101st Edmonton (Alberta) Fusiliers. He went to Canada 16 years ago, and has not been home since, but he hopes soon to revisit the old country with his regiment. An older brother, Sergeant Martin Surrey Caine, is serving with the 49th Canadian Infantry in France, and returned to the front after a few days' leave in this country just in time to take his share in the third battle of Ypres on the 2nd June.

RECOVERED FROM WOUNDS. 30th June 1916

Pte. Charles Taylor, Suffolks, who was wounded in several places on his head and body by a rifle grenade when in the trenches on the 2nd June, arrived in Swavesey on Monday, having been discharged from a military hospital at Bath on that day. He attributes his rapid recovery to the prompt and efficient treatment rendered by stretcher bearers and doctors. Within three hours of his being hit his injuries had been fully attended to, and he was on his way by motor ambulance to a base hospital. On the 7th inst. he reached Bath. Pte. Taylor has to report himself for duty early next week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TREAT. 30th June 1916

On Thursday week the scholars of Bethel Sunday School had a most enjoyable afternoon and evening in Mr. J. Day's meadow. Tea was provided in the Schoolroom at 4 o'clock, when fifty-six young people sat down. At 5.30 there was a well-attended public tea for adults. Soldiers from the Red Cross Hospital had been invited to this, and were accorded a hearty welcome. After tea the programme included games, swings, races, tugs-of-war, etc., also a cricket match, Ladies v. Soldiers. This was an exciting game, the gentlemen in khaki scoring 43 to the ladies' 44. The children assembled at the Schoolroom at 9.30, when cake, sweets, etc., were distributed and prizes awarded. Having sung and given cheers for kind helpers, the young folks left for their homes.

FOUND AFTER MANY YEARS. 30th June 1916

Between 40 and 50 years ago the late Mrs. T. Daintree lost a gold ring set with precious stones. She thought she must have mislaid it in the house in which she lived from the date of her marriage until her death nearly three years ago. Search was made high and low, but with no result. During her life she often spoke of the ring and described it. Last week her son-in-law, whilst hoeing amongst some young fruit trees in an orchard at the back of the house, turned up a ring caked with earth, which tallied with the description of the missing one in every respect. Some of the stones are missing, but otherwise the ring is in good condition. During the last 50 years the land where the ring was found had been ploughed and dug up over and over again.

RECOVERY. 7th July 1916

Lieut. Caine, who was recently wounded, has recovered.

PROMOTION. 7th July 1916

Sergt. Martin Surrey Caine, 49th Canadian Infantry, has been promoted lieutenant in his battalion for services in the field.

CHILD INJURED. 7th July 1916

The 12-year-old daughter of Mr. W. Symonds, Boxworth End, crushed a finger on her left hand in a mangle on Tuesday evening. Dr. King was called in at once, and the child was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital on Wednesday morning.

SERGT. W. HEPHER, D.C.M. 7th July 1916

In the King's Birthday Gazette, published on June 3rd, Sergeant Wilfred Hepher, 74th Field Company, Royal Engineers, was awarded a Distinguished Conduct Medal. The following is the official record given in a subsequent Gazette of the gallant services for which the decoration was awarded: "For consistent good work. He has frequently commanded his section and carried out his duties with skill and determination."

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 7th July 1916

The following Swavesey cases were dealt with by the Swavesey Rural District Tribunal on Monday afternoon. The tribunal sat as usual in private at the office of Mr. G. D. Day, solicitor and Clerk of the District Council, in St. Ives. Messrs. A. T. Duce and D. Wilderspin were granted six months' exemption, Mr. E. J. Linford, jun., three months, and Messrs. H. G. Graves and E. Mitham one month. The case of Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, jun., was adjourned for one month.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL COUNTY ORGANISATION FUND. 7th July 1916

Mrs. Long, the President of the Swavesey Division, has received a gratifying return of the recent house-to-house collection in the villages in her district, and has sent Mrs. Hicks, the honorary secretary and treasurer of the fund, £37 1s. 4d., against £36 5s. 9d. last year. Swavesey contributed £8 7s. 5d.

SWAVESEY CANADIAN WOUNDED. 7th July 1916

News has reached Swavesey that Sergt. M. Surrey Caine, Canadian Infantry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caine, High-street, Swavesey, has been wounded, but it is understood not very seriously. Sergt. Caine went through the heavy fighting on June 2nd and subsequent days, and then escaped without a scratch.

WOMAN FARM WORKER INJURED. 7th July 1916

Mrs. Crouch, wife of William Crouch, Boxworth End, Swavesey, fell from the top of a load of clover on Thursday afternoon, whilst working on Mr. Thomas Prior's land in Bucking Way, and was seriously injured. After receiving attention in Swavesey, she was taken in Mr. Ben Thorp's motor car to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where she was detained. Mrs. Crouch is a middle-aged woman, and has several sons and daughters, some of whom are invalids, needing constant attention.

AN OFFENSIVE DRAIN. 14th July 1916

A correspondent writes: Attention has been called in the "Weekly News" on several occasions to the offensive odour emitted from the public drain in High-street, Swavesey. Of late the smells have been most objectionable, and doubtless are injurious to health, but as no epidemic illness has resulted the sanitary authorities have not moved in the matter. It is alleged that one at least of the gratings is not trapped. This small but not unimportant fact has been mentioned to the sanitary inspector more than once, but, beyond either doubting the accuracy of the allegation or saying that he would see what could be done, he has done nothing. Are the sanitary authorities aware that the ventilation shaft attached to the High-street drain at its junction with the new sewer at Turn Bridge was blown down some time ago, and that the ventilation hole is now below the level of the road? The High-street drain was repaired the other day close to the bridge, but nothing was done to replace the ventilation shaft.

DEATHS. 14th July 1916

Letters have reached Swavesey from comrades who were present at the time that Lance-Corpl. James William Prior (No. 11333) and Pte. Jonas Dodson (No. 16374) of the Suffolks, were killed in action side by side early on the 1st of July. The former appears to have been killed instantaneously, but the latter when found by Lance-Corpl. A. A. Linford, another Swavesey man, was saying the Lord's Prayer, and then passed away. Both men joined the Suffolks in the autumn of 1914. Lance-Corpl. Prior, who was 22 years of age and unmarried, was the elder surviving son of Mr. William Prior, of Swavesey. Pte. Dodson was the youngest son of the late Mr. Charles Dodson, well known in the Swavesey district and St. Ives as a bricklayer and great skater in days gone by. Pte. Dodson was 39 years of age and leaves a widow and ten children, seven of whom are under 14 years of age.

SWAVESEY FARMER'S WILL. 14th July 1916

Mr. William Carter Cole, of Swavesey, Cambs., farmer, who died on May 17th left estate valued at £11,139.

JOINED UP. 21st July 1916

Mr. Walter Burton, of Boxworth End, a married man with seven children, joined up on Thursday, 13th inst., and Mr. Hugh Smith on Monday.

GATEWAY BLOCKED. 21st July 1916

A correspondent writes: - The post of the Swing gate at the Brooklands end of Church Green collapsed a few weeks ago, and the gateway has since been blocked with a pole to keep animals feeding on the green from straying. The public using the path have to creep under the pole – an awkward business for persons getting on in years. May I call the attention of the District or Parish Council, whichever body is responsible, to the matter, and respectfully suggest that a new post should be provided without further delay.

WASPS NESTS. 28th July 1916

Wasps have found strange places for nests in Mr. Burton's Mill Field orchard. One as big as a football, and increasing in size daily, is hanging in an apple tree, while another nest has been discovered in a gooseberry bush.

ACCIDENT. 28th July 1916

Arthur Kester, second son of Pte. James Kester, Suffolk Regt., about eight years of age, fell from a gate on Thursday in last week and broke his collar bone. He was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital in Mr. Ben Thorp's motor car, but was not detained, though he remains under treatment there.

MILITARY NOTES. 28th July 1916

Lieut. M. S. Caine, Canadian Infantry, who has recently been promoted to a commission for service in the field, arrived in Swavesey on Saturday night on a short visit to his parents. He was quite unexpected. He returned to the front to-day (Friday). – Lance-Corpl. Alfred A. Linford, Suffolks, has been promoted to corporal. – Pte. George Beaumont, London Scottish, who was wounded on June 11th, and was under treatment at Torquay, has spent a few days with his mother in Swavesey, and returned to his regiment on Monday. His younger brother, Pte. Francis Beaumont, City of London Regiment, who was wounded at the battle of Loos on September 25th last, was discharged from the Army on Tuesday, being unfit for further military service. He will return to duties in the Accountant General's Department, General Post Office, shortly.

FOOD STOLEN. 4th Aug. 1916

Mrs. James Coulson, whilst engaged in farm work near Bucking Way on Monday, had her day's food appropriated by a tramp. The culprit was promptly followed and taken in charge by P.C. Smith, but as Mrs. Coulson declined to prosecute, he was allowed to go on his way.

SCHOLASTIC SUCCESS. 4th Aug. 1916

Arthur Ernest Beales, aged 12 years, has been awarded a County Council Minor Scholarship. He is the younger son of the Swavesey stationmaster. Since his removal to Swavesey about 16 months ago he has been a pupil at Over Council School, under Mr. G. H. Kitchener. Prior to this he was educated at Walsoken, Norfolk, Boys' School.

AN UNFORTUNATE LOSS. 4th Aug. 1916

Whilst cycling from his house in High-street along the Fen Drayton-road to Witton Quarter on Wednesday, 26th ulto., Mr. Arthur J. Norman lost his pocket book, containing, amongst other things, Treasury notes of the value of £4. The pocket book apparently fell out of Mr. Norman's coat which he was carrying on his handlebar.

POLICE CHANGES. 11th Aug. 1916

Police-Constable Sidney Smith, who has been stationed at Swavesey for the last three years and three months, has been transferred to Willingham, his place at Swavesey being taken by Police-Constable Breed, of Willingham. The exchange was effected yesterday (Thursday).

THE LATE LANCE-CORPL. PRIOR. 11th Aug. 1916

Miss C. Prior, sister of Lance-Corpl. James William Prior, has received the following letter, dated 4th August, from Lieut. D. M. Miller, Suffolk Regt.: "I have made careful inquiry as to what has happened to your brother, and I very deeply regret to have to write that there can be no doubt that your brother was killed on July 1st. He was hit by a piece of shell very early in the morning, before the battalion commenced to attack. I am truly sorry that I cannot give you any better news, but I am afraid there is no doubt, and I would not be doing right if I were to pretend that there was."

NEWS OF THE VICAR. 11th Aug. 1916

Our Swavesey readers will be interested to learn that their vicar, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, who went to France as a chaplain to the Forces in January last, and has since been engaged at a large base hospital, has now been moved up to the line. Writing on August 1st, he says: "You may be interested to hear that I went up the line a week ago and am now somewhere in France, not a great distance from the firing line. I had, as you know, expected to get up some time ago, but one had to wait one's turn. We have had a good deal of marching, and this hot weather and the dust have made things not always too pleasant. However, I have had no cause to grumble so far. We had some services under strange conditions on Sunday last. I managed to hold five in all, three celebrations and two parades – open-air, of course. I would have given anything to have had Gilby there to start the hymns. The tail board of a farm cart served as an altar for one of the celebrations, and I utilised a fallen tree for another. For the present at any rate I am attached to a battalion of the Buffs.”

A CONSEQUENCE OF WAR. 18th Aug. 1916

Owing to the withdrawal of bigger lads from Swavesey National School to work on farms, the woodwork class (of which Mr. Walter Thorp is the able instructor) has latterly consisted of only two small boys, and it is understood that there is little prospect of an increase in the number of woodwork pupils when the school re-opens next month.

DRAINS. 18th Aug. 1916

A correspondent writes: A few weeks ago attention was called in the “Weekly News” to the offensive smell frequently emitted from an apparently untrapped public drain grating in High-street, and to the disappearance some time previously of the sewer ventilation shaft at Turn Bridge. As yet nothing has been done by the sanitary authorities to remedy matters. Time after time during past years notice has been drawn in the local Press and by personal representation to the offensive drain. The Sanitary Inspector has made vague promises, but has done nothing. If the ventilation shaft is not necessary, no one would suggest the re-erection of a far from slightly object in our main street, but surely it is not desirable that the opening of the sewer should remain uncovered. The opening is below the level of the road. It is remarkable that children who are fond of playing around and under the bridge have not used the hole as a receptacle for stones, etc. In urging that these sanitary defects should be attended to without further delay, we are asking for nothing unnecessary nor for luxuries. In their present condition both points are possible sources of danger to the public health, and the cost of putting things right would be very small.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT. 18th Aug. 1916

Official news has reached his family that Pte. E. F. (Fred) Tompkins, Suffolk Regiment, of Swavesey, has been wounded in the recent fighting on the Western Front. Of the five Swavesey men who have been serving in this particular battalion of the Suffolks, two have been reported officially as missing, though private letters from comrades have stated that they were killed on 1st July, and two have been wounded.

STACK FIRE AT SWAVESEY. 18th Aug. 1916

HUNDRED-YEAR-OLD FIRE ENGINE DOES GOOD WORK.

Highfield Farm, better known locally as Warner's Farm, in the outlying part of the parish of Swavesey, between the Huntingdon main road and the Swavesey-Longstanton road, was the scene of a stack fire on Sunday. The farm, which is tenanted by Mr. R. Ellis Long, of Redlands, Lolworth, is under the immediate charge of a resident bailiff, Mr. George Spearman.

About 4.45 p.m., Mr. Spearman, whilst in his house, noticed a smell of burning, and on proceeding to the stack yard, discovered that a new stack, containing between 45 and 50 tons of mixed hay and clover, was on fire. He immediately gave the alarm and sent Mr. E. Dodson, one of the workmen living on the farm, to the village of Swavesey to summon help and to order the attendance of the fire engine.

Mr. S. Challis, the captain, on receiving the call, proceeded with the engine to Highfield Farm, about two miles distant with the utmost promptitude, taking with him fire hooks, which were found of considerable use. Mr. Long's bailiffs from Swavesey and Lolworth, Messrs. Girling and Goodchild, hastened to render assistance, with plenty of willing and capable helpers of both sexes. Police-Sergeant Day hurried up from Longstanton, and was speedily followed by Police-Constables Breed (Swavesey) Bell (Boxworth) and Kenzie (Over).

Within a yard or two of the burning stack was another large hay stack, which was in imminent danger. It was, however, speedily protected by stack cloths, and was played on by the engine, and by these means and careful watching, was prevented from catching fire. There was, fortunately, no shortage of water, for a partly full pond was close at hand, and water carts were employed to bring up further supplies from elsewhere.

The century-old fire engine, which came in for much adverse and undeserved criticism at the time of the great fire, was most effective, and was worked by willing teams of men and ladies – the latter were most energetic and are deserving of high praise. The fire continued to burn throughout Sunday night and Monday, but the second stack was saved.

A large concourse of people from Swavesey and neighbouring villages was attracted to the scene on Sunday evening.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE. 25th Aug. 1916

Bananas appear to be very popular this year with youthful villagers, who are in such haste to attack the succulent fruit that they eat it in the streets, and throw the skins about the road – a practice fraught with danger to the limbs of pedestrians.

DRAINS. 25th Aug. 1916

A correspondent writes: The communication respecting a foul smelling drain and a missing ventilation shaft in High-street, Swavesey, which you were good enough to publish in the "Weekly News" last Friday, has evidently been brought to the urgent notice of the Sanitary Inspector of the Swavesey Rural District. This official on Sunday morning came over to Swavesey in his motor car, and alighted at Turn Bridge, where the ventilation shaft should have been – it disappeared in a winter storm. After an inspection he looked at a drain grating close by, and then drove on. It may be observed that the grating through which the offensive odour complained of is emitted is not near Turn Bridge, but is further along the street, within a yard or two of the Rising Sun Inn.

SCHOLASTIC SUCCESS. 1st Sept. 1916

The name of Arthur Beaumont, youngest son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont and Mrs. Beaumont, of Swavesey, a pupil of the County Boys' School appears in the list of successful candidates in the Cambridge Senior Local Examinations published this week.

WEDDING. 1st Sept. 1916

A quiet wedding took place at Swavesey Parish Church last Friday, when Trooper Robinson Mitham, Suffolk Yeomanry, second son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, farmer and builder, Swavesey, was married to Ada, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caine, High-street, Swavesey. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, who was assisted by the Rev. B. Oliver, vicar of Over. Mr. James Caine, eldest brother of the bride, gave her away, and Miss L. Mitham, sister of the bridegroom, was in attendance. Trooper Mitham's honeymoon was very brief, for he had to rejoin his regiment on Monday. The bride had been a teacher in Over Church School for upwards of 12 years.

DRAINS. 1st Sept. 1916

A correspondent writes: The Sunday visit of the Sanitary Inspector to which I referred last week has had one result: the opening of the missing ventilation shaft at Turn Bridge has been closed with cement, but nothing has been done in regard to the offensive untrapped public drain in High-street. A week ago the stench was so bad that a householder covered the grating with a sack. We have complained of this nuisance for years, but our complaints have been ignored. The drain is, it is understood, under the control of the Swavesey Rural District Council. This Council is, we believe, the sanitary authority, and we not unreasonably want to know why the sanitary authority which compels private owners to trap all drains on their premises, does not obey its own rules. Surely this is a case where example is worth a lot more than precept. Unfortunately neither of our district councillors lives in this part of the village – both resides, as a parish councillor once happily expressed it, at the West End. Do they know that when the drain is specially active – say, after a heavy shower of rain – windows in neighbouring houses have to be closed to keep the stink out?

FRUIT EVAPORATION. 8th Sept. 1916

A demonstration in methods of fruit evaporation was given in Swavesey National School from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and Saturday last by Mr. T. Stone, County Horticultural Adviser.

INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT. 8th Sept. 1916

Mrs. J. Selwyn Sharp, wife of the vicar of Swavesey, gave birth to a son and heir on Monday, 4th inst., at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Nixon, Stansted Mountfichet, Essex. Mr. Sharp has been serving in France as a temporary chaplain to the forces since the end of January.

JOINED UP. 15th Sept. 1916

Mr. Ernest Mitham, son of Mr. George Mitham, Middle Watch, has joined the Royal Naval Air Service.

LITTLE HOME MADE JAM. 15th Sept. 1916

Owing to the restricted supply of sugar, Swavesey housewives are unable to make the usual quantity of jam. One or two ladies are adopting Mr. Lawton's advice and are using a certain proportion of salt with a considerably reduced allowance of sugar. Fruit has been plentiful.

RIGHTS OF THE PUBLIC. 15th Sept. 1916

A correspondent writes: Will the authorities of the parish of Swavesey, presumably the Parish Council, kindly say (a) whether any, and, if so, what, public rights of way exist, or ought to exist, between the village and the river Ouse; (b) whether all of the rights of way, if any, are available to the public at all periods of the year (flood-times excepted); (c) whether any have been barred with barbed wire or other obstruction, and, if so, by whom, and by whose authority; and (d) whether all stiles, bridges, etc., are in proper position and fit for use?

VILLAGE RE-VISITED. 22nd Sept. 1916

A late resident, on re-visiting Swavesey this week for the first time since he left the village eight years ago remarked to an acquaintance: "They may say a fire ruins a place, but that is not the case in Swavesey. Just look at the nice new houses that have been built in place of the old tumble-down cottages." He specially commended the "pinkish coloured" block of cottages opposite the Swan Pond, and was much interested to learn that they were the old age pensioners' houses built out of the unexpended balance of the great fire relief fund.

DEATH. 22nd Sept. 1916

A telegram was received in Swavesey on Monday from Warley stating that Private Walter Neal, Swavesey, of the Bedfords, died at 10.30 a.m. on September 12th in No.1 New Zealand Stationary Hospital, Amiens. It was added that he had sustained a compound fracture of the humerus, but in the official list of casualties issued from the War Office on the night of the 12th inst., it was reported that Pte. Neal was suffering from shock (shell). He was 24 years of age, and unmarried. He was in the Bedfordshire Regiment before the war, and was called up on mobilisation in August 1914. After three months' training in this country he joined another battalion in France, and went through much hard fighting without mishap. He was in Swavesey on short leave last November.

OBITUARY. 6th Oct. 1916

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Letitia L. Smith, wife of Mr. James Smith, of High-street, Swavesey, at the age of 73 years. She had been in failing health for a long time, and passed away quietly at a quarter to one o'clock on Tuesday morning. In addition to her husband, two daughters and one son survive her.

CONVALESCENT. 6th Oct. 1916

Private David Sutton (Royal West Surrey Regt.), a younger son of the late Mr. David Sutton, Boxwoth End, has been paying a short visit to his native village this week. He was wounded by a fragment of shell in the chest on August 9th, and is now convalescent. He and a party of his battalion were billeted about a mile and a half behind the firing line when a shell struck the building in which they were, and every man was killed or wounded except six, who were in the cellar.

PUTTING BACK THE CLOCK. 6th Oct. 1916

As far as can be ascertained, Saturday night passed in Swavesey with no untoward happening of serious consequence. No clocks have been reported to have been ruined irretrievably by being put back, but more than one parishioner rose two hours too soon through having advanced the clock an hour instead of putting it back. The sexton, for example, put in an appearance at the Parish Church shortly after 5 a.m., whereas he was not due until two hours later, and it is said that another villager reproached his women folk for not providing his breakfast until 10 a.m. He was letting his clock run down, and instead of deducting an hour from the time shown by the clock face, had added one hour. The ladies soon put him right and reduced him to silence.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 6th Oct. 1916

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the Parish Church, Swavesey, on Sunday, and the sacred building was decorated for the occasion. Contributions of flowers, fruit, vegetables, etc., were unfortunately not as numerous as usual, and Addenbrooke's Hospital will therefore suffer, but the fault lies with the shortage of supplies rather than with the people. Owing to the lighting restrictions no evening service in the Parish Church was possible, and evensong was said at 3 p.m. A fair congregation attended, but not as good as when the service was at night. At 6.30 p.m. there was evensong at the Mission Church. The offertories throughout the day were, as usual, in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, and amounted to £3 16s. 9d., viz., £3 7s. 9d. at the Parish Church, and 9s. at the Mission Church. The fruit and vegetables have also been sent to the hospital.

DRAINS. 6th Oct. 1916

A correspondent writes: On more than one occasion during the past few years attention has been called in the "Weekly News" to an offensive smell in High-street proceeding from the public drain or sewer. The last complaint was made not long ago, but nothing has been done so far. It now transpires that the Sanitary Inspector proposes to remedy the evil by erecting a ventilation shaft at the end of a house about thirty yards from the grating through which the objectionable odour is emitted. It is difficult to see how matters will be mended by the proposed ventilation shaft, seeing that the smell escapes through the grating because there is reason to believe that the opening to the drain has not been trapped. Complaint was made some time ago respecting the vile odours from the next grating, that close to a butcher's shop next door to the Post Office. When the opening was trapped the nuisance ceased, and there has been no cause for complaint since. Why cannot the opening at the other grating be dealt with in a similar way? The plan would be inexpensive, and in all probability effective, whereas a ventilation shaft would be purely an experiment, and more costly than a trap. Further, assuming that the offending opening has not been trapped, how is it that the sanitary authorities do not apply to themselves the rule they so strictly enforce on the public? One more question. If a ventilation shaft is a desirable and necessary adjunct, why was not the shaft belonging to this drain at Turn Bridge, which was blown down in the spring, replaced? When the attention of the sanitary authority was called a short time ago in the "Weekly News" to the fact that the shaft had gone, and that the opening to the drain was close to and below the level of the bridge, the opening was closed with cement. If the shaft was of no use at Turn Bridge, of what good would one be where the Sanitary Inspector now proposes to erect one – not far distant from the bridge?

SAVED BY HIS COLONEL. 13th Oct. 1916

SWAVESEY OFFICER'S MARVELLOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

In the following letter, written from Queen Alexandra Military Hospital, Millbank, London, Lieut. M. S. Caine, Canadian Infantry, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Caine, Swavesey, gives a vivid description of the circumstances in which he was wounded on the 16th ult.:-

"Since my last letter my Colonel's wife has been to see me. She tells me that the Colonel saved my bacon. I knew nothing as to how I was injured or when. All I remembered was that at 3.30 a.m., after we had taken four German trenches and been at it pretty hot all night, I went to find the Colonel to take some important messages to him, and found him in a captured German dug-out. I stayed there then, and he laid down to take a nap. There were about eight men, runners, signallers, etc., in the dug-out, and I was sitting beside a table studying a German trench map we had got off a Hun officer. This was about 4 a.m.

"Next thing I knew I was on a motor ambulance at a dressing station on the way out, soaked with blood and mud, and as crazy as a lunatic, and the time was 9.30 a.m. So I went to sleep for about five hours. I don't think I'll ever be afraid of getting killed by a shell again, for I positively did not feel it or hear it coming. Of course they were our way pretty thick all night long, and I had many close shaves previous to this. The Colonel's wife tells me a big shell landed square on the dug-out and blew it in, killing the whole bunch except the Colonel and myself. He didn't get a scratch, though badly dazed.

"As soon as he could recover himself he crawled out through an opening he made and dragged me out. He thought I was a 'gonner'. Then later on I began to show signs of life, and they sent me out, and here I am. I am getting along all right, but my jaw is rather painful the last few days, on account of several small pieces of bone having to be taken out. It was all closed up once, but has since been opened, and now that the small fragments of broken bone are away it will soon be better. I am eating and sleeping well, and apart from a little unavoidable pain and discomfort in connection with my jaw, I am feeling as well as I ever felt in my life."

DEATH. 13th Oct. 1916

The village of Swavesey received with deepest regret on Tuesday morning the sad news that Pte. George Henry Norman, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norman, Trinity College Farm, had been killed in action. George Norman, who would have been 21 years of age had he lived until the 19th of this month, joined the Suffolk Yeomanry on the 10th April last. He went to France a few weeks ago, and was transferred to a battalion of the Royal West Kent Regiment. Writing on the 3rd October to Mr. R. Norman, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, who is serving as a chaplain of the Forces says:- "I regret that it is my duty to write and tell you that your son, Pte. G. H. Norman (R.W. Kent Regiment) has been killed in action. His death was caused by severe wounds in the leg and arm, and by shock. He died this morning, and was buried this afternoon at 3 o'clock. His body was covered with the Union Jack and laid to rest in the British Soldiers' Cemetery some few miles behind the line. I conducted the funeral service. He died the death of a gallant soldier, and his memory will always be had in honour: he died for his country- you can think of no nobler epitaph than that. Please accept my deepest sympathy yourself, and convey the same to Mrs. Norman. I cannot now tell you the exact spot where he is buried, but I have made a careful note of it. His grave will be well cared for. All his personal belongings have been packed up, and will be forwarded to you through the usual source."

Sergt. Goad, of Swavesey, who was wounded in France from a bullet passing through his lungs, is now in hospital in Weymouth, and is progressing, although at present unable to leave his bed.

Pte. Archie Prior, of the New Zealanders, who sustained a head wound in action, is in hospital at Oxford, and is also making progress.

RED CROSS WEDDING AT SWAVESEY. 13th Oct. 1916 SKEELES – MITHAM

A wedding of more than usual interest took place in the parish church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, on Wednesday. The bride was Miss Louisa Mitham, elder daughter of Mr. Robinson Mitham, farmer, builder, etc., and the holder of many public offices in Swavesey, and the bridegroom Mr. George Herbert Skeeles, of St. Ives, son of Mr. George Skeeles of that town. The bridegroom has for some years been organist at Swavesey Church, while the bride has been a member of the auxiliary ladies' choir.

The villagers attended the ceremony in force, together with the Commandant, Quartermaster, V.A.D. nurses in uniform, and wounded soldiers from the Swavesey Red Cross Hospital, where the bride had been a nurse. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. Miss Swain, of Fenstanton, presided at the organ.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a tailor-made champagne cotele coat and skirt and black velour hat trimmed with white ospreys – her travelling dress. She carried an ivory prayer book. Attending her were two bridesmaids – her sister, Miss Phoebe E. Mitham, in a tailor-made cobalt blue cotele coat and skirt, and the bridegroom's little niece, Miss Constance L. Whitethread, prettily dressed in a white Japanese silk frock and mob cap of net and Bedfordshire lace. The little girl carried a basket of flowers. Mr. R. Edgar Skeeles, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

As the newly-married couple left the church, they had to pass between the nursed and wounded soldiers drawn up on either side of the path, the soldiers holding aloft Red Cross flags to form an arch. After the ceremony the relatives, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, and the churchwardens (Messrs. W. H. Key and William T. Thorp) were entertained at luncheon at the residence of the bride's parents. No other invitations were issued as two of the bride's brothers are on active service in France.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Skeeles left Swavesey Station by the 6.17 p.m. train for Weymouth, where the honeymoon is being spent. The wedding presents were numerous, and included a silver centre-piece from the staff and scholars of Huntingdon Church of England School, where the bride had been a teacher for some time, a clock from members of the congregation of Swavesey Church, a silver hot water jug from the Commandant, Quartermaster, Assistant Quartermaster, Sister and nurses at the Swavesey Red Cross Hospital (V.A.D. Cambs. 12), and a Crown Derby jam dish from wounded soldiers at the Hospital.

WOUNDED. 20th Oct. 1916

Sapper Arthur Parish, Royal Engineers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zachariah Parish, High-street, Swavesey, has been wounded in the leg. It is understood that the injury is not very serious.

COMFORT FOR RATEPAYERS. 20th Oct. 1916

Eight boys from Over Church of England School are attending Swavesey National School for instruction in woodwork and drawing, to save the holding of a class at Over and afford a slight relief to the ratepayers.

CORNWELL FUND. 20th Oct. 1916

The children of Swavesey School have contributed seven shillings and sixpence to the fund that is being raised for a memorial to the heroic sailor lad, Jack Cornwell, V.C. The money has been sent to Admiral Lord Beresford.

PROMOTION. 20th Oct. 1916

Corpl. H.J. Spriggs, Royal Flying Corps, son-in-law of Mr. James Smith, market gardener, Willow House, Swavesey, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. His rise in the service has been rapid as he did not join up until the 27th June 1915. He was previously for some years foreman for Mr. Woolston, builder, Stamford.

JOINED UP. 20th Oct. 1916

Mr. Edward Herbert Peters joined the Royal Garrison Artillery on the 12th inst., making the fifteenth Swavesey resident who has joined up since the outbreak of war. Four resident Reservists and six Territorials were called up on mobilisation in August, 1914, bringing the total number of Swavesey residents who have left the village to serve their country in the Navy or Army to sixty. Of these sixty, two have been killed in action, two have died of wounds, and six have been wounded.

HIS DUTY STOOD FIRST. 20th Oct. 1916

A letter received in Swavesey from a non-commissioned officer of the Bedfordshires gives some information as to how Pte. Walter Neal received the wounds which resulted in his death in hospital in France on the 13th September. The writer says:- "Walter Neal was hit rather badly while doing some very good work in digging out a platoon sergeant who had been buried alive." He adds: "I cannot say how much I miss him, as I was in charge of his gun (machine), and he was the only man I had to leave in charge of the gun when I was called away to take over another gun and position in another part of the line. He was my right-hand man in trench and out. You could not find a better chap for doing his duty and doing whatever was asked of him. He was always willing to do his bit, and I must say his duty stood first with him."

MEMORIAL SERVICE. 20th Oct. 1916

Bethel Baptist Chapel was crowded last Sunday evening, when a memorial service was held for the late Pte. George Henry Norman, Royal West Kent Regiment, who died on the 3rd inst. of wounds received in action whilst being conveyed to a field ambulance. The Pastor (the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher) preached an appropriate sermon, in which he paid a very high tribute to the gallant young soldier, who had made the great sacrifice, and spoke in feeling terms of his sterling character. Mr. G. E. Canham, who presided at the organ, played the Dead March.

DEATH OF MR. W. CRISP. 20th Oct. 1916

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 69 years, of Mr. William Crisp, Swavesey, which occurred on Friday last. He had been in failing health for some time, but was seriously ill for only three weeks. He was born in the house in Middle Watch, Swavesey, in which he lived all his life, and out of which he had slept not more than a fortnight in the whole of that time. He was in business as a butcher in Swavesey until his death, and had stood in Cambridge Market on Saturdays since he was a lad. He gave up his Cambridge business about five years ago. He was a deacon at the Particular Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, for very many years, becoming senior deacon about 20 years ago, and he was superintendent of the Sunday School for at least 40 years. He was one of the chief mainstays of the connexion in Swavesey and will be greatly missed at the chapel and by many people. Mr. Crisp devoted his time and energies to the Baptist cause, and never sought nor accepted any public offices in the parish. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon in the presence of a large attendance of sympathising friends and neighbours. The chief mourners were: Mr. Ernest Crisp (eldest son), Sergt. Walter Crisp, R.G.A. (son), Miss A.L. Crisp, Mrs. J. W. Parish, Miss H. Crisp and Mrs. B. L. Williams (daughters) and Mr. J. W. Parish (son-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm, with black furniture. There were no flowers, by request. Mr. Robinson Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker. A memorial service was held on Wednesday evening in Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, which was conducted by Mr. Rowell, and at which specially-selected hymns were sung.

FROM THE TRENCHES. 27th Oct. 1916

Corpl. Alfred A. Linford, Suffolk Regiment, son of Mr. Jethro Linford, Swavesey, arrived home last Friday on short leave from the front. He looked very fit and well, though he had had his share in the hard fighting on the 1st July and subsequently.

A HEIFER'S PILGRIMAGE. 27th Oct. 1916

A heifer belonging to a Swavesey farmer went a-wandering the other night, and met with strange adventures. Early in the day she had been taken with her calf to St. Ives Market to be offered for sale conditionally on the calf being sold with her. The heifer did not find a purchaser, but the calf was sold by mistake. The heifer was taken away and put in a field on the Overcote-road, in the parish of Over, between three and four miles distant, as the crow flies. During the night she broke out of the field and made for the River Ouse, across which she swam, and then appears to have wandered through Needingworth, and was heard to jump the gates of the railway crossing there. Finally she arrived in St. Ives Market, where she was found next morning and locked up. She was covered with mud, but beyond the abrasion of a small piece of skin on her back had suffered no damage.

INJURED. 27th Oct. 1916

Pte. Charles H. Parish, Suffolk Regiment, younger son of Mr. William Parish, Swavesey, is lying in hospital in Leicester suffering from a broken leg. Whilst on duty in or in front of the trenches he fell into a shell hole in the darkness. Some time elapsed before he was brought in, as the stretcher-bearers when they found him lost their way in the dark.

Sapper Arthur Parish, R.E., who was reported wounded in the leg last week, is in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Netley.

JOINED UP. 3rd Nov. 1916

Mr. Henry George Graves, High-street, Swavesey, Messrs. Bailey and Tebbutt's agent for the Swavesey district, joined the Royal Garrison Artillery on Tuesday.

MAMMOTH MARROW. 3rd Nov. 1916

A vegetable marrow, weighing 32lbs. 10oz., 31 inches in length, and 31 5/8 inches in girth, has been on view this week in Mr. Scard's shop window in High-street. The marrow was grown by Mr. Tom Froment in the Hale Allotments, without any artificial feeding.

FUNERAL. 3rd Nov. 1916

The funeral of the late Mrs. James Smith, High-street, Swavesey, whose death at the age of 73 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Churchyard on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. J. Smith (husband), Mrs. T. Edwards and Mrs. H. G. Graves (daughters), Mr. T. Edwards and Mr. H. G. Graves (sons-in-law), Master Henry J. Graves and Misses C. Edwards and C. Graves (grandchildren) Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 3rd Nov. 1916

Mr. Edward Short, the pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, was taken seriously ill whilst doing duty at Southill, near Biggleswade, on Sunday, 1st inst. He was attended by a medical man there, who advised his going into hospital for treatment. On the following Tuesday he was conveyed to Swavesey by motor car, and later in the day taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where he was detained. He had since undergone two operations and is going on satisfactorily. The services at the Swavesey Chapel on Sunday last were taken by Mr. Zachariah Parish, of High-street. On Tuesday the harvest festival was held at the chapel. The special preacher at the afternoon and evening services was Mr. Curtis, of Southill, and between the services there was a public tea. The attendances throughout the day were good.

SYMPATHY. 3rd Nov. 1916

Mrs. Beaumont, of Swavesey, has received the following letter from Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B., Canadian Minister of Militia and Defence, respecting her eldest son, the late Private Henry Beaumont, of the Canadian Infantry:- "Militia and Defence Minister's Office, Ottawa, September 8th 1916. Personal. Dear Mrs. Beaumont, - Will you kindly accept my sincere sympathy and condolence in the decease of that worthy citizen and heroic soldier, your son, Private Harry Beaumont, previously reported missing, now for official purposes presumed to have died on or since April 24th 1915. While one cannot too deeply mourn the loss of such a brave comrade, there is consolation in knowing that he did his duty fearlessly and well, and gave his life for the cause of liberty and the upholding of the Empire. Again extending to you my heartfelt sympathy - Faithfully (signed) Sam Hughes, Major-General, Minister of Militia and Defence for Canada."

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 3rd Nov. 1916

On Thursday week a successful harvest thanksgiving service was held at Bethel Baptist Church, which was most tastefully decorated for the occasion with fruit, flowers and vegetables. The rostrum and platform presented a very pleasing appearance, part of this being the work of some of the wounded soldiers from the Red Cross Hospital. A public tea was provided at 5.30, when about eighty friends sat down, including several wounded soldiers who were welcomed as guests by the pastor (the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher). The service was conducted and the sermon preached by the Rev. W. F. Harris, of Willingham Tabernacle. The pastor at the close of the service thanked the preacher and all who had so kindly helped to make the service so successful, not forgetting the Commandant of the Red Cross Hospital for the extension of time granted to the soldiers; also for fruit etc., so kindly given. The collection taken amounted to £8 15s. 6½d., and was on behalf of the Renovation Fund. The fruit, flowers, vegetables, etc., were, as usual, sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

DISTRICT COUNCIL, PLEASE NOTE. 10th Nov. 1916

The iron box of a hydrant connected with the water supply near the Swan Pond, which has been in an unsafe condition for some time, is now a serious danger to pedestrians using the raised causeway.

DRAINAGE. 10th Nov. 1916

Referring to our Swavesey representative's communication in last Friday's issue respecting drainage questions in Swavesey, it is of interest to note that the newly-appointed district Medical Officer of Health, Dr. R. Grove, personally investigated the matters complained of on Saturday morning.

OBITUARY. 10th Nov. 1916

News has reached the village that Mr. Edward Hepher, a native of Swavesey, and until recently a resident, died at Hemingford, Hunts., on the 7th instant. He had been a widower for many years. Mrs. Sarah Rule, wife of Mr. Robert Rule, Boxworth end, also passed away on Tuesday, at the age of 80 years.

JOINED UP. 10th Nov. 1916

Thomas Charles Froment, son of Mr. Joseph Froment, Market-street, Swavesey, a tall, stalwart youth, not quite 19 years of age, has just joined the Grenadier Guards, and as a small schoolboy remarked when inspecting the Swavesey Roll of Honour, is the only Swavesey man who has the honour of serving in his Majesty's Foot Guards.

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 10th Nov. 1916

At the Swavesey Rural District Tribunal, held in St. Ives on Monday afternoon, many cases were brought up for revision. Of the Swavesey cases, Messrs. W. J. Hepher, E. J. Mitham, David Parish, jun., and H. D. Froment were, it is understood, granted exemption until April 1st next year, and Mr. E. J. Linford, jun., until the end of the year. Messrs. Charles Eason (carrier) and James Prior were refused further exemption.

A POSSIBLE DANGER. 10th Nov. 1916

A correspondent writes: Are the Swavesey District Council satisfied that foot, and especially vehicular traffic, is sufficiently protected from danger when passing over the bridge on the Ramper-road now under reconstruction? A horse came to grief there this week in the daytime, and was rescued with difficulty. What would have been the result if the incident had occurred at night it is easy to imagine. It should not be overlooked that the mail cart has to pass over the bridge between 8 and 9 p.m. and again before daybreak.

PARISH COUNCIL. 10th Nov. 1916

Swavesey parish councillors appear to have forgotten their first Standing Order, which requires that "four statutory meetings of the Council shall be held as follows: The annual meeting on April 15th in each year, or on the Monday immediately following, and the three remaining meetings on the third Monday in July, October and January respectively." The Council has not met since its annual meeting on Tuesday, 25th April last, when more than one matter was dealt with which rendered a further meeting at no distant date desirable.

FUNERAL. 10th Nov. 1916

The funeral of the late Mr. Fred Parish, son of the late Mr. Benjamin Parish, whose death at the age of 39 years at Edmonton, London, was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Friday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The chief mourners were Mrs. Parish (widow), Masters Fred and Charles Parish (sons), Mr. Jas. Parish (brother), Mrs. W. Edwards (sister), Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Stocker (father and mother-in-law) and Mrs. James Parish (sister-in-law). The undertakers were Mr. Horlock of Edmonton, and Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

RELIGIOUS SERVICE IN GERMAN DUG-OUT. 10th Nov. 1916

The Vicar of Swavesey, Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, who has been serving as a chaplain to the Forces in France since last January, writing to a friend in Swavesey on the 30th ult., says: "We had a fearful journey getting back (Mr. Sharp had paid a flying visit to England in October) and were on the road altogether four days and four nights, with little food and less sleep. However, it is great being able to get home on leave, and it is worth any discomfort. I seem to have been on horseback ever since I got back here – it is the only means of progress, as the mud is unspeakable; up by the guns it is simply terrific, and not infrequently a man has to be literally pulled out – it is feet deep. The rain and wind are incessant. One gets wet through and tired out every day, and yet somehow one does not catch cold. I touch wood as I write this. I had five services yesterday, and rode about 14 miles, besides tramping a mile or two; so I had a bit of a strenuous day. Two of the services were held in old dug-outs by the guns, and one especially was most encouraging. It was held in an old German dug-out. I celebrated the Holy Communion, and we had three hymns. The dug-out was quite full, and men were standing half-way up the steps; it was a strangely impressive service.

FUNERAL. 17th Nov. 1916

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Rule, whose death at the age of 80 on the 7th inst. was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The mourners were: Mr. Robert Rule (widower), Mr. James Ingle and Mr. George Johnson (sons), Mrs. J. Ingle and Mrs. G. Johnson (daughters-in-law) and Mrs. W. Edwards (step-daughter). Mr. George Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker.

WAR ITEMS. 17th Nov. 1916

Pte. Arthur Prior, Cambridgeshire Regiment, who has been at the front since February, 1915, has been promoted lance-corporal. He served in the Boer War with the Devonshire Yeomanry, and was awarded the King's Medal with two bars. His four brothers are serving in the Army. Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., arrived in Swavesey from France on short leave on Tuesday night. Official intimation has been received from the Territorial Record Office (Warley) that Corpl. Arthur J. Coulson, Cambridgeshire Regiment, was wounded in action on October 14th, but that he was able to remain on duty. His brother, Corpl. Albert G. Coulson, Royal Marine Artillery, is in hospital with a broken leg. News has also reached the village that Pte. Fred Kester, Army Service Corps, is in hospital suffering from an injured hand.

JOINED UP. 24th Nov. 1916

Mr. Everett Thixton, bootmaker, High-street, joined up on Friday last.

BELGIAN RELIEF FUND. 24th Nov. 1916

A meeting of the Swavesey Belgian Relief Fund Committee was held on the 16th inst. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, chairman, presided, and it was decided to wind up the fund, as M. Stickere and family, the Belgian refugees who have been in Swavesey for the past two years, were to move to Cambridge on Wednesday. The other refugee families left the parish some time ago. It was further agreed that all furniture, etc., that had been brought for M. Stickere's use should be presented to him, together with articles lent by private individuals, who did not desire their return, and that the balance of the fund, about £4, should also be handed to M. Stickere after removal, etc., expenses had been deducted. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to Mr. Cooksey for his services as chairman and treasurer, to the secretary, Mr. Robinson Mitham, and to Mr. H. S. Aldred, who has been indefatigable in looking after the comfort of the refugees.

JOINED UP. 1st Dec. 1916

Mr. Arthur C. Garner, younger son of Mr. Charles Garner, harness maker, Swavesey, joined up last Saturday.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 1st Dec. 1916

Wheeler J. W. Goad, A.S.C., and 1st Class Air Mechanic Dennis W. Williams, R.F.C., are at home in Swavesey this week on short leave from the front.

NATIONAL MISSION. 1st Dec. 1916

Sermons in connection with the National Mission of Repentance and Hope were preached on Sunday last at the morning and afternoon services at the parish church and in the evening at the Mission Church, Boxworth end, by the Bishop's Messenger, the Rev. J. R. Pawley Smith, of Ramsey, Hunts. There were good congregations.

CASUALTIES. 1st Dec. 1916

Corpl. Arthur J. Coulson, Cambridgeshire Regiment, who was officially reported to have been wounded on October 14th, but to have remained on duty, has been wounded a second time, and was admitted into the Red Cross Hospital, Hove, on November 15th suffering from shot wound in right arm. Mrs. James Kester, jun., has been informed that her husband, Pte. J. Kester, Lincolnshire Regt. is in hospital in France.

CONVALESCENT. 8th Dec. 1916

Corpl. Arthur J. Coulson, Cambridgeshire Regiment, who was wounded a second time on November 8th (sic), and had been in hospital at Hove, arrived in Swavesey on ten days' leave on Tuesday evening.

DEARER THAN IN SWAVESEY. 8th Dec. 1916

A Swavesey baker now doing his bit at the front with rifle and bombs, writing home, says he has had to pay one shilling and twopence for a loaf of bread about three-quarters the size of a Swavesey loaf.

DEATH OF MRS. HODSON. 8th Dec. 1916

We regret to announce the death at the age of 72 years of Mrs. Rose Hodson, wife of Mr. John Hodson, thatcher, Church End, Swavesey, which occurred on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Hodson had not been in good health for some time, but only was seriously ill since Saturday last. Her husband, four sons, and three daughters survive her.

VOLUNTEER FORCE. 8th Dec. 1916

A correspondent writes:- Cannot something be done to interest Swavesey people in the new Volunteer Force? As far as I can ascertain nothing has been done beyond sending a man from another village armed with a bell, who announced that a meeting would be held at Over. We hear there are drills at Over and Willingham, but that the only Swavesey men who attend them are those to whose temporary exemption from military service was attached the condition that they should join the V. F. Surely a village with our population (904 at the last census) is worth more attention.

OLD AGE PENSIONER DEAD. 8th Dec. 1916

The first occupant of the Old Age Pensioners' Cottages – now known as Frere Cottages – to be removed by death was Mrs. Alice Ann Ding, wife of Mr. William Ding, who passed away on Saturday at the age of 72. She had been in indifferent health for some years, but was not taken seriously ill until last Thursday. In addition to her husband, she leaves one son and two daughters. The funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiating. The immediate mourners were: Mr. W. Ding (widower), Miss E. Ding and Miss A. Ding (daughters), Mr. Joseph Ding (grandson), Mrs. S. Daisley, Mrs. Netherwood and Mrs. P. Ding (sisters-in-law), and Miss Daisley (niece). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

FOR SOLDIERS. 8th Dec. 1916

A whist drive in aid of the Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital was held in the National School on Tuesday evening, and proved a huge success, villagers being strongly reinforced by visitors from other parishes. Some 20 soldier patients from the hospital also attended. There were 32 tables. During the evening there was an interval for refreshments. The prizes were given away by Mrs. R.E. Long, Commandant of the hospital. On the proposal of Mr. Twist hearty votes of thanks were accorded to Mrs. G. Long and the Commandant respectively. The latter, in responding, thanked the committee for the very welcome aid the drive would render the hospital financially. The money would, she said, be used to provide games, comforts, etc., for the patients. The hospital will benefit to the extent of about £4 10s.

PARISH CHURCH. 15th Dec. 1916

Special sermons on behalf of the National Society for the Education of the Poor were preached in Swavesey Parish Church at the morning and afternoon services on Sunday last by the Rev. H. Martin Thorpe.

PARCELS FOR SOLDIERS. 15th Dec. 1916

Over fifty parcels containing toothsome trifles beloved of soldiers have this week been sent to Swavesey men fighting their country's battles on sea and land, and also to Swavesey wounded men in hospital. The parcels were the result of subscriptions collected in the village by the Misses E. and G. Dodson, Alice Norman and P. Mitham. The general management of the effort has been in the capable hands of Miss Capper, who was greatly assisted by her mother.

WOUNDED NEW ZEALANDER. 15th Dec. 1916

Rifleman O. A. Prior, New Zealand Rifle Brigade, son of Mr. Benjamin Prior, Swavesey, arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday evening on four days' leave. He was wounded in the head in September last, and has just been discharged from the New Zealand General Hospital at Brockenhurst. It is understood that he will shortly be returned to New Zealand, as he is no longer fit for active service. Rifleman Prior joined the Trentham, N.Z. Regiment in May, 1915, was sent to Egypt in the autumn of that year, and thence in April last to France.

INVALIDS. 15th Dec. 1916

There is a considerable amount of illness in Swavesey just now, and few, if any, households are escaping scot free. Amongst the invalids are Mrs. Robinson Mitham, who was suddenly taken seriously ill on Wednesday in last week. We are glad to say that she is better. Mrs. Ussher, wife of the pastor of Bethel Chapel, is very unwell. Mrs. Cooksey, the devoted and beloved Quartermaster of the Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital, was confined to her house for some days, but is now about again. Her husband, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, is on the sick list. Many children are away from school, and most of those who attend are far from bright and well. The Infant Schoolmistress is amongst the victims and has to keep to her house.

THE LATE MRS. HODSON. 15th Dec. 1916

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Hodson, whose death on the 5th inst., at the age of 72, was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The immediate mourners were: Mr. Hodson (husband), Messrs. W., B., and H. Hodson (sons), Mrs. Butterworth, Mrs. E. J. Linford, and Mrs. Macrae (daughters), Mr. C. Burling and Mr. C. Metcalfe (brothers-in-law), Mrs. C. Crisp (sister-in-law), Messrs. Butterworth and E. J. Linford, jun. (sons-in-law), Mrs. W. Hodson, Mrs. B. Hodson and Mrs. H. Hodson (daughters-in-law). In spite of the wet and inclement weather, there were also several old friends and neighbours in church and at the graveside to pay their last tribute of respect. There were no flowers. The coffin was of polished elm, with black furniture. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

CONCERNING THE PARISH COUNCIL. 15th Dec. 1916

Our Swavesey representative writes: - A short time ago attention was called in the "Weekly News" to the disregard by the Swavesey Parish Council of their statutory obligation to hold meetings at certain stipulated times. The Swavesey Village Parliament has not yet met. May I, with all diffidence and respect, place before the councillors, individually and collectively a possible contingency which ought not to be lost sight of? The Council consists of nine members. One councillor has been absent on active service since August 1914. Three of the remaining eight are of military age, and though exempt at present are liable for military service. The quorum necessary for holding meetings is five. Now if the three councillors of military age should be called up, only five councillors would remain, and if anything should happen to one of these five, what position would the Council be in? Four would not be a quorum. No meetings could be held and no fresh councillors could be co-opted.

EARLIER CLOSING. 22nd Dec. 1916

All licensed houses in Swavesey have been closed at 9 p.m. instead of 10 p.m. since Friday last in accordance with the recent decision of magistrates.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 22nd Dec 1916

Corpl. Arthur Froment, Military Mounted Police, paid a flying visit to Swavesey at the end of last week whilst on short leave from the front. At the time of his enlistment, in December 1914, he was a constable in the Metropolitan Police.

LITTLE CHILDREN'S THOUGHT FOR SOLDIERS. 22nd Dec. 1916

The sum of 4s. has been contributed by the children in Swavesey Infants' School to the Overseas Club's Comforts' Fund for providing tobacco and cigarettes for sailors and soldiers on active service. The hon. secretary of the Overseas Club has duly acknowledged the receipt of the money.

NO QUORUM. 22nd Dec. 1916

Summonses were issued on Friday last for a meeting of the Parish Council on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, but notwithstanding the fact that the previous meeting was held as long ago as the 25th April, only four councillors and the Clerk put in an appearance. The faithful quartet were the Chairman, Mr. Arthur Norman (who cycled over awful roads from his house, upwards of three miles) and Messrs. W. Burton, A. T. Scard and W. Twist. No business could be done as there was not the quorum of five required by the Council's standing order. After a long and weary wait the councillors went home at 8.20 p.m., but before separating the Chairman requested the Clerk to call another meeting on Thursday, 28th inst. As this was not the first occasion of recent years on which a meeting could not be held owing to five councillors not being present, and as in these busy and abnormal times it may be difficult to secure the necessary attendance, the question arises whether the Council would not be well advised to consider the expedience of reducing the quorum from five to four or three. The Local Government Act, 1894, which created Parish Councils, requires that "no business shall be transacted at any meeting of a Parish Council unless at least one third of the full number of members are present thereat, subject to this qualification, that in no case shall the quorum be less than three." (First schedule, Part II, (71.) The Swavesey Council should consist of nine members, and therefore three could form a quorum. Part III. (5) of the same schedule gives authority to a Parish Council, subject to the provisions of the Act, "to make, vary and revoke standing orders." If the Council should look with favour upon this suggestion, they might perhaps, whilst "varying" standing order No. 2, consider whether alterations are desirable in any of the other standing orders. For example, the first standing order lays it down that "the four statutory meetings of the Council shall be held as follows: The annual meeting on April 15th in each year, or on the Monday immediately following, and the three remaining meetings on the third Monday in July, October and January respectively." This regulation appears to have been more honoured in the breach than the observance for a long time past. It should, however, not be overlooked that "no alteration of the standing orders shall be made except at a special meeting called for the purpose."

FLOODS 29th Dec. 1916

During the Christmas season water has been pouring over the river bank and over the bank of Covell's Brook, near the railway. Much of the land is inundates.

THE VICAR. 29th Dec. 1916

According to the latest news that has reached the village, the Vicar of Swavesey, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, who has been acting as a temporary chaplain to the Forces in France since last January, is suffering from an attack of trench fever.

CHRISTMAS LEAVE. 29th Dec. 1916

No soldiers on short leave from the front have been in Swavesey during the Christmas season, and only five, two of whom have recently recovered from wounds, from home stations. The village has been very quiet, civilian visitors have been few, and there have been no entertainments other than family gatherings.

CHRISTMAS AT CHURCH. 29th Dec. 1916

Much to the disappointment of some members of the congregation, no carols were sung at the afternoon service at the Parish Church on Christmas Day, and the first celebration of the Holy Communion, which for many years had been at 6 a.m. on this festival, and had invariably been well attended, was discontinued.

FOUND. 29th Dec. 1916

An 18-round ladder belonging to Mr. W. H. Key, which had been borrowed without his knowledge or permission during the blackberry season in September, and respecting which he and the police had made many futile inquiries, was found lying under the hedge of Constable's Rood on Boxing Day. Constable's Rood is a small close adjoining Mr. Key's orchard, from which the ladder had been removed.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS. 29th Dec. 1916

Notwithstanding the fact that he had disposed of nearly the whole of his Swavesey property, including all of his cottages, three or four years ago, Captain J. D. Daintree, R.N., once again sent a sum of money for distribution amongst the widows and widowers of the parish. Thirty-four persons, some of whom were old tenants, benefited. He also provided a good supply of cigars and cigarettes for the use of the wounded soldiers at the V.A.D. Hospital at the Old House, generously lent by him free of charge to the Red Cross Society.

Mr. Alfred Day provided each man and woman employed on his Swavesey and Boxworth farms with a joint of meat for their Christmas dinner.

FROM THE FRONT. 5th Jan. 1917

Private Thomas Howlett, Cheshire Regt., son of Mr. William Howlett, arrived unexpectedly in Swavesey by the first train on Saturday morning on short leave from the Western front. He is in excellent health.

SEASONABLE CHEER. 5th Jan. 1917

In our last issue we omitted to state that Mrs. T. W. Carter, "The Poplars," Swavesey, very kindly sent out parcels of grocery, which were much appreciated by the happy recipients.

BELGIAN REFUGEES. 5th Jan. 1917

The family of De Stickeres, who resided for about two years in Swavesey, are now living in Cambridge. The children – Marie and George – attend the Belgian School. Marie (the eldest), has just gained second prize for English. This is very satisfactory, as the family when they arrived in Swavesey had no knowledge of the English language.

MONTHLY SERVICE. 5th Jan. 1917

At the monthly service on Sunday afternoon last, under the presidency of the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, the special speaker was Mr. Read. Miss Chapman, of Longstanton, very pleasingly rendered two solos.

GOOD ATTENDANCE. 5th Jan. 1917

Medals and a bar for perfect attendance during the twelve months ended 31st March last have been awarded to the following children attending Swavesey National School, viz., medals to Charles Dodson, Carrie Froment and Ivy Thorp, and a bar for four years' perfect attendance to Alfred Culpin. At the request of the headmaster, the presentation was made by Miss Pook.

PARISH COUNCIL. 5th Jan. 1917

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on the 28th ulto. and was attended by Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), and Messrs. C. W. H. Cole, A. Day, jun., J. S. Goad, A. T. Scard, W. Twist and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The minutes of the last meeting, held on April 25th last, were read, and after a slight amendment confirmed. The Clerk reported that he had not paid in the cheque for the precept of £10 issued at the last meeting as the sum of £14 2s. had unexpectedly become due to the Council last summer. It was decided that the cheque should be kept for future use if needed. – The Clerk reported that on April 29th he had, in accordance with the Council's instructions, written to the roundabout proprietor who had hired for £2 the sole right to stand on the Recreation Ground at the village feast in May, 1915, informing him that if the money was not paid within a certain period the Council would take proceedings against him. He had had no reply. A resolution was carried to take out a County Court summons without delay.

The question of the disposal of several public water supply pipes which had been placed in Mr. Godfrey's yard were dealt with. The Council discussed the condition of the premises in High-street hired by Mr. W. J. Hephher, and it was agreed that a fresh agreement should be prepared and signed forthwith.

The dangerous condition of the pebble footpath in High-street was then discussed. The county road authorities had instructed the Clerk to effect the necessary repairs. (The Clerk's only bricklayer joined the Army on October 12th). It was found satisfactory that the matter was in hand and would be dealt with.

A lamp-post in Market-street which had nearly fallen down would be dealt with by the man responsible for the damage. The District Council Surveyor was to be written to concerning the snow-plough, usually employed in the parish, which had been broken in pieces, so another could be made available.

Mr. Twist said that Mrs. Long, of the Priory, had asked him to bring before the Council the disgraceful condition of the property in High-street which had been bequeathed to the parish by her husband, the late Mr. George Long. After some discussion it was decided that the Council would inspect the property at 3.30 p.m. on Monday. Instructions were given for the payment of half-year's salary due to Mr. Challis last September as captain of the fire engine, and of a small amount owing to him. The meeting closed at 8.30 p.m.

JOINED UP. 12th Jan. 1917

Mr. Charles Prime, eldest son of Mr. David Prime, Hog Pasture Gate House, has joined the Bedfordshire Regt.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 12th Jan. 1917

Sergt. Cyril Day, Northants Yeomanry, and Sergeant Albert A. Girling, Royal Flying Corps, arrived in Swavesey last week on short leave from the front.

CONVALESCENT. 12th Jan. 1917

Sapper Arthur Parish, R.E., son of Mr. Z. Parish, who was wounded in the leg in October, and has been under treatment in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Netley, arrived home, convalescent, on Friday last.

PROMOTION. 12th Jan. 1917

Pte. Edward Williams, Suffolk Regiment, who prior to his joining up on the 21st. January, 1916, was sexton and clerk at Swavesey parish church, has been promoted to the rank of corporal. He has been in France since the beginning of August, and has had the experience of going “over the top.”

MISSIONARY TEA. 12th Jan. 1917

The annual missionary tea and lecture were held in the National School on the 4th instant, under the presidency of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The lecture was given by the Rev. J. G. Clark, who interested his audience in missionary work in Burma, in which country he had laboured for upwards of eight years. The proceeds from the tickets for the tea, collection, and subscriptions, amounting in all to ££ 2s. 6d., were in aid of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in foreign parts. The attendance was good, and the behaviour of the younger portion of the audience admirable, thanks to the excellent arrangements made by Mr. Churchwarden Key.

AN UNEXPECTED HOLIDAY. 12th Jan. 1917

When teachers and children arrived at the National School on Monday morning it was discovered that no fires had been lighted, and further, that there was no wood with which to set them going. The thermometer showed a temperature of 38 degrees in the rooms, and some of the children were crying with “hot ache” in the fingers. It was useless then to forage around for kindling, as it would take some time for the rooms to gain the necessary degree of warmth. The Headmaster, therefore, sent the children home, and reported the state of affairs by telephone to the Education Secretary in Cambridge. His action was approved, and it was promised that a supply of firewood should be sent from Cambridge without delay. It appears that wood for the school fires has hitherto been obtained from St. Ives Union through a local tradesman. An order for a consignment was recently given, but instead of wood an intimation was received that the Union stock was exhausted. During last week the fire had been lighted with wood taken to school by the children, and in course of Monday Mr. W. H. Key, a manager, Mr. G. Spearman, and other kind friends provided sufficient kindling to last for a few days.

PARISH FINANCE. 12th Jan. 1917

Our Swavesey representative writes:- At the last meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council there was some conversation respecting the disposal of the rents accruing from the parish property in High-street, and it was suggested that they should be paid into a separate banking account instead of being applied to the reduction of the rates as at present. Unfortunately the Clerk raised some objections to the suggestion, and the matter dropped. When the late Mr. George Long, who died in 1902, bequeathed the property to the parish, it is believed that he had in view the erection at some future time of a village hall on that part of the ground which abuts on High-street. At any rate, it is far from clear that his intention was that the income should go towards a reduction of the rates. A separate banking account was opened a few years ago for the herbage rent of the Recreation Ground, but the money deposited therein has earned no interest so far as the parish is concerned. At last year's annual parish meeting, held on the 22nd May, the question was discussed, and it was agreed that the balance standing to the credit of the Recreation Ground account, then amounting to about £18, should be so invested as to earn interest. This was duly mentioned in the report of the meeting in the "Weekly News" of 26th May. It would be interesting to know what has been done in the matter. It would seem desirable that the rents of the High-street property, after allowing for current expenses, should also be invested in a separate interest bearing account, and allowed to accumulate for use when needed on the property in accordance with what is believed to have been the late Mr. Long's wishes. The Post Office Savings Bank would allow 2½ per cent. interest, and that, though small, would be better than nothing.

BREAD. 19th Jan. 1917

The price of bread in Swavesey was on Tuesday raised from 9½d. to 10d. per quartern loaf.

A DANGEROUS FOOTPATH. 19th Jan 1917

We have received the following: As one who has occasion to walk along High-street morning, noon and night, will you allow me to ask, through the medium of your paper, when the County Council intend to repair the pebble footpath on the western side of the street? I see from your report of the last Parish Council meeting that our local Parliament drew attention to the dangerous condition of the path eight months ago, and that subsequently an order was give for the repairs to be executed. But nothing has been done unless the removal of some of the loose stones is to be taken as the first step. The Parish Council apparently think they have done all that is required of them. The pebbles – some of them of good size – are kicked into the roadway, and in the dark – the street is often very, very dark now that not a glimmer of light is allowed – are a danger to pedestrians, cycles, motor cars and horse vehicles. So far I have only heard of a cripple having come to grief, but I suppose he does not count. Several people have also had narrow escapes from sprained ankles. Are we to wait until disaster has befallen a County Councillor or a road official before anything effective is done? I may add that the path has been considerably weakened by steam rollers and traction engines with heavy loads passing close alongside.

JOINED UP. 26th Jan. 1917

Mr. Henry Wilderspin, eldest son of Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, joined up on Saturday.

THE VICAR. 26th Jan. 1917

The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, having completed his year's service as a temporary chaplain to the Forces in France, arrived in England on Tuesday, and will resume duties in Swavesey on Sunday.

PROMOTION. 26th Jan. 1917

In recent Battalion Orders of the 2nd Cambs. Volunteer Regiment, Pte. Joseph B. Parish, of Swavesey, who is attached to the 16th Platoon, "D" Company, was promoted to the rank of corporal.

CONVALESCENT. 26th Jan. 1917

Pte. Charles H. Parish, Suffolk Regiment, who has been suffering from a broken leg, caused by falling in the dark into a shell hole when advancing to the front line of trenches, arrived in Swavesey last weekend from Uppingham V.A.D. Hospital. He has made a good recovery, and is to return to duty on Monday.

AMATEUR STOKERS. 26th Jan. 1917

It was discovered between 5 and 6 p.m. on Saturday that no fires had been lighted in the parish church, in consequence of the person whose duty it is to attend to the stoves having been taken ill. Mr. Churchwarden Key, with the help of his grandson, Master Alfred Hawkes, at once set to work, and was later joined by Mrs. J. Hawkes and Miss M. Parsons. The stoves were set going after some difficulty, and were attended to until nearly midnight by this gang of amateur stokers with such success that a prominent member of the congregation on Sunday morning remarked that the church, the coldness of which had recently been the subject of complaint, had not been so well heated all the winter.

ENTERTAINMENT. 26th Jan. 1917

On January 11th a repetition of the Over Christmas entertainment was given in Swavesey Schools, in aid of Cambs. 12 V.A.D. Red Cross Hospital. In spite of the inclement weather there was a good audience, who were most appreciative. The total proceeds amounted to £7 13s. 10d., including donations. The expenses were met by private subscription.

THE LATE MRS. JOHN PARISH. 26th Jan. 1917

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Parish, who passed away at the age of 73 years, at Kettering, where she had been living since her husband's death some years ago, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Friday morning. The chief mourners were: Mrs. J. Parish (daughter), Messrs. F., E., T., S., and J. Parish (sons) and Mr. J. Parish (son-in-law). Mrs. Parish was the widow of the late Mr. John Parish, who was well known in Strict Baptist circles, and daughter of the late Mr. James Radford. Both husband and wife were natives of Swavesey, and are buried in the same grave.

WAR SAVINGS AND POTATOES. 26th Jan. 1917

A parish meeting called to consider whether a War Savings Association should be formed in Swavesey, and whether application should be made for seed potatoes for allotment holders and small cultivators, was held in the Infants' School on Monday evening. Mr. Arthur Norman, Chairman of the Parish Council, presided, and there were between 40 and 50 men present. The Chairman opened the proceedings with a brief and earnest appeal in support of saving to provide silver bullets. After some discussion Mr. Prime Godfrey moved a resolution that a War Savings Association be formed in Swavesey. Mr. J. B. Parish seconded and nine voted in favour, and none against. It was decided that the committee making the necessary appointments and arrangements should be the nine who voted for the resolution. The names of the nine were recorded and then it was found that there were ten.

In the matter of the seed potatoes, after some discussion the Clerk was requested by the Chairman to take the names of those who desired a supply of seed potatoes, and provisional orders for upwards of two tons were received. (Long report in newspaper).

AN ABANDONED SERVICE. 26th Jan. 1917

ACCIDENTS TO VICAR & ORGANIST ON WAY TO CHURCH.
ANXIOUS PROSPECTIVE BRIDEGROOM.

The usual morning service at 10.30 was not held on Sunday in Swavesey Parish Church in consequence of a serious accident which befell the Rev. John Francis Cooksey, of Swavesey Manor, who has had charge of the parish since last January in the absence of the vicar. The congregation waited patiently, but neither Mr. Cooksey nor the organist, Mr. G. H. Skeeles, put in an appearance. The latter, however, arrived about 10.45. Whilst cycling from St. Ives, where he lives, he had met with an accident and had been thrown over the handlebars of his machine. Fortunately, he escaped with no more serious damage than bruises and shock to his system.

Still there were no signs of Mr. Cooksey, so Mr. William T. Thorp, churchwarden, asked one of the maids from Swavesey Manor, who was in the congregation, to go and inquire what was amiss. On her way home she met a messenger hurrying to the church with the news that on leaving the house for the service Mr. Cooksey had slipped on his doorstep and had seriously injured his leg.

In the absence of any clergyman, the service was abandoned and the congregation went home.

Mr. Cooksey lay where he fell for a short time, but was soon able to attract the attention of Mrs. Cooksey, and he was assisted into the house, where Mrs. Cooksey, who is Quarter-master at the V.A.D. Hospital, rendered first aid. Dr. Bayne was fetched from St. Ives, and on examination it was discovered that the tibia (the smaller leg bone) was broken. The afternoon service at the Parish Church was taken by the Rev. R. B. L. Oliver, vicar of Over, and the evening service at the Mission Church by the Rev. A. P. Senior, of Fen Drayton.

One member of the morning congregation was considerably perturbed at the absence of the officiating clergyman, as his banns of marriage were to have been published for the "second time of asking," and as he was most anxious that his marriage should not be postponed, they were duly published in the afternoon.

On inquiry at Swavesey Manor on Monday morning it is stated that Mr. Cooksey had had a fairly comfortable night, some sleep, and was doing as well as could be expected. Mr. Cooksey before going to live at Swavesey in retirement was Vicar of Upwood, Hunts. He is an M.A. of Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, and when an undergraduate he had the distinction of being the tallest man of his day. He is about 6ft. 4in. in height.

ILLNESS OF MRS. LONG. 2nd Feb. 1917

We are sorry to say that Mrs. George Long, of the Priory, was taken seriously ill on Thursday morning, and at noon had not regained consciousness.

A CHECK TO CLEANLINESS. 2nd Feb. 1917

A correspondent is anxious to know when the washing basins at the National School, which have been broken some time, will be replaced. Perhaps the managers will kindly say.

THE REV. J. F. COOKSEY. 2nd Feb. 1917

We are glad to learn that the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Swavesey Manor, who fell on the doorstep of his house on his way to church on the Sunday before last, and fractured his leg, is progressing favourably.

SKATING. 2nd Feb. 1917

The ice on flooded land at Swavesey, especially on Mere Fen, has not been exceptionally good this week. There have not been many skaters, and visitors have been conspicuous by their absence.

DEATH OF MRS. L. PARISH. 2nd Feb. 1917

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Sophie Parish, wife of Mr. Arthur Leonard Parish, elder son of Mr. Ebenezer Parish, J. P., and daughter of Mr. William Parish, which occurred on Thursday morning at Swavesey. Mrs. Parish leaves three little boys.

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 2nd Feb. 1917

The churchwardens, as trustees of the late Mr. Thomas Payne's Charity, on Monday last, the anniversary of Mr. Payne's birthday, distributed one hundredweight of coal, half-a-pound of tea, and a pound of sugar in accordance with the terms of the bequest, to each of twenty-three needy widows and widowers in Swavesey.

PARISH CHURCH. 2nd Feb. 1917

The Vicar, who is in excellent health, has resumed duty in the parish after his twelve months' service as a temporary chaplain to the Forces in France, and officiated at all services on Sunday last.

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 2nd Feb. 1917

The Swavesey District Military Tribunal sat in a room at Mr. G. D. Day's Office, St. Ives, on Monday afternoon, Mr. Jacob Frohock being in the chair. The following Swavesey applicants attended: Messrs. Cecil Dean, A. Duce, and J. Wallis Parish, granted conditional exemption; Messrs. Percy Parish and H. H. Williams, six months' exemption; and Messrs. Dick Wilderspin and Dennis Williams three months' exemption.

A DANGER TRAP. 2nd Feb. 1917

Complaint is made that the form in High-street near Black Horse-lane provided for the use of wounded soldiers at the V.A.D. Hospital, is a danger to the public in its present position. It stands against a wall between a telegraph post and the end of the lane, and projects some 18 inches or more into the lane. Persons passing into High-street from the lane in the dark are liable to come into collision with the form, with painful results to their shins. On a recent night children or other thoughtless and mischievous individuals drew the form farther across the lane, and an insurance agent hastening about his business, ignorant of the obstacle, had an awkward fall. An elderly woman is also reported to have come to grief. It is suggested that the form might with advantage be shortened and made a fixture.

ACCIDENT TO MAIL CART. 2nd Feb. 1917

As the Over to Cambridge mail cart was passing the Little Rose, High-street, Swavesey, about 8 o'clock on Tuesday night, a dog ran between the horse's legs, causing the horse to shy, stumble and fall. The driver was thrown from his seat on to the horse, rolling thence to the ground, which was lightly covered with snow. Mr. George Clarke, of the Little Rose, hearing the smash, ran out of his house and rendered what aid he could. He sent for further assistance, and several men accustomed to horses were on the spot within a few moments. Some difficulty was experienced in releasing the horse from the shafts and harness, but after nearly half-an-hour's delay the horse, which fortunately was only slightly grazed about the knees, was re-harnessed, and the cart proceeded on its journey. A saddle in place of one broken, and also knee-caps were lent by Mr. R. Williamson, butcher, to whom, strangely enough, the horse had originally belonged, and whose stables were opposite the scene of the mishap. The driver escaped with a few bruises.

JOINED UP. 9th Feb. 1917

Mr. Frederick Andrew Prior, son of Mr. William Prior, High-street, who has for some time been employed on munition work at Coventry, joined the Royal Field Artillery last week.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 9th Feb. 1917

Mr. Charles Raymond, of the Friends' Mission Van, has this week been holding evangelistic services at the Friends' Meeting House, Black Horse-lane, and has shown some effective lantern pictures.

DINNER-HOUR CLOSING. 9th Feb. 1917

Owing to depletion of staff, due to the nation's call for men, another Swavesey grocer and draper has found it necessary to close his shop during the dinner hour. It is difficult to understand why the other shopkeepers do not adopt the same plan.

GOOD WEIGHT. 9th Feb. 1917

A correspondent writes: Whilst wandering along the village the other morning I saw the County Inspector of Weights and Measures testing loaves of bread out of a baker's cart that he had intercepted. Curiosity led me to look on and see the bread weighed, and I was much gratified to hear the Inspector instruct the lad who was in charge of the cart to tell his master, a Swavesey baker, that "it was a good record for weight." In subsequent conversation, the Inspector remarked to me that this was a usual occurrence in the county. Since the 1st January 360 loaves have been weighed "by surprise" by Mr. Bellamy, with the following result: Correct 236, overweight 62, light weight 62."

WAR LOAN. 9th Feb. 1917

The Vicar and churchwardens of Swavesey have decided to invest the unexpended balance of the fund raised for the repair of the Parish Church in the War Loan. Nearly £40 is available for the purpose. It will be remembered that extensive repairs were in progress at the time the war broke out, and that work had to be suspended. It is to be feared that no steps have been taken to extend the membership of the War Savings Association which was formed at a recent Parish Meeting. The nine or ten parishioners who then signified their intention to join the Association do not include amongst their number a single labourer or representative of a labourer's household.

CONCERT. 9th Feb. 1917

On Thursday, February 1st, a successful effort was made by the Young People's Guild, in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel, assisted by friends from St. Ives, Over, Longstanton, and Sergt. Parsons, from the Red Cross Hospital, Swavesey, on behalf of the Renovation Fund. The financial result was most encouraging, the entire proceeds (£3 2s.) being paid over to the treasurer (Mr. A. Norman). The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher presided over a large audience. Each item of the programme was greatly appreciated. The audience included soldiers from the Red Cross Hospital, who kindly responded to the invitation sent to the Commandant by the Secretary of the Guild. (Full programme in newspaper).

THE LATE MRS. A. L. PARISH. 9th Feb. 1917

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sophie Parish, wife of Mr. Arthur Leonard Parish, whose death on the 1st inst., at the age of 39 years, was announced last week, took place on Tuesday afternoon. Owing to the severe weather, the greater part of the burial service was taken in the Particular Baptist Chapel, which Mrs. Parish had attended all her life, and where until the last year or two she had been organist since she was about 12 years of age. In addition to the mourners there were many sympathising friends from Swavesey, Over, St. Ives, and the district, in the chapel, and at the graveside. Addresses and prayers were delivered by Mr. Wiles (St. Ives) and Mr. Z. Parish (Swavesey), and one hymn, "God moves in a mysterious way," was sung. The body, enclosed in a polished oak coffin, was then conveyed to Swavesey Cemetery, followed by the mourners and friends. Mr. Wiles officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mr. A. L. Parish (husband), Mr. and Mrs. W. Parish (parents), Mr. J. W. Parish and Pte. C. H. Parish (brothers), Miss M. Parish (sister), Mr. and Mrs. E. Parish (father and mother-in-law) and Mr. and Mrs. R. Parish (brother and sister-in-law). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

WAR LOAN. 16th Feb. 1917

The trustees of the Old Age Pensioners' Cottages, having a balance of about £10 in hand, decided at a meeting last week to invest the amount in the War Loan.

SCHOLASTIC SUCCESS. 16th Feb. 1917

Miss Maud Johnson, daughter of Mrs. John Johnson, Post Office, Fen Drayton, and a teacher in Swavesey Infants' School, has been successful in passing the Preliminary Certificate Examination of Teachers. This is very creditable to Miss Johnson, as she is only 17 years of age.

PARISH COUNCIL. 16th Feb. 1917

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. Day, jun., Robert Norman, A. T. Scard and W. Twist, with the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. The minutes of the last meeting on 28th December were read and signed. Various matters arising out of the minutes were then dealt with. The Clerk reported that he had taken certain steps as directed by the Council in regard to the Recreation Ground case, and that he had not been able to draw up the agreement in connection with Mr. W. J. Hephew's tenancy of the Council's property in High-street, but promised to have the agreement ready when the next meeting was held. The Clerk further reported that he had been in communication with the District Council respecting a snow plough, and mentioned that he had been given instructions to make a new one. The Chairman reported that he had seen a snow plough used at the wrong time, after the snow had been well trampled down, and that it had made the road very dangerous for horses. The Chairman thought the attention of the County Council should be called to the improper use of the plough. Eventually the subject was dropped.

The Clerk announced that he had arranged with Mr. E. Furniss, of Fen Drayton to repair the pebble footpath in High-street. There was then discussion about several broken lamp-posts in the village, which had been removed. The investment of the Recreation ground money in either Post Office Savings Bank or in the War Loan resulted in a vote to invest in the latter. Further discussion followed on the setting up of an Association with regard to the War Loan. The subject of seed potatoes followed in the course of which the Clerk said he thought someone other than himself should be appointed to take the money and arrange for the distribution, etc., of the potatoes. It was agreed that Messrs. Scard and Twist should be appointed to attend to the matter.

(Very long report in newspaper).

DEATH OF MRS. LONG, OF SWAVESEY. 16th Feb. 1917

It is with deep regret that we announce the death at the age of 75 years, of Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Long, widow of the late Mr. George Long, which occurred at her residence, The Priory, Swavesey, on Saturday last. Mrs. Long was seized with sudden illness on Thursday, the 1st instant, and passed away ten days' later without regaining consciousness. One sister, Mrs. J. B. Ellis, St. Ives, survives her. She leaves no children. Her husband died on the 6th April, 1902. Mrs. Long will be sadly missed in Swavesey. Every good cause had her warm and generous support, and many people in the parish will have lost in her a kind and beneficent friend.

On Sunday last the Vicar of Swavesey, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, referred to the great loss the parish and the church had sustained. He spoke of how the village would miss her. He stated that he would make no attempt to describe in detail what she had done, but how unceasing was her interest in those who worked for the church, in the choir, in the bellringers, and all those who worked actively in the service of the church.

"In the village and in the church she filled a large place, but I, in saying this, would not let you think that her sympathy was thus limited, or her activities thus confined. Her outlook was wider than this, her support more widely given. She took the keenest interest in the local V.A.D. Hospital, and gave the most generous help. She was indefatigable in her efforts for Addenbrooke's Hospital, and was in charge of the ladies' organisation fund for this district of the county. She took an active part in the work of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Families' Association. She has been taken from us, and we cannot but feel the loss, and with the consciousness of our loss there comes a remembrance of the deeper and more intimate sorrow of those who were most near and dear to her. We offer to them our truest sympathy."

JOINED UP. 23rd Feb. 1917

Mr. William Henry Metcalfe joined up on Monday.

PARISH CHURCH. 23rd Feb. 1917

The Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, vicar of Over, preached at the afternoon service on Ash Wednesday.

CLOSED FOR DINNER HOUR. 23rd Feb. 1917

Another Swavesey grocer and draper is now closing his shop during the dinner hour. Only one shop of the kind in the village has not adopted the plan.

WAR SAVINGS. 23rd Feb. 1917

The Swavesey War Savings Association have commenced operations. To-night (Friday) the treasurer and secretary will be in attendance at the National School from 6.30 to 7.30 p.m. to receive subscriptions. All persons, whether they have given in their names already or not, who wish to do their duty by their country by subscribing to the Association, and at the same time benefit themselves, are asked to attend. The subscriptions are limited to sixpence or multiples of sixpence.

BREAD UP AGAIN. 23rd Feb. 1917

On Tuesday, January 16th, Swavesey bakers raised the price of a quartern loaf of bread from 9½d. to 10d. On Tuesday last, five weeks later, they increased the cost to 10½d. per quartern. This is the highest price for bread in Swavesey since the Crimean War, when 11½d and afterwards 1s. per quartern was charged. At one time since – in the seventies – bread rose to 9d. "A Father of a Family" asks the pertinent question how the present Swavesey price compares with that charged by Cambridge town bakers, whose expenses for rent, rates, labour, etc., must be considerably higher than those of Swavesey bakers.

NARROW ESCAPE OF SCHOOL. 23rd Feb. 1917

As Messrs. Walter Thorp and Girling were passing the National School on Saturday evening they noticed an unusual light in the large room, and on looking through a window saw that something was burning. They obtained the keys, and on entering the room found that some firewood which had been left to dry in front of a stove by the cleaners had by some means got alight. The drier portion had been burnt out and the damper was smouldering. A little water quickly put out the fire. Mr. W. H. Key, one of the managers, went by the school whilst Messrs. Thorp and Girling were engaged inside, and observing the light, entered to see what was the matter. A cleaner's apron left hanging on the iron guard of the stove was burned to a cinder, but otherwise practically no damage was done.

THE LATE MRS. GEORGE LONG. 23rd Feb. 1917
FUNERAL AT SWAVESEY.

Amidst universal manifestations of sorrow and respect, the funeral of Mrs. George Long of the Priory, Swavesey, whose death was announced last week, took place on Friday afternoon, the 16th inst. All blinds were drawn and shops closed on the line or route from the Priory to the church. Outside the National School the children were drawn up in line under the command of their Headmaster, Mr. G. Hicks, and solemnly saluted as the funeral procession passed by. The hearse was followed by five carriages conveying the chief mourners and a long line of other mourners and friends came next on foot.

The bells of the parish church were ringing, fully muffled, when the procession reached the churchyard gates, and here the Vicar, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, and the Rev. A. C. Vidler, late Vicar of Swavesey, and now Rector of Tewin, Herts., were waiting with the choir. Upon the coffin was one cross of heather, from Mrs. J. B. Ellis, Mrs. Long's only sister.

The Vicar said the burial sentences as the body was borne towards the church. After a hymn and the lesson, the Rev. A. C. Vidler said the collects usually read at the grave, and as the choir left the chancel for the churchyard the bells, now only half-muffled, rung.

Mr. Vidler read the sentences and a prayer at the grave, and the Vicar said the committal prayers, and concluded the service. Again the bells broke out for a brief space, this time unmuffled.

(Long list of mourners in newspaper).

The general arrangements at the church were in the hands of the churchwardens, Messrs. W. H. Key and William T. Thorp. The brick grave, which adjoined that of the late Mr. George Long, was lined with moss and daffodils by Mr. Walter Thorp. The body was enclosed in a shell and a massive coffin of unpolished English oak, panelled and moulded, with heavy brass furniture, and a breast-plate with the inscription: "Anne Elizabeth Long, died 10th February, 1917, aged 75 years."

(Long list of floral tributes)

Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker, in conjunction with Messrs. Bryant and Bryant, St. Ives.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 2nd March 1917

Private Fred Kester, Army Service Corps. arrived in Swavesey on the evening of the 22nd ulto., on ten days leave from the Western front. He was in good health.

CONVALESCENT. 2nd March 1917

Sergt. George Goad, Suffolk Regiment, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goad, Ryder's Farm, who was shot through the lungs in September, and has been in hospital ever since, arrived in Swavesey on Saturday, having been granted ten days' leave. He is still far from "fit."

POSTAL ALTERATIONS. 2nd March 1917

Commencing yesterday, March 1st, the following alterations in the delivery and despatch of mails at Swavesey came into force. The first delivery now begins at 7.45 a.m. instead of at 7 a.m. as hitherto, and the box at the Post Office is cleared for the night mail at 7 p.m. instead of at 7.40 p.m. The mid-day delivery and despatch have not been altered. There will in future be no delivery or despatch of letters on Sundays, but the Post Office will be open from 8.30 to 10 a.m. for telegraph business and sale of stamps. The wall box in Middle Watch will be cleared at 9 a.m., 1.30 p.m., and 6.35 p.m. on week-days.

WAR SAVINGS. 2nd March 1917

The first meeting of the Swavesey War Savings Association for the receipt of subscriptions was held at the National School on Friday evening. Sixteen members were enrolled whose contributions amounted to £3 5s. 6d. Meetings will be held at the school every Friday from 6.30 to 7.30 p.m., and it is expected that there will soon be a considerable increase in the number of members. It is understood that members of the committee attended, with the secretary and treasurer, last Friday, but it is open to question whether this unnecessary publicity will find favour with all persons who may be desirous of investing their war savings in the Association.

MUD. 2nd March 1917

Notwithstanding protests in these columns, the senseless plan of scraping mud into heaps in High-street and Church End, and leaving the heaps to dry for two days, and sometimes longer, still continues. High-street is a narrow thoroughfare, and nowadays is extremely dark on moonless nights. The heaps of mud are so arranged that persons groping their way to the Post Office, or to shops, etc., no matter how careful they may be, rarely ever escape without mudded boots and often mire-splashed clothing. One of the roadmen has been heard on more than one occasion to complain that people are so wanting in consideration for him as to walk through his heaps and give him extra trouble when it is convenient for him to complete his job by carting the mud away. There appears to be an obvious way out of the difficulty which may commend itself to the road authorities, because it is simple, and would involve neither extra expense nor extra labour. It is this. Two days appear now to be needed for the job. Why not scrape half the distance and remove the mud one day, and do the other half next day? This suggestion was put to one of the roadmen recently, but did not find favour in his eyes. On the contrary, he appeared to resent it as an improper interference with the rights of roadmen.

WAR SAVINGS. 9th March 1917

The membership of the Swavesey War Savings Association has now increased to 22, and it is hoped that more patriotic Swaveseyites will join now that the advantages of the Association are being better understood.

OBITUARY. 9th March 1917

We regret to report the following deaths which have occurred this week in Swavesey: After an illness of some length Miss Alice Sutton, third daughter of the late Mr. David Sutton, of Boxworth End, passed away early on Monday morning, her 37th birthday. On Tuesday evening Miss Susan Mitham, of High-street, who had been unable to leave her bed for about a year and seven months, died, at the age of 72 years. She was a daughter of the late Mr. Robert Mitham.

BOY SCOUTS. 9th March 1917

A meeting was held last week at the National School to establish a troop of Boy Scouts in the parish. The Vicar presided, and the Rev. C. T. Wood, Queens' College, Cambridge, District Scoutmaster, gave an address. Fifteen boys gave in their names to join the Scouts, and 13 the Cubs (boys who are under Scout age). The following appointments have been made: Boys Scouts: The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, Scoutmaster; Mr. G. Hicks, Assistant Scoutmaster; Wilfred Church and George Oakman, patrol leaders. The Cubs: Miss Jean Capper, Scoutmaster; Alfred Pettett, patrol leader. There have been several drills since the meeting, and there is every prospect of the movement being successful.

PARISH COUNCIL. 9th March 1917

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C.W. H. Cole, A. Day, jun., Robert Norman, A. T. Scard, and W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The meeting was called specially to select the names of four parishioners as qualified to act as parish constable for submission to the justices in petty sessions, but after the minutes of the previous meeting had been signed, several matters arising therefrom were discussed. The matter of replacing the fallen lamp-posts was to be left until after the war. Mr. Twist proposed that the wooden lamp-posts other than the fallen ones be repaired and repainted and that the work be done by Mr. S. Challis. This resolution was carried. The following parishioners were then selected as qualified and suitable for the office of parish constable: Messrs. Edward Bull, C. J. Shepperson (this year's constable), R. Williamson and Prime Godfrey. It was also decided that the constable's remuneration should be £1 19s. 6d, and that there should be no deduction of 5s. for the constable's rood as in previous years. After the resolution was carried, the Clerk explained that the vote was in respect of the constable's pay for the year expiring this month. Eventually the resolution was amended to apply to the past year. The incoming constable will therefore take office without any guarantee of remuneration for his services. The agreement in connection with Mr. W. J. Hephher's tenancy of the parish property in High-street was signed on behalf of the Council. The meeting was closed at 8.45 p.m.

REV. J. F. COOKSEY. 16th March 1917

We are glad to state that the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, of Swavesey Manor, who met with an accident on his way to church on Sunday, 21st January, breaking his leg, is well on the way to recovery. He has not only been able to leave his room, but has managed a short walk in his garden.

UP AGAIN. 16th March 1917

The stale bread edict, which came into force on Monday was quickly followed by a further rise in the price charged by bakers to their customers in Swavesey. On Tuesday a 4lb loaf cost 11d. At the time of the Crimean War the charge was 11½d. and then 1s. per quartern. The highest price until recently was 9d. for one short period during the seventies. At the beginning of this year a loaf cost 9½d.; on the 16th January the price was raised to 10d., and five weeks later to 10½d.

FUNERAL. 16th March 1917

The funeral of the late Miss Susan Mitham, daughter of the late Mr. Robert Mitham, who died on the 6th inst., aged 71, took place at the parish church, Swavesey, on Monday afternoon, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (Vicar) officiating. The chief mourners were: Miss Anne Mitham (sister), Mrs. Robert Mitham (sister-in-law), Bradford, Yorks. and Miss N. Mitham (niece). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

THE LATE MISS SUTTON. 16th March 1917

The funeral of the late Miss Alice Sutton, whose death on the 5th inst. was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Friday 9th inst. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. R. Sutton (brother), Mrs. Pontefract and Miss K. Sutton (sisters) and Mrs. R. Sutton (sister-in-law). Owing to the feeble health and the inclement weather, Mrs. Sutton, mother of the deceased, was unable to be present, and Pte. David Sutton, brother, was with his regiment in France. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

JOINED UP. 16th March 1917

Mr. George Edwin Canham, grocer and draper, High-street, and Mr. Percy J. Beaumont have joined the Royal Garrison Artillery, the former on Saturday and the latter on Tuesday. Mr. Canham leaves a one-man business in the hands of his wife. He has two brothers already serving in the Army, one of whom has been in France for sixteen months. Mr. Beaumont is the oldest of five brothers, sons of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, and Mrs. Beaumont, Swavesey. The family can show a fine record. Henry Beaumont, next in age to Percy, enlisted in the Canadian Infantry at the beginning of the war. He went to France early in February 1915, and was returned as "missing" after the famous Canadian fight on 24th- 26th April 1915. He has since been recorded as killed. George, a Civil Service clerk, joined the London Scottish in November, 1915, and was wounded at Gommecourt on the 12th June last. He is now in a Cadet Battalion in training for a commission. Francis, also in the Civil Service, enlisted in another battalion of the London Regiment, and was wounded at Loos on the 25th September, 1915. He was discharged as no longer physically fit for war service in consequence of his injury on 25th July last. Arthur, the youngest, just 18 years of age, is to join up immediately. Mr., or as he should be called now, Gunner P. J. Beaumont, is a graduate of the University of Cambridge, and has for the last few years been a classical master at Wyggeston School, Leicester.

JOINED UP. 23rd March 1917

On Monday last Mr. Harry Prime, son of Mr. Alfred Prime, and Mr. John Parish, son of Mr. Z. Parish, joined up. The latter attained his 18th birthday on the day he joined.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 23rd March 1917

On Sunday morning the Pastor (The Rev. Howard T. N. Ussher) in his usual sermonette to the children, spoke in simple language on Russia: Past and Present. The address was listened to with great interest.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S GUILD. 23rd March 1917

The meeting of the Young People's Guild on Thursday week in the Bethel Schoolroom took the form of a social gathering, under the chairmanship of the President (the Rev. Howard T. N. Ussher). The various games were entered into heartily by the young people, Mrs. Ussher efficiently carrying out the duties of M.C. Before closing the President wished "God-speed" to one of the young friends who is just joining his Majesty's Army.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION. 23rd March 1917

The Rev. Dr. T. B. Allworthy, Diocesan Inspector of Religious Knowledge, who inspected Swavesey National School on the 14th instant, has made the following satisfactory report: "The religious instruction is carefully given. A good foundation is laid in the Infants' Class and in Standard I. The children in Standard II have an intelligent knowledge of what they have been taught and answer readily. The same may be said of most of the children in Standards III – VI. The children, who are taught the Catechism in these groups, understand the meaning of what they have learned, and answer thoughtfully. There is a reverent tone throughout the school."

PARISH CHURCH. 30th March 1917

The evening service at the Parish Church will be at 6 p.m. on Sunday next, instead of at 3 p.m.

POST OFFICE. 30th March 1917

Swavesey Post Office will be open for postal and telegraph business from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on and from Monday next. Hitherto the office has been open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

LOCAL TRIBUNAL. 30th March 1917

It is understood that the Swavesey District Military Tribunal, who sat at St. Ives on Monday afternoon, granted conditional exemption to Mr. A. L. Parish, farmer, and Mr. W. J. Hephher, butcher, the latter being required to join the Volunteer Force. Mr. Arthur Beaumont was given one month.

JOINED UP. 30th March 1917

Mr. E. J. Linford, junior, joined up on Tuesday, and Mr. Isaac Parish on Wednesday. Mr. Parish is a son of Mr. Z. Parish, butcher, High-street, and has two brothers already serving, one of whom has been wounded. Mr. Harry Prime, who was stated last week to have joined up, failed to pass the doctor, and was sent back to Swavesey for a time.

BAPTISMAL SERVICE. 30th March 1917

At the Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday evening, in the presence of a large congregation, a baptismal service was held. Three candidates for church fellowship were baptised by the pastor (Rev. Howard T. N. Ussher).

AN UNFORTUNATE FAMILY. 30th March 1917

Florence Symonds, the three-year-old child of Mr. William Symonds, Boxworth End, fell down in a room last Friday and broke her thigh. She was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital and detained. A year ago she spent 18 weeks in the hospital. This makes the fourth accident in the Symonds' family in about a year. Twelve months ago Mr. Symond's broke his arm, two months later a son fell off a machine and hurt his shoulder, and a month afterwards his daughter Evelyn had a finger cut off.

CHILDREN TO THE RESCUE. 30th March 1917

On Monday morning the supply of firewood at the National School once again ran short. The temperature was very low, and the weather threatening, and fires were absolutely necessary. The headmaster, Mr. G. Hicks, cudgelled his wits, and being a man of resource and imagination, soon hit upon a plan of supplying the deficiency. Addressing the children, he reminded them that it had been his painful duty sometimes to have to "give them the stick" when they were naughty, and he suggested that each child should return the compliment by giving him a stick every time he or she came to school. The suggestion "caught on", nay, it was received with enthusiasm, for in the afternoon the youngsters arrived at school laden not with single sticks, but with bundles. The crisis therefore passed happily, the situation having been saved by the children.

SACRED CONCERT. 30th March 1917

On Thursday 22nd, under the presidency of the Rev. Howard T. N. Ussher, a sacred concert was given by Bethel choir, ably assisted by friends from St. Ives, Over and Longstanton. Amongst the audience, all of whom apparently appreciated the various items, were 20 of the wounded soldiers from Swavesey Red Cross Hospital.

(Full programme in newspaper.)

BOY SCOUTS. 6th April 1917

The newly-formed Swavesey Troop of Boys Scouts attended the afternoon service at the parish church last Sunday, and each member solemnly made the Scout's Promise.

CHILDREN HELP. 6th April 1917

The children of the Upper School Needlework Class at Swavesey National School are knitting socks and mufflers for the use of soldiers. The wool has been supplied by the Quartermaster at Swavesey V. A. D. Hospital (Mrs. Cooksey), and the work is being done under the superintendence of Miss Ethel Robinson. Some of the articles have already been delivered.

DROVE LETTING. 6th April 1917

By order of the Swavesey Rural District Council, the herbage of the roadsides and droveways for the coming twelve months was let by auction at the White Horse Inn on Thursday, 29th ult., and realised £21 10s., against £22 last year. At the same time the herbage of the Recreation Ground was let, by direction of the Parish Council. This fetched £3 5s., five shillings less than twelve months ago. Mr. Clarence Underwood, of Willingham, was the auctioneer.

WAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION. 13th April 1917

Miss L. Pook has been appointed secretary of the Swavesey War Savings Association in place of Mr. Arthur Beaumont, who is about to join the Army.

FOR THE FIGHTING MEN. 13th April 1917

Illuminated cards of Easter greeting have been sent by the Vicar to about 80 Swavesey men serving in the Navy and Army.

PARISH CHURCH. 13th April 1917

The services at the Parish Church on Good Friday and Easter Day were well attended. On Good Friday evening the sermon was preached by the Rev. A. S. Senior, of Fen Drayton.

OVERLOOKED? 13th April 1917

The annual parish meeting appears to have been forgotten by the parochial authorities. According to Act of Parliament, it should have been held on March 25th or within seven days before or after that day. Last year the meeting was held at the end of May.

EASTER VESTRY. 13th April 1917

At the annual Vestry meeting held under the tower at the Parish Church on Tuesday evening, Mr. William T. Thorp was re-elected people's churchwarden, and the Vicar again nominated Mr. W. H. Key as vicar's warden. On the proposal of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, a vote of condolence was passed with Mr. James Taylor on the death of his wife.

PROMOTIONS. 13th March 1917

After four months' training with No. 4 Cadet Battalion at Oxford, Cadet George Beaumont, late of the London Scottish, has obtained a commission as second lieutenant, and has been posted to the East Surrey Regt. He was wounded on the 11th June last, but returned to his regiment in September. — Pte. Fred Kester, Army Service Corps, after many arduous months in France, has been advanced to the rank of corporal.

AN APPRECIATION. 13th April 1917

In the April number of "The Wyggestonian," the magazine of Wyggeston School, Leicester, the following appreciation appears of Mr. Percy J. Beaumont, now serving as a gunner in the Royal Garrison Artillery: "We regret to state that the school has lost yet another most popular master. Mr. Beaumont has left us to join the colours. He was always perfectly fair to the boys and generally took a lot more trouble with them than they deserved. He takes with him the best wishes of the entire school for a successful career in the new sphere of activities.

SUDDEN DEATH. 13th April 1917

Another occupant of Frere Cottages for old age pensioners has passed away. Mrs. Mary Ann Taylor, wife of Mr. James Taylor, was found dead in bed on Good Friday afternoon during the absence of her husband who was attending to his duties at the parish church. She was 79 years of age, and had been in ill-health for a long time, but had not been attended by a doctor. The matter was reported by P.C. Breed to the Coroner, who decided that in the circumstances no inquest was necessary. Mrs. Taylor, who was a daughter of the late Mr. John Mortlock, left one daughter and four sons, one of whom (Charles) was wounded last June in France and is now at Salonica, and another (Simon) is serving with the Hunts. Cyclist Battalion. The funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Tuesday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were Mr. James Taylor (husband), Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor (sons and daughters-in-law), Mrs. Charles Taylor (daughter-in-law) and Misses Beatrice and Mabel Taylor (grandchildren). Mr. Robinson Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker.

CANTATA. 13th April 1917

Under the conductorship of Mr. C. York, of St. Ives, a most enjoyable musical evening was given in the Bethel Baptist Chapel on Good Friday by a St. Ives united choir, assisted by a string band. The cantata "Christ and his Soldiers" (Henry Farmer) was ably rendered, followed by a miscellaneous programme. There was a large audience. Previous to the musical evening a public tea was provided in the schoolroom.
(Programme in newspaper)

JOINED UP. 20th April 1917

John Alexander Symonds, eldest son of Mr. William Symonds, Boxworth End, who has recently been employed by the Great Eastern Railway Co., joined the Army on Wednesday.

MARINE MARRIED. 20th April 1917

Gunner Albert G. Coulson, Royal Marine Artillery, second son of Mr. and Mrs. James Coulson, Boxworth End, was married to Miss Eveline Wiggins of Southsea, on Easter Tuesday.

WOUNDED. 20th April 1917

Mrs. David Sutton, of Boxworth End, has received information that her son, Pte. David Sutton, the Queen's (Royal) West Surrey Regt., was wounded in the thigh on Easter Monday. He was wounded in the chest on 9th August last at La Bassee.

A CORRECTION. 20th April 1917

Some misapprehension appears to have arisen as to the source from which the wool comes that is being knitted into articles for the soldiers by Swavesey school children, and we are asked to say that the money is provided from the District Red Cross Fund, and that the wool is given out by the village representative, Mrs. Cooksey. The original paragraph to which exception has been taken appeared in our issue of the 6th April.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 20th April 1917

The members of the Friends' Meeting House Band of Hope and Mothers' Meeting held a joint tea and entertainment at the Meeting House, Black Horse-lane, on Monday evening to bring their winter season to a close. Upwards of 60 members and friends sat down to an ample tea, the trays at which were presided over by Mrs. Godfrey, sen., Miss Vinerall (St. Ives) and Miss F. Gaunt. At the entertainment that followed Mr. C. Raymond, of the Friends' Mission Van, presided, and Miss Gaunt played the accompaniments. Most of the items in the long programme were given by the Band of Hope children, but solos were also sung by Mrs. Mann, Mrs. F. Clark and Mrs. Whybrow. The room was crowded for the entertainment, as many persons who were not at the tea were present.

WAR SAVINGS: AN APPEAL. 20th April 1917

Those who are actively exerting themselves in the promotion of War Savings Associations have been very busy during the last few weeks in the Swavesey County Council area. A local committee was formed at a meeting held so long ago as March 26th with the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp as president, and Mr. Henry Capper as secretary. In a very short time it is expected that a number of new societies will be formed in the district, in addition to the earlier-established Associations in Over and Swavesey, which have been doing good work for some time past. Mr. Henry Capper will be glad to give every information to any person as to the advantages gained by joining an Association, and to indicate a suitable Association. The War Certificates, of course, offer terms hitherto beyond the dreams of the small investor, but the main call is to patriotism, and it is hoped that everyone will purchase all the Certificates in their power, and thus help to win the war.

PUBLIC TEAS AND THE FOOD SHORTAGE. 20th April 1917 TO THE EDITOR.

Sir, - From all sides one hears of public teas, social evenings, dances and whist drives, the last three functions having as an attraction "Light refreshments." Yet Lord Devonport and others in authority who know the critical state of our food supplies beg us day after day to make the most sparing use of all foodstuffs; and meals in public eating-places have been strictly curtailed.

What is the good of urgent appeals for self-denial and rigid economy in eating and drinking from the pulpit and the rostrum on Sundays when the members of the congregations are on week-days encouraged – I might use a stronger word – to attend “annual teas” and similar functions? At a tea held in a chapel recently, I am told there was plenty to eat and ample supplies of sugar. Where did the sugar come from, one wonders, as most housekeepers find great difficulty in obtaining even a small quantity, often inadequate for absolute needs? The sickening part of the business is that the entertainments are frequently connected with religious bodies or are ostensibly in aid of war charities. Lord Devonport, we are told, desires that no school treats should be held this year. Why does he not take adult entertainments in hand? They should be prohibited where they involve the provision of food. – Yours, etc.,
X.Y.Z.

April 18th 1917

JOINED UP. 27th April 1917

Mr. Percy V. Maltby joined the South Staffordshire Regiment at Chesterfield on Thursday last week. For the past three years he has been in the employ of the Midland Railway Co.

IN A SUNKEN HOSPITAL SHIP. 27th April 1917

Corpl. Edward Williams, Suffolk Regiment, youngest son of Mrs. John Williams, Market-street, who has been ill in hospital in France for some time had the bad luck to be in one of the hospital ships recently sunk by the Germans. He is now in hospital at Bristol, and suffered no ill-effects from the sinking of the ship.

WASTE OF PUBLIC WATER. 27th April 1917

For some time past there has been a leakage from the pipes of the public water supply in the main road at the southern end of the Swan pond, opposite Mr. Robinson Mitham's premises. That the leakage has been observed is shown by a channel having been made to enable the water to run into the pond. As it is understood that this wasted water has to be paid for by the ratepayers, it is desirable that the pipes should be repaired at once.

FARMER'S RED CROSS EFFORT. 27th April 1917

Preparations are in progress for holding a jumble sale on a large scale at Swavesey by the British Farmers' Red Cross Association. The sale will be held on June 7th, and leave has been obtained from the owner and tenant of the Manor Farm to make use of one of their fields. Mr. Jacob Frohock is Chairman of the Executive Committee for the Swavesey rural district, and Messrs. Aldred and Capper, together with Miss Jean Caper, are acting as joint secretaries. Sub-committees have been formed in Swavesey, Over, Boxworth, Lolworth, Conington, and Fen Drayton, which are actively engaged in the organisation of the sale. A number of promises of gifts have already come to hand, including a bullock from Mr. Ellis Long, and some animal from Mr. F. Kirby, of Over.

PARISH CHURCH. 27th April 1917

The annual meeting of members of the congregation at the parish church was held under the tower after the weekly intercession service on the 19th inst. The Vicar presided, and the attendance was good. At the commencement of the meeting the Vicar gave expression to his gratitude to the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, who had taken his place during his year's absence as an Army chaplain in France, to the churchwardens, other officers, and church workers for all they had done during the past twelve months. The year's accounts were submitted and proved quite satisfactory. The churchwardens' accounts showed a balance in hand of £2 19s. 8½d., instead of a deficit as had been anticipated, the happy result being due to two or three donations and to the Lent savings boxes producing the respectable sum of £9 11s. 11½d. The Sick and Needy Fund also showed a balance in hand. Last year's sidesmen were re-elected, with the addition of Mr. Ephraim Stocker. A vote of thanks to, and of sympathy with, Mr. John Gilby in his long and distressing illness was passed. Mr. Gilby has been a tower of strength in all matters connected with the church. He has been an efficient and most regular choirman and sidesman, and for some months last year before being laid aside by illness, and even when the state of his health made work or exertion painful and irksome, acted as temporary church clerk, etc. And he was always in the forefront when any help, no matter of what kind, was needed. A vote of sympathy with Mr. Edward Williams, the late acting clerk and sexton, who is ill in hospital, was also passed.

ANOTHER PATRIOTIC SWAVESEY CANADIAN. 27th April 1917

Mr. Frank Day, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, Swavesey, has joined the Canadian Forces for overseas service. Two more of Mr. Day's sons are also in the Army, Sergt. Cyril Day in the Yeomanry, who was called up on mobilization and has been in the recent desperate fighting in France, and Pte. Christopher Day, R.A.M.C., who, enlisting in June, 1915, has served in Egypt, and is now in France. Mr. Frank Day left Swavesey ten years ago for Canada with Messrs. Henry Beaumont (who was reported missing, and believed killed, in April, 1915). W. Lawson Hephner (now with the Canadian Engineers in France), and Harry Wells. Mr. F. Day, after working for a farmer for about a year to "learn the ropes", set up for himself, and before very long took unto himself a wife, the daughter of the farmer for whom he had worked, and is now the proud father of three children. He worked hard, and deservedly prospered, but notwithstanding the ties of family and of home, and the claims of his farm, the call of his King and country was so strong and insistent that it could not be denied. He decided to dispose of his farm and stock and join the Canadian Forces. Twice he was turned back as medically unfit, but at length was accepted. The bill of Mr. Day's clearing sale on March 26th is an interesting document, and if proof were needed, clearly shows the extent of his patriotic sacrifice, quite apart from the breaking up of a happy home and the parting from those he loves best. Since the war began eight Swavesey Canadians have joined the Imperial Forces, one of whom, sad to say, has made the great sacrifice, and two are known to have been wounded.

PARISH COUNCIL. 27th April 1917

The annual meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School last Friday evening, and was attended by Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. C. W. H. Cole, W. Burton, A. Day, jun., J. S. Goad, Robert Norman, A. T. Scard and W. Twist, with the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. The minutes of the previous meeting having been signed, various matters arising thereout were dealt with. The Clerk reported that the fee allowed to the parish constable had been fixed by the magistrates at £1 8s., a reduction of about ten shillings on the amount previously paid. It was reported that only two tons of Government seed potatoes had been supplied, instead of four tons, as finally ordered, and that the potatoes had come from Ireland instead of from Scotland. It appeared that the quantity supplied was in accordance with the provisional order given in the first instance, and not in accordance with the final and complete order sent in subsequently, and that the potatoes had been delivered to those persons whose names were included in the first list. The Street Lighting Committee were empowered to have the necessary repairs done to the street lamps. The Clerk said he proposed that the annual meeting should be held on Monday, 30th April, and that he had unfortunately overlooked the fact that, according to Act of Parliament, the meeting should have taken place on the 25th March, or within seven days before or after that day. The Council agreed. Mr. A. Norman, in vacating the chair for the election of a chairman for the ensuing year, said he did not offer himself for re-election, as he lived at some distance from the village, and was strongly of opinion that the Chairman should live in the village. The Clerk for a time acted as chairman. However eventually Mr. Norman was re-elected, and again took the chair. Mr. Goad was re-appointed vice-chairman, and Mr. S. Wilderspin, sen., was again chosen pindar. Messrs. R. Williamson and A. J. Willson were re-elected overseers. The annual accounts were then passed. It was agreed that the old Parish Council representatives on the Committee of the Fire Relief Fund Old Age Pensioners' Cottages (Messrs. A. Day, sen., J. S. Goad, A. Norman, and W. Twist) should be continued in office for another year. On questioning about repairs to the High-street footpath, the Clerk replied that as his bricklayer had joined the Army, he proposed to give up the job. He also proposed to complete the repairs to the parish property on High-street by the end of May. It was also decided to use a duplicate book in order to keep exact records of every letter written by direction, on behalf of the Council.

OLD INN CLOSED. 4th May 1917

The Swan With Two Necks, an ancient inn at Church End, Swavesey, well known in days gone by to anglers and skaters, has been closed as a licensed house for, it is understood, the duration of the war.

PROMOTION. 4th May 1917

Corpl. Alfred A. Linford, Suffolk Regiment, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Linford, has been promoted to sergeant for service in the field. He joined the Cambridgeshire Battalion of the Suffolks early in the war, and has been at the front since January, 1916

AN HOUR'S SWIM. 4th May 1917

Writing under date of 16th April, Sergt. B. G. Mann states that the ship in which he was making a voyage to the East was sunk, and that he was swimming about for an hour before he was picked up. With the exception of a cold, he was none the worse for his immersion, but had lost all his belongings beyond the scanty clothing he was wearing.

PARISH MEETING. 4th May 1917

The Annual parish meeting was held in the National School on Monday evening. Mr. Arthur Norman, Chairman of the Parish Council, presided, and the attendance was better than usual. The minutes of the two previous meetings having been signed, there was some discussion respecting the supply of Government seed potatoes. The explanation of why certain persons who had ordered potatoes had not been supplied were accepted. The annual accounts of the Overseers, Parish Council and Galon's Charity were submitted and there was a short discussion as to outstanding rents due for land let by the Charity Feoffees, the non-payment of which, it was contended affected the quantity of coal distributed in the parish. Attention was called to the waste of public water due to a leak in the new supply pipes near Swan pond. Mr. Twist also called attention to the posting of bills above and below the case containing the Roll of Honour on the wall of the School. Two small bills about war savings, the type of one being too small to be readable from the road, had lately been pasted above the case, and underneath there were the tattered remains of a bill concerning a fruit demonstration on the 1st and 2nd September last. It was not treating the Roll of Honour with the respect that was due to it to surround it with posters of all kinds. A resolution was passed to send a letter from the meeting to the Vicar, who was one of the trustees of the school, calling attention to the matter, pointing out that the posting of bills round the case diminished the respect due to the Roll, and asking him to have the three posters removed.

JOINED UP. 11th May 1917

Mr. T. W. Savage (single), son of Mr. William Savage, joined up on the 2nd inst., and Mr. Ernest Prior (married) on the following day. News has reached the village that Mr. Harry Hart Wells, only son of Mr. Harry Wells, who left Swavesey for Canada ten years ago with three other young Swavesey men, all of whom have enlisted, joined a Canadian Foresters' Battalion on 22nd March last, after trying four times. He is a married man with one child. Since the 1st January, 1916, 36 men resident in the parish of Swavesey at time of enlistment have joined up, viz., 23 single men and 13 married. The married men have 27 children.

PROMOTION. 11th May 1917

Sergt. Albert A. Girling, Royal Flying Corps, son of Mr. Arthur Girling, Carter's-lane, has been promoted Flight Sergeant.

THE FEAST. 18th May 1917

That time-honoured anniversary, the village feast, should be held next week, but there are few, if any, indications at present that it will be more than a shadow of what it was in pre-war days. On Sunday the services at the parish church will be of a special character, and on Thursday an entertainment will be given in the school by Swavesey Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs.

A DISAPPEARING SNOWPLOUGH. 18th May 1917

An interested ratepayer writes: A snowplough, believed to belong to Swavesey Rural District Council, which has been lying since last used at the edge of the Recreation Ground close to the high road, has, within the past few days, been knocked to pieces by some person or persons, and is disappearing bit by bit. To leave the plough in such an exposed place was not wise, nor did it show much thought for the pockets of the ratepayers. As a ratepayer, I emphatically protest against the neglect and wanton destruction of property for which I have helped to pay.

WEDDING. 18th May 1917

At Swavesey Parish Church on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 9th, Lce.-Corpl. Percy Smith, Army Veterinary Corps, only son of Mr. Jonas Smith, of Over, was married by special licence to Miss Clara Symonds, daughter of the late Mr. George Symonds of Over, and Mrs. Symonds, Church End, Swavesey. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar) officiated, and the bride was given away by her mother. The bridegroom, who has been stationed in Huntingdon for some time, was on draft leave, and the marriage was a very quiet one. Lce.-Corpl. Smith had to rejoin his unit on the following day, and the bride, who has been engaged in nursing in London for the last two or three years, is returning to her work. The happy couple received numerous useful presents, including several cheques.

DESTRUCTION OF SPARROWS. 18th May 1917

A parish meeting “to consider the advisability of destroying sparrows,” should have been held at the National School on Monday evening, but as only the Chairman (Mr. A. Norman), the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham) and Mr. J. S. Goad (parish councillor) put in an appearance, no business could be done, and the Chairman decided to call a meeting of the Parish Council at 7.30 p.m. to-day (Friday) to deal with the matter. The system of calling parish meetings adopted in Swavesey, although in strict conformity with legal requirements, is inadequate. On this occasion, a notice written on a rather small piece of paper was affixed to the boards at the parish church and two Nonconformist Chapels. Such notices do not attract attention, as the boards are usually crowded with other documents more or less out of date. Sometimes the parish notice board in High-street is used and sometimes it is not, but even here small announcements in manuscript are usually overshadowed by ancient and more imposing notices. It has been suggested that proper notice papers should be provided with the words “Parish Meeting” printed in bold type at the top. But above all the boards should be kept clear of out-of-date notices, and it is important that the board in High-street should be regularly used.

A GOOD IDEA. 25th May 1917

A correspondent writes: In preparation doubtless for the feast, a Swavesey young lady was seen early one morning last week painting the framework of a first floor bedroom window. She was standing in the roadway, and her paint-brush was tied to a clothes prop.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 25th May 1917

Successful anniversary services were held on Thursday, 17th instant, when two sermons were preached by the Rev. N. H. Patrick (Ipswich). A conference bearing on the work in connection with and administration of the Baptist Sustentation Fund followed the afternoon service, and interesting information was given by Mr. Patrick. After the conference tea was served in the schoolroom by the following ladies: Mrs. Ussher, Miss M. Carter, Mrs. Goad, Mrs. A. J. Norman, Mrs. W. Savage, Misses E. and S. Ridley and Miss E. Prior. At the close of each service collections were made on behalf of church funds, the total result, including a cheque for ten guineas, being most encouraging.

A WIDOW'S FIVE SONS. 25th May 1917

Arthur Beaumont, youngest of the five surviving sons of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, for about 40 years headmaster of Swavesey National School, joined up on Thursday, 17th inst. He was 18 years of age last December. The record of his family is a splendid one. Percy James, the eldest, is serving in the R.G.A.; Henry, who enlisted early in the war in the Canadian Infantry, has been returned as "missing believed killed" in April, 1915; George, who was wounded on 11th June last when in the ranks of the London Scottish, has recently obtained a commission in the East Surrey Regt., and is expecting to return to the front immediately; Francis joined a battalion of the London Regt. in 1914, was wounded at Loos on 25th September, 1915, and was in consequence discharged in July last as no longer fit for war service.

THE FEAST. 25th May 1917

As visitors to Swavesey Feast know full well, the large room at the White Horse Inn, Market-street – the hub of the festive area – was in days before the war accustomed to be crowded on the evenings of Monday and Tuesday with dancers and revellers. Last Monday evening, instead of the strains of a concertina and the stamping of dancers, the voice of an auctioneer was heard endeavouring to sell some copyhold property. This incident is sufficient to show that this year's feast can barely have had an existence. There were no dancing and no roundabouts. Two stalls at which toys, etc., were on sale, a cocoanut-shie, a small shooting gallery and a penny in the slot Wizard's box practically comprised the feast. To the sorrow of the children, no vendors of sweets or rock attended. Visitors were as conspicuous by their absence as golden sovereigns. A scratch cricket match on Tuesday, between wounded soldiers and villagers, took the place of old-time games with neighbouring village teams, which in the eyes of local sportsmen raised feast matches to the dignity of a Canterbury Week. The stalls closed down at 8 p.m., but the few public houses left in the village kept open until 10 o'clock in consequence of the magistrates' order. Early in bed, however, was the rule this year.

PARISH COUNCIL. 25th May 1917

A meeting of the Parish Council, called specially to deal with the question of the destruction of sparrows, was held at the National School last Friday evening. As the Chairman (Mr. Arthur Norman) was prevented by another engagement from attending until towards the end of the meeting, Mr. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman) presided, and the other councillors present were: Messrs. W. Burton, A. Day, jun., R. Norman, A. T. Scard and W. Twist. The minutes of the previous meeting having been passed, the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham) stated that he had not been able to obtain the duplicate book ordered by the Council at the last meeting, but added that he would get one as soon as possible. Mr. Scard said that at the request of the Chairman he had procured a duplicate book from Cambridge and would hand it to the Clerk. The Chairman introduced the question of destroying sparrows, and urged that steps should be adopted to deal with these birds which did so much mischief. Mr. Burton remarked that he had already lost at least £20 worth of gooseberries in one garden. He proposed that the Council should buy sparrows and sparrows' eggs until the 31st March next. Mr. Twist seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously. On the proposal of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. R. Norman, the following rates of payment were, after discussion, agreed upon: 4 old birds (including fliers) 1d., 8 young birds 1d., and 12 eggs 1d. Messrs. Burton and Twist were appointed to act as receivers, and it was decided that Mr. Burton should take in and pay for birds and eggs on Saturdays and Mr. Twist on Wednesdays between 6 and 6.30 p.m. Mr. Scard called attention to the snowplough which had been left since the last snowstorm on the Recreation Ground and was being knocked to pieces. He disclaimed having been prompted to bring the subject forward by the letter of complaint from a ratepayer which had appeared in that day's issue of the "Press and News." He protested against the neglect and destruction of property which had been paid for by the ratepayers. The Clerk expressed strong disapproval of complaints being made in newspapers. Ratepayers and others with a grievance should approach the proper authorities direct.

FARMERS' RED CROSS FUND. 25th May 1917

FORTHCOMING JUMBLE SALE AT SWAVESEY. 25th May

The organisation of the Farmers' Red Cross jumble sale to be held in the Manor Field adjoining Swavesey Railway Station on June 7th, is still in full swing. It is understood that Mr. Fryson will be present with Iris V.C. cockerel, and it is to be hoped that the bird will add another large amount to his now famous record. There are to be competitions of the most amusing nature, and everything is being done to make the time pass in a thoroughly enjoyable manner. The jumble sale will not be confined to agriculture, but every kind of goods will be included, and it is hoped therefore that no one will be deterred from offering anything that is likely to bring in money. What is wanted is to raise as large a sum as possible for the Red Cross Society.

EMPIRE DAY. 1st June 1917

Owing to the National School being closed for Feast Week, Empire Day was not observed in Swavesey this year.

CANADIAN VISITOR. 1st June 1917

Sapper W. Lawson Hephher, Canadian Engineers, youngest son of the late Mr. Jesse Hephher, registrar of births and deaths, Swavesey district, is paying a visit to his sister in Swavesey. He has been serving in France for the last two years. He is in good health.

AN ANNIVERSARY. 1st June 1917

Mr. George Hicks, who is acting as headmaster of Swavesey National School during the absence on active service of Mr. C. Wood, will celebrate his 70th birthday on Monday. In early life he was master of one of the schools at Over, and then for many years at Fenstanton, where his success as a teacher was recognised by his appointment as a member of the Huntingdon County Education Committee.

SCOUTS' ENTERTAINMENT. 1st June 1917

The Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs of Swavesey, who have recently blossomed out like flowers in spring in new uniforms and gay ribbon streamers, gave their first entertainment at the school on the evening of Empire Day. The large room was crowded with an audience that showed its keen appreciation of the boys' efforts to entertain their elders, and at the same time to bring grist to their own mill, for the profits were to go to the troop funds. The first part consisted mainly of Scout and Wolf Cub songs, and a sketch entitled "Father's Mistake” by three of the Scouts. This was a great success. In the second part of the show the Wolf Cubs appeared as a pierrot troupe and scored heavily. Scouts gave a very humorous sketch, called “Scout Barbers,” and introduced impromptu gags of their own invention, which tickled that audience immensely. Songs and recitations followed, and the entertainment was brought to a close by the Scouts singing the patriotic song “The Empire Flag,” followed by the National Anthem, sung by Scouts and Cubs. During the interval Mr. H. Capper gave an address on food economy, and explained the object of the Food Pledge, which he urged that every patriotic English man and woman should sign. The Scouts were trained by the Misses G. and E. Dodson, and the Cubs by Miss Capper, all of whom can be warmly congratulated on the success of their work. Miss Muriel Parsons was an efficient accompanist. The entertainment resulted in the satisfactory addition of £5 to the funds of the troop.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT. 1st June 1917

Dr. Ellis, of Swavesey, has received a wire from the War Office stating that his eldest son, Lieut. B. J. Ellis, was wounded on Sunday last (May 27th).

Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Linford have received official notification that their second son, Sergt. A. Linford, Suffolk Regt., has been posted as missing on April 28th. He was, according to letters received from France, seriously wounded when last seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hepher, Market-street, have also had official news that their eldest son, Pte. James William Hepher, who was in the same battalion and company as Sergt. Linford, has been reported missing on April 28th. Pte. Hepher went to France early in March of this year, and after a period in a base camp, was transferred to the battalion with which he went into action – his first apparently. He joined up on the 24th January, 1916, and served for a time in a garrison battalion in this country.

Any information respecting either of these young men would be gratefully received by their parents, for whom great sympathy is felt in their terrible anxiety.

Pte. Hugh Smith, Suffolk Regt., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Willow House, Boxworth End, is suffering from gunshot wounds in the right hand, right leg, head and left temple, received in action on 19th May. He arrived in this country on Tuesday and is believed to be going on satisfactorily.

FARMERS' RED CROSS FUND. 1st June 1917

THE COMING SALE AT SWAVESEY.

Appeals to our generosity are so numerous in war time that events which in normal times would be of absorbing interest are sometimes in danger of being overlooked. It is greatly to be hoped that the jumble sale organised by the local committee of the Farmers' Red Cross Fund at Swavesey will not suffer in this respect.

The proceeds will go entirely to the Red Cross Society, and that should be sufficient inducement to all patriotic people to give all the support in their power. At the same time the sale is in reality an important event from an agricultural point of view. A large number of implements and dead stock will be offered for auction, and the live stock and poultry section will be of considerable interest. Mr. Scambler, of Conington, has given a red Lincoln bull, fit for service, and in the poultry section there are several cockerels with a history that should draw attention. There are a number of pigs, sheep and beasts that are likely to excite keen competition, and in addition there are swedes, mangolds, hay, straw, etc.

Then there will be all sorts of entertainments, including guessing competitions and other pastimes. A refreshment stall will be provided, and there will be a special department devoted to food saving and substitutes for wheaten bread.

COMFORTS FOR SOLDIERS. 8th June 1917

The children of Swavesey National School have contributed 6s. 6d. to the Overseas Club Fund for providing sailors and soldiers on active service with tobacco and cigarettes.

JOINED UP. 8th June 1917

Mr. Harry Prime, son of Mr. Alfred Prime, joined up on 31st ultimo. He was 18 years of age not long ago. Two of his brothers have been serving in France for some time, viz., Pte. Alfred Prime, the Queen's (Royal West Surrey Regt.), and Pte. James Prime (London Regt.).

FOR THE RED CROSS. 8th June 1917

SUCCESSFUL AGRICULTURAL SALE AT SWAVESEY.

COL. HARDING'S OPENING BID.

A very successful agricultural sale, which was opened by Col. T. W. Harding, of Madingley Hall, was held yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at Swavesey under the auspices of the Swavesey Rural District Branch of the British Farmers' Red Cross Fund. The sale was held in the Manor Field and was attended by very many people from the surrounding district. Beautiful weather favoured the commencement, but later in the afternoon very heavy thunderstorms broke over the village and somewhat spoilt proceedings. An interesting feature of the sale was the presence of the well-known V.C. cockerel, belonging to Mr. F. C. Fyson, of Warboys. The cockerel which was in a wicker cage bedecked with red, white and blue ribbons, by being sold many times over, fetched the sum of over £66. This brings the total that the bird has realised at such sales throughout the country to nearly £3,800. The cockerel created a record at Evesham, where it raised £302.

The sale was conducted free of charge by Mr. A. G. Dilley, of Messrs. Dilley, Son, and Read.

THE OPENING CEREMONY

Mr. Frohock presided at the opening ceremony. After the singing of the National Anthem, the Chairman, in introducing Col. Harding, said all who know Col. Harding knew that immense amount of good county work he had done. He had also done a very great deal of war work. He was a very busy man, and their thanks were due to him for coming to open the sale.

COL. HARDING'S APPEAL

Col. Harding said he had been invited there that day to attend the sale, and he was very happy that it had been possible for him to be there. The last three years of war had been a time of sacrifice to many of us – to nearly all in different ways – and he thought the war was going to last a considerable time longer. But we must be faithful to the end. What was any little sacrifice of time or money that they could make that day compared with the sacrifice of our sons and brothers in the trenches of France? If they gathered there that day, happy and safe, was it not because of the heroic conduct of our troops, who were fighting the ruthless foe in France? If they could carry on their agricultural duties in those peaceful villages, and endeavour to raise the food at this critical moment for the people, was it not because, by day and by night, in fair weather and in foul, our gallant sailors were watching the North Sea and guarding our shores from the ruthless invader? Let them, therefore, not grudge any money that day that they could spend.

A NOBLE CAUSE.

He knew the farmers of Cambs. had done their duty, and the farmers of England had not been behind other people in doing their duty in connection with the war. They had subscribed generously towards the fund for our unfortunate Allies, whose towns, villages, and fields had been devastated by the Huns, and had contributed £10,000 last week. If in buying the articles that day they gave more than the value of the goods, let them not feel that they had been foolish, but remember that they were helping a noble cause.

BIDDING FOR THE V.C. COCKEREL.

Col. Harding then commenced the auction by putting up Mr. Fyson's cockerel. He had, in the first instance, he said, to act as auctioneer. He would start the bidding himself at £10. There was no higher bid than that of Col. Harding, to whom the bird was knocked down. The bird was then put up again and changed hands many times, until it had realised the sum of slightly over £66. Mr. Dilley then proceeded with the auction, and obtained fairly good prices for all manner of agricultural implements and live stock. A fat bullock presented by Mr. Ellis Long fetched £35. A Lincolnshire red bull, presented by Mr. J. Scambler, Conington, was bought for £16 5s.

THE STALLS

There were also various stalls tastefully laid out, and in charge of ladies from the different villages. Sixpenny "ration" teas were provided at the refreshment stall, and here a busy trade was done. Considerable interest was shown in a food economy stall, where various substitutes for wheat, etc., were exhibited, and pledge cards were on view and people invited to sign them.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS AND NURSES ASSIST.

Wounded soldiers and Red Cross nurses from Swavesey Red Cross Hospital had no small share in the success of the sale. The soldiers had all sorts of schemes in hand for increasing the funds. The Swavesey Hospital pony and cart were there and gaily decorated, and did a roaring trade taking children round the field at a penny a ride. The wounded men also conducted guessing competitions, a shooting gallery, bran tub, "Aunt Sallies," etc., and helped the nurses in the selling of flags and roses. One of them also collected money with the help of "Black Man," the beautiful retriever dog, owned by the Vicar of Swavesey, which went about with a collection box round its neck and made friends with everybody. In the morning the soldiers did good work by canvassing the villages of the branch with collecting boxes. The soldiers were entertained to tea by the Quartermaster of the hospital (Mrs. Cooksey) and the Assistant Quartermaster (Mrs. Cole). A beautiful bedspread, presented by Mrs. Ussher, of Swavesey, was raffled by Sister Beale, and drew the handsome sum of over £11.

It will be some days before the result of the sale is known.
(Full report in newspaper).

BOY SCOUTS. 15th June 1917

The Swavesey Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs went to Cambridge on Wednesday to attend the great Scouts' Rally before Lieut.-General Sir R. Baden-Powell, K.C.B., K.C.V.O. The Scouts were in charge of Mr. G. Hicks, Assistant Scoutmaster, and the Cubs of Miss Capper.

GOOD NEWS. 15th June 1917

Mr. David Prime, Hog Pasture Gate House, who was informed officially last week that his eldest son, Pte. Charles William Prime, Bedfordshire Regt., had been wounded, on Wednesday received news, also official, that his son had returned to duty. In his last letter Pte. Prime mentioned that he had been buried by the explosion of a shell, and probably his injury was due to this cause. Prior to joining up, Prime was employed on the Great Eastern Railway Company, for whom his father has worked for many years.

NOT ENOUGH MONEY. 15th June 1917

At their last meeting the Swavesey Parish Councillors decided to encourage the destruction of sparrows by buying the birds and eggs from enterprising youngsters, but unfortunately the majority of the Council fixed the price of remuneration at too low a figure, and the result has been very poor trade. The councillors, strongly imbued with the necessity for rigid economy, forgot, when they based the present rates of payment on those which attracted boys twenty or thirty years ago, that the purchasing power of a penny nowadays is much less than it was in their young days. The prize offered now for twelve eggs is only one penny, and a dozen eggs mean on an average the contents of three, if not four, nests. A captious critic, who has been reading the newspapers, suggests that hedge-sparrows, which boys can get at, do good rather than harm, and that the destructive bird is the house-sparrow, which boys cannot reach.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN GILBY. 15th June 1917

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 66 years, of Mr. John Gilby, which occurred shortly before midnight on Friday last, after a long, painful, and distressing illness. He was a native of Swavesey, being a son of the late Mr. William Gilby. As a young man he went to London and joined the Metropolitan Police, and for some years was engaged in connection with the Criminal Investigation Department. On his retirement with a well-earned pension, he was for a time employed in private investigation work, and in September, 1897, returned to his native village. Blessed, until the last two or three years, with a robust constitution, and freedom from the ills and weaknesses which so frequently accompany advancing age, and with boundless energy and a kind heart, he threw himself with enthusiasm into many village enterprises. His excellent bass voice was the mainstay of the parish church choir, and he could be depended upon not only for Sunday, but for week-day services, and he rarely missed a practice. Latterly he had been a sidesman, and until laid aside by physical pain and weakness, took the place of the acting church clerk and sexton when that official joined the Army. For some years he was a Parish Councillor. He was a good all-round cricketer, could be relied upon to get some runs, and was a useful change bowler. Of late years he was the Swavesey umpire in many league and cup matches. He joined the Committee of the Swavesey Conservative Association on its formation in October 1903, and remained on the committee until his death. For a while he was assistant secretary, and in the absence of the secretary at election times, took his place with conspicuous ability and success. His last activity was to help the wounded and sick soldiers. When the Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital was opened he became one of the night orderlies, and stuck to his work in spite of ill-health until increasing pain and bodily weakness compelled him to retire. He leaves a widow, but no children. Delayed an hour by a heavy thunderstorm, accompanied by rain in torrents, the funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon. The body, enclosed in a polished elm coffin, covered with flowers, was met at the churchyard gate by the vicar and choir. The greater part of the church, which was choral, was taken in the church. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Gilby (widow) and Mr. and Mrs. S. Challis (sister and brother-in-law). Owing to ill health, two sisters of Mr. Gilby were unable to attend. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey.

JOINED UP. 22nd June 1917

Mr. James Prior, who was well known in the district as a furniture dealer, insurance agent, etc., but who had latterly been managing his grandfather's farm, joined up last week.

HORSE KILLED BY LIGHTNING. 22nd June 1917

During the severe thunderstorm which visited the district on Sunday evening a valuable mare belonging to Mr. E. J. Warboys, of Fen Drayton, was struck by lightning and killed. It was in a field adjoining the Swavesey to Longstanton road. A foal about two months old escaped uninjured.

MILITARY ITEMS. 22nd June 1917

Pte. James Kester, Lincolnshire Regt., who was invalided home from the front some months ago, has rejoined his unit in France. Pte. Sidney W. Wright, Machine Gun Corps., is in a military hospital at Bath, suffering from severe blood poisoning, the result of injuries to his legs caused by barbed wire entanglement. He is somewhat better. In another ward in the same hospital, Pte. Hugh Smith, Suffolk Regt., is recovering from gun-shot wounds in the right hand, leg, head and left temple.

DEATH OF MRS. ROWCLIFFE. 22nd June 1917

We regret to record the death on Saturday last of Mrs. Susan Sarah Rowcliffe, wife of Mr. Henry Rowcliffe, Market-street, after an illness of many years' duration. She was 69 years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Rowcliffe removed from Cambridge to Swavesey about 14 years ago, the doctors having ordered the latter to live in the country. Their house was one of the earliest to get alight in the great Swavesey fire, when they lost practically the whole of their belongings, and the disaster had a bad and lasting effect on Mrs. Rowcliffe's impaired health. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Swavesey Parish Church. The Vicar officiated.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 29th June 1917

Corpl. John Savage, R.F.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, Middle Watch, arrived in Swavesey on Monday night on short leave from the front. He is in excellent health and spirits.

PROTECTION OF GOD'S ACRE. 29th June 1917

The authorities responsible for the wall of the churchyard abutting on the main road evidently do not believe in the ancient proverb that a stitch in time saves nine. The wall near the small gate has been gradually tumbling to pieces for at least two years, yet nothing has been done. Although the churchyard authorities appear to be unaware of the fact, not all the bricklayers in the district have yet joined the Army.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY. 29th June 1917

On Sunday last successful anniversary services were held in connection with Bethel Baptist Sunday School, when the Rev. W. F. Harris, of Willingham, conducted three services. The afternoon service took the form of a flower service, and included recitations and a solo. The floral offerings, with kind messages attached, were on Monday sent to St. Ives infirmary. At the evening service, which was well attended, prizes gained at an alphabetical hymn-reciting contest were presented by the Rev. W. F. Harris to Annie Norman, Sallie Daintree, Ethel Savage, Molly Duce, Joyce Dodson, Dolly Coulson, Hilda Dodson, Doris Aldred, Willie Duce and Frank Aldred. Special hymns were sung at each service by the scholars, ably assisted by the choir. The result of the day's effort, £2 18s. 1d., was added to the Sunday School Fund.

IN MEMORIAM. 29th June 1917

In ever-loving memory of LANCE-CORPORAL J.W. PRIOR, Suffolk Regiment of Swavesey, killed in action on 1st July, 1916

One year has passed, my heart still sore,
As time rolls on I miss him more,
His cheerful smile, his loving face,
There's none can take that vacant place.

-From his broken-hearted fiancé Daisy, and Father, Mother, Brother and Sisters.

MILK HO! 6th July 1917

The retail price of milk in Swavesey was on Sunday raised to fivepence a quart.

IN HOSPITAL. 6th July 1917

Trooper Alfred Large, Yeomanry, is in hospital in France, suffering from trench fever, and Pioneer Arthur J.K. Inglett, R.E., has been invalided from the front, and is under treatment at Leeds.

CONVALESCENT. 6th July 1917

Sergt. Edward Williams, Suffolk Regiment, after a long spell in hospital in France and Bristol, is now convalescent. He arrived in Swavesey last week-end on ten days' leave.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL COUNTY ORGANISATION FUND. 6th July 1917

Mrs. Cooksey, Swavesey Manor, who has succeeded the late Mrs. George Long as President of the Swavesey Division of the County Organisation Fund, has received a satisfactory return of the recent house-to-house collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital in the villages in her division, and has sent Mrs. Hicks, the hon. secretary and treasurer of the fund, £37 7s. 8d. £37 1s. 4d. was contributed last year and £36 5s. 9d. in 1915. The contribution from Swavesey was £8 1s. 6d.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT. 6th July 1917

Our Swavesey representative has received the following letter from Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E.: - "Being a reader of the 'Weekly News', and always glad to read your interesting pieces from the boys out here, I thought I must write you a few lines to tell you I have had the pleasure of meeting one of the Swavesey lads out here - Henry Key, of the Sherwood Foresters. I was walking up the street of this little village a few nights ago, and I saw someone looking in a small shop window at some picture postcards. I went up to him and patted him on the shoulder. He looked round and exclaimed, 'Good God, it's Sam Mitham!' I gave him quite a surprise, as he had given up all hopes of meeting anyone from Swavesey. He has been out here nearly twelve months, and I was the first Swavesey man he had seen. We were both very pleased to meet one another, and we have had several little walks together since and talked of the dear old place. I was going up to see him this evening, and take the "Weekly News" for him to read, but it has turned out a very wet night, and I am writing this letter instead. He was looking a bit older, but said he was in the best of health. He thought I was looking exceptionally well. He is down from the line on 14 days' rest. I took him over to see George Dean (another Swavesey man in the R.A.M.C.) last Sunday, and we gave him quite a surprise. Dean is about nine miles from here. I have been transferred to this new company about a week now, and am expecting to be drafted up the line any day, after two years' base work. I must turn in to 'kip' now, as it is nearing 'lights out,' but I thought I must write and let you know that the boys have not forgotten the old village." Pte. Henry G. Key joined up as a volunteer on 15th March, 1916, and was sent to France on 15th July last, leaving his baker's business in charge of his wife, who is gamely "carrying on," with the assistance of a small girl.

HAY HARVEST. 13th July 1917

Rain fell on Sunday and Monday and was very acceptable, but rather hindered hay work. The Swavesey hay crop is as a rule very light this year.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 20th July 1917

Trooper John Taylor, Yeomanry, arrived in Swavesey on Sunday evening on ten days' leave from France. He is in good health.

OBITUARY. 20th July 1917

News reached Swavesey on Sunday morning that Mrs. Jane Parish, wife of Mr. Ephraim Parish, had died at her home in Manchester in her 68th year. The funeral took place on Wednesday. Mrs. Parish, prior to her marriage, was a Miss Crisp, of Longstanton. Her husband was a native of Swavesey, where two of his brothers, Mr. Ebenezer Parish, J.P., and Mr. Z. Parish, are residing.

GONE TO THE FRONT. 20th July 1917

Pte. S. J. Froment has been transferred to the infantry from the Army Service Corps, in which he enlisted as a baker on 6th August, 1915, and is now serving with the Border Regiment in France. Pte. Froment was well known locally as a cricketer. Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A., has also gone to France within the last few days. His grocery and drapery business in High-street, Swavesey, is being carried on by his wife.

ACCIDENT. 20th July 1917

On Tuesday Mr. Albert Holmes, eldest son of Mr. Harry Holmes, Middle Watch, met with an accident whilst engaged with a steam plough at Bluntisham. He was sitting on the plough, which was tearing up grass land, and was jolted off as the shares struck an old and overgrown road. One share caught his foot and cut through his boot from side to side, shaving off a piece of the sole of his foot. It took some time to release him. He was taken to his home in Swavesey, and is under treatment there.

YOUTHFUL GARDENERS COMMENDED. 20th July 1917

Mr. T. Stone, the County Inspector of Gardening, recently paid an official visit to Swavesey National School, and after a thorough inspection of the boys' gardening, expressed his entire satisfaction with the way in which the plots had been cultivated. Ten boys, averaging eleven years of age, are under instruction, and they have seven plots in the garden attached to the schoolhouse. At present there are 36 different varieties of vegetables under cultivation, ranging from potatoes to radishes. Mr. George Hicks, the temporary headmaster, is acting as instructor, and his great aim is to make his boys intelligent, tidy and practical cottage gardeners, and he appears to be succeeding.

LEST WE FORGET. 20th July 1917

It is rumoured that the reason the repairs to the dilapidated Parish Council property in High-street have not been completed – they were to have been finished by the end of May – is because of the shortage of wood owing to the war, but it is not clear whether the same excuse applies to the absence of the roofing. It is suggested that the buildings have been left uncompleted to remind the parishioners of Swavesey that there is a war on, and for the same reason it is presumed the repairs ordered something like a year ago to the cobblestone pathway in High-street, have not been executed, and the churchyard wall allowed to crumble away. Unless this is the explanation of the neglect of public property, it is difficult to understand why private repairs can be, and are being, attended to.

A DRIVER'S ESCAPES. 20th July 1917

Writing to our Swavesey representative from Bath War Hospital, where he has been a patient for some time, Driver Sidney W. Wright, Machine Gun Corps, gives an account of some of his narrow escapes when at the front. After he had been a week in Belgium he went up to the trenches for the first time at night with a water cart. He says: "The Germans opened machine guns on us, and six bullets hit the back of the water cart, and as I lay full length on the mule's back a bullet went through my hat, just missing my head. When we left Belgium for the Somme I was hit by a shrapnel bullet on the muscle of my right arm. Then I got entangled in his (the Hun's) old barbed wire, which has caused me much pain, for blood poisoning set in." Driver Wright wishes to be remembered to all his Swavesey friends.

TO THE FRONT. 27th July 1917

Pte. George Seekings, Cambridgeshire Regt., has joined his battalion in France, and Pte. Isaac Parish has also "gone over the water."

SCHOOL HOLIDAYS. 27th July 1917

The managers of Swavesey National School decided on Tuesday that the school should be closed for the harvest holidays on the 17th August, and not re-open until Monday, 1st October.

A BREWER'S RIDDLE. 27th July 1917

The following printed notice, issued by a well-known firm of brewers has been exhibited in a Swavesey publichouse: "no bottled goods will be supplied from this establishment unless empties for the same quantity are exchanged at the time." One customer on reading the notice shook his head, and asked the pertinent question, "How am I to start? I have no empty bottles!" Another critic expressed the opinion that the rule penalised the customer who has habitually promptly returned empty bottles, and favoured those careless persons whose retention of bottles has caused brewers, bottlers, and retailers expense and inconvenience and contributed to the shortage of bottles.

SWAVESEY RED CROSS SALE. 27th July 1917

Sir, - When are we to hear the financial result of the Agricultural Jumble Sale promoted by the Swavesey District Branch of the British Farmers' Red Cross Fund? The sale was held at Swavesey on Thursday, 7th June – seven weeks ago. – Yours, etc.,

ENQUIRER.

25th July, 1917

CORRECTION. 3rd Aug. 1917

The late Mrs. Ephraim Parish was in her 58th year at the time of her death, and not as stated previously.

THE CUCKOO. 3rd Aug. 1917

A cuckoo has been hatched by robins in a nest close to the back door of Mr. H. Capper's house in Middle Watch, in full view of persons passing in and out of the house. Another cuckoo has been hatched by robins at the V.A.D. Hospital.

THE WEATHER. 3rd Aug. 1917

Writing on Wednesday, our Swavesey representative says:- Heavy rain falling almost continuously since Sunday has completely stopped all fruit gathering, and farm work is also at a standstill. Some wheat was cut last week, and plum gathering commenced on Thursday. People in the village are wondering why the School Managers decided not to break up for the harvest holiday until Friday, the 17th instant, as with fine weather boys will be wanted long before that date.

A THREE YEARS' RECORD. 3rd Aug. 1917

Three years ago – on the 4th August, 1914 – Great Britain declared war on Germany. On the following day four Reservists and six Territorials resident in Swavesey were called to the Colours on mobilisation. Of the Reservists, Pte. Walter Neal, Bedfordshire Regt., died of wounds on the 12th September, 1916; Pte. A. Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, was severely wounded towards the close of 1914, but has since returned to his regiment; Sergt. B. G. Mann, Royal Welsh Fusiliers, was in a torpedoed transport in the Mediterranean last April, but was rescued after a long swim. The six Territorials have so far escaped inclusion in the casualty lists. Since the declaration of war 63 Swavesey residents have enlisted in the fighting forces of the country, namely 24 between August, 1914, and the end of 1915, 28 during 1916, and 11 during the present year. Of these Lance-Corpl. J. W. Prior and Private Jonas Dodson, Suffolks, were reported missing on the 1st July, 1916, and have since been recorded as believed to have been killed on that date. Private George H. Norman, R.W. Kents, died on the 3rd October, 1916, of wounds received in an attack on the Schwaben Redoubt (Thiepval), and Sergt. A. A. Linford and Pte. J. W. Hephner, Suffolks, have been missing since 28th April last. Nine of the remaining 58 men have been wounded, and some have suffered, or are suffering, from illnesses resulting from exposure and the hardship of life in the trenches.

ARMY NOTES. 3rd Aug. 1917

Pte. Frank Williams, Royal Fusiliers, arrived in England on Wednesday night in last week on leave from the front, and has been spending a few days in Swavesey. He is in excellent health. Private Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers (another battalion), reached home on Monday evening, fit and well. He joined up as a Reservist on 5th August, 1914, was in the retreat from Mons and subsequent hard fighting and arduous marching, was wounded in the abdomen very severely in the autumn of 1914, and after months in hospital and at home, rejoined his regiment and returned to France on the 13th February, 1916. He has since seen much service with his old battalion, to which he was fortunate enough to be sent back. Trooper Alfred Large, Yeomanry, who has been in hospital in France and England, suffering from trench fever, has been discharged convalescent, and is in Swavesey on ten days' furlough. Private Henry Wilderspin has been transferred from the Suffolk Territorials to the Northumberland Fusiliers, and has been in France for the last month. Private S. J. Froment, who joined the Army Service Corps as a baker on 6th August, 1915, and in March last was transferred to a Training Reserve Battalion, was temporarily attached to the Border Regiment on arrival in France. He has now found a permanent billet with a battalion of the Queen's R.W. Surrey Regiment. Serving in the same company is another Swavesey man, Private Alfred Prime, who was serving out tea when surprised by being challenged by his old friend, Pte. Froment. Pte. Prime has been at the front for nearly a year, and has been "over the top" more than once. Acting-Sergt. Edward Williams, Suffolk Regt., having recovered from his illness, returned to France on the 26th ult. – Pte. Christopher Day, R.A.M.C., arrived in Swavesey on leave from France on Wednesday evening.

FLOODED LAND. 10th Aug. 1917

In consequence of Middle Fen being flooded owing to last week's continuous rain, stock had to be removed on Saturday morning.

BANK HOLIDAY. 10th Aug. 1917

There were more visitors in Swavesey for the Bank Holiday week-end than there had been at similar times for the last year or two. Some of the visitors are employed on munition work.

OBITUARY. 10th Aug. 1917

Mr. George Edwards, son of the late Mr. George Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, Boxworth End, died at Woodford, Essex, last Friday, aged 49 years. He was a native of Swavesey, his birthplace being Slate Hall Cottages, Huntingdon-road.

A CRICKETER'S LETTER. 10th Aug. 1917

Writing on 30th July to our Swavesey representative from "Somewhere in France," Pte. S.J. Froment, the Queen's (R.W. Surrey) Regiment, says:- "We are resting behind the line. We had a cricket match the other day, and had a band playing, but it was our big guns playing on the Germans. I hope I shall be able to bowl over as many Germans as I have taken wickets in my time, and then I think the war would soon be over. We have 'declared' and put them in, and we will soon have them all out. We are still winning. I receive the 'Cambs. Weekly News' every week, and it is good to know all the news from home. We have had a lot of rain the last few days, so it is very nice to sleep in the mud – I don't think. (Pte. Prime was wounded two days after the letter was written.)

MILITARY NOTES. 10th Aug. 1917

Pte. Charles S. Hepher, Suffolk Regiment, son of Mr. Samuel Hepher, the carrier from Swavesey to Cambridge and St. Ives, has been promoted to the rank of lance-corporal. He has been in France since the beginning of last December. His brother, Trooper Frank Hepher, Yeomanry, who joined up in November, 1914, and has been in France for some time, has met with an accident. Through his horse slipping into a shell-hole, the gallant trooper was thrown, and dislocated his shoulder. He is going on well. Gunner E. H. Peter, R.G.A., has been sick in hospital in France, but when last heard of was nearly convalescent. Sergt. Charles Wood, Royal Fusiliers, arrived in Swavesey on ten days' leave from France on Tuesday night quite unexpectedly, but in the best of health. In the piping days of peace Sergt. Wood is headmaster of Swavesey National School. He joined up on 14th October, 1914, and this is his second furlough from France.

SALE OF WORK. 10th Aug. 1917

The grounds of Trinity College Farm, kindly lent by Mr. Robert Norman, were the scene of a successful sale of work and the usual side-shows on Bank Holiday. The weather, fortunately, was kind. There was no sun, and threatening clouds floated overhead, but the rain kept off – and that was a great thing. The sale and its money-scooping accessories, were in aid of Bethel Baptist Chapel Renovation Fund, and the fund benefited to the extent of nearly £60. Owing to uncertain weather conditions, the stalls were wisely placed in a large barn. There were stalls of plain and fancy needlework, rummage, fancy articles, flowers and produce. The refreshment stall was well patronised, and so were the bran tub and Aunt Sally. Guessing competitions included the usual bean, doll, cake, and smelling competitions, and the ever-popular hat trimming. One side-show deserves special mention, the "Fine Art Gallery or Cave of Mystery" – a title which suggested the work of painters of the Futurist school, and it is understood that the patrons of the cave had the privilege of gazing on some of the sublimest products of the genius of artists who work, despised to-day, will be treasured as priceless gems by our grandchildren. In the evening there was an outdoor concert, in the programme of which Swavesey songsters were assisted by friends from Longstanton, Fenstanton, Over and St. Ives.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT. 10th Aug. 1917

We learn that Corporal (Shoeing Smith) John Savage, R.F.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, Middle Watch, has been wounded in the left thigh, and is in the Royal Surrey County Hospital, Guildford. Corpl. Savage was a Reservist, and was re-called to the colours on mobilisation in August 1914. He arrived in Swavesey on ten days' leave at the end of June, and returned to France on the 6th ult., fit and in the best of spirits. Corpl. Arthur J. Coulson, Cambridgeshire Regiment, was wounded in the left arm in the big push on the 31st July. He went to France with his battalion in February 1915, and is already the possessor of two gold stripes for wounds, received in October and November, 1916, respectively. On the second occasion he was hit in the right arm. Writing to his mother, Mrs. James Coulson, on the 3rd inst., from the Canadian General Hospital, France, Corpl. Coulson says: "I am going on well at present. I think I am lucky getting out of the scrap as I have, but still we had a bit of our own back this time with the Hun. We drove him about four miles before I got hit." Corpl Coulson has since been removed to England, and is now in hospital in Leicester. Pte. Alfred Prime, the Queen's (R.W. Surrey Regiment) was wounded in the leg on August 1st. Writing to his wife from a hospital in France he says he is going on as well as can be expected, and assures her that she has no reason to worry about him. He went to France about eleven months ago.

DANGEROUS MUSHROOMS. 17th Aug. 1917

Two families in Swavesey have been suffering from illness this week through eating mushrooms, or what were supposed to be mushrooms.

FROM THE FRONT. 17th Aug. 1917

Lance-Corpl. Jethro Linford, Military Foot Police, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Linford, arrived home on Monday morning early on ten days' leave from France. He is in the best of health and spirits. Prior to joining up on the 22nd November, 1915, he was a constable in the Cambs. Constabulary, and was stationed at Eltisley.

KEEPING THE FLAG FLYING. 17th Aug. 1917

Three or four years ago William Welch, son of Mr. Arthur Welch, Boxworth End, climbed one of the highest trees in the parish, and fastened a Union Jack to the loftiest branches. Every year since young Welch has replaced the flag with a new one, and within the past few days he has hoisted a still larger flag, attached to a pole, and fastened it to still higher branches. May this be an augury of the Allies coming out of the war "top dog" at an early date.

ARMY NOTES. 17th Aug. 1917

Corpl. (Shoeing Smith) John Savage, R.F.A., who was reported wounded last week, was gassed a fortnight before he was hit on the 29th July. He received his wound shortly after noon on that day when returning after having taken ammunition up to the line. A shell burst, a piece of which went into his horse just in front of his riding saddle, while another penetrated his left thigh, and then went into the horse. One of the wheel horses had its legs blown to pieces. After going a few yards, Corpl. Savage instructed a man to shoot the wheeler horse, and the party went on again until the Corporal found himself "going." Six of his men lifted him from his horse, bound him up, and took him to a field ambulance. He is now at a Red Cross Hospital at Guildford, and is going on nicely. – Pte. Alfred Prime, The Queen's, who, as stated last week, was wounded on 1st August, is in the military hospital at Bagthorpe, Nottingham. He was struck by shrapnel behind the knee, and was also slightly gassed. In less than a year he has been five times "over the top."

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 24th Aug. 1917

The collections at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Sunday, 12th inst., were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital. Last Sunday it was announced that £4 had been contributed.

QUESTION FOR PARISH COUNCIL. 24th Aug. 1917

A parishioner is anxious to know whether the bye-laws controlling the Recreation Ground have been rescinded or suspended, and if so, on what date, under what circumstances, and by whose authority? He asks the question because on Tuesday evening a gentleman was having a very happy time exercising his horse by cantering round the Recreation Ground.

WAR ITEMS. 24th Aug. 1917

Pte. David Sutton, the Queen's, who was wounded in the thigh on 9th April last, and has been in hospital ever since, has had his leg amputated above the knee. He was previously wounded in the chest in August, 1916. Private James Prime, London Regt., has been promoted lance-corporal and has been awarded the Military Medal. Private Isaac Parish, Suffolk Regt., is serving with the Egyptian Expeditionary Force, and Sapper Arthur C. Garner, R.E., left England last week for "somewhere." Private Charles W. Prime, Bedfordshire Regiment, is sick in hospital in France, and Sergt. B. G. Mann, Royal Welsh Fusiliers when last heard of was down with dysentery in Egypt.

SWAVESEY RED CROSS SALE. 24th Aug. 1917 MAGNIFICENT FINANCIAL RESULT.

The Executive Committee of the Swavesey District Farmers' Red Cross Jumble Sale held their final meeting at Swavesey National School on Thursday evening in last week, Mr. Jacob Frohock presiding.

The treasurer, Mr. Parker, Capital and Counties' Bank, St. Ives, presented the accounts, which had been audited by Mr. G. Dennis Day, St. Ives, and they showed that the sale on June 7th had realised the splendid sum of £674 8s. 2d., after payment of expenses. A cheque for this amount was drawn and has been forwarded to headquarters.

THE LATE PTE. S. J. FROMENT. 31st Aug. 1917

The following letter has been received by the widow of Pte. S. J. Froment, the Queen's, from an officer of his company: "It is with extreme sorrow that I have to inform you that your husband, Pte. S. J. Froment, was killed in action on 5th August while doing his duty. He had not been with the company very long, but it was long enough to prove him a good and willing soldier, and his loss will be felt by all the company. He was killed instantaneously, and was buried within our lines."

WAR NOTES. 31st Aug. 1917

Sergt. Edward Williams, Suffolk Regt., arrived in Swavesey from France last week-end on a fortnight's leave preparatory to joining an officer's cadet battalion. Trooper Frank Hephner, Yeomanry, roused his parents at 1.30 a.m. on Sunday. He had reached Cambridge from the front on Saturday night to late to journey on the Swavesey by train, and had therefore cycled home. He dislocated his shoulder a short time ago through his horse falling into a shell hole, and his arm is still stiff, but otherwise he is in excellent health. He was last home 19 months ago. Private Isaac Parish is in the Royal Sussex Regiment, not the Suffolks, as stated last week. Private H. G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, in a letter received this week, says he continues fit and well. He is never so happy as when in the trenches. He has had a year at the front, and is looking forward to a spell of rest at home. Gunner Frederick A. Prior, R.F.A., crossed over to France on the 23rd inst. Private Alfred Prime, the Queen's, who was wounded on 1st August, and is doing well in the military hospital at Bagthorpe, Nottingham, distinguished himself in action in June. He was in the trenches and the German fire was intensely severe, and a retirement appeared necessary. His lieutenant called for volunteers to stay with him to hold the trench, and a corporal and two privates promptly answered his call. The gallant quartette held the position for a day and a night, and all came out unscathed. At a subsequent parade of the battalion the four heroes were highly commended by the General, who spoke of their conduct as worthily upholding the splendid traditions of their famous regiment, and he announced that he had "mentioned" their names in his despatch.

SAD DEATH OF A YOUNG WOMAN. 31st Aug. 1917

As the result of an accident met with at Tottenham Court-road Tube Railway Station on Thursday evening, 23rd inst., Miss Beatrice Savage, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, of Swavesey, died in hospital early on the following morning, without having regained consciousness. She was 24 years of age, and was in service at Golder's Green. The body reached Swavesey Station at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, and the funeral took place immediately at Swavesey Cemetery. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiated, and the service had to be curtailed owing to the bad weather. Wounded soldiers from the V.A.D. Hospital close by lined the cemetery path from the gateway, and saluted as the body was borne past them. The chief mourners were Mr. and Mrs. John Savage (parents), the Misses A. and S. Savage (sisters) and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savage (brother and sister-in-law). Unfortunately, through missing a train, Corpl. (Shoeing Smith) J. Savage, R.F.A., wounded in July and released from hospital for the day, his eldest sister, and Mrs. Brown of Walthamstow (aunt) did not reach Swavesey until too late for the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. J. Savage and family wish to convey their sincerest thanks to their many kind friends for the greatly appreciated expressions of sympathy in their trouble and grief.

WOUNDED. 31st Aug. 1917

Mr. David Parish, Boxworth End, has been officially informed that his son, Pte. James H. Parish, Royal West Kent Regt., was wounded on 1st August. No further tidings of him have been received, and neither the nature of his injury nor the hospital at which he is under treatment is known.

WATER WASTED. 7th Sept. 1917

In two or three places in the village water from the new public water mains has been running to waste owing to leaks for some time. Ratepayers are complaining and wondering when a District Councillor will find time to have repairs executed.

WAR NOTES. 7th Sept. 1917

Pte. Henry Wilderspin, Northumberland Fusiliers, is in hospital in France suffering from a sprained ankle, the result of an accident. Driver Sidney W. Wright, Machine Gun Corps, has been in Swavesey on a few days' leave after discharge from hospital. He had been ill for many months in various hospitals in France and this country, and he appears still to be far from fit. He rejoined his depot yesterday (Thursday). Pte. George E. Hepher, late Yeomanry, has been home on short leave from France and was looking very fit. He has recently been transferred to a kilted battalion (the Liverpool Scottish) of the King's (Liverpool) Regiment.

SUGAR. 7th Sept. 1917

A meeting was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week to explain the conditions under which a further issue of Government sugar would be made to persons growing their own fruit for jam, and to take the names of eligible applicants. Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Aldred explained matters and Mr. Aldred acted as clerk or secretary. Several housewives went away disappointed and dissatisfied, their applications having been rejected as they grew no fruit. One lady in a similar position also attended. She had had some fruit given her during the day, and before leaving home for the school she had put it on the fire in a stew pan so as to be ready for the sugar on her return. She was under the impression that the sugar would be distributed that night. She did not wait until the end of the meeting. On Wednesday evening the Village Crier announced with much ringing of his bell that the sugar would be distributed at the school on the following afternoon.

FOOD CONTROL. 7th Sept. 1917

With the addition of a lady and a Labour representative, the Food Control Committee for Swavesey Rural District will consist of the whole of the eight members of the District Council, viz., Mr. J. Frohock (Lolworth), chairman of the Council, Messrs. F. Kirby and I. Hemington (Over), A. Day and E. Parish (Swavesey), J. Scambler (Conington), H. Baldwick (Fen Drayton), and R. Mailer (Boxworth). The Council selected Mrs. Cooksey, Swavesey Manor, as the lady member, and Mr. C. Webster, Over, to represent the Labour interest. Mr. Reynolds, Inspector of Nuisances, has been appointed inspector. It is open to question whether the District Council would not have been well advised if they had sought assistance from outside their own ranks. They represent one class only – the farmers. Our Swavesey representative has been informed by Mrs. Cooksey that owing to serious demands on her time and energies she has been compelled to decline the invitation to serve on the Food Control Committee. Apart from other duties, Mrs. Cooksey devotes many hours every day to her onerous work as Quartermaster at Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital.

ADVERT. 14th Sept. 1917

Aldred's 22nd Annual Harvest Sale commences Saturday, September 22nd, to Saturday, October 6th. Special lines in Drapery. Terms Cash.

DISAPPOINTED. 14th Sept. 1917

People who anticipated cheaper meat when ordering their week's supply last Friday, were disappointed. The local butchers made no reduction in their charges.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CRUSADE. 14th Sept. 1917

The scholars and friends of Bethel Baptist Sunday School have contributed £1 4s. 0½d. to the Sunday School Union Crusade Fund.

A GIANT MARROW. 14th Sept. 1917

A green and yellow striped vegetable marrow of the same girth throughout (grown by Mr. Jethro Linford) measures one yard in length and one yard in circumference. It is said to be the champion.

WAR NOTES. 14th Sept. 1917

Trooper Frank H. Wilderspin, Yeomanry, after a short time with the Dragoon Guards, has been transferred to the infantry, and is now serving in the Manchester Regiment. Corporal Arthur J. Coulson, Cambridgeshire Regiment, has been discharged from hospital, and is in Swavesey on ten days' leave before rejoining his unit. He has been three times wounded, the last occasion being on July 31st. Private George E. Hepher, just transferred to the Liverpool Scottish from the Yeomanry, with whom he had been serving in France for some time, writes to say that he does "look a nib in a kilt, but the comfort is surprising." He adds that he does not like the bagpipes, but supposed that he will soon get used to them. Sapper Lawson W. Hepher, late Canadian Engineers, is now with an Officers' Cadet Battalion at Exeter, in training for a commission in the Royal Artillery. Rejected on medical grounds in Canada at the beginning of the war, he came to this country and underwent an operation. In February, 1915, he joined the Canadian Infantry in England, went to France three months later, and was subsequently transferred to the Engineers. His brother, Sergt. Wilfrid Hephher, R.E., was awarded the D.C.M. in June, 1916, and was killed in action on 15th September following. Another brother, Sergt. Frank Hephher, London Rifle Brigade, has been in France for a long time. They are the sons of the late Mr. Jesse Hephher, Registrar of Births and Deaths, Swavesey District.

DISTRIBUTION OF GOVERNMENT SUGAR. 14th Sept 1917

Five hundred lbs. of Government sugar, obtained through the Horticultural Sub-Committee of the County War Organisation Committee, were distributed at the National School on Thursday afternoon in last week. Owing to the limited quantity supplied, no persons who had already had Government sugar could obtain any more, and the successful applicants, 85 in number, were not allotted anything like as much as they had asked for. One applicant received 11lbs., and the remaining 84 had from 10lbs. to 3lbs. each, according to size of family and their ability to buy jam. The distribution was made by Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Aldred, assisted by Mr. Aldred and Mr. W. Twist, to none of whom was allotted any sugar. Every ounce of sugar was disposed of. To save cost of carriage on the return of the empty bags, they were sold to Mr. Twist at 4d. each, the amount charged to the Swavesey Committee as per invoice. It is understood that 800lbs. of sugar was ordered for Swavesey, and when only 500lbs. arrived at the railway station, Mrs. Cole immediately wired to the committee in Cambridge asking if any more would follow. To this telegram she received no reply. The small and inadequate quantity to be distributed aroused much dissatisfaction in the village and dissatisfaction soon changed to indignation when it became known that surrounding villages had been treated far more generously. Sugar was allotted to the parishes in Swavesey Rural District as follows: Boxworth (population 1911 census 233), 300lbs.; Conington (pop. 127), 300lbs.; Fen Drayton (pop 237) 300lbs.; Lolworth (pop. 160), 500lbs.; Over (pop. 900), 2,500lbs.; Swavesey (pop. 904), 500lbs. Outside the Swavesey district Willingham (pop. 1,695) had 6,700lbs., about three tons, and Longstanton (population of combined parishes 411), 1,000lbs. The above figures speak for themselves. In the four smaller parishes in the Swavesey district, with a total population in 1911, but now probably less, of 757, received 1,400lbs, 900lbs. more than Swavesey with 150 more population. Over, with practically the same population, was allotted five times as much as Swavesey. At Lolworth, it is alleged that one cottager was given six stone of sugar, the cost of which at 7d. a lb. would be £2 9s., and if used in accordance with the conditions of allotment, would make at least 140lbs. of jam. A rumour, believed to be well founded, is a float that in another village sugar not wanted by applicants was disposed of to old age pensioners with the consent of the authorities in Cambridge. There are also rumours that the system of distribution in some villages did not comply with the conditions under which the sugar was supplied by the Sugar Commission. It is felt that the matter calls for stringent inquiry. It is presumed that the officials in Cambridge were well aware of the population of the different parishes, and should have noticed, and inquired into, the great disparity in the quantities applied for as compared with the population. For example, if 500lbs was sufficient for 904 Swavesey people, why should the same quantity of sugar be required by 160 Lolworth inhabitants?

JOINED UP. 21st Sept. 1917

Alfred Charles Hephher, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hephher, Market-street, having attained the age of 18 years, joined up on the 13th inst.

BREAD. 21st Sept. 1917

Swavesey bakers reduced the price of bread to 9d. per quartern loaf on Monday, and decided to make no extra charge for delivery. Flour is being sold at 2s. 10d. per stone over the counter.

THE VOLUNTEERS. 21st Sept. 1917

Corpl. J. B. Parish, Ptes. H. Capper and F. Clark, 2nd Cambs. Volunteer Regt., appeared in uniform for the first time at drill at Willingham last Sunday. The remainder of the Swavesey Volunteers in A and B classes will be in khaki very shortly. The next drill will be held in the Manor Field, Swavesey, at 9 a.m. on Sunday.

GOVERNMENT SUGAR. 21st Sept. 1917

In common with the rest of the county, a further supply of Government sugar is to be allotted to Swavesey. Intending applicants were requested by the village crier to attend at the school on that evening to give in their names and the quantity of sugar they desired. The sugar will, it is hoped, be distributed very soon.

WAR NOTES. 21st Sept. 1917

Gunner Thomas W. Savage, R.G.A., landed in France on the 8th inst. Pnr. A.J.K. Inglett, R.E., who was invalided from France in the spring, has been discharged from the army as unfit for further war service. He is under treatment in a sanatorium at Ipswich, and is reported to be somewhat improving in health and is putting on weight.

WASTE OF WATER. 21st Sept. 1917

The defective public water main in High-street, which had been leaking seriously for about three weeks, was repaired last Friday. Ratepayers are inquiring what is the cause of these frequently-occurring leakages in pipes which had been in use for five or six years only. Are the pipes defective or unsuitable? they ask, and if so, who were responsible for their acceptance? It is also thought that a leakage should be attended to with promptness. Delay involves waste of water and waste of the ratepayers' money.

FOOD COMMITTEE. 21st Sept. 1917

A correspondent writes: It is to be hoped that the Swavesey Food Control Committee will not hold their meetings in a private room at St. Ives as is the case with the Swavesey Tribunal. The Tribunal's action in sitting in private, and out of the district, has given rise to great dissatisfaction. The Labour representative should take the matter up if he wishes to be considered the workers' representative, and insist on the meetings of the committee being held within the Swavesey Rural District. To be really effective the Committee should have the full confidence of the public, but this confidence they will not have if their proceedings are shrouded in mystery, as are the proceedings of the Tribunal. The local War Organisation Committee and the Farmers' Red Cross Jumble Sale Committee meet, or met, in the district; why cannot the Food Control Committee do the same?

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 21st Sept. 1917

We regret to announce the death on Saturday last, after six weeks' illness, of Mrs. Mary Wright, widow of the late Mr. William Wright. Mrs. Wright, who was 81 years of age, left three sons and three daughters. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. E. Short, pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. S. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. W. Wright (sons and daughters-in-law), Mrs. Abblett and Miss H. Wright (daughters), Mr. Horace Wright (grandson), Mrs. J. Wright (sister-in-law) and Mr. J. Bridgeford (brother-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm, and Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

THE MEAT PROBLEM. 21st Sept. 1917

A leading Swavesey butcher has informed our Swavesey representative that the paragraph in last week's "Press and News" respecting the price of meat was not strictly accurate. Whilst it had not been possible to charge less for prime cuts, commoner joints are being sold at a reduction of 2d. a lb. for beef and 1d. a lb. for mutton on the previous prices. Pork, however, remained unaltered. He added that it will not be possible for local butchers to conform strictly with the Food Controller's rates, except at serious loss to themselves so long as the cost of live beasts etc., remains as high as it is at present. At St. Ives Market on Monday, he said, no cattle or sheep could be bought at a price to meet the Controller's requirements. Having to pay these excessive prices, and if not paid no suitable animals are obtainable, how could a butcher, he asked, sell meat retail at the prices fixed by the Food Controller? In his opinion the difficulty could be met by the adoption of a system of purchase by the butcher by live weight at fixed prices, and by the grading of different kinds of cattle. The matter has been represented to the Swavesey District food Committee, and as eight or nine of the ten members of that body are interested in farming, they will, doubtless, approach the subject with the knowledge of experts.

FROM THE FRONT. 28th Sept. 1917

Gunner John R. Smith, Canadian Heavy Artillery, son of Mr. James Smith, Boxworth End, arrived in Swavesey on ten days' leave from France on Friday. He is in excellent health.

SUGAR. 28th Sept. 1917

A second distribution of Government sugar was made at the National School on Monday, and this time there was general satisfaction, as the quantity supplied was 2,400 lbs., all of which was disposed of.

MISPLACED WATER. 28th Sept. 1917

A considerable tract of land near the river in Middle and Mow Fens is under water, and Mow Fen and River droves were impassable for pedestrians this week. Blackberry gathering has in consequence been interfered with.

A GOOD YIELD. 28th Sept. 1917

Potatoes grown by the Swavesey Stationmaster at the side of the railway line have yielded excellently this year. Two stone of Arran Chief seed, rather large, have produced on two poles of land 38 stone of potatoes, all in the best condition. This is at the rate of 19 tons to the acre. Some King Edwards on an adjoining plot yielded equally well.
